In Memoriam

But some will think of One who said, "And I,
If I be lifted up will draw to Me
All men." And when these latter come to die,
With faces lifted to eternity
They shall go forth with calm, untroubled eyes,
Like children hasting to a glad surprise.

TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING OF DOMINION BOARD

The Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada was held in Emmanuel College, Toronto, from May 25th to June 1st, 1954.

At the opening session the sympathy of all members was sent to the President, Mrs. John McKillop who, as the Board was about to open, had suffered bereavement in the death of her sister. Mrs. A. A. Outram, First Vice-President, acted for the President as presiding officer.

The Board opened with an act of worship led by Mrs. James Laughland, Immediate Past-President. Following the calling of the Roll and the Constituting of the Board, Mrs. Outram read the address prepared by the President for the first session.

Missionaries on furlough who were present as guests of the Board were introduced by the Chairman of the Home Mission and Overseas Missions Committees and Mrs. Coates presented the scholarship students. These included young women from Japan, Korea, India and Trinidad. Mrs. Kuroda of Japan spoke to the Board representing this group of young women from the churches of these other countries. The Reverend Kenneth Yohan Masih and Mrs. Masih, special guests from the Church of Northern India were welcomed. Mr. Masih, who is the Secretary of the General Assembly of the Church of Northern India, brought greetings from that Church. At the conclusion of the session Mrs. W. R. Taylor conducted the In Memoriam Service.

The work accomplished in the business sessions of the Board may be seen in the record of the Minutes. Apart from the business sessions a number of highlights of this Board Meeting will be remembered.

Wednesday evening, May 26th, was "India Night." On this occasion a large audience gathered in Trinity United Church to hear Mrs. Masih who, as the special speaker, brought a message from the Church in India filled with hope and challenge. Following her address Rev. Anson Moorhouse gave a preview of some of the pictures he took on his recent trip to India which will be available for the India study of the coming year.

On Friday evening, May 28th, the Board spent two hours with our missionaries on furlough from Home and Overseas work. Home missionaries who took part on this occasion were Miss Winifred Warren, who spoke of work among Canadians of Chinese origin; Miss Hazel Adsett, Miss Marie Staples and Miss May Merriam spoke on various aspects and needs of community work in growing urban areas of Canada. Three Overseas missionaries spoke. They were Miss Dulcie Cook of Japan, Miss Irene Thompson of Trinidad and Miss Beulah Bourns of Korea. Each in the short time allotted to her helped to raise our sights and to broaden our understanding of the witness Christians are making and the work the Christian Church is doing.

The Board Dinner was held on Monday evening, May 31st. Mrs. Sturtridge, President of the Dominion Council of the Woman's Association brought greetings from that great sister organization and Miss Yung Chung Kim of Korea, brought the greetings of the scholarship students. Miss Louiza Mayova, Port worker in Montreal, was the main speaker. She held her audience with a story of work in a port city which was filled with pathos and humor.

On Saturday afternoon, May 29th, the members of Dominion Board were guests at tea of the United Church Training School and a visit was made to the site of the new school building now under construction.

At the final session on Tuesday, June 1st, the Rev. L. S. Albright, D.D. conducted the service for the installation of Officers. The President, Mrs. John McKillop, was present and gave a brief message to the Board. The delegates joined in a Communion Service conducted by Dr. Albright, and the sessions came to a close.

REPORTS OF SECRETARIES AND DEPARTMENTS

All reports of Secretaries and Departments as printed in the Annual Report were presented, discussed, and adopted.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE

Re Organization Material (Memorial No. 3, 1953)

That we provide four short New Organization Report Forms instead of three, one of these, requesting a free packet of literature, to be returned immediately upon organization of a new group, to the Home Organization Department.

Re Church Extension (Memorial No. 7, 1953)

Whereas the Dominion Board of 1953 sustained the Memorial re-opening the question of a W.M.S. grant to Church Extension and Executive referred it to the Home Mission Committee, and

Whereas a request has come from the National Committee on Church Extension for a grant; and

Whereas the trend of the times creates need for added Churches and the magnitude of the Church Extension program challenges the whole membership of our Church; and

Whereas the Home Mission institutional work, including Indian and Hospital, has become Federal and Municipal responsibility to a large extent, thus relieving the Woman's Missionary Society of financial responsibility;

That we extend our policy to include Church Extension in a building program as well as providing personnel.

Re Christian Citizenship Packet (Memorial No. 10, 1953)

That we reaffirm the policy of the Literature Department to keep our constituency informed through The Missionary Monthly of materials in the making as well as those already available. (Every effort is made to keep to schedule. To wait until these materials were actually off the press before advertising them would delay the programme plans of too many interested people. Despite forward planning and careful calculations on our part, it is regrettable that unavoidable delays and hindrance over which we have no control sometimes make it impossible to release materials at the exact time at which they have been promised.)

Re Booklets for Baby Band Visitors (Memorial No. 17, 1953)

That a series of 5 inexpensive story leaflets for the use of Baby Band Visitors, written by authors in the pre-school age field, be published by the Literature Department, the first of these to be "The Story of Paul" with permission from World Friends.

Re Departmental Bulletins (Memorial No. 18, 1953)

That we send copies of the departmental bulletins to the respective Conference Branch Secretaries for forwarding to Presbyterian Presidents, for an experimental year.

Re Listing of Auxiliaries (Memorial No. 19, 1953)

That, in the statistical summary printed in connection with the report of the Secretary for Auxiliaries and Affiliated Societies in the Annual Report, the Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries be combined and listed as "Auxiliaries" and thus decreases and/or increases could be listed as a whole in the statistical summary.

Re Retirement and Annuity Plan for Associate Workers

1. Whereas the Dominion Board of 1947 authorized the Executive to permit Associate Workers with three or more years of service with the Society to participate in the Plan of Government Annuities for Woman's Missionary Society employees, if they so desire; and

Whereas it has been discovered that it is not possible to include this group in the Plan as set up;

(a) That the Society purchase Guaranteed Ten Year Government Annuities with a maximum annuity at age 65 of $600, as a means of providing an annuity for our Associate Workers.

(b) That the retirement age for Associate workers be 65 years.

(c) That the annual assessment payable by the Associate workers be $50.00 to be deducted in two half yearly payments from salary.

2. Whereas the Dominion Board in 1947 authorized the provision of annuities for Associate Workers under certain conditions; and

Whereas it has been discovered that the Plan for such annuity is not possible.

(a) That the provision for annuities for Associate workers be retroactive to January 1st, 1948, the five Associate Workers at present involved to contribute $50.00 a year for each year of service, beginning January 1st, 1948, the Society to be responsible for the balance of the assessments.

(b) That the Associate Workers at present in our employment who have expressed a desire to be included in such an Annuity, receive a maximum annuity of $600 at age 65 provided they have given twenty or more years of service, such service to be computed from January 1st, 1948, it being understood that the date of beginning of recognition of years of service for an annuity is at the end of the first three years of service.

(c) That the five Associate Workers at present involved in this provision for an Annuity who will not have completed twenty years of service but who have served ten years or more receive annuity at age 65 proportionate to years of service.

That the Associate Workers, other than the present five involved, who will not have completed twenty years of service but who have served thirteen years or more, receive annuity at age 65 proportionate to years of service.

Re Miss Marjorie Stedman's Relationship to the Retirement Fund

That the matter of Miss Stedman's relationship to the Retirement Fund be kept open in the light of the study in progress regarding a possible reciprocal Retirement Fund Plan.

Re "The Missionary Monthly"

Re Bursary Assistance

That individuals interested in contributing to Training of Students be encouraged to make their contribution to the Bursary Fund rather than to individual students.

Re Secretary for Candidate Work

That in order to further the service of recruiting there be a department of Candidate Work with a Secretary at all levels and that each Secretary be a member of her Executive.

Re Policy of Awarding ScholarshipsPURPOSE

That we accept as the primary purpose of the Woman's Missionary Society Scholarship program the strengthening of the development of Christian leadership and that in carrying out this purpose, priority be given to training in the areas of Christian Education and Evangelism.

CANADIAN SCHOLARSHIPS

That scholarships or bursaries shall be awarded to residents of Canada on the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee after consideration of the need involved.

That requests for scholarships be in the hands of the Secretary of the Scholarship Committee by April of the year in which the scholarship is to be awarded, the application to be accompanied by three recommendations, a medical report and the academic record.

OVERSEAS SCHOLARSHIPS

That in view of the fact that scholarships for study abroad are now available under a variety of auspices, students who are on W.M.S. scholarships be representatives of the churches in their respective countries and be definitely preparing for leadership and service in the Church or in related Christian Institutions, upon their return.

That scholarships and bursaries of two types be recognized:

1. For study within each country.
2. For study in Canada, and in other countries, for those whose interests and abilities warrant this further training.

That qualifications and conditions for granting scholarships and bursaries be as follows:

1. For study in each country, to be determined by the appropriate body appointed by the church in that area.
2. For study abroad on the recommendation of the appropriate body appointed by the church in each country, and in general when there is no comparable course available in that country.

That the following requirements for study abroad be recognized:

1. Christian commitment and Church membership.
2. Personal maturity.
3. A satisfactory medical report.
4. College or University graduation or equivalent professional training.
5. A competent knowledge of the language, usually English, in which the study will be undertaken.
6. The appropriate qualifications for the course desired.
7. Some professional experience.
8. A clear understanding of the type of training desired, so that it may be related to the work to be done upon return.
9. Normally, scholarships will be awarded for one or two years, extension of this period to be only in exceptional circumstances, at the request of the particular church which is involved and on the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee.
10. Applications should be on a specific form, accompanied by three recommendations, medical report and academic record, and should be in the hands of the secretary of the Scholarship Committee by November of the year previous to that in which the scholarship will be granted.

Re Distribution of Visual Aids

That the Dominion Board approve the policy of distributing audio-visual aids (films, filmstrips, slides and records) through local centres approved by the Committee on Missionary Education.

Re Communication Lines for Literature Secretaries

That the Dominion Board Literature Secretary communicate directly with both Conference Branch and Presbyterial Secretaries as occasion requires.

Re Free Literature Supplies

That the Conference Branch Literature Secretaries be asked to take responsibility for sending new current Literature e.g., pamphlets and folders costing not more than 25 cents each, and free materials to Presbyterial Literature Secretaries at stated intervals, and that these materials be chargeable to legitimate expenses.

Re Scale of Salary for Salaried Officers

(a) That in place of the present salary scale for Salaried Officers, there be a uniform salary for Salaried Officers, effective January 1st, 1955.

(b) That the uniform salary for Salaried Officers be Four thousand dollars ($4,000) per annum, effective January 1st, 1955.

Re Future Policy

1. That while we anticipate that there will be a continued need for missionaries by the national churches and Christian institutions in the various countries to which The United Church of Canada is related in order to maintain international Christian fellowship and mutual assistance, we would urge mission and church groups to appoint Christian nationals to work now carried by missionaries wherever such are available with proper qualifications and experience,

2. That in cases where such appointments create financial difficulties we assure the national churches and institutions concerned that additional assistance from our Society would be considered,

3. That in the furtherance of this policy, our Society increase considerably the amount of funds available within the annual Estimates for scholarships and bursaries for the education of Christian young women in the various countries to prepare them for such responsibilities.

The following recommendations are presented for ratification:

Re Gifts for Building Advance in 1955

That Gifts for Building Advance be continued for 1955 and the objective set be $65,000.00.

Re Transmissions

That in view of the extra responsibility placed on our office staff, and the missionaries on the Overseas fields in connection with the correspondence arising from transmission gifts, we discontinue, as of May 1st, 1954, the transmission of gifts of money to individual missionaries for their work on the field, except in the case of our Africa Mission, where there are no local banking facilities.

That an article be published in the May issue of The Missionary Monthly, giving the reasons for the discontinuance of transmissions.

Re Insurance on Motor Vehicles*Re Insurance on Motor Vehicles Owned by the Society in Canada:*

That we follow the policy adopted by General Council of The United Church of Canada and increase the coverage to $50,000/$100,000 for personal liability and $10,000 for property damage on each of the motor vehicles owned by the Society, effective immediately, at a total premium of approximately $925.00 per annum.

Re Insurance on Privately Owned Cars Used in Work, of the Society:

That we place coverage of $50,000/$100,000 for personal liability and property damage on each of the privately owned cars used in the work of the Society, effective immediately at a total premium of approximately $28.35 per annum.

ALLOCATIONS TO CONFERENCE BRANCHES FOR 1955

1. That the amount allocated to Conference Branches for 1955 be the sum of $1,100,000.00.

2. That this amount be allocated, to Conference Branches as follows:

Alberta	$ 48,000.00
Bay of Quinte	112,000.00
British Columbia	57,000.00
Hamilton	139,270.00
London	163,000.00
Manitoba	84,000.00
Maritime	119,500.00
Montreal and Ottawa	117,800.00
Newfoundland	10,500.00
Saskatchewan	60,500.00
Toronto	187,930.00

$1,100,000.00

3. That as this sum is essential to the maintenance of our present work, no unallocated amounts should be allowed to remain in Conference Branch or Presbyterial financial planning.

4. That all Finance Committees should make adequate allowance in their budgets for all necessary expenses of Conference Branch, so that amounts remitted to Dominion Board Treasurer be not less than the allocations above mentioned.

5. That the power to Advance rests in the success of our plan called "Gifts for Building Advance." Therefore all possible help should be given to Presbyterials to the promotion of such.

6. That we continue to promote proportionate, as well as systematic, giving as the ideal method of finance.

7. That the remaining amount of the total Estimates for the year 1955 not covered by Conference Branch givings be the responsibility of the Dominion Board to be cared for by direct donations, underspending and Current Reserve Account.

MEMORIALS FROM CONFERENCE BRANCHES

From British Columbia Conference Branch

I. Re work in The Queen Charlotte Island Field

Whereas the Queen Charlotte Island field is scattered and a rapidly expanding (in evidence of one phase of expansion we note two camps for married loggers being established this year); and

Whereas these conditions are such as to render it impossible for one minister with no assistant to do effective work; therefore Recommend: That a Woman's Missionary Society Worker be sent to that field to assist the minister, at least until the work is so well established that there will be local workers.

Action: Already taken.

2. Re Office of Candidate Secretary

Whereas there is an ever increasing demand for full time women workers for the work of our Church; and

Whereas there is at present no Branch offices whose specific duty it is to educate and help in the work of recruiting; therefore Recommend: That Dominion Board create an office to be termed the "office of Candidate Secretary" and that such should be included in the list of Branch offices.

Action: Already taken.

3. Re Naramata Christian Leadership Training School

Whereas the Naramata Christian Leadership Training School is doing a fine and most satisfactory work in the preparing of lay workers; and

Whereas the School has greatly assisted in the task of finding recruits for training for full time work within the Church; and

Whereas the School has been able to provide associate workers for the work of the Woman's Missionary Society;

Recommend: That a grant be given to the Naramata Christian Leadership Training School for educational purposes.

Action: Referred back to British Columbia Conference Branch.

4. Re Delegates to Annual Meeting of Dominion Board

Whereas the Presbyterian President has direct contact with Auxiliaries and with Conference Branch; and

Whereas it is felt that she is an important link, especially in the outlying Presbyterials;

Recommend: That it reconsider the recent ruling re delegates to Annual Meeting; and that the delegation be increased from three to four members, one of the four to be a Presbyterian President.

Action: Not sustained.

5. Re Affiliation of Explorer Groups

Whereas the certificate awarded by Dominion Board, W.M.S. to affiliated Explorer groups is not adequate, as it is likely to be mislaid, mistreated, or completely ignored;

Recommend: That individual emblems (somewhat like those arm badges awarded the Affiliated C.G.I.T. girls) be awarded each Explorer on affiliation.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

6. Re Car for Associate Worker in Prince Rupert

Whereas our Associate Worker in Prince Rupert serves a scattered district in the city as well as visiting seven miles distant at the Millar Bay Hospital, and the new town of Port Edward, a village ten miles distant.

Recommend: That consideration be given for purchase of a car for this area of work.

Action: Referred back to British Columbia Conference Branch.

7. Re Secretary for Affiliated Explorer Groups

Whereas the number of Affiliated Explorer groups has greatly increased in the last few years; and

Whereas the programme followed by them differs from that used by Mission Bands;

Recommend: That a Secretary be appointed for Affiliated Explorers, on all three levels, Dominion, Conference Branch and Presbyterial.

Action: Sustained.

8. Re Space on Conference Branch Corresponding-Secretary's Annual Report Form 8 Form 111, and also in the Dominion Board list of Conference Branch Officers, for "three additional members," see article 13 (a) page 318 of "Through Missionary Windows"

Whereas there is at present no space on the Corresponding-Secretary's Annual Report form (form 111) for Conference Branch, for names of "three additional members" without portfolio, see article 13 (a) page 318; and

Whereas these three additional members render valuable service without official recognition, therefore Recommend: That Form 111 reports be made with required space for these "three additional members' names," and also space be made in the Dominion Board's Annual Report list of Conference Branch officers for the same.

Action: Sustained.

From Alberta Conference Branch

9. Re Publicity Secretary

Whereas the By-Law of the Woman's Missionary Society provides for a Press Secretary in each Auxiliary, Presbyterial and Conference Branch; and

Whereas the duties of such Secretary, as laid down at present relate to providing news and announcements to Missionary Monthly and local newspapers; and

Whereas since the By-law was drawn up other media of public dissemination of news and information have been developed, utilization of which is not provided for in the Constitution and

Whereas practically all other organizations have a "Publicity" (rather than "Press") Secretary or Committee;

Recommend: That the By-Laws be amended to change the name "Press Secretary" to "Publicity Secretary" in each Auxiliary, Presbyterial and Conference Branch; and that the duties of such Secretaries at the various levels be re-stated to provide for all forms of publicity.

10. Re Contributions from Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups

Recommend: That Dominion Board encourage the C.G.I.T. girls to make their givings to missions a personal free-will offering and for such that each member be provided with five special envelopes to be used at the five missionary meetings.

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

From Saskatchewan Conference Branch11. Re Report Form for Christian Citizenship Secretaries

Whereas, the Committee on Christian Citizenship has become so very wide in scope and of increasing importance in the life and work of the Woman's Missionary Society;

Recommend: That Dominion Board make available a report sheet for the use of Christian Citizenship Secretaries separate from the report sheet on which it now appears.

Action: Sustained and referred to Executive.

From Manitoba Conference Branch12. Re Canadian Association of Consumers

Whereas the program set forth in the Canadian Associations of Consumers set-up deals with very material things, and the Woman's Association membership is made up of all the women in the Church, making for easier contact with the membership;

Recommend: That the program for C.A.C. be channelled through the Woman's Association Christian Citizenship Department Committee, with one member responsible for soliciting membership in the C.A.C., if desired by local association.

No action.

13. Re Baby Band Birthday Cards

Whereas there are no attractive Baby Band Birthday cards available;

Recommend: That immediate steps be taken to see that more suitable birthday cards be prepared for use in the Baby Band Department.

Action: Sustained since already under consideration.

14. Re the Name "Evening Auxiliary"

Whereas the time of meeting has nothing to do with the name;

Recommend: That the word "Evening" be deleted from the W.M.S. Auxiliary heading, as our wish is to do away with any distinction between the Auxiliaries, the time of meeting having nothing to do with the name.

Action: Already taken.

From Montreal and Ottawa Conference Branch15. Re Recognition for Affiliated Explorer Groups in Organization Listings

Whereas there are more Explorer groups being affiliated; and

Whereas many of their Chief Councillors are unfamiliar with the Woman's Missionary Society plan;

Recommend: (a) That Affiliated Explorer Groups be listed separately in the Annual Report in the same manner as, and immediately following, the Affiliated C.G.I.T. groups.

(Such as "Home Organization," Summary of Reports, Constitution and By-Laws.)

Action: Sustained.

(b) That where one Secretary is doing the work of both Mission Band and Affiliated Explorer groups, she be given the title of Mission Band and Affiliated Group Secretary.

Action: Already taken.

(c) That the associate leader for the Affiliated Explorer groups appointed by the Woman's Missionary Society should have the status of the leader of an Affiliated C.G.I.T. group, not "Mission Band Superintendent," in the Woman's Missionary Society.

No action because under present circumstances impossible.

16. Re Reporting of Contributions from Affiliated C.G.I.T. and Explorer Groups

Whereas the Presbyterian secretaries for affiliated C.G.I.T. groups have found difficulty in keeping a true statement of financial amounts from individual groups and also because of the double amounts of postage, etc., involved;

Recommend: (a) That Presbyterian By-Law XIV be changed to read, "she shall receive a report only of the givings of the affiliated C.G.I.T. groups, all monies being sent by individual groups directly to the Presbyterian Treasurer."

(b) That this apply similarly to reports and givings of affiliated Explorer groups.

17. Re Licence Granted Lay Supplies by the General Council

Recommend: That if section 117, paragraph (u) III (Manual of The United Church of Canada) in relation to lay supplies does not include Woman's Missionary Society workers, who in certain areas are doing the work of "lay supplies," the Dominion Board request General Council of the United Church of Canada that this privilege be granted to them as set forth in the above-mentioned section.

General Council has already made this possible.

From London Conference Branch

18. Re Life Membership Pin for Baby Band Life Members

Whereas at present there is no Life Membership Pin for Baby Band members; and

Whereas there is a growing demand for a Life Membership Pin by children of the Baby Band and their mothers;

Recommend: That a Life Membership Pin for Baby Band life members in addition to the Life Membership Certificate, be made available, at a small additional cost.

Action: Not sustained.

19. Re Secretary for Affiliated Explorer Groups

Whereas the registrations of affiliated Explorer Groups have shown a marked increase during the past years; and

Whereas the Dominion Board has designed and made available for presentation, a certificate and seals for use in all Explorer Groups who affiliated with the local auxiliary and make an annual donation to the Presbyterian treasurer; and

Whereas the affiliated Explorer Groups do not at the present time receive credit in the Annual Report for their missionary donation;

Recommend: That the Conference Branch create the office of Secretary for Affiliated Explorers that in the future these groups may receive the recognition they have earned through their missionary efforts.

Action: Already taken.

From Hamilton Conference Branch20. Re Candidate Advisor

Whereas the Candidate Advisor works for, but has no recognition in, the Conference Branch;

Recommend: That the Candidate Advisor be made a full member of the Conference Branch.

Action: Already taken.

21. Re Removal Slip

Whereas, we feel the words "Removal Slip" are too suggestive of ending, rather than beginning again;

Recommend: That the words "Introductory Cards" be substituted for "Removal Slip."

Action: Referred to Executive for study.

22. Whereas, we feel that the Press is an important part of our W.M.S. work:

Recommend: That a report form be provided for the Auxiliary Press Secretary.

From Maritime Conference Branch23. Re Baby Band Graduation Card

Whereas writing is hardly legible on the blue colored Graduation Card for Baby Bands;

Recommend: That color of the card be changed.

Action: Already taken.

From Toronto Conference Branch24. Re The Study Book

Recommend: That the Study Book be issued earlier in the year in order to make it available for introduction at Presbyterial meetings, and Conference Branch meetings in the spring.

Action: Not sustained.

From Newfoundland Conference Branch25. Re Missionary Monthly

Whereas we appreciate the present high standard of The Missionary Monthly;

Recommend: That it contain more helps for daily living and striking articles to interest the uninterested.

26. Re Report Form for Affiliated Societies

Whereas the work of the Affiliated Societies is growing and whereas we feel that the report form of the Affiliated Societies is very inadequate;

Recommend: (1) That separate lines be used for Missionary Monthly subscriptions and for contributions to the Presbyterial Treasurer.

(2) That additional space be included for Missionary Programs and lines to report items of Community Friendship, Supply Citizenship, and Reading.

27. Re Stewardship Report Form

Whereas there are monies raised in the local organization for supply, gifts to hospital patients, etc., which are not included in the allocation reported, nor in legitimate expenses;

Recommend: That extra lines be added to The Christian Stewardship report forms to record such contributions.

Action: Not sustained.

REPORT OF THE CONFERENCE OF MISSIONARIES

The report of the Conference of Missionaries was presented by Miss May Merriam. The report read as follows:

1. We would suggest to the Dominion Board that the Secretaries for the various fields be a committee to plan the deputation work for missionaries, keeping in mind the following facts:

(a) the available time of the missionary.

(b) the special capabilities of the missionary, for example, someone can interest youth groups, another teenagers and another adults.

(c) the various needs of the differing areas across Canada.

2. We would request that Secretaries of the Field arrange suitable channels whereby missionaries approaching furlough be made acquainted, well in advance, with available study courses in their specific line of work.

Received and referred to Executive.

REPORT OF THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

Re Missionaries Retiring

The Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society, while it voices its regret that a number of missionaries are retiring from the work of the Society, wishes to express very warm appreciation of their years of service and to assure them that the prayers and good wishes of all members of the Board will continue to follow them.

✓ Miss Bessie Cairns—1922-1954

Miss Bessie Cairns, after a life of service in the work of the Woman's Missionary Society and the Christian Church in China, has come to the time of retirement.

Many and varied were the experiences that filled those years. Internal uprisings of nationalism, the Japanese war and the Communist aggression were responsible for many changes of work and abode.

Prior to her departure for South China in 1922, Miss Cairns taught in Quebec and in Spelman College, Georgia. Her first year of service, after language study, was spent in educational work in Shek-ki, but was interrupted by a general evacuation, so she returned to Canada and worked among the Chinese in Montreal.

In 1927 Miss Cairns returned to China and became the principal of the Kongmoon Girls' School, until the Chinese Government decreed that all schools should have national principals. When a principal was found, it was decided to combine the boys' school, the girls' school and the kindergarten into a co-educational institution. It was in this school that Miss Cairns, for ten years, gave devoted, unsparing Christian service, not only in the administrative work but through the lives of the many hundreds of young people whom she inspired and guided.

When the South China Mission had to be evacuated in 1939, due to war conditions, Miss Cairns was invited to join the staff of the Union Normal School in Canton—a school to which the Woman's Missionary Society gives a grant.

After Pearl Harbor that school was moved to Macau, a Portuguese colony, and there Miss Cairns spent four uncertain war years, cut off from Canadian funds, living under difficult conditions, but comforting, encouraging and teaching the girls who would become future leaders for China and sharing with her Chinese colleagues their anxieties and responsibilities.

After the war was over, Miss Cairns returned to Kongmoon to help rehabilitate the buildings for the return of the missionaries and the resumption of the work once more. Then she, again, joined the staff of Hip Woh School which had moved back from Macau to Canton.

The Communist regime made study of English and religious knowledge very unpopular so Miss Cairns was transferred to Japan to teach English in the Schools there. Her work in Shizuoka Girls' School turned out to be very much the same as her work among Chinese girls, so that when she returned to Canada, she had a true love for Japan as well as China. We know she will continue to serve and we wish her many years of rich joy in her retirement.

Miss Elizabeth Master

At Speech Day in 1953 Miss Elizabeth Master returned to the Archibald Institute to preside at the large gathering of friends. It was there that one could see the esteem in which she was held. Old students gathered around her to chat about the days when they worked and played together. Miss Master was connected with the Archibald Institute from 1945 to 1949 when she left on furlough. During the time she was there, she was active in community affairs, especially with Women's Institutes and the Day Nursery.

When she returned from her furlough, Miss Master was appointed to extension work in the south of the Island. Classes in cookery and housewifery were held in many centres; Miss Master with her portable stove and pots and pans was a familiar figure in the roving taxis, and she made a fine contribution in these rural areas. Along with this extension work, she taught Household Science in Naparima Girls' High School and in the Teacher Training College.

As Miss Master retires, she leaves behind her in Trinidad many young women who are Christian homemakers through her fine teaching and influence.

Miss Winifred Warren

With sincere appreciation for her thirty-four years of service in China, Korea and Canada, the Woman's Missionary Society accepts the retirement of Miss Winifred Warren.

Miss Warren received her early education in Walkerton, Ontario, and in 1913 was appointed to teach in the Missionary Children's School in Weihwei, Honan.

Four years later she entered the service of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. After language study she was appointed to evangelistic and educational work in Weihwei city and district, where she made a deep spiritual impression on the women and girls with whom she came in contact.

After her furlough in 1921 Miss Warren was appointed Principal of the Girls' School in Changte, where she gave inspired leadership.

In 1927 the Honan Mission had to be evacuated due to war conditions, so Miss Warren was asked to go to Korea to work among the Chinese living in Wonsan, where she gave valuable assistance until 1929, when return to her work in Honan was possible.

When the Chinese Church in Honan became part of the Church of Christ in China the Synod opened a co-educational school and invited Miss Warren to become a member of the staff. In this school was an opportunity to help in the training of future Christian leaders for the community.

Due to the Japanese invasion in 1937 work in Honan was again interrupted and schools were closed, so Miss Warren was asked to help with the teaching in the Girls' High School of the American Presbyterian Mission in Peking.

In 1941 Miss Warren was appointed to the Christian Literature Society in Shanghai to help in the preparation of literature for women and girls, bringing her wealth of experience into that wide field.

The incident of Pearl Harbor took place that year and not long after it the Japanese set up internment camps where Westerners and others were placed behind barriers. It was a trying experience but borne with fortitude and patience. It was a wonderful day when the war was over and the gates were opened and the internees were free.

Miss Warren returned to Canada and after a recuperation furlough finished her second year at Emmanuel College, hoping to be better fitted for her return to China, but that field was closed to her so she was appointed to work among Chinese in Calgary, Alberta. There she visited in the homes and carried on a kindergarten for five years, continuing to give her witness to the unchanging faith she had and to show the spirit of the Master whom she served.

Our prayers and good wishes follow her and we trust that she may have many years still in His service.

✓ Miss Gwen Gardner, B.A., B.Paed.

Miss Gardner was appointed to educational work in Central India (now Madhya Bharat) in 1914. In the autumn of that momentous year of World War I, she sailed for India with five other new appointees. A graduate of Toronto University and with a deep interest in young people, Miss Gardner looked forward eagerly to the task in India.

After language study in Mhow she was appointed to the Girls' School at Neemuch. For the last few months in 1915, in response to a request to the Mission from the Maharaja of Indore, Miss Gardner was given the unusual experience of residing at the palace as teacher of the young Prince and Princess. In 1916 she became principal of Neemuch School where her interests found abundant outlet.

Following her furlough in 1921 she remained in Canada for a number of years for family reasons, during which time she took her Paedagogical degree and taught in a Toronto Commercial High School.

Returning to India in 1940, she was first head of the English Department and then Principal of the Girls' High School, Indore. Later, due to changing policies, a qualified Indian woman was made Principal and Miss Gardner, as Assistant Principal, graciously helped her wherever she could, and this self-effacing kindness was deeply appreciated.

Her last period in India was spent as Principal of Ratlam School. Here Miss Gardner's sterling qualities were recognized again. Now, as the end of her Indian Road comes into view, she must surely be happy, knowing that her teaching and friendship helped many young Indian women toward deeper appreciation of Christian service.

Miss Hazel Adsett

At the close of her furlough year on July 1, 1954, Miss Hazel Adsett retires from the busy life of a W.M.S. missionary. Her retirement will be spent in Guelph, Ontario, which was her home town.

Miss Adsett's early education was obtained in Guelph. Later she attended Alma College in St. Thomas, where she graduated in Piano. After a few years' business experience she took Kindergarten training as a means towards her hope for full-time Church work. For two years she was the Kindergarten Assistant in the Italian Mission in Toronto. Still feeling the need for further training and the yearning for work overseas, Miss Adsett entered the Methodist Training School, from which she graduated in 1913.

Due to the urgent need on the Home field, she was appointed to Claremont St. Mission, Toronto, followed by a term at Dufferin St. Mission, Toronto. After fine service on these fields Miss Adsett was required to devote twelve years to home responsibilities.

In 1939 the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada was very happy to re-appoint her to work, in All People's Mission, Windsor, Ontario. Here Miss Adsett has given very excellent service for fourteen consecutive years. She has always shown great concern and interest in New Canadians and her work was with all the various age groups up to the mothers. At All People's all individuals are served, regardless of race or creed, and in many cases lack of any creed, but due to her fondness of music Miss Adsett has made an approach to many New Canadians through the music of their native land.

Miss Adsett's contribution on the Home field is immeasurable. She has endeared herself in the hearts of all where she has served and will be missed greatly. Even though she is now retiring from the active work of the Woman's Missionary Society, we know she will by no means be inactive. Her life in Guelph will be full of Church and community activities, where her influence for good will be felt in many ways.

Miss Adsett retires from the work with our very best wishes for her continued good health and that she may see the work in which she has been so long interested still going on to greater things.

Miss Marie M. Staples

It is with much joy that we look at the success of our kindergarten work in Japan and realize that Miss Marie Staples has had a large part in this success.

In 1911 Miss Staples, a school teacher from Brantford, came to the Methodist Training School. On the completion of her training in 1914 she sailed for Japan, where all her years of service were given to kindergarten work in the various centres of Tokyo, Kofu, Nagano, Shizuoka and a short time in the Aiseikan Social Centre. For a time she was in charge of the Kindergarten Teachers' Training School in Tokyo, which is now the Junior College of the Toyo-Eiwa Jogakium.

Miss Staples is a lover of children and by her keen interest and loving care of both children and teachers, in her charge made a very valuable contribution to that branch of the work of our Mission. Her quiet, conscientious and upright character made her influence felt among the many whose lives she touched.

In March, 1941, Miss Staples returned to Canada and for health reasons was not allowed to return to her beloved work in Japan. However, in September, 1941, she was able to accept half-time employment at All People's Mission in Windsor, Ontario, where her experience proved invaluable. Her kindly disposition and keen interest in the little children did much towards the success of the kindergarten and through these children she was able to make contacts with the homes from which they came.

In 1953 Miss Staples accepted furlough, at the conclusion of which she retires in 1954. The best wishes of the Woman's Missionary Society go out to her on her retirement from a work well and faithfully done.

Re Missionaries Resigning

Miss Dorothy McBain, B.A.

Miss Dorothy McBain served the Woman's Missionary Society for seven years in Korea and Canada. In daily devotion to her work, in harmonious relations with both missionaries and Koreans, and in every aspect of her professional life, Miss McBain embodied the high ideals of Christian living.

A native of Edmonton, she graduated from the University of Alberta and taught High School for four years before entering the Training School. She went to Korea in 1935, studied both Korean and Japanese, and later became principal of Sungjin Girls' School. Her first furlough study was devoted to work for teen-age girls. She served as deaconess in Montreal for one year, then she returned to Korea in 1947 and taught in Ewha University. The next year she came home because of her mother's illness, to the deep regret of everyone associated with her.

Miss Beverley Woods, Reg.N.

In 1952 Miss Beverley Woods, Reg.N., was commissioned as a missionary and appointed to work under our Board in Angola.

This year, due to her approaching marriage to Mr. Tom Brown, an agriculturist working under the Board of Overseas Missions, we have accepted her resignation. We rejoice that her Christian witness as a well-trained nurse will not be lost to the work in Angola.

As a Board we extend to Miss Woods our best wishes for her future happiness.

Mrs. Howard Broton (Laura M. Trace)

The home of Miss Laura M. Trace is Allenwood, Ontario, where she received her early education, and after graduating from Normal School she taught in a primary school for some years.

It was in 1929 that she decided to make the Church her vocation and after attending the United Church Training School for two years she graduated in 1931 and was appointed to the Earls Court Home in Toronto, where for five years she gave very effective service. Following this she joined the staff of the Muncey Indian Residential School and it was at this time that she became interested in the work of the Woman's Missionary Society and was appointed in 1939 as Matron of the Indian School at Round Lake, Saskatchewan. Miss Trace was an excellent manager and an effective homemaker and during her term of service the Round Lake Indian Residential School was made much more attractive in appearance.

Her next appointment was as Matron of the Girls' Home in Teslon, Manitoba, in 1943. In this position she did a great deal for the girls who came from the outlying districts and needed to be established and given security during their high school years.

It was in 1949 that she was commissioned as a missionary and her standing was made retroactive to 1939. She was transferred to the Children's Home in Lachine, Quebec, as Matron, where her co-operation with the staff and companionship with the children made her beloved by all who knew her.

As a speaker she was in demand and ably represented our Society. In December, 1953, Miss Trace resigned to be married. She is now Mrs. Howard Brown and is living in Oshawa, Ontario. Our warm wishes accompany her in her new home where she is sharing the Christian activities of the Church with her husband.

Miss Bernice E. Moats, B.E.

Miss Bernice E. Moats, a teacher with her first-class permanent certificate, received her early education in Regina, her home city. After graduating from the United Church Training School in 1944 she was appointed as an evangelistic missionary to Trinidad.

In 1946 she returned to Canada and was appointed to Port Simpson, B.C., and then taught at Ahousat.

During her furlough and leave of absence for study in 1950 and 1951 she received her Bachelor of Education degree from the National College of Education in Evanston, Ill., showing a desire to increase her usefulness in the work so dear to her heart.

For a short time she worked at St. Columba House in Montreal but in July, 1952, was transferred to rural work in Bienfait, Sask., where she has done an excellent piece of work.

Miss Moats has resigned from the work of our Society to marry Rev. J. Weldon Grant, a missionary in Trinidad. We accept her resignation with sincere regret and our best wishes follow her in her new role as a missionary's wife.

Mrs. S. A. Frodsham (Frances Botham, R.T.)

Miss Frances Botham, R.T., of Kelowna, B.C., was commissioned as a missionary and appointed to the work in Angola in 1947. One term was spent on the field. As a well-trained laboratory technician she made an effective contribution to the work at the Sarah Hurd Scott Memorial Hospital. She gave permanency to her work by training African boys so successfully that they have carried on the work since her return to Canada.

Her understanding of and affection for the African young people gave her unusually fine opportunities for Christian witness among them.

One other contribution which should be mentioned was in the field of literature. Her "Diary of a Young Missionary" formed the first part of "Torchbearers in Angola," the study book for C.G.I.T.'s in 1952-53.

Miss Botham's resignation was accepted with sincere regret but with joy in her happiness over her approaching marriage. As a Society we extend to her our sincere thanks and best wishes.

Re Board Members Retiring

Mrs. Ernest Lewis

It is just three years ago that the Executive and the Home Organization Committee welcomed into their midst a new Secretary for Baby Bands, in the person of Mrs. Ernest Lewis of Barrie.

As a daughter of the parsonage, a former High School teacher, and now a wife and mother in a United Church manse, Mrs. Lewis came to us well equipped for leadership in the field of missionary education.

Because of her broad-visioned enthusiasm for the work of the Department of Baby Bands, she has contributed much that was worthwhile to the discussions on more effective methods of promoting interest in and zeal for both Baby Bands and Baby Band Mothers' Groups. Readers of The Missionary Monthly will not soon forget the very excellent and timely articles that have appeared on the Baby Band pages.

Home Organization Committee will surely miss the quiet, unassuming manner, the keen mind, and the co-operative spirit which Mrs. Lewis has brought to its meetings. It was with sincere regret that we learned that circumstances had forced our Baby Band Secretary to relinquish the duties of this office.

Mrs. P. A. Petrie

After faithful experience in Toronto Centre Presbyterial and Toronto Conference Branch, and having served on the Finance Committee for several years, Mrs. Petrie was elected to the Executive Committee of the Dominion Board in 1951 as a member without portfolio.

.. In 1952 she was appointed Chairman of the Overseas Missions Committee, serving with meticulous zeal, and a concern for every detail of her responsibility.

At the 1953 Annual Board meeting, Mrs. Petrie was elected Secretary for Korea, a position she would have filled with sympathy and intelligent interest. After a summer of distressing ill health, Mrs. Petrie reluctantly resigned. Her advice and direction are being greatly missed on the Overseas Missions Committee.

Mrs. A. E. Gillies

Mrs. Gillies served as Chairman of the Devotional Committee for two years, always choosing and preparing, with her committee, services which were thoughtful and directed those participating to the meaning of worship.

She served for three years as Chairman of the Courtesy Committee and in this capacity brought comfort and happiness to many concerned with the details of many occasions well arranged and carefully carried through.

She has served on the Literature and the Home Mission Committees where she will continue to give valued service as a committee member.

Mrs. R. G. Struthers

Twenty-five years of missionary service in China gave Mrs. R. G. Struthers an exceptionally useful background for her work as an Executive Member of the Dominion Board. In 1947 Mrs. Struthers was appointed Secretary for Honan and South China and, when in 1950 it was decided to unite the work in West China with that in Honan and South China, she became the first Secretary for China.

During these years, as so many missionaries were forced to reorient their life's work and adjust to new avenues of service, Mrs. Struthers has been an understanding and wise advisor.

She has served on several committees including the Personnel, the Candidate and the Scholarship. For the past two years she has been Chairman of Registration where her friendliness has had full scope. In all this work her personal knowledge of conditions on a foreign field, her good judgment and her careful preparation have made her a most valuable committee member.

Her own faith and courage have been an inspiration to all with whom she has worked.

Retirement from office will not dim her interest in the missionary work of the Church and in particular among the Chinese overseas.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

Re Offence of Supplying Narcotics

Whereas suppliers of drugs to addicts are the key factor in the maintenance and spread of the drug habit; and

Whereas deep concern is felt regarding the inadequacy of the penalties provided by law for the offence of supplying drugs; and

Whereas the supplying of drugs is considered so great a crime against society as to merit most severe punishment; therefore

Resolved: That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society urge the Minister of Justice of Canada to give serious consideration to greatly increased punishment for these offenders.

Re Gambling

Whereas a joint committee of both Houses of Parliament is now enquiring whether the criminal law of Canada relating to lotteries should be amended in any respect; and

Whereas public opinion is a great factor in determining both the law and the measure of its enforcement;

Resolved: (a) That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada record again its opposition, on both moral and economic grounds, to all forms of gambling, including the raising of money even for "good causes" by raffles and lotteries;

(b) That it urge the Conference Branches to confer with their provincial governments through their local members of Parliament regarding the strict enforcement of the laws against gambling;

(c) That it urge every Auxiliary to give leadership in developing public opinion concerning the dangers of lotteries and other forms of gambling; and

(d) That every member of the Woman's Missionary Society be urged to support this stand by taking no part in any activities involving gambling and so by personal example help to create a sound public opinion.

Re Temperance

Whereas social drinking presents a definite challenge for action by our Church women;

We urge upon the members of the Woman's Missionary Society to practise voluntary abstinence and to refrain from serving beverage alcohol in their homes; and furthermore

We urge the members of Auxiliaries to request Church Sessions to make available their church halls for catering to wedding parties, thus removing a temptation for alcoholic indulgence upon these occasions.

Re Food Surpluses

Whereas Canada has certain food surpluses, particularly wheat, and

Whereas there are many countries where this food would serve starving people;

Resolved: That this Board petition the Government to continue to investigate ways by which our surplus of food in Canada might be shared with needy countries even if we, the people of Canada, have to subsidize it, and that we express to the Government our appreciation of what has already been done.

Re World Peace

Whereas we believe in Christ's way of peace-making in every human relationship; therefore

Be it resolved: (a) That we lend personal support to agencies working for cohesion rather than division; and

(b) That we uphold the practice of settling disputes between nations by negotiating in an international body, such as the United Nations Organization.

Re Christmas, Good Friday and Easter

Whereas The United Church of Canada has appealed to its members throughout Canada in an effort to restore the Christian emphasis to Christmas, Good Friday and Easter;

Resolved: That we commend this effort and urge all members to help make these Holy Days more Christian in observance, and so more helpful in everyday living.

Re Liquor Advertising

Whereas the report of the 1953 Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society on liquor advertising is found to be as follows (Memorial 11, page 243): "Recommend that action be taken to circularize our Woman's Missionary Society Auxiliaries to send individual letters on a Canada wide scale to the publishers of our national magazines, now carrying liquor advertisements, which is a growing menace, because there is behind it a definite plan to increase the consumption of alcoholic beverages"; and

Whereas action was taken upon this in the form of letters sent to all Auxiliaries;

Be it resolved: That our Auxiliaries continue their individual letters of protest to these magazines.

Re Atomic and Thermo-Nuclear Power

Whereas we possess in Thermo-Nuclear Power, new means either of constructive developments or of the annihilation of God's world; and

Whereas we live in a world of distrust where liberties are threatened and new weapons are relied upon by nations as seeming to be the only effective deterrent to war;

Be it resolved: That this Board:

(a) Call upon all members of the Woman's Missionary Society to study with sincere purpose to understand the issues involved, and to pray earnestly and unceasingly that the nations possessing these new powers may be guided in their use by that spirit as is revealed in Jesus Christ;

(b) Commend the Canadian Government for its efforts to develop atomic and thermo-nuclear power for constructive purposes;

(c) Call upon the Canadian Government to support the United Nations and its agencies in its present endeavor to establish every possible control over the production and use of thermo-nuclear power;

(d) Record as its considered judgment that thermo-nuclear power be not used for destructive purposes.

(e) Send a copy of this resolution to the Standing Committee on the Church and International Affairs of the General Council.

Re Housing

Whereas the Resolutions Committee is in entire agreement with the "Housing" Resolution as reported on pages 68 and 69 of "Frontiers of Faith" having been passed at the Annual Meeting of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service in 1953;

Resolved: That the Resolution of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service be adopted by this Dominion Board;

Whereas lack of adequate housing accommodation is causing extreme hardship in many families; and

Whereas it is recognized that low income families cannot buy or rent adequate housing at prevailing prices; and

Whereas overcrowding and slum conditions are a menace to family life; and

Whereas N.H.A. legislation makes provisions for help in the financing of slum clearance, and for the construction of low rental housing;

Be-it resolved: That this Board (a) urge municipal governments in urban centres, where slum areas exist to petition the Provincial Governments concerned for assistance through N.H.A. legislation for slum clearance and redevelopment programs in order to provide decent, adequate rental housing for low income families at prices that they can afford to pay;

(b) urge that 10 per cent. of the units in most public rental housing projects be one-bedroom units suitable for elderly couples;

(c) urge our people both laymen and ministers to help create public opinion in support of sound and effective measures to provide sufficient low cost housing (ownership and rental) to meet the national need.

Home Missions

Report of the Home Mission Executive Secretary*

"From the Great Lakes to the Arctic Circle, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, Canada is on the march, developing its tremendous resources, harnessing its incalculable power, fashioning a story of progress more exciting than that of any other nation in the world today."

When we studied the mission of the Church we found that mission was at our own door, which today is a frontier. The mission is now where human, social and spiritual need exists. That means everywhere.

Travel

In July, 1953, an opportunity was presented to visit an obscure area of work in Northern Frontenac, Ontario. A number of missionaries have worked in this area and today three re-built, redecorated Churches, a remodelled manse and three congregations, with Christian service in mind, are evident. The people have responded in a unique way.

In September a survey of the work in Manitoba was made. From the rural field in Port Arthur Presbytery (where we preach in Churches and schools on Sunday, conduct Christian Education in schools on week days and do visiting, as well as carrying on a fine summer program) to the mining areas of Flin Flon (where seven Church Schools, with fine local leadership trained by our missionary, good children's and women's work and an effective Church program is directed by our worker) there is a witness made by our ambassadors.

Personnel and New Work

When the appointments were made in March there were twenty-five centres left without workers and the Board of Home Missions could have appointed twenty-five women. We need to raise up a group of conscientious young United Church women, ready to take Christian training to man the strategic places that are opening and other fields where we are leaving an unfinished task when a missionary comes on furlough.

At present our Home Mission staff consists of 163 missionaries and associate workers and a maintenance staff of 108. The number of missionaries is gradually diminishing through retirements, marriages and resignations. This Dominion Board retires three women—Miss Winifred Warren, whose service was shared by Honan and Canada, Miss Marie Staples from Japan and Canada, and Miss Hazel Adsett, a full-time Home missionary.

The new missionaries are Miss Margaret E. Brown, appointed to Lethbridge, Miss Margaret L. Kee to Prince Albert, Miss Ruth Scouler to Battleford Presbytery, Miss Margaret Martin to Norway House, Miss Jean E. Sheppard, Reg.N., to the Alberni Indian Residential School, Miss Ethel M. Cline, Reg.N., to the Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital, Eriksdale, and Miss Clare E. Moore, Reg.N., to the Katherine H. Prittie Hospital, Bonnyville.

In June, 1953, a situation arose on the Rama Reserve and Longford Charge in Ontario, whereby the Board of Home Missions were without a worker, and at their request we took over the work and appointed Miss Florence Fee.

* The reports of the Missionaries appear in a separate volume "Missionaries Reporting".

In September work was also opened in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, following a survey in that area.

Requests for workers in Battleford, Saskatchewan, and Hanna, Alberta, were repeated and while in session this Spring the Board of Home Missions approved the further requests from Skidegate, British Columbia, Essex Presbytery in Ontario and Cochrane, Ontario. Before the Board of Home Missions was over we were able to assure them that we would open the work in Battleford, making an appointment there, and that we would transfer a missionary to Skidegate. We also appointed Miss Cora Wovil, who is at present employed in Northern Ontario, to Church Extension work in Essex Presbytery.

The Board of Home Missions also approved the appointment of a Christian Education worker in the Alberni Indian Residential School and a similar worker in the new school at Norway House.

Time will be given during this Board meeting for a discussion on "Recruiting," as those of us who are responsible for placements find it the most essential question facing our Church constituency, for somewhere in The United Church of Canada there must be those fifty women needed in Home Missions—young women of vision and faith, with Christian concern for the world.

Associate Workers

During the year we asked our Sub-Executive to study the matter of the relationship of workers coming into our Society who are not graduates of the United Church Training School and the future policy regarding trained women from other Churches, since we are employing at the present time women from other denominations who are trained in their own Church training schools. After study it was agreed that these women could be accepted as missionaries providing they had the necessary training and would become members of The United Church of Canada.

"Home Mission Digest II"

We are very proud of the finished product—"Home Mission Digest II" and we want to record our appreciation of the fine material prepared by our missionaries for this publication. It had its beginning in the Home Missions Committee, when the written experiences from our missionaries proved so interesting and exciting that we wished to share them.

The Literature Committee immediately spearheaded our request, with Miss Frances Bonwick ready to assume responsibility. We know you have already had a copy and no doubt made use of it in your Auxiliary, Church School and in your home.

Special Services Committee

The Special Services Committee, with representatives from various Boards, has continued to find writers and print suitable messages for Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving, for Hospital Visitors and Chaplains.

Other work placed in the hands of this Committee is the preparation of Church services which may be used on special occasions where lay people are conducting worship.

The Sunday School in the Home—By Mail and Air*

The active families enrolled in the Sunday School in the Home—By Mail and Air during 1953 numbered 2,423, distributed as follows: British Columbia—87;

*The W.M.S. is one of four Boards sponsoring this work

Northern Alberta—335; Southern Alberta—147; Northern Saskatchewan—506; Southern Saskatchewan—505; Manitoba—201; Northern Ontario—94; Montreal, Ottawa, Bay of Quinte—100; Maritimes—320; Newfoundland—128.

The radio program, "Tell Us a Story," is becoming more widely known and its listening audience of both children and adults is steadily on the increase.

Church Vacation Schools †

Ten young women in several Conferences across Canada gave their full time, energy, ability and devotion as leaders in organizing and conducting Vacation Schools for children. This is a service made possible by a gift from the Woman's Missionary Society to the Vacation School work of the Board of Christian Education. Many of the communities served in this way would not have any religious education for their children otherwise. This isolation of such communities, lack of leadership, indifference on the part of parents and, in some cases, the absence of a regular minister, all contribute to the need for the Christian Education of boys and girls. The Church Vacation School, held daily for a two-week period, gives an excellent opportunity to a devoted leader, to guide boys and girls into an experience of God through Jesus Christ. Through worship, study, play and work children are led into a deeper understanding of God's purposes for them and to a deeper loyalty to Jesus Christ.

In British Columbia, in the summer of 1953, six young women gave some of their time to the directing of Vacation Schools. These were conducted in the northern part of the province, in the Caribou and in the Kootenay.

In Alberta another young woman gave full-time during the summer to conducting leadership training workshops for local leaders in Vacation Schools and directing schools. Because of her work the number of schools held in this Conference increased greatly during the year. In Manitoba two young women spent several months carrying out a similar service. Altogether they conducted 21 leadership workshops for leaders in local churches.

Christian Youth Caravans †

The summer of 1953 saw one more Conference, Alberta, participate in the Christian Youth Caravan program. All Conferences from Alberta to Newfoundland had Caravan teams, with a total of 123 Caravaners. Approximately 125 communities were served.

A team once again worked at Camp Borden. The team of nine, including a director, had as assistants, eight C.O.T.C. officer cadets of the Chaplain's Corps. They worked and worshipped together as one team. A request also came from the Barriefield Camp at Fort Henry but unfortunately there were no Caravaners available during the time they stated.

In Newfoundland the two W.M.S. missionaries travelled and worked with the two teams during their four weeks' of service. Their guidance was invaluable to the Caravaners, especially during their daily Bible Study together and in the preparations for conducting Church services.

Vacation Schools continued to be the major part of the Caravan program. In the Five Central Conferences 44 Vacation Schools were conducted by the Caravaners. One team in St. Laurent, Montreal, concentrated its efforts on a religious survey while a team on the Eaglehart charge had a Visitation Evangelism program in addition to a survey. In both cases local people worked with the teams. In almost every community the teams participated in or conducted Church services. In many areas they visited members of the congregations and shut-ins. One team in Manitoba spent 42 hours on a Church building project.

Saskatchewan reports of the thrill it was for them to see one of their first Caravaners commissioned as a missionary for Overseas work.

Church Extension

Church Extension is the most evangelistic movement we have known in Canada. We like to speak of "reaching the masses" and that is exactly what Church Extension is doing. Literally thousands of boys and girls are growing up pagan, where the new communities are without a Christian witness. It is thrilling to note the way people plead and beg for Churches and how they stand ready to make a sacrifice. In most areas it is the young couples who are taking the lead. Truly it is the greatest period of Canadian Church history.

Unless a catastrophe happens, nine to ten million people will be added to Canada in the coming years and it is difficult to foresee what our Church situation will be but from what has already been accomplished we know that building Churches is a most rewarding investment. It strengthens every Board and every phase of the work at home and overseas and it makes for good national relationships.

To date 20 women of our Board have given leadership in new areas, in making surveys, and in Church School and group organizations:

BOARDING SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOMES

The day for the need of School Homes is fast disappearing. A School Home is a residence in which young people may find a home away from home while they complete school grades that are unobtainable in their own community. They may come six or sixty miles to live in our residences. They may have a European background or they may be the children of British pioneer families in areas where a high school has not yet been established. Then, too, they may be isolated Protestant families living in a remote community, wishing to attend a school of their own faith. Today, too, they may be the children of New Canadians and while the parents attempt to establish a home of their own our residences give shelter and direction to these uprooted boys and girls during their adjustment period.

Board rates are within reach of employed parents and along with the Government allowance there are few physical needs that cannot be met for the young people in our School Homes.

In June, 1953, we began negotiations with the Protestant School Board in Bonnyville regarding the possibility of the children from our Homes attending the Fort Kent School, thus closing the Protestant Separate School in our Girls' Home. There are 106 Protestant children of school age in the district and after considerable correspondence with the Department of Education in Alberta we were advised that the school area was re-organized with the hope that complete amalgamation with the Larger School Division could be consummated. In March of this year we were informed that the Duclos School District was included in the Bonnyville School Division as of January 1st, 1954, and there is the prospect of a seven-room Protestant School being built in Bonnyville in the near future. We were glad to cooperate with our small Protestant group in Bonnyville and we feel it deserves credit for the outcome of this matter.

There were 22 girls in Battleford last June. Twelve graduated and the residence was filled when school opened in September.

Repairs were necessary at Assiniboia. The women who attended the School for Leaders reported the money well spent and the place in fine condition.

The Schools for Leaders in Saskatchewan were held in our School Homes at Battleford and Assiniboia and we are glad that the buildings could be put to this use during the summer vacation.

It has been a difficult year in Teulon because of the lack of pupils requesting accommodation in our Homes. With railway and motor car transportation young people are driving long distances to school and at the present time the future of these Homes is being considered by the Manitoba Advisory Committee, since at no time during the year have we had more than 14 boys and six girls in these Homes.

There were 27 children in the Children's Home at Lachine and two exciting things happened during the year. A new television set was presented to the Home by the Lakeshore Lions' Club of Montreal and our fine Superintendent, Miss Laura Trace, was married. This Home is the recipient of many gifts and not the least was the $100.00 in memory of a Montreal friend. This money was used to purchase beds.

A very fine young minister and his wife came to Canada from France and were received into the United Church. He is now the pastor of the Church at Namur and is in charge of the Protestant work in a large area surrounding Namur. We are fortunate to have Madame Lefebvre as our Matron and Rev. H. Fines, as minister, is doing an excellent piece of work with the boys. A workshop set up in the basement of the community hall has made possible a hobby centre for these lads.

Our grants continue to the Homes under the Board of Evangelism and Social Service in Vancouver, Calgary, Moncton and Toronto. In 1954 we authorized an extra grant of $175.00 to the Victor Home, Toronto, making our grant $1,000.00, which amount was placed in the Estimates for 1955.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS EAST

To plant the Church in the new settlements out West was once the absorbing interest of the Churches of the East. Then we found the farther-most frontier reached. The spanning of the continent by steel rails dramatized the new frontier of industry and today Home Missions must come to grips with the growing cities and industrial areas.

Many new Churches, in the challenge of Church Extension, are still near to the frontier experience. They are constituted as a congregation after an appointed woman worker has made a survey call on every family and organized a Church School, a mid-week group and a women's meeting.

The purpose of our Home Mission institutions is an evangelical witness.

Our greatest concern is that so often one of our missionaries carries the work of two and is burdened beyond her strength.

The work among immigrants during the year reveals that this ministry is of very real service to newcomers and to the local Church where the newcomer settles. During the busy immigration season Miss Louiza Mayova travels from Montreal to Quebec meeting ships. March this year doubled the number of ships that came in during February. Miss Aileen Ratz does similar work in Halifax and we find a splendid follow-up through our missionaries in Vancouver and Toronto. Miss Hedwig Bartling has been appointed in Vancouver to act as a central distributing agent, as well as to meet the incoming people. In Toronto Miss Annie Bishop renders effective service in organizing the distribution and follow-up of notices of arrival.

We are represented on the Committee on Refugees, which continues to co-operate with the Canadian Council of Churches in the placement of refugees. The United Church has obtained the majority of sponsors and since the beginning of this project 2,065 refugees have been brought into Canada.

During 1953 immigrants numbering 168,868 came to Canada. From the end of World War II to December 31st, 1953, there have been 964,120 admitted to this country.

New wings added to hospitals have rapidly expanded the work of our Chaplains and Hospital Visitors. Wherever hospital visiting is done—from Montreal to Vancouver—we receive grateful reports of this ministry.

Letters of appreciation for the work of Miss Nancy Edwards and Miss Ruth Tillman have been received from Presbyterian and Presbytery representatives and it is with sincere regret that we find ourselves unable to replace these two women in the Bonavista and Twillingate Presbyteries in Newfoundland.

At the request of the Board of Home Missions we purchased the United Mission at Stellarton for the sum of $1.00 plus the amount necessary for repairs, which was $1,250.00.

On the recommendation of the Advisory Committee of the Maritime Conference Branch we shared equally with the Board of Home Missions the cost of a repair bill of $1,200.00 for the United Mission at Sydney. This Church property has been used by our Society for more than 25 years and the Advisory Committee continue to feel that there is a witness necessary in the area.

The growing work at Northern Frontenac is indicative of the fine contribution made by our worker and her assistant. The Churches have been remodelled, the manse improved and the small garage made into a kitchen at one Church—much of which is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Muriel Alexander.

In June, 1953, we relinquished our work in Northern Belleville at Maynooth. The local congregation requested the services of a layman and were in a position to have the man of their choice serve them. Thus, after eight years of service, this piece of work was closed out by our Society and left in a flourishing condition for the minister to carry on.

This year also closed out our Finnish work at Kirkland Lake. The younger Finnish people have come into the existing Churches and only a small group remains. They have been given the opportunity of worshipping in Trinity United Church, Kirkland Lake, with their leader, Miss Elma Hjelt, who has resigned from the United Church ministry.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS WEST

Much of our service in Community Missions West is rural and in many places our missionaries are assuming the role of a minister. The needs of the community must be the starting point and with this in mind we see Church Vacation Schools, Caravans, Camps and Conferences using local resources and leaders developing in all the centres where we have work.

An Advisory Committee report stresses the importance of continuing our work at Point Douglas Mission in Winnipeg and we are awaiting word from the Winnipeg Welfare Council, which is surveying this area to ascertain the needs.

Maclean United Church, Winnipeg, will have a change of worker in August, due to Miss Margaret Fulton's furlough coming due, and fine tributes from the Church and area assure us that Miss Fulton's work was appreciated.

