In Memoriam

When on that ancient world the truth broke clear
That Jesus Christ had vanquished death,
All life was changed for those who knew
A Living Lord.
No more was death a fearsome fact
That brought a shadowy end to precious life;
For Christ had made of death an entrance way
To life that opens wide and deep and high,
Unfathomable, joyous, free, eternal in its destiny.
Death was become a door to immortality.

MINUTES OF DOMINION BOARD, 1956

THE THIRTIETH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE DOMINION BOARD OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Thirtieth Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada was held in Emmanuel College, Toronto, from May 22nd to May 29th, 1956.

At the opening session on Tuesday afternoon, May 22nd, the President, Mrs. John McKillop, led in worship. The Board was then duly constituted, and the President gave a challenging address. Mrs. McKillop's subject was "God's Changeless Word in a Changing World."

At this first session of Board missionaries on furlough from work in Canada and Overseas were introduced by the Chairmen of the Home Mission and the Overseas Missions Committees. The Chairman of the Scholarship Committee presented the young women from Japan, Korea, India and Trinidad who are undertaking studies in Canada on scholarship from the Woman's Missionary Society preparatory to service in the Christian Church in their own countries. The Dominion Board gave all of these Church workers a hearty welcome.

Also included in the Opening Session was the presentation and appointment of six new missionaries. The President, in the name of the Woman's Missionary Society, appointed to missionary service Miss Marion Boyd to Angola, Miss Violet Langland to Japan, Miss Lily Chin and Miss Pauline Topp to Oriental Work in Canada, Miss Eileen Connolly to Medical Work in Canada and Miss Geraldine Dearing to Community Mission Work in a rural area in Canada. Each of these young women spoke briefly concerning what had led her to offer herself for missionary service.

The record of action taken by the Board and included in this Annual Report will indicate the significant matters which were dealt with by the Board in business sessions.

Visitors were welcome to all sessions of Board but some sessions more than others were planned to be of general public interest. On Wednesday afternoon, May 23rd, the session was given to the reports of four areas of work of the Society. Mrs. C. Maxwell Loveys gave the report of the year in Home Missions and Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor gave the report of the Overseas Missions Work. Mrs. Walter G. Coates, with a panel of overseas students, conducted an interview with these young women, and in a very practical way demonstrated the value of the work undertaken by our Society through the provision made for scholarships for young women from Overseas Churches and for young people in Canada. The afternoon closed with a presentation of the report on the candidate work during the year and with the authorization by the Board of the appointment of twenty-three needed recruits for work in Canada and sixteen needed recruits for Overseas work for the year 1957-'58.

On Wednesday evening, May 23rd, a public meeting was held in Bloor Street United Church when the guest speaker was the Reverend Wallace Merwin, D.D., Executive Secretary of the Far Eastern Joint Office of the Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Dr. Merwin, who had served as a missionary in China for over twenty years prior to taking his present office, chose as the theme for his address, "Christianity and the New Day in Asia."

The sessions on Friday afternoon and evening, May 25th were also occasions of particular public interest as well as of significance to the Board itself. In the afternoon session special consideration was given to the responsibility of the Church in the area of Missionary Education. Miss Dorothy Young opened the topic with a thought-provoking address on the new emphases on, and the need of a new conception of what constitutes education in the Mission of the Church. This was followed by a panel discussion in which Mrs. S. J. Mathers, Mrs. L. H. Cragg, Miss Audrey McKim and Mrs. Kenneth Woodsworth, together with Miss Young took part. At the close of the afternoon, Mr. Lewis Perinham from Malaya, who is in Toronto as the Secretary for World University Service, gave a very penetrating address on the topic, "The People of Asia."

In three successive noon-hour periods we were privileged to have, as a special guest speaker, the Reverend George Kilpatrick who led in worship and directed our thinking to the fundamentals of the missionary task.

Friday evening was the occasion when missionaries on furlough spoke to the Board. An hour with the Home Missionaries was followed by an hour with the Overseas Missionaries and the following missionaries took part: Mrs. Isabel Leslie Flemming, Miss Louiza Mayova, Miss Henrietta Campbell, Miss Joy Vickery, Dr. Florence Murray and Miss Dorothy Kilpatrick.

Saturday afternoon provided a little "free time" for delegates. Some of them used it to make a visit to the Church of All Nations where a special "Japanese Tea" was being held under the auspices of the Japanese congregation. At four o'clock members of the Board were entertained by the United Church Training School and those who had had no previous opportunity of seeing the new building were taken on a tour of the School.

On Monday evening the Annual Board Dinner was held in Annesley Hall. On this occasion greetings were brought from the Moderator, the Right Reverend George Dorey, D.D., and by Mrs. V. W. Kinsman for the Dominion Council of the Woman's Association. Tribute was paid to retiring missionaries and retiring Board members. Miss Bernice Sinanan of Trinidad represented the scholarship students in speaking to the Board and Miss Margaret Brown gave an address on the work of the Christian Church in the Hong Kong area.

The Board sessions came to a close on Tuesday morning, May 29th. After all business was concluded the members and friends of the Board gathered in the chapel of Emmanuel College and took part in the In Memoriam service which was conducted by Miss Florence McNair. This was followed by a service of dedication for all and the Installation of Officers for the coming year, conducted by the Moderator. The President then gave her closing message and the Moderator led all in a closing act of worship and in a Communion Service.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE

The following recommendations from the Executive were adopted and the following action taken on general matters:

Re Life Membership Certificates and Pins (Memorial No. 1, 1955)

That a leaflet be prepared and printed clarifying details of procedure with regard to Life Membership Certificates and pins and further; that the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws be asked to review the statements in the By-Laws regarding Life Membership Certificates and pins and to discover whether procedure as set down in the By-Laws might be more clearly defined and indexed.

Re Report Form XIX (Memorial No. 8, 1955)

That Questions 8 and 9 be deleted from Report Form XIX when new forms are printed.

Re Appointment of Officers (Memorial No. 16, 1955)

That this memorial be sustained and that, while continuing the quota of five elected members on Executive from outside Metropolitan Toronto, the practice be discontinued whereby, within that quota, a limit was placed on the number of Executive members from any one Conference Branch.

Re International Pressures and Our Missionary Obligation

(Recommendation from Dominion Board, 1955—That a group be appointed by Executive to study the mission of the Church in the light of changing national and international relationships.)

That no action be taken to appoint such a group this year.

Re Procedure in Conducting Executive Meetings (Study authorized by Annual Meeting, 1955)

That as no final report can be made concerning this study to the annual meeting, 1956, the Executive be authorized to continue the study and report to the annual meeting of Dominion Board in 1957.

Re Missionary Fellowship (Recommendation from Conference Missionaries, 1955)

That action be not taken as requested but that, in advance of their coming together in conference, missionaries attending Board be furnished with reports of the Missionary Conferences of two previous years.

Re Field Secretary (Study of Need Authorized by Annual Meeting, 1955)

That appointment of a Field Secretary for the Home Organization Department be authorized and that we seek to secure a person for this position, preferably from among our missionary staff, appointment to be made at the annual meeting of Dominion Board, 1957, and duties to be assumed following that annual meeting.

Re Policy—Home Mission Cars

That, in consideration of the problems involved in complying with the suggestion of missionaries and Conference Branch Advisory Committees that a system of loans be established to assist missionaries in the purchase of cars, we do not consider loans to missionaries for the purchase of personally owned cars but that when sufficient information is received from workers or Conference Branch Advisory Committees regarding the need of W.M.S. cars consideration be given to each request in the light of the area covered, the work undertaken and the direct need, regardless of whether the work is in a rural or urban district.

Re Study of All Educational Work in All Overseas Fields

That our Society join the Board of Overseas Missions in a study of all our educational work on the overseas fields, and that 5 representatives of our Society be appointed to the Committee being set up for this purpose:

Re Integration—Board of Information and Stewardship and Missionary Education

General Policy: That, as a matter of policy, as far as possible, in the field of Missionary Education the Board of Information and Stewardship function for the whole Church;

That we agree to the integration of our share in preparation and publication of major missionary education study and reading materials into the Board of Information and Stewardship on the understanding that there be maintained adequate representation of groups being served on the working committees of that Board;

That we request the Executive of the Board of Information and Stewardship, in its study of the membership of working sub-committees of the standing committees on Missionary Education and Audio Visuals to determine a basis of minimum representatives on those committees of the Boards and groups concerned;

And suggest that one-third of these committees should be representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society, and further, that we request the Executive of the Board of Information and Stewardship to make provision for adequate representation of the Woman's Missionary Society on all other standing committees and their working sub-committees.

Distribution Depot: That we approve in principle the sales and shipping of all literature, materials and supplies used by our organization through one distribution depot under the Board of Information and Stewardship.

Distribution of printed materials. That immediate steps be taken to put under one management, the distribution of printed materials of the Board of Information and Stewardship and the Woman's Missionary Society.

Date of completion of Integration of Missionary Education and Distribution of Literature and Materials: That we move forward in cooperation with the Board of Information and Stewardship in the matter of integration of production of Missionary Education materials and the distribution of literature and supplies with a view to completing that integration and the reorganization involved, by the end of this year, 1956.

Re Miss F. Bonwick: That pursuant to our previous recommendation relating to the integration of Missionary Education into the Board of Information and Stewardship and in view of the request of the Board of Information and Stewardship for the services of Miss Bonwick as Editor of Missionary Education publications under that Board, we release Miss Bonwick as of June 30, 1956, from her position in the Woman's Missionary Society; that we express to her our gratitude for the leadership and service she has given the Woman's Missionary Society during the years she has held office as Secretary-Treasurer of the Literature Department.

Finance Grants: (a) That the W.M.S. continue its grant of $4,000, and contribute the equivalent of Miss Bonwick's salary for the remainder of the year in which she was in the official employ of this Board, and that the W.M.S. might also consider sharing the normal costs of the operation of her office for that same period;

(b) That favorable consideration be given to the principle of sharing costs in that area where the work of the two Boards will overlap.

The Literature Department and the functions of that Department: That, in accordance with the recommended policy that, as far as possible, in the field of Missionary Education the Board of Information and Stewardship function for the whole Church, and in agreement with the recommendation that our share in preparation and publication of major missionary education study and reading materials be integrated into the Board of Information and Stewardship, there cease to be a Literature Department as such within our Society but that the functions which have been performed by the Literature Department be continued through the Board of Information and Stewardship and its committees on which the Woman's Missionary Society is represented, and through other Departments of our Executive, particularly the Home Organization Department;

And further, that there be a Literature Portfolio Secretary of Dominion Board who would be a member of the Home Organization Committee, who would work in close cooperation with all Home Organization portfolio secretaries, who would have general responsibility for promotion of Missionary Education materials, who would maintain correspondence with Literature Secretaries through Conference Branches, and who would report to Executive concerning missionary education literature and helps.

Conference Branch Literature Depots: That, in the light of the proposal that our Society cooperate in a central Distribution Depot for the shipping of all literature, materials and supplies used by our organization, under the Board of Information and Stewardship, the Conference Branch Literature Depots as now operated by our Society be discontinued by the end of 1956 and that we move together with the Board of Information and Stewardship in any future plans for the extension of distribution services.

Re Name of New Board of Information and Stewardship

That we recommend to the General Council that further consideration be given to the name of the new Board of Information and Stewardship as we do not feel that the present name adequately indicates its major function in missionary education.

Re Pre-Council Adult Conference

That we participate in the Pre-Council Adult Conference, to be held in Alma College prior to the meeting of General Council in September, 1956.

Re Position of Secretary for Younger Groups

That Miss Barbara Jewell be appointed to fill the position of Secretary for Younger Groups for one year from August 15, 1956, during the absence of Miss Catherine McKee, who will be on furlough during that time, and that Miss Jewell retain her missionary status during that time.

Miss Barbara Jewell is a missionary of the Woman's Missionary Society. On completion of her studies at the United Church Training School she was accepted for missionary service, commissioned and appointed to work in Hamilton where she has served since 1953. Miss Jewell is a graduate in Arts from McMaster University.

Re Candidate Secretary

That, in view of the new organizational set-up for candidate work within our Society, in Conference Branches and Presbyterials, and in light of the experience of the past year, during which time, on an experimental basis, we have departed from the practice, introduced in 1947, whereby the Personnel Secretary served as Candidate Secretary for the Woman's Missionary Society, we continue to cooperate in the joint Personnel Committee, but establish the particular work of the Candidate Department of our Society as a function related to the General Secretary's office, the General Secretary to serve as Secretary for the Candidate Committee;

And further, that on occasions when the General Secretary may visit Conference Branch or Presbyterial areas she be expected to confer with area Candidate Secretaries and to promote candidate work.

Re Representatives of the Personnel Committee on the Candidate Committee

That the Personnel Secretary be invited to sit on the Candidate Committee as a voting member of the Committee.

Re Membership of Candidate Committee

That membership of the Candidate Committee be enlarged to include two representatives from the Home Mission Committee and two from the Overseas Missions Committee.

Re Recruiting and the Personnel Committee

Whereas we believe the principle underlying the formation of the Personnel Committee in 1947 was right, whereby attempt was made to coordinate the efforts of the Church, through cooperation of particular organizations concerned, in placing before young women of the Church the challenge of Christian service as a vocation, and to present a united approach in the matter of recruiting; and

Whereas, while recognizing the wider and more specialized responsibility of the Woman's Missionary Society as an employing body as well as a recruiting agency with specific and varying obligations for Home Missions and Overseas commitments entailing special training, we believe the Church has benefited by the use of common literature for recruiting, comparable standards of qualifications, and the use of a common application form and common reference papers by the Woman's Missionary Society, the Committee on the Deaconess Order and the United Church Training School, working together through a joint Personnel Committee; and

Whereas we believe the time has come for recognition, by the Church as a whole, of the need for, and the responsibility of the Church in the securing of trained women for the work of the Church;

Action was taken as follows:

(a) That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society continue for the present, through the Personnel Committee, to cooperate with other organizations concerned with recruiting and placing of women workers, in the production of recruiting and publicity materials, in the promotion of area joint recruiting projects;

(b) That we approve a continuance of the practice whereby common application and reference forms are used and initial application is made through the Personnel Committee;

(c) That we look to the Personnel Committee to assist in making contacts between the Woman's Missionary Society as an employing Board and applicants for specific and general work of the Church in its Home and Overseas Missions;

(d) That we express our concern that direct contact between prospective candidates and the Candidate Committee of the Woman's Missionary Society should be established as early as possible following the initial enquiry;

(e) That greater effort be made to secure from experienced professional women an earlier commitment to missionary service in order that they may have the benefit of orientation to their special fields of service;

(f) That final screening and selection and recommendation of all Missionary candidates for acceptance by the Woman's Missionary Society should continue to be made by the Candidate Committee of the Woman's Missionary Society;

(g) That in view of the possible study under General Council of the whole field of women's work in the Church, we request General Council to give consideration to the responsibility of the whole Church for securing trained women to carry on various types of professional services in the Church exclusive of the Ministry of the Word and Sacraments.

Re Unification of Overseas Mission Administration

That we approve the principle of integration of administration of all Overseas Mission work of the Church;

That we ask the Board of Overseas Missions to join with us in setting up a joint committee to make a preliminary study of this question, each Board or its Executive to appoint five representatives to the Committee and the Committee to report back to each Board or its Executive;

That we ask the General Council Executive or Sub-Executive to name two additional persons to this committee, not members of either the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society or of the Board of Overseas Missions, and express our desire that one of these might be Dr. Ernest E. Long; and

That the appointment of the five representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society to serve on the Joint Committee for study of the integration of Overseas Work, be made as follows:

The President, General Secretary, Chairman, Overseas Missions Committee, Treasurer, and Overseas Missions Executive Secretary.

Re Minutes of Dominion Board Executive

That a copy of the Executive minutes be sent to the Conference Branch Presidents, and a copy to the First Vice-President, with the exception of the Maritime Conference Branch, where two copies should go to the President.

Re Annual Report

That the Annual Report, to be published in 1957, again be in two volumes.

Re Missionary Education

That during the coming year, while we are studying South East Asia, the Home Organization Department attempt to put a greater stress on Missionary Education, emphasizing that it deals with convictions, attitudes, understanding and respect for people as well as information and encouraging secretaries and leaders to feel that they are responsible for education as well as promotion; and

That Secretaries for Younger Groups continue to interpret for leaders the patterns of life that are making an impact on children and teenagers today, in an attempt to help leaders see how Missionary Education has a bearing on the problems and needs they present.

Re Church Visitor from Japan

Whereas the visits of Miss Maria Chela in 1952 and Mrs. Kenneth Masih in 1954 were of great value to the work of the Society as a whole and to Younger Groups in particular;

That we invite the United Church of Christ in Japan to send a Japanese Christian woman to visit our Society during 1957-58 when we are to study Japan.

Policy—Scholarships in India

That we approve the policy of increasing grants for Scholarships in India, when funds are available, for the education of Christian young women for positions of service and responsibility in the church or in related Christian institutions, and for the preparation of some for professional and technical positions in the community in general, while recommending that a few Scholarships should still be available for study abroad for those preparing for specific positions.

Re Appointment of Advisory Committees

That the Conference Branch Advisory Committees, as nominated by Conference Branches, be approved.

Re Constitution and By-Laws

That the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws be authorized to make such changes in the By-Laws, as are in accordance with action taken at this meeting of Dominion Board.

Report of the Committee to Study Women's Work in the Church

The Report of the Committee appointed by General Council Executive to study women's work in the Church, as prepared by that Committee and submitted to General Council Executive was sent by General Council Executive to the Annual Meeting of Dominion Board, 1956, for consideration and suggestion. The Report was presented in two parts, Report No. 1 and Report No. 2.

After discussion action was taken as follows:

Re Report No. 1

That we give tentative approval to the recommendations in Report No. 1 of the Committee to Study Women's Work in the Church, with a suggested re-arrangement of the preamble.

Report No. 1 contained the following two recommendations:

That the General Council of The United Church of Canada approve in principle the formation of one organization for the women of The United Church of Canada in the congregation and at Presbytery, Conference and National levels, the aim of which would be to enlist all the women of the United Church for the total mission of the Church and to conserve all of value in our present women's organizations.

That a commission be set up by the General Council to study further the issues involved.

Re Report No. 2

That we approve in principle Report No. 2 of the Committee to Study Women's Work in the Church, but that we would suggest changes be made in the wording of the preamble.

Report No. 2 contained the following recommendation:

That the General Council appoint a separate Commission to make a thorough study of the status of all persons engaged in the full-time ministry of the Church other than as Ministers of the Word and Sacraments, and of the relationship of such persons to the Courts of the Church, the Commission to be composed of both men and women, and to report to the Eighteenth General Council.

Re Integration with Malwa Church Council, India

That the revised Plan of Integration with Malwa Church Council be approved which includes certain changes from the Plan as submitted last year.

Re Policy Recommendations on India

1. That we commend the Board of Christian Service of the Malwa Church Council for having appointed a committee on self-support. We hope that in order to encourage the growth of the spirit of evangelism within the Indian church and to assist in efforts towards self-support, funds from abroad will be used increasingly for such special projects as:

- (a) programs designed to improve the living standards of church members;
- (b) training more Indian leadership both voluntary and professional;
- (c) the use of scholarships in raising the level of this leadership;
- (d) such other projects as the Indian church may recommend for our consideration.

We look forward to the time when increased self-government in the Indian church will lead to increasing self-support, and in implementing this policy we assure the Malwa Church Council of our continued support at the present level for the next five years and propose to reduce our grants to specific church work at a progressive rate after this period.

2. That our Society look forward to educational and medical grants at the present level for at least 10 years.

3. That approval be given to continued support of Indore Christian College at the present level and that our policy on this matter be reviewed at the end of three years.

4. That looking to the time of complete devolution we continue to send missionaries to India only in response to the specific requests of the Malwa Church Council recognizing that all new missionaries should have special qualifications and adequate training, and with the hope that there will always be room for the fraternal exchange of church workers between India and Canada.

5. That we re-affirm the policy of transferring all Church and Institutional Properties in India to the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India but since our Society considers the housing of missionaries to be its responsibility the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India be asked to hold the missionary residences in trust for The United Church of Canada for the present.

Re New Constitution Vellore Christian Medical College

That approval be given to the Proposed New Constitution of Vellore Christian Medical College, the main change being that the Association which is the Property Holding body is to be composed entirely of Indian members representing the Churches and other Christian bodies in India who contribute Rs 6000 or more per year. This will involve the channelling of this amount of our grant through Malwa Church Council. The Council is to be the governing body and is to have membership from Churches, Mission Boards and other Christian bodies outside of India who contribute Rs 6000 or more annually. Our support of staff members will give us representation on this Council.

Re Constitution of Assembly-Mission Joint Board, Korea

That on the recommendation of the Planning Committee for the New Joint Board, approval be given to the Constitution of that Board.

Re Constitution of the Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola

That the Constitution of the Council of Evangelical churches in Central Angola be approved in principle with certain suggested minor items to be referred to the Joint Policy Committee for study, consultation with the present Church Mission organization and report.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COVERING HOME MISSIONS Re Recruiting Needs 1956-57

Whereas the General Council recommended a Commission on Hospitals and the future of medical services by the Church, in which we were included and which is now at work; and

Whereas the Commission is requesting further information regarding the people served, the moral and spiritual values, the condition of all buildings and the cost to the Home Mission Board and the Woman's Missionary Society;

Action was taken as follows:

That we share in this further study and assessment, which includes our hospitals, giving information and direction as requested by the Commission; and further, that we share in the cost, on a pro rata basis, if necessary, of such a survey and inspection.

That the amount over the income for 1955 required to set up the Estimate of $1,260,000.00 be met from the Current Reserve Account.

Re Overseas Missions Estimates

Re Form of Grants for Central India—That in view of the changing relationship to Malwa Church Council from January 1, 1957 envisaged in the Plan of Integration of the Mission with that Council, whereby all grants for work are made to Malwa Church Council as from that date, such grants be included in the Estimates in rupees and in lump amounts for evangelistic, educational, medical and the cooperative grants which are to be paid through Malwa Church Council.

Re Form of Trinidad Estimates—That the Trinidad Estimate be set up in the Canadian dollar equivalent of the grants which are made in Trinidad dollars as has been done in previous years, with the inclusion of a contingency item sufficient to cover possible fluctuation in the rate of exchange.

Re Cuts on Estimates

That the following cuts be made on the requested amounts for the 1957 Estimates:

JAPAN

On the grant to the Kyodan$ 2,000.00

KOREA

On the grant to the Assembly—Mission Budget 16,700.00

TRINIDAD

On the grant to The Presbytery 346.00

COOPERATIVE GRANTS

On the grant to The Africa Committee—Secretary's Foreign Travel 50.00

$20,596.00

These amounts together with the savings of $7,128.00 and $15,000.00 on the India and Trinidad Estimates respectively due to the new form of The Estimates, account for the total cut of $42,724.00 which is necessary to come within the amount allocated for Overseas work for 1957.

Re Amount of Estimates for Overseas Missions for 1957

That the Estimate for Overseas Work for 1957 totalling $550,000.00 be accepted. This represents a decrease of $6,000.00 from the 1956 Estimates as follows:

MEMORIALS FROM CONFERENCE BRANCHES 1956

From Alberta Conference Branch

1. Re In Memoriam Certificate

Whereas the wording and style of the Memorial Certificates now in use are somewhat objectionable as a means of conveying sympathy,

Recommend: That a folder be made available which omits the use of the word "enrolls" and is as attractive as a formal sympathy card.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

From Bay of Quinte Conference Branch

2. Re Removal Slips

Whereas Removal Slips are no longer available and whereas we feel that secretaries of Community Friendship would fill out a printed form when they would not write a note; and

Whereas we feel the Removal Slips have not been stressed until the last few years so have not had sufficient time for trial; therefore,

Recommend: That Dominion Board once more make these Removal Slips available to the Community Friendship Secretaries of our Auxiliaries.

Action: Not sustained—as the present practice has been in force for only one year and no conclusion as to its effectiveness is yet possible.

From British Columbia Conference Branch

3. Re Mission Band Reports

Whereas there is frequently a change of leaders of Mission Band in June and new leaders seldom take over until the Fall;

And whereas one Mission Study is concluded in June and another commenced in September;

And whereas these facts make it difficult for both new leaders and Presbyterial Secretaries to get a clear and full report at the end of the year;

Recommend: That reports from Mission Bands be made to the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated Groups in June for Missionary study done from the preceding September to the end of June.

Action: Not sustained as it would appear the change in policy would confuse rather than facilitate the Mission Band Reports.

4. Re Colors and Daisy Insignia of Mission Bands

Whereas so many children are attracted to other children's groups having uniforms or special insignia; and

Whereas Mission Band members have nothing to designate them as such; therefore;

Recommend: That special colors be adopted for Mission Bands which could be worn as badges, and used on banners, invitations, etc., or the former daisy emblem be again used as badges and the colors of green and yellow be adopted.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

5. Re Stars—Mission Bands

Whereas Stars are used so generally in school and Sunday School and therefore offer no special attraction to the Mission Band children as awards; therefore,

Recommend: That in future seals bearing the letters W.M.S. be supplied in the same color as the present stars for affixing to the Mission Band certificates or that the former daisy emblem in color similar to the present day stars be used.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

6. Re Special Report for Federations:

Whereas in the past, considerable confusion has arisen by the duplication of reports of Federations to the Presbytery W.A. and the Presbyterial of W.M.S.; therefore Recommend: That separate report forms be issued for Federations, and that Federations be listed separately in the Annual Report.

Action: Not sustained because a Federation is an Auxiliary and reports as such and also because of the present study re women's work.

7. Re Special Page for Federations in the W.M.S. Monthly:

Whereas Federations are steadily increasing in numbers especially in British Columbia, that province already having 25 with some 1,800 members; and

Whereas many Federation members, previous to Federation have not studied nor worked for missions to any great extent; and

Whereas The Missionary Monthly, especially if there were some immediate appeal to Federation members is one of the best sources of missionary information; therefore Recommend: That a page including Federation News be included within the pages of The Missionary Monthly.

Action: Agree in principle and refer to the Executive for study.

8. Re Report Forms and Envelopes

Whereas Report Forms are now of such a size that the reports cannot easily be typed on them;

And whereas there is a need for large envelopes for mailing out these many folders, etc.; therefore

Recommend:

1. That Report Forms should be supplied of such a size that reports can easily be typed on them;

2. That large envelopes should be supplied for mailing out the many large folders, etc.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

9. Re Flexible Terms of Workers—sent in by Prince Rupert Presbyterial

Whereas in the changing patterns of the work of our Church and the need for Woman's Missionary Society Workers change within the community in which they work; therefore Recommend: That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society appoint workers with the idea of having the length of their term of working in one place flexible, so that the needs of communities may be met.

No action necessary as this policy is already in operation.

10. Re United Church Writers of Missionary Education Material

Whereas there is a wealth of material within the history and present day work of The United Church of Canada, both at home and overseas; therefore Recommend: That personnel, who are known to be able to write, be commissioned for the writing of missionary materials which can be used in our Missionary Education Programs.

Action: Agree in principle and refer to the Executive for study.

From Hamilton Conference Branch11. Re "In Memoriam Certificates"

Whereas upon examination of the IN MEMORIAM card provided for use of the Woman's Missionary Society, we found it lacking in beauty, obscure in meaning, and failing to convey sympathy to the bereaved or the fact that a memorial gift was being made:

And whereas upon discussion of this matter with representatives of auxiliaries, it was discovered that they were dissatisfied with the said card:

And whereas such cards will only be used when a sizeable contribution is being made therefore the cost need not be too limited:

Recommend: That a truly beautiful card be designed for the use, one which would express sincere sympathy for the bereaved, and state clearly that a memorial gift has been made, omitting official signatures which might soon be outdated.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

12. Re Memorials and Resolutions

Whereas there is considerable confusion in the minds of Presbyterials as to what procedure should be followed in connection with Memorials and Resolutions,

Recommend: That Dominion Board consider sending out more explicit instructions regarding this matter which can be distributed to the Presbyterials.

Action: Sustained and referred to Executive for action.

From London Conference Branch13. Re C.G.I.T. Secretaries

Whereas no names or addresses of Leaders appear after the C.G.I.T. Groups, named in "Facts and Figures", and do appear after Mission Band and Affiliated Explorer Groups, Recommend: That such names and addresses be included with the lists of Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups.

Action: Not sustained in view of the fact that every effort is being made to secure up-to-date information for distribution in January.

14. Re Leadership Training (Deleted as having reference to one Conference Branch)From Manitoba Conference Branch*15. Re Full-Time Professional Women Church Workers

Whereas we feel that it would make for better relationships if similar rights and privileges of employment conditions were accorded to women workers, working under the General Board of the Church and under the Woman's Missionary Society, therefore Recommend. That the Dominion Board set up a co-ordinating board to look at the total picture of employed professional women workers in the United Church with a view to obtaining the same rights and privileges for all, such as pensions and furlough.

Action: Not sustained as this matter does not come under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Board.

16. Re C.G.I.T. Mission Study Materials

Whereas C.G.I.T. Groups organize in the early fall, and Whereas many groups begin with the mission study, and Whereas the Presbyterian Secretaries need all materials to send to the groups at one time before they affiliate, therefore Recommend: That these materials, such as Special Object Posters, Affiliation Leaflets, lists of leaders and Report Forms be available at least by January 1st.

No action necessary as this is already being done as far as possible.

17. Re C.G.I.T. Study Packet

Whereas the C.G.I.T. year runs from September to June and Whereas the Mission Study may be done at any time during this period, Recommend: That the Special Objects Poster be included in the C.G.I.T. Mission Study packet.

No action necessary as this is already being done as far as possible.

From Maritime Conference Branch18. Re In Memoriam Cards

Recommend: That the Memorial Cards be not signed by the Dominion Board Officers, but that space be retained for Local Officers' signatures; and

That the statement on the Card include the fact that a contribution has been made to the funds of The Woman's Missionary Society.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

From the Saskatchewan Conference Branch19. Re Advisory Committee and Dominion Board Executive Minutes

Whereas the members of the Advisory Committee do not all live near the President;

And whereas information relative to Advisory matters is always contained in the Executive minutes of the Dominion Board; Recommend: That the Dominion Board make available to the First Vice-President of Conference Branch a copy of Dominion Board minutes, Dominion Board Executive minutes and Dominion Board Sub-Executive minutes, thus reducing greatly the amount of correspondence necessary.

Action: Not sustained.

20. Re Field Secretary

Whereas much organizational and education work is continually necessary for the effective functioning of the Society;

And whereas in the Western Conference Branches, the Society has had to rely almost entirely on volunteer leaders who have not the time nor specialized training to do the necessary field work;

And whereas a trained full-time worker in this region would organize the efforts of volunteer workers to make for increased efficiency and produce greater results;

And whereas emergency situations often arise in both Home Organization and Home Mission work where a trained worker in touch with the whole situation could give valuable assistance; therefore Recommend: That a Field Secretary for the Western Conference Branches be appointed and stationed in the West, and the duties of Field Secretary be:

1. To organize and supervise Home Organization activities;
2. To act in a supervisory capacity with the Advisory Committees of the Conference Branches in connection with Home Mission work.

Action: Received cordially and referred to the Executive for study.

From Toronto Conference Branch

21. Re Raising Money by Mission Circles

Whereas by the W.M.S. Constitution (Facts and Figures, Page 159, Art. 25) "No Mission Circle shall institute work on its own accord or divert its funds to objects other than those covered by the budget."

And whereas in the Mission Circle Handbook for Mission Circle Officers Page 10, Par. 4, Item 5, it states, "If the Mission Circle wishes to give or use money for some piece of service in the local Church or Community or to give to some special cause, money should not be taken from the regular givings to Missions made by the members. An extra offering or money-raising project should be planned to care for these extra undertakings", this latter suggesting that other worthy objects be supported and how the money should be raised, and often being done without fully meeting the obligations to our own Society.

Recommend: That this paragraph (Page 10, Par. 4, Item 5) in the Mission Circle Handbook be deleted.

Action. Sustained.

From Newfoundland Conference Branch

22. Re C.G.I.T. Packet

Whereas we find that old and new leaders of C.G.I.T. groups are not always clear about affiliation and reports, the St. John's Presbyterial of the Newfoundland Conference Branch Recommend: That the C.G.I.T. packet have included in it the three leaflets "Invitation to Affiliate", "Affiliation Service" and Report Form XV.

Action: Not sustained as this packet is used by other groups than C.G.I.T.

REPORT OF THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

General Resolutions

Re Indian Act

Resolved: That this Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada request Executive to give consideration to the following and refer to the proper authority:

(1) That in any section of the Indian act, where the minister's discretion or that of the governor-in-council is exercised in any manner which an Indian or band feels is inequitable, there shall be an appeal from that decision to a judge of the Supreme Court of the Province where the Indian or the band is located.

(2) That all Indians who at the time of coming into the force of the last Indian Act were either Treaty Indians or the descendants of Treaty Indians, be henceforth regarded as Treaty Indians.

(3) That the Federal Government undertake a comprehensive plan of trades and professional training to equip young Indians for any type of employment within or outside of the Reserve.

Re Immigration

Whereas the total exclusion of the people of any country is fundamentally opposed to the basic Christian ethics of Canada and is a serious handicap to the Canadian Churches in presenting the Christian message in other lands, we feel such exclusion should be removed.

We would point out that the quota that was previously available to the people of Japan was suspended at the outbreak of World War II and has not yet been restored. We would recommend such restoration.

Inasmuch as the Korean peoples were previously included under the Japanese quota, and as Korea has since become a fully recognized and independent republic in the creation and advance of which Canada has played a conspicuous part:

Further be it resolved: That a quota be re-established to avoid their total exclusion.

Therefore, in view of the fact that the British West Indies is an integral part of the British Commonwealth of Nations they also should be granted an appropriate quota for immigration to Canada.

Therefore, we ask the General Council of The United Church of Canada to make representations to the Government of Canada to have such total exclusion removed.

Re Refugee Problem

Whereas there are still in Europe a quarter of a million refugees from persecution whose chief hope lies in emigration;

And whereas there are 30 million refugees in the world; and

Whereas the United Nations' progress in reducing the number of refugees has been made difficult by lack of funds and by excessively strict government regulations;

Whereas many countries have accepted aged or disabled refugees in reasonable numbers;

Whereas Canada has made a relatively modest contribution towards the solution of this problem by money grants and by permitting the immigration of able bodied refugees; and

Whereas Canada has a prosperous and expanding economy and could make a larger contribution in money grants and absorb a large number of refugees;

Resolved: That Dominion Board ask the Government of Canada to consider increased support for the work of the United Nations among refugees with a view particularly to the rehabilitation of aged and disabled refugees, by means of the following:

(a) Raising the amount of the government cash grant to the United Nations, for this purpose.

(b) Reconsidering the regulations governing immigration of refugees into Canada in order to permit the admission of older persons whose families are already in Canada and particularly those whose age or physical disability is the only bar to their admission.

Re Liquor Advertising

Whereas the advertising of Alcoholic Beverages has the effect of creating widespread acceptance of drinking as an inevitable part of life; and

Whereas the evil effects of drinking continue to multiply; and

Whereas it has come to our attention that an effort is being made pressing the Government to allow Liquor Advertising on the Radio and TV;

Resolved: (1) That the C.B.C. be commended upon its policy of restricting the advertising of alcoholic beverages and that there be no relaxation of that policy to permit liquor product advertising either on the radio or TV.

(2) That we request all the Provincial Prime Ministers to continue to ban the advertising of liquor, wine or beer on Radio or TV and where such permission has been granted, that it be withdrawn.

Re Canada and the World Food Needs

Whereas of the two and a half billion people in the world upwards of two-thirds are underfed and live in underdeveloped areas; and

Whereas the problem of refugees and other needy people is a continuing one; and

Whereas Canada has enjoyed rich and abundant harvests and now has surpluses of grain and other foodstuffs; and.

Whereas we are our brothers' keeper and must obey the Bible teaching that the strong shall help to bear the burdens of the weak; and

Whereas Canada's economic well-being requires a greater volume of trade as well as aid;

Resolved: That this Board

(1) Call upon the membership of our Woman's Missionary Society to support United Church Overseas Relief;

(2) Commend the Canadian Government for extending the Colombo Plan to June, 1961, and increasing the amounts for Technical Assistance to the Colombo Plan and the United Nations, as well as increasing financial assistance under the Colombo Plan;

(3) Call upon the Canadian Government to take an active part in securing reconsideration by the U.N. and F.A.O. of the proposal for an International Commodity Clearing House for the orderly distribution of surplus food, and to assure financial assistance for this purpose;

(4) Call upon Canadians to accept goods from other countries, recognizing that we cannot dispose of our surpluses abroad unless we are willing to buy the products of other lands.

Re Alcoholic Beverages on Railway Trains

Whereas in spite of many protests certain provinces have issued licenses to serve beverage alcohol for consumption on transcontinental trains; and

Whereas abstainers and minors, in order to get a meal are compelled to eat in a licensed diner where beer and hard liquor are consumed, often at tables at which the non-drinker and the minor must sit with those who consume it; and must travel in cars where illegal drinking is a disturbing influence;

Resolved: (a) That this Board call upon the Prime Ministers of provinces which license transcontinental trains to serve beverage alcohol, to cancel such licenses and officially associate themselves with the Prime Ministers of those provinces who do not allow such consumption of beverage alcohol on any trains and that in the meantime until such legal action can be taken, the existing laws be strictly enforced.

(b) That copies of this resolution be sent to the Prime Minister of each province, to Mr. N. R. Crump, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and to Mr. Donald Gordon, President of the Canadian National Railway.

Re Religious Programs on the C.B.C.

Resolved: That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada commend the C.B.C. for the high quality of religious programs and that C.B.C. be urged to develop a greater variety of creative programs with a Christian emphasis at the same time continuing and extending the broadcasting and telecasting of church services. Our request applies particularly to hours of 7-10 p.m. on Sunday.

Re Crime Comics and Salacious Literature

Whereas Crime Comics and salacious literature play an important part in teaching children, teen-agers and youth much that is of a questionable nature, and because this knowledge is often translated into action harmful to the individual and to society; and

Whereas the prosecution of offenses relating to the above is based on Section 150 of the recently revised Criminal Code;

Resolved: That Executive make further study of the following points, and any others relative thereto and bring them to the attention of the Federal Government or any Department that would be expedient for remedial action.

(1) That Section 150 of the Criminal Code 1953-54 Chapter 51, be studied with the view to making a more realistic interpretation and subsequent enforcement of the law possible by the Provincial Governments.

(2) That the law be tightened so that the banning and censoring of literature could exclude much that is now permitted, and so that the appending of such threadbare phrases as "crime does not pay" or "this action is not approved action" could in no way make it possible for such literature to pass the censor.

(3) That in some way restriction be placed on the practice adopted by many publishers of sending out "packaged magazines."

By this practice the retailer must accept all magazines sent him in the "package" in order to obtain those he desires to have for sale and as a result of this practice the retailer, who does not wish to sell the type of literature in question, must run the risk of being refused all magazines by returning those which are undesirable, or be penalized by himself taking the loss involved in paying for such magazines and not selling them.

(4) That the law be further tightened to prevent Canadian Provinces which allow the publication of such literature from freely sending it for distribution into other provinces which do not allow its publication.

And Be It Further Resolved: That members of this Society do all within their power to see that the literature introduced into their homes is of a worthwhile nature.

Re Old Age Pensions

Whereas we believe that the present scale of Old Age Pension payments is far from sufficient to meet the needs of many Senior Citizens;

Resolved That this Board urge the Federal Government to make a substantial increase in Old Age Pension payments in order to meet the needs of Senior Citizens.

Tributes to Missionaries and Board Members Retiring

Re Missionaries Retiring

The Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society expresses to the missionaries who have retired at this Annual Meeting, its very deep appreciation of their years of service. The thoughts, good wishes, and prayers of all members of the Board will continue to follow each one.

✓ Miss Gertrude Cass

Miss Gertrude Cass was born in Chesley, Ontario, receiving her education there and in Stratford. After teaching for five years, she heard the call of the Church and entered the Presbyterian Training School. After two years of study, she graduated and in 1916 she proceeded to Korea. Her first two years were spent in Hoiryong studying the language and from there she proceeded to Yongjung in Manchuria where for 12 years she was Principal of the W.M.S. Mission School. During those years she also found time for evangelistic work, holding Bible classes and doing Christian Education work in rural churches. During her last 9 years, she did similar work in Sungjin.

In 1941 she was forced to leave her beloved Koreans and after refresher courses during furlough, she accepted work in Canada, teaching for 3½ years at Moose Mountain, Saskatchewan where she endeared herself to the Indians. Later she served a short period in Gypsumville and 3 years in Hamilton, completing her service as hospital visitor in Toronto for her last five years.

One of Miss Cass' characteristics which was always evident was her quiet dependability. Gertrude Cass knew what she wanted and gave all she had to the job in hand. She was thorough and sincere and being witty and capable, she had the unusual ability of creating, even amid great strain, a harmonious atmosphere. Not only in Korea, but also in Canada, consequently, she was always dearly beloved by her friends.

Because of her self-sacrificing spirit, she has taken a special delight in serving others, consequently her influence has been far-reaching. In Manchuria, North Korea and Canada and in South Korea, where her students carry on the work, the same spirit of self-sacrifice which she taught and lived, is evident.

We wish Miss Cass many years of continued useful service in her own community of Chesley, during her years of retirement.

Miss Minnie Ethel Halpenny

✓ Miss M. Ethel Halpenny from Grey County, Ontario, heard the call for service under our Society while she was teaching in Saskatchewan. With a second-class professional teaching certificate and eight years' experience she chose to serve the Church in the sphere of teaching and community work and her desire was to be of assistance to the New Canadians coming into Canada after World War I.

Miss Halpenny took special study while she continued her teaching and she was graduated with the missionary diploma from the Methodist Training School in 1917.

Since a great deal of Miss Halpenny's teaching experience had been with New Canadians, to whom she endeared herself, the request made of her to serve in China was outweighed by her love of Europeans in Canada.

From her first appointment to All People's Church in Ottawa, a piece of work which was later closed. Miss Halpenny served in the School Homes of Alberta, knowing well the movement from Radway and Wahstao to the School Home in Edmonton.

For a short time she served in the Oriental Home in Victoria and later entered the field of community work, particularly among the Italian and other European people.

Her desire to return to teaching took her into Indian work, where she learned much about the Saskatchewan Indian people and gave outstanding help at Round Lake.

When the request was made of her to accept the position of Hospital Visitor in Calgary she undertook an appointment for which she was very well fitted and to which she gave sincere devotion. Many from the country areas of Alberta, where she once served, will recall with pleasure and benefit her visits to their bedsides, as well as her response to their requests to do errands and write letters. She organized hospital visiting groups and when she requested early retirement for health reasons she was greatly missed by the sick.

Miss Halpenny, who gave 37 years of service, is residing in Calgary and still continues her interest in Christian work where much is expected of her because of her wide experience. We will follow her years with admiration for her work and hope that much of pleasure and joy may still be hers in these years of retirement.

Mrs. Isabel Flemming, Reg.N.

The early part of Isabel Leslie Flemming's life was spent in Cairnce, Aberdeen, Scotland. There she attended Banff Academy and the Aberdeen Training College for Teachers.

On coming to Canada her application for missionary service was accepted and she was designated in Home Street Church, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

In 1920 Isabel Leslie went to Honan as a teacher. When the Civil War in China made the evacuation of that field necessary Miss Leslie trained as a nurse in Portland Oregon, and on her return to Honan she served in the Weihwei Hospital, where she became Superintendent, a position which she filled most efficiently and graciously.

In 1937 Miss Leslie resigned from the W.M.S. missionary staff to become the wife of the Rev. John T. Flemming. Together they served the Church in Honan and on their return to Canada, in Ontario.

After the death of her husband Mrs. Flemming again became a missionary under the Woman's Missionary Society. In 1951 she was appointed to the Burns Lake Hospital in British Columbia, where she served on the staff and later as Superintendent, until her retirement, December 31st, 1955.

Our gratitude and appreciation are extended to Mrs. Flemming for her many years of service with the Woman's Missionary Society. She has endeared herself to all with her charming personality and devotion in the Master's service. We wish for her many years of happiness in her retirement.

Miss Eleanor Graham

Forty years ago Miss Eleanor Graham was appointed to overseas missionary service in West China in the province of Szechwan. In 1916 she was located in the city of Luchow for language study. From Luchow she went to Chengtu to take charge of the orphanage for girls and to assist in teaching in the Mission Middle School for Girls. Later she became Principal of this boarding school.

After her first furlough she returned to Luchow city where she supervised the Luchow Boarding Schools until the time of the general evacuation of missionaries in 1926.

In 1929 she returned to China and found her place again in the educational work in Luchow where she continued to serve for a number of years. Her desire, however, was to be more closely and more directly connected with the work of evangelism and she was placed by the Church in the eastern part of the province, to work in Fuchow city and surrounding district where her work included the supervision of schools and rural evangelistic work. She remained in Fuchow until 1951. The Communist Military Government had come into control of the city and district in 1949. Before Miss Graham left China she was included among those who gave a special Christian witness when she was numbered among those accused by the Communists. In this time of difficulty the love and courageous loyalty of many Chinese Christian friends supported her. In 1951 she returned to Canada.

Back in Canada Miss Graham accepted the position as Missionary on the Cote Indian Reserve at Namsack, Saskatchewan. This work was a challenge which she met admirably, and for two years she worked tirelessly on the Reserve visiting the people and conducting services, until at her request a man and his wife were found, who would take over the difficult task. In 1955 Miss Graham then took over the position as hospital visitor in Winnipeg, where she brought cheer to many in the hospitals there.

Shortly after starting her work at Winnipeg Miss Graham suffered from an illness which caused her to be hospitalized for some time and on account of her illness she has found retirement necessary.

Miss Graham's long and devoted service to the Church is greatly appreciated and the Woman's Missionary Society pays tribute to her fine contribution to our Society and wish her many happy years of retirement.

Miss Margaret Brown, M.A., P.Paed.

Miss Margaret Brown was born in Tiverton, Ont., graduated from Queen's University in 1912, and was appointed in 1912 by the Canadian Presbyterian Board of Missions to Honan. At Hwaiking Miss Brown founded and built the Girls' School, where, as principal until 1927, she guided and inspired many young lives in Christian living. She also founded the School for Women in Hwaiking, and edited the "Honan Messenger" which was published by the Mission.

On furlough in Canada in 1928 Miss Brown received from the University of Toronto the degree of Bachelor of Paedagogy. Being unable to enter Honan on her return, Miss Brown served as "Translator of Oriental Languages" on the staff of the Canadian Trade Commissioner in Shanghai.

In 1929 Miss Brown was appointed Editor of Literature for Women and Children under the Christian Literature Society of China in Shanghai. She established the magazine, "The Woman's Star", using only 100 Chinese characters, and was its editor all through the years. She also edited the children's magazine, "Happy Childhood". This is now published in Hong Kong, and Miss Brown was its editor until she left on furlough last year.

At the time of the Sino-Japanese War, Miss Brown was acting General Secretary for the Christian Literature Society, when it was forced to evacuate to West China from 1943 to 1945. She was also from 1944-1948, Vice-Chairman of the United Christian Publishers in Chengtu. This organization included all Christian publishers in China. While in this position she helped to found "The Christian Weekly" in Chinese.

Following furlough in 1949, Miss Brown was unable to enter China, and remained in Hong Kong as the representative of the Christian Literature Society, until communications were cut off. Then she became Editor of Literature for Women and Children with the newly-formed "Council for Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese", and was our representative on its Board of Directors. Here she continued to edit "Happy Childhood", and "The Woman's Star", and helped, through the distribution of Christian literature, to bring joy to many Chinese people in Malaya, Formosa, the Philippines, and other parts of South-east Asia, as well as in Hong Kong.

In Hong Kong Miss Brown was the representative of The United Church of Canada on many Boards and committees and gave much time to Famine Relief and Welfare Work.

Miss Brown's contribution in the field of Christian literature has been outstanding. Her ability, and the remarkable extent of her work, have been recognized by educationalists and publishers.

And now, as she retires, we gratefully voice our appreciation of her faithful work for the Chinese people, for our Society, for the Church, and pray that God may richly bless her future years with much joy and abundant living.

Re Missionaries Resigning

Miss Ethel Mae Cline

Miss Ethel Mae Cline, whose home is in Zelma, Saskatchewan, attended the United Church Training School during the years of 1953 and 1954. She had trained for a nurse in St. Paul's Hospital in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, and after one year of general duty nursing experience in her own Province decided that she would serve the Church in her profession.

She was commissioned in Moose Jaw at the Saskatchewan Conference in June 1954 and accepted her first appointment to the Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital in Eriksdale, Manitoba, on July 1st, 1954.

Miss Cline served the Society for one and a half years, at the conclusion of which she resigned and returned to general nursing.

Mrs. James Surgenor (Nee Nora Isabell McCauley)

Miss Nora Isabell McCauley, Reg. N., whose home was in Ottawa, attended the United Church Training School in 1952, after having completed her Nurse's Training in the Ottawa Civic Hospital and having served on the staff of the Bella Coola Hospital.

After one year at the United Church Training School she was designated at the Montreal-Ottawa Conference in 1953 and accepted appointment to the Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital in Eriksdale, Manitoba, on August 1st, 1953.

Miss McCauley took a very active part in the community, assisting the women with short nursing courses and giving leadership in the choir and Young People's work in the Church.

When she married Mr. James Surgenor in October 1955 she completed her service with our Society, and our best wishes accompany her to her new home in Edmonton.

Mrs. Ancil Wallmark (Nee Alma Gadd)

Mrs. Ancil Wallmark (nee Alma Grace Gadd) from Fort Frances, Ontario, completed her nurse's training in the Ottawa Civic Hospital and was a trained nurse willing to serve in the regular capacity of a staff nurse. However, her early Church training and her capacity for service to the sick gave her a wider vision and without counting the cost she made application to take her missionary training and prepare herself for work on any field in Canada.

When appointments were made in 1946 Miss Gadd was asked to assume responsibility as Superintendent of the John Neil Hospital at Cold Lake, Alberta. For six years she labored not only as hospital Superintendent but as a fine Church supporter, giving leadership in the younger groups, in the choir and often taking services, for at that time roads did not permit the regular services to be given which are now available from Bonnyville.

Due to her efforts and with the assistance of the nurses, an Auxiliary of the Society was kept functioning and Miss Gadd, a busy woman, always found time for the work that furthered the interests of the Kingdom of God.

While she was Superintendent a Nurses' Residence was built at Cold Lake and hours of her time were spent planning and directing the building.

During her furlough Miss Gadd completed her Hospital Administration course and when she was ready for appointment again she requested some work less strenuous than superintending, so she accepted appointment as a staff nurse at Eriksdale.

Soon Cold Lake again needed a Superintendent and Miss Gadd willingly accepted the request to return. She continued the fine work she had done previously, giving much time to the thought of enlarging or replacing our present building.

After nine years of service she resigned in 1955 to be married to Mr. Ancil Wallmark and our best wishes will continue with her as she builds another Christian home and continues her missionary interest in a new sphere.

Re Board Members Retiring*Mrs. H. M. Ross*

Mrs. H. M. Ross came to Dominion Board, having served on Presbyterial and Conference Branch Executives and as a non-Executive member of the Home Missions Committee. During her short time on our Executive she was a Member without Portfolio and Secretary of Community Missions East. She also found time to act on the Courtesy Committee and was Chairman of the Committee for the Missionary Residence at 506 Jarvis Street.

Mrs. Ross' friendly nature and outgoing personality made her contribution to Dominion Board a very valuable one, even though her term of office was cut short because of moving from the area prescribed for Dominion Board Executive members.

We shall miss Mrs. Ross greatly, but we know that wherever she may be, the missionary work of our Church will be the stronger for her presence and help.

Mrs. F. H. Stevens

When Mrs. F. H. Stevens came to the office of Secretary for Baby Bands two years ago, she brought a rich background of knowledge and acquaintance with the work of the Church in western Canada. Her husband had held pastorates both on the Prairies and in British Columbia. This experience made it possible for her to make a valuable contribution to general discussion and planning, particularly in the Home Organization Committee.

In her work as Secretary for Baby Bands Mrs. Stevens has been concerned and dependable. She has been particularly eager that mothers should come to see the importance of their influence on the developing lives of pre-school children. She has been in touch with Secretaries across Canada and tried to take account of their requests and comments concerning Baby Band work.

In her position as wife of the minister at Erskine United Church she has found herself more and more involved in the work of various organizations within the congregation and this has made it necessary for her to resign her portfolio.

Mrs. Stevens has endeared herself to those who have come to know her and she will be missed.

HOME MISSIONS

Report of the Home Mission Executive Secretary*

Until the boundaries of the Kingdom include all of human life and aspiration the Church must expand and press on. We must anchor the social insecurity which prevails to the permanence of our Christian faith and Christian truth. We must deepen the purpose of the Church to relate its Gospel to every form of human need—and many exist today. We must express the full potential power of the Gospel to unite the Dominion on the basis of high, Christian ideals for the Christianizing of our nation and for giving friendly, Christian service to the world, for today the world is looking to us for leadership).

My Visitation

One long field trip each year is the limit of the Home Mission Executive Secretary and in 1955 I visited the work in British Columbia. Attendance at the School for Leaders, where missionaries and officers of the Society were present, made the planning of my travel so effective that I was able to give leadership at Sunday services, Presbyterial rallies, Presbytery meetings and in local Auxiliaries.

For the first time I visited the Queen Charlotte Islands and there I saw a piece of work that I am sure is unparalleled anywhere—the on-going Church, with religious, educational and medical facilities which are used to the utmost by people from at least ten European countries accepting these services which were primarily set up for our Indian population.

In Prince Rupert Presbytery I realized anew the hazards of travel when meetings are called. Both Presbytery and Presbyterial were in session. The leadership, minister and lay, came by plane, train and boat in stormy weather to share the fellowship and conduct the work of the Church.

In the Kootenay Presbyterial the Grand Forks Auxiliary is the only fully organized group and they are 180 miles from the nearest Auxiliary.

Under the capable leadership of Miss Grace Namba and now Miss Madeleine Bock we feel that we have kept a light shining in the hearts of our evacuated Japanese and to our groups are added Doukhobors and the remnant of the early settlers in these areas. Today we are alerted to the news that the old mines are opening and thousands of people are expected in this district.

Cariboo Presbytery planned its time of meeting so that I might attend. After a visit to our busy hospital at Burns Lake I came to Prince George to discuss with the representatives of Presbytery the need for a woman worker in the Cariboo. We planned on an area of approximately 75 miles, where preaching services, visitation and Christian Education could be developed.

In Edmonton I met many of our workers at two Presbyterial rallies, where I was given the privilege of speaking, and in Winnipeg I attended, with our other representatives, the Commissions set up by General Council on Indian and Hospital work.

Six weeks on such a journey fills me with admiration and pride when I see what we are doing in the interests of the Kingdom of God.

Personnel

In our recommendation to this Board you will see that we are urging the recruitment of 23 women for special pieces of work. At present our number stands at 71 graduate missionaries in our work. Many other places are filled by associate workers and we are thankful for their devotion. Some of these are graduates of our Training School, others are trained elsewhere and some are employed because of their natural ability.

This year four missionaries are retiring—Miss Ethel Halpenny, who gave her full service in Canada, and Miss Gertrude Cass, Miss Eleanor Graham and Mrs. Isabel Flemming, Reg. N., who served both Overseas and in Canada. Eight are returning from furlough. Miss Henrietta Campbell is appointed to the Cariboo and the others to work already carried on. Four new missionaries, graduates of 1956, are to be stationed—Miss Geraldine Dearing to Superior Presbytery, Miss Eileen Connolly, Reg. N., as Superintendent of the Bingham Memorial Hospital, Matheson, and two of our women who have chosen to work among our Canadian Chinese (Miss Pauline Topp and Miss Lily Chin) will do language study before their appointments are recommended.

Our staff will now number 71 Home Missionaries and 56 associate workers.

OUR CO-OPERATION AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO OTHER CHURCH BOARDS

BOARD OF EVANGELISM AND SOCIAL SERVICE

Two members from our Board represent the Society on the Board of Evangelism and Social Service.

Victor Home for Girls, Toronto, Ontario—Several years before Church Union the former Methodist Church established this redemptive Home on Jarvis Street, Toronto. Now it has a fine location on Broadview Avenue. Each year many babies from this Home are adopted by Church families.

Mountview Social Service Home, Calgary, Alberta—Mountview, a semi-custodial Home for Protestant delinquent girls from Alberta and Saskatchewan, has a record of 45 years of continuous redemptive service.

Maritime Home for Girls, Truro, N.S.—This Home is operated under the direction of a Board representative of the four Protestant Communion. This Home is held in high regard by welfare workers and Government officials concerned.

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS

Summer Students—There is a demand from many of our young women to serve the Church during the summer period of 20 weeks. We have placed in our Estimates a substantial grant to meet our share of this important task, which means preaching and teaching to many who have this opportunity of Church services only in the summer.

Church Extension—On this continent Church Extension is big news.

In Canada our need has expanded from 150 new Churches to about 400 Churches and Church halls and at least 175 manses. That need will continue to grow. In this connection a fact to remember is that the cost of assistance now is very much greater than five years ago.

Immigration—The Immigration Work continues with little variation. Overseas Chaplaincies are maintained at Glasgow, Liverpool, Southampton and Bremerhaven. Port workers and chaplains at our ports-of-entry are maintaining a valuable ministry.

Welcome Leaflets in a number of languages are distributed at ports-of-entry. Recently a Welcome Leaflet in Greek has been issued. Some ministers have requested copies of the Welcome Leaflets to distribute to immigrants on their charges.

The population of Canada in mid-1935 was somewhat less than eleven millions. By mid-1955, it was estimated at slightly more than fifteen and one-half millions. This is an increase of approximately 45% in 20 years.

Nearly one and a quarter million immigrants have been admitted to Canada since World War II. It has been estimated that one person in every 15 is either a post-war immigrant or the child of one. In a place like Toronto, with a concentration of immigrants, the ratio is higher, one in eight. About one-third of the post-war group is from Great Britain.

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Church Vacation Schools—Church Vacation Schools continue to provide one of the most worthwhile experiences for hundreds of children in many isolated communities across Canada. The grant of $1,200.00 made to the Church Vacation School Committee by our Society made it possible for at least a dozen young women to hold schools in outlying communities.

Christian Youth Caravan—Again this year Caravaners served in all the Conferences of the Church. They were 127 strong, working in approximately 125 communities. These young people received training during a long week-end before undertaking their work. During the winter the Caravaners were occupied at school, either as students or teachers, at college, in factories, department stores, farms, or at the Niagara Parks School of Gardening.

Satisfaction is once again expressed by minister and communities where Caravan teams have served.

The Sunday School in the Home—By Mail and Air—During 1955 there were 2,382 families enrolled with the Sunday School in the Home, which means approximately 6,500 children.

THE INTER-BOARD COMMITTEE ON SPECIAL SERVICES

This is an Inter-Board Committee which meets regularly each month for the purpose of co-ordinating the services of the Church, particularly in relation to hospitals, social services institutions, and the pastoral work which is undertaken by various departments of the Church's work and life.

It produces each year at Easter, Christmas and Thanksgiving a message of greeting from The United Church of Canada.

BOARDING SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOMES

There has been a definite upsurge in attendance in our Residences during this last year, from small children who are far distant from public school facilities, to the graduating group of boys and girls who have set their sights on a higher education and know that Residence life under the Church helps them reach their goal.

We are glad to have been of service in Manitoba to the children of our missionaries from the Norway House Presbytery. Both boys and girls who would otherwise have received their education by post are living in the Boys' and Girls' Residences in Teulon, Manitoba.

Some years ago the Town Council of Assiniboia allowed our Society to connect our Girls' Residence with the main sewer extension at an angle, since it did not go as far as our property, on condition that when the extension went past our land we would approve and pay our share. This was done in 1955 and the value of our property is greatly enhanced.

It was necessary that a capital expenditure be invested in our Bonnyville residences. Purchases including such items as washing machines were authorized, interior decorating done and at the present time new cupboards are being built in the Girls' Home and a complete painting job is necessary on the two buildings.

The attendance in our Teulon Homes has been very good and here again the Girls' Home had to be re-wired and new furnaces will be placed in the institutions this summer. If our work is to continue our property must be kept in good order.

Other than necessary repairs authorized by the Fire Inspector, no new equipment was necessary at the Children's Home in Lachine.

Because it was impossible to find a Matron, and without the support of the French Protestants from the La Minerve area of Quebec, it was impossible to open the Namur School Home last September.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS EAST

The United Church of Canada has strategic locations now in Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, Sydney and many other places from which to develop a creative downtown city work.

At a recent conference of city workers the downtown was shown as an open frontier area—just as great as the Yukon. There are three distinct districts: (1) The slum areas, near the plants that have recently occupied the area; (2) The ethnic groups of working-class people, who have homes there because they have recently come to Canada and have sought low rents; (3) The boarding and rooming-house invasion.

In no centre in Canada is a greater piece of work being done in Home Missions than in the city of Toronto. There has been an expansion in the Woodgreen Community Centre, where we assist in the employment of two women. Miss Ida MacKenzie has returned to the Regent Park area, where 5,000 people are living in the new apartments and where more buildings are being erected.

In Windsor an Italian minister is working in the area of our Mission, where many new Italian families have come during the past few years. In recent conversation with the Italian minister in Toronto he told us that from the Protestant Church in Italy the names of families settling in Toronto are sent directly to him. At Easter time this year in Niagara Falls 50 young Italians united with the Church.

In 19 preaching places in the Muskoka United Charge our missionary reports preaching 153 times during the year and driving a distance of 65 miles every Sunday. With this type of work being undertaken it is not surprising that our money for Gifts for Building Advance for the purchase of cars is used and appreciated.

Miss Muriel Alexander in the Northern Frontenac area was appointed as manager of the Temperance forces when a plebiscite was requested to secure a beverage room. When the plebiscite was taken the majority was one vote in favor, which has meant the establishment of a hotel. In this connection, attempts were made to prevent Miss Alexander teaching Christian Education in the schools but fortunately she was able to continue.

The Church of All Nations in Montreal celebrated its 25th Anniversary. Great changes have taken place in the quarter of a century and from this Church has gone out leadership into local congregations and into the ministry. Helping in this Church during the last year was Miss Susie Smyth, who undertook the immigration work in Montreal during the furlough of Miss Louiza Mayova.

The privilege has been ours of supplying a Boys' Worker in St. Columba House in Montreal.

We opened work in the City Mission in Montreal and continued it for a number of months but due to unsatisfactory personnel we are again without a worker in this centre.

With only one missionary where we previously had two in the United Mission at Sydney, a Caravan team was sent in in 1955. The newest development in this Mission is that a number of negro people are becoming members of the near-by United Church, making for a closer fellowship, which has been our hope for many years.

When Miss Ruth Tillman returned to Newfoundland in September her appointment was jointly under the Woman's Missionary Society and the Board of Christian Education. She has become established in St. John's, has opened a Literature Depot of Christian Education materials and because of her knowledge of Newfoundland she is undertaking a very heavy piece of Christian Education work. With the request from the Board of Information and Stewardship that Miss Nancy Edwards should be released for work in this new Board we are without a second worker in the Province. Presbytery and congregations are already missing the visits of inspiration from these two women who have served us so faithfully in Newfoundland.

Emmanuel House in St. John's continues to be a receiving centre for young women who come to work or are passing through the city. Improvements have been placed on the house this year, making it very attractive, and Miss Stella Burry not only directs this residence but keeps the pulse of the Church beating strongly in the city of St. John's through her connection and attendance at many Church Committee meetings.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS WEST

In Prince Rupert we find the Woman's Association adjacent to Conrad Hall placing their efforts in this institution for the sake of their children. Vacation Schools were held last summer and a Stay-at-Home Camp was held and in early autumn 24 of these children were in kindergarten.

Miss Joyce Facey also visits the T.B. hospital for Indians at Miller Bay, where a new chapel has been erected, and on Easter Sunday practically every Protestant patient was in attendance.

Miss Lottie McRae, in her hospital visiting in Vancouver, has more than 150 women from 29 Auxiliaries regularly visiting 20 hospitals and nursing homes and 38 rest homes. When one reads that 40,000 visits are made to the sick in one city we are aware that the Church is looking after those who are ill and need visitation. Similar visiting is done in Edmonton but we are less fortunate in that our Hospital Visitor is only allowed to call in visiting hours.

In Columbia St. United Church in Vancouver a flourishing work has grown from what a few years ago seemed like a dying cause. The credit is due our missionary.

Miss Alice Philip, doing the Church Extension work in Greater Vancouver, has recently reported on the number of areas that have been surveyed and the need for new Churches. Through the request of the Conference Branch for a car for Miss Philip our Executive agreed that where a car is recommended we should change our policy and supply transportation for those who are travelling long distances. Requests will be sent in and considered on their merit.

Mrs. Margaret Myers, who worked in First United Church, Vancouver, has been accepted by the Vancouver Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry and a new appointment has been made to First United Church. Mrs. Myers has been exceptionally successful in counselling with the unemployed and in assisting with the evangelistic services carried on in the Church on Sunday evenings.

The Pincher Creek area in the South Alberta Presbytery demands both time and energy to meet the Christian needs in small Churches and schools. Churches, closed from autumn to spring, this year had Christmas services. Choirs travelled from one community to another and the Church need has been awakened since the appointment of Miss Margaret Brown.

In Smoky Lake, Miss Grace King continued the Church membership classes for the young people who were planning to unite with the Church.

The work on the Manning charge in the Peace River Presbytery is so well organized that the Board of Home Missions is now making advances to us regarding its future, where they hope an ordained minister may be placed by another year. Miss Marion Hodgins reports Bible study and good congregations.

We purchased our first tape recorder and 12 reels for Miss Mabel Willows at Newcastle Mission in the Drumbeller Valley, at the time that she was planning repairs and changes in the appearance of the Mission. From a drab hall it has now become a chapel for worship and in February of this year the congregation held its first annual meeting in history.

In 1955 a house was purchased in Vihia for the use of our missionary. She had lived comfortably in a small residence that was converted from a chicken house but in this new house, with its modern conveniences, space will be available for meetings and living conditions will be much more satisfactory.

The two Church Extension workers in the Edmonton area report an enlarged scope for work in Greater Edmonton, over-flowing into the Dowercourt and Woodcroft areas.

The Saskatchewan Advisory Committee recorded its request in October 1955 that the next worker appointed should be sent to Bienfait. Sooner than we expected Miss Violet Stewart returned from Korea and when this work was presented to her she was ready to accept it. After our previous worker had left, 75% of the work had ceased, due to the lack of interested helpers, and we were told there were 650 children in the area.

During the summer of 1955, student ministers were sent into the Battleford Presbytery and at that time Miss Ruth Scouler, our missionary, was relieved of her 100-mile drive each Sunday to Pierceland.

Letters have been received expressing appreciation of Miss Olive Brand's contribution in helping to establish the new Balmoral, Bethel and Grosvenor Park Churches, the Sunday School Institutes and organizational work for the survey of the Church affiliation in new districts of the city of Saskatoon. A request has come for her return to Saskatoon after furlough.

In Prince Albert Miss Margaret Kee, with her imagination and energy, served various districts where the response to her efforts was more than the local people ever expected. She not only gave leadership but she trained leaders and we wish her joy as she leaves us in August to be married.

INDIAN

We have learned during our year of study that our responsibility to Indians is exactly the same as to other racial groups in Canada. Each Church member shares the task of providing Indians with the Gospel.

Today, many Indians are leaving the Reserves to reside in communities where our Churches are located and we would urge that our membership accept these people and make them welcome.

This year the appointment of a social worker to thoroughly survey the need for leadership among the Indian girls in Manitoba, and specifically to follow up the Indian girls in the area of Greater Winnipeg, has been a start in finding the resources we can provide to assist these people in making a satisfactory adjustment.

The erection of a pipe-line through our property in Alberti nets us the amount of $800.00 from the Government. This will not in any way spoil the playground for the 265 children who are in residence in the Indian Residential School.

The two teachers in Ahousat carried the Sunday services and week-day work during the illness of Miss Agnes Quinn until we were able to send in a full-time worker.

Because of the heavy floods for several years the basement of our Church at File Hills has been badly damaged and the Indians have pledged support in money and labor to the amount of $612.00 towards the work, which will cost approximately $1,100.00. Our Society is bearing our share of this expenditure and we hope the work is under way.

At Moose Mountain we were informed that an oil well was discovered on the Reserve and that the Indians are benefiting by this find.

We were glad to have the permission of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration for the use of the old teacherage for living accommodation, as our missionary was snowed in and off the beaten track, making it impossible for her to have any contact with the Church until the teacherage was available and she moved into it. The new school is also being used for Sunday services.

After only two months of service Mr. George A. Pollock passed away at Kamsack and for some months we were without a representative on the Cote Reserve until Mr. J. E. McKinlay, a business man from Calgary, undertook this work January 1st. Mr. Pollock had made his place on the Reserve among the Indian people during the short time he was there and their loyalty was strengthened in the Protestant faith. Mr. McKinlay is a fine successor and he is very concerned about our work.

In the Portage La Prairie Indian Residential School there are 130 students and only a classroom is available for religious services, necessitating the removal of desks and setting up of chairs and lacking devotional atmosphere. The Department of Indian Affairs has been approached regarding the building of a chapel and Mr. Lachlan McLean, our Principal, is encouraged by their response. The boys taking manual training in the school re-built and re-wired the skating rink. Seven boys joined the Air Cadets Portage Squadron and they have taken their place quite effectively along with 80 white boys. Pictures and stories reached us of the success of the Senior hockey team, which played with four other Indian teams from residential schools. While our boys were not the winners in the Tournament it was one of the lads from Portage who was chosen as the best hockey player of all the teams.

Twenty-five of our young people from the Indian Residential School united with the Portage La Prairie Church at the Easter Communion.

The new Indian Residential School at Norway House was opened in June, 1955. Mingling with the teachers and directing the activities of the young people, Miss Margaret Martin has become almost indispensable in the work of the school. Her activities, however, do not terminate in the school building, for services are held on the islands near-by and last month we authorized the purchase of a boat which will make her travel more convenient. Previously one of her points was eight miles away, where she held a Sunday service, often walking this distance.

Work is being opened by the Society this summer in the Brandon Indian Residential School, where a Christian Education worker is appointed for one year and where the work will be continued if a missionary is available.

After engaging a social worker to survey the Indian situation in Manitoba with regard to Indian girls living in Greater Winnipeg and consider the establishment of a hostel for these women, the recommendation of our Conference Branch was to the effect that we should dispense with the idea of a hostel but employ a person who would give full time to follow-up work among the Indians. One of the girls from our United Church Training School is proceeding to Winnipeg to undertake this work for the summer months. When she makes her report we should know how urgent the need is for a full-time worker.

From our Rama Reserve in Ontario comes information that for the first time Indian children attended the various camps conducted by the Presbytery last summer. A recent Evangelistic Crusade was held in Orillia and our missionary reports that a number of adults from the Rama Reserve registered decisions for Christ.

MEDICAL

If our Society believes it should carry on in the medical field it is imperative that the whole Church take seriously the need for Christian personnel to staff the hospitals. Every Church should challenge its young people. Is it too much to ask a young person to give two years of his or her life to the Church?

We have had representation during the year on the Commission set up by General Council to study Hospital work. While our policy in regard to our continuance of medical work was presented at one of the first meetings, the significance of it was not realized until further meetings were held. Those of us who were members of the Commission feel that the statement presented by our Society is a very valuable one.

Plans are under way for the building of an addition to the Burns Lake Hospital. There is some money in our Property Account that has been set aside for this building, the larger part of it being from the Ruddy Estate in Burns Lake.

We regret to report that Dr. Robert M. Hodges is leaving Bonnyville after one year of service. Dr. Hodges advised us that he enjoyed the work but having come from the settled areas of the Old Country he has found the isolation and loneliness very great.

During the year Miss Catharine Bawtinheimer, Reg. N., resigned from our work and one of our missionaries, Miss Dorothy Reid, took over the Superintendency of the Katharine H. Prittie Hospital in Bonnyville.

The major improvement necessary in this institution is the installation of a septic tank and the digging of a lagoon for the use of the hospital building and our two School Homes.

There is nothing definite to report on the proposed new hospital at Cold Lake.

Mrs. A. Wallmark, formerly Miss Alma Gadd, who was serving at Cold Lake, is one of the valuable nurses who left us this year because of marriage.

The community of Eriksdale continues a keen interest in the hospital. This year they assisted in the major part of the purchase of an electric sterilizer. In this hospital, also, we released another of our missionaries, Miss Isabell McCauley, who was married in September, and now Miss Isabelle Miller has requested release to go to Hong Kong.

While the hospital at Ethelbert has not been as busy as the staff would wish, the work has been growing the last few months. Miss Cora Kilborn, Reg. N., has helped greatly in building up a fine community spirit. It is unfortunate that when Dr. Ross Green, a fine missionary of the Church, is building up our work we must release him for Overseas service.

Due to floods in the early spring the crops were poor in the Ethelbert area, thus making it more difficult for us to finance the hospital. However, from monies raised locally a new autoclave was installed and with a grant from our Society more convenient plumbing, a workroom and bathroom facilities were made available.

Instead of two workers at Gypsumville we are planning on the appointment of a nurse who will do the evangelistic work as well.

Both in Teulon and Matheson we are working on a five-year basis in sharing the maintenance deficit at the end of the year. The new hospital in Teulon was opened one year ago and Miss Mary Yakinischak reported a baby born the night it opened and a new baby every night for six nights in succession.

There is a continued shortage of nurses and while through our Home Missions Committee and the Candidate Committee we have made this request known, we have not had any response.

While we are working on the Commission on Hospitals set up by General Council we are glad to have had our policy as a guiding statement which has been helpful over the years when we have been approached by the Municipalities to purchase our hospitals and then continue to work along together, providing staff and sharing on a fifty-fifty basis any year-end deficit.

ORIENTAL

Chinese

Chinese work is carried on by The United Church of Canada in 14 centres with seven ordained ministers and five W.M.S. workers. To our staff this year we are glad to add two new missionaries who hope to be able, after some study of the Chinese language, to carry on work with our newer Chinese people.

In 1955, a survey revealed 399 families with 5,766 persons under pastoral oversight. In 1956, the figures stand at 503 families and 6,162 persons under oversight.

The last census reported 32,528 Chinese in Canada. During 1955 a total 2,575 Chinese were admitted to Canada. We think we should continue to encourage the second generation Oriental to seek membership in our regular congregations.

Miss Jeannie Loh, who came from Macao, China, to assist in the Chinese Church in Toronto, was released from her work and is now at the United Church Training School.

Due to the increased number of Chinese children wishing to enter our kindergarten in Vancouver we authorized the opening of a second kindergarten in the Chinese Church, beginning the first of January. Approximately 100 children are in attendance in the two kindergartens.

Of the 2,500 Chinese who came into Canada in 1955 more than half of them have remained in the Province of British Columbia.

Up-Island there are many small places between Duncan and Alberni and scattered along that route are Chinese families all known to Miss Agatha Coulters. The work in Nanaimo is smaller but not any easier. A kindergarten, two Church Schools and a women's meeting, as well as visitation in the homes, is the regular program.

Japanese

The last census reported 21,663 Japanese in Canada. In 1955, a total of 97 Japanese were admitted to Canada.

The number of workers remains the same, although some changes are making it possible to give service to the smaller groups in more outlying areas.

In Steveston, when one visits our Church School, one is aware that across the road in the old kindergarten once maintained by us a Buddhist Sunday School is organized.

We continue to co-operate with the Boards of the Church, serving on Commissions and Boards and assuming the responsibility they request. We are grateful to our Board Secretaries for help and guidance.

Our Advisory Committees have been most co-operative and they have undertaken tasks of major importance. We are glad to have such understanding and consecrated women.

Our Home Missions Committee has been loyal and we thank each one for her time so generously given, and through sharing our problems we often arrived at satisfactory solutions. We have had a good year, for which we give heartfelt thanks, knowing that as we serve in His name, He will bless abundantly our efforts.

ISABEL McINTOSH LOVEYS.