Robertson Memorial Church in Winnipeg is situated in an area which to all outward appearances is well supplied with Churches. Closer investigation shows that these are each ministering to one or other of the many ethnic groups in the community and that ours remains the only Church in this large, thickly populated area which attempts to serve the community as a whole.

When one visits the area of Ethelbert the solid Ukrainian and national background is easily discerned.

The Ukrainian people feel that Christmas is not complete without a touch of the homeland and everywhere the singing of the Ukrainian carols is welcomed as the Church group visit the homes, bringing Christmas joy and strengthening the Church through the monetary contribution made by the people.

A full-time minister is being appointed to Ethelbert this year, with the result that the Dauphin Presbytery has recommended to our Society that we withdraw our missionary-at-large, thus closing out this area for the time being.

Rural work in Saskatchewan has been a successful venture, in spite of many difficult circumstances in the area where Miss Fernie Graham serves. The Presbytery and Superintendent of Missions pay tribute to her untiring energy and the contribution she is making in the strengthening of our Church work.

The same type of work has been done in the southern part of the Province at Bienfait by Miss Bernice Moats. This coal-mining area, where people are indifferent, is not an easy place to persuade people of their need of the Church and its services and we are sorry to report Miss Moats' resignation but we wish her happiness as she goes to Trinidad as the wife of one of our missionaries.

As mentioned previously, work was opened in Prince Albert last year on the recommendation of the Saskatchewan Conference Branch and with the approval of the Board of Home Missions. The young woman who began this work as a summer student, Miss Margaret Kee, returns to it this year as a new missionary.

In Edmonton the Templeton Mission gave an added zest to the work of our Hospital Visitor. Miss Mae Laycock was able to have Dr. Templeton visit the Aberhart T.B. Hospital with her, where patients, nurses, doctors and staff heard him.

In Trinity United Church, Calgary, the greatest development in its history has taken place since it became an institutional Church. It was with great regret that this institution had Miss Violet Stewart sever her connection but a new interest in Korea has been aroused in the Calgary congregation because of her appointment to Korea to do rehabilitation work. She is replaced by Miss Emily Putnam.

Services will be held in June to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the commencement of the Mission to Indians at Whitefish Lake and on the first of July the congregation in Vilna expects to have the 25th Anniversary of the opening of work in that area by the Woman's Missionary Society.

A new day is dawning when we find that houses like the residence in Smoky Lake are becoming modernized with an oil furnace, plumbing and electricity.

Miss Henrietta Campbell continues to serve the large area of the Peace River from Manning, Alberta, and recently she reported that plans are being drawn for a new Church at Deadwood.

During the year we cooperated with the Board of Home Missions in sending a worker to Grande Prairie. Miss Mary Collins reports that of the 10 schools around Grande Prairie she is teaching Christian Education in seven.

We regret that Miss Madeleine Bock had a serious illness during this year but she has not allowed it to interfere with the Christian Education in the schools, which is carried on by 19 volunteer assistants.

We regret that it is impossible to place a missionary-trained woman in Prince Rupert but splendid reports have come about the work of Miss Joyce Facey, who has carried on her activities in the Conrad Hall, where a Sunday School of 90, women's meetings and other groups are being held. The major responsibility of the visiting in the Miller Bay Indian Hospital is assumed by Miss Facey, where interest in Church School papers is so keen that it has been necessary for us to give a grant to supply these to Indian patients.

First United Church in Vancouver opened its new Community Centre in May, 1953. Miss Jessie Oliver became the Christian Education worker.

The hospital visitation in Vancouver is unique in that Miss Lottie McRae has 60 visitors entering Rest Homes and Nursing Homes and yet she finds that one-half of the Rest Homes in Vancouver have no regular Church visitor. Miss McRae reports that in 1953 cheer was brought to over 9,600 patients.

INDIAN

The Indian work is the oldest phase of our Home Mission enterprise and dates back more than 100 years.

The United Church ministers to 21,486 Indians, among whom it has 55 Missions. In educational work it cooperates with the Federal Government, having under its care 43 Day Schools (37 under the Board of Home Missions and six under the Woman's Missionary Society) and five Residential Schools (four under the Board of Home Missions and one under the Woman's Missionary Society). About 2,500 young people attend our schools. Beginning September 1st, 1954, the Dominion Government is taking responsibility for the salaries of all teachers.

The cooperation between the Church and the Federal Government is very effective and this department of work, which was once entirely a Church project, is today becoming a state responsibility, with the Christian emphasis left entirely to us, and one of our objectives, which is to share in giving the people of Canada the privilege of public worship and a ministry to their spiritual needs, should now be implemented to a fuller degree among our Indians.

Four new openings in Indian work have been reported—Rama Indian Reserve, Skidegate Mission, a Christian Education worker in the Alberni Indian Residential School and one in the new Norway House School, who will also work on the Reserve.

Miss Florence Fee, who served for many years in China, was encouraged in her new work at Rama by the concern of many of the congregation for the progress of the work of the United Church. Miss Fee is teaching Christian Education in the Rama and Longford schools and is looking forward to having a Caravan team work with her this summer.

A year ago it was proposed that an Indian hostel might be opened in Winnipeg. Representatives from the Woman's Association, the Woman's Missionary Society and the Board of Home Missions met with representatives from the Local Council of Women in Winnipeg who were anxious to initiate this project. The report is one of progress, although we have not arrived at any definite recommendation.

Our Indian Residential School at Portage La Prairie continues its fine work and in January of this year the Department of Indian Affairs installed new steel laundry equipment as well as a new hot water system for the laundry and kitchen.

The matter of securing teachers for the Reserves at Moose Mountain, Cote and Ahousat has been referred to our Advisory Committees. United Church young people are needed to fill these positions and to lend support to our missionaries on these Reserves.

Last summer Miss Ida Drake accepted her well-earned three months' furlough and studied at Cook's School in Phoenix, Arizona. During her absence the work on the File Hills Reserve was cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Penner.

During the year the Department of Indian Affairs brought electricity to the farm building on the Colony. This enabled us to wire our house and have an oil furnace installed.

The new "Melvin Swartout" on the West coast has revived a Church interest in many of the small centres on the coast and when the boat recently visited Ahousat the women were holding their Membership Tea, which gave Rev. Roy Rodgers an opportunity of installing the officers. Twenty women were present. Mr. Rodgers also conducted the Sunday morning Church service and many stayed for Communion. In the afternoon five babies were baptized and the annual meeting of the congregation was brought forward a few days so that Mr. Rodgers might be present.

The teachers at Ahousat leave this year. Both women assisted in the Christian Education work while our nurse, Miss Agnes Quinn, had a heavy year because of the epidemics of mumps and measles and the frequent trips that had to be made to Tofino with sick patients.

During April the Indian agent arrived in Ahousat to discuss with the Band the possibility of establishing a Roman Catholic school and Church. This matter will be discussed with the Department of Indian Affairs in Ottawa.

Our Society has been requested during the year to offer for sale to the Dominion Government our property at Alberni, which consists of 134 acres of bushland and 22½ acres of cleared land. While we agreed to the sale, no final acceptance for negotiations has yet been cleared.

MEDICAL

With an awakening to a larger sense of their responsibility, the Provincial Governments of Canada have today assumed this task of caring for the sick, with the result that we are passing through a transitory period in our hospital work.

When we first went into the Battle River area (now Manning) in Alberta the journey took 36 hours from Edmonton by rail and mail truck from the end of steel. Today nurses have come to Toronto from Manning in 12 hours. Today the new nurse asks what it will be like to nurse in a W.M.S. hospital. Her first surprise on her arrival is the appearance of the building and its location. She finds a modern interior, with up-to-date equipment. Her work is on an eight-hour basis and her time off can be occupied with Church groups and recreation.

Great developments have been seen around Burns Lake during the last year, with the result that a thriving industrial town replaces the small, sheltered village in which our hospital was first erected. The B.C.H.I.S. continues to assume financial responsibility and the small grant carried by our Society assists our Superintendents in doing a few of the extras. During the last year we made it possible to have the grounds beautified and the garden cultivated.

The Provisional Hospital Committee of the Manning Municipal Hospital District is considering the purchase of our Battle River Hospital in Manning, to be replaced by a new building. In order to facilitate matters our Alberta President, Mrs. T. B. Lowe, visited Manning and in consultation with the Hospital Committee there recommended that we should accept a purchase price of $42,000.00 cash, the Municipality to assume all expenses connected with the hospital, including salaries, when the agreement is signed. Before further negotiations can proceed it is necessary for the rate-payers' vote to be taken and we are awaiting the out-come of the plebiscite before any further decision can be made by the community.

We retained one and a half acres of land for Church property and the Society has presented this land as a gift to the United Church in Manning.

The Superintendent of the John Neil Hospital reports that Cold Lake has grown rapidly and is now incorporated as a town. A new doctor is serving in the Air Force at Grand Centre, as well as doing some work in our hospital, and our Alberta Advisory Committee is giving consideration to the future of our hospital.

Our three Alberta hospitals had a very successful year and were able to finance from their local revenue without drawing heavily on the W.M.S. grants. In fact, the Katherine H. Prittie Hospital in Bonnyville was able to finance the water system which was installed in the janitor's house and improvements on the doctor's residence. This work was directed by our very efficient Superintendent, Miss Catherine Bawtinheimer.

During the year we sold to the Greek Orthodox Church one acre of land from our hospital property in Bonnyville, to be used as a cemetery.

We have entered into Special Hospital Services Agreements for Bonnyville and Cold Lake, which entitle us to a higher per diem grant. The Alberta hospital financing has proved very successful in our institutions.

After standing for 30 years our hospital in Teulon needed major repairs or a new building erected. The Municipality, feeling that the Woman's Missionary Society had served their community sufficiently long and well, approached us regarding the purchase of the old building and land on the understanding that they would assume responsibility for a new hospital, providing we would work cooperatively with them in meeting the expenses for the first five years. Debentures are being sold and already we have received a cash payment of $1,000.00 on a $7,500.00 deal for approximately 10 acres of land, our buildings and equipment. Our Superintendent, Miss Mary Yakimischak, Reg. N., has the entire area organized into Hospital Aids.

Both the Ladies' Guild and the Hospital Committee in Eriksdale work very closely with the Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital. New equipment was purchased from the Estimate but the X-Ray machine, at a cost of $5,000.00 was provided by the community and a gift from the Manitoba Wheat Pool Elevator Company. A more recent gift from the Ladies' Guild was a microscope and an adding machine. They also presented an engraved silver cup to the first baby born in the hospital this year and flowers to the mother. An Indian girl and her mother received them.

It was the hope of our Society that we might purchase the building in Gypsumville used by our missionaries but we were advised by the Gypsum, Lime and Alabastine Company that as a matter of policy they did not wish to sell their house but they would insulate it and put it in repair, which has been done.

In 1953 Miss Hope Weber, an associate worker at Gypsumville, was given full missionary standing retroactive to the date of her appointment, July 1, 1950. She and Miss Blanche Gerhard, our nurse, work cooperatively in the medical and Christian Education work in the community.

We regret having received the resignation of Dr. Lois Hokanson from Ethelbert.

Information regarding the proposed sale of our hospital at Hearst was presented to this Board last year. We are at the present time negotiating with the Sisters of Providence, a Roman Catholic order in Montreal, who have assured us that they will purchase our property and undertake the present work.

The Bingham Memorial Hospital will be opened in Matheson on June 16th, 1954. This new hospital replaces the Rosedale War Memorial Hospital, which our Society directed for more than 20 years. With substantial grants from the Provincial and Federal Governments and a legacy left to our Society by the late Mrs. Margaret Bingham of Toronto in memory of her husband, Dr. George A. Bingham, for the purpose of re-building a hospital in Matheson this 28-bed hospital has become a reality at a cost of approximately $235,000.00. We have promised to under-write one-half the needed Estimate for a period of five years and assist with the provision of staff.

As we review the hospital situation we are well aware that less is expected of our Society and more of the communities and Governments. This is to be expected, for state medicine and hospital care are in most centres becoming Provincial responsibility.

ORIENTAL

Chinese

Each year brings to Canada approximately 2,500 new Chinese. The Church offers classes in the teaching of English to the young people and to the women who have come to join their husbands. The Young People's Unions are touching the young Chinese today at the university level because of their educational background being more advanced than our earlier immigrants.

During the year Miss Agatha Coultres replaced Mrs. Stewart Robertson (the former Ruth Peat) in our Nanaimo and Up-Island work. The Chinese gave Miss Coultres a very warm welcome and she soon learned that if she were to do effective work among the women in places like Alberni and Ladysmith she must use an interpreter and bring them together through her own personal effort. It is a new experience but one she finds satisfying.

Japanese

Today the Japanese Canadians are scattered over this wide Dominion. Some of them live in lonely places, away from any Japanese language Church, but they are served by the fine bilingual printed paper, "The Shepherd's Call," a paper which serves to bridge and harmonize two cultures and groups of people represented by the two languages.

The congregation in Toronto, under the leadership of Rev. K. Shimizu, has gained strength, increased its maintenance responsibility and revealed great ambition as it indicated its desire to be self-supporting in 1954, which it has accomplished.

In Steveston, British Columbia, something unusual has occurred. The Japanese Church membership, which is considerable, has gone into complete union with the Anglo-Saxon United Church, reserving only the practice made necessary through language requirements of worship in the Japanese language as long as there is need. The union is on a basis of complete equality, the old Japanese property going with their membership into the new Church and the new plant.

Miss Hedwig Bartling gives part-time service to immigration work in Vancouver but her first love is the Japanese work.

In 1953 Miss Grace Namba became a missionary in full standing, retroactive to the date of her appointment, August 1, 1949. During her visit to Toronto we shared with her the excitement of purchasing a projector and a screen for the work at Greenwood.

After a visit of a delegation from Hamilton, requesting that leadership be given to the Japanese people of that city, Miss Jean Stewart was appointed last September.

During the year we have had very close association with the Board of Home Missions and the Advisory Committees of the Conference Branches. To all those who gave much time and thought to our Home Mission work we extend our thanks and appreciation.

As Dr. George Dorey severs his connection with the Board of Home Missions we wish to record our sincere thanks for the direction, advice and help he was always ready to give, and we welcome Dr. M. C. Macdonald as the new Secretary, for he, too, has been an adviser on many occasions.

Finis

We finish this report by asking a question: "What can we do this day?" Is it fitting to remind ourselves that as Christians we have the task of the evangelization of our nation for Jesus Christ as a chief responsibility. That basic task is to plant witnesses all over our land—Churches where redeemed men and women may gather for worship. Through this service we will respond to human need, material and spiritual, and we will call all men to the high adventure available through the Grace of God.

ISABEL McINTOSH LOVEYS.

Overseas Missions

Report of the Overseas Missions Executive Secretary*

This past year has been one of unusual tension and emergency in certain areas, but everywhere there has been a sense of the urgency of proclaiming our Christian faith by word and deed. The record of the year shows losses as well as gains because the adversaries against us are strong and deeply entrenched. Through it all there has, however, been a quiet confidence and sense of God's presence leading us into new paths of service, and giving strength for the tasks before us. We should be alert to see the signs of the times and to be ready to adjust our program wherever necessary. These are revolutionary days, and call for a careful appraisal of our work and program that the abiding truths of our Christian faith may be made clear to all and that our Christian witness may be dynamic.

Missionary Staff

At the end of 1953 there were 100 missionaries and 12 short-term workers on our missionary staff in all the overseas fields. In the early part of 1954, there have been 3 resignations, and 2 will retire during the summer. Five new missionaries have been appointed and Miss Violet Stewart and Miss Ruth Saunders have been transferred from Canada to Korea. This brings our total at present to 114. This number is seriously below the urgent needs of the work and far below the requests before us from mission and church groups.

Property Needs

Another matter which has given the Overseas Committee cause for serious concern is the number of requests before us for new buildings which are urgently needed and for which there are at present no funds available in the Property Account.

At the April meeting of the Overseas Committee, the requests from all fields were before us. The total amounted to slightly over $325,000. From this list requests totalling $35,525.00 are presented for action. We regret that more requests could not have been included. These urgent unmet needs are a matter of real concern to us all. Korea especially will require assistance in new buildings if we are to make adequate provision for our work there.

Inter-Mission Aid Fund

The total givings for 1953 to the Inter-Mission Aid Fund from the Canadian Boards were $13,385.00. Last year it was agreed that the Canadian Boards would accept an objective of $17,500.00 as our final gifts to this Fund. This leaves a balance of $4,115.00 to be secured in 1954, at the end of which time the Fund will be closed out, and these needs will be met through the department of Inter-Church Aid and Service to Refugees of the World Council of Churches.

Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches

The Department of Overseas Missions of the Canadian Council of Churches has had a gradual development during 1953. On July 1st Rev. H. M. Puxley assumed his duties as executive secretary of the Department on a 2/3 basis, the balance of his time being given to the Department of Evangelism. A new office was opened in the Canadian Council of Churches building at 3 Willcocks Street, Toronto. Support has been undertaken by the various Mission Boards including our Society.

An India Committee was organized on February 10, 1954, since all the Canadian Boards have work in that country. The Vellore Ludhiana Committee which was formed by uniting the two separate College Committees is connected with the India Committee.

The annual meeting of the Department was held on February 17th in Toronto. Our Society has nine representatives in the Department. The annual conference is to be held this year in Winnipeg in late July in order to take advantage of the presence in this country of certain Christian leaders from other countries who will be here for The World Council of Churches, meeting at Evanston in August.

AFRICA

Angola, Portuguese West Africa

The closer relationship between Church and Mission begun last year, has continued to develop through the year. There has been African representation on all the major committees of the joint Mission (American Board and United Church of Canada) and the administration of all work including medical and educational, is gradually being worked out on a joint basis with the Church leaders. In February of this year the Joint Church and Mission Council met with approximately equal numbers of Africans and missionaries. All matters relating to the Church and Christian institutions were dealt with by that body. A permanent constitution is being worked out.

The Africans find it hard to understand our division into various boards and missions, and the joint meeting recorded its profound conviction of the need for union of the two missions (American Board and U.C.C.) for the welfare of the Church in that area. This has rather far-reaching implications for the boards at home. Concrete proposals are being prepared which will be sent to the boards during the year.

One of the major medical problems has been the rapid increase in tuberculosis in the villages. A Tuberculosis Committee has been set up to study the situation and to direct the activities of the missions and churches in a serious attempt to combat the dread disease. A request for $5,000.00 for T.B. work was received from the mission but up to the present it has not been possible to make a grant, due to shortage of funds.

Need for more skilled midwives was also noted by the annual meeting and it is planned to hold more training courses. Rural Health Centres have been developed in connection with the hospitals, and these are meeting a real need in the villages.

A weekly radio program consisting of a service in Portuguese is broadcast from Lobito. The cost is met by gifts from Portuguese Protestants in Lobito.

The churches and missions have an active program in rural extension including the promotion of tile and brick-making, large church fields (God's Acre), movable schools and cooperatives. The Literature Production plans include the publication of Sunday School lessons, written by Miss Margaret Dawson and Miss Elizabeth Utting, pictures and stories, prepared by Miss Dawson and lessons in Home Economics and Recipes for use in the villages prepared by Misses Margaret Halliday and Frances Walbridge. Miss Marjory Millar is asked to do some translation work and Miss Millicent Howse is to be appointed for full time literature production, after her furlough.

Preparations are being made for the celebration of The Diamond Jubilee of the Mission in 1955, probably in June.

The need for secondary education has been evident for some time as part of the church school program. A Union Secondary School has now been proposed to include cooperation of the American Board, the two United Church of Canada Mission Boards, and the two American Methodist Mission Boards. Articles of Agreement for the establishment of this school have been sent to the Boards for approval. Grants of $10,000 each have been asked from the three denominations for the erection of the necessary buildings, and an annual maintenance budget of $4,800 has been requested. Our Board was unable to meet the property request but fortunately the Board of Overseas Missions could meet the whole amount this year. They will expect us to do our share later, or to take on some other project. We were able to include our share of the maintenance cost on the 1955 Estimates.

The resignations of Miss Frances Botham and Miss Beverley Woods were received during the year. Both have recently been married, and we wish them happiness.

With these two losses, the W.M.S. Missionary staff stands at 18. We are happy that one new appointment has been made in the person of Miss Helen Stockton, Reg.N.

Northern Rhodesia

We are happy to report the appointment of Mrs. Essie B. Johnson, A.T.C.M., as our Society's first missionary to this new work. She will arrive in Northern Rhodesia probably in early September. Rev. and Mrs. G. Smith who were appointed last year under the Board of Overseas Missions are already at work there and have written to say how greatly a W.M.S. missionary is needed.

During the past year, we made our first annual contribution of £300 to the budget of the United Missions to the Copperbelt.

CENTRAL INDIA

Mission Council meeting last autumn sent a request for 14 new missionaries for medical and educational work. In addition Malwa Church Council feels that several new evangelistic missionaries are needed. At present our missionary staff numbers 39. Of this number, Miss Gwen Gardner will retire this year and Misses Drummond and Patterson will retire next year, after their furloughs. Miss Florence Bennee returns to Canada this summer as she has completed her two-year appointment. The faculty and students of Indore Christian College and the mission have expressed great appreciation of her contribution to the life of the College, both in her capacity as dean of women, and in the Social Work department. We are happy to report that Miss Annie G. Black, M.S.W., has been appointed to take her place for a two-year period. Miss Black comes to us with unusually wide experience as a social worker, having served as Social Services Officer in the C.W.A.C., as supervisor of the Red Cross Far East Welfare Team, and as instructor in medical social work in the University of British Columbia.

With the exception of Miss Black, who is really a replacement and not an addition to our staff, no new missionaries have been appointed to India this year. With the several retirements in view, this makes a difficult situation. There is urgent need for at least 2 doctors, 2 nurses and 1 teacher in the near future.

The Indore Hospital has been completed and is now in full use. Our doctors and nurses are very appreciative of the new buildings. It is a real satisfaction to have that very large project completed and I am sure our whole Society will be glad that this fine new plant is ready to serve the physical needs of so many women and children in that area.

During this year there has been further study of the question of the integration of the educational and medical work of the Mission with the Church. The committee charged with the responsibility of drawing up specific plans and recommendations is hard at work. The process of integration will no doubt, be gradual, but there are indications that all are agreed that this is an essential move if these Christian institutions are to become more fitted to meet the needs and opportunities of the area as to serve the Church and to bring a sense of responsibility to the whole Church in that area for its share in the total Christian program.

We are happy that Mrs. Kenneth Masih was able to accept the invitation of our Society to visit Canada with her husband this summer and autumn.

Living costs in India are constantly increasing. This has made necessary an additional grant of $2,500 to supplement the cost of living bonus to Indian members of institutional staffs.

There is urgent need for several new buildings in Central India. One of the most urgent is a hostel to accommodate women students at the Seminary and Indore Christian College.

During the past year a grant of $25,000 was made by the North American Associate Board of the Madras Women's Christian College to erect a greatly-needed building for the Nutrition Department. This is now in process of erection, but it is apparent that this amount will be insufficient to complete the building. Private gifts are being sought. Miss Dorothy Pearson reports a busy year in the Research and Extension Service of the Nutrition Department.

Vellore Christian Medical College is in serious need of several additional staff members. In view of this and since no one with the necessary qualifications could be found in Canada, the mission boards of the 4 major Canadian Churches have cooperated in the cost of salary and travel for Dr. D. M. Hancock of the Church of Scotland, who is available and for whom the Mission Board of that Church had no support. Our share of this joint project is $400 per year and this amount had been included in the 1955 Estimates.

Ludhiana Christian Medical College is continuing to develop its new hospital and the accommodation for more students so it can meet the government requirements for the higher degree course. A Canadian recently appointed to the staff is Dr. James Ashwin, Ph.D., a graduate of McGill University.

WORK AMONG CHINESE

Hong Kong—Since the evacuation of all missionaries from mainland-China, our work among Chinese has been largely confined to the area of Hong Kong. It was a great joy to me to visit Hong Kong in December of last year to greet former friends, both Chinese and missionaries.

Hong Kong has a refugee problem of serious proportions. The population has grown from about 500,000 in 1949 to about three million at the present time. Approximately half a million of these are refugees living in ramshackle huts and with no adequate means of livelihood. The Hong Kong Government has undertaken a large project of building simple houses in various parts of the Colony and is also introducing new industries to provide work for at least some of these.

However, there will still remain many thousands who have no regular employment and hence insufficient food and clothing. The Church World Service Committee in Hong Kong and several British Church Relief Committees are providing relief services of food, clothing, medical aid and help with housing for these suffering people. A few rehabilitation projects have been started.

On last Christmas night, a disastrous fire occurred in which 60,000 people were left homeless. In response to an appeal from our U.C.C. missionaries in Hong Kong at that time, our Society shared equally with the Board of Overseas Missions in a grant of $5,000.00 to help these unfortunate people. This grant is being spent through a joint housing project, called Wesley Village, under the supervision of the English Methodist and the American Methodist and our United Church of Canada groups.

The Hay Ling Chau Leper Colony has had a remarkable development during the past year. 350 lepers are now on the Island. A new hospital has been built which will provide medical care for the most serious cases. This building was opened on January 16th by the Governor of Hong Kong.

I spent a day at the Island with Miss Irene Moore, our nurse there. One could not help but be impressed with the vigor of the life of the Colony and the evident joy of the people in being there.

The educational needs of Hong Kong are evident to anyone who walks the streets of that great city and area. The streets are filled with children and youths of both sexes for whom there is not adequate school provision. Missions and local Christian groups are attempting to supplement the Government schools. Pui Ying and True Light schools, formerly of Canton, have primary and high schools now in Hong Kong. Both are doing excellent work. Hip Woh Girls' School, with which our Society was connected in Canton, has a Primary school under the principalship of Miss Tsui, an able and energetic Christian woman, who was formerly on the staff of the school at Canton. She has a devoted staff of Christian teachers. There are about 200 children, half of whom are in the kindergarten. Miss Tsui and her Board of Directors, hope eventually to enlarge this school to include a High School and Kindergarten Training Department.

The council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has continued its very strategic work throughout the year. A new executive officer, Rev. H. W. Spillet of the English Baptist Mission, was appointed on a full-time basis. He has brought a wealth of experience, both in the production of Christian literature and in his knowledge of China and the Chinese people. Their latest annual report states that 223,200 copies of 135 books were published in 1953, and their sale is widespread in Hong Kong, Formosa, Malaya, Indonesia, and other areas in East Asia where Chinese live. The children's magazine, Happy Childhood, has gradually increased its circulation to remarkable proportions and the demand is constantly growing. Miss Margaret Brown is the editor of the magazine, as well as of all the publications for women and children.

In addition to her work in Christian literature, Miss Brown has served our Society as liaison person with the Hong Kong District Association of The Church of Christ in China and with the Hip Woh School and other projects in which we are concerned. She has recently been appointed as our representative on The Board of Chung Chi College.

The Hong Kong District Association of The Church of Christ in China has been concerned with the establishment of new churches in various sections of the New Territories. It has seventeen churches under its purview, seven of which are in the New Territories. They are in real need of more well-trained pastors. Several young men are studying in the Seminary in Singapore on scholarships which are provided by the co-operating Boards. A course to prepare young women for church work is to open this autumn in the Castle Peak Training Centre in which we co-operate. This is a centre for refresher courses and conferences for all types of voluntary and salaried church workers. The buildings were contributed by the London Missionary Society and the annual maintenance budget is provided by co-operating Boards of which our Society is one. This church in Hong Kong area deserves our support as they face this task of developing the life of the churches and carrying the responsibility for Christian witness in that area.

The United Board for Christian Colleges in China continues its enlarged program of Christian higher education for Chinese young men and women in various parts of Asia. Five Chinese students have been accepted in the first class at the International Christian University in Japan under scholarships from the United Board of Christian Colleges in China. Grants have been made to establish a Christian Student Centre at Taipei, Formosa; to a student hostel at the University of Malaya; to Chung Chi College, Hong Kong; to 41 fellowships and a number of scholarships for Chinese students; to visiting professorships in various Christian Universities in Asia; to the new Indonesian Christian University; to the new Formosan Christian College, now called Tunghai University and to Chosun Christian University of Korea, for science equipment and books. Our Society's grants were earmarked for the hostel in Malaya and for Chung Chi College in Hong Kong. This latter institution is filling a great need.

Formosa is an area with which our Society has had very slight connection. Miss Gretta Gauld has been our only direct contact there recently. She is our missionary on loan to the English Presbyterian Mission in South Formosa. For the last several years, however, her salary has been paid by the Woman's Missionary Association of the English Presbyterian Mission Board. During my visit to Formosa last Fall, I was in South Formosa and saw something of the remarkable growth of the church there and the difficulty under which the English Presbyterian Mission has been carrying on as regards staff.

One way our Society can help without any change of policy with regard to work in Formosa, is by again becoming responsible for Miss Gauld's salary and by accepting Miss Ruth McLeod as our missionary with full support. Following consultation with The Woman's Missionary Association of the English Presbyterian Mission Board, this action was approved by the Executive as from July 1st, 1954. This will free funds under The English Board for the appointment of new staff and will in no way change the relationship of these two missionaries to the Presbyterian Church in Formosa.

The other contact with Formosa is through our grant to the United Board for Christian Colleges in China, part of which we are recommending in the Estimates to be directed to the new Tunghai University. This University has been established for the education of Formosan leaders. The church leaders in Formosa welcome it most warmly and hope nothing will interfere with its development. There is only one University at present in Formosa, a Government University and that is quite inadequate for a population of nine million people. It means that because of competition for admittance, only a very few Christian young people can attend that institution. Hence, the strategic importance of the New Tunghai University.

JAPAN

Missionary staff needs continue to be a matter of urgent importance in our work in Japan. Our staff at present numbers 20 missionaries and 8 J3's. We are happy to report the appointment of one new missionary, Miss Enid Horning, B.A., for educational work. However, because of the retirement this year of Miss Bessie Cairns, the staff will remain the same in number. During my visit to Japan last autumn, I had conference with the principals of the three schools and they urged the necessity of having two missionaries and one J3 on the staff of both Kofu and Shizuoka schools and 6 missionaries and one J3 on the staff of Toyo Eiwa. This would mean at least 4 additional educational missionaries with a slight reduction in the number of J3's. These short-term appointments were made in these numbers because regular missionary appointees were not available. The J3's have made a very real place for themselves and are greatly appreciated by the various schools. Naturally, however, the larger number of educational missionaries should be those on more permanent appointment, who have studied the Japanese language.

Our cooperation through the I.B.C., means that when need arises, our missionaries can be placed at various centres throughout Japan irrespective of whether our missionaries have formerly served in those areas. This year Miss Gwen Suttie has been appointed to work in a school at Shimizu which is near Shizuoka. Similarly Miss Isobel Leith is now serving in Hakodate.

The appointment of a new principal for the Kofu Girls' High School, Mr. Masataka Naitoh, has brought new life to that school. The Board of Directors and P.T.A. met with me when I was in Kofu and many problems were discussed such as the need for development of the buildings to meet the needs of today, and the necessity for an increased budget in order to raise the salaries of the teachers to a more adequate level. Our Board was able to grant $4,200 to build a house for the principal and provide a small increase in the 1953 budget. An additional grant of $1,500 was made for 1954 for the maintenance budget. There still remains the need for the additional buildings to complete their plant after the war destruction, but no funds are available at present for this purpose.

Shizuoka school likewise is in financial difficulties due to increased living costs, and an additional grant of $1,500 was also made to their budget.

The Toyo Eiwa New Primary School building was in process of erection when I was in Tokyo in November. They were eagerly awaiting our grant of $20,000 requested through the 1953 G.B.A. project list and we are happy to be able to send the total amount to them.

The Christian Educational Association of Japan reports there were 194 Christian schools in Japan with 114,000 students. All the schools are filled to capacity. During my visit to Japan as I saw the work being done in the schools I visited, I was convinced that these schools provide an effective place for evangelism. Everywhere I went I was told that the church members had almost all come through the Christian schools, and while there are still many difficulties both from an educational and administrative point of view, still the fact remains that here is a real opportunity for Christian witness among these thousands of students and for an influence on their lives which will bear real fruit in the future.

The United Church of Christ in Japan reports a ten per cent increase in membership last year. They are in the midst of an aggressive evangelistic campaign leading up to 1959, the centenary of the arrival of the first Protestant missionaries. New pioneer evangelism centres are being established at strategic places. Only seventeen per cent of the church funds come from abroad. These are used for evangelism, for central expenses and for church reconstruction.

The Tokyo Women's Christian College has now practically completed its post-war restoration plans. The buildings are once again beautiful in their shining white stone. New dormitories have been added as well as new academic buildings. There is still need for a few additional buildings, especially dormitory space. Our Society has not been able to grant our full share of those reconstruction costs. The most urgent need, however, is for an increase in the annual budget, due to the familiar rise in cost of living. The unit of coöperation was consequently raised from $1,250 to $1,500. Since our Society has carried three units, this means an increase of $750 per year for us, which was approved.

The International Christian University admitted its first class of 200 students in April, 1953. Included in this class were five Chinese students from Hong Kong on scholarships from the United Board for Christian Colleges, two Indonesians, one Korean, and two Chinese who live in Japan. Fifty-five of the students are women. The University holds certain places in each class for graduates of Christian High Schools.

Eventually the undergraduate department will have a maximum of 600 students, and the graduate school is to have no more than 400. It is the aim of the University Board that all faculty members and at least forty per cent of the student body be Christians. This university is giving a course in general education which is an exciting new experiment in university circles in Japan where courses have always been highly specialized. Dr. Emil Brunner of Switzerland is on the staff for a three year period and has been attracting large audiences for his extension lectures on the Christian faith. It is to be regretted that our Society has found it impossible to cooperate in this institution up to the present.

KOREA

At this time last year there were only three W.M.S. missionaries in Korea and one en route home on furlough. Since then Misses Emma Palethorpe, Anne Davison, and Rev. Elda Daniels have arrived in Korea, Miss Violet Stewart sailed in April, Miss Nancy Cameron and Miss Willa Kernan will sail this summer after their language study at Yale University. We are also happy that Miss Ruth Saunders, Reg.N., of the Home Mission staff has been appointed to Korea at her own request. This considerable increase in missionary staff is very heartening to the mission group in Korea and to the Korean church. There is still urgent need for more missionaries. The Mission Committee have asked for a total of ten more. It would be impossible to send these even if available, unless the budget were increased proportionately.

One of the major tasks for the mission at present is the whole matter of relief and rehabilitation. While the main relief needs are being cared for through United Nations channels, there remains a heavy responsibility on the missionaries and church groups. The used clothing sent through The United Church of Canada Committee on Overseas Relief is greatly appreciated and should be continued at the present level for some time to come. In addition, our missionaries hope for some relief parcels to be sent to them, personally, so they will have material to meet cases of individual and group needs, not cared for through the government program. The need for immediate relief help of food and clothing will, we hope, be met as far as our mission is concerned, by the used clothing project and the gifts which will result from the Lenten appeal of "Food for the World's Hungry."

It remains for the mission and church to undertake projects of rehabilitation and reconstruction in schools, hospitals, widows' homes, farm projects and other such types of work. The work of the mission has, therefore, been directed along these lines during this past year.

Miss Anne Davison has been on loan to the Korea Church World Service Committee, for special work with orphanages. Miss Violet Stewart has also gone to work under this Committee at their urgent request, in the training of widows in weaving and other self-help projects. Grants have been made towards the support of High Schools organized under several churches and Christian groups on Koje Island, and in certain other areas, to provide secondary education for refugee boys and girls. This is a very important service which the Church is rendering in Korea and deserves our full support. Additional grants have been made to Severance hospital to help with their budget, to the Union Christian Service Centre at Tacjon to assist in their rural training program and to Chosun Theological Seminary to help with temporary repairs to their ruined buildings.

Funds for two new jeeps were granted as it is absolutely necessary for each missionary to have her own transportation unless her work is to be confined to a very small area. Also a car for a mobile audio-visual unit was purchased and is being fitted up with equipment and supplies for that purpose. It will be used in the Seoul area. The funds for this were provided through the G.B.A., in 1953.

During this year a house in Pusan has been purchased and remodelled jointly by the Board of Overseas Missions and Woman's Missionary Society. It was almost destroyed in the terrible fire which swept the city at the end of November. Miss Paethorpe and Miss Davison suffered heavy personal losses of clothing and bedding from looting at the time, and a grant of $300 each was made to assist them in replacing their losses.

We have now been able to purchase the W.M.S. house in Seoul.

The Korea Mission Committee was reorganized in the autumn of last year and its constitution is submitted to this Board meeting for approval.

A joint Presbytery-Mission Board was established with representatives from the mission and from 3 Northern Presbyteries-in-exile. This Board deals with all matters relating to church, educational and relief work in which missionaries are involved. Because so many of the North Korean Christians are scattered in various parts of South Korea, it has been difficult to decide on an appropriate area for our missionaries to be located for more permanent work, especially since it appears that return to North Korea will not be possible in any immediate future. The Joint Presbytery-Mission Board has been studying this question and has recommended an area in Kang Won Province just south of the Ham Kyung Provinces in which our mission was formerly located. There are a considerable number of refugees from North Korea in this Province, some of them already organized into congregations of the Presbyterian Church. There are also some Methodist Churches in the area, and it is hoped to have co-operation with the Methodist missionaries in the establishment of a hospital at Wonju. Some materials are available for hospital reconstruction from the Military Authorities if missions will undertake their support. A recommendation for approval of this new area is presented for action (see page 26). This will of necessity involve the building of a missionary residence in that area, and a share in a union hospital.

The North Korean Christian group are also eager to have our mission establish a High School for Girls.

Severance Union Hospital and Medical College have been operating under difficulties since they returned to Seoul, because their plant was 70% destroyed during the war. The Nurses' Residence has now been restored with grants from UNKRA, the Methodist Women's Board and our Society. This makes possible more adequate accommodation for the nurses, and the admittance of a class of 30 student nurses. UNKRA has also made grants of $10,000 each for the repair of the Out-patients building and Avison Hall. The Amputee Department has received support from the Military, the American-Korean Foundation, as well as from the various mission groups including our Society. It is expected that when funds are available Severance Medical College will be rebuilt on the grounds of Chosun Christian College at the outskirts of Seoul.

Ewha Woman's University moved back to its own campus in Seoul last September. The rehabilitation of this building was done with grants from the Methodist Women's Board for the main building and from our Society for the dormitory, as well as some help from UNKRA. There still remains much to be done. This year there are 2,000 students for whom there is inadequate accommodation as regards dormitory space and teaching facilities. Under these difficulties, Dr. Helen Kim, the president, and her staff are doing a marvellous job and young women are being trained for service to their church and to their country in the critical days ahead. At the Thanksgiving season 210 students were baptized and made public confession of their Christian faith.

Through the Korea Committee, D.F.M.* our Society is cooperating in the Tuberculosis Project by a grant of $1,081 and in the work of Christian Education and youth projects by our grant to this Committee of $1,015 in 1954.

TRINIDAD

The new building of the St. Augustine Girls' High School which was opened on May 14, 1953, is a great asset to that school. Its beauty of appearance and excellently planned layout have been a benefit not only to the school itself, but have also made a deep impression on the whole community. It is fitting once again to pay tribute to the ability and devoted work of Mr. Frank Beckwith as builder of the school. The soundness of its construction is due to his foresight and constant oversight. After his tragic and untimely death, the work was continued under the supervision of Rev. C. A. Kitney, to whom also our Society owes a debt of gratitude.

During this past year there were 233 girls in the school, 160 of whom were from Christian families. These girls would have had no opportunity for secondary education without this school, and the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad and the whole community in the northern part of the Island, are grateful for this institution. Since Miss Grace Beattie's departure on furlough last summer, Miss Constance Wagar has been the able principal. The new W.M.S. missionary residence in connection with the school was completed at the end of the year and on January 9, Misses Constance and Marion Wagar moved in. They are occupying the ground floor and at the request of the Interim Committee for Women's Work and of Mission Council, the second floor is being used temporarily as a dormitory for 12 girls, pending the erection of the School Dormitory, funds for which were contributed in 1953 through G.B.A.

* Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

Naparima Girls' High School has continued its usual high academic record, several of the girls taking very high honours in the Cambridge Entrance examinations, one of these obtaining the third highest standing in the Island. There were 646 students in the School during last year, plus 80 in the Kindergarten and Primary Department. About half of these are Christians.

Archibald Institute has been fortunate in the addition of two new members of staff during last year. Miss Inez Morrison replaced Miss Irene Thompson as director and Miss Margaret Fasken has been in charge of the Household Science teaching. Both of these were appointed for 2 years to fill urgent staff needs. These additional appointments solve the immediate problem but appointments on a more permanent basis will be necessary if Archibald Institute is to make its maximum contribution to the training of young women in home-making and community service. There were 37 students during 1953.

The arrival of Misses Inez Morrison, Margaret Fasken and Isabel Hamilton was a real lift to our missionary staff. They were warmly welcomed, and were immediately hard at work. Each of these three is teaching in 2 institutions, and their contribution is of a high order. We regret to report the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Master after two terms of service. Her work has been greatly appreciated and she made a very real place for herself not only in our own institutions but with Government officials and on Island-wide committees concerned with the problem of nutrition and community service.

The United Church of Canada Mission in Trinidad was honoured in having several of the United Church missionaries included in the list of those receiving coronation medals at the time of the Coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Among those so honoured were Misses Grace Beattie, Irene Thompson and Margaret Seringcôur.

The work of the Interim Committee for Women's Work continues to develop. It has not yet been possible to relate this committee more closely with the Presbytery although negotiations are proceeding.

The Joint Committee on Literature of the Presbytery and Interim Committee for Women's Work has been very active during the past year.

Conclusion

This brings another year's report to a close. Once more our hearts are filled with thankfulness for the privilege of sharing in the proclamation of the Christian Gospel by word and deed throughout the world. It is a privilege second to none and our desire and prayer is that all the women of our church may have a share in it.

This report would be incomplete if it did not pay tribute to the work of the missionaries who are our representatives in the far places of the earth. They carry the burden and heat of the day under strain and stress. Theirs, too, is the joy of service. Their devotion inspires us to put forth greater effort, so that together we may share with our Christian colleagues in all those areas in the work of the Kingdom.

A SAFE AND RELIABLE INVESTMENT— A LIFE-LONG INCOME THAT WILL NOT SHRINK

By the Guaranteed Annuity Gift Plan of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada, a gift of money will be accepted at any time and the donor be paid income thereon at a most attractive rate, this depending upon the donor's age when the gift is made. Many friends are welcoming this Plan, for it not only makes possible the placing of their gift during lifetime (rather than a legacy later) which, upon maturity, becomes immediately effective without legal process or administration expense, but at the same time pays dividends. A suitable bond, over the signatures of the Officers of the Church and of the Society, guarantees the payment of the annual income.

Complete information may be secured upon application to the Assistant Treasurer, 413 Wesley Buildings, Toronto 2 B, Ont.

Candidate

The last year was a memorable one for those who are concerned with the recruiting and training of young women in the full-time service of the Church. Announcement was made of the inauguration of a course leading to a B.R.E. (Bachelor of Religious Education) degree at Victoria College, an action which follows long and careful study on the part of all concerned. It will be possible for students at the United Church Training School who have necessary prerequisites to secure this degree in combination with the Training School course and it is hoped that many of them will take advantage of this opportunity to acquire additional training in a very important area of the Church's service.

Another cause of rejoicing has been the beginning of construction on the new Training School building. We look forward to wider opportunities for service in the increased facilities which this structure will provide, while we are profoundly grateful for the standard of training and quality of life maintained in the old buildings.

The class at the Training School this year has been more than a capacity one; but the need for workers still far exceeds the supply. The Secretary has travelled in the Maritimes, Western Canada and Ontario as a member of the United Church Exposition team seeking to lay the claims and opportunities of a Church vocation before the young people of our congregations. An increasingly large and attractive supply of literature has been made available by the Personnel Committee and has been widely distributed. Candidate Advisors continue to do a conscientious and valuable service in their respective areas. In the final analysis, however, the responsibility for recruiting rests on every member of every auxiliary. It is only as an earnest and continuing personal presentation of the challenge of this work is made in every congregation of our Church that we can confidently look forward to the day when no mission field will be left vacant because of lack of workers.

There are 42 students in the United Church Training School this year, six of whom are from overseas, and five entered under the Special Scholarship arrangement for young women undertaking to do special work in downtown city missions or new housing areas. From the Conferences the registration is as follows:

Newfoundland	1	Toronto	6
Maritime	6	Manitoba	2
Montreal-Ottawa	2	Saskatchewan	5
Bay of Quinte	1	Alberta	2
London	1	British Columbia	5
Hamilton	5

Of the graduating class of twenty, thirteen are being appointed by the Woman's Missionary Society, three by the Home Mission Board and four will be taking positions in congregational work.

The time spent at the School is an experience of inestimable value for its intellectual and spiritual enrichment, and for its stimulating contacts with the staff of the Training School, with the women who direct the work of the Society, and with the students from Canada and other countries.

The year at the United Church Training School costs approximately $575, including board, fees and general expenses. The Society pays the cost of train fare to and from the School once and when necessary, provides bursaries for candidates in training.

Periodicals

Two special features of The Missionary Monthly in 1953 were: (a) five "centre spreads" on recruiting, planned by the Personnel Secretary and afterwards reprinted by the Personnel Committee for further distribution. (b) The series of articles on overseas institutions of higher education in which the Society co-operates with other Mission Boards. These were written by a Dominion Board member, a missionary of the Board of Overseas Missions, an American editor, a former Korean W.M.S. scholarship student, and an Indian teacher.

World Friends is just completing its twenty-fifth year, as successor to Canada's first missionary magazine for juniors—The Palm Branch. Its policy and ideals have remained unchanged through the years—to foster in the children of our Church a desire to serve the Lord who gave as one of His commands "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature"; and to teach them by story, poem and picture the real meaning of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. We would like to take this opportunity of thanking the missionaries who have so kindly contributed articles and pictures to our small magazine.

The United Churchman, established in 1838, is an organ of The United Church of Canada in the Atlantic provinces and is published fortnightly in Sackville, N.B. It is a family paper with a strong missionary emphasis. In this stimulating environment the W.M.S. page very often overflows with news of the work of our Society at home and abroad, home organizations, coming events and special features such as book news, rallies, workshops, and always the eagerly awaited quarterly financial report in its season. We take these various strands and try to weave them into an overall pattern, our theme this year being the missionary obligation of the Church with its emphasis on unity, as stated in the Willingen report.

In 1953 subscriptions for The Missionary Monthly reached 70,000 and World Friends 50,000—a new high for both magazines. The subscription figures by Conference Branches give the best report the Department has ever been able to present in regard to the increases. Every Conference Branch but one showed gains in Missionary Monthly subscriptions and all but this same Branch and one other had increases for World Friends.

Encouraging as this is, however, the increases are not sufficient to justify the hope of reaching the objective of the Five Year Plan of Advance as scheduled for 1955. The rate of increase to date in 1954 would also bear this out. Only an all-out drive among the women of the whole Church and out into the homes of the community, for 1955 could achieve:

"75,000 subscriptions for The Missionary Monthly and World Friends in every home where there is a child."

4,500 copies of the Twenty-Eighth Annual Report of the Society were published, under the title Through Missionary Windows.

The Literature Story

Learning—It is obvious to say that the 1953 mission study theme, THE LIFE AND TASK OF THE CHURCH, was at first sight, staggering. What could easily have degenerated into a mass of empty generalizations actually developed into one of the best-liked and thought-provoking surveys of any year. An excellent selection of books with their program guides directed the way through vast areas of subject matter. These printed pages, in the hands of and through the lips of local, Presbyterian and Conference Branch officers, stimulated rank-and-file members to investigate the true mission of the Church and further, to relate that mission to themselves as individual Church members.

A few figures will verify that fact that good books were used more than ever during the study year, September 1953 to March 1954.

WHERE'ER THE SUN	7,625	MANY HANDS IN MANY LANDS	1,725
AUXILIARY PROGRAMS	5,100	JUNIOR GUIDE	1,635
MISSION CIRCLE PROGRAMS	434	THE ROUND WINDOW	1,553
OUT OF THIS WORLD	4,657	PRIMARY LEADER'S GUIDE	1,522
AFFIL. C.G.I.T. GUIDE	2,129

Experimenting—As a new method of spreading knowledge and inspiration, a recording of Dr. James Robinson's address, NEW FRONTIERS IN MISSIONS, was made available. Its wide use and acceptance seem to show that there is a field for this type of tool.

In May, 1953, a successful workshop in Visual Education as it relates to missionary materials was held in Toronto, with representatives in attendance from four central Conference Branches.

To encourage groups to make a deeper study than regular Auxiliary programs suggest, a specially prepared set of Questions for Discussion based on THAT THE WORLD MAY KNOW by Charles Ranson were distributed with the programs. Although over 660 copies of this significant book were sold, how far it was used to stimulate hard thinking and study is difficult to estimate.

Co-operating—The current theme, together with findings from the Willingen Conference Report undoubtedly provided a larger vision of the possibilities of sharing through Literature. Examples of resulting action were:

- local W.M.S. groups held joint meetings with Woman's Associations using materials and programs in common;
- a World Missions Bookshelf has been compiled for promotion locally;
- over 560 copies of the Willingen Report sold indicated its use by individuals and groups;
- special emphasis has been given to the relationship between United Nations Specialized Agencies and the work of Christian Missions;
- Literature secretaries have been alerted to the potential value of missionary books for the whole congregation.

Our biggest editorial undertaking of the year concerned IT TAKES TIME TO GROW by Marguerite Brown, jointly sponsored by the Board of Christian Education and the Woman's Missionary Society. Unique in its field of Child Guidance for Christian Parents, and striking in design, this publication is making a large place for itself among both Church and secular groups.

THE CHRISTIAN AND PEACE by Dr. A. J. Wilson was another publication sponsored by United Church Boards in which our share is indicated by a distribution of 2,525 copies.

Growing—Several specific areas of the Literature picture offer encouragement and incentive to greater effort. Our attractive and wholesome children's books are widely sought after. More Affiliating Woman's Associations are making use of missionary programs. More ways of utilizing World Friendship maps, painting books, stories and pictures in Christian homes are being discovered.

New topics were introduced through three Special Programs, namely UNITED NATIONS AND CHRISTIAN MISSIONS by B. A. McCaul, OVER THE AIR WAVES by I. McFadden, showing how radio can be used as a medium for missionary education and ADVENTURING IN BIBLE STUDY by Jean Hutchinson offering some fresh approaches to Bible Study.

Our five Literature Depots located in St. John's, Newfoundland, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary (new), and Vancouver continue to be responsible for a large share of book sales. In 1953 their combined sales amounted to $13,086.95 representing a decrease of $858.35 in comparison with 1952 figures. However the overall picture of Literature sales reveals a record figure of $52,148.61, surpassing the previous year's amount by $2,448.61. In the wake of larger numbers of books finding their way into the hands of customers, we may expect to hear that more reading was achieved. This is also true. Eleven Conference Branches reported a conservative total of 153,035 books read compared to 136,943 for 1952.

If Literature about the missionary enterprise of the Church is actually reaching out in widening circles, as our reports would indicate, an impact of no small proportions is being made on women, girls and children. What does the frequent request for "reading of a lighter nature" mean? Does the decided spread of interest in Literature really indicate that readers are becoming more responsible as Christian World citizens?

Concerning Statistics and Reports: As final statistical tables have not been released at the time of writing, one reports with a tantalizing sense of uncertainty. Yet there is evidence enough at hand to justify anticipation of increases for 1953 both in the number of organizations and in membership. The general impression given by every Conference Branch report is of a Society either holding its own or advancing in numbers. In many reports there is a note of thankfulness with repeated mention of stronger emphasis on Stewardship, more effort put into personal visiting and frequent conclusions that systematic effort has brought results.

Can we hold the "statistical ground" so gained and move forward in 1954? I am convinced that this is possible if we can awaken a still stronger sense of personal responsibility, perhaps through a greater stress on lay witness. Increasingly it seems evident that the initiative of one or two people may arouse the concern for systematic planning and effort often needed to change situations in Auxiliary, Presbyterial or Conference Branch.

There are, of course, other measures of strength than statistics and one dares to conclude from the great variety of projects undertaken that there is in the Society much of life and vitality. Hospitality for Younger Groups and for grandmothers; English lessons for New Canadians and an employment service; parties for Senior Citizens and personal visiting of young mothers; Christmas gifts for Home Mission centres and bales for Korea; teams for visiting in hospitals and worship materials provided for shut-ins; study of Citizenship issues and concern for World Peace . . . all these may seem marginal concerns of a Society whose program is centered in the World Mission of the Church, yet they are typical of the outreach made where Auxiliaries become concerned. One has faith that the sharing of ideas particularly in Presbyterial reporting may continue to arouse concern in the too numerous places where there is little happening.

Concerning Program and Worship: It is obvious from reports that the Study Book and How to Use are taken for granted as indispensable tools in all Conference Branches. Six to eight meetings a year apparently centre around the suggested program material. Other meetings have programs of a missionary nature, using The Missionary Monthly, a missionary speaker or some Citizenship theme. Few "irrelevant" programs are reported.

The record "New Frontiers in Missions," has been very widely used. Filmstrips, slides and films are used to some extent but more in common with other organizations of the congregation than for program use in Auxiliaries.

Informal program presentations are widely used both in rural and city groups. Effectiveness of program planning seems to depend more upon individual initiative than on geography.

Participation in leadership of worship is mentioned more frequently than any other factor as a means of developing individual responsibility among members. Two Conference Branches mention increased interest in Bible Study as an outcome of the use of worship materials.

Where'er the Sun has been a popular study leading, in some Branches, to "increased awareness of the mission of the Church to the world." Study groups using That the World May Know are known to have existed but they have not been mentioned in Auxiliary reports. It keeps one realistic to read that "perhaps only 50 per cent of our members read the Study Book for themselves, although more do read The Missionary Monthly."

Concerning Trends: Repeated mention of increases in concern for Younger Groups again makes one wish for more detailed statistical evidence than is sometimes given concerning the number of Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups appointed, or the number of Explorer and C.G.I.T. Groups actually approached regarding Affiliation. However, mention is made again and again of finding leaders for, and giving leadership to, Younger Groups, in addition to providing materials and hospitality. Outreach in the cause of the missionary Church is reflected in the mention by five Conference Branches of the Sunday School. Summer camps for girls have also been within the concern of our Society.

Concerning Younger Groups in Particular: Much mention of C.G.I.T. and Mission Band is made; little of Explorers. Greater use of the new leaflet on W.M.S.-Explorer relationships may be indicated. One Presbyterial where Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups are reported from most Auxiliaries, reported also starting 13 new groups during the year.

Concerning Leadership Education: Gatherings for Presbyterial and Sectional Rallies seem still the best channel for communication of ideas, methods and vision in addition to visits of officers, correspondence and The Missionary Monthly. Presbyterials seem to win a higher percentage response in attendance from Auxiliaries than Rallies and there may be need here for more departmental help or more member participation. Schools for Leaders showed increase but a greatly expanded program is needed if they are to touch more than a fraction of our membership.

Concerning Miscellaneous Detail: The World Day of Prayer Service is apparently the most popular project in which we share. Is there hope here that a stronger ecumenical witness may be made following the Evanston Assembly, perhaps in relation to a joint program using the India Study?

Television has been used in at least one Conference Branch as a channel for Public Relations. We need to discuss its use for promotion and Missionary Education.

"Enlistment," the theme used so widely in 1953, resulted in a strong emphasis on Recruiting, yet reports made only one mention of an Auxiliary which had actually recruited a candidate in its own congregation. Our personal concern must go deeper here.

"For we are ambassadors for Christ,
Workers together with Him,
And therefore, seeing we have this ministry,
Let us examine what our labors must entail
That we may be more diligent in our service
And more faithful in our stewardship."

Optimism is the key-note of reports even when noting decreases in numbers. Eighteen Mission Circles have reported graduation to Auxiliaries, some organizing new groups before taking up adult responsibility. In 1953, 30 new Mission Circles were organized, some claiming the honour of being first in their Presbyterial.

Worship: Helpful worship services were prepared by members using The Missionary Monthly, resource material from Program Plans, and books on devotions. In commenting on the use of resource material rather than prepared services, a secretary says, "Having to prepare these services alone and give them in front of the others, makes the girl put more thought into her preparation, and care in seeing that the theme is followed throughout." One group asks for spontaneous prayer. "The worship is a vital part of the group activity, looked forward to, and carried out with reverence." "Worship periods encourage feeling for world understanding and a desire to express personal feelings on religious matters."

Stewardship: Many report increases in systematic giving. Other means of raising objectives were sales, teas, catering, showing of films and slides, concerts, plays, talent money. One group prepared and sold a history of their own church.

Study and the Reading Course: Use of Program Plans is reported by almost all Circles, but few make any specific comments. Sales of the Study Packet have substantially increased. Scattered remarks such as "not enough material" from one and "a bit difficult" from another bring the conclusion that we are serving a wider age group than 18-25 years and so we encourage the use of C.G.I.T. and Auxiliary Packets where deemed more satisfactory. Several Circles report their most successful programs were ones from the Study Packet. Another outstanding program was when the President of the Circle told of her experience in attending the Conference Branch School for Leaders. Our desire is that more individual members would take personal responsibility for persuading officers of Circles to attend these Schools.

Very few participate in the Reading Course although this phase of our work has been stressed for some time. One Conference Branch records four Reading Awards, six Branches had one award each and four either did not participate or did not qualify. A secretary writes, "Those who are encouraged, find that their givings increase in direct proportion to their reading and mission study."

Audio-Visual Aids: A notable increase is evident in the use of slides, films and filmstrips for entertainment, raising of funds, illustrating addresses and as preludes to discussion. Posters, flip charts and dramatizations were also valuable. The recording of Dr. James Robinson's address has been very popular. In one town it was used jointly by Circle and both Auxiliaries and then rented to surrounding districts.

The Missionary Monthly and World Friends: Are sources of information for talks on Stewardship, Community Friendship, Supply and other missionary activities. Many report The Missionary Monthly in each member's home. One Circle of 14 members has sent 12 subscriptions to World Friends to a hospital, 30 to isolated settlements and have placed a subscription to each magazine in two dental offices.

Christian Citizenship: Racial problems, temperance, social welfare and mixed marriages have been discussed. Studies have been made of The Christian and Peace and the work of the United Nations. Contributions were made to the Temperance Federation. Better reporting could be done in this department.

Community Friendship: New Canadians are being welcomed to Canada and to our Mission Circles. The sick, the lonely, the shut-ins and Senior Citizens are shown that our young women care, by visits, cards, gifts and personal services. Many Christmas dinners were provided. Two afghans were made for a Senior Citizens' Home. A Church of All Nations was visited and entertained with slides.

Supply: Every Conference Branch report tells of bales of clothing collected and packed for Overseas Relief. Local needs have been met with great generosity and gifts sent to port workers, hospitals, old people's homes, individual missionaries and favourite special appeals. Vacation School Kits were also provided.

Towards a Missionary Church: Co-operation with other Church groups and organizations is demonstrated in every Conference Branch. Our members are leaders in C.G.I.T., Mission Band and Baby Band, teachers in the Church School, members of choirs. They enrich mission study in Y.P.U., entertain and share in programs of Auxiliaries and participate in projects of the Woman's Association. The communion table in one church is prepared by Mission Circle members. They have taken responsibility for worship or parts of programs in Presbyterial and Conference Branch. A city Circle entertained sixty probationary nurses and another served supper to theological students taking part in a retreat. Some manned the booths in the United Church Exposition.

Rallies: Most Branches report successful rallies. C.G.I.T. are often invited.

More Circles: Miss Catharine McKeen has been doing some excellent organizational work. One Presbyterial where there are as yet no Circles had four sectional rallies and are now Circle-conscious. Miss McKeen and the Conference Branch Secretary spoke to four rallies in three days. We are also indebted to Miss McKeen for this year's popular Program Plans.

From several sources comes the feeling that there is apathy towards Mission Circle work and that the organization of new Circles is dependent almost entirely on a feeling of individual responsibility for leadership. A Conference Branch Secretary writes thus, "A Presbyterial Secretary believes that if we could get leaders interested enough in our young women to invite them once a month into their homes for a supper meeting, we could form Circles, but she admits that she has not tried it herself. I think the same thing, and I feel that until we have tried the plan and had it fail, we cannot say that it is impossible to get new Circles."

If we would fill the immediate needs in our missionary staff it is the young women in our own church to whom the appeal must be made. Every contact in Mission Circles is valuable.

(MRS. E. W.) ISABEL HICKESON, Secretary.