OVERSEAS MISSIONS

Report of the Overseas Missions Executive Secretary*

Another year has passed and once again it is time to report on the year's work. On the one hand it has been a year of encouragement in many places with the joy of open doors for work and witness and the satisfaction of accomplishment. In other places there have been difficulties and discouragements. Yet through it all we have had assurance that we are under God's direction. We are His instruments, seeking to do His will. The issue is in His hands.

From September 22 to December 12 last year I spent in India. Most of that time was spent in Central India seeing the work which is within the bounds of Malwa Church Council. It was a pleasure and privilege to have the opportunity of seeing India again and of sharing in discussions and plans for the future. I also visited the Ladhiana and Vellore Christian Medical Colleges, the Madras Women's Christian College, the National Christian Council Headquarters' office in Nagpur, as well as the cities of Delhi and Bombay. Such a visit always enriches one personally and provides a first-hand experience of the work which is of real assistance in understanding the situation.

Gradual transfer of all administrative authority to the National Church bodies is the line of development being followed in every area where it has not already been accomplished. This means a basic change in Mission Board-Church relationships and raises problems as to the relationship of the missionary to the National Church. It means also that the National Churches are taking responsibilities for the work which has been carried by missionaries. It is a development which we welcome as an indication of growing strength and maturity in those Churches. Most of them are also accepting a larger measure of financial responsibility and this will increase as time goes on.

Missionary Staff

There are at present 95 missionaries of our Society, plus 10 other workers appointed on a term (2-5 years) basis, at work in the overseas fields. Of these, two missionaries will be retiring this year and 9 short-term workers will complete their terms and return to Canada. We rejoice that two new missionaries have been appointed, and two transferred from the Canadian work, although we wish the number had been five times as large. Also we are happy that 5 young women have been appointed to Japan and Korea to teach English in the High Schools. These appointments will bring our missionary staff up to 103 for the coming year.

There are still many urgent requests before us to which we have been unable to respond due to lack of candidates. This is a problem of serious proportions and our participation in the work of the Church in the various fields will depend to some extent as to whether more professionally well-qualified young women of Christian conviction and with a clear understanding of and experience in the Christian faith can be found to offer themselves for this type of service through the Church abroad.

Property Needs

Once again a long list of requests for new buildings in almost every area has been before us for consideration. The most urgent of these are presented to this Dominion Board for approval. The provision of funds for these needed buildings is one effective way we can be of service to the Churches in other countries where the large majority of Christians have not the financial means to undertake such projects. If these Churches are to continue to grow and develop they need a trained leadership. This can only be possible when there are Christian Institutions, and these Institutions need an adequate plant with the necessary equipment. These needs provide us with an opportunity for service.

Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches.

A new executive secretary has been appointed by the Department of Overseas Missions, CCC in the person of Rev. R. B. Tillman who has been for several years with The World Council of Churches in Geneva in the Department of Inter-Church Aid and Service to Refugees. Sincere appreciation has been expressed by the Department to Dr. W. A. Cameron who has served most efficiently as acting-secretary for almost two years at real personal sacrifice.

The Annual Conference of the Department was held this year in Montreal May 8-10. It was well attended with a wide representation from all the communions.

This Department sent a request to all the Canadian Mission Boards to share in meeting the cost of a visit to South America of a Pan-American Youth Team, in which Canadians will participate, in connection with a Congress to be held in Colombia in November of this year. A grant of $167.00 was made by our Executive as our Society's share in this project.

The International Missionary Council

The International Missionary Council has given top priority to theological education throughout the world and has urged all Mission Boards to put an increased amount of funds and more personnel into this strategic part of the Church's work. The IMC has set up a plan whereby assistance will be given the Churches in the various countries in improving their Theological Colleges and Seminaries over a ten year period. The total amount involved is $2,500,000 of which $250,000 is asked from the Mission Boards. Canada's share of this is $5,000 per year for ten years. A grant of $937.50 was made by our Executive to meet our share of this for 1956 and the same amount is included in the 1957 Estimates. These funds will be used to strengthen the teaching facilities, to provide scholarships and to improve libraries.

The IMC is also planning to assist in the establishing of regional centres for the study of the non-Christian religions. Dr. Glora Wysner of the New York IMC office has recently visited a number of National Christian Councils in Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Burma, Ceylon, India, Pakistan and the Near East and assisted in plans for such centres.

Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

Participation in the various area and functional committees of the Division of Foreign Missions, NCCC has been continued. It is of real advantage to our work to maintain this relationship since it enables us to have a share in Christian work throughout the world as well as to participate in inter-denominational projects in areas where we carry our main work.

Through the Africa Committee this year we have shared in four area Christian Education Conferences in Africa by a grant of $500.00. One of these areas is West-Central Africa which includes Angola, and another includes Northern Rhodesia. These Conferences are planning for better curricula for Sunday School and Youth groups and for the training of African leadership along these lines. Through a grant of $250.00 to the Africa Committee we have also shared in the holding of area consultations in Africa looking toward an advance in ministerial training in Africa.

AFRICA

Angola, Portuguese West Africa

Again this year a great deal of time and thought have been given by the American Board and United Church of Canada missionaries and the African Church leaders in Angola to the two important questions which were mentioned in last year's report—The Union of the Missions and the Integration of the Missions and the African Churches. Serious problems appear in both cases but genuine efforts are being made in Angola to find solutions to these problems. A draft Constitution of the proposed Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola has been drawn up and approved by the Joint Church-Mission annual meeting in March. It is being presented to this Dominion Board meeting for approval. According to these proposals all work—church, educational and medical, will be transferred to the new Church Council on which missionaries will have representation, and to which all grants for work will be made. This is a basic change in administration from that which pertained during the earlier years of missionary work in Angola although recent developments have been increasingly along these lines.

The "Union of the Missions" envisages the unification of the American and Canadian Missions into one organization, with eventually a common treasurer. Differences in salaries and allowances, the policy of furnishings for missionary residences and other Board regulations as regards missionaries, make such complete unification difficult unless it can be done without complete uniformity as between the American and United Church Mission Boards. This is a question of real importance since the African Church regards the missionaries of both Missions as one whole, and does not understand the difference of methods of making grants by the Boards, or the usual plan of regarding certain Stations as American or others as Canadian. Solution of these problems must be found by mutual agreement. Mobility and adaptability to a new situation demand new methods of work if the life and work of the African Church is not to suffer.

Delay in securing a visa for entry into Portugal prevented Miss Marion Pope from leaving Canada last autumn. She, meanwhile, gained further hospital experience and did some Portuguese language study here. A visitor's visa was granted in January 1956, and she was about to leave when the serious illness of her father made it necessary for her to ask for leave of absence. She hopes by late spring to know more clearly when she will be free to go. We are happy with the appointment of two new missionaries this year, Miss Mary E. Clark, Reg. N., and Miss Marion Boyd, B.A. They are greatly needed in Angola. Miss Helen Stockton, Reg. N., completed her Portuguese language study in Lisbon in the autumn of last year and proceeded to Angola, arriving there in November. She has been stationed at Dondi for Umbundu language study and her teacher is Miss Maria Chela. We regret that Miss Anne E. Copithorne has had to be granted leave of absence for one year from May 1, 1956, for personal reasons. Miss Millicent Howse had to return to Angola before this Dominion Board meeting in order to arrive before her re-entry permit expired. With the two new appointees, the missionary staff in Angola is now 21.

Emergency grants have had to be made through the year to meet needs which could not wait:

From Property Account—Missionary Guest House at Chiuissi, $250.00; Re-tiling dining hall roof, Girls' School Hostel, Lutamo, $1,700.00.

From the Angola Estimate—For our share of 1956 budget for Rural and Urban Betterment Program, $500.00.

The Jubilee celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Mission in Angola was held at Dondi May 7-8, 1955. Rev. Floyd Honey, Associate Secretary of the Board of Overseas Missions represented our Society as well as his own Board on that occasion.

The urgency of the situation as regards the prevalence of tuberculosis in Angola is recognized by all and the Boards are urged to make additional funds available for a program of preventive work as well as for the treatment of curable cases at the various hospitals. A program of Rural and Urban Betterment was agreed upon in 1955. This includes increased training in Agriculture, Public Health, Home Economics, Family Life, cooperative and group action and production of literature for the above departments.

In response to the request of the Africa Committee a grant of $750.00 was made as our Society's share in the United Mission to San Tomé. This interesting and important work was begun by a few African Christians who went to the Island as contract laborers and witnessed to their faith. The little group of Christians need some assistance. Both a Portuguese and an African pastor are being sent, as well as help given for their church building, the purchase of a car and help with school work.

Northern Rhodesia

It is a matter of real regret that no new missionaries have been found for Northern Rhodesia this year. Urgent requests for such appointments have come from Mrs. Essie Johnson, our only missionary there, as well as from the British Committee and The Field Liaison Committee in Northern Rhodesia. The opportunities for work among women and girls in the various centres of mine labor are almost unlimited and there are so few single women missionaries in the area to respond to these opportunities.

The Foreign Mission Committee of the Church of Scotland has addressed a memorandum to The United Church of Canada asking us to assist them in work in their Mission area in Northern Rhodesia. This area is distinct from the mining centres, somewhat north and east of them, but the same African Church. The Church of Central Africa in Rhodesia, is at work there. Teachers and nurses as well as Church workers are needed.

To undertake this further responsibility in such a strategic area makes a challenge to us, but would involve additional expenditures of funds, and several new missionaries. It could be done only if the whole membership of our Society were willing to accept increased responsibility. Yet the call is urgent. Africa, and especially Central Africa, has explosive possibilities. Everything possible needs to be done to strengthen the African Church as it faces its work and witness in a situation pregnant with possibilities for either tragedy or the peaceful solution of its problems.

INDIA

There have been several changes in the missionary staff in Central India during this past year. Miss Faith Weber was married in December to Rev. David Bauman of the American Methodist Mission in Bombay State. They will be returning on furlough this year. A few days later Miss Frances Taylor and Rev. Fred Cline of our own Mission were married and they are now living at Kharua. On May 12th Miss Lillian Johnson was married to Mr. Stanley Muird. They will probably make their home in England.

Miss Dorothy Kilpatrick had to return to Canada in November for health reasons. We are delighted that she is making a good recovery. She will be greatly missed in India where she made a lasting impression on all who came in contact with her.

Because of all these losses, and the fact that no new missionaries have been appointed to India for several years, a rather serious situation has arisen. The Board of Christian Service has asked us for six evangelistic women missionaries, three of them this year, and we have no one to send. Three districts were to be without evangelistic missionary leadership. It has been necessary for our missionaries to be given very large areas of work, which makes a concentrated program impossible. Nurses are needed also to staff the hospitals adequately. Altogether 9 new missionaries were requested. We have included 4 in the list of appointments in the next two years. Miss Anne Black has completed her two year term at Indore Christian College and is returning to Canada this summer. This leaves our present missionary staff at 32.

Definite plans have been made for the erection of a Children's Home at Neemuch as soon as the funds are available. Since the total amount has been contributed through G.B.A., building operations will begin at once. This new Home will accommodate 35 children along with the necessary staff. Those of school age will attend the Mission School at Neemuch which is just a short distance away.

The Title to the property at Agar Rural Centre is now clear as far as the Provincial authorities are concerned. It is hoped the building of the dispensary and the house for the pastor can soon be completed. A Committee is working on future plans and program.

A Rural Extension Pilot Project has been set up at Baunja near Ratlam. This includes adult literacy classes, a clinic, a village library and an active church program under the direction of an able young Indian pastor.

Indore Christian College has decided to appoint an Indian dean of women to succeed Miss Anne Black. The College has asked our Board to provide the salary for this dean of women and a grant of up to $1,500, was made from July 1, 1956 for this purpose. We have not been able to accede to the request of the College for other increases in our grant. There are 614 students at the College this year of whom 128 are women. Only 36 are Christians. The College has an excellent academic record and has added to its graduate departments recently.

The Union Theological Seminary at Indore has no women among its regular students but it gives a special Course to the wives of ministerial students. Rev. Hilda Johnson is on the staff of this College.

The Sunday School Union of India held a Curriculum Conference in November with the help of the World Council of Christian Education. A new curriculum of Sunday School lessons was worked out for the first two years of the Course. Other years will be done later. A grant of $375 was made by our Society as our share of the cost of publishing this material.

Further discussions were held during this year on the proposed Plan of Integration of all Mission Work under the Malwa Church Council. After careful thought and prolonged discussion a revised Plan of Integration was drawn up by the Joint Committee of Mission Council and Malwa Church Council. This was approved by Mission Council, and was submitted to Church Council in March. It is now before the Home Boards for consideration and approval. January 1, 1957 is the date on which the transfer is to be made if the approval of all groups is received. This will mean a basic change in our relationship to the Malwa Church Council. It also means the acceptance of greater responsibility by the Church in that part of India, not only for the administration of the work, but also of a greater measure of financial support as soon as that can be managed.

The provision of free medical treatment and hospital care for all of the citizens of India by the India Government has raised difficulties for our Mission hospitals where fees have to be charged. Some hospitals are running at only half capacity, while others are in more serious situation. A few are full to capacity most of the time. The Medical Commission of Mission Council is giving serious thought to this problem to devise means by which it can be overcome. The Nurses Training Schools are recognized by the Government as of great value since one of the most urgent needs of India is for more nurses. An excellent Cooperative six months' Graduate School of Nursing in Hindi is being carried on at our Indore Hospital under the auspices of the Mid-India Nurses' Board. Eleven nurses are there this year.

Madras Women's Christian College continues its excellent record in all its departments. We regret to report that Miss Dorothy Pearson had a serious operation at Vellore in November. She continued to direct the Nutrition Department from the hospital until the arrival of Dr. Mary Hiltz in January. Dr. Hiltz has been appointed for eighteen months to direct this work while Miss Pearson is on furlough. This department has continued its remarkable extension services in the district around Madras, as well as Courses for special groups at the College. Some funds are now available from sources other than Mission grants, so our grant to this department was reduced to $2,500 in 1956, and the grant to the general budget of the College was increased to $2,000 in line with grants from other cooperating Mission Boards.

Ludhiana Christian Medical College is in the midst of its new building program to meet the requirements of the Government for the M.B.B.S. standing. There are now 210 students in the first three years of the higher grade course. Larger maintenance grants will be necessary if the hospital is to be run efficiently. An interesting rural medical centre has been set up by the College with the help of WHO in a nearby village. Here, medical students are given practical training in a village public health program.

Vellore Christian Medical College is also continuing to grow by the addition of new departments. A new plan for the admittance of students has been drawn up and submitted to the various Mission and Church groups in India. By this plan 35 of the 50 students accepted each year would be students sponsored by the Missions or Churches or other Christian students. The remaining 15 places would be open to anyone on a competitive basis. A revised constitution has also been submitted to the Cooperative Boards for approval. According to this the Association of the College, which is the property holding body, would be composed entirely of Indian membership. This would mean the channelling of at least part of grants from Mission Boards through the related Indian Church bodies. Mission Boards can be represented on the Council of the College.

HONG KONG AND FORMOSA

Hong Kong

The Church Clinic at Rennie's Mill Refugee Camp has again requested our Society to send them a nurse. Grants to this Clinic have been made from United Church Relief Funds sent to Hong Kong.

Miss Annie Thexton finds the apartment in the Church Guest House Annex very convenient and comfortable.

A grant of $1,000 was made from Property Account towards the building and equipment of a Family Life Centre in one of the crowded sections of Hong Kong. This is connected with the Hong Kong District Association.

This year there are 354 students at Chung Chi College, of whom 147 are women. Fifty percent are Christians. These students came originally from 14 Provinces in China, and a few other areas in south-east Asia. A site for the new building has been secured in the new Territories and it is hoped building operations will begin soon. Funds for these buildings have been provided by the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia. Part of our grant to the U.B.C.H.E.A. goes to this College. The Board of the College has a list of greatly needed foreign staff and would appreciate the appointment of qualified missionary professors and staff by any of the cooperating Mission Boards.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has had a successful year. Of the 64 books published this past year 37 were reprints or revised editions, 23 were new translations and four were new works in Chinese. In addition, tracts, pictures and music were published. Miss Jean Hsu is editing "Happy Childhood." The new Chinese woman editor to succeed Miss Margaret Brown has not yet been secured but the search is continuing for a suitable person.

The response to the Christian message and the work of the Church is very remarkable. Churches are crowded beyond their capacity and everywhere "the Word is heard gladly." One of the ways Mission Boards can assist in this situation is to provide funds to make possible additional church buildings. Some of the larger churches can provide their own, but the smaller ones, and those in the smaller towns and villages find that impossible. Last year a grant of $1,000 was made to help the church at Sheung Shui. This year a grant of $1,500 ($9,000 H.K.) was made to assist the church at Sham Oi which itself had raised $70,000 H.K., a remarkable achievement. Other Missions are also making similar grants.

Miss Irene Moore has been granted six months furlough after three years of service at the Hay Ling Chau Leper Colony since it is inadvisable for any of the staff to stay there longer than three years at a time. The Leper Colony is gradually developing and enlarging its program. There are now about 500 patients at the Colony.

Formosa

Encouraging reports come from Miss Ruth MacLeod and Miss Greta Gauld of their work. Miss MacLeod has been helping to organize a Woman's Society in the Presbyterian Church in Formosa, and she reports that the new organization is getting off to a good start under excellent Formosan leadership.

United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia

This is the new name for the former United Board for Christian Colleges in China.

The program of this Board now includes fellowships for study in the United States and Canada, the continuation of a spiritual ministry to Chinese through the Chinese Student and Alumni Services in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Seattle, visiting and exchange professorships in the Christian Colleges in South-East Asia, scholarships for East Asian students in the International Christian University in Japan, Silliman University in the Philippines, and in other Asian Colleges, encouragement to the Christian University in Indonesia, and grants to Chung Chi College, Hong Kong and Tunghai University, Formosa. The latter is a new Christian University which began its academic work on November 2, 1955, with its first class of 200 students who were carefully selected from 5,800 applicants. Fifty-five per cent of these are Chinese from the mainland, and the rest are Formosans. About a third of the students are women.

JAPAN

In the summer of this year six three-year appointees will have completed their terms of service and returned to Canada. One of these, Miss Mary McCrimmon, Ph.D., has stayed for four years at the special request of the Woman's Christian College, Tokyo, where she is teaching. The others are Misses Margaret Avison, B.A., Margaret Campbell, B.Sc., Helen Moase, B.A., and Marjorie Yeadon, B.A., who have taught in the High Schools. The school principals have been most appreciative of the work these young women have done, not only in classroom teaching, but also in their contacts with the students and staff and in the community. The remaining one is Miss Jean Peters who has been much appreciated in the IBC business office.

We are happy in the appointment of Miss Violet Langland, B.Ed., as an educational missionary. Miss Langland returned from Japan in 1955 after three years there on a short-term appointment, and is the first of such appointees to return for regular service after a course at the United Church Training School.

This project of three-year appointments for the teaching of English has been eminently successful. Of the seven appointed prior to the six coming home this year, one is in Y.W.C.A. work, one in the Student Christian Movement, two are married, one, Miss Langland, is returning as a regular missionary, one had to return to Canada within the year, and the other is considering return to Japan on a regular basis under our Society. In view of the success of the plan, and the urgent requests for at least three appointments in 1956, an emergency appeal was sent out to Branch Candidate Secretaries, with the result that several applications were received and two have been appointed. Miss Janet M. Arklie, B.A. of Grand Falls, Newfoundland, and Miss Audrey G. Wellwood, B.A., of South Brookfield, Queens Co., Nova Scotia, both of whom expect to secure their B.Ed. degree from Acadia University this spring.

Miss Gertrude Hamilton returns to Canada this summer after 39 years of service and she will retire following her furlough. She will be greatly missed. During this last term of service, she has been our representative on the Council of Cooperation and other similar committees and Boards. This has involved countless meetings and the correspondence with the Home Board in addition to her regular work of teaching at the Toyo Eiwa School in Tokyo. With the above changes there will be 21 on our Japan missionary staff.

When the 1956 budget requests came from the Council of Cooperation in September, 1955, it was found that our Society could not accept its full share because of insufficient funds in the Japan Estimate. A request for $4,750 for Church buildings and repairs had to be omitted from our grants at that time. One new item in the Church and Evangelism budget was for visitation evangelism. About 200 Churches in Japan are now using this plan, and 400 others are making a beginning at it. In one Church in Tokyo, 200 were received into Church membership last year as a direct result of this plan.

There has been a gradual increase in Church membership in recent years, but more notable has been the increase in the devotion of the members as reflected in an increase in offerings, and especially for the Kyodan's Home Mission program. This year it is anticipated that nine million yen ($25,000 Canadian) will be contributed which is a large sum for the Japan Church since the average income in Japan is very low. The greatest increase in giving is in the area of young people's and women's work.

After the sale of the Nagano house and property, Miss Marjorie Tunbridge was transferred to Ueda, and it became necessary to secure living accommodation for her since our W.M.S. house there had been destroyed during the war.

The small piece of land purchased in Hamamatsu several years ago was sold to the kindergarten for $1.00 per tsubo and $500.00 for the house on it, since the land adjoined the kindergarten and they needed the extra space.

Since all grants from our Board are made in Canadian dollars and IBC budget is made up in U.S. dollars, we have a small sum resulting from gains on exchange at the end of each year. In December 1955 this amounted to $539.70 and this sum was granted toward the new dormitory and classroom building at the Christian Rural Training Centre at Hino, near Tokyo.

A letter of thanks was received from Mrs. Satsukawa of the Shizuoka School in gratitude for the gift made by our Society on her retirement after many years of devoted service.

Mr. Naitoh, principal of the Yamanashi Girls' High School, Kofu, has written to express the appreciation and gratitude of the School, the Board of Managers and the friends of the school for our Society's grant of $25,000 in 1955 towards the cost of their new buildings. The building was completed in December and the dedication service was held on February 11, 1956. An amount of 15,670,000 yen (approximately $43,000) was contributed by staff, students, P.T.A., and alumnae and friends of the school toward the whole new building project. Additional land has been bought to provide more space and it is hoped to proceed with further building as soon as possible.

The Girls' High School at Shizuoka also has a request for $30,000 before us as they need a few additions to their plant.

The Woman's Christian College has a student body of 1,600 this year, of whom 548 are in the English Course and 85 in the new course in Psychology. Dr. Teruko Komyo, dean of the College, attended the World Council of the Y.W.C.A. in London, England in September last, and then later came to the United States to participate in the Seminar of Christian College professors. The College is planning to erect a new classroom building at a cost of $70,000 for which something over half the cost will be secured in Japan. The Cooperating Committee in North America is asked for a grant of $30,000 to cover the balance. Our Society is a member of the Cooperating Committee.

The International Christian University continues its steady development. There are now 500 students in three years of the College of Liberal Arts. About one-third of them are Christians. The Graduate School will be established after the four years of undergraduate work is in progress. About 10% of the students are non-Japanese including 28 Americans, 23 Chinese, 3 Koreans, 2 Canadians and one each from India and Thailand. About one-third of the students are women. The University has already made a significant place for itself in Japan both as a Christian Institution and as one with a high academic standard. Our Society is a member of the University Foundation in North America but has not yet been able to make an annual grant to the University.

KOREA

This past year has seen a gradual development in our relationship to the new "Presbyterian Church in the Republic of Korea", the official name for the new Church. A Planning Committee was set up last summer and a new constitution of The Assembly-Mission Joint Committee was submitted to the Board of Overseas Missions and our Society for approval.

Since it had not been possible to make detailed estimates for 1956 for the work in Korea due to the change in Church relationships, the actual budget was presented early in 1956 and was granted from the unallocated amount in the Korea Estimate. These grants included the Audio-Visual program, Bible Institutes in twelve Presbyteries, literature, women evangelists, the work of Bible School graduates, aid to schools, a girls' dormitory in Seoul, caravans, student work, Christian Education, prison Chaplains and grants to the two magazines, "The Christian Home" and "Children's Friend."

This new Assembly-Mission Joint Board has requested our Mission to open a new Centre for Missionary residence and work at Iri, an important railway centre in South-West Korea, where no other missionaries are located. There are a large number of local Churches connected with the new Church in that area. This will involve the withdrawal from Ko-je Island, and perhaps Pusan also. Both of these places are in areas where there are few local Churches of the new Church. It will also involve the purchase of land and the erection of a missionary residence, as well as a Christian Training Centre building.

The new Church is hoping that The United Church of Canada will be able to increase the number of its missionaries in Korea and a list of ten missionaries needed plus two three-year term appointees for English teaching has come to our Society. The requests for the 1957 budget were greatly increased over the 1956 grants but due to lack of funds it was not possible to meet all these requests. Since The United Church of Canada is the only Church outside of Korea connected with the new Church there, they are counting on us for increased support.

Miss Emma Palethorpe will return to Canada this summer and will retire after six months' furlough. She will be greatly missed as she has filled a very important place as secretary-treasurer of the Mission for both the Board of Overseas Missions and The Woman's Missionary Society. Her place is being taken by Miss Annetta Rose as W.M.S. secretary and Rev. D. B. Sutor as treasurer for both Boards.

Miss Violet Stewart returned to Canada last fall having completed the Weaving Project she went out to establish. She has been re-appointed to Home Mission work.

In response to the request for two three-year term teachers of English we are happy to report that Miss Romona Underwood, B.A., has been appointed to Korea for a three-year period. Miss Underwood is from Saskatchewan and is completing her Theology course this spring at St. Andrew's College. We are still hoping to appoint a second person if one can be found.

Ewha Woman's University is holding a very special service during the last week in May in commemoration of the 70th anniversary of its founding. Dr. Helen Kim, energetic and able President, has invited several guests from abroad. Three are going from the United States, but no one from Canada has been able to accept the invitation.

The student body of Ewha now number over 4,000 which makes an almost impossible situation. The dormitories are badly overcrowded and thus can only accommodate a small fraction of the students. Classes are too large and facilities overtaxed. Yet the President and Board of Managers have felt it wise to receive all those students as there are so few institutions where they can get an education and there is such an eagerness on the part of young people in Korea today for an education.

Two summer Conferences were held on the Campus, one for leadership training in the Methodist Church and one under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. One hundred students went out during the summer to needy communities in rural areas.

TRINIDAD

A notable event this year was the personal visit of Mrs. D. W. McKenzie to Trinidad in February. This visit was greatly appreciated not only by the missionaries but also by the women of the various Churches and the W.M.S. Presbyterial.

Archibald Institute is to be once more bereft of its Director. Miss Margaret Tasken who has been the Director since Miss Inez Morrison left is returning to Canada at the end of three years, which is a year longer than she had originally anticipated. Her willingness to remain over for this extra year was greatly appreciated. However, so far it has not been possible to find a Home Economics teacher to succeed her either on a short or long term basis.

The Naparima Girls' High School has 650 students this year. In the examinations in December, high distinctions were gained by girls from this school. Miss Phoebe Lahouri, vice-principal of the School, was transferred to the St. Augustine Girls' High School as acting Principal when Miss Constance Wagar left for furlough in April. The St. Augustine Girls' High School has 275 students and has come to fill a very real need in the northern part of the Island, and already has an enviable academic record.

A new venture in the past few years has been a Christian radio program undertaken by Presbytery and the Interim Committee for Women's Work. A grant of $900.00 was made in 1956 as our share of the cost of preparing programs.

A new car was purchased for the Tunapuna-Guaico district for which a grant of $3,300 B.W.L. (approximately $2,500 Canadian) was made from Property Account.

Several additional missionaries are urgently needed according to the last list of requests received from the Interim Committee for Women's Work. Recent appointments have been on a short-term basis and while these young women are greatly appreciated and have done excellent work, appointments on a more permanent basis and with missionary training would make unnecessary the constant change of staff and would make more long-range planning possible.

Miss Irene Thompson left Trinidad in late September. She was married in early October and our best wishes go with her in her new life. She is greatly missed in Trinidad where she served for 22½ years, having been transferred from West China in 1927 due to the evacuation.

Conclusion

In closing, I would like to pay tribute to our missionaries who are our representatives in the various areas throughout the world. They are facing problems and tensions in this new day, but also theirs is the joy of serving as colleagues with their fellow-Christians in the various lands in the work of the Church through its various departments. I have never met any who would willingly return to their own home land unless forced to do so by health and other circumstances. Our hearts and prayers go out to them as well as to the Christian men and women of all these countries. May God's richest blessing rest on them all and grant that through them many may come to know God as revealed in Jesus Christ, and come to accept Him as their Lord and Saviour.

CANDIDATE

It was the Annual Meeting of 1954 which proposed the new plan for Candidate work whereby every Conference Branch should have a Candidate Secretary as an officer of the Branch, and every Presbyterian Society likewise a Presbyterian Candidate Secretary. The passing of some time was necessary before each Annual meeting could have opportunity of implementing the action of that Board. The Conference Branches, after having elected the Branch Candidate Secretaries, authorized Presbyterials to proceed with the election of the Presbyterian Secretaries. Now, two years later, all Conference Branches and most Presbyterian Societies include among their elected secretaries, a Candidate Secretary. There remain some Presbyterials which have yet to choose this officer, but it is hoped that very soon there will be a complete organization for Candidate work through Conference Branches and Presbyterials.

Reports of the work in the Conference Branches for the past year have been made by the Candidate Secretaries of almost all Conference Branches. They were encouraging and challenging. They were encouraging because they showed an awareness of the importance of the work of a Candidate Secretary and because they showed a keen desire to do the work effectively. They showed an alertness to many new possibilities in the work and new approaches to it. They were challenging because they showed the immensity of the task and the extent to which it will require careful and prayerful thought, patience, initiative, and never flagging zeal and faith, on the part of all Secretaries. This work is in a very real sense the very core of the whole work of our Society.

A year ago, the Annual Meeting of Dominion Board authorized the appointment, in 1956 and 1957, of 17 women to Overseas work and 25 to work in Canada. We are as yet very far short of that number. The appointments authorized last year were stated in such definite terms as a Home Economics teacher for Trinidad, a Public Health nurse for India, a woman to work among students in Korea, a woman to open work in the Cariboo district in British Columbia. We must learn to think of each authorized appointment in terms of some particular young woman who may answer the call of that particular need. While we are far short of the number authorized last year, new requests continue to come from overseas and the needs in Canada are increasing. Both in Canada and around the world, The United Church of Canada needs the services of consecrated women who dedicate their special gifts and training to the service of Christ. The qualifications remain unchanged from last year. The needs remain as urgent.

In February a special appeal was sent to all Conference Branch Secretaries and through them to all Presbyterials requesting help from all parts of the country in finding five young women for appointment as short term workers to Japan and Korea to serve for a period of three years as teachers of basic English in Girls' High Schools and Colleges. The five young women have been found. Three of them have received appointment to Japan and two of them to Korea. Another short term appointment has been made of a Home Economics teacher to Trinidad to serve for two years as Director of Archibald Institute.

Six young women have received missionary appointment this year, four of them to work in Canada and two to work Overseas. In addition, two nurses have been transferred from work as missionary nurses in Canada to work Overseas.

For the dedication of life and talent of all of these young women we are deeply grateful.

PERIODICALS

Three covers of The Missionary Monthly have attracted more attention than usual during the 1955-56 season: August with its stately view of the Dominion Parliament Buildings as provided by the National Film Board, December with its blue Della Robbia "Madonna and Child" used by permission of the Royal Ontario Museum, and March with its pink, full-size reproduction from the new Baby Band membership card.

From August to June, few issues have lacked some emphasis on the Canada Year study of the first Canadians and the newcomers. In the spring issues, the Home Organization Committee, in consultation with the editor, tried an interesting experiment. Instead of its regular departmental pages, stories and articles from many sources across Canada were secured by the Committee on topics related to the year's work including Church Extension, the unemployment situation, New Canadians, pressures of materialism, the National Evangelistic Mission.

Each issue now carries a brief Candidate feature, and a four-page centre spread in March was reprinted both by the Candidate and the Personnel Committees.

A glance through the year's file still leaves the editor amazed at and grateful to the vast number of people who have contributed a vast deal of time, effort, ideas and imagination. Through them The Missionary Monthly has been enabled to give some glimpses of "the changing patterns which challenge the Church" not only in Canada but across the world.

There is one certain way to the heart of a child: show genuine personal interest in him. If a magazine can show this interest and understanding then the child's attention is assured.

This year, World Friends, our children's magazine with Christian and missionary emphasis, has been featuring children's drawings on its covers. The lively interest shown in this project has resulted in a page of drawings, poems and stories also contributed by young readers. It is hoped, that in the coming months, stories, articles and pictures of overseas missions may have the added interest, too, of similar contributions from the school children of Southeast Asia and other countries. In this way children around the world may be brought closer together in understanding and friendship.

The United Churchman, published twice monthly at Sackville, New Brunswick, is an official organ of the Maritime Conference and serves a fairly wide constituency covering New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Bermuda. Of these two islands, one is the largest and the other the smallest Presbytery in the Maritime Conference. The subscription list has practically doubled in recent years, now stands at 8,585, and is still growing.

The W.M.S. Page in the United Churchman has made itself indispensable to our women. It seeks to give a clear message of the Kingdom of God through news of significant happenings in the World Church, letters from our missionaries, urgent needs especially for workers, and news of work in the home organizations with comment where necessary to tie the whole together and point up our responsibility as Christian women entrusted with the great commission.

Subscriptions to The Missionary Monthly and World Friends reached a new peak in 1955:

THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY	73,000
WORLD FRIENDS	53,500

Because of steadily rising costs, the Dominion Board approved a small increase in the price of both magazines for 1956, the first since 1947. This action has brought a loss of subscriptions which experts of the magazine world say inevitably accompanies any increase in subscription price—but which is overcome in one or two years.

To date (April 6th) the subscriptions are:

WORLD FRIENDS	45,500

Weighing the values of the magazines against the small increase in price involved for the individual subscriber, the Department is hopeful of, and working towards the full recovery of the former circulation for both magazines by another year. Because of their importance in forwarding the Mission of the Church, our aim still remains as that of securing interested readers not merely subscribers.

The 30th Annual Report was published in two volumes—4,500 copies of Part 1—"Missionaries Reporting," and 3,800 copies of Part 2—"Facts and Figures."

LITERATURE

To the direct question—what was the foremost feature of Literature in 1955, our answer is—reading. The reports from our Secretaries tell us that a record-breaking number of 190,000 books bearing on the Christian mission were read by adult groups. We have good reason to feel that this figure is conservative. What really matters is that reading and study have a distinct place in the educational program of the Woman's Missionary Society and that books and programs exert an important influence on the thinking and giving of its members. The experience of one Presbyterian illustrates this point clearly. In 1955 their reading score was doubled, resulting in a greatly increased awareness of our Church's varied services and commitments. More than that, the givings of this particular Presbyterian then climbed to a figure well above their allocation.

A second relevant question arises—how do you account for this marked interest in reading? Among many accountable factors, a large amount of credit undoubtedly goes to the host of enthusiastic, well-informed Literature Secretaries, particularly our Presbyterian Secretaries, who through personal presentations at meetings, small and large, in conversation, by letters, lists and reviews stress the importance and value of reading and study.

Many other silent promotion aids could be mentioned such as, the current Bookshelf of background reading material, Book Awards, Auxiliary and Presbyterian libraries, public displays by the hundred, and reading courses and suggestions. Movies, radio and television too are adding their powerful incentives to dig and discover more through the irreplaceable medium of good books.

We who constantly handle books in bulk see plenty of evidence to prove that Christian Mission materials are in demand. Witness the reports of our five regional Literature Depots whose combined sales receipts of $14,900 last year account for an increase of $700 over the previous year's receipts. Depot sales form a substantial part of the larger picture of Literature distribution figures which rose to a grand total of over $56,000 last year.

Most obvious evidence of book-interest is the list of best-sellers with accompanying numbers sold, in a year when New Canadians and Canadian Indians were the current topics for reading and research:

NO VANISHING RACE	6,800
COMING OUR WAY	6,400
HOME MISSIONS DIGEST II	6,046
ANNA AND THE INDIANS	2,663
MISSIONARIES REPORTING	4,184
FACTS AND FIGURES	3,446
THE TURQUOISE HORSE (teen-age)	2,450
SIDEWALK KIDS (Junior)	1,800
THE BOY WITH THE BUSY WALK (Primary)	1,780

Many avenues remain to be explored and cultivated. Citing only two examples, the field for making known the excellent World Friendship books for children and teen-agers has scarcely been scratched; in most Conference Branches hardly half of the Auxiliaries are reading and reporting systematically. To bypass these opportunities is unthinkable! We are living at a time when no Christian can be too well prepared to shoulder her responsibilities. Our attitudes and attendant actions are dependent in large measure on wide and accurate knowledge. Let's make maximum use of our best basic tools for education in the Christian Mission.

Auxiliaries in Federation Organized 1955—9

"Changing Patterns Challenge the Church" was the theme of the presentation made by the Home Organization Department to the Dominion Board 1955. This theme was not haphazardly chosen but was one that had grown out of the experience of the Committee itself as it was faced with question after question directly bearing on its own responsibility during the period of change. Is our organization adequate to meet the demand of a rapidly changing pattern of Canadian life? Are we helping our membership to become aware of the trends and changing patterns of missionary strategy in a revolutionary world? Is there, within our organization, basic conviction about the very nature of the mission and certainty of Biblical basis? Are the officers and leaders in our organization being given enough help to enable them to do their work effectively? Are the organizational units of our Society, through which our work is done, Conference Branch, Presbyterial, Auxiliary, being encouraged to evaluate, to plan, to strive toward definite objectives?

In seeking the answer to some of these questions, this department has sought, during the past year, to prepare and distribute more resource materials with more specific help for groups willing to face up to changing patterns. It has sought to encourage interest in Bible Study and promote the use of specific Bible Study materials. It outlined plans for special emphasis in THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY, related to specific problems in the Canadian scene. It has added to the present plan for summer Leadership Schools a pattern for Coaching Conferences for Presbyterial Secretaries responsible for certain of the Younger Groups and has expanded an experiment in the use of Summer Student leadership. Through field work of the Executive Secretary in eight of the Conference Branches and field visits of the Secretary for Younger Groups in eight, through field letters and bulletins, an effort has been made to challenge officers to find ways and means of developing and expanding Home Organization in all its phases. Response is always difficult to measure but a comment from one Branch report gives some encouragement. It reads, "One note is predominant. More of our women in all Presbyterials have a general interest in the world mission of the Church."

Statistical reports shown above give details of the situation in organization and membership. Increases in givings appear in the Finance Committee's Report.

Membership: One would like to report a major change in the membership picture but it does not appear that the matter is being squarely faced.

Increased givings do not seem to be a result of increased membership, but of an increased concern and of a growing sense of stewardship. More Auxiliaries must become active at the point of enlisting new members. One secretary suggests that the time has come for us to use the approach, "We want you," rather than "Will you come?" Another suggests that "Each one bring one" should replace "Each one invite one." Some novel plans for increasing membership are being used, such as inviting guests to help with special projects, planning get-acquainted socials after reception services for new Church members. Personal letters and telephone campaigns among friends and newcomers have yielded results. Closer cooperation with Associate Members and Community Friendship Secretaries has been recommended. Luncheons for Associate Members, special meetings for and visits with mothers of young children are commended. More effort to provide interesting program is stressed. It is evident that planning and concerned effort does bring results but our strategy may need to be laid at deeper levels. In the final analysis, interest and concern spring from conviction about the Christian Mission itself.

Bible Study: A suggested change in the form of the period for worship has been followed by many groups who have tried to ground their worship in Bible Study. All Branches have asked for more help of this kind with the suggestion of a shorter study outline. Three Branches have reported special study groups for Bible Study. Members of one rural Auxiliary came one hour early for this study.

Change in Organization: A large proportion of time and thought of the Home Organization Chairman and Secretary has had to be given to consultations made necessary by other changing patterns, such as the integration of the production of basic Missionary Education materials into the Board of Information and Stewardship. Such a change necessarily influences the work of the Home Organization Department which is very closely related to the Literature Department of the Society.

Study and Program: Study material used in Auxiliaries during spring 1955 focused attention on changes taking place in India today. During the autumn months, programs dealing with changes nearer home were built around the New Canadian and Canadian Indian. Auxiliaries generally take the reading book of the year for granted. The Program Guide is purchased and either used or kept on hand as a basic resource tool. One additional source of program help is found in THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY where resource material is found for Stewardship and Citizenship programs, seasonal programs, book reviews and the news of the missionaries. Material from MISSIONARIES REPORTING has been used in program and for pageant and drama. THE OBSERVER and ONWARD have been frequently listed in this year's reports as helpful material for program. Practically every Conference Branch has reported "more use of Visual Aids." Here again there may be some evidence in changing patterns in programming.

Leadership Education: Twelve Schools for Leaders held during the summer of 1955 provided opportunity for Bible Study, introduction of new study material, use of visual aids related to the study, emphasis on the need for candidates and practical help for portfolio secretaries and group leaders. Annual revision of bulletin materials for Schools has tried to take account of the experience of those Schools as indicated by evaluations. We need to remember, however, that these Schools still touch only a fraction of our whole membership and we need to make more and more opportunity in every rally, Presbyterial and Conference Branch annual meeting for training members. We need also to explore other training possibilities such as more institutes and workshops for officers and portfolio secretaries.

Younger Groups: One indication of a changing pattern in work with Younger Groups is shown by the interest in the affiliation of Explorer Groups, accompanied by a willingness to limit organization of Mission Bands to groups of young children where there is a possibility of having an Explorer Group as well. There is great willingness on the part of members of Auxiliaries to provide study packets, WORLD FRIENDS, special programs for Younger Groups, refreshments for special occasions, but not yet is there enough concern for the active liaison that can be established by a Vice-President for Younger Groups appointed by an Auxiliary and given an understanding of her job. More conviction and imagination on the part of a Vice-President for Younger Groups could help to bridge a gap that sometimes exists between Auxiliaries and other organizations. Opportunity for Auxiliary representation on the Christian Education Committee of congregations having such, should not be missed, yet only a limited number of Auxiliaries have reported such association.

Supply: A changing pattern in Supply work has been emerging over a period of years, as Overseas Relief has claimed a large part of concern of our members. The past year has been a period of some uncertainty as to specific needs and this is reflected in reports. However, it seems apparent that fewer personal parcels will be needed for Korean missionaries if the Depots can be assured of continuous flow of hales for use overseas.

Miscellaneous: In the portfolio of Citizenship, the Executive Secretary has had to give more help than usual, pending an appointment to this office. The most encouraging note in reports from Citizenship Secretaries is the indication of determination to become better informed and to attempt action based on study.

Conference on Adult Work: In closing, one should call attention to a conference now projected by the Committee on Co-ordination of Adult Work, to be held at Alma College, St. Thomas, Ontario, September 8-11. This conference, centered around the thought "Communicating the Faith" and "The Faith we Communicate," opens up another changing pattern in adult work as more opportunity for co-operation and integration of thought and effort are being sought.

When one takes into account the fact that information recently received in Conference Branch reports is compiled by Associate Members' Secretaries in local Auxiliaries, sent to Presbyterials—thence to Conference Branch, there should be a binding together of the cords of information from all across Canada. Some of the cords are strong and stout, but unfortunately some are frayed and thin, and some are actually broken and lost. For example, good work done in the Auxiliary may not be reported by the Associate Members' Secretary, or perhaps the Auxiliary does report but the Presbyterian Secretary neglects to do so. However, there are very many Conference Branch Secretaries that are "encouraged by a rising tide of interest and enthusiasm." It is with great interest in the contents of reports and admiration for the writers that the reports have been studied.

Although only one Conference Branch has reported increases in all departments, others have reported joy at the many increases and deep concern for the decreases, particularly in subscriptions to THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY, and in the number of Associate Members who joined Auxiliaries.

But in spite of these decreases much good work has been done. One secretary has said, "We are most grateful for the interest and the continued effort of the majority of our secretaries whose reports bear testimony that excellent work is being done in many Auxiliaries." This is basic and important.

Contributions: But contributions are important, too. The need is great and the calls for help are many. It is gratifying to be able to report a substantial increase in the total givings of Associate Members. This increase came about in spite of the fact that there were fewer Auxiliary Associate Members' Secretaries reporting, and in spite of the confusion that arises in the reporting of Auxiliary Associate Members' contributions. Very great credit is due to all that have contributed. But what a pity that it should be inaccurately reported.

Visiting: Personal contacts maintain interest, and most secretaries report that regular calls are made on Associate Members, particularly the shut-ins. Some secretaries visit four times a year—while others report calls being made after each meeting. If it is impossible for the secretary to call, a letter is sent giving news of the meeting. One secretary reports that each member takes the responsibility of calling on one Associate Member during the year.

Literature: When visiting, it is well to take along some reading material. More reading has been done in 1955. One secretary observes: "It would be interesting to know the total number of books read by Associate Members. In many cases the 'shut-ins' eagerly await the call of the visitor who brings reading material on the current study." Many requests were made for small pamphlets, copies of THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY and WORLD FRIENDS, and the NEWSLETTER. Small pamphlets and the Associate Members' Skit were also distributed. One secretary reported that the NEWSLETTER is not too well circulated. There was an increase in subscriptions to THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY in six of the Conference Branches. Unfortunately the decrease in the number of subscriptions in two Branches were so large that the increases were completely over-balanced. Could this be due to lack of interest on the part of Auxiliary Secretaries?

Activities: All report inviting Associate Members to special meetings, such as Christmas, Easter, Mite-box opening, Thank-offering meetings. In some cases transportation is provided. One reports that Associate Members have entertained the Auxiliary in their homes. In some places the Associate Members' Secretary holds one meeting for Associate Members when a speaker may be heard or a letter from a missionary read, or a quilt made, or other sewing done for Supply work. "Mystery Friends" is another project that has proved successful, and has made the Auxiliary members more aware of the Associate Members. Much is done for Supply Work. Help has been given to senior citizens, Children's Aid, Stella Mission, and Fresh Air Camps. Many members attended World Day of Prayer, Sectional Rallies, C.G.I.T. and Explorer gatherings. One secretary reported that the leaders of Mission Band and Explorers were Associate Members.

Much credit is due all Associate Members' Secretaries, who have worked faithfully through the year 1955. Dominion Board is fully aware and deeply grateful for all the work, thought, prayer and effort as well as time, that is expended in distributing information, creating interest, and finally, reporting work done.

Ours is a thrilling work in these critical and challenging days. May God give us grace to do our best to help to advance His Kingdom on earth.

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

Foundation and Design: Reports for the year 1955 indicate an encouraging development in the undergirding of the structure of this particular department. Emphasis on the appointment of more secretaries seems to have borne fruit. Improvement is reported from all Conference Branches.

A separate report form for Christian Citizenship Secretaries has been welcomed and because of it a more accurate and detailed account of work done is available. One comment that secretaries seem to be "settling in" and "pulling together" seems to indicate the general situation. Several reports claim that there is "a growing interest" in this phase of work, that "secretaries are seeking to become better informed" and that "members do support as individuals the variety of welfare services found in most communities."

Weaknesses in the work may be indicated by the great proportion of emphasis placed on welfare as against concern for social legislation and action.

Blueprint and Plan: Materials used quite generally include: The Missionary Monthly, The Observer, Onward, the Citizenship Packet, the United Nations News Letter and International Affairs Bulletin, Fellowship or Fission, Temperance Advocate, White Ribbon Tidings. Among other materials used were pamphlets from the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, Citizens' Forum leaflets, Food for Thought, Canadian Welfare magazine, pamphlets from the Extension Department Library Services.

Citizenship resource materials suggested as still needed or desired, include more material on brotherhood or world peace, Lord's Day observance, race relations, family life, drug addiction, mental health, temperance education for the teens, and new material on United Nations. Some visual aids had been used in Citizenship programs.

Framing and Roofing: Topics studied were reported as follows: the marks of a Christian Citizen, Gambling, Race Relations, the United Nations, Juvenile Delinquency, Christian Family Life, Immigration, the Canadian Council of Churches Family Placement Plan, Crime Comics, the Mentally Retarded, the use of Sunday, laws for women and penal reform, the work of the World Council of Churches, the New Canadian. A concentrated study of the Bracken Commission report and preparation of findings for Auxiliary study was undertaken in one western Branch. This study was carried through jointly with the Woman's Association.

Bricks and Mortar:

ACTION—Members were urged to use their franchise; members attended United Nations Association meeting and reported. A New Canadian immigration centre was visited. Desirable magazines were placed in high school libraries. Help was given in a campaign for a home for Senior Citizens. UNICEF cards were sold. Committees were set up to meet New Canadians. Members attended court citizenship ceremonies for New Canadians. An Auxiliary agreed upon refusal of raffle tickets. Requests were made to civic authorities not to permit opening of mixed cocktail lounges, not to permit sale of liquor in grocery stores, to close beer parlors, to continue grants for Schools of Narcotics. Protests were made re advertising of liquor in press and on radio and television, re gifts from brewers' funds, re granting of licences, and re hours of sale of liquor. Some reported members attending a School for Narcotic Education. In one community there was co-operation with clergy, laymen and police in sponsoring an Alcohol Education Week. "We think it made a difference" was the conclusion of several secretaries who reported on protests and petitions. Some secretaries mentioned introducing the National Temperance Course to Sunday Schools not already using it.

Action was taken in one community to see that voters went to the polls during a plebiscite vote on Sunday sports and hockey practise on Sunday. Visits were made to prisons, to jails, to family welfare agencies. An Indian girl was helped to attend a United Nations seminar. Many activities concerned with welfare and friendship were mentioned. It would seem that the report of this area of Social Welfare might be worked out in co-operation with the Community Friendship and Supply Secretary in the Auxiliary so that the Citizenship Secretary would have one basic statement on social welfare which could be expanded and developed by both Community Friendship and Supply Secretaries.

Windows and Doors: A paper on "Who Is Our Brother," a program on "Doors of Understanding," a talk by an immigrant on Brotherhood, an invitation to New Canadians to help in local Vacation School, house-warmings for New Canadians, a film shown on life in other lands, efforts to get to know Canadian Indians, help given for a New Canadian student attending an ecumenical conference, these and other activities revealed a very practical concern for better understanding between people.

During the year 1955 the work of the Christian Citizenship Department was carried by the Home Organization Secretary with the continuing co-operation of Mrs. Ernest E. Long, former Secretary, Mrs. McCaul, and other members of the Committee. The appointment of Mrs. Willard M. Gordon as portfolio secretary for Christian Citizenship now will make provision for more concentrated leadership and development in this field.

DOROTHY M. YOUNG, Acting Secretary.

COMMUNITY FRIENDSHIP

Facts

F — Findings

There was much of interest in the reports of the work being done in the Community Friendship Department across Canada.

More detailed reports were received throughout indicating that more secretaries were keeping better records. However, all still felt that if a record of the percentage of the number of report forms sent out and those returned was kept the figures would be discouraging.

There were more visits reported in both homes and hospitals although there seem to have been fewer Community Friendship Secretaries.

Concerning the discontinuance of Removal Slips in favor of Personal Notes it was remarked—"The new venture of replacing Removal Slips with Personal Notes has 'caught on' and will insure a warmer personal touch to removal notifications." "The writing of personal notes was a decided improvement over the use of the Removal Slips of other years."

A — Acts

There was a growing awareness of the FOUR major groups to whom service is given and literally hundreds of acts of kindness were reported.

It was felt by most of the secretaries that the work with the AGED had received a special impetus this year. There were regular visits to Old Age Institutions. Several craft classes were organized in Old Age centres. Older people were given reading material, plants, cards, cookies, small personal gifts, birthday and Christmas remembrances, transportation to meetings, doctors' appointments, the shops and sight-seeing trips.

NEW CANADIANS were also the recipients of much kindness and friendliness. They were welcomed to communities by teas, parties, suppers and entertainments. Several were cared for by Auxiliary members when they were ill. Language study classes were provided and much home hospitality was offered.

Community Friendship Secretaries were alert for new faces in stores and offices, in new suburban and old boarding-house areas, and for young people away from home. These folk were invited to church and family gatherings with others who had similar interests and were of a congenial age group.

Evidently there has been regular visiting in sanatoria this year. At one sanatorium each Auxiliary in the city sponsored one patient and many kindnesses were shown upon recovery as well as during illness.

C — Cases

Specialized pieces of work were reported in great numbers. Space permits mention of only a few.

NEWCOMERS: (1) Boy Scouts passing through various centres across Canada to the Jamboree were entertained. (2) Indian girls doing domestic work in one city were gathered together each week for some activity. (3) An Auxiliary in a port city took magazines and books to freighters with English-speaking crews.

AGED: (1) One secretary took sermons down in shorthand on Sundays and read them to aged and blind folk from the congregation. (2) Another Community Friendship worker had a Christmas tree for older women at her home. (3) Two elderly people lived in one member's home while waiting admission to an Old Age Institution.

SICK: (1) One Auxiliary repaired and made over clothing for a family whose mother was taking medical treatment. (2) Out-of-town relatives of an accident case victim were given hospitality. (3) One Community Friendship worker who is a registered nurse, assisted at confinements and cared for cancer patients in poor areas. She closed her report by saying that more could be done by a "younger" person as she is 79.

T — Triumphs

While all the work done in the Community Friendship Department reflects much credit upon the Community Friendship Secretaries and their workers, some projects and activities must have special mention.

Regular visiting has become an established practice.

Services have been given not only to United Church congregations but to the Community as a whole.

An encouraging beginning has been made in the systematic visitation of nursing homes.

S — Summary

To sum up one Conference Branch Secretary has expressed it for all—"The Community Friendship concept embraces the whole community wherever there is a need to be met and by friendship and service the Community Friendship Department is the channel through which the Auxiliary can share in the outreach of the Church in its endeavor to create a Christian community."

SUPPLY

Once more a year has ended and the 1955 reports from Conference Branch Secretaries, which were sent in so promptly, have made inspiring reading. The words and figures in these reports have meant so much to so many. When one thinks about it these words and figures paint pictures of our W.M.S. women across Canada giving their loving help in many different ways to the needy, the aged and the shut-ins, to patients in hospital and sanatorium, to our "oldest" and to our "newest" Canadians. Our scholarship students were not forgotten either. To thus catch a glimpse of the wonderful work carried on in His Name and for His sake has indeed been a rare privilege.

In this past year approximately 24 tons of clothing went to our Home Mission stations. Included here were over 2,000 quilts or blankets, hundreds of layettes, knitted articles without number, and many hospital supplies. Many of these things went to our "First Canadians," our Indian people on their reserves where, in many cases there is not now enough land to support their growing numbers, and also to our Residential Schools for Indian children. To these schools were sent many of the over 7,000 Christmas gifts so generously supplied. Christmas gifts also went to City Missions and hospitals. We would not want one child to be neglected at Christmas.

In each Presbyterial every known need was carefully filled. Here the Supply Secretary in many an Auxiliary happily co-operated with the Community Friendship Secretary in making that Auxiliary in truth a "good neighbor." Numerous indeed were the homes which received assistance when stricken by disasters such as fire, bereavement, illness or unemployment. Many Senior Citizens felt the balm of loving interest. Much was done and many knew the joy of sharing their blessings with others.

Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of the reports this year was the amount of work done by our Younger Groups and the fact that they showed such eager interest. They did so much—making toys, dressing dolls, taking treats to hospitals, giving Christmas gifts to less fortunate young people and sending supplies to our Port Workers. (They make good use of these supplies when welcoming our New Canadians.) The young folk also helped make up Vacation School Packets. In Overseas Relief work they helped both in gathering supplies and in packing them.

For the children in our Vacation Bible Schools there were provided 223 Vacation School Packets. These Packets assisted student workers under our Home Mission Board and some of our W.M.S. workers as they tried to bring the good news of Jesus to the children who attended these schools. Again and again the workers said how much these Packets were appreciated and what they meant in encouragement to themselves and in happiness to the children.

The only disturbing note in the reports this year was a decrease in the Overseas Relief work. Are we beginning to think that this should not now be necessary? The need is still great and while it continues let us keep the supplies coming in to the Depots. "We" have so much and "some others" have so little. In 1955 from the Vancouver Depot some 60 tons of clothing and bedding went to Korea, and from the Toronto Depot 65 tons went to Korea and 35 tons to Lebanon. You will notice that this is considerably less than was shipped in 1954. Over 2,700 parcels were sent to our missionaries overseas, chiefly to Korea. These parcels were much appreciated and often made it possible to assist someone who was in dire need of help.

Supply work is chiefly "hand" work, but of what use would be the hand without the "head" to plan and without the "heart" to love? It is in the spirit of love that each Woman's Missionary Society Supply worker tries to share what God in His goodness has entrusted to her. May this spirit of love continue to motivate us all that we may never be unmindful of the sorrow and distress of our world.

Twenty-four new Mission Circles were organized in 1955. Some Auxiliary members or Presbyterial Secretaries have seen these results of their efforts "to provide missionary education for . . . young women." Other folk have labored earnestly but have not seen such visible results of their efforts. A good number of Circles have graduated into Auxiliaries; some Circles have disbanded. All Auxiliary members should be concerned about the young women of their congregations, and their need for involvement in the mission of the Church, because every young woman of our Church should have an opportunity for such involvement.

Worship and Study: Worship had its place in the group life of all Mission Circles. Some Circles prepared their own services, but some used the Bible-centred services on "Our High Calling." One secretary reported, "The . . . group is using the Bible series from THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY and although finding them more difficult, are definitely putting more work and thought into them and therefore getting more out."

Study was a regular part of the meetings. The Program Guide was used frequently, but some groups prepared their own programs, making use of guest speakers, visual aids, plays, map studies, skits, quizzes, discussion.

Literature and Periodicals: In at least five Conference Branches there was a noticeable increase in the amount of reading being done. One secretary said, "This is the most encouraging feature of the work."

THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY was quite widely used as a source of material for programs as well as for help in worship and for general information.

Rallies and Schools for Leaders: Where Mission Circle Rallies were held reports have been most enthusiastic—"the most memorable activity of our year." Provision was made for Circle members at the regular School for Leaders in some Conference Branches or (in one Branch) at a special weekend School. This kind of extended leadership training period has stirred up new interest in the work, and given new incentive for organization.

Service: Circle members seem to delight in opportunities for service. They have visited sick folk, elderly and shut-in folk, and newcomers; have entertained newcomers at parties and in their homes; have helped in English classes for newcomers, and have gone carol singing. They have shared in Overseas Relief projects, have sent toys, etc. to port workers, have supplied Vacation School kits for student missionaries in Canada, and have made layettes. They have assisted in Sunday School, week-day groups, choir, and camps. They have been baby-sitters so that Auxiliary members could attend meetings.

Stewardship: Eight Conference Branch Secretaries reported that there had been an increase in systematic giving in Mission Circles. "Finances are raised mostly by voluntary givings and mite boxes." Such undertakings as teas, bazaars and talent money, accounted for some monies sent to the Presbyterial Treasurer, but the stewardship of possessions was taken with increasing seriousness by young women in Mission Circles.

Recruiting: The need for missionaries and other Church workers is not yet being presented in all Circles, but the challenge has been made at almost all Rallies. Mission Circle Secretaries are co-operating with Candidate Secretaries in making needs known. Missionaries and ministers have been asked to speak to young women about Church vocations, and literature has been given fairly wide distribution. Two secretaries reported that one or more former Circle members were now at University preparing for entrance to the United Church Training School.

Leadership: The number of Mission Circles is not increasing, and perhaps this indicates a trend which we need to study. But it is true to say that there are some Circles which are very much alive and which are filling a real need in our Church. Whether or not there is a Circle in a congregation seems to depend to a large extent on whether an Auxiliary member is willing to give leadership. One secretary says very positively that "Where the right kind of leadership is being given . . . members are growing in realization of their part in the mission of the Church. These Circles read the most books—have the most members—give the most money and do the most in community service and supply work." Mission Circles need more leaders!

Number of World Friendship Rallies Reported: 59.

Teenagers today are being constantly brought face to face with the peoples of the world. But, who is teaching them how to live creatively in this "one" world, and who is helping them develop those Christian convictions and attitudes which can transform the world, from hostility to creative understanding and peace? It is in this vital area of teenage girls' lives that the Woman's Missionary Society has a uniquely important responsibility as we promote Missionary Education for Canadian Girls In Training.

1955 Mission Study: This year's study on India was shared with Canadian Girls In Training of the three other denominations. "Saris and Sandals," with a program guide providing resource materials and program suggestions, was an appealing study for girls. Their enjoyment in making and wearing saris, cooking and eating Indian food, and making model Indian villages, laid a basis for their understanding of the Indian people. Reports indicate that from this basis they went on to study the religions of India; some of her economic and educational problems; the work of the Christian Church in India; and India's place in the United Nations. Groups made use of books, magazines and visual aids to enrich their programs. Some groups were fortunate to meet Mrs. Yohan Masih, Miss Marjorie Singh, Miss Shobha (Winifred) Goodwin, Miss Anna Ooman and missionaries from India. We cannot overemphasize the contribution made by guests from overseas to C.G.I.T.

Mile Posts in the Year:

The AFFILIATION SERVICE marks the completion of a C.G.I.T. Group's mission study and a group's act of joining in the fellowship of the Woman's Missionary Society. Some groups join with others in the same church, or area; others conduct the affiliation at a Church service, or in a Church family gathering. However affiliation is observed, the presence of W.M.S. members is important.

WORLD FRIENDSHIP RALLIES give C.G.I.T. the opportunity to meet with girls of their Presbyterial or section to share their interest in missions, or World Friendship, as they often prefer to say. Our objective has been a World Friendship Rally in every Presbyterial, insofar as this does not conflict with other C.G.I.T. gatherings. In 1955, 59 were reported.

THE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER Youth Service is being used increasingly by C.G.I.T. Groups. For many the observance of the World Day of Prayer has become very much a part of their World Friendship project and has helped develop a feeling of belonging to the world Church.

LEADERSHIP: Work with teen-age girls is rewarding, but none the less demanding. Branch Secretaries, Presbyterial Secretaries and Auxiliary Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups have carried the responsibilities for promotion of Missionary Education for C.G.I.T. They have encouraged and assisted C.G.I.T. leaders; provided them with study packets and THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY; helped in affiliation services; promoted World Friendship Rallies; and kept W.M.S. members abreast of C.G.I.T. There have been some opportunities for leadership training, in Schools for Leaders and in conferences, but there is no doubt that we need to explore many other methods of leadership training.

Miss Catherine McKen's column in THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY for Auxiliary Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups, has been one valuable new effort. The Vice-President for Younger Groups is a vital link between the local Auxiliary, the C.G.I.T. Group, and the W.M.S. Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups.

Givings: This past year girls gave to Overseas Relief, both money and gifts from their hands; they gave to many local community causes and they gave to the missionary Special Objects for 1955: The Indore Girls' High School and the Vellore Christian Medical College. Their givings to the Special Objects amounted to $12,001.50. Their objective was $10,500.

We should certainly be proud that the givings of Canadian Girls In Training to their missionary Special Objects has risen steadily from $6,588.84 in 1950, to $12,001.50 in 1955. But we should keep in mind the following fairly typical facts picked from reports: a department of 34 girls gave $6.00; a group of 12 girls gave $2.00. We still have a long way to go in many Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups to make missionary giving something more than a small perfunctory token of mild interest. Then on the other hand, we have C.G.I.T. Groups who make a money gift but do not participate in the missionary study and therefore do not affiliate with the W.M.S. We need to continue to insist that Missionary Education involves study so that understanding and concern may result in the commitment of giving and fellowship in the Woman's Missionary Society.

From Dominion Board in 1955 came a Recommendation that Secretaries for Younger Groups stress, in addition to general promotion through departmental articles in THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY, the patterns of Canadian life that are making an impact on children and teen-agers today in an attempt to help leaders see how Missionary Education has a bearing on the problems and needs they present. We have really just begun to so direct our thinking. If our Missionary Education program is to have the validity and relevancy that girls need, we must continue to assess the kind of society girls live in today, the strains and pressures they face, and the relevancy of the Christian mission.

Affiliated Explorer Groups report a busy year in 1955. The Missionary Exploration centered about "Chand of India." Projects included map making, building Indian villages, preparing Indian food, learning Indian songs and games, dramatization and poster making. Several original playlets were written and presented. Of one of these, the Branch Secretary writes, "It was beautiful and so well acted!"

In some cases, filmstrips were used and found to be of great value, not only in stimulating interest but in building greater understanding as well. A few groups were fortunate in being able to meet missionaries or others who had visited India. In one instance, Indian students who were studying in the city visited a group.

Most of the reports indicate a general enjoyment of the study. A single group described it as "uninteresting." But, as one Branch Secretary expressed it, "most of the groups felt it (the Missionary Exploration) was the most interesting exploration of the year."

Concerning related activities—two counsellors in widely separated parts of the country said they felt the suggested "handwork" was too difficult to undertake. Others were most enthusiastic about this part of the program. One Presbyterian Secretary reported arranging for a "craft night" in which crafts related to the Mission Study were planned and carried out.

There seems still to be some confusion about requirements for affiliation of Explorer Groups. There are just two—and these are musts. The first is that a group must report the completion of the prescribed Missionary Exploration; and the other that a gift of money must be sent to the Presbyterian Treasurer, to be applied to the particular project for Explorer Groups. Explorer Groups that do not meet these requirements are not "affiliated groups" and should not be reported as such.

The number of blank spaces that were left after the question, "What co-operation has there been between Explorer Groups and Auxiliaries?" was surprising! Can this mean that there is none? That each is quite unaware of the existence of the other? Reading one report would lead to that conclusion. It says, "An Auxiliary member was asked about the affiliation of their Explorer Groups. She replied, 'What is that?'" One Branch report says, "There seems to be very little co-operation between Explorer Groups and Auxiliaries . . . Our Auxiliaries fall down in this respect." Another notes, "It must be said, with regret, that some Explorer Secretaries reported having received little or no help from the W.M.S." Briefer replies in this space range all the way from "None!"—which corroborates the above, to "Excellent!"—which is a reversal.

Where co-operation was reported, this took the form of:

- supplying the Mission Study Packet and related materials.
- subscriptions to WORLD FRIENDS.
- providing Explorer leaders with THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY.
- attending the Explorer Service of Dedication of the Treasure Chest.
- arranging—in co-operation with Explorers—for a Mother and Daughter Banquet.
- inviting Explorer Groups to have a share in a "Family Night."

Co-operation between Presbyterian Secretaries for Affiliated Explorer Groups and Counsellors, too, has been variable. Some reports failed to mention any contact having been made. Others noted sending material by mail. It was encouraging to find a great number of Presbyterian Secretaries reporting attendance at Services of Dedication of the Treasure Chest. Other Secretaries mentioned such undertakings as:

- talks to Explorer Groups.
- conferences with Explorer Counsellors on the missionary theme.
- craft night for Counsellors.
- co-operating with Christian Education Committees in holding rallies and in promoting Explorer Councils.

Although, for most Conference Branches and for all Presbyterials, this has been the first year of entirely separate reports for Affiliated Explorers, one thing is clear—Explorers are on the march!

While reports of Affiliated Explorer Groups were separated from Mission Bands in 1954, it is in the 1955 reports that we can begin to make comparisons of statistics. One hundred and nine new Bands were organized, but in spite of that there was a decrease in the number of Bands. The reason for the decrease is not yet clear, but it may be accounted for in some measure by the encouraging increase in the number of Affiliated Explorer Groups. Some groups have disbanded because in some areas, parents are unwilling to allow their Primary age children to attend after-school meetings. However, an increase in the number of Bands receiving Recognition indicates a higher quality of work being done.

Leadership: Over and over again Conference Branch Secretaries point out that Bands are no longer meeting because of lack of leadership. This should be a matter of concern in all Auxiliaries—the number of children in Canada is on the increase; more adults will have to give more time to leading weekday groups, if our children are to receive the Christian education they need.

Auxiliary Co-operation: The trend is toward more willingness on the part of Auxiliaries to assist Mission Band Superintendents when help is desired. More Auxiliaries are supplying study packets (a legitimate expense) and WORLD FRIENDS. Some are providing THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY for leaders. Some help to provide materials for handwork. But as one secretary puts it, "All report excellent co-operation with Auxiliaries in helping with supplies, refreshments, transportation — providing almost everything — except leadership."

Study and Related Activities: Most of the Bands use the current study book and to a lesser extent the Leader's Guide. Related activities take many forms—dramatizations, flannelgraphs, posters, murals, friezes, dioramas, peep shows, model villages, puppets, scrap books, maps, visual aids, games ("Games of other lands are a real thrill."), and songs.

Worship: Almost all Bands give opportunity for regular experiences of worship. Some leaders encourage the children to assist in leading worship.

Periodicals: Both THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY and WORLD FRIENDS are used extensively. THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY is a source of pictures, information about the missionary work of the Church, and information about United Church missionaries. WORLD FRIENDS provides extra program material and one secretary reports that "Several leaders say they wouldn't be without it."

Peace and Temperance Education: These emphases are made mainly through stories and playlets. Leaders are asking for more help in both of these phases of the work.

Leadership Training: Special mention was made in reports of the three Conference Branches, where they served, of the contribution made by our two Summer Student Field Workers in Missionary Education, Miss Geraldine Dearing and Miss Alma Gomez. Rallies and Conferences and Schools for Leaders in all Conference Branches provided some leadership training for some of the leaders in a number of areas. A very practical problem was referred to by one secretary: "Band Superintendents attend rallies, special meetings, Presbyterials and Schools for Leaders whenever possible. Mothers of little children find it impossible to attend extra meetings."

Missionaries' Visits: Visits of missionaries to Mission Bands was mentioned in several reports. This is in keeping with the 1955 Memorial which recommended "That Auxiliary members . . . accept greater responsibility for bringing their own younger groups into contact with all (missionaries and scholarship students) available."

Givings and Service Projects: Offerings and gift boxes are the regular means of giving, but many Bands still undertake a variety of money-raising activities. The children have shared in Overseas Relief, have sent gifts to patients in hospitals and sanatoria and to port workers. They have remembered the sick and shut-in. One Band "kept the church lawn mowed."

Parent Co-operation: At least one Conference Branch is placing an emphasis on the need for the support and co-operation of the parents in the whole task of Missionary Education.

Our Urgent Needs: "There is an urgent need for more leaders to carry on this important work of Missionary Education among children."

The past year's reports in Baby Band work show a small increase over 1954 in the number of Bands, a larger increase in general membership, but a small decrease in givings.

Some Bands have discontinued while many new ones have been organized. There were 79 new Bands reported in 1955. In practically all discontinued Bands the reason given was lack of leadership. This should present a real challenge to our Society as a whole and to those interested in Younger Groups in particular.

Leadership Training: Many reports call attention to the fact that there has been an increasing number of Leadership Training ventures. These include conferences of Baby Band leaders, panel discussions at Presbyterials and rallies, and Study Groups at various Schools for Leaders.

All are enthusiastic about the several Schools for Leaders which have been held and where active leadership training is given the increase in interest and leadership ability is very marked.

Presbyterial Secretaries are urged to include study groups for Baby Band Superintendents when their meetings and rallies are being planned.

Visiting: All reports stress visiting as a most valuable part of their work and the help of Auxiliary members as a great boon to the leader.

Literature: The cry still goes up for more and more literature and more stories. THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY and WORLD FRIENDS continue to publish helpful materials with Baby Band news and suggestions every month.

Visitors are urged to use available leaflets and story materials when they call.

The new BABY BAND MEMBER'S CARD was featured on the cover of THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY, March 1956.

Our SPECIAL OBJECTS were described in the March MISSIONARY MONTHLY, 1956, on the Baby Band page.

The work among Canadian Indians and New Canadians has proved interesting to the mothers who have read the adult reading books.

Overseas Relief—continues to be an urgent need. Many mothers of Baby Band children helped pack parcels. Have they seen the leaflet "Please . . ." and "We Still Need Your Help"?

Promotion for Next Year. Let us try to have more visiting and to make it more effective by informed visitors carrying literature and love into the homes.

Let us try to encourage this effective leadership by sponsoring conferences, discussions, Schools for Leaders, and panel discussions, in our own area.

Let us remember that only in Christ's way do we find true peace and beauty in our lives.

SECRETARY FOR YOUNGER GROUPS

The statistical reports for 1955 show some encouraging and some less encouraging aspects of our work with Younger Groups. However, statistics do not tell the whole story, although they do reflect the general trend of the situation. They do not for instance show what difference a Baby Band visitor made in homes that she visited; they cannot show the widened outlook of a C.G.I.T. girl who at camp met a young woman from overseas; they do not show the new awareness of Christian responsibility growing in a Mission Circle member. Yet these things are real and vivid aspects of the work with Younger Groups.

New Organizations: For various reasons a considerable number of groups have disbanded or have not re-affiliated in 1955, but on the other hand a heartening number of new groups have been organized. Twenty-four new Mission Circles, fifty-five Affiliated Explorer Groups, one hundred and nine Mission Bands, seventy-nine Baby Bands surely indicate a concern for missionary education and a realization of a Christian's need for sharing in the mission of the Church.

The Auxiliary and Younger Groups: From reports and from conferences with leaders and secretaries, a definite trend towards assuming more responsibility for Younger Groups is evident in many Auxiliaries. Leaders are not appointed and then forgotten—they can count on assistance when it is needed; they know that the Auxiliary will provide packets for the mission study projects; they are assured of co-operation from the women when their groups undertake special projects; they know that the Society has a real interest in the work they are doing, because the members of the local Auxiliary demonstrate that interest all through the year. More Auxiliaries are appointing a Vice-President for Younger Groups, who represents the Auxiliary on the Christian Education Committee of the congregation.

Leadership Training: LEADERS' CONFERENCES have proved their value. It is good for leaders to meet together to talk over their work, to share ideas, to look for solutions to problems. It has been demonstrated that attendance need not be large in order to have a worthwhile group. Many Presbyterial Secretaries make provision for at least one Leaders' Rally, or Conference each year. SCHOOLS FOR LEADERS provide a longer period of training and serve to acquaint leaders with the work of the Society in general, in addition to giving help for their own groups, while THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY continues to provide help for leaders in understanding their job.

Student Field Workers: In 1955 two students of the United Church Training School served the Society as Summer Field Workers in Missionary Education. They met leaders in Bay of Quinte, Hamilton and London Conference Branches, and attended the Montreal and Ottawa, Bay of Quinte and London Schools for Leaders, presenting the 1955-56 study materials for Mission Bands, Affiliated Explorer Groups and Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups, and giving general leadership in missionary education. They also attended six C.G.I.T. Camps where as regular staff members their primary responsibility was for the camp missionary education project. This kind of field work has been well received, and again in 1956 two young women will serve in this way.

Summer Program: In 1954 we proudly reported that missionaries and scholarship students had attended twenty-four camps and six Schools for Leaders. In 1955 such guests attended 36 camps (in addition to the six mentioned in the preceding paragraph), and five Schools for Leaders. We rejoice to see this project expanding, and from all parts of Canada come reports of the worth of the undertaking. We are grateful to the eight missionaries and nine scholarship students who helped in this way in the task of missionary education.

Coaching Conferences: Experimental Coaching Conferences for Conference Branch and Presbyterial Secretaries for Mission Bands and Affiliated Explorer Groups were held in Alberta, London, Hamilton and Bay of Quinte Conference Branches. Although few were able to attend the first and although the time was short, the experiment was definitely worth doing. As for the last three, which varied in length from about four and one-half to seven and one-half hours, there was unanimous approval on the part of those who attended that these had been helpful experiences, and that similar conferences should be held at regular intervals. This opens up the possibility of a new kind of field work for staff members—meeting with Conference Branch and Presbyterial officers, preferably dealing with one office at a time.

Mission Band Survey: The response to the Questionnaire sent to Mission Band Superintendents through Presbyterial Secretaries for Mission Bands in the spring of 1955, was very good. The Survey revealed information which is guiding now the persons who prepare materials for use in Mission Bands. The facts which came to light from the Survey have been made available to Conference Branch and Presbyterian Secretaries, and implications behind these facts pointed up. To mention one aspect, we would urge Auxiliaries to keep in mind the age-groups for which the Mission Band program is planned and to help to avoid situations where pre-school children and teenagers are included in the same group with Primaries and Juniors, creating sometimes quite serious problems for leaders.