In the Woman's Missionary Society we are united by the conviction that our Christian faith must be an outgoing one, to the need of people of every nation and that through Christ we can be victorious over the sins of greed and fear which are manifested in our world in want, suffering and war. It is our privilege to share that conviction with the girls of the Canadian Girls In Training movement of our Church, through the preparation and promotion of their Missionary Education materials. This is the particular responsibility of certain officers in our Society, the Auxiliary Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups, the Presbyterial and Conference Branch Secretaries for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups.

Mission Study 1953: The World Friendship projects in C.G.I.T. during 1953 were based on the excellent study book Torchbearers in Angola, and Guide, prepared by Miss Frances Bonwick and Miss Isobel McFadden. The life of girls in Angola, and our missionary work to meet some of their needs, has become very real to Canadian Girls In Training. Maria Chela's visit to camps and other gatherings, Margaret Dawson's and Frances Botham's enthusiastic witness to the work in Angola; the excellent visual aids which were available ("The King's Man" was seen by most C.G.I.T. Groups)—all these factors greatly stimulated interest. The fact that the problems of the African people, are very much before us today also gave the study reality.

Givings: During the past few years C.G.I.T. givings to their Special Objects' Missionary Fund have steadily increased. The Special Objects chosen for 1953 were: Dondi Hospital, Dondi Press, Means School for Girls at Dondi; givings were well above the objective of $7,500 (see Statistical Table). Many groups were also very generous in their givings to Korean and Overseas Relief, to Home Mission Hospitals and Schools, to missionaries who had had some special contact with their groups, to needy families in their own locality. Generally, care was taken that money-raising projects should be worthwhile projects in themselves. Moreover there seemed to be increasing emphasis on personal, sacrificial giving.

World Friendship Rallies have become an accepted and valued part of C.G.I.T. life. They offer an opportunity for both girls and leaders to gather together to share experiences, to learn from each other, and to hear outstanding missionary speakers.

One Conference Branch Secretary reports a rally in each Presbyterial. She reports that a 100 per cent affiliation of C.G.I.T. Groups in some of these Presbyterials is directly related to the stimulation of the rallies. Another Branch Secretary writes "There was only one girls' rally in our Conference and it is significant that this is the one Presbyterial to report 'Every group an affiliated group!'"

What a pity that some Conference Branches report no rallies held, or one only, for a large territory. Of course there are difficulties of distances, roads, and personnel but surely the effort required to hold World Friendship Rallies in every Presbyterial in Canada is not too great, when one considers their value.

Leadership: Each of the officers in the Auxiliary, Presbyterial and Conference Branch with particular responsibility for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups has responsibility (1) to help develop creative leadership to meet the needs of girls for missionary education and (2) to give leadership within the Woman's Missionary Society concerning our relationship to Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups.

It is important that Presbyterial Secretaries meet together at Conference Branch, under the leadership of the Conference Branch Secretary, and it is important that Auxiliary Vice-Presidents for Younger Groups attend Presbyterial where they may meet the Presbyterial Secretaries with responsibility for Baby Band or Mission Band or C.G.I.T. or Mission Circle. These are occasions to work out the ways and means of strengthening our work with C.G.I.T.

It is also important that both Conference Branch and Presbyterian gatherings give some opportunity for Secretaries for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups to present their work to the Woman's Missionary Society membership.

Schools for Leaders and C.G.I.T. Leadership Camps offer the best opportunities in training to C.G.I.T. leaders and Woman's Missionary Society officers. One Conference Branch Secretary writes: "The School for Leaders in 1953 was attended by all Presbyterian Secretaries. A marked increase in real C.G.I.T. work and missionary consciousness has resulted."

Looking Forward: Repeatedly annual reports have emphasized progress; girls are becoming more conscious of world conditions; more concerned that they find and accept their responsibilities as Christians. The year of 1953 shows increases in givings and in number of groups affiliated, in many areas. I would like however, to conclude with these words from a Conference Branch Secretary: "Figures may mean little if our girls have failed to catch a greater vision of the significance of World Friendship. Have they a greater awareness of the world-wide Church and opportunities of service open to them? Are our own lives such that we can interpret to Canadian Girls in Training the meaning of World Friendship?"

Literature and Periodicals: Following an inspiring study of Africa, The Round Window for the Primary, Many Hands in Many Lands for Junior and Explorer Groups, have provided an exciting nearness to similar overseas age groups in their Work and Worship Round the World. Many groups used both packets—others none at all, others the Study Book without the Guide.

World Friends provided Peace and Temperance and extra program material for many groups as well as a precious booklet for the very young children of the families. Gift subscriptions went to many overseas friends. In England the magazine was used proudly in day school and Sunday School, receiving enthusiastic reception.

The Missionary Monthly provides inspiration for all leaders who use it. The Mission Band page is rarely prepared for children's use but for guidance of their leaders. Sometimes leaders are disappointed because they forget this.

The wise leader keeps files of both World Friends and The Missionary Monthly for reference. The fine material in World Friends is intended for use with the children.

Since the Handbook for Superintendents was not used by some of the leaders, they could not know what the requirements were for the Award.

Special Givings: Chissamba: Hospital, $2,500; Day School and Girls' Hostel, $2,000; and Village Work, $1,000.

Activities: Enthusiastic youngsters made Round Windows, each panel with a memorable story of a World Friend, and with a new appreciation of the beauty of stained glass windows, gained new appreciation of children of other lands. Footballs were sent for use in India; scrap books, food parcels, school kits, needle cases, soap and towel kits and new or good used clothing and other gifts went also to Japan and Korea, and to Canadian hospitals, to port work, Gander Airport, Fred Victor Mission and Lachine Home. Scripture text cards worked in wool and scrolls of Bible verses were sent to the Home for Incurable Children and the Sick Children's Hospital. Bible pictures from Sunday School papers were mounted on construction paper and sent to Miss Halliday in Angola; Bible verses were cut out and placed in small envelopes to be opened after meals by the sick in hospitals.

Worship led by the leaders themselves was shared by the children, many of whom had missionaries for prayer.

Co-operation with Auxiliaries: Although fairly good, the responsibility to provide missionary education for the children in their communities doesn't seem to be understood by some Auxiliaries, or so it would seem when it is reported that "The Bands are always trying to extract funds from the Auxiliary." Other Auxiliaries accept hard-earned funds from the Bands instead of advising that these should be sent to the Presbyterian Treasurer, and thus the Bands receive no credit at the end of the year. Many Auxiliaries do provide study packets, treats for special occasions, picnics, assistant or full leadership, World Friends and sympathetic supervision. In one district, a new Mission Band was started by the Woman's Association and materials were provided for study.

Many new Explorer Groups have been formed and affiliated though an accurate record is not available. Many Explorer Groups have been so enthusiastic about the mission study that they didn't want it to end, but to go on and on!

In one or two Conference Branches, an Explorer Secretary has been appointed as assistant to the Secretary for Mission Bands. These assistants aim at a 100 per cent. affiliation in 1954!

One of our Conference Branch Secretaries says: "It is indeed a true saying that the world moves forward on the feet of little children, and if they are taught to wear 'missionary shoes' and to believe in the brotherhood of man, surely we shall come to know what world friendship and peace mean."

Again in 1953 the Baby Band showed an increase in the number of Bands, the number of members and givings. For these gains our thanks are due to a company of devoted women—Superintendents, Presbyterial Secretaries and Conference Branch Secretaries who have given time and thought and patience to the planning and carrying out of their work. This year a special thanks should go to several of the Conference Branch Secretaries who have methodically planned to help their Presbyterial Secretaries and Superintendents through Schools for Leaders and Conferences, so that the knowledge of Baby Band aims and possibilities, methods and literature has spread throughout the whole Conference Branch.

While our reports show gains, they are not large. Our gains are not at all in proportion to the growing number of children in our population. The back cover of The Observer for September 15 pointed out that the United Church has 80,000 new babies each year. Against that background our gains seem small. We should ask ourselves whether we are working as effectively as we can to make a connection with these children in the years when the connection is most easily made—when they are very young.

Visiting: The work of the Baby Band has been done partly through visits in the homes where there are children under five. Our aim is two or three visits a year, and visiting has been most successfully done where one visitor has been appointed for each ten children on the roll. Literature has been left to help with missionary education in the home. Invitations have been extended to attend the Church, the Sunday School, the Auxiliary or Affiliated Society, or some special event planned for the mothers, or the children, or both.

Meetings: A second method of helping mothers with the missionary education of their children has been to invite them to a gathering—a party for children, a graduation ceremony when the five-year-olds go on to Mission Band, a special meeting for mothers, a meeting of the Auxiliary or Affiliated Society for which the program was planned with the interests of the mothers in mind, with perhaps slides, or a film, or a special speaker. Regular meetings for the mothers of Baby Band are increasing in number, and they show a variety and flexibility of program and organization which would indicate that here is one of the growing points of the Church.

Supply: The Supply Secretary has spoken with warm gratitude of the response from the mothers to her appeals for new clothing and bedding for Overseas Relief and Home Missions. The work has in turn proved a means of interesting mothers in missionary work and the Woman's Missionary Society, and it has knitted them in a fellowship.

Literature: The year has seen two important pieces of literature added to the Baby Band chest of tools. Jointly with the Board of Christian Education, our Society has sponsored the publishing of Mrs. Marguerite Brown's It Takes Time to Grow. Those who had used her Towards a Friendly World awaited it, eagerly, and the new book has already had an enthusiastic reception from those who are interested in Christian upbringing for children.

The second piece of literature is The Story of Paul, a leaflet about a little Indian boy in one of our hospitals. It is planned to produce more such stories for use in visiting in the homes.

The year has seen an increasing and enthusiastic use of Peter Shares With His Friends, the story of our Special Objects and Gift Box children. A new and attractive graduation diploma for those who are entering Mission Band has been prepared.

Periodicals: World Friends has again been a very popular and useful help for Baby Band workers and children. Many secretaries speak with gratitude of material they have found in The Missionary Monthly.

Relations with Nursery Department: The relation of the Baby Band and the Nursery Department, as both are concerned with the pre-school child, must continue to be of importance. In some places the relationship has been most happy: Baby Band Superintendents have assisted at some sessions of the Nursery or Kindergarten classes with a missionary story or picture; World Friends may be distributed in the Sunday School class; the Baby Band visitor may invite new families to the Sunday School; she may use the "New Arrival Kit" (provided by the Board of Christian Education) as she makes her call.

Special Objects and Gift Boxes: The Baby Band Gift Boxes have brought in over $19,000 for child welfare in Korea, the Babies' Home at Neemuch in India, the Day Nursery and Creche in Tokyo, Japan, hospitals for Canadian Indians, village schools in Angola, Africa, and the Iere Home for Girls in Trinidad. In our own homes in Canada, they have been used as a means by which our children learn to think of the children of other lands, and to share with them.

The Missionary Church: This year we have been thinking of the Missionary Church, and the Christian Mission. In these things, as it promotes missionary education in the home, the Baby Band has a share.

How disappointing it is to see that in 1953 a couple of decreases were allowed to slip back into our picture! Now who is responsible for this? Is it YOU?

This fact should be remembered. As long as there are Auxiliary Secretaries who fail to send in a Report to their Presbyterial Secretaries and, also, Auxiliary Secretaries who fail to keep accurate records, the increases reported by enthusiastic Secretaries may be wiped out by the decreases caused by the indifferent Secretaries. Are we satisfied to allow this state of affairs to continue in our department? NO? Then let us all do something about it in 1954.

On the other hand, reports have been received that bear testimony to the fact that very excellent work is being done throughout all the organizations, in the Department of Associate Members. We are indeed grateful for the continued interest and the persistent effort of the majority of our Secretaries in Conference Branch, Presbyterial and Auxiliary. It is the evidence of their good stewardship that keeps alive the hope for better and better results in the future.

Contributions: Here again we have to report that the total contribution of Associate Members, as recorded in the statistical report, does not include all the givings of Associate Members. And the reason for this discrepancy is, that still there are Auxiliary Associate Members' Secretaries who have not discovered how these givings should be properly recorded. Apparently, some Auxiliary Secretaries and also some Auxiliary Treasurers are not aware of the fact that there are Auxiliary Mite Boxes in use and there are Associate Members' Mite Boxes in use and the two should be kept separate in recording the givings.

The total amount of money received from our Associate Members is definite proof of their concern for the work of the Society. For such co-operation we all are sincerely appreciative and deeply grateful. The need for help in both our home and overseas fields is still urgent.

Visiting: The term "visiting" in our department means visits made by the Auxiliary Associate Members' Secretary to Associate Members or prospective Associate Members. It does not mean Community Friendship calling.

The visiting done by our Secretaries should have a definite purpose, viz., to keep the Associate Members in touch with the work of the local Auxiliary and also to keep them informed of what is being done by the Society as a whole. Shut-ins do not enjoy a feeling of being shut out. They readily respond to evidences of cordial friendliness combined with gestures of genuine interest. And the Auxiliary is enriched by their reciprocal response.

Activities: Many of our Associate Members continue to ply their needles, and garments and knitted goods by the bundle come from them to our Supply Department. In one Presbyterial some Associate Members helped with the packing of the bales.

Auxiliaries are keeping in touch with their Associate Members by inviting them to special Supper Meetings, or to a Special Tea for Associate Members; or to Sectional Rallies. Associate Members have also been invited to take part in the World Day of Prayer service and in special Auxiliary meetings, such as are held at Christmas, and Easter, and in the Fall.

The worthwhileness to any Auxiliary and its President of being supported at the time of the regular meeting by the prayers of its Associate Members is beyond computing.

Literature: We are happy to learn that the second edition of the "Newsletter for Associate Members" has again been well received and apparently much appreciated.

Our report shows a decrease in the number of Associate Members subscribing to The Missionary Monthly. However, if all the Auxiliary Secretaries had sent in their reports on time, the figures in this column would probably have meant an increase.

Nevertheless, we are assured that our Associate Members are reading and that they do count on the Auxiliary Secretary to keep them informed of new literature, especially in the form of leaflets and pamphlets dealing with the various phases of our work.

We recommend that copies of The Missionary Monthly, of World Friends and of free leaflets be part of the equipment of every Auxiliary Secretary, when she visits her Associate Members. She should also know the books in the Auxiliary library that she can recommend as interesting reading. It is thus that the flame of missionary enthusiasm may be kept aglow in the hearts of her shut-ins.

(MRS. R. J. D.) LAURA E. SIMPSON, Secretary.

SUPPLY

Reading over and digesting the reports of all Conference Branch Secretaries, which arrived in such good time, has given me much opportunity to visit with you all both in Auxiliaries and Younger Groups through your very fine services rendered in the Supply Department. It is only through these reports that we can estimate the hours of labor which for you are labors of love. It is a privilege to share with folk both in Canada and across the seas wherever our supplies are sent.

Our Home Mission Department: During 1953, 1,379 bales of good used clothing, 1,639 quilts and blankets, crib quilts, sheets, pillowcases, towels, 552 complete layettes with an unstated number of baby things not made up into layettes, all kinds of knitted goods, children's new pyjamas and underwear, etc., have gone forth from hamlet and city to those in need. Our Port Workers were not forgotten for they received a goodly share of clothing, knitted goods, towel kits, toys, etc. which they, in turn, had the pleasure of presenting, in the name of our Society, to the newcomers to our shores. Within the local Presbyterials much has been done wherever a need has arisen and there have been many. Our missions within the cities, sanatoria across the country, old folks' homes, indigent patients in hospitals, families whose homes have been burned, new Canadians and many workers in our downtown areas have been assisted with clothing and bedding. Our hospitals have been supplied with linens, etc., wherever a special need has arisen. Every request has been filled.

Christmas Gifts: Every group has lovingly and willingly given gifts totalling over 4,000. No child was forgotten if the need was presented. Many of these gifts were not allocated but specially requested nearing Christmas and had we not had such generous givers, the children would have been completely without a gift for Christmas and that would have been tragic. The older folks were not forgotten either. Many knitted afghans and bedjackets, gloves, scarves, etc., found their way to someone whose friends, perhaps, are few. A great total of gifts has been recorded, but I am sure there were many, many more which did not find their way into the report forms.

Vacation School Packets for our students on the mission field under the Home Mission Board, as well as to our own W.M.S. workers, totalled 142. Of these, 136 were acknowledged and much appreciated. Only those working with children know the value of these supplies.

Home Mission Projects for Younger Groups: Many of our Younger Groups contacted their Conference Branch Supply Secretaries regarding these needs and we do hope all the requests have been filled. The supplies contributed through these projects are another contribution to the life and work of our Church. These are supplied mostly by our Younger Groups of whom we are infinitely proud.

Supplies for Angola: Through the generosity of our members 10 large bales, weighing approximately 1,473 pounds, were sent to Angola as part of our returning missionaries' luggage. In these bales were bedspreads, sheets, draw sheets, crib sheets, pillowcases, towels, patients' gowns, crib quilts, baby jackets and bonnets, wash cloths and diapers. This was a task well worth the effort put forth.

Overseas Relief: The need for Overseas Relief is still with us, in fact, very much with us. In our Vancouver and Toronto depots a wonderful work has been accomplished in sorting over, packing and baling much needed clothing and bedding for those in need. 1,532 organizations took part in this marvellous undertaking. 2,025 group and personal parcels were sent to our workers in destitute countries. The largest share of personal parcels went to our missionaries in Korea to be given out at their discretion to the needy.

The reports show a greater interest than ever in our work. May God ever grant us the vision to see and fill every need that can be met by this department. That will be our share in helping to fulfill the Christian Mission of the Church.

(MRS. A. M.) JOSEPHINE REID, Secretary.

COMMUNITY FRIENDSHIP

It is difficult to make an appraisal of work accomplished in terms of "friendship." However as one of our Conference Branch Secretaries phrased it—"There seems to be an increasing awareness of the importance of the Community Friendship department. There is a sincere endeavor to make the Church a center of friendship and fellowship and to have the friendliness reach out to the entire Church community. One sees manifest, too, greater efforts to explore the possibilities of the local community and to undertake certain specific projects. There is also a decided improvement in enlisting members of the Churches to participate and to co-operate with other organizations in community endeavors."

What this secretary found in her Conference Branch reports, is reflected throughout the Dominion. The work is gaining momentum.

REPORTING

About our Organizations: (a) Report forms have been more widely used but much improvement is still needed. Too many Auxiliaries fail to report at all. Presbyterian Secretaries have been for the most part prompt and informative. (b) More Community Friendship Secretaries have been appointed. Smaller communities are realizing that Community Friendship is pertinent there, too. (c) Removal slips where faithfully used are found to be most effective as in one Presbyterian where their use was "pointed up" this year. They still are our weakest organizational link. (d) Many report using a Community Friendship committee to give a wider and finer service than the secretary could ever accomplish alone.

Newcomers

About Our Work:1. Our moving population.

(a) Housing surveys have been carried out in many areas. Frequently the results have been overflowing Sunday Schools and new churches in the process of being established. (b) Many Auxiliaries are using intelligent and orderly methods for the visitation of new members to their churches and non-members in the community and for their inclusion in Church activities.

2. Immigrants.

All report a special welcome given to folk from other lands. Services to these have been literally multitudinous and of a most amazing variety. Our secretaries are seriously undertaking "nation-building."

3. Students.

Again this year students have been the recipients of much home hospitality as well as being feted at many Church functions. Overseas students have received a special welcome with many added services they have needed.

The Sick

Regular visiting of long-term patients in hospitals, sanatoria and nursing homes is becoming the general rule rather than the exception. In a number of cities across the Dominion under the inspiration and guidance of our missionary hospital visitors and with the co-operation of Community Friendship Secretaries, members of Auxiliaries have been organized into teams who regularly visit and serve patients in hospitals. They are briefed on hospital techniques and the approach to the sick, hence their services are welcomed both by the hospital authorities and by the patients themselves. It is hoped that this movement will assume epidemic proportions throughout our constituencies in the immediate future.

The Aged

There has been great impetus shown in work for aged persons in all our Conference Branches. In keeping with the general trend across the world to a more intelligent approach to the problems of an aging population Community Friendship Secretaries have given creative and constructive leadership in this field. Older folk everywhere have been given "a personal friendship" which is one of their basic needs.

Many specialized pieces of work have also been reported but space limits the account of them.

The thinking of one of our secretaries might quite adequately sum up the year's endeavors—"The long view of what could be done may still be too vaguely seen but all in all there is a growing interest, an increasing sense of responsibility and more and better work in our department of God's vineyard."

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

"Christians, above all others, ought to be concerned about the total social conditions that affect life." This sentence from the Citizenship Guide is verified in reports of program and action across the country. The Conference Branches show that more Church women "are alert to the need for more consecrated effort," that the citizenship challenge "is being taken to heart personally," and that in our Auxiliaries "there is a growing consciousness of the possibility of witnessing as Christians in our social life." Reports indicate increased concern and activity, and more fundamental program-planning. Elsewhere they confirm the analysis made by one secretary—of work being at "low ebb" where Auxiliaries have not appointed a Citizenship Secretary and have used neither leaflet nor packet, as if they were trying "to sail a ship with skeleton crew" and no supplies. One Conference Branch reported 210 Auxiliaries with 343 programs using Citizenship topics; many reports indicated whole meetings or a few minutes often during the year stressing various aspects; in one area $\frac{3}{4}$ of the Auxiliaries appointed secretaries, but, 100 per cent. manned, our Auxiliaries would increase their effective witness.

Literature: It would be helpful if the considerable resource material used could be listed. Secretaries have tried to distribute the leaflet, and to encourage use of the Christian Citizenship packet. The experience of a western Conference Branch where it proved both "worthwhile" and "baffling" was duplicated elsewhere. However, its use was highly recommended, coupled with suggestions for more detailed interpretation, and provision by Auxiliaries for resource material in the form of books, pamphlets, clippings, etc., to help the secretary.

The Four-Fold Emphasis: Across the Dominion effort was made to cover some aspects of each "plank." Some secretaries mention sending out specific suggestions in their letters; one asked for discussion of liquor advertising during the summer, and of gambling during last winter. Space does not permit listing all the topics considered or all the activity reported. The following summary is more suggestive than comprehensive.

Temperance loomed large in all Branches, with varied programs for stimulating education and directing action—skits, discussions, clippings on boards, visual aids, talks, books for libraries, contests, pledges, Sunday and Public School leadership, counselling youth. In some areas the emphasis was "making the Church's stand our own"; in others co-operation with temperance organizations to build a community approach to the problem of alcohol. In one Branch 130 Auxiliaries (60 in 1952) devoted a whole meeting; an eastern Branch was not alone in outlining political action reinforced on the day of the plebiscite "by a continuous prayer chain"; one Branch stressed keeping temperance before members "all along the line"; concern for youth in one report balanced commendation in another; all indicated "renewed interest."

Social Welfare overlapped Community Friendship and Supply. Perhaps it is inevitable that concern for social needs should lead to activity ameliorating life for others by aid to tornado victims or Labrador villages here or war victims in Korea or Europe. Many feel this is a practical form of social welfare. Increased study of what social agencies and community organizations are doing brought speakers from these organizations and political action such as petition for removal of means test for the blind. Other issues faced included our surplus food in a hungry world, inadequate housing, and growing unemployment.

Racial Brotherhood: Apart from more general study of ethnic tensions and the responsibility of the "haves" for the "have nots" which would lead to United Nations action or promote world peace, one topic seemed uppermost across the country—New Canadians of European, African or Oriental origin. They were invited to share their talents in music and other forms of culture with Auxiliaries, they were befriended when lonely or in trouble, taught English by W.M.S. members, and assisted in adjusting to Canadian ways. Much more needs to be done in overcoming prejudice, but an interesting pattern of two-way integration is being woven. An awareness of points of conflict seems emerging.

World Peace: All Branches sought more insight into world problems. In one 68 Auxiliaries used the skit "United Nations and Christian Missions"; other Branches used this or other plays with a world brotherhood theme; many had speakers or panel discussions. Speeches and Prayer; membership in the U.N. Association, study of The Christian and Peace; promotion of public meeting with a U.N. theme; the fellowship of the World Day of Prayer; extension of concern through reading; assisting youth to become world-minded; these suggest the scope of reported activity.

The pattern of the five 1953 reports indicates deep concern and conscientious leadership; the challenge for 1954, intercession, study and work, comes in the question culled by a secretary from the writings of Pringle of the Yukon: "What is the use of Christian people with the right hand of their generosity supporting missions to save men while, with the left hand of their citizenship they uphold evils which ruin more men in a year than the Church can save in a generation?"

(MRS. ERNEST E.) DOROTHY E. LONG, Secretary.

SECRETARY FOR YOUNGER GROUPS

The fact that there are more Canadians under the age of twenty-five than ever before in our history challenges us to greater effort on behalf of the Younger Groups of the Woman's Missionary Society. The membership of the five Younger Groups is growing, but it should be a matter of concern to every Auxiliary member that there are fewer members in Younger Groups in proportion to the population figures for the age groups than there were a year ago.

It is becoming more and more evident that the Church needs trained leaders for groups like these. Every congregation has potential leaders. To help them become the trained leaders that are required, or to help those who are already leaders to become better trained, is the responsibility of individual members of the Society. We can, for instance, assist leaders to obtain the literature that has been especially prepared to help them in their task; urge them to read The Missionary Monthly, and to attend rallies and conferences for leaders, and Schools for Leaders.

With the widely differing needs and interests of the five Younger Groups, it becomes increasingly desirable that Teams of resource personnel be available for rallies, conferences and Schools for Leaders. It is not possible for one resource person to give adequate help to leaders of different age groups in the same conference. Leaders of C.G.I.T. Groups, for example, have very different problems from leaders of Baby Bands or Mission Bands. Leaders of each one of the Younger Groups should have opportunities to meet with others who share their concerns, so that they may discuss and share ideas and techniques.

Baby Bands, Mission Bands and Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups continue to be strong and to increase in numbers. Affiliated Explorer Groups and Mission Circles deserve an extra word of comment. Since the Explorer program was revised in 1952, the number of groups has greatly increased, and enthusiasm for work with Junior girls (9-11 years) has grown by leaps and bounds. We hope members of the Society will encourage the organization of Explorer Groups by the Sunday School in every congregation, where there are Junior girls, and that they will see that every group is invited to affiliate with the Woman's Missionary Society.

Mission Circles require a special comment for a very different reason. The number of Mission Circles is not growing and it appears that the average Auxiliary member is doing very little to alter the situation. While we realize that there will probably not ever be a Mission Circle in every congregation, we are convinced that there are congregations where Mission Circles could be organized if someone would take the initiative. It is true that in many congregations Missionary Education for young women is provided in the Young People's Union. Yet this is not always true and even where it is the case, often young women are interested in having a group of their own, meeting as the Circle does only once a month. Such a group can often provide a nucleus of leadership in Missionary Education for both Y.P.U. and Sunday School.

In the Church there is an increasing emphasis on Missionary Education, in the Sunday School and in the mid-week programs. It is taken for granted that Missionary Education is a necessary part of Christian Education. This indicates the need for still more co-operation between the members of the Woman's Missionary Society and the persons responsible for Christian Education in each congregation. It is good to hear reports that show how those who are concerned about the youth of the Church, are working together. New ways of co-operation will open when we see the task in its entirety, and realize that Christian Education by its very nature includes Missionary Education.

As a Society we share in the Church's summer program, by enabling scholarship students and missionaries on furlough to attend camps and conferences. Scholarship students and missionaries also attend some Schools for Leaders. In 1953 in every province except one, a representative of the Church overseas made such a contribution to this summer program as to bring glowing reports from leaders and campers, and earnest requests for such guests next year. Being convinced of the value of this kind of Missionary Education, it is our hope that it may be not only continued but expanded in the future.

"To provide Missionary Education for children, teen-age girls and young women" is one of the most far-reaching of our aims and objectives. As 1953 showed gains over previous years, may 1954 be a year of still greater advance.

REPORT COVERING FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1953

Revenue

For the year 1953 the revenue shows an increase, the total amount of $1,161,222.41 being an increase of $17,431.71 over 1952. In the comparative analysis given below, the returns from the Conference Branches include the amount voted by the Presbyterials for "Gifts for Building Advance":

	1952	1953	Result
Conference Branches	$1,074,514.89	$1,113,077.00	Increase $38,562.11
Donations	33,294.61	14,826.23	Decrease 18,468.38
Interest on Investments in General Fund	33,299.05	32,772.91	Decrease 526.04
Sundry Revenue	2,682.15	546.27	Decrease 2,135.88
	$1,143,790.70	$1,161,222.41	Net Inc. $17,431.71
Transferred to Property Account for G.B.A. Projects	53,000.00	56,000.00
	$1,090,790.70	$1,105,222.41

Of the four sources of revenue, an increase is shown only in the Conference Branch returns. There was a marked decrease in Donations. These are gifts which come directly to us from individual donors. The increase in Transmissions, we believe, had direct bearing on the large decrease in Donations. Decrease in Interest on General Fund Investments is attributed to lowering of interest rates.

The allocations to the Conference Branches for 1953 totalled $1,000,000.00. Each Branch showed an increase over 1952 and each exceeded its allocation.

Branch	1952	1953	Result
Alberta	$46,400.00	$49,600.00	Increase $3,200.00

	$1,074,514.89	$1,113,077.00	Increase $38,562.11

Gifts for Building Advance were continued in 1953, the total objective being $65,000.00. The projects were Dormitory, St. Augustine High School, Trinidad; Classrooms, Azabu Primary School, Tokyo, Japan; Cars for Canada; Scholarships for Home and Overseas Students.

Each Presbyterial which exceeded its allocation was privileged to vote the excess amount to one or two of the projects. When any project was over-subscribed the surplus was to be applied to any undersubscribed. Should the total of $65,000.00 be reached any additional amount was to be used for general maintenance.

The total amount raised in excess of Presbyterian allocations and voted to the 1953 projects was $113,621.13. This means each project will be completed and $48,621.13 will be used for maintenance.

The following summary shows the amounts subscribed by each Conference Branch:

As three of the Gifts for Building Advance projects for 1953 were items which are met from Property Account, it will be seen in the statement of revenue that $56,000.00 was transferred to Property Account for this purpose.

Some of the Conference Branches will note that the amount credited to them under certain projects are not as reported by them. Adjustments were necessary in order to take care of the undersubscribed projects.

The Total Estimates for 1953 were set at $1,100,000.00, an increase of $100,000.00 over 1952, and this increase is reflected in the expenditure for the year.

The expenditures of the Overseas Missions Department of $513,262.48 are an increase of $26,089.74 over the previous year, but are $1,737.52 less than the Estimate of $515,000.00 for the year.

The expenditures of the Home Missions Department show a decrease of $5,644.47, which is largely accounted for by the fact that the amount budgeted for medical work was not wholly required due to the increase in Government Grants; also, certain Estimates were not used because of lack of personnel.

The Bonus to Retired Missionaries not eligible to receive the Government Old Age Pension was increased from $200.00 in 1952 to $300.00 in 1953, which accounts for the increase of $2,495.06 in 1953.

A substantial increase appears in the amount expended for Scholarships. Included in the 1953 Estimates was $1,500.00 for bursaries for students studying in Korea, which did not appear in the 1952 Estimates. However, the increase is chiefly due to the fact that we were fortunate in having more Scholarship students from abroad studying in Canada, in line with our policy of training students from our Overseas fields in order that each may return to her native land and become a leader in her particular field of endeavour. Included in the expenditure of $29,271.82 for Scholarships is $7,192.09 raised through Gifts for Building Advance.

General Fund

As has been mentioned in previous reports, the action of Dominion Board in 1947 was that the amount in the General Fund at the beginning of each year is to be the amount of the Estimates for the ensuing year, any difference between the revenue and Estimates to be drawn from the Current Reserve Account.

At December 31st, 1953, the balance in General Fund is shown as $1,218,430.63, which represents the amount of the Estimates for 1954 of $1,200,000.00, plus regrants authorized by the Executive Committee, totalling $18,430.63.

As the excess of revenue over expenditure in 1953 was comparatively small, it was necessary to draw on the Current Reserve Account for $57,762.36 to meet the Estimates for 1954.

The Balance Sheet shows that the total assets in the General Fund amount to $1,813,967.27, but in this total and not available for regular maintenance expenditure are the following:

Property Account—General and Designated.....	$205,246.32
Scholarship Account.....	15,807.91
Specific Trust Funds.....	132,528.97
Interest payable on Specific Trust Funds.....	4,328.80
Transmissions.....	5,328.12
Special Trust Funds (for future remission).....	587.94
	$364,028.06

Taking this amount into consideration, together with the amount of $1,218,430.63 for 1954 Estimates and Regrants, leaves a balance in Current Reserve Account at December 31st, 1953, of $231,508.58.

Request Permanent Reserve Fund

Sixty-six bequests, totalling $42,314.47, were received in 1953 for credit to the Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund. As the Fund had reached in 1951 the maximum of $600,000.00 set by Dominion Board in 1947, after which time the bequests received each year were to be made available to the Property Account, the total amount of $42,314.47 was transferred to Property Account.

Rest Fund

At December 31st, 1953, the capital of this Fund was $286,590.50.

Retirement Fund — Capital

This Fund was established and is being built up to provide the revenue for the payment of annuities to our retired missionaries. It receives the annual assessments paid by active missionaries, a grant from the General Fund, and the residuum of some Guaranteed Annuity Gifts. At December 31st, 1953, the capital of the Fund was $1,097,386.94.

Retirement Fund — Annuity

This Fund receives the interest from the invested funds of the Retirement Fund—Capital, and annuities are paid from it to retired missionaries. The capital of this Fund at December 31st, 1953, was $465,527.00.

Guaranteed Annuities Fund

There were twenty gifts totalling $20,550.00 received in 1953 under the Guaranteed Annuity Plan, which was a decrease of $31,161.00 in comparison with the previous year. Fifteen gifts matured and the residuum of $9,419.22 was transferred as follows:

General Fund—Donations.....	$3,349.66

Re Investments

The total book value of all investment holdings of the Society as at December 31st, 1953, was $3,876,795.83, divided among the various funds as follows:

Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund.....	$597,716.80
General Fund.....	1,085,156.43
Guaranteed Annuities Fund.....	306,722.37
Res. Fund.....	265,705.00
Retirement Fund—Capital.....	1,068,433.75
Retirement Fund—Annuity.....	428,450.20
Specific Trust Funds.....	124,611.28

The gross income from all securities held amounted to $121,106.60.

All securities were evaluated as at December 31st, 1953, and, as in the previous year, the market value was less than the book value. During the year the bond market continued weak and new issues carried higher interest rates. Because of this, securities purchased when interest rates were low are now below par, but of course will be redeemed at par at maturity.

The usual examination was made by the auditors, and their report certifies that the securities in the Safety Deposit Boxes, were in accord with books of account.

General Remarks

The auditors' report assures the Society that the accounting records have been well maintained and that satisfactory vouchers were produced to substantiate all disbursements made during the year.

The major part of the revenue is the givings from our membership. These gifts are handled by the Treasurer of the local organization and forwarded quarterly to the Presbyterial Treasurer, who in turn forwards to the Conference Branch Treasurer and from there to Dominion Board. To each Treasurer who has assumed the responsibility of caring for the funds we express our gratitude and sincere appreciation of this service given so cheerfully and faithfully.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS. J. R.) ABELAIDE SEAMAN, Treasurer.

Christian Stewardship

As I report the accomplishments of 1953, I wish we could all in imagination see not only dollars but women from one side of Canada to the other, from small rural groups to large city Auxiliaries who have been doing their part to extend God's Kingdom through the use of their time, talents and their possessions. It is with joy we report an excellent year.

As Christian Stewards of Money—The financial returns for the year were beyond anticipation. The allocation of $1,000,000 has not only been raised but exceeded by $113,077.00—each Conference Branch having made a substantial increase. We feel that the steady increase in our financial returns, though helped no doubt by the present prosperity in Canada, is one indication of the growing practice of Stewardship by our members. Many Secretaries reported a steady increase in systematic giving, with fewer money-raising projects. One Secretary reports, "We have advanced in systematic giving, our object is now to advance in proportionate giving."

May 1, on behalf of Dominion Board, express gratitude to the 2,697 Secretaries of Stewardship in the local organizations, as well as those of Presbyterial and Conference Branch who have contributed toward that success. Also we would thank the many Treasurers with whom we work so closely and without whom we could not make this report which follows.

Branch	Result for the Year

* Our estimates for this year 1954 call for $1,200,000. The cost of maintenance, like the cost of living, shows no indication of abating. New work challenges us at home and abroad, but already Secretaries have reported the cheerful acceptance, by our constituency, of the new allocation necessary to meet the estimates.

The Gifts for Building Advance have been well supported. "Our women strive to exceed their allocations that they may have more money, for the projects of our G.B.A." Practically all Branches have referred to greater interest in world needs.

As Christian Stewards of Time and Talents—Our women are giving so generously to the work of our Society in program planning, in hospitality to delegates for Annual Meetings, to the preparation of summarized reports all of which entails time and energy. Through their devoted efforts fellowship is strengthened and inspiration achieved. This past year 1,287 groups reported having regular monthly presentation of Stewardship, 657 quarterly. To those who carefully prepare talks on Stewardship, who assist in Stewardship skits, who go as a speaker to other groups, who use their ingenuity in new methods of presentation, who devise posters to attract and promote when time does not permit a regular talk, we are grateful. Unfortunately there are still many groups who are satisfied with one presentation a year and still the occasional one where "we evidently need to continue to try to educate in the real meaning of Stewardship." I quote, "We never find it necessary to discuss it. At the beginning of the year we draw the attention of the members to the fact we hope the Auxiliary will increase its givings."

One again wishes that space were available to list the many encouraging features enumerated in reports. A few will show the healthy sign in Stewardship indicating an advance from duty to privilege, as in the co-operation between different groups within the Church; one Auxiliary had "Every woman" in the congregation visited; a spirit of sacrifice indicated in regard to service and giving; each member was anxious to give as much as her circumstances would allow; some members are striving to live as true stewards; general feeling of willingness; earnestness and happiness about the work; enthusiasm and devotion to all branches of our missionary program.

Reports vary so that statistics fail to give a full picture of our department. Progress may be measured more frequently by the intangibles which neither figures nor words can express. It was a pleasure to read, "Knowing many of these women I am deeply moved by the spiritual advance that is so evident not only by increased givings but by an increased awareness of overseas needs as well as those at home."

Our department wishes to record its sincere appreciation to Mrs. Seaman and to the staff of the Finance Department who, owing to the sudden passing in early December, of our beloved Assistant Treasurer, Miss Edith McKenzie, have given so sacrificially of their time that the work might go on.

To The Missionary Monthly which has given space to this department throughout the year we also say "thank you."

In the words of another Branch Secretary—"I think our women are doing a magnificent job."

(Mrs. GORDON) ESTELLE H. WATTS, Secretary.

THE REPORT OF THE RETIREMENT FUND FOR 1953

Annuities totalling $34,144.62 from the Retirement Fund and $14,263.54 from the Rest Fund, which is administered by the Retirement Fund, were paid to one hundred and eleven retired Missionaries. Bonus amounting to $10,461.35 was also paid to retired Missionaries in accord with Executive action "that a bonus of $300.00 be granted for 1953 to retired Missionaries who are under seventy years of age and who do not benefit from the Government Old Age Security Plan, and non-resident Missionaries over seventy years who do not come under the Government Old Age Security Plan, the maximum retiral allowance, including bonus, to be $1,000.00, the bonus to be met from General Fund.

"That in the light of the improved financial position of retired Missionaries seventy years of age and over, who benefit from the Government Old Age Security Plan, we do not consider a bonus for them for 1953.

"That since some retired Missionaries are receiving salary for full or part-time work, we do not consider a bonus for them for 1953, if their earnings are $600.00 or more per annum." With reference to this last condition, some exceptions have been made on compassionate grounds.

Six Missionaries retired, while six retired Missionaries passed to their Heavenly Home. Eight newly appointed Missionaries and two former associate workers, given full missionary standing retroactive to date of their appointments, were added to the assessment list. One Missionary resigned to be married.

One hundred and seventy-six Missionaries paid assessments of $5,100.00 to the Retirement Fund. Grants of $15,000.00 to the Retirement Fund for investment to provide Annuities and $7,000.00 to the Rest Fund were made from General Fund. The residuum of nine Guaranteed Annuity Gifts was transferred to the Retirement Fund Capital, totalling $6,069.56.

The standing of the Retirement Fund Capital, Retirement Fund, Annuity and Rest Fund is recorded in the Financial Statement. The Assistant Treasurer receives all assessments and makes all disbursements relating to these Funds.

The Retirement Fund Constitution, which governs all decisions in relation to the assessments and annuities of Missionaries, is in process of revision. The study of the terms and conditions of the Retirement Fund Constitution will be completed by the Retirement Fund Constitution Revisions Committee, after the actuarial report is available. In this work assistance was given by our late Assistant Treasurer, Miss Edith McKenzie.

May I record my thanks to the Treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Seaman, Miss York and Office Staff for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS. WALTER) ALDA UFFELMAN, Secretary.

Art. 1.—Name: This Society shall be called the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada.

Art. 2.—Aim and Object: The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada seeks:

In order to bring the voting power of the Branch delegates to the Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board proportionately nearer to the voting power of the Executive, each Conference Branch shall be given one extra vote in addition to the three now held by Conference Branch delegates, this vote to be cast by the President of the Branch on request and the President's vote to express the opinion of the delegates from her Conference Branch.

Each Overseas Field shall have one voting delegate at the annual meeting of the Dominion Board to be elected by the Mission Council from among the missionaries on furlough from the field who will be in attendance at Dominion Board Meeting; and the Home Field shall have voting delegates equal to the number from the Overseas Fields, these to be elected by ballot by all the home missionaries in active service from among the home missionaries on furlough who will be in attendance at the Dominion Board Meeting.

The Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group

Plan of Affiliation

Approved by the Board of Christian Education and the Woman's Missionary Society:

1. The leaders of each group that has registered with the Girls' Work Secretary of The United Church will receive, in the early autumn, a letter including an announcement of the missionary study for the year. The Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups is prepared to give help with missionary projects and has a supply of material including Affiliation Services and report forms.

2. The Group will plan its missionary project and giving, remembering that the gifts of an Affiliated Group are given to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund through the Sunday School, and to the Woman's Missionary Society through the Presbyterial Secretary of Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups.

3. The best time for the group to decide about Affiliation with the Woman's Missionary Society is during the missionary project or at its close, when their interest in missions is greatest. The groups should renew their decision each year. A service of Affiliation is available for use at such time as will be most effective.

4. When the project is completed the Leader of the Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group will fill out the report form which will be sent to her by the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups. When this account of their project is approved by the group, it is sent to the Presbyterial Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society whose name is on the form. There is no fee for affiliation. No special sum is asked from any group. Their contribution is devoted to what is called a "Special Object for Affiliated Groups." The Woman's Missionary Society sends information about the way in which the money is used to all Affiliated Groups, and to any others who write for it. It would be advisable to secure this information before the missionary project begins, so that it might be used at that time.

5. Each group is expected to carry out a missionary project, in any case, with the assistance of the literature provided, whatever the decision regarding affiliation.

The steps just outlined concern the Group in the local church, where the minister, Sunday School teachers, C.G.I.T. leaders and W.M.S. members should co-operate as fully as possible regarding missionary education. Those responsible for girls' work in Presbytery and Presbyterial, in Conference and Conference Branch, should also co-operate fully in order that the missionary work of the Church under the Boards of the Church may be presented to girls as one enterprise of very great interest and importance.

She shall receive fees and other contributions, keep an accurate account of same, and remit the funds to the Presbyterian Treasurer. She shall promote subscriptions to World Friends and forward same to the Auxiliary Secretary for Missionary Monthly and World Friends or to the Presbyterian Secretary for Missionary Monthly and World Friends. She shall prepare an Annual Report for the Annual Meeting of the Auxiliary, a copy of which, together with the tabulated statement, shall be forwarded to the Presbyterian Secretary of Baby Bands by January 5th.

IV.

The Retirement Fund Constitution

OF

The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada

ART. 1.—NAME.

This Fund shall be called The Retirement Fund of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada.

ART. 2.—OBJECT.

The object of this Fund shall be to provide annuities for its members.

ART. 3.—MEMBERSHIP.

Sec. 1.—The missionaries who are now in the active service of the Woman's Missionary Society, or who shall be regularly employed by it, shall be considered and be members, and shall pay regular assessments as required by this Constitution.

Sec. 2.—The membership of this Fund shall be confined to missionaries of the said Woman's Missionary Society.

ART. 4.—MANAGEMENT.

Sec. 1.—This Fund shall be managed, controlled and administered by the Board of the Society or its Executive Committee as hereinafter expressed.

Sec. 2.—The Board shall, at its regular annual meeting, appoint a Secretary for this Fund.

ART. 5.—SOURCES OF INCOME.

Sec. 1.—The Funds of the Retirement Fund shall be known as the Capital Account and the Annuity Account.

Sec. 2.—The Capital Account shall grow by an annual proportion of the General Fund, assessments, donations and legacies, designated for this Fund.

Sec. 3.—The Annuity Account shall receive all interest from bank balances and invested funds. It shall pay all annuities in half-yearly instalments on January 1st and July 1st, in advance.

Sec. 4.—An annual presentation of the Retirement Fund shall be made in each Auxiliary, Circle and Band, preferably at the time of the Autumn Thank-offering meeting, and an opportunity for donations shall be given.

Sec. 5.—The annual assessment of each missionary shall be thirty dollars, which shall be paid in September each year, as hereinafter provided.

Each missionary is expected to pay Retirement Fund assessments in full to date of retirement or resignation.

Sec. 6.—The Assistant Treasurer shall be authorized and required to pay over to the Retirement Fund from the salary of each missionary the sum of thirty dollars as the annual assessment required from each missionary to the Retirement Fund. September of each year shall be the time for such payment, as fixed by this Constitution.

Sec. 7.—Missionaries who serve in any year for a shorter period than ten months, or who give part-time service only during such year, shall contribute one-half of the annual assessment. Such payments shall be deducted from such missionary's salary and shall be transferred by the Assistant Treasurer to the Retirement Fund. Where it is impossible to deduct the assessment from the missionary's salary, the missionary shall remit to the Assistant Treasurer. Any fraction of a year less than four months shall not be reckoned or taken into account.

ART. 6.—ANNUITIES.

Sec. 1.—The annuities shall be at the rate of twenty dollars for each year of service; no annuity to be granted unless the missionary has completed twelve years of service; all appropriations for less time to be considered benefits, provided for from the general funds of the Society at the discretion of the Board. But where assessments have been made for but half of any year, the annuity for that year shall be on the same basis.

Sec. 2.—All members who after a term of service of twenty years or more may retire from active work on account of failing health shall receive an annuity as provided in this Constitution.

*Sec. 3.—All members who after a term of service of twelve years shall become mentally or physically incapacitated for work, may be retired and receive an annuity as provided in this Constitution. All questions relative to terms of service shall be decided by the Board or its Executive Committee.

*Sec. 4.—No applications for annuity will be considered while a missionary is receiving furlough salary.

Sec. 5.—The provisions regarding part-time service or service for part of any year shall not affect the regulations requiring service for five years or longer. The aggregate time of service must control the right to annuity and commutation payments and their amount.

* All applications for annuity shall be accompanied by a Medical Report.

Sec. 6.—After furlough, application for annuity shall be made in writing to the Board or its Executive through the Secretary of the Retirement Fund.

Sec. 7.—In case of the dismissal of a member of this Fund all claims shall cease at the date of dismissal, and the amount paid the party dismissed shall be at the discretion of the Board.

ART. 7.—COMMUTATIONS.

Sec. 1.—Any missionary who, after five years of service, shall marry, or shall withdraw, or who, after retiring from active service shall be otherwise independently provided for, shall commute with the Board.

Unless application for commutation is made to the Secretary of the Retirement Fund within one year after the resignation of a missionary is accepted, the assessments paid to the date of such resignation shall be considered as a donation to the Retirement Fund.

Sec. 2.—Any missionary who, after retiring from active service shall engage in any remunerative employment may, at the discretion of the Board or its Executive, be required to commute with the Board.

Sec. 3.—No allowance shall be made in the commutation of an annuity under five years of service. Between five and seven years service the allowance in the commutation of an annuity shall be an amount equal to the claimant's personal subscription to the Fund without interest. After seven years of service the allowance in the commutation of an annuity shall be an amount equal to the sum of the claimant's personal subscription to the Fund with three per cent. interest on the same. If the claimant has received one or more payments from the Fund, an amount not less than one-third the sum of such payment shall be deducted from the allowance.

ART. 8.—CHANGE OF CONSTITUTION.

This Constitution may be changed at any annual meeting of the Board by a two-thirds vote of the members present, notice of such proposed change having been given to each Branch and Mission Council before its annual meeting.

N.B.—The maximum amount from Pension and Retirement Fund Annuity shall be $700.00 per annum.

THE FOREWORD

Angola, Portuguese West Africa

The closer relationship between Church and Mission begun last year, has continued to develop through the year. There has been African representation on all the major committees of the joint Mission (American Board and United Church of Canada) and the administration of all work including medical and educational is gradually being worked out on a joint basis with the Church leaders. In February of this year the Joint Church and Mission Council met with approximately equal numbers of Africans and missionaries. All matters relating to the Church and Christian institutions were dealt with by that body. A permanent constitution is being worked out and will be submitted for approval at a later date.

One of the major medical problems has been the rapid increase in tuberculosis in the villages. A Tuberculosis Committee has been set up to study the situation and to direct the activities of the missions and churches in a serious attempt to combat the dread disease. A request for $5,000.00 for T.B. work was received.

Preparations are being made for the celebration of The Diamond Jubilee of the Mission in 1955. An historical drama and special musical programs are being prepared.

Northern Rhodesia

We are happy to report the appointment of Mrs. Essie B. Johnson, A.T.C.M., as our Society's first missionary to this new work. She will arrive in Northern Rhodesia probably in early September. Rev. and Mrs. G. Smith who were appointed last year under the Board of Overseas Missions are already at work there and have written to say how greatly a W.M.S. missionary is needed. We shall await with interest reports from Mrs. Johnson about her work and what further contribution we can make in that very strategic area.

During the past year, we made our first annual contribution of £300 to the budget of the United Missions to the Copperbelt.—R. H. T.

In Angola

FROM MISS MARJORY MILLAR

Missionary, Benguela, Angola

The King's Business

At 5.20 in the morning, before the people had to leave for work in the city, there was a brief prayer service each day during the Week of Prayer, as well as the services each evening.

Our Sunday School teachers are set aside for their important task by a service of dedication, and they meet at the house every Saturday night to prepare the lesson to be taught. There are several classes; one for the married men, which meets by the well which serves Pastor Frederico Mussili's family and ours; the young men and boys meet under the tall thron trees in front of the pastor's house; the women's classes are in the church; the girls gather in our living room and the children are behind the house under the mandioc tree.

On Sunday afternoons the women's group goes to hold evangelistic services each week in a different sanjala or section of the city where many Africans live. There are ten or more widely scattered centres where we frequently go. The sanjalas are teeming with people and Sunday is a day for sport and also for quarrelling and drinking, even for murder at night. On Sunday it is like Vanity Fair. At one outdoor meeting when Justina, Pastor Frederico's wife, was telling of the courage of Stephen in witnessing for Christ, a drunken African chief appeared and angrily protested that permission had not been asked of him to hold this meeting. The more vehement he became the more people gathered, curious to know what the disturbance was about, and so our audience was increased, and as often happens, what was intended to break up the meeting only gave Christ's messengers a wider opportunity.

Easter was observed by a sunrise prayer service on a hill and a young people's pageant at night. At the morning service twenty-three joined the Church. This year our first deaconess was chosen and dedicated at Pentecost. She was a former pupil at Means School when I was there.

A group of girls following the "Fire and Life" program worked out by Margaret Dawson and similar to Canadian Girls In Training, was begun this year in Benguela and meets every other Saturday afternoon. We were happy to welcome back for his summer holidays, Jose, Pastor Jesse Chipenda's son, who is studying at the Theological Seminary in Lisbon, Portugal. He reorganized "Juventude", our Young People's group, and it has been very active ever since under the leadership of his brother Daniel, a student at the High School here. An interesting event was a visit from some 40 of the Lobito Young People's group, when a joint program was presented. The visitors spent the night here, the 17 girls sleeping at my house, 8 in the guest room, and 9 in the living room.

In July quite a large delegation from the coast churches attended the Conference on Christian Education held in Dondi. I was asked to lead the Commission on Christian Education in the Schools. In August we observed Christian Family Life Sunday when married couples sat together instead of man and wife on different sides of the aisle. One of our laymen gave a stirring message appropriate to the theme.

At last we have seen the splendid film, "The King's Man", with Pastor Frederico himself present to give an explanatory word to introduce his life story. "The King's Man" continues to be busy about the King's business, and "the King's business requireth haste".

Miracles of Healing

"Lo, I am with you always". How true and how many times it has been proven true during the past twelve months. He has been with us in so many ways. So often we would have given up but for His help—that help that justified the faith in the hearts of those who came expecting us to cure them or their loved ones. We have seen the lepers healed and those who were as dead are yet alive.

We have seen a Luimbi chief hear the good news in his own language for the first time and have watched his fear and amazement change to comprehension and understanding. We have seen a young Luchazi lad fall on his knees as he heard the Gospel preached in his own language. We have seen the 19-year old Ovimbundu lad whose father died in our leper camp some years ago, come forward and ask to be sent to teach, preach to and heal lepers. Malheiro Cangende is now treating over fifty men, women and children afflicted with leprosy in a corner of the vineyard where Satan and all his helpers have held sway for many long years. Pray for Malheiro and his young wife as they uphold the Cross in their needy district.

We have seen the joy of midwives as they tell of mothers and babies they have been privileged to help throughout the past year. We have seen the little three pound premature orphan blossom forth till at two months Elavoko weighs $5\frac{1}{2}$ pounds and is the pride and joy of Nurse Helen's heart. She has loved and cared for him night and day in addition to her other work for the past two months.

We have seen the dedication of our new ward building to the glory of God and for the healing of His sons and daughters. Dedicated a week ago, already women and little children have much reason to be thankful for this gift from their brothers and sisters in Christ. We have seen the happy group of medical dispensers, midwives, and leper injectors helping to rededicate the re-roofed Church school and dispensary buildings at the leper camp.

We have seen most of the 500 lepers who are receiving treatment for their crippling disease in the villages. We share with them their joy and gladness at finding help and healing in His name. Last Sunday we saw two young men lepers come forward and take their stand as followers of the Lord. A year ago on their way to being crippled lepers, now nearly cured of their disease and believers in the Good News—transformed in body and soul.

We have seen the transformation that the good news can make in lives bowed down with fear, witchcraft and disease, transformed into new creatures in Christ, so that they in turn feel the inward compulsion to go out to preach and heal in His name.

FROM MISS ELIZABETH UTTING

Missionary, Camundongo, Angola

The Newest School

It was almost like a United Nations School to hear them counting in four different languages, when I was present at the opening of our newest Central School in the Tembo area. One could call this new school an air-conditioned one, for while it had a substantial grass roof, the four side walls were merely sticks standing waiting to be plastered with mud. It was May and warm, but I fear that in the cold months of June and July and the wet months of November and December the children sitting on the logs on the mud floor will be uncomfortable and will find it hard to concentrate on school work. But at the time of the opening the enthusiasm of teacher and pupils was quite evident, even when they had to translate everything into four languages.

For this school is on the borders of several different tribes, and in the school are children from the Luimbi, Chokue, and Ovimbundu tribes and they all learn their lessons in the Portuguese language! The teacher is from the Luimbi tribe and speaks the other languages. While in Tembo I went on several bush-car trips visiting other villages from which the children come to this Central School. Bringing food with them, the children stay at Central School all week then go home at the week-end to get a fresh supply of food and clothing. Some have at least a day's walk on foot carrying blankets and food baskets on their heads.

Nakamia is known to many through the moving picture of the same name. Her foster mother, Emi Hama, has continued the excellent work with the girls in the Vocational Schools which she began with Frances Walbridge. This year while Frances has been on furlough Emi has carried on very well taking full responsibility. She visited each of the three dry season schools, then directed the wet season school here on the Mission. Besides Nakamia, she has mothered Avalina, the Vocational School orphan, on whom the girls practise their lessons on child care. Recently Emi has taken Lussati, another motherless baby who had been brought to the Mission. On top of all this Emi has been studying for 3a class government examinations and we are all so glad that she has passed.

Camp and Conference

The highlight of girls' work is the annual camp, and the highlight of this year's camp was the visit paid them by Maria Chela, telling of her experiences in Canada and Portugal. The camp also gave the girls the opportunity to participate in a cooperative effort in the building of the new church at Gandavilla Centre. Each day of camp the girls spent some time carrying adobe bricks for the walls and long grass to be used in thatching the roof.

Attending a conference on Christian Education in Dondi in July inspired us try out some of our ideas in Sunday School work. In September Margaret Dawson and I spent two weeks in the village of Chikala using some Sunday School lessons we had written and conducting a Daily Vacation Bible School. From this experience we gained some ideas of how to prepare Sunday School teachers to carry on such a school in their own villages.

FROM MISS MILLICENT HOWSE

Good Teachers and Students

Our school has been fortunate beyond our dreams in the securing of Sra. Dona Helena Pinheiro Rodrigues as our Portuguese teacher. From the moment that she arrived in Chissamba she has shown herself adaptable, untiring, dedicated. Her extreme popularity in the school in particular and with the African Church in general, has stemmed from a most pleasing personality, and an ability to make herself genuinely one with any group. We must place on record, too, our appreciation of the work of our head teacher, Mr. Sabino Luitele. An enrolment of over 1,700 officially registered pupils in station and village schools which has entailed mountains of documentation work—the handling of the equivalent of $2,500 in station school fees, all of which he has supervised—in addition to his work as teacher of the 4a class—have tested his abilities to the utmost and he has measured up.

Our results in the government examinations of 3rd and 4th years have been the best we ever had. In all 111 students from these classes passed and some of them received special commendation from the examining Board. The sad note in the picture is that our students are giving major emphasis to the academic work and are tending to neglect the Bible part of the curriculum just because it is not a part of the government program. In connection with the school work I have thoroughly enjoyed two study periods with the teachers—one on Monday afternoons when we read together portions from Revelations, and one on Friday nights when were read from Pilgrim's Progress.

We have 59 little groups of Umbundu children who have been having instruction and to which we give the name "schools"—village schools—although they are far removed from any standards of Pedagogy or Teacher Training. However it is from these that our leaders of 1970 and 1980 will have to come so that we cannot belittle them. The need for better trained teachers is so tremendous that all other needs fade into insignificance—almost! This year I found it possible to visit about 80 villages, meeting the people in their own homes and churches.

In August the Scripture Revision Committee sat for two weeks and work was done to complete the revision of Isaiah and to begin on Jeremiah. This type of work is one of the most satisfactory one can have. Working to put God's words into Umbundu words in such a way that the "wayfaring man though fool" may understand when he reads, calls out all that one has. The day when Ovimbundu will have the whole Bible in their own tongue is drawing a little nearer.

One of the really happy events of the year was the Christian Education Conference held in Dondi in July. Perhaps the main finding of the Women's work group was that our greatest need is for more emphasis on personal and individual contact and fellowship. Nothing can take the place of personal visitation and personal Christian friendship.

"In This Changing Order"

Last year with the death of Miss Read the African Church was glad that another "red-head" (Margaret Dawson herself) seemed to be available to inherit the place of Miss Read, but the inheritance is too great for one person. It somehow must be divided among Miss Read's African children and grandchildren who now have the necessary training and ability to carry on.

The African Girls In Training program had been started about fifteen years ago and I have rejoiced to see it grow from a few dry season camps directed by missionaries to that of bi-monthly group work led by African leaders, to camps in many pastorates led by African Girls' Work Secretaries. The old order has changed. After fifteen years of planning by missionaries, the adapting of Canadian programs to the needs of the African girl, it is time to accept the change with the hope that this work will become more purely African, with African women of many years' experience giving leadership.

In line with the thought of the old order changing two events have recently taken place, involving an Inter-Mission Conference and the Preparation of the Camp program. The Conference was comprised of a small group of leaders from Bailundo, Camundongo and Chissamba who met in October for a few days of retrospect and for the making of future plans. It was the expressed hope of the group that more interest would be given to the African Girls In Training in our residences for girls, whether on the Mission stations, in our centres or in our Household Economics Schools. At this Conference a committee for the planning of the camp program was appointed. The Committee named consisted of two African leaders from Camundongo and two from Chissamba. This program in the past has been the work of the missionaries. This year the missionaries were on hand to guide and help, but the African women made the final decisions about lessons, songs, games, etc.