Literature and Periodicals: Leaders who feel at a disadvantage because they cannot attend leaders' rallies and conferences, should be told about the wealth of printed material that is available to help them do their jobs. Leaders who do have opportunity to attend such gatherings will know about the materials but may be unable to procure them. Auxiliaries may take the initiative in providing this kind of help and seeing that leaders of children's groups, for instance, have access to the four books "Friends With All the World," "Here's How and When," "The Whole World Singing," and "Children's Games from Many Lands." Auxiliaries should see that leaders of Younger Groups receive THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY, and know about the help it provides in up-to-date information about the missionary work of the Church, and in special articles on leadership.

Appreciation: A report on the work with Younger Groups would be incomplete without some expression of appreciation to the thousands of women who are giving leadership in the local congregation, in Presbyterian, Conference Branch and on Dominion Board. The work of one individual may seem to her at times to be availing little, but when it is seen as a part of the whole its impact is felt in no small measure.

Missionary Education: The Woman's Missionary Society has always had as one of its major concerns the provision of "missionary education for children, teen-age girls, and young women." This concern is still a basic one for the Society, and more and more of our members are thinking about what this means. Campbell Wyckoff has said that Mission "is the imperative that demands the mobilization of (the Christian's) every talent and energy to love, to give, to serve, even to die that his Master's ministry to the world may be accomplished." As members of the Church of Christ we need to be reminded again and again that we are on mission—that our mission is not a matter of passing interest—that it is an imperative—that we can do no other.

A SAFE AND RELIABLE INVESTMENT— A LIFE-LONG INCOME THAT WILL NOT SHRINK

By the Guaranteed Annuity Gift Plan of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada, a gift of money will be accepted at any time and the donor be paid income thereon at a most attractive rate, this depending upon the donor's age when the gift is made. Many friends are welcoming this Plan, for it not only makes possible the placing of their gift during lifetime (rather than a legacy later) which, upon maturity, becomes immediately effective without legal process or administration expense, but at the same time pays dividends. A suitable bond, over the signatures of the Officers of the Church and of the Society, guarantees the payment of the annual income.

Complete information may be secured upon application to the Assistant Treasurer, 413 Wesley Buildings, Toronto 2 B, Ont.

FINANCE

REPORT COVERING FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1955

Remarks

The largest part of our revenue, actually 95.4%, is the givings from our membership. These funds are gathered, recorded and carefully cared for by our faithful Treasurers at the local level, at the Presbyterial level, and at the Conference Branch level. When one considers the amount of money which comes to Dominion Board Treasurer through these channels we cannot begin to estimate the value to the Society of the time involved, and the services so willingly rendered. To each Treasurer we extend sincere gratitude.

Revenue

The total amount of revenue in 1955 is $1,253,439.00, which is an increase of $32,219.81 over 1954. In the analysis shown below, the total returns from Conference Branches include the amounts voted by the Presbyterials for "Gifts for Building Advance."

	1954	1955	Result
Conference Branches	$1,169,736.27	$1,195,735.82	Increase $25,999.55
Donations	17,846.38	18,312.12	Increase 465.74
Interest on Investments in General Fund	33,001.54	36,807.00	Increase 3,805.46
Sundry Revenue	635.00	2,584.06	Increase 1,949.06
	$1,221,219.19	$1,253,439.00	Increase $32,219.81

As will be noted, the net increase in revenue was due to increases in all four of the sources of income. There was a substantial increase in Conference Branch returns, which indicates advancing interest in the Cause of Christian Missions. The donations, which show an increase of $465.74, are gifts which come directly to Dominion Board Treasury from individual donors. Slightly higher rates of interest account for the increase in Interest on General Fund Investments.

The allocations to the Conference Branches for 1955 totalled $1,100,000.00. Each Branch exceeded its allocation and all but two showed an increase over 1954, a total increase of 2%.

"Gifts for Building Advance" were continued for 1955. Four interesting projects were selected—Scholarships, Cars for Canada, Women's Hostel, Indore Christian College, and Children's Home, Neenuch, India.

The same procedure was followed as in previous years, namely—that each Presbyterial which exceeded its allocation could vote the excess over allocation to one or two of these projects. It was understood that if a project were oversubscribed the excess would be applied to any undersubscribed. If all objectives were reached any additional amount would be used for general maintenance.

The objective for "Gifts for Building Advance" in 1955 was $65,000.00. The total amount raised in excess of Presbyterial allocations and voted for the above named projects was $82,380.61. Each project can be completed and the balance of $17,380.61 will be used for maintenance.

The following summary shows the amounts subscribed by each Conference Branch. Some Conference Branches will note that the amounts credited to them under certain projects are not as they reported. Adjustments were necessary to care for the undersubscribed projects:

The Estimates for 1955, totalling $1,200,000.00, were unchanged in amount from those of 1954.

Expenditures in both Overseas Missions and Home Missions show an increase in 1955—Overseas an increase of $19,610.60, and Home an increase of $7,079.81.

Literature shows an increase of $2,700.00 and Periodicals an increase of $7,705.00, due mainly to increased production costs.

The Annuity Plan for Associate Workers shows a decrease of $3,271.98 in 1955 because of the repayment to the Society, by the concerned Associate Workers, of assessments back to 1948. Both employer and employee assessments had to be paid by the Society when the plan was initiated in 1954, and repayment of the employee portion was accomplished as quickly as those concerned were able to handle the additional expense.

Pensions showed a very slight change.

The Bonus to Retired Missionaries showed a decrease of $574.54. This is due only to a decrease in the number to whom Bonus needed to be paid.

Administration's increase is due mainly to increased salaries and higher cost of both supplies and equipment.

Scholarships increased by $4,059.02. Most of this increase was in Scholarships expended on Overseas Fields.

The balance of the expenditures, covering a multiplicity of items—Candidate Work, Training of Missionaries, Medical Expenses, Co-operative Grants, etc., showed an increase of $5,116.61.

The over-all net increase in expenditures for 1955 was $52,166.48.

General Fund

By Dominion Board action in 1947 this Fund at the beginning of the year contains the funds to meet the estimated spending of that year. The difference between Revenue and Expenditures is then absorbed in the Current Reserve Account. So at the end of 1955 the balance in the General Fund is $1,260,000.00. This represents the Estimated Expenditures for 1956.

In 1955 the excess of Revenue over Expenditure added $36,862.61 to the Current Reserve Account.

The balance sheet shows total assets for the fund of $2,258,212.94 but under liabilities are the following items held for designated spending:

Property Account	$482,644.85
Scholarship Account	23,143.32
Specific Trust Funds	139,988.97
Interest on Specific Trust Funds	4,782.17

Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund

In 1947 Dominion Board set the maximum for this fund at $600,000.00—anything over and above that amount to go into Property Account. So you will notice that $78,009.83 representing 77 bequests plus interest income thereon was transferred into Property Account.

Retirement Fund—Capital

This fund receives the annual Retirement Fund assessments paid by our missionaries, plus a grant from the General Fund, along with the residuum from some Guaranteed Annuity gifts and profits on sale of securities. We had Succession Duties to pay on one of these Guaranteed Annuity gifts. The balance in this fund as of December 31, 1955, was $1,148,655.94.

Retirement Fund—Annuity

This Fund receives all the interest from Retirement Fund—Capital and from its annuities are paid to retired missionaries. To the 1954 balance of $478,704.16 was added $51,803.55 and from it was paid annuities amounting to $36,292.87, leaving a balance December 31, 1955, of $494,214.84.

Rest Fund

The Rest Fund balance at the end of 1954 was $288,603.46, and to it was added a grant of $7,000.00 from the General Fund and interest on its securities amounting to $8,936.86. From it was paid annuities totalling $13,739.54. This leaves the Rest Fund balance December 31, 1955 at $290,800.78.

Guaranteed Annuities Fund

During 1955 we received 20 Guaranteed Annuity gifts totalling $27,701.50. This is an increase over 1954 of $3,301.25. Nineteen annuities matured and the residual value was transferred—$8,940.08 to Retirement Fund—Capital and $4,198.21 to General Fund—Donations. As of December 31, 1955, this fund contained a balance of $309,731.66.

Re Investments

The total book value of all investment holdings as of December 31, 1955, was $4,005,778.03, divided among the funds as follows:

General Fund	$1,104,058.38
Specific Trust Funds	126,038.02
Special Trust Fund	300.00
Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund	598,102.68
Retirement Fund—Capital	1,132,043.63
Retirement Fund—Annuity	457,307.70
Rest Fund	281,727.00

The interest income from these securities amounted to $127,708.10.

All securities were evaluated at December 31, 1955, and because, at the year end market values on bonds were down considerably, the market value was $127,167.55 below book values.

The auditors as is usual verified the securities by actual inspection as of December 31, 1955.

General Remarks

Our auditors report their examination of the books and accounts of the Society, having received all the substantiation of accounts, information and explanations they required, and certify that the statements, as compiled and presented, exhibit a true picture of the funds of the Society as of December 31, 1955.

Such a report would not be possible were it not for the faithful co-operative effort of all the treasurers throughout our Society who merit our most sincere thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

(Mrs. J. R.) ADELAIDE SEAMAN, Treasurer,
MARION P. McILWAIN, Assistant Treasurer,

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

To endeavor to summarize comprehensively the reports of this department given by Christian Stewardship Secretaries throughout the eleven Conference Branches in a statistical way is not sufficient. It was the hours of planning, prayers and energy given voluntarily by our women that is responsible for the all time high in givings for 1955 of $1,195,735.82. We thank them.

All Branches have exceeded their allocations for 1955 in spite of disastrous floods, crop failures and scorching heat. Although the Dominion Board must think in terms of tens of thousands of dollars we are quite cognizant of the fact that it is made possible only by the multiplied dollars of the Auxiliaries given regularly and in many cases sacrificially. Also we do appreciate the fact that many Auxiliaries, regardless of the increased costs of personal living, have maintained their fine standard of giving.

The increase in percentages over last year was as follows: Alberta $3\frac{1}{4}\%$; Bay of Quinte $\frac{1}{4}\%$; British Columbia $1\frac{1}{4}\%$; Hamilton $2\frac{3}{4}\%$; London 2% ; Manitoba —; Maritime 4% ; Montreal-Ottawa $2\frac{3}{4}\%$; Newfoundland $2\frac{1}{2}\%$; Saskatchewan —; Toronto $2\frac{3}{4}\%$. Total — 2% .

All projects for Gifts for Building Advance have been over-subscribed.

May I quote specifically this year from among the encouraging Conference Branch comments which are a very clear barometer of the Stewardship work in each Branch:

Alberta—Willingness of members to take office and responsibility, steady growth of missionary spirit.

Bay of Quinte—Greater interest among our women reflected in increased giving. A willing acceptance of an increased allocation for 1956.

British Columbia—Increased interest in Younger Groups of the Church in missionary work.

Hamilton—Rural groups, though incomes reduced, feel triumphant in having exceeded their allocations. Women are looking beyond the dollar to the miracle they help to accomplish.

London—Very few money raising affairs—the majority of funds raised by freewill gifts. Affiliated societies are asking for envelopes and name of missionary for prayer.

Manitoba—Secretaries again report increased giving by envelope and giving voluntarily rather than conducting projects for raising money. A great interest in Bible Study.

Maritime—More sympathy with the greater needs of the expanding work of the W.M.S. A new Auxiliary has asked for a 1956 allocation.

Montreal-Ottawa—More interest taken in preparation of programs, fewer speakers being used but more local effort being done.

Newfoundland—Our members in learning the meaning of Stewardship are realizing our obligation as Christians, hence growing spiritually and giving sacrificially.

Saskatchewan —; Toronto $2\frac{3}{4}\%$. Total — 2% . have met their 1955 allocation.

Toronto—One Presbyterian reports that the Auxiliaries are 100% in having a Stewardship Secretary and a missionary for prayer. Groups are meeting for prayer prior to their regular Auxiliary meeting.

To the Editor of THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY for generous space each month for Stewardship promotion, to my readers who have sent encouraging comments on that effort, to all Secretaries of the department of Christian Stewardship who have co-operated so well in giving worship services, addresses as well as tireless correspondence with the Secretaries within their sphere, I express my sincere gratitude. May none "grow weary in well doing."

"The surrender of a man to God in Christ must express itself in the Stewardship of the whole of his life. In particular this must involve the Stewardship of time and the Stewardship of abilities. And it is only against this background that the Stewardship of possessions can be understood. But when a man has made Jesus Christ the Lord of his life it follows that the lordship of Christ will extend to the use of his possessions."*

THE REPORT OF THE RETIREMENT FUND FOR 1955

The membership of the Retirement Fund as of December 31st, 1955, included 113 retired missionaries, of whom five retired during the year, and 185 missionaries on active service.

Two of our retired missionaries passed away and two new missionaries were added during the year. Resignations effective in 1955 were six and assessments totalling $903.45 were refunded to three of this number.

As the actual handling of the funds of the Retirement Fund is the responsibility of the Assistant Treasurer, you will find the financial statement included in the Finance Report.

From this you will discover that the total amount of assessments paid by the missionaries was $5,115.00. The Capital Fund received the usual grant from General Fund of $15,000.00, and the Rest Fund the amount of $7,000.00. The Capital Account was also increased by the receipt of $8,861.79, the residuum of Guaranteed Annuity Gifts.

Annuities totalling $63,073.11 were paid to the retired missionaries—$36,292.87 from the Retirement Fund, $13,739.54 from the Rest Fund and $13,040.70 from the Pensions Estimate.

Again this year a cost of living bonus, amounting to $8,617.23, was paid to retired missionaries on the same basis as for 1954, and was met from General Fund.

In this my first report as Secretary of the Fund I should like to recognize, as did Mrs. Uffelman, my predecessor, the fine co-operation of the Assistant Treasurer and the staff of the Finance Department in its administration.

We are hopeful as we look forward to 1956, when the revised Constitution of the Retirement Fund becomes effective, that the benefits payable will more nearly meet the needs of our retired missionaries.

(MRS. J. ERLE) LILLIAN E. W. JONES,
Secretary Retirement Fund.

The Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group

Plan of Affiliation

Approved by the Board of Christian Education and the Woman's Missionary Society:

1. The leaders of each group that has registered with the Girls' Work Secretary of The United Church will receive, in the early autumn, a letter including an announcement of the missionary study for the year. The Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups is prepared to give help with missionary projects and has a supply of material including Affiliation Services and report forms.

2. The Group will plan its missionary project and giving, remembering that the gifts of an Affiliated Group are given to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund through the Sunday School, and to the Woman's Missionary Society through the Presbyterial Treasurer.

3. The best time for the group to decide about Affiliation with the Woman's Missionary Society is during the missionary project or at its close, when their interest in missions is greatest. The groups should renew their decision each year. A service of Affiliation is available for use at such time as will be most effective.

4. When the project is completed the Leader of the Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group will fill out the report form which will be sent to her by the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups. When this account of their project is approved by the group, it is sent to the Presbyterial Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society whose name is on the form. There is no fee for affiliation. No special sum is asked from any group. Their contribution is devoted to what is called a "Special Object for Affiliated Groups." The Woman's Missionary Society sends information about the way in which the money is used to all Affiliated Groups, and to any others who write for it. It would be advisable to secure this information before the missionary project begins, so that it might be used at that time.

5. Each group is expected to carry out a missionary project, in any case, with the assistance of the literature provided, whatever the decision regarding affiliation.

The steps just outlined concern the Group in the local church, where the minister, Sunday School teachers, C.G.U.T. leaders and W.M.S. Auxiliary members should co-operate as fully as possible regarding missionary education. Those responsible for girls' work in Presbytery and Presbyterial, in Conference and Conference Branch, should also co-operate fully in order that the missionary work of the Church under the Boards of the Church may be presented to girls as one enterprise of very great interest and importance.

The Chief Counsellor of an Affiliated Explorer Group, in addition to the above report, reports annually (on a separate report form) about the Missionary Exploration to the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated Explorer Groups, and sends the Group's money gift to the Presbyterial Treasurer.

7. In a congregation where it is not possible to have an Explorer Group and an Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society is prepared to provide leadership for week-day meetings of children, 9, 10, and 11 years of age, the Mission Band is the recognized week-day organization for Junior as well as Primary children. (Wherever possible, separate leadership shall be provided for Junior and Primary children).

Note: The plan outlined above concerns the Group in the congregation, where the minister, Sunday Church School teachers, Explorer Counsellors and Auxiliary members should co-operate as fully as possible in providing missionary education. Those persons responsible for Children's Work in Presbytery and Presbyterial, in Conference and Conference Branch, should co-operate fully in order that the missionary work of the Church may be presented to the girls as one enterprise of very great interest and importance.

The Board reserves the right, at any time, to require the re-examination of any member of the Fund who is receiving an annuity because of disability for submission to the Medical Board recognized by the Society and to reconsider her standing on the Fund in the light of the Medical Board's report.

ARTICLE X—ADMINISTRATION OF FUND

1. The Fund shall be managed, controlled and administered by the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada (herein called "the Board") or its Executive Committee.

2. The Board shall at its regular Annual Meeting appoint a Secretary for the Fund.

3. The Board or its Executive Committee may make rules and regulations not inconsistent with the terms of this Constitution for the administration of the Articles thereof.

4. All payments made to or from the Fund shall be in lawful currency of Canada.

5. A record shall be kept by the Board for each Missionary which shall show all contributions made as well as all pertinent data in order to determine benefits to which she may be entitled.

ARTICLE XI—ACTUARIAL VALUATION

1. There shall be an actuarial examination of this Fund at least every fourth year after the effective date of this Constitution or more often, as may be decided by the Board.

ARTICLE XII—AMENDMENT OF CONSTITUTION

Installation Service

For use in Conference Branches, Presbyterian Societies, Auxiliaries and Mission Circles

Quiet music while the newly elected officers come forward and take their places in front of the pulpit.

LEADER: At this time the (name organization) enters upon a new year of work in The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. As it calls upon its new officers to undertake their duties, it is fitting that we should all, as members, reaffirm our purpose and rededicate our lives to the great tasks to which God has called us.

Let us pray: Almighty and Everlasting God, who hast promised to be always with Thy Church, grant unto us, Thy servants assembled here, Thy gracious presence and blessing. Take from us anything that is unworthy and insincere in our life. Give us a pure intent, a patient faith and a continuing zeal in our endeavours. Govern all our doings, we pray Thee, that Thy Kingdom may be advanced and Thy will be done. Amen.

Let us now rise and dedicate ourselves to the Aim and Object of our Woman's Missionary Society.

(Congregation rises.)

To unite all the women of the Church for the World Mission of Christianity;

To provide missionary education for children, teen-age girls and young women;

To encourage study, prayer and giving on behalf of Christian Missions at home and abroad;

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

LEADER: To share in sending the Gospel of Jesus Christ to every Canadian and to peoples of all lands;

To bring healing and education to those in need;

To aid in the development of the Christian Church in Canada and of the world-wide Church of Jesus Christ;

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

LEADER: To create bonds of Christian friendship between its members and peoples of other races and other lands;

To enlist the whole membership in united effort for temperance, social welfare and world peace;

To build up a fellowship committed to the doing of God's will and to the extension of God's Kingdom in the home and the community, in Canada and throughout the world.

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

(Congregation seated, Officers alone standing.)

LEADER: You have been selected by your fellow-members to be the officers of this (name organization) for the coming year. We believe that you have been called to your tasks in order that, through your life and work, God's Kingdom of truth and love and righteousness may be extended. We in this (name organization) are looking to you for leadership. Yours then is a high privilege and a sacred responsibility.

Remembering our obligations as officers and members of The Woman's Missionary Society, to study, pray, give and work for the growth of Christ's Church and the extension of His Kingdom, I ask you now to affirm your willingness so to do:

Do you purpose to prepare yourself for leadership by a faithful study of God's Word and of the work and service of The Woman's Missionary Society?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to pray unceasingly for the work and service of The Woman's Missionary Society, and to seek, in prayer, the guidance and strength you need for the duties of your office?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to give sacrificially for the work of The Woman's Missionary Society, and to commit yourself to God that He may use you in the service of His Church and of His Kingdom?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to work for the growth of Christ's Church and the extension of His Kingdom in your own community, in Canada and throughout the world?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you, then, signify that you are willing to accept the privileges and responsibilities of your office?

ANSWER (together): I do.

LEADER: I, therefore, in the name of The Woman's Missionary Society, set you apart as the Executive of (name organization) for the coming year, each to her appointed duty or office.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION (or short extempore prayer):

Eternal Father, source of all light and life, deepen in us and in Thy Church, devotion to Christ, sympathy for the needy, and zeal for the extension of Thy Kingdom. Pour out upon our membership the spirit of intercession that all who love Thee may be united in vision and service for the coming of the promised day when Christ shall claim His Dominion.

In His blessed name we ask these things. Amen.

BENEDICTION:

Now unto Him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us; unto Him be glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

Note—Before the Service is begun the leader should announce clearly that the officers are to come forward and take their places while the quiet music is being played.

In some cases it may be desirable for the leader to call each officer by name individually, as she comes forward, so that the organization may thus become better acquainted with its new Executive.

The leader should indicate the form of the responses to be made in unison.

Members of The Woman's Missionary Society should be encouraged to memorize the Aim and Object. The repetition of the Aim and Object in unison might be substituted for the reading of it by the Leader with the response from the congregation, "We now dedicate ourselves." The Membership Card (1 cent each; 10 cents per doz.) might be distributed and used for this purpose and members asked to keep the Card and memorize the Aim and Object.

Copies of this Installation Service may be secured upon request to the W.M.S. Literature Departments or Depots.

WHO AND WHERE — The list of missionaries with their stations and addresses	237

This book contains reports of the work of the missionaries for the year 1955, written and sent forward by them in the early months of 1956.

The Foreword in each chapter is taken from the Annual Report of the Home Mission Executive Secretary, Mrs. C. Maxwell Loveys, and of the Overseas Missions Executive Secretary, Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor, respectively. Their fuller reports will be found in "Facts and Figures," Part II of the Thirty-first Annual Report.

FROM AFRICA

THE FOREWORD

Angola, Portuguese West Africa

Again this year a great deal of time and thought have been given by the American Board and United Church of Canada missionaries and the African Church leaders in Angola to the two important questions which were mentioned in last year's report—The Union of the Missions and the Integration of the Missions and the African Churches. A draft Constitution of the proposed Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola has been drawn up and approved by the Joint Church-Mission annual meeting. According to these proposals all work—church, educational and medical, will be transferred to the new Church Council on which missionaries will have representation, and to which all grants for work will be made. This is a basic change in administration from that which pertained during the earlier years of missionary work in Angola although recent developments have been increasingly along these lines.

The urgency of the situation as regards the prevalence of tuberculosis in Angola is recognized by all and the Boards are urged to make additional funds available for a program of preventive work as well as for the treatment of curable cases at the various hospitals. A program of Rural and Urban Betterment was agreed upon in 1955. This includes increased training in Agriculture, Public Health, Home Economics, Family Life, cooperative and group action and production of literature for the above departments.

In response to the request of the Africa Committee a grant of $750.00 was made as our Society's share in the United Mission to San Tomé. This very interesting and important work was begun by a few African Christians who went to the Island as contract laborers and witnessed to their faith.

Northern Rhodesia

It is a matter of real regret that no new missionaries have been found for Northern Rhodesia this year. Urgent requests for such appointments have come. The opportunities for work among women and girls in the various centres of mine labor are almost unlimited and there are so few single women missionaries in the area to respond to these opportunities.

The Foreign Mission Committee of the Church of Scotland has addressed a memorandum to The United Church of Canada asking us to assist them in work in their Mission area in Northern Rhodesia. To undertake this further responsibility in such a strategic area makes a challenge to us, but would involve additional expenditures of funds, and several new missionaries. It could be done only if the whole membership of our Society were willing to accept increased responsibility. Yet the call is urgent. Africa, and especially Central Africa, has explosive possibilities. Everything possible needs to be done to strengthen the African Church as it faces its work and witness in a situation pregnant with possibilities for either tragedy or the peaceful solution of its problems.

THE STORY

IN ANGOLA

FROM MISS MARJORY MILLAR

Missionary,
Benguela, Angola

Church Centred Work

The activities of a missionary in Benguela centre around the Church. Both Rev. Frederico Mussili's house and mine are within a stone's throw of the central Church building, which is located in the section of the city known as Cassoce. It is here that Sunday services are held and the building is in almost constant use. After the services on Sunday, it is occupied through the week by the day school, some of the pupils coming in the morning and others in the afternoon; and, following evening prayers for this locality, there is night school three or four evenings a week and on the other nights Young People's meeting or choir practice. While this is the centre, Church members and adherents include people from a dozen other "sanjalas" scattered all around the outskirts of the city ranging from those by the seaside to those about an hour's walk from here in the opposite direction up the railway tracks. Each of these centres ("sanjalas") has someone appointed by the Church to give Christian leadership and in most of them there is a little chapel for evening worship.

There are three Catechumen classes for giving Christian instruction and Bible teaching to prospective candidates for Church membership. Classes meet in the Pastor's house and in mine, in the church and under the trees. The teachers continue to meet here on Saturday evenings to prepare their Sunday lesson. Two groups of women and girls meet weekly here at the house: on Tuesdays those who can't read or who can't yet read well and on Wednesdays those who can read. Each group has Bible study, the non-readers having it told to them in story form, while the others, who are studying Luke's Gospel, read the passage, verse about, and then have discussion. On other days of the week each one who can read is supposed to teach one of the non-readers living near her, using the Laubach Method. The women have a chart on which to check themselves weekly on such points as attendance at Church, Sunday School and mid-week meetings, private and family prayers, Church givings, the number of reading lessons taught and the number of calls made. The Young People's group which meets Friday nights had two special

Sunday afternoon programs recently, one being when the Young People of the Portuguese congregations of Lobito visited them and provided the program and the other an excursion out of the city to a quiet spot where a service was held, followed by discussion in smaller groups, the findings of which were later reported to the whole body.

School Work

Owing to the change in the official school year, there was in 1955 one short school year from February to August, at the close of which all those of our pupils who were recommended to try their exams in the city were successful. For those months I taught Bible in three classes in the school. Since the reopening of school in October I have taught it in just the highest class. We have two very fine dedicated teachers, one of whom grew up and received his own schooling here at the coast. We are very grateful for this, as it is unusual to find Church workers—which our teachers are—from among our own ranks.

Coast Work

Much of the "Coast" work cannot be clearly defined. It consists of touching other lives; of solving problems; of making calls; of visiting friends with all. Calls were made in quite a concentrated form one week in December when Drs. Carl and Lois Dille, missionaries of the American Board, who are the co-directors of the program for "Betterment of the People" throughout all our mission area, were here in Benguela. In the evenings they gave a course on Christian Family Life and by day did extensive visiting in the homes, Pastor Frederico Mussili accompanying Dr. Carl Dille and I accompanying Dr. Lois Dille. On the last night a number of couples rededicated themselves to the strengthening and up-building of a Christian home-life.

The preparation for the Bible Union of explanatory notes in Portuguese and Umbundu to cover four months of daily Bible readings took considerable time during the year, as did the preparation of sermons, devotional talks and Bible lessons.

FROM MISS KATE M. RUTHERFORD

Missionary,
Bunjei, Angola

Furlough over, we flew to Bossey, Switzerland, in time for the two weeks' course for missionaries. The days spent here, in lectures and in small round-table discussion groups were a high light in a wonderful furlough. We were 80 missionaries from 15 countries, representing 23 Mission Boards and 24 Mission fields, meeting in the common interest of the Church of Christ throughout the world, under the guidance of leaders of wide experience and great wisdom. We were constantly aware of the fact that the work in Angola, though not so old as in many other countries, had advanced, and is still advancing, with a rapidity, a simplicity and solidity not experienced in many fields.

Arrival in Angola, meant a few days of packing up the things I had left in Lutamo, Dondi, and a trip by truck (Angola's moving van), 100 miles south to the American Board Mission station of Bunjei, Galangue, the youngest of their up-country stations, and the more interesting for that very reason. The northern boundary of Bunjei is the southern boundary of the Lutamo area, both working in the Sambo district, a part of the work which has always interested me. It has a challenge peculiar to itself, and undefinable, but known to anyone who has traversed its highways and byways where most interesting folk are to be found. To the west of us the villages are cared for by the American Board station at Elende, and to the east by Lutamo's area of Chitembo, and south of that by the South African General Mission at Catota. In Bunjei is the gateway to a great unevangelized territory, stretching south to the frontier between Angola and South Africa. I am the only Canadian here.

Education a Necessity

My work is in the educational program for the area. School opened at the end of October with 318 pupils, but only 110 of them are of the proper age to be registered. The pupils come from three tribes—the Ovimbundu in the majority. There is a great need for a more general realization of the fact that in these days, for Christian living, and for the propagation of the spirit of Christian living, education is a necessity. Every branch of the work shows the lack of educated, dedicated leaders. There are only three pastors in this limitless area, and only one man in the seminary, and he is in his first year with two more to go. We have only three qualified teachers in our 130 established villages, and even their schools are not full this year, partly because of the lack of money after a season too dry to give results in agricultural work, partly because of a lack of understanding of how a village boarding school should serve a large area, and partly because of reluctance on the part of parents to send small children of 7 and 8 years of age far from home to a boarding school in their centre. They are still afraid that the boarding school leader may not be able to care properly for their children, and there is always the difficulty of providing enough food to supply the family at home and also the girl or boy who should be in school, and if in school, can not share the food from the family cooking pot. These prejudices, fears and real obstacles are not overcome in a day.

Each class in school has a 45 minute period of Bible study each day, taught by their class teacher. I teach Bible in the three senior classes, and am enjoying being in a classroom again with the resulting close contacts with the pupils. I enjoy the fellowship with the teaching staff, some of them men who have served for many years and carry their responsibilities well. They take complete charge of the Sunday School after church service on Sunday mornings, one of them acting as superintendent.

Before school closed for the Christmas holidays, the pupils presented a simple drama one evening, and in school for days before, we had special Christmas services, and the singing of the old familiar carol tunes with Umbundu words which have become more familiar than the English ones.

FROM MISS FRANCES M. WALBRIDGE

Missionary,
Camundongo, Angola

Vocational School Work

After a series of disheartening delays extending over a period of more than two years, the new vocational school building at Camundongo finally was completed. Rev. Floyd Honey, the distinguished guest for the occasion, dedicated the school while the people who had gathered for Pentecost Week services took part in the service. When the ceremony ended, the crowd surged into the building. Many a surprised "hah kah" was heard as they realized what a splendid gift the W.M.S. had made for the advancement of their newly-literate teen-age girls.

Mingling with the crowd were 50 illiterate girls who had come in from Camundongo's two village vocational schools. Another 180 were studying in Chissamba's three vocational schools and at a neighboring Plymouth Brethren station.

The 50 girls who took part in the dedication must have returned to their schools with a renewed desire to make progress in their lessons. Learning to read, hearing the daily Bible lessons, struggling with the first steps in sewing and knitting, working over a clay pot or a grass basket, must all have taken on a new significance for them. They knew that the best pupils of each school would be chosen to enter the new vocational school in October.

Four months later at graduation time, 70 of the most promising girls were invited to enroll at the new school, but the dreadful February drought made it impossible for almost half of them to come.

This group is in the capable hands of Emi Hama, a second Maria Chela in her dedication to the cause of advancing African girls. In addition to the usual Bible lessons, cooking, sewing and knitting classes the girls have been carrying on a number of interesting projects.

Once a fortnight they spend the afternoon in some nearby village whereby they help the leader direct her girls' group. They are helping in the Junior Congregation, have catered for several Church gatherings and invite special guests to have dinner with them after their cooking lesson.

The whole school is taking a course on how to conduct a worship service, and during the year every girl leads worship at least once. This is important because most of them will be asked to lead worship in their villages.

Village Trips

Every village trip has a distinct flavor of its own, and we never make a trip without seeing some good come of it. A former pupil is spotted in the crowd. Enquiry reveals that the parents are not planning to send her back to school. The drought has ruined their crops. I talk with them on the importance of schooling, and of ways and means of paying the child's fee. This brings forth the promise to send her to school after all. A sick woman finally consents to come to the mission hospital for badly-needed treatment. A sermon is just right for a fallen teacher sitting in the back row, and a silent prayer goes up asking that his heart may be moved, and that he'll "return to the fold". Or greedy parents are jubilantly gloating over the good bride-price they have received for their daughter, a little slip of a girl. A strong discussion with the villagers brings a promise to delay the little girl's marriage for at least one year.

In July we held our second Luimbi women's school. Thirty women attended this year, an increase over last year's number. They learned to read by the Laubach Method, had Bible lessons with lively discussion on such subjects as forgiving your neighbors, how to win a husband to Christianity, etc.

A Worth-while Project

Ever since taking a semester of work in Religious Journalism at Syracuse University in 1954 I have wanted to pass on what I learned to Africans. Less than a dozen of us gathered in Dondi for a week's course. We visited Hope Village, home of Dondi's leprosy patients. There we asked the people to tell us what they would like us to write about. Then we set ourselves to the task of writing easy-to-read articles on such subjects as Leprosy Patients Can Save their Fingers and Toes, Hints on Raising Coffee Trees, Gossip Ruins a Village (a folk tale). We read the finished products to the Hope villagers and later made them into booklets. We enjoyed our fellowship with these people, and had a fine time among ourselves, too, for we were all under one roof for the week.

FROM MISS EVELYN I. SWANN

Educational Missionary,
Chissamba, Angola

Early one morning in 1955 several little seven or eight year olds appeared at my door. They were guides to a nearby village. Carrying a flannelboard, school books and lunch basket, we followed the little paths for some distance to arrive at the village school. Here we were greeted by the students and the teacher. We spent the morning at the school, listening to the lessons, making suggestions to the teacher and giving little tests to the children.

After lunch we rang the bell and the villagers gathered. We had a little service and I told a flannelgraph story, then we wended our way around the village, calling in the homes and leaving a small Bible picture at each home we visited. (These brighten the walls and leave little message of great love—God's for His children.) Then the little guides appeared again and accompanied me home.

There were other days like this one spent in other villages and each cheered me immensely for they seemed to be much appreciated. Even if I visited one village each day of the year I couldn't visit them all. I felt that these visits were establishing a certain surface friendship that could not be deepened until I had acquired a much wider vocabulary and much greater ability to hear, and "hearing to understand" what was said to me. I enjoyed the contacts but felt increasing frustration at my own inadequacy.

Village Schools

Our Chissamba Church schools have more than 3,000 children enrolled in classes below those taking government exams. The demand for education has so far outstripped the teacher supply that we have been forced to accept as village school teachers those who have less than a Grade VIII education, themselves.

In an effort to give the Preparatory Class teachers a rudimentary knowledge of pedagogy we planned with Camundongo to hold a course during the holidays. We were fortunate that Elizabeth Utting and Margaret Dawson, who have done special work in this field, were able to come and teach thirty-one of our Chissamba and twelve of our Camundongo Preparatory Class teachers. We believe that the best place to attack the poor teaching problem is at the beginning of the child's school life so this year a beginning was made there. Next year we hope to do something of the kind for teachers of higher classes.

Junior Congregation

The Junior Congregation is led by Mae Corina, the Matron of the Girls' Hostel, a motherly woman, much loved by all her girls. I visited the Junior Congregation one day when Mae Corina was alone with 125 small children, and she was smilingly leading them in little action songs. Nothing the children might do disturbed her song or story.

On Palm Sunday these little ones appeared in church with palm branches garlanded with flowers. As they sang Hosanna and waved their palm branches on high, flower petals came drifting down. Their Christmas play though traditional is ever new as each group portraying the parts catches something of the spirit and meaning of God's gift to us.

Means School

Out of the 21 girls writing the entrance exams to Means School, 20 passed in Bible. This percentage is considerably higher than formerly and great credit is due to the teachers who are putting real preparation and thought into their teaching. We are especially pleased this year to have 32 girls going to Means School — the same number as there are boys attending Currie Institute from the Chissamba area. I was told recently that now when a girl is born to a family they say "U Meansie" meaning literally "One of Means School." This indicates that they are thinking in terms of all their girls attending. Such acceptance of the idea is the result of the splendid work of the Means School Staff. When a girl returns to a village, they see the results of her study.

Language Study

Many were the opportunities of fourteen months spent in the land of Portugal. These varied widely from weekly missionary meetings with the language students of all denominations and with such experienced missionaries as Dr. and Mrs. John Tucker and later Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott, to the privilege of travelling from the southern Algarve to the beautiful northern Minho; from the valuable opportunity of spending two weeks in a Portuguese school of nursing and another period of time in an Evangelical clinic to the everyday toil of listening, studying and attempting to speak another language. During this time not only was a knowledge of a new language gained, but also a basic idea of the customs, the country, and above all the people of the mother land, to whose colony we go to serve the Master.

This year was the seventh for the camping program sponsored by The Scripture Union—one of two such camps for Protestant young people in Portugal. Here were gathered together eighty young people of various denominations, of varying ages, of varying background—and yes, even of various color, for it was our privilege to have at that camp eight Angolans who were studying in Portugal. Here this group studied together, played together, prayed together, and talked together in preparation for returning to their schools and places of work, and to their respective churches to carry on their witness for Jesus Christ.

But where does such an experience fit into the life of a missionary studying the Portuguese language? In many ways. First of all the missionaries there present were each given the responsibility of a tent of young people—to keep us from speaking English, we were told. However, it proved to be much more than that, for as we lived together we began to realize some of the problems that confronted young people in a country where, as far as their faith is concerned, they are a minority group. Some had very little religious background; others had had a base in another faith and had since changed; others had been born and raised in the Protestant faith. This experience provided an opportunity to understand the Portuguese young person and his problems in a way that nothing else could do. It was a privilege.

The annual "Summer Course for Foreigners" sponsored by the University of Lisbon was held the latter part of July and the early part of August. There were gathered together about seventy students representative of Italy, France, Holland, Germany, Spain, England, Belgium, and America. Not only did we study the Portuguese language but also history, geography, and literature of Portugal. Here again the value was not only in the information gained but in the informal contacts and the class discussions, showing clearly our various backgrounds and manners of thinking.

On to Angola

Early on the morning of November 16th, the "Uige" sailed up Lobito Bay, giving me my first glimpse of Angola. Almost a week was spent in Lobito and Benguela visiting the work of our mission before coming to Means School. Here under the capable supervision of Miss Edith Clark and Maria Chela Luciano, I have now started the study of the Umbundu language.

FROM MISS LILLIAN J. M. TAYLOR

Missionary Nurse,

In the Hospital

Medical work is the same the world over. Sick people be they black, white, yellow or brown, react the same. It just so happens in different parts of the world, the types of diseases vary because of the climate, the kind of insects, the food and the methods of sanitation. Our hospital here accommodates ninety patients comfortably, not counting the babies in the Creche. However, most of this year we had to put up extra beds and were caring for one hundred or so. Furthermore, this doesn't count the fifty-one hundred people who are patients living in the two camps, one for those convalescing and the other for the out patients who live too far away to return daily for treatment. Fortunately over the years a wonderful spirit of Christian fellowship and co-operation has grown among our staff. The African staff, of only fifteen graduates, who along with the student nurses, look after not only the hospital patients but also the people in the Leper Camp and the camp for Tuberculosis patients are fine people. During June, July and August while Mary MacDougall was away on her mid-term holiday, they couldn't have been kinder or more helpful. And I can assure you, much patience was required on their part, for having been here such a short time, I am new to so many things and not yet fluent in the language.

Christian Fellowship

Working with our students has been very enjoyable. Most of these young people after graduation will return to their villages not only to look after the sick, but to give Christian witness and leadership. Therefore, it behooves all of us to set the very best example we can of Christian living so they will unconsciously absorb and carry away Christian ideals of healing, working and loving our fellow man. Shortly after I arrived in Dondi, Marie Crosby, whom I moved in with, and I began Sunday evening services in our home with the students. At that time the student body numbered thirty-one but with one class graduating in March and a new class coming in September, our numbers changed to forty-four and it is almost more than our living room can hold. The attendance has never been obligatory, yet we have had nearly everyone who could, come to every meeting. The students, themselves, take charge by classes and our speakers come from missionary personnel, the graduates, Institute and Means School staff and the students, themselves. The Ovimbundu love to sing and it is a joy to listen to them. Part of the year we had the use of a piano which added pleasure. The service is always informal, the leader, the speaker, those leading in prayer doing so from where they sit. The meeting closes with prayer, then more singing follows while Marie and I plus some of the students pass tea and cookies. With dishes done, we join hands to sing the African hymn, "Lalipo, Lalipo Lalipo," the equivalent of "Day is done." And in a few minutes the house is quiet but in the distance through the open door comes just a whisper of song as the students sing their way home to the dormitories.

FROM MISS MARGARET M. DAWSON

Educational Missionary,
Dondi, Angola

Fifteen years ago at the end of my first term of service in Chissamba concentrating on work with small children in the kindergarten which was planned by Miss Annie Bradley, I came to the conclusion that, for the benefit of the masses of children in the villages, more time and effort should be given to the training of teachers responsible for the teaching of children in the primary grades of the villages. Now, after two interesting years again doing kindergarten-primary work, concentrating mainly on the kindergarten part of it, I have come to the same conclusion that I came to fifteen years ago. The African Church is not yet ready for kindergartens. The village schools are taught by the "cheapest" teachers, those who have been poorly educated, and who have had, for the most part, scarcely any teacher training. The small children are crowded into the same classes with boys and girls between 12 and 18 years of age. No wonder that the children spend years and years in the primary schools! No wonder that the parents are becoming discouraged about the amount of money spent on their education! We who are interested in primary education must concentrate on the betterment of this situation.

Teacher Training

Realizing the crying need in the villages Chesley Ervin, Elizabeth Utting and I took what lessons we had prepared for the First Grade of school and attempted to give some pedagogical training to 55 teachers of the Dondi area in the month of August. We went to a village centre, worked in a village school and tried to adjust to the minimum of equipment which a village school provides, a few poor blackboards, a bit of chalk, classrooms with only openings for windows, and a few crude benches. In the 3½ weeks which we spent there, we covered only about one-fifth of the work which should be taught in the first and second grades of school. How we can finish the other four-fifths of the course and how we can train the other 150 teachers is a problem which looms up before us!

Magistério Rudimentar

This is the name given to the official Normal School for the training of African teachers. And so we call the new course being given at Currie Institute for the students who are concentrating on teacher training. Only three Means School graduates returned for teacher training this year so they have become part of the Magistério Rudimentar, studying along with the 38 boys who hope to receive their Currie Institute Diploma this year along with the Teacher Training Certificate. This is a further step towards co-education! I am glad that I have the opportunity to participate in such a course, giving four lessons of theory each week and using the Means School primary classes for practice teaching work for the class.

We are grateful for the new program which the government has provided for teaching in African schools. However, the program consists mainly of a few pages outlining the courses but not the books or materials with which to work. So, those of us who are directing the work must be continually experimenting and writing lesson material. To date the Kindergarten Course is ready. Now we are working on the courses for the first two grades which we hope to have finished by the end of this school year.

FROM REV. AMY E. SCHAUFFLER

Missionary,
Dondi, Angola

In September, I took over the principalship of Means School, and "a large crowd" of people and things met me. I am still trying to find my way through them. It is a big responsibility to try and direct a school in these times, and already I have tasted of its joys and its trials. Fortunately, I have the invaluable help of the ex-principal, Miss Edith Clark, and a grand staff with whom to work.

Conferring Together

Before the students returned, we had a two weeks' conference with the teachers. Maria Chela, freshly back from Portugal, divided with me the responsibility of leading the daily worship services and Bible study periods. We are very pleased to have Maria Chela with us again. She has fitted in very well and is a great help both with students and staff.

For the conference, all the girl teachers lived and ate together with me, in Casa Sol, the other missionaries and the men teachers joining us from time to time for meals. We had some really helpful lessons in Pedagogy, Portuguese, Etiquette, etc., and some conferences with Church and hospital leaders on the various phases of their work. We also took time each day to think about our responsibilities and to try to see where we are going. A good spirit of co-operation and friendliness was evident.

Higher Standards

This year we have 184 girls in the three courses. We were pleased to find that this year almost half of the first year girls entered with 3a classe elementar. This means that in course here, they can do the 4a class and there is hope of finding a nice little group to go on to secondary studies. This year we have five graduate students back, two in high school and three in the Pedagogy course. All five of them go daily to Currie Institute to study together with the boys. So far the experiment seems to be working out very well.

We raised the entrance standards this year and also the academic work in each year, so that for the next few years we hope to have, in addition to the girls in the Complementar course, a few from the fourth year of the regular Diploma course, who will go up for the government 4a class exams.

Christmas Time

Christmas time found us with a school full of girls, and a real opportunity to share the Christmas spirit with them. Friday afternoon we had a gay party for the men teachers and their wives and children. That night the whole school went to Currie Institute to the Christmas Cantata. Saturday we had a lovely Christmas Eve service in the school, with all the teachers' families present. Each family, as well as each year of students and the girl teachers, contributed a Christmas carol to the program. Sunday, all the girl teachers and missionaries joined the students for Christmas dinner. That afternoon, one group went to the hospital with a Christmas play, and the rest of the girls were divided into two groups to go to two nearby villages to lead a service. Their visits were greatly appreciated. Christmas night we had our A.G.I.T. Vesper service here. Christmas Monday, we missionaries had our turkey dinner together with the girl teachers and women of our staff. Rain through the week curtailed some activities, but some of the girls from other missions did get to visit the boarding school at Lutamo and the nearby pastoral centre at Chianga. Another group went to the station to see the train for the first time in their lives.

FROM DONA CELENIA PIRES FERREIRA

Teacher, Brantford School,
Lutamo, Dondi

The School

In February Brantford School in Lutamo, Dondi, had an enrolment of 588. If we had received everybody there would have been more than 650. As we have only 10 classrooms, it was impossible to accept all of them, and we hardened our hearts and sent many away, even at the cost of criticisms and sadness. We had 19 very large classes, only one of them, the 4th class, studying both morning and afternoon. The others only studied morning or afternoon, and in the rest of the day worked in the Hostels, principally in agriculture, carpentry and sewing.

Our school, like all others in the Missions, has two sections—rudimentary education, and after that, the official program. Rudimentary education is for natives who are not assimilated (i.e. Africans who are not yet citizens), and has four grades, Preparatory and 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Class (Rudimentary), but generally the pupils stay two or three years in the preparatory class, for there they have to learn to speak Portuguese, in which all instruction must be given. When a pupil has succeeded in obtaining the 3rd Class Rudimentary Diploma (and it is a beautiful certificate) he is ready to enter the official program, which is designed for whites and assimilated Africans. After presenting this diploma he does 3rd Class (Elementary) and 4th Class, which already belong to the official program.

In the many Dondi outstation schools there are Preparatory classes, and in nearly all the 12 Pastoral centres there are also 1st and 2nd Class (Rudimentary). In Brantford School the boys now begin with 3rd Class (Rudimentary) and the girls with 2nd Class. At the end of the school year they do an examination here in the Mission, which is a great event in their lives, because for many of them it is the first time that they have come to the Mission, and entered a school made of brick, well white-washed inside, covered with tiles, and with good desks. (It should be said that the Africans are now making some of their own schools with tiles.) Some come a whole day's journey on foot, others two or even three days, and bring their own food and one or two books. They come in groups, carrying their bundles on their heads, and one pupil following another.

The boys can now only enter Currie Institute after passing the Portuguese 4th Class examination, and the girls must be up to the 3rd Class standard to enter Means School. Entering "Means" is still the golden dream of all our girls in the upper classes.

Special Occasions

This year we have had various important visitors, including the School Inspectors sent by the Department of Education, but the most exciting for our pupils and their parents were Dr. and Mrs. John T. Tucker, in May, right after the Jubilee meetings in Bailundo. The pupils and teachers, and hundreds of others, from far and near, went to meet them a kilometre up the road, and pushed the truck down to the school, where there was a reception in real old-fashioned African style, with speeches, hymns, flutes and drums, African dances, greetings and exclamations without end. Of course that day was a holiday. Dr. and Mrs. Tucker left Angola in 1951, and this was their first visit since then.

On Easter Sunday there was a special worship service, arranged by Mr. Chesley Ervin of Currie Institute. Although it was the rainy season we had a beautifully sunny morning, and the drama was given outdoors.

Gratitude

Before finishing I want to re-affirm once again to the members of the W.M.S. in Canada, our thanks for the interest, help and prayer for this Christian work in Angola, or rather, in Africa, assuring them "that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." 1 Cor. 15: 58.

Missionary Nurse,

Tuberculosis Work

Our Tuberculosis work is ever on the increase. We now have 120 patients with declared pulmonary tuberculosis, and perhaps 25 more cases of bone and suspected tuberculosis in the main hospital. What do we do with 120 patients in a New Sanitarium that has a bed capacity of 44 patients? That was the big problem that confronted us this year. We have been struggling to build some adobe houses at the back of the Sanitarium to put the overflow of patients. As soon as the beds for the Sanitarium arrive and these little houses are finished, we hope to move in to the new Sanitarium. When that day comes I am sure that you will be able to feel on the waves of the air our joy and happiness radiating all the way from Dondi to Canada.

Our Leprosy Work

Dr. Gilchrist is in charge of the leprosy work here at Dondi and also is on the Committee of the Cavango Leprosy Area. One of the things that always amazes me about Dr. Gilchrist is his insatiable quest for more and more knowledge about disease. In all the ramifications of his work he still makes himself find time to keep up with the latest developments about disease and to share his findings with his colleagues. This is equally true in the field of leprosy. This year I have learned a great deal about the disease. We have about one hundred patients here under treatment. We discharged about twelve this year as stationary cases and have received others for treatment.

The Orphanage

Every morning as one walks into the lovely little Cottage newly opened this year, little Maria and Isobel are all smiles. Neither is walking yet but should be soon. They should soon be going back to their families. Maria's mother is one of the women in a plaster cast because of a TB spine. We call Maria "Thumper the Rabbit." Isobel's mother died of tuberculosis. These two are perhaps the most advanced of the thirteen little ones, five of which are bottle babies. In the last two months Betty Gilchrist has been doing an invaluable piece of work with the little ones. It is one of the places that still needs constant missionary supervision but which is almost impossible with the present staff we have. We are very grateful indeed for Betty's willingness to apply her very special talents with babies in this way during her visit with her parents. The health of the babies is markedly improved.

The Nursing School

Perhaps the Nursing School is my greatest responsibility. In February we held our graduation exercises of our third year students. It is one of the big occasions at the hospital that to me is very thrilling because it represents for those students the culmination of sacrifice and hard work of three years. Some, of course, drop out for one reason or another during the course. But for those who persist and who win through, it is a big day in their lives. This year the School year has been changed so that the new class was not received until September. In our second year group we have not one girl! This fact made us all study very carefully the problem of girls for the nursing course. It was agreed to start a Practical Course of eighteen months including 6 months' training in midwifery for girls. But because we do not want to lower the standard of Nursing for girls, or discourage any intelligent girl from completing the 3 year course, we have decided the following: Any girl who shows special ability and real desire to continue, we will recommend to her Mission Station that she be allowed to transfer to the 3 year course. We need and shall need young women well trained to give leadership and direction to lesser trained women. We now have 8 in first year.

Three times during the year, because we were short of African staff, we asked for the loan of former students from Chelisso Mission. These three nurses, coming for a period of three months each made a very fine contribution to our work. It was interesting and encouraging to see how well our former students accepted their responsibilities and the guidance they gave to the students in their department.

FROM MISS EDITH M. CLARK

Educational Missionary,
Dondi, Angola

There has come to me this year the experience of living in a practice cottage with a group of six girls of one of the graduating classes for periods of six weeks. For many years we have had practice cottages in connection with the Home Economics department of Means School but this year we feel they are more nearly fulfilling their purpose than ever before because closer supervision is possible. Our well-known graduate, Maria Chela, is the house-mother in one of them, other teachers in two more and your missionary in the fourth. The close contact with the girls who take turns living in this cottage is a valuable experience for the one in charge and we hope also that it will bear some fruit in some of the future homes.

Scholarship—A Good Investment

It is a real privilege and blessing to be a member of the staff of Means School and see our Maria Chela come back to us with her wonderful vision of the opportunities and responsibilities of a Christian Umbundu woman in her home and in society and to see Maria's dedication to passing on her ideals to her African sisters. They can't help loving her, she is so humble and so much one of them in spite of her advanced training and wonderful experiences in other lands. They cannot resent her outspoken condemnation of existing wrongs and shortcomings because they know she is right and has experienced all their difficulties and found a better way. Four of the girls of the graduating class have the privilege of sharing her cottage for four weeks and then are replaced by another group and so many have intimate contact with her besides in the classroom and on the campus. A lack of desire on the part of the girls to improve their ways is one of our greatest handicaps to progress, but to see Maria Chela in action doing her best to instill such a desire with all her passion to uplift Umbundu womanhood, is one of the most encouraging and refreshing experiences possible.

"By Their Fruits . . ."

Very little outstation visiting was accomplished by the writer this year but I would just like to mention one of our graduates with whom there has been close contact. Elvira Chipuco cooked for me for four years after graduation. When she left she took with her, Alice, our little orphan girl, then two years old, for whom Elvira had cared in our house since her infancy. Elvira taught for a few months in a vocational school, then married, and now Alice has a little sister but she is still loved and cared for by her foster mother as formerly. Elvira is living in a village in the suburbs of a city and realizes the great need of the children about her. She has started a Junior Congregation which meets every Sunday and besides that is teaching a number of children on week-days in her home. She leads women's meetings such as on the Woman's Day of Prayer and is really letting her light shine where she is.

This year more emphasis than ever has been placed on extension work in the villages and this has given an opportunity to some of our graduates to share their knowledge of foods and nutrition with others. We are hoping that this work will develop and that more and more may share their knowledge, having first put it into practice in their own homes, thus improving the general health of the people, also contributing to better and fuller home and family life.

FROM MISS ELIZABETH M. UTTING

Educational Missionary,

A New Station

Being stationed in Lutamo, a new station to me, I spent some time getting acquainted. My work being with the village schools, of which there are some two hundred, I began by visiting some of the Central Schools, getting to know some of the pastors and teachers. To these Central Schools come children from villages of the area, who have passed through the village schools. Many of them stay at the Central Schools all week. Some bring food with them for the week, then go home on the week end to get the next week's supplies. One of the longest of these trips was to Chitombo where there is work among the Ganguelas, people of a different tribe and language from the Ovimbundu. The new pastor, Daniel Cassinda, a former village school inspector, is very interested in the development of the educational work there.

Teacher Training

In July, a visit to the Portuguese Government Normal School in Cuima spurred us on to do more teacher training, especially among those who are already teaching in the village schools but who have had very little, or in many cases, no teacher training. In August, 55 village school teachers gathered in the centre of Ulondo for a 3 weeks' Refresher Course taught by Chesley Ervin, Margaret Dawson and myself. We all worked together in the two class-rooms of the adobe school. We wished to work in exactly the same environment as a village teacher would, so our equipment consisted of a black-board, chalk, a table for the teacher and 3 benches for the children. New methods and new materials were presented but all were such that every teacher could reproduce them in his own school. The enthusiasm that followed after the first days of confusion was very gratifying. Already we have heard results from those who are trying to put into practice the new ideas gained from that conference.

September found us in Bié repeating the same course in a conference with 45 different teachers of that area.

In the two conferences we have helped 100 teachers. But that is only a beginning. In the Dondi area we have reached only about one-fourth of the teachers and have covered only about one-fifth of the work of the first two grades of the new school system. We hope that such courses may be continued and that we may reach most of the other teachers who need such training and continue with the training of those who have begun in this first course.

Sunday School Lessons

Before leaving on furlough, I helped to write a series of Sunday School lessons based on the Old Testament, for children. They have been printed and we are now using them in various Sunday Schools. I have given a weekly lesson to the theological students at Emmanuel Seminary in the use of these lessons. They, in turn, have put them into practice by teaching the teachers in the Lutamo Sunday School how to use them. This course has made us even more aware of the need for graded lessons adapted to each age group.

MacCallum Vocational School

This School was my responsibility while Miss Halliday was on furlough, and the happiest event of the year was the School Graduation Exercises held in March. 48 girls out of a class of 52 received certificates or diplomas. To receive a certificate a girl must know how to read. The ability to read has become so important here that some boys are willing to pay school fees for their prospective brides, so that they will know how to read, and also have better training in the art of home-making. Previous to the Graduation Exercises a dinner was served to the 96 people. The girls along with their teachers were responsible for cooking the food, arranging the tables, making the place cards and seating the guests. The success of this dinner showed what can be done with training.

Ballantyne Boarding School

To accommodate over 180 girls and to see that all is going well at the Boarding School is no easy task, and I should like to pay tribute to our two devoted and capable leaders, the Matron, Mai Carolina, and the Nurse Raquel, who accepted much of this responsibility. With such a large number of girls, personal contacts are limited, but through worship services and other avenues, we seek to instill in them those qualities that make for character formation thereby helping to establish healthy relationships in group living.

On to Camundongo

August brought adventures as well as a change of scenery. I had barely settled in my new surroundings at Camundongo, when it was time to leave for camp—three days at Gandavilla and four days at Jele. I fear that my last evening at the Gandaville camp will not be forgotten for a long time. About 115 girls were seated around the huge campfire enjoying Umbundu records, when I happened to glance in the direction of our grass hut, and to my horror saw flames shooting from the roof. I dropped the records I was holding, shouted ondalú "fire", and ran. By the time I got the lantern outside, the whole camp had turned up in full force, many of them crying, while others pitched in to rescue what they could. As the grass was so dry, it seemed to be all over in a few seconds. Fortunately, there was no wind at the time, and all the other grass huts were left intact. On taking stock later, I was minus my typewriter, a few books and some clothing. The two Portuguese teachers who were with me managed to save most of their belongings. The next morning we were off for Jele, stopping at the mission for more supplies. At Jele we found another large camp in full swing. The program known as "The Fire and Light" program is similar to our C.G.I.T. program. There are three age groups, the 6-12 known as the "Woodgatherers", 12-15 the "Fire-lighters", and the Seniors the "Torchbearers". It was a thrilling experience to be with the girls, and I was very impressed at both camps by the type of leadership shown by our African leaders.

There are promising days in Angola, and we covet your prayers that the year ahead will bring us greater blessings.

IN NORTHERN RHODESIA

Life in the Copperbelt

If I tell only of my work among African women and children you will feel the enthusiasm and the joy we share in our daily work in Africa. Morning visits in the homes and hospitals; afternoon classes for worship, sewing, knitting and instruction in health and literacy; enthusiastic Youth Clubs; Bible discussion groups at an African girls' boarding school—all these are a happy picture of the life of a woman missionary on the Copperbelt. If I write of the fellowship we enjoy in the European Church—in the Sunday School, in the W.A. groups, in the church choir—you will find the same Christian fellowship you enjoy in your home churches mirrored in our church here. And both phases are a real and a vital part of the total picture.

Some Activities

Women's Church groups meet weekly in each of the following centres: Mindolo, Kitwe, Buchi, Wusikili and Kalulushi. Worship services are conducted at all meetings, leadership being shared by Church elders and myself. With the assistance of a Government Health Nurse and two women from the European Kitwe Church, instruction is given in health, child care, sewing and knitting. At Kalulushi, 24 women are enrolled in a class for reading instruction. We are following the Shibukeni course, giving as much individual instruction as possible. Six African women are fairly good readers, so the new lesson is first presented to them and they in turn assist in teaching the learners.

A Youth Club with an enrollment of 32 meets weekly at Buchi. The program includes Bible stories, the learning of new hymns, hand-craft, folk dancing and games, with an attempt being made to show the value of team work and of observing rules of play.

It has been a great privilege to give Religious instruction twice a week to the girls of the government boarding school at Mindolo, as well as to lead a voluntary group for one hour a week for Bible study and for discussions on the Christian way of life. The theme of our study has been: "We would see Jesus", and Stephen Neill's The Christian Character has been an excellent resource guide. The attendance has averaged 86, so in an effort to meet the girls and to know them more personally, I have entertained them at my home on Saturday in groups of 20. Now they are to come in smaller groups of 5. They will prepare and cook our meals and learn something of European table customs, while the evening will be spent in games and closing worship.

In the European Sunday School I teach a class of teen-age girls. On one occasion they joined with the African girls in their Saturday party, and the response from both groups are friendly and enthusiastic, and it was interesting to note that the initiative in friendliness came from the African girls.

I feel a real need for Leadership Training classes in all the centres, and am eagerly looking forward to launching forth in this direction as I acquire more facility with the language.

What of the Future?

What then, of our future work in Africa? I am becoming more and more convinced that one of our greatest challenges is in the area of reconciliation—of interpreting not only the African to the European, but also the European to the African. In so many little ways, even in one's friendly conversations, one is often able to break through the wall of prejudice, and to bring some small measure of understanding. And sometimes there are the greater occasions when one is aware of the Eternal Purpose at work, and when one thrills to the realization of being a part of that Purpose. May I mention briefly one such occasion. Several cars of women from the European Church in Kitwe came to Mindolo to attend the Nativity pageant presented by the African ladies. Later they came to my home for tea, when I heard the following comment: "I'm so glad I came—I nearly didn't you know. At this season especially, my life seems to get so cluttered with entertaining. But today I found something I am at a loss to express. I could not keep back the tears as I realized these African women understand the Birth of Christ better than I do with all my Christian heritage and tradition. Their every movement was so simple and so reverent. I just never knew they were like this. I wonder how much else I am ignorant of? . . ." And so one feels the indifference, the fear, even at times the hatred giving way to appreciation and understanding.

FROM HONG KONG AND FORMOSA

THE FOREWORD

Hong Kong

A grant of $1,000 was made from Property Account towards the building and equipment of a Family Life Centre in one of the crowded sections of Hong Kong. This is connected with the Hong Kong District Association.

This year there are 354 students at Chung Chi College, of whom 147 are women. Fifty per cent are Christians. These students came originally from 14 provinces in China, and a few other areas in south-east Asia.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has had a successful year. Of the 64 books published this past year 37 were reprints, or revised editions, 23 were new Translations and four were new works in Chinese. In addition, tracts, pictures and music were published.

The response to the Christian message and the work of the Church is very remarkable. Churches are crowded beyond their capacity and everywhere "the Word is heard gladly." One of the ways Mission Boards can assist in this situation is to provide funds to make possible additional church buildings. Some of the larger churches can provide their own, but the smaller ones, and those in the smaller towns and villages find that impossible. This year a grant of $1,500 ($9,000 H.K.) was made to assist the church at Sham Oi which itself had raised $70,000 H.K., a remarkable achievement. Other Missions are also making similar grants.

Hay Ling Chau Leper Colony is gradually developing and enlarging its program. There are now about 500 patients at the Colony.

Formosa

Encouraging reports come from Miss Ruth MacLeod and Miss Gretta Gauld of their work. Miss MacLeod has been helping to organize a Woman's Society in the Presbyterian Church in Formosa, and she reports that the new organization is getting off to a good start under excellent Formosan leadership.

Tunghai University, Formosa, is a new Christian University which began its academic work on November 2, 1955, with its first class of 200 students who were carefully selected from 5,800 applicants. 55 per cent of these are Chinese from the mainland, and the rest are Formosans. About a third of the students are women.

Getting Acquainted

FEBRUARY 19, 1955—This is to let you know that I have reached "journey's end" and a delightful journey it has been. I find myself among friends—the Kilborns and the Kwangs (from Winnipeg), such close friends . . . and then the many others from Szechuan, or Hong Kong folk I met in Winnipeg.

MARCH 21—Since arriving I have had several inquiries from missionaries and from Chinese teachers as to the possibility of printing some of the materials that the Child Study Centre put out in Chengtu. . . . Next Saturday I am starting classes with a group of kindergarten teachers who are carrying on kindergarten work in one of the Children's Centres which we hope will come under the Woman's Association of the Church of Christ in China (CCC). I have also been visiting many kindergarten, elementary and nursery set-ups here in Hong Kong, Kowloon and the New Territories.

"PRIMARY 4", HIP WOH SCHOOL, HONG KONG RECEIVES VISITORS

Leadership for Children

APRIL 30—My work is framing up. . . . I have two mornings a week language study. Saturday morning I have two groups in the Children's Centres. These are teachers' groups and it is really a morning of training and teaching materials. I have a morning in a Church school, where they have a very good kindergarten and elementary department. I am teaching English to Grades 2 and 3. This is really a demonstration period. The teachers are there and the idea is to show how even young children can participate without regimentation in a class period. . . . I am working on a summer conference session on the parent and young child. This is under the Woman's Association of the Church of Christ in China. They are holding a Christian Home Conference at Castle Peak Training Centre. It is quite an assignment as they want a pamphlet of printed materials for the delegates to take back to their churches. At this conference each church in the Hong Kong District Association is to be represented. So it is really an opportunity to make contact with the women of the various churches. I have been helping the Leprosarium with plans for the school, to be carried on in their recently established Children's Village.

APRIL 30—Actually the most productive bit of work I have been doing is with the Children's Centres. They have half day sessions for about 200 children. They are limited in space, and the work is temporary as the government is moving many of the refugees of that area into their new multi-storey apartment blocks. The teachers are, outside of the two leaders, untrained . . . as they are refugee students, who are in this way earning scholarships to study in the refugee Universities. Most of their University classes are in the late afternoon and evening. These girls are interested in the materials and teaching methods discussions. . . . And . . . when the schools are moved, they hope to follow the children and their families. And here comes a very interesting project. In these huge multiple apartment buildings the government are erecting for refugees (5 refugees to a room) they are leaving flat roofs, with roofing over an area at each end . . . and two rooms on the floor below, to be used for children's work. We are negotiating with the Welfare Department and it seems possible we will get two roof tops and be in full charge of the children's work carried on there.

MAY 23—This week I received an invitation from the Committee of the Church Clinic on Rennie's Mill Camp to be a member of their executive committee, representing The United Church of Canada. Next week I go out again for a Children's meeting in the Leper Colony (Hay Ling Chau) and we have mapped out plans for a course of study for the teachers on the island.

JUNE 25—The plan of carrying on work on a roof top still moves forward, but it has developed rapidly and is now to be worked out as a Family Life Centre. The Government has approved the plan and is securing a site at the Chuk Yuen Settlement area, rather high up on the hill, and large enough, we hope to allow a playground,

The CCC is sponsoring this plan, but it is actually under the Woman's Association of the CCC. They asked me to be a member of their committee in charge of this project.

JANUARY 18, 1956—There are now three centres for resettlement where the Church has relief centres for children and their families. It is really giving aid to the very poor.

"The Church without Walls"

The leprosarium on Hay Ling Chau, in its fourth year of development, has shown marked growth during the past year. The government of Hong Kong gave liberally toward the building of more cottages to accommodate 500 patients by the end of the year.

Set in the midst of many of these buildings is our church. We still worship in what we call our "Church without Walls" but a leafy wall is provided by shrubs along the side. Plans have been made for a new church, which we hope to have in the future. We are fortunate in having two consecrated pastors sharing the responsibility for services and for pastoral work among the patients. There is a steady growth in Church membership among the patients.

There is a daily morning worship service in the hospital wards and a Sunday afternoon service in the general hospital and also in the hospital for tuberculous patients. In dealing with fear of evil spirits among the patients, we have found the answer in prayer and in willingness to depend on all-powerful God. Several times during the past year we have found that prayer helped restore peace of mind when other measures failed. One case reminded me of "demon-possession" as recorded in the Bible.

Healing and Education

One of our patients whose leprosy has been "arrested" started, in September, on a three-year course in theology at the Lutheran Seminary in the New Territories. There was the woman who was carried in, covered with sores, and so anaemic, we thought she would not recover. Today she is walking about. Her skin is completely whole, and she has become much stronger. About the same time, there came also another patient whose hands and feet were badly ulcerated. Her face and eyes were affected too. She was altogether dependent on others for care. It seemed as though she would never be much better. Today, her face seems transformed. To anyone who has watched her slow recovery, she looks almost radiant.

The educational program has also shown advancement during the past year. Two quonset huts have been equipped as classrooms with the result that day and evening classes can be arranged more conveniently. Adult literacy classes are held in the evening with a good attendance. Some middle-aged patients are delighted to have the opportunity to read and write. A business course has been undertaken by a patient who was a banker in Hong Kong. In the autumn, Mr. Lei Ming Liang, a highly trained agriculturist on our staff, started teaching agriculture to a group of gardeners.

Christian Influences

It was a proud moment for us all when a group of our dressers became a troop of Boy Scouts at an investiture attended by the Scout Commissioner of Hong Kong. These Scouts will be leaders of the younger boys on the island. The Scout Master is a fine Christian young man and his time of worship with the boys at every meeting is helpful in their spiritual development.

In our every day contact with the patients, as we meet them on the roads, in their cottages, or in the wards, there are countless opportunities for being ambassadors of Christ.

FROM INDIA

THE FOREWORD

The Board of Christian Service has asked us for six evangelistic women missionaries, three of them this year, and we have no one to send. Nurses are needed also to staff the hospitals adequately. Altogether nine new missionaries were requested. We have included four in the list of appointments in the next two years.

A Rural Extension Pilot Project has been set up at Bannia near Ratlam. This includes adult literacy classes, a clinic, a village library and an active Church program under the direction of an able young Indian pastor.

Indore Christian College has decided to appoint an Indian dean of women to succeed Miss Anne Black.

Further discussions were held during this year on the proposed Plan of Integration of all Mission Work under the Malwa Church Council. After careful thought and prolonged discussion, a revised Plan of Integration was drawn up by the Joint Committee of Mission Council and Malwa Church Council. This was approved by Mission Council, and was submitted to Church Council in March. It is now before the Home Boards for consideration and approval. January 1, 1957, is the date on which the transfer is to be made if the approval of all groups is received. This will mean a basic change in our relationship to the Malwa Church Council. It also means the acceptance of greater responsibility by the Church in that part of India, not only for the administration of the work, but also of a greater measure of financial support as soon as that can be arranged.

The provision of free medical treatment and hospital care for all the citizens of India by the India Government has raised difficulties for our Mission hospitals where fees have to be charged. Some hospitals are running at only half capacity, while others are in more serious situation. A few are full to capacity most of the time. The Medical Commission of Mission Council is giving serious thought to this problem to devise means by which it can be overcome. The Nurses' Training Schools are recognized by the Government as of great value since one of the most urgent needs of India is for more nurses. An excellent Cooperative six months' Graduate School of Nursing in Hindi is being carried on at our Indore Hospital under the auspices of the Mid-India Nurses' Board.

Madras Women's Christian College continues its excellent record in all its departments. The Nutrition department has continued its remarkable extension services in the district around Madras, as well as Courses for special groups at the College.

Ludhiana Christian Medical College is in the midst of its new building program to meet the requirements of the Government for the M.B.B.S. standing. An interesting rural medical centre has been set up by the College with the help of the World Health Organization in a nearby village. Here, medical students are given practical training in a village public health program.

Vellore Christian Medical College is also continuing to grow by the addition of new departments. A revised constitution has been submitted to the Cooperative Boards for approval. According to this the Association of the College, which is the property holding body, would be composed entirely of Indian membership. This would mean the channelling of at least part of the grants from Mission Boards through the related Indian Church bodies. Mission Boards can be represented on the Council of the College.

IN SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

FROM EMILY A. MAXWELL

Educational Missionary,
Banswara

A Reunited Family

We set off for camp in Khariya on January 6th. That is where our first village church (The House of Peace) has been built. We had with us Rev. A. T. Lal, Pastor of the Mhow Church, and acting Moderator of Malwa Church Council. We also had Rev. Andrew Lalli, whom you have come to know in the film "Where None Shall Thirst". People had come from other congregations, too, for these special evangelistic meetings and it was a deeply spiritual experience, culminating in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper on Sunday. Rev. A. T. Lal told us something of his childhood experiences and of the very wonderful way in which he was reunited with his sister. His parents died within a few weeks of each other, when he was a very small boy. He was the youngest of the family with two little sisters older. Their ages were about 8, 5 and 3. The relatives sent the older sister and the little brother to a Swedish Mission to be cared for and kept the second girl with them. The missionaries cared for the two who came to them. They were educated. The girl married a Christian man. The boy graduated from Seminary and became a Pastor. He married a fine Christian woman. One day, his wife was walking along the street of the city in which they were living, accompanied by another Woman Evangelist. They were passing through a Mohammedan quarter and heard a woman's voice calling to them from behind the grille of a door. They went to the door and were at once admitted. After some talk, the woman who had called them said she knew they were Christians and she wanted to know if they had ever heard of a boy and girl, naming them, who had been brought up by the Mission. She told of her village and how she had been kept by their relatives when the other two were sent away, but that some years later, perhaps in a time of scarcity, the relatives had turned her out and she had wandered around, trying to find work to support herself. She got work at a mine and one of the overseers, a Mohanmedan, noticed her and finally took her to be his wife. When she saw them passing in the street that morning, she had a great longing to ask if by any chance they knew of her brother and sister, as she knew they would have been brought up as Christians. Mr. Lal's wife was greatly moved. She told the woman that her brother was living in this very city and that she was his wife. She left at once to tell her husband this wonderful thing which had happened and to bring him to this sister. We can imagine the joy that filled the hearts of that reunited family that night and how they thanked God for the wondrous way in which He had brought them together.

We moved our camp from place to place over the district, trying to spend a little time with each Christian group. In February we had the Audio Visual Truck with us for a week and great crowds gathered to see the films. This year we found the film on Zacchaeus most effective. It is entitled "The Transformed Life". In each group there were many problems to be talked over, mostly about marriages—some runaway marriages—quarrels between brothers over property—so many things to disturb the life of the little congregations but also in many instances showing signs of spiritual growth in the way they faced the problems.

FROM MISS MARY E. MARTIN

Educational Missionary,
Dhar

My first responsibility in the New Year is the preparation of financial statements. After the Audit it is possible for me to get into the district for a period of about six weeks.

Results of Work

This was a year of seeing the fruits of the year of sowing. Since 1949 we have had baptized Christians in the Dhar areas. These are in scattered villages and the care of them has been difficult with the small staff which we have. However, we have been working towards the goal of two organized Churches to take in the villages in the two areas. In January while in camp at Atarsuma, Dr. Buchanan arranged for the leaders from each village in that area to come to Atarsuma for a ten day period of study on the meaning of The Lord's Supper. At the end of the study we had our first Communion Service. It was very satisfying to see these village men and women take the final step from the old ways into a Christian fellowship. Now we were ready for the organization of a congregation. On April 3rd the Moderator of Church Council, Dr. Dobson, who had worked for five years in these villages, Mr. Patlia, Church Council Secretary, Dr. Buchanan, now in charge of the field, the Dhar Pastor, who had cared for the people of the area, Miss Kilpatrick and myself had the great joy of assisting at the organization of a congregation, the Ordination of three Elders and a Communion Service. A young Bhil graduate of the Indore Seminary is in charge of the congregation. We trust that before too long we shall be able to have a congregation in the other area.

We had a Refresher Course in April for any who could come. We had about twenty-five for the full ten days, some fifteen others for short periods. Bible, literacy, public-health and village improvement were the things stressed. We had help from the Adult Literacy Committee and the hospital Public-Health visitor.

In spite of the agitation against the Christian program, we are able to report progress.

The School goes on as usual. We have had a slightly larger number on the roll this year than last. The staff remains the same and all do faithful work. Examination results were good although this year we did not have the distinction of having the lists in the Commission Examination. Non-Christian children continue to do Bible study with the approval of their parents. We trust that the seed sown in young lives will one day bear fruit.

School Events

The first important event of the year 1955 was the Annual Sports, held on the 26th and 28th of January. Special features of the Sports' Day were a basketball match—staff versus students; march-past by the four houses of the hostel; mass display; physical displays, etc.

Class and staff picnics were held in February.

On February 28th, we had a graduation service for the Training class and class X. The speaker on this occasion was Miss Anne Black.

Seven students appeared for the Matriculation examination in 1955. Of these two passed in the first division and the rest in the second division.

Of the enrolment the number of boys is 108, Christians 215, Hindus 197, Muslims 25 and Harijans 11.

The percentage of Christians on the roll is 47.9 and Hindus 43.9. Out of the 450 students in the school, 43 are on full freeship and 6 on half freeship. 23 get books and stationery from the school.