Sunday School Lessons

With a few mimeographed lessons for small children I began visiting villages near the Mission, preaching the importance of the training and teaching of children while they were still very young. What was my astonishment to have 100 volunteer Sunday school teachers within the short period of three weeks! Those who have the lessons continue to be enthusiastic, but there are no more lessons. And so to meet the need the most of December and January was given over to writing

Sunday School lessons for small children, beginning with the Old Testament and then the Life of Jesus with the hope that at the end of these two series a child might be ready to accept Christ as his Saviour and Lord. With this in mind Elizabeth Utting and I hope to have ready to present at Annual Meeting enough Old Testament lessons to meet the needs for one year's work.

It is very difficult to know how one can best use one's talents and experience in this changing order. But we must go on with the struggle wherein the missionary must decrease that his African brother might increase and taken on more and more responsibility—building the African Church for the African.

Sharing Christmas

I must tell you what made my Christmas such a happy one. We have a leper camp with 85 patients, nearly all of whom are able to work to a greater or lesser degree. This year under the direction of Miss Marie Crosby, a group of these patients thought it a wonderful idea to present a Christmas play. The realization of their idea was amazingly beautiful. The Sunday before Christmas many visitors went to our beautiful leper village to see the play which was held out doors. A group of boys and girls were sitting around in a circle thinking about the Christmas story, wishing that they might visit the manger—and their wish is granted. In the play we are carried through scene after scene. First came a little group of stars. Can't you see the "Littlest star"—three years old with a long white gown, a sweet little black face and a silver star shining on her forehead? The reverence with which the angels, the shepherds and the Wise Men played their parts in the lovely little play made me realize anew that the real joy of Christmas is not found in the exchange of gifts. At the close of the play every leper in the village came to the manger of the Christ Child and knelt as he or she gave their Christmas gift. Following the service we found that these patients had given between three and four dollars as their White Gift. What do you suppose they did with their gift? Three of their number came over to the camp where we have 65 tuberculosis patients, and presented their gift to help these folk. Then on Christmas Day the play was presented out under the trees to our tuberculosis patients. I wish you might have seen their joy as they realized they were not forgotten. Sharing in worship and fellowship thus with our patients on Christmas Day was for me a blessing which will remain with me always.

Remodelled

Our main hospital has been going through the process of being remodelled. It has been difficult to work in the midst of this reconstruction but now that the end is in sight we feel that it has been worth it. Just shortly before Christmas we moved our women patients into the new ward which holds thirty beds. And about the same time Miss Edith Brown walked proudly into her new kingdom—the new operating room. All these changes will make for more efficient work. Our student nurses, thirty in all, are really keen. We have eight girls in the first year. It is still very difficult for us to get girls, so we have to work very hard to make them good nurses.

Returning to the field after one's first furlough I think must be the most thrilling of any coming to the field. The first time one comes, one realizes the fulfilment of a dream. The second time one has the experience of coming back to a family, whose language we can understand. Truly we are a blessed and privileged group.

Visiting the Villages

"There is sunshine in my heart today". Thus was I greeted in almost all of the 100 villages visited during the year. Deacon Adriano decided on my dry season program for me one day as he sat in the office talking of the missionary contribution to Church work. Laubach schools would have to wait for another year. Visiting was to be my job until the coming of the heavy rains. Village visiting means sleeping in a different village each night, except for week-ends, and it involves visiting two to five villages each day, depending on distances, and on the local pastor's idea of what constitutes a day's work for the visiting missionary. Programs were drawn up in six of the eleven pastoral areas, and sent in for my approval and acceptance.

There are 396 villages connected with the Dondi Church. In visiting only 100 of these, I travelled 2,126 miles by truck, and no one knows how many long hot miles on foot. I had six week-end conferences with Sunday School leaders, and besides attended the long week-end of meetings at Easter and again at Pentecost and six other week-ends of meetings where a Communion service on Sunday afternoon brought the gathering to a close.

Three African supervisors carried the heavy end of the village school visiting, exhorting the laggard parents to send their children to school, and encouraging the teachers to put more of themselves into the work, and to teach children rather than subjects, and to take an interest in them outside of school hours.

Christian Education

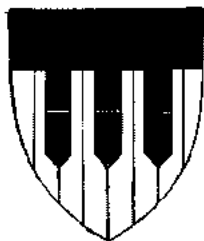

A Sunday School Regional Conference with from 40 to 80 teachers and leaders is a very satisfactory group, and everywhere we felt that if we could only meet twice in each area the village classes would run a much better chance of continuing until they had at least finished the excellent series of lessons they were studying. Sunday school is one of the departments of Church work which has rarely been known to continue to flourish without constant help from a missionary. With such aid it is one of the most helpful branches of the Church's service in Africa.

Leaders who are truly dedicated to the happy task of leading others to Jesus are an asset which is beyond evaluation. The first Religious Education Conference for the whole of Angola was held here in Lutamo in July. There was a week of preparatory group work, and this was of great value. I joined a group on "Preparation for Church Membership", led by an African pastor from one of the other mission stations. It was good to sit down with others facing the problems of the catechumen classes and think through them together.

This year my daytime devotional talks with the village folk were made with the help of the flannelgraph board. At night we used a Coleman lamp projector and usually the filmstrip, "The Life of Joseph", with the running commentary made by a school supervisor whenever one was available, or a teacher, for lessons on Joseph are also used in one of the day school classes. The Audio-Visual Conference held in Dondi was of much more interest to me and of more practical help because of my extensive use of flannelgraph and projector in the villages.

Before the school children and their leaders and teachers left the mission for their holidays they presented a beautiful drama, "The Child of Prophecy". The last part was very touching, when 17 of the smallest girls came from the back of the room each one bringing a flag of a different country, and they laid them at the feet of the Saviour of the whole world in token of the allegiance of their countries to the Babe who came at Christmas. One of the solos sung by a Jewish man in exile in Babylon will live on in our hearts as a bit of sheer beauty given by God to His beloved African children.

A Chapter on Work Among the Chinese

THE FOREWORD

Since the evacuation of all missionaries from mainland-China, our work among Chinese has been largely confined to the area of Hong Kong.

Hong Kong has a refugee problem of serious proportions. The population has grown from about 500,000 in 1949 to about three million at the present time. Approximately half a million of these are refugees living in ramshackle huts and with no adequate means of livelihood. The Hong Kong Government has undertaken a large project of building simple houses in various parts of the Colony and is also introducing new industries to provide work for at least some of these. Efforts are also being made to place some of these refugees on new farm property in the New Territories.

However, there will still remain many thousands who have no regular employment and hence insufficient food and clothing. The Church World Service Committee in Hong Kong and several British Church Relief Committees are providing relief services of food, clothing, medical aid and help with housing for these suffering people. A few rehabilitation projects have been started.

The educational needs of Hong Kong are evident to anyone who walks the streets of that great city and area. The streets are filled with children and youths of both sexes for whom there is not adequate school provision. Missions and local Christian groups are attempting to supplement the Government schools.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has continued its very strategic work throughout the year. The children's magazine, Happy Childhood, has gradually increased its circulation to remarkable proportions and the demand is constantly growing. Miss Margaret Brown is the editor of the magazine, as well as of all the publications for women and children.

In addition to her work in Christian literature, Miss Brown has served our Society as liaison person with the Hong Kong District Association of The Church of Christ in China and with the Hip Woh School and other projects in which we are concerned. She has recently been appointed as our representative on The Board of Chung Chi College.

The Hong Kong District Association of the Church of Christ in China has been concerned with the establishment of new churches in various sections of the New Territories. It has seventeen churches under its purview, seven of which are in the New Territories. They are in real need of more well-trained pastors. Several young men are studying in the Seminary in Singapore on scholarships which are provided by the cooperating Boards. A course to prepare young women for church work is to open this autumn in the Castle Peak

Training Centre in which we cooperate. This is a centre for refresher courses and conferences for all types for voluntary and salaried church workers. The buildings were contributed by the London Missionary Society and the annual maintenance budget is provided by cooperating Boards of which our Society is one. This church in Hong Kong area deserves our support as they face this task of developing the life of the churches and carrying the responsibility for Christian witness in that area.

The Hay Ling Chau Loper Colony has had a remarkable development during the past year. 350 lepers are now on the Island.

I spent a day at the Island with Miss Irene Moore, our nurse there. One could not help but be impressed with the vigor of the life of the Colony and the evident joy of the people in being there.

THE STORY

FROM MISS MARGARET H. BROWN

Missionary, Christian Literature for Chinese,
Hong Kong

"Wesley Village" with its "Canada Row" was the response of English and American Methodist Missions and our United Church folk in Hong Kong after a very disastrous fire had left 60,000 people homeless. To help the situation we are erecting as many of the approved fireproof small houses as funds will permit. The fire victims will be carefully screened so that a homogeneous group may be resettled in "Wesley Village", this delightful location in a valley in Hong Kong assigned to us freely by the government. First preference will be given to Christians and people definitely interested in Christianity. One group of houses will be called "Canada Row" and this will be a permanent memorial to the generosity of our Canadian Church.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese is gradually becoming better known throughout all East Asia. In October 1953 the Rev. Hubert Spillet, formerly a missionary of the English Baptist Mission in Shansi, China, arrived to take over the work of a full-time Executive Secretary, which has greatly strengthened the work.

"Happy Childhood"

"A copy of Happy Childhood in every Christian home" is the slogan adopted by the Women's Committee of the Hong Kong District Association of the Church of Christ in China, a very lively woman's organization, which is awake to the part this magazine can play in building Christian character in their children. It is quite an achievement, within the space of one year, to have copies going to fourteen different countries, even though three of these receive only two copies. Our most spectacular increase has been in the Philippines, where a teacher in a Christian school, a relative of Jean Hsu, our Chinese editor, has taken a deep interest in our magazine, and has sent us orders for 200 copies, subscribed for by children themselves.

Happy Childhood's prospects for 1954 look bright. For the first time we have succeeded in persuading one of the distributing agencies to place our magazine on sale at the various magazine stalls throughout the city. The first issue is now on sale there and it did give us joy to see it on the stand by the ferry when we crossed recently.

Many Publications

By arrangements with the publishers we are putting out a quarterly edition in Chinese of selections from the monthly issues of World Christian Digest, a valuable periodical printed in London, England. The response has been good to the two issues already published. This is a service to give the Chinese Christian leaders much needed spiritual help and an ecumenical outlook.

Our Council is also putting out quarterly two different publications for aid to daily Bible Study and devotional life; Discovering the Bible, and Bible Reading Fellowship Notes. Two important books came from the press within the year. They were translations of Herbert Butterfield's Christianity and History and Bennet's Christianity and Communism, both timely books, and a very real contribution to the Church in this location. We are building up quite a library of books for little children which should greatly help workers in Christian Education in this area—another volume in my own series is among the recent ones, The Pictorial Life of Paul.

Up to the end of 1953 the Council on Christian Literature has printed over 200 titles of Christian books in Chinese in Hong Kong. The great majority of these were reprinted with certain revisions from books previously published in China. We are now working on a new program and in future an increasing number of the books will be new titles.

Healing Through the Church

Miracles are taking place here on Hay Ling Chau. Jesus' touch is also performing miracles of cleansing and forgiveness. Sulfone therapy is accomplishing truly amazing bodily recovery of leprosy patients. While they are under treatment here we aim to mould character on the principles of Christian teaching. The church is the centre of religious activity. There is a resident minister who has an ideal opportunity for pastoral guidance and comfort as he visits the patients. In addition to Sunday worship, there are two evening services each week when Old and New Testament are studied in turn. We are fortunate in having a minister who is a keen Bible student himself and brings an enthusiastic approach to these study groups. They are followed by a prayer service in which the patients participate.

During the year a Sunday School has been established and three groups have been organized to include women, young people and children. The members are following planned programs and developing qualities of leadership. Miss Rachael Bennett who carries a heavy responsibility in regard to education and welfare work, also has given generously of her time and ability to religious education in the leprosarium.

In February about fifty Christian laymen and ministers came from Hong Kong to participate in a service which established the congregation on Hay Ling Chau as a church. Thirty new members were received into the Church that day. A Communion service was then conducted by a former pastor, who thoughtfully placed the bread in the mouth of those with crippled hands and helped them as they took the Communion cup. In April we had another impressive service when the pastor, Paul Hs, was ordained. About 100 people came out from Hong Kong to worship with us. In July and in December other members were added to the membership making a total of 217 Protestant Christians on Hay Ling Chau.

One of our finest leaders is a teacher for the teen-age boys. He will have a better opportunity to exert more influence over these boys now that they all live together in a new cottage, and what a view they have from their front door!

Christmas

On Christmas Eve we went to a concert given by the patients. Carols were sung and plays put on by the children and the women presented the "Christmas Carol." On Christmas afternoon the patients received their presents. As we stood in the hot sun giving out the gift bags (many having come from Canada), it seemed a great contrast to Christmas weather at home. We felt a warm glow inside too, because the patients were so pleased with what they received.

Our hospital was opened on January 16, when 250 visitors came from Hong Kong and when His Excellency, Sir Alexander Grantham, governor of Hong Kong, gave an address and declared the building officially opened. It is a fine building and will provide much more adequate facilities for investigation and patient care. For the past year we have had two nurses and a group of patient-dressers to carry the responsibility for nursing care. With the number of patients at 350 and steadily increasing, we shall require more nurses very soon.

The constant reminder of personal and group prayers for us at Hay Ling Chau has been a source of strength and encouragement. A leprosarium without spiritual influence would be a dreary place indeed. Some of our Christians are very sincere and are shedding light in the community.

A Chapter on India

THE FOREWORD

The Indore Hospital has been completed and is now in full use. Our doctors and nurses are very appreciative of the new buildings. It is a real satisfaction to have that very large project completed and I am sure our whole Society will be glad that this fine new plant is ready to serve the physical needs of so many women and children in that area.

During this year there has been further study of the question of the integration of the educational and medical work of the Mission with the Church. The committee charged with the responsibility of drawing up specific plans and recommendations is hard at work. The process of integration will no doubt, be gradual, but there are indications that all are agreed that this is an essential move if these Christian institutions are to become more fitted to meet the needs and opportunities of the area as well as to serve the Church and to bring a sense of responsibility to the whole Church in that area for its share in the total Christian programme.

In this same line of development, approval was given this year to direct relationship between the Home Boards and the Board of Christian Service of the Malwa Church Council. This is the body which administers all evangelistic work of the Church outside of the life and work of the organized congregations. All evangelistic missionaries are under its direction. Requests come to us from this Board for grants for Church work and for everything relating to our share in the work of the Church in that area.

Bread Again—and Growth

I returned from furlough the end of June and took over the work again from July 1st. The Irwin family had left early in May and Miss Faith Weber had been carrying on alone during the hot season, postponing her hill holiday till later in the year. Famine conditions were still prevailing but the rains had come and the farmers were all sowing their seed with high hopes. How anxiously the fields were watched during those first months. Hopes went up and down. Would there be enough rain? Would there be too much? Would the locusts come? As September drew to its close all hearts were lightened. The danger was over. The time for reaping had come. There would be good crops. There would be BREAD again. One young man wrote home from college, "I hope the good crops will wipe away the memory of the hunger of the last two years." The joy in people's faces was a wonderful sight. The Christian farmers came to us from miles around bringing gifts of corn, wanting to share with us their great joy and thankfulness.

As far as possible, relief funds had been expended as payment for labor on various projects, one of which was the building of six rural churches in the Banswara area. So out of their travail, something has evolved which will be a permanent source of satisfaction and inspiration to the Christian community. We made four camps before Christmas, at three of which a family was received for baptism. We are encouraged to see them coming forward now, when the famine is over, so that none may say they have come for food.

The school and hostel are growing by leaps and bounds, partly perhaps because of famine conditions—parents knew their children would be fed at the hostel. We have 80 in the hostel now, 15 of whom are girls. Ten of the boys are attending Government schools. In our Primary school we have 132 enrolled, and to accommodate so many, two new rooms were added to the school while I was on furlough. When school closed for Christmas holidays, and the village children went to their homes, a group of them dramatized the Christmas story as they had learned to do it at school, for the benefit of the village folk, going to three different places and greatly delighting their audiences. They told me beforehand that they were taking a tin of kerosene oil home with them, as their drama was to be put on at night and they proudly informed me, "We have four lanterns in our village. In another Christian village a group of young men went from house to house, singing Christmas carols.

One former graduate from our little school is now in his second year at Allahabad Agricultural Institute, and another is at Ewing Christian College, Allahabad, taking science, preparatory to a medical course.

Great changes have taken place in India and changes are filtering into the village life as well. Most of them are good—more independence, more initiative, and we trust, a stronger Christian community, more aware of their heritage and of their resources in their Heavenly Father.

FROM MISS MARY E. MARTIN

Educational Missionary,
Dhār

"Tell Us What It Means",

In the Dhar district we have two different areas where there are many new Christians. Miss Kilpatrick and I decided to camp together in the area below the ghats, some forty miles from Dhar. We wanted to visit all the Christians in the area and that was the determining factor in choosing the places for our four camps. In almost every camp we had deputations from other villages begging us to come to their village. Many claimed they wanted to become Christian and needed teaching. One group of men came eight miles, sat down and said, "Now tell us what it means to become a Christian, what we will have to give up and what we shall be expected to do." Two of them said "IT isn't for us"; one said, "I would like to learn more," and the fourth said, "I am ready to accept now." The tour brought encouragement in the progress of many, sadness at the indifference of others. With it all a firm conviction that the Spirit of God is working in the hearts and minds of many of our Bhils, those who are already baptized and many who are not.

In April we had a Leaders' course for ten days with 45 registered; 25 for the full ten days and the others for varying periods of time. Quite a group came in for the Sunday. Our course included Bible, village improvements and health, and Literacy. Seven young women in the class did exceptionally well.

During the rains, especially at the beginning, many came in to ask for help in buying grain for seed; with no crop in 1952 there was no seed for the 1953 sowing. Help was given from the famine relief funds on the recommendation of the village leader. Christians and non-Christians were helped in this way. The rains were abundant and it is good to see the green field after three years of drought.

The school goes on as usual, with an enrolment of 106, boys in the majority. Examination results were good with one of our fourth class pupils heading the list for the whole Mission. We give milk to every pupil daily. It isn't as urgent a need as it was last year, but few children, even in good years, get milk to drink.

Good Work and Good Results

Sports Day was the first important event of the year on December 13th, followed by the closing of the second term which ended happily with the Christmas tree and pageant. In January and early February the staff and school picnics were held, the staff picnic on the banks of the Nabada, at Khalghat. On February 27th we had our class X graduation service when the speaker was the Rev. Hilda Johnson.

The red truck provided much entertainment as well as useful instruction during the months of July and August. The children as well as the staff waited eagerly for Tuesdays and Saturdays to see the cinema shows in the Hall. We are grateful to the organisers of the program and hope the red truck will be available again later in the year.

This year our High School results were exceptionally good. Of the nine that appeared for examination, three secured First Division, one getting Distinction in anatomy and physiology; and all the rest passed in Second Division; we had no failures and no Third Division. Maya Lalsingh was the first orphan in recent years to pass the High School examination. On our Roll we have 41.7 per cent Christians; 48.6 per cent are Hindus; the remaining 9.7 per cent are made up of Muslims, Sikhs, Parsis, Jains, and Jews.

In the hostel there are 90 girls; of this number 77 are Christians, 11 Hindus, and 2 Muslims. Besides these we have 13 girls in the training class and two from the Seminary, making a total of 105 in the whole hostel.

There have been a few changes in the staff, and among the new members are four who were former pupils of our school and have gone on to take further training and now come back to us as teachers. Dormitories are still being used as classrooms and with increased numbers in the hostels these rooms are now required.

The health of the children has not been too good. Powdered milk is given to them and also the multivite tablets. Miss Cheniya, the present nurse, is planning to go for post graduate studies and we will be without a nurse.

Christian Endeavour and Sunday School have participated fully in the various activities; Guiding and Blue Birding are also carried on regularly. Everything has been quiet and peaceful so far and all are working hard, willingly and happily.

Missionary Teacher, Indore Girls'
High School, Indore

Classes and Extras

If the academic side of the work, teaching English, World History and Bible, has offered little in the way of novelty, the same thing cannot be said for the extra-curricular activities. How many people, I wonder, have experienced a twenty-four hour picnic? That was just about the length of one we had early in the year. The girls of Classes VIII, IX, and X decided that they wanted to go to Kalakund for their annual outing. To make our stay there worthwhile we had to leave Indore by train at about 1.30 a.m. We planned for that and told the parents that we should be back about seven that evening. All went pretty much according to schedule till we started home, when we just arrived at the Kalakund station in time to see our train departing for Indore. That meant we had to wait about six hours for another, making a long picnic day.

This fall for the first time since I have been working in Indore our school had a big concert. As I am now senior English teacher in the school, the direction of the English play fell to me; but I received excellent assistance from one of the senior Indian teachers on the staff. When the big night came, we had as our guest of honor Her Royal Highness, Princess Usha, daughter of the Maharaja, of what used to be Helkar State. So for the second or third time since coming to India I had the opportunity of talking to a real Princess. It was good to hear afterwards that this young girl (only about nineteen) was so favorably impressed with what she saw of our institution, and with the performance given by the children, that she made a donation of 250 rupees to our school. Most of this will, I think, go to the Friendship Fund which is used to provide birthday treats, pocket money, and other extras for our orphans, and for other children whose parents cannot or will not provide these things.

Throughout the year the village schools of Pardesipura and Gwaltoli have continued to serve as centres of primary instruction and Christian teaching to children in the districts in which they are located. I have been especially pleased with the large number of children who have come out each Sunday to our Gwaltoli Sunday School. Since July we have averaged from 40 to 50 each week. The Sunday School is only held during the parts of the year when school is in session, so this may account for the regular attendance. From July to December the two women students at the Seminary have taken part, usually taking turns a month at a time, in assisting the Sunday School.

Training Primary Teachers

I have also this year had the privilege of assisting with the re-opening of our classes for the training of Primary teachers. These classes were closed down in 1945, chiefly, I think, because there were not sufficient number of girls to warrant their continuance. However we decided to re-open if we had the assurance of a class of six. After discussion and planning, washing and dusting (What a lot of dust can accumulate in about eight years!) we started the first year of a proposed two-year course with twelve girls, soon increased to 13. Already enquiries are being made about next year's class. The classes are held in the hall of our Girls' High School and at present we have a capable Indian woman acting as teacher in charge. She is assisted by some of the teachers from the school. In addition to their regular studies the girls have already been able to make several interesting visits of observation. These have included such things as a printing press, an exhibition celebrating the centenary of the railway in India, a school run on the Montessori system, Daly College (the school attended largely by some of the social and economic aristocracy) and the Glass Palace.

The three girls who started their Teacher Training in Dhantari in July, 1952, returned to take their second year in 1953; the reports of their work continue to be satisfactory, and by July, 1954, each of them should be teaching in one of our Mission Schools.

Files, Tests and Projects

The office of the Dean of Women is a very busy place; someone is typing a report, or preparing a notice or taking a test. One of the most important things that the office has accomplished this year is the completion of cumulative folders for all girls in the college, both undergraduate and post-graduate. The folders contain designated spaces with directional headings in the areas of Family History; Home Conditions; Standardized Tests; Health and Personality Ratings; College Achievement; Co-Curricular and Vocational Interests; and College-Leaving and Follow-up File. The files contain spaces for small pictures of the girls in each of the four years. All files to date are complete with one photo of the student. These files of course, are considered as private and the information in them is confidential.

We are also busy gathering other information which a Dean's office should have. While I have been using American and Canadian tests and measurements, I am also gathering Indian-prepared tests which should be more valid for Indian freshmen who come in with deficiencies in English language. The office also contains the bulletins of many Indian universities together with information about special courses and scholarships, and similar information for foreign universities.

Group and personal counselling will always be an important part of a Dean's program. This year we have continued our lectures to freshmen on "How to use a Library". Each group had two periods of lecture tours around the library to familiarize them with the set-up of the library, the technique of looking up information and the procedure of taking out and returning books.

Home visits have continued this year. I feel that these are a very strong link to the understanding of the girls. It makes up to some extent the lack through the fact that our college is not a residential college.

This year the women produced their annual Ladies' Night Program which entails rather concentrated effort in program-building, dramatics, stage-management, financing, and publicity. The women are the largest single contributors to the Students' Helping Fund. This sets their goal a little outside their own individual needs. Another out-going effort this year was the Tag Day for the All India Women's Conference, which they carried through on January 16. Besides entailing a rather healthy organized effort on their part in conducting the Tag Day, it also served to familiarize the students with the aims and objects of this very forward-looking organization in India which works not only in the area of women's work but also in the field of welfare, children's and adult education.

Possibly the most outstanding special project of the year was the Women's Career Conference which took place on February 28th, 29th. It was felt that in order to highlight the importance of vocational guidance, more effective emphasis could be given by concentrating in two days a program that might have been spread over a considerable portion of the year. The occupations chosen for study were the broad general ones from which derivative occupations could be pointed; medicine, nursing, teaching, social service, law and business. The women who were selected to speak to the girls were chosen for their personal qualities and for their professional reputations. Various fact finding techniques were introduced to the girls such as speeches, panel introductions with buzz discussions; interviews; and court of opinion for the rather more popular type of subject as "Good Grooming and the Woman in the Job". These techniques were used and evaluated by the girls in formal discussions.

In March I had the great privilege of going to Allahabad as a representative from our Mission on the Board of Directors of the Agricultural Institute. At that meeting the first Indian principal was appointed in the person of Mr. H. Azariah, son of the late Bishop Azariah of Dornakal. The activities of the college cover the whole field of agriculture plus a wide program for Adult Literacy. Household Science has an important place also.

When The Rains Came

During July we were greatly troubled as day after day passed and no rain came, at least not enough to be of any help. The last Sunday of July I took a patient by car to Indore Hospital. I returned on Monday but the rain had beaten me. The road from the station to Kharua was impassable even for our good little Nanni Bai (Vellox Car). She had to stay till October at a house at the station. Ghisu Ji, ox-cart driver, beamed broadly each time he had to take us to the station in his conveyance. He was proud that his oxen could do a job that motors could not do on our jungle roads. I have not seen the crops of jowar, cotton and corn better than they were this year. It is so good to know that people can have bins filled with grain and some to sell.

On December 23rd our Indian helpers and their children filled our sitting room and office. The Christmas tree was especially pretty with tinsel rope, ornaments and icicles, while around it were piled the gifts wrapped in pretty Christmas paper and tied with used Christmas cards. Each member got a gift from the tree. The next evening the hostel children came in. We try to do a little extra for them at Christmas time since they have no homes to go to. Two of the older girls came back home to us for Christmas. It was like having your own family home for the holiday. They all had a grand time examining their gifts, new saris, hair ribbons, bobby pins, and perhaps the most valuable, a few safety pins. They also got fruit and some extra pocket money. Christmas Day brought everybody out in new clothes and good will toward each other. More than 200 people shared in the congregational dinner.

Building Mud Walls

School work has gone on regularly during the year, with an enrolment of 122 Christian children and 76 non-Christian. Most of these children have a village background. The examination results were satisfactory; one of our students stood third in the whole Mission in Class VI, and his brother was fourth; both boys are now studying in Rasalpara. During the autumn and winter, classes IV, V, and VI built up large ground maps of Madya Bharat, India and Asia. Class III tore down the old model school and built a new one. We called in a professional maker of mud walls to teach them. He brought his lumbering black buffalo with leather bags slung on each side of it, which the boys filled, then squirted water where it was needed, wallowing in the mud until it was the right consistency. Then followed the mixing of straw and mud, carrying heavy lumps of it to the wall, where it was packed in and rubbed down to make a smooth straight wall. The finished product looks very fine and even I have a greater regard for mud walls since I have seen the skill and work required to build one.

There are 41 girls in the Hostel and 44 boys in the Boys' Hostel. Due to famine conditions they all needed the extra milk and vitamin tablets supplied by Church World Service.

Becoming at Home in India

Would you like to look into my 1953 mirror and see some reflections that made the year memorable for me? The first picture really dates back to October, 1952, the date of our arrival in India. How excited we were to see the shores of our new home and what surprises awaited us! The first things that interested us were the contrasts between the old and new ways of life; the modern department stores and the little shops in the bazaar; paved roads and motor cars, and tongas and ox-carts; droves of cattle and herds of goats with donkeys and camels added for good measure. There are the contrasts between beautiful saris and colourful villagers in their ornees and skirts, and the rags of the beggars that seem to be found in every railway station.

A warm welcome had been waiting for us in Bombay in letters from our Mission family and the greetings of those who met us in Indore, and then there was the moment in Mission Council when we signed the "Family Bible".

Next we see the palace-like house in Allahabad which sheltered most of the members of the Mission Language School; the house with its many rooms and tiled floors and by our room was a spiral staircase. During the day from six a.m. until four p.m. in the common room or on the verandahs or in various places in the garden you can see people from several countries and representing many denominations studying a new language to the best of their ability. Language study is very interesting but it can also be very humbling when words just don't seem to be there when needed.

Besides sharing in language study we had fellowship together in worship, games, and special lectures by such people as Dr. Ralla Ram, President of the National Christian Council in Northern India, our own Dr. Gallagher, Dr. John R. Mott, Dr. Laubach and his literacy team, Rosa Paige Welsh, and many others.

There is also the fellowship we have shared as we worship with the Christians in the churches in Allahabad and especially in the pre-Christmas and Easter services. Then there are the memories of being wakened on Christmas, New Year's and Easter mornings with the music and songs of the carollers. Sometimes the tunes were familiar and sometimes not.

Our scene changes from Allahabad to the foothills of the Himalaya mountains, where the beauty and majesty of the hills declare the glory of their Creator. We see Ellengowan House, nestled on the hillside near the church and the view of the distant snow-capped peaks, where we were privileged to live, and we remember the groups that met there for prayer meetings, the Pundit's Bible class and many other times of fellowship.

Now it is Mission Council time and I learn with joy that I will be living and working in Kharua with Miss Patterson and Miss Munns. Kharua now appears in my picture mirror—a village with narrow streets, mud walls, the mission school, the church and the bungalows and other houses. The garlands of flowers, the songs, and speeches of welcome that greeted my arrival in Kharua testify to the affection and esteem with which the Christians look upon those who have been serving here in the past and present. It is a joy to have a part in the work of the school and hostels and I look forward to my future service here.

"One of the Happiest Years"

The year 1953 was one of the happiest years during my time at the school. As usual in January the school work began in real earnest after a very happy Christmas vacation. We were short-staffed during the winter when one of the teachers got married, and another was away studying. Since in a small place like this it is impossible to get substitutes the work became very heavy for the rest of us.

Throughout the year the school-staff has taken a keen interest in all the activities of the church. Most of the teachers also teach in Sunday School, some of them help in the W.M.S. and some are members of the Christian Endeavour. All took an active part on special occasions such as Christmas, Christian Home Week and Independence Day, making these programs a success. Because of the interest of the parents in their children they attend these functions and we make the best possible use of the opportunity by trying to give them the Christian message. Other leading persons who are not parents of our students also attend these concerts and they too hear the Christmas story.

In April we had our local and Commission examinations and as usual the results were very satisfactory. In the hostel there are 29 children, most of them orphans from the Babies' Home, who generally do very well in their studies. Our school is very indebted to the hospital staff for all the welfare care of the children and to Miss Robson for the interest she takes in teaching choruses to the children on Friday afternoons. Our school enrolment is really very high. We have more students than we have room for, yet our discipline is good and we feel that through our school we have an excellent means of sharing the good news of Jesus Christ.

We are very fortunate in having Miss Muriel Stephenson on the staff now. She will be in charge of the school from July, 1954, when I go on study leave. Her musical gifts were especially enjoyed during the Christmas festivities and we are looking forward to working more closely with her.

Christmas Music

Since coming from a most interesting five months language study at Landour, to the plains of Central India, three events stand out as highlights.

First was my assignment in October by Mission Council to educational work at Neemuch. There are about 300 children in the school. Many of them are non-Christian but prefer to come here because of its higher standards of teaching and work. Already I have enjoyed working with the children in preparing Christmas music for their annual concert. It has been a real joy also to help the older young people in the church to learn parts for two carols which they performed at their Christmas program. The children of the Babies' Home have also endeared themselves to me.

Secondly, I had the great privilege of being on an evangelistic tour with Miss Faith Weber for four days in November. We camped in two rooms of a bungalow and from there we visited a village each day. What a thrill it was for me to join these Indian Christian workers in their effort to reach the Christian people in that district and worship with them, travelling over roads that I thought were almost impassable, and how appreciative the people were of our visit!

I can hardly imagine myself in their position, not seeing any other Christian friends outside their own family for weeks and even months. Of course, wherever we went we were surrounded by non-Christians of the village too, who came to see us, for we must look as strange to them as some of them do to us, in their Indian dress and bright colored turbans. Some came not only to see but also to hear and it is really wonderful to see the number of non-Christians who are interested in hearing more and more of the Christian gospel. Their hearts are hungry.

Bhil Hymns

Thirdly, there has come to me, just since Christmas, the opportunity of writing the music for forty hymn tunes which are sung among the Bhil people. These songs have been handed down from generation to generation and now they want the words and music in one book. For seven or eight days, a very enthusiastic Bhil singer Reuben, by name, came to Ratlam where he sang these songs—sometimes several times—in order that I might get the correct tune and rhythm. These songs are not meant to be harmonized and to our ears many of the melodies sound very monotonous and the rhythms are sometimes quite complicated. The words are their own and they love to sing of Christ and His life and saving power. It has been a real pleasure for me to help in writing the music of these hymns on staff and on stencils, along with the words. Our hope is that they will soon be in book form for leaders among the Bhils.

May we always be ready to take the opportunities God gives us for service and to use the talents He has given us, for His honor and glory.

Good Work

There are 112 children on the roll divided into five classes, with about 28 per cent. of them Christian. This number seems to be small as Mhow is a large town and surely there are more Christian children than the number mentioned. We are drawing the attention of our church people to this state of affairs.

The examination results were quite satisfactory; 75 per cent passed in Class IV, and 74 per cent. in Class II.

Special mention should be made of the following items; Fourth Class girls conduct chapel service in the morning; gardening as a hobby is encouraged; handicrafts keep our children busy and happy.

The head mistress and two girls attended the girls' camp held at Ujjain under the leadership of Mrs. Leard. They have returned full of enthusiasm. It is noteworthy to record that the Builder Memorial Church at Mhow made a contribution of Rs. 10 towards the expenses of this camp, which is as it should be—the local church being interested in our Mission Primary School.

The staff has worked well. Miss Singh and her assistants should be congratulated for good work done during the year. I have tried to visit the school once a week at least and can say that the work is satisfactory.

A Christian School Witnesses

It is remarkable how keen the non-Christian people are to enrol their children in a Christian Mission school. Repeatedly when a non-Christian parent would be told the drawbacks of this school, such as, lack of adequate classrooms, books, equipment, and to them most important, not officially recognized by the government, they reply that the school teaches something and has something better than all the other schools in the town. When I refused admission because of lack of room to a little girl, her father came to me and said that his daughter utterly refused to go to a good Brahmin school nearby, because they did not speak good words there and taught nothing beautiful. As a result we had a high enrolment this year. However Christian children were given preference and we do have more Christian children than non-Christian in the school. And, this may seem strange, for although this is a girls' school, we have more boys than girls studying in the classes.

Shortage of classrooms has been a great problem. We use the girls' dormitories by day as classrooms, which is not satisfactory, and the teachers feel sometimes quite handicapped for lack of sufficient blackboards, wall space and cupboards.

On Fridays last year we had a literature and art period, for the whole school, when lectures were given on different countries by the principal and various staff members. Songs were taught, essays were read and short plays and recitations were given.

Girl Guiding and Christian Endeavour Societies find a place in the extra curricula of the school and the staff helps the church work through Sunday School and W.M.S. meetings. The school tries to give a Christian emphasis in all its activities. This is especially noticeable when the children participate in joint activities with non-Christian schools. Then this school is considered peculiar, but it does not lose its self-respect. In this way a Christian school witnesses in a non-Christian community. Prayers are requested for this school to be a sincere and true witness.

With Forty-two Years of Service

Can it be that forty-two years have passed since my arrival in India? It is a long time, isn't it? But it does not seem long to me. I have been greatly privileged in having so many years to serve in this land of India. I thank God for all the way He has led me, for His faithfulness and guidance at times when the way was hard to find. I thank Him too, for the great joy of seeing many brought to Christ, and others making progress in the Christian life. I thank Him for faithful Indian workers, both men and women, without whose help I could not have carried on.

On New Year's Day, following the church service, we all met as a big family for our noonday meal. We sat on grass mats with one plate for our food and a glass of water—all very simple and everyone from the youngest to the oldest enjoyed the fellowship and the food.

We were prevented by illness in getting out on tour early in January. The driver's little boy had appendicitis and with difficulty we got him to Ratlam hospital in time for a successful operation. Rain made some of the roads almost impassable, so instead of taking tents we went into a Dak bungalow in Neemuch area. From there we were able to visit a number of Christians in five or six villages. We were welcomed in all the villages by both Christians and non-Christians and it is with a touch of sadness we always leave a village, knowing it will be some time before they are visited again.

In February we found ourselves in a camp under mango trees about fifteen miles from Sitamau. From camp we went out almost every morning to villages nearby. We had a good response to the messages given and found many in need of medicines. The nurse I had with me was a great help. By the beginning of March the weather was almost too hot for us to stay out in tents, so from the bungalow we visited the nearer villages and my woman evangelist visited many homes in the city.

Executive Board and Church Council meetings were in March this year and were all very interesting and presented a challenge to our younger Christians to take a greater part in the work of the Church.

School examinations kept me in Sitamau during the last half of April, and by the time they were over I welcomed the holidays as much as any child in the school. My vacation this year was spent in beautiful Kashmir, a holiday long to be remembered; I came back rested and keen to get in visits to country schools, and to a number of villages before the monsoon started. One Sunday we visited four villages, getting home very tired but very happy.

Miss Cates arrived just before Council and was warmly welcomed by all on the compound. She with the workers camped in three places before Christmas. I joined them in the last camp for a village school closing, where I noted with pleasure the progress the school had made during the year. My interest and prayers for the work and for the many dear friends I must shortly leave will continue. May God's blessing rest upon those who carry the Torch forward.

Camping Gets Under Way

The principal and eight teachers of this Primary and Middle school have many problems, such as petty thieving, early marriages, run-away boys, etc., but discipline problems have not been many. Even though we cannot boast a high average mark, we are gratified to have had only 14 failures in the 183 students taking examinations in April, 1953. Staff changes have been numerous but there have been new appointees who are carrying on the work as well as can be expected.

A highlight for the girls during the year was the camp, held on the five day holiday in September at the nearby Government Experimental Farm. The Farm Director gave every assistance possible and when I sent money to tip the watchman who had helped us very much, he answered, "My staff and I were at your disposal; you were our guests and it was our duty to serve you. I hope you will excuse me for returning your money."

Encouraged by the Wayling's boys' camp held in March, and by Mrs. Wayling's promise of help, I planned a small camp of about 30 girls—our own sixteen and a few delegates from other interested stations, hoping thus to spark enthusiasm for local camps, to train some leaders, and to introduce the Sabha program being used in Mandleshwar by Mr. and Mrs. Wayling. Mrs. Wayling, with the help of a gift of money from Canada, is having printed the programs they wrote in Hindi for boys and girls groups, modelled after Explorer and C.G.I.T. programs. At present these groups are called "sabha" which simply mean "meeting"—they are waiting for a truly Indian name to emerge. What they are doing at least begins to fill a frightening vacuum in the Church's program.

Primary in my thinking was the need for a group of Indian leaders to think through, plan and carry through a camp program so that we would not simply be transplanting Canadian ideas into the Indian Church. With that in view I invited each station sending girls to send a leader to a Leaders' Conference, two weeks ahead of the camp, at which Mrs. Wayling and Miss Gladys Thornber agreed to give leadership.

But my faith was small and my plans hesitant. Fourteen leaders and sixty girls turned up, and many who had not fitted the 11-13 age limit were consoled only with the promise that there would be a camp for them later. I had purposely restricted the number of missionaries to three, so that the young Indians, all teachers except one Bible-woman, would feel free to make suggestions. It was interesting to watch how they slowly warmed to the idea of the informality of camp, even though they remained dubious about the use of nicknames. After two days they left with a well set forth program, a Bible study outline, interest groups arranged for, and officers chosen. One Indian principal was so much interested that she herself came to the Leaders' Conference and went away sold on the idea. Another drove her two leaders 40 miles to Ujjain to be in time for the Conference, when they had missed the train. As one young man said when I thanked him on a different occasion for being interested enough in our boys to take the leadership of their Sabha each week, "We are interested if you will encourage us!" The Church is full of young people wanting to give leadership if they only knew how to give it. Our most urgent need is for a Leadership Training Camp for a selected group. Here they cannot be co-educational because girls will not go to such a camp for fear of libel or gossip, so that means added expense and time. We ask for your prayers that some such camping and group program for boys and girls may catch the enthusiasm of those in authority here, and that Indian leaders may come forward to train themselves for this volunteer work. Each new day brings its fresh opportunities for serving Christ here.

Continually Expanding Work

Here are some of the questions that come in our daily mail; Can you tell me how to improve our diet if we have only Rs. 6 per month per child when it takes twice that much? Will you please organize a School of Catering? Can you train cooks in English or Indian cooking? What are the differences between fatty acids in butter from cow's milk and fatty acids in buffalo's milk? Can you help me with a diet for diabetes or heart trouble or obesity? How do you mix milk powder in quantities? Can you help us with information on the nutritional value of diets recommended by the School of Indian Medicine? Can you give us ideas for charts for an exhibition on (1) nutrition (2) care of children (3) textiles? Please approve of a new course of study for our institution within ten days! Please review this book for our paper. Can you help us improve the serving in our restaurant?

It almost takes one person's time just to answer such questions. Each year increases the number and variety of questions and demands and therefore the number of problems we try to handle.

1953 has seen a big expansion in our extension work. The government arranged three tours for Mrs. Philip which were successful and appreciated. In this department we have added Miss Annie Philip to the staff. She has had training and experience. Mrs. Philip and a helper conducted an Exhibition at Vellore for the Provincial Social Service Conference and Mrs. Philip also spoke on "Nutrition for Industrial Workers". There was also an Exhibit at the annual conference of the All India Women's Food Council held here. A cooking competition through the Mail, an English daily, is the centre of a good deal of activity and interest in the department and is making us aware of the defects in our own knowledge of foods and cooking as well as those in the many people who send in the recipes. With village and school visits and tours to Mission and other areas our hands seem to be full. We are also pursuing studies on the use and value of different methods of preparing wheat which will be acceptable to the people here. This has brought us some interesting correspondence with Dr. Adolph in Beirut who is doing some work on similar types of wheat as prepared in that part of the world. This extension work is again largely supported by the United Millers' Federation of America. Research work has continued with partial help from the Williams-Waterman Foundation, New York.

Always central in our life in college is our college chapel and our worship services twice a day and once on Sunday. This year I continue to have a class on "Paul and the Epistles", but this year there are more non-Christians attending the class, which puts one on one's mettle as to the witness one is giving.

During the first three months of the year we had the loan of a friend's car for our transportation, but at the end of March our beautiful station wagon was released from the dock after eight months of bargaining. It looks very smart with the college crest on the sides and "Nutrition Department, W.C.C." on the back. It has enabled us to do many things that were impossible before. We are very grateful to the Oregon Wheat Commission for this gift and its support.

Hard Pressed by Famine

1953 will stand out long in my memory because of the many contrasts and new experiences it contained. As the year began, thousands faced famine conditions, with no promise of a new crop before August, no seed for planting, nor money for buying. A kind of helpless despair seemed to settle down upon the people, a despair which drove many to steal and plunder, without regard for possible consequences; in other villages it led to the breaking up of family units in an effort to find work for all. Everywhere there was obvious questioning whether the traditional gods of wood and stone could do anything to remedy the situation.

And so more eyes seemed to be turned upon our growing groups of village Christians, who, though hard-pressed, did not show the same despair. They did not join in raids on neighboring villages nor offer sacrifices to the gods, and yet they continued to exist. Several times all were helped through community work projects sponsored by Christians; Christian and non-Christian worked side by side digging wells, or building schools and for many it was a completely new experience to see such an expression of genuine concern for their survival. Hence they began to ask questions and to seek out Christians. It provided a wonderful opportunity for them to give a real witness and to explain in their own words what being a Christian meant to them. All this resulted in many more requests for instruction and baptism, and it has given rise also to the first real opposition to the movement that began nearly five years ago. It is too early to know the consequences of the latter, but so far the majority of our Christians have withstood it and responded to it in a very creditable manner. In recent months it has not been an easy time for them, yet we hope and pray that those who have really accepted His Will may not be daunted by any petty persecution and that this testing, in the end, will only serve to make them stronger.

Much of my time has been spent in connection with these new Christians, touring among them and giving leadership especially among the women. While feeling a decided lack of words, still it was good to be a part of that group and to see the eagerness with which many of them set about to learn.

July brought new experiences outside the Dhar area, when I went to Hat Piplia to fill in for a two month period. There I was initiated into the intricacies of running a primary school and a small hostel for village children, in addition to seeing something of the evangelistic work done in the villages round about. Hat Piplia was home to me for my first year in India, so it was not like going to a new place. Old acquaintances were quickly renewed and due to the loyal support of everyone, the two months passed smoothly and with great profit to me.

The Rains!

With the monsoon rains came the newest thing of all in my four years in India—a swing towards prosperity. For the first time I have seen bins full of corn, and work for all from dawn to dusk. Little will be saved by the ordinary farmer, for so much has gone and will go to the money-lender in payment of debts incurred. But at least all are eating now and other crops are ripening in the fields.

Three Scenes

The past year has been one of increasing opportunity to know and to witness to the Lord of Life. It brought to an end the two-year period of language study and has seen the commencement of full responsibility as an evangelistic missionary with all the many duties that entails. Hat Piplia continues to be my scene of action and I would like to bring you a few scenes and experiences I have had.

Scene One—It is early in the New Year and I am out on tour with Miss Frances Stevenson. Together with the Biblewoman and a public health nurse we go to a neighbouring village to tell the old, old story. A roll of large Sunday School Lesson pictures which have been reinforced with cotton backing, provides a focus of attention. Soon the women begin to gather, some with babies on their hips, and we commence to sing "Raja Yisu aya" (King Jesus has come). Then Miss Stevenson or the Biblewoman will tell the meaning of the hymn and the story of Jesus. I soon learn that one must be prepared for interruptions from any source—the family cow, a stray goat, a crying child, or the village woman's own curiosity as to whether the new Missahib is married yet or not. However one picture never ceases to make its appeal to these village women; it is "Christ blessing the children". They immediately grasp Christ's love for little children for they have the mother-love for their little ones.

Scene Two is laid in the living room of "Ellengowan", Landour, where Muriel Stephenson, Louise Best and I along with three other language students lived during our language study last summer. It is

Friday afternoon and about 4.30 they start coming. First Major Leonard Moules arrives and sets up his projector. Then one by one they come until some 20 or 30 are assembled—the Language School pandits come for their weekly cup of tea and the Pandits' Bible Class. Major Moules, a missionary with headquarters in Landour, by means of the film, leads these men—both Christians and Hindus—through studies in the life of St. Paul to St. Paul's Lord. We are grateful that this ministry has continued, which was started the previous summer through the prayers and efforts of the group of young missionaries who called themselves the Quints:

The Final Scene brings us back to Hat Piplia to the fall touring season. We are encamped at the village of Beri about nine miles from the Mission station. Daily about an hour before sundown the two Biblewomen and I make a trip to Lakhwara a mile away to meet with four or five Christian women there and any others who care to gather with us. My theme during this winter touring season has been "That I might know Him" with special emphasis on the life and character of our Lord and how we may come to know Him personally. One evening instead of the mild assent to everything that is said, an elderly woman with a careworn, sad face, says, "But, missahib, I don't understand." If I read her face and her meaning correctly it was the cry of a hungry heart, one that hungered to know the Master of whom we talked, not just to know about Him. That, I think, is the great need of the Church in India today as represented by these little groups of village Christians, seeking earnestly to know Him.

These scenes do not give a complete picture, for I have not told you of the work going on day by day in our Hat Piplia school under the able direction of our Indian headmistress; nor have I mentioned the children's hostel where Gracie, Sosan, and the other orphan children share life with children from the surrounding villages who live there while attending school. I have not dwelt upon what I see as one of the greatest needs of the Hat Piplia congregation—a place of worship. And I leave to your imagination the personal struggles with the language, the intricacies of Mission accounts and other problems relating to a new job.

Pictures of the Year

May I show you a few of the pictures in my album of 1953? This first picture is of my two Biblewomen, Sundar Bai, and Mabel Bai, and myself visiting in the home of one of the members of the Indore congregation. We tried to visit each family at least once, but by April we had not succeeded in reaching all. Some mornings we visited as many as six homes. Our visits have been greatly appreciated. "Do come back soon again", we hear frequently.

The second picture shows a night meeting in the village of Thori, which was one of the two centres where I camped with Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Grant during February and March. This evening meeting at which you see assembled the Christian group of Thori with many of their relatives and other residents of the village is being held in the open space in front of one of the Christian homes. How the people love to sing, and how keen they are to see the flannelgraph pictures illustrating the Bible story which is taught. This evening meeting is the climax of a busy day on tour. How I appreciated having Dr. and Mrs. Grant to introduce me to the villages and leaders in the Indore area. Those days on tour with them have many happy memories.

Next comes April, and isn't this a happy picture? Yes, these are the Biblewomen gathered for their annual classes or refresher course. While I had the honour of being chairman of the committee, others gave generously of their time and energy in the making of the classes a time of fellowship and inspiration for all.

This fifth picture is one that will delight you with its beauty—Kashmir! A vacation spent there in company with four of my colleagues was a very happy one.

The last half of the album is filled with many pictures of the Union Theological Seminary. Here is the graduating class seated on the floor of the chapel for a class in New Testament. This is Ashadan, a thoughtful student, who hopes some day to continue studies at a higher level. Here is Ruth Bai, and her husband Bishwas. She is a nurse and they had been married a number of years and had a family of four children when he heard the call to the ministry. It was not easy to start out on four years of study and work, but they are both happy now that they have made the effort. In June we were happy to have two single women enrolled in the incoming class—the first time that single women have studied as regular students of the Seminary. We dream of a residence for single women and of special courses for them.

The next picture is a sad one. It shows the sorrow of the students and staff when the cable came telling of the death in London of our beloved Principal, Dr. Clifford Grant. There was but one thought as to what we would do, and all gathered quietly in the chapel. There with heads bowed and with a very real grief we turned to God in prayer, asking for His comfort and His blessing for ourselves, for the Church in Central India and for the family who had been bereaved.

One of our greatest needs is for Christian literature. In this picture you see three of us preparing material for study leaflets for the monthly meetings of the W.M.S. In our study we have been stressing the need for, and the place of worship, fellowship, service, giving, study and witness. These few pictures are typical of many in the album of last year. Visiting, teaching, a large share of Committee work, enjoying the beauties of nature and the joys of fellowship, these made up a year with a great variety and mixture of gay and sombre colours.

There Is Progress

The first thing of importance in 1953 was the arrival of Rev. Samuel Tukaram, to take over the evangelistic work which I had been caring for since Mr. Hoskin went on furlough. Just as we were ready to start on tour with our tents and boxes, an unexpectedly heavy rain accompanied by much hail came. The road was impassable for the oxcart, to say nothing of the car, so our going out was delayed. During the time that we were held up here a poor village Christian man came in with a basket on his head which held a tiny one-day-old baby in it. The mother had died in childbirth and the father had brought it to us. The baby was cared for, bathed and fed, dressed in clean warm garments, and soon settled down to the routine of feeding and sleeping. Then the father returned to his village to care for his other motherless children. When the severe cold weather had relaxed its hold upon us, the little baby was baptized at the father's request and sent to the Babies' Home at Neemuch and reports of its progress come to us from time to time and are relayed to the grateful father.

The ground finally dried out and we were able to set up tents at our first camp and our work in the farthest away villages began.

The day meetings with the women were well attended and it was encouraging to see that several of the women were progressing in their Christian life. In the afternoon the medical clinic was on. Then there were the calls to visit the very ill in their homes in the villages, some near and some farther away. In each case we did what we could or advised them to go to a doctor. We were grateful for the tins of powdered milk which we could make up and give to the little undernourished children who came.

Kharua did not hold its regular Village Leaders' Classes this year but we sent a number of our most promising pupils from the year before to Ratlam where the Mission Leaders' Classes were being held. One of the young women who went from Kamakheri village was greatly helped and has been of much assistance in the services held each week in her own village. Her ability to read received a great impetus and now it is hard to satisfy her appetite for more books to read. The need for more books of the simpler sort is ever with us.

During the summer months when I remained on the plains, my Biblewoman and I carried on quite a successful Vacation Bible School. The attendance was larger than we had anticipated and frequently our meagre store of supplies for handwork was depleted. We used things that were secured locally, such as mud and lipan, and from them made a Village of Love with its well of Water of Life, and its gardens of Joy and Peace, etc.

"Jyoti Kiran," the Hindi Sunday School paper, continues to shed its "Rays of Light" in many places in India and beyond its borders. I was interested in seeing an elderly man sitting out in the sun the other day reading this paper, while a little girl sat on the ground beside him listening to the story.

Christmas with its rush of busyness and activities was a happy occasion. School programs, W.M.S. Tea, Christmas Tree, when we had over 100 people crowded into our home and when one feared that the window panes might crack from the reverberations of the sound raised as they sang with gusto, if not always with harmony, "Joy to the world, the Lord is come."

This Christian Fellowship

To tour 900 miles in two months, camp in five centres, and visit Christians in over forty villages was the first part of my New Year's program. Some of the folk I had never seen and others I had not seen since I went on furlough in 1950. The warm welcome we received was a real incentive to live for Christ alone and make His Word known among the least fortunate. In many places there would be gathered a friendly attentive group of neighbors and an earnest enquirer; again there would be an eagerness to hear His Word, sing His praise and thank Him in prayer, the blessings of friendliness and hospitality, requests for Gospels, delight in the pictures of the life of Christ, and the richness of Christian fellowship which is possible even among comparative strangers who are Christ's. The joyful hours were interspersed with less happy moments, to be sure; a scorpion sting at night, indifference, complacency, coldness, complaints, spiritual poverty and lack of vision. Then there was the young friend, broken-hearted by neglect, weeping bitterly on our arrival, but radiant with faith and trust before we left. These were indeed two splendid busy months.

April was a month of new experiences, three weeks of teaching. First to come was the Women Evangelists' Refresher Course, a week of fellowship and study, sharing experiences and worshipping together. My teaching the Bible Study on Psalms was only a small part of the total program which included reports of the work at the various stations, a daily worship hour on the "Holy Spirit," classes on Adult Literacy, Health, the United Church of North India and women's work in the Church. Immediately following this there was another new experience; two weeks of Village Leaders' Classes in Mandleshwar. Hopefully we invited twenty young men to train for village lay leaders. No one came on the appointed day oddly enough, but no one's hope died, thanks to a sense of humor, and next day the influx began. Only three of our chosen leaders appeared, but a dozen others, men and women, enthusiastic to learn, invited themselves to join the classes. Throughout the two weeks of Old Testament, New Testament, the Life of Christ, memory work, literacy, health and cleanliness, knitting and handcraft, all seven of us who taught continued to be impressed with the constant enthusiasm and sheer joy of our self-appointed pupils. The worship in their hearts shone in their faces as they came into the Presence of God, came to know Him through the eyes of the prophets and praised Him with the Psalmist.

When the rains were over again, and the Christian Home Festival successfully celebrated, October came with its meetings, Christmas letters and preparation for tour. Each of our three camps brought different experiences. One we shall remember for the number of books sold, the number of people sick and the eager group of listeners; another for the group that sent word they would like us to come again and "tell the same story, show the same pictures, and sing the same songs, especially the one about life and salvation for men and women." The third we shall remember for the group of a dozen young men who asked us to teach them that they too might believe in Jesus Christ, and with whom we spent our last six evenings endeavoring through Scripture, pictures, singing and prayer to present Jesus Christ that they might believe. In these few weeks we had varied experiences. In one village a little girl, seeing us, ran to her father, calling, "Father, Jesus' people have come." In another village we found some folk weak and compromising; in another we asked where we might camp and the answer was, "Come and camp anywhere." One of the precious experiences of the year was our daily camp Bible study when we five sat together, two evangelists, a cook, a driver and myself, for half an hour or more to read and discuss freely a passage of Scripture.

New Christians, and Older Ones

There has been plenty to do this past year; never once have we been "unemployed." There were camps as usual in the cold weather among which the camp in Mundiakhera stands out in brighter colors than the rest. We have often camped there but for some years had not done so. It was a discouraging sort of place. It contained one Christian couple and a number of Christian men, one in this house, one in that. When a young lad from the village asked us if we were coming, we decided to do so. And what a rewarding visit that was! One day before we left Pastor Korla came from Padlia and received into the Christian Church a number of village people. And yet strangely enough when I look back to the camp at Mundiakhera, it is not the thought of any of these which makes me happiest, but the thought of a woman who was not baptized—with water. One day in our little group of women she committed herself to Christ. That the surrender was genuine no one who saw the transformation in her and the radiance in her face could doubt. But her father-in-law asserted his authority and declared that if she were baptized he would have her driven out. It was thought better not to press the matter, but truly it is absurd to prevent Ahiliya's being baptized when he cannot possibly prevent her from being a real Christian. Before our camp moved away she told me that one of her sons had been remarking about her new habit of daily prayer.

For some time we had been hearing that some Christian people had moved into the far eastern end of our district, and having names of a few of these we decided to try to get in touch with them. So one day early in the morning we set out to visit Rama, who lives in Pipri. After a trip of over forty miles we came to Pipri and found Rama, though the rest of his family were absent. We found Rama reading his Bible, and we were glad to hear that a friendly priest from the nearby temple sometimes came and read with him. We had brought our noon meal with us and ate it sitting on the ground in the clearing near Rama's house. He brought us milk for our tea and we shared with him the first watermelon of the season, having brought it in wet newspapers to keep it cool. How we all enjoyed it. Then we sang the praises of our common Lord, thought together for awhile on the things of the Spirit and joined together in prayer.

Rama had told us that he was acquainted with the two Christian families living in the little village of Polakhal, not far away, and that he would go that far with us and take us to their homes. He came along and we had a very happy visit with one family; the others were absent. At one point on the road after we had left Polakhal a huge monkey suddenly dashed in front of the car and no effort on the part of the driver could prevent the animal's getting a nasty bump. He was not incapacitated but he must have ached that night. We stopped to visit one more village, Mundala, where we found a Christian family at home and spent some time with them. Then we returned to camp, tired but well satisfied with our day.

The year held other things than camp, a host of which though urgent at the time, pass from one's memory, but all the way God has been guiding, enabling and upholding us in all our undertakings.

FROM MISS FAITH WEBER

Missionary,
Neemuch

A Christian Mela

Till the end of June, 1953, I was living in Banswara, carrying on evangelistic work while Miss Emily Maxwell was on furlough. On her return I moved to Neemuch where I am now engaged in evangelistic work in the Neemuch rural district. As I look back on those months in Banswara, three main features stand out in my memory. The first of these is the Christian mela held in February, the first one in which I have had the privilege of participating. I must tell you that a "mela" is a time of spiritual retreat when Christians gather together for the purpose of Christian fellowship and study. The mela was held in a central rural area easily accessible to the people of all the seven congregations of the Banswara district. Many Bhil Christians walked considerable distances in order to attend.

I was in charge of the women's group as we considered the theme, "God in our Daily Lives." For these morning study periods, we gathered in an open space near my tent, the women sitting on old canvas mats or bamboo plaited mats, while I sat on a little stool facing them as I taught. It was a mountain top experience for us all.

On the last day of the mela, Sunday, a special service of worship and praise was held in which the Lord's Supper was celebrated as well as a very impressive baptismal service, when Dr. W. J. Gallagher, our distinguished visitor from Canada, baptized over 100 people. It was a day for praise and rejoicing.

The second and third things that stand out in my memory in connection with Banswara are closely linked together, one being a happy consequence of the other—the famine conditions and famine relief which made it possible to begin the building of long-awaited-for churches. Banswara was one of the worst struck areas in this semi-famine condition. It was a pathetic yet all too familiar sight to peer into the empty grain bins in the homes of the people and realize that they had nothing on hand. One of the tragic consequences was that farmers went into very heavy debt in order to buy grain to keep body and soul together. That burden of debt will not be wiped out for one or two or even three years, and in the meantime interest continues to increase at a very high rate. In many cases the debt problem becomes such a hopeless situation that it keeps a poor farmer poor for the rest of his life.

New Churches

This is the other side of the picture—For some years the Bhil Christian community has been wishing to build places of worship, but there was the matter of getting permission from the government to build, which caused them delay. It was finally granted in March of last year. The Bhil Christians had been able to build up a small reserve fund, which was put towards the expense of building materials and so the building of six rural churches was begun, the labor being paid for out of famine relief funds. We who lived so close to this famine situation, are very grateful to the people at home who have been so generous in their contributions for relief. Without that help, the people would have received little or no assistance; many would have died of starvation, nor would the building of these churches have been begun. But through famine relief funds we were able to supply them opportunity to work in exchange for which grain was given. None of these churches have been completed as the rainy season began in June and the farmers had to sow their grain. We are grateful to God for the abundant harvest the people reaped this past year as a result of a very good rainy season. Surely the Lord has crowned the year with His goodness.

Devotion and Zeal

The women's evangelistic work in Rasalpura-Mhow field has been conducted with devotion and zeal. The Biblewomen have faced several problems with courage and resourcefulness in the changed psychological atmosphere created by Dr. Katju's unfortunate observation several months ago in the Indian Parliament regarding the work of the foreign missionaries, in India. Some over-zealous people misinterpreted his statement and began an active movement against the preaching of the Word. Whereas our Biblewomen were working in nine villages, they are able now to reach the people in only six of them, in the others there is active opposition. However we continue to pray for them and believe that the present tension will ease. One of our Biblewomen is under treatment for T.B. and her long illness has affected adversely our work. Several volunteers have worked in co-operation with our Biblewomen and we are happy to note the development of this spirit in our Church people.

FROM MISS GLADYS B. THORNER

Missionary,
Ratlam

For the first two weeks of our two months' tour, we camped in a place where approximately 60 people came each night to listen to the stories of Christ. During the day we were busy teaching people to read and giving out medicines to the sick. But nothing we could say would induce the women to come to learn to read. When we were persistent in asking them, they simply shrugged their shoulders and said, "Why should we learn to read? We're married." They couldn't see any advantage in a married woman learning to read. But at the place where we ended our touring season there was a group of about twenty women waiting for us, eager to learn to read and write. Within one hour of my arrival I was sitting inside the school tent teaching these enthusiastic women. They were very keen and usually arrived about ten o'clock in the morning and it was difficult to persuade them at four o'clock that they should have some rest. Along with the teaching, of course, we taught them Scripture verses and told them Bible stories because our purpose is to have the village people know Christ as their Saviour.

Eager Leaders

In March the Church Council met in Ratlam so we had the privilege of being hostess to friends from all over the Mission. We were also busy preparing for the Leaders' classes held in April, when we have potential leaders from the whole Mission area come to Ratlam for concentrated study. We prepared for forty and eighty arrived. The crowded conditions did not seem to harm the zeal of those who came to study and the program was not a light one. During the morning they had worship period followed by a course in Old Testament and one in the New Testament. The group for the women was held separately. After morning worship all together they met in a separate tent and had courses on the life of Christ. Most of them were illiterate so two hours a day were spent in teaching them to read and write. Three women were far enough advanced in this so that they were put into the care of one of the Bible women for special instruction and taught how to tell Bible stories to village groups. At the end of the course, those who wished could write examinations and receive a certificate for their four weeks' study.

A First Camp

For some time a group of us have been very anxious to have a camp for girls. Early in September Mrs. Leard, Mrs. Wayling and I got together with twelve Indian leaders and planned a camp for girls for the last week-end in September in a spot near a pond in Ujjain. It was a wonderful four days of camping and a great success in spite of the rain, which drove us into the school at Ujjain. The whole experience proved (with 52 enthusiastic girls and 12 leaders) that in India also a camp atmosphere is the ideal situation to help young girls grow in their Christian life and come to give themselves to Christ. It also proved excellent training ground for leadership.

This year I am happy to have Mrs. Mangal Singh on tour with me. She is a nurse and handles all the medical work on tour, and each evening she gives health teaching. She is very keen about it and I am sure the result will be healthier villages. We also take out powdered milk, given us by Church World Service, and anyone who wants it, as well as the patients, may have a glass of hot milk. They love it!

Settling In

During my happy busy furlough I enjoyed, among many other worthwhile things, a short course of study under Agricultural Missions, at Cornell and Washington, D.C., which helped to prepare me for my new appointment to the very rural station of Sitamau, which is a great contrast to the noisy bustling centre of Ratlam. I reached Sitamau on October 20th, after an interesting and rather strenuous trip via Britain, in company with several younger colleagues, mostly new recruits. Action and variety were achieved again in the journey by many new and happy experiences in a country still enjoying the Coronation, as well as in sight-seeing in Gibraltar, Egypt and Aden. Even my exploit of accompanying a jeep from Montreal to Bombay on behalf of our good friends, the members of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission, though it gave me a little trouble on arrival, yet added considerably to the interest of the trip.

— After being heartily welcomed by the friends at Sitamau, I was off to attend the annual meeting of Mission Council, where old friends and new were present; then it was back to work again, and a period of getting settled in preparation for work. It is a joy to be with Miss Drummond in her last few months in India, and to learn from her much of the needs, problems and encouraging features of Sitamau and district. The three weeks of touring which I did with the Indian workers were delightful, and I feel that I made a good beginning in the task of fitting in to this situation. The year closed with a lovely Christmas season, when our happiness was increased by the presence of our new young doctor, Dr. Helen Huston, who travelled all the way from Allahabad to be with us. As the years pass and we see so many of the older workers slipping away, it is most uplifting to see the fine young people who are coming in greater numbers than before; and best of all is it to be reminded, in our New Year service, that God, Who was truly "our help in ages past", will also be "our hope for years to come."

FROM MISS DOROTHY H. KILPATRICK

Missionary,

Reviewing the Indian Situation

This is a brief review of our Indian situation as I see it in the villages, rather than an annual report of work accomplished.

First, I have noticed that, in spite of much liberal legislation, there is continued and sometimes vehement opposition to the spread of Christianity. Questions as to the number and names of new Christians are repeatedly asked. Persecution of them takes the form of unjust accusations, damage to crops, or loss of fields, etc. I have decided that there is only one possible and adequate answer to all this; it is simply more selfless service. I have quoted before the reply of a young couple who came for baptism from a village where there was such opposition. We asked, "Why do you still wish to become Christian?" The little woman answered for both, "Because we have seen Love."

Some day all India will understand; for Love will find out the way.

Next, I have observed with interest the drive by Government and by Hindu religionists to better the lot of the Harijan, or depressed classes. This is all to the good, but sometimes zeal takes the form of trying to win back to Hinduism those Christians who came originally from these classes. To this end scholarships are freely given and hostel accommodation arranged for any who will declare themselves Harijan still. This no true Christian will do, yet one can understand the temptation to the very poor. I am hoping that in the very near future we may have small hostels for our village Christian boys in every large village or town in our area where education beyond the primary grade is offered. The boys would receive Christian instruction and training in the hostel and attend day school with the rest of young India.

Thirdly, I notice in our own Christian community a steady advance in initiative and the assuming of responsibility. This shows itself in such small incidents as the arranging by the women themselves for the "Station Classes" formerly organized by the W.M.S. missionary. This year in Ujjain they chose the speaker, Mrs. K. Y. Masih, did all the correspondence, made all arrangements for time and place of meetings, and paid all expenses of speaker (which she most graciously returned.) Again our village leaders of the Agar area took a step forward, for they themselves proposed and carried out a new Christmas procedure. Instead of a large gathering in one place, there were at least five "programs" to which we were invited by the Christian communities, and there must have been scores of smaller celebrations in which we could not join, as our field is a wide one and roads are problematic. There was general satisfaction with the new plan. "You see," they explained, "we had to let our neighbors know what Christmas really means."

I must not forget to mention the continued delight of seeing more and more children in school and young folk in college. Now in every village with a population of 400-500, the government arranges for a primary school. Adult education is going on quietly and steadily. Nothing brings such a sparkle to the eye of an adult as the joy of first reading. A new understanding comes to the mind; a new world opens.

Just now a delegation is on its way to evaluate the medical work of the Mission. It is a good sign, is it not, that we are willing to look at our own bit of work through other eyes? We shall welcome new ideas, interchange of visitors, and larger cooperation in united projects. I hope they will see the usual variety of interesting patients we have at the village clinic in the Agar area. Our last clinic had among others these; a young man whose eye had been pierced by a grain stalk—sight gone; a lad with gangrene of the foot, in agony; whooping cough among the adults; malaria in severe form, and always the undernourished babies. Will the delegation help us?

Missionary Doctor,
Banswara

The Work is Flourishing

The "Baby Bear"—our name for the Land Rover Station Wagon—has done faithful service for another year and has now gone well over 20,000 miles. We still find it most satisfactory for our roads. It has brought many a very ill patient to the hospital and also has helped to take much improved patients back to their home.

I have not been able to do as much village work this year as I would like. Dr. Naku has been away on study leave in Madras ever since the first of July and Dr. Noah who has been with me and who was one of our scholarship students, graduated in July, so has had very little practice.

I went away for a few days in December to a Nurses' Examining Board meeting, and of course while I was away many strange and serious cases came in, and they were all so busy they hardly knew what to do. I was only back long enough to get a few bites of food when I went to the operating room and was fast at work. I am trying to give Dr. Noah the very best foundation on which to build a good professional career so that the Mission hospitals may never be ashamed of the work done and will always have efficient staff.

Our students still continue to be our "cause for living," our problems, our trials, and our joy, when accomplishment is shown and advance is evident. We try to set high standards for them and hope that they will come up to perfection and so necessarily are often disappointed. But there must always be advance and so nurses and obstetrical nurses and compounders come and study and graduate and go out into the world to be an influence for good or for evil where they choose to work. Money is a temptation to many and state hospitals pay more. We try to instill by teaching and example the very high ideals expected in a Christian representative of the Master wherever he or she may be.

You may have heard before our cry, "Two nursing sisters for each Training School." Believe it or not, we are having them for a few months! Muriel Bamford came here after Council just having returned from home, and Dorothy MacIntyre does not leave for furlough till April. Aren't we looking up? We hope in the not too distant future we may have two permanently.

In the meantime the work is flourishing. There is enough for two. The classes of course continue in full swing. What I needed last year most was a blood bank. There were so many anaemias. They have not got to the place yet where they will give blood to anyone. Sometimes the students are ready to give blood for pocket money for their allowance is very small. Those patients who can will pay for blood.

Many of our treatments are given to those who cannot afford to pay at all, and it is a thrill when that happens for me to say, "Don't worry about that. A friend of mine has given me some money which will pay this for you. When you get better and have some money it would be nice if you would put some in the Box for the Poor." They have not yet learned to do this, as they have not learned to give blood for another, but we always hope they will learn to follow Jesus' teaching in this as in all their living.

Indian Colleagues

"The world is one; we cannot live apart. To earth's remotest races we are kin." What but the love of Jesus Christ could build a roof under whose shelter Hindu and Moslem, Sikh and Christian, Bhil and Bohra, and the lowly sweeper receive tender care, a kindly welcome, rest and the benefits provided by the research work of the keenest minds in the realm of science! Yes, all these different people you would find today among the 75 patients in our little hospital here in the jungle.

I want to tell you about some of the people with whom I work. I must truly say that without the help of these faithful Indian colleagues the work of the hospital could never be carried on. First there is my assistant, Miss Nath, who received her training at our hospital in Indore and her post graduate training at the school at Bilaspur. She has been here about 8 years and is a valuable member of the Christian community, the church and the Sunday School. Miss Nath not only teaches in the Training School and does almost all the anaesthesia, but also supervises management of the nurses' residence, the latter in itself a big job.

Then there is Mr. Joseph Moses who has been with the hospital for many years. He does some male nursing, all the buying of food stuffs for the nurses' mess, buys the hospital supplies which are available in Banswara, and chaperones the students when it is necessary for them to travel. He is a jolly, smiling, kindly, portly man who is genuinely interested in our hospital and training school.

The junior staff nurses are a group without which we could not get along in our daily routine work. They are all short and very young. They have to keep a watchful eye on the students, seeing that they do the treatments correctly, give the medications on time, prepare the trays properly for dressings and keep the necessary articles ready for the doctors. We have an interesting non-Christian on our staff, an orderly named Hamira. He is a sturdy happy young man with a wife and family of four. Although a non-Christian, Hamira attends church now and then, sends his children to our Mission school and does his work with a real Christian spirit. Anyone meeting him would know that he had come under the influence of Christianity. He, like many others who are seekers, would lose his share of the family property if he became Christian. He understands much about Christianity and often talks with the nurses about our religion.

One of the chief reasons for the existence of our hospital is the training of Christian nurses. They are so sadly needed in India today. Did you know that there are just a few thousand nurses in all India where the population runs to hundreds of millions? Isn't it wonderful that the great majority of the nurses in India are Christian? The student nurses are a big worry in this country. Indian girls are so carefully watched in their own homes, so we, too, must take good care of them. They seem so young in comparison with Canadian girls. That may be natural because in Canada a girl must have two more years of school than the Indian girl before she may enter the Training School for Nurses. Some of ours come from poor homes, others from quite ordinary ones and still others from homes that know little affection and kindness. They are usually well-mannered happy girls who want to do the best they can in their chosen profession.

How Little We Have!

"Never was so much done for so many with so little" is our re-wording of Sir Winston Churchill's famous remark, as I go about my work in Banswara Mission Hospital after three and a half years in Canada, when I studied at the University of Toronto School of Nursing and worked for over a year in a small modern hospital near my own home. How much they have! How little we have! How much we all do!

I find myself very frequently shocked and discouraged by the state of the equipment here. I have to keep reminding myself that in these famine years much of both the doctor's and nurse's money went to pay for medicines, clothing or food for those who had no money to pay. The much less important item of repairing or replacing equipment, to say nothing of buying anything new, had to be pushed aside.

I stand watching an operation in fear lest an important instrument should fall to the floor and the doctor be left to improvise until it can be boiled again. We have very few instruments and they have almost no chrome left on them from much boiling. I have it in mind to use boiled wooden spring clothes pins for dressing trays on the wards while some forceps are being repaired and replated.

The contrast between the care of wee premature babies in Canada and India is great. It is true that we could not use an electric incubator if we had one, since we have electricity only in the day time, still I think we must do something more than a basket with hot water bottles. It is very cold here these days.

This hospital is able to accommodate 85 patients in beds and cots, but what beds! They are all shapes and sizes, lengths and widths. Many of them were from army surplus and our staff have been happy to have any bed of sorts to give the sick rather than having them lying on the cold stone floor.

Recently I read an article in the American Journal of Nursing and smiled at how modern we are. The article was urging the hospital administrators to beautify the patients' rooms, making them more homelike. We too have recognized the psychological aspect is important to the recovery of the patient, and have attempted to make the atmosphere more homelike for them. Some "Topri wards" have been built like their village homes, of bamboo poles and plastered with a mixture of mud and cow dung, with a roof of tiles and floor of earth, with their beds of rope laced to a wooden frame. The villagers prefer these wards and ask for them. We hope to teach by example how to keep their own homes clean and in repair.

Training for the Villages

Of the seven main hospitals in our Central India Mission, three have training schools for nurses and do very good work. But they have to conform to certain regulations of the Indian Nursing Council on matters such as entrance qualifications, so as to have government recognition. Government is trying to raise the standard of nursing education in India, which means that entrance qualifications are also being raised.

Many of our Christian girls in this area are at present not able to come up to this raised standard for entrance and so cannot take the nurses' training, which in this country includes midwifery. Moreover trained nurses of this higher standard often are not satisfied to settle down in the villages where they are most needed.

In the last few years, we in this hospital have been trying in a very, very modest way to help fill this gap between the well qualified nurse and the needy women of the villages, by giving training in midwifery, first aid and home nursing to some Christian girls who are not able to meet the entrance requirements for the nurses' training school. Last year two girls took the examination in first aid and home nursing and three girls took midwifery examinations. This year five girls are under training to take the midwifery examinations, on passing which they will receive a Red Cross Midwifery Certificate. They will then be infinitely better qualified than the ignorant village midwives. We hope also they will be Christian witnesses in the villages where they settle down with their husbands—for eventually they will all marry, that being the Indian custom.

Missionary Nurse,

For the first time in several years we have had less than 2,000 in-patients. The chief reason seems to be that people are trying to depend more on their own medical practitioners for ordinary diseases, which admittedly, can often be treated quite successfully with modern antibiotics and a few much loved injections, in the hands of even quite unqualified medical persons. The need in the village however continues to be as great as ever and we are happy to have more time to develop our village dispensary work, and also to put greater emphasis on our Public Health program. Dr. Catherine Whittier has continued her regular visits from Indore once a month, as doctor in charge and adviser in all medical matters. Dr. G. Samuel who has been with us for two years left to return to her own people in South India, and her successor is Dr. Naomi Mohan, a girl from our own Mission, who is doing very good work here. I knew her as a baby when I was in Banswara, where her father was a catechist in those early days and her mother was one of my first nurses in the hospital there. Now Mrs. Mohan lives with her daughter, and also acts as house mother for our little group of nurses in the residence which is a very happy arrangement.

Star Patient

Our star patient is a beautiful baby boy named Besant, now nearly a year old. He was five days old when his relatives brought him from a village twelve miles away, imploring us to take him. They had tried to bring the mother but she had collapsed and died before they could get her on to the bullock cart which they had secured to bring her in to hospital. They were so pathetic in their grief and poverty. Poor wee Besant had a hard pull, and when I left for my holidays in the summer I wondered if he could possibly live through the terrific heat. But he is beautiful now, and we are having to restrict his milk and porridge because he is too fat! He goes to the nurses' dining room now at noon and is learning to eat chapattis and hot curry instead. He is a darling and is being supported by a friend in Canada.

The nurses have been happy and in good health all year. Three of them are studying in their spare time to improve their educational standing; one will appear for matriculation in the spring and one next year, while the third is a little nurse aide who is trying to get the qualification needed to take the full nurse's course—so they are busy!

Towards the close of the year Miss Vera Boyd arrived. She is to take my place when I go home on furlough in the spring and meantime we are both here for these few months. We are getting many matters attended to in the hospital which have been neglected for a long time, and it was wonderful to have another colleague to share in all the activities of the Christmas program among the nurses and in the community at large. Miss Boyd brought with her, among other things, a radio and a washing machine—it is a hand machine, of course, but wonderfully helpful nevertheless. Miss Boyd is busy now organizing the nurses' examinations for the whole of our Mid-India area, and I have been appointed to help with the reviewing of a Hindi text book on midwifery. Miss Boyd was also appointed to succeed me as Secretary of Medical Commission and locally as Treasurer of the church, so I shall be gradually handing over all my responsibilities to her in preparation for leaving on furlough. How I wish we could secure a new engine before I leave. We need it so badly to give an adequate supply of light and water.

Forward Steps

The year 1953 is a memorable one in the history of our hospital. Not only did we finally move into the new hospital building in June but we also started admitting male patients, a bold step for a hospital such as ours which has been known for so many years as strictly zenana. This means that our nurses get general training so they will not need to be sent elsewhere for their experience in nursing male patients.

Dr. A. J. Powar, a graduate of Miraj Medical College, came to work with us in July. He has had excellent experience in T.B. work, both in Miraj and in Madar and this is a real help to us for tuberculosis seems to be increasing rapidly and is such a problem to us. Our quota of four in Madar is maintained and we have so many other cases needing hospitalization in our Christian community that we are seriously considering putting up some special T.B. wards, erecting them from some donation money on hand. Dr. Powar also runs our new ultraviolet and infra-red machine. We have had another valuable addition to our staff this year, Dr. Nalini Tatke, who came to us in February. She is an M.B.B.S. and has her degree in obstetrics and gynaecology from Madras also. Dr. Rangan continues to give her service for a couple of hours each morning, although she has an office of her own now. Dr. Moses continues to be of invaluable assistance in so many ways, as teacher, guide, philosopher and friend. She has passed through deep waters this year in the loss of her little son and baby girl within a week of each other, but she is bravely carrying on doing full time work. Our laboratory technician, Rosie Samuel, left in July to start her Inter Science course in the Isabella Thoburn College in Lucknow, preparatory to taking medicine. She is enjoying her work and doing well in it. We also have two other young candidates who are preparing for their medical course, so after a few years we will be having some women doctors to help in our various hospitals. Rosie's place in the lab has been taken by two recent graduates and they have had a busy year, averaging over 1,000 examinations a month.

Another forward step has been the appointing of an Advisory Board for the hospital. We are finding their interest and advice helpful already and we hope to have such Boards working for all our hospitals before long.

Our Mid-India Board meetings were held in Ratlam this year, so we were able to send more of our staff and students to attend the sessions. Pediatrics and midwifery and compounding texts were special needs this year and committees were appointed to deal with these urgent needs. The post graduate courses in Ward Administration and Public Health are being carried on in the Disciples Mission Hospital, Bilaspur, with Miss Louise Scott of our Mission helping in the Public Health course. This is one of the very fine bits of cooperative work that is going on in the Mid-India area.

Our building program is still proceeding. At present the additions to the nurses' home are under way and eventually we will have a building adequate to our needs. With the enlargement of the Nurses' Home also comes the additional verandah space on the west of our living quarters. This will protect us from rain and sun and should make our rooms much more liveable. The new hospital is a grand place to work. The inner court yards make fine places for flannelgraph lectures or the Christmas drama, for not only can the people sit on the ground and watch but they line the upper verandahs looking down on the scene below.

All our activity since October seems to have been overshadowed by Dr. Grant's passing. We all miss him in so many ways: the poor he used to help; those who had difficulties and turned to him; those who just sought his friendship. The Church is missing his guidance—all good causes miss him. May we follow in his trail.

Into the New Hospital!

What a significant year this has been for Indore Hospital! After many years of planning the long-hoped-for hospital was at last ready for occupancy in June and with great excitement we plunged into the moving of patients and equipment. It was a day we will never forget—rush of getting settled before dark; disorganization of entirely new surroundings; mental and physical fatigue of such a strenuous day; but in the midst of all the problems, patients, relatives and staff were good-natured and filled with delight that at last we had really arrived.

We have tried to make the new clean airy surroundings attractive with bright curtains and large pictures. One group sent us a roll of seventeen very large pictures of "The Life of Christ," which we had framed using a donation of money sent to Dr. Whittier. They make the wards so attractive and they are so useful in teaching patients the stories of Jesus. A great deal of our work is teaching, for consciously or unconsciously we are teaching 24 hours a day, not only formal ward and classroom training of student nurses, midwives and compounders, but also teaching patients and their relatives habits of cleanliness, nutrition, need to come for medical advice early, prevention of disease, care of infants and children, etc. It is difficult for us to evaluate our evangelistic work because patients are usually in hospital for a comparatively short time, but they do have an opportunity to hear of our glorious faith. All patients and relatives who come for examination or admission are taught while waiting their turn in the Reception Room. Short services are held in the corridors or courtyards each afternoon and many of the patients look forward to the arrival of our Bible-women.

Our nursing staff includes two Canadian nurses, five senior staff nurses, and two other graduate nurses. There are forty students taking training, namely, fourteen midwives, twenty-three nurses, and three compounders. Miss Bevan who had been Nursing Superintendent, left for England in April. We are happy that many in Canada will have the privilege of meeting and chatting with her when she visits Canada this year.

Within the Family

Included in our hospital family are five elderly women who for many years were connected with some part of the hospital or Church work, and now they are retired and living in a little house near the hospital. Three of them are blind, but it is a real joy to visit them for in spite of their handicaps and very limited means they are filled with thankfulness for the many blessings and kindnesses which they feel are showered on them. They receive food from the hospital but help to keep their house clean and they even have a garden. They are never happier than when singing together (each in her own key) the Hindustani hymns of praise.

One of our favorite patients is William, a lad whose T.B. hip necessitated his remaining in hospital for over a year. You will be meeting William in the pictures taken by Mr. Moorhouse for use in Canadian churches. William can usually be found lying on the stretcher (for he must wear a large cast) which he has learned to propel around the corridors. Since Christmas morning his brilliant smile is even brighter for he now has a mouth organ and a xylophone with which he makes music all the day long. You may have heard, too, of Baby Grace, who arrived nearly a year ago, weighing two pounds and a few ounces. She has had to remain in hospital for her mother has tuberculosis and can not care for her. She is the darling of the hospital staff, but she is not spoiled. The Sunday after Christmas was her first real outing when she was taken to her home ten miles away for the baptismal service. Her name is now Esther Vijai Kumari. Her own brothers and sisters stood like a guard of honour as she arrived home. When we returned from the church she was seated like a little queen in the middle of a large bed while all the family and friends paid homage. It seemed a shame to have to take her away from her loving family but what a joy to know that when her mother is well again they will be re-united in a fine Christian home.

Answering Calls for Help

It has been a haven to many sufferers during the year—this small maternity centre of ours. We are in a rural district where village people know little of being on time or coming at certain hours, so at all times during the day or night Grace Nurse is always willing and ready to answer calls for help. There have been so many sick babies brought to us. Representatives from two villages of Koel and Bapiya have much faith in Grace Bai, and whenever their children become ill they bring them along, prepared to stay till they are well on the way to health again. We became much attached to little Rattan, the only child of loving parents. He had been here three times and was brought again in August suffering from dysentery. We tried all the remedies we knew to help him and finally sent them to the hospital in Ratlam, but wee. Rattan slipped away to be at rest. The parents were grateful for what we had done for their baby and we shall not forget their devotion and love.

Another interesting case was that of a Hindu mother who came to us for her confinement. Her babies usually died and she thought perhaps we could do something to get her a living baby. A beautiful boy came to brighten their home. The nurse taught her how to care for him and she returns regularly to let us see how he is getting along. We plan to watch that baby, for he is such a pet.

We get such a number of pneumonia cases. Penicillin and sulpham are certainly wonder drugs. Then we also get such a lot of rickety babies who are two years old and have not been weaned. Grace knows how to struggle with these little fighters to get them to drink milk.

Mothers come regularly for milk, pabulum, and wheat germ until the little ones can go on to a solid diet.

I must tell you something of the hospital and dispensary whose estimate I administer. There is the dispensary and five wards. The staff are Kharua-ites; Dilawar Masih was trained as a compounder under Dr. Willford Russell, and has had years of experience and a flare for medicine. He diagnoses the cases and John Manohar makes up the medicines. Dhanna Rama, one of our village boys, does the dressings. Difficult cases are sent on to Ratlam Hospital. Sometimes they are treated there and other times they are returned with a course of treatment outlined. The records show that there were 140 in-patients during 1953 and over 12,000 treatments. The hospital stands by the side of the road, always ready to help and is a witness to the healing hand and love of Christ.

FROM MRS. A. RUSSELL GRAHAM

Missionary Nurse, Mandleshwar

An Ideal Little Hospital

This year's report is a much more cheerful one for it tells of progress in 1953. The two compounders with their families are now living in their nice new houses and are very grateful. In the place where their old rooms stand we have now a new line of rooms for surgical and obstetrical patients. These rooms are not yet finished but are already occupied because we had more patients than we had accommodation for.

The old ward which was so dreary has been divided into two case rooms where the babies will be born, a nurses' work room and a service room, which will be very nice and convenient. Indeed the whole reconstruction with the two flanking lines of wards gives us an ideal little hospital which will be easy to work in.

We have much cause for rejoicing, too, because we have just had electric lights put into the operating room, case rooms, dressing rooms, service room and also the charting room where the medicines are dispensed. Some day we hope to have municipal lighting, then our whole hospital may have it all the time, instead of from six p.m. till eleven p.m. as it is now. But we are thankful for what we have. Another cause for rejoicing—we have just had water pipes put in and now have running water in all the rooms where it is needed, and not only water coming in but drain pipes running out as well. Then, too, I will soon have an office of my own, with a desk and chair and a store room for supplies. It will be wonderful to see the end of the building and settle down to routine hospital work and have more time to spend with nurses and patients. Another nice bit of news is that today we got our new sterilizer from Bombay and it will be such an asset to our work.

1953 will be remembered in this district as a year of hunger nigh to famine. The monsoon failed in the summer of 1952, so there was very little crop. A crop failure affects not only the farmer and the farm laborer, but the merchants and the artisans as well. No one had work, so no one could buy. We had many patients who were just sick from hunger, or from eating coarse food not meant for humans. We were so grateful for the powdered milk sent from Canada and for the multivita tablets and all-purpose foods. I wish you could see the milk being given out. We have made drinking glasses out of empty tin cans, holding eight ounces each. The children line up, littlest ones first, have their glasses filled with steaming hot milk (the way they like it) from a big white enamel jug, then they go off and sit in the sun while they drink it. The air is quite chilly on a January morning, so you can imagine how good the cup of hot milk is!

We have recently been visited by the Surgeon-in-Chief who is inspector of all government hospitals in the southern portion of Madhya Bharat. He is a renowned eye surgeon and with him he brought the doctor from the little local hospital. When he came I told him I was quite ashamed because our hospital was under construction and patients were being accommodated in rooms which were not finished, etc. He made rounds with us and was so high in praise of our work that I felt embarrassed.

He said to the local doctor: "Look at this hospital. Patients in clean beds, dressed in clean garments looking as if they were being cared for. Look at these nurses going about their work, and note how things are done. Why are our state hospitals not like this one? We have lots of money, what makes the difference?"

Then answering his own question, he said: "We change doctors every three years on the promotion scheme, and our doctors never take root. They are always looking forward to the next job. These people are here for life, and they give their lives to the people they have come to know. What we need is the missionary spirit!"

FROM DR. S. GAIKWAD

Hospital Doctor, Mandleshwar

Better Equipped to Meet Rural Needs

This has been a year of thanksgiving because of good monsoon rains and consequently of good crops, following a year of drought and famine. When school re-opened in July after two months holiday we found on medical examination that almost all of the children returning to school had a haemoglobin of around fifty per cent, a few even lower, but all improved before long with the administration of Canadian powdered milk and vitamin tablets. When the monsoon rains came, the first food stuff available to many poor people was the cucumber and melon crop, not good food for people who had been half starved for over a year, so the hospital was filled with patients suffering from acute indigestion, diarrhoea and dysentery. Then came a scourge of cholera, and at the first approach of cholera we did mass inoculations of the people of our community, the children in the school, and hostel as well as our staff. Fortunately, we had no cases of the dread disease. Some died in the surrounding villages and some were treated in the hospital, but cholera is sudden and swift and few overtaken by it ever reach the hospital.

One little girl of three years was brought in by a relative who said that while they were at the burning ghat disposing of the father's body, the mother had died at home. Manorama and her small brother were left with us, but the brother was very ill and died a few days after admission, leaving the wee girlie alone. When she got well, she with four others were taken to Neemuch, 200 miles away, to the Babies' Home, where she is living happily as a member of that little family.

Almost every week we have to turn away people who have T.B. because we have no place where we can isolate them or treat them efficiently. The new wing to the hospital will soon be finished and, though unfinished, we have been forced to move into it, because of lack of accommodation. We have only yesterday moved our case room from the small dark room in the out-patient building to the new large bright room in the re-constructed part. Our next operation will be performed in the enlarged, bright operating room, and for the first time in all these years we have running water in the operating room, case rooms, dressing room and service rooms. This is a great improvement on the old way of having some one pour water from a jug as we scrubbed our hands before operating!!

With better equipment and better accommodation now on hand we hope to more adequately meet the needs of the people of this village. This is a rural hospital and is in the midst of a poor and needy district. We have just heard of one woman who was a patient last year, who became interested in the Gospel story here and was baptized last week. She is a widow, and she and her two sons have become Christians as well as her brother-in-law and his family. The Good News is given daily at the hospital, and our Sunday evening service is attended by all relatives of patients and by any patients who are not too ill to come. How we would like to have a little chapel where we could meet in a more worshipful atmosphere to tell the Gospel story of Love.

Towards Better Public Health

A call came from a village beyond the hills that lie towards the north of Neemuch. It was evening and the roads and distance to this village were unpredictable, but the Public Health motor, "Suswasthya Shobha" (Health and Beauty) carried us over the difficult parts of the road with a minimum of discomfort. On our arrival in the village we found the patient required surgical treatment that we could not give in the village home. However, the young woman and her relatives were all willing to go to the hospital, and so we made our way to the "Health and Beauty" car and once more travelled the hilly road. We returned more quickly than we had gone for the driver was more familiar with the ruts that needed to be avoided, and a guide came with us all the way. After we reached the hospital, about midnight, it was not long before we were busy with the patient, and by morning she was resting very comfortably and the relatives were all so grateful.

In the program of Public Health such visits in answer to calls, have been my privilege when I have been in Neemuch for a little while, and some roadside clinics have been attempted, in two villages particularly with moderate success.

In Bamnia, thirty miles from Ratlam, the Health Centre was begun in August, 1953. Nurani Bai is a nurse aide, the wife of the village teacher there and is keenly interested in the work that we have asked her to do there. She visits the surrounding villages in the mornings and holds a clinic in the afternoons. The contacts she makes are many, and her treatment of minor ailments, dispensing of medicines usually in tablet form for fevers, coughs, colds have had satisfactory results. Part of her program is teaching and she uses posters and pictures and demonstrations. It is a very slow task, and one that requires infinite patience along with determined and persistent zeal. During the time that Nurani has been in Bamnia seeds of health teaching have been planted in over 600 minds as she has visited the villages, and an average of seventy-five persons per month have received some sort of treatment at the clinic. We are rejoicing in the fact that in 1954 Parlia Health Centre will also begin to function with a competent staff in charge.

The work of our young Indian nurses has always been one of deep interest with me, and since I have been Secretary of the Mid-India Board of Examiners I have had this interest stimulated. In November we had the annual meeting of the Board following the Nurses Auxiliary of the Mid-India area. It was held in Ratlam this year and at the conference we were able to bring a little bit of health education into the program when we had some of the Neemuch school children present a short health drama, suggesting how health education might be done in schools. The children were thrilled to take part. As one reviews the "days before yesterday" in relation to the program of Public Health, even if the progress has been slow, yet one is filled with gratitude to God for His continued guidance as we go forward into another year.

New Arrivals for the Babies' Home

The Babies' Home census is the same as it was at the beginning of 1953, but there has been a lot of coming and going. Our most exciting day occurred in August when Mrs. Graham and Miss Mewhort arrived from Mandleshwar bringing five children with them. They had announced their arrival by telegram, but the terseness of wired information does not permit too much detail and not knowing the age of the newcomers, we prepared the wrong assortment of beds. We prepared for two infants and three toddlers; four infants and one toddler arrived. All five children, none of them related, were cholera orphans, bereft of both parents in a matter of hours by this dread disease. Two of them were very ill and there immediately began a fight for life. The older child responded to our treatment and is now doing nicely; the other wee mite nineteen days old and under four pounds in weight, slipped away from us. The other children are developing satisfactorily and are a real source of joy to the hospital staff as well as to the staff of the Babies' Home. Their quarters are crowded and frequently one of the creepers wanders into forbidden hospital territory but on the whole we manage fairly well. However, we are all looking forward to the day when our hopes of a new Babies' Home will be a reality.

In the Sunday School

In July I acquired a new responsibility, something I had never done before, I became Sunday School Superintendent. I was full of apprehensions and misgivings as I undertook the task, but now I find myself liking it. Ours is not a large Sunday School, we have an average attendance of fifty-five divided into six classes. We regretfully acknowledge that all our Christian children do not attend Sunday School, but we are doing all we can to attract them and then to hold them. We have a lovely red wooden shield which is awarded each Sunday to the class with the best attendance. Last Sunday it had to be shared with three classes, all with perfect attendance. On Christmas Sunday we put a Christmas card—a used one—inside each "Jyoti Kiran" (the little paper they receive) and their delight knew no bounds. At least half of them had to show me his or her card before we could begin our closing exercises.

Between Christmas and New Year's, the Church held another week of special festivities. Each organization was responsible for one evening's program and each did its best to retell the ever-wondrous story of the birth of Love. As Sunday School superintendent, I was especially proud of a little mite of six who recited Luke's story of the shepherds in a ringing voice that carried to the farthest corner of the long school verandah where the programs were held. Our Neemuch congregation is a small one but it is growing, and we press on, soliciting your prayers on our behalf.

During the year the hospital has continued in a more or less uneventful way. We are proud of our births record, for we helped to usher ninety-eight babies into the world, a very large number considering the size of the hospital.

Our Training School—A Dialogue

(We listen in as these two nurses discuss their work and their problems.)

Johnnie: Let's talk about our school. Of course most people know that Ratlam is a training school for nurses. What do you feel were some of the most important happenings in 1953?

Frances: One of the most important, I think, was the gift received from UNICEF of training school equipment. Say, do you remember the day you and I sat down in Ward No. 23 and opened all those parcels, and how excited you were when you saw that life-sized doll to which you could give hypos and all sorts of treatments?

Johnnie: Yes, these anatomy charts and models are wonderful, and help so much in the teaching, don't they?

Frances: It certainly makes a difference not having to run all over the hospital for equipment needed in teaching a procedure. I do feel that it is important to give our nurses the very best available in the classroom, even if we cannot provide it on the wards. If they start with the best then they will not be satisfied with second best.

Johnnie: Perhaps we ought to say something about our C.P.T.S. this year.

Frances: Central Preliminary Training School is the only one of its kind in India. All the new students for our three training schools--Banswara, Indore, Ratlam--come to one central place for intensive training.

Johnnie: This is the fourth year for such a school. What benefit has this type of school for the individual student?

Frances: For one thing competition is keener. I think they study harder. I also hear the students say that when they leave one hospital and go to another they do not feel that they are complete strangers because their former classmates are there. Also in the extra-curricular activities they develop more outside interest and a broader outlook--for example, the organized recreation periods. Our handwork class this year was a great success under the guidance of Mrs. Clark.

Johnnie: What do you feel is the greatest contribution these new nurses make to the life of the Church?

Frances: I think the leadership they give in singing is important. When they first come in training they join the choir and there are always some excellent voices to be found among the new ones and they all improve with training. We have had three choir concerts this year, and added about Rupees 350 to our organ fund.

Johnnie: Then there is Miss Ventham's Bible Class that is held every Sunday evening for all the nurses, which the girls find interesting and helpful.

Frances: It is wonderful to see these nurses develop. When they come to us they are so immature, and before you know it, they are taking responsibility, accepting leadership and are ready to graduate.

Johnnie: I was thinking that as I watched them graduate in June. It was an impressive ceremony, and was meaningful not only to those graduating but also for the senior nurses and guests as well.

Frances: Another important event was the Nurses Auxiliary Conference which was held in Ratlam. There were over eighty delegates there from all over the Mid-India area. Our guest speaker was Dr.

Edith Buchanan, from the College of Nursing in Delhi. There were four days of very interesting lectures and business meetings, and on the whole it was a great success, due largely to the fine planning of details by the nurses beforehand.

Johannie: This really is a good centre for training nurses. We can give them various types of experience since we get all kinds of illnesses and diseases.

Frances: Yes, and we have had so many vitamin deficiencies this year too, it has been good experience for our nurses. I feel so sorry for the people who come from the famine areas. It has been wonderful to have the help from Church World Service, in the form of barrels of powdered milk, egg powder, boxes of vitamin food, pills and wheat.

Johannie: But I do wish people would come to us sooner. So often they come when there is no hope of saving them, especially small children with pneumonia. It is such a waste of life.

Frances: That is why we must think of a wider Public Health program. We need to teach people first of all to prevent disease, and then to have faith in us and come to us quickly when they are ill. Now we must go and make our evening rounds.

FROM MISS DULCIE I. E. VENTHAM

Missionary, Ratlam

1953 was my first full time year as business manager of the hospital and I have learned a great deal this year and have made a few changes.

One of the highlights of the year was a visit to the mission of the Canadian High Commissioner from Delhi. Mr. and Mrs. Reid were very interested in conditions in this part of India, particularly in the Bhils, and while they were here they went to a Bhil village, and were so interested that Mr. Clark had difficulty in getting them back in time for lunch. We are fortunate in having men of such calibre representing Canada in other countries.

A Village Service

During 1953 the National Christian Council organized a survey of the work in the Bhil area, and as we are one of the missions working with the Bhils, they came to us. So one Sunday I had the pleasure of accompanying the representatives from the National Christian Council and our own evangelists, Mr. Clark and Miss Thornber, to a Bhil village about 20 miles from Ratlam. We left Ratlam at twelve o'clock and arrived about three p.m., which gives you some idea of the type of roads we travelled—twenty miles in three hours! After we arrived we had a little service right outside under a huge mango tree. The men sat in a group on straw mats on one side, and the women in a group on straw mats on the other side. Around the outside were some little goats quite quiet and interested in what was going on. Occasionally a cow would stroll by. The present lay reader is a good singer, which helps in his leadership. This village has been influenced by a revival movement about fifteen years ago but has not been so active the last few years. The lay reader lives ten miles away and has a large area to cover.

One of the unique features of Christmas this year was that Santa Claus arrived by camel. Every year we have a Christmas tree for the children and they receive a gift and some candy. This year we decided to have our tree two days before Christmas, and we decorated with paper flowers an ordinary tree in the church compound. Here and there we tied toys on the branches. Suddenly there was a rush of little children across the lawn in the direction of Dr. Clark's house, and there was Santa. He was dressed up in his bright red suit with white hair and whiskers, and he was riding on top of a tall camel. That was fun. He came in through the church gate and gave presents to everyone. What a memorable Christmas Day that was!

A Chapter on Japan

THE FOREWORD

The United Church of Christ in Japan reports a 10 per cent increase in membership last year. They are in the midst of an aggressive evangelistic campaign leading up to 1959, the centenary of the arrival of the first Protestant missionaries. New pioneer evangelism centres are being established at strategic places. Only 17 per cent of the Church funds come from abroad. These are used for evangelism, for central expenses and for church reconstruction.

The Christian Educational Association of Japan reports there were 194 Christian schools in Japan with 114,000 students. All the schools are filled to capacity. During my visit to Japan as I saw the work being done in the schools I visited, I was convinced that these schools provide an effective place for evangelism. Everywhere I went I was told that the Church members had almost all come through the Christian schools, and while there are still many difficulties both from an educational and administrative point of view, still the fact remains that here is a real opportunity for Christian witness among these thousands of students and for an influence on their lives which will bear real fruit in the future.

FROM MISS F. GERTRUDE HAMILTON

W.M.S. Corresponding Secretary and Representative on I.B.C., Tokyo, Japan

Going Forward Together

On a busy corner of Ginza (one of Tokyo's busiest streets) stands the Christian Literature Building of which the 7th, 8th and 9th floors are known as "The Christian Centre". Here are the offices of the Church of Christ in Japan (KYODAN); the National Christian Council (NBC); and the Interboard Committee for Christian Work in Japan (IBC), and here many Church leaders and missionaries spend a great deal of their time in office and committee work. The Kyodan claims over one-half the Protestant Christians in this country, and far outnumbers any of the other more than 50 denominations. Its churches number 1,461 with a membership of 136,452. It has 60 social service centres. Like all united movements it was achieved in spite of grave difficulties and strong opposition; and is advancing under fire of much ungrounded criticism.

The Interboard Committee for Christian Work (IBC) was set up in New York very soon after the end of World War II, when eight Mission Boards which had been in the field before the war, decided to work unitedly thereafter. The head office of this Committee is in

New York City and is the clearing house for all matters concerning the personnel and work of the cooperating Boards which now number ten.

This new set-up started as an experiment based on the deep convictions of those who prayerfully undertook postwar plans for the re-establishment of Protestant work in this land, but it is now a going concern. Inevitably at times there comes to some of us a yearning for the greater warmth and more personal interest of the denominational group. But the losses are few in comparison to the gains of unity, growth beyond national loyalties and denominationalism, becoming in a truer sense a real part of the ecumenical movement and of the Universal Church of Christ.

There are many gratifying evidences of deepening commitment to the primary task of the Church. Last September the largest delegated Christian meeting in the history of Japanese Christianity was held in Tokyo with a registration of 2,300. The theme was "The Mission of the Church", and earnest study was made as to how this "Mission" may be better understood and more nearly fulfilled. During the three days, there came to us all the call to repent, to rededicate our all, to witness fearlessly, to promote the work of the newly established Board of Home Missions, to put Christ into home and family life, and "bring about more effective cooperation between churches and Christian schools so that the latter may fulfil their responsibility for strengthening the evangelistic purpose of the Church".

The contribution of Christian schools to the total cause of evangelism is sometimes questioned and minimized. True, the harvest of Church membership should be greater, but results of Christian education must not be judged mainly by statistics. I am encouraged and humbled as I meet with regular and casual groups of graduates of Toyo Eiwa and other Christian schools, to learn of the inconspicuous ways many of them are supporting local churches, teaching little children and young folks while striving to put Christ into their home life and help their community to undertake some work for the sake of others. This Christmas one of my graduates' groups gave a gift of money to our Kyoaikan Settlement and because of it the mother of each child in the creche received a Bible as a Christmas gift. Thus can be seen the interlocking of the efforts and interests of our various types of work as we move forward together in Christ.

Kindergarten Teachers Give Church Leadership

Toyo Eiwa Junior College of Child Education is one of four Kyodan-related schools which give a two-year course for kindergarten teachers. Miss Gertrude Hamilton and I are the two missionary members of the staff. Although the Junior College is housed in small shabby quarters and the total enrolment is only in the seventies, probably no institution with which our W.M.S. is connected is contributing more directly to the upbuilding of the Christian Church in Japan.

There are over 500 kindergartens and day nurseries in Kyodan churches throughout Japan, with an enrolment in each that varies from 50 to 250 children. No accurate statistics are available regarding the number of teachers required to teach all these children, but we do know that the graduates of Toyo Eiwa and the three other Junior Colleges of Child Education connected with the Kyodan cannot begin to supply the demand. Since I was appointed to this position in 1949, 128 girls have graduated from this training centre, and at this time, more than one hundred of them are working in Church kindergartens.

These kindergarten teachers are eager to help little children to know God, to love Jesus, and to grow in Christian character. However, once in a Church kindergarten their duties and responsibilities go far beyond the guiding of little children. All kindergarten teachers also teach Sunday School; they are often leaders in the Young People's Society; they are expected to attend all Church services and often the weekly prayer meeting and other meetings as well; and since few churches can afford to employ a janitor the cleaning often falls to their lot.

As graduates tell me of the long hours they work and of the heavy responsibilities they carry, with salaries just large enough to make ends meet, I sometimes wonder why more of them do not seek other employment with higher pay. But they have chosen this work because they love little children and once having experienced the satisfaction that comes from a church-centred job, even with all the trouble and problems which it often entails, work in a secular institution seems to have little appeal.

Most Japanese girls marry before they are 25, so the turnover in teachers is great. There have been times when I thought, "That girl was such a fine leader. It is disappointing to think she has been swallowed up by the duties of family life in a non-Christian environment." Then I have been humbled to find her faith and prayers were active all the while. Recently I have learned that two of our graduates after ten years of married life, have won their husbands for Christ. Both men have been baptized and have become members of their wives' churches.

One of the older graduates of our college, having herself received financial help while a student, is now personally helping one student, and this year she interested her husband's club of business men so that they contributed yen 100,000 ($286) to start a scholarship fund for worthy students.

We who work to train and send out year by year thirty or more teachers to serve in Christian kindergartens feel increasingly that the value of such a college is inestimable to the Christian program in Japan.

Christian Fellowship in the School

Since I returned from furlough four months ago, my work has been in the Toyo Eiwa Girls' High School, where I have had four hours a week in the higher English Department, which was begun in April of last year, and which we hope will receive Junior College standing in April 1954.

The Christmas service in the High School department was very impressive. The program was arranged and the 900 students trained by the music teachers. The Christmas story was told in song and the familiar Bible stories read by three students. The singing was beautifully done, some by the whole student body, some by classes and some by specially chosen choir groups. Many of the students helped in Christmas services in the churches which they attended throughout the city.

The Christian students in the school have an organization which they call "Koinonia". It is partly for Christian fellowship to strengthen their own faith and partly to find ways of leading other students. They asked me this fall to be their adviser. At the last meeting one of the girls asked for the prayers of the others in a responsibility she had been given in the church of which she is a member. In that church each person who is an "inquirer" is assigned to one who is already a Christian and that person acts as friend and guide to the one who is seeking the Christian way of life. One of our senior students had been asked to be such a friend and guide and she felt a great responsibility. The members of the Koinonia share their problems, their failures and their new insights in this way.

Within this Christian group, a small band of six students have formed themselves into what they call "An Evangelistic Fellowship" and it is a challenge to listen to their plans and hopes. At present one of the things which they are doing is making a survey of the churches in Tokyo so that they may help to link up the students who are not attending church with a church in their own district. On Christmas Sunday a number of the students were baptized in different churches in the city.

The contacts in a Bible Class in Torii Zaka Church have brought joy and inspiration and challenge. The last two or three years have been increasingly difficult for young people in this country. The present is confusing to them and the future very uncertain. But we see evidence of the working of God's spirit in the hearts of people. The other day I visited in the home of a friend who was very happy because her husband had been baptized on Christmas Sunday. During the years of their married life she has been trying to demonstrate Christianity in her home and though life has sometimes been difficult for her, she has been true to her convictions. As I talked with her and her husband the other day I thought how wonderful are the ways of God.

Since the beginning of December I have been living in a Japanese home where I have one room and a small kitchen. I sleep Japanese style so during the day my room becomes a living room and dining room. I am trying to come closer to my Japanese friends and co-workers in living and fellowship and I find that this way of living is a help in realizing that hope.

FROM MISS VIOLET A. M. SAUNDERS

Educational Missionary,
Tokyo, Japan

Once I talked about Japan at a Church service in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, and afterwards a young girl who worked at the radio station said to her boss, "You ought to ask that woman to speak over the radio. She made me love the Japanese." I was asked to speak over the radio and I did. Perhaps a few people of those southern islands learned to know and possibly to love the people of this country.

Today my job in Church and school is just to "love the Japanese". That is all. It is a humbling task to take on anywhere; to practise the presence of God. Remembering Christ's joy in the fellowship of the meal, I have had tea parties for the mothers of the 350 primary school children and luncheon parties for the middle school girls of my Junior Church class.

Working in the Junior Church

I have had the joy of being a bit of heaven for a worship service in the school chapel and I have seen a seed or two spring to life after a Sunday School teachers' meeting. I have been invited to a few homes and some mothers have called on me.

I have been deeply moved by the classroom teachers' interest in what I was doing with the second year middle school girls in the Junior Church. It was difficult to get to know the girls in the short time after the worship service on Sunday, so I invited them to come in groups of seven to ten and have lunch, which we prepared together in the club rooms above the kindergarten next door to our house. We had four such parties and then a tea party after school one day for those who had not been able to come on Sunday. Four of the teachers responsible for these girls in their day school classes, one of them a non-Christian herself, wanted to be with them on this occasion.

The woman evangelist of the Torii Zaka Church was there too. She consults with the teachers when the girls ask for baptism. One girl from this group made the request last spring and was baptized at the Christmas service along with three girls from other classes. Other Toyo Eiwa girls were baptized in other churches that day throughout the city. Regular Bible study is a part of the curriculum of the day school. The aim of the Junior Church is to give the girls that experience of worship apart from the school which will prepare them for later participation in the wider fellowship of the church.

The Women's Society

The minister's wife carried me off the other day, which happened to be a holiday, to be present at the meeting of the "Fujinkai"; the women's society of the Church here. We met in the home of our primary school principal, whose wife is an active worker in the society and he himself is superintendent of the Church School. There was a very welcome letter from Miss Courtice which I read and interpreted. After worship together we talked of the program for women's groups in 1954 which will continue to have three main emphases; Family Evangelism; an understanding of the organization of the Church; and study and support of the newly-organized Home Mission Society.

The women want to come to our home next time and hope that I shall tell them what women do in our Church groups at home to forward Home Mission work. We may see together a bird's eye view of the task here and we may share our thoughts about the basic spiritual preparation.

Mitake—A Vital Church

Come with me on a Sunday morning to Mitake Church. It is a plain grey structure, completed a little over a year ago, standing on a rise in the ground, so that its cross can be plainly seen from a distance. It is built very simply of the cheapest materials but it was built to serve as a place of worship for the congregation which numbers about two hundred, and already it has been found too small.

Mitake is a church with an interesting history. It began when Hinichi Asano, a successful young business man, decided to leave the world of commerce and enter the ministry. He was married to a graduate of our Toyo Eiwa Girls' High School, who was the only Christian in her family, but who was completely in sympathy with his purposes. He entered the Theological Seminary and after graduation went to Germany and to Scotland to complete his studies. On his return Mr. Asano was recognized as a brilliant young scholar in the field of Old Testament and became a professor of Aoyama University and of the Theological Seminary. Mitake Church was born at that time in the Asano home. A little group gathered and formed a church, but before long they were bursting the seams of the house, and a church building was erected; and so Mitake grew.

The war came and the church, the manse and all the Asano's worldly possessions were destroyed. As soon as possible a rather large but very simple house was bought and this served as the Asano home and the church meeting place. My first introduction to Mitake was when one of my student acquaintances took me to that house. I shall never forget the impression I had at that time—the large group crowded into those rooms, made one by removing sliding wall panels; the bareness yet simple dignity of the place; the reverence of the worshippers as they knelt on the straw matting; the earnestness with which students brought Bibles and note-books and wrote down the minister's words—there indeed was a true Church though there was nothing in the physical surroundings to make one think of a Church. Today there is the same reverence and earnestness.

As we enter at 9 a.m. the Sunday School will be in progress and my English Bible class will be assembling—twelve in all, but very sincere and earnest. Two of them have been baptized during the past year; six are not yet baptized but all are united in a serious search for the truth. It is that questing spirit that is a constant challenge to me and I often find it difficult to answer their questions.

At 10.30 a.m. the morning service will begin with one of the men of the congregation leading the worship. This service is the focal point of the Church's life but there are many other opportunities to meet together and share each other's problems. There is a mutual respect for each other's thinking and at the Wednesday evening prayer meetings (to which young people come) there is opportunity to share that thinking. It is a church that has a vital concern for social problems, and has attracted to itself men and women in political life, in business, education and social service. I have only been in Mitake church for one year but I feel that I am a member like any other member. I feel that I am not regarded as a foreigner, visiting the church; but as a fellow Christian worshipping and working in the fellowship of this Christian group. I have found great joy in this relationship.

"Investing in the Future"

The Kyoaikan is one of the Christian social welfare agencies which ministers to the working class people of East Tokyo, and is supported by our W.M.S. and the Board of Overseas Missions. On this property before the war stood the Kyoreikan Settlement, supported by the O.M.B. It was burned out during the war. The Kyoaikan is a union of the former Kyoreikan and of the W.M.S.-supported Aiseikan nearby, which was also destroyed during the war, and from which we inherited two very fine kindergarten teachers. I am happy to be associated with this work, at the Kyoaikan where I spend two days a week in an advisory capacity.

What is the Christian impact of the Kyoaikan? If we are to judge the Christian influence of a church or institution by statistics, the Kyoaikan would not likely make a good showing with its nine baptized Church members and average Church attendance of fifteen. However the re-organized institution is only two years old, and it has been during those two years that the nine were baptized.

The Kyoaikan has no full time pastor to make close contacts with the people. A minister comes out from the city to take the morning service, and another minister and the director of the Kyoaikan take the evening service turn about. However the Church School is thriving with an average attendance on Sundays of 100, and the kindergarten of 80 members has its Church school on Saturday morning. Truly it is a young people's church.

This is an area of small home industries, where most of the people depend for their living on working every available hour of every day, and all available hands help. Therefore the simple problem of time to come out to meetings is a factor not easily overcome. We make use of such opportunities as Mothers' meetings to give a Christian message with a hymn and prayer.

The Christian impact of such an institution as the Kyoaikan is not easily measured, for it consists of intangibles. Who can measure the influence of the character and attitudes of the Christian members of the staff on children and parents? Who can measure the effect on the lives of these children of the Christian teaching and social attitudes they learn here? Some of them before they graduate to go to public school, will have spent four of the most formative years of their lives under these Christian influences. Many a young Christian adult in Japan today will testify to the influence of the Christian kindergarten he attended as a child. They do not easily forget. Many mothers who apply to place their child in our day nursery say they chose this one because it is a Christian institution and as such it has a reputation for the good care given.

The adults in this area are overburdened with problems, but have little time to seek spiritual help; we will reach them only very slowly. The children have time and are teachable. We can give them the spiritual values which will stand by them when they are adults. We are investing in the future.

FROM MISS VIOLET F. LANGLAND

Short Term Missionary,

I would not underrate the importance of learning the language of a country. But I think one of the commonest mistakes made by folks at home is that we must know Japanese before we can communicate with our pupils. As I form friendships with college students, teach a mixed Bible class in one of the Kyodan churches, or discuss problems with the group of business girls who come to the house weekly, I realize the role of English in fostering international understanding. And due no doubt to the fact that Toyo Eiwa's Japanese teachers-of-English are among the best, it takes only a few months until we can converse with even the Junior High pupils. In a recent intra-school speech contest, a Junior First made this contribution:

My Dream

I dreamed and dreamed and dreamed for a long time. It was a dream to enter this school. How happy I was when my dream came true! And now I am dreaming many other dreams.

The first dream is to become a good student. What is a good student? A good student, I believe, must do her very best in everything.

My second dream is to keep the motto of the school, "Reverence and Service".

The next dream is to enjoy my school life with my classmates in studying and playing.

My last dream is to be blessed by God.

These are little dreams of mine. What are your dreams?

Not all the girls share these ambitions. The parents who send their daughters realize the school's principles. The girls all attend chapel every day and have an hour of Bible study weekly. But a minority are "committed" Christians. But who knows how many girls from Christian homes would have fallen by the wayside without the added influence of the school? And how many are now Christians who would not otherwise have heard of the Christian way?

Teaching English—Learning Japanese

Soon after my arrival in Japan I was welcomed at a "welcome and farewell" meeting at Hakone Yomoto in the Mt. Fuji district. The farewell part of this was for a young Japanese teacher who was leaving the school to study for the ministry. This party-meeting was wonderful in more than one way. It was my first stay in a Japanese hotel and I had my first Japanese meal there. It was good to be with the teachers and to sense the Christian atmosphere among us, though a few are not Christian.

My first Christmas in Japan was very thrilling. The beautiful worship service at school gave a feeling of real worship of Christ, and as each class sang with strong clear voices, the auditorium seemed to come alive with praise to God. Some of the students in my senior High School classes expressed their thought that, "many Japanese do not know the real meaning of Christmas. We must teach them so they will understand".

In class and in English Club (an extra-curricular school club), the girls keep me posted on such facts as that Toyo Eiwa's basketball team ranks third in Tokyo, and the outcome of games with other schools. Just before Christmas I helped to give a Christmas party to the children's section of a hospital in Tokyo. The hospital was different from those at home. It was clean but very cold; the wind seemed to blow right through. When we arrived we found about 25 children waiting for us. A few of them, who were recovering from tuberculosis were up and around and they helped us. One little toddler kept coming up to us, bowing and saying, "domo arigato", which is "thank you very much", and then ran gleefully back to his friends. We had such a grand feeling that we had been able to do this for them.

Besides teaching 18 hours a week at Toyo Eiwa Jo Gakuin, which I enjoy very much, I am teaching primary children in Sunday School at Tokyo Union Church. This is an international church for English-speaking people, so my class is an interesting one. Six of the children are Japanese. It is a good example of how people of different countries and customs can work and play together under one common interest.

I am having one Japanese lesson a week now and learning the language word by word—at least, I hope I am learning. My good teacher is Chieko Ando, who has just returned from Toronto where she had been studying, and she is now working at a social service centre in Tokyo.

Through friends, at meetings, lectures and on trips I have met quite a number of university students. They are much deeper thinkers than the average Canadian student, and their university life is more serious. Many are eager to converse in English and that provides the opportunity for making friends and helping them with their conversation lessons.

The College Contribution to the Nation and the Church

A certain amount of readjustment to the life and work in Japan is necessary after even a furlough year's absence; particularly now a period spent out of the country makes one realize how rapidly changes are coming. In the world of youth, for instance, boy and girl relationships are in a state of flux as are also the relationships between the generations. Our Japanese colleagues are very much aware of these changes. My own observation, supported I know by the experience of my fellow-teachers, is that modern Japanese youth are very serious, eager for the highest values, and more than willing to explore the Christian religion and way of life.

To a college teacher of English language and literature, such as myself, nine-tenths of my time is spent in academic work; teaching, correcting papers and preparing for classes. To missionaries of some temperaments this might be irksome, as they would feel enough time could not be given for the missionary's first function, evangelistic work. For myself, my place in the college is satisfying because I believe deeply in the college and in the kind of work I am asked to do as one of the most important contributions to the nation and to the Japanese Church—if not the most important.