In the absence of a nursery class at the school, it was impossible to adhere to the Commission requirement, regarding admission of children to the infant class.

There have been several changes on the staff.

It is a great pleasure to have on the staff of the school this year, Miss Muriel Stephenson, who is acting Vice-Principal in place of Miss C. J. Bridgman, now on furlough. Miss Stephenson has made a very valuable contribution with her talent of music. Her work in the school is greatly appreciated.

Hostel

In the hostel there are 110 girls, of this number 11 are taking teacher training. There are 105 Christians, 3 Muslims and 2 Hindus. Christian Endeavour, Bal-sabha, Girl Guiding and Blue Birding are being carried on regularly. The children on the whole are enjoying good health.

The need of a school bus is continued to be felt. It is hoped that a bus will be available in the near future.

This year the Mission Teachers' Refresher Course was held at the school under the able presidentship of Miss Susan Ipe. The school Christmas tree was the highlight of the year, added joy and interest being found in the beautiful Canadian dolls and toys from Canada. The children appreciated these gifts very much.

Visitors

The visits of Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor and Rev. Floyd Honey gave new inspiration and interest to teachers and taught alike. It made them realize more fully and vividly the deep and personal interest that is taken by the people of Canada in the work of the school and welfare of the children.

Personally, I am deeply grateful to Miss Ipe for the splendid way in which she shouldered the responsibilities of the school in my absence. I returned to a disciplined, happy and loving family at the school last September.

It is a great pleasure to be back at the school and to the work that has new meaning and interest for me. The warm welcome accorded by the staff and students was a joy and inspiration. It is hoped that together we shall enjoy another year of progress and achievement in the school.

FROM MISS MURIEL J. STEPHENSON

Educational Missionary,
Indore

I have had two homes this year apart from the two months spent in Landour, Mussorie, during the holiday period in May and June. From January to April, I continued as principal of the Neebuch School. My chief duties besides supervision and office work included the teaching of English in some classes, the teaching of music wherever the opportunity came, leading a children's group (which is much like "Explorers" in Canada), and helping in the Sunday School. Miss Kishan returned from her study leave in April, so when school closed at the end of that month, I was off on my holidays. Although not exactly a rest, holiday time proved to be a real change in which I enjoyed the pleasures of mountain climbing, participation in musical activities, and in conferences.

Music and English

July found me settled in my new home at Indore with Miss Tena Baxter and Miss Hilda Johnson. My new work consisted mainly of teaching English in the Girls' High School as Miss Jean Bridgman, the former English teacher, had left for furlough in the spring. It has been a delight to work with the teen-age girls in English classes. They have been most responsive and eager to learn. But perhaps the greatest thrill has been the time we have had together in singing every Sunday evening. Many of the hymns in the Canadian Youth Hymnal have become favorites and they love to sing. Their enthusiasm has often outweighed correctness of tune and rhythm, but with careful attention to some of these latter matters, singing has become more of a pleasure for all of us. One of the highlights for me was when six of the girls sang "Ring out Sweet Bells of Christmas" as a double trio in one of our church programs. They did quite well for amateur harmony singers.

Then, too, I have had the privilege of being advisor to the Christian Endeavour group held in the school each week. The girls take charge of the meetings themselves and after opening devotions they divide into three groups—for singing, handwork or drama. The girls presented a very beautiful Christmas drama at our school program on December 22nd and we were all quite proud of them. We pray that the girls may grow in vision and understanding of God's purpose for their lives—that they may come to know more fully the abiding presence and power of Christ in their lives.

My activities have not all been in the school. I have had the opportunity to teach music to the Seminary students once a week. This, too, has been a pleasure especially when the group has responded with enthusiasm in learning to read music as well as to sing new songs and to conduct.

Work seems to be one of the main phases of life but we have our times also for play and social contacts and fellowship with others. It has been a joy to me to feel so much at home with Indian co-workers.

FROM MISS ANNE G. BLACK

Dean of Women, Indore Christian College,
Indore

College Girls' Activities

The girls this year have taken a more active part in the life of the College as a whole. There is more confidence shown and a greater ability to cooperate and take an active interest in all college activities. For the first time in the history of the College there were more girls taking a leading part in our College Social Gathering on December 20 and 21 than there were boys.

Fifty girls dressed in white saris formed a guard of honor for the Commander in Chief of the Indian Army when he came to the College to be our special guest at the social gathering. The press photo of the girls showering him with rose petals "made" the "Times Weekly" of India.

A cricket match between the girls of our College and the girls of the Government College at Ujjain was one of the "events" at this Social Gathering. One of India's famous cricketers, Colonel Nayudu, whose daughters were playing on our team, attended the game and served as referee for part of it.

The activities of the girls during the past year have included a "Cultural Exhibition" which began with a concert of classical music and included exhibits of cooking, knitting, sewing, art, Indian curios and finished with a "Fashion parade" (the first to be held in Indore) and an oratorical contest. Almost every girl attending college participated and their mothers and guests who attended were very much impressed by its great success.

The girls are now preparing a concert in aid of the Students "Helping Fund", and an exhibition which they are calling "Know Your India" Exhibition. In all, ten Committees are at work—learning something of co-operation and democracy first hand.

In such ways are the 121 girls in the college learning to take their places as future leaders, and developing not only their minds and bodies but also emotionally and spiritually so that they can enjoy a truly "more abundant life".

School of Social Work

The School of Social Work, in which I have served as Acting Director, has, as of July, 1955, become a Post Graduate School affiliated with Agra University. It is the only School of Social Work in Central India.

Last March, twenty-three young men received Madhya Bharat certificates as graduates of the School. Most of these were students of other courses or were employed as teachers and civil servants. Because the lectures were in the evening, they were able to attend. This year the University has demanded that the course be a full-time one and hence more lectures and more field work hours can be given, which should result in a more adequate and more intensive training. This has emphasized to us the need to advertise our course more widely and to create more interest in Social Work among our student group. To accomplish the latter, an undergraduate social service program has been instituted with six girls and fourteen boys attending. They are enrolled in the Sociology course given in the School of Social Work and have been doing practical volunteer work in the Municipal playgrounds and have assisted also in Adult Literacy programs.

One of the most heartening signs is that the Community as a whole is becoming more interested in Social Work and more conscious of the social needs. More professionally trained social workers are now employed in Indore. Medical Social Work has been established in the large Government hospital and one of our students is doing her Field Work in this setting.

FROM MISS CHRISTINA V. BAXTER

Educational Missionary,
Indore

Training Classes

January, 1955, the Teacher Training Classes were composed of twelve seniors and five juniors. Extra-curricular activities have included the annual picnic, this year, by train to a beautiful waterfall called Patal Pari, a Handicrafts Institute conducted by Miss Gladys Thornber, some special lectures in Public Health and Social Hygiene by Miss Louise Scott, a Course in Adult Literacy Methods by Rev. G. Prashad, and the Making and Use of Puppets and Posters by Mr. John Luther, Observation Tours to the Malwa Cotton Mills and a local Printing Press. All the students were successful in securing certificates after passing the examination at the end of the Adult Literacy Course.

In April, all twelve seniors, having completed the two-year course were eligible for Teachers' Certificates. Good reports have been heard of all of them as they have been trying their wings as fully-fledged teachers. All but two have been employed in our Mission Primary Schools.

In July, the five juniors became seniors and were joined by six new students. Health has been good, and progress can be reported in all lines of endeavour, though there has been little of a very outstanding or spectacular nature to recall.

Supervising

Part of my time has been accounted for in the supervision of two day-schools, at Gwalatoli Village and in the mill area, known as Pardesipura, with the help of three teachers. Then, of course, there have been duties and responsibilities connected with the office of Secretary of the Educational Commission, which have required time and attention.

A very special feature of 1955, though not confined to any one department or phase of Mission work, was the visit of Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor and Rev. Floyd Honey. They were a source of much inspiration, help and encouragement to all with whom they came in contact and were a visible reminder of the constant and unflinching loyalty and support of the many, many who "hold the ropes" and make possible our attempts at helping in the growth of the Kingdom of the Prince of Peace.

"Mother of the Bride"

One of the highlights of 1955 was the marriage of one of our older orphan girls to a young man who comes from a village near Kharua. Not having ever attended an Indian wedding, it was quite an experience for me to be acting "mother of the bride" and make the marriage arrangements and buy the trousseau. The matron and other women of our Christian community gave me much advice and assistance so that Maya had a proper wedding.

After the wedding festivities were over, there was a rush to finish up the duties that accompany school closing before leaving for a vacation in the beautiful Vale of Kashmere. The freshness of the green grass and the spring flowers with the background of lakes and snow-capped mountains made a scene that was breath-taking after the dryness of the plains.

Do They Like School?

Back to the plains again, and with July came the reopening of schools and the rains. Some of our girls and boys left us to go to Ratlam or Rasalpara and others came from villages and three boys from the Babies' Home. That not all children like to come to school was evident by the tears that were shed by some; and that not all like to study was made evident by the failures in the Commission Examinations, in April. However, we were shown that some are very eager to come when we were greeted by Bhulia and Gangaram who had walked twenty miles in the rain and mud to reach school on the opening day. Another who was especially eager to come was Premlata who ran and climbed into the bus when her mother tried to persuade her to stay home another year. Others had to be told to come back next year because they were not old enough and a few because they were late and our hostel was filled.

The children who had been here the previous year arrived back happily. Two notable examples were Sita who went into tantrums every time her father came to see her last year, and this year she greets him happily but when he leaves she looks sad a moment or two and then is off playing with her friends; and Shirmani who cried such a lot when she first came but now takes part in church, school and hostel activities cheerfully and willingly.

This change in attitude to Hostel life is due to the love and kindness of our matron, a fine Christian woman who manages to mother each of her forty-eight charges.

Our boys, too, seem to be living together happily and growing.

Christmas

October passed in Mission Council and then the days seemed to fly through November as we worked on the regular school activities and prepared for Christmas and pre-Christmas examinations. Our Christmas activities begin in Kharna with the W.M.S. sale, and this year the second event was the Christmas Story in drama and song presented in the church the Sunday preceding Christmas Day. It was the first time such a service had been held in the church and it was one that will long be remembered. The little children did the acting and they were so reverent that it was truly a worship service.

Good Student

The total enrolment has been 117 in 5 classes with 5 trained teachers. In the Educational Commission Examinations of Class II, Rameshkumar Garg stood first among our Mission Schools with 291 marks out of a possible 300.

Besides the regular academic subjects, games, singing, handwork, dramatization and gardening receive special attention. A contribution of twenty rupees was given to the Prime Minister's Fund for Flood Relief, and this year a gift will be made to the work of the first missionary of The United Church of Northern India who has recently gone to Africa. At Christmas time, money and bedding were given to an invalid lady. International friendship is encouraged by sending bangles to Canada through some of those going on furlough.

The first week of October was Mhow Sanitation Week. The school was visited by the Executive Officer and other members of the Committee, a doctor and a pleader. The school was awarded a certificate for cleanliness.

Appreciation

Teachers and children take much interest in the Library collection of books, magazines, and newspapers, which are available to them at regular times.

There are two lame girls and a partially dumb girl in Class II, all of whom are progressing satisfactorily.

Christian teaching is appreciated by almost all of the non-Christian parents. The religious teaching is being done according to the new syllabus with Bible stories, hymns and songs with simple musical instruments, and other stories of high moral value, with drawing and handwork illustrations.

FROM MISS T. KISHAN

Principal, Neenuch School

A Good Year

The year under review was one of the best ones in the history of the School. In July, it started with a special Consecration meeting for the teachers. A few members of the School Management Committee, one of the Church Elders and Pastor Sahib also attended the meeting. The School took part in Holy Communion that day and once again we had dedicated ourselves to this great task of ours.

The School Management Committee met on the very last day of the school term. Releasing one of the teachers in order to reduce the staff, caused some agitation, disturbance and uneasiness which continued for some time. For the prestige and reputation of the School, the young unmarried teachers had been asked to live under the shelter of the school, on its premises. This led to the resignation of one of the teachers of long standing—she has been replaced by another.

Unity Among the Teachers

Due to the policy of the Mission in not granting any more additional rooms, so that we should make the best use of the present building, some shifting of rooms had been done in July. The upper long hall where the two classes were previously held has now become the Children's Dormitory. Downstairs, a few smaller rooms with some changes made, were turned into class rooms. The sleeping and living arrangements of the children and matron also led to another change in the staff. The older matron was replaced by a new matron. In August, in order to bring about a unity and better fellowship between the staff teachers and others living in residence, all were asked to have a Common Mess. Due to the lack of proper servants and the varying temperaments of those concerned, the Mess at first was not very successful. However, with a better servant and more understanding on the part of all, there is a sense of good-will and peace amongst all. This understanding helps in the maintaining of a better discipline in the School.

These changes have helped us spiritually in a tremendous way—forgetting their grievances, all of my teachers have become reconciled and united with each other again. Therefore, I am now able to say that this is the most successful year in the history of the School, since I joined it in January, 1943. The teachers are taking an active part in all the Church activities, in W.M.S., and Sunday School. In school, some are responsible for the Bal Sabha meetings and for games, etc. This year our Christmas drama was a very great success—due, I think to the co-operation of all. We are planning to have another function soon so that we may raise some money for making of a School Garden. For without fencing, it will be difficult to keep a good garden.

In the evenings, the teachers living in Residence attend the School Family Prayers with the children. This has become one of the most delightful times of the day, when we all worship together, then try to solve problems which have arisen and also try to inculcate some of the great truths we need, in order to face the world.

As usual the results of the Commission Examination in all the three classes were satisfactory.

There are 240 children on the Roll now, out of whom 80 are Christian—52 girls and 28 boys.

FROM MISS NELLIE A. PENNER

Ratlam
Principal, Girls' Middle School,

Although the Mission School at Ratlam is called a Girls' School, for several years now, there have been more boys than girls on the attendance roll. In the girls' hostel are 36 girls and in the boys' hostel are 33 boys. All are Christian children.

Christian Schools

The number on the school roll is 283. 36 per cent of this is non-Christian. We could have had a much larger enrolment but for two factors: 1. Lack of sufficient class rooms, 2. The age limit, i.e., only six-year-old children were admitted into infant classes, and 15-year-old boys were only taken into the higher classes, i.e., new boys. Many more non-Christian children were admitted this year than last year, so that the government officials could not say that we discriminated in any way in admitting children, but preference was always given to Christians. Paradoxically, quite a number of Christian people took their children out and sent them to a government school or a non-Christian school, because their children had failed and they could put them into a higher class, because of the high scholastic standard of a Mission school. On the other hand, it was with great difficulty that non-Christians could be turned away not only because of the high standard in education, but because of the high moral tone that Mission schools have. It would certainly thrill not only Canadian ears, but all Christians if they could hear a recording of what some non-Christian parents say about Mission schools, when they come to admit their children into a Christian school. Then one feels that Indian Christian schools have not lost their aim nor their great spiritual vision.

This year in the all-mission examinations of the VI class a Muslim girl, Ishrat Jahan, came out first in all the 12 Mission schools participating in this examination. She was given a partial free scholarship. This pleased the Muslim community of Ratlam much, and we have had a greater number of Muslims in this school than we have ever had before.

The school has literature, debates and essay competitions every Friday. When the town held a big exhibition of art and industries in February of last year, it held competitions in drama, essays and debates. The school came out first in the essays and debates, and people were struck by the high quality of acting and the play that the children performed. I am afraid that the Christian children's heads were a bit swollen at all the compliments they heard.

Last March almost the whole school attended a large spiritual Camp at Sitamau.

The School Staff had their Staff Association meetings twice a month fairly regularly. At one meeting we have purely a social time, as games, square dancing and singing. At the next we have a devotional talk, or speakers come and tell us about different countries, or about co-operative societies; or any present political or social problems of India. The fees of this Society have been sent for relief projects in India.

Then our Quiet Day of Retreat for the staff members was taken by Misses L. Brown, M. Cates and G. Thornber. The messages given were of deep spiritual value. The result has been that the teachers have taken a greater interest this year in the spiritual progress of the school and children, than in former years.

FROM MISS OLIVE M. PANNA

Principal, Ujjain School

"Interesting"

The new school year started with teachers' retreat on July 3rd. The topic was "Being a Christian teacher at School I do my share to make School progressive, happy and successful by—(1) my helpfulness, (2) my cooperation, (3) my thoughtfulness, (4) my honesty, (5) my dependability, (6) my punctuality, and (7) my neatness." Teachers made satisfactory responses on these points. It was really a successful gathering.

School started on July fourth. This year very few new children were admitted as there was no room in any of the lower classes. The enrolment this year in school is two hundred and three, of this ninety-eight, are girls and one hundred and five are boys.

In March, 1955, the school was inspected by Mr. K. Jacob and Mr. J. J. Anukoolam. The projects worked out by the different classes were remarked "Interesting", along with this the children have small plots for flower-plants.

The School is recognized by the Government.

In March there was a religious camp in Sitamau. Most of our school children who were above twelve years of age attended it and were benefitted by it.

Children play Volley Ball, Deck Tennis, Badminton, Kho-Kho, Rounders, etc., once in a week. Like other years, this year also we had school sports. On January 25, all the school children went out for a picnic on the bank of River Sipra beside Observatory. It was a very happy day for them. All the teachers also went to Kala Kund for a picnic and enjoyed the trip and the sightseeing very much.

Hostel Life

There are sixteen girls in the girls' hostel. This year the girls have taken keen interest in gardening. It is a project for them in which we decided that the income will be divided in four equal parts. One will be for Church collection, one will be kept for maintenance, one will be given to the hostel and one to the child concerned. Due to the heavy rains the outcome was rather disappointing but the interest is still kept up, thus some of them were able to earn some amount from winter harvest. The girls on the whole are keeping good health. They are happy and grateful for the opportunity of being in the hostel. God's name be praised for this great work.

"Come To Our Place"

In November Padre Masih and I made tours in that large area "below the ghats" which forms part of the valley of the Barbada. In an area of three or four hundred square miles (at a conservative estimate), we know of only three or four Christian families and individuals. At one village we found a Christian compounder and family. Through lack of fellowship and the pressures around them their faith has become cold. So when the man complained that he had not received Communion for several years, we arranged to have a Communion Service with him and his family, and so were able to remind him of that fellowship which is His Church. In the western section of the valley, in the tiny village of Pipri, which nestles amidst virgin forest, live those very hospitable folk, a community of Bhils. On arrival we were made immediately aware of their hospitality. As we were casting about, where to pitch our tents, they said, "Come to our place". So "come" we did and camped directly in front of their homes. In this area quite a number of Bhil people have recently settled and taken up land. We soon found that another camp had arrived there before us—a forestry school, numbering sixty-nine students in addition to instructors and domestic staff, which is training young men from all over Northern India in wood-craft and forest conservation. I had an unusual opportunity one evening of getting into conversation with a number of these young men and pointing them to Christ as the One Who can give them peace, purpose, and a new life. There was a genuine interest to the point that three returned later in the evening to ask more questions and buy what pamphlets and tracts I could provide. The Bhils, for their part, pressed us to return and asked us to send a master to teach them. What an opportunity! But we have no one to send.

Advance

It is Christmas evening and we are all assembled in the chapel. Red and green streamers, red paper candles on the window-panes, some potted plants around the front, a beautiful red velvet cloth with embroidered gold cross on the lectern, a tall white candle on the Communion Table, other smaller candles around it on the Communion Table and on the window sills. It is a Candlelight Service being conducted by our District Superintendent, Rev. Jacob Masih. At the close of the service all go out into the night hearing lighted candles to their homes. A year ago such an impressively beautiful service would not have been possible, for then we did not have the Chapel. In less than five feverish weeks of activity, the hostel chapel, which was completed with money received from the Board of Overseas Missions, was erected, completed and dedicated. The opening day, a hot April day when the sun mercifully hid behind a curtain of clouds, represents, I believe, an onward step in the process of Integration as it relates to the local situation in Hat Piplia. For with the erection of the chapel has come the transfer from the missionary bungalow, to the church, of all the Church activities. The missionary bungalow has ceased to be the centre and hub of activity. The Church is coming into its own. "He must increase but we must decrease."

FROM REV. HILDA M. JOHNSON

Missionary,

At Vellore

Early in January came the journey to Vellore for needed surgery. I had heard much of Vellore Christian Medical College and Hospital, but had never visited it before. The Christian atmosphere of the hospital and the kindness and friendliness shown me there were much appreciated, and I was happy that the W.M.S. is cooperating in this work. I was particularly happy to learn at first hand, something of the splendid contribution that has been made by Miss Florence Taylor.

Before returning to Central India, I spent two weeks in the Canadian Baptist Mission. I was pleased to have the privilege of seeing and hearing of the work that is being carried on there. It was exciting to be in Andhra State during the election when the world was waiting anxiously to know what the results would be.

It was nearly the end of February before I got back to Indore, and not all the dropped ends could be picked up immediately. Perhaps visiting in the homes suffered the most for there was not nearly enough time to visit more than a fraction of the homes in Indore, and those in the villages were left out altogether. I found Church Council meetings tiring, especially the session that lasted until 1.30 a.m., but one could note progress with joy. Then came the Refresher Course for women — a week much appreciated by the Biblewomen.

Seminary Life

Early in June two of us said good-bye to the coolness there and made our way back to Indore, where the Seminary was to open on June 15th. The student body this year was somewhat smaller than in the previous year. Six of the students brought their wives with them. Three of these were brides of but a few months and were new to Seminary life. Classes in New Testament, in English, and special classes for the women kept me busy.

On Wednesdays, my free day from the Seminary, I was able to get out visiting and to attend meetings of women in various sections of the city. Once a month on Sunday mornings I went to Sipra, 15 miles from Indore. Other Sundays I enjoyed meeting with the Senior Girls' Christian Endeavour.

Avenues of Service

As I look back over the year, what are some of the avenues of service that I appreciated most? The privilege of teaching New Testament, of helping to prepare study leaflets for the W.M.S., of sharing in W.M.S. meetings, of visiting in homes, of talking with individuals.

1955 had its grayish and blue threads. It had threads of anxiety and sorrow, threads of disappointment and frustration, but it had also threads of silver and of gold. Three of these threads come quickly to my mind—the green valley of Gulmarg, dotted with yellow flowers, and the snows beyond; the warm welcome that met me so frequently in the homes. "Don't be like the moon of Id", they said, "which comes only once a year. Come often"; and the thrill of seeing deeper depths of love and grace as one pondered on the words of some great passage in John's gospel.

1955 has gone, but in many ways it was a forward march. The sending out of the first overseas missionaries of The United Church of Northern India, steps toward integration, the advances planned by the Seminary, these are only three of the things for which we give thanks.

Joy In Visiting Villages

It has been a joy and a privilege to work among the women of the villages of our area. The first of the year we spent in touring in the farther villages of this district.

In Jharda there was Dhapu Bai so happy in her Christian faith. We taught her a new bhajan which tells of falling at Jesus' feet and asking Him to write our names in His book of life. Dhapu Bai learned it and wanted us to sing it at every meeting. Not many weeks after we left the camp, she was taken ill and died knowing that her name had been written in that book.

The classes for the wives of our village leaders are as popular as ever. Five women came. In most of them there was decided improvement in their reading and in their grasp of things. There were Bible study periods, singing classes, memorization times, reading periods, health talks and baby care, as well as a class in sewing. The last night was given over to a "Love Feast" followed by games and songs which even village women could play and sing.

A successful Summer Bible School was held in the summer with over 50 children in attendance. Some of the children were those visiting from other places and when I was on a visit recently to their station, these little ones came running to meet me—pleased to renew the acquaintance begun in the summer.

The Hindi Sunday School paper, Jyoti Kiran, (Rays of Light) continues to shed its light each week as it goes into the hands of over 4,000 Hindi speaking boys and girls in India and the Fiji Islands.

The On-going Work

The W.M.S. meetings in Kharua continue their work. Practically all the Christian women of Kharua are members of the Society and take their part in the conduct of the meetings. They have started a women's group in one of the nearby villages. Here the women have an opportunity to tell others of the Saviour which strengthens them and helps the village women as well.

The medical ward has provided a great blessing to many women and children. There were 23 babies born in the ward this year and many children treated for various children's ailments. We have been happy to have the powdered milk to give to the weak and under-nourished little children. Jammi Bai's baby, such a thin, weak little thing, came into the ward so ill. Jammi Bai had no living child and all her heart was centred on this little one. Prayer, care and love with good food has brought the little one to health and strength and brought hope and joy to the mother's heart.

Crowds of people continue to throng into the dispensary. Mangu, badly burned while warming himself at a little fire in his field, came into the dispensary and there, while his back was being treated, heard of the love of Jesus during the many days he lay on his bed. The back was finally healed and he went home. How far what he heard will effect his future life, we cannot tell but he is grateful for all that was done for him.

On Christmas Day, Rukhmani Bai, the young Hindu wife of one of the Christian men was baptized. She had been an enquirer for some time and had learned to love Jesus. Now she openly confessed Him as Saviour and received baptism.

Refresher Course

The annual Refresher Course for women evangelists was held in April, just before Easter. This meant, for the women, an opportunity to share in the Palm Sunday Services with the Indore congregation. It was a splendid week, enriching and joyous, with daily worship, Bible study, singing, classes in making children's dresses, health, methods of teaching and problems evangelists meet. Since we have been studying the Gospel of John during 1954-55, answering questions in writing each month, the study period was spent discussing some difficult but significant words such as glory, commandment, faith, and the relationship between the Father and Son and the Son and the disciple.

On August 15th, we celebrated not only Independence Day but an adult literacy prize-giving. A group of 55 villagers, Hindus of different castes and Christians had met together in crowded quarters every evening for two weeks to learn to read. We discovered on their closing night that they had learned to sing and act, too, for their gave a fine performance of the Prodigal Son, with real understanding and enjoyment. Of the 55, fifteen received prizes for attendance, effort, success or helpfulness. We sincerely hope that this taste for reading will continue as an incentive until all are really literate.

Presbyterial

In April, I was elected President of the W.M.S. Presbyterial, and decided to try to keep in touch with all fifteen groups by an occasional "Presidential letter" which may also in some way bring us all closer together. It has been a very successful experiment for the groups have almost all written to me at least once, giving me news of their meetings and activities, strong points and weaknesses, hopes and prayers. They have expressed a deep appreciation of all four letters written to date, especially the two that contained teaching. After the letter on the Christian home in September, I was amazed by the unexpected appreciation and the request for similar letters. Encouraged by the response and remembering Paul's prayer for the Philippians that their love may abound in knowledge and all judgment, I chose for the Christmas letter to consider the meaning of Christian love and its implications in our daily living. My hope is that the Presbyterial as a whole has profited, as I have, from this interchange of letters, this sharing of Christian experience and faith.

Touring

The year began and ended largely with touring. This is not one event but a series in a unit. It is discouraging in that we cannot spend long enough in any one place, with people who need and are eager for fellowship and teaching, Christian and non-Christian alike. And yet it is very rewarding: first, by dint of this very yearning and response; secondly, because our contact with the village folk is for many of them the only contact the Church has with them or they with the Church; thirdly, the growing tendency in the Church to minimize the value of evangelism and the consequent weakening of the inner compulsion to preach Christ, draw us who tour closer to the rural Church in the bond of our oneness in Christ.

A Breath-Taking Experience

Of the seven village centres where I camped, the first part of the year and the two at the end, the one at Sirlai in January provided the most breath-taking experience of the year. It took place one day when we set out to visit some Christian people living many miles to the east of us. Mrs. Graham had come from Mandleshwar to make this trip with us through miles of jungle and Phoebe Vauxhall was carrying five passengers besides the driver. As we drove happily along the woody road we suddenly noticed a fire ahead of us. A fraction of a minute before the rest of us the driver realized our danger and swung Phoebe off the road which was barely wider than the car. Driven by the wind the fire was sweeping towards us through the long dry grass and dead leaves. The next few minutes will never, I think, be forgotten by any of us. The place was a very difficult one in which to turn a car, even if one could take one's time, but with six lives seemingly depending on its being accomplished quickly . . . ! In spite, however, of sticks and stones, uneven ground and little trees, in what must have been a very short time, we were back on the road and fleeing for safety. We said little for some time—perhaps our hearts were too full.

Cooperation

The distance from Mandleshwar of some of these places, where Christian people have recently gone to live and the fact that it would actually be easier for the Hat Piplia people to minister to them had caused us to make request of the Board of Christian Service that the boundary of the two fields be defined. The Board left it to be decided by the District and Associate-District Superintendents of Hat Piplia and Mandleshwar. So one day in April parties from Hat Piplia and Mandleshwar arrived at almost the same time at the home of Rupji in Polakhal which had been chosen for the rendezvous. Together we visited with the Christian people of Polakhal and their neighbors and then went on to Pipri, where a picnic meal was soon ready in a shady spot by a little stream. After we had eaten we spread out a map on the ground and in a short time arrived at a conclusion concerning the boundary line between our fields. Later, when we visited the Christian people in Pipri, we of Mandleshwar were somewhat saddened by the fact that Pipri and Polakhal would no longer be within our district but it was a source of satisfaction to know that they could now be more adequately cared for and visited oftener.

Our camp in Surpala was the first one we had ever had there. A few inquiries into our activities on the part of officials served to rouse the interest of the caste people and one night they too, came to listen as we carried on our own evening program of teaching at the home of a Christian family.

In Mundiakbera the people "had a mind to learn" and we taught two groups, one Christian, the other non-Christian. In the oral "examinations" at the close of our camp twenty-five out of twenty-nine candidates (men, women and children), made a creditable showing.

FROM MISS FAITH WEBER (now Mrs. Bauman)

Missionary,

A New Life

I write this from Nadiad, Bombay Province, where my husband, the Rev. David B. Bauman, is stationed as an evangelistic missionary of the American Methodist Church. I transferred my membership from The United Church of North India to the Methodist Church of South Asia. It was not easy to break away from the wonderful fellowship of The United Church of Canada Mission. Having lived with many of our W.M.S. missionaries, and worked side by side with some, and having known them all so well, I had come to be very grateful for this wonderful missionary family fellowship.

Christian Literature

We have this year laid emphasis on the distribution of Christian literature. I have found that even within the five years I have been in India, great advances have been made in Madhya Bharat in the field of education. Within these past two years in Neemuch, the government has opened up dozens of little schools in villages scattered all across the country. Wherever we have visited, we have taken with us small inexpensive books. Since the percentage of literate adults is so very low, those who have bought books have been the children. They who have so few books to read—practically no other books than those required in their school studies—have always eagerly crowded around us, eager to see and buy books for themselves. Because of their love for music, the favorite book to buy is the bhajan book. It doesn't matter in the least that the tunes they sing are different from those which we sing. We would sell a bhajan book to a lad and then watch him eagerly open it to some poetical sounding bhajan and begin to sing it, making up a tune as he goes along. But to him, the tune and the words together express his aspirations and his inner desire for God as nothing else can express.

Besides bhajan books, Bible stories for children are the next favorite. So are pictures! How excited the children get when they receive pictures. I always had a good stock of pictures, too, on hand. In so many village homes, there are no pictures. A picture is a rare and precious possession—whether it be of Christ blessing the children, or even an old snapshot some former missionary took of somebody's grandmother, or even the picture of a car. These things delight the heart of the village people.

One day as I was looking over some old Toronto Star Weeklies that my mother had sent me from home, a woman with a little child perched on her hip in true Indian fashion, drew near my tent and looked wistfully at the pictures. As I gave her a picture—a very ordinary black and white one, she smiled gratefully, and clutching the precious picture wandered off home. Next day, a little boy came up shyly to my tent and asked me for a "foto." Strange how this word "photo" has reached even into the illiterate village vocabulary. When I gave him a photo—a very ordinary black and white picture from the Star Weekly, he held out his grimy hand with an anna offering to pay for this precious possession! How surprised and pleased he was when he found out he didn't have to pay for this photo! And he skipped off home happily. Needless to say I had many requests for photos from other little boys after that!

FROM MRS. R. PETERS

Supervisor, Rasalpura-Mhow Women's Work

Bible Women at Work

For nearly seven years two Bible women from Rasalpura and two from the Village of Manpur have been going out to the surrounding villages every day. Sometimes during the past year since I took over the supervision of their work here, I have wondered if their work was worthwhile since there hasn't been a convert yet. But a visit with them to the nearest village gave me my answer. This village is only half a mile from here and on the paved road. This morning we went first of all to see a group of Hindu women. We were met with reproaches. You haven't been here for a long while. Why didn't you come? The two women explained that during the rains their village was often the only one they could visit and now with the roads dry again, they were going to the others. The women were satisfied and all sat down in the middle of the morning in a warm sunny spot to listen. They listen eagerly to the story of how Jesus came to earth for them as well as for all. How interested they were! I knew then that their lives could not help but be influenced by what they had heard and it did me good, also, to hear their cries of "Come again soon" as we left.

The two women from Rasalpura go out every morning by foot, once a week by tonga, and visit sixteen different places by turn. One is a trained Bible woman and she usually tells the story. The other is a trained nurse and helps those who need simple medical advice and treatment. Both join in singing the Indian bhajans and the village women love to sing with them. The Manpur Bible women do similar work. Usually they meet the women and children only in the villages but sometimes the men pause to listen on their way to work in the fields.

The women are doing good work. I would like to see them do more of Adult Literacy work. Both have taken the course and I hope will use it in teaching others to read. If they can do that then their work will be more effective and perhaps we shall be able to see greater results of their labors.

"Why I am a Missionary"

During the summer months three camps were planned by the Welfare of Youth Committee of the Malwa Church Council. I had the privilege of planning for the camp for senior girls. We were determined that this year the leadership should be taken by Indian people. It was a joy to watch a young Indian teacher act as Camp Director. She took her responsibilities very seriously and never missed being up well before the others in order to blow the rising whistle at the right time. She is a young woman who is a very keen sports-woman and made a real contribution to the camp in this line. She said to me one day "I will do everything but please don't ask me to conduct a worship service—I just couldn't." However, she did lead one morning worship service and spoke to us on prayer, a very thought-provoking message that made us all aware of our lack of faith. Amongst the campers were four nurses. One of them was chosen as the chief camper and so it was her duty to conduct the closing worship of our camp. She didn't consult any of the leaders as to what she should do nor did she ask any of them to speak. We were curious to see what she would do. She had planned a beautiful worship but the thing that thrilled us most was her own testimony. With tears in her eyes, she told us how at camp she had come to realize just how much Christ could bring reality into a person's life. Then, before us all she promised that when she went back to hospital it would not just be as a nurse but as a nurse who would share her faith with others. The thing that happened in the life of this young nurse at camp is the main reason why I am a missionary in India—to see people give their lives to Christ and to walk with Him.

The Joy of Giving

In a small village called Bannia, we are trying to establish medical, educational and evangelistic work. We are fortunate to have working there a devout young pastor and his wife and now they have been joined by Rev. and Mrs. McKenzie who are working with them. Mrs. McKenzie, a nurse, has a clinic each day in the afternoon especially for women and children. In the mornings and evenings Mr. McKenzie and the pastor and others go into the surrounding villages to preach the gospel. In six villages around Bannia six village men who can read and write a little have been trained to introduce the rest of their village neighbors into the joys of being able to read—by the Laubach method. This work is done in the evenings after the work in the fields is completed. Each man receives for this work a nominal sum of Rs. 5.0.0. The work is supervised by the pastor, Rev. Netram. When he first paid the money to the six men he gave them a little talk on tithing and told them that he wasn't asking them to give any of their money to the Lord but suggested that they consider it. They got into a huddle as village people do and loudly discussed what they should do. They decided that they would give eight annas of their rupees five to the work of the church. Exactly ten per cent. The next month when the pastor paid them, he didn't mention the subject of giving and the five men took their money and walked away. The pastor said nothing to them as he didn't want them to give their money except as a love offering. Later on in the day all five of them came back to his house and presented him with the eight annas for the work of the Church. They had been to the bazaar to get some change! So in one corner of the Church of Christ in India some people are learning of the joy of giving.

FROM MISS MILDRED F. CATES

Missionary,
Sitamau

Early touring in 1955 was marred by winds, showers, and fog, all most upsetting to plans for showing films. However, we were delayed only two days, and after that, crowds in a few villages, as well as in Sitamau, itself, were delighted by a variety of pictures, including "King of Kings."

School and a Mela

April brought us, besides the closing of school, a very happy Easter, and a fine "mela" in a village. There we shared meals, worship, and play with the group of teachers and learners, and all were benefited. Each evening we held a song-fest, when a joyous noise certainly ascended to the Lord.

After a blissful holiday in lovely Kashmir, we plunged into the work of the rainy season. Yes, the rains came, but very soon they went away, and the grass began to turn brown again. Gardens and fields suffered, but in the end we got probably more rain than usual, and crops recovered. In our school this season we developed some new activities and interests. Class 6 was added for this year only, and a kindergarten was conducted for four months, with good results. Not only did all the smaller children develop more self-confidence and a more disciplined manner of life, but some seemed to blossom like the flowers in the amazing changes in their personalities.

Many Projects

Recently, there has been a greater emphasis on manual skills. In addition to our regular chalk-making, the older boys are learning to weave tape for beds, and narrow mat strips, on a simple loom, while younger ones are plying Gandhi's little spinning wheels with considerable interest. One boy learns in a tailor's shop in the town for a few hours each week, and the girls are keen on a project to clothe two orphan dolls in various costumes. Knitting has gained favor with boys and girls, and one ten-year-old has completed a nice sweater for herself. Perhaps one reason for the popularity of these pursuits is that all of them are conducted out of school hours, and on a voluntary basis; therefore, they are so attractive that the children want to prolong the periods. Since our cook left us, too, the hostel girls and boys have been cooking for themselves, and they seem to like it. Thus our school is fast nearing the ideal of Gandhi's "Basic Schools," a move which is heartily encouraged by our Education Commission.

Another new feature of life in Sitamau is the monthly visit of Dr. McClure and his helpers, who have made our small dispensary into a real operating theatre. In three visits, 15 tonsilectomies have been performed and our patients are becoming famous for their excellent response to the treatment received. During the year four others have had the same operation in Ratlam Hospital, for it is now becoming routine. We hope that village people, too, will be encouraged to come to consult the doctor on his visits, and to take advantage of the improved facilities of the dispensary which have been achieved through the Compounder's training in Laboratory work.

FROM MISS DOROTHY H. KILPATRICK

Missionary,
Ujjain

Instead of a regular report this year, I am permitted to use my little "Editorial Foreword" in the "Central India Torch." Its theme for 1955 was HOPE. As I look back over the past year and, indeed, over all my years in India this is the word of my choice.

As a girl of eighteen, I first visited the Tate Gallery, London, and was captured by Watts' great pictures, "Love and Life," "Love and Death," but mostly by his mysterious symbolic portrayal of "Hope." You remember it? It is of a girl who sits blindfold, her figure bent, her hands striving to bring melody from the one unbroken string of her harp. And she sits where? Astride the world! My copy of the picture has accompanied me throughout the decades. I think I never cherished it more than I do now. At first it was a challenge to me. All youth rises to a challenge! It meant indomitable courage, endurance, perseverance, victory over impossible circumstance. Lately it has meant much more to me, for is not the artist portraying for us the Christian hope? Braving "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, the whips and scorns of time," the Christian lives serene and steadfast, "as seeing Him who is invisible." In spite of present suffering, misunderstanding, even loss of fellowship, the Christian hope, remains "a lively hope." Are we gripped in the toils of Integration? Is there strife of tongues? This too spells not Frustration but Aspiration. Out of all this travail there is coming to birth the Indian Church, new vital child of our hope.

And now as I look back from Canada on our beloved India, I see the glad hope shine in the faces of the young who are to lead, bright hope in village homes where Christ shall reign, new hope in hospitals where the great Healer moves, pervading hope in thousands of dedicated lives of men and women spending themselves in the quiet places of the earth or in the clamor and blaze of public service. Did we cherish the symbol of a blind girl with a broken lute? Better far we have the vision of our dauntless Leader who as the hour of His agony drew near cried, "Be of good courage; I have overcome the world!"

In November on medical advice, I came home, sad of heart to leave the beloved country. If it be God's will, I shall yet return. If not, may He swiftly send others, young, strong and hopeful to love and to serve New young India.

IN HOSPITALS AND PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

FROM DR. M. JEAN WHITTIER

Missionary Doctor,
Banswara

Another year is drawing to a close and with it, coming events are already casting their shadows before which will mean great changes for Banswara congregation and hospital as well.

The Teaching Ministry

This year I have been able to get a little better perspective on the teaching program of the hospital, especially my little corner of it. I will leave it to the nursing sister to tell about the nurses and the maternity nurses but will tell about compounders. Since I came in 1950 Man Singh has completed his post graduate course and is our head compounder. Premdas Narayan studied Compounding and is on the staff in Hat Piplia. Victor Gladwin completed his study and is on the staff in Ratlam. Yunas Emmanuel completed his study and is going to do some study on anaesthetics and X-ray, with the understanding that he is to go on to Neemuch when he is ready. Then Benjamin Phul Chand will be on our staff here. He is to be married in May, so that will be a new family here. Chhogalal, who was married before, has his wife with him now and he will be able to go to Agoria to live and work, so it will mean that we will have a regular worker there. And Prahlad Cheing Singh will be going to Bhameri where the new Christian congregation was organized this year, and will be able to stay there for some time. They like him very much and have requested that he be released to go there. It makes me feel as if I am having a little share in the work of all these places as I send these boys out to work, for if I had not taken on the extra burden, they could not have had this training here and be able to help in this way in Christ's Kingdom. We do feel that teaching is one of our privileges even if it does take much time to plan and prepare, and great endeavor not to forget or to neglect classes, in the rush of work.

Some of Our Patients

Ratan Lal is an asthmatic who comes to us in his times of need. He looks so distressed in his inability to get his breath and then when he is comfortable and ready to go home, he is so grateful for the T.L.C. (tender, loving care) he got here and knows that when he has to come back, that it will be the same.

Another little woman Champaklata Bai came in very weak and looking about 14 or 15 years—threatened with T.B., recovering from typhoid, during which she had lost a baby and that had also been a strain on her. She already had a three-year-old girlie with her who looked like a baby doll running around the room. Her mother was with her and when I was talking with her she said she had been married when she was eleven years old and that Champaklata had been born when she was fourteen only. Then Champaklata had been married young and so was still a child when her little girl was born. The grandmother was about thirty-three and Champaklata eighteen, though as I said, she looked about fifteen and the little girl, about three. They made such a lovely little three-generation picture.

Lali Bai came for treatment for T.B. While she was here she had and lost her new baby. Her other two little ones, Cavanti and Manilal, are pets of the nurses and they attend Mrs. Henderson's play-school each morning. They benefitted greatly by CARE milk and butter fat which we had as donations to this hospital. Lali Bai, herself, is much better. They did not have any money so her husband has done what he could to earn their food but she has been treated free, paying only about seven cents a week.

FROM MISS MURIEL BAMFORD

Missionary Nurse,

The Nurses and Their Home

The students did fairly well in their examination results, one out of the thirty failed and she by two marks only. It was her second year in the same course and since none of her marks were good, it was felt she should drop out of the course. At this time of the year when we face all the review classes I cannot predict what the showing will be, but trust that with this last intensive drive they will do well.

The nurses' home is having some improvements again this year. It was partially screened in, and now it will be completely screened from the mosquitoes and flies. The nurses now have wooden cupboards with a pretty curtain on, in which to hang their clothing. That should do much to keep their rooms tidier. Bright new plastic has been put on their dining room tables and a new bookcase bought for their library. Several new books were added and we are hoping always to increase the number as we find good ones on the market. Generous friends have sent some of their knitting and crocheting books which the girls enjoy. Their main interest now is in badminton and a tournament will soon be in progress. Nurses' Auxiliary meetings and student nurses' meetings keep their Saturday evenings busy. We were not able to send representatives to the Student Nurses' Conference, but five were sent to the Nurses' Auxiliary Conference in Indore. They enjoyed the experience very much. It is a much longer distance away next year but I think the same number should go.

Other extra-curricular activities have been the nurses' sale to raise money for the conference delegates, the Christmas drama, and later the carol service, and choir practices. This year we had a much nicer garden around the nurses' home, due to the new fence which helped keep out the wandering animals.

The New Chapel

On New Year's Day we had a simple but very beautiful dedication service when we opened the new chapel in the hospital. It was dedicated to Kashuri Bai and Soni Bai, two of God's faithful servants who had labored here since the beginning in 1914. They came to the mission orphanage when very young in the time of the famine, and were brought up in the mission schools. They gave their whole life to the spreading of His word. Kashuri, when she died left some money and hoped that it would help get a prayer room for the patients in the hospital. This and some given in memory of Soni Bai, her friend and fellow worker, has bought the table, chair, reading lectern, carpets, bookcase for the future patients' library, and a rack for tracts and health literature, which may be left outside where all may read it. The nurses' new gramophone and harmonium is there for anyone who wishes to play them. More pictures are needed for the wall but they, too, will come in time. I am hoping to order a view master projector on which we may show the Bible pictures and some of the scenes of India which are now available.

Throughout the year our patient count remained low, as compared to the years before the State Hospital improved, but with the last two months in the old year the numbers went up again and we look toward the next year with high hopes that they will continue to increase until we are at least back to the old standard. Nursing can be satisfying only when there are enough patients who are really ill on whom to lavish good nursing care.

FROM DR. HELEN I. HUSTON

Missionary Doctor,
Dhar

At Nepal

Early in the New Year came an urgent call from the United Christian Mission to Nepal for a doctor. Our mission released me for three months to go there and help. To serve there in a land which, until three or four years ago, was so completely closed to all missionaries, was a very thrilling thing. Still missionaries can do no open preaching there but gradually more medical and educational missionary work is being allowed. Some Nepalese who were converted in India, are returning to their own land and they of course, have freedom to preach the Good News of Jesus Christ. Some Indian Christians are also following the call of God to go into Nepal. There are about eight and one-half million people in this tiny mountainous country. I would estimate there are not more than 50 Christians. For many years a great many people have been praying that this land might be opened up to the Gospel. Now God is answering these prayers.

At Dhar

I came to Dhar early in July to take charge of the women's and children's hospital here. Dr. Mathew, the Indian lady doctor, who was here before me is now studying on W.M.S. scholarship in Canada. She is working for her Fellowship in Obstetrics and Gynecology. You would be delighted to see our hospital, I think. We are all freshly color-washed now and we have a very lovely flower garden in bloom. Counting babies' cribs we have room for 45 patients, in five different buildings! Patients who are able to pay, do so. There is a public ward for the very poor. When they come they pay one rupee, about 20 cents. Simple medicines and treatments are free. They pay for special medicines, if they can. They stay as long as is necessary without paying any more for their care. A large number of Bhils from the villages around come for care here. Recently a Bhil woman and her husband walked in 18 miles, bringing their two sick children, aged one year and six years. It took them 12 hours to come. They carried food and utensils with them, too.

Miss Budden is a trained Public Health visitor and midwife. She goes out to surrounding villages with a nurse-aide to teach especially mother and child care. In hospital she teaches four nurse-aides a year to do midwifery. I'll tell you a little about one of them whose name is Nurani. She is a married Christian girl whose husband teaches school in a village. We believe that when she goes home she will be able to do a great service in the name of Christ, especially along lines of maternity and child welfare. Because she is an Indian woman living in the village, the women will be far more ready to call her than they are to go long distances to a strange hospital. We have a young Bible woman in hospital who sits in the out-patient room during clinic time and when opportunity arises, talks and sings of the Lord Jesus. In the afternoons she visits the in-patients. All my nurses are Christian girls.

At Christmas time we started a morning worship for all patients and relatives. We sit on the floor (on jute matting) in the front veranda of the hospital. The nurses and I take turns leading it. What a joy to tell these people of the Saviour.

FROM MISS VERA BOYD

Missionary Nurse,
Hat Pipia

Our 1955 statistics are a bit like the Irishman's legs who said he understood the law of compensation because one of his legs was a little long to make up for the other being a little short. In-patients numbers have dropped a little, while out-patients have increased. It is a little hard on the doctor's budget which depends on fees—and a little easy on mine since I supply the sheets!

An Interesting Year

Viewed from the distance of January, 1956, it seems to have been a very ordinary year and yet it has been interesting and worthwhile. Among the major blessings to have come our way, are the four new houses for medical workers. They are just fine, small, compact and altogether likeable. Those who have been privileged to move into them, are very grateful to those whose generosity has made them available. A four-bed dormitory away up on the roof for our nurse-aide students has released a much-needed sitting room for the girls. The new dormitory has a wonderful view of miles and miles of fields, woods and hills and the staff nurses are positively jealous of their juniors. On the ward not much has changed—a lick of paint and a few bright pictures have cheered up the children's ward a lot. Toys, too, are forthcoming occasionally.

We have been blessed, too, we feel, in the junior staff nurses who have been allotted to us for this year, and in the three little nurse-aides who came in July to start their course. They have all worked so nicely and got along so happily together. It is difficult for them out here without electricity, no movie, no shopping district. We have managed to find some outlets—badminton, a reading contest, an annual sale to raise money for their Nurses' Auxiliary Conference, and at Christmas time a rag-doll making campaign to send off ten dolls to Miss Bevan's babies in Neemuch.

The miracle of this year is the Butter Oil. (Ghee to us.) Miss Brown and I were temporarily embarrassed when the railway receipt arrived covering a TON AND A HALF of the stuff. However, we have managed to distribute it fairly well and it is now nearly finished. When the children come for it and their allowance of powdered milk, they are gathered round first for a story, then a drink of milk, then fill their tins and lotas to take home. It has been an immeasurable boon to us in providing supplementary food for very poor patients and their relatives. Right now we have a man, his wife and two children on hospital food because he has been ill for weeks and there is no other bread winner in the family. We are likely to have them on the free food list for some time still. It would not do not to tell you of the achey old lady who confessed to rubbing it on her joints because she had rheumatiz!

Mission Council, on the advice of Medical Commission, has appointed Dr. Naomi Mohan as medical officer in complete charge of her own work and budget as from January 1, 1956. She will do it most faithfully and efficiently—this she has proven in her untiring and efficient service to the patients. We are all very pleased about the appointment. But then we are going to miss the monthly visit of Dr. Catherine Whittier who came along to look us over and to do up the month's accounts. It was an event each month for us in this isolated spot.

FROM DR. CATHERINE L. WHITTIER

Missionary Doctor,
Indore

Visits and Visitors

My monthly visits to Hat Piplia have kept up throughout the year but with the coming of this new year, Dr. Mohan is taking charge and I shall not need to make these visits. I shall miss these trips and the little visits with Miss Boyd and also seeing the hospital people, but it is very encouraging to have doctors like Dr. Naomi Mohan able and willing to take over responsibility.

We have had many interesting visitors this past year. Among them were Dr. and Mrs. Ormand. He is a distinguished G.U. surgeon who after his retiral from the Ford Hospital, came out to teach in Miraj for two years. Others who were our guests were Miss Bischoff who is out in India under T.C.A., helping with Nursing Education;

Sterling Tucker, a Negro, in India with the U.S. Information Service, who told us about some of his experiences as secretary of the National Urban League; Dr. and Mrs. Mayers of Australia who were living in a village just outside Dewas studying the various customs and relationships in an Indian village; Mrs. Hugh Taylor and Rev. Floyd Honey, bringing inspiration and help to us all; Miss Elianna Lopez who is one of the U.N. interpreters in Montreal; a very learned German Sanskrit scholar who showed us some of his pictures, with interpretation, taken in some of the famous Hindu temples in Madhya Bharat; Miss Diana Hunt, one of the secretaries of the Y.W.C.A., in India, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hutcheson who were with us for three weeks on their round the world trip. There were so many who remembered Mrs. Hutcheson as Miss Hilliard and were so happy to see her again. We are very happy to live in a house by the side of the road and have the opportunity of welcoming such people as our guests.

Dr. Helen Huston was with us in January, but left in February for Nepal where there is a wonderful opportunity opening up for Christian work after centuries of closed doors. She was able to stay there three months and found the work so challenging that she would have liked to remain.

Post Graduate Studies

In August we welcomed Miss Bessie McMurchy—come to open up the Post Graduate classes in the rooms prepared over our outpatient department. They are all very pleased with their accommodation and we are glad the work was in full swing when the Mid-India Board met here later in November. The work of the Mid-India Board has grown tremendously which is very gratifying, but it means many hours of work for our secretary, Miss Louise Scott. She does the work so quietly and efficiently that very few realize how very much she does. She is also helping Miss McMurchy with the Post Graduate teaching.

The work with text books goes on. The midwifery text is ready to be printed, when the nursing text is finished. The compounding book is printed and is in use. We are all grateful to Dr. Smith for the splendid job she made of it.

Hospital Sunday will soon be here. Last year several of our staff took part. The contribution went to Ludhiana which has now been recognized as an M.B.B.S. college. We have scholarship students there as well as in Vellore and a very happy part of our work this year has been keeping in touch with these young people so earnest and keen in their work.

FROM MISS FRANCES E. STEVENSON

Missionary,
Indore

There is no statistical record of the number of patients visited but memories crowd in—the little woman, very ill with T.B., who always wanted me to sing the same gospel song and expressed again and again her delight at the spirit of service in the Mission Hospital; the many in the men's ward who have enjoyed the library books, or those who could not read but for whom our efforts to teach served as an antidote to their physical discomforts; the maternity ward with the proud little mothers, some of them so very little; the surprised pleasure of the illiterate village women when someone takes an interest in them; the little girl so severely burned and her happy face when I visited her.

Hospital Day

A new venture during this year was Hospital Day, when we had open house. All the activities of the hospital were arranged as exhibits or demonstrations—X-ray Lab., Public Health, Baby Clinic, Training-school literature, patient's library, handicrafts, statistics, etc., and tea was served. The latter was on sale and proceeds given to the Church's central fund. We also began this year to have daily prayers at 8 a.m., in the open courtyard of the hospital, right in front of some of the public wards. It serves as a good beginning for the day for both professional and service staff, as well as a witness to patients and their relatives. Some of the latter usually stand with us for the worship. Two retreats were held for the nurses. At the first, held in January, Rev. Daniel Pathia of the Theological Seminary, was our guest speaker. The second was held in July, when the new class of students had come in after their preliminary training in Ratlam, and the Matron of the Nurses' Residence gave very practical Bible talks.

The few blind women we look after are busy these days knitting sink cloths for which there is a ready sale among the missionaries. When they have finished their thread it gives them an excuse, in sending for more, to also express the hope that I will visit them. They are such dear souls, so grateful for any little attention, that visiting them is really a pleasure. Christmas Day I was out to see them. They were, of course, dressed in their new clothing. I went around the wards of the hospital first, giving each patient an attractive little booklet containing "The Sermon on the Mount" in large Hindi print, a donation to hospital from the Bible Society.

There are various other activities which take up one's time and interest. The taking over of the "Central India Torch" work and files and the publicity work; the many and varied parties and gifts we plan at Christmas time for professional staff, service staff, children, school girls and friends; the class on "Better Villages" which I led for the wives of the seminary students; the study of the "Cita" in which Dr. Clark so ably led a few of us; our missionary Bible study and prayer group held weekly; hot season activities such as dinner and program with the nurses on the bungalow roof with the hope of getting a cool breeze; visits to Malwa cotton mills and to the hand-power sericulture industry; the Bible Women's Refresher Course where I led a course in handwork.

Four Special Events

This report of necessity deals only with the nursing department of this hospital from the time I joined the staff here on my return from furlough, that is from October, 1955. Apart from the usual round of activity in the hospital and training school, there were four special events which loomed large in our planning during those three months. Mission Council at the end of October, which always calls for special arrangements for the carrying on of the work in the absence of the missionaries during approximately two weeks. The meeting of the Mid-India Board of Examiners for Nurses which was held here near the end of November, followed immediately by the conference for nurses from the various affiliated hospitals and training schools, which meant that we were hosts to about 100 of these representatives from many parts of Mid-India. After that, with hardly a breathing space, we launched right into wedding festivities! A big event surely when the young nursing superintendent resigns to join the ranks of the Board of Overseas Missions! Frances Taylor was a lovely bride and the wedding was beautiful. The service was in the church across the road from the hospital and the reception in our residence here, with about 200 guests present. The nurses were thrilled with everything. Most of them had never seen a European wedding before and they thought it was wonderful. That was on December 12th. So we passed right on from that excitement into the annual Christmas rush, with its parties, decorations, orgies of cooking special Christmas delicacies, etc.

The Work Goes On

But with all these happenings attracting so much attention outwardly, the work in the hospital went on steadily as usual. Babies, for instance, are no respecters of persons or times or seasons! Two babies were born before daylight on Christmas day, doing their little best no doubt to swell the numbers of the year's count. We thought at one time that this year might beat the record but we didn't quite do that and our number stands at 767 midwifery cases for 1955. But I am not dealing with statistics in this report and would like rather to draw attention to one or two developments in connection with our nursing education. We are raising our standards steadily. The India Nursing Council have decreed from Delhi that the entrance qualification for nursing must be matriculation. We have been allowed a certain number of years in which to bring up our standard gradually but by 1957 this rule will be strictly enforced and we have to toe the line. It is a necessary measure undoubtedly but it is not easy to educate the public in such matters and we are experiencing considerable difficulty in obtaining suitable candidates for training.

It has been a real joy and inspiration to have the Mid-India Board School of Graduate Studies for Nurses operating almost under the same roof as ours with Miss B. McMurchy as Director, released for this purpose by the Canadian Presbyterian Mission and assisted by Miss L. Scott of our own mission. This course is making its mark in the history of nursing in India. It is the only post graduate course for nurses available in the Hindi language and we are greatly encouraged by the favorable attitude of the government towards this effort on the part of our Mid-India Board of Examiners.

FROM MISS DOROTHY MACINTYRE

Missionary Nurse,
Indore

"Then" and "Now"

The above words are most commonly used in the reverse order—"Now" and "Then." At this particular time I would like to write a few lines of comparison regarding the old Indore Hospital of my first term and the new Indore Hospital in which I am now working.

My most vivid memory of the old hospital was that we were always trying, and often unsuccessfully, to get the stretcher in and out of doors that were too narrow or around corners that were too sharp to take without backing up and over floors that were terribly rough and made the wheels tremble like an aged motor vehicle and we were constantly "making room"—as it were—for just one more patient! That was Then! Nevertheless—the doctors, nurses and other workers served the community willingly and well.

Now—there is such a difference in accommodation. There always seems to be room for all who wish to come to us for treatment. It is definitely an advantage now that there is a bed and almost always a private room available.

The public wards are large, bright, well ventilated and in most departments well filled. I might add, here, that the large Obstetrical wards usually have all beds occupied—and it naturally follows that the Infant Nursery has an almost equal number.

We do have considerable amount of equipment but as you all realize, new equipment and replacement of the old is necessary. We could do with an electric autoclave that doesn't require smoking stoves, and other articles which appear minor to those who come to see around the hospital. It is quite a different matter when the nurse has to contend with these things which appear to be so ordinary. Of course I know I am expecting too much because I have so recently returned from Canada. Nevertheless it takes just as much skill and equipment to do a major operation in India as in Canada.

The Nursing Staff

Our hospital now has four staff nurses with post graduate work. Nurses of this calibre are responsible for a large part of the supervision and teaching in our School of Nursing. One nurse in particular, has taken a genuine interest in the teaching program of our school.

Here I must say that the Mid-India School of Graduate Studies at present in session at our hospital, has made an outstanding contribution to the school life and work of our students. The staff and post graduate students are always ready and willing to help at the hospital with special programs relative to their work.

In the short time in which I have had the privilege of working in India, I can see great progress in the field of nursing. Our Mission Hospital graduates can be found in many of the government and private hospitals in India—rendering excellent service. They have their own special part to play in following in His steps. This is no easy task! It does not mean imitating Him, but loving what He says, what He does, and what He is. It means spending time in prayer and the reading of His word and filling our hearts with His image.

FROM DR. SUNDAR GAIKWAD

Hospital Doctor,
Mandleshwar

Mrs. Graham left us in early May. There was much to be done before she left to the new block of hospital wards. I am very thankful to Mrs. Graham's efforts to make this hospital as nice as it is now.

Nursing Staff

Miss Canara took charge of the Nursing Department on the first of June. She lives in the Nurses' Residence which makes it nice and helpful for the nurses.

We had four graduate nurses and four nurses' aides this year.

In our Out-Patient Department, Mr. Abraham is the senior compounder. He is also an elder and the Clerk of the Session of our Church. He is a hard-working man and is my right hand. He has two sons and one daughter. The eldest son is in the first year of College in Indore. The daughter is in Matriculation Class. His wife, Mercy Bai, is a trained teacher who teaches in our Mission School here.

Benjamin is the Laboratory Technician. He also has passed two years of Compounding. He and Jamla Bai go with me to the Roadside Clinics. Kamla Bai is a married nurse who helps me in Out-Patient Department.

The Family and Our Babies

My daughters, Kamla and Kumudini were home in October. Kumudini has two children, the younger is a daughter named Rajmohini, a very sweet baby. Kamla is in third year nursing which she finishes in March, 1956. She still has one more year for Obstetrics. Chittaranjan, my little son will be ten years old pretty soon. He is in Daly College at Indore. This school is one of the few Public Schools which is run on English public school type.

Babies

We have four babies in hospital. They are from one month to six months old. The oldest baby's name is Sudha, which means Nectar. She is just sweet and lovely, was ten days old when brought to the hospital with a very sick mother who died the next day of acute tetanus. Sudha's father cannot offer her support, therefore, he has given her away to us. Our Pastor and his wife wish to adopt Sudha as they have only one son and wish to have a daughter.

The next two babies are twins, both boys. I had to go fifty miles to bring them to the hospital, with the extremely sick mother, who also was suffering from acute tetanus. We worked and struggled, night and day for six days for her life but she slipped from our hands. The twins are one month old now.

The fourth baby is our washerman's grandchild. The mother died of T.B. This little one is three months old.

This being our cold season, the babies' cribs are out in the sun from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. It is wonderful to watch their daily growth.

Roadside Clinic

Our Roadside Clinics are mostly during the cold and part of the hot season. In the hot season the motor tires and tubes get punctures on account of the heat. So we discontinue these clinics from June to the beginning of October. During the rains most of the traffic on country roads is stopped.

Last January, Miss Louise Scott with her workers and us from Padyia Dispensary, after work went on a picnic in one of the nearby Orchards (Ber ka Bagicha). The owner had been informed a week before about our going there. The man is an old Mohammedan who tames cobras and snakes. He caught two big cobras in an earthen vessel to show us when we came. It was surprising the way these creatures obeyed him. He made them come out of the vessels and dance for us and then ordered them to go back in. Louise had taken their snaps.

FROM MISS EDITH A. BEVAN

Missionary Nurse,
Neemuch Hospital

The Neemuch medical work continues, but one cannot report on a full hospital, yet much has been done during the year for the sick and suffering.

In February, Hospital Sunday was observed; doctors and staff taking part in the worship service. This year the special collection went to the Ludhiana Medical College. The Hospital Sunday special day of prayer and praise gives us an opportunity to share in the Ministry of Healing throughout India, and also serves to remind us of our "High Calling in Christ Jesus."

Throughout the year Dr. McClure has continued his visits. These trips though short, are for us hectic. We seem to do much work in a very little time. The operations usually are performed in the late evening because the Neemuch electric supply is very uncertain, but usually there is light from 6 p.m., to 6 a.m. After the operations there are patients waiting for consultation. For us who work here, his visits are a great stimulus, and help us to keep up our standards. We thank Dr. McClure for his keen interest, help, and guidance in strengthening and stimulating the medical work of Neemuch.

Prayers Answered

A short time ago a non-Christian patient had a serious abdominal operation here, and was critically ill for some days. During this period, weary of her pain and suffering, she specially asked for our prayers. We promised to pray daily for her as we gathered for morning prayers. One morning after a difficult day, the patient took the doctor's hand and asked her to call the nurses on duty. This was done. As they all stood by the bedside she said, "Pray here and now for me that I may hear your word of prayer to Your God. I have faith."

Prayers were offered then and continually for her by many members of the staff and church. After a time the patient's condition improved. The relatives were surprised at the turn of events, for they had feared the worst. They stood patiently by not interfering in any way. Our patient made steady progress and was soon out of danger. There was great rejoicing and thanksgiving.

To those of us who had the privilege of nursing this woman, this incident came as a great challenge. It made us realize afresh that the age of miracles is not passed and that God does answer prayer.

The Children's Home

The children are happy and contented, and do appreciate a little love and cuddling. It is a privilege to work with them, but like all normal children, they are full of life and energy, and most of all mischief. Our numbers are now 22. The ages vary from 6½ years to 9 months. All are accommodated in the front portion of the hospital—not a satisfactory arrangement, but it is the best that can be done until the new Children's Home is built. Peter and Marayan and Goodwin all go together to school. Daily complete with school bag they come to the house. "May we come in to say Good morning?" Yes, do, but that is not the reason they ask to come in. In their eye you can see, what have you for us for our lunch today? A banana, cookies, Indian sweetmeats, just a little of something, and off they run as happy as the day is long.

The youngest members of the family are Kesar and Suraj, eight months old. A short time ago they came from the Indore hospital. These two are the most contented of all children I have met or had the privilege of nursing.

Many of the older children are able to enter into the Christmas festivities and enjoy them. It's lots of fun making Christmas for the children.

Service For All

Very recently in one of our discussion groups with the Graduate Nurses who are in Indore taking the Post Graduate course offered under the auspices of the Mid-India Board of Examiners, of the Christian Medical Association of India, we were considering the role of the Indian nurse as a Christian, and her place as a citizen. The points that arose from discussion were many, but all through much emphasis was given to service, but service with education, and service for all.

Throughout the country there is more emphasis on "Health" and one is much encouraged to see it . . . the machinery, bolts, screws and such essentials, are still not considered too important, yet we feel sure this will come; even now we see signs of it in the villages, where some of the people, themselves, have asked for village type septic tank latrines . . . perhaps hardly recognizing such as part of the "mechanics" of good health, but at least knowing their need.

Early in the year when I left Neemuch I went directly to one of our village centres, working there with some satisfaction. One of the efforts to stimulate interest which we tried was a small library, with books on various subjects . . . these were read very quickly and the demand from the young folk around was refreshing to see. This gave us an opportunity at the Clinic to have talks when they came to the Clinic for the books, and many such opportunities were used to encourage the formation of health habits.

Training Schools

During the months of July and August, the rainy season here, I had the pleasure of giving some lectures to the nurses in our three training schools—Banswara, Ratlam and in Indore. According to the Indian Nursing Council, we are required to add more subjects to the curriculum in the basic training, and so a block of lectures were given. While in Banswara I went out to the village centre there and rejoiced with the friends in the progress evident.

Another avenue through which "Health" has been treading, seeking further audiences, has been in the Girls' High School in Indore, and Teachers Training Classes. Classes were given by me to the students of both groups at the request of Miss Singh and Miss Baxter.

At the request of the Mid-India Board of Examiners, I have been assisting with the teaching program of the Graduate School for Nurses, which now has its permanent location in Indore, with Miss Bessie MacMurchy, director. It is indeed a pleasure for me to be associated with Miss MacMurchy, and the response of these young people is very stimulating. There are nine young women in the Ward Sister's course and two students in the course in Public Health Nursing, one young woman and one young man. All take many lectures together, and in the second term of the course consider the specialities. The courses are given in Hindi, the language of this area, and the students are from all over the Hindi speaking section, bringing their varied experiences which has been mutually helpful in our studies together.

The Public Health car is always ready to travel in town or city or village. Whenever we go to a new place, it has to be introduced: its Hindi name being "Suswasthya Shebha," meaning good health and beauty, and it always carries some literature on health, some of the "mechanics" for treatments of a minor nature, and pictures or posters.

Travelling Hospital and Survey

We have turned into a travelling hospital and I love it, because I travel with it. For the past year and a half an operating team has been going to Neemuch and Sitamau. The team includes an anaesthetist, who is one of our graduate male nurses, a nurse to float and help set up for the cases, who is a graduate male nurse and operating-room supervisor in Ratlam. I go along as scrub nurse and Dr. McClure as surgeon.

In Sitamau we work as a team and for the past three months we have been removing the tonsils of the school children there. We work in a very small room where there is hardly enough room for the four of us and the patient, but I have never seen things go so smoothly even in a large hospital in Canada where they have a trained staff.

Dr. McClure is continuing on with his T.B. survey under the difficulties of too many school holidays and the children do not turn up when they are called. The health of the school is maintained by our hospital. Each year the children are inoculated against typhoid and last year they were all vaccinated against smallpox. This year they have been receiving Paludrine once a week as a malaria preventive. It has helped a great deal, very few have come to us this year with malaria. Last week we were called to Dhar to help with a major operation. While there we chest screened all the school children, the staff and children, all the lepers. There were about 60 in all. We found one suspect. He had a plate done for closer study.

Patients Come Far

Our patients are not limited to Ratlam and district but come to us from all the surrounding provinces for medical and surgical advice. Our surgery has increased from 480 operations in 1954 — to 680 operations in 1955 and is still on the increase. Probably one of our greatest contributions in surgery is our bone work. I hadn't realized before that there were so many T.B. spines in India. We have one or two in hospital all the time waiting for a spinal fusion and several under treatment in their homes having had their operation. All our T.B. patients receive extra nourishment of butter fat and powdered milk which is sent to us by the Church World Service and private donors. We aren't terribly proud of the number of our midwifery cases during 1955, but it is encouraging that we have had an increase of cases since July. Our midwives-nurses take all the normal cases with a doctor present.

I cannot say that most of our cases are ordinary cases or people. One of the most outstanding personalities we have had was Her Highness of Ratlam. We consider it a real concession that she came to us and was admitted into the hospital as a patient. She is in purdah, which means she is not allowed to show her face to men. We had an interesting time taking her out of her curtained car into the back room of her ward and then to the operating room on a stretcher.

Work With Nurses

My work is largely with the student nurses and I feel a warm glow of satisfaction whenever I think of the progress made by our training schools during the past year. We are doing all we can to meet the requirements laid down by the Indian Nursing Council for the training of nurses and it is a great joy to be able to report that we have made great strides in that direction.

A larger number of our new nurses met the basic entrance requirement of matriculation and we have high hopes that the percentage will be higher still this year. That simple statement is fraught with deep meaning. All of our nurses are Christians and most of them come from families that can scarcely afford to educate their daughters to such a high standard. Some of them do so only with help from the various Missions from which they come.

During the rainy season Miss Scott visited our three training schools and gave short courses in Mental Hygiene, Public Health Problems in India and Ward Administration, thereby helping us meet another requirement. I have begun classes in psychology (a battle royal for all of us!) so yet another standard has been met.

All our students, including those on night duty, now work only a 48-hour week. Less than a year ago our night nurses worked 70 hours each week and we could see no way of decreasing their hours of duty. That hurdle has been successfully taken and we continue to progress steadily albeit slowly.

On the whole our students did very well in the annual examinations last spring. The first year's might have done better but we were more than pleased with the second and third year students. These examinations are set by the Mid-India Board of Examiners with whom we are affiliated.

An Interesting Ceremony

A few days after Christmas, I was invited to witness the Navjote ceremony of a Parsee boy. I had never attended such a service before and was most grateful for this invitation from Parsee friends of ours. The Navjote (or string) ceremony would compare with joining the Church or with the Confirmation service in the Anglican Church. Sometime between the ages of 7 and 11 each Parsee child has this ceremony performed especially for him. The usual age for boys is between 9 and 11 but girls are often as young as 7. The ceremony was conducted on a dais erected for the occasion, on the spacious grounds of the boy's home. A Parsee priest in starched white garments led the service, assisted by a younger priest. In front of them sat the boy, clad only in thin white trousers and a thin white shawl. All three recited prayers in an ancient form of Persian punctuated by gestures and actions whose significance we did not understand. Near the end of the service, the boy stood up, took off his shirt and then the priest wound the sacred white string in a special way about his body. This act took several minutes as it was the climax of the rite. The boy was then clothed in ordinary garments and in a few minutes the service was over. A Parsee lady sitting near us explained that each morning when a Parsee puts on the white string he repeats the same prayers he did during the ceremony and he does so again each night when he takes off the string before retiring.

Public Health Program

Vellore Christian Medical College, School of Nursing, Hospital and other projects continue to grow at a rate faster than we can keep up with in staff, buildings and other facilities. It is great to be in the front line at such a time as this but one longs now and then for a breathing space.

Our public health program in and around our Kavanur centre, fourteen miles away, here in the city and in the hospital is giving great satisfaction to all concerned. At Kavanur our rural centre we have a fine new residence for the nursing staff and students. It is good to know that our students look forward to and get great satisfaction from this work among the rural people. Here also they get some experience in managing a home as they are a small group and it is possible for them to plan and implement these plans for their daily living together.

During this year we began a program of health teaching for patients and patients' relatives in the wards of the hospital. This program is going along well on four or five wards. There is keen interest and participation on the part of patients and relatives.

The students as a whole seem to be taking more and more responsibility and initiative in their hostel life and in extra curricular activities. Each year the students are more averse to restrictive regulations and asking for more and more freedom. This is in keeping with general developments in India but unfortunately Vellore communities, both Christian and non-Christian are fairly conservative and are critical of behavior on the part of students which would be quite acceptable in Madras. Even so we are glad to see the students developing and are making as many concessions as possible.

In July, Miss Johnson, associate Professor of Pediatric Nursing of the University of California, Los Angeles, came to us through T.C.M., for one year to help develop pediatric nursing in the school and hospital. She is an excellent person and is doing a good piece of work for us. Unfortunately, she has to return to her post at University of California in September, 1956. We hope T.C.M. will send us a replacement for her but latest word is they have not yet found a person to replace her.

Committee Work

My membership on a number of Nursing Councils and Committees has required a considerable amount of travelling in India. In these journeys and at meetings, I am continually meeting graduates of our school. It is a real satisfaction to see how well they are carrying on in responsible positions all over India, to meet many who have been selected and had study abroad, and to see so many of them taking an active part in professional committees and activities. The annual conference of the Trained Nurses Association was in Patna, Bihar in November. Two of our graduates, one the Matron of the 1000 bed Medical College Hospital and the other Sister Tutor at the same hospital were responsible for all the arrangements for the Conference. The way in which they had secured the cooperation of the Government, medical profession and members of the general public in that venture was remarkable. As a result the arrangements and the program was quite definitely the best we have had. I was very proud of them.

FROM JAPAN

THE FOREWORD

We are happy in the appointment of Miss Violet Langland, B.Ed., as an educational missionary. Miss Langland returned from Japan in 1955 after three years there on a short-term appointment, and is the first of such appointees to return for regular service after a course at the United Church Training School. This project of three-year appointments for the teaching of English has been eminently successful.

When the 1956 budget requests came from the Council of Cooperation in September, 1955, one new item in the Church and Evangelism budget was for visitation evangelism. About 200 churches in Japan are now using this plan, and 400 others are making a beginning at it. In one church in Tokyo, 200 were received into Church membership last year as a direct result of this plan.

There has been a gradual increase in Church membership in recent years, but more notable has been the increase in the devotion of the members as reflected in an increase in offerings, and especially for the Kyodan's Home Mission program. This year it is anticipated that nine million yen ($25,000, Canadian) will be contributed, which is a large sum for the Japan Church since the average income in Japan is very low. The greatest increase in giving is in the area of young people's and women's work.

The Woman's Christian College has a student body of 1,600 this year, of whom 548 are in the English Course and 85 in the new course in Psychology. The College is planning to erect a new classroom building at a cost of $70,000 for which something over half the cost will be secured in Japan.

The International Christian University continues its steady development. There are now 500 students in three years of the College of Liberal Arts. About one-third of them are Christians. About ten per cent of the students are non-Japanese including 28 Americans, 23 Chinese, 3 Koreans, 2 Canadians, and one each from India and Thailand. About one-third of the students are women. The University has already made a significant place for itself in Japan both as a Christian institution and as one with a high academic standard. Our Society is a member of the University Foundation in North America but has not yet been able to make an annual grant to the University.

THE STORY

FROM MISS M. ISOBEL LEITH

Evangelistic Missionary,
Hakkodate, Japan

Pioncing in Japan

During the spring of 1955 our dream of having an established pioneer missionary centre at Fukushima became an established fact. Much thought and prayer had gone into getting land, a building and a minister. There was a minister and his wife in an established church near Sapporo who felt the challenge of this work. On his way home from a trip to Tokyo, he went down to see the country. More than ever he felt that was the place for him to be. On returning to Sapporo he contacted the Pioneer Evangelistic Committee secretary about the move. He and his family arrived in Fukushima the end of March. This is the third pioneer venture he has gone into and we are very fortunate to have a man and his wife with such experience. April 11th we had the laying of the corner stone for the new kindergarten and June 1st the dedication of the building, June 10th the beginning of kindergarten with 70 children. During the summer a vacation school was successfully run, Church school and worship services. The mothers' association is well attended and active in working for the kindergarten which opens up a fine opportunity for evangelistic work and the minister is not letting it slip.

Pentecost Sunday, the first service in the new building, five of the young people who had faithfully attended the monthly meetings were baptised. As the time for the service drew near a very heavy rain storm started which did a great deal of damage, washing out roads, bridges, paddy fields, etc. The minister thought he and his family would be the only ones present but at service time there were ten, even if they did have to wade through water up past their knees to get there.

The Outreach of Faith

This fall one of our group at the Kashiwagi Sanitarium was called to higher service. Six years ago she had entered the San, a frightened unhappy third year primary school child. Her mother, sisters and brothers had died of T.B., and shortly after entering the San her father also died, a victim of T.B. She came in contact with Christianity and a great change came into her life. Instead of a bewildered child, she blossomed into a radiant personality. No matter when you went into her room, you were greeted with a smile. Although bed-fast her faith reached out to help many. Her fearless courage as she faced death and prepared for it, was an inspiration to all who visited her. She had expressed a wish that even once she would have the privilege of worshipping in church with her "Christian family." With that wish in mind the relatives, although none was Christian, asked to have the funeral in the church.

It was the first time they had been in a church. They felt the warmth of Christian fellowship and were impressed by it. As we were coming away after the interment service the old grandfather asked if it would be alright for him to come to church. We are hoping the family will be drawn unto the Christian fellowship as a result of their experiences of a Christian funeral. We miss having Fukuda San with us but her influence lives on.

Evangelism

In January 1955, the ministerial and lay leadership of nine charges in this prefecture, met to consider a plan for evangelism in 1955. As this area had been chosen as one of four in the country to receive from the Church financial aid for evangelism, there was a real challenge to make this year one of progress both within the Church and by pioneer effort throughout the prefecture.

In the post-war period, the method of evangelism had been largely that of inviting speakers to hold special services in the churches. It was thought that this year we must inspire the lay membership with a sense of responsibility and train them to take an active part in winning others to Christ. During the spring and summer, youth conferences, Woman's Association rallies and meetings for the deepening of the spiritual life were held.

In October, the Hokuriku Mission School made the occasion of its 70th anniversary an opportunity for presenting a Christian challenge to students, parents, graduates and friends of the school.

Most of the ministers, besides the work of their congregations, regularly meet groups of people in other centres for midweek services. Laymen and young people help with these which include children's meetings, gatherings for Bible study in rural homes and villages, and one for railway employees at their noon hour recess.

Bible Classes

While in close contact with the church, my own effort has been as formerly, largely in Bible classes, the majority of whose members are not yet Christians. It is impossible to assess the results. A few attend church, others show progress in their thinking and development of personality, some have an increasing interest in Christianity.

In September, a delegation from the Hi-Y Club in a high school within walking distance of our home, called to ask that I start a Bible class in their school after school hours. As it was their own idea, they are faithful in attendance and eager to encourage friends to join. They take part in whatever way they can. With a little guidance they planned and carried through a very nice Christmas meeting of worship and recreation.

W.A. At Work

The Woman's Association of one of the churches has developed a new enthusiasm and a warmer fellowship among themselves. In the latter part of the year it was gratifying to see several of them in church with their husbands. Several members of this Association attend our Bible class, bringing non-Christian neighbors with them. Two members have moved to other cities. One whose prayers for her husband's conversion were answered just before the move, wrote back to tell us that all of the family were happily connected with a church near their new home.

FROM MISS DULCIE COOK

Evangelistic Missionary,

Progress

To the six Bible classes of which I wrote in my last annual report have been added two others—one a request from a group of students of the city Technical High School. The other new class was begun for the mothers of the kindergarten in the town of Fukuno. Things move slowly in the rural districts—this is a small but eager class—a tender plant that must be nurtured with patience and understanding.

A Venture in Understanding

One project undertaken by the youth group of Nagamachi Church was to hold a Sunday School in a boys' reform school once a month. I was asked to help them with their Christmas program. On December 17 after the morning Church service we all had a bowl of steaming hot noodles (ordered from a nearby restaurant) together at the church, then a rush by taxi to the station to catch the electric car that carried us a thirty minute ride into the country. At the station we were met by a man from the school with a motorcycle which had a tiny car attached to the back of it. We, ten of us, took off our shoes and climbed in the back and sat on a piece of matting on the floor. We bounced like so many beans as we jolted over the narrow road between the paddy fields. At the entrance of the school we were greeted by one of the teachers and ushered into a room where we left our wraps, were served green tea and had prayer before going to the assembly room where the boys were waiting for us. There were between 60 or 70 boys ranging in age from 16 to 20. As you looked into their faces you wondered how or why some of them had found their way into a reform school. Others with their shifting eyes and discontented expressions bore the marks of boys lacking good homes and influences. The young people told me on the way back that it had been tough going, that until that day the boys had not responded. It may have been the Christmas carols and worship, or the stunts the young people put on which brought forth laughter, or the games in which everyone joined and had a rousing good time, or a combination of all three. At any rate the ice was broken. May the efforts and prayers of these young teachers be rewarded during the coming year.

A Bible For Japan

It may be of interest to you who read this report to know that on Culture Day, November 3rd, the new translation of the Bible into colloquial Japanese won a special award—a much coveted award—which places the Bible among the twelve best books of the year. This is significant in that it means the Japanese are now thinking of the Bible as something Japanese and not foreign. May it become the Living Word to this overcrowded and troubled nation as they seek to find answers to their many complicated and unsolved problems.

FROM MISS A. MAY McLACHLAN

Evangelistic Missionary,

Challenged

When I came to this country town two and a half years ago to help rebuild a church that had almost ceased to exist, we thought the first thing to do was to build up a strong nucleus of earnest Christians well grounded in the Christian faith; then, through them reach out into the community. But the community didn't wait for us. It came knocking at our doors, not seeking to know about Christianity but challenging us.

The problems were many and varied, such as the young couple who were meeting opposition to their marriage because of the superstition of the bride's mother; the wife who was trying to support her sick husband and three children on the small pittance she received from her work, which however cut her off from legally receiving Relief necessary to properly feed her children—should she be honest and how could we help?

Yet again we were challenged, this time within our very ranks. "Osake" drinking, with all its attendant evils, is a recognized part of every phase of business as well as social and community life in the town. Y. San, our leading young Christian, has been unable to withstand the pressure. He compromised and slipped back into the world he thought he had renounced. He couldn't quite leave the church. He would come in late, sit silent with the light gone from his face; with us, but not one of us.

Y. San's failure affected the church; some stopped coming and a certain joyous eagerness faded. The numbers at prayer meeting became less but on the other hand our prayers became more real and sincere. They prayed and worked to win him back.

Meeting the Challenge

These are some of the problems that have troubled and challenged us this year. Briefly, may I mention some of the positive ways in which we are trying to meet the situation.

A box was placed in the entrance of the church. Into it each puts whatever he or she can spare and each month they give whatever is in the box to H. San to help feed her children. At night on her way home from work at nine thirty she often drops in for half an hour of Bible reading and prayer.

We have games, books and music on Saturday afternoons and evenings for neighborhood children. . . . Three middle school boys were becoming a problem in the community have been steadied through the interest in music they acquired here on Saturday evenings.

The church young people go with me regularly, by bicycle to two villages for children and adults meeting. Every Saturday they prepare the church bulletin and arrange the flowers for Sunday service. On Sunday mornings they help with the Sunday School which has grown in numbers this year and they take turns leading the evening service.

We invited artists from the city to put on a concert of the best classical music to which we invited the young people of the community.

We had a week-end camp—an experience in living together that has deepened our fellowship with each other.

When the roof of her house blew off and left a little old widow woman, a member of our church, in despair, they not only helped put on the roof, one Sunday afternoon, but helped her pay for it.

Twice during the year we invited a Japanese pastor to hold special meetings for three days to deepen our own faith and to introduce Christianity to others for whom we were concerned.

FROM MISS KATHERINE M. GREENBANK

Educational Missionary,
Kofu, Japan

The New School

Truly a Happy New Year has begun for us in our beautiful classroom building of white concrete which was completed on December 22nd, in time for the Christmas Worship Service. Graduates who came to see it, climbed three flights to the Roof garden and as they stood overlooking the whole city of Kofu, they expressed their joy that their children could have the advantages which they had lacked. Who could have believed it possible when the first sod was turned on August 2nd, that by January, our School should be occupying the first wing of the first permanent building we have ever had in all the sixty-seven years of our school here. Only the earnest prayers and active concern of our Mission Board, the parents, the graduates, the close cooperation of an architect friend and the Construction Company, inspired by the unflagging zeal of our principal could have accomplished it in so short a time.

The Senior classes, 120 girls, who graduate in March, are grateful for their last term in such beautiful surroundings. The insecurity of these times makes them more mature and ready to assume responsibility for their own future. They requested a Retreat in November to consider how to carry over their Christian ideals into a non-Christian society. With the principal and their class teachers as counsellors, they took their blankets to a small camp building, provided by the province for the training of youth, to spend two days in a pine-clad grove under the clear blue of the autumn sky wrestling, in small groups, with the problems which they know await them.

Women's Rights

The associate Editor of one of the leading newspapers of Kofu, a graduate, came to tell of her struggle to attain her present position of work in the women's educational section of the paper. There are twenty-four organizations in this province working for women's rights—the improvement of homes, modernization of kitchens, equality of salary and working conditions, birth control, improvement of family relations. Some groups have organized special training classes for mothers-in-law!

Our students are fortunate in having many examples of heroic Christian living among the graduates. Shinko San was the daughter of a wealthy family who allowed her to take the college Home Economics course after graduation from Eiwa High School. She married a wealthy silk factory owner and had a happy home with every convenience. But two years ago her husband died leaving her with four children. Though she had no experience in business, she had to become the manager of that factory with 250 workers. In fear and trembling she stood before them that first time asking their cooperation. The factory in that country town is their only means of livelihood and her object is to have a happy factory. She has studied how to have the right kind of management, and the relations between labor and management. She knows each of her workers, shares the joys and sorrows of each, asks their advice and takes their suggestions. Her factory is known for its happy atmosphere and she rejoices that she can dedicate herself to these laborers.

Could any missionary have a greater challenge, a greater privilege and joy than association and friendship with women of such calibre?

Educational Missionary,
Kofu, Japan

The first eight months of 1955 were spent in Tokyo where the greater part of my work was in the Toyo Eiwa Girls' High School and in the Torii Zaka Church. At the end of August, I moved to Kofu.

The last four months I have been trying to get acquainted with the pupils, teachers and graduates of the Yamanashi Eiwa High School.

"The Light of Faith"

Since September, I have been attending the church in Nirazaki which is about twenty minutes by train from Kofu. The church was burned about one and a half years ago when fire broke out in a neighboring government building. On December 5th, this year, the dedication of the new church took place. The young minister and the members of the congregation have worked very hard and we are very happy to be in the new building. I am glad to have a part in the life of that little church and I am accepted as any other member of the church. I am asked to take my turn in the activities of the church—visiting the sick, taking up the collection and other things in which the members participate. I take my lunch each Sunday and have it with the parsonage family and any others who happen to be there. Sometimes I am invited to go with the minister on Sunday afternoon to visit people. One day we went out into the country to visit a man who has been sick with T.B., for eleven years. He is now thirty-three years old. It is an inspiration to see him. He asked for baptism about two years ago and since he was unable to leave his bed the minister went to his home and baptised him there. He says that now there is peace in his heart and he has found things to be thankful for even though his days are spent in bed in a little attic room. His face is bright with the light of faith.

On December 10th, I went to a little farm village in the mountains to attend a meeting for farm women. Yamanashi province has many mountains and that day they were beautiful with their peaks covered with snow. There are three Christian families in that village and the mothers from each of those three homes gave their witness to what their faith meant to them—simple and practical but very sincere. All who were present listened with eager attention. Two of those who had spoken walked to the station with me when I left—a thirty-five minute walk down a rough mountain path. I shall always remember the beauty of the mountains and the simple beauty of character of those two women, both the handiwork of God.

Another opportunity which I have is a Bible Class in a night school. These young people are trying to complete their senior high school work by attending night school. They work during the day to earn their living and spend six evenings a week studying.

Church Activities

The little church in Kofu which I attend is truly a Church home for all its members, and many events are centred round it. On Sunday, especially, activities are taking place from 8 a.m. till evening

—Sunday School, Bible classes, morning worship, afternoon meetings, and night service. The out-of-town members bring their lunch each Sunday, but once a month all members of the congregation have a meal together in the church. The afternoon meetings may be just reading the Bible aloud, or committee meetings, such as discussing plans for Home Visitation teams, or visiting in the prisons or hospitals; or sometimes there may be a wedding of two young members of the congregation. Each person who is present at the wedding pays the equivalent of twenty cents gold towards the Bible presented to the bride and bridegroom.

The Youth group in the church is very active; going out with visiting teams, or taking their turn in leading the morning service (which activity is always performed by some Church member, man or woman, and not by the minister); nearly all of the thirty young people who gathered at the missionary's home for the Christmas meeting were baptized Christians. They also run the church paper called The Spring, which is mimeographed once a month, with contributions from various people in the congregation including the pastor and myself.

An interesting meeting this fall was the gathering together for a day's retreat of all the "Kyodan" (United Church of Christ in Japan) Christians in Yamanashi province. This meeting was held upstairs in the Chamber of Commerce building in the heart of the city so as to be conveniently situated. Whole families attended, or churches sat together as a group. Even on a busy Saturday morning, some three hundred persons must have been present, and although the storm of innumerable motor vehicles raged without, were able to find peace and refreshment for their minds and souls. Very significant, I felt, were the goodly number of outstanding laymen who attended, some of whom took a leading part. At lunch time the layman had thoughtfully provided lunches for the twelve pastors present. The feeling of Christian fellowship—brothers and sisters in Christ—was very pronounced. After the taking of the group picture, one dear brother whose name I did not even know, kindly brushed off some white plaster dust which he noticed on my back. The general theme talk was given by a pastor, and was both inspirational and practical.

The Eighth General Assembly of The United Church of Christ in Japan held this year, passed as approved a Statement of Faith as a Preface to The Apostles' Creed and also The Covenant. This latter is a kind of pledge for baptized Christians, and helps each Church member as he repeats it each Sunday at the close of the Church service, or has it like a calendar hung on his wall at home, to realize his duties and responsibilities to God, Church, and society, which include the realization of international justice and the attainment of world peace.

A Work Camp

An experience of the year 1955 that is worthy subject matter is the Quaker-sponsored International Work Camp I was privileged to attend during the summer.

The camp proved to be INTERNATIONAL far beyond my expectations. India, Thailand, Malaya, Viet Nam, China (Hong Kong), Philippines, Japan, America and Canada were represented. (Perhaps Formosa and Hawaii could be included since an American delegate came from each of these places.) Moreover, WORK took on a meaning all its own. We worked under a blazing sun seven hours a day clearing a great grove of bamboo and pines—the campers now refer to themselves as “The Bamboo Roots”!

The service project was undertaken to make way for an addition to the Bethesda Home for Handicapped Women, a Christian Institution located in the middle of this bamboo grove near Yatsumi, a tiny village in Chiba prefecture. At present, there are twenty-two women living at the Home, said to be one of the happiest institutions of its kind in Japan. The latter claim is due in large part to Miss Shigeyo Hasegawa, whose Christian life and leadership have proven irresistible to those in her care, most of whom are now Christians themselves. Miss Hasegawa, herself handicapped, is an inspiration to all.

The thirty-one campers were loaned some rooms of the Yatsumi Junior High School for sleeping, eating and recreation quarters. We prepared our own meals in the school's old-fashioned Japanese kitchen and ate off four ping-pong tables put together in the school gymnasium. Because we returned every afternoon looking like day laborers on a sewer-laying gang, the bath problem was acute. The school possessed one small Japanese bath heated underneath by wood. This, although appreciated, was inadequate for handling thirty-one bodies in the one and a half hours before supper. It happened that in the school yard there was a tap in a concrete square and this the boys elected to transform into a remarkable cold shower bath! On four sides they erected tall bamboo walls, the centre of the enclosure being open to the sky. Boys and girls alternated days between the Japanese “ofuro” and the outdoor shower.

The camp made friends with the community and school, too, and exchange entertainment and social times took place frequently.

Our devotional periods at this camp were of a volunteer nature peculiar to Quakerdom. However, the worship committee always appointed someone to be responsible for the opening minutes of the Quiet Time. He or she could choose whatever they wished, whether from the Bible, the Koran, or Confucius' Analects. Two-thirds of our numbers were non-Christians and this made an obvious difference. Still it can be said that this camp produced harmony, good-will and brotherhood and demonstrated both to us and to those around, the workability of these forces.

Two of Japan's leading newspapers wrote articles on us, and N.H.K., Japan's national network, did an on-the-spot coverage of our camp one afternoon as we sawed down trees, struggled to dislodge their roots and outlined a new road. The headline in one paper read: "BLISTERS, CALLUSES, BUILD INTERNATIONAL GOODWILL." This summarizes very well the nature of our camp, I think.

A Church Fellowship

What a privilege it is to watch a Church take shape before one's eyes; not a church building for that is still in the future, but the real Church, the fellowship of those who have come to know Christ and are bound together by their faith in Him.

Every second and fourth Sunday for a year, there has been Christian worship in Kashiwabara village. Numbers have varied. One night there was only one person besides the family in whose house we held the services, but as the snow melted the numbers increased. Easter Sunday came with the first Communion Service. By that time we had discovered six Christians in Kashiwabara and Furuma, the adjoining village. In May some twenty people from Furuma and Kashiwabara and Nojiri, the village on the other side, went up a mountain for "outdoor worship", a day spent in fellowship outdoors in the lovely springtime of the Japanese mountainside.

By July we were ready for more intensive work for a short period. We had found a theological student who was willing to spend July and August working in the three villages. With the help of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Muir, two university students from Tokyo and three Church young people from Nagano, we spent ten days of a very hot July in this area, one of the best summer resorts in Japan. Two days were given to planning and preparation. Then we "invaded" Kashiwabara and Furuma. Frank Muir walked up and down the streets playing an accordion. The young people who accompanied him issued invitations to all to come to the services, for children in the afternoon and for adults in the evening. Around 80 children responded every afternoon for the four days we spent in Kashiwabara, and an average of 30 adults came every evening, many hearing the Christian Gospel for the first time.

Pioneer Evangelism

There has developed a feeling of oneness in the group which is leading them to call a Japanese pastor in the spring. They will not be able to support him fully, and outside help will be needed for a long time, but where a year ago there was anxiety about their ability to carry on, there is now a growing confidence in the future. There is a church building to be acquired, a matter of first importance, for it is impossible to hold a regular Sunday School until there is a church building. There is young people's work to be opened up and home visitation to be done. There are great possibilities for opening meetings in nearby districts. Many times we have wished that we could spend more time there but at least we have made a beginning. It is not often that missionaries have the opportunity to do this type of "pioneer evangelism" and I have been most grateful for it.

But life this past year has held other things than evangelism in the Kashiwabara-Nojiri area. Nine Bible classes, three of them meeting weekly, keep me quite busy and the extra addresses and sermons requested during the year fill up most of my spare time.

Teaching

The work of Bible Classes, women's groups and occasional special meetings constitutes more than half of my work. Though results have not been spectacular, many are growing in their understanding of the Christian Gospel and way of life, some to the point of accepting its challenge. For the first time, this year, the United Women's Societies of the churches of the city arranged for a Christmas meeting in a public hall.

Since April it has not been necessary for me to give much time to English teaching in the school. My work there has been chiefly that of Bible teaching—three periods a week in the regular classes of the school and one at the Sunday session. Girls who are not connected with some Church or Sunday School come to school on Sunday morning for a period of Bible study followed by a worship service with a short sermon by the school chaplain. We have been increasing our efforts during the year to develop closer relations between the school and the churches of the city and the surrounding districts. To this end the ministers of these churches were invited to meet with the Christian teachers of the school to consider how best the school can serve the church and the church, the school. We feel that a basis for greater cooperation was reached and that such meetings should be repeated.

No Longer a "Problem Girl"

The number of baptisms from the school at the Christmas services of the churches was not as great this year as last, but perhaps the girls understood better what is involved in their Church membership. A recent graduate from a non-Christian home who was at one time a "problem girl" in our school is giving a very fine demonstration of what her Christian life and Church membership mean to her. At seven-thirty every Sunday morning she holds a Sunday School for the children in her home village, which is a suburb of the city. Then she comes by street car to teach in the Church Sunday School at nine o'clock. After church she remains to take her share in the activities of the Young People's Society of the church. She is finding great joy in this service and a worth-while expression for those abundant energies that created problems of conduct before they were dedicated to the service of Christ. This is one example from among many of our graduates, those of recent as well as those of former years, who have become servants of Christ and the Church through their experience in the school.

For about forty years the religious life of our school has been enriched by the services of Mrs. Satsukawa, one of the earlier graduates. This year, having reached retirement age she, with two others, retired from the staff, but not from her service to the Kingdom of God. Retiring gifts from the school alumni and from the Woman's Missionary Society made it possible for her to build a small kindergarten where she, as principal, and her daughter as head-teacher, with a daughter-in-law as assistant, have set up what is fast becoming an active Christian centre in a section of the city where there is no church.

At Nikko

This past summer I had the thrilling opportunity of accompanying our graduating girls of 1956 and eight teachers to Nikko, one of Japan's famous beauty spots, where we had a three-day retreat under the guidance of a Tokyo pastor and the teachers. It was a privilege to travel, study, eat and sleep with this group, and, I've found, is one of the most excellent ways to become "friends" with them. Throughout their six years in our school the girls attend many retreats . . . and in their final year they have at least three; two here at school and one in Nikko or another place. I feel that I too am a member of the class of 1956 because for two years I had close contact with some of them in an English Club, and also because I too, will be leaving the Eiwa in 1956.

At Work Camp

After two weeks or so at Karuizawa and Lake Nojiri I attended a Friend's International Work Camp held at Gai Cakuen, a school for mentally handicapped children, where we worked hard under the blazing sun preparing land for new Work Shop buildings. Following the International Seminar of the summer before, this time of working together with young people from twelve countries has strengthened my own faith and hope for closer relations among nations. And, to cite only one instance from the Camp; it was heartening to see a young Filipino girl's negative attitude towards Japan break down altogether within her three month stay here. Besides this and our work, we had opportunity for discussions with the teachers of these unfortunate children, contact with the children, themselves, and also with the village people.

At Bible Study

A Bible class for High School students, held at a Kindergarten recently built by Mrs. Satsukawa, who retired this year from our school after forty years of teaching service, was added to my regular teaching program this fall, and had become one of my most cherished outside school activities. This begins at six each Wednesday evening and a half hour of conversation is followed by an hour and a half for Bible study. For most of the fifteen students, it is their first opportunity for Bible study and so I give my deepest appreciation to this Christian family for offering their Kindergarten for our use and helping us, thus enabling more young people to learn of Him and of His Way.

Third Year for a J-3

Perhaps it is true that for a J-3, the third year is the best. At least one is able better to understand what is happening in one's vicinity in the areas of language, customs and ways of thought, and therefore to make a more constructive contribution.

One significant impression is that of the friendships that have grown stronger in this third year; friendships that widen into those of mutual understanding between races, based on the love shown to us by Christ. I am remembering specific events like the time my School English Club gave two pillow-covers from each member to the Shizuoka Rojin Home and went and provided some entertainment, then on the way home gave calendars and sang carols at some of the hospitals. Then there were the times when my singing group from the Japanese church I attend went to sing at the prison; and the ski trip I took with members of our Saturday Night Singing Group; and my church's Sunday School Christmas, when there was just as much noise as a Christmas party back home, and I got a glimpse of our sameness above the differences.

Last summer I was able to attend a Friend's Seminar in Kobe. I am grateful for insights received there and for the fact that friendships contracted in even so short a period can become lasting, and can lead to international understanding.

I have been going to a Sunday School in the country about 40 minutes drive from Shizuoka and my contacts there with Japanese teachers and pupils have been very rewarding. Through my English Club at the School and its various activities I feel I have come to a better appreciation of the problems and lives of my students, and hope these friendships may continue through correspondence next year. Since Christmas I have inherited an English Bible Class at my church and am happy to work in happy cooperation with my pastor Rev. Mr. Tauru.

Church Schools

One of my most interesting bits of work, growing out of the Religious Education class I teach, is to visit the Church Schools (a different one nearly every Sunday) where our second year students teach or help in other ways. It is a thrill to find in these schools young men and women from various Christian colleges giving themselves zealously to Christian education in the churches of their choice or to which they have been assigned for "field work." As I go around from week to week, I frequently meet Toyo Eiwa graduates, old and young, serving their Church in quiet but very important ways.

We sometimes feel that the Christian Girls' Schools in this land have not produced outstanding leaders in numbers proportionate to the years of their existence. There are traditional and social reasons for this, but these are losing strength, and women now have the chance to train for, and to be real leaders. In the few months I may have before retirement, I hope to meet with Toyo Eiwa graduate groups in various centres and help them resolve to work more earnestly for Christian Family Life beginning in their own homes and reaching out through their communities and their nation.

It has been a rare privilege and a great education for me to have been a member for the past four years of both the Missionary Field Committee (representatives of IBC member Boards plus IBC Secretary and Treasurer) and the Executive of the Council of Cooperation (the administrative body linking Kyodan and IBC headquarters in New York).

Training Teachers

During this my last term (since June 1951) my school work has been in Toyo Eiwa Junior College. This upper department of the school has less than 200 girls (total school enrolment being over 1600), in two courses—Kindergarten teacher training, which our Mission started 50 years ago in another place, and a new English

Course from which a few go out as High School English teachers but to the majority it is a two-year "finishing school." I am in the kindergarten teacher training end. With each new school year the receiving and orientating new students, practically all of whom are strangers to each other, is thrilling. Some years, a third or more of them are not Christian and know little about the Bible. For a few weeks these girls are quite at sea in classes on religion, and it takes a lot of encouraging to keep their heads above water. But what a joy it is to see the change in face and attitude when they begin to understand the Gospel message and gradually learn to walk the Christian Way!

There is much pioneering still to be done here, for Christian work, like the population, tends to be drawn to the big cities. I cannot say "Fields are white unto the harvest," but in both city and country great areas need still to be sown and tilled. Why do not numbers of our United Church young people feel drawn towards this opportunity of building on foundations laid in the past 100 years (the Centenary of Protestantism in Japan comes in 1959), or of pioneering with Japanese Christians to make Christ known in every corner of this land. The Japanese no longer look to missionaries to set the pace. They hold the official positions and we are their co-workers. One American Church has dropped the name "missionary" for their overseas workers, and calls them "fraternal workers." The Japanese Church needs and will welcome more and more "brothers in Christ" to help it grow to its full stature in the Church Universal.

Busy Days

In 1955, I began to work more closely with the editor of the "Japan Christian Quarterly," and spend a good deal of spare time on this fascinating work, correcting proof, typing articles, etc. Also, some of my spare time was spent typing sound tracks of films for AVACO, that they might be translated into Japanese and dubbed into the sound-track. A chance to write some flannelgraph scripts for AVACO came near the end of the year, and the opportunity to report, on a fill-in basis, the Church News for the English Mainichi, a leading newspaper of Tokyo.

Of course, my 9-5 hours are spent in the Interboard Committee for Christian Work in Japan Field Treasurer's office. It has been a busy year, especially during the period when people went on furlough and students went abroad to study, since the travel arrangements fall largely to me now. In the fall I started a Travel Manual, based on the experience of the year and the year before. This is now finished at this writing, and waiting to be mailed.

FROM MISS CONSTANCE S. CHAPPELL

Educational Missionary,
Tokyo Woman's Christian College

There is a conventional Japanese greeting which might be translated "Has there been any change?" The best and desired reply is, "No change, thank you." Such a reply might be given to those inquiring for our welfare here at the college. No striking changes affecting our life took place in 1955. Both in the four year Liberal Arts College and in the two-year Junior College the faithful, steady work of students, faculty and staff has gone on.

Important Appointments

An appointment to our staff unusual enough to merit a page in LIFE magazine is that of the Emperor's younger brother, Prince Mikawa. The Prince lectures on the history of the Near East, a subject closely related to Biblical studies, in which he is keenly interested. We find him a great addition to our college group, with his broad, friendly spirit, and desire to make himself an integral part of the college. On all important social occasions he participates naturally and with zest. As President Takagi said in introducing him to the faculty, we welcome him as a person and as a scholar, rather than as a prince.

Of special interest to those in our Church who have been concerned for the problems of the Japanese-Canadians will be the appointment to our English faculty of a woman whose youth was spent in the Japanese-Canadian community of Vancouver. Mrs. Maeda's university work, though completed here, was begun in the University of British Columbia, and interrupted by the war. Her English is, of course, as good as that of any other educated Canadian, and she has slipped into our life in the most natural way possible.

The Need For Teachers

How is it possible to persuade the right sort of college teacher—not one discontented in her present position—that the college affords inspiring and satisfying work; work, moreover, of the utmost significance for a Christian. If a true picture of the situation could be presented, together with the reaction of those who have been on our foreign teaching staff, it should be enough.

It is, naturally, my personal hope that The United Church of Canada can continue to provide missionary teachers here, as they are doing now. Another hope is that the mission can contribute in the future as in the past, in the preparation of Japanese faculty, by furnishing scholarship aid at a high academic level. Nothing our mission has done for the college, in my opinion, can equal in value the preparation of Dr. Komyo and Dr. Shirai for the key positions of responsibility they are now filling, and also Miss Honshuku, for the work she will take up in April, 1956.

Extra-Curricular Tasks

During the past year, I have continued giving leadership to a group of teachers, mostly our own alumnae, in the study of English teaching techniques according to the Harvard Graded Direct Method. Teachers of English at all levels are dissatisfied with their results. There is a widespread desire to explore new methods and materials. The Board of the Tokyo Language School, and the related Inter-Board Committee on Language Study claim a little time and much interest, as does the Board of Tokyo Union Church, a unique and valuable English language church in this great international city. It fills an urgent need, ministering to people of widely differing backgrounds. For recreation and cultural inspiration it has been a pleasure to be one of the two missionary members on the Board of the Tokyo Women's Club, surely one of the most fascinating women's clubs in the world.

A New Text Book

My teaching schedule has been the same as last year. The new freshman English book which the foreign teachers prepared has now been published under the title, "A Year at Mount Radmore," and is used by all freshmen at Tokyo Joshi Dai who have English conversation and composition. It teaches commonly misused idioms imbedded in stories based on impressions of Joshi Dai graduates while studying abroad. Also, it teaches Christianity, insofar as this can be done through a description of modern festivals and customs. The book is suitable for use by other schools, also.

Bible Classes

Since I moved off the campus last summer, my extra-curricular groups have diminished, and now I have only one small Bible study group, as far as Joshi Dai undergraduates are concerned. I'm sorry I cannot attract larger numbers to study the Bible; but those who do come seem really to apply their mind to the text and have quite a bit to say (in English), in a way that is thoughtful and relevant to their own problems. They are mostly sophomores of the Junior College who will graduate this spring.

My last year's Junior College Bible class who have now graduated continue to meet about once a month for Bible study and obento supper at my new apartment. Several of their classmates who did not use to attend have joined them, as it is a reunion for them, and also because some of them have come to feel more need for a religion now that they have entered offices and banks and other parts of society. Five out-of-town graduate members scattered from Okayama-ken to Yamagata-ken also participate through a "Round Robin Letter" in which they and the Tokyo members write very freely to one another their problems and experiences connected with their life and with Christianity.

There are also a number of other students and graduates who come from time to time, in particular several of the young men whom I met at the Friends' International Seminar three years ago, and also a group of Waseda students. The latter now come particularly to discuss Christianity. But I find I don't have enough time to invite these people as often as I would like. My new apartment, surrounded by beautiful country side, is a place which students like to come to, at least in fine weather.

A New Home

I moved last July from one of the large foreign teachers' houses at Joshi Dai which was needed by the College, to a large and convenient apartment in the women's dormitory at Tokyo Shingaku Daigaku (Tokyo Union Theological Seminary), which is in the country a half hour's journey from Joshi Dai. Although I am absent too much to get to know many of the students here well, I enjoy very much my friendship with those whom I have got to know. I have no responsibilities here apart from my Latin classes (and so it is a relaxing place to come to after the day's work); however, I sometimes serve as an unofficial consultant on problems connected with English. Also, a few of the students from the girls' and men's dormitories have begun coming for a conversation class one evening a week.

Becoming One of Them

Thinking back over this last year, I feel profoundly thankful for the many opportunities that have been given to scatter the seed. Patience is a lesson which must be learned by all who would work in Japan but patient waiting does bear its fruit in a gradual acceptance by the Church of the foreigner, not as a guest from another land and another culture but as a fellow Christian worker. For the first time in almost five years of working on the National Y.W.C.A. Committee for Work with University Students, I felt that I was a member of the committee with responsibilities similar to any other member. It was a great joy to shoulder those responsibilities particularly in reference to a difficult problem of relationships which arose between our committee and the students. I also found that in my work in Mitake church I became more of an ordinary member as folk began to grow accustomed to the difference of nationality and language—I was elected to the Session of the Church and I became an ordinary member—albeit a charter member—of the Business and Professional Women's Society.

Mitake church has continued to be the pivot around which all other activities have centred. My Bible Class has grown in numbers and in the quality of the discussion. Two members were baptized this last Christmas. About half the group have graduated and are facing the problems of living as Christians in a non-Christian society. How the gap between the Church and society can be bridged is a pressing problem. We have gradually built up a fellowship in which to a certain extent they can talk of their problems quite frankly and gather spiritual energy for the meeting of them but the busyness of every day life makes the cultivation of such a fellowship exceedingly difficult.

Opportunities in Teaching

Teaching at Tokyo Woman's Christian College is the first claim on my time. In April I was given two classes of freshmen Conversation and Composition to replace the two that moved on to second year. The freshmen who come to us from government schools quickly realize the difference that Christianity makes in the spirit of the College. They feel that they are important, not as names on lists, but as unique individual personalities. This realization of individuality is foreign to Japanese culture with its traditional family system and Emperor worship and is, it seems to me, a necessary condition for Christian evangelism. Teaching the freshmen three hours a week gives me an excellent opportunity to get to know them and in groups of twos and threes they find their way to my home to visit.

For the second year I am teaching the Economic History of England as a reading class and finding tremendous interest in comparing Japan's economic problems with those of England. My Christian Ethics class for third and fourth year students is a small but thoughtful group in which it has been possible to have some excellent discussions on the relation of the Christian faith to various practical problems which they confront in society.

After Furlough

I was very happy to be back at Toyo Eiwa, our Tokyo school, working with Mr. Nagano, our fine principal, and his staff. It was during my absence that the new higher English Department, started two years earlier, had obtained Junior College status. Since April about half of my work has been in that department, with the rest in the Junior and Senior High School departments. With 200 students in the Junior College, and some 900 in the High School, there are often problems, there is much hard work, but life is never dull!

During the year there are many opportunities to present the message and way of Christ to the students—through regular Bible study and daily worship, through special days and speakers, in summer camps and retreats. During the summer two school camps and two retreats were held. I attended the retreat for the Senior High School students, held at the end of August in a lovely mountain spot. During the three days together we were deeply conscious of the Spirit of God working among us, and at the camp-fire on the last evening many girls made their commitment to Christ.

Our school motto is "Reverence and Service." Special service projects during the year included gathering and sending used warm clothing to a group of repatriates whose barracks had been burned and to mining villages in Kyushu, where the need has been great.

The final event of the school year was the Christmas service. The music was especially beautiful. As the whole school stood at the end for the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" my prayer, as always, was that Christ would indeed be Lord in each heart!

Church Work

Besides my work in the school, it has been a joy also to work and worship again with the Torii Zaka Church congregation. The Easter Sunday service, just a week after my return to Japan, will long live in my memory. On that morning several young people were baptized, and Mrs. Kato, a member of the church for many years, was specially honored, for she was celebrating her 88th birthday and the 75th anniversary of her baptism. She had been baptized in Shizuoka by Dr. McDonald, on Easter Sunday when she was thirteen years old. One of the Toyo Eiwa students who was baptized that day, presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to her from the church.

When Miss Douglas moved to Kofu in the summer, I succeeded her as teacher of the English Bible class of Torii Zaka Church. From September to December we made a study of some of the Psalms. There has been a new interest in the Japanese Church in the study of the Old Testament, since the publication of the new colloquial translation of the Bible. There is a request that our next study be the book of Job.

In Torii Zaka Church there is a fine group of young people, and as one sees them taking an active part in the life of the Church, one feels that here is truly the glow of health and growth and joy. On Christmas Eve there was a beautiful candle-light service in the church, planned and led by these young people.

"Pen Pals"

Teaching English in the primary department of the Toyo Eiwa Girls' School has continued to be a challenge to live daily the Christian life. One must take seriously the responsibility that we share in nurturing the lives of the children of many of the leaders of this country. I have found that I must not be ambitious for results. As soon as I begin to push, the learning process is blocked; but so long as I guide patiently along, step by step, the children are with me and they show signs of freedom in learning their second language.

We are beginning to reap a "Pen Pal" harvest. One afternoon a tourist arrived on our doorstep with her teenage son and daughter. They were to be in port at Yokolama for only twenty-four hours but she had made the eighteen-mile trip by regular train and had found our residence but could not locate the dormitory though it is very close to our house. "A friend of mine who is teaching in a Sunday School has been corresponding with this girl for five years" she said, showing me the student's name and our dormitory address on an envelope. The girl had come to the Junior College from Hiroshima. When I found her I was delighted to hear her pleasant voice and to note the ease with which she greeted her guests.

Some of the little primary school girls, also, are corresponding with children abroad. I was pleased with the quality of a letter I read recently from an eleven-year-old American girl. There were no mistakes in English or spelling and she asked about Girl Guides, flowers and scenery, the government of the country and famous men in the history of Japan.

Occasionally one can take private pupils for a limited period. Last summer it was my turn to share in the supervision of painting and repairs in our Tokyo residence. During that time two young men came for English lessons. Both were preparing to go abroad on "Kyodan" scholarships. Often parents of our pupils ask for tutoring. When such requests come the finding of a tutor becomes a matter for prayer, for we know that it is what the English teacher is himself that determines what he has to give.

The Spiritual Influence

The deepening of the religious life in our school has been marked this year by a Bible class for the teachers conducted by a professor of New Testament from one of our Church colleges. The monthly meeting for the mothers has continued. Among the speakers we were glad to have Mrs. Kozaki, wife of the former Moderator, who told of her visit to the United States at the invitation of the Presbyterian women of America, and of life in the American home as she found it.

The evangelization of the home is central in the thinking of the Church in Japan today and begins in the heart of each one of us. I realize that it is each Christian's relationship to God, and each other, that gives vitality and reality to the Church's voice in the world today.

A Visit From A Friend

My guest was a smiling young lady smartly dressed and wearing a natty little hat on her well-curved head.

"Oh, Sensei, I heard you were in Tokyo now, and I came to see you," she said.

"Yes, I moved to Tokyo last July. For a year before that I was in Shimizu, near Shizuoka."

"Do you teach in the Toyo Eiwa School, Sensei?" asked my caller.

"Yes, I teach English in the Junior and Senior High Schools and also a little in the Junior College. You know that the Toyo Eiwa puts considerable stress on English. Many of the students are daughters of business men, or of men in the government and diplomatic service who often go abroad. One of the girls in the Junior High that I taught in September is now living in Paris, because her father is in the Japanese Embassy there."

"Do you ever see any of the people that you knew in Shimizu?"

"Yes, I go back to Shimizu once a month on a Saturday—a highly satisfactory day, though a busy one. It's a four hour train journey from Tokyo. I take sandwiches with me for my lunch, then go directly to a Christian kindergarten where I have a Bible Class in Japanese with the teachers and mothers. We began with five members but we have sixteen now. After that class is over, I call on one or two young married couples, who are graduates of Christian schools but are not connected with any church now. Then I rush back to the station and have an informal talk on Christianity with three men who are school teachers, before catching the train which gets me home about ten-thirty."

"Many things have changed since the early days of missionary work. There is so much more travelling now, and mechanical inventions have made possible a wider range of activity for everyone," said my friend.

"How true that is! I make recordings of English conversation and readings, which I send to the school in Shimizu where I was last year, and also to a class of twenty-five men in a chemical fertilizer plant.

"And another thing," I continued, "communication between our Home Church and the Japanese people is an increasingly important part of missionary work. The new gadgets make it possible to do all kinds of things. I am now preparing a recording of music by our school choir and short talks and stories by the girls. I'm sending it to Canada in the hope that one or more groups there will reply in kind, as I understand that many churches have tape recorders now."

Then I asked my visitor to tell me about herself.

"You know that I graduated from the Yamanshi Eiwa in Kofu last spring. I was fortunate enough to get into the I.C.U. (International Christian University). There are seven Eiwa graduates there now. Last year more than 50 per cent of the students graduating from the three Eiwa schools went into higher schools of college grade. Since the Occupation brought co-education to Japan, a number of graduates of Christian schools have entered major universities that were formerly open only to men. One of my friends went to a medical college and is now working as a research chemist in the same college. Japanese women, particularly those who are Christian, are coming into their own in these post-war days."

Fellowship at a Work Camp

One of the highlights of my last three wonderful years in Japan was the International Work Camp which I attended last August. It is well-known how useful work camps are but they are also a kind of catalyst to our studies, lectures, and sermons on Christ's way of life, welding together knowledge and experience, producing such friendship and harmony. The work camp last summer was held at a school for mentally handicapped children, situated in a village about one hour from Kyoto. Ten countries of Asia were represented, along with the United States, New Zealand and Canada. Our project was the clearing and levelling of a small valley so that two new school buildings could be put up there. As we carried earth and rocks on slings on bamboo poles, dug with picks and shovels, cut down bushes and dug roots, or took KP duty, a good wonderful feeling was with us. For each of us there was a different reaction, having come from many different backgrounds, but we were unified in our thought and deed of helping others and were soon like one big family. The people of the community were amazed that a group of young people would actually do manual labor when they didn't need to, and for strangers. But I wouldn't wonder that we benefited every bit as much or more than the village; and after the first day or so, it wasn't for strangers. We were invited to several farms of the district, and on the evening of O-bon, villagers came to the school. They showed us the traditional dances for the festival and then invited us to join in. Of course, we did. We lived in three rooms of the school. Our KPs made breakfast, supper and O-yattsu (the all important short snack at "break" time) in the school kitchen. We ate with the children at noon, lunch usually consisting of a bowl of mixed rice and barley with a piece of vegetable and pickle, or a bowl of noodles. Our work had been ahead of schedule, but on the last day we were set back a little by an exceptionally heavy rain the night before. That bit of weather put us right "down to earth". The mud was eight inches deep and occasionally we would lose a sneaker or a shoe, but what a grand time!

Christmas at a Hospital

Another highlight was at Christmas. This year a group of Japanese girls who meet with me each week, went to a children's hospital. Beyond hearing about Santa Claus, the children had no idea of what Christmas really is. The girls told the children about the true meaning of Christmas, which seems to escape so many of us. They told about the first Christmas, about Christ, and then a "kamishibai" (a picture play—pictures accompanied by a lively telling of the story). The doctor in charge said afterward that it was too bad the children hear about Christmas and Christ only at that time and asked us to come back again to talk to them. The girls will find that, in teaching, they will learn much and will have their faith strengthened greatly.

FROM MISS M. FERN SCRUTON

Educational Missionary, Junior College of Child Education, Tokyo, Japan

My report for 1955 falls naturally into three parts, for January, 1955, saw me in England; five months later I was back in Canada; now at the end of the year this report is being written from Japan.

In England

On three of my furloughs, I have been forced to study some particular phase of childhood education because of the appointment I was to take after furlough. This time I resolved to put religious studies first on my program and return to the field with fresh inspiration, as well as more knowledge. I found that I had chosen the right place to achieve this purpose.

I was most fortunate in having my furlough coincide with that of Elma Inman of our Trinidad Staff, who was an old and valued friend. We both registered at Woodbrooke, the Quaker College in the group of Selly Oak Colleges in the suburbs of Birmingham.

Each college in that group has some special emphasis in the training of Christian leaders. The emphasis of Woodbrooke is not only on Quakerism but also in the area of social and international work. Across the road is Westhill College, where teachers can work for a special diploma in childhood education. I was fortunate in being able to get not only excellent Bible Study courses at Selly Oak Hall, and the special lectures and discussion given at Woodbrooke, but also through the courtesy of some of the Westhill staff, I was able to attend some of their lectures and go on weekly educational observation trips which they arranged for me.

The eleven-week term went by all too quickly but spring was lovely with more days of sunshine during April than they had experienced in many a year. For six weeks we wandered around England from Dover to Land's End, to London, to York, and then went to Liverpool by way of Scotland and the Lake District. With the Canadian dollar standing where it did in relation to the pound in early 1955 we found England a most economical place to study and travel.

In Canada

My months in Canada appropriately began with a week at Dominion Board which was a perfect way to get orientated for deputation work in June. I was asked to set September and October also aside for that work.

During the summer, for my own inspiration, I attended the Stanley Jones Ashram, and later, the Religious Education Course for Teachers at Five Oaks, and also the Fellowship of Professional Women of The United Church of Canada in Toronto, the end of August.

In Japan Again

On November 15th, I left my home in Hamilton to return to Japan, arriving in Yokohama on December 10th, after a rough, but not unpleasant crossing on the "Hikawa Maru". I found Christmas celebrations in full swing. By attending these parties, I was soon in touch again with teachers, students and friends. Mrs. Kuroda and Miss Juten (an I.B.C. missionary) had taken over my work in the kindergarten and training college when I left last year. Fine progress has been made during my absence. . . I have decided that a furlough is not only good for the missionary, herself, but it gives the younger workers a chance to step up and to show their initiative, and bring about needed changes.

FROM MISS ENID M. HORNING

Missionary at language study,
Tokyo, Japan

Learning Japanese

During this year, my second in Japan, my first responsibility has again been that of language study. The longer one is in another country the more one realizes that the acquiring of a working knowledge of the language is a necessity and that the period of full-time language study is a very essential part of one's training if one is to be adequately prepared for the work which awaits one upon permanent appointment.

In addition to language study my class in English Conversation at Toyo Eiwa has continued. This class is interesting because in it I see the problem of learning a foreign language from the point of view of the teacher rather than as a student and also because of the questions which are asked sometimes.

An English Bible Class

Since September one of my most enjoyed experiences has been that of having a Bible class of young people in a Japanese church. It is in English because as yet preparation for such a class in Japanese is beyond me. The members of the class are university students or young people just starting in their first jobs. They vary in experience from those who have attended this same Bible class for five years to those who are coming for the first time and from those who speak excellent English to those who understand little and are coming to the class primarily from a desire to improve their English. However, we do have some quite searching and worthwhile discussions as we seek to discover and to understand just how the teachings of Jesus Christ are applicable to the situation in Japan today and to our own lives. One question which comes up repeatedly is the problem of what a young Christian's responsibilities are in the community and social life in this country where such a small percentage of the population is Christian.

New Friends

There have been other interesting things as well. Last August there was an opportunity to see a little of an International Work Camp. Students from several countries worked and lived with Japanese students for about four weeks giving their time and energy to the rebuilding of a processing plant building on a cooperative farm which had been destroyed by fire earlier in the year. Then, too, there are the new friends made during the year. One is a girl of about my own age who is now at university. She has had contact with Christianity for a number of years and was baptised shortly before we met. The opportunity of discussing with her the problem of young people and of learning of Japanese customs and ways of thinking has been invaluable.

A Dream Fulfilled

This year has been the most thrilling year of my life because it has brought the fulfillment of my childhood decision to be a missionary for Christ in answer to His call. It also was the climax of many years of study in university and theological college in preparation for my life work.

June 2nd, 1955, will always stand out in my memory as THE highlight of my life up to then, when I knelt at the altar of Carlton United Church in Toronto and was ordained a Minister of Jesus Christ in The United Church of Canada, as seven dearly-loved ministers, my own father included, and best of all, my Lord, laid their hands upon my head in blessing. At the same service, I was duly appointed and commissioned by our Woman's Missionary Society, to serve as a missionary in Japan. So you see why I can never forget that service.

After my appointment, I spent five weeks at the Toronto Bible College taking Linguistics, after which I was privileged to attend the Outgoing Missionaries' Conference at Five Oaks where we had a rich and profitable fellowship together, discussing the problems facing missionaries today and sharing our experiences.

Then followed several busy weeks of shopping and packing during which time I tried to snatch a bit of a holiday. However, due to a delay caused by a small fire in the hold of my freighter, we did not sail until September 1st, so I had a pleasant, restful week in Victoria with my cousins. Consequently, I did not arrive in Tokyo until September 14th, two days after Language School had started. But I soon got caught up and have enjoyed every moment at Language School, especially since the teaching is all in Japanese.

I am sorry that, because of the pressure of language studies and my inability to speak Japanese, I have not had much contact with Japanese people; but I enjoy attending the two Japanese churches near us and the fellowship and choir of our English congregation, Tokyo Union Church of which I have become an associate member. Also, I hope soon to have a Bible Class with a group of Japanese university students.

As this was my first Christmas in Japan, it was of considerable interest to me, particularly the emphasis on worship. Christmas is, above all, a religious celebration, a festival of adoration, love and thanksgiving to God for the great gift of His Son to be our Saviour.

There is plenty of opportunity to witness and to give in this land of over eighty-eight million people, ninety-nine per cent. of whom are not Christians, and it is my earnest prayer that, with God's help, I may contribute always what He has planned I should, to the end that this needy nation may learn about Jesus Christ and His wonderful Love.

The "Growing Edge"

Among the many visitors who come to see the Tomisato Rural Evangelistic Centre here in Chiba province, one wrote back recently to say it had been a privilege to see "the growing edge of Christianity" in action. It is indeed a "growing" edge when we think of all the little "plants" which are springing up in neighboring hamlets from the seed which is sown from this Centre. If one were to judge the work of the church here by the number who turn out to Sunday evening service (always better attended than the morning service), one might be disappointed. But a large part of the work here is done through Cottage Meetings (at present five in all) which the pastor or some Church member holds in a home in a nearby hamlet or village. There are also little Sunday School groups in four of these places, and when they all gathered here for our Christmas program there were 180 children; it was a very happy event.

The Young People's, though not growing appreciably in numbers, is growing "in wisdom and stature". They started leading their own Bible discussion groups in the fall—under Pastor Naito's guidance, of course. Two of the young folk (also another woman) were baptized at Christmas.

Our Health Centre work is growing, too. We started with a monthly Well Baby Clinic and a monthly Nutrition Demonstration. The beginnings of some Mental Health work have been made in the form of a survey, and some talks to mothers' groups by members of the staff of the National Institute of Mental Health. In November we began Pre-natal classes. And now we have plans under way to start a Family Planning program; something which some of the mothers are asking for, and which is much needed to reduce the number of criminal abortions.

For the first six months of 1955 I continued coming out to this Centre from Tokyo two days a week, but in July I moved out to stay; although committees, the Kyoaikan, and other business take me into Tokyo for two or three days every two weeks.

A BUILDING PROJECT AT THE KYOAIKAN KINDERGARTEN, TOKYO
(Just 3 of the 80 active 3-to-6 year olds)

"Work, Worship and Witness"

One of the first events after I moved out full time, was an International Student Work Camp which was held here from the middle of July to the middle of August. The project was to rebuild the Processing Plant which was destroyed by fire last January at the Futaba Cooperative Farm, which was where this Centre had its beginnings. Six American students, two from Okinawa, two from the Philippines, and fifteen Japanese, lived in the church and clinic, and commuted daily by truck to the Farm, which is a mile from here. The students were for the most part unaccustomed to hard labor, but their fine spirit of cooperation and good humor, plus the fact that they were doing a labor of love, receiving no remuneration, was a real witness to the members of the farm and the community. Work, Worship, and Witness are the key-words of these Work Camps, for they not only work together, but they worship together daily, and one of the concrete results of their witness is that a Sunday School was begun in a village the other side of the Farm from here.

I have continued to keep in touch with the Kyoaikan when I go in to Tokyo, but inevitably I am not as close to it as I used to be. There is not any great change there; just the usual joys and problems which are part of any institutional work.

The year 1955 was I think one of the richest, especially in terms of new relationships and experience, of any year since I came to Japan as a missionary four and a half years ago. I thank God for the privilege of serving Him in some small way in this land.

FROM KOREA

THE FOREWORD

This past year has seen a gradual development in our relationship to the new "Presbyterian Church in the Republic of Korea," the official name for the new Church. A Planning Committee was set up last summer and a new constitution of The Assembly-Mission Joint Committee was submitted to the Board of Overseas Missions and our Society for approval.

This new Assembly-Mission Joint Board has requested our mission to open a new Centre for missionary residence and work at Iri, an important railway centre in South-West Korea, where no other missionaries are located. There are a large number of local churches connected with the new Church in that area. This will involve the withdrawal from Ko-je Island, and perhaps Pusan, also. Both of these places are in areas where there are few local churches of the new Church. It will also involve the purchase of land and the erection of a missionary residence, as well as a Christian Training Centre building.

The new Church is hoping that The United Church of Canada will be able to increase the number of its missionaries in Korea, and a list of ten missionaries needed plus two three-year term appointees for English teaching has come to our Society. The requests for the 1957 budget were greatly increased over the 1956 grants but due to lack of funds it was not possible to meet all these requests. Since The United Church of Canada is the only Church outside of Korea connected with the new Church there, they are counting on us for increased support.

Ewha Woman's University has held a very special service during the last week in May in commemoration of the 70th anniversary of its founding. The student body of Ewha now number over 4,000. The dormitories are badly overcrowded and thus can only accommodate a small fraction of the students. Classes are too large and facilities overtaxed. Yet the President and Board of Managers have felt it wise to receive all those students as there are so few institutions where they can get an education and there is such an eagerness on the part of young people in Korea today for an education.

FROM MISS ADA SANDELL

Missionary Nurse,
Koje Island, Korea

I am supposed to be the superintendent of nurses but my contribution to the work has been largely that of bringing patients in for treatment. About one day each week when I was not in the country, I was on hand to give advice and help to the five graduate nurses who have carried on the actual nursing. The hospital has filled a great need on the island and many people have found their way there and have been cured because of the work of the Mother and Child Welfare program which is now taking the greater part of my time and energies.

Mother and Child Welfare Work

This is a new piece of work, one year old, but already it has shown good results in various ways. In twenty-four churches we called the women of the districts together and organized them into groups for the purpose of teaching them how to take better care of their babies, and children. After the initial visit was made we found that we had registered 1,024 women with babies under two years of age. Not registered were the hundreds of older children and some men who crowded around the doors and windows each time a meeting was held. "We," consisted of a team of four comprising Miss Myung, the Korean nurse who gave the health talk each month; Mrs. Chin, the evangelist who usually chaired the meeting and gathered up the women who wanted to come but were a bit shy, as well as doing a lot of personal evangelism; Deacon Choi, our jeep driver and Mission helper, who carried huge bundles of relief clothing and baby bundles each time we went out, and myself. My task was to lead the worship service with which we opened the meetings and at the close to help Miss Myung in seeing the sick ones, administering simple medicines and deciding whether it was necessary to send on the patients to the hospital. Our records show that we saved the lives of 52 people as a direct result of these visits. More important even than that is that many women and not a few men have become interested in Christianity since we started. Church leaders report that over a hundred people have become new believers, many of them having taken the first step toward baptism.

"Ye Visited Me . . ."

I have travelled out to the smaller churches whenever possible on Sundays and each time I go, I am asked to preach the sermon. The churches are without adequate leadership, there being but seven ministers on the island for the oversight of twenty-four churches and many more smaller groups. The problem of transportation makes it difficult for the ministers to get all around the island very often. The small groups are carrying on their services on Sunday, Wednesday evening and at daybreak prayer meetings with whatever local leadership there is. Whenever I visit such a group or church, I always receive a warm welcome.

"Ye Clothed Me . . ."

Another of my duties was the receiving and acknowledging parcels of clothing from all over Canada and U.S.A.—some 1,042 of them! That meant a lot of letter writing. Up until September, I tried to send a letter of acknowledgment to each donor, but when postage rates went sky high I sent a letter to my sister in Magog, Quebec, and she had it duplicated and sent out. I am grateful for the help that the women of the Church at home have given me and my people in Korea. Anything I have accomplished has been because of this help.

FROM MISS WILLA A. KERNEN

Missionary,
Koje Island, Korea

One full year in Korea, and language study has not seemed quite so discouraging. I have just passed the second year language examinations.

Service in Singing

Included in the "extra-curricular" activities was an evening English class with the nurses. This has been somewhat spasmodic since enthusiasm for such study seems to rise and fall. There has also been a weekly English period with the senior class in the local high school. Besides this, for the past couple of months I have been directing the local church choir. During preparation for Christmas services this occupied three evenings a week. The Korean people love to sing, and so do I, so this has been an interesting experience, even though our ideas of how things should be sung don't always agree.

Miss Sandell's Mother and Child Welfare Work has taken considerable of my time and interest. Throughout the year whenever she could not go—and sometimes when she could, I went with the team. Sometimes I gave a short prepared talk in the worship service, or if not, often sang; sometimes I was simply there. For a couple of weeks in the fall when our driver was sick, I was very glad that I could fill in and the work didn't have to stop.

During July, as an extension of this Mother and Child Welfare Work, we held ten-day classes in each of two of the most isolated villages on the island, and I was in attendance throughout both of them. In the mornings there was Bible Vacation School for the children including Bible teaching, singing, general health talks and recreation. The number of children available for such a course in one small village, and the enthusiasm they show would be almost unbelievable to folk at home. In one of the villages we were able to have a singing class with the teen-agers in the afternoon, and in the other we had a literacy class with the women in the evenings. It was amazing to see the number of women who came to the class after working in the field until dark and then preparing and cleaning up after the evening-meal. It was necessarily late when the class began, and they had to be up at dawn the next morning. But they would be back again the next night, eager to learn. It was a tremendous thrill to learn before leaving the first village, that a number of people had made the first steps toward becoming Christian as a direct result of our being there.

My part in all of this was mainly in teaching the singing which I was able to manage with a minimum of talking. Miss Myung and Mrs. Chin of the Child Welfare team carried the major load of teaching. There was no doubt of the value of the classes, and from my own standpoint, the experience of living in a Korean village—sitting on the floor, eating Korean food, washing in the stream, hearing only Korean—was invaluable.

Service in Speaking

At great expense of time and effort I have prepared two sermons in Korean during the year, and have given them at various churches on the island. I have not progressed beyond the stage of reading them, but have been encouraged to hear that the people were able to understand the Korean.

Even under the present circumstances life is very rich and satisfying, but I am looking forward impatiently to the time when greater proficiency in the language and more experience enables me to do more to justify my being in this land. The opportunities are great, likewise the need.

FROM MISS EMMA M. PALETHORPE

Secretary of Mission,
Pusan, Korea

Relief Work

Relief work in the Pusan area has continued to claim almost half my time. This includes meeting the folk who come for aid on behalf of themselves or others, hearing the stories, unpacking the parcels from Canada, sorting the contents and trying to prepare suitable and reasonable selections for the different groups and families who need them, to say nothing of the writing of the letters of acknowledgment.

We had hoped that by now the need for relief clothing, bedding, etc., would have tapered off, and it is not as widespread as in the earlier days of the refugees here in the South, and many of the groups no longer need the help, but there has still been a great deal of dire need, and many would have suffered still more from this winter's cold in 1955-56 had it not been for the help that we have been able to pass on to them.

There are several reasons for the continued need, one being the increasing inflation, with consequent high prices, putting new clothing beyond the reach of so many.

Then, in past years the U.N. Armies have been very generous in their relief of need here taking an especial interest in the Orphanages, Widows' Homes and other institutions. Now that practically all the troops have been withdrawn from this part of the country, these institutions are feeling the pinch very much and many of them are coming to see what we can do to help them.

Other groups, formerly helped by other Missions, now look to us because of their affiliation—and ours—with the New Assembly Branch of the Presbyterian Church in Korea.

Last, but not least, the U.N. Armies employed many thousand Korean civilians in clerical and manual jobs and their going has left serious unemployment, there being so little industry to take up the slack.

We are indeed grateful to the organizations and individuals who have continued to send the parcels. It would be very difficult to live here, in the midst of so much need, and be unable to do anything to help, and there is deep satisfaction in being able to meet real need, a satisfaction which I hope is shared by the contributors.

Attending to Business

My other main job is that of Mission Secretary-Treasurer. Because of our new affiliation in the Korean Church and the fact that this has greatly increased our responsibility and the area of our field, it has been necessary to hold a large number of meetings, both as a Mission group and in company with leaders of the Korean Church. These have necessitated frequent trips to Seoul—a ten hour train trip each way, and a great deal of additional work.

It has been a privilege to return to Korea, after an absence of twelve years, and to learn something of the new conditions which now prevail, and to become in even a small measure acquainted with the new Korea, which differs so from the old. Now, I am looking forward to the lessened responsibility of retirement, so this will probably be my last annual report, my first having been given forty years ago.

On the Way

In the interval between the closing of classes at Yale University where I studied Korean, and my actual sailing date, I had a time to go around and visit my family and friends. At times I could feel myself getting a little excited, then at others I felt very calm. It was during this period that I felt the need for something to do. Thus it was that my summer at home finished off with me going to camp.

This to me was wonderful in more ways than one. It was my first time at camp even although I have been in and led girls' groups for some years. Then, too, I was able to give a little of myself instead of always being on the receiving end. Miss Margaret Walker, the leader, did a very good job at guiding the girls in their daily thinking. It was so nice to have the girls just drop in for a chat and it was during such times that I pray in some way I, too, was able to help them.

Shortly after camp I received my sailing orders. At last I was on my way! What new challenges, new hope lie ahead? Would I be able to meet these? On board ship a missionary by the name of Helen Rosser of the Methodist Church, U.S.A., helped us to see a little more clearly the future. This woman who had been a prisoner of the Communists for three years restored our inner concerns to that of Faith.

Now three and a half months later, I'm still at the language with very little dent into it, but I do meet the people. I now have two Korean doctors for English, and am looking towards the future in His Work.

Christian Education,
Ewha Woman's University,

Christianity and Students

Four thousand students registered in six colleges—eager, intelligent, attractive young women, present a great challenge. About half of them are Christian to begin with, but a real effort is made to induce the other half to join. In the fall term eight professors and two hundred and seven students were baptized at the University Church and I had the privilege of assisting in the ceremony. I also appreciated the opportunity of leading chapel frequently. For one hour a week during their whole four years at Ewha the students are required to study what the essentials of Christianity are and what the Records affirm. My classes are with the Seniors, and I try to do a Leadership Training Program so that they will be Christian home-makers, Sunday School teachers, and leaders in Church and society.

I have tried three ways to encourage the building of a strong all-round Christian character. The first is the method of Christian Education carried out through my classes--helping people to think through the meaning of the evangel and its implications for life today, so that they may be able to give a reason for the faith that is in them.

The second method tried is that of putting students to work in service programs that give them the experience of sharing their faith and knowledge with others. This summer ten teams of two girls each went caravanning for two weeks in the Kyungi and Kangwon provinces and this winter four teams are working in areas where new churches are barely beginning. As we leaders travelled around with audio-visual equipment to hold an open meeting in each place and to see how the students were progressing we were heartily thankful for the Christian love-in-action that they demonstrated. Sometimes as many as two thousand people gathered in the evening to see "King of Kings" or "My Name is Han", etc.

My third line of action is that of encouraging a welfare project in Sinchon village adjacent to Ewha. Under the auspices of our Social Work Department, we are building a Community Service Centre and Bath-House. This will provide a place for practice work for the Social Work students and graduates, and also help to raise the living standards of the slum area where it is located. UNKRA and American Korean Foundation have made grants to this, as has our Mission, and the army has supplied nine thousand dollars worth of materials through its AFAK program.

Christian Literature

Another important factor of my work has been that of helping to provide Christian Literature, by working on the Editorial Board of the Christian Literature Society. The magazine called The Children's Friend has a wide circulation. A great many books have been published in Korean this year and the contents of the Christian Home Magazine greatly improved. Dr. Irma Highbaugh has channeled some of the literature produced in the Christian Family Life Movement through this magazine, and we hope there will be more to follow. The student group she led at Ewha produced a good radio play on "Career and/or Marriage" and her article in the school paper, "The Kind of Husband I Want" was definitely popular.

On the Air

One of the highlights of the year has been the opening and activity of our Christian Radio Station—HLKY. In addition to working on the Radio Committee, I have broadcast lessons in English Conversation three times a week. So many people are anxious to learn English that they seem to appreciate hearing it spoken by one for whom it is the native language.

FROM MISS ANNETTA M. ROSE

Christian Education,
Seoul, Korea

It does not take one long to get back into work again after a furlough. The welcomes received from my Korean friends, the churches and other groups made me feel very much at home again.

Christian Education

The four months since my return have been filled with tasks of varied kinds. The major appointment is teaching Christian Education in the Han Guk Seminary and the work with the students is always interesting. Being the only one on the staff working in the Department of Christian Education tells of the urgent need for more help in that Department, especially when we have about three hundred students in the Seminary. The students are working in the nearby churches during the week-ends and their reports are most interesting.

Another piece of work which is very important and requires much time is in the Korea Council of Religious Education. Plans have been started for the preparation of the graded Sunday School lessons by the Curriculum Committee. The Committee met weekly until Christmas and will begin again to meet weekly to study the situation, draw up outlines for the curriculum for the different departments, and to get and train writers to write the lessons. This piece of work could well be a full time job if there were the time to give to it. However, there are so many other tasks awaiting to be done that this work, important as it is, can receive only a portion of the time.

I also serve on many other Committees, both of the Missions and of the Korean Church. The General Assembly has asked me to be a member of its Board of Christian Education and the General Board of the Korean W.M.S. has invited me to sit on its Executive. All this requires many hours of work.

Giving of One's Self

And still another important task and one which requires much time is the work of listening to the people who come for help and counsel. The need may be for help to the poor people in their church, or for non-Christians. It may be for materials for the Christian Educational work of their churches, programs for Christmas or other Church festivals. Again it may be Church problems, financial or otherwise and they do have so many problems. All this requires time, wisdom and patience but it is a necessary part of our work.

And what shall one say about the relief work? I find the need for relief work just as great as before I went on furlough. The people who come to us asking for food for hungry children, clothing for people of all ages, quilts to keep them warm at night, money to pay the school fees of the children and the many other requests which come to us must be helped to the limit of our ability.

FROM MISS K. NANCY CAMERON

Educational Missionary,
Seoul, Korea

My appointment for this year added the words "evangelistic and student work" to the first requirement of language study. In the field of evangelism, I have visited twenty-four country churches and six schools and colleges, both preaching and speaking with groups. Two Bible study groups, one particularly with seminary students, and a group of university graduates studying "Christianity and Culture" have been a special joy and encouragement. Work on the Seoul Relief Committee of our Mission has also provided opportunities for a form of witness to the Gospel we proclaim.

Student Work

Student work involves three distinct areas of work: work with the students who receive bursaries or lunch money from our joint board or who are housed in one of our two dormitories (this includes nearly four hundred high school and college students), work with our Presbytery committee on student work in the churches (most similar to the senior teen-age program at home), and work in the colleges through the Korean Student Christian Federation. There is enough scope for a full-time job in any one of these fields. We have begun to organize the four hundred into more intimate groups of twenty or so where we can better discuss the problems and opportunities for students today in the light of the Christian Gospel. Two city-wide denominational rallies of high school students have been held and a start has been made at monthly leaders' meetings where we hope to discuss characteristics and needs of teen-agers, program planning and democratic group procedure with the aim of improving the effectiveness of the local groups.

Challenging Contacts

Contacts have been multiplied in two ways: through appointment to such Boards as the Korean Student Christian Federation, the Mission-Church Joint Boards, the Board of Directors of Ewha University and the All Korea Woman's Missionary Society. They have been more interestingly multiplied in specific tasks which I have been asked to undertake. During the summer, I was glad to assist Rev. Elda Daniels in the training of leaders for caravan work in the country and to participate in the first teen-age girls' camp to be held since the war. English teaching at a Presbyterian month-long Bible Institute provided an opportunity to observe programs and techniques as well as make many friends. Later it was great fun to teach the Rev. Chung Choon Kim's translations of "Vreneli, My Pretty One," "Tell Me Why," and several other camp songs to the leaders of the WMS at a special training conference. Perhaps a high light as far as contacts were concerned, came in a four day visit to Cheju-do with Mrs. Choi, the general secretary of the Korean WMS. We installed the Presbyterian evangelist in charge of women and children's work, and toured the whole island, visiting each of our denominational eight churches. We were heartily welcomed and it was a joy to visit there, but also a heartache to see the desperate need of that island of three thousand people for education and health programs as well as for the evangel. The challenge is so great.

FROM MISS BEULAH V. BOURNES

Missionary Nurse,
Severance Hospital, Seoul, Korea

As Superintendent of Nurses, I find myself becoming a jack-of-all-trades; trying to see that the 150 patients will receive the necessary nursing care; sometimes even urging the doctors on; coaxing for free care for some poor soul or a wee waif; many times trying to find the means to buy expensive medicines, provide special treatment or secure extra food.

Our probation class has an enrolment of 48—very large, when so much of their work is demonstration and has to be done over and over again. The total number of nurses is 74. My teaching is not limited to our own School of Nursing, for I teach also in the Post-Graduate School and the various Post Graduate Refresher and Midwifery classes. These lectures and my weekly turn at morning prayers, help in keeping me up in language study.

In October we had a very nice double ceremony when 17 girls graduated and our 48 students were capped. We were honored by a number of important guests—8th Army nurses and UN personnel. The ceremony was followed by a reception.

My "Hobby" Babies

We have generally about 25 to 30 on the Children's Ward. We are still caring for these tiny mites—thrown away before they are many days old. They are hard to raise at best and a good many die. However, there is indeed the bright side. Many do make the grade and a good many of the toddlers in the orphanages today have gone through our hands. We run a large Milk Feeding Station with a weekly clinic. This has been very fine for mothers who adopt babies. Many are being adopted. As soon as a baby is reasonably fat and gaining, it is quite easy to find a home for it.

I have a nice big chair in my room and there is usually a baby tucked in it; sometimes there is one in my bed, too. It does take one's spare minutes but it is nice to be welcomed with a "gu" or a smile of recognition. Our servants and my housemates give me a hand in caring for the baby and each one of the dear little mites has found a good home. The little mites gain in spite of just being tucked away and left so much to themselves. Then some very fine homes have been found for them, sometimes good Christian homes, sometimes this baby being the means for the parents to become Christian. "Surely it must be God's love to enable anyone to care for and love a baby like that." Before going on my holidays, some place had to be found to send my baby. God I feel provided that place. Tano, once a skinny waif, our first milk station baby, now is a cute little toddler learning to talk. She wants a little brother, so that very day my wee one was bundled up and off he went.

Christmas

Christmas was as usual an important time of the year. Our students worked hard to earn money for their giving. The Sick Children's Hospital was visited and after carol singing all the children received gifts. The nurses provided the play for the hospital Christmas. They took this same play and from 1 p.m. until 7 repeated it in the prison. Then Christmas morn, very early a group of us with the students went to the river bed, singing carols and leaving cheer to about 200 of these little tent homes arising out of the sand like mounds. Back home the patients in the hospital had to have a visit from Santa and then off we rushed to church, our own little family Christmas tree waiting until 9 p.m. A busy happy Christmas when the Christ child was indeed born anew in many a heart.

FROM MISS ANNE M. DAVISON

Missionary,
Church World Service, Korea

Child Welfare

The "Nurturing Virtue" Hostel where we have 50 girls from either rural pastors' homes, or martyred pastors' families, has had a successful year. We have been able to secure for them better equipment, and now we have enough dishes to go around. Requests for admission have nearly swamped the staff. I have been attempting to help an interdenominational group of women to act as an advisory committee. As each of them is active in her own church, this kind of cooperation comes very slowly.

Because there are fewer army units in Korea, the Armed Forces' Assistance to Korea has been less. This year they have concentrated on refugee schools instead of orphanages. A great many children are missing the frequent calls of big brother G.I., who used to come regularly and bring special treats.

The mixed blood children have caused growing concern among the child welfare workers this year. Korea does not want them, so they are ignored. Custom has decreed that the parents' marriage certificate be produced when a child is registered for school, so at the moment the opportunities for the mixed race children are few. These tots, many of them colored-Korean have not much future here, yet many will have to stay. Canada has not yet opened a door to receive these children as immigrants. The United States is trying to admit as many as pass the rigid examination and for whom homes can be found. Some have gone to Honolulu. I work indirectly with the Child Placement Service, acting on their Advisory Committee. However, I have recently had to take more responsibility for older migrants. It has always been part of World Council and Church World Service policy to take an active part in the migration of displaced people. It is now my responsibility to be the link between the New York office which finds the sponsors, and the U.S. Embassy in Seoul which processes the applicants. It consumes a great deal of time, but it is very interesting because it helps Chinese, Turks, and others to leave this country.

Widows' Welfare

The problem of widows in Korea has not diminished this year. It has been a year when some of the workshops received some assistance for buildings, and they have laid good foundations for the future: others are looking forward and hoping that it will be their turn this coming year. The shop in Pusan where 16 of the workshops are participating in a cooperative sales shop, reached a goal in December, where they actually had a credit balance on the business side. Little by little the women are learning to manage their own affairs. They had a two-month course in dressmaking, and now they want an advanced course. They have had a course in invisible mending, which is very necessary when they sew used clothing. They are looking for other skills which would be useful to acquire. I have worked on the widows' sub committee of KAVA (Korea Association of Voluntary Agencies) and it has been most helpful to share with others the ideas and plans for the rehabilitation of widows. The general KAVA meetings have been an area rich in cooperation with the other 45 agencies, all of whom are non-profit organizations working for the welfare of the same Korea. I have been the Secretary-Treasurer of KAVA again this year.

FROM TRINIDAD

THE FOREWORD

A notable event this year was the personal visit of Mrs. D. W. McKenzie (Dominion Board Secretary for Trinidad) to Trinidad in February. This visit was greatly appreciated not only by the missionaries but also by the women of the various churches and the W.M.S. Presbyterial. This was an opportunity for her to become acquainted at first hand with the various institutions and phases of work there.

The Naparima Girls' High School has 650 students this year. In the examinations in December, high distinctions were gained by girls from this school. Miss Phoebe Lahouri, vice-principal of the School, was transferred to the St. Augustine Girls' High School as acting Principal when Miss Constance Wagar left for furlough in April. The St. Augustine Girls' High School has 275 students and has come to fill a very real need in the northern part of the Island, and already has an enviable academic record.

A new venture in the past few years has been a Christian radio program undertaken by Presbytery and the Interim Committee for Women's Work. A grant of $900.00 was made in 1956 as our share of the cost of preparing programs.

THE STORY

FROM MISS MABEL L. BRANDOW

Missionary, Leadership Training,
Couva, Trinidad

"Making a Joyful Noise"

Singing and making melody to the Lord" through choirs, carolling and pageants was our theme song the last few months of 1955. In September, I arrived back in Trinidad after a strenuous furlough, in which I completed my second and final year at Hartford School of Religious Education, and attained my Master of Arts Degree in the field of Christian Education. I had been appointed to do Evangelistic Work again in the field of Leadership Training, as had been my work the last two years before furlough. Also, the Girls' Work Board re-appointed me to be their Corresponding (and organizing) Secretary, which work I enjoy. Then the Christian Education Committee of the Presbytery of our Church in Trinidad, invited me to be their full time Executive Secretary, and I was released only part time and temporarily to do so. Since this Christian Education Committee did not meet until the year was nearly over, and since, by this time we were besieged by requests for help with Christmas music, pageants, sacred concerts and rallies, that was the immediate task that I began.