In the first place I believe in the inter-denominational and international character of the college. The foreigner is not in an executive position and most of the curricular Bible teaching is done by Japanese. These are facts to be recognized and accepted. I believe that the President and Faculty take with the utmost seriousness the fundamental Christian purpose of the college. In the broad program of Christian education; the chapel services, assemblies, and other religious activities I take my place and give my support.

The program of the foreign teacher contains a far greater number of hours given to language than to literature. It is doubtless true that the literature classes provide the better opportunity to inculcate Christian ideals. My recent visit to the cathedrals and other historic places in England gave me a fresh realization of the deep Christian foundations of our literature. I hope this stimulus may make my literature lessons richer in Christian content. On the other hand I believe that better English is one of Japan's most urgent needs. I never consider an hour spent in teaching written or spoken English wasted as a part of the missionary contribution, and I feel keenly the responsibility of missionaries to make their English teaching more effective.

Personal relationships are the very stuff of the life of any college community. These relationships with teachers, both Japanese and foreign, with students and with our alumnae and their families is a constant joy to me.

Another source of satisfaction has been my connection with one of the Kyodan churches in our western suburban area. It is one of several churches in this part of Tokyo, having a Sunday congregation of about 150, though influencing a much larger community. It is a church of which I can truly say it never disappoints me and I would be happy to think that my connection with it is a strength to its able and devoted pastor.

FROM MISS MARY F. McCRIMMON

Short Term Missionary,
Tokyo Woman's Christian College

In A Christian College

For the past year and a half I have had the opportunity of seeing the life of Tokyo Woman's Christian College while living here as an English teacher in one of the "foreign teacher's houses" which stand on the campus.

A Christian college is a place where for four years a group of people during their student days can, if they wish, investigate Christianity through regular courses, lectures, worship services, extra-curricular groups, and personal relationships, and where even those students who make no efforts in this direction themselves are exposed in various ways to impressions, good or ill, of the Christian religion. In Japan such schools are, I think, one of the chief means through which people are drawn to Christianity.

Last year at our college a new question form for incoming freshmen was introduced, including some detailed questions about religious background and attitudes. Today I looked over 200 of these forms. The students were asked first about their family's religion, which in most cases was Buddhist. Then they were asked their own religion. Only two mentioned Buddhist or Shinto sects, about 25 mentioned

Christianity and the rest said, "None". When these 200 girls graduate three years from now, they will be given another questionnaire which will show how their attitudes have changed while in college. One can expect, on the basis of past experience, that many who were "seekers" or who had not contact with Christianity before they came to college, will have become members of the Church, and still more will have come to regard themselves as Christian "sympathizers". There will be others who will not have found what they were seeking, and who will not have caught a vision of Christianity which challenged their best.

Student Thought About Christmas

My students are freshmen so I see this process in its earlier stages. For example in our English composition course every Christmas each freshman is asked to write a composition about what she liked best in the college Christmas activities. One student wrote, "It was the first time in my life to attend such a great Christian ceremony, as I was brought up in an atheistic family, but I was struck with the beauty of the music and the solemnity of the atmosphere. I am happy to say, too, that from the sermon preached by Mr. Yuki, and from the phrases from the Bible about Christmas, I got some clues to the solution of my doubt about Christianity."

Another wrote, "I had heard and read that when Jesus was born angels sang, 'Glory to God in the Highest and on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased.' I could not help thinking of these words. What does peace mean? I thought peace means not only among the countries but also among all persons. Peace comes from the heart of love, and I have heard of the love that is God. I cannot explain my thought and my doubts because of my poor English. However I could feel not the uproar called Christmas in Japan, but the spirit of real Christmas which I had wanted to feel."

Still another writes in part: "I am a seeker, so it is more interesting for me to study than to celebrate the birth of Christ. . . . But it is necessary to have time for relaxation and pleasure, because we are living in a complex and speedy age, it is difficult for us to live our life and enjoy it at the same time. It is not heathen to use Christmas as a chance for those purposes. Many people meet together, have a good time, and strengthen the fellowship among them. This is also the real purpose of Christianity, isn't it? But I am a student; I am a seeker. The more lectures I can have next season, the larger my pleasure will be."

Graduates Have Caught the Vision

Recently a pastor of the Church said, "It is so much easier to build the Church in a province where there is a Christian school." The influence of students, teachers and graduates of our school in this province proves the truth of this statement. A graduate and a teacher who have been working with us in our monthly neighborhood meeting of 50 non-Christian women are now helping with a Bible class of twenty out of that group and leading them to a knowledge of Christ. One woman said, "I wish we could come here every night to learn more of this truth which we have been searching for." These women had the great joy of learning to share with others in need when they took their Christmas contribution to the nearby Home for widows and orphans. They send their children, sixty in number, to the Sunday School in our house saying they want them to have the truth while they are young.

A number of graduates have begun to work with their neighbors in a similar way. A devoted Christian whose influence has led her husband to Christ told of her plans as she entertained the Woman's Association of the church. She said, "I have waited long for the day when I could have a home to which I might invite groups of Christian people. I want to dedicate this home to the use of the community and the church. It is only home to me as it is used for God's work. We are having monthly neighborhood meetings. We are again having Sunday school such as we had before the war. My husband and I will be witnesses for Christ in this part of Kofu City." Truly her witness is a triumphant one. She is teaching full time for six days in the week, has a Bible class of students on Sunday, is a popular speaker at women's meetings, besides keeping her home. She and her husband have decided to take full responsibility for the two High School daughters of her widowed younger sister and are educating them in our school as well as planning for higher education that they may become future workers.

Because of the earnest efforts of two of our graduates, mothers of kindergarten children, a fine new building near the church was dedicated this year, and affiliated with the Eiwa High School as in the past. The entire cost was borne by the parents of the children, among whom are a number of our graduates. It is thrilling to see the eagerness of these young mothers to learn the Christian way. The majority of them attend the monthly meeting where they have good educational leadership and also the bi-monthly Bible class conducted by the earnest young principal of the High School. Over one hundred children attend the Church School on Sunday.

We rejoice to see a number of our most capable graduates catching the vision of service as Christian leaders in government schools where they have voluntary Bible classes and are often chosen as student counsellors and leaders in Hi Y. Several graduates have been chosen by the city as Family Counsellors, Widows' Counsellors and matrons of orphanages. These are only a few outstanding examples of the hundreds of graduates who are quietly witnessing in their homes and courageously working to make Christ known to others. As I watch these fine young people I am amazed at the power of one life truly devoted to the Master.

From a Christian Home—a Church

In Yamanashi where the Christian Church has been established for nearly seventy-five years, one of the newer churches of the Kyodan has a most interesting history. It is the story of the sacrificial service and devoted Christian witness and leadership of a woman who is still a veritable "mother in Israel."

After her husband's death, Mrs. S—, an earnest Christian, found herself faced with the acute problem of supporting herself and her little son. Hearing that the Bible Society needed colporteurs, she offered to take on this work and was accepted. Thereafter Mrs. S— with her baby strapped on her back, travelled from province to province and place to place, selling Gospel portions of New Testament; and witnessing both by the written Word and by her own testimony.

Later when her son became of school age, she confined her colporteur work to the nearby places and suburbs of Kofu, where she lived. Gradually she gathered together at her house a group of earnest seekers and Christians, who met each week for fellowship and prayer. Mrs. S— conducted worship on Sunday and guided them in the development of the Christian life until many of them became active in bringing others into the group. This fellowship finally considered Mrs. S— its pastor, and contributed to her support. Then she was given some training and the status of pastor by the Holiness Mission. So began the church in the home of Mrs. S—. At the time of the formation of the Kyodan (United Church of Christ in Japan) in 1941, this little group with a Holiness background became a mission church of the Church of Christ in Japan, but the congregation continued to meet in Mrs. S—'s home.

Meanwhile the son had graduated from High School and delighted his mother's heart by deciding to become a preacher and by entering Union Theological Seminary at Tokyo. Then nearly two years ago, a full-fledged minister, he returned to be the pastor of the church in his mother's house, with promise of some financial help in building a larger place for worship. Last spring their new, unpretentious, little wooden church was dedicated, and is almost completely paid for through contributions of members and friends. It was after this building was opened that I became a member of this congregation. The church is erected near our Eiwa High School and one of our students plays the organ for Sunday services, while a choir of Eiwa girls leads the singing and sometimes sings an anthem.

The young pastor's wife was brought up by her wealthy Buddhist grandmother, who was strongly opposed to her marrying a poor Christian minister, and threatened to have nothing more to do with her. However the pastor won his bride, who elected to follow the path of love and sacrificial Christian service. This talented cultured girl is now principal of the kindergarten which meets each morning in the new church building, and her radiantly happy face is a joy to behold.

Besides his Kofu congregation Pastor S— has other groups in small villages nearby, and these he visits occasionally. One feels this young church has vitality and is seeking to reach out into the highways and byways. Mother S-- suffered a slight stroke last year, which incapacitated her a bit, but she is still powerful in prayer. Each Sunday morning before the close of the service, she is led to the pulpit where she prays and pronounces the benediction. This, to me and I am sure to her many friends, is the fitting climax to the service.

Christian Contacts

There was a Christian funeral in Yamanashi a few months ago. That is not so unusual, you say. What was unusual about this one was the fact that only one relative was a Christian, and she, according to Japanese custom, was one of the least influential. She is a second year High School student at Yamanashi Eiwa School. The funeral was for her mother, a woman who had become a Christian and was baptized as a result of the witness of this young daughter. Surprisingly the father and brothers agreed to a Christian funeral. This is an example of how a Christian school affects, not only its students and graduates, but through these, the families and communities throughout the prefecture.

How wide a community is touched by those with whom we have contacts! About half the girls in the school commute daily from outside Kofu. They travel by train distances ranging from fifteen minutes to over one and a half hours. Almost anywhere you go in Yamanashi, the people know either an Eiwa graduate or a student. It is a great opportunity for Christian witness.

The English language offers many opportunities to meet people; students are anxious to hear and speak English and many become interested in Christianity as a result. I do not think the original motive is important if the person is at all influenced by the English Bible teaching. Two very fine Christian men that I know, and a dozen more that I have heard of, became interested in Christianity through their desire to learn English. In the past the working class had little contact with Christianity or Christian teaching. Evangelism was largely restricted to the upper and intellectual class in Japan.

I want to tell you about one English Bible class which seems important to me for several reasons. The class is part of the night school course at a government High School. The teacher is a Christian, whom I help. First I read the Bible, and then the students read the Bible. Then I try to say the message in simpler English, even though we use the Revised Standard Version. Even so, it is not clear to some students, as their grades vary from 1st to 4th year High School. So their teacher interprets into Japanese. The students are free to ask questions in either Japanese or English. And what sort of people come to this class? All of them work all day and then come to night school, supperless, from 5 o'clock till 9 o'clock, six nights a week. Is it just English that brings these people to this class, as they struggle with the difficult English of the Bible? I think it is important to meet the people through their individual needs—whether it be agricultural, medical, educational, or whatever. Trying to help them meet their need for English, as well as share experiences, is my task as a "J-3" and I pray that God will use it for His own purpose.

In the School

The Far East was home to me for the early part of my life, and for me, coming to Japan was like breathing through a dream. Korea was not so far away that the lure of Japan and her people could not reach me and become in itself a real challenge.

It was heartening to learn of the great desire on the part of Japanese students to learn the English language. My work in Kofu, Yamanashi Ken, is primarily that of teaching English conversation. The opportunities through teaching to further the Kingdom are endless as almost everyone would concede and truly one cannot fail to sense a spirit about the Yamanashi Eiwa, a spirit of consideration, helpfulness and love. Our new Principal, Mr. Naito, with the school only two months, is a man of sterling qualities. His candour, wit and initiative, but above all, his Christian example have already evoked admiration and respect.

Three Other Groups

In addition to my regular teaching hours at the Eiwa, I have three different groups every week with which I meet. One is a co-ed group, highly selected at one of the government schools in Kofu. It is an extra-curricular activity, held in a regular classroom for these students who are the cream of the school as far as English knowledge is concerned. At the Christmas party the student president of the group said this: "This evening has special significance for me. You see I come from a Buddhist home, and although I've heard many things about Christmas and seen the stores with Christmas trees, this is the first Christian Christmas I've ever experienced."

The second group comprises twelve young men from the provincial university. They represent courses in teaching training and engineering, the two departments of the university. Our times together are discussion periods, with such subjects as, the employment problem which faces students as they graduate, rearmament, the role of the emperor in Japanese history. Eventually I hope they may be brought around to want to study and discuss the Christian values. At Christmas time I showed the slides of Van Dyke's The Other Wise Man on our projector, and the students wondered greatly over the fact that anyone should sacrifice all their material wealth in such a way for a man they had never seen.

The third group I have is the senior English club at the Eiwa, and I will tell you of a Christmas experience shared with this group. There is in Kofu a foundling home which takes into its shelter and heart those lost and generally homeless children which are discovered at such places as the railway station. Here they remain until their own homes are located or they can be placed in foster homes. The English club took a party to these pathetic waifs, took cute Santa Claus bags filled with sweets and a small gift for each child. But what impressed me most was the way both students and children entered into the games. They also sang some Christmas carols for us with great gusto, and in addition to these they had been taught a prayer by the mother of the home, Mrs. Hayakawa. The children each said "thank you" in English for their gifts and lined up on one side of the road to wave us good-bye, bowing and waving until we were out of sight. Such are the types of human encounters which have been and are mine. My Church affiliation is with the Kofu Kyodai, the oldest established Protestant Church in Kofu. I was very pleased when asked to play my violin for a function in the church kindergarten. Music is a language all can understand and I am very thankful for any opportunities which call for whatever music is in me to give.

FOUR MISS M. LUELLA BORKE

Educational Missionary,
Shizuoka, Japan

The Women's Society of the Church of Christ in Japan chose as their objective for this year the promotion of Christian family life. For this reason two study books were prepared dealing particularly with the problems of "Making the entire family Christian" and "Using the Home as a centre for Evangelism." Throughout the Church these are being used by the local groups as a basis for study in their meetings. In the Shizuoka district they are very widely used because of the enthusiastic promotion they have received from the district President of Women's Societies, Mrs. Hirose, with whom I was privileged to make two trips of visitation to the churches of our district.

A Pioneer Project

On the first trip we went to Nagaoka, a hot-spring resort, fast becoming one of the favorite places for suicide. The work here is one of the present "pioneer projects" of the Church. During the last three years a small enthusiastic Christian group has been built up and a site for a church building has been secured. One of the Church members is the proprietor of a hot-spring hotel owned by the Social Service organization of the province. Here we were entertained over night and the banquet room was made available for our meetings. In the afternoon we met the women of the church and two or three of the laymen. The President of the Women's Society is a very active Christian of three years' standing, the daughter of Count Ogasawara, former vice-admiral of the fleet. He is now retired and living in Nagaoka, and his attendance at the open meeting in the evening was his first experience of a Christian gathering. The large room was well filled and all listened attentively to the three addresses from the minister, Mrs. Hirose and the missionary. For many it was their first introduction to Christian teaching. The determination of this little congregation is to establish a church in Nagaoka that will offset the evils usually surrounding hot-spring resorts, and especially find a way of helping those individuals who come there planning suicide.

Another equally interesting and profitable trip took us to two other pioneer projects and two churches of longer standing. The trip home by boat to Shimizu was a restful and delightful end to what Mrs. Hirose calls one of our "Paul and Barnabas" trips; with due apologies to the Apostolic brethren.

An Unforgettable Day

The 20th December was an unforgettable day in our Church and school year. Of the 47 who were baptized in the Shizuoka church that day 44 were students from our Eiwa Girls' School. They seemed to me to be a very earnest group of young people. Many of these had attended a "Retreat" held for the senior class at the beginning of the summer vacation at beautiful Eujimi. Here along with one of the leaders of the Church from Tokyo and eleven of their teachers, of whom I had the privilege of being one, they faced their personal problems and the challenge of the Christian way of life. Baptism in the Church of Japan, with the exception of infant baptism, constitutes Church membership. These and other girls baptized from our school become members of this church until they graduate when their membership is transferred to the church of their choice.

We are particularly grateful for the contribution of the short term workers, not only in the work of the school but in the churches to which they have been assigned. Thanks to these two young ladies our home has become a centre of gathering for young people of the community. During the Christmas season the house has resounded night after night with joy and gladness as one group after another met to celebrate the coming to earth of the Son of God.

FROM MISS A. MAY McLACHLAN

Evangelistic Missionary, Shizuoka
(Kawasaki), Japan

Rebirth of Rural Churches

This rural area to which I have been sent is a typical example of what has happened in many places and of the task ahead. In the early days missionaries living in Shizuoka travelled through the towns and villages holding meetings, building churches with mission funds, and helping to support Japanese pastors and workers. Six such churches were started in this area. When the war ended there were only Japanese pastors in three of them, two church buildings had been sold, and in each of the six not more than two to five Christians remained who had any connection with the Church. Yet the work was not in vain for it has left an undercurrent of appreciation of Christianity which is a valuable asset today. I would like to tell you what is happening in two of those six churches.

One of the pastors who has worked as a farmer for the last fifteen years has moved into one of the towns where the former church building was sold and the Christian cause had all but disappeared. An old farm house was bought as a residence for the pastor and a day nursery for the neighborhood children. A small room was added for a chapel. This man who looks more like a farmer than a minister is already recognized and listened to because of his years of experience and his understanding of their problem. Both pastor and church building are a contrast to the rather foreign looking church and scholarly pastor of the days before the war. It may be that this closer relationship with people in their daily lives is necessary to lay firmly the foundations of a rural church.

The church in Kawasaki where I live was built in this country town by a missionary thirty years ago. Just before the war the Japanese pastor moved, leaving the church without a resident minister. During the next fifteen years the church building gradually deteriorated until it was declared unsafe. Of the former Christians only three remain. They have become much respected leaders in the community. For the last seven years two older women evangelists, who were sent by the Church, have held services in their room in the manse and have won individuals for the Christ. There are now six baptized Christians and fifteen others who are attending services regularly. About a year ago with funds from the central offices of the Church, supplemented by their own sacrificial gifts, they repaired the church. This Christmas for the first time in fifteen years the birth of Christ was celebrated in this little church with great joy and thanksgiving.

The secret of the earnest faith of this little group is prayer. Among the town people the church is becoming known as a place where people get spiritual help and become better men and women. The emphasis here is not on public meetings, but on entering into the lives of people, sharing their burdens, speaking with them intimately until they join that small group of us who are the Church. The church is much loved by this inner group who often remark that they get their strength and direction here.

Following this lead in rural work, I am not living in the city and coming out to help with meetings as I used to do, but at the request of the church I am living in this country town, trying to be one with them both in the church and the community. It has necessitated a change in my way of living. I am trying to accept conditions of living as far as possible as they are, and to live as simply as I can in order to lessen the gap between us. That I may come to understand them, their ways of thinking their problems, is my first task.

I have only been here four months but the problems of country youth and the need for fundamental change in age-long ways of thinking and living are very evident and challenging. This little group in the church with its emphasis on prayer and Bible study closely related to daily living is the nucleus of a new church through which God will surely continue His work in this country town.

FROM MISS WENDY CAMPBELL

Short Term Missionary,
Shizuoka, Japan

Since our arrival in Shizuoka on September 17th as Short Term missionaries, our daily life has contained variety and challenge. I have a strong hunch that all vocation is Christian if it is offered to God; but for myself, my vocation as a short-term missionary here in Shizuoka has provided a sense of fulfilment and growth.

Helen Moase and I have inherited to some degree the full program left by Rhoda Palfrey and Vodia MacKay, one phase of which is a Sunday night sing-song group of young people, teachers, students at university, college and high school, and business people. We all enjoy the group and it gives Helen and me a chance to meet non-Christians as well as Christians on a friendly level; a level somewhat similar to what we would find in our own homes.

Carols in Prison

A month before Christmas we started practising Christmas carols, which we had two opportunities of using. First on Christmas Eve about 25 of us went carolling to hospitals and homes. Then on December 27th we went to the Shizuoka prison to provide some music for a service conducted by Mr. Iino, a white-bearded man who has devoted his life to leper work in this area. The men, about 500 of them, watched over by 8 guards, were squatted together on a square area of matting. My first impression was that their faces looked haunted, but I have never had to endure dirt and anger and poverty. What about these men? their former standard of living, lack of faith, condition of punishment. We are hoping that there may be something more permanent we might do for them.

My church, Sumpu, has opened its arms to me and already I am beginning to feel at one with the people. I have a small hymn-singing group which meets after church Sunday mornings. The Sunday before Christmas we went in a hospital van to a sanatorium a few miles away, where we gave out Christmas cards and calendars, sang carols and had a service.

FROM MISS EUGENIE L. BATES

Evangelistic Missionary,
Nagano, Japan

In a Well-Staffed Church

The missionary working in Nagano city where the Church is well organized and staffed with Japanese workers, is given a place on the Church and Kindergarten Boards, and becomes a member of the Women's Meeting. Although the business of the church is ably carried on by competent people there is a fellowship and growth of understanding on the part of missionary and church officials, and an opportunity to see the real aims and needs of the church, and to help when need arises.

For me, during these after war years, my work has been mainly Bible classes and meetings, and the many personal contacts resulting from these. A meeting begun with nurses and patients in a hospital in a village near Nagano has now become a preaching place with the minister holding meetings there twice a month.

A Bible class for English teachers, held in our home was given a special invitation to the Church Christmas service, and six were invited to the Church family Christmas on Christmas night. Five gladly accepted and were deeply impressed with the candle-light service and the friendly fellowship of the church. One teacher who became a Christian three years ago and is now a Sunday School teacher and highly respected member of the Church Board, is a strong link between the church and the Bible class. Two other teachers have expressed their desire to become Christians.

The church kindergarten teachers consider the Sunday School as a part of their work. There the children learn about God and to pray and when they begin asking their mothers to pray with them and to tell them stories of Jesus, then the mothers come asking to be taught. A small nucleus of Christians in the Bible class for mothers helps draw the others into church for special meetings and then for regular services. These mothers see the real value of religious education for their children. One mother said, "When I see the difference in the attitude to life of my younger children who attend Sunday School, and my older children who did not, then I feel I have wronged the older ones in not having given them this training for life."

A Hospital Witness

The kindergarten teachers, who are also Sunday School teachers and leaders in the church, again took time to go to the T.B. department of the Red Cross Hospital for the two Christmas services which mean so much to the patients there. And this year a young man who had been a patient in that hospital for three years came with us to witness to the love and power of God. He told of the large star that appeared each night in its appointed place and went on its steady course, as he watched it from his bed in the hospital. He knew it was there whether he could see it or not. It steadied and strengthened him and spoke to him of the Loving Father, the God of all wisdom and power who changeth not. Christmas Eve he was baptized. He wrote, "I would not have known this joy of baptism if that time of sickness and suffering had not come to me. If some one had not come to the hospital with the message of Jesus Christ, I would not have had this great experience or be able to speak freely and honestly with people around me and receive from them so much. As I was receiving baptism the joy of God's spirit filled my heart and I prayed that He would ever lead me in His way." This young Christian with a strong evangelistic spirit has joined the Church to give it new life and to help bring in the Kingdom of God.

FROM MISS M. JEAN MACDONALD

Evangelistic Missionary,
Nagano, Japan

"A New Urgency"

In all my work the major emphasis is evangelism of youth. Out of eight classes there are only two which have straight English lessons. For these two classes there is a joint worship service with the minister interpreting my English meditation. In this way over 35 young people meet the minister each week.

Since September I have been working with a group of over 25 girls from Arigasaki Girls' School in Matsumoto. These High School students are members of an English Club with a major interest in learning English. They come from varied religious backgrounds but at the moment we are studying the life of Christ.

Because other Bible classes are on the other side of Matsumoto, I must stay over night there. It has been a source of real joy to me to be invited to stay in students' homes. I am treated as the student's guest, eating with her and sleeping in the same room as she does. I have learned much about Japanese family life and have had an opportunity to see the girl in her family setting. For many of them it is the first time a foreigner or a Christian has ever visited them. My hope is that from such visits the family may gain a new understanding of Christianity and from even such tiny seeds fruit may be born for the Church of Christ in Japan.

Since we work under the Kyodan, I have the privilege of teaching a Bible class in a Baptist church in Omatchi. For the past two years theological students have volunteered one year of service before finishing their course in order to keep this little mountain village church open. The congregation is not large but it is very faithful in its stewardship and devotion. On April 19th four young people dedicated their lives to Christ by being baptized in the icy-cold waters of Lake Kizaki at eight o'clock in the morning. Many from the church rode the five miles on bicycles to rededicate themselves and to assure these young people of their desire to help them grow in the Christian faith.

This fall I was invited to attend a three-day National Christian Council Conference on "Curriculum planning for the Church School." There were some thirty Japanese ministers and workers in the National Christian Council in Tokyo, as well as six foreigners in attendance. The missionaries were there in a purely advisory capacity. It was most interesting to me to see how the men in our group gradually brought me into their circle where we could share ideas with no feeling of one person sitting in judgment of another. I learned a great deal about the major emphasis in Japanese Christian Education. I could not always agree, but I felt these men were deeply concerned about the youth of Japan, and they were earnestly seeking the best way to communicate to them the living Christian message. Plans are now under way to study the needs in the fields of Daily Vacation Bible Schools and Leadership Training of layworkers.

All of these signs give one hope for the future. Christianity has hardly touched Japan's 83 millions, but this year since the Japanese Christians have been made aware of the challenge of Home Missions, one senses a new urgency and a new dynamic in the smaller rural churches.

FROM MISS MARY HAIG

Evangelistic Missionary,
Kanazawa, Japan

What Japanese People are Saying

Some things we hear in this city of Kanazawa, the largest city on the west coast of Japan with a population of 250,000, are worth repeating and remembering.

We hear this from the Japanese Principal of a Christian Girls' School: In Kanazawa we have six congregations belonging to the United Church of Christ in Japan, each with a membership of about one hundred, making a total of about 600. There are perhaps 2,000 children attending Sunday School. In ten Christian kindergartens more than 1,000 small persons are receiving daily the guidance of 50 Christian teachers. In the mission school 1,200 students of Middle School, High School and Junior College grades receive regular religious instruction. In the Christian orphanage 100 boys and girls attend morning prayers before starting for school. Consider the Parent Association; the graduates from these schools, the Bible classes conducted by missionaries and Y.M.C.A., the work of the Anglican and other smaller denominations in the city and we have a community of perhaps 10,000 who have some connection with the Christian movement. We need to pull together, forgetting all differences, rejecting all feelings of resentment or selfishness, so that we may present a strong united front against evil and against anti-Christian elements in the society around us. Each individual has a witness to share. Let us remember that we are a part of a great Christian force. Let us go all out to win others for Christ.

Then from the ministers we hear: Evangelism is never easy. It is always difficult to bring people to a decision for Christ. . . . It is important to win youth while in High School. It is too late when they get to college.

A visiting clergy says: We understand better the meaning of Christ's sufferings since our experience of the war years. . . . Street preaching reaches people who will not come to church. They will always listen if you preach about the Cross.

From a University professor we hear: I'm neither a good Buddhist nor a Christian. I ought to be one or the other. Perhaps some time we could have meetings in my house to read the Bible stories to some of my friends.

We hear this from a post-graduate student: I've studied Bible for two years but I don't know how to get Christianity. . . . If I become Christian I must be honest. I can't be honest and work in an advertising business.

Some member of a Women's Bible Study Group says: I graduated from a Christian school but since my marriage have not been to church. It is a pleasure to come to this class and sing hymns and study the gospels.

Another says: I'm not a Christian. I help my husband in a noodle shop. We're terribly busy, but I get inspiration from coming to Mothers' meetings and Bible class.

FROM MISS M. ISOBEL LEITH

Evangelistic Missionary,
Hakodate, Japan

The Church Reaches Out

In the south of the district to which I was assigned is the fishing village of Fukuslima, which is now coming into prominence for it is there that the new proposed undersea tunnel joining the mainland and Hakkaido is to have its opening in Hokkaido. Workmen and their families are being brought in which will more than double the population, which is bringing problems in housing, schooling, etc. The task of proclaiming the Christian gospel to these people has been taken by the Hakodate church. There is a fine group of young people who are the nucleus of the Christian work being carried on. Once a month I go out to hold a meeting with them, and when no one from Hakodate church can go out they carry on by themselves. The villagers have been anxious to have a kindergarten started under Christian auspices, and we are desirous of meeting this need.

This spring one of our Hakodate Chitose Church young men, who had had to interrupt his theological studies for financial reasons, went to the mountain village of Tate, 40 miles away, to teach school. On a visit back to Hakodate he came to see me and expressed the need for some Christian work in the district, especially for the children, so one day "Wully", the W.M.S. jeep, started on his way west with four of us to spy out the land. We were met four miles off and personally conducted into the village where a real welcome awaited us. We had a children's meeting, and after it was over, one young man said that the adults would like an opportunity to learn more about Christianity, would it be possible for us to come again? The opportunity for work in this district was presented to the Chitose Church Board and it was decided to take on the responsibility for this village, going once a month as long as roads permitted. The minister and I went out twice for meetings. For some it was the first time they had been to a Christian service, others had had contact through literature and radio but all were anxious to learn more. Now the young teacher is holding regular weekly meetings.

Going north from Tate seventy-five miles through village after village you come to the Setana district where is stationed another minister with whom I am associated. Here he is carrying on work in eleven villages. Five are on the railroad, but to the others he has to use his bicycle in the summer and walk in winter. When the missionary is present a sleigh or three-wheeled truck is made available. During the winter when the farm young people have free time the minister planned rural gospel schools with an expert in agriculture to give new ideas in better methods of farming. As a result of these schools a greater interest in Christian living also evolved. During the year in which I have been associated with this minister it has been heartening to see how he has been building up the Christian work in that district. Gradually a lay leadership is evolving which can carry on when the minister cannot be present.

At Yakumo, another agricultural centre, we find another thriving church, with two ministers a brother and a sister. During this year they realized a dream of a new building especially for rural gospel schools and rural evangelism program.

In the summer the women's associations of the churches in South Hokkaido held a retreat in Hakodate for two days. The discussions and contacts with this larger group gave a fresh stimulus to women's work in all the churches. The main topic for discussion was the Christian family. Once more we were confronted with the challenge that to have a strong church we must work for Christian families.

A Chapter on Korea

FROM REV. ELDA S. DANIELS
MISS ANNE M. DAVISON
DR. FLORENCE J. MURRAY
MISS EMMA J. PALETHORPE
MISS ANNETTA M. ROSE
MISS ADA SANDELL

NOTE: At the request of the other missionaries, the following report was compiled by Miss Palethorpe from the individual reports of the W.M.S. workers in Korea. Its Introduction, writes Miss Palethorpe, is taken from Dr. Murray's report.

INTRODUCTION

"The year of the wicked Snake is gone and the year of the cheerful and vigorous Horse has come" commented an English language Korean newspaper in Seoul on January 1st, 1954.

The year of the Snake has been an eventful one indeed. It has seen the bombers cease to fly and big guns become silent. It has seen a courageous people returning to their ruined cities and villages to start life again. It has seen schools and colleges return to their former sites and start classes even in leaky buildings and in tents. It has seen students graduated from accelerated courses, posted to the army and navy on their graduation day.

It has seen scattered congregations gathered together again to rebuild both their buildings and their Church life. It has seen 5,000 Christians on South Mountain give thanks together on Eastern morn for the miracle of the resurrection even while bombers still sped on their errands of death, overhead.

It has seen missionaries, even as other refugees, return to the scene of their labors. It has seen, after long years, new recruits reach our mission, bringing encouragement and hope.

It has seen the sympathy of the Christian world in tangible form, poured out with amazing generosity on behalf of the destitute, helpless victims of war in this ravaged land.

Relief and Rehabilitation

Again through 1953 a great deal of the time of the missionaries has necessarily been devoted to distributing, to the best possible advantage, the generous gifts made available for relief in Korea. Through relief funds granted by the Board of Overseas Missions, the Committee on Overseas Relief of The United Church of Canada and the Woman's Missionary Society, as well as more personal gifts of hundreds of individuals in the Canadian Church, who have been moved by the need in Korea, it has been possible to do a great deal to relieve distress, care for the sick, enable individual students to carry on their education, and help out in family emergencies.

The leaders of the Korean Church agree with us that the time for giving direct financial relief is pretty well past, as the folk who are capable of benefitting at all permanently from such help have gradually succeeded in becoming re-established. We have agreed, however, on the value of making small loans, interest free, to enable individuals to get started in some small business or other means of self-support. We are finding that the percentage of refunds on these loans, without any pressure on our part, is encouragingly high, and they are most grateful for the help thus given. This money is then available to be used again and again to help such folk.

We have tried to adhere, as far as possible, to our well tried and proven policy of not assisting as a mission, in the building of churches. We have always felt that the church building which a congregation waits for until it is able to build, and sacrifices to make possible, means more to that congregation and the community than one which is largely built with Western funds. There have been a few cases where some help has been given in supplementing the best a refugee congregation could do, in order that they might have their place of worship without undue delay.

Now too, interest free loans are being made to some congregations faced with the task of rebuilding their churches destroyed in the war, as they return to Seoul and rally their congregations. These loans are being made on a two year basis and we are hoping that they will give the needed assistance without prejudicing our policy, which we believe to be sound.

We have continued to use a goodly share of the relief funds for aid to the widows and orphans of martyred pastors and other Church workers and for aged and infirm ministers, many of whom have, through the war, lost the sons on whom they would otherwise have depended in their declining years.

The need for public assistance to the aged and to orphans is a new development in Korean society, born of the war. Previously filial piety saw to the care of the aged and family feeling was so strong that there was always some relative ready to make a home for an orphaned child. Any Korean would feel the education of a nephew to be as much his responsibility, in case of need, as that of his own son.

Among much that is depressing and discouraging in the life of Korea today, an encouraging aspect is the large number of individuals who have been burdened with the plight of homeless orphans and felt impelled to do something about it. With nothing but their courage and faith they have gathered the homeless waifs in and God has provided in marvellous ways for their support, largely through the generous assistance of U.N. forces personnel most of whom seem to have a very warm spot in their hearts for Korean children.

Others have felt deep concern for mothers left with children to support and without the necessary training or organizing ability. For these they have opened Homes where mothers and their families find shelter and the mothers are able, by sewing, weaving, etc., to support their children and send the older ones to school. Although there are many such institutions now throughout the country, and one cannot speak too highly of the unselfish devotion which has brought them into existence, there still remain, of course, many homeless children who roam the streets, living by their wits and learning criminal ways, and a great many mothers who are harassed and despairing because of their inability to give their children a proper chance in life.

The constant flow of relief parcels of used clothing and new sent by women's organizations, Sunday Schools and by individuals, has helped tremendously and enabled us to clothe many a shivering body and relieve the anxiety of parents unable to adequately provide for their families.

In Pusan, repeated disastrous fires in which many thousands have lost not only their homes but bedding and clothing, have added greatly to the need, and it has been a joy to be able to help many who, as refugees, have had loss on loss.

Ewha Woman's University

When last we reported, this University was still in exile, making do with dreadfully inadequate temporary quarters in Pusan, so it was not surprising that as soon as the truce was signed and peace promised, they made plans to return to their beautiful campus in Seoul.

Rev. Elda Daniels writes, "In September I returned to the campus of Ewha Woman's University in Seoul, after an absence in Canada of three and a half years, and found the institution functioning almost normally. It was amazing to me that higher education could have survived at all the series of catastrophes Korea has known in the interval. . . . What the interlude on the temporary campus in Pusan was like, I can only guess from pictures and stories of those who experienced it, but one look at the crowded huts on that steep Pusan hillside was enough to convince me how much better off every one concerned would be in Seoul. And it was astonishing to come here and find things in such good running order. . . . Repair on the university buildings has got to the stage where either a new roof or patches on an old one damaged by bombing has made the buildings weather proof. Soon after I arrived the roof on the main building was painted green like the others and when the pole-scaffolding, tied by straw rope was removed, the whole effect was very much as if no war had happened.

Men have worked against time to restore broken panes of glass, repair doors, make benches and get the plumbing and heating systems in order. Fresh calomine covers up cracks and bullet holes, giving a new look to the classrooms and halls renovated so far. Of course there is still a great deal to be done, including the equipping of the Home Economics and General Science labs and furnishing the dormitory, where three hundred girls now sleep on straw mats on cold floors. It is gratifying to know that generous United Church of Canada funds have been received for dormitory furnishing.

Electricity has not yet been re-connected in all the buildings and there is no telephone. The student body has nearly doubled in three years with consequent overcrowding. Chapel, musical recitals, plays, etc., have to be repeated in one building after another with group after group. However, careful planning makes adequate classroom space available, and the whole study program is carried on with reasonable precision and regularity. . . . The opportunity to have some part in shaping the thinking of these young women so that they will become Christian and put spiritual values first in their lives is a real challenge. For this opportunity I am more thankful than words can express. My assignment is to lead in worship in chapel, teach Christian Education and do personal evangelism with the students.

There are two ordained men on our staff and Miss Yung Oon Kim, who studied at Emmanuel College, directs the department. She is so well qualified and it is a joy to work with her.

We have all sorts of plans for a University Settlement project which would be an extension program of the university, reaching out into the poor community near by. This would provide the social work students with a much needed field for practise work. At present this is only a dream but we are looking for help in carrying it out.

An additional need is for Social Work specialists on the staff of this department and we are anxiously awaiting the arrival of scholarship students and more missionaries from Canada. At present I am teaching English five hours a week and will likely be asked to do much more than that when the Freshman Class comes in April. I wish very much that one or two K3's could come right away to relieve me of English teaching so that I could be free to follow the lines of my special training, i.e., Theology and Christian Education. . . .

Since it is impossible to predict the future out here, we work in the dark, not knowing whether we have years or only days in which to work. Yet, not quite in the dark—there is always God's sun which will help the seeds to grow into flowers. So we sow with a prayer and a hope, and leave the blossoming to Him."

Chosen Theological Seminary

The Chosen Theological Seminary is another institution which returned Seoul and to badly damaged buildings in the early fall. We have continued to aid this seminary by means of small grants from both the Board of Overseas Missions and the W.M.S. and this year special grants were made to enable them to make better dormitory accommodation available to the students.

Miss A. M. Rose moved to Seoul when the seminary did and has been teaching Christian Education in all four years. Miss Rose writes, "When one sees the quality of educational work being carried on in the churches there can be no doubt as to the need for this work. Gradually I am getting the students to see something of the need. There should be a teacher who could give time to directing the students' field work but no one is available. We are in great need of trained nationals to assist in this important work. Many happy hours are spent in the classroom as we talk and discuss the problems met in putting the educational work of the church here on a higher level.

Korean Council Christian Education

This is another field to which Miss Rose has been giving time and attention. Work here proceeds very slowly but Miss Rose did have the satisfaction of seeing a book on which she had been working come from the press and it is being used as one of the Seminary text books.

Although Miss Rose has visited a great many Church Schools and through teachers' meetings been able to do much to improve them, the lack of equipment and materials to assist the teachers is a great handicap. Because of difficulty of travel and abnormal conditions, it was possible to hold only one Church School Institute in 1953.

Severance

Dr. F. J. Murray has continued to give very valued teaching in the Medical School as well as to hold an administrative position in the hospital and to lend a helping hand in its many departments.

Severance perhaps suffered the greatest damage of any of the Mission institutions in Seoul, over two-thirds of the buildings being destroyed. There are great heaps of rubble where once there were busy hospital departments, holes in the ground where once there were substantial and very comfortable missionary and staff residences, and in some cases, and still more of an eyesore, parts of shell-marked walls still standing to remind one of the extent of the compound in past days.

Yet, in partially restored buildings, the work of the hospital is being carried on and many lives saved and much suffering relieved.

One particularly appealing department, born of the war situation, is the Orthopedic Shop where civilian war casualties are being fitted with limbs and trained in the use of them so that they are able to go out to be independent members of society in spite of their handicap, which at first plunged them in despair. Moreover the work of making the limbs is being done by amputees, fitted with the needed limbs themselves and then trained in the making of the parts and the limbs themselves, so that they may go out with a useful occupation and not only supply the needs of others but make a living for themselves and their families. Recently a small hostel was erected with bricks salvaged from destroyed buildings and furnished to provide a home where the patients may stay, right on the hospital compound, while waiting to get limbs fitted and while they are being trained in the use of them. It is good to see the determination with which men and women work away at the job of learning to walk again or to use a hook where once they had had a hand. Also it is good to see the new hope and confidence with which these handicapped folk are facing a new and different life.

School of Nursing

For the first four months of 1953, the School was still in exile on Koje Island. There, the end of March, combined graduation and capping exercises were held, when nine girls graduated and sixteen were given their caps at a very impressive ceremony attended by many interested friends. Miss Sandell, who is in charge of the Nursing School writes; "At the end of April we moved the student nurses up to Seoul where the hospital was full of patients and nurses badly needed. It was quite an undertaking to move the forty girls and there was real regret on the part of the people of Chang Sung Po when we left. The girls slept in the chapel of the Police Hospital in Pusan the one night they spent in that city and early next morning the Canadian truck and three jeeps picked up the girls and their baggage and took them to the station where they caught the 6.30 a.m. train for Seoul. We thought they were to have a car all to themselves, but alas, just before the train left, we were informed that they were sitting in a car reserved for Korean soldiers, and they had to get out and try to find other places. They had to stand most of the way to Seoul, a twelve hour trip! The Nurses' Home was badly bombed and was not, of course, fit for occupancy so that they were temporarily housed in a former missionary residence. They and the graduate nurses were crowded in on double decker beds, sixty people living where formerly a family of six was accommodated. Even then they were as comfortable as most of the people in Korea are.

) The classrooms in the basement of the old Home were useable by having windows and doors repaired. All went well until the rainy season came and then we needed either bathing suits or boats to get into the place. For a few months we labored under difficulty but work was started on the renovation of the home and finished early in December when the girls moved in. They are now much more comfortable than they have been for some time.

We accepted a class of eleven girls in May, just after arrival in Seoul. For the first time we accepted only High School graduates but the venture has not been an entire success. When capping time came at the end of October there were but five left!

On the last day of the year the students had the annual meeting of their Y.W.C.A., and I was very pleased with the reports of their work. For instance, they have kept two children in school in Chang Sung Po, Koje Island, all year from the proceeds of their Christmas project last year. They have gone to the hospital every Sunday morning, before going on duty, to sing for the patients and have sung at several public affairs. Also they have had a regular study group, using the Life of Jesus as the basis of their studies.

During December I was asked to teach sixteen hours in a refresher course for Head Nurses. . . . During the year I have been a member of the Educational Committee of the Nurses' Association and have attended a monthly meeting. Many problems have been faced and some of them solved."

Personnel

As mentioned above, 1953 has been a momentous one for the Korea Mission because of the increase in the missionary staff. In addition to Miss Daniels, returning to her work in Ewha University, Miss Palethorpe surprised herself and others by returning about twelve and a half years after leaving, for a short term before retirement. Miss Palethorpe's major assignment is office work, assuming the duties of Secretary-Treasurer for both Boards, and assisting in relief work. The three and a half months of 1953 were all too short to get acquainted with the new environment, get caught up on the many changes the years have brought and to learn the quirks of banking and exchanging currencies, and in fact the mere business of living under military government in very abnormal times, in a city very different from the familiar North.

Fortunately the language has proved rather less of a barrier than had been feared, and hearing it spoken on every side and getting back into the right atmosphere has recalled much that seemed in Canada, to have been lost completely.

Meeting with former friends and associates, both Korean and missionary, has been a great joy and the opportunity of making whatever contribution proves possible, is greatly appreciated.

It was indeed heartening to learn of the appointment of two brand new missionaries and to know that they have been part of our staff for the last half of the year, even though their first year language study is being taken at Yale instead of in Korea. They will be most welcome when they arrive, with a good start on the language, in 1954.

Another new appointee was Miss Anne Davison, who, though a full member of the Mission is on loan to Church World Service, specially assigned to social work with children. The illness and death of the Director of Korea Church World Service, Dr. Henry Appenzeller made it necessary for Miss Davison to assume executive responsibility in all branches of the work, instead of specializing in the work with children, as had been expected.

However, a great deal of her attention has been directed to the setting up of milk stations, cooperating in the milk program of UNICEF. By the end of the year 1,721 children on Koje Island were receiving milk powder and 1,640 children attending the local church daily for a drink of milk, literacy program and any other help the community can afford. In the Pusan area, ten milk stations have been established feeding about 1,500 children.

Miss Davison is particularly interested in keeping children in their homes if at all possible, and emphasizing the importance of the family. She is therefore giving thought and attention to the various projects for assisting widows with housing and a means of livelihood, so that they may keep their children with them.

Housing

The coming of more missionaries to our own and the Australian Missions meant it was no longer possible for them to share their housing with us as they had been doing so it became necessary to secure a Canadian residence in Pusan. One of Japanese construction was purchased and rebuilt and has become a comfortable home for both the B.O.M. and W.M.S. missionaries.

In Seoul, the pre-war B.O.M. residence has been renovated and a Japanese style house built on our compound during the war has now been purchased from the Korean Government so that our Seoul missionaries also are now adequately housed.

All felt that 1953 would be a critical year in Korea and as we look back we are constrained to give thanks that it has closed on a more hopeful note than it began, and that it has seen progress made in reconstruction and rehabilitation. We are thankful for the expansion of the Mission, not only through the coming of the above W.M.S. workers, but through the arrival of three new representatives of the B.O.M., a doctor and two ordained ministers.

So we face 1954 with fresh courage and hope that it will see us established in a new field, near our former district but south of the 38th Parallel, where we will be at home and not in exile, and where we will be able to do some more constructive and permanent work.

KOREA MISSIONARIES, 1953

A Chapter on Trinidad

THE FOREWORD

The United Church of Canada Mission in Trinidad was honored in having several of the United Church missionaries included in the list of those receiving coronation medals at the time of the Coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Among those so honored were Misses Grace Beattie, Irene Thompson and Margaret Scrimgeour.

The new building of the St. Augustine Girls' High School, which was opened on May 14, 1953, is a great asset. Its beauty of appearance and excellently planned layout have been a benefit not only to the school itself, but have also made a deep impression on the whole community. During this past year there were 233 girls in the school, 160 of whom were from Christian families. These girls would have had no opportunity for secondary education without this school, and the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad and the whole community in the northern part of the Island, are grateful for this institution.

A Year of Interruptions!

The year 1953 might be said to have come in as an interruption, yet each interruption did begin something new. School opened on Tuesday, January 13th, and the usual routine of checking new students and new classes was interrupted by our lawyer friend saying, "Come at once and bring your cheque book." Before the noon hour struck we had bought the new property adjacent to us, known as "La Retraite". It now houses the Kindergarten and Junior Preparatory Department—that is, the children under nine years of age.

Then came another interruption when school had to be closed for two full days for the Test Matches with the Indian cricket team. Added to the assortment of holidays during the second term was the excitement of the Coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Through the National Youth Council which is affiliated with the World Assembly of Youth, our young people sent their allegiance to the Queen. On the last day of that term the contract for building the new auditorium was signed.

During the last term there was one unusual happening—Her Majesty was in Jamaica. Trinidadians were granted a full day's holiday on the day that she landed. It came in the middle of the school's final examinations. If we are to judge by the actions of the resident students it was no holiday for the Naparima Girls' High School, but it was a lucky day for extra study.

On the second Sunday of November the Naparima Institutions took charge of the evening service at Susamachar. The front half of the church was packed with the students and staff of the Colleges and High School. This annual service seems such a fitting end to the school year, and gives inspiration to those who are to write their final examinations and step into another kind of life in the new year.

We recommended 61 girls to write the Overseas School Certificate examinations, one girl fell ill and could not write, but of the 60 who wrote we have learned that 58 are to receive certificates.

The Naparima Girls' High School Alumnae Association is very active. They have now a branch in the north of the Island. During the year they have raised over a thousand dollars and are hoping to give the school a much-needed new piano to place in the new auditorium. Thus we find Miss Beattie's hard work in forming and encouraging this group is bearing much fruit. Many others too are benefitting from the efforts of her faithful work.

Outside of school activities, I have assisted some of our young people to run a Sunday School on a small sugar estate three miles out of town; enjoyed the inspiration of the silver anniversary conference of the Woman's Missionary Society; nearly met the Princess Royal (Ed.: Miss Serimgeour was called away by the illness of her mother); have been a guest of Government House on Coronation Day, and many other interesting things.

Work and Worship

When I was on vacation in August a friend asked, "What do you find most satisfying in your work in Trinidad?" After some thought I replied, "It is the close relationship of work and worship in our big school." As I described the school my friend was at first puzzled by my answer, but in the end she glimpsed, I think, how the Spirit works in a cosmopolitan school.

Sometimes we feel the lack of any real evidence of the Kingdom of God in our midst. There are quarrels at recess and quarrels which are not easily made up because they have their roots in the lands from which the grandparents have come, in Africa, in India, in Holland and in China. There is a quick response to the good, in the cool of the morning, but an easy forgetting when evil appears in the heat of the noonday sun.

And yet—there are those factors which are creative and satisfying. There is the fellowship of teachers who desire first that God shall be glorified, above the teaching of Geometry and Latin. Phoebe Lohouri's week of conducting morning devotions shakes us all, girls and teachers, and we know within ourselves that we are called to walk a higher way. The young teachers returning from study abroad in India, in Canada, in England and in Ireland bring a breath of many universities and share with us what great Christians have meant to them in their college days. It is both humbling and challenging to be working with Vilma Meghu, on our staff since September. Through her we have come to know her principal, that marvellous woman who wrote the World Day of Prayer service for us all, so shortly before she died, Dr. Sarah Chakko. Through her we have come to know how our religion in Trinidad lacks the depth that it has in India, "Perhaps", she says, "because Christianity comes so easily here."

Scripture is an important subject with its place on the time-table of every class two or three times a week. A girl passing through the school from Form 1 to Form 6 covers the whole Bible. The teachers of Scripture are chosen carefully. A girl just out of High School will be asked to teach Algebra and Literature but the teachers of Scripture are usually those who have included Religious Knowledge in their college studies. The teaching is well done.

The dormitory girls, a small group of 40 of the 600 high school girls, do try some experiments of the Jesus Way of living. In their residence life fierce quarrels arise, followed by stony silences almost impossible to break. My T.G.I.T. group discussed one of these impasses which had arisen and decided to take action. They planned a Treasure Hunt for everyone up over the hump of La Pique Hill and into La Retraite. They felt a real group spirit as they made rhymed clues and hid them along the route; then they stationed themselves along the dangerous way, hidden of course, but to be near if needed for landslides or broken ankles. The other groups started at a given signal. How quickly they deciphered the poetic instructions! I myself hurried to La Retraite another way and was able to watch the groups come in. What fun it was and what sparkling eyes where before there had been nothing but glum looks. The treasure was a great bag of the loved tamarind nuts, with plenty for all. The experiment had worked. Seniors had put themselves out to plan something for the younger ones and it had created good fellowship.

As we returned home we passed under a great tree in blossom and one of the girls began to quote "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork." My heart was lifted up and I thought, "Yes, here in this school today work and worship are one."

Progress in the Women's Groups

Year after year "the trivial round, the common task" seems to describe what we are trying to do. My common task is the visiting, encouraging and in some places organizing the Woman's Missionary Societies throughout the San Fernando field. There are now 22 organized groups as well as several unorganized, that look to me for help and guidance. These are a part of the whole W.M.S. of Trinidad that functions so smoothly and raises money for the support of our work here and also donates a small amount to "foreign missions".

In addition three or four classes of young women are getting help in handwork from me and my volunteer workers. One of these classes was held this past year in the home of a Hindu pundit, where a spirit of confidence and friendliness has been built up. Progress has been made in the women's groups. In several places the president now feels capable of taking charge when the lessons which are prepared by committee under the W.M.S. are provided. This is a great step forward. Fyzabad has at last been able to present a small organ to their church. In Monkey Town the men of the church reported that they had the lumber to repair the church building but no money for the carpenter. The W.M.S. came forward with their accumulation of some years and now the repairs are being done. In Diamond Village, Sister Eva Waggott's group of Baptist ladies had a joint meeting with ours. This was interesting and helpful. Two races as well as two denominations here found a common faith.

The companionship of my friend and helper, the long time Bible-woman, Mrs. Jamadar, has become more precious as the years pass. During this year Miss Bona Doodram's home conditions have changed in such a way as to make it possible for her to be taken on as a paid worker. So we have been able to reach out farther and when we were informed that a large number of non-Christians were gathered together at a spot we were passing, we were able to leave Mrs. Jamadar with them while Bona and I carried out the planned program.

The Biblewomen of Couva, San Fernando and Princes Town fields meet in one group in San Fernando for two days study each month, and then they go out to their various fields to carry the message of the love of God.

To me was given the honor of laying the cornerstone of the new church building in the Calcutta district, part of the Couva field. One of the greatest satisfactions is found in the class of young people—the senior class in Susamachar Sunday School—to which I fell heir when Molly Indar was married and moved out of San Fernando.

In addition to the regular work of evangelism among women and girls, meetings of Presbytery, Home and Family Council, and W.C.T.U. add spice as well as an opportunity of working with other denominations. A woman's fellowship was organized in the south near the close of the year. This helps to give us a wider sympathy and encourages us as we see we are not working alone. We find more and more opportunities to cooperate with those, who like ourselves, are working for our Lord and Master. Taking part in a panel discussion during the Y.W.C.A. Week of Prayer brought fellowship and friendship with an Anglican and a Methodist woman.

Progress in Youth Work

Robinson Crusoe, Friday, parrots, cats, dogs and even "Umbrella" came back to life again at the joyous Leaders Camp in Tobago, Robinson Crusoe's Isle, Easter week. For seven glorious days we left our personalities behind, and found re-incarnation in Crusoe's Cave. The strange phenomenon of swimming in mid-ocean, in a shallow sandy bathing pool many fathoms from shore, visiting the coral reef, gathering strange sea-weeds, shells and coral formations—these gave a novel aspect to the camp which contained as well all the worthwhile aspects of a Christian Education camp. Mrs. Mohun, our sari-clad leader, gave us in our Bible study a new vision of what Discipleship means. Sunset vespers stressing "Desire, Discipline, Decision, and Direction" in the beauty of the out-of-doors singsongs, hand work, beach suppers and appetizing meals together made an unforgettable week. Who were these fortunate campers? I was Robinson Crusoe, the Director; "Umbrella" who sheltered us, provided the excellent meals and produced novel handwork was Miss Elizabeth Masters; and the twenty other campers were T.G.I.T. leaders who returned home with a new dedication and imparted new life to their T.G.I.T. groups.

1953 was an eventful year in the history of Trinidad Girls In Training, for it was the first full year under the new constitution, and the beginning of a new era of cooperation with the Boys' Work Board. And we also had the largest number of groups ever registered; 62 T.G.I.T. and 13 Explorer Groups with a membership of 1,144 T.G.I.T. and 231 Explorers. On Youth Sunday at each service throughout the Island either a member of the Boys' or the Girls' Work Boards, or both, presented our Youth work to the congregation. We hope that our church members and parents are now more cognizant of the purpose and program of our Trail Rangers and T.G.I.T.

The August Christian Education Leadership Training Course sponsored by the Trinidad and Tobago Sunday School Association and the various Protestant denominations was the summit of our Leadership Training activities. With the added leadership of Rev. Alvin Cooper of Toronto and Miss Ruth Reynolds of Indiana and a splendid group from here, it was an excellent course. Many of the 100 who attended received new motivation, new materials, new methods, for their Sunday School and Christian Education work. My share in it was serving as secretary of the Planning Committee, Counsellor, and Recreation Leader during the course.

It has been a good year, with many other activities and innumerable committee meetings. However, the Christian Youth Association completing its first year since inauguration, is worthy of mention as the most promising interdenominational youth organization. It is composed of nine denominational Youth groups, plus three interdenominational bodies (Y.W.C.A., the Christian Endeavor Union and the Trinidad and Tobago S.S. Association). Its major activity during the year was raising funds to send Miss Vilma Meghu, a Trinidadian studying in Lucknow, India, to the World Christian Youth Conference in Travancore. Vilma returned to us later bringing inspiration both to the Christian Youth Association and its member organizations. Vilma is one of the promising leaders of today. Before long Trinidad will produce her own leadership. There are many potentialities but guidance and training is needed; this is the task of Leadership Training in Trinidad.

FROM MISS JEAN H. SOMMERVILLE

Evangelistic Missionary,
Couva, Trinidad

Church, Sunday School and Auxiliary

"Churches large, and churches small,
Churches that do not seem like churches at all,
... They are churches, wherever they may be,
'Tis the people, not the building, make the Church for me."

These lines from a Lesson Leaflet for little children seem to speak to me as I think of my work during the past year, which has been with a dozen assorted small congregations, in association with two Trinidad ministers and two lay preachers. One-third of these congregations have no church building at all; they meet in homes and in schools; it is the people, the worshipping people that make them churches. And those other groups that have churches have had them—some of them—for a long time; and they were not the kind of building that grows old gracefully. So 1953 was a year of rejuvenating church buildings, and naturally, planning and paying for repairs to our places of worship, which has brought fresh life to those who worship within their walls. One of our congregations has acquired a brand new church—they had worshipped for long in a thatched shed—the dedication of the church at Calcutta Settlement was one of the highlights of the year.

We have more Sunday Schools than preaching places; a Sunday School is held wherever a teacher gathers boys and girls together—with the backing of a few parents who want Christian training for their children. A favorite meeting place for Sunday School is under a house. You see, many Trinidad houses are set up on posts, stilt fashion. Underneath is open and is useful for keeping things and for holding meetings and Sunday School too. But our Sunday Schools are not as unorganized as that would suggest. They are all units in our Island-wide Sunday School Association, and 1953 has seen us all seeking to have them all follow the same course of lessons, as planned in conjunction with the Christian Education program for our Canadian Mission day schools. Bible plays and Christmas pageants were Sunday school highlights, as was also a Rally with a parade, in connection with Christian Home and Family week.

Some of our little congregations have tiny W.M.S. Auxiliaries. I wish they were not so tiny, but how important it is to have a W.M.S. group in every congregation. As in Canada, so in Trinidad women give of their time and strength and money to help both the local church and the wider work of the Church as a whole. Some of the money given by Trinidad W.M.S. goes to India; some of the money given by Canadian W.M.S. comes to provide Biblewomen in Trinidad. These women together with the missionaries, go about visiting both Christian and non-Christian homes and hold informal meetings wherever a few women are willing to meet to study and pray.

We enjoy our visiting but sometimes we get discouraged, for in Trinidad the forces that work against a happy home life are very strong; we feel very few and very small. Then we remember that "they that be with us are more than they that be with them", and we forget our smallness as our little groups come together in our Island-wide W.M.S. Conference or as we gather with Christians of other Churches on the World Day of Prayer.

FROM MISS ELMA B. INMAN

Evangelistic and Christian Literature,

Through Christian Literature

Looking back over a period of years it is a joy to see the work of the Literature Committee take its place in the service of the Church. Our work is to promote the use of Christian literature and to provide literature when it is not otherwise available. The biggest event of the year was Christian Literature Sunday in June, when every charge was visited and $1,500 worth of literature was sold. The experiment has been deemed worthy and Presbytery has now made Christian Literature Sunday an annual event.

A series of tracts on Christian Thinking is planned and some have been issued, namely, "Protestantism" and "Giving". One on baptism is before Presbytery for approval. For years some of us have felt the need for a course of study on "Our Christian Faith", to be prepared here, for use of adults. A request from a local church session to Presbytery resulted in the appointing of a committee made up of members of the Theological College Board and from the Literature Committee to do this work. It was a bigger job than we anticipated but it has been accomplished. A series of nine lessons has been mimeographed with a request for candid comments. These studies are being used in 1954 by our Trinidad W.M.S. groups. As I talk with young people about becoming Christian it is a joy to put this study into their hands and later discuss it with them.

Mr. and Mrs. X., friends of mine, are happy to receive a letter from their son who is a student at a Canadian University, saying that in a Bible study group there he has come to understand the meaning of belief in Jesus Christ. Mrs. X. says, "Our son was baptized as an infant and we tried to teach him. He became a communicant member of our church because we all expected him to do so. He talked often of his lack of understanding of the Christian Faith. I tried to explain it to him. If I had had this 1954 study 'Our Christian Faith' I could have made him understand." We pray many may become intelligent Christians.

The most interesting class I had in 1953 was made up young women aged 15 to 18 years, who were engaged to be married. They came in varying numbers to our house on Friday mornings for some weeks. Some of them were from non-Christian homes and were engaged to Christian boys and they were all eager to make a success in the new venture of married life. We discussed the meaning of our Christian Faith and Rev. A. C. Dayfoot came in and went over the marriage service with them. Mrs. Dayfoot gave them valuable instruction on Christian attitudes in married life from the physical-spiritual angle. I wish pre-marital counselling were required for both men and women.