Leadership Training

We organized a Christmas Carol Music Leadership Training Class, under the auspices of the Couva County Sunday School Association, and met once a week, for seven sessions, with an enrollment of over twenty-five, teachers and song leaders from seven different churches and Sunday Schools. Our attendance varied from week to week, with one week seven visitors from a nearby community who were preparing for a carol group. Our class learnt many new carols and provided music for churches and schools, as well as being the nucleus of four carolling groups that went back to their respective communities, and raised funds for their churches and spread Christmas cheer by carolling at Christmas time. Carolling groups, girls in white dresses with red capes and sashes, and boys wearing red ties on their white shirts, with dark trousers were a familiar and festive sight "making melody to the Lord."

At Knox Church, Couva, I worked with the Sunday School, including the Trail Rangers and T.C.L.T., to put on the Pageant Love Came Down at Christmas. This was a pageant I partly composed and partly compiled, having one scene with our Trinidad Girls In Training in uniform, and the centre of it, one's dream of the First Christmas, Nativity Scene with colorful costumes, pantomime, choral reading and singing.

I had brought back with me, an organ, gift of my brother's (Rev. Charles Brandow) church at Drinkwater, Sask., for Balmain Church, just two miles away, and across the road from our minister, Rev. James Seunarine. This organ proved an incentive for starting a choir, and for preparing a musical pageant The Song from Heaven. By special request, we repeated it at the Christmas Sunday service of the church; thus the organ and we made melody to the Lord and to a larger congregation on Christmas Day.

It is my hope and prayer that the people of all Trinidad, but especially those in this Central area, where I am enjoying working, may go forth in 1956 "Singing and making melody in their hearts to the Lord."

FROM MISS JEAN H. SOMMERVILLE

Evangelistic Missionary,
Couva, Trinidad

"Where SUCAR is CANE"

One happy afternoon early in 1955 the home of the W.M.S. missionaries in Couva rang with the voices of little children. It was a Cradle Roll Party, the culmination of a round of visits to the homes of the local congregation. Tiny babies nestled in their mothers' arms; toddlers played all over the place, while mothers and grandmothers compared notes, enjoying the children, and, at the same time, getting to know one another.

With the exception of two weeks at the sea-side, I spent all of 1955 in Couva, so my mental picture of the year's activities is of a circle—its centre at Couva—spreading over what is, geographically, the Central area of our Church work in Trinidad. It is, essentially, a rural area, where SUGAR is CANE. Within this area-circle are other overlapping circles that trace the daily, weekly round of our activities. There is the circle of the W.M.S. groups, the circle of our Canadian Mission Day Schools, the circle of our Sunday Schools, the circle of our little worshipping congregations. Some of the most interesting points have been highlights, for example, the occasions when a W.M.S. group has led a Sunday Worship Service.

A few times during the year our circle has touched those of other churches within the area, as on the World Day of Prayer, and through the program of Christian Home and Family Week. We wish they were more frequent, these occasions of inter-Church fellowship and united Christian effort. On the all-Trinidad level, our best inter-Church effort is our Christian Education Leadership Training Course, in which I was happy to have a share again last August.

At times our Couva circle has become part of the circle of our island-wide Church, as on the day of our Explorer Rally in July, and on the day in March when our Trinidad Woman's Missionary Society held its Annual Conference. It was the turn of our Central groups to produce the Conference pageant. This was a major effort for us, in which six groups were represented by more than fifty of our members, many of them no longer young. I find that our Trinidad people enjoy taking part in little dramatic productions. So it has been that we have had little plays, literally, by the dozen.

Miss Irene Thompson was with me through the light and shade of the Couva year, until in September, she left Trinidad to be married. Her place in Couva has been filled by Miss Mabel Brandow who has come back after furlough to again take up work in Leadership Training. The last weeks of the year were shadowed by the knowledge that our minister, Rev. J. F. Seunarine was soon to leave us to take up work in another pastorate, but it was a joy to have him and Mrs. Seunarine still with us through the Christmas and New Year Season. We "saw the New Year in" in church, for Watch Night services are popular in Trinidad—1955 ended, and 1956 began, with no less than five Watchnight services in this one pastoral charge!

Storing Up Treasures

Many new girls were taken into Iere Home at the beginning of the year. Our chief objective here is to give Christian training.

Incidentally the girls do get help with their school work, are taught to cook, wash, iron, sew, crochet, knit, play the piano, and do many useful things, but during 1955 we have put special emphasis on their spiritual training.

We try to cover the Bible in story form each year, but this year we worked especially hard each term to have them really know the part we covered. At the end of the terms we sent quiz questions home with them to answer during the holidays and bring the answers back to us. During the year about twenty girls were working on the "Light of Life" Course on the Gospel of John. This was sponsored by the Evangelical Crusade held in Trinidad about two years ago. At the end of the year those who had completed all the lessons were given a New Testament which they were delighted to receive. We were also learning the Primary Catechism. Those who left at the end of the year finished theirs, and were given the catechism as their own. We have mapped out a Memory Work Course that is divided into four parts, ranging from the simple to the difficult. As each piece is memorized, an emblem is colored and placed on a ribbon. When the girls leave they should have completed the four ribbons, each with ten emblems, and will have stored up treasures of the mind which will serve them a lifetime.

The Bible and Daily Living

We have tried during 1955 to get the girls to form the habit of individual daily Bible Reading. This has only been done on a small scale, but it has been planned with the idea of giving each girl a feeling of security as she goes to sleep. So many of our girls have a mother or father who has failed them, and so they need to realize the presence of a heavenly Father who never fails. Every Saturday morning the girls, themselves, take charge of worship. They are divided up into four rooms according to age, and so the smallest and biggest alike must take a turn at planning and leading in worship. It really is amazing what inspiration these services give even to the grown-ups.

At the end of the year, we had a service of dedication for those leaving. Almost all the girls expressed a desire to follow Jesus Christ but we were especially pleased that three asked for baptism—two of whom had been Moslem, and the other one, Hindu.

We realize that religious training is of no value unless there is a practical application in daily living. We try to help in that way, too. We made the disciplining for the individual or for groups, a matter of prayer, and we feel that our girls of last year responded better than ever before. When two girls were vexed at each other to the extent of not speaking for days, it was wonderful to see the friendliness reappear by means of the fellowship of prayer.

FROM MISS M. GRACE BEATTIE

Evangelistic Missionary,
Princes Town, Trinidad

Highlights

It has been a full year. Of great value in the work for Christ were the occasions when we planned and carried out programs in co-operation with other branches of the Church, as in the Day of Prayer services and in Christian Home and Family Life Committees. Those of us who have oversight of evangelistic work took part in or were present at a series of Day of Prayer services throughout the day and for some days before and after. Services were arranged also in the schools where the Girls' Program was used. In some places the women's group invited the T.C.I.T. Group to join with them, in others the W.M.S., T.C.I.T. and Trail Rangers jointly led the service in the school with all older pupils present. The observance of Christian Home and Family Week in May brings the different churches together again with the common purpose of encouraging Christian standards and ideas in the home and in the community. The fellowship we have with the leaders and other workers of these churches as we plan together has been something that we value.

At the end of September I experienced a deep joy and satisfaction in attending the first Speech Day of St. Augustine Girls' High School, when the first graduates received their Cambridge School Certificates (equivalent to Matriculation). Most of these I enrolled in 1950 and 1951 when the new school opened in its temporary quarters so I was very happy to be able to be present to see them graduates. The school is making splendid progress now with Miss Constance Wagar as principal, and her sister, Miss Marion Wagar, looking after the business affairs.

The Regular Work

I am inclined to think, however, that it is the simple, regular, un spectacular things that count for most, the meeting month by month with the women's and girls' groups, this one in the Church, that one a small neighborly group on the gallery of a home, another on assorted seating accommodation in the wide-open space under a house built up on pillars. All the W.M.S. groups followed the study of the message of the prophets, "What the men who spoke for God long ago have to say to us today," the study project prepared by the central committee of the Trinidad W.M.S. Visiting in the homes should have a larger place on our program than we seem to be able to give to it. Those closer contacts that we have made through such visits have been most rewarding and have made the meetings of greater value both to leader and members.

The Widening Vision

The crop season has begun, that is the cutting of the sugar-cane. As we drive through the country, where a month or two ago the road took us along a narrow channel bounded by high green walls of sugar-cane, now we find our world broadening out with a wide view over valleys and rolling hills to a far horizon. Something of the same kind of thing is happening in the political situation. The time is ripe and the farther view is opening up before us as negotiations are moving closer to the Federation of the islands of the British West Indies which will link together, in much the same way as the provinces of Canada entered Confederation, the thousand-mile crescent of islands in the Caribbean.

The wider vision also confronts the Churches. We are aware that upon the Church rests the responsibility for preparing and providing the leaders who will give to the Federation the wisdom and stability which will make the new venture a success, contributing to the welfare of all. It is important, too, that the people be encouraged to hold more firmly to Christian standards of integrity, fairness and magnanimity, with an unwavering stand for what is right, so that they will give their support to the best leaders and maintain a strong Christian attitude in their community. We believe that the members of the Trinidad Woman's Missionary Society have had, and will continue to have, a quiet, but real influence to this end. Our Church schools offer a great opportunity for the Christian training of the young people, and the new plans for Christian Education (on the regular school curriculum) will, we hope, encourage the teachers to do more sincere and effective work in this course, and will lead to more definite decisions for Christ. The future leaders are now in the schools.

FROM MISS CONSTANCE E. WAGAR

Missionary Teacher,
St. Augustine High School, Trinidad

Aiming High

This year, by student vote, we selected our school motto, "Per ardua ad astra." This was embodied in our crest, based upon designs drawn by artistic students, and including a tiny gold maple leaf and a humming bird on a dark blue ground. "Unto the hills" was the appropriate school hymn chosen. Our first attempt at a Year Book was a real success.

We had happy social events and these included special programs for each term closing. A lovely sacred pageant composed by one of our teachers closed our school year, when the girls presented "white gifts," which later brought joy to hundreds of children.

A tree-planting ceremony was an interesting occasion, when plants donated by the Aramalaya Christian Endeavor Society were planted by representative young people and students.

Princess Margaret's visit caused much excitement and we were proud to send a delegation, bearing our school flag, for the "march past." About two hundred of our girls attended the youth rally in honor of the princess.

Perhaps for us, the most exciting day of all was that of our first Graduation Exercises. Our first twelve graduates looked lovely in their white dresses with red carnation corsages. Hon. Mr. Dorman, Colonial Secretary, delivered the message and thrilled us when he spoke of the profound sense of a living faith in God, which he felt was evident in our School. Mrs. Dorman presented prizes and Miss M. G. Beattie, our first principal, the certificates.

THE TEACHING STAFF OF THE ST. AUGUSTINE GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL
Miss Constance Wagar, Principal, at front centre

Church Centred School

Our School continues to be a centre for Church activities and weekly Sunday Services are held. Our new Sunday School was organized with Miss S. Dukham and myself in charge and now we have about forty on the roll.

Our T.G.I.T. groups continue to be most enthusiastic. The Merry-Makers at the school helped to open and acknowledge the books on Africa sent by our Canadian friends. These were later distributed throughout Trinidad. This group was also in charge of a Church service, at which they explained their aims and objectives.

The second group, the Anand (Hindi for "Joy") Girls is the dormitory group in charge of the matron, Mrs. Balkaran. Both groups enjoyed a project in woodwork and carving and each held a Christmas party.

My sister and I, assisted by Misses Rouse, Fasken and Inman and six of our T.G.I.T. girls, held our annual Christmas party for the neighborhood children. This year we expected 50 and 137 guests arrived. Canadian friends sent a grand box of toys and every child received a gift and candy.

Our personal efforts included a class in textile painting for the San Juan Women's Association. We shared, too, in various services, including World Day of Prayer and Sunday School Rallies.

FROM MISS ELMA B. INMAN

Evangelistic Missionary,
St. Augustine, Trinidad

In January I crossed the troubled Atlantic Ocean to England for a period of study. The ten weeks at Woodbrooke College, Selly Oak, Birmingham, is a wonderful international experience. Association with Quakers is a blessed adventure. After six weeks of sight-seeing, we returned to Canada for a busy last three months of furlough.

In the Guaiaco Field

On August 22nd, I returned to Trinidad and took up residence at St. Augustine, and work in the Guaiaco field. After three terms spent happily, and I hope profitably, in Princes Town field, I find it a good adventure to meet new people and new situations. My work is country evangelistic work which includes meeting groups of women and girls, touching the religious education program in our day-schools, and includes visiting in the homes. Along with Rev. I. W. Mc. Kirkpatrick, the Board of Overseas missionary in this area, we have made plans with the people of the local congregations, and with teachers, preachers, elders and others we have gone out in teams to visit the homes. The children had carried home word that we were coming and they awaited us with shining eyes. Often we gathered a band of willing followers who helped us sing hymns and choruses in each home. Christian and non-Christians appreciate our having worship with them.

This effort has begun to bring results already. In one country district that has had a reputation for crime, we have a day-school but the Sunday School had suffocated. After our house to house visitation a Hindu man offered "under" his new, big house for a Sunday School meeting place. It is a suitable location in the village and the day school teachers give leadership. We are able to give encouragement occasionally. After two months of "Keeping" Sunday School in this place, the local Agricultural Society of the district provided a Christmas dinner for the entire Sunday School. On December 18th it was a lovely adventure to drive some 40 miles, taking about 1½ hours, because the last half of the road is through hilly, high woods and they say there are 365 curves in the road. (I am not inclined to doubt the statement.) At 9 a.m., 130 children were seated on boards placed on blocks. At the far end of "under the house" eight big men were busy preparing roti (Indian bread) and alloe (curried potato) and other items of Indian food. The children paid no attention to their activities, but when one of the men suggested that they set out some food on the worship centre table for me, I begged off, fearing distraction. Sunday School proceeded and then dinner was served to all. It was a lovely gesture on the part of a non-Christian community toward a Christian organization and gives us courage.

Adventures

At the Archibald Institute I teach 2½ hours each week—Religious Knowledge and Deportment. The teen-age girls of this school need practical help in meeting life and this contact is an adventure in character development.

We have five Canadian Mission families now living within a two-mile radius of St. Augustine. Each Wednesday at 8 p.m., those of us who are free, gather for a prayer meeting. It becomes increasingly necessary that we thus assemble to adventure together and meet God.

FROM MISS S. CHRISTINE MACDOUGALL

Evangelistic Missionary,
San Fernando, Trinidad

The W.M.S. in Trinidad

My special responsibility is to see that the twenty-three W.M.S. groups in San Fernando Field get help, encouragement and leadership at the right time, while at the same time seeking to help them take over, themselves. The difficulty is the common one everywhere, to find responsible leaders with a sense of duty and with ability without a desire to rule. We have one such leader, a former T.G.I.T. member of Miss Bentley's group. She also had the benefit of music lessons from Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. Fraser. Now the group has been organized and is doing well through her interest but she is not the president.

When I notified the other new group that I would be late as I would have to attend another meeting first, I came back to find the church doors closed and no one there. "Oh, we knew you would be late so we went on with the meeting."

Mrs. Jamadar, though not so well, still goes out with me twice a week carrying on her wonderful work of love in places where Hindi is known and loved. Miss Bona Boodhran, who has had the benefit of the training in the church choir here in San Fernando, is a great help with the music, for in most places no instrument is available.

At each of these groups a systematic study of the Bible is made as the central executive arranges for the planning of lesson booklets each year. We have just finished the Message of the Prophets and this year, 1956, we have the Parables of our Lord as our subject. This executive also arranges for the yearly Conference, the wonderful day for women. This was held in San Juan this year.

Home and Family Week

We have been able to cooperate with other Christian groups in the Home and Family Council, in the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Women's Fellowship and in many other ways and this, too, is a way of showing "that the spirit of Christ is alive in the world."

In the Home and Family week arranged in May, we varied our program in order to stress "Family Togetherness." We had two families representing two denominations, two races, seated on the band stand and taking full responsibility for the open air service here, including the children reading the Scriptures. It was exceedingly well done and very effective. On invitation from families, leaders were sent to homes to conduct a prayer service. Family Worship services were printed which could be used and in which all the family could take a part. Little plays showing families discussing their problems together started discussion and the week ended with a family picnic. The only part that didn't bring any reports of success was "the family together at work." The Council also sponsored carol singing under the town Christmas tree on Christmas night, and banners reminding passers-by that "Christmas begins with Christ," were displayed over the streets, with posters also in the shop windows and other public places.

FROM MISS LULA V. ROUSE

Missionary,
Tunapuna Field, Trinidad

After a happy furlough I came back to live at St. Augustine. There is another worker now, and with the field divided the work is much better.

Visiting the Work

Visitors coming to Trinidad like to come around with us to see the different kinds of work. One of our women's groups meets in a room which is little more than a shed. A bench along the side of the wall and a couple of boxes to sit on and a table, are the furniture. The floor is mud. But you should hear the singing. One young woman has a beautiful alto voice, the rest of us sing soprano, and with the accordion to lead us, one would think there were many more in the room. One of the women said, "I don't like this meeting—it is too cold. Once a month is too far apart, I want it every week."

Then we go to another home and our Religious Education worker Miss Elizabeth Gangasingh has it crowded to capacity. Many of the women have prepared a prayer or story or take part in a litany or Bible Reading. It is interesting to look at these well dressed women—only an hour ago they were working in the sugar-cane field.

The next day a meeting will be held in a church or maybe a home by the roadside with cars racing by. Or one of our large Primary Schools. If it is a Friday, we must hurry back to choir practice.

On Sunday we go to Sunday School. We leave home at 8.30 and drive to a home that is high up on stilts. We meet under the house. Turkeys, chickens and dogs are around us. The children come all dressed in their Sunday clothes. When the hurricane hit Grenada, one of the children asked if we could send some of our Sunday School offerings to help. So we decided to send $10.00. Then at Christmas they suggested we send $5.00 to the Neediest Cases Fund which we did. When Sunday School is over we go home and dress for Church. (White dress for the choir.)

Christmas

Christmas was wonderful! We went out in groups and gave our program in story, song and picture in several homes where there were shut-ins. Two hospitals—in one the men patients came and sat between the rows of beds on benches. In the other, we went to the women's ward. Before we finished, a nurse came over from the men's ward and said, "You'll have to come over to the men's side or they will be dreadfully disappointed." So of course, we went. Then we presented each patient with a rose. We also went to a few of our schools and group meetings.

The Christmas cards which you so generously sent, came in bundles large and small, so we were able to leave something with the people wherever we went. The Sunday School lesson sheets are welcomed by all teachers of children. The children love the pictures. We find them stuck on the walls in their homes, pasted on the outside of their books, and in scrap books. I will never get around to thanking you all, but I do thank you whole-heartedly. We have made a dozen frames for those large Sunday School pictures and can slip them in and out, so you see we find a way to use all the material you send.

FROM MISS MARGARET J. E. FASKEN

Short Term Teacher,
Archibald Institute, Trinidad

"Homemaking" Graduates

Archibald Institute has seen many changes during the year, particularly in connection with our teaching staff. Our biggest loss occurred at the end of March, when Miss Inez Morrison, Principal of the Institute, found it necessary to return to Canada. This left me to take over some of her work, and I was grateful to have the assistance of Miss Irene Thompson (now Mrs. J. K. Kerster), who had been associated with the Institute for several years. In spite of other changes in the local teaching staff, and furloughs of W.M.S. missionaries, who assist greatly in the school, it was interesting to see the group of girls complete their two-year Homemaking Course, these being the ones who began when I first came to Trinidad. It has been a real joy to have been associated with these girls, and we trust that the school has had some lasting influence upon their lives. I realize more each day, the great challenge and opportunity that is ours to seek to win these girls for Christ, and to hope that they will be influenced by Christian teaching.

It was my privilege to continue taking one class in Household Science at the St. Augustine Girls' High School during the year. This association with the staff and students, there, has been a very happy one. What a joy it is to see the girls of many different races, working and playing, happily, together.

Interesting Activities

One highlight of the year, took place during the Easter vacation, when about twenty T.C.L.T. leaders, went over to Tobago, for a week of camp. It was a time of rich fellowship and healthful recreation. Daily discussion groups on the basic doctrines of the Christian faith proved most stimulating. Our evenings were devoted to discussing group relationships, and some of the problems that occur. For me, it was a time of spiritual renewal, which seems so necessary at times. How good it was, to be able to leave one's regular work for a short while, and have extra time for personal Bible study and meditation.

In August, a Daily Vacation Bible School was held in Tunapuna, where there was opportunity to help with Bible Studies and Handwork. Many children attend who have no regular connection with Church or Sunday School.

Other activities outside of the Institute have included Sunday School teaching at the Orange Grove Sugar Estate, and weekly Bible Study groups with local teen-aged girls. At Christmas time, two of the Estate Sunday Schools gathered for a party at the Institute. It was wonderful to see the happy faces of the children, and to hear them sing the familiar carols with such evident joy.

An occasional visit to the patients, at the Caura Sanitorium has been made, and sometimes informal Sunday evening services are held in the local District hospital. The patients seem to enjoy these, and as many as are able, gather in one ward, to sing well-known hymns, and to listen to the reading of favorite Scripture passages. Sunday School papers such as Onward, and other Christian literature sent to us, are much appreciated by these patients.

ON BOARDING SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOMES

THE FOREWORD

All institutional services which are rendered to meet human need, so as to provide for each person a healthful, wholesome, creative experience, are considered as Christian services. In our Residence life our prime responsibility is thus to minister to human need.

We recognize, also, that one of the major responsibilities is the vigorous promotion of Christianity among the young people who are under the guidance of our faithful leaders.

There has been a definite upsurge in attendance in our Residences during this last year, from small children who are far distant from public school facilities, to the graduating group of boys and girls who have set their sights on a higher education and know that Residence life under the Church helps them reach their goal.

Our larger numbers have called for higher expenditures on repairs and equipment and coupled with this is the income from board which has offset much of our invested capital this year.

Satisfactory reports have come from all our Boarding Schools and School Homes and we pay tribute to the faithful service of our associate workers who are in charge of them.

The communities where we serve are enriched by the presence of these young people in social and Church activities. Care has been taken by our workers to relate them to the Church, until today we find many who had their first experience of Church attendance while in a School Home who are now leaders and workers in the local churches where they live.

The Family

Our large family, 30 this year—15 boys and 15 girls—have been well and happy. As in former years we have a family of several nationalities; European, Syrian, French, English, Canadian, also

George and Luba, cousins, who are Russian. When I look into the faces of the children, I am reminded of the words of the parable in St. Luke about the sower and the seed—"Some fell on good ground." I know from experience that some of the seed sown at Lachine Children's Home in former years did fall on good ground, because this year many of the former students have paid us a visit, each one anxious to pay tribute to former workers in the Home and expressing their Christian faith. It was good to hear and see them.

The children at the Home attend Church, Sunday School and Mission Band regularly. Our morning devotions consist of Scripture Reading, memorization of Scripture and singing. It is a joy to hear them sing and to hear them quote chapters of Scripture, instead of just a few verses. This year they sent a gift out of their spending money, to the Leper children of Nigeria. They were thrilled to get a letter of thanks, and now look forward to other letters from Africa.

Visitors

Three C.G.I.T. Groups from Montreal held their meetings at the Home, giving our girls a glimpse into the opportunities awaiting them when they are a little older. We also had the pleasure of entertaining the Grace United Church W.M.S. at its annual Thankoffering meeting. The children, too, had a very thrilling experience when Miss Renuka Mukerji, a national worker from India, visited the Home wearing a very elaborate sari—her Sunday sari. The children enjoyed a sleigh ride through the kindness of Strathmore W.M.S. They also made their annual visit to the circus through the generosity of the Rotary and Shriners. For many of the little ones it was their first circus and provided many thrills.

"WHAT'S MORE FUN THAN A PICNIC!"

Since the Study Book this year had to do with Home Missions we had many inquiries about our work at Lachine, and sent replies all over Canada. As a result the children received many gifts, crayons, books, paints, etc., which they used to good purpose, several of them being clever at Art.

School Work and Camp

The progress at school has been very promising, each child receiving a good report, Vivian our ten-year-old being first in her Grade. We keep in touch with the principal and teachers through the Home and School Association and, much to the delight of the children, Miss Staples and I attend their meetings as "parents." Several of them took part in the Christmas concert and did their parts well.

A number of the children attended camp in the Laurentians again this year and were very proud of the crests they won for being good campers and swimmers.

First Impressions

I arrived in the Lachine Home late one summer night and, after enjoying a cup of tea with two very friendly staff members, I was shown to my room. I quickly crossed to the window—something new, yes, but not a brick wall, a beautiful grassy park which extended on and on, with large shady trees and paths lit by blue fluorescent moonlight. Nothing had prepared me for this scene of peace and beauty and it gave to me one of my loveliest "first impressions."

Other first impressions concerned sounds with which I must become familiar—the deafening "zoom" of planes taking off by the moment it seemed, from nearby Dorval and coming unerringly to cross within a hairbreadth of our flat roof. I also discovered that when the C.P.R. and C.N.R. lines run a few blocks on either side of the house and vie with each other as to which can carry the most numerous trains at the greatest speed, the romance of the long drawn whistle heard sometimes at twilight from a distance of fifteen miles, is quite shattered.

Then the "cop-a-clop-a-clop" of the "Chips" man's horse as he passed on the street below, mingled indistinguishably through my dreams at night with the "tock-a-tock-a-tock" of the alarm clock on my table. Another new sound was the deep whistle of the boats as they plied busily up and down through the nearby locks.

But, strange as it may seem, in about a week's time the railways and airlines seemed to have cut down immensely in their traffic. I seldom even heard old Dobbin as he passed with his nice little wagon of potato chips, and the boat whistles became a pleasant and accustomed sound.

Those summer days brought friendly callers from our Church family who drove another staff member and me on a most interesting sight-seeing tour around our city of Lachine and even out to view the historic Lachine rapids. The children were away on holiday during this time and I enjoyed the peace and quiet of a real home, a home built safely for a large family of children, so securely that even the worst summer storms did not cause a tremor in its stout walls.

In due time came the transition from a quiet house to a house full of gay children, home from camp and ready to begin the school year. The impressions of those first school days have mostly to do with new faces, and with each new face a bag of clothing which must be marked with the owner's name and afterwards stowed away in the correct place. Alas for me, if the name was not on each unfamiliar garment and afterwards not stowed away in the correct place, or if I confused Carol and Heather, putting their garments in the wrong compartments! My thanks go to a most cooperative matron for helping to untangle the confusion that sometimes resulted.

An All-round Education

Our girls take an active part in Church groups. They all attend Sunday School and Church services. The teenage girls belong to the Young People's Union and help with the programs at their weekly meetings, helping in the devotional, taking part in debates and other forms of entertainment. The younger girls belong to the Junior Choir and are always happy when their leader, Mrs. Campbell, asks them to sing at special meetings and services.

In school activities the senior girls were in the curling bonspiel and they all enjoy skating. In the June Grade Twelve graduation one of our girls was asked to give the valedictory address for her class. The four we have in the elementary grades belong to the 4-H Sewing Club and made a very good showing in the display of sewing on Achievement Day.

In September we joined with the Boys' Home for a corn roast and around the bonfire quantities of corn and marshmallows were enjoyed. In October the United Church Young People's group had their Hallowe'en party at the Home. The girls decorated the rooms to suit the occasion and the leaders of the group planned an exciting evening of games and entertainment. Forty young people were present.

We held our annual Christmas party a week before the students left for their holidays, when the boys from the Boys' Home again joined in with us. The young people had drawn names for an exchange of gifts and after dinner all eyes were turned towards the gaily decorated Christmas tree and the one chosen as "Santa Claus" presented the gifts. Games and dancing made a happy evening for the young folk.

I try to make the girls realize the importance of study and education and make them aware of the splendid opportunities there are for young people of today if they have the necessary educational background.

We are always happy to welcome the members of the Mothers' Club when they meet at the Home one afternoon each month. There is ample room in our large and pleasant dining-room to set up quilting frames and they enjoy working and visiting together.

Progress

When school opened in January 1955, after the Christmas holidays, we had twelve boys in the residence. They skated, played hockey, and some boys entered the collegiate curling bonspiel and won some prizes.

I was very glad all the boys took advantage of the opportunity of going to Winnipeg when the collegiate teaching staff arranged for a special bus to take the students on a tour through some of Winnipeg's industrial buildings.

One of our boys took a leading part in a play put on by the Young People's Organization. Their efforts were so successful they were asked to put it on in several of the nearby villages and the money raised was donated to the new hospital. The Young People's Organization is undenominational, though they hold their weekly meetings in the United Church. Rev. Mr. Reid had the young people take charge of the church service on one Sunday evening. On Hallowe'en they had a very successful party which was held at the girls' residence. All our older boys were there and reported a wonderful time.

In the spring two nurses from the Health Department in Winnipeg called at the residence and asked to be shown through the building. When we came to the boys' dormitories, I told them I hoped to have new linoleum for the floor before school opening in the fall, and then the head nurse said there was just one other improvement she would like to suggest. It was to have a bedside table for each boy to keep his personal things in. So, when the hospital were selling their furniture, I secured ten of their bedside tables, bought some ivory paint and let the boys choose their own tables and paint them themselves. They were like busy bees until the last table was painted and proudly displayed at each bedside.

During the summer there was the usual house-cleaning to be done, also canning, pickling, painting, etc. I had the walls of three bedrooms painted and woodwork varnished or painted and we painted the floors ourselves.

Good Students

School opened September 2nd, with eighteen boys registered. However, one small boy was too homesick to stay and I had to contact his mother who came and took him home. We started off the fall term with a corn roast in September for the girls and boys of the residences, on the grounds of the boys' residence. The boys first repaired our outdoor table and benches, and made seats of parts of the trunk of the large tree we had cut down in the summer. The delicious corn was provided from the girls' home garden, and after supper, marshmallows were toasted on the bonfire. The young folk finished up the party by playing baseball.

I think we have the most studious group of boys this term of any group since I came to Teulon. They really settle down to studying and seem to enjoy studying, and the results in the Christmas examinations showed the results of their hard work. Two grade 9 boys made 85 and 75 percent.

January, 1955, started with 23 girls in our home. However, by May 30th, five girls had left us for various reasons, two students of the Commercial Class graduated and three girls left to live with relatives that had moved into town. Our girls were deeply interested in Church activities, choir, C.C.I.T., and Young People's Union. Five of the girls united with the Church on Palm Sunday. Curling, basketball and field sports in the high-school activities provided wholesome sport for those who were athletically minded.

Our Easter recess was saddened by the passing of one of our Japanese daughters, Toshi Shimamoto, who at that time was a student nurse in Moose Jaw Union Hospital.

June came along with the anticipation of examinations and summer holidays. The Grade 12 graduating exercises at the high school was a memorable day when seven of our girls, looking lovely in their formal gowns, graduated. Shirley Shinohara was one of the graduates and now is in training in the new Galt Hospital in Lethbridge, as is Sharon Fay; three other girls are student nurses in Moose Jaw hospital, and two entered the bank doing clerical work.

Each year at the end of June, we feel that there could not be any finer group of girls, but by Christmas the following term, we realize our new group is equally fine.

We started our September term with 22 girls in residence. However, two girls left us to return home as they were homesick. Our last daughter of the Japanese family hopes to leave for Saskatoon to enter practical nursing training at the Vocational School. This is a nine months' course and if Joan is successful in passing her examinations, she will be prepared to care for herself.

The Japanese Family

You can see that our work with the Japanese family here is just about completed and I am sure that the Woman's Missionary Society are proud of this family; they have grown up and taken their place in the world in various positions doing excellent work. I believe the W.M.S. has made history in Assiniboia in the years from 1942 to 1956 in which they have loved and educated these children, nurturing them to womanhood in a home where Christian love and family spirit have been the first thoughts of those who cared for them through the years. What a privilege it has been for women to serve and labor with young people for the Glory of God.

As Christmas approached, our time was very busy preparing for Christmas and our annual party which was held on December 14th. This included a turkey dinner with all the trimmings, singing of carols, games and dancing following. Of course there was a Christmas tree laden with gifts for all.

The Girls at School

We have two fine girls, both United Church members, taking their Grade XII who will graduate this June. Both are planning to go to Teachers' College. We have four in Grade XI, one, the Chinese, in Grade X and two in Grade IX—our cook's daughter and the little Indian girl, Grace Shingoose, from the Cote Reserve at Kamsack. The girls all did very well in the June exams.

Our devotions, daily and weekly, are conducted much the same as in former years. Our weekly discussions sometimes have to do with what our Church is doing through Missions in Canada and abroad.

Fun, Too

We had our wiener roast picnic the first part of June in one of the beauty spots near by—by the Saskatchewan River. We entertained the collegiate staff and wives, also our minister and Mrs. Henderson. This is a time of relaxation and enjoyment and we have always been blessed with a beautiful day. We also had our usual Christmas dinner, with tree, carols, and Santa, with the same guests as for our picnic. We are planning again for our World Day of Prayer in the Home, when we used the prepared leaflet for youth. The girls invite others in for the service.

I feel our low enrollment in the Home—eleven girls—for this term can largely be attributed to the shortage of cash, which has been felt keenly in places all over the west, except for civil servants, or similar ones on salary.

We advertised with little expense, through the Presbyteries of our United Church of Canada, which Mr. Henderson and I still think is a good plan, as it covers the student fields.

At Church

We enjoy our new church so near by. I have a dozen little pre-school people in my Sunday School class, (the organist helps); they are dear and interesting. I find the work gratifying and I love to do it. Our girls attend two different classes in the Sunday School; several sing in the church choir. My other activities outside the Home are the W.M.S., where I am first Vice-President, also, the "Home and School" Association, where I am room mother for Grade XII, also a weekly Bible study in the manse.

My Christmas mail brought many letters from former graduates, some teaching, some nursing, several married raising little families with a high standard of Christian homes, one from a nurse in Germany working in a R.C.A.F. hospital. She graduated here in June, 1949, then went in training at Prince Rupert and decided last May to take a trip back to her father's native land, Scotland, and now is seeing Europe in her spare time and says she often thinks of the beginning she had at our School Home. All these letters are a joy to get and we know that at least some of the seed fell on good ground.

Every Boy Passed

A happy term was spent in the Boys' Home. Every boy passed his grade, most of them high and three with honors.

We have missed out on Scouts due to lack of leadership but now they have started again. The boys have enjoyed the Alberta Motor Association very much. They patrol the traffic at noon hour and patrol the bus to and from school. They have enjoyed several evenings of entertainment.

In the fall there were educational films shown and doughnuts and pop provided, as much as they cared for and that was no small amount.

Before Christmas they were entertained at a banquet where fifty persons were seated. The prominent men of Bonnyville gave short talks and the boys presented a desk lamp to their leader for his fine work.

Nearly everyone had a birthday during the term and each one is very exciting. Then we ended the year with a wonderful Christmas dinner—several parents as guests, also a W.M.S. nurse, the school principal, the chief of police and some of our untiring Church workers. Everyone enjoyed carol singing until Santa Claus arrived to hand the gifts out with a bag of candy and nuts for each one.

One of our boys is spending his fifth year in the Home.

At the end of our school term girls and boys had a picnic on the beach which will be remembered by all.

Busy Girls

Our home was filled to capacity in January, 1955, with eighteen girls in residence. When February came bringing Valentine's Day we had a wonderful party, and the teenagers brought their friends. March was a very busy month. We were given permission to have the halls, stairway and doors, also the dining-room re-painted. The teenagers helped to choose the colors and our Home is now brighter by far.

Our family here like to sing and act, so we had a choir and dramatic club and in aid of St. John's United Church, Bonnyville, we put on a very successful pre-Easter concert and were able to give $35.00 to the Church Choir Gown Fund. One teenager and myself stayed to help out in the choir on Easter Sunday. During a preaching mission conducted by Rev. Dr. Johnston of St. Stephen's College, Edmonton, the Junior choir sang special numbers on four separate nights of the Mission. One outstanding evening was when Dr. Johnston was our dinner guest, bringing his violin and we later had a wonderful sing-song. Dr. Johnston asked each child what she liked best to sing, and then he would play the request number on his violin.

Seven of the teenagers and myself sang in the church choir till the end of June. We also attended church and Sunday School regularly, missing only one Sunday in October. Have you ever got at least seventeen girls from 6 to 16 up, given them a good breakfast, combed and braided nine wee girls' long hair and had them all neat and trim and ready to leave at 9.30 a.m. for Sunday School? I have and it is fun. As soon as the girls left I would rush and get potatoes ready, put roast in the oven, make special Sunday dessert, tidy up kitchen and dining-room, wash, grab my hat, gloves and precious Bible and Hymnary and run to catch the trip to church at 10.45 a.m. Never was so much accomplished in one and one-quarter hours!

In June, we had a combined picnic with the matron and boys from the W.M.S. Boys' Home. We left at 9.30 a.m. for Cold Lake, where we had all the games, swimming, treats, etc., that goes with a picnic. June came all too soon for me and for a great many of the girls, also. The school report cards would have made any parent proud, each graduate student passed and the high school girls, also. One girl in particular passed Grade X with H in all subjects. One of my high school girls is a very talented artist and I am certain Leona will do well in this field. Leona is taking Grade X this year and I am hoping she will go on to Grade XII. She is a Metis girl and oh, so talented!

September and some old and some new faces. I could write a book about these children—not so many teenagers now, but some wee tots that one wonders if they are not too young to be away from their mothers, yet all school age and really doing good work.

October and Hallowe'en and we had a great time, the children enjoying to the fullest the matron ducking for apples, with teeth that just wouldn't bite under water! And now, of course, some snow and more snow, and more snow, and wee bairns all bundled up to keep Jack Frost out. More practising for Christmas, singing the beautiful carols, teaching children who didn't know one carol, not even "Silent Night". Just doesn't seem possible that in this Christian Canada of ours that there are children who have never seen a Christmas tree, never lisped "Silent Night" or "Away in a Manger" but it is true.

ON COMMUNITY MISSIONS EAST

THE FOREWORD

The United Church of Canada has strategic locations now in Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, Sydney, and many other places from which to develop a creative downtown city work. We must join forces with other departments in order that by common effort this whole field of evangelism may be occupied in line with a program of work and witness that will result in the rebirth of downtown inter-city areas.

At a recent conference of city workers the downtown was shown as an open frontier area—just as great as the Yukon. People are finding a new way of life. There are three distinct districts: (1) The slum areas, near the plants that have recently occupied the area; (2) The ethnic groups of working-class people, who have homes there because they have recently come to Canada and have sought low rents; (3) The boarding and rooming-house invasion.

In these areas our workers must speak the language of the people and meet the basic needs. We marvel even as we think of our changing city areas and realize the things that have been happening out of the dynamics of our Christian faith, through social action groups seeking to translate the life of Christ.

From every area in Canada where our Society is maintaining Church Extension work through the appointment of workers, appreciation is being expressed for the services rendered.

The Church of All Nations in Montreal celebrated its 25th Anniversary. Great changes have taken place in the quarter of a century and from this church has gone out leadership into local congregations and into the ministry.

Looking at our Home Mission program across Canada, one conclusion at least must be drawn. The Home Mission enterprise cannot afford the luxury of concentrating on any single one of its problems nor on any few of them. However urgent one problem may appear, there is an essential inter-relation among them all and the total task must be approached as a whole.

THE STORY

IN NEWFOUNDLAND CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS STELLA A. BURRY

Community Worker, Community Centre, St. John's, Newfoundland

Welfare Service

Throughout the fall and winter months material assistance to the widows, sick and unemployed is a necessary part of Christian friendship. Over 100 families look to us for such, but this does not complete our effort to show forth the love of Christ. Some of these families need more than grocery, coal and clothing gifts.

I well remember sitting last winter in a little "Front Room" talking first with the mother alone, then the father alone and afterwards with both. Drink was the problem. One of the joys of the year was the satisfaction that I had been used to help that home situation and that the family is closer to the Church than before. At the time of writing, we are endeavouring to tie another family to the Church because of the same need.

"To reach the unreached" remains ever the challenge of the city workers, both ministerial and lay. A boy of 11 years, from a family reported by the school principal as in need of clothing, told me he had never been to Sunday School. For years his family, a very large one, lived close to one of our churches, but, because of indifference as well as clothing difficulties, very few of the family have ever belonged to the church of their baptism in a real sense. The impact of Christianity on indifferent homes must be considered a very necessary part of the Church's Witness as well as her high joy and privilege.

Later in the year we were again privileged to help in the Mission for Workers in connection with the National Evangelistic Mission. The meetings for Sunday School workers and for executives of women's organizations were very heart searching and inspirational, judging from the attendance, the spirit of the meetings, the participation therein and the comments afterwards.

Hostel Tasks

Community tasks and hostel tasks fill a large part of my time in summer. Teaching religion to young people preparing themselves through a six-weeks' course for teaching in small United Church day schools in our outports is an important ministry, five periods a week. For some discussions the ministers available in the city at the time gladly lend a hand. We build our course on the basis of what we feel these young people need.

Without any effort at publicity, our hostel keeps full of girls. The total number for the year, including transient women and girls, runs pretty well toward the hundred mark.

Hospitality to students and the presenting of the Church's claim for full time service to young women particularly, is annually a consideration of our Special Projects Committee of our Community Centre organization. The House is well used—every room of it.

The Women's Fellowship of Service of our Centre meets regularly, continuing their weekly services of community visiting and sewing and their missionary effort for the W.M.S., and for our camp. Their Credit Union still functions with much benefit to them.

The Women's Cooperative Committee reviews its hospital visitation plan a couple of times a year. It has had a gift of $1,000.00 from an unknown Newfoundland woman, who not able to offer herself for full time service in her youth wants some Newfoundland girl to have a bit of help toward preparing herself for the same, from this sum she has been accumulating for years. This is one of the nicest things that has happened and we are using some of the gift this year.

The Outreach of New Work

I feel a little like "Exhibit A", knowing that I am rather unique, by being employed by both the Woman's Missionary Society and the Board of Christian Education. One of the practical results is that I have to make two annual reports instead of one! I think my job is also unique in that I am given the responsibility of promoting, both girls' and boys' work, along with the whole Christian Education program. I had, of course, tried to promote all phases of Christian Education work as I had visited charges in the Presbytery, but to be faced with conference promotion of Explorer, Tyro, Sigma-C, Hi-C, Y.P.U., to say nothing of adult work and Sunday School promotion and leadership education, continues to fill me with misgivings. I realize only too well that I do not possess the knowledge to be equally helpful in all these areas of Christian Education.

The last week in September, I attended a girls leaders' conference at Grand Falls. It was unique for Newfoundland, in that it was for Anglican and United Church leaders - of Little Helpers, Junior Auxiliary, Girls' Auxiliary, Mission Bands, Explorers, C.G.I.T. Sharing in the leadership were the two newly-appointed Anglican youth workers for Newfoundland Diocese. We all agreed that it was good to come together and discuss common aims and problems.

During October I visited three fall presbytery meetings: Twillingate, which met at Gambo; Carbonear, meeting at Hant's Harbour, and St. John's, which met at Topsail. At each of these I was given an opportunity to speak about Christian Education. I attended the Mission to Ministers which was held in St. John's Presbytery. During October, also, our C.G.I.T. Committee met at Bay Roberts and I took services on the Clarke's Beach Thanksgiving Sunday. I attended the Mission to Ministers which was held in St. John's Presbytery. It would have been difficult to attend all these meetings had I not had a car, for I drove to most of them. The Christian Education Committee also met the last week in October.

The highlight of November was the visit of Rev. W. N. Blackmore to Newfoundland on behalf of boys' work. I had the task of arranging his itinerary, after conferring with the Christian Education Committee. As a direct result of his visit several new Tyro and Sigma-C groups have been started.

Along with these trips there was the task of setting up an office, ordering Christian Education supplies and literature and finding a suitable person to act as a half-time office secretary.

We now send out C.G.I.T. field letters to 124 leaders and by the time we include on our mailing list, secretaries of affiliated C.G.I.T., Presbytery C.E. Conveners, members of the C.G.I.T. committee, etc., we send out 165 letters each mailing. Four of these field letters were sent from September to December. We also sent two Explorer field letters—about 50 or 60 at a mailing. We have communicated a couple of times with Tyro and Sigma-C leaders as well. Then there is considerable correspondence with C.G.I.T. leaders and other mid-week leaders, who write in for supplies, or suggestions—each letter must be dealt with carefully.

During December, we were busy sending out vesper services for the National C.G.I.T. Vesper Service. Over 80 groups ordered these.

Back From Furlough

There have been a few highlights, even though I have been back only four months. To begin with, Ruth Tillman and I arrived via the S.S. Nova Scotia, making it the first time I had sailed through the "Narrows" into the harbour of St. John's. Before starting to my own field with the W.M.S. car, I had an opportunity to meet the available members of the Christian Education Committee of the Conference, for a "briefing" on the developments in Christian Education during our absence.

Getting to my field meant driving the car to Clarendville, the southern terminal of "car ferry," which is a series of flat cars making up a special train. This ferry runs between Clarendville and Gander during the summer and fall months, thus bridging the only gap of road which crossed the island.

I just had time to say hello to a few folk and find a place to stay before Presbytery met at Dark Cove, Gambo. Then I helped with a Sunday School Teachers' Conference at Lewisporte. Rev. Mr. Naboth and Mrs. Winsor and the staff of teachers from the two Sunday Schools in the town were most enthusiastic and eager for new ideas for telling the old "good news". This enthusiasm was evident when I met with the Rev. W. N. Blackmore later, when he worked with a group of prospective leaders for boys' work. At the writing of this report, Lewisporte now has a complete program of Church-centred youth work, which augurs well for its future leadership.

In the very stormy months of November and part of December, I visited the Little Bay Islands and Pilleys' Island fields. I met the C.G.I.T., the Sunday School teachers and the Woman's Associations wherever they were formed, and encouraged the former and latter to do the Mission study.

A Typical Field

The Pilley's Island field is typical of a number in Newfoundland which are changing in the same direction. Pilley's Island is the older settlement, once a prosperous mining town, the senior preaching place on the field. Now people are moving into the pretty little places in the bays on the mainland of Newfoundland, where there will be possibilities of winter and summer travel. Such a place is Robert's Arm. At last there are enough C.G.I.T. girls there to start a group. We reorganized the W.A., starting them off with the Mission study idea. A Mission Band was started, and the Sunday School given a little encouragement to start again. After visiting the seven places on the two fields, the minister and I finished at Wellman's Cove, which for some reason had been missed before.

On my way in to Gander, I was able to help a new group practise music for the Vesper Service, another group with their processional, while I worshipped with two other groups when the service was presented in local churches.

Highlights of the Year

The year slips by, marked by certain highlights . . . The Week of Prayer, supported as usual by the faithful nucleus, Christian Youth Week when all groups from the Juniors up take part in a service of worship; Lent with its Church Membership class; Good Friday with its service of Remembrance for the Children; Mother's Day when the babies are baptized; July first with the Sunday School Picnic which is no longer the great occasion of yore . . . Most of us live on wheels and a day in the country is commonplace.

July brings camp. Eighty-five children enjoyed New Campbellton and 1955 was a good summer for camping. Rally Day brings the children back after the summer and one looks amazed at the new growth each has gained . . . Hallowe'en parties when silly costumes and ugly faces become very tiresome . . . and then it is Christmas and we wonder if this year we can keep Santa out of our celebrations and put the Holy Family in.

The summer break seems to separate the year in church work rather than the Christmas and New Year season. The groups change so from spring to fall. My eight eleven-year old Tyro boys leave me in June and in their place, I see six little nine-year-olds arriving in September eager to merit their Togs and earn their Flashes. Junior boys are a wonderful creation. Ours held a bean supper to earn money and with the help of several mothers, they served beans and pie and tea as seriously as if it was all a U.N. matter; those washing dishes still brag about the whiteness of their hands! In September those boys turning twelve went on into Sigma-C and have begun another phase of their development. Likewise Explorer girls graduate into C.G.I.T. In June the four youth groups held a joint meeting when each presented something of their year's program to an appreciative audience of parents and friends and awards were presented those who had earned them.

Between and around these special events are the calls in homes and hospitals, the week to week meetings, the struggle to find time for reading and personal spiritual nurture, the joy of sharing books and ideas with kindred spirits and the relief of talking out frustrations and problems with understanding souls.

Meeting the Immigrants

My work falls naturally into two divisions—work at the Port and service in the congregation at Brunswick Street United Church. One might well say that the world comes to our door every time a boat unloads its precious cargo of passengers seeking a new home in a strange land. 159 such boats landed at Halifax in 1955. This averages more than one boat every three days. However, instead of coming one at a time, they come in bunches like bananas. Sometimes there will be three in one day, and perhaps another will arrive from New York to take our Canadian soldiers and their families for two-years service in Germany, people going back to Finland for their health, people going back to visit their aged parents, and even the occasional person going home because he had believed the tall tales about wonderful jobs and wonderful homes for everybody in Canada. People, people, everywhere you look, people, coming and going but both needing reassurance, a friendly handclasp, or practical assistance.

I was so glad to meet Lydia of Thyatira this year. She was named for Lydia, the seller of purple, the first woman convert in Europe. She was born in the same town. She helped me by interpreting for a girl who had come over on the United States Escapee Plan and was looking to the Canadian Council of Churches for help. I was charmed to meet the private secretary of the Indian Embassy at Ottawa, and his family, and to be of assistance to them. I have much enjoyment in correspondence with a Pakistan family who have secured work in Hamilton. Their children are going to our United Church Sunday School and two of the boys attended All People's Camp this last summer. One of the stories that moved me most, however, is the one about the Dutch man who received a Gospel at the Church booth. Carelessly he slipped it into his suitcase and thought no more about it. On reaching his destination the only living accommodation he could find was a lonely attic room. The people below him were unkind to him. Discouraged, he made up his mind to go back to Holland. He began to pack his suitcase when he discovered the forgotten Gospel. Sitting down on the bed he started reading it. He became absorbed in it and he read on and on. Then he looked up, his whole outlook on life changed. One of the first things he did was to go down and tell the people downstairs what he had found. They, too, became changed.

Service in the Congregation

There are many signs of spiritual growth in the work of the congregation. All organizations report progress: The Baby Band, Explorers, Sunday School, Junior Congregation and Women's Groups. The placing of World Friendship Books in the schools to be read by teachers to the pupils has for this second year proven a very worthwhile project.

A Faithful Mothers' Group

For the most part the work went on encouragingly, with the different classes well attended, the bigger girls doing their best and willing to help out in the Sunday School each Sunday.

The Mothers' Group still stands out as a faithful and appreciative group, meeting every Wednesday night, when the devotional, hand-work and social period is much enjoyed by all. In February we had a Valentine Supper and slides. On this night one of the ladies from town kindly offered to come with her projector and showed us some very interesting slides of a trip she had been on during the summer. This was much enjoyed by the mothers and guests and very much appreciated.

In September we suffered the loss of one of our long standing and best members.

I am glad to report a successful Fall Tea which was well patronized as we were favoured with a lovely day.

Our weekday classes with the children, as well as the Vacation School, has been well attended, ending with our usual picnic.

This fall the W.M.S. from town held their Thankoffering meeting at the Mission, when some of the Mission girls gave two exercises and sang a Thanksgiving chorus.

Last but not least, December brings our Christmas activities which is an exciting time. We receive help from White Gift Services at this time, which is most appreciated.

One of the mothers of the locality has turned her home into a place for old ladies, during the past winter, caring for four and the atmosphere on visiting that home shows that they are happy and well cared for.

I would like to close my report with this little verse:

When you hear of good in people, tell it,
 When you hear a tale of evil—quell it;
 Let the goodness have the light,
 Put the evil out of sight.
 Make the world we live in bright
 Like to Heaven above.

Progress

All the groups seem to be in a healthy condition. In the fall the intermediate and senior boys' groups presented a problem as the one leader available could not handle both. At last we were able to arrange with Community House to have the boys meet in Community House as a United Mission group with their own leader, and the superintendent of Community House promised to give the leader some help. It has worked out fairly well.

C.G.I.T. continues to be difficult as I have no leader to help and have to take both intermediates and seniors in one group. I considered dropping it for a while but the girls begged to have it carried on.

When our small W.M.S. Auxiliary decided last year that they would rather be an affiliated group, it may have looked as if we were taking a backward step, but they have had one of their best years yet, and have raised more money for the W.M.S. than ever before. They also made a contribution to the Mission, and sent a Christmas basket to a needy family.

The Explorers are in a flourishing condition as we secured a volunteer leader from St. Andrew's Church, and we now have two large groups of eager girls. A Negro mother is helping with the junior boys' group, and we feel we are accomplishing something with them. The Vacation School conducted by the Caravaners was a very fine thing for the whole district. There was a large enrollment and about eighty children attended regularly for the ten sessions.

We have a better staff of teachers in Sunday School this year, and consequently are accomplishing more. Some of the children do not attend as regularly as they might, but considering the homes they come from, it is a wonder they come at all. Then we have quite a few who have almost perfect attendance year after year.

The camp at New Campbellton function as usual this year. We were fortunate in securing a young minister as director for the boys' camp, and Miss Jardine directed the C.G.I.T. camp. I took charge of the junior girls' camp. These are run as separate camps for ten days each, so the camp is open for the full month. Miss Arthur, a Negro teacher of home economics, from Sydney, came to the camp as cook, and fitted in very nicely. She would have done equally well as assistant leader in the girls' camp, but we needed a cook and she was willing. The other leaders liked her.

At present Miss Arthur has charge of the kindergarten department of our Sunday School at the Mission, and is doing good work. She is one of the girls who came up through the Mission, linked up with The United Church of Canada, and now is willing to help others as she once was helped.

Interesting Contacts

A few days ago one of my small boys, who comes for Story Hour, and has come each day to see if it's "The Day" came in for a chat. He sat here in my office telling me his school-boy joys and sorrows, when suddenly he spread out his school book on my desk and asked me if he could do his homework, and would I help him, saying, "Your office is such a quiet, pretty place, and I like it here."

Now I should mention that our wonderful Women's Union, did just that—made my office a "pretty" place, with new paint, new floor covering, new drapes and above all a new lamp, all artistically done. It is not only as my boy suggested a "pretty" place, it is a very comfortable place as well.

The year has been filled with just everything; on Sundays our building is a church, with services at 9, 11, and 7, and Sunday School in the afternoon. The rest of the week the church becomes a badminton court or a shuffle board floor, a bowling alley and a theatre, and each school day at noon about sixty children use it as a dining room, where a good substantial lunch is cooked and served by two of our women to children who, for one reason or another, require this help. Again it is a meeting place for Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Women's Club and Y.P.U. social evenings, while the rest of the house is used for handcraft groups, and Lorne School Gymnasium gets the basket ball and tumbling teams. This year, also, we have an A.A. group meeting here. The basement is noisy each afternoon and evening with floor hockey, archery and ball games, and the games' room looks after the left-overs, with ping-pong, table hockey, etc., and upstairs the workshop with its buzzing saws and often an orchestra, or would-be players rehearse in another room, but all is only interesting as people are interesting. How thrilling each new contact may become.

St. Columba sent four boys and a girl to Cedar Lodge, Christian Education Camp again this year, several boys to Scout camp and 135 mothers and children to Camp Macauley. Everyone enjoyed and benefited from the camp experience, and was thankful to be away from the heat of Montreal in July.

Christmas in the W.M.S.

Speaking of Christmas, what fun it was, so many willing helpers, such a good wholesome spirit, such real cheer. Our W.M.S. had a party this year, with tree, Christmas stockings and Santa Claus, with the minister in that role, ending with a worship service of the Christmas Story and carols, followed by fruit cake, ice cream and tea. Every one went home with a happy heart. Our W.M.S. is not just a missionary society, it is I think, a group of women who find fellowship and spiritual nourishment working together. We do all the usual things, study programs on India, films, speakers, worship and social times, and raise money, but above and far outreaching all of this is that intangible thing which cannot just be named.

The Cause of the Stranger

There are always the strangers with us, to be visited and befriended in the first difficult year of life on a new continent, as they try to adjust themselves to so many new things. Since we all know that all men are the same in the sight of God and should be so in the sight of man, again we place the cause of the stranger within the gates of Canada before the attention of fellow Christians everywhere.

It is of ever new interest to watch the faces of the people coming down the gangplank of a ship. The eyes of European youth as they pass by are full of hope and confidence that by their skills and young strength they will be successful in this new land. In some eyes, however, there seem to hover some anxious questions, as if asking, how about the tomorrow? What has the future here in store for us? Such eyes belong usually to women, mothers of half grown children as for their sakes they have undertaken the long journey, made a new beginning.

It was only too evident in the spring months that the immigration stream to Canada was diminishing month by month, showing a drastic decline in the numbers entering. According to some statistics issued by the Ministry of Immigration in Ottawa, it was expected that the number of newcomers for the year 1955 would be the lowest yet since the year 1952. The reason for the drastic drop in numbers was pointed out to be found in the fact that some of the countries, such as Great Britain, were enjoying a high level of employment and prosperity. The same reason has to do with the decline in numbers of immigrants from the European countries. According to the accounts of newcomers, work there was plentiful, wages higher and people had a greater sense of security. Whereas employment conditions in Canada, the past winter, were not good and hence didn't attract immigrants. It will take time to correct the situation.

During the first seven months of the year 1955 your missionary has met 34 boats at the port of Montreal, 12 at the port in Quebec City and 94 special trains from Halifax and Quebec City at Central Station and Windsor Station in Montreal. Settlers and their families were assisted when they made new train connections. The children received small toys, donated by W.M.S. auxiliaries and Mission Bands.

At the Church of All Nations the Sunday School met as usual and the Slavic Woman's Club carried on their weekly meetings, consisting of worship, fellowship, recreation and some work projects.

Again this year the Community Friendship Secretary of the Montreal Presbyterial, Mrs. Beauchamp, kindly arranged that W.M.S. Auxiliaries of some of the United Churches visit us, usually at one meeting of the month. They put on an attractive program, which was much enjoyed by the women.

At the Port

To say one has met 104 ships and trains may not mean much—but when one thinks of newcomers, old and young, without English and with, carrying and searching for suitcases, etc., it becomes more personal.

One day in September 1,100 passengers from Europe walked down the gangplank of the Seven Seas and were in Canada. After being at the freight shed from eight till eleven-thirty, I accompanied a young German mother to the C.P.R. station en route to Penticton, B.C. Her husband had arrived in February. She spent the day in the Nursery where she could bath the baby, heat the milk, and do the necessary washing. Several times that day she cried quietly into Angelica's neck as "she went forward not knowing the future."

At four p.m., the Empress of Scotland docked at the pier in front of the Seven Seas. Her passengers were mostly tourists returning and visitors from the British Isles, including several teachers and nurses coming to relieve Canada's shortage. At seven-ten p.m., a boat train from Halifax brought passengers from the Sibajak to the Central Station, and at seven-thirty the C.P.R. boat train from the Arosa Kulm in Quebec arrived in Windsor Station. Some 650 "Jehovah's Witnesses" overflowed the station, all wearing Convention badges. At nine-twenty I helped Angelica and her mother aboard the Western train. Her thanks were profuse for the Church which had assisted her. Another day! The numerous questions answered, babies held, suitcases sought, people escorted to buses or to buy food can't be tabulated, but heartfelt thanks were many.

Church Work Too

Sunday School and the Slavic Women's Club were the legacies I found. Soon the Japanese minister asked if the children might attend Sunday School, so each Sunday morning a school bus brings the bright-eyed smiling children. The Nisei congregation provides a Junior teacher. Christmas was a very happy occasion, not for its tinsel, its crowds, nor its gifts, but because with careful preparation we celebrated God's great gift to man. The children "willingly shared" their White Gift for the missionary work of our Church ($35.50). There have been no children's mid-week groups in the church for some time. The Slavic Women's Club meets weekly—a group of older women—faithful and hard working. Slides and films are used to interpret church, community and country to them. Visiting of sick and shut-ins is always with us.

The New Year compels us to look forward—three hundred and sixty-six tomorrows. No vision of ours can pierce these tomorrows. It is a mistake to depreciate the past but a greater mistake to be unmindful of the future.

Hospital Happenings

Things are really happening in the hospital world of Montreal. This year, the new Montreal General Hospital with its nineteen floors, splendidly equipped and modern in every detail, opened in May and in December the $5,000,000 new wing of the Royal Victoria was opened. This new wing provides space for 274 additional beds and many other departments, and added to the present capacity of the hospital, will provide a total of about 850 beds and the eventual capacity will be close to 1,000 beds. Additions have been made to many other hospitals also and during 1956 several more hospitals will add new wings. One of our large homes for elderly citizens built a new infirmary this year at a cost of $88,000 with 66 beds for women patients, thus increasing infirmary space in the old building for more men. The number of men and women in this home at the present time is 208. These hospitals alone could take up the full time of your worker but besides these there are several other Protestant hospitals to be visited and sometimes calls come from Roman Catholic and Jewish hospitals.

Twenty-one W.M.S. groups are actively participating in the visitation in twenty convalescent homes and homes for elderly people and this service is very much appreciated by your worker. Without their aid, these places would not be visited. They visit monthly or fortnightly, bringing cheer and hope to many shut-ins, sometimes taking along fruit, flowers, cookies, jam, church folders and other literature and, occasionally, entertainment is provided. Some groups visit two or three homes while others visit one. One large home was visited by thirteen W.M.S. groups during the year.

FROM MISS JEAN CROCKATT

Worker, City Mission,
Montreal, Quebec.

The forgotten area of Montreal is no more. The City Mission is now situated in an ideal spot. Owing to the slum clearance, the old tenement houses are being pulled down, and new buildings going up.

In the last three months of 1955 the work progressed owing to organized groups. The highlight during this time was the Christmas program. The true meaning of Christmas was brought to us afresh as children of all nationalities told the old yet ever new story of the birth of our Saviour.

Many times it has been said that the children of today are the leaders of tomorrow. This fact became true when a young girl who grew up in the Mission finally stepped into the role of Sunday School teacher.

Social Service is an important part of the Mission work. One elderly lady who lives in an attic room, had only the bare necessities of life. Bedding, clothing and food have been given to her, and she is now able to attend our services. A young married mother who is in and out of a mental hospital always makes for the Mission upon her release. She is a convert to the Protestant faith and seems to find security within the walls of the Mission. Though we try to meet the material needs of our people, yet first and foremost is their spiritual need.

While I have tried to record the lighter side of the picture, there is also the dark side. Since Christmas the attendance in the various groups has dropped considerably. Whether they are young or on in years, they are still babes in Christ and must be slowly but surely led along the Christian pathway.

IN BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS MURIEL ALEXANDER

Missionary-at-large,
Northern Frontenac, Ontario

Because of a physical condition, your missionary was compelled to take two months leave of absence at the very beginning of the year, leaving Miss Langman to carry on through these difficult months. The people were very loyal and helpful.

In the spring we started our services again at Canonto. We held the first business meeting we had been able to have, since coming on the field. We had never been able to get enough folk interested before. Our women here, also organized, after being inactive for almost five years. They hold their meetings once a month and in October held a very profitable evening. It was the Monday night after their Harvest Home Service, so they sold handwork, vegetables, canned goods and served another of their "Penny Suppers."

Christianity in Action

In June we were proud of the way these people rallied to a "Bee" to get a new roof on the church. It was one of those hot days that we had last summer, a Saturday, in order to get the men of the community at home. The majority of them work on the hydro lines and are away during the week. Fourteen men came and took off the old shingles and put on the whole new aluminum roof. The women brought the dinner and served salads of all kinds, hot tea, sandwiches, pie, cake and all the milk the children could drink. There were almost as many boys and girls as men. They did their part, too, by helping to carry the old shingles in to the shed.

MISS LANGMAN REPORTING:

During Miss Alexander's absence in January and February, apart from the church services, W.M.S. groups and visiting, we enjoyed giving the religious education in Plevna school. Every two weeks we had a number of boys and girls gather in the parsonage for flannel-graph stories and handwork.

During July and August, we held three Daily Vacational Bible Schools. The first school opened the third week in July from 9 to 12 a.m. in Plevna; two of the mothers and a teen-age girl came to our assistance with the handcraft and recreation periods. Our theme for the schools was "Time and Talents for Christ." Each day was opened with a short worship in song and prayer. A discussion on old fashioned time pieces, such as candle, hourglass and rope time was part of the day's program.

Two teen age girls came and helped us at the Ompah school. Here, we had several children who were spending their holidays in the area, join us. Then we made stops along the way, picking up children who were eagerly waiting for the missionary car to take them to the Daily Vacation Bible School.

At the Canonto school, some of the children walked three miles, these were Catholic children who were happy to come. We then drove them home. It was out of the way and meant extra driving but we felt it was worthwhile.

The total attendance at the three schools was 74. It was a busy but interesting time spent with the boys and girls and the local help at each school.

IN TORONTO CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS R. EVA L. EMPEY

Community Worker,
Kirkland Lake, Ontario

We have had a good Mission Band meeting twice a month. The children are interested indeed in the story. We have games first when they come from school, then after a cookie, we have the meeting proper, including an opening ceremony.

The two W.A.'s have been very busy raising money for their share in maintaining the work of the church. We had a Christmas party, at which we exchanged gifts and enjoyed ourselves very much with several games. It was refreshing to have a slight respite from money raising. Perhaps the spiritual life of the groups will be more marked in the future. Church attendance has grown slightly, and a person canvass is being planned to increase Church attendance.

At Federal, they are more and more self-sufficient in all the Church organizations. It is encouraging to see them carrying their own responsibilities. The Sunday School superintendent makes it his business to visit his teachers, personally, quite frequently and has urged upon them to attend the Teacher Training classes which are being held in their own church.

At King-Kirkland, we have a flourishing Sunday School, Mission Band, Explorer Group, Tyros, C.G.I.T., and Mission Circle, also a W.A. The W.M.S. is a composite of members from the three points. If only it were possible to visit some of the W.M.S. fields of endeavour, it would be less difficult to spark interest in far-off people and places. A great many feel they are doing their share when they support their own local work.

The C.G.I.T. entertained the group from Swastika at their Hallowe'en party. Two girls were able to attend and benefit from the C.G.I.T. Rally in the fall. They are now raising a fund for special events such as that, so they will be prepared to send in their names with the fees promptly. 225 girls came great distances and certainly enjoyed the Conference. At Christmas, the girls of the C.G.I.T. presented the church with a R.S.V. of the Bible, accompanied by an appropriate address. A picture of Sallman's "Head of Christ" was hung. The pageant for the White Gift Service included all the groups and everyone had the opportunity of giving for others.

The Mission Circle girls act as the choir of the church each Sunday. They are exceedingly proud of their gowns which were presented to them from kind friends in Cobalt. Rev. George Brown was guest minister in November and he was greatly impressed with the girls' contribution and promised to send them some gowns. They planned at once to wear them when they sang in the corridors of the hospital before Christmas. What a pleasure that was! And how they cheered the patient!

The Explorers assisted in entertaining the primary children of the Sunday School and the Mission Band at a Christmas party. They are growing up, and it is fine to see them take on responsibility.

Local Leadership Good

On the suburban charge at Kirkland Lake we found ourselves as busy as usual in spite of the fact that more local leadership was available than at any other time.

The year began with three Sunday Schools and twelve midweek groups in operation. Three Baby Bands carried on under capable local leadership. The three primary children's groups, meeting each week, exhibited the usual amount of energy and enthusiasm. Through their study book and their projects on India they became better acquainted with the life and environment of an Indian child.

Two Explorer Groups met regularly for play, worship, study and handicrafts. One of the highlights of the year for them was a trip to Matachewan where they were entertained by the Explorers of that town. The Federal Group prepared an attractive worship centre for their group's meetings, assuming the cost of materials themselves. Before the close of the season's work in June, the parents were invited to one of their meetings where through worship, dramatization, recreation and a display of handwork they were given a glimpse of the group's activities during the year.

Our two C.G.I.T. Groups again participated in a full program. One layette was made during the year and sent overseas. In the spring a happy evening was spent with their mothers who turned out one hundred per cent to enjoy the banquet prepared by their daughters. It meant an evening of fun and good fellowship for all. The senior Explorers were tremendously pleased to be the waitresses at the banquet and performed their duties efficiently. An invitation to meet with the C.G.I.T. Groups of Swastika was accepted in January. It was a pleasant experience for the girls, proving once again the value of fellowship with other groups. It was also the first opportunity that some of the campers had had to renew acquaintances since they had met at Lorrain the previous summer.

The Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society which consists of women from all three churches on the charge has not grown in numbers, but the members are growing in spiritual strength as they study the challenge which is presented to our church by our Overseas and Home Mission Work.

On the suburban charge, the emphasis for the past few years, has been on obtaining and guiding local leadership in the active participation of the Christian Education program of the local churches. For we believe that only as parents and teachers are concerned with the religious nurture of children, at home and in the church, can the strength of the Church's influence be increased.

A Good Year

It has been a good year, filled with Conferences and Rallies, Presbytery meetings and local gatherings. The Dorset women entertained the Muskoka Presbyterial in May. A large C.G.I.T. week-end camp in June and a smaller one in September were highlights of the year.

A new emphasis in the work has been Bible study groups. Even though the numbers are not large, a fine fellowship has been created among the church members of several communities. Your missionary has been responsible for the one at Hillside which has met fortnightly.

Vacation Schools and all the preparation for them occupied several weeks in the summer. Twelve schools were held, and leadership for four of them was provided by a Young People's Caravan of three members. Other leadership came from Campus in the Woods. We are glad to note that in several communities the local people took a greater interest and gave some help in leading the school. I hope very soon several churches will be able to take charge of their own schools, with a little assistance from the staff. It is always to this end we are working, hoping to train leaders, and have them assume more and more responsibility.

It has been a joy this year to start a brand-new C.G.I.T. Group. It covers a whole township, and the girls attend three different public schools as well as Huntsville High School. But since the same school bus collects them all, we hold our meeting at 4.30 in the afternoon at Aspdin public school. Then, when we are finished, the good W.M.S. car carries them to isolated homes on the back roads. It usually takes two separate trips, and involves about 40 miles of driving over the worst roads in the whole area. Frequently your missionary gets home for supper at 8 p.m. The response of the girls to this program has been most enthusiastic, and the whole venture seems most worthwhile.

Another new attempt is a Hi-C group at Utterson, formed of older members from existing C.G.I.T. Groups and Trail Rangers. The minister and I have been Counsellors for this group. A fine local leader has taken over the Intermediate C.G.I.T. Group.

Of the 13 W.A. groups on our charge, four are now affiliated with the W.M.S. and studying about missionary work as well as contributing. Great responsibilities are left to the women in these small rural churches—they are often elders, S. S. teachers, stewards, caretakers, as well as the only social and financial outreach of their congregations. Gradually they are responding to the missionary program as well. Three meetings were held on the Women's World Day of Prayer.

The year ended as usual with hurrying, carols, and zero weather. Gifts came in from several sources; were sorted, wrapped, distributed. The new C.G.I.T. Group at Aspin did a noble job of helping at the parsonage until midnight so that 110 children would receive a gift before school closed. Three Christmas Vesper Services fittingly reminded us that our gift giving was but a reflection of God's great gift to all. There was one Vesper Service that I did not reach, for the car took a nose dive into a snow-filled ditch. Since it was then 35 degrees below zero, Trixie and I wasted no time in setting off on foot and paw to seek for help or shelter. We found both.

FROM MISS GERTRUDE L. CASS

Hospital Visitor,
Toronto, Ontario

After being the Hospital Visitor in Toronto for a number of years, it was quite a satisfaction to have Miss Mary Blair join with me in the visiting in 1955. A good bit of time was given to arranging the work. However, with sixteen institutions on our lists, it was easy for us to find plenty to do.

About the middle of February, I was called home on account of mother's illness. She passed away in March. By the kind consideration of the W.M.S., my furlough was pushed forward, so I have been home on furlough most of the time since then.

I was very pleased to be asked by the W.M.S. to go to Toronto to take over the hospital visiting for two months in the summer. I enjoyed it very much, and hope that it was a helpful contribution. Stopping rather abruptly in February, it was quite a satisfaction to go back to the work even for that short time.

Some Interesting Folk I Met

Most of the people we visited were from the city of Toronto. Some, a good many, were from out-of-town, and there were some from out-of-Canada, too. These included two missionaries and two others. One patient was Mrs. Jaagassar from Trinidad. I asked Miss Margaret Scringeur to visit her and they had a wonderful visit. Mrs. Jaagassar's daughter, East Lynn, is a student in Miss Scringeur's school in Trinidad. Then there was Violet Ribiero from Dondi, Angola. She was a bright young girl who got along very well. I was pleased to meet her father, and mother one day as they visited Violet.

There was another who had come a long distance. She was from Newfoundland—a young teacher who had a difficult operation. Miss Nancy Edwards was to be her visitor. I took her a rose one day soon after her operation. She was still very weak, but the nurse opened the Oxygen tent just a tiny bit to show her the rose. It meant a bit of encouragement and friendship to her when her family and friends were far away.

Mrs. B. was in the "Eye" ward. I had visited her before and as I came to her bed she said, "Have you a Bible, and could you read some verses for me? You see I cannot see, and my neighbor has my Bible that I brought from Scotland." The neighbor was glad to return the Bible which she was not using at the time, and I read—

"Let the heav'n arise, let earth appear,
said the Almighty Lord;
The heav'n arose, the earth appear'd,
at his creating word."

Other Tasks

In June I was asked to speak on "The Place of the Deaconess in the Church" at the reception they had at Warton for Miss Elsie Burner, and to speed her on her way to the Church of All Nations in Toronto.

During the fall I attended a Rally in the Guelph Presbyterial, and also three Rallies in Bruce Presbyterial. I enjoyed this very much, and was glad to meet the women who do so much through their auxiliary.

FROM MISS MARY C. BLAIR

The Challenge

I was impressed with certain facts as I became acquainted in this new department of work. First, I had a sincere appreciation of the skill, devotion to duty, good morale, kindness, and consideration of the hospital staffs as they carried on their work of caring for people who were ill. Secondly, I was impressed with the opportunity the Church had to meet with people at a special time of need. It was notable that a considerable number were temporarily separated from active Church fellowship, but still desired its ministrations. Many had moved from their home communities and were not yet acquainted in the city. A number travelled some distance to receive treatment in city hospitals.

The needs vary with the type of illness. Young people faced with the frustration of months of treatment in a T.B. Sanitarium; polio cases, long term chronic illness, acute emergencies, surgical cases, diseases with easy cures and those that can only be arrested, the daily miracles of life on the maternity floors, all provide an interesting mosaic of human life. The faith people live by, and the desolation which comes when the fires of faith smoulder low in times of pain and loneliness, is all a part of an intense human drama.

I was most fortunate to be able to attend a Clinical Training Course for Ministers given by McMaster University at the Mountain Sanitarium at Hamilton for six weeks last summer. The insights and training received in pastoral visiting were valuable. The pressure still remains of trying to visit too many people in too short a time.

People come to our hospitals from cities, towns, and rural parts of Ontario, as well as from other provinces, and they express appreciation of the fact that their Church is represented to them by Chaplain or Hospital Visitor. One lady made a non-stop flight from Bermuda to have an operation which saved her life. She knew no one in Toronto and welcomed a visit. One day before Christmas, in the corner of a large ward, I visited a German girl and another mid-European woman whose beds were side by side. Speaking of Christmas carols, I mentioned "Silent Night". They started to sing softly, each in her own language. An Italian woman near by smiled with interest and remembrance. The spirit of Christmas does pervade the hospital wards but it brings loneliness as well. One of the highlights of fellowship was our pre-Christmas Communion Services at the Sanitarium led by one of our United Church chaplains. Many times of fellowship are found "where two or three are gathered together".

A letter from the Board of Trustees of the National Sanitarium Association said, "We wish to thank our 'partners' who give of their time, resources, energy for the comfort, welfare, and guidance of our patients."

Interesting Hours

As I write this, I am enjoying my furlough, but looking back on the six months I spent at the Church of All Nations in 1955, I recall many interesting hours spent—

In Baby Band meetings where 30 mothers and perhaps 36 children gathered for monthly meetings—little Michael whimpered on her knee—but mother was tremendously interested and concerned about the worship service, "A Way of Life"—where amid baby cries and baby chatter, the great gospel hymns were lustily sung by mothers, not having too much joy in life.

In a C.G.I.T. Group where Japanese girls—enthusiastic workers, rollicking good sports, eager to serve, "Missions" conscious—met each week. On my return to them, after being absent for some weeks through an accident, time was given in the meeting to a ceremony (from Mission Study) of placing a beautifully designed Indian garland around my neck as a sincere welcome back.

In the Church School, where a little group of not more than forty children gathered each Sabbath afternoon. Discipline or problem? But the response to Biblical teaching and the concern for one's neighbour, shown in showers of groceries for community use; missionary gifts of money; and in special donations to such projects as Save the Children Fund, Meals for Millions in India, John Milton Society for the Blind, etc., greatly offsets this seeming noise and inattention. Their sense of Stewardship has amazed me. "Miss C—, I saved this dollar for Korea, it will help a little girl eat, won't it"—the words of a 9-year-old, as she brought from her hand a crumpled bill.

In women's groups for young and older—all eager to serve the church, community and world missions in many ways. With them I enjoyed good times in sales of work, missionary study, preparing dinners and through prayer and worship together.

On office duty where I have met so many interesting people, coming in and out of our building, representing such different national and class backgrounds and whose language was not mine; these folk receiving mail through our unofficial post office; or coming in to tell a sad story of need and asking for material assistance or just sitting around the tables in the rotunda reading and resting.

At Scugog North Camp, which is operated through the Church of All Nations—where I mothered and arranged meals for approximately 240 children. This is a beautiful spot; boys and girls find God here. "I want to find out how God makes a flower", said one 8-year-old, as I found her sitting on the grass one afternoon, pulling a buttercup apart.

Two projects which the staff and our people have been greatly interested in have been our Hostel House (we have sponsored four families who have lived in this furnished residence) and the Home for Senior Citizens which—with the able assistance of "Friends" outside, and groups and individuals inside our church—we hope will become a reality in our community in the near future.

The Children

The Baby Band became one of my new groups. This is the only contact many of the mothers had with the Church and so we tried to make it worthwhile through worship, missionary filmstrips and good literature as well as making it a time of fellowship and fun.

During the summer and fall there was another big changeover of people in one of the housing areas not too far from Queen Street Church. Cars go down every Sunday to bring forty to fifty children to Sunday School. Some of these come to the Church service and occasionally some parents.

Our Mission Band children, a group of lively girls and boys, 6-8 years of age are a joy to me. They are so eager to learn and do things and are so responsive. Some of the members come regularly to Sunday School and others are children from the neighbourhood who come in with their friends. Some of these join our Sunday School later and so we reach into the homes. The mother of one of our children brings her little girl every week and comes for her again. They spent most week-ends last fall at a lake about 85 miles from the city. Nearly every Sunday the father brought the children back to the city for Sunday School and after it was over they returned to the lake. The problem of holding our groups together would not be as difficult if others would give a little more cooperation like this.

On September 1st, the fourth family which our church has brought out from Europe arrived in Toronto from Germany and are occupying a part of our Hostel House. This makes 21 persons which our church has brought out.

Another project on which our church has been working for a little more than a year—that of raising money to purchase a Home for Senior Citizens of our church in our own community where they would feel at home—has made splendid progress. We hope our goal may soon be reached. All groups in the church have helped with this project. An old age pensioner said to me recently, "Will I be able to get in and will you have it soon?" We are greatly indebted to "The Friends of Queen Street—Church of All Nations" and to many others for their great interest and help in this project and for all they have done for our churches and our people during the year.

At Christmas the mother in a home to which visitors from one of the churches which helped us so much at Christmas had come bringing a hamper and gifts, said to me, "We never had anything like this happen to us before." This family came from England two years ago and the children are most faithful at Sunday School and Club. The mother was seriously ill in hospital and later at home during the year and this extra help was needed. In another home, the mother goes out to work for a large family. The father had gone off and left them. Here, too, the extra help at Christmas meant so much. Their stories could be duplicated many times.

Highlights

A highlight was our Christmas Sunday School service. Parents and friends joined with us in worshipping the Christ Child. It was an occasion of deep inspiration to us all as every child took part in the service which included a pageant called "What do you see in the manger?"

We had a very interesting time when the three Russian delegates visited us and talked with us about our work here as we toured the church building.

A night our C.G.I.T. girls won't easily forget was when we visited Bellevue Home for Elderly Women. We sang carols with the ladies and chatted with them. The girls were touched by their appreciativeness. We are thankful that children are brought into the Sunday School by their friends, by contacts made when visiting and by coming into our midweek groups. Our church building is not conspicuous since it is set amid all the buildings in the business block; so to acquaint the children with the church we invited children from a nearby school (where Dr. Smith teaches Religious Knowledge) to an Open House two afternoons in the fall. An example that has cheered us is that of a family of five dark-eyed children, who, though living in the area were attending no Sunday School but who now arrive eagerly each Sunday. Visiting the homes brings happy experiences.

The International Fair

The International Fair is an annual fall event here at this church. As committees representing all five language congregations made the plans for the Fair, and as I watched the Fair in progress from inside the scenes, I was even more aware of the richness of the contributions which the various cultures of our New Canadians have made to our Canadian life. It is encouraging how each of the five language congregations meet the various calls for funds which The United Church of Canada sponsors just as any congregation does.

Tribute must certainly be paid to our gallant volunteers who have so cheerfully and so devotedly served at the main desk—giving out the mail in the Post Office and doing a hundred and one jobs including all the church secretarial work.

The New Church

It was wonderful to start the year 1955 in a beautiful new church which had just been officially opened and dedicated, to realize that at last we had attractive and adequate facilities for our program of Christian Education.

With such an auspicious beginning it was unfortunate for me that illness prevented my return after holidays in August. As a result, I can report only on some of my activity during the first seven months of the year.

PRACTISING EASTER CAROLS FOR THE "SHUT-INS"
Regent Park (Toronto) C.G.I.T.

The Church School most quickly showed the response of the community to the new church facilities, for it very soon tripled its attendance. The Intermediate-Senior Department where I was giving leadership increased its enrollment to nearly 40, an encouraging increase from the dozen or so we had worked with during the previous two years. With the beginning of Lent, our minister, Mr. Rice, held a Communicants' class. Seven of our Intermediate girls joined the Church at the Easter Communion. Following that two of a group of four older Intermediate girls completed a Leadership Training Course on Kindergarten Methods and later worked in the kindergarten department of the Vacation School.

C.G.I.T.

The C.G.I.T. started the year with the project "Saris and Sandals." The visit to the group of Miss Winifred Goodwin, scholarship student from India, was a rare treat. It certainly helped to heighten the interest of the girls in that country. The climax was an "Indian Mela," when the girls shared their acquired knowledge of India with parents and friends and held their affiliation service. A brief "worship project" followed, and on Good Friday, a group of the girls sang Easter hymns at the homes of "shut-ins" leaving in each home an attractive Easter folder, which they had made. In May we did a group of Folk dances at the Sunday School Anniversary Concert and spent an interesting day in the country. Our closing night in early June was a highlight in so far as real fellowship went. We were the guests of our "Mystery Big Sisters." Excitement ran high as each girl discovered the identity of her "big sister." It had been five months of good work together for 25 girls and three leaders.

Young Mothers

"The Church and Home Groups" (young mothers of the community) grew slowly from seven at their first meeting in January, to over 25 at their closing in June. Several projects were carried out, the most pretentious being a Tea and Sale in early May. They enjoyed acting as "Mystery Big Sisters" to the C.G.I.T. girls. They shared, too, in a number of congregational activities such as fireside gatherings and the annual bazaar.

A three department Vacation School with a total enrollment of 150 kept us busy during the very hot month of July. Our closing was held in our auditorium downstairs preceded by a fine worship service in the sanctuary, led by Mr. Shuttleworth, the summer student. We were pleased by the fine attendance of the parents and friends, and especially were we grateful for the help rendered day by day by so many of the young mothers. It all added up to a successful school.

FROM MISS DORIS GRIERSON

Community Worker,
WoodGreen Community Centre,
Toronto, Ontario

From January, 1955, until the end of June, my work at WoodGreen was centred in the Junior Chapel Sunday School Department, ages 12-15. My class consisted of seventeen fourteen-year old girls. On Sunday afternoons I had them to my house in pairs so I could get to know them as individuals and show them closer friendship than is possible in the classroom. Our activity on these afternoons was usually a craft project, the materials for which were made possible through your grant. Occasionally we went on hikes as a group in the upper Don Valley. At least once a month a party was held for the department as a whole. One of these was a toboggan party at my old home town of Sunderland.

Student Cooperation

For nine weeks during July and August I was with a project of four students living in the WoodGreen area in a cooperative housing scheme. We operated the house as a boys' home, providing food, lodging and friendship for boys who had none at the time. Most of the day was spent in leadership at Day Camp. One and a half days weekly were used for visitation and case work under the supervision of Rev. Douglas Reid. Contacts that I made then have been carried on through the fall and winter and form the greatest part of my work there at the present time.

From September on, as well as taking part in Junior Chapel, I have been working with ten young married mothers. More are being added to this number as people come to Rev. Douglas Reid with a problem. My approach is to visit them in their homes individually, and also to bring them into some kind of group experience. At present I am spending two afternoons and two evenings a week, as well as most of Sunday, on this particular phase of the work.

Results Worthwhile

It has been truly thrilling to see the grace of God at work in these people in the few months I have known them. One girl was separated from her husband when I first met her in August. She was expecting a baby and as soon as it arrived her husband agreed to live with her again. She joined the church in October. On my visits Mr. L. was very quiet. I found it almost impossible to talk to him. Within the last month he has completely changed. He converses freely; he is at home among people. Of his own accord he began coming to church and joined a week ago. He decided for himself to give up drinking. He is finding a new circle of friends—wholesome, loving friends that he lacked before. This he attributes to my visits, though it can only be God at work in him.

Another mother was convicted in court in September on a charge of assault. Since then I can see her whole person mellowing—she has control of her temper, she is more conscious of the wrong things she does and says. She went forward at the Billy Graham Crusade and has since joined the church. She is a long way from perfection yet but is responding to our expression of Christian love. Her husband is in Weston Sanitarium and I go with her to see him as often as possible.

^ New Canadians

To endeavour to convince the women of our Toronto churches that theirs is the responsibility of welcoming and serving the New Canadian on their street, has been a very challenging task. My contact person in each church area, is the Community Friendship Secretary of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society, or the visitor from the Woman's Association. To these ladies I have sent some 750 Immigration Slips during 1955. Fewer than last year but there has, nevertheless, been a steady influx of New Canadians into the great Metropolitan area. Of the slips sent out all but fifty have been returned to me with a report of calls made. Very few of our city churches have failed to cooperate in this way. Statistics show that, while nearly half of the above have found their place in some church, The United Church of Canada has welcomed about 200 into membership.

"A Friend in Need"

To an ever-increasing degree our Church women are proving themselves "a friend in need." The whole story cannot be told in one report: of wedding parties planned or given in a home or church; of a doctor secured for a mother and two little girls just arrived, sick and lonesome, and the follow-up of friendship; of the young men and women called on and welcomed to clubs and groups, finding "safe" company and friendship in the Church.

The visiting done in Old Age institutions and for elderly folk has been included in my duties this year. A large group of well-qualified volunteer visitors are calling regularly, every two weeks, in six of the institutions in our city. A conference was held for visitors that all may understand the requisites of good visiting. The welcome extended to us as United Church visitors by both management and Home guests has been very real.

Some of our Church groups have provided extras in food and clothing for Old Age pensioners. One group supplied beautifully wrapped, suitable gifts for each guest at the Christmas party of a Senior Citizens' Club, held in a downtown church.

I have spent at least two afternoons each week in this visiting, conducted a monthly Bible Class with a group of women, also shared in the World Day of Prayer Service in one of our Women's Homes.

Our visitors have carried a great deal of joy to many lonely hearts and, I know, have in return reaped the rich reward of happy service given.

Church Activities

I work chiefly with the women, in church, Church School, and midweek activities. Children of many national backgrounds flock to our Church School every Sunday morning, with an average attendance of over 200. In the first part of the year I taught a senior girls' class, but since summer I have been responsible for the 3-, 4- and 5-year-olds. Four older girls who were formerly in my senior class, are ably assisting with the kindergarten tots. Much of the teaching in all departments of the school is done by those who grew up in this church, moved away from this district in many cases, but who still come back to render their service. We are grateful for their devoted leadership.

Mission Band is very popular with the primary children. In fact they cannot wait until they are six years old to join. Five-year-olds go to kindergarten and come to Mission Band after school with the older ones.

The enthusiasm of the Juniors in Explorers is a continual joy. The group worked hard during the year, making and selling candy, collecting and selling coat hangers, etc., to raise money to buy their Explorer blouses. Formerly only one or two had been in uniform. Now all have it. They attended church in a group on Youth Sunday, wearing their new blouses and singing a special song.

Uninterested Parents

I feel the biggest difficulties in work with boys and girls arise from the lack of cooperation or encouragement from the parents. I have tried to meet this lack of parental interest in several ways. One way, of course, is by visiting in the homes. A second way is to invite parents to the church for some special meeting.

Another way in which I try to keep interest alive in spite of lack of it at home is by trying to give the children a vision of the larger fellowship of the Christian Church. Mission Band surely seems important to the child who attended the city-wide Mission Band Rally during the Easter holidays. Sunday School seems important, too, when thousands of children and adults gather in one building on

New Year's Sunday for the annual Sunday School Rally. Canadian Girls In Training had many opportunities for participation in larger groups, in their Rally, Hobby Fair and week-end camp. One of our girls is this year a member of the Hamilton Girls' Council.

It is not only the children who profit by larger gatherings. One of our W.M.S. members went with me to Conference Branch, where she received a spiritual uplift which made her radiant. The theme hymn, new to her, has been in her heart ever since. A similar experience came to a member of our Mission Circle whom I took to a Leadership Training Rally at Five Oaks. Such experiences strengthen the leadership in our church.

A Day of Unexpected Happenings

The plan for today was correspondence—Reports of C.C.I.T. and Explorer work, and Thank You notes to the many W.M.S. groups who had remembered our church with gifts of clothing and food. I must get at them right away. But it was not to be that day, for the office phone kept ringing and ringing. From the opposite end came the voice of my friend, the proprietor of a Chinese importer's store. He was concerned about his wife's health, and anxious to have an appointment with a doctor arranged. Could I suggest to whom she should go?

On this particular morning, before the English-Chinese conversation had ended, a timid knock was heard at the church side door. "That must be Mike," I thought. Mike is a young Italian newcomer, whom I first met in the Italian grocery store, a few doors from the church. Although of Roman Catholic background, when jobless and discouraged, he came to us. We put him in touch with the Italian speaking minister of our All People's staff; then tried to find him work, and to impress upon him the need for persistence in studying English. However, I knew the knock that day meant that job seeking had proven fruitless, and again there was need to hold out hope and encouragement.

As we talked the ring of the telephone was a frequent interrupter of conversation. Once the call was from a mother seeking help in placing her child in a Nursery School, so that she, of necessity, might work. It was Mrs. S., who had come to our church neighbourhood from Russia via Germany a few years ago. Hardship and sorrow are in her story, and it did not end upon her arrival in Canada. The previous winter had seen her husband unemployed, a thing common to many in the industrial area of our church. Now she wanted to take precaution for this winter by taking full-time work herself. Could a Nursery School be found for her child?

Another time the voice on the phone betrayed a German accent. It was Anne. She has been in Hamilton about two years now since leaving her home in Germany to come to Canada under government contract to do housework for one year. Anne has remained in housework, but lost many working hours recently, when hospitalized for a few weeks. Now there was a problem with hospital bills. And so a time was arranged when we might get together.

Before the morning ended, yet another nation entered the All People's scene, when Mrs. D., not yet a year in Canada from Pakistan, telephoned. Because Mrs. D. is working at a local infirmary, while her husband teaches school, she thought first of turning to the Church, to find someone to take her little four-year-old to an afternoon clinic for inoculation.

When these arrangements were made and the telephone receiver was again in place, I paused to think back over the morning. Nothing was done according to plan, but within I felt real thanks for work, at every turn so interesting, and so full—of the unexpected!

Federation — the Key Word

Let me tell you first about our Wembley Women's Federation. It was one day last April that a small group of women in this new housing area met together to talk about a woman's organization that might support the Wembley Sunday School which had been organized the previous fall. After talking about a W.A. program and constitution and possible program of a Woman's Federation, the women chose the last named type of group and we elected a skeleton executive. In June we held an executive meeting and in the fall began our regular monthly meetings. Of necessity these have been held in the homes, but we are already having difficulty finding homes that are large enough to accommodate the group. Some 35 to 40 women have responded. We have used both W.A. and W.M.S. materials for programs and in November and December the women held teas in their homes to raise money for a Sunday School Christmas party which proved to be a very successful affair.

Youth work has progressed at Wembley, too, and we have a well-attended and well-staffed Sunday School. Some 90 children under twelve years of age are enrolled in nine classes with regular teachers and many others attended the preaching service which is held at the same hour. Last September I organized an intermediate C.G.I.T. Group and ten members meet regularly each week in one of the homes.

In October, Sudbury Presbytery was asked to arrange for a preaching service in the Wembley area and the request was granted. Services are held in the school auditorium each Sunday at 2 p.m., and are very well attended. Plans are under way now to organize a congregation. A constitution service will probably be held early in March, 1956.

Our Federation at All People's was an amalgamation of three women's organizations rather than a completely new group. And what a happy and worthwhile organization it has been! This group meets twice each month and has an enrollment of 43 members. Meetings are well attended, and the year has been an outstanding success financially as well as in every other way. The help and interest of every other woman in the congregation has been enlisted, and the list of associate members is a long one. Many of these are prevented from becoming active members by their home situations, but many of them are excellent possibilities for active membership in the near future.

And what of the youth work at All People's? This, as always, is a tremendous task because of the scarcity of lay leadership in this type of institutional church. However, we are proud to report that we have 229 children enrolled in Sunday School classes with 27 teachers and officers—many of whom were enlisted for this work last fall to replace those teachers who had moved from the area. Our midweek work is going ahead, too, with the church facilities in use every night of the week and several afternoons. The girls' work is my big responsibility, with 56 girls enrolled in C.G.I.T., and 17 in Explorers.

Highlights in Many Places

Laymen trained in the Lay Preacher's Course have supplied the pulpit very acceptably for the evening services at the Bruce Hill Mission, and the weekly attendance continues steady at about 35. Duplex envelopes are being used. There are two C.G.I.T. Groups with 20 members. The Ladies' Aid and the Sunday School which have been going for many years are continuing to do well. The average attendance of teachers and pupils at the Sunday School was 130. In the Monterey Gardens - Hamilton Heights district our Sunday School still meets in a public school. There was an average attendance of 85 children with seven teachers.

The hoped-for United Church building did not take shape this summer. However, the committee is now working enthusiastically. In a very recent canvass 80 families have pledged their support and attendance. Instead of a Sunday School Mission, they much prefer to erect a church in which children's work will be one part. With Presbytery's permission they expect to begin excavation in March.

A women's group has chosen the name "Grace Sunday School Mothers." At monthly meetings in homes they are planning means of raising funds for equipment for the new building.

In All People's Church, which is an established cause with a regular congregation, Church Boards, and a growing membership, my part has been smaller. On Sunday morning I teach intermediate girls. To avoid having the little girls use the cold gymnasium for study, mother and I invited three classes to meet in our rooms. It makes considerable extra work but we have been glad to do it.

We are delighted that the church service in Bayview, and the Woman's Association have become established under the energetic and devoted leadership of our minister, Rev. Paul Morris and his wife. A student assistant, Leslie Avery, gave splendid help here during the summer months. He made a church canvass of the district and held a Vacation School with W.A. ladies as teachers.

At the Girls' Camps

A missionary on furlough from Ethiopia helped us make the missionary offering a real and personal thing. The Sunday following her visit, 50 little folks walked to the front of the room to present a "special offering" of shiny new lead-pencils for the children of an African school, of which Miss Bartja had told them.

Church Came Quickly

When I wrote my last report I was finishing a survey of an area just outside the city of Windsor, with the idea of establishing a church in the future. The church materialized so quickly that it almost seemed like magic. February 6th a group of six people met in a house to plan the starting of a church, and December 25th the congregation of 98 members and 100 adherents met in an almost finished church hall for their Christmas service, the cornerstone being laid September 25th.

It has been a most happy experience working with this group but after Christmas and New Year's, I shall not be needed but hope to be able to keep in touch with them.

Work Among the Strangers

August 1st I was appointed to take charge of the All People's Mission work here and see what could be done among the many immigrants who have come and are still coming, here.

I receive the slips from the Immigration Office in Montreal of all the new people coming to Windsor and this has meant I have had to travel to all parts of the city. I have met many people and had many interesting experiences. A young German girl who had come to marry an American who lived at Ann Arbor, and who could not enter the U.S.A. until she was married, asked me to arrange for the wedding, which I did. The groom's people came over for the wedding and I went with her to represent her side of the family. They went to Niagara Falls for their honeymoon and since have gone to live in the U.S.A. I had a Christmas card from them and they seem to be doing well and are happy. There was a Japanese bride who had married a Canadian soldier in Japan and had come out here alone. She was most grateful when I was able to help her contact some of the few Japanese who are living here. A good many are lonely and are glad to know the church is interested in them for they do not like to go to church alone and are pleased when we are able to connect them with a church.

At the mission English classes were carried on two nights a week and one morning. Miss Evelyn Garret came to help me. There were four Germans who came but most of the people were Italian and they were all ages from fifteen years of age to some of the older women. We had several social evenings when some of the Couples' Clubs from the other churches came and played games with them. The Christmas party was greatly enjoyed by all of them, for they entered into the games with great spirit and there was much laughter. As they said goodnight they added, "We hope to have another party." They are most appreciative and each school night as they leave, each one comes to us and says, "Thank You."

It is my dream that my Italian will improve and that in the near future, we may have a part-time Italian minister to give them spiritual help. I'll close with the saying of one of them, "I hope the New Year will grow happiness for you."

ON COMMUNITY MISSIONS WEST

THE FOREWORD

The high mobility of the population continues to affect town and country Churches and rural life is increasingly centred in villages and towns. We see a rapid increase in the rural non-farm population because of new opportunities through hundreds of our industrial enterprises. The unearthing of national resources in remote areas is pushing back our frontiers of civilization and the Church is faced with a tremendous task to follow the movements of people and to give them the Gospel.

To our Society has come many calls for women workers to serve in most challenging areas but our service is curtailed because of our shortage of trained personnel.

From every area in Canada where our Society is maintaining Church Extension work through the appointment of workers, appreciation is being expressed for the services rendered.

Looking at our Home Mission program across Canada, one conclusion, at least must be drawn. The Home Mission enterprise cannot afford the luxury of concentrating on any single 'one' of its problems nor on any few of them. However urgent one problem may appear, there is an essential inter-relation among them all and the total task must be approached as a whole.

Christmas Carols Suggest This Report

I have no time to enjoy my radio to the full but as I hear the carols once in a while, my mind travels over the folk with whom I have to deal, the children and the elders in our groups.

(O come, all ye faithful . . .) There is that little woman who faithfully keeps the mission clean and gets her family up and to church and puts good Christian teaching into all of them. That other woman does the same with her family and helps many another person to see better ways of living. She urged me to go call on some women, for she said a missionary called on her once and that's the way she got started coming. There is that girl who takes such an interest in her class and is at church every Sunday.

(Hark the herald angels sing . . .)—the favorite of the singing children. They get good training at the neighboring school from their teachers in a commodity that I cannot give them. How those boys can sing.

A VACATION SCHOOL HOUR AT OTTHON

(Silent night . . . heavenly peace) How those children sing and soar to the top note, but what giggles follow when they try the descant and don't hit the right note. One of those Explorers is having a new experience, for her older sister brought a Jamaican girl with her, home for Christmas from Queen's. These same Explorers had such fun in making the beaded bracelets in imitation of Indian bead work.

(Deck the halls . . . jolly . . .) The Nisei club put a beautiful tree in Wayside and trimmed it. It was there for our Sunday School party and added to the gayety. During the year the Nisei women were organized into an auxiliary to the Nisei club. Both groups hold their meetings at Wayside. Theirs is a program of self-improvement, entertainment and fellowship. A portion of the proceeds from their money making affairs is contributed to Wayside in gratefulness that there is a place for them provided by the Church. More than that I think that they appreciate that the Church through its workers gives their children the best in our culture, namely, Christian teaching, else why do they send their children to Sunday School regularly?

Time moves on a week. (Ring out the old, ring in the new)—Whether it be brought in with Japanese rice and fish cakes or Ukrainian cabbage rolls and meat, or watch night service, it is a clean new year. At the Japanese New Year celebrations, a Christian grace is said before the grand feast. The old folk are recognized. The women put on a parade of national costumes, the last being a Scotch girl complete with bagpipes, wailing.

An excellent number was Auld Lang Syne played by a little girl on her accordion and presided over by her grandmother. The M.C. drew out a large blackboard on which was written the three verses of the song in Japanese and everybody sang. What a lovely mixture.

In every church we heard, O God our help in ages past . . .

FROM MISS MARY L. MANSFIELD

Missionary-at-large,
Superior Presbytery, OntarioA Good Year

It was a good year all told with its high spots of encouraging success as well as times of disappointment and seeming failure. One always sees more to be done and wishes for twice the strength and as much more time.

The Christian Education in nine rural school classes continued as before. C.G.I.T. at Hymers was reorganized in the fall and carried through with the Vesper Service in spite of mumps which invaded the community at the Christmas season. There are but six members in the group and two were "mumping" so we borrowed an ex-"C.G.-ite" and carried through the Vesper Service which again was a lovely occasion.

The Christmas Services were a joy. It was lovely to have service on the day and there was a large attendance. At the Christmas Service at S. Gillies on the 18th we had a happy surprise. The organist had trained her group of girls, ages 10 to 14, to be our choir. They had made white surplices with large red bows and little red caps. The missionary was joyously surprised when she arrived, to see such lovely preparation for the Service. The girls had put touches of decoration in the church, and there they stood so fresh and lovely in their new attire. The little church was filled with parents and children. The processional and recessional were short but added a dignity to the lovely Service. There was the Shepherd Story, so ably told to the wee ones by one of the women, a story for the older children and a simple sermon for everyone. The new choir sang a special number, and all joined in the carols of joy and praise to Him whose coming to the world we were celebrating.

Sunday Services and Sunday School are carried on regularly at two points; at a third there is occasional service; at a fourth point where we were asked to come in and conduct service, the attendance has not been encouraging either at Sunday School or worship service.

In June seven new members were added to the Hymers Congregation. It was a very meaningful service when three teen-age girls were received on profession of faith—two of whom were baptized at the service, and four adults were received by certificate. Infant baptisms during the year numbered 26. One is always greatly concerned because there are so many parents who think they have done their duty by their child when they have had him baptized, and are not seen again within the church.

During July a team of Christian Youth Caravaners conducted Vacation Schools at two points on the field which was a refreshing experience for the children and those who were privileged to entertain the caravaners. In September we began systematic Bible study at our regular services, thus encouraging the use of the Bible by the congregation during the service and at home. Some have expressed real appreciation of the effort so we are hopeful that it will prove a real incentive to search the Scriptures.

A Rally and a Workshop

We had the nicest rally this week for our Mission Band children from all the various parts of town. I had very little to do with the planning, so I can say so whole-heartedly. There were 120 boys and girls largely from the three lower grades who came in special buses and by train and on foot. Each found a chair to put the numerous wraps on, and boots underneath, then was given his cup of cocoa and cookies. When that was over, there were action songs and a film, and worship upstairs in the sanctuary, with organ music—very special experience for many of them. Then they came and found their belongings and got out to the buses with no confusion whatever. The only casualties were one little burnt paw from some hot cocoa, and two cherubs who followed the Channing children to their bus instead of their own. They were brought back by one of the leaders, but as their bus had left, they were taken in hand by Mrs. Adams, our motherly caretaker, who found someone to take them home. One boy said, "I sat with Bill because the story was about Friends and I was being friendly".

Each week seems to have one big event that needs special preparation: Last week it was a workshop for Junior Department Sunday School Teachers. The committee requested that a model class be taught, and it seemed a simple matter to ask one of the experienced people to bring a class and teach the lesson. But that was not the idea—"We want you to gather an assortment and teach it!" Well, that was different. But it was lots of fun. The mothers were flabbergasted when I called up to ask them for their children for a model class on Friday night. "O, you don't mean mine!" they'd say. "They're not model". I had started out by asking boys in their classes, as I thought they would be hard to convince. Much to my surprise and a little embarrassment, there were too many. A larger class had its advantage in that the pupils were not much aware of the adults watching from the outer circle where they sat. The discussion didn't have time to get going really strong, but one little fellow made an impression by telling us that what God revealed about Himself to the Israelites was that He was their big Commander-in-Chief. As the theme for the past year has been the story of God's plan through the whole Bible, and this particular week the leading of the people out of Egypt, we closed with worship in which one of the choir members came down from choir practice long enough to sing "Go Down Moses", which was a great climax. One of the boys said "It just made me jump, it was so deep". The children were fed and sent home to give the teachers a chance to discuss. Afterward, I wondered if we had discussed the Bible lesson until we got excited about it, instead of the techniques, if it would have been better.

At the C.C.I.T. camp council at Lake Brereton, I had a drama group, reading Dorothy Sayres' play on the Last Supper which we first presented the last night just before the closing Communion

Service. Nine girls each took one major and one minor part and really put themselves into it, so that it was very meaningful and well done. It seemed more successful that way than to have a person for every part, making a large and unwieldy cast. I felt with the other leaders of Bible Study groups that Mrs. J. Klassen's study on the theme, "A Sower went forth" written especially for this camp, truly led the girls to grapple with the big issues of the Christian Faith and Life:

FROM MISS ELIZABETH D. STEPHEN

Hospital Visitor (January - July).
Winnipeg, Manitoba

I didn't realize fully how much the friendship and cooperation of all the volunteer visitors, the nurses and matrons, etc., had meant till I went around thanking them, saying good-bye and bespeaking for my successor, the same cooperation I had so enjoyed.

World Day of Prayer

In February we gathered both men and women patients in the St. Boniface Old Folks' Home and Hospice Taché together for the World Day of Prayer Service. Norwood United ladies helped to round up the patients and three of their number and the President of St. Giles Evening Auxiliary sat with me on the platform and led the service. We felt God's presence very close to us, and both men and women entered into the spirit of the service as they read the responses. We had a duet by one of the women patients (she has passed on since then) and one of the Norwood visitors. I was impressed by the number of men patients who said how much they had gained from the service. I have realized lately how hungry the patients in the different homes are for Bible reading and prayer, both men and women.

The next day, the official Day of Prayer, the Crescent Ft. Rouge ladies came with me to 99 Roslyn Road, one of the Nursing Homes their group are caring for. There were only five patients in the room where we met, one of them blind, but I wish you could have heard them sing. For solos we had "There were Ninety and Nine" and at the request of one of the patients, "Lord, I am Coming Home." Our very informal service vibrated with His Presence. Mrs. J., a dear ninety-four-year-old, volunteered to tell us how "There were Ninety and Nine" came to be written, which added a homey touch to the service.

While it is not possible for the visitors from each Church to have a returned man who plays the accordion go with them to play folk songs and laugh and joke with the patients as the Norwood ladies do in Hospice Taché, yet the volunteer visitors are making an ever increasing contribution reading to blind patients, taking in wool for knitting, magazines, books, Upper Rooms, writing or reading letters for patients, and taking them out for car rides, or to their homes for a meal and sometimes for a day.

The different ministers have been very cooperative when called to visit any of their folk in hospitals or nursing homes. Some of them have graciously conducted services for us at Hospice Taché and for all of this your missionary is very grateful.

It was hard to leave the Nursing Home patients but we promised to pray for each other and I know furlough year will be richer and more fruitful for me because of their prayers and interest. 4,223 visits were made and I spoke at six meetings.

FROM MISS EUGENIE L. BATES

Hospital Visitor,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

Since coming to Winnipeg in October to take over the work of hospital visitor, I have been impressed with the very fine work of the volunteer hospital visitors. Many are enthusiastic, eager workers and call regularly in Nursing Homes and hospitals.

The Church women made afghans, gave showers of gifts or money for Christmas, and many took gifts to the Nursing Homes, sang carols and read the Christmas story.

Volunteer Visitors a Help

All but four of the 34 Nursing Homes we visit have regular volunteer visitors and we hope that soon these four will also have them. This means that not only our own Church people are visited but all in each Nursing Home are given a friendly greeting, often a little gift and real friendship.

The communion and Christmas services in the sanitarium and Hospice Taché were greatly appreciated. At the sanitarium patients were wheeled in their beds to the elevator and up to the auditorium for the monthly services, by a group of volunteer women, and placed in rows behind the few who could go by themselves. Their beautiful young faces shone as they listened to the hymns and stories of the love of Christ.

In the Hospice Taché an old blind man sang in a fine clear voice, the hymns he knew, and the others joined in as they could, happy to be there. From his little, one man gives a gift of one dollar at the special services.

The service given by the ministers, the singers, and the helpers are deeply appreciated.

A young mother in hospital after her whole family had been badly hurt in a car accident, was utterly grateful to God that all were recovering. Through the fine service of the Sunday School in the Home--By Air and Mail, we were able to have Sunday School papers and helps sent to her country home where there was no Church service. Papers were also sent to three children of one family in the sanitarium, and we are grateful, too, for the S.S. papers sent us for our work. The mechanics of beginning a new work, finding streets and homes, getting in touch with matrons of the Homes, etc., was greatly lightened by the help of Miss Stephen who introduced me to the six hospitals and the sanitarium, and from her rich experience and deep interest gave me much helpful information.

Being in touch with the volunteer visitors and ministers, contacting relatives of the sick and aged by phone and letter, and being able to bring a word of cheer and hope to those I meet in hospitals and Nursing Homes has been a very rewarding experience. Through His spirit, I pray that the hearts and minds of many may be lifted to the Lord who is all powerful and who gave his life in love and service for us all.

An Energetic Choir

The choir has certainly been busy this last year. It is made up of 19-22 young people. We had an old organ that had an odd habit of refusing to play at the most inconvenient moments. For about three years the choir has been working on a project to buy another organ. At the first of this year it was decided that if they ever intended to get another it must be soon and started to work in earnest. To begin each member offered to give 25c. a week. They have continued this practice all year and now some of them have asked for duplex envelopes for the Church for the coming year. It is the first time they have used them.

The choir canvassed the merchants around and wrote distant friends for help, then canvassed their own Church people. They went in twos and I went with one girl. I did not go in the houses as I did not think it right, so I got very cold waiting for them as it was in the late fall. It was a wonderful experience for the members. They had no idea what type of homes there were. In fact they said they were ashamed in some cases to take the money given them so willingly. We dedicated the organ as a war memorial the first week in December.

The choir this year entered the Manitoba Musical Festival for the first time. They were more terrified and frightened than they cared to admit but—they won the shields. If more choirs had entered they might not have won but it was a wonderful experience just the same.

Better Than Money

We had our annual meeting last Friday and it was pointed out that the givings to the Mission Board had increased by $200 and to the M. and M. by $35.00 and $43.00 from the adult groups to the W.M.S. This is such a tiny amount that I am ashamed to mention it but it does show some advance when last year one knows that they gave only $15.00.

However, what are things like this in the Church compared to the spiritual growth? They are as nothing without the other. The Church does seem to be deepening spiritually. This year about five new people are starting to tithe. It is a new experience for them and it will be hard as most of those who are doing it have very small salaries.

This past year 19 people joined the Church, 16 by profession of faith. Of these ten were young people.

Our women's groups are small but I have never seen women work so well together. There should be many more who should be coming but the ones who come are sincere Church women.

We lack a young people's group but the choir takes in all that age and they just don't have time for both. The C.G.I.T. leaders are holding their girls much better than I've seen in the East. Two of the girls graduated into full Church membership last spring. One is now a Sunday School teacher and we hope will eventually be a missionary after she teaches for a while. The other one is also going to take her place in the Church. They have both joined our Sunday Evening Cell group.

FROM MISS JOEN E. FREDERICK

Associate Community Worker,
Robertson Memorial Church,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

1955 began at Robertson with the observance of Universal Week of Prayer in which all groups from Intermediate to Adults participated on the various evenings from Monday to Friday in homes or at Robertson House.

Our Youth—Intermediate and Senior girls and boys, as well as Y.P.U.—participated in Youth week as well, with two events—a special Youth Church Service on the Sunday, followed by a fireside, and a Novelty Indoor Track Meet which proved so successful that it will probably become an annual affair.

The Robertson C.G.I.T. had a successful and interesting year. Their mission study "Saris and Sandals" concluded with an Indian Tea at which Indian food was available to sample, a display of pictures, jewelry and dress of India to examine, as well as home-cooking and handwork to buy. Girls dressed in saris received the guests and a program was arranged for them.

They attended the Mass Affiliation Service with the other C.G.I.T. groups of Winnipeg, making their donation to the work of the W.M.S. I felt honored, yet humbled to be given the privilege of telling these girls "Why I Became a Missionary."

We were proud of our seniors! Two of them joined the Church at Easter (most of the others had already done so), and seven of them qualified to participate in the city-wide graduation ceremony.

Their Mother and Daughter Banquet was successful in many ways—most of all from the standpoint of the girls. Almost all of their mothers were present. As well, there were also present as guests, nine graduation Explorers with their leader, three of the girls who participated in the first Graduation ceremony, and the minister and representatives from the various organizations of both English and Ukrainian congregations.

Shaughnessy

The Shaughnessy C.G.I.T. which I worked with until May had a similar program, but numbers were small. They, too, had an Indian Tea, but spent more time in making copper jewelry and cork pins, for the handwork table. They invited the Intermediate girls from Robertson to a Valentine party which was most successful. This year ended with a Bicycle Hike and Wiener Roast—a happy ending!

The Explorers and Tyros thrilled to the mission study "Chand of India" and the activities concerned with it. They, too, made their donation to the W.M.S.

Our newly formed Christian Education Committee, organized and began a survey of the area to discern what families our church might be helping which had not been reached. A good start was made in the spring in the immediate area.

Another project of the committee was the organizing of an Adult Bible Class, which meets on Thursday evenings. The fine attendance indicated that a need was met, and also that we have a fine teacher of the class in Mrs. Alfred White.

The summer was spent with Vacation School and camps. We experimented with a day-camping experience each week, which proved to be of great interest to the children. One day each week, we took them by bus outside the city to a small camp site, where we carried on our regular Vacation School program with extras.

I also attended a Leadership Camp at Camp Wasaga, as leader of Junior Teachers.

FROM MISS AILEEN GUNN

Community Worker,
Shaughnessy Flora Place Area,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

On August 1st I took up my new duties as W.M.S. worker in the Shaughnessy Flora Place Area. From August 2nd to August 10th, I directed the Junior Girls' Party at the United Church Fresh Air Camp at Ginli, Manitoba. Seventy-seven little girls and eight leaders had a very happy nine days at Camp. I have never known a more cooperative group.

Finding Leaders

One of my first responsibilities was to find leaders for mid-week groups. By September we had our C.G.I.T. superintendent and one leader: as I had promised the superintendent I would give her all the assistance I could, I decided to take the third group myself. From September to December the enrolment at C.G.I.T. was twenty-four with an average of sixteen. We considered this quite good, as the average from January to May had been from seven to ten. The girls are interested in their C.G.I.T. program. Some of their projects were: painting the kindergarten chairs; mending the Church Hymn Books; making nylon flowers, Christmas decorations and leather and plastic belts. The girls look forward to their Mission Study in the New Year.

The Explorers are our largest group. From September to December the enrolment was thirty-two with an average attendance of twenty-two. With the assistance of their leaders the girls made and furnished a lovely doll house which they gave to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children. They also made pot-holders as Christmas gifts for their mothers. They begin their Mission Study in January.

We were not able to find anyone to superintend the Mission Band, so I carried on with the help of an assistant. We studied The Boy with the Busy Walk. The children enjoyed the story, and have a better understanding of the work being done in City Missions.

Attendance at Sunday School is good. The Church building is small, so we have two sessions. The Juniors and the teen-agers meet immediately following the morning Church Service; the Beginners and Primary at 1.30 p.m. I have a class at each session. Attendance was higher from September to December - the record being one hundred and sixty-eight.

We have a good W.A., and the members work hard to raise funds for the upkeep of the Church, for fuel, etc.

The boys' groups, under the guidance of the student minister, are making good progress.

For years the majority of homes in the area were wartime houses, now there are also new housing developments with many new families coming into the district. From the middle of August to the middle of December, I made 247 calls in the homes, but there are many more calls to be made.

A Korean Project

Our two Primary Clubs began a project in connection with their mission study which spread to the Explorers and C.G.I.T. In the study, there was a story of the Indian children sending money to help the children in Korea. Our children, both Primary and Explorers, saved their pennies in mite boxes made from half pint milk cartons, which were given to us. This money was used to buy 15 pounds of powdered milk, for which the C.G.I.T. paid the postage, which was sent to Miss Willa Kernen, a missionary on Koje Island. She wrote to the children, telling them how much the milk was appreciated. She had sent me a Korean doll (a mother carrying her baby on her back) at Christmas, so we used it on our worship centre. In the fall, we continued the Korean theme in Primary Club by telling them the story of "Little Brown Boy" which appeared in the World Friends. We placed a little tin cup beside the Korean doll, for offerings. This story made such an impression, that even yet, the children talk of "Little Boy Brown," and several bring pennies in during the week for him—would that all of them remembered to share with him!

New Groups

New groups organized included the Kindergarten Mothers' Club, meeting weekly, January to June, and monthly beginning in September. The attendance has been small but the time spent worthwhile, I think. The first part of the year, the ladies made copper jewelry and also cork jewelry for sale. In the fall, programs varied from child care films, to making new bedding and repairing clothing for the "doll corner" in the kindergarten.

The Baby Band, with a member of the Official Board as superintendent, has been organized, with five children enrolled.

Our fall activities got off to a good start, with a Rally Day service, followed by a Sunday School picnic at Kirkfield, which was quite a successful innovation, even without the complete cooperation of the weather.

They Take the Meeting to Her

Four of the Explorers were proud to lead the worship service one evening at the Winnipeg Explorer Leaders' Conference held in the fall. Both Explorers and C.G.I.T. Groups have held their regular meetings once a month at the home of a 13-year-old who has never walked, and is confined to her wheel chair. In the cold weather it isn't possible to bring her to our meetings, and navigating the stairs is difficult at any time, so the girls take their meetings to her and she certainly looks forward to and appreciates them.

We were pleased to have to look for extra chairs at the Baptismal Service as well as the C.G.I.T. Vesper Service, and the Christmas Pageant; for it meant the possibility of our small congregation becoming larger, through people interested in special services becoming aware of the need of regular worship.

At Christmas, the Junior and Senior choirs combined, transported by some good friends, went to sing carols to three shut-ins of the congregation. In two cases they shut off the T.V. to listen to the girls; but the looks of appreciation on their faces as we said good-bye, left no doubt as to which they appreciated most—and the girls benefited so much, too.

The Challenge

I want to present some situations and the challenge facing our Church in this area. Visitation and cooperation with the Social Welfare Workers is one of major importance. The Mission is a place of worship for all peoples but I feel not too many avail themselves of the opportunity. Another major responsibility we have is to provide a home and leadership in Christian Education for all age groups. Our Christian Education groups operate fairly effectively and a great need is met but how much more is needed to be done in the areas of visitation, counselling and in evangelism within the home! Even more than money for social welfare purposes there is needed increased staff, my two reasons being for Christian fellowship and to assist in this major witness our Church needs to make even more effectively than now, for the Kingdom of God within the hearts and lives of men and women. This picture could be painted in most areas and fields. There is need for more dedicated lives in the volunteer and paid personnel of Christ's leaders.

This year a new group has been started—a junior choir of girls (age 8-14). They learned many new songs and hymns and sang each Sunday morning at worship. Several women of the district helped to make twelve new white choir gowns.

In 1955 four new members were received into Church membership, and several baptisms took place.

The boys' groups, Tyro (ten regular members), Sigma-C (twenty regular members) under the leadership of Jim Strachan, have enjoyed regular meetings together. The Sigma-C boys entered the City Sunday School Basketball League.

Girls' and women's work remains active. C.C.I.T. (nine regular members) has endeavored to really follow the prescribed program this year, and also with the view of earning a Chevron. Their attendance percentages were interesting and revealing, not only to the leaders but also to the girls. Attendance percentages were: mid-week group 80%; Sunday School 50%; Church 40%.

The Explorer department which is twice the size of the teen-age girls, are truly eager beavers. Their outstanding Exploration was their study on the Family, concluding with a family night of fun, worship and social.

Our W.A. is a small group of nine ladies who come for friendship and to share in the support of the church. We help to raise funds through our Spring Tea and Fall Fair. One of the most encouraging growths in our group is the development of our regular worship at our meetings into a fifteen minute Bible study.

IN SASKATCHEWAN CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS RUTH J. SCOULAR

Missionary-at-large,
Battleford, Saskatchewan,The Work of the Field

First the services of worship. As the closest ordained minister is thirty-two miles from here, I do preach regularly. Last winter, I attempted to hold services on two mission fields, preaching in the morning at Pierceland, fifty miles away, and in the evening in Loon Lake. This continued until the student minister came to Pierceland, and I then took over the other three points on this summer mission field. That meant three services a Sunday, that is when there was no ball game to entice the congregation away from the service. Since returning from holidays this fall, I just have the two preaching points on this one field. My committee didn't feel that the response received had justified the long drive the winter before. My other service is in the country twenty miles away, and the blizzards have made this spotty so far this season. But the fellowship that we share at these gatherings for worship, and the people, themselves, make this a very real part of my work for our Master.

Leadership Training

Leadership training, too, is a part of my work that I enjoy very much. This year there was a variety of it. The Sunday School teachers for three charges in this area met together for sessions on three consecutive days this last spring under the leadership of our Associate Secretary for Christian Education. It meant miles of driving for many people, but it was well attended by enthusiastic teachers. I enjoyed working with Miss Dixon at this time.

There was then, the Week-End camp for training camp leaders held at the Prairie Christian Training Centre at Qu'Appelle.

Next in line was the girls' camp for these same two Presbyteries with one hundred and seventy-nine campers. As you can imagine, that was a very busy time, but it was exciting to discover that some of those leaders are contemplating work within the Church as they plan for the future. Indira Singh was one of our leaders, and just having her there with all the glamour of her saris was a thrill for the campers. But it was more than that, it was an education in missions itself.

We have a C.G.I.T. Group in Loon Lake this year with ten members. This, I think, is my most thrilling work of all, for I feel that I'm getting to know these girls in a way that I haven't up until this time. What is even more exciting is that most of them are in my communicants class as well, looking forward to Church membership this spring. When I compare the two groups, I can see such a difference, and realize that the leader needs to live in the community to be effective with such a group. Last spring I had the privilege of speaking at the Mother and Daughter banquet, which was just plain fun.

FROM MISS VIOLET M. STEWART

Missionary-at-large,
Bienfait, Saskatchewan

First Impressions

First impressions of Bienfait seem to be mixed up with blizzards, snow and biting frost, topped with marvellous sunrises and sunsets. At night when the moon is full it is like a polished silver dish in the sky, giving forth a fairy light that covers the snowy prairie with a blue white blanket of misted moonlight, with here and there a sparkle of diamonds when the light picks up an icy pile and reflects it back. The trees crackle and snap, and as you touch them the frozen mist covering their branches showers softly down on you. You wonder how they can bear the weight of it, but you find it is like feather down, and no burden at all.

Faithful Workers

I have found here faithful workers in the Church, who carry on well and bravely. There are men and women here on whom we can depend, but as is frequently the case, a few are bearing the burden of the many. Folks come and go, for men come to work at the Mines nearby, live here for a while, and as work conditions change, many go to other places. We appreciate the steady faithfulness of those who are permanent residents, and their realization of their obligation in the service of their Master.

The Children

The children are a delight, with their rosy cheeks and dancing eyes, their willingness to learn, and as they gather in C.G.I.T., Mission Band, Explorer and Sunday School groups, it is a pleasure to work with them. Since I have only been here about three months, there is plenty of time for me to become acquainted with everyone, both children and grown ups. I am enjoying that experience, too, in visiting in the homes, hospital, doing the work there is to do, which is many-sided in any Church set-up. Not the least seems to be the taking of meetings on Korea. It is always a good sign when folks are interested in others. That seems to be the case here. I am sure there are many more opportunities for service here in the days to come. We are looking forward to the spring days when the roads are clear of snow and ice, and work can be carried forward with more ease.

FROM MISS MARGARET L. KEE

Church Extension Worker,
Prince Albert, Saskatchewan

Two years have almost elapsed since the Woman's Missionary Society sent me to Prince Albert and in this busy East Hill Community there has been real growth under God's guidance. Families are now saying, "When do you think we can have our own Church on the Hill?" Who knows, it may be very, very soon! Once fathers and mothers begin to say we need a Community Church, there is little doubt but that they will do something about it! In confident expectation the Board of Home Missions purchased those five lots I see from my window. At present our Sunday School and mid-week activities are held in a Community Hall but no Church Services can be held there. A large majority of the 200 United Church families on the East Hill are young couples with families. The Sunday School now has an attendance close to 180. There are three departments with a total staff of twenty-four. The C.G.I.T. and Explorers were organized in the fall and the Mission Band has celebrated its first birthday.

Reaching Out to New Communities

The Airport is a small community, of 35 families, five miles from town. Yet the Church has shown interest and concern in all the people—Sunday School, Mission Band and Explorers are attended by children of all denominations. Church services are held upon special occasions and last week a family of five children were baptized, which brought much comfort into a troubled home. The mothers have been active in their own Federation Circle. Just a small work and yet in this community of transient population, there is real appreciation for the witness the Church has made.

In the East End another Sunday School was organized over a year ago. The children are meeting in Wesley United Church at present while a new East End Community Hall is being built. Each week over fifty children come by bus to our one United Church, and only building, in a city that claims to have over 3,500 adherents to The United Church of Canada. Plans are under way to start an Explorer Group and Mission Band in the East End shortly. A Mother's Auxiliary was organized on Valentine's Day of last year.

In closing my report, I should mention the Radio Ministry, which has reached out through the media of the air, to bring into sick room and isolated farm-home the message of God's love. Each Thursday evening, I have been privileged to assist Rev. R. K. Vickers on the half-hour program entitled, "Faith and Life." Here, one has the challenge of another way the Church "bridges the miles" in Christ's name.

FROM MISS OLIVE C. BRAND

Missionary-at-large,
Bethel and Balmoral United Churches,
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan

Bethel and Balmoral

My time at Bethel was short, as I was told I should terminate my connection there in June. March 13th was a notable date, for on that Sunday the congregation left the little old white frame building which had served a small group for over 25 years, and moved into the lovely spacious new one, three blocks further east.

The Explorer Group of girls was needing help so urgently at the New Year, that I came in to give assistance, and ended by taking over the two groups as we later lost the one counsellor we had. I think I enjoyed our expeditions as much as did the girls, especially the night at the close of our missionary exploration when we invited the mothers and met with the W.M.S. for the affiliation service, with the girls taking part and also displaying their handwork—the model village of India, the Indian poster, and our worship centre.

In "my" other Church on the northern fringe of the city, Balmoral, served by a very able young student from St. Andrew's College, we were celebrating the second anniversary of going into our own building (after a few months in the community hall) on the very Sunday the Bethel congregation went into their new church.

Our Sunday School has been a joy right from the beginning, as the women in particular felt that since it concerned their children, they should take responsibility. Consequently, almost all the younger classes were taught by young mothers and not left to immature young teen-agers, as unfortunately seems to be the case too frequently. They also shared with a few men the work in the older session.

Week day groups have fared well, the C.C.I.T., and also the Explorers each having two splendid young women as their leaders, and both winning recognition for the work done during the year ending in June. Mission Band has also been in the care of two more fine young mothers, likewise the junior choir, though in the fall it has combined with the senior choir, with very gratifying results.

The "San"

One other part of my work I was very loath to leave—the weekly visiting at the Sanitarium. The survey was finished, the two Churches were on their own, but who would carry on my work there? This is quite different from ordinary hospital visiting, for most of these are long term patients and each floor is more like a small community which has been cut off from the outside world.

Three patients whom I first met in 1950 when I arrived were still there, and I felt I was parting with old friends. One of these was an English war bride who lived in Canada only a few months when she had to go into the "San", and there she has been ever since.

The superintendent once remarked, "She would have been dead long ago if she hadn't such a good husband." Certainly I can't imagine a finer, more devoted one. Years ago he left his farm and got work in Saskatoon in order to be near her, and he has given her the necessary courage to face one operation after another, and the will to keep fighting. Now they hope she may be ready for discharge soon.

One memorable evening, Rev. R. M. Thompson of Bethel, an elder, and myself visited Mrs. P. in her room. Her husband was also present, and two other patients. In that quiet room she and her husband were received into Church membership, following which the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. It was a most unique and impressive service.

FROM MISS FERNE E. GRAHAM

Missionary-at-large,
Yorkton Presbytery, Saskatchewan

Highlights

Church services continue at Calder, and the girls' groups there are a real thrill. Three Explorers attended Junior High Girls' Camp, and came into C.G.I.T. in the fall, making our membership nineteen. We were all proud of the two members of the C.G.I.T., who graduated at the district graduation in Yorkton in June. Our first "Mother and Daughter" banquet was a highlight, so was attending the rally at Saltcoats and being asked to be responsible for the folk-dancing there. A Vacation School in the summer received leadership from senior C.G.I.T. members.

A student missionary gave help at Otthan, Halmock and Orcadia for the summer months. The weather in the spring gave us a late beginning, and snow in the fall gave us an early "ending" this year. The first service at Otthan was held on May 22 and all of us had to go at least part way by wagon. We report 37 people, eight horses and three dogs at that service! Otthan and Orcadia had Vacation School, with local people giving leadership. In the fall the Otthan Sunday Church School was reorganized. A class of seven teen-agers are studying to prepare for Church membership, and an enthusiastic teacher and younger pupils are very proud of their class. We looked forward to a good fall, but weather did not permit even the usual Christmas activity, so now we must look forward to spring. Several new families have begun attending services at Otthan and Halmock, and give hope for the future of these congregations.

Pebble Lake School continues to be an important part of the Christian Education work. Each Tuesday after school finds the 14 Protestant children waiting for their class. Five girls joined the Explorer groups in Yorkton, two graduated into C.G.I.T., and one attended Junior Girls' Camp. An occasional service was held in the school, and several adults united with St. Andrew's congregation in Yorkton. An evening gathering in December brought friends of other denominations and all enjoyed the carols and Christmas filmstrips together.

The winter months meant spending more time in Yorkton, and visiting patients in the two hospitals as well as some of the "shut-ins" at home, became a part of my work. I became interested in the High-C groups, and attending a week-end rally with them in November is one of the year's highlights. In the summer, our Church here had its first Vacation School and about 160 children attended in three centres. It was a real opportunity to work with local leaders, and results seem to be very satisfactory.

Opportunities for Service

The many "extras" add variety and interest to the work, and many times a real opportunity for service. Vacation School at Lestock repeated the same satisfying experience we had last year, although the weather was not so cooperative. More children attended this year, and as they have had no Christian Education program, the need for what Church Vacation School offers is important. This spring I was given an opportunity to give leadership at a Camp Training Week-End held at the Prairie Christian Training Centre at Fort Qu'Appelle. Three of the seven leaders for Round Lake camps also attended. Directing the Senior Girls' Camp at Round Lake again was a privilege, and we all enjoyed our ten days together. Assisting at a Leadership Training Conference in October, helped me to meet the new C.G.I.T. and Explorer leaders in this area.

IN ALBERTA CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS EMILY M. PUTNAM

Community Worker, Trinity Institutional Church,
Calgary, Alberta

I felt a great burden had been lifted when I saw Mr. Reece and family arrive the first week of June. With glad hearts the congregation met to welcome them after the Induction Service.

A New Minister and Progress

The first project undertaken after their arrival was a Church Vacation School. In this effort we had the cooperation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Approximately 65 children attended daily and were given training in Worship, Bible study and handicrafts. The school closed with a "Parents' Night" when parents and friends were given an opportunity to see what the children had accomplished.

After vacation it was a joy to see all departments of the Church's work resumed and progressing favorably; to hear the ring of the hammer at the Tuesday night work parties, and to see so many young people at home in the church.

The Woman's Association finished furnishing the manse and redecorated it throughout for the new minister. They have sponsored teas, dinners, etc., to raise money. The group is small but loyal and faithful workers.

The Young Woman's Guild has grown in numbers and interest. They have assisted the Woman's Association in redecorating the manse, served lunch at the Church School picnic. They sponsored two congregational socials, one an April Fools' Frolic, the other, a Halloween party.

The Woman's Missionary Society has had an excellent year. Members took turns in presenting the Study Book and leading worship services. Many calls were made to sick and shut-ins and little services given. The allocation was exceeded by over fifty dollars. I feel this is an indication of the interest in the work.

The Youth and Children's groups are all active and doing good work. The C.G.L.T. and Explorers held a joint service when they affiliated with the Woman's Missionary Society, and gave a gift.

It had been a pleasure to visit in the homes of the Church people and to look up new people in the community, especially those who have children in the Church School.

A number of new families have united with the Church, some by profession of faith and some by certificate from other Churches. The congregation is growing and in spite of the discouragement felt at the beginning of the year, the people carried on and much has been accomplished.

FROM MRS. B. A. MOON

Hospital Visitor,
Calgary, Alberta,

A Human Interest Task

Hospital Visitation is very much a human interest task. People are sometimes a bit wary of your intentions but once a common ground is found, they are glad to have someone to talk to and usually thank me for calling. I try to find people from outside the city first, as it can be so lonely for them away from home.

Unanimous appreciation was expressed for all "treats" distributed. Some of our ladies helped me to make 35 boxes of fancy cookies which were taken to the Baker Memorial Sanitarium. The patients said it made a nice change and they felt they were not forgotten. One Evening Auxiliary also gave me individual Christmas gifts to take out to them which helped to brighten the season. Another W.M.S. made up 70 boxes of home-made candy for the ladies at Sunset Lodge and other shut-ins. Home-made candy and cookies are particular favorites with those away from home.

Among the literature I have distributed, appreciation has been expressed for the "Faith and Hope" Series and the "Upper Room" booklets.

Talking Over Problems

Usually the patients appreciate the chance to talk out their problems with an outsider—they “get the weight off their chests” even if no actual help can be offered. We get to know well the fracture cases who are confined to hospital for weeks and months. Their patience while in the casts is admirable but real endurance is tested when the casts are removed and sagging muscles are once more put to work. Usually much sleep is lost through the aching of tired muscles, after a day of therapy.

Another patient had no thought for herself in her sickness—her main concern was that her husband was home alone and perhaps not taking proper care of himself.

Sadness creeps into the admiration felt when visiting a patient suffering from a disease as yet incurable. She knows she will be confined to hospital for the rest of her life unless a miracle cure is found.

When leaving one room, a lady in another bed requested a moment's visit. She was not of our denomination but wanted to talk over her troubles and join in a short prayer.

The next patient was anxious to get back home where she had left her children with her husband who was crippled by polio. This wife and mother cannot join the complete life of the Church as she does not like to leave her husband alone too much and the Young Adult Group is the only one they can attend together.

Similar situations are found in making the rounds at the Sanitarium. It is a long slow grind for them.

FROM MISS MABEL M. WILLOWS

Community Worker,
Drumheller Valley, Newcastle, Alberta

“They Had a Mind to Work”

The week of March 1st, I brought to the men of the congregation the proposition of a basement, and since the response was favorable, the following Sunday at the close of service, a board of five men was appointed. Plans were made for a canvass of the business men of Drumheller. They were very generous toward us, and with $560 on hand the excavation was begun on a voluntary basis on March 29th, the spring of the year when the mines were slack. Through the years this has been a Mission maintained and attended by women and children, and I felt if the men of this community would put something into this Mission, they might begin to appreciate it, since we receive only as we give. It was one continual struggle getting men to work and much of my time was given to recruiting help, since there was no one else who would do it.

Our upstairs now is very worshipful, and there is that which makes you “be still and know that He is God.” We have a fine basement which serves for all our mid-week activities, a place where children and adults can play. We installed a propane gas heating system which greatly simplifies our janitor problems. With the renovation of our upstairs into a church, our congregation has steadily grown, and even though our winter has been long and severe, the attendance has been good.

Youth Groups

The Tyros, and older boys (whom we call Tyro Companions) are a specially active group. A few weeks ago the congregation was very favorably impressed with the reverent manner in which they conducted the Sunday evening service. Our Explorers are eager and active under lay leadership, and our Junior C.G.I.T., recently organized, give promise of a good group.

I have regular Religious Education classes in three schools—Newcastle, Naemine and Midland. Religious Education was introduced into the Midland school for the first time this year. The enthusiasm and response on the part of the children is truly rewarding, and the interest and cooperation of the teachers very encouraging. In Naemine all grades this year are receiving religious education where formerly it was given only in grades five and six.

I have a Junior choir of twenty lively, eager, enthusiastic girls.

FROM MRS. J. E. KIRK

Church Extension Worker,
Edmonton, Alberta

Enthusiasm

I wonder if you might like to know a little detail of the work we have tried to do since we have been working in the Dovercourt-Sherbrooke and Woodcroft areas.

We have made 990 contacts with homes and found 318 where the family claimed interest, or membership, in The United Church of Canada.

The Sunday School's total enrolment is 344, with an average attendance of 233. At one Sunday service in October, Mr. Kirk baptized 20 children and quite a number of parents have asked since that time about having their children baptized.

We now have three W.A. circles, the latest one formed on November 28th. An Explorer Group of girls was organized about November 1st. A C.G.I.T. leader has promised to organize a group but that has not been started yet, perhaps because of early and cold winter thus far.

There has been a great deal of enthusiasm for the Church among these fine people and it has been a pleasure to work among them.

FROM MISS E. MAE LAYCOCK

Hospital Visitor,
Edmonton, Alberta

After having had a very profitable furlough, taking a semester in Chaplain Training in Boston University and Massachusetts General Hospital, I returned to Edmonton in July and took up Hospital Visiting again.

I feel that my group of voluntary visitors are doing outstanding work. I meet with them from time to time. There have been 33 doing regular hospital visiting in four hospitals and eight Homes for the Aged and Nursing Homes.

I have made the Polio and T.B. patients my personal responsibility because of the factors which enter into long term treatment. I am in touch with the Social Service workers on the hospital staffs, who follow through to the families of the patients.

Indian Young People

The Charles Camsell Indian Hospital, operated by the Dominion Government, has set up a Rehabilitation Program for the Indian Young People, housing them in a wholesome home setting, while they learn some useful craft or trade, by which they can support themselves in the changing social and economic system. Much of the success of their work will depend on the acceptance they receive from us, and let us not fail them as they venture forth into our communities. May they receive that understanding and warmth of fellowship within the family of Christ.

In both T.B. hospitals, monthly chapel services are held. At the Aberhart, the city ministers rotate, with their choirs, in providing these services, and they are well attended. The Public Address System enables bed patients also to listen in. In several Homes for the Aged, services are held at regular intervals.

The Church is Concerned

Our patients have greatly appreciated the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas messages provided by the Special Services Committee of The United Church of Canada. Copies of The Upper Room are also provided and have greatly strengthened the spiritual life of the long term patient.

Through the regular visits of the hospital visitors, people are becoming more conscious of the Church and its ministries. Newcomers in the city are put in touch with the Church in their community and their children are brought into the Church School. Those who come from distant places where no Church is yet established, learn of the Sunday School by Air and Mail. Often on a first visit, patients exclaim, "I didn't know the Church visited us in the hospital." It opens the way to tell them of some of the Church's work, then before leaving they have placed in their hands, a copy of The Missionary Monthly or The United Church Observer.

Among the Christmas gifts provided for our Indian children at Camsell Hospital by one of our W.M.S. Auxiliaries was a musical top. It was given to a boy of seven years, in a body cast. Two of his friends had the joy of making it spin for him. None of them had ever seen such a top, and the sparkle in those dark eyes would have made the donor very happy.

FROM MR. BERT FORMAN

Church Extension Worker,
West Jasper Place, Alberta

Vacation Bible Schools

During the first week of September, the staffs of the Vacation Bible Schools met jointly with last year's Sunday School staffs and interested parents. Because Jasper Place is a new area many of the parents are young and raising families, and several young mothers, who had given good service last year, were unable to carry on this year.

On Sunday, October 30th, a city-wide Sunday School Rally was held in McDougall United Church. Each Sunday School was given an allotted space. However, the three extension schools overflowed, by as much again, the space appointed us, even though that day was our first big snowfall of the year and the weather was bitterly cold.

All the Sunday Schools had previously been assigned certain verses of hymns or Scripture to be given as answer to a roll-call. When it came our turn the whole rally was surprised with the enthusiasm and volume of the "Little Sunday School out West," as we sang verse three of "The Light of the World is Jesus."

Visiting the Homes

Your worker has done a lot of home visiting in the past few months for several reasons. First, in calls to the teachers' homes; second, the visiting of as many of the students' homes as possible. Both kinds of calls have proved interesting, helpful and very challenging. While making these calls the conversation includes everything from the children's grade school activities to the meaning of God in the life of the parents and His influence on a growing family. A third type of call which your worker makes, is to homes where there appears to be need. Less of these calls are necessary than one would at first expect after seeing the area, and it is very heart-warming to go to a small house and find a young couple who manage so well on so little. However, there are a few homes where assistance is necessary.

Most of the children in the Extension Areas are young enough to be included in Sunday School. However, in the early fall we felt a need of something for the older teenagers who were there. Because there aren't enough in this age range to operate an effective group, we were puzzled at first for an answer. However, as they are at an age when a little distance is no problem we joined with the same age-range group at the Church and formed a Hi-C group. This has turned out very satisfactory and awakens new and deep thoughts in the young people. One girl, age 17, is at the moment thinking very seriously of offering herself for full time service and going to the Training School when she has completed the necessary entrance requirements.

One of the teachers at the Canora Sunday School is also thinking very much of full time service, but has not as yet decided for sure. She is a graduate X-ray technician.

Your worker has felt that one of the most important tasks he had was to keep the work going in such a way that the local people were sharing the responsibility and prepare themselves to eventually become independent. With this in mind he works democratically, never doing anything of importance without first calling a meeting and getting the combined opinions of the Sunday School staffs. This was slow at first, but the idea caught on and now everyone feels that he, or she, is a vital working part of the Sunday School.

FROM MISS HENRIETTA CAMPBELL

Missionary-at-large, Peace River Presbytery,
Manning, Alberta

My furlough began the first of September. It is never easy to pull up the roots that have become firmly set in the lives of people and in the work which concerns these people, yet after six years it is good for people, work and oneself to have a change. During this term, I had seen many changes take place on the Manning charge.

But probably the greatest change was that which took place in the Battle River Hospital which had been built in 1937 and sustained and staffed by the W.M.S. In November 1954 the municipality had bought the land and buildings from the Society, but it was not until July 1955 that the beautiful new modern fifteen bed hospital built at a cost of $127,000 was officially opened, and all was moved from the old hospital. I was happy to have been a part of that change; glad that the citizens while appreciating what the W.M.S. had done for that area in providing medical care in the past, especially in the needy years, now had come to the place where they felt they could accept the responsibility, themselves. It was with a tinge of nostalgia that I saw the old hospital which had been part of my life and my eating place for six years, stand empty. It seemed to me that all these changes showed the passing of an old era and the beginning of a new. Probably no greater changes will take place again, and I was content to leave having been a part of this growth in this part of the Peace River area.

The joys of the work in Manning were to see one of our C.G.I.T. groups attend Camp Council at Lake Sylvan and have two of our Sunday School teachers take a two weeks' course at Naramata Summer School, particularly when one came back expressing her experience.

in these words, "Naramata has made me know I can do things." She had caught a vision of the things possible for one who commits life to God. A Vacation School was held for one week with an average attendance of forty. A Church Family picnic at Hotchkiss sports-grounds was held with enjoyment by young and old. Another delight was a monthly study group held with Sunday School teachers, when not only problems were discussed but a course in Old Testament was studied. At a congregational meeting held in June, a motion was made to start a canvass in the fall, for the building of a manse, preparatory for the time when a minister could be called.

The church at Deadwood continues to be a source of joy for those who worship there each Sunday. The World Day of Prayer Service was held for the first time in the church. The group was small, but those who took part felt a real blessing, I am sure, especially those leading in prayer for the first time in public. Other highlights were: the day when W.A. members with husbands cleared the church grounds with a good deal of chatter and laughter thrown in plus a lunch; the Sunday School picnic held on the church grounds with races and games, homemade ice cream and supper. Our Vacation School struck a week of poor weather but in spite of rain and muddy roads, those who attended voted "they had liked everything in the program."

FROM MISS F. MARION HODGINS

Missionary-at-large, Peace River Presbytery,
Manning, Alberta.

The first impressions of this field were of its size and beauty. We were surprised to find such a large settled area, with electricity and modern homes on many farms, and more getting modernized all the time. We were also surprised at the wide gravel highway that goes so far north, up to Great Slave Lake in the North West Territories. One doesn't realize just how far away Manning is from even the nearest town of Grimshaw, which is 56 miles and our nearest point on the railway.

Another surprise was the way areas are still being homesteaded farther north for agriculture. About 50 miles north of here is the beginning of an agricultural area as large as this Battle River area, with thousands of acres already under cultivation. Many of our young married couples from Manning have landed there, and within a short time will be building homes and moving in permanently. One man alone from this district had 700 acres cropped last year. Then schools and churches must follow the homes.

Manning is also a base from which oil companies work, exploring the country in every direction for hundreds of miles. And hundreds is not an exaggeration of the fact. It is around 400 miles to Great Slave Lake, and tankers are busy carrying oil to these exploring groups along trails over a hundred miles and more off the highway in various directions. It is a common sight to see dozens of large trucks or transports, some with cabooses, some with derricks, some with caterpillars, parked in or passing through our town. As a result we have a transient population at times, when the dependents of the operators choose to live here briefly. Also, as this area has a consolidated school, we sometimes have families move into the town for the winter, returning to the farms at the end of June.

So opportunities here for service are unlimited. Indeed, we are lagging very far behind without a minister on this field. Miss H. Campbell has made a splendid start at getting the Church moved to this new town; and a congregation, Sunday School and other groups organized, as well as a new church built in the Deadwood district 21 miles away. But with the growth of the town, which now has a population over 800, and the growth of the settlements north, our Church has a new challenge.

It was a happy month of August to start in company with Miss Campbell; before she left for furlough, and to see how she was beloved after her six years here.

The Rural Schools

One facet of service that has always been an important part of the Mission work here will probably cease to exist as of next June. I am referring to the Christian Education classes held in rural schools. When I came to Smoky Lake four and one half years ago there were eleven rural schools in operation—more than one Mission worker could cover in the course of a week. This year there are three. Next year, if the new school they expect to build here in Smoky Lake materializes, there will be none. As yet I have not been successful in getting into consolidated schools in this School Division. That is a much different matter than gaining admittance to the small rural schools. It will have to be done on a cooperative basis with other Churches in Smoky Lake when we can present a united front to the Division Board and ask that school time be granted for this purpose.

The Church Schools

The Church School situation on the field has continued to develop and grow in all three points. Last year I was able to report a Church School here at Smoky Lake fully staffed with teachers of the best quality. At Warspite and Waskatenau the same situation has developed so that now we are able to have the four classes, Kindergarten to Intermediate, at all three points, and in all places the teachers are of a high calibre—the ones one would have selected had she had the whole community from which to make a choice. We have our teachers' fellowship organized with monthly meetings for study and discussion.

Last summer the three Church Schools cooperated in sponsoring two community Vacation Schools, one at Smoky Lake and one at Waskatenau with Warspite included in the latter. Average attendance at Smoky Lake was 85 with a gross enrollment of about 100. At the Warspite-Waskatenau School the figures were lower but there was much higher percentage of attendance. For three years now we have welcomed the help and service of the Conference Vacation School Director in supplying us with a much needed local director for several of these schools.

The Sunday Schools each had a Carol Service and White Gift offering. The C.G.I.T. had a very effective Vesper and Candle-Lighting Service on December 23rd. The Explorers went carolling on the 23rd and then attended the Vesper and Candle-Lighting Service but they didn't have their Christmas Party till January 12th. However, they didn't seem to enjoy it any the less for that.

Our Y.P. got off to a good start when an extension group from Edmonton Presbytery Y.P. came out on the week-end for Saturday night social, Sunday morning service and Y.P. Workshop in the afternoon. The women of the W.A. were most cooperative and helpful in the donation of food and help in preparing and serving the dinner in the Church on the Sunday noon.

FROM MISS MARGARET E. BROWN

Missionary-at-large,
South Alberta Presbytery,
Pincher Creek, Alberta

Very soon after the New Year I learned that I would be moving from Lethbridge to a new area, and so much of my time was spent in arranging for the continuation of the Religious Education program in seven district consolidated schools.

One of the lengthier tasks of the winter was an eight-week course for Sunday School teachers at First United Church in Lethbridge. As extra-curricular activities there were speaking engagements at Explorers, C.G.I.T., Y.P.U., the World Day of Prayer Service, and Easter Thankoffering of the W.M.S. and several church services.

Beginning a New Work

On May 1st I moved to Pincher Creek as the W.M.S. fulfilled a request of the Home Mission Committee of Presbytery for a woman worker in this area. The minister has 1,200 square miles and the points of Pincher Creek, Cowley, Mountain Mill, Fishburn and Marr under his supervision. United Church services held at Waterton National Park are conducted by the Pincher Creek minister, also. My special responsibility has been the Mountain Mill congregation where weekly services are held on Sunday mornings.

During the summer when Cowley had morning services, I conducted the majority of them. After the summer student left the Fishburn-Marr field, services were conducted there on alternate Sunday afternoons. The response was gratifying with an average attendance of 40 before the onset of winter. Thanksgiving services were held in appropriately decorated churches with a good attendance, but weather conditions made Christmas congregations very small.

One of the important phases of the work is visiting. Because of the great expanse of country and the number of families, it has been impossible for the minister to keep up with the task. I have been well received by all families.

Young People's Group — A Highlight

One of the highlights of my year has been the Mountain Mill Young People's group (ages 8-14). There are 15 children who meet regularly on Friday nights. Our program consists of games, business, Bible study, crafts or films, more games and refreshments. Enthusiasm is very keen. We prepared a one-act play and on the night it was to be staged winter came and temperatures fell to 30 degrees below zero. It was postponed and the next night was not much better. However, expenses were met and it served as a social gathering in the community.

Other activities include a C.G.I.T. group which has been busy with mission study, a home nursing course, the annual vesper service, a tea, and Christmas treats for the old folks in the Senior Citizens' Home. Then, of course, I attend most of the women's meetings in town and country.

FROM MISS ILA E. NEWTON

Community Worker,
Vilna, Alberta

A Challenge

I believe that this area is one of the United Church's most challenging places in Canada. There is a new awakening and people are seeking. A goodly number go to all the religious meetings held. They listen to special speakers and evangelists brought in often from far away by the Pentecostals, Jehovah Witnesses, Communists and others. Yes, the time is surely ripe for the United Church to pick up the threads that were dropped some twelve years ago when the work at Bellis almost closed down with the passing of Rev. T. Hannócho.

I conduct the Church services at Vilna, as the W.M.S. workers have done for some ten years now. I superintend the Sunday School, too. There are over forty on our roll, and I have three helpers. In Bellis we have a combined Church and Sunday School.

Christian Education

As to Christian Education classes we are coming through a transition period. When I first came here I had classes in six rural schools. This year I have four. Soon we may not have any rural classes.