Early in each year we begin to plan for World Day of Prayer. Both adult and youth services are used. The T.G.I.T. groups, using the youth service, conducted the meeting and a speaker came in to help. All the older school children attended and participation was hearty. In most places parents were invited and in a few places they attended. In 1954 we are attempting an advance step; the T.G.I.T. and Trail Ranger groups will be leading the service and the girls and boys with their leaders will be their own speakers and singers. Thus this service becomes a part of our term study, namely "Our Christian Faith" (for youth). This series of six lessons was prepared by a joint committee from Boys' and Girls' Work Boards; lives of great Christians of differing races and ages are being studied and thus we try to learn what our Christian Faith does and is.

FROM MISS LULA V. ROUSE

Tunapuna-Guaico, Trinidad

This little island is teeming with people who work hard, love to sing, dance, laugh and play cricket. We have more good roads in Trinidad than most places owing to the Pitch Lake which we have here, and we have thousands of cars and a few reckless drivers. Carnival is a big event of the year. It is two days of freedom. Masks, costumes, steel bands, procession of dancers, crowning of queens take place in every town. Everybody enjoys the fun. If only they could keep rum drinking out of it.

Our new car which serves the Archibald Institute and the travelling missionary has travelled over 12,000 miles this year. Services are held regularly in schools, churches and homes. At Christmas time our six Biblewomen and others took two days and went to the homes of shut-ins with our Christmas program of song, Bible readings, solos and pictures. We were invited to hold a service in a new home, for it is the custom to have a home blessed and give a special offering to the church. We also held several thanksgiving services in homes where someone had recovered from a serious illness.

We are responsible for the music in our church each Sunday. We have two choirs one for morning and one for evening service, when the Archibald Institute girls sing the anthem. We have classes in weaving with the Archibald Institute girls and we welcome new patterns and new color schemes.

Two weeks ago we opened another new Sunday School in a new house which one of the Church members is building. It is an ideal place and already we have forty children and teachers who volunteered gladly and willingly. This Sunday School should meet a real need.

Many have answered our call for Christmas cards, Sunday School lesson picture cards, and other Sunday School material. We are using them every Sunday although we have not written to thank you. We hope the supply will continue. We have discovered that the writing on the Christmas cards can be removed with Javex, so there is no need to cut the cards. Large pictures of Christ are very welcome. There seems to be a dearth of pictures to hang in the homes, except the Roman Catholic pictures, which we find in many Protestant homes.

The Film of 1953

Time is like a great camera recording on its film the events of the year. What a variety of pictures were made in 1953!

One of the first and most outstanding snapshots on the 1953 films shows the official opening of our wonderful new High School on May 14th by Lady Rance, with over a thousand guests attending. In its beautiful setting with a fourteen-acre campus, St. Augustine Girls' High School is one of the finest in Trinidad and we are justly proud of it.

Click! the camera takes a second picture. It is May 20th and a bus-load of students and teachers unload at the Port of Spain docks to bid farewell to Miss Grace Beattie, the Principal, who was leaving for Canada. Laden with gifts and flowers, Miss Beattie boarded the tender and was off in a mist of rain and regret on the part of her many friends.

And now the camera of time clicks busily to keep up with the many activities of the school—final touches being made to building and grounds—students and staff engrossed in studies—a gala Sports Day directed by Miss Anna Mahase and the teachers. On September 1st the new Principal was appointed and on September 18th the third anniversary of the school was celebrated with an appropriate candle-lighting ceremony.

In the third term our collections of pictures grew steadily, for now the students were inspired with the idea of raising funds for the school. Concerts, treasure hunts, film shows, class newspapers, and Christmas cards—until the total reached over $685.00, almost enough to buy our new piano.

Our first little group went to write their Senior Cambridge Examinations early in December, another interesting picture. The camera must record too, the activities of our enthusiastic T.C.I.T. group with members of various races and religions, mingling in a common purpose. At Christmas time we went carolling. What a picture that was—the girls in their white dresses with red satin hoods and capes out under the tropical moonlit sky!

The camera kept up with our many personal activities too—to Diego Martin where my sister and I held craft classes for young mothers. (There should be one special picture to show the lovely child's dress made of a flour sack beautifully stencilled and block printed.) To the Y.W.C.A. where we had a leathercraft class and I served as a Board member. To various churches where I spoke at services or Christian Endeavor meetings, to an Easter pageant, which we directed at Aramalaya Church. As members of the Radio committee we listen to the recordings which are used each Sunday afternoon for our Religious Broadcast over Radio Trinidad. Some of the T.G.I.T. girls helped in mailing out over one hundred books relating to these programs and the flood of letters received testified to their spiritual inspiration.

So many intangible events occur which no camera may record! The friendship of the Trinidadian people, their love and loyalty which comes to warm one's heart when discouragement gets in. The little services, lovingly given, the gifts so generously and unobtrusively offered, the affection of the students and the eager spirit of enthusiasm throughout the school—all these are the measureless rewards which come so abundantly to us and make us feel that "Surely God is in this place" and we are proud to be His helpers.

A Chapter on Boarding Schools and School Homes

THE FOREWORD

The day for the need of School Homes is fast disappearing. A School Home is a residence in which young people may find a home away from home while they complete school grades that are unobtainable in their own community. They may come six or sixty miles to live in our residences. They may return home week-ends or they may visit their homes only at the Christmas and Easter seasons. They may have a European background or they may be the children of British pioneer families in areas where a high school has not yet been established. Then, too, they may be isolated Protestant families living in a remote community, wishing to attend a school of their own faith. Thus accommodation is made available to them. Today, too, they may be the children of New Canadians and while the parents attempt to establish a home of their own our residences give shelter and direction to these uprooted boys and girls during their adjustment period.

Board rates are within reach of employed parents and along with the Government allowance there are few physical needs that cannot be met for the young people in our School Homes.

The purpose of Home Mission residences is to give a positive evangelistic witness which will lead the young people in our institutions to a personal acquaintance with God. This is expressed through the service given by the Matrons in our School Homes and by residence training. We are also using the community services to meet the need, lifting the sights of these young people and encouraging them to participate in community and cultural activities.—I. M. L.

FROM MISS LAURA M. TRACE

Matron, The Children's Home, Lachine, Que.

Healthy, Happy Children

We have had a very interesting year with our healthy, happy children. From five to twelve years of age, they seem to bubble over with enthusiasm and are so eager to learn that it is amazing to watch their development.

In the children who have been with us for four years, we can see the results of our efforts. We appreciate their sense of humor, their loyalty to the Church and their ability in acquiring skills. Choosing a profession should be easy if they continue to cultivate their present hobbies. Walter is happiest when he is drawing and his one ambition is to possess oil paints. Luba spends her spare time curling and braiding hair. Grant is keenly interested in swimming. Gordon, at ten years, is an amateur magician and has a rare sense of humor. Stamp collecting is Michael's hobby and when taken to Eaton's to do Christmas shopping he spent all his time at the stamp counter.

Our children this year have come from distant lands as well as from Montreal and suburbs. Those coming the longest distance are two little English girls who came from Southern Rhodesia. These children who are five and seven years of age, speak English, French and Italian. Two others came from Germany—one being a Canadian citizen born in Germany. Rosemary, aged five, began life in Austria, and Peter, her brother, was born in Roumania. It sometimes happens that children who have lived here for a period of years, forget their mother tongue and speak only English when they leave us.

Several children attended camp again this year, thanks to the generosity of the Kinsmen of Lachine and the Montreal Westward Rotary Club. A farmer and his wife in the Huntingdon area very kindly opened their home to one of our boys last summer and he thoroughly enjoyed his two months on the farm.

Folks continue to send us gifts of food and clothing and gifts for the amusement and interest of the children. Our most costly gift this year was a television set from the Lakeshore Lions Club of Lachine.

Each year children who have outgrown our home leave us, but in most cases they keep in touch with the home by telephone and come back to visit. One boy who left one Saturday night last June called us on the telephone before eight o'clock Sunday morning and called a second time before noon that day. One recent visitor, a girl of fifteen, is now working for a living and attending night school. Another visitor, a former student, came to see us last week and told of the influence of this Home on her life. Her early environment had not been good but now that she has her own home and children she tries to make it Christian. She is so proud of the fact that her husband is a total abstainer.

FROM MRS. VIOLETTE DELAGNEAU LEFEBVRE

Matron, United Church School Home,
Namur, Que.

Looking over the year one event stands out as important; the dividing of the house and the reorganizing of our home in smaller quarters. Our maximum accommodation is now limited to 13 beds. I have to admit we feel somewhat crowded now that the front part of the building is being used as a Manse for the new minister, and although a smaller house and consequently a much smaller family should mean less work and less worries, I seem to be busier than ever. This is greatly due to the lack of regular staff, as no assistant seems available this winter, only help from outside by the day or week.

The majority of our boys and girls come from homes where there is little culture or background and I am happy to see them coming along so well. Teen-agers—we have four—are still a big problem this year. They create a difficult situation because they feel they should be allowed privileges which cannot be granted to the younger ones.

However there has been improvement all along the line and it is rewarding when occasionally one will come of his own accord and say: "Today I want to be good."

Learning How

Our girls have learned to knit socks from odds and ends of wool which was generously donated by several Auxiliaries of the Woman's Missionary Society in Ottawa. The socks in various mixed colors are very attractive. They have also learned how to bake cakes, and on Saturday mornings some girls do the baking while the others are taught how to use the washing machine when they wash some of their own clothes.

An outstanding event was the Hallowe'en Bean Supper and entertainment, sponsored by the school. Children were asked to wear costumes and to the delight of everyone the prizes went to three of our girls. They all took part in the plays and singing and had a good time.

December was a happy month with carol singing and entertainments. It was a surprise to many when our boys and girls put on a little French play, as children who could not speak French last year are learning to sing and to read the Bible in the French language. The highlight of the Christmas season was the story hour around the big Christmas Tree, followed by singing and the distribution of gifts. In addition to the big tree the children placed small trees in their dormitories. They went to the woods and cut them down themselves and spent hours decorating them and wrapping parcels to put around them. It made a pretty sight.

Parties, concerts and devotion periods are a very important part of a child's life and through them are created memories that linger. With this thought in mind, we are making every effort to sow the seed that in time may bring fruit. May it help them along the way through the years.

FROM MISS J. GERTU STAPLES

Matron, Girls' Home,

The Activities Are Many

During the winter days we took up the project of preparing a box to send to Overseas Relief. Children's stockings were gathered and put in good repair, a quilt was made and also five small dresses made from remnants. These with other things were packed and sent off. We awaited results of papers written on the Temperance Course which we had been studying in after-supper periods before Christmas. When the results came, they were very gratifying, with prizes for our girls from District, Province and Dominion.

Church services and Sunday School were attended regularly and the Young People's meeting each week at the church provided an added interest. Our girls shared in these meetings as members and officers, taking part also when the Young People's group was responsible for a Church service. Two of our girls have been teaching in the Primary Department of the Sunday School for some time.

The early summer days brought the outdoor work of garden and lawn. We planned a garden which we hoped would provide us with all our winter vegetables, and we are finding our hopes justified through this cold winter. The late summer and fall days were busy with the gathering in and canning of vegetables and fruit.

The coming of cold days reminded us that we must have stoves and pipes ready for the hot fires we need to keep Jack Frost at bay. One day late in fall you might have seen two dark-complexioned ladies, quite unrecognizable as your missionaries, mounted on tables struggling to erect stove pipes which were behaving in the most perverse manner. In the midst of this scene of chaos arrived two immaculate salesmen bent on selling their wares. They were promptly pressed into service and the stove pipes went up as if by magic, while the salesmen went away with at least our goodwill and gratitude.

After the fall term examinations, the boys and girls of our two Homes were rewarded by a very delightful Christmas party to which additional guests from the hospital and town were invited. We enjoyed a fine Christmas dinner, for which our thanks to the Boys' Home this year. This was shortly followed by the joyful homegoing for the Christmas holidays.

The Christmas mail brought news and greetings from many former graduates, a number of whom are teaching and making a real success of their profession. The three graduates of last June are now taking their places in business occupations. Our two Grade XII girls who graduate next June are looking forward to teaching when training days are over.

FROM MISS EDYTHE G. STEWART

Matron, Boys' Home,
Teulon, Manitoba

With school starting at nine-thirty, the morning seems to fly past and soon it is twelve o'clock and the boys are back again shouting "what's cooking" and "when do we eat". As there is just one hour at noon we try to have dinner ready to serve as soon as they arrive. We take turns saying "grace" at the noon meal, and dinner disappears in short order. It seems no time till the dishes are washed and the "happy gang" are gone again. When school is over for the day most of the boys take part in whatever sports are in season, they skate, play hockey, curl, etc. In the spring our Bill Kartushyn was pitcher for the school baseball team and two other boys were on the team. During the winter about once in two weeks the boys set aside an afternoon when they all come home and carry logs into the basement for our two furnaces.

At Home and in Church

After the evening meal we have our worship service with Scripture reading and prayer, led by the boys in turn. Then there is a study period for an hour and a half and if they settle down and attend to their studies they are privileged to go out for an hour before going to bed. The boys belong to Young People's Union and attend every Wednesday evening, even if they do not contribute much to the meeting. However the two eldest boys who have been here for two or three years have been helped by the Christian training received during that time and have made their contribution too. They, with two girls from the Girls' Home, took charge of an evening service once when our minister had to be away. In April after a series of Communicants' classes, the minister had a fine Young People's Rally when fifty young people from Teulon and the surrounding district attended and many took part in the meetings. Our boys had never seen or heard anything like this and were much impressed, especially to hear young men their own age get up and speak so confidently and so well in witnessing their allegiance to Jesus Christ. The Rally lasted two days and on the Saturday evening after their meeting they all came to the Boys' Home for lunch and a social time. Mr. Denyes followed up the Rally with printed pledge cards for the young people to sign if they wished to pledge themselves to be followers of Christ and to join the Church.

The boys are always helpful, carrying chairs or benches or taking up the collection or assisting any one. In the fall I asked them to go across the street and put on the storm windows for a widow with four small children to look after. They went willingly and cheerfully and then took them off again for her in the spring.

The big event of the spring was the graduation exercises. Four of our boys graduated and looked very handsome in their new suits and black bow ties. Bill Kartushyn stood second in Grade XII and led the graduation procession down the aisle and up to the platform.

FROM MRS. MARJORIE M. CUMMINGS

Assiniboia, Sask.

In the maze of details in the administration of the work here, which includes supervision of teen-age girls, and the keeping of accounts of expenditures and receipts, I have tried not to become too engrossed as to lose sight of our main objective,—a home for girls away from home, where there should be love, understanding and Christian leadership. Our staff is the same as last year—Mrs. H. Sebelius as helper and Miss Ada Howe as cook.

During the first few months of the year we had five Japanese girls in residence and 13 High School students. Then after the summer holidays the numbers changed, and September found all our beds occupied and 21 girls in residence. Two girls came into full membership of the United Church and most of the girls are interested in some phase of the work within the church.

Seven girls graduated from High School in June, two of our Japanese girls entered the School of Nursing in Moose Jaw on September 1st. Wilma Emmons, who won the oratorical award given by the I.O.D.E. chapter here, is attending the University of Saskatchewan, preparatory to taking a medical course. Fay Lindner is attending Normal School in Moose Jaw; Faye Checkay and Yuki Shimamori are taking a commercial course at the High School. Bronwyn Thomas, our other graduate last June has just entered Moose Jaw Hospital to train for a nurse. We are thankful for our fine educational facilities that the town of Assiniboia affords here. The High School is considered second to none in the work done, the standing obtained and the staff employed. The girls do excellent work here.

In August we were again Hostess to the School for Leaders and while the attendance was not large the spirit of fellowship was very much in evidence, and the instruction given by the leaders very worthwhile.

A New Look

The inside of our residence has taken on a new look—new paint, new drapes, new bedspreads, new linoleum—all bright and clean, a real joy to live in it. There has been a lot of love, labor and energy put into this work this year. We have done most of the painting ourselves, with the exception of the sitting room and first floor hall. We had a man's help with laying some of the floor covering, and we hired a man to clean up the grounds last summer. We are now waiting to have our electric fixtures brought up to the standard required by the Saskatchewan Fire Inspection Department.

Our annual Christmas party was an event not to be overlooked. Having twelve new girls here this year, the party was quite an affair for them. We had a turkey dinner followed by a theatre party and then Santa arrived after the girls got home to continue their party, and presented each girl with a special gift from a beautiful tree which had been placed in the dining room while they were at the theatre. It was all very happy and home-like.

FROM MRS. FLORA NUNN

Matron, School Home,
Battleford, Sask.

1953—Satisfactory

The fellowship of living together has been good, and the year 1953 has been an interesting one, and satisfactory from the standpoint of undertakings accomplished.

We only had two graduates last June; one of whom is now a nurse in training in a hospital in British Columbia; the other is teaching on a permit until the end of June on an Indian Reserve and plans to go to Normal in the Fall.

We opened here the latter part of August with 21 girls enrolled and then later we had another very interesting applicant to take Grade XII—a girl from Nova Scotia. This gave us 22 girls until Christmas when one left to attend the Briercrest Bible School and another went to teach, which leaves us with 20 girls. We will have a large class to graduate from the Home this year as there are nine taking Grade XII.

We have had some very happy social affairs such as our annual Christmas party early in December, with a dinner and tree and several invited guests. Before the final examinations in June we also held our annual picnic down by the river, inviting the collegiate staff of teachers and our minister and his wife. It is such a beautiful spot, entailing little expense, a bit of extra work but no one seems to mind that part, and everyone enjoys the fellowship.

We entertained the Y.P.U. in October. Our girls are all members, except two Indian maidens who are Anglicans and who attend their own Girls' Auxiliary. These girls fit in nicely and are well liked. Our girls are all United Church except four—two others besides the Indian girls. We have eight choir members and two of our girls teach Sunday School. Radio is still on the curriculum and some of their half hour programs are really good.

Our order of devotions and Bible study is carried on much as formerly, in addition each girl memorizes a verse of Scripture and is able to tell where to find it. We are also planning to study the Catechism of the United Church. Then each person contributes 10 cents per month for this term to be sent to CARE for European Relief. At the end of June there was also a donation made to the W.M.S. towards the expense of sending a large box of clothing to Korea.

Our School for Leaders was held here in the Home in August. Judging by the enthusiasm of those attending it was most successful, although the numbers were a bit disappointing. Miss Dorothy Young and Miss Jeanie King gave helpful messages and were much enjoyed.

I am starting my fourth year as President of our W.M.S. Auxiliary. We only have a membership of ten and it is hard to get the offices filled. I also belong to the Home and School Association which meets once a month, and to the Fellowship Group conducted by our minister and which meets at the Manse twice monthly.

FROM MRS. UMA L. ALLEN

Matron, Boys' School Home,
Bonnyville, Alta.

I arrived in Bonnyville on August 7th to take up my duties as Matron of the Boys' School Home. School was to have started on the first of September, but because of the polio epidemic, it was postponed till the 14th. While I was waiting for the children, I canned about 300 quarts of fruit and pickles, using some of the surplus produce from the hospital garden.

When school started on the 14th, there were 15 boys here, and two more came later with their mother when she came to work at the Home. All in all the work is very pleasant and I enjoy listening to the boys' troubles, keeping peace among them and doing what I can to make things pleasant for them. I raised eight sons of my own, so I am very interested in the welfare of boys.

I teach a class in Sunday School and attend as many of the meetings as I can.

FROM MRS. ETTA BROWNELL

Matron, Girls' School Home,
Bonnyville, Alta.

I came here on August 17th to take charge of the Girls' Home and expected to have the girls come for school on September 1st, but owing to the polio epidemic, the date was postponed for two weeks. There were seven girls enrolled at the beginning and one came at a later date. Things were running smoothly until after Christmas when two girls came down with polio. One is in Edmonton taking treatments and the other is home. The doctor states they will both make a complete recovery, although one has not the use of her limbs as yet.

The girls seem happy and are busy going to the Girl Guides, Brownies, Sunday School and Church. We have a sing-song every Sunday evening. The parents come and visit and very often stay for Sunday dinner. The janitor made a skating rink on the hospital grounds which all the children enjoy. I teach a class of little children at Sunday School.

A Chapter on Community Missions East

THE FOREWORD

To plant the Church in the new settlements out West was once the absorbing interest of the Churches of the East. Then we found the farther-most frontier was reached. The spanning of the continent by steel rails dramatized the new frontier of industry and today Home Missions must come to grips with the growing cities and industrial areas.

Many new Churches, in the challenge of Church Extension, are still near to the frontier experience. They are constituted as a congregation after an appointed woman worker has made a survey call on every family and organized a Church School, a mid-week group and a woman's meeting. The men and women in these areas feel the need of the Church for themselves and their children and they are ready to give leadership. This fellowship is strengthened by trained leaders meeting with them and giving them guidance. High tribute is paid to those of our number who have accomplished much in Church Extension in new housing areas.

The purpose of our Home Mission institutions is an evangelical witness. A genuine effort is made to meet the needs of people, extending influence in the homes and encouraging them to take part in activities in the community.—I. M. L.

FROM MISS RUTH TILLMAN

Presbytery Worker, Bonavista Presbytery,
Newfoundland

Confederation has become well accepted. Newfoundland is experiencing an era of prosperity. More and more communities are being linked by roads. When I think of Bonavista Presbytery I see many communities which have lost at least some of their isolation by these new roads.

During 1953 the new W.M.S. Bonavista Presbyterial began to function. I have been impressed with the way in which the officers have accepted their responsibilities and it has been encouraging to see new W.M.S. local organizations being formed, and Woman's Associations being affiliated.

C.G.I.T. work continues to grow. One of the most encouraging features is the continued good work of the members of the Newfoundland United Church C.G.I.T. committee. These women are really enthusiastic about the work and are willing to put their shoulders to the wheel to see that a job is done. Then too an increasing number of C.C.I.T. leaders are becoming concerned about raising the standard of their leadership.

Another encouraging feature was to have ten young people volunteer for summer caravanning, as compared with five the previous summer.

Each month of the year had its own highlights of work, meeting with groups young and old, each day different and each day filled with opportunities to serve our Lord. In April I spent Easter at Terra Nova on the Port Blandford charge. The chapel is used by both United Church and Anglican Church. Good Friday morning I attended the service conducted by the Anglican lay reader, and at night I conducted the service. At one end of the building is the Anglican altar and at the other end is the United Church pulpit. The pews are reversible. The interesting thing I noticed was that there seemed little difference in the congregation, whether the service was Anglican or United Church!

After the service Good Friday I showed slides on The Last Supper, and on Easter Sunday held morning and evening services, since it was the United Church turn. The W.A. had ordered fresh flowers from St. John's and they said it was the first time they had ever had a United Church Easter service there. I met with the W.A. on Monday and spoke to them of the work of women in the Church. They decided to affiliate with the W.M.S., for they were really anxious to be a part of a larger fellowship of women. There were just six girls in their C.C.I.T. group which had recently been organized by the young school teacher. She had become a bit discouraged but wrote me later on that things were much better and there was a new enthusiasm in the group.

July was a busy month as usual with more and more girls at camp. The highlight of the Provincial Camp Council was having Yung Sook Kim with us. The girls took her to their hearts and she herself entered wholeheartedly into the camp life. One evening at camp fire she spoke to us about Korea, and as we were walking back to camp, one of the campers said to me, "You know Korea isn't just a name to me any longer. Whenever I hear or read anything about the country, I'll think of Sookie." We were all so grateful that it was possible to have her as our guest.

Caravaners

After a training period for the ten caravaners during the last week of July, the real work began in August and the five who went with me were willing and capable. We spent two Sundays on the Clarendville charge, partly because the minister was away. By going out in two's we were able to conduct fourteen services and visit four Sunday Schools in those two Sundays. Then there were the vacation schools every day in the various places to which we went. They do take a lot of energy and planning but the enthusiasm of the children who attend make it worth while. We had closings of the vacation schools to which the parents were invited and came in great numbers. It is an exhausting experience to work with a caravan team for three weeks, but it is one which is worth all the thought, energy and prayer one can put into it. Some of the most enriching periods we had were when we read together the Book of Acts, or studied Mary Urquhart's "The Story of the Church".

As I spend my last year in Newfoundland, I realize that I have come to love the land and its people. I hope that I have been a faithful witness to the Lord Jesus Christ and to His Church, and that I have helped to strengthen leadership and self-reliance among those with whom I have worked.

FROM MISS NANCY EDWARDS

Presbytery Worker, Twillingate Presbytery,
Newfoundland

A telegram of highlights of 1953 would read like this: "Church services everywhere encouraging; Travancore and Korea come to Newfoundland; we go to a wedding."

Congregations and Their Singing

I love the singing of beautiful choirs but I feel strongly that our Church must never let choirs take the place of congregational singing. I won't soon forget the service I conducted the last Sunday night I was at Musgrave Harbour. Such congregational singing! Welsh tunes that warmed the cockles of my heart, and the spirit in which they were sung made me remember what Dr. McMillan in his "Hymns of the Church" says of the Wesleys, "They returned from their experiences in America with the burning conviction of the tremendous possibilities that lay in this 'people's part' in Christian worship." The World Day of Prayer service held in the Salvation Army Barracks at Musgrave Harbour brought out the whole community and as I conducted the service and spoke, I felt very much a part of that worshipping congregation.

At Twillingate I helped form a new C.G.I.T. group at Kettle Cove School; visited patients at the hospital; helped plan for Mission Bands in some of the smaller schools; met the affiliated W.A. at Little Harbour; visited the North and South Side Sunday Schools; preached the missionary sermon at Manual's Cove, showing missionary slides, and showed the same to the W.A. on the North Side. Our first C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council was organized at Twillingate while I was there and I gave leadership at a C.G.I.T. Rally. This record of meetings and visits might be duplicated for the days and weeks and months, only changing names of places and people, and methods of transportation. And it was following a schedule much like this—line upon line, here a little, there a little—that it was possible to take part in 57 services, visit 21 day schools, 11 Sunday Schools, 15 W.A.'s, show slides 44 times, meet eight C.G.I.T. groups, do radio devotional broadcasts and many other services during the year.

I never saw anyone who could make as much of my visit as our lay preacher at the Englee charge. He even brought a housekeeper into his own home, so his wife could come around the field with us. In Englee I met the C.G.I.T., helped to revive the Mission Band, had service with missionary slides on Saturday night, preached twice on Sunday, met the Sunday School and led a sing-song after church. It was too stormy on Monday to go up the shore, so with notes sent through the school we had a 100 per cent. meeting of the Sunday School teachers at night. We used the Let's Look at Ourselves flip chart and the teachers agreed to have monthly Sunday School teachers meetings.

Next day Mr. Sacey (the lay preacher) and his wife and I left for Williamsport, where I had a wonderful afternoon with the children, then at night we had a preaching service, and next day went on to Little Harbour Deep, where we shared in the celebration of a wedding. In the afternoon I met with the children in the school but we had to close early so that the school chapel might be prepared for the wedding. The groom was the lay preacher at this charge and his bride the Sunday School superintendent, and she hopes to start a Mission Band when they get settled. The wedding was my first in Newfoundland and was very nice, following some of the old customs in the celebration. The bride was dressed most becomingly, "thanks to the mail order catalogue," she said. She had made little ribbon "bride's knots" as a corsage for every guest, which meant the whole settlement, because everyone was invited to the wedding supper, and all joined in wishing this fine couple much happiness. I will not soon forget my first wedding in Newfoundland.

Travancore and Korea

Then Travancore came to Newfoundland through the visit of Miss Leanore Kettles on her way home from the World Conference of Christian Youth at Travancore, India. With the encouragement of Dr. H. M. Dawe, five young people on the Y.P.U. executive took time off work to come to meet Leanore. When she arrived her story of her trip was taped for a broadcast (thanks to the local C.B.C. manager). Then she herself, costumed in a sari given her by one of the missionaries, thrilled and inspired the congregation with the story of the Conference and her journey.

I returned to Gander just in time to make final preparations for the camps that would take up the month of July. We were excited that Yung Sook Kim was to be our first visitor to Provincial Camp Council. She was met at Port-Aux-Basques by the minister, his wife and a group of C.G.I.T. girls in uniform. They introduced her to people on the train and she had a happy trip across the Island to Grand Falls. Because we had given her visit much publicity, she said people would come up to her and welcome her to Newfoundland. What a wonderful asset she was to the Camp, and she loved it as we loved her. We hope it will be possible again to have another such camp visitor. Korea and "Sookie" will be lovingly remembered by the C.G.I.T. girls of Newfoundland.

And so to Grand Falls for our last Christmas in Newfoundland to visit our friends, the Moores, and share in the National Christmas Vesper Service of the Grand Falls C.G.I.T. by giving the address on Sunday night.

FROM MISS STELLA A. BURRY

Community Worker, Community Centre,
St. John's, Newfoundland

During the year we served 100 families of the United Church community not including a number of individual women and girls for whom we found jobs in home or business places. Helping families to budget is a time consuming effort. Some of our people receiving dependents' allowances are allowed regular help in fuel, and groceries from congregational benevolent funds. This is arranged through our office and the congregations have agreed each to make a small grant to the Community Centre for suburban needs and others outside these categories. Our ministers appreciate the assistance we give them in this type of work, and our cooperation in all social welfare work.

Children, Senior Citizens and Campers

Our United Church Children's Home, no longer an orphanage in the old sense of the word, is rendering remarkable service under its new policy and program. Twenty-four little children from 3 to 11 are served in its second year of the new program and all concerned are very happy about the very high quality of Christian Social Service carried on there. Men and women of the Board and committees who queried the usefulness of such an institution have taken to their hearts the unfortunate but attractive children who have come to us from homes broken by illness and other emergencies, who have found a real home in the old but durable building on Hamilton Avenue.

The long and anxious period of transition is over in this recent new development of service to needy children. It is wrapped around with new and strong support and perhaps when the work is properly consolidated we shall get on to a day nursery program for children of working mothers.

A Committee was set up last spring to do some study and bring in plans for action toward a United Church Home for needy retired senior citizens, and it has reported progress in its work, to the Conference Committee on Social Service. I am happy to be a member of that committee. Our plan is for a new functional building which will be another major task in which we may cooperate with other leaders in this worthy project.

Our Welfare Committee met in the fall early enough to make suggestions to Sunday Schools regarding needs that could be served through the White Gift Services. Up to this year we have concentrated on local needs, and gifts presented have been largely of food. This year four out of five churches used envelopes and stimulated their children to think of needs in Korea as well as at home.

One of our greatest opportunities at the Centre is being in readiness to make suggestions to Church groups regarding needs in hospitals and institutions in which we are asked to take an active interest. This plan tends to avoid duplication.

Summer brought a full Camp program at Shoe Cove. First there was the Leader's Conference sponsored by the Newfoundland Girls' Work Committee and planned largely by Nancy Edwards and Ruth Tillman, with 14 leaders in attendance. Then came successful camps for the Tyro, C.G.I.T. and Trail Rangers, which all went well in spite of many difficulties in securing leaders and especially cooks. When our plans for a Young People's Camp did not materialize we were glad to rent the Camp to the Kiwanis Club for a group of under-privileged girls on an denominational basis. The Sunday afternoon Service in the beautiful little Camp Chapel was well attended each time by parents and friends, who shared in the worship service, so reverently and effectively conducted by the campers. We took 35 Summer School students out for one of the Services, a unique and new experience for many of them, who were not slow to express their thanks for this opportunity.

At Emmanuel House

108 guests used Emmanuel House this year, most of them between the ages of 17 and 25, some of them returning for the second and third time during the year. Practically all the girls are sales girls and office-workers—some are summer school students and a few have been recruits for the R.C.A.F. We had a girl from London, England, whose family originally came from Germany, of the Russian Orthodox faith, stay with us for a month before she found accommodation near her work. She was so pleased to give the Toast to Emmanuel House at our annual Banquet, out of gratitude for a new home in a strange land.

On Sunday afternoons five girls leave the house for Cochrane St. Bible Class, sharing too the responsibility for the Fellowship Hour after church on Sunday nights. Four others attend Gower St. Young People's Union. Three girls are responsible for the C.G.I.T. work in Cochrane St. Church and several of the girls are members of their Mission Circle. To the casual thinker this matter of Church affiliation for our outport girls may appear simple, but it seems difficult for many of them to find their place among new friends in a Church group.

Emmanuel House fills a real need as a Centre of Fellowship for many groups who find it a most suitable place to meet, as well as for those who make it their home. There were many special events during the year, the principal one being the visit of Dr. and Mrs. Templeton to St. John's, when a great blessing came to many men and women, especially young people, through their effective presentation of the Christian message.

Newsom Church Hall

To return to Newsom Church Hall, Glace Bay after ten years absence was an interesting experience and to camp again at New Campbellton on the Bras d'Or Lakes with former junior campers as volunteer leaders was a joy almost too great to be true. Three camps from Newsom Church Hall, Warden Church and the United Mission made a continuous thirty days of camping; the unusually cool wet weather made it a long month!

The miners' vacation during the first two weeks of August made a Vacation School at that time useless, so by the grapevine we advertised one for the third week. With the help of several C.G.I.T. girls we had a happy week and our attendance grew from 13 to 30.

The Tower Road area, two miles further removed from Glace Bay than Passchendale, has taken much of my time—visiting in the homes, reorganizing the Sunday School and in November we started a Mission Band and an Explorer Group, after securing permission from the School Board, as all our work here centres in the Public School Building. The ministers of Knox and Epworth Churches have begun services on two Sundays of the month and the attendance has been encouraging.

The work is well organized at Newsom Hall. Mission Band, Explorers, Tyro, C.G.I.T. and a Teen-age Boys' Group all use the Hall each week. There is a large Sunday School, but we hope it will be larger—it should be.

The Fall Thankoffering of the Mission Band and the Baby Band Party were combined in November and it was a very successful event. The Mission Band supplied the program, the Women's Circle the refreshments and the mothers had only to get themselves and children ready for one outing. Mothers and leaders thought it a fine idea. The Women's Circle still continues to be the main support of Newsom Hall. By catering to banquets, weddings, by serving suppers and holding sales, they supply the Board with much of its needed monies. And with all their work there is a spirit of good fellowship and much laughter and fun. The last meeting of the month is given over to the Mission Study and the offering goes to the W.M.S.

The children's groups presented the Christmas Pageant, that was published in the November Chatelaine, in a reverent and impressive manner. We rejoiced in bridging the gap between the first Christmas in Palestine and the 1953 Christmas in Glace Bay.

Passchendale Mission

After Christmas festivities life at the Passchendale Mission settled down to routine again. Sunday School and clubs were well attended and good work done. There was an increase in the number of volunteer leaders which is always an indication of the spiritual vitality of the work.

The outstanding events in the spiritual life of the Mission were the Communion Service when six were received into full membership in the Church, and the Mother's Day Service when four babies were baptized.

The Woman's Guild has been active in many money-raising projects and continues to give strong financial support. The W.M.S. and Guild held a united Thankoffering Service at Easter. I feel there is a growing interest and sense of responsibility to the Church in the world. Delegates from both the W.M.S. and Guild attended the meetings of Presbyterial.

One of the Explorer Councillors invited the girls to her summer home on the beautiful Mira River for a picnic. We all went out by train and returned by car. It was a grand day for the girls.

The Sunday School picnic, which is a family day, is always held July 1st when the men are not at work. As always it was well attended and all enjoyed a good time and happy fellowship. The Guild, too, held their picnic at the summer home of one of the members. The day was spent quietly in the pure fresh air amid the beauties of nature.

These were all happy occasions but for me not without a tinge of sadness as I thought of it being the last year I would be participating in these happy affairs, just before going on furlough.

I have spent three very happy years in this work and have grown to love and appreciate the sterling qualities of character of the people with whom I have worked, and I pray that God's richest blessing may rest upon it.

Warden United Church

The year at Warden United Church was a very successful one in the Christian Education Department with a maximum interest shown on the part of the children and young people and their leaders. The school next door must have some of the credit for this, because the teachers reminded the children of their groups and there attendance was never a problem. Our children's groups are, as large as we can handle.

We have enjoyed some Dramatics this year. Members representing the different departments of the Sunday School presented a three act play "Little Women," at several places, using the proceeds for furnishings for the basement of the church. Nine of our Junior girls entered the Festival of Speech and Drama and received very high marks. In May a group of men and women had a very enjoyable experience preparing the Act on Japan for the Exposition Pageant, "Triumphs of the Faith". Several groups assisted with a beautiful Christmas Pageant, a wonderful experience for the children and their leaders and for those who worshipped with them at its presentation.

The summer brought a ten-day Vacation School and Camps, all very worth-while. Our C.G.I.T. has an enrolment of 50 girls and they have had a fine year. They attended a Regional Rally and the Seniors attended a Senior Conference. But they have done other things, like helping nine girls to go to Camp, sending one girl to Camp Council, presenting 50 Bibles to the church and providing missionary education for the congregation with two new films. Now they are busy selecting a picture for the Worship Centre which is being built in the Assembly Room. They affiliated with the W.M.S. and had a Tea as their money-raising project. The Women's groups continue to be healthy. The Mother's Club has increased in membership and has given financial help in many areas and has paid for the communion table and oak chairs. Under the leadership of our new minister a very beautiful Sunday School room has been made in the basement with classrooms and equipment, which have been lacking in our midst for a long time.

FROM MISS MARGARETE EMMINGHAUS
MISS AILEEN M. RATZ, B.R.E.

Port and Community Workers*,
Halifax, Nova Scotia

Canadian Citizens-to-be

During the first seven months of 1953 immigration at the port of Halifax was busy, when 104 ships brought about 35,000 new immigrants to Canada. On several occasions, including Palm Sunday, as many as four ships arrived in one day.

Most of the present immigrants are from overcrowded European countries, where housing and work are most difficult to obtain. Some have escaped from Communist-ruled countries to the already overcrowded Western area, and are most grateful for the opportunity to emigrate. A large number still come from the Netherlands. It is thrilling to read replies to arrival notices telling of friendship extended to these newcomers, and also how they are making their contribution in their new churches and communities. The present immigrants are not as needy as those who came in earlier years. They do not need gifts of used clothing, for instance. This fact may make the work at the port a little less spectacular, but we should be thankful that at least some of the hardship in Europe has been alleviated.

There are still needy people, however. One need only talk to some of the people coming to Canada under the auspices of the World Council of Churches to learn this. Just a few days ago I was assisting a family from Yugo-Slavia. They had been in the refugee camp at Trieste, Northern Italy, and after waiting three years for a sponsor were finally enabled to come to Canada through the sponsorship of a

*Miss Emminghaus served as Port and Community Worker while Miss Ratz was on furlough.

Baptist congregation in Toronto. The mother, a capable-looking woman in her early thirties, had studied architecture at a university, but during their long years of waiting at Trieste had worked as a nurse. She had with her her elderly parents and 11-year-old son. There are many such family groups now living in refugee camps, where scant privacy is provided in tiny cubicles, partitioned off with blankets. It is for such people that the Canadian Council of Churches is urging the people of our Church to find sponsors. Surely they deserve an opportunity to work and be able to provide for their families.

Since January first, 203 gift parcels have come from W.M.S. Auxiliaries and younger groups, enabling us to give a small gift to many of the newcomers as tokens of welcome and friendship as they arrive in a strange country. As they board the immigrant trains and we wave them good-bye, we realize that they are only beginning the new chapter of their lives which takes place in Canada. They need the kindly understanding of those who will be their new neighbors. They do not want charity or indulgence, but an opportunity to work, to assume responsibility, and to take their place, when the time comes, as fellow Canadian citizens.

There came one to me interested in the work of Missions who said, "Tell me, Miss Ratz, about your most thrilling adventure." And I replied, "How can I tell you about my most thrilling adventure when in the work of Missions every adventure is a thrill for 'every common bush is aflame with God', and every contact is a thing divine?"

To give an immigrant baby its first trip in Canada (in your arms from baggage shed to Immigration Annex or train); to see the never-ending line of cartons containing gifts from missionary groups—welcome New Canadians; to hear an old lady say, "Kindness has made a little light in the darkness of my existence"—these are thrills that "the world can neither give nor take away".

A Book a Month!

Yet I would not close this year's chapter of adventures without telling of the thrilling adventure of "The Book a Month Club", the name given to our Lathern-Bell W.M.S. Auxiliary in its performance of one phase of its work. This club aims to have its members read at least one book a month that is in keeping with the objectives of the W.M.S., and to get the book read in the home by other members of the family as well as introduce friends and relatives to the realm of good reading. This plan has produced most interesting results—unlikely persons becoming readers, book shared while riding on the bus, other groups adopting similar plan, even groups of other denominations following the same idea. Interested school teachers have taken to reading the study books for children to their classes realizing that here is an excellent way to supplement the teaching of History and Geography, and we rejoice that through these books many of our youth will be given an opportunity to hear the missionary call to service in other lands.

FROM MISS ANNIE MACIVOR

Community Worker, Stellarton,

Some definite progress has been made in the various work carried on, despite the fact that there are many things today that seem to draw both children and adults from places of worship and religious services.

The usual classes for the different groups have been carried on weekly with kindergarten two mornings a week and the Mother's group on Wednesday night. This with our Sunday School are the two most important features of our work at the Mission. Visiting in the homes and at the hospital seems to mean a great deal to the people and requires much time.

Our Vacation School in July was well attended and closed with a picnic. The Annual Tea in November was quite a success, the proceeds went towards the upkeep of the Mission. In the Fall the C.G.I.T. travelled to Westville where the C.G.I.T. Rally was held, and everyone enjoyed it.

The usual Christmas tree brought happiness to the boys and girls. On the Sunday before Christmas, a program was held during the Sunday School hour, the children taking a part, thus helping them to understand the real meaning of Christmas. The Women's Council of the town provided boxes for the needy of the community.

Many thanks are due the local board of the Mission as well as the W.M.S. for seeing that repairs have been made to our building, and we are grateful to all who have helped in any way to make our work more effective.

FROM MISS RUTH LANIGAN

Community Worker,
Sydney, Nova Scotia

The work has gone steadily forward during the past year. As I look into the eager faces of these children at the Sunday Schools, Children's Services and their midweek groups, all of which they attend most regularly, I feel that what they receive through the Mission and the value of it to their young lives, is far beyond what we have given in money, time and effort to keep this Mission here for them.

Who Will Come? Everyone

The highlight of the year was the series of evangelistic meetings held at the Mission in the Fall under the auspices of the Presbytery. One of our ministers, Rev. T. G. Head, was the missionary, and members of the city churches and the Salvation Army provided musical numbers each evening. For that one week at least, the Mission meant as much to the grownups as to the children. This was something quite new and everyone was talking about it. Before the meetings started one of the Hungarian women said to me, "But who will come to the meetings?" I myself wondered if anyone would come, but I tried to muster my faith and I replied, "Oh, you and your neighbours, and I and everyone." And they did. The Hall was filled twice each night, at 6 o'clock for the children's service by the most enthusiastic crowd of children you could ever wish for, and at 7.30 by about as many eager interested adults. I am sure that all gained a new and fuller understanding of what it means to be a Christian, and I know that many quiet resolves were made.

This fall we made a change in our Sunday evening program. Formerly there had been a Church service which was supposed to be for both children and adults, but so many young children had come that years ago it had turned into a children's service with a few adults attending. Since the middle of October we have had two services, each Sunday evening, a children's service at 6 p.m. and a service for young people and adults at 8 o'clock. I take charge of the services, but the ministers of the three city churches are cooperating in providing a preacher who gets here in time to give the sermon at the service for the adults. So far it has worked out very well though a few people think 8 o'clock is too late to start. The ministers have been most kind about coming up after their own services are over. On the 4th Sunday of the month we have a religious film, through the kindness of the Whitney Pier Y's men.

Our little W.M.S. Auxiliary and the Mission Band have both been active. C.G.I.T. and Explorers have both affiliated. I have greatly enjoyed my work with the Junior Choir. They love singing and seem to appreciate the better type of music. Only a few children from the Mission wanted to go to Camp this year, so I took a number from Trinity Church who would not have got to camp otherwise. We had three ten day camps with a good turnout from Passehendale and Glace Bay.

For All Ages

I have just been given a great lesson in appreciation. A few minutes ago a woman whom we had helped at Christmas time came in to shake my hand and say "Thank you". Her face lighted up as she tried to tell me the size of the parcel she had received, its contents, how nice everything was, the delight of her ten children (all under 12) and her own happiness. She had in her purse the name of the church which was on the parcel, and as she showed it to me she said, "It was rain, big rain, but these men didn't mind the rain as they brought in the boxes. My husband was very surprised, he has no work," and then she added shyly, "I got help at other Christmas times, but never as big as this." Her gratitude was very sincere.

Just now I am preparing an address for a group of young people, which I am calling, "Thrills and Chills in Home Mission Work". There are more thrills than chills, for everything in a missionary's life provides adventure, and as someone has said, "Adventure provides the secret of greatness in every field."

The year just closed at St. Columba has been one of very many happy experiences—so much cooperation from many people, so many delightful contacts with interested and interesting folk, so many—but not as many as one could wish—cheery visits in the homes, so much fun and good fellowship at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Brown, and so much encouragement from the fine folk with whom we live and work.

Today Mr. Brown is not here and I have been taking messages over the telephone for him. It is interesting to note how varied these requests are. For instance they ranged from advice about how to make arrangements necessary to marry a divorced man, to a hurry-up call to visit a sick person, and then back again to take a look around the building for a lost coat and, is the team playing hockey tonight? All in the day's work of meeting the needs of those whom we would befriend.

We have done some extra special things this year. Our Woman's Missionary Society Auxiliary catered for a W.C.T.U. Banquet at St. James Church when about 80 enjoyed a meal together. We visited several large industrial plants, which was a valuable experience and profitable for our group as well.

To talk about the importance of Sunday School work we held a supper meeting for the teachers of our Church school, and presented a film, "No Two Alike", after which we discussed it and our local situation. We had special speakers at our W.M.S. Auxiliary meetings, among them Miss Gwen Suttie on furlough from Japan and Mrs. Yeudall, President of the Conference Branch. We held a Cooking School, a Hobby Show and a Penny Fair.

Groups for all ages have carried on all year. The Baby Band has had a very successful year, thanks to our very enthusiastic superintendent, Mrs. Parr. Two lovely parties were held, homes were visited, four mothers became active W.M.S. members and more money was received than ever before in Baby Band history at St. Columba.

At Easter time new members were added to our Communion Roll. At Christmas time we held a White Gift Service and a C.G.I.T. Vesper Service at which Mrs. Brown's Leadership Training Group joined us, when Mrs. Brown told the story. On the Christmas Sunday the Sunday School presented two Pageants at the evening service and the Recorder Group played carols very acceptably.

St. Columba in this area has a place unique and all its own, and we are anxious to extend its influence and broaden its scope.

Meeting Boats, Trains and Needs

The winter season in Montreal finds no boats to meet but the trains from Halifax still bring a goodly number of immigrants to this country and others also who need help. At this season the supplies sent in by the women of the churches are so very useful, for when you see children made happy and comfortable by the gift of woollen socks, mitts, sweaters and caps, and the smiles of the mothers then you know that it is so worthwhile. The toys are welcome too. Our women make it possible to use some money for these people also, for there are needs which must be bought for them. There was one day when I found a woman and her two children going to Victoria tourist class. She didn't have anything to eat for the journey, nor the means to cook anything nor did she know how to travel that way in this new strange land. I went to Eaton's and Woolworth's and had a wonderful time. I used my imagination as to what she would need in utensils and food and returned laden with these necessities for her travel. Then I explained to her what she would find in her tourist car and how to use what I had bought. She was overcome with gratitude.

In March, a young Chinese girl came to Montreal on her way to join her husband who is in the States. But her problems are many and the weeks have gone by and she is still unable to procure her visa for entering the States. We meet often and do things together. To be a friend to her at this time is her greatest need. She is able to obtain good part-time jobs and can look after herself financially very well indeed. I cannot be too high in the praise of our W.M.S. women who have opened their homes to her and made life more pleasant for her while in our midst. This is putting our Community Friendship into action. Another joy along this line was meeting our Scholarship student from Trinidad at the airport. Again our women came to the help of the cause and we drove out to meet her in the middle of the night, for her plane was late. We all liked her very much and she will surely give a good account of herself while in this country.

So often it is difficult to get the people from Italy and Greece from the middle of the concourse to the waiting room end of the station, but I have found out one infallible way. I offer to carry the baby and then I walk off with it. The mother naturally comes along—and there you are. Then it is easy to continue to the nursery where she can get the hint to give her baby a wash, thus improving matters incredibly. This does not always work, but we know that in their new community they will soon come to understand and accept the standards of cleanliness which are taken for granted in this country.

Sometimes it is easy to get in lessons of Citizenship to members of our own community. One evening we were waiting for a trainload of Italians to come in and I became engaged in conversation with three young boys who had come to the station on some errand and now thought it would be a lark to see this train come in. I got across to them a lot of racial brotherhood while we waited, and it was interesting to see their changed attitude toward the people who came off that train. One lad even helped somebody carry a heavy suitcase. How we need that bit of brotherly kindness today!

One of the pleasant tasks that come my way in this work is to speak at meetings. I have enjoyed going to many of the churches in Montreal and nearby, and meeting with the women who are always so eager and responsive to the message of the newcomer to our land. I have also enjoyed the few occasions which took me to Rallies out in the smaller towns where I met a wider circle of women and enjoyed the fellowship of the day.

FROM MISS LOUISA MAYOVA

Port Worker, Immigration Department,
Montreal and Quebec

“With Shining Eyes”

We are looking back at one of the busiest sailing seasons of the past few years at the inland ports of Quebec City and Montreal. The work of the missionary who is privileged to meet boats carrying immigrants is a most fascinating one. As the immigrants of divers nationalities walk down the gang plank, with shining eyes and high hopes for a happier tomorrow, it is our privilege to welcome them in the name of our Church and to offer them our assistance in the landing formalities at the shed. They are most grateful and willing to accept our help.

Especially welcome is such an offer when the settlers do not speak either of the languages used at the ports, or when the traveller is a young mother with children, or when there are aged people, wearied with the journey. They are suddenly happy when they hear their own language in a friendly voice.

The assistance we are able to give consists in helping them to find and collect their baggage in one place, to keep near lest there should be interpreting to be done, to remind them about checking their luggage (they are surprised that the Railroad does this free of charge) and see that they have had their money changed into dollars. After everything seems to be satisfactorily settled we see them down to their trains which are waiting outside the shed at Wolfe's Cove, Quebec City. There we wish them much success and God's blessings in their new homeland. In many tongues we are offered profuse thanks, and one always feels that their, “What would we have done without your help?” was more than just a compliment.

The new arrivals of 1953 were mostly regular immigrants from some of Europe's overpopulated countries. The people of Holland are valuable settlers on our farms and are welcomed especially. About 80% of the immigrants landed at Quebec City. Because of that we did a great deal of travelling between Quebec and Montreal during the busy season. I travelled to Quebec City to meet thirty boats carrying immigrants to Canadian shores. It was a pleasure to travel usually with Miss Peterson, a Latvian from the Lutheran Church and Sister Klutterman from the Order of the Sisters of Service of the Roman Catholic church.

At the port of Montreal I met 28 boats, missing some while in Quebec City.

The work at the railroad stations at Montreal is equally interesting and offer opportunities for service. Boat specials from Halifax keep arriving all the year round, and during the year 1953 your worker met 158 of these specials. We look after their needs and comfort by introducing them to the facilities of the station, the eating places, the telegraph offices or perhaps we are able to put them in touch with some friend whom they have not seen for eight or nine years. We give the children toys, and if the W.M.S. Auxiliaries who supply these, could only see the joy they bring to the little ones, they would feel their giving had not been too generous at all.

The Church of All Nations, where your worker is also the missionary, is another large field of work and offers great opportunities for Christian service. I attempt to visit the homes of the Sunday School scholars once a year as well as those of the members of the Slavic Women's Club. This Club meets once a month and usually have as their guest a group from the various city W.M.S. Auxiliaries; such visits are much appreciated.

Many sincere thanks to the Women's Union for their ever ready and very valuable moral and financial help in the work and their sustained interest in the task of the city missionaries of Montreal.

Attempting to keep a supply of used clothing on hand and have it in good condition all the time, takes much time and effort, but it is necessary and worthwhile. Though the need for clothing is not so great as in other years, yet there is always the need for some, especially children's and babies' clothing. It is a joy to see how some of the new Canadians who have arrived two years ago, have settled in Montreal and have done well. They have learned English, kept a job and have adjusted themselves admirably to the ways of life here.

In many such ways the city missionaries attempt to carry on their ministry of meeting the stranger at the gates of Canada, visiting the sick and shut-ins and teaching the young.

FROM MISS GLADYS B. WATSON

Hospital Visitor,
Montreal

Visits Are Appreciated

The Montreal Hospitals have all experienced growing pains during the year 1953, and have added greatly to their bed capacity. The Hospital visiting is done by Rev. R. C. Belbin, our chaplain, assisted by four other ministers, your W.M.S. Hospital Visitor and members of several W.M.S. Auxiliaries. The volunteer ministers are in charge of one hospital each which they visit once a week. Church services are held in four centres by our ministers.

It is a great joy to meet the patients who appreciate our hospitals and their medical care. Just recently I met a young man with a heart ailment who had come from Texas to be operated on by one of our outstanding doctors, the only doctor on this continent, so the patient told me, who performs this operation. With tears in his eyes this young man said, "I have trusted in God all the way and He has sustained me through all this time of testing. Now I am going back to my family and soon I shall be able to go fishing with my two boys, something I could never do before."

The work in the Old People's Homes and Convalescent Homes is being carried on very faithfully by the members of the W.M.S. Auxiliaries. More volunteers are participating in this work and finding great joy and satisfaction in it. The Homes are visited regularly every two weeks and occasionally little treats of jelly, cookies or fruit are given to these shut-ins. One Community Friendship Secretary carries a few jars of jam or jelly, taken from the cupboard filled by her Auxiliary, each time she visits. At Christmas time she distributed more than 20 jars herself.

Our Protestant Old People's Home, where there are over 200 men and women, was cared for at Christmas, each person receiving a gift, contributed by Auxiliaries, and in addition 32 bottles of jelly were donated to the Infirmary. For the New Year it has been planned to have two different groups visit this Home, along with your Hospital Visitor, each month, to chat with the people individually, to get better acquainted with them and to find out ways of helping them to a fuller happier life.

Entertainment was provided by various Church groups for the women in our two United Church Homes; carols were sung by C.G.I.T. groups in other Homes and a Christmas Party was held at The Sheltering Home, a home for unmarried mothers.

As Montreal is such a cosmopolitan city, we meet people from many countries in the course of our work; some are recent arrivals from Europe and do not speak either French or English, but they do understand a smile and hand clasp and do appreciate whatever we are able to do for them.

Some people are repeaters in the hospitals and they welcome the Church visitor as an old friend after the first meeting. I try to keep in contact with these chronically ill people in the nursing homes or in their own homes by visits, phone calls or correspondence, and in this way I am able to give them more real help when a crisis comes.

Literature is distributed to the patients—The Upper Room, The Observer, The Missionary Monthly are all welcomed. At Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas 500 United Church folders with their helpful message were given out.

FROM MISS MURIEL ALEXANDER

Frontenac, Ontario

A new well making it possible to have water from a tap in the house—a bathroom—a closed-in porch for firewood—a space heater—new floors—all these mundane things so necessary to make life easier at the Parsonage, came to it in 1953, for which we are grateful.

At Plevna and Ompah

Plevna Church has made some improvements too—four truck loads of crushed rock spread around the church to make a grand parking space—a gravelled road leading to the church done by the Township—a new communion set donated by the women's group.

We do have a wonderful group of women, mostly young married mothers who have worked energetically since they were organized three years ago. Last fall a "bee" of eleven men came and tore down the old church shed, piled the lumber and had a general clean-up job. This is in anticipation of a woodshed and kitchen being built from the material in the near future, to which project the women have pledged $75.00.

After wishing for choir gowns for a long time, they have become a reality at both Ompah and Plevna. During my holiday a church near my own home asked me to supply for their minister who was on vacation. I was glad to do so, and the result came on the evening before our Christmas program when we received a large package containing choir gowns. That night after practise each member of our group took home a gown to press for the coming concert. It was a thrill to them and to us to see them take their places on the platform in their new gowns. We say "Thank You" to Durham United Church. Ompah had ordered material and made their own which were worn at our Christmas service there. These may seem like unnecessary things, but it does something worthwhile to a small group to be able to do things in a dignified manner.

Plevna now has a Cradle Roll with a good superintendent—Mrs. Herb Toolcy—and a roll of 15 members. During the year we held 57 preaching services with an average attendance of 28.

Ompah Church has not had the same need for improvements that Plevna had, but last fall the garage and woodshed were moved after permission had been received from the W.M.S. The garage was moved up against the church, to be used as a kitchen unit for the worker and also for the W.A. They will no longer need to keep the bean suppers hot on the box stove, but will, as time and money make possible, have a kitchen to be proud of.

The young people continue to work under the leadership of Mrs. Eva Lanken. Last winter they presented a play and at Christmas they told the story of the birth of "Silent Night", robed in their new gowns.

Mrs. P. Pennycook is President of our women's group and their project was a church picnic with a good plate supper for which they made a charge. The profit from this made possible a $100 to the W.M.S.

Canonto

Canonto, our farthest appointment, had not been very encouraging and we were obliged to discontinue services there for a time. However the people had no desire to see the church closed and asked that the services be resumed. How happy we were to return and find a new interest manifested by the people in the community. Our congregation doubled more than once and one Sunday we had a little revival meeting after service, when several people stayed to pray and we know they were sincere by the change in their lives.

For the first time since we have been here, the church held a Christmas concert. The young people with the school teacher and her pupils exhibited talent and ability to plan and give a good program. It was a happy evening for all—with Christmas Tree, Santa and gifts for all the children in the community, made possible by the parcels sent by W.M.S. groups. A charge was made at the door and the proceeds sent to the W.M.S. Treasurer. A dear lady wrote to us afterwards and said how much it meant to have a Christmas concert in the community; it gave such a friendly feeling and she hoped there would be more. Before Christmas we baptized one baby and her mother, and received the latter into the fellowship of the Church at Canonto.

Something new in the history of Plevna was our carolling in the village one night just before Christmas. The Anglican minister met with us and a group of young people from each church went to the homes of the shut-ins and sang carols. We started out at the Parsonage and ended up at the Rectory where we had a few games, hot drinks and cookies. The folk said they never remembered it being done here before. During the year we held special evangelistic services at Ompah and Plevna which were blessed of God and a number of decisions were made.

Mission work is not all sunshine. There are problems that are not so easy but they, in time, adjust themselves. We believe if we are in His will that all things work together for His good.

FROM MISS ANNIE G. MULLEY

Community Worker, Kirkland Lake,
Ontario

At the Kirkland Lake suburban charge there has been growth in almost all departments during the year. While in 1952 the emphasis was on new organizations, in 1953 consolidation and growth have been stressed.

Africa to the Fore!

Three Baby Bands and three Mission Bands have pointed up the children's work successfully. The Explorer groups have had a busy year. In connection with their Mission study on Africa during the early part of the year, two of the groups built wattle and daub African houses with grass roofs. One of these was on display at the W.M.S. Banquet and a little earlier at the annual Presbyterial meeting. The third group made a movie of the highlights of the study book and proudly showed it at the spring party to which their mothers were invited.

During the first half of the year three C.G.I.T. groups were functioning, but later the Federal Group united with the West End group to form one large group, which has so far proved successful. As the culmination of their mission study in the spring two of the groups held an African night with a Mother and Daughter Banquet. All three of the groups affiliated with the W.M.S. They also held a joint graduation service in the fall, when six Explorers graduated into C.G.I.T. In December Vesper services were held at the West End and King Kirkland Churches, and in March the girls participated in the World Day of Prayer service for Youth.

We are working toward the ideal of having our mid-week work closely linked with the Sunday School so that wherever possible the Sunday School teacher is also the leader of the mid-week group.

Three Vacation schools were held during the summer, all well attended and most encouraging. I also spent one week in July at a C.G.I.T. Camp.

Our three W.A. groups continue to do good work; at Federal they have doubled their membership during the year. The highlights in our W.M.S. Auxiliary were an Easter pageant produced at each of the four churches in Kirkland Lake; and the African Banquet with which we closed for the summer. The Auxiliary is made up of women from each of the three churches on the charge—a cooperative venture which is proving to be worthwhile.

In Many Churches

Since this is a regular charge of the Church, and instead of only one minister there are three workers, we try to complement each other by specializing in particular departments, and yet take a fair share of the work to be done by all. The preaching services are a joy to me, in spite of the fact that I am sometimes confronted with no congregation, a cold church, or a howling blizzard. My particular task is with the many women's groups and with the girls and children.