Busses are bringing the children into the larger centres. It is our hope to be allowed to conduct classes in Vilna, Bellis and Spedden during school hours. At present a grade six class uses our church club room. It does not hamper me too much. I have my Explorers after four and the C.G.I.T. come at six for a supper meeting. The kindergarten class is in high school now! We use the household economics room on the one morning that the teacher has a class at Spedden. The C.G.I.T. will have their mother and daughter banquet in this room, too. One of our last year's C.G.I.T. group is attending Naramata School. Our W.A. has sent her a gift of $25.00 to help. At Christmas time the group held a candle-lighting service. The church was full.

Presbytery Work

I like the way the ministers of St. Paul United Presbytery take the W.M.S. worker into their number, and I have enjoyed the fellowship at the meetings and also at the ministers' "Retreat." They make me work, too. At present I am the statistical secretary.

One of the highlights of my life at Vilna this year was when I moved from a small one-roomed house to a very nicely situated larger four-roomed one. There is a lovely large, sunny porch. The Woman's Missionary Society bought this residence for the worker here. The town has just installed the waterworks and I have a new bathroom and of course, running water.

For the fifth year I have been a leader at our Lake Whitney C.G.I.T. camp. Five Vilna girls attended and two Vilna women served on the staff.

We have now a lay minister at Goodfish Lake and I have not gone out to conduct special services. It was one hundred years ago that Henry Bird Steinhauer began the Christian ministry in the Whitefish-Goodfish area and I was one of a committee to plan and prepare the Centennial services. July 24 was a memorable day for a large crowd of people.

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS JOYCE M. FACEY

Missionary-at-large,
Prince Rupert, B.C.

Visiting in the home is very interesting work, talking over a cup of tea and getting to know the parents and children in their homes means much to me and to the parents.

Youth Groups Interested

The Mission Band meets every Monday after school; we have a group of twenty boys and girls attending and I have one helper. This is certainly an interesting group of children to work with, they are so enthusiastic, they just can't get there fast enough after school and are reluctant to leave at 5 o'clock. They are enjoying the study on Home Missions and the story "The Boy with a Busy Walk" is very appealing to the children. The Evening Auxiliary supply the World Friends magazine for them and they certainly look forward to getting it each month.

The girls who graduated into C.G.I.T. have made a second group in C.G.I.T. and one of the girls who attended Camp Council in 1954 is leading the group and is doing a very fine job. This year we have a group organized at First United Church with good leadership. We have had some of our activities together such as "The Christmas Vesper Service," carol-singing at the hospital and the Pioneers' Home. The older members of the groups were taken on a conducted tour of the Columbia Cellulose Plant at Watson Island, and we all found this very interesting and educational.

The Sunday School is now serving some 80 families in Rupert East, but there are still many children who are not attending any Sunday School. So often, people moving into the district are not aware of our Sunday School in the hall, and it is not until I call that they learn of our activities. We have 150 pupils on our roll and 15 teachers and officers; our average attendance was 126 for 1955 and our record attendance was 152, on December 4th. Family services were held on Easter Sunday, Mother's Day, and the closing Sunday in June, Rally Day and Christmas. It was very gratifying to see so many come as families. I am giving some teacher-training to the younger teachers and they are getting a great deal from it, some of the women are going with me up to First United Church for Bible Study, which Rev. Mr. Sieber is conducting.

The last two weeks in August we had two five-day Vacation Bible Schools in the hall, 27 school-age children attended the first week, and 51 pre-school children attended the second week.

Hospital Visiting

I have almost an entirely new group of patients to visit at Miller Bay Hospital since last year. The new drugs being used hasten the recovery of the patients, and so, their stay is much shorter. I have some very bright little girls to whom I teach Sunday School lessons on Saturday afternoons and they are certainly eager to learn the Bible lessons. There is a new chapel in the hospital now and more patients are able to get out to services, because it is right in the centre of the building. The United Church patients collected money before Christmas and bought a Bible, they presented it to the chapel the Sunday before Christmas.

FROM MISS ALICE M. A. PHILIP

Church Extension Worker,
Vancouver, B.C.

I have now been four and a half months in the Westburn Area of Burnaby and at the last committee meeting on December 6th, Dr. Bunt moved that I continue working in this area, three days per week until March 31st in order to consolidate the work which has been started. At the October 11th Advisory meeting, Dr. Bunt stated that he was anxious to have me start work on a survey in a North Vancouver area known as Lynnmour. This is a newly-added point to the Deep Cove Charge and includes a brand new subdivision called Westlynn. I felt I could give three days per week to this area, while continuing three days per week at Wesburn and this is the arrangement I now work under.

Wesburn

On November 27th, the first Church service was conducted by a student minister, Mr. Wayne Mackenzie. A committee of five men of the district made arrangements for this service. Permission was obtained from the School Board to use classrooms in one wing of the school, this meant Sunday School and Church could meet together. The Nursery and Kindergarten now have a separate room with little tables and chairs, instead of sitting on the floor of the stage on car rugs. They know the way to their own room now while the parents go to the Church service. The Primary, Junior and Intermediate children all meet in the Activity Room for the first part of the Church service, then leave for their classes. Adults at the service number approximately thirty, plus the teachers. A request has now gone from this group to the New Westminster Presbytery to organize this congregation as a student charge.

Lynnmour

In my visiting, I discovered two C.G.I.T. Grads, who are now young mothers. They would like to give leadership to a C.G.I.T. Group. In conversation with the Sunday School secretary recently, I found out that the Intermediate class of girls is growing larger now that they have a lady teacher (the result of the reorganization I advised). When told about those potential leaders, she was very enthusiastic about forming a group. I now feel I have the go-ahead signal.

Future Plans

A new possibility in Survey Work for Vancouver-New Westminster is opening up. There is a chance that the Young People's Union will assist in the initial survey of an area. If this could be arranged, I would organize teams, train them and generally oversee this phase of the work during the spring and summer, on evenings or Saturdays. Then during the winter my time would be used in organizational work in the districts which are ready for it. This I feel would be a much better arrangement.

FROM MISS MARGARET A. FULTON

Community Worker,
Columbia Street United Church,
Vancouver, B.C.

The first piece of work begun by the W.M.S. worker in this district during the war was a kindergarten for children of working mothers. This kindergarten is still being operated but for three mornings a week instead of the former five. It was my hope that the kindergarten would bring new children and their parents into the Church for Sunday School and Church and the various activities offered, but the results are not encouraging.

Volunteers

We have an excellent staff of volunteers in our Sunday School which has pupils ranging in age from three to seventeen. We have three departments — kindergarten, primary and junior-intermediate-senior. Among our teachers are two Nisei (Japanese-Canadian) girls who are giving conscientious service and growing in their Christian faith as they teach little children of the love of God, and of Jesus, their friend. The Sunday School is worthwhile as a training ground for these young leaders, as well as for the pupils. One of the senior pupils, of a class of three under the leadership of the student minister, has qualified for a certificate this year in her lesson tests. This same girl became a communicant member last June and is a devoted member of our choir.

The mid-week program for the primary and junior children is led by the W.M.S. worker. We have Mission Band, Explorers, and Tyros. Two volunteer leaders have the C.G.I.T. A student in First Year Theology leads the intermediate boys both Sunday and mid-week. All these groups are small in number, but are worthwhile for those who do attend.

Active Women Leaders

The women's group of our Church is essentially a W.A., affiliated with the W.M.S. The officers of this group are showing great promise in their leadership of the group, with executive meetings being held regularly to plan the work of each month. The women held a bazaar and tea in the fall, with the objective the repair of the manse living-room. For the first time, they had a definite project in mind, and their joy was great when they exceeded their goal. A meeting of the group was held in the manse as soon as the work was completed. The removal of a wall made it possible for twenty people to meet where formerly five or six filled the room. A Baby Band has been formed by this group and it is our hope that through this new work some of the ladies may become interested in doing some visiting. It is good to see this group increasing in their sense of responsibility to their Church.

Our congregation is young, being five years old, and our members are continually learning how to grow spiritually and in temporal affairs. We have been fortunate in having the student minister, Mr. Bill Van Druten, over a period of two years. He has helped the members to take on new responsibilities one after another. They advanced from a Home Mission charge to an aid-receiving charge. We now have a session and a committee of stewards.

FROM MISS OLIVE W. SHAW

Community Worker,
Columbia Street United Church,
Vancouver, B.C.

The Work Goes On

During this term, the work in all departments—Sunday and mid-week—carried on as usual except for a greater degree of moving among our own Church personnel. It will certainly change the set-up in the clubs and classes in the fall but not diminish the total membership.

The Ladies' Friendship Club had their annual tea. Each year I have expected to have to console with them, feeling they couldn't exceed their previous successes or even come up to them but it was splendid again, equaling if not surpassing other years in friendliness and financial success. At the closing of our missionary project with the girls, the ladies were hostesses to the parents and girls.

The C.G.I.T. led by two of the Church ladies, had a happy time. They joined with the Explorers in the mission study program and the W.M.S. affiliation ceremony but had their mother and daughter banquet.

Missionary Projects

In the Explorer Group we enjoyed our missionary project. At the closing we performed a play based on a story about India by Alice Kinden, portraying a little of the school life and the influence of the Bible. Our girls, as Indian students, acted the story of Jesus loving the little children. The main point was the Rajah's question after watching the play, "Where does one find such a story?" and being given one of the boy's Bibles. After this we had a home project, making house plans, exterior and interior, studying what makes a real home and our responsibility in this. The ideas, ability and initiative of the girls was really interesting.

In kindergarten, we studied our own country and others. We included especially the countries from which the children and their parents came. Starting with Canada and our connection with Britain, the Eskimos and the Indians, we went on to a little about Holland, China, Central Europe, Africa and India. Later we studied forms of travel—trains, boats and planes. Through these we took a trip to grandfather's farm and his animals.

The boys' club and the Church School carried on under able leadership.

In the adult department along with the ladies' club, our Friday bowling and square dance evenings were really fun and our weekly Bible study group continued—small but interesting and worthwhile.

During the spring, the Nisei group, under a Japanese student and their W.M.S. worker, Miss Bartling, started evening services and joined with us on some Friday evenings. The Columbia Street congregation held their regular morning services but members of both groups were welcome to worship at both services, which many did. The happy cooperation and partial integration was thrilling to watch.

FROM MRS. MARGARET C. MYERS

Community Worker, First United Church,
Vancouver, B.C.

When I was assigned Youth Director of First United Church last September, one of my first concerns was C.G.I.T. Upon enquiry I learned that only one of the five graduating Explorers was interested and still within our Church program. Further consultation with Mrs. Knapp (chairman of the Girls' Work Committee) revealed that although we had excellent leadership over a period of two years, the results were discouraging when viewed from a statistical standpoint as to numbers, and attendance. However, the few girls who remained faithful were greatly benefited. I visited possible prospects for C.G.I.T. for two months before calling a meeting. We are now supplemented once monthly by a few senior C.G.I.T. girls and their genial leader, Miss Mary Smart of Willingdon Heights United Church. We plan to study our Mission Project together. Youth Sunday our girls assisted with the church morning worship service. They attended Candle-Lighting Service with Willingdon Heights C.G.I.T. girls. Our aim is to strive to build up our present faithful few, ten girls who meet Wednesday weekly, by initiating graduating Explorers next fall. Parents' interest in this group's activities is very low.

Hi-C Working

The growth in membership and development of a sense of responsibility of the Hi-C members as a group has been a source of joy to me. We began our fall activities a bit disheartened having the Nisei (Japanese Young People) withdrawn from our church to Columbia Street United Church. We found our membership consequently lowered; also two of our Hi-C counsellors in the persons of Gordon Imai, Theologue, transferred to Montreal; also Don Junnouchi is a McGill student in that city—their splendid leadership was keenly missed. However, we have built up our membership and maintain an average attendance of twenty members of mixed teens—between 15 to 19 years who meet each first, third and fifth Friday in our Club Room. We have tried to carry out our four-point program of Spiritual, Social, Sports and Educational and have had many enjoyable as well as instructive times together.

We are also proud to have had Hi-C member Kai Nilsen, our president, as a representative at Older Boys' Parliament,—the first to represent Hi-C at Government House in Victoria and the first boy to represent First Church there in several years. Kai brought back a splendid report and has been asked to give same at Wilson Heights and Knox United Church Hi-C Clubs.

We have appreciated Earl Topping, our Church radio reporter, giving our Hi-C (because of its community nature) a bit of news reports during Sunday afternoon Church broadcast. A recent discussion resulted in a written statement on behalf of our teens relating that Hi-C program meets their needs regarding good fun, fine fellowship and keen teen activities.

Another new endeavor at First Church has been the Fellowship Service conducted alternately by Mr. T. Redpath and myself—held each Sunday evening in the gym of the church. The growth in attendance and response to this evangelistic type of service proves we are truly a Mission Church.

FROM MISS LOTTIE McRAE

Hospital Visitor,
Vancouver, B.C.

Cheer and Comfort

A report from one of our visitors in private hospitals was "I enjoy visiting these folk but never seem to do anything spectacular." Spectacular visiting is not our job. This visitor leaves the patients with a firmer grip upon divine power to carry them through heavy days ahead.

We had with us in September meetings of the Friends of Rest Homes and Friends of Nursing Homes, Rev. William Allan, Hospital Visitor of The United Church of Canada in Victoria. He gave us a picture of the tremendous, sublime, delicate task that was ours; and of the compassion of soul that was necessary each time we entered the sick room. We knew that only through the infilling of the Spirit of Christ could we go forth on our commission. It has been a year of rich blessing.

136 women have been regularly visiting 30 Rest Homes and 16 Hospital and Nursing Homes. There have been 700 calls made to Homes and our visitors have brought cheer and comfort 11,800 times, which with the hospital visitors' visits made 19,800 times.

We have also had a visitor working in conjunction with the Presbytery Auxiliary to Fairhaven, our United Church Senior Citizens' Home. She organized a craft class in September where over 20 learned a hobby for pin money and contributions to Fairhaven bazaar. Fourteen of her class were entertained in her home.

Our visitors give an outstanding contribution to the Marpole Infirmary. Another patient of the Infirmary has become a Church member. One visitor has helped with the music of the regular Church services conducted. Patients are sometimes taken out to services in city churches.

A Labour of Love

Our visitor to the Thompson-Kay Home was invited there for the special Christmas party. For the carols the daughter in the Home played the piano, the son-in-law the violin. After prayer there was a short message on the meaning of Christmas, a sumptuous repast, a gift for each and a two-hour bus tour of the city through the gaily lighted residential and business sections of the city—a trip through fairyland!

A number of visitors go regularly reading to the guests, and guests themselves have been encouraged and found joy in reading to other guests who could not see. Many of those in Homes are over ninety years old. Some are still quite alert and active.

A report of the Nursing Home Visitor to Queen Elizabeth Hall for the blind reads, "Ours is an earnest prayer that we might be guided to lead the conversation in the right direction. Miss Richards with radiant face told of having a record made of an imaginary chat with her blind sister in England and having sent the record as a gift to her sister. One gentleman broke into tears telling that this was his first Christmas away from his sister. Always they gave their warmest wishes and hearty thanks for the visit. Frequently a fervent prayer 'God Bless you' followed our departing figure from the room. They are hungry and eager for a chat and the presence of a sympathetic listener."

ON INDIAN WORK

THE FOREWORD

We have learned during our year of study that our responsibility to Indians is exactly the same as to other racial groups in Canada. Each Church member shares the task of providing Indians with the Gospel. Perhaps we have learned, too, that white and Indian Churches in the same areas should be encouraged to launch joint programs for the betterment of the community. Where this has been experienced, young Indian people have attended camps, children have been present at Church Vacation Schools and Indian men and women have attended Conference and leadership groups.

Today, many Indians are leaving the Reserves to reside in communities where our Churches are located, and we would urge that our membership accept these people and make them welcome. Maybe we will have to educate the non-Indian to help this minority group to become integrated into the Church and community. We believe it will bring rewarding results.

Changes are being made in the location of the schools and we are being given our fair share for the educational facilities of the Protestant children. Our need is for United Church men and women who will offer their services as teachers on these Indian Reserves.

For the first time I visited the Queen Charlotte Islands and there I saw a piece of work that I am sure is unparalleled anywhere—the on-going Church, with religious, educational and medical facilities which are used to the utmost by people from at least ten European countries accepting these services which were primarily set up for our Indian population.

THE STORY

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS RUTH NELSON

Community Worker,
Ahousat, B.C.

Just Arriving

It is difficult for me to prepare a report of the year's work because I only arrived at Ahousat six weeks before the end of the year, on the same boat with Dr. Markin, the eye specialist for the Department of Indian Affairs. I received my initiation to the dispensary work by assisting her. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid way in which the two school teachers carried on the Church activities when Miss

Quinn could not return; and I have asked Miss Iberg who had assumed responsibility for the Mission Band so capably and enthusiastically, to help prepare the year's report.

How the Work Was Carried On

Our Church services were highlighted by five visits from The Melvin Swarthout. Everyone came out to hear Rev. Roy Rodger's excellent sermons. In early December he was accompanied by Miss Jean Spiller, Secretary of Girls' Work for British Columbia, and her contribution to the service was much appreciated. During the year several services were taken by the native people. Our Sunday School is conducted by four Indian teachers, the two school teachers and the missionary. We have an average attendance of sixty. There is great enthusiasm in the Primary and Beginner Departments.

The W.M.S. Auxiliary have this year in addition to their devotional and study and sewing meetings branched out into a W.C.T.U. group so that some other women not in the auxiliary could share with them in this important need for this village.

Over forty young people join in the Y.P.U. fun and games every Friday evening. During a cold spell last winter the boys got a supply of wood for a blind old age pensioner.

Miss Joan Caldwell has organized the C.G.I.T. and under her enthusiastic and devoted leadership a dozen girls are busy making aprons and knitting afghans. During the week before the Christmas vacation their mothers and older sisters were invited to join them in a Vesper service. As all these girls were taking a prominent part in the school concert that same week, their efforts and Miss Caldwell's story of "The Other Wise Man" made it a fine introduction to the Christmas season.

P.T.A. Cooperates

The P.T.A. has done much in the past year to promote cooperation between the Home and the School. We now have eighty pupils in Grades One to Eight. A new classroom and teacherage opened this fall. We have had excellent cooperation from our Roman Catholic principal.

In April the village put on a superb display of native dancing in aid of the Gymnasium Fund and some day we hope that project will be undertaken for it is needed. Also, last spring a Home-Improvement Contest sponsored by the Mission caused a spark of real interest and determination. The Government nurse, who now has her Health Centre in Tofino, visits monthly and receives excellent cooperation.

We were justly proud when Roy Sutherland, one of our Church Elders, also president of the P.T.A., was chosen to represent the West Coast Agency at a Community Leadership Training Course held in Vancouver last April.

FROM MISS JESSIE OLIVER

Community Worker,
Skidgate Mission, B.C.

The Church Grows

Skidgate has been the centre of my labors for much of the year. Last April a congregation was organized, made possible because parents of young children realized the need for one. And because they saw the need they worked for it, determined that their children should not grow up in a community without a Church. It has been a satisfying yet challenging experience to see people who were apparently indifferent to the Church before, being the ones who stand up to opposition and indifference in others and declare the reasons why a Church is needed.

An adult was working hard getting wood piled and the Explorer girls seeing this said to one another, "Let us go and help, we are Explorers, we should help others." Only a little thing perhaps, but if the idea of service to others can be captured early and lived out in daily life, what a blessing to those who serve as well as those who are served.

It was Vacation School time and the children were learning a new song which told of Jesus coming on willing feet when His mother called. One little girl had liked that song especially well and the next day when her mother called, she ran quickly and said, "See, Mother, I am coming on willing feet like Jesus." And the mother decided that if that was what the Church taught, then her little girl was going to Sunday School, too. She has hardly missed since.

The big discussion at the meeting of the Committee of Stewards had been the much-needed repairs on the church building. As the committee went home one member was heard to say, "We should take more interest in our church. We Indian people owe so much to it. All that I am and have, I owe to the Church."

The mothers were discussing their children and one mother said, "My girl wants to do work like our missionary when she is through school, she hardly talks about anything else."

Little things, all of these incidents but how much they tell of the working of the Spirit of Christ in the hearts of young and old alike.

Cooperation and Progress

Many times the question is asked, "How do the two races get along together?" The answer with few exceptions is, "Very well." There is no difference. Actually the fact that there are two races is very seldom thought about or mentioned.

Camping is a vital part of the work of the Church in this community, too. The background setting is beautiful but a suitable site is difficult to obtain. Against very great odds, two successful camps, one for boys and one for girls, were held this past summer. We are grateful to the leaders who came in from outside to help us, but are also happy that the people of the community took so much interest and responsibility in the camp.

A report of this area would not be complete without mentioning the opening and dedication of the new United Church Hospital in Queen Charlotte City. This November 15th, 1955, was a day to be remembered. And everyone who entered the hospital that afternoon saw not only a building of which any community might well be proud, but their eyes saw too the fulfilment of days, weeks and months of work, work, work. There is much equipment still needed and the people still are planning how to get things for "our hospital."

FROM MISS IDA M. DRAKE

Community Worker,
File Hills Indian Colony, Saskatchewan

Vacation Schools

Floods in this district hindered our work very much, and it was summer and Vacation School time before any effective efforts could be accomplished. But we did have three very good schools of two weeks each, and with a total enrolment of 78 children, some of whom were not of our faith and some were summer visitors.

The first school was held in the day school at the Agency, in July, and as roads were still impassable, I took camp cot, bedding, food, a single coal-oil burner, Vacation School supplies and my little dog, left my car at a white neighbor's about two miles out, loaded everything on a wagon, and hauled it to the day school, where I set up school in one room and living quarters in the other.

I wondered who I would be able to get to help me, as I could not very well bring anyone in, having no accommodation for them, and here the Lord wonderfully met my need again. Cora Walker, one of our former Brandon High School girls, who is now employed as housekeeper for a couple who teach school at Orono, and who happened to be home for her vacation, came gladly and helped me. How those children did enjoy that Vacation School, and how they did play in that Rhythm Band!

The second school was held here at the Colony Church. It was the smallest of the three, and my helper was Miss Roslyn Gattinger, a junior teacher in the Balcarres Public School, who is also very active in Young People's and C.G.I.T. in Saskatchewan. I cannot be thankful enough for Miss Gattinger's help this year. Your missionary felt as if she, too, were a pupil again.

The third and largest school was held about five and a half miles west of here, where our faithful Mr. Roy Keewatin again built a brush shelter for us beside his little home. I found that, with very careful driving, I could stay up on the sharp, high ridges of the old Pelly Trail with the car, and so was able to travel by car to this school, getting stuck in the mud only twice, when hauling my supplies in and when hauling them out again, and this time less than a mile from home. This was the most appreciative group I have ever taught, and yet they had the least to do with. Mr. Keewatin had not counted on so large an attendance, and our shelter burst its seams. Some did their writing and drawing lying on the ground on their stomachs, and with a piece of corrugated board to write on, and all laughed and sang their way through those two short weeks without a cross word, as we "Crusaded For Christ." I was truly sorry when the last day came.

The New School

In December the new school was opened and the children and teachers gladly vacated the old Mission school that had served the Reserve for close to sixty years. The new school has two large bright rooms, and a five-roomed teacherage, and is a well-equipped building; one to proud of.

This year, with the consent of the Inspector of Indian Schools, we started Religious Education in the school. The senior pupils, especially, seem most interested in their course of study. Friday afternoon we have Church School during the last hour of school. Both rooms meet for the worship period, then divide into three classes, with Mr. and Mrs. Silversides each teaching one class, and I with the senior girls. I am glad this is possible as the senior girls are getting Bible study only in their C.G.I.T. group. Once a month after school I have Mission Band and Explorer Groups.

C.G.I.T.

The C.G.I.T. are very proud of their new uniforms, and grateful to the auxiliaries and individuals who donated them. During the year the Carlyle group invited the Indian group to a meeting in town, and the Carlyle group with their leaders came to the Reserve for a picnic and hike with the Indian group. It is good for the girls to meet together—good for white girls as well as for the Indian girls, and we are grateful to Mrs. Robertson for making it possible. In December the girls were invited to take part in the Vesper Service in town and they were glad to accept and to wear their new uniforms for the first time. The next Sunday we had our first Vesper Service on the Reserve and the girls took their parts very well. One girl read the Scripture, and four were candle lighters. The group as a whole formed the choir and sang two carols. It is difficult for an Indian girl to speak in public as they are not used to it, and are so shy, so I know they put forth a real effort. The service was held in the new school, and in spite of sub-zero weather and a strong wind, fifty people attended, some walking two and a half miles.

Homemakers' Groups

This year our two Homemakers' groups had a most successful year. Both meet every week to sew, and once a month we have a combined meeting when we try to have a special speaker. This winter we have started a series of discussions on "The Home" taking in family life, understanding of marriage, how to guide the child's behaviour, getting the most out of school, and the importance of worship, both in the family and in public. It is very difficult to have a full discussion with this very quiet group of women, but a few will give some excellent ideas, and we hope the rest will soon be more confident. To encourage homemakers the Indian Department will give a new modern Singer sewing machine to each group, and thirty-five dollars worth of material for sewing, as well. Our groups are making good use of their machines in making warm shirts and blouses for the children, as well as other articles of clothing.

For the first half of 1955 Miss Graham with the help of Miss Young, was doing the missionary work here. In June Mr. Pollock and family took over. This was terminated by the sudden death of Mr. Pollock in September. From then until our arrival in December, the work was carried on as best possible by the school principal, Mr. McKibbon, and the Rev. James M. Spence from Kamsack.

During 1955 there were fourteen baptized, three weddings and two deaths.

The Indians on this Reserve are very poor as there is only land for half the families, leaving the balance to do the best they can to make some money by some other means.

During the year a Mission Band was held and before Miss Graham left she took a number of children for a two-day camp at Madge Lake with the help of Mr. and Mrs. McKibbon. There was a Christmas concert held before Christmas and all the children received a present and all families a hamper.

In the short time we have been here we find that owing to the fact that we are a half mile off the highway, it makes it very hard to get around. We have been snowed in fourteen days out of the fifty.

Busy Year

This has been a busy year with the many regular Church activities being carried on, such as: Mission Band, Explorers, Tyro, C.G.I.T., two Y.P.U. Groups, Sunday School on the Reserve and in the residential school, Christian Education in the schools, Bible Study in the W.A. and morning worship in the residential school. Besides these, there were other activities that were worthwhile: service in a home eight miles down the river every other Sunday; Sunday School teachers' meetings, World Day of Prayer Service, communicants' classes, special Fireside during Youth Week, C.G.I.T. Vesper Service and others.

It is our hope that we shall be able to have a Training School this coming summer for Indian Sunday School teachers and mid-week leaders from all our Missions in the north. We want to encourage and help the potential leaders among our Indian people so that they will be able to take their place as leaders.

One sometimes meets with disappointments and discouragements, but many are the joys. This year a mother rowed eight miles by boat to bring her daughter, son and nieces to reach the church before the 11 o'clock service, at which her children were received into full membership in the Church. I think also of another lady living on an island and carrying on a Sunday School week by week, of the faithful president of our W.A., who also carries on a little Sunday School for the children living on her island. Then, too, the boys and girls are eager to learn about the Christian Faith and the Christian way of life. Just the other day when we were preparing for our C.G.I.T. Sale, I was in the bakeshop with a young girl who said, "Miss Martin, will you tell me more about God?" She is in Grade VII. She is a very bright girl and I believe one of the many boys and girls studying here who will be a leader among her own people.

Christmas

The Christmas season is always a very happy time here and it begins early. The aroma of special baking spreads through the building, one hears the children singing carols instead of cowboy songs, the C.G.I.T. girls start practising for their Vesper Service, and the teachers for the closing day concert, and one hears of exams, too. Six senior boys drew a very lovely Nativity scene on one of the blackboards and the Air Force Officers' Wives Club again assisted Santa by donating a gift for each child. On Christmas Eve there was all the excitement of hanging up a clean stocking for each of the 93 children who remained over the holiday and on Christmas Day we went to Church in the morning, had our dinner at five o'clock and a colored filmstrip of "The Birth of Christ" with carols in the evening.

Good Results

Two children, who had not expected to go anywhere, were invited out. Our baby, Ida, five years old, was taken by one of our teachers to her parents' home in the city; and a boy of 15 who came to us five years ago from Island Lake, was invited by a former Island Lake day school teacher to be his guest at his parents' home in Ontario. For an hour and a half I listened to his story of his trip, his impressions of a white home, of life in an Ontario village, and of Toronto and especially of the Wesley Buildings where he saw the presses printing the Sunday School papers. He was thinking in English, or he could not have talked so well. Could any of us do as well if placed in similar circumstances?

A PRIZE-WINNER ON 4 H ACHIEVEMENT DAY AT PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE SCHOOL
Dr. C. H. Best, as Superintendent of Home Missions for Manitoba, makes the presentation

Today I received a letter from an Indian girl of 20 who returned to her Island Lake home last August. She told me she had been married January 4th, and she wondered if I could send her books and materials so that she could form a 4-H sewing club among the ladies of her district. Six years ago this girl came to us as a pupil, and since she did not know English she began in Grade I. By the end of three years she was in Grade V but did not wish to continue in the classroom so I placed her on my staff where for two years she did very well. During her time here she was a member of one of our 4-H sewing club groups and successfully completed the first five projects. Now she plans to give of her training and knowledge to her own people.

The Boys Have Their Chance

Our 23 C.G.I.T. girls have some contact with white girls for they meet them socially, or they join them for a Vesper Service or for the World Day of Prayer, and I have wondered how our boys could similarly benefit. In September the seven who are 14 years and up joined the Portage Terrier Air Squadron and go with the white boys to train at the South port every week. Their commanding officer told me that he noticed that for the first few nights our boys stuck together but that after that they lost their shyness and made new friends. Lately they have been competing in a marksmanship contest and one of ours is now in the finals.

Progress at School

The opening of school in September saw our Rama children of Grades III to VIII inclusive being taken by school bus into two Orillia Public Schools, where they are integrated into their respective classes with Orillia children. Our boys and girls enjoy this, and it should help a great deal toward their development as well-rounded Canadian citizens. Twenty-four younger children continue to attend the Junior Room of the Rama Indian School. One of the most enjoyable activities of my week is when I visit these children on Wednesday mornings for a class in Religious Education. At the end of the two years here they will be able to fit into the Orillia School without difficulty in respect to language or foundation knowledge. Two Rama girls and three boys are attending the Orillia Collegiate. During the autumn three women took night classes at the Collegiate, two in sewing, and one in typing. Those who took the sewing lessons are, in turn, passing on what they have learned to members of the Rama Homemakers' Club.

Commendation

The congregations of our two churches were happy to have Dr. James Lyttle, Superintendent of Missions for this part of Ontario, and Rev. Walter Auld, Chairman of the Home Missions Committee of Simcoe Presbytery, present with us for our Annual Meetings for 1955. At Rama they commended the congregation for the attractive appearance of their redecorated church auditorium, and Sunday School room, and for the satisfactory reports presented by the various organizations—the choir, which has contributed a special musical number at most services throughout the year, and which, in November, took part in the Anniversary Services of the Christian Island Indian Church; the Sunday School, with an average attendance of 37; the Primary and Intermediate Girls' Clubs; the attendance of C.G.I.T.-aged girls at groups of the C.G.I.T. Department of St. Paul's United Church in Orillia; and the Woman's Association. Two new members united with the Rama Church on profession of faith in 1955. Seven Indian and two white children attended four of Simcoe Presbytery's summer camps and benefited thereby in more ways than one. Over thirty children were in attendance at a Daily Vacation Bible School conducted by enthusiastic Caravaners. We are grateful to God for His continued guidance and help in 1955.

Dr. Lyttle and Mr. Auld commended the Longford congregation for increasing their contribution to the missionary's salary by $100.00 in 1955, and for the good reports presented by the Sunday School, Woman's Association, and W.M.S. Auxiliary. There has been an increase in Sunday School attendance. Twenty-two children benefited from the Vacation School conducted under the splendid leadership of United Church Caravaners. The W.M.S. Auxiliary of three regular, and ten associate members, raised $110.00. The Woman's Association had a successful year.

ON MEDICAL WORK

THE FOREWORD

It has become the duty of the state and community to provide hospital facilities for the sick. However, there are localities where, due to a lack of community responsibility and because of economic conditions, this is impossible and we continue to carry to them the ministry of healing.

During the years we have reason to believe that because of our hospitals, in which trained Christian staff gave service, communities with higher standards of living prevail, and this is true where medical attention was given to immigrants settling in the more isolated areas.

While we are working on the Commission on Hospitals set up by General Council we are glad to have had our policy as a guiding statement which has been helpful over the years when we have been approached by the Municipalities to purchase our hospitals and then continue to work along together, providing staff and sharing on a fifty-fifty basis any year-end deficit. After the report of the Commission is presented to General Council we may wish to change or revamp our policy, as action at General Council will give us the complete picture of our work in relation to the needs.

THE STORY

IN TORONTO CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS ADA M. CHILVERS

Superintendent,
Bingham Memorial Hospital, Matheson, Ontario

We had 825 admissions, of these 124 were newborn babies. We had five sets of twins, two sets in the hospital at one time. This is very unusual for such a small hospital.

Our X-Ray work has increased considerably. 1,282 patients were examined with 2,263 films being taken. We did 36 major operations and 81 minor and treated 1,024 out-patients.

Michael

Michael Black was a little one-year-old Indian boy from Lake Abitibi Reserve, about 40 miles northeast of Matheson, who came to us at the end of the year, and stayed for six months. He could not sit up when admitted to hospital; he was fat but had no strength. Although we suspected T.B. we never did prove it as tests were always negative. Several times he was ready to be discharged and then his temperature would rise again and he had to be kept longer. Several times we wondered if he would get better. By the time he was finally ready for discharge he was running around and had such a happy infectious smile, he had become the pet of the staff and patients alike.

Santa Claus, was preparing for a Christmas concert at a small country school when his beard caught fire and he was admitted to hospital with a badly burnt face and hands. On Christmas Day, our minister, Rev. W. Sherwin, conducted a service in the hospital when patients and staff gathered around the Christmas tree in the hall. Some patients who hadn't been at a service in years came and enjoyed it.

The Highlight

The highlight of 1955 was the organization of "The Woman's Auxiliary to the Bingham Memorial Hospital" in Matheson with a branch organization at Ramore, 15 miles from Matheson. We have 55 members in the two organizations with 35 or 40 present at the monthly meetings. A tag day was held on the Saturday before Mother's Day. Paper carnations were made and used as tags. $250.00 was realized from this effort. In the fall a food shower was held and the value of the goods received amounted to over $350.00. The Auxiliary has donated $350.00 to be used for the upkeep of the hospital linen. Every Wednesday afternoon the Sewing Committee come to the hospital to do the mending and make new supplies. 200 hours of work were donated this year. The Ramore branch is to be especially congratulated for the work it has done. The Auxiliary has been a success and shows the interest of the community in their hospital.

FROM MISS ELSIE A. M. LEE

Nurse, Bingham Memorial Hospital,
Matheson, Ontario

The Bingham Memorial Hospital is a beautiful new 28-bed building opened June, 1954, and is the result of much labor by many people, most of all by the superintendent, Miss Chilvers. It is an ideal building in which to work, for, being modern and up-to-date in planning and layout, one is able to accomplish more. One feature which greatly increases efficiency and is probably included in the planning of all new hospitals is that of the Central Sterile Supply Room, operated by its own staff, where all sterile supplies for the whole hospital are prepared and sterilized. This is a department sadly lacking in most other W.M.S. hospitals, the inconvenience of which necessitates stopping over in the midst of busy times to sterilize supplies.

Another addition is a 5-bed Children's Ward where sick children may be cared for alone without being moved from room to room as space permits. One darling little 11-month boy came to us burned from porridge being spilled down his back. He endeared himself to us all by his bright eyes and dimpled smile—but how we ached when he cried with pain. We missed him so much when after two months, he was taken home on Christmas Eve. In November twin girls were born who were with us for several weeks, the smaller one being here until Christmas Eve when she, too, left us to join her twin and eight other children at home.

For one idea of Christmas decorations several of us painted Christmas symbols and scenes on doors and windows which showed up beautifully in the evening when lights were on, casting a cheery glow inside and out. On Christmas morning we played Santa to our nine patients including our two-day-old baby.

There being great need in the Sunday School for teachers, I was thankful to be able to take the Intermediate girls for their Sunday class and bi-weekly group meeting. For the Christmas program they enacted a short play adapted from a story in The Missionary Monthly. Other classes produced the five-act play "The First Christmas Tree." The whole program was designed to bring all closer to the real meaning of Christmas, so we were thankful it was very well attended by many in the community.

One thing I have done since coming here that I had not done before is to take a Church service. In December I drove 100 miles south to the "silver" town of Cobalt to take not one but three Church services, battling another 70 miles on the three-point charge through a snowstorm to do so. Besides strengthening me spiritually, this experience gave me more of an idea of what many of our ministers on a three or more point charge go through Sunday by Sunday as they travel their circuit.

IN MANITOBA CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS ISABELLE E. MILLER
MISS JEAN E. SHEPPARD

Superintendent and Nurse,
Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital,
Eriksdale, Manitoba

This year our 23-bed hospital has averaged nine to ten patients per day. Due to an increase in children's admissions we have replaced one large bed by two cribs. During the past winter it has been difficult at times to accommodate the large numbers of Indian babies requiring hospitalization. These babies suffer from malnutrition, upper respiratory and intestinal infections. Three of these little ones, Vivian, Barbara and Joey, are now considered to be permanent members of our family since they have been with us several months. Others who have been discharged have had to return frequently for further care. This proves to us that there is a great need for more Health Education on our Canadian Indian Reserves. What a thrill it is to clean up these wee ones and dress them in the bright pink and blue jackets and hand-embroidered gowns so generously sent in by the women of our Church!

Since only minor surgery is done here our nursing consists mainly of caring for medical, maternity and accident cases. Patients requiring major surgery are transferred to Winnipeg, which is ninety miles south of Eriksdale. Care of helpless medical patients can be very difficult, especially on the afternoon and night shifts when we have only one nurse on duty. It is always necessary to have another nurse on call to help give the required nursing care to these patients and to assist in emergencies.

The regular bi-weekly clinic this year cared for approximately 2,750 out-patients. In a small centre such as this we are indeed fortunate in having a talented doctor, such as Dr. Paulson, who gives so freely of his time and energy, often without adequate remuneration.

Other Efforts

The amount of assistance which we have been able to give in the local Church has gradually decreased as our nursing staff has diminished. Help is still being given in Sunday School, choir and Mission Band, and on occasions we have been able to help with Church services.

Our crowning achievement of this year has been the purchase of a new electric sterilizer, at a cost of $1,700.00. At the end of the year all fund-raising projects had not been completed but it is hoped that we will be able to raise the total amount by public subscription. Contributions to date have been most gratifying. Once again special appreciation is due the ladies of the Eriksdale Guild for their continued efforts on behalf of the hospital.

With the joys of the past year we have also had difficulties and these have brought to our minds this old Chinese proverb: "The diamond cannot be polished without friction, nor the man perfected without trials."

FROM MISS CORA A. KILBORN

Superintendent, Ethelbert General Hospital,
Ethelbert, Manitoba

An Evident Increase

Last year we were seriously considering the closing of the hospital. Today we feel quite differently. The reason for the difference in opinion is that in the first place this hospital is being used to a greater extent as shown by the increase in our statistics. There were 331 admissions in 1955, an increase of almost 100 over 1954. Sixty-two babies were born here in 1955 as against 44 in 1954. The total patient days was 2,027, 15 major operations and 74 minor operations were performed. Dr. Ross Green was kept very busy seeing patients in his office, which meant that we in our office were kept busy selling drugs. As there is no drug store in the village, our hospital has to serve in that capacity.

Perhaps the most outstanding event of the year was the campaign put on in the fall to raise money for a new pressure sterilizer or as it is called, an Autoclave. With the wholehearted cooperation of the staff and a number of people of the village, we put on an evening of entertainment—two plays, a skit and a dance. The performance was repeated in three neighboring villages with great success. Out of this effort we raised about $600.00. Largely through the letter-writing of our United Church minister, Rev. Michael Zuk, we obtained another $1,700.00 from firms with which we deal and friends of the hospital.

Both the local Advisory Board and the Hospital Women's Auxiliary have been quite active during the year. The ladies have come in, too, to help with the sewing and mending.

The work of the Church has gone forward under the leadership of our minister not only here in Ethelbert, but also in Pine River, Garland, Winnipegosis and St. Lambert. Some good discussions were held in the hospital sitting room at the close of the Church service. When the former Sunday School superintendent resigned, I took over the task and have enjoyed my contacts with the children. I also assist in the worship service by playing the organ.

I would like to tell you of two outstanding patients that we had in the hospital during the year. There was Nick who came to us badly burned when his tractor caught on fire while he was working. After a long and able treatment he is back at his work on the farm. The other day a man was brought in with his leg in a ghastly condition after having been caught in a threshing machine. It was more than one doctor could cope with. After rendering first aid, Dr. Green rushed him to Dauphin where his leg was amputated. He also made a good recovery.

We have had numerous sick babies, all of whom endeared themselves to the hearts of the nurses before they were cured and able to go home.

Little Children — Hope for the Future

There is a ray of hope and it all centres upon a very vivacious, ambitious and ingenious group of Primary-age children, whose spontaneous enthusiasm in various projects has given rise to much comment locally, and much expressed hope for the future. Let me tell you about at least three of their projects.

They Work for the Blind

A group of about five primary-age boys and girls decided last spring to do something on their own for the annual appeal for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, sponsored by the school.

They put their little heads together and planned a concert. And, unbelievable as it may seem, every item of that concert was a product of their own imagination. Skits, recitations, action songs, all in appropriate costumes, were typical of the two-hour program, held on a homemade, raised platform in front of one of the busy stores in town, one busy "train night." Silver collection was all that they charged as people flocked to that popular place that evening. The entire proceeds of $8.00 was handed over to the school towards the Blind Appeal.

They Work for the Church

But not to be outdone by this splendid effort, two girls of that same group decided that the Church, too, should merit an extra effort. So by gathering odds and ends from various homes, they set up a little booth in front of the home of little Bonnie Olender, and made it known that a Rummage Sale was going on in town that night. Most of their customers were Indian women from the nearby Reserves, who are always eager to attend any Rummage Sale, and the $3.00 made from this project was formally presented one Sunday evening at the evening service to your missionary for some special project for the church. That money was used to buy three very beautiful slides for teaching purposes in the Sunday School.

They Work for India

Yet a third project their little hands have accomplished, and this was within the Primary class in Sunday School. Through a series of lessons on India, interest was stimulated in the missionary needs of that land, especially since they hear often of my sister, Faith, and her work there. Little books of worship were made in the class sessions, and a special offering was taken up and placed in their own home-made envelopes. These all were to be sent to India, to my sister. They had heard me mention the great need for literature for local pastors in India, and the great lack of money with which to buy the literature. Their offering and books were presented to me one Sunday morning to be sent to India for the express purpose of buying "books for children." The little worship books were to be given to hostel children at Neemuch. Needless to say I was thrilled, not only with this special evidence of good Christian stewardship, but of their unselfishness that they had learned the art of putting themselves into their giving, and learned the real joy of it all.

There is much room for hope in the future of this village, with such potential leadership and Christian stewardship developing among its children.

FROM MISS MARY YAKIMISCHAK

Superintendent, The Hunter Hospital,
Teulon, Manitoba

General Improvements

Another year has rolled by and for Hunter Memorial Hospital, it has been an important one. We began the year still in the old hospital with all its stairs and nurse-fired furnaces, its cold dining room and old-fashioned elevator, and here now we are entirely on one floor, the furnace burns oil, and a stretcher or bed transfers patients wherever we want to go. I believe the patients have a certain assurance that things in general are improving. Better X-Ray equipment, better O.R. and delivery room, and no cause for worry in case of a fire as even the partitions are made of cement block. We have even enjoyed seeing our hospital on T.V., even though some of the claims regarding economical structure, etc., are to be scrutinized.

IN A CORNER OF THE OPERATING ROOM AT TEULON HOSPITAL, MAN.

The work here has gone on apace. Over 600 patients have been attended in the hospital during the year while the outdoor visits have probably doubled. Ninety-one babies were born in hospital, while 30 major operations were done and 98 minor operations occurred.

Special Cases

Among these a few stand out prominently. The doctor was called to a home where a woman had been gored by a bull. He found her lying on a bed and when the abdomen was bared, he found the bowel lying on the stomach wall. She was brought into hospital and under anaesthesia the wound was cleared of dirt and straw and the wound closed with drainage. The woman did very well and was able to return home in twelve days. This I believe was due to the fact that this neighborhood was blessed with the presence of modern hospital facilities, for if this condition had been delayed a few hours, further deterioration in the patient's chances would have occurred.

Another case where an old man with both legs showing open varicose ulcers had the good fortune to see them healed thoroughly under the care given while in hospital. He has now returned to his former position and is carrying on his business.

Several acute appendicities were found and removed only in time to save them from rupturing, causing more serious peritonitis.

And now we have the district medical officer holding monthly pre-school preventive Health Clinics so we can be assured of more interesting cases that turn up in their surveys. All these circumstances funnel more work towards the hospital and its staff.

One other case was of a young girl who had acquired a bacterial endocarditis. Even though this case was discovered early and huge doses of antibiotic treatment given, she continued to show little improvement and so she was transferred to Winnipeg where there, too, they had disappointing results, for after less than three months of illness this nineteen-year-old died. Her case will make history for I believe more penicillin and other antibiotic treatment was given her than any previously recorded.

Other cases probably less spectacular go to make up the yearly routine that all hospitals pass through and so we go on to 1956 with fresh courage and determination to do what we can.

IN ALBERTA CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS JESSIE M. WEIR	Superintendent and Nurses at
MISS MARY E. DEAKINS	Katharine H. Prittie Hospital,
MISS DOROTHY E. REID	Bonnyville, Alberta

The year 1955 again saw changes in the Bonnyville Hospital. In October Dr. Hagen and his wife left for Aklavik and we welcomed Dr. R. M. Hodges to Bonnyville. At the end of the year Miss Bawtinheimer left after four years as superintendent of the hospital and Miss Dorothy Reid comes in her place.

During the year 401 patients were admitted to the hospital; 44 operations were performed, 50 babies were born, and 206 X-rays were taken.

The Hospital Aid continues to take an active interest in the hospital and this year finished paying for the vacuum cleaner and bought bed lamps and chairs for the patients.

During the year one of the patients admitted to the hospital was a lady suffering from a very bad heart condition. Her son had been drowned the summer before and she had lost the will to live. At first she was not very cooperative but suddenly her attitude changed and we like to think that in the hospital she regained her desire to live.

Another lady came in one day to have her baby and before it was born, had several convulsions. . . How thankful one is to have good medical aid at a time like that.

During the year the staff helped in the various activities of the church, giving leadership in C.G.I.T. and W.A. work in spite of shift work as leadership is always a problem in a small mission church.

So our work goes on from day to day. At times it may be very ordinary indeed, at other times dramatic things happen but we like to feel that we have a share in Christ's command of healing to all.

FROM MISS LEAH ROGERS

Staff Nurse, John Neil Hospital,
Cold Lake, Alberta

Here on the fringe of a thriving town with a population of some 1,200 people, only six miles from one of Canada's largest air bases, and the nearest medical service for an Indian Reservation and a Metis Colony, the hospital serves a variety of patients, many of whom are Indians of the Chipewyan Band.

We all love the little dark-eyed children, some of whom return to us again and again, until we come to know them and follow their progress as they grow from babyhood into healthy boys and girls. We do not handle major surgery, but do get quite a number of minor repairs due to accidents.

A Grateful Patient

In the early hours of a cold December morning, an elderly Chinese man was brought in, bleeding from a deep gash on the forearm and several smaller abrasions, received when he jumped from a window of his burning café. He was clothed only in night attire, wrapped in a blanket, and wearing shoes and socks belonging to some good Samaritan who helped bring him in. He was suffering shock from loss of blood and exposure, and was stunned by the loss of all his possessions. After a rather lengthy repair job, he was soon tucked warmly in bed, and remained with us for several days, but it was quite some time before he found any reason for cheerfulness in life. He was unable to sleep nights because he "could not get his mind away from his place." His friends and neighbors were kind, bringing gifts of fruit and candy, but he would just give them away to the nurses. Soon another elderly patient was admitted to the ward, who liked to talk and tell stories. This helped a lot to make Joe forget his troubles. Before long he was anxious to leave, to attend to his business. His friends brought him new clothes, and he left, with a smile of hope on his face, and an invitation to us to visit him when he had a new place.

Some time later, shortly before Christmas, Joe appeared again, with a big smile, and carrying a large box, containing a two-pound box of chocolates and a beautiful turkey, a gift to all the staff. We were moved by the thought of such a generous gift of appreciation from one who had lost so much of this world's goods, yet has something of far greater value.

So, over the months, many come and go, finding some measure of comfort, and cheer, and we are privileged to serve them in the Master's name, for "He has no hands but our hands . . ."

A Memorable Year

A study of admissions showed a total of 745, two hundred less than last year, with February admitting a peak of 75. August was the lowest month with 40 admissions. Various factors besides the normal seasonal fluctuations affected these figures. Early in the year, the R.C.A.F. hospital began admitting dependents free of charge which cut off further admissions of the families of air force personnel. Construction has been greatly reduced this year and the Compensation cases have fallen off as well. As a result of these two factors, Dr. Wood left Cold Lake the first of August to take further study in surgery. Dr. Savage has been carrying on alone again this fall and winter.

Now that the hustle and hurry of the construction period has died away, the community has fallen back a little. Houses are more readily available. However, it will never again be the sleepy community of five years ago. Many new people are here to stay, among them many with German or other European names.

Among the interesting patients of the year was a New Year's baby who came to join one of the local Metis families.

Mrs. Susan Javier spent her last days here after returning from the Cancer Clinic in Edmonton as a hopeless case. She has been a friend since my first coming to Cold Lake. Many a pair of mocassins she has made for me. Her children and grandchildren have been our patients through the years. We will miss her. The local priest, Father Therien, was a patient for a time. The Muirhead twins, one of two sets born in 1954, came back to stay with us a few days while they recovered from severe colds.

The early part of the year found us with a very unsettled staff but after a few changes we established an excellent staff. Miss Martin and Miss Walker from England; Miss Kerth from Germany, have made a good working team. Later, Miss Leah Rogers joined us and the staff was complete.

October was a highlight (if a bit of a financial strain for the staff) for there were three staff weddings. As well as my own, there was our Nursing Aide, Rosaline Oneschuck's, to one of the local young men, and the kitchen maid's to a young surveyor.

At least part of the staff has been carrying on the tradition of active participation in the local church activities. Dr. Savage carries on in Sunday School, in Cubs, and also with the Young People's Group. One nurse is a Cub leader; others of the staff are active in the local W.M.S. Auxiliary and W.A.

FROM MRS. ISABEL FLEMMING

Superintendent, Burns Lake Hospital,
Burns Lake, B.C.

Staff Changes

This is the last report I shall write from this beautiful Northland with its stately forests, high mountains, countless lakes, long winters, brilliant sunshine and starlit nights. I left at the end of July and now Miss Kathleen Mullen is the capable superintendent.

The first six months of the year were busy and happy ones, too. We had a very good staff that worked harmoniously and well. One nurse came from Estonia. Her history was such that most of us felt as if we had been nurtured in a hothouse all our lives. Her husband was killed in the war, her father taken off by the Gestapo, the rest of her family scattered she knew not where, herself doing compulsory nursing in a concentration camp. Then her escape and final arrival in Canada and freedom. What a fine nurse she was, capable, dependable, nothing escaped her. The patients loved her as did all of us, and she was always ready for duty any time, day or night. Another nurse was married and lived in the town. She had a husband, three fine sons, a little daughter; she had helped build their home, she was President of the Woman's Association, she sang in the choir, did eight hour duty at the hospital, and best of all we never saw her ruffled or out of sorts. With nurses like that Burns Lake was thrice blessed. But good things like that never last too long. Our Estonian nurse felt she wanted to join some of her own people in Toronto; our excellent bookkeeper felt the call of that intriguing and growing place Kitimat. So it was with real regret we saw them go, and set about seeking replacements.

Care of the Sick

During the early part of the year, the number of patients admitted to the hospital varied very little from the previous year. We have an old folks Rest Home in Burns Lake and it so happened that many of them were sick repeatedly and needed to be hospitalized. Several of them passed on; men who had pioneered in the Northland and who had lived most of their lives in the shadow of the hills.

Our X-ray Department is always busy. Broken limbs, bruised heads, twisted ankles are common especially during the long winter months, and now that a chest X-ray is done on every patient admitted to the hospital, that means a great deal of extra work. However, when we see the rapid strides that are being made in the control of tuberculosis, especially among the Indians, we feel glad that the work is bearing good fruit.

Our Hospital Women's Auxiliary deserve great praise for the work they do in providing equipment for the hospital. This year they gave us a croupette, which is invaluable in the case of our sick children, the doctors received some needed instruments, while some new furniture and a fine Hoover to assist in the cleaning were greatly appreciated.

In June we had a visit from the Hon. Eric Martin, Minister of Health for the Province, who, in addition to clarifying some problems for us, encouraged us greatly by congratulating us on the smooth running of our institution. This was cheering news in the face of the fight we wage against rising costs of operation.

FROM MISS KATHLEEN MULLEN

Superintendent, Burns Lake Hospital,
Burns Lake, B.C.

Busiest Year

Burns Lake is a town just cut out of the bush with many sawmills dotting its lakes and railroad sidings. There are many and many hills all around us and as we view the homes, ranging from very fine dwellings to shacks, one wonders how they ever built homes on such hills.

But though the town has been cut out of the bush, it has grown rapidly over the years, and as it has spread, and settlers have come in, our little hospital has outgrown its former service and now we are cramped for space.

1955 was the busiest year in the history of the hospital. We admitted 946 patients; had 159 maternity cases; did 100 operations. 764 patients were X-rayed. 529 out-patients. Nine blood transfusions have been given. We had 30 deaths.

We could tell of many busy days, but then all hospitals have busy days, but some are more outstanding. We had a sad experience a month ago when two young men were brought in from one of the mills. They had been drinking and had substituted and drunk anti-freeze; both men were unconscious when admitted and both died within a few hours of each other. I wondered if some of our young people could just take an object lesson of a case of this kind if they would hesitate to take their first drink of liquor.

About three weeks ago we put in a busy time. We admitted a patient from a head-on car collision; about a half hour later a little old "senile" lady was admitted, and within twenty minutes a very sick patient was brought in by ambulance, she had been flown down from one of the northern posts. Needless to say we worked fast, but in a few hours we had order out of chaos and were back to systematic nursing again.

We have quite a number of Indian babies admitted; some of these are admitted time after time. For example, one baby who is just seven months old now has been admitted seven times in 1955 and was just discharged the other day. Most of these babies are in the six to nine months age group. We feel it is lack of knowledge and neglect in the care of their babies. So few of the Indian people speak English, a great many cannot tell you their age nor their date of birth.

The names, too, are very confusing as they take the first name of the father, for example, "Mary Tom," Tom being the first name of her father; however, we usually phone the Indian Agent and get the necessary information.

So each day brings its duties, whether it is to place the new baby in its mother's arms, or give the tragic news that a loved one has passed on. So the hospital moves on from day to day with its happiness or its tragedies.

ON ORIENTAL WORK

THE FOREWORD

Chinese

Chinese work is carried on by The United Church of Canada in 14 centres with seven ordained ministers and five W.M.S. workers. To our staff this year we are glad to add two new missionaries who hope to be able, after some study of the Chinese language, to carry on work with our newer Chinese people.

In 1955, a survey revealed 399 families with 5,766 persons under pastoral oversight. In 1956, the figures stand at 503 families and 6,162 persons under oversight.

The last census reported 32,528 Chinese in Canada. During 1955 a total of 2,575 Chinese were admitted to Canada. We think we should continue to encourage the second generation Oriental to seek membership in our regular congregations. There will still remain a group—not so large among the Japanese but increasing among the Chinese—who will require the service of a minister speaking their language.

Of the 2,500 Chinese who came into Canada in 1955 more than half of them have remained in the Province of British Columbia. We have responsibility toward them and in our Church services, in teaching English, finding employment and offering fellowship there is a program that is on-going and effective.

Japanese

The last census reported 21,663 Japanese in Canada. In 1955, a total of 97 Japanese were admitted to Canada.

The number of workers remains the same, although some changes are making it possible to give service to the smaller groups in more outlying areas.

From kindergartens among Japanese, Doukhobors and English children, to women's meetings with English and Japanese, as well as the fellowship that exists among the men, we find our representatives giving direction and leadership.

THE STORY

IN TORONTO CONFERENCE BRANCH

FROM MISS JEANNIE LOH

Community Worker, Chinese United Church,
Toronto, Ontario

I started my work on November 19th, at the Chestnut Street Chinese United Church in Toronto. The women's meetings were carried on every Friday afternoon from 3.00 to 4.30. Several Canadian ladies, such as Mrs. Vokes, Miss Pitman, Miss Hartwell, Mrs. Green and Mrs. McMichael came and taught English to the Chinese ladies from 3.00 to 4.00 and then there was a devotional service. On December 17th there was a Christmas party for all the women in the afternoon at the church. I helped the Women's Club to prepare a Christmas play called "The Silver Candlestick" and showed it on Sunday night, December 19th, to the congregation. I arranged a special service on Good Friday, slides were shown about the Easter Story, Miss Mary Ching-Wah Koo came and sang a solo to us.

Visiting

When Mr. Lee was ill in February, Mr. Wong Wing, one of the elders who lived in the city for more than thirty years, knew quite a lot of Christian Chinese, and the other Chinese friends went visiting with me, generally two or three times a week. I think we saw nearly everyone that Mr. Wong knew in this city.

After Christmas Mrs. Green and I went on Wednesdays to the Western Sanitarium to see the Chinese patients there. They were about 15 in number. During that period of our visitation, just one patient was Christian and was a member of a Canadian United Church, and other two had been to church several times; the rest were non-Christians. No words can express the joy when some of them recovered and came to the Chinese Church to see me. One of them even came to the evening service on the first Sunday of July to give testimony on the loving care of the Heavenly Father toward her hopeless diseases.

Other Services

The choir practice was on Saturday evening from 8.00 to 9.30. Choir members increased from seven to about thirty in the spring. Generally we sang an offertory anthem and sometimes another anthem, too. I was also the adviser of the Young People's Club of the church and present at their regular meetings and various special activities, such as the Chinese and Canadian traditional festivals, and I helped them to prepare a Christmas play "The Unfinished Oil Painting." I taught the Chinese class of about 16 boys and girls on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4.00 to 7.00.

About the evening service, generally I preached about once a month, and took charge of the choir every time. During Mr. Lee's month long illness, I managed most of the affairs for the church. Although I was quite busy I found it most enjoyable because church attendance and the number of choir members were increasing rapidly.

C.G.I.T. Camp

All the work was carried on till the end of June. In July I went to visit a C.G.I.T. Camp in Tweed, and in August to another one in Beamsville. These gave both the girls who attended the camps and me a clearer understanding between the Canadian and Chinese. Probably I was the first Chinese whom most of the girls had ever met. Some of the girls still keep on sending me letters and cards. We are friends within the love of Christ!

"Growth in Fellowship"

At the beginning of the year our program was much the same as the year previous. Our Sunday services were taken by Rev. Mr. Numa who was studying at Emmanuel College and devoting his time here on Sunday afternoons at our service. My English Family Services continued one Sunday a month and it was always a joy to lead them. Always I felt a thrill of uplift when we joined in the hymns, the older Japanese singing lustily from their Japanese hymnbooks and we younger ones from the Hymnary, the same meaning to our Heavenly Father, but different words as language goes.

For the most part we conducted the monthly prayer meetings ourselves, for Mr. Numa could not come on Saturday evenings. These gatherings were held in the homes of the members and were a rich source of fellowship to us all. Most of those who came were prepared to contribute something of a worshipful nature to the group and so hymns, prayers, thoughts on a Bible passage, and anecdotes were part of the evening's program. I used the opportunity to lead them into better understanding of our United Church and its work and message.

Our Woman's Association flourishes and this year we have added more members, making more than twenty paid members. The Women's Day of Prayer Service is well established now, and in February we held the second meeting in the evening of the Day when the Christian women throughout the world gather to pray. We met with the Anglican group in the beautiful chapel of their Cathedral with a larger number attending. Ladies from both groups took part and with the help of the Japanese program, which we had duplicated for our use, we worshipped together and felt once more the great bond of Christian love with all others who had also gathered for these meetings. This coming year we are promised sufficient copies of the Japanese program for our use which will be very fine.

It would be interesting to know how far afield even the visiting takes me. In an afternoon of such activity I often travel thirty miles just calling in the homes. Hamilton is a growing city in all directions, except into the bay, and as new streets open up east and west we follow the addresses that come to us of Japanese people living there. The United Church of Canada is moving in on these areas; it is serving these people and it is right there with help and guidance to find these young families, to get the mother and father on the church roll and the children in the Sunday School. We are pleased at what is happening in these areas.

At the "San"

One of the continuing joys of the work here is the visiting of patients at the Sanitarium. They are such a friendly and cheerful group of Japanese, who do more for the visitor, I often feel, than she does for them. It is good to know also that some of them, through one influence and another, have taken the course leading to baptism and confirmation and with this new joy in their lives, have come new purpose and response in the Christian life.

FROM MISS GRACE NAMBA

Community Worker,
Greenwood and Midway, B.C.

Faithful Helpers

Once again a new year begins after a happy Christmas vacation. The pre-school ages started their classes in the Church kindergarten in Greenwood and Midway. The young Japanese Christian women who assist me in these centres have been very faithful and very reliable. Without their untiring efforts, we could not have had so much work accomplished as we have had in the past. When I have had to be on other parts of the field, I was able to leave the kindergarten in their hands. Through mothers' meetings we were able to reach parents who otherwise may have never entered the church. The primary school teacher, the Public Health nurse and others have assisted us in our mothers' meetings. We have also had films on pre-school education. These meetings were preceded by a short worship. The children often had programs where mothers and fathers and friends were brought into the Church atmosphere.

The older children met once a week in their respective age groups, Mission Band, Explorers and C.G.I.T. at each of the centres. There they have spent many happy hours in Bible study, mission study, Bible sword drill, learning new hymns, games and handicrafts. Sometimes we were able to go on outings where we would take our worship into the fields on the hillside and afterwards have supper. The older boys and girls participated in a Sunrise service and breakfast on Good Friday morning, after which they attended a service in the church. We were fortunate in having the assistance of a Church Board member who in spite of many home duties, volunteered her help in the Junior and Primary Mission Band in Midway.

The Sunday Schools were such a joy to work in because the children of all ages gathered at once. It was like one big family. Many of the C.G.I.T. girls assisted as aids, teachers and officers in the school. The Sunday Schools in Greenwood and Midway met regularly every Sunday, but in Cascade we could only meet once a month. The children looked forward to these meetings. Many who could not go to a weekly Sunday School I was able to guide into Sunday School by Air and Mail courses.

Missionary Tours

I think one of the most enjoyable parts of my work has been in the missionary tour into the other centres, Kaslo, Grand Forks, New Denver, Slocan, Passmore, where I was able to make visits into various Japanese homes. We usually had meetings in the church or cottages at these centres where the Gospel was presented in stories, pictures, and singing, and in the leaving of Christian literature in both Japanese and English. Children attended these meetings also, so there were happy periods of chorus singing, too. In our follow-up visitation the oldest folk would relate their various problems and joys and as I listened I would silently pray that God would give me the right words to say to help and often we were able to have a word of prayer.

This is my furlough year and I find it hard to say good-bye to a place which has become a home to me for I have been in Greenwood most of the time since the relocation of Japanese.

FROM MISS MADELEINE BOCK

Community Worker,
Greenwood and Midway, B.C.

It was a joy to return to the work at Greenwood and Midway after an absence of eight years.

Vacation Schools

Vacation Schools highlighted my summer. Three were held in Greenwood, Midway and Christina Lake. The closings were all enjoyed by both pupils and parents. At Christina Lake the boys and girls were particularly thrilled. It was their first school and it seemed as if they could not get enough of it.

When I tried to line up leaders for this school at first, it seemed hopeless, but as always the staff came in answer to prayer. One was the wife of a government research man who had been sent from Belleville to work at the Lake during the summer; another was a choir leader from Rossland, holidaying there, while the third was a resident lady. I was fortunate indeed to find such efficient help.

Visits to the Interior

One of the most thrilling pieces of my work is that of visiting and holding meetings with the Japanese people in Grand Forks, Christina Lake, Kaslo, New Denver, Slocan, and Passmore. I have had two wonderful trips into the Interior, highlighted by meetings with friendly groups, who appreciated having a speaker come to them with the Gospel message.

Midway

We have been able to organize practically all the groups here. The C.G.I.T. is a brand new group with every member in a brand new uniform, and each one a real live wire. They are keenly interested in everything, and are working hard to become a chevron group. They seldom miss any of their meetings, Sunday School or church.

The Explorers, too, are a lively group (boys and girls). This year's Study Book "Sidewalk Kids" has so captivated their hearts that they just cannot get to it fast enough at each expedition. These boys and girls, as well as the C.G.I.T. can find passages in the Bible faster than any group I ever knew. This certainly speaks well for their training with Miss Namba. And how they love it—so much so that when we were planning the games for their Hallowe'en party one of the requests was for Bible Drill.

Greenwood

If you want to see a happy group of children at work and at play, just step into this kindergarten any morning. The C.G.I.T. Group, too, is a real challenge to me. These girls have learned to do things well. They carried out their Christmas Vesper service, which took the place of the regular church service, in a very creditable manner. Carolling for the shut-ins and older folk just before Christmas was another of the highlights.

White Gifts

Both Greenwood and Midway Sunday Schools held White Gift Services before Christmas, when the parents were invited to attend. All were generous with their gifts with the result that many useful gifts were taken to the men in the New Denver Hospital and to the Home for Aged Japanese men in Slocan. The letters of thanks they received were really quite touching.

FROM MISS M. AGATHA COULTES

Community Worker,
Nanaimo and Up-Island, B.C.

My year's work has followed much the same pattern as last year. One new helpful advance is that the parents of the kindergarteners have taken over a substantial share of the cost in that group. This effort coupled with the W.A. group organized a year ago has proven to be a wonderful financial help.

Worthwhile Results

Sometimes we can see the results of the missionary work of the W.M.S., as we look at the results that appear in later years in the lives of those who have been brought up through the kindergarten and church for New Canadians. I would like to relate for you some of the activities of our young people, some of them no longer a part of the active church here. Miss Lila Wong, who has been away for five years studying violin but whose membership is still here, has just completed her course and received her Bachelor of Music in London, England. This fall three more of our young people entered U.B.C., which makes a total of five from our small community. One is studying medicine and expects to graduate next year. Another is in his first year of engineering, and yet another has started a dental course. The other two are girls who are taking their B.A. Harry Locke has returned this fall to teach in the high schools here after seven years of University.

Another Chinese boy who was not brought up in this church but whose parents are living here now has just finished a commercial artist's course in Los Angeles and returned with his first story and pictures of the missionary and his work on the west coast aboard the Thomas Crosby. No doubt you will see a part of this story if not all of it some time soon, but you could not know that he loves to come over to the mission and talk to the children about Christ and that he is a member of The United Church of Canada. All this tells us how much the Church means to these young people and how it has helped them, for their way of life is so very different from that of their parents.

It is wonderful to think that the year culminates around the greatest event in history and gathers in for that great day all the people. Therefore, we have the privilege of asking Christ's blessing for them. I know they appreciate it and the hours of work that go into the preparation for their entertainment. This Christmas night was special in one unique way. With the help of friends and groups, I was able to give each Sunday School student from the junior grade up a Bible, their very first.

The special gatherings of this time were all linked with the engagement and pre-wedding functions for one of our beloved Christian members, Nellie Wong. I am happy to report that she has entered a happy and satisfying life with her husband in Edmonton.

FROM MISS A. WINIFRED HARRIS

Community Worker, Chinese United Church,
Vancouver, B.C.

Much of the work carried on in our Chinese Church in Vancouver is not unlike that of any organized church under The United Church of Canada. We have most of the organizations that one finds in any church: Sunday School, Choir, C.G.I.T., Tyros, Mission Band, W.M.S., Young People's Union and so on.

Visiting in the Homes

I wish it were possible to take you with us when Mrs. Jung, the Bible-woman, and I visit in the homes. That is the place where you get right down to where the person lives, and I do not mean by that, the house in which she lives, but where you reach the place where you can learn what the little lady is thinking and what her problems are. Sometimes one's heart is torn with concern for them. Just recently when calling on one of the kindergarten mothers we had to walk through a long dark hallway. As we were returning through this hallway a door opened and we saw a little woman standing there. She was craving companionship and hearing us going along the hall, opened her door. We stopped to talk with her and she invited us in. We found her living in a two-room apartment. The kitchen, a tiny room, had two small windows which were so high that it was impossible to look out; the bedroom had no window at all, and there she sits day after day, alone. As we talked with her she seemed to lose that appearance of despair and she found relief as she was able to unburden her heart. How much she needs to learn of what the friendship of Jesus can do in such a situation. One could relate many such instances.

Organizations

Our local W.M.S. has had a very successful year. We have 25 members of whom six are life members, one having become a life member during the year. The meetings have been most interesting and instructive.

Thirty-five students are registered in our afternoon English classes for women. We have three distinct grades, Mrs. S. F. Ricketts taking the beginners, Mrs. Merton Mah, those who have a little knowledge of English, and I have been taking the more advanced students. The classes are carried on two afternoons each week and in addition to the English lesson, choruses and hymns are learned and sung in English. The women have all learned to repeat the Lord's Prayer and feel very proud of their accomplishments when they can unite with the congregation at the Church service in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

I have a class of young men at night school who are preparing to take the examination given by the Department of Education for New Canadians of High School grade. I find this very worthwhile and rewarding as the students are very much in earnest and appreciate any help given.

The Christian Fellowship made up of English speaking women members of the church have enjoyed meeting for Bible Study. We are grateful to some of our United Church ministers and to those ladies of the Presbyterian who have given of their time and talent in making the Bible a more understanding book.

FROM MISS MILDRED MOSSOP

Community Worker, Chinese United Church,
Vancouver, B.C.

World Friends

More and more pennies are finding their way into the World Friendship Bank as the little Chinese kindergarteners, who become a Baby Band on Friday mornings, learn to share with the little children of the world. They love to repeat the Bible verses suggested by the picture stories. We trust that the ideas which they receive through these simple Scripture verses and through the flannelgraph stories which are so useful in getting the thought over to children whose knowledge of English is limited, may help them to understand the love of God for His little ones.

THE LURE OF DANDELIONS FOR CHINESE CHILDREN EN ROUTE TO "PLAY SCHOOL"

C.G.I.T. Activities

Family Church Services are held on the last Sunday morning of each month providing an opportunity for parents to worship with their children in the church. The girls of the C.G.I.T. form a choir for these services. The boys and the girls of the Church School take part in the reading of the Word of God, in taking the offering, in giving out bulletins, etc.

In September the two C.G.I.T. Groups led by Miss Pauline Topp, Mrs. Maah and Mrs. Fong during the January to June term, were combined to form one large group. The fall activities included the following: the purchase of an embroidered United Church Seal for a velvet drape which the girls made for use in the church, the making of alphabet cards needed in the kindergarten, the entertaining of the Presbyterian Chinese C.G.I.T. Group, a leather handicraft project, the making of Christmas corsages and table centres, serving refreshments at the fellowship gatherings after the evening service in the church, etc. Christmas activities also included worship services, two plays for the Church School Christmas program, a choir selection for the W.M.S. Christmas Church service and sharing with the senior church choir a service of music on Christmas Sunday. Some of these girls are assisting in the Primary Department of the Church School and one is a teacher of a group of juniors.

The Church School is functioning in each of the departments—Beginners, Primary, Junior, Intermediate and Senior. Many of the teachers are Chinese Christians who are very happy to give of their time, talent and witness to help these young people to know the saving power of God.

The members of the Young People's Union of our church under the leadership of Mr. David Peng, our new minister, are making a fine contribution to the work of the church. The spiritual emphasis is most commendable and the opportunities created for active witness of their growing Christian experience seem to me to be a most important factor in this part of the work.

FROM MISS HEDWIG D. H. BARTLING

Community Worker,
Vancouver, B.C.

Teaching

In Vancouver, I am one of five teachers giving English instruction to a group of about 18 young Japanese men and women, recent returnees to Canada. Not only do they need the language to get established here but they need our friendship and encouragement and personal interest. All our teachers are Christian and though no religious instruction or worship is held our witness is none the less real. We are "interested in them for their own sakes not for ours," a message that can and does speak. In Steveston I conduct classes for about 15 people, old and young, two evenings a week in our United Church. Only one of these students is nominally a Christian and here also my message of love and friendship must speak for itself.

Fellowship

Two young people's groups are part of our weekly program. The Vancouver Fellowship, about 25 young men and women who during the past year were organized into a congregation, has worked towards at least partial support of a student minister and an assumption of real responsibility for the work of the church. My contacts with them have been as an adviser, the student minister is in charge. Last spring, as a direct outgrowth of our senior C.G.I.T. a Junior Young People's group was begun in Steveston. Not only are we here trying to meet the personal needs of these young folk but the organization has drawn our Nisei youth into the fellowship of the church. Two of our girls are primary Sunday School teachers and the rest are regular church and Sunday School attenders, while at least half of the boys attend church. Thus this is another link in the chain that binds our two peoples together.

The C.G.I.T. has been a great joy. We have four groups with able and interested leaders. The seniors made a house-to-house survey of the community to assist the minister, and all the girls take part in the church choir. The girls play a vital part in the life of the church and have grown in "wisdom and in stature."

The kindergarten with its happy wee ones and their very interesting mothers gives one the needed home contacts where one can walk in and offer friendship and service in the Master's Name.

So it is also in the other groups, Mission Band, Explorers, Vacation School and Camp, where one is privileged to witness. The thrill of helping a girl to discover God comes rarely even to us, but at camp last summer that joy was mine. Then, too, I was allowed to share in the meeting of minds with very alert and consecrated leaders (two of them Japanese Canadians) and to live out with them and the girls some of the principles of Christian love.

FROM MISS EUNICE L. PETERS

Community Worker,
Chinese Christian Community Centre,
Victoria, B.C.

A Challenge

Here in Victoria I have been forced to see a challenging situation which has bearing not only on the lives of these strangers in our midst but which may have far-reaching influence on the future of Canada. The implication inherent in a situation where a large ethnic group lives amongst us yet depends for fellowship upon their own people, understands Canada only through what they see on the streets, in the shops and in the movies, is something upon which the mind dare not dwell.

It is to those that I minister for a large part of every day. I teach them English because they need English to live in Canada. But English is also my open door into their lives. Probably not one of my students but knows that I teach them English because, "the love of Christ constraineth me" and His love goes out to every one of them. Sometimes I become anxious because so many of them still do not understand what the Church in the community really stands for. But I turn back the devil of discouragement by recalling, "... God giveth the increase." But many are receptive and the Church is beginning to have meaning for some who have had no previous experience in religious things.

Being a Friend

One of my odd jobs this spring was having in our home for almost a week, a young mother who was on the point of separating from her husband. The husband was older, was a drinker and a gambler, and the eighteen-year-old wife was lonely. However, her love for their nine-months-old baby was a strong tie and having a place to stay while her brother tried to make the man see reason was a great help. His promises, if kept, should make life possible for them. They came together to visit me soon after the reconciliation. Victoria has a Social Welfare organization and I am not often in such close personal touch with the problems of broken homes, but I do have all sorts of "odd jobs" which can never be tabulated, the results of which can never be estimated, but which are exceedingly time consuming. Sunday afternoon we reserve for guests. Some days no one comes and on other days we may have a dozen or more.

On Wednesday and Saturday afternoons I sometimes visited the hospitals but there again I have not begun to cover the work which needs doing. From the T.B. wards where I worked in a few visits over a period of months, several of the boys who began to feel that I was a familiar figure to them have done the follow-up work in reverse. They have come to see me on coming out of hospital and some of them are among my best students.

This report of work should include mention of an interesting Summer School for which I was able to recruit four volunteer workers, and it must not forget our kindergarten. To watch the development of the little ones who come to us is a privilege and a joy.