There are thirteen Woman's Associations and without them the little rural churches would not exist. They care for the churches, raise much of the necessary funds, provide social events, and are often the only group within the church to take hold of plans and activities. I am very happy that three of these groups are affiliated with the W.M.S. and are using the study material. There is one Auxiliary of the W.M.S. on the charge. In many of these groups the devotional part of the program is apt to be crowded out with money-raising schemes. In this regard I am trying to be of help. Three groups held gatherings on the World Day of Prayer and carried out the program to the best of their ability. After suggestion, encouragement and help, one group put on a very effective religious drama at Christmas time.

On such a scattered field with such small communities, it is very hard to carry on children's groups. There are so seldom enough girls or boys of any one age or department to form a group. But a most successful week-end camp was carried on in June with girls from Huntsville and Parry Sound joining with us at Camp Onawaw. The Presbyterian Secretary for Affiliated Groups was a wonderful help and the whole Sunday afternoon program took the form of a missionary rally. Christmas services were again very popular, and it was noticeable how much more reverently and with what a greater sense of responsibility the girls took charge. The annual re-affiliation service has become an event of real interest and value for the communities where there are C.G.I.T. groups.

Work in the rural schools and High School continues to take much time and energy. Where there are no Sunday Schools these classes in religious knowledge seem especially necessary and worthwhile. The children always welcome the representative of the Church, the teachers cooperate most helpfully, and the truths of the Bible reach homes often touched in no other way. Sometimes we are able to bring a real thrill to these little schools with religious movies.

During the past year I have tried to be of special help to the Sunday Schools of the charge. It is seldom possible to attend their sessions, because of preaching duties, but encouragement at teachers' meetings, material and suggestions passed along to superintendents and teachers, have helped. In the winter a successful training school for Sunday School teachers was held in Huntsville. Several of our schools benefited from this undertaking.

In Diverse Tongues

It was said that in 1953, 30 per cent of the people who came to Canada settled in Toronto, and as one travels along Queen Street in the centre of the downtown area, one cannot help but feel that here in this already over-congested district, are gathered great numbers of these newcomers—of diverse tongue, tradition, and background. Many of them have found their place in the church—Russian, Czech, German, Finnish, Ukrainian, Hungarian—in worship, dramatics, music, folk lore, folk dances, orchestra, choir, culture groups, etc. Our Church has already sponsored three German families from the other side—our last family to arrive numbered seven and arrived in November. They got themselves established in our hostel house and are entering into the life of our Church and city. "Why you choose us, we are thankful," were almost their first words when we greeted them. The other two families are now on their own and doing very well, both in mastering the English language and in securing work.

On Sunday, services are held in seven languages—Hungarian, Czech, Finnish, Japanese, Russian, Ukrainian and English, and the pastors of these congregations conducted activities on week days also. Rev. Kvashenikoff came from Hamilton to preach to a group of Czech people in our building. We have had four Sunday Schools; two in English and one in Finnish and one in Ukrainian.

These boys and girls as well as the young people enjoy good wholesome fun in our gymnasium and in our bowling alleys; and when one realizes that many of them come from small and cramped quarters, this recreation is much needed and appreciated. Explorer groups, Tyros, Trail Rangers and C.C.I.T. groups have grown in numbers and one is grateful for their enthusiasm and interest. Meetings were held for Baby Band and Mission Band. One woman was heard to say, "I do enjoy this Baby Band afternoon because it is the only place I can come and bring my children with me—my soul is refreshed here."

The Federation of older women and the young women's group also spent many happy hours together in good fellowship, enjoying their missionary study, participating in worship and in sewing—the latter resulting in admirable contributions to their church.

The visitation in the homes has been very satisfying, and a welcome is given on almost every occasion; whether I went making just a friendly call, to welcome a new baby, or to carry some gifts of food and clothing to pensioners; all were so grateful for the many services of the Church in their community.

Our faithful volunteers who give of their time to look after our office duties and sort and give out the mail from our unofficial Post Office, are never thanked enough for the service they render week by week. Their kindly manner shown to the people who come to our buildings, added to their effective services, assist very substantially in the carrying on of our work here.

The organization known as the "Friends of the Church of All Nations" also contributed both time and money to many worthwhile projects for us. At Christmas time they sponsored a Christmas dinner with turkey and all the trimmings for our Sunday School teachers and the boys and girls in the Junior and Intermediate departments of the Sunday School. Many layettes for new babies, as well as other children's clothing and bedding and food have found their way down to these churches, through W.M.S. groups and other friends. It is a joy to be able to hand these to the needy and see the look of pleasure and gratitude on their faces.

The Master's work of cheering lonely hearts; of lifting heavy burdens from the shoulders of tired men and women; of just caring for friendless folk; of leading little children to the God of love; and of showing to the careless their error and pointing them to a better way of life—this is the work your missionary in this community tries to do in His Name.

FROM MISS MIRANDA A. BROWN

of All Nations, Toronto

My work at Queen St.—Church of All Nations, to which I came in September, is interesting and challenging. For the first time in my missionary career there is enough space for group work and the necessary equipment as well. At each new place one's responsibilities differ in some ways, but everywhere there is need—especially the need to reach the girls and boys and the many people in the community who need so much the transforming love of Jesus Christ; they need the Church and what the Church can do for them, but so many are indifferent to it.

It was my privilege to go with the young people to their Camp at Lake Scugog over Labor Day week end. This served a double purpose—it helped me to understand the Scugog Camp set-up and also learn to know our splendid young people as we worked and worshipped and played together. Part of this group has become one of those in which I serve when I can.

At Christmas time we were happy to receive as a gift from two groups at Humbercrest United Church some new middies for our C.G.I.T. and I believe that wearing their uniform will help to give the girls a greater sense of the importance of their Group. We are grateful for this help.

The Christmas dinner party given by the "Friends of the Church of All Nations" was much enjoyed by all and their efforts much appreciated.

We are glad to have students from the United Church Training School assist in some of our groups and in our Sunday School as part of their field work. This too has been a new experience for me, as has also the Post Office work at the Church.

Let Me Introduce—

Radio and newspapers announce the coming very soon of the one millionth newcomer to Canada. I should like you to meet a few of the 168,000 who arrived in 1953, and perhaps some who came earlier.

Meet Mrs. J.—A hospital interlude with no insurance is of grave concern to all, but particularly so to a Yugo-Slav woman reported to me by the Hospital Visitor. She with her husband had spent the first year in Canada in Noranda, Quebec, and then had come to Toronto, the Mecca of so many. She had been in the hospital, then out and after a while back again for a sojourn of months. Finally she left the hospital walking with the aid of a borrowed Red Cross cane and with a partially paralysed arm. Physiotherapy and undaunted courage have helped and today she works again, that she may assist her husband to pay that bill. Her gratitude was sincere when one United Church gave from its White Gift Fund that she might send some clothing to her sister behind the Iron Curtain. Her appreciation to me was shown by a card addressed "To the Reverend Father."

Meet Mr. and Mrs. K.—They are from Holland and report that their second Christmas in Canada was much happier than the first. In 1953 they had found a Church home. They attended a Christmas Day service. The parents were received into membership of that church, the Canadian born member of the family was baptized there, the ten year old boy sings in the Junior Choir and the two little girls attend the Nursery School. This happy mother now is a far cry from the homesick, discouraged mother referred to me by the Duke of York School last spring for help in English.

Meet Mrs. B.—After a period of less than two years in Canada, with hard work and careful saving, a German family of five bought a five-room bungalow. True the down payment was small, but faith was high that landlord troubles were over. A sprig of pine with a red bow on the door of the boys' bedroom reminded them that that was the Christmas gift for 1953. These three children are in Sunday School and mid-week clubs at the Church and the minister is taking a real interest in the family.

Meet Mrs. W.—An Estonian patient in the Weston San. Since coming to Canada her husband and her father-in-law have died from heart conditions—war and post-war casualties. The grandmother is with the family. Now in her exercise time at the San., the mother knits and sews for her three children. When I last visited her she told me she was able to go to the dining room for one meal a day, and was being permitted to go home for a few hours on Christmas Day. Her courage is contagious and is spreading through the ward.

Meet Miss B.—From Switzerland, who along with another nurses' assistant in a city hospital answered an advertisement for nurses in the Moose Factory Hospital, serving Eskimos and Indians mostly. We said "Good Bye" to them in the home of a Community Friendship Secretary who had met them in her hospital visiting.

Meet Miss N.—An Australian girl who arrived via Holland and the Continent on a 6.10 train Saturday morning. A telegram from Halifax had announced her arrival. The morning was spent finding a room, having her baggage delivered, lunch, etc. On Sunday after borrowing a hat, she was taken to Church and introduced to the minister and deaconess. Soon she was settled in a position and located near an Australian family. Perhaps it is because she is so busy trying to get her Indonesian fiancee out to Canada that we have not heard from her. Let us hope some Church is befriending her.

FROM MISS GERTRUDE CASS

Hospital Visitor,
Toronto

Spiritual Healing, Too

There are so many ways in which the Golden Rule can be carried out as one goes about the hospital wards as the Hospital Visitor. So many need help and encouragement; others find health, friends and faith with a new road of usefulness opening up before them. Some more than others find the realities of life, not only in those things which are temporal, but also in those things which are eternal.

I remember one lady who was tossing about and very sick, not knowing or caring what was going on. Some one in the room said, "She is one of your people, perhaps you could speak to her." After a short prayer and a few words to comfort her I went to another ward. Later I returned and at once one of the other patients said to me, "She has rested and had a nice sleep since your visit."

A young mother from Quebec told me her family was the only Protestant family in their village and although they were United Church people they welcomed a visit from the Baptist minister as he made his rounds in that rural area. She was glad to be with other women, to have such good companions in her ward and to have a visit from me. Her operation was serious, and her thanksgiving shone from her face as she was able to be up and around and later to go back to her home and family.

I remember one of the patients in a single room. When I visited her she said, "I have had a wonderful experience of the presence and help of God here with me during these days of illness. My life has to be adjusted but my heart is warm."

Next day in one of the wards another woman told me the same thing in almost the same words. The spirit of the Lord working in one and another. She asked me to read her letter and said, "My neighbours and other friends are praying for me."

I visited a young woman who did not seem to be too much interested in the fact that the hospital visitor had come to see her. But a few days later I met her again and she said, "You know that pamphlet you left me, 'Strength for the Day,' it made me feel good. I had my operation the next day. Thank you for coming."

I have made a couple of visits to St. John's Convalescent Hospital, where there are usually a goodly number of United Church patients, and it is well to contact them from time to time. Almost everybody there seems to be getting better, trying their renewed strength and looking forward to the time when they will soon be home again.

The services that have been held during the year have been well attended. On Good Friday we had charge of the service in the Belmont Home, which was held as an open meeting and a number from other denominations were present. This was appreciated by all. Many were able to be at the service because it was in the Home; they would not have been able to attend had it been in a church. It means a great deal when there is such close cooperation between the institution and the visitor.

We continue to try to contact the minister and the patient when required, and also to notify the minister when there are new babies. This is often an immediate contact of a family with the Church.

We appreciate very much the visits of women of our Church to the sick in hospitals and in various Homes. A word of "Thank You" is due those who from time to time come with special music to our meetings, and to those also who are faithful in helping with the general music at the services from month to month and year to year. They are held in high esteem by these women who see their good works.

FROM MISS IDA MACKENZIE

Church Extension and Community Worker,
Oak United Church and Church Extension,
Toronto

In New Areas

Very early in 1953 a change in our Church Extension work in the Wilmar Heights sub-division became necessary. The "cause" there started four months before had grown so large that it seemed wise to begin a regular church service. The Sunday School was fortunate to have good local leadership; the W.A. was growing and enthusiastic, and the Men's Committee was beginning to take responsibility.

Rev. E. Rowlands, a retired minister, was appointed and I was released and asked by the Home Mission Council to spend the next few months working with Rev. D. Tansley at Victoria Park United Church. This is a church in the midst of a very large new residential area. My work was "follow-up" calling, using the original survey cards and with special emphasis on women's work. During the next five months, four new W.A. circles were organized in as many different areas in the widely scattered community. Nearly 300 calls were made on families and I appreciated the friendly response of the people to a stranger who would be with them only for a brief period.

Several surveys and work in two new Sunday Schools occupied my time during August and early autumn. On October 15th, due to the illness of Miss Mary Blair, I was appointed full-time at Oak United, and for the time being at least, my connections with the Church Extension work, in which I had become very interested, were severed.

A Year of Change

At Oak United the year 1953 was one of change. Early in the year the old church building had to be vacated so that demolition might go forward. We moved next door into three adjoining houses which had been somewhat remodelled to meet our needs as temporary quarters. Here we have our church office and carry on our Sunday School and week day activities. Morning service is held in Lord Dufferin School and the evening service in Dixon Hall—a settlement house to the south of our immediate district. This set-up, the best that could be made under the circumstances, has made the work quite difficult.

The Mother's Club had a very active year. They sponsored a Sunday Evening Fireside in early February and have taken an increased interest in congregational activity. The money raising projects, a "Coronation Tea" in June and a "Measuring Party" in October added neat sums to the Treasury which will eventually be used for the new church. Two series of studies, one on Angola and the other on "How we got our Bible" together with seasonal programs have added interest and richness to our fellowship.

The C.G.I.T. had a good year, with the girls becoming more interested in a Church-centred program. The year started with the World Friendship project which culminated in an Open Night held jointly with the Explorers when parents and friends visited us and when the Group affiliated with the W.M.S. The climax of the year's work came on Sunday evening, December 6th, when we led the congregation in the National Vesper Service. The girls carried through with dignity and sincerity and made it a memorable occasion.

It was with great regret that in early October we accepted the fact that Miss Blair must take sick leave, and since then I have been working full-time here and hope next year to give a much more complete picture of the work at this centre. As I write the noise of machinery can be heard next door—the building of our new church is underway. It will be wonderful to have a modern and adequate centre in which to work. The challenge of a big job goes with us into 1954.

FROM MISS ANNIE B. BISHOP

Toronto

Working this year in close cooperation with the Community Friendship secretaries of the three Toronto Presbyterials, has brought an ever-increasing consciousness of understanding and willingness to share in this great service to newcomers.

The assigning and sending out of names, following them up with innumerable phone calls, calling and locating numbers and streets that are uncertain and those in new housing areas, and sharing in many of the Auxiliary meetings—these have been some of the things that have filled my days. A conference of all Community Friendship secretaries in this area was held in October, at which the attendance was most gratifying and much help was given by discussing the work together.

Over a Thousand

Month by month newcomers have been arriving in our city—strangers in a strange land and their very presence here confronts us with a challenge to service. Since early in the year the names of all newcomers (of our denominational connection) to the Toronto Metropolitan area have come to me from our United Church Immigration office in Montreal and been assigned locally to a Church district. Over 1,000 names have been received and sent out to the minister and Community Friendship secretary of the local church. The hope is that every name will be followed up with a friendly call, a sincere welcome to the church activities, and the further friendship of home hospitality which helps these new folk learn our ways and become one of us.

Of the 1,000 immigration slips sent out over half have been returned with a report of calls made. I feel sure that many more have done the calling but failed to report. A study of the reports received shows that over 140 are known to have found a place of active interest in our Church (this number might be doubled if ALL had reported) while 100 more are attending some other denomination.

Many worthwhile things are being done, I mention only a few:

The members of a Young Men's Club who called on a lonely German boy who now is happy to be one of them.

The German family, mother, father and three children, speaking no English called for by a Community Friendship Secretary and taken to church Sunday by Sunday and then weeks later saying, "We only understood the smiles and warm handshakes at first but now we know we are among friends."

The young men and young women alone in boarding houses, counselled in our ways of life, received into the family circle, and in more than one instance, hospitality for a wedding made possible by a Church group.

The oft repeated home hospitality of afternoon tea served to two or three to be friendly and help them with their English.

The whole story of what our Church is doing for the newcomer through the scope of its activities and members is known only in the hearts of those who give and those who are welcomed. The real results of this great service cannot be tabulated.

Grateful for Friendliness

There was never an idle moment at All People's Church from January to July when I went on furlough, but I loved every bit of it. To meet and work with the New Canadians with their various cultural backgrounds was a real treat. They were so grateful to have a church whose special mission was to be friendly and to help those who had come from other countries.

To think speak and worship in another tongue is very difficult. I only wished that I could speak in a common language so that I could welcome them when they first came and were so lonely and lost, and that I might help some of the older ones who have never learned our language. I think of two especially, one an Italian who understood only a few words of English and one Polish woman who really seemed to understand me but who talked so fast I could not understand half she said. There is so much danger of hurting them when you cannot understand them. These two women had been out there for about twenty years, but stayed at home and never learned our language.

I can still see the face of the little Italian widow as she sat in our English service, not understanding what was said, but with shining face, worshipping God. She had turned Protestant years before with her husband, and after his death the relatives tried hard to get her to go back to the Roman Catholic faith, but she has remained loyal in spite of their strongly voiced objections.

I feel that one of the most important parts of my work was the visiting. I tried to bring a word of cheer and hope to the shut-in, the sick and the lonely and make a friendly personal contact with all. There was never enough time for this. Here is one of the great opportunities for a sympathetic Church worker.

This is where our camps help most, for at them we do make personal contacts, as we live together, play, work, and worship together. This is especially true of our Mothers' Camp. Many times the young mothers cannot get out to church, but at camp they are free for a large part of the day to chat, study and play.

But some cannot even go to camp. I visited one young married woman who had a form of creeping paralysis and had become nearly blind. She was very seldom out of her two-roomed apartment. One of my C.G.I.T. girls, 13 years of age, asked me to visit her. She had been going up nearly every night after school to help her and read the Bible and Sunday School lessons to her. It was so good for both of them. When we see something like that we know that the young people have caught a little of the vision of God. That same young girl asked me if she could help in the Junior Sunday School and she has become a teacher's assistant. She has a long way to go and many handicaps to overcome but with God's help she will overcome them.

Looking back over my work at All People's I would say that another very important part of my work was with the little children. I seldom had the same one for six months at a time, because of the type of community in which the church is situated. That makes it hard to keep the older age clubs running smoothly, but it does not seem to bother the little ones so much. In fact they like it, for the officers are changed often and everyone has a chance to hold a position. They are so eager to learn anything you try to teach them and their minds are so receptive, that it is a privilege to work with them, and also a very great responsibility.

Making New Friends

When my appointment began in August, the three All People's churches were in the midst of their summer program at Rest-All Camp. I was just a helper at Junior Girls' Camp, which proved a great deal of fun, and enabled me to get acquainted with the camp site, schedule and campers. It was good preparation for the coming summer. My first directing experience came on the Labor Day week-end when the young people from our three churches met in happy fellowship at Rest-All Camp.

August was a quiet month during the mid-week and gave time for getting acquainted with our people through visits, and for investigating church cupboards and records. With the minister at camp for the two summer months, August brought Sundays on which the W.M.S. worker assumed the minister's role.

With September came my introduction to the mid-week activities the Sunday School, Junior congregation, Mission Band, Explorers, C.G.I.T., two choirs, and guide to the Boys' group, the Young People's and the two Women's groups. This led to moments of despair at first when I remembered our Training School classes and their stress on careful, thoughtful preparation before leading any group. Time just did not allow for that, when there was office work, visiting and making contacts with the New Canadians to keep up also. As a result Leadership Training looms large on the program for 1954.

As I became better acquainted with all the phases of our church's work and with the people, the activities began to fall more naturally into place. Now each group means new enjoyment as we seek together through happy meetings at the church to come to know, love and serve God better. In none of our groups do we have large numbers, but in each there is a faithful core of good workers and eager learners.

I have found many Mission Circles, W.M.S. groups and Sunday Schools in Hamilton and district which are interested in our work at All People's. Their gifts at the Christmas season meant happy times for the children and meant also that more help could be given by our church to the families that we knew needed their Christmas made brighter. There are many such families especially among the New Canadians, and we are glad to be able to help them through the church.

The five months from August to December have been filled with new experiences and the making of new friends among our people whose backgrounds are mainly Canadian, European and Asiatic, and in working with them I have often wished that I could speak half a dozen languages. I must mention the young people who are of the finest quality—real leadership material, which bodes well for the future of our congregation. In my few months here the people have shown a great deal of Christian charity both in their helpfulness to me and in their understanding of my inexperience.

FROM MISS GLADYS ANSELL

Community Worker, Grace Church,
Hamilton

Grace Church is an old building and most of its people are in the lower income bracket, so that there is a constant struggle to meet the many needs. Every month sees some money-raising event by one of the groups, seeking to meet some of these needs, take care of the general expenses and the extra repairs. There is the inner core of devoted workers who give all they can in time and money; then there are the attenders, in varying stages of interest; and the indifferent, who seem to care so little; and the transients who come and go. We seek to encourage the movement toward the first group, but it is not easy, and the growth seems slow.

Within the Church Family

Yet there are signs of growth, and one group in which it can be seen is the Young People's Union, where their enthusiasm and activity is shown in various ways in the service of the church. It is interesting to note that they show their concern in the wider areas of the Church's work by becoming active in leadership of other groups than their own.

As in most well-organized churches there is a full program for Sundays and mid-week, seeking to appeal to and meet the needs of, all the various age groups within the Church family. The Tyro and Trail Ranger Leaders tied in their groups with the Sunday School when they presented badges and awards at the Sunday session; in Mission Band and Explorer groups also the Sunday work of the Church is stressed. The older groups take an active share in the work and finances of the church.

Mission Band, Explorers, and Vacation School are the special responsibility of the W.M.S. worker, and these groups have had happy times throughout their regular sessions. We felt the Vacation School was indeed a successful one, due entirely to the fine staff of volunteers who gave so generously of their time.

During the year a house to house canvas was taken in connection with the Interdenominational Sunday School Crusade. We hope that as a result we may be able to have a clearer picture of the Church interests of our community. Some new contacts have been made; the problems are many; the struggle is continual; these are our challenges and our inspiration and our task. As we meet with groups, visit in homes and hospital, speak at various meetings or conduct services; we seek to be a bearer of the light and knowledge of Christ, that His Kingdom may have opportunity to advance in our hearts and in our community.

Strengthening the Church Ties

St. Christopher's Church in Hamilton is situated in an industrial area and is surrounded by the homes of young married people. The Sunday School with its enrolment of 260 children provides a starting point for much of my work. We have splendid superintendents for our three departments, but we lack teachers. The greatest problem is to get the children so linked with the church that they do not drop out at the age of 15 or 16 when they feel they are too big for Sunday School. As most of their parents do not attend Church it is hard for the young people to see why they should do so either. I feel it is important that they should be challenged to make a definite commitment of their lives to Christ before they have reached the age when they tend to drift away from the Church. Proof that the Sunday School has done its work well in the past is found in the large number of young couples in our church today who have come up through the Church School and are now leaders in our Church work. Because of the opportunities afforded here, I make many visits in the homes of Sunday School pupils, trying to get them to attend regularly and suggesting that the parents come with their children to our Church services.

I have a second contact with the Sunday School children in our week-day activities. All the different age groups are active and interested—Mission Band, Explorers, C.G.I.T., always ready for something new and eager to do something for others than themselves.

Our Mission Circle is a group of which we are especially proud, because of the way in which they accept missionary responsibility. Besides going beyond their allocation in regular givings, this year they have outfitted a Korean boy in clothing, and have knitted an afghan and purchased other bedding to send to Korea. At Christmas they remembered their "missionary for prayer" with a little gift, and helped with the Baby Band and Sunday School Christmas parties. Every month representatives from the Mission Circle go to visit two or three patients at the Sanatorium, taking gifts of candy, fruit or magazines. When the patients whom they had been visiting in the spring were discharged, the Circle immediately secured the names of two other girls from the hospital chaplain, and have adopted them. The Circle also had card showers for sick and lonely people, including a little girl whom they had never seen, in the Home for Incurable Children in Toronto.

The afternoon Auxiliary of the W.M.S. has increased in membership and in finances, and is to be commended for the way in which the members are willing to participate in the program at their meetings. The Women's Association has also had its best year financially, which is an indication of the devotion of these faithful women who have belonged to St. Christopher's ever since it was opened, and whose lives would be barren without their church.

This year saw the beginning of a Junior Choir which I enjoy leading, for children between the ages of nine and fourteen. When the children wanted choir gowns their mothers volunteered to make them, and gathered at the church to sew for several afternoons. The hopeful part of this project is that now the mothers have suggested that they continue meeting as a group to sew things to help the church. Most of them do not belong to any organization or indeed attend church regularly, so now they are interested and are beginning to come to church to hear their children sing and see them in their pretty white choir gowns.

Highlights

It was a wonderful experience last January to assist with the opening of a new Sunday School at Levesque in the Sudbury-Suburban area. Rev. Gordon Burgess made the initial contacts and then after he and I had completed a visitation of all the homes in the area, the first session of the Sunday School was held on January 18th. For the first few Sundays we met in the afternoon and I acted as superintendent but it was not long before the local leaders, realizing that there would be a better attendance in the morning, volunteered to change the hour of the school and to look after the leadership themselves. Attendance did increase, and in the summer, when I was unable to assist at a Vacation School, the children attended a Presbyterian one being held in the district. Sunday School sessions were resumed again in the Fall and the work is progressing now under the direction of Rev. William Gibb of the Sudbury Suburban charge.

Progress has continued in the New Sudbury area too, and it was a day of great rejoicing when the congregation was finally able to purchase a corner lot on the highway. Plans for a church building are now being studied by members of the Board.

It was a thrilling experience to be Principal of a completely new Church Vacation School at New Sudbury from July 13th-17th last summer. Because the entire school had to be crammed into one week the sixty children who attended brought their lunches with them each day and we had both morning and afternoon sessions. The attendance at the closing exercises was absolutely amazing, and despite the terrific heat we all felt sorry we would have to wait a year to learn more new songs, play more new games and work and worship together again.

There was not half enough time to do all the visiting I wanted to do. There is such a huge area to cover that it is practically impossible for one or even two persons to do justice to the task. I tried to assist the minister by calling on newcomers and inactive Church members. I have enjoyed the visiting very much, and as I have met with the people I have realized again the quest within every human heart and have known that God is the answer to that need.

At All People's, too, there has been excellent progress during the year. The Christian Education activities have grown—the Junior-Intermediate Department under the superintendency of a consecrated member of the session, while my place as superintendent of the Primary Department has been taken by a capable young mother. We are so grateful for this fine leadership. Here as everywhere there is a real need for leaders. Shift work at the mines makes it very difficult for our people, so we give thanks for those who are willing and able to give of their time and energy for this important work among our youth. Women's work at All People's has gone well, too, with two W.A. Circles and one W.M.S. Auxiliary, the members of which assist me in visiting the newcomers and the sick in the hospitals.

The year 1953 had many interesting highlights in which I was privileged to have a part; C.G.I.T. Camp at Fairbanks Lake; C.G.I.T. Rally at Sault Ste. Marie; Senior Girls' Conference for Northern Ontario; Audio-Visual Workshop sponsored by the local Christian Education Council; Leadership Training School, besides meetings of Presbytery, Ministerial Association, Boys' Work Board, C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council and Church services. I have enjoyed all of these and found in them a wonderful Christian fellowship and an inspiration for my work.

1953 has been a good year and I deeply regret being unable to finish it out in Sudbury. Miss Cora Wovil has been in charge of the work in Sudbury since early November, and will be carrying on there until I am able to return. I shall resume my work just as soon as possible in 1954. God has been good to me during the past three and a half years and I have been happy in Sudbury.

The Church Grows with the City

The city of Sault Ste. Marie continues to grow. New streets have been developed in almost every part of the city. The United Church people were conscious of the need for the United Church Extension Campaign, and supported it loyally. We gladly report that Emmanuel United Church has been completed and was opened early in August.

Classes for teenagers and children became an important part of my work in 1953. On Sunday mornings I first of all sit in with the Primary School for their session of worship and then teach a class of Intermediate girls as they come from church. Sunday afternoon is a busy time. Immediately after lunch the minister and his wife and I each leave for a different school. Mr. Rice goes to his afternoon appointment at Emmanuel. I collect a number of young teachers and hold Sunday School in the Francis H. Clergue Public School. Particular credit is due the minister's wife, Mrs. Rice, who, with the care of the parsonage and three small children, still makes time to teach the Senior girls at 11.30, conduct Bayview School at 2 o'clock with the help of Mrs. Norman Coleman and a young assistant, and sing in the choir at 7.30.

My week days were given to home visiting, children's meetings and the other responsibilities that develop in the life of a community worker. On Monday mornings I look forward to the classes in Religious Education in six rooms of the Prince of Wales School. As your missionary I am also a member of the local Girls' Work Board, the C.G.I.T. Leaders Council, three W.A.'s, the W.C.T.U., the Official Board of All People's, the W.M.S. Presbyterial and Algoma Presbytery.

Shortly after the opening of the new church we had a very successful and enthusiastic Daily Vacation Bible School. The weather was perfect, so the children were able to meet on the church lawn for the first hour of each afternoon—acquiring more tan and doing some good advertising too, for the church is right on our main highway. The Vacation School kit donated by Algoma Presbyterial was given to the church at the close of the school and is still in use.

Maxwell United Church, although not one of my regular appointments, asked me to attend the monthly meeting of their Sunday School teachers and hold leadership classes, which I was glad to do. With such eager and consecrated teachers the school is growing rapidly and happily. The minister, Rev. Charles Wooley, had the joy this year of seeing his three suburban churches all enlarged—to make for more efficient work.

The Sunday School on Pim Hill continues to meet in Francis H. Clergue Public School. During the year there was an average attendance of 56 with almost one-half of them being of pre-school age. One hundred new houses have just been opened for rental in this district, and the Sunday School is enrolling the children from these homes. As the year ends I learn that the Church Extension Committee has completed purchase of three lots on which they held an option.

The future of the work in Bayview is uncertain, although it has been a part of All People's work for many years. With changing population Bayview is now little interested in the evangelical faith. This fall we opened weekday clubs for children. The little girls meet in "Happy Club" in the home of Mrs. Coleman, who remains as she has for many years, the Scottish Dorcas, full of good works. They tell this story about her Club. On Thanksgiving Sunday one teacher asked her class to name the things for which they were thankful. The children named a few—food, clothing, home, etc. One little hand waved wildly, "I am thankful most of all for Mrs. Coleman's Club. It's the best thing we ever had."

Sometimes when some one says, "Why don't we?" it sets off a chain reaction of good deeds. Such a time occurred this fall when a young Explorer, bubbling over with ideas, said, "Miss Brown, why don't we collect clothing and send it to Korea?" She had been reading World Friends and had grown up in Mission Band and Sunday School. She must have seen the Relief Posters too, but she still believes this was her own idea, and was enthusiastic about seeing it through. The Korean Relief Project caught the hearts and minds of all the other groups in the church, and with their cooperation a fine shipment has been sent to Korea from All People's.

FROM MISS HAZEL ADSETT
MISS MARIE STAPLES

Community Workers, All People's Mission, Windsor, Ont.

From January to the end of June, 1953, the regular weekly program was carried out, with Kindergarten for four-year-old children three mornings each week, a Happy Club for those a year or so older, Cubs, Explorers, C.G.I.T. and two groups of older boys.

Children, Parents, Newcomers

Surrounded as we are with churches, one might think that our work along the line of Christian Education was quite unnecessary, but the Mission is continually discovering children whose families have no connection with any church. These were the ones we felt needed help, and many of them have become so interested because of their connection with us, that now they also attend one of the churches.

Added to the regular program the first three months of the year was our entertainment, in the name of the Church, of those attending the evening Beginner's English Classes at the Technical School. Inviting about 100 on each of ten evenings usually once a week, we were able to reach all those enrolled. This would not have been possible without the assistance of missionary and other groups from the churches who brought and served the lunch and provided some music. While our part in organizing such social hours seemed very small, yet it is surprising how much time was needed to ensure everything running smoothly. And resulting from these contacts were several personal calls from those needing special help or just seeking friendship in this new land.

After Easter our efforts concentrated on the Tea held by the mothers for the new United Church Training School. These women represent different denominations but all worked most enthusiastically, realizing the need for such an institution. We were pleasantly surprised when we found that the proceeds reached $135, but much more important to us was the interest created.

Another pleasant evening stands out in our memory—one with our Japanese friends. Rev. Mr. Shimizu wrote from Toronto asking if he might bring pictures he had taken on a recent trip to the West coast. Twenty-four gathered for this occasion and much interest was displayed as groups were shown on the screen at different centres across the continent and many friends recognized.

Then to climax these six months, the Advisory Board arranged a very lovely Tea as a farewell to Miss Staples and myself. The gifts received were greatly appreciated but even more the spirit of friendship and goodwill of those with whom we had spent the years in Windsor. This is being written from my old home in Guelph—Miss Staples is with her sister in Brantford. I am enjoying the freedom of this year of furlough and am finding life far from dull as I get settled preparatory to retiring at the end of the year. And I am still privileged to help in the work of our Woman's Missionary Society in our local church and district, all to the end that His Kingdom may be brought a little nearer.

This Thriving Mission Work

It is a great challenge to be in charge of this thriving Mission work, and the six months from July to December have slipped away very quickly. Wonderful tributes continue to be paid to the work of Miss Adsett and Miss Staples, and they will be greatly missed for a long time.

The Nursery School met three times a week and the little ones enjoyed a full morning of worship, stories, games and handwork. Vacation School occupied the last ten days of August and those who attended found it a place of great interest, for even holidays get boring after a while. The last afternoon took the form of a concert, when the mothers found through the program and display of handwork that the students had really learned a good deal. The visit to the Jewish synagogue was a bridge of understanding between Protestants and our Jewish friends. The visiting children behaved admirably and were not too shy to ask some leading questions.

The children loved Hallowe'en and as a "Thank You" for such a good time they came on Nov. 1st to pack three boxes of clothes for Korea and some brought money to see them on their way. There are great potentialities among the C.G.I.T. girls for leadership and their development will be watched with interest. Two of them are already teaching in Sunday School and learning at the same time. Their interest in the work is so great that one can conceive of their giving themselves to full-time Church work in the days to come.

The pot luck supper held by the Mother's Club was a great success. A German immigrant was pleased to show his handcraft in brass and silver which created much interest. Christmas is a joyful season and parties were held for each age group and everyone had fun. The Christmas Cheer Fund was generous and besides providing for the parties and some extra necessities at the Mission, sent three cases of powdered milk for the children of Korea. All this gives us courage to hope for great things in the days to come.

A Chapter on Community Missions West

Canada has its fast-growing cities and also its thinly-settled rural areas. We have said that in the large cities there are often a great number of people without the Church. These are mission opportunities but many rural areas also lack adequate facilities for worship and Christian education. Authorities are saying that rural areas now contain a larger percentage of unchurched people than urban areas and this may prevail in our Western Provinces, where relatively more people are on farms than the average for the rest of Canada.

Much of our service in Community Missions West is rural and in many places our missionaries are assuming the role of a minister. We find that our women are preaching on Sunday, teaching Christian Education in schools during the week, giving time to visitation and meeting the many other needs, for the task is to believe in and support every vital Christian force. Desirable and necessary as it is to radiate a spirit of Christian love and understanding, something more is required and that is to "make disciples." This weighs heavily on the hearts of our missionaries, for while they know that feeding is easier than winning, both are required. Acts of ministry and compassion in both rural and urban centres are forms of Christian witness when done for the love of people. The needs of the community must be the starting point and with this in mind we see Church Vacation Schools, Caravans, Camps and Conferences using local resources and leaders developing in all centres where we have work.—I. M. L.

FROM MISS MYRTLE MACGREGOR

Community Worker, Wayside Mission,
Fort William, Ontario

"Appraise the past that we may chart the future" seems an apt quotation as the past year's achievements are recorded and next year's undertakings planned. Many worthwhile things happened in 1953 that cannot be compressed into the small concentrated report and many others just as important that were not meant to be tabulated in any report.

Sunday morning services at 10 o'clock are taken by the minister; twice a month the Japanese have services, taking turns in leading them. Once in two months a Japanese minister comes from Winnipeg and his services are appreciated. On special days, like Good Friday, Easter, Mother's Day, Christmas, nearly all our people are in attendance. A Board representing both Ukrainian and Japanese has the welfare of Wayside at heart and collects and spends all the monies received by the Treasurer excepting that raised by the W.A. There were many improvements and repairs done during the year and much of the labor was given freely by our own folk.

Sunday School continued all year, attendance was down during the summer but a good Vacation School was held. There was a change of four Sunday School teachers but all show a heartening regularity and loyalty.

The graduating Explorers have become absorbed in the C.G.I.T. Groups at Knox under capable leadership. The Cubs have been handed over to a competent Cubmaster able to control their restless energy. The Scouts are interested and are now led by one of our own boys. They are also active in basketball and can hold their own with any team at the Lakehead.

The W.A. though small in numbers, is very active. While the Japanese women do not attend the meetings they always take their part in any special functions and all the women are keen for arts and crafts; so much so that some of them attend night school. The W.A. has done much to make the place more attractive this year, as well as supplying utilities that contribute to its usefulness. This next year they propose to take a part in the upkeep of Knox Manse. There is a growing pride in being able to take their place with other groups as more contacts are made. A friendly feeling exists between them and the sister group at Fourth Ave. and two joint affairs took place during the year—a Valentine Party and a Bowling Game.

Living Up To Its Name

Wayside lives up to its name, and is a community centre for many groups of people who frequent the gym regularly and use our facilities. Appreciation for this privilege has been expressed in various ways—the Ukrainian Badminton club put on a puppet show, the Nisei gave financial assistance and others showed their gratitude as well. The Japanese from all over the city consider Wayside their community centre and several social evenings, as well as their regular meetings, have been held here. Even the city must use Wayside for its city elections, since it is the only voting place on our side of the tracks. Christian Education leaders have used our rooms for a day's conference. The Knox folk use our facilities too for social events. The Young Adults Club conducted a splendid Sunday evening International service and the Knox Evening Auxiliary with Fourth Ave. women had an enjoyable evening with the Wayside women—all these gatherings are productive of Christian fellowship.

In many other ways we realize that there has been a spirit of Christian brotherhood all through the year. After a series of studies with the minister, eight of our young people professed their faith in Christ. We have endeavoured to keep the Christian spirit uppermost in all our undertakings throughout the year. So as we have been appraising the past, to find the "appointments of our house so meagre and its proportions so inadequate," the New Year sweeps in with its gift of hours and new opportunities to do greater service. On the chart for the future are some aims; those young people must have Christ as the dynamic of their lives; the women must have a deepening faith; the children must grow as Jesus grew; with our eyes on far horizons, we must get to work.

FROM MISS MARY L. MANSFIELD

Missionary-at-large, Superior Presbytery,
Ontario

The year has slipped by very quickly, each day bringing its duties and privileges, some days uneventful as far as one could see, others seeming to stand out as a step taken forward. Yet it is not for us to say that any day is uneventful, for we never know at what moment the seed sown may take root. It may be only a little Primary Picture paper in the hands of the little girl at school. She took it home and her mother read the story to the other children. It was a story of children sharing with others, taking turns when playing with toys, etc. A few days later while visiting at a neighbour's, the mother heard her two boys quarrelling over a tricycle. She went out to them and asked, "Do you remember the story I read to you the other day about sharing your toys and taking turns?" They hung their heads as they answered "Yes, mother." Then the quarrelling ceased and the little fellows played happily together the rest of the day. They were early learning the lesson that the world needs to learn today.

There was the day when your worker had planned to visit several homes in a certain locality, but she got no further than the first home, for there she found the young woman responsive to spiritual things and the whole afternoon was spent in helping her.

A New Kindergarten

One of the special events of the year was the opening of a Kindergarten at Cloud Bay with eleven little folk. We got started the first of June, discontinued during Vacation and began again in September. We met from home to home once a week, on the day that I would be in that area for Religious Education classes. Since the homes were small and the seating not convenient for little folk we sat on the floor, which was always freshly washed for our use. We had our games outside as long as the weather permitted, and then went inside for our circle for story and sing, handwork, etc. The children loved it and the mothers were happy about it too. How I wished for a fixed place to hold it that might be suitably equipped, but one must make the best of what one has. It is most encouraging to see the progress of the children. It does something for the mothers too.

Another school has been added this year to the number of Christian Education classes, making nine classes in all. I felt an urge strongly one day last fall to enquire about a certain school, and I found that no one was giving Christian Education there. The teacher was Roman Catholic but was happy to have me come if the School Board gave permission. Some of the mothers had already been talking about this lack in their school and wishing I would come to them, for they wanted their children to have the teaching of religion. The School Board was agreeable and I have been going there regularly every week.

Baptism

Last fall I was granted license to administer the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper. At our Christmas Service at Cloud Bay I baptized two babies, thinking how appropriate it was to bring the children to Jesus on that Day, as Mary and Joseph had brought the baby Jesus to the Temple to present him to the Lord. Though the service was held in the school and the place was not a bit churchy, yet somehow the service was very meaningful and many of the forty persons present spoke of its impressiveness.

During the summer three Vacation Schools were held—one at Upsala, 90 miles north-west; another with the Anglican worker at Shebandowan, 50 miles out and the third at South Gillies, one of my regular points.

Five groups of women met for the World Day of Prayer—they look forward each year to this service which binds them together with the Christian women of the world in their common service to the Lord of All.

FROM MISS F. MARION HODGINS

Ethelbert, Manitoba

In the Pine River congregation one of our women requested that a Communicants Class should be held, so for eight weeks your missionary met with a group of these young people and discussed "Preparing for Church Membership," by the Rev. D. I. Forsyth. At the close of the course Rev. D. Ray, of Dauphin, received six of these young folk into the fellowship of the Pine River Church.

More Leaders

Encouraging has been the effort to get local folk to accept some of the leadership. At Garland a young Ukrainian man has accepted the superintendency of the small Sunday School, while his wife, a Displaced Person from Germany, has been teaching a class. They have been most faithful and have missed a session only when the roads were impassable, although they live eight miles from town. At the Christmas program in the church when this young man was the chairman, the local women bought gifts for all the children who had attended the Christian Education classes during the year, and these 40 gifts were purchased with the money they had raised by serving a supper.

In Ethelbert a young girl has led the Mission Band for the year. She is also a teacher in the Sunday School, plays the organ at church services and attends C.G.I.T.

At Ukraina local leadership is active in Sunday School work and at Pine River a junior Young People's group has been meeting once a week all fall. Three of them attended a Sunday School Institute at Benito in September and are teaching in the Sunday School. One evening when gathered around the organ for a sing-song at Young People's one of the young men pulled a paper from his pocket, which turned out to be a page from The Canadian Boy, containing an article on "The Social Pressures for Drinking Alcohol." Said this young man, "I'm keeping this to read to the School when they take up the study of alcohol and drinking."

At Pine River a group of women have met regularly for prayer each week since September, and while the numbers are small, it has been worthwhile and the request is now being made that it should be open to all. In the Mission Band one day, the young President asked, "Do I say the prayer this time?" The answer was "Yes," and when the time came a lovely simple prayer was prayed (not read) by this little girl, who had evidently prepared it beforehand.

Every year sees changes in these communities, and it is always a pleasure when some word comes from those who have been with us in other years. An older girl now taking Grade 10 in Saskatchewan wrote: "I do miss church and Sunday School. I wish you the best for your Christmas concert. There's nothing more I hate to miss than Christmas at church and at Grandma's. It was real fun last year decorating the tree and helping you. A person only realizes it when they can't be there."

So in looking back there are many blessings remembered; so much for which to thank God; in spite of all stumblings, an ever-increasing knowledge of His over-ruling and loving care over us all.

FROM MISS HAZEL E. HEFFREN

Flin Flon, Manitoba

January 1st, 1953, plunged me into a very active and interesting situation at Flin Flon, where there was a well-established church in the centre of an ever-expanding mining community, and the minister and a corps of very loyal lay workers trying to cope with the problems of a constituency of roughly one thousand United Church families.

Lines of Communication

It was immediately evident that a large part of my work was to be establishing and keeping open lines of communication between the nucleus at the centre and the Sunday Schools, W.A. groups, church members and adherents in the suburbs; to help carry on worship services in some areas; and to do everything possible to consolidate the witness of the Church and the feeling of fellowship in this very wide area, and at the same time assist in carrying on the full program of worship service and Christian Education in the uptown church.

Christian Education seems to be the biggest challenge in a town of young families and many, many children. During the first half of the year my Sunday mornings were occupied with visiting some department of one of the six Sunday Schools (four United Church and two joint) where there was some problem or where a little missionary interest was desired in the form of a story from China. These Sunday Schools were all established before my coming, built on the good work of W.M.S. predecessors. They are faced, however, with more problems than most established schools because of the constant expansion. Teacher training and recruitment are great needs but not much intensive work has been done during the past year. A start in that direction has been the quarterly teachers' workshop under the Christian Education Committee of which I have become Chairman. During the last half of the year I have tried to get better acquainted with the congregation uptown by attending morning service and visiting the morning Sunday Schools. Recently a new department has been added to the nursery, and we are grateful for the space made available for this.

Last summer two Vacation Schools were held, one in cooperation with the Presbyterians, and a two-week school in our own church. The teachers ended the periods more enthusiastic than when they began, and will be on hand for next year's school, I am sure.

Organized under the Ministerial Association, religious instruction is conducted in the seventh and eighth grade classes for half an hour once a week. The situation has many problems and none of us feel much of a sense of achievement. However, this term my class seem more interested in the material selected for them.

Still Expanding

The work of the Woman's Missionary Society was very well organized here, Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries, Mission Circle, three Mission Bands and now a new and huge Baby Band with 240 children enrolled. The newest idea of keeping in touch with all is a bi-monthly Baby Band letter for the 18 visitors to take to the mothers. Half is for the mothers, and half is made up of stories, prayers, graces, for the little children. The W.M.S. Baby Band material is also used.

My other work seems to be mostly assisting with the pastoral work of the church, visiting the hospitals every week, home visitation, occasional turns at preaching, as we always hold three and sometimes four services a Sunday, one week every other month of morning meditations on the radio, teaching a woman's Bible Class. I made a concentrated effort at an every-United-Church family visitation in the community of Creighton on the Saskatchewan side accompanied by members of the W.A. or Sunday School teachers. That was one day a week for several weeks. Now it is a bit discouraging to find that the town has doubled in size, and the people are all shuffled around. Perhaps I shall gather up courage enough to begin all over again.

The year has been a very pleasant one. The friendliness and loyalty of the Church people and their willing cooperation even though very busy, is certainly very much appreciated. Some of the highlights have been the visit of Mrs. Loveys and Mrs. Halstead, the Career Luncheon for High School girls to interest them in the work of women in the Church, Presbyterian at Dauphin, the Teen-agers' Conference at The Pas, the Baby Band Rally and our Sunday School Teachers' fall Workshop. The program seems to be continually including new and fresh things growing out of the demands of the situation, and allows for never a dull moment.

A Growing Desire

Increase in missionary givings, and more of our people taking an active part through systematic giving, are indications of a growing desire to share in the world-wide mission of the Church. Statistics at our Annual meeting proved these points.

The group which has given me most satisfaction this year is the C.G.I.T. The department is not large—average attendance only fifteen—with four splendid leaders, who also teach their same classes in Sunday School. Our C.G.I.T. took part in the Mass Affiliation Service held a year ago at Presbyterial, and following their Mission Study, they sponsored a Fireside after the evening service during Youth Week in February. At that Fireside each group presented through drama, singing, displays, and reports something of what they had learned about the work in Angola. At the same time they initiated a Korean Relief drive, by making the admission to the Fireside a gift for Korea. Three parcels of food were sent to Miss Sandell in Korea and two large cartons of clothing were shipped to the Relief Depot in Toronto. The C.G.I.T. also contributed to our Christmas worship by holding their Vesper Service on December 13. The girls conducted the service, one of their leaders told the story and the C.G.I.T. formed the choir and acted as ushers. It was indeed a worshipful service for all.

The choirs continue to be a source of joy to our whole congregation. Miss Helen Baldwinson, one of our own Church members is organist and also leads both Junior and Senior choirs. The Junior choir members must attend Maclean Sunday School, and last Sunday they made their debut in their new surplices, made by the teachers and mothers from used cotton sheets. They looked like little angels and they sang like angels too, every note clear as a bell and every word distinct. Following the service of worship they changed into fairies and elves and presented a Christmas operetta, much enjoyed by the congregation. This Junior choir of fourteen members is a real asset to the congregation.

The two women's groups, both small in number, are very important in the life of our church and assist the various activities in many ways.

Maclean Mission, now called Maclean United Church, is in her sixtieth year of operation and we laid plans at our annual meeting to have special services and as a special project, the re-decorating of our sanctuary. As in Mission Band last year, our motto could be said to be, "Work and Worship." Our worship each Sunday evening is ably conducted by our student minister, Mr. John Duffy, and we look forward to the visits three or four times a year of Rev. Fred Douglas, our Superintendent to conduct Communion. Our Communion roll is growing, a few in number each year, but the roll is small compared with the mailing list, the number of families we reach. As Maclean celebrates its sixtieth anniversary, I mark the end of my first term of service, and they have been six happy years.

Widening Horizons

When I wrote my Christmas letter to my friends I told them how proud I was of my 28 primaries who knelt to sing, "Shepherds are we, kneeling to Thee," and especially how pleased I was with the several who knew no English two years ago and who can now lead a group in telling Luke's version of the Christmas story. Then I ended my description of these doings by writing, "That group really got the true Christmas spirit this year."

Afterwards I wondered how I dared make such a claim. For an eight-year old had asked me more than a dozen times in the last few weeks if I'd "given those things to God yet," meaning the fruits and food with which we had decorated the front of the church for Thanksgiving. I tried again and again to explain, "Whatsoever ye give to His little ones"; but his response seemed to imply that the Winnipeg Children's Aid should be but a receiving station on the way to Heaven. Then came a vague whisper "Well, anyway I only brought three potatoes" and I thought he had lost interest. But the next afternoon the same question came up. And all this from a lad whose mother had walked out and left him and two younger children for the father to rear. So at Christmas time I made it very clear that our gifts were going to Korea. But to these children now, Christmas does mean Christ's birthday and our program emphasized that.

Mission Band in our church still takes in all the children who call themselves of our Sunday School which gives good scope in age range for dramatizing, which they love to do. But our best dramas of the whole year are during Vacation School, for which 81 children registered this year. In dramatizing "The Lost Coin," they learned how important those coins a woman wore on her headband were—more valuable than money. For "The Lost Sheep," the shepherd's sense of responsibility was at stake. And of course the Prodigal "The Lost Boy," was the climax in importance. As the conversations were all of their own composing it was interesting to note that as the wise and foolish virgins walked to where they were to meet the bridegroom, their conversation about trousseau, wedding gifts, etc., changed in the course of so few days from the extravagant Ukrainian modern point of view to one more fitting Bible times and scenes. They didn't know their horizons were widening! And to send $8.50 to the Vacation School Extension Fund shows that they had widened indeed.

One of the best "widening" tricks we have is our library hour where our younger children are learning the joy to be found in books. They take the book home, enjoy the pictures, but mother doesn't read English, so they take it to school and ask the teacher to read it to the whole class. They are a long step ahead of the older brothers who just aren't readers. We are extremely grateful to the friends in the Winnipeg churches who send us books that their own children have outgrown; and we are glad too, that they are not new books, for so often baby gets hold of them, or father flings that "rubbish" in the fire. Then a child stays away from the Club and when we ask why, mother says: "Don't give our children books. I can't keep them from the baby." But we can truthfully answer, "Don't let that keep anyone away from the Club. Those books were discards when we got them."

And so the work goes on, always keeping in mind the thought in the hymn which they love to sing, "Children are the seeds God plants within His garden Fair," and trying, with God's help, to make it possible for them to "grow so straight and pure, so good and full of grace."

FROM MISS AILEEN GUNN

Community Worker, Robertson Memorial

Everyone Working!

We are specially happy about our Senior C.G.I.T. girls, for, in looking back over three or four years we can see how gradually the C.G.I.T. purpose is becoming a part of their lives. They are becoming more conscious of what it really means to "Know God" and "Serve others." During the year in the five groups there were the usual activities and studies—all very worthwhile—but there were some highlights. In February the girls brought in wool, and this, together with the proceeds from a "Fish Pond" was exchanged for four woollen blankets which were sent to the African Girls in Training in Angola. At the autumn W.M.S. Thank-offering meeting Miss Beulah Bourns was the guest speaker, and at the close of the meeting the C.G.I.T. girls gave Miss Bourns $5.00 to be used for her work in Korea. She asked if the money could be used to purchase material to make Restraining Jackets for the hospital. She sent a pattern and the Kindergarten Mothers' Circle of the W.A. under the supervision of Miss Decatur, are now completing ten of the jackets which will soon be on their way to Korea. The C.G.I.T. girls did not feel that even this was enough, so asked if it might be possible to do more at Christmas time. Girls, leaders, Robertson Memorial staff and the Junior Sunday School cooperated with the result that $58.35 was sent to Miss Bourns to be used for whatever she felt most needful to further the work among the sufferers of that war-torn land. Christmas projects were enjoyed—two of the groups packed a "Sunshine basket" for a member of Robertson Memorial who is now in a Nursing Home. Another group made activity books for children in hospital. Two of the Senior girls now teach in Sunday School and four sing in the Senior choirs.

The Explorers completed the study of Nyangas Two Villages, and in October commenced their new study Many Hands in Many Lands. A large picture map of the world was made. The Tyros are enthusiastic about their program and work hard to earn their insignia. At the conclusion of the Tyro topic, "Do I or don't I" the leader asked, "What will help each one of us to make good decisions?" and was thrilled with the reply, "If we follow Jesus," and to know they really meant it.

In January the Violet Burt Evening Auxiliary decided to discontinue when some of the members moved from the district, and those remaining joined the Robertson Memorial Auxiliary, the name of which was then changed to the "Violet Burt" in order to perpetuate the memory of Miss Violet Burt, that beloved W.M.S. worker who passed away in 1943 while still a member of the Robertson Memorial staff.

Vacation School was once again well attended, with 30 boys and 38 girls enrolled. The Junior study "We would follow Jesus" and the Primary "Jesus, the Friend" were very worthwhile. From July 31 to August 8 the W.M.S. worker directed the teen-age Girls' Party at the United Church Fresh Air Camps, Gimli, Manitoba. There, 62 teen-age girls, their leaders and 17 Junior girls had a very happy nine days. The teen-agers followed the regular C.G.I.T. Camp program; the Juniors, a modified version of the same. With specially fine leaders, Miss Houston of our Robertson as Matron, a splendid Camp staff and cooperative campers, the experience was one not to be soon forgotten. The Director felt that we had been richly blessed, in spite of considerable rainy weather.

FROM MISS ELIZABETH D. STEPHEN

Hospital Visitor,
Winnipeg, Man.

There have been many happy opportunities for service in the hospitals with "thank you" notes received later making me deeply thankful. One lady even went so far as to say to a friend that she had received the incentive to "live again" from these visits. That message made your missionary feel very humble.

Volunteers Are Visiting Too

I have visited in all the Nursing Homes with three added this year and three guest Homes. I have again appreciated the help of the volunteer workers who have visited and worked at the San., in the hospitals and some of the Nursing Homes.

One group has made a faithful monthly visit to Hospice Tache all year taking with them a retired gentleman who played the accordion and raised the morale with his folk songs and cheery music. I went in there myself and conducted short devotional services and sing songs of sacred music. At Christmas we had a lovely party with carols, reading of the Christmas story from Luke 2 and then a prayer. The visiting group provided ice-cream, home-made cookies, candy and a small bag of fruit for each patient. A Communion service was arranged for Easter.

Another group conducts sing-songs and Bible reading at the Convalescent Home. One church has three evening Auxiliaries each sponsoring the visiting in a Nursing Home. In one of these they were able to hold a Christmas service conducted by their minister. Several other groups had showers of gifts suitable for the hospital and it is wonderful to be able to supply something when I visit; sometimes life-savers or candy, tooth paste or hasty-notes. All are appreciated and I have counted it a privilege to wrap and deliver these gifts. There were also lots of notes to write for the patients, all helping to make Christmas a little less lonely for them.

One group packed dainty sandwiches, cookies and candy for patients at the San. The number of children enrolled in Sunday School by mail and air has increased. I am deeply grateful for the bundles of current "Onwards" sent me which I use in the San. and hospitals. The folders from Toronto sent at Christmas and other occasions are very welcome. The telephone wires have often been kept very busy with messages for and about patients, and your missionary has had opportunities of telling groups about the work and enlisting their interest and help.

21,971 volunteer visits to hospitals and Nursing Homes have been reported and your missionary personally made 8,402 visits herself.

FROM MISS AGNES I. SNYDER

Community Worker, Stella United Church, Winnipeg, Man.

The proverbial saying, "It is better to light one candle than to stumble in the darkness" was a constant challenge to us as we carried on with discouragements and a great deal of sickness among the staff during 1953. I seemed to spend a large amount of my time "pinch-hitting" for absent or sick members of the staff, yet in spite of all we feel some sense of accomplishment.

Entrance Fee—One Errand!

A material achievement in the summer was the complete renovation of the kitchen entirely by volunteers, except for the help of one carpenter. The Mothers' Club raised the money for the project. It is interesting that during this time, the entrance fees for teen-age table tennis tournaments held daily, were set according to the task on hand, namely, six inches of floor sanded, two sheets of plywood brought upstairs, one errand run, etc. It worked well, too. The Explorer group with money raised from the sale of Christmas cards in 1952, bought material for a pulpit drape and a runner for the Communion table, and now the girls point with pride to their share in our attempt to make our chapel look more like a real church.

In the summer months I attended two very different camps. I was privileged to be able to attend Leadership Camp at Clear Lake and to give the course for leaders of Juniors. I know that the uplift and spiritual enrichment which I received there far surpassed in value any knowledge which I was able to impart. Between this and the next camp I assisted with Vacation School, which had fair but spasmodic attendance partly due to a conflict with Junior Camp. After Vacation School I went to the Gimli Fresh Air Camp as assistant director of the C.G.I.T. party. Polio curtailed our enrolment somewhat and unsettled weather predominated but nevertheless the camp was successful.

For the first part of the year our Mission Band was so large that we found it necessary to divide the group in two; girls on Monday, boys on Friday. In the fall lack of leadership forced us to combine the children into one group again.

In the winter a good deal of time seems to be spent removing and replacing sweaters, snow suits, scarves and overshoes for the large enrollment of four and five year olds who come to the kindergarten. Miss Lough remarked that each year the children seem to wear more clothes. We realize that this is probably a sign of better times, and are thankful that 80 per cent. to 90 per cent. of the children are now adequately clothed.

What About The Young People?

One day I met a boy of 18 years whom I had not seen around the Mission for several months. His reply to my enquiry about his absence was to this effect, "Well, Miss Snyder, I came right up/through all the clubs and now there isn't anything more for me there." Of course my opinion differed from his, for I can think of a good many helpful avenues for him to pursue which include, boys' leader, Church membership classes, etc. But it is only too true that as yet neither time nor staff has been found in order that some type of Young People's group might be organized and carried on.

Our Baseball Senior Team while not always victorious this year, is still upholding the tradition of the Stellars. Their younger counterparts won the Winnipeg city-wide championship in the Midget Sunday School Basketball League for the 1952-53 season. They are now in the Juvenile League and going strong.

FROM MISS MARION R. J. THOMSON

Community Worker, Sutherland United Church, Winnipeg, Man.

In Bonds of Friendship

The last week in July found me speeding to Winnipeg to give leadership in the Sutherland Vacation School. Our Superintendent of All People's who was to have been in charge was stricken suddenly with polio. Our Vacation School proved interesting and helpful to the 30 who attended.

During September and October to help acquaint me with the district, Miss Wilson and I made a partial canvass of the area. This is a very fascinating community, where one hears other languages, learns other customs, which have become familiar and loved because of their association. In this neighborhood one finds Greek Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Roman Catholic Church. Children come from these various backgrounds to our mission, and in an endeavour to meet the needs of this cosmopolitan and industrial area, Sutherland Avenue Church has a staff of a superintendent, a Ukrainian minister (shared from Robertson) a student minister, two women workers (one W.M.S. and one Home Mission Board) and several volunteer workers.

Morning church services are in English and evening ones in Ukrainian. Once a month our evening service is a family service which is proving a happy occasion.

This year the mid-week groups and Sunday School children staged the program for our Christmas entertainment, and it was wonderful to see in many cases the whole family in attendance. Again this year the children learned the joy of giving when they brought gifts for our two special trees, which were later parcelled and sent to Norway House and Angola, where former Sutherland Avenue workers are now stationed. Twenty-five Christmas hampers were packed and distributed to needy families.

Many of the New Canadian parents send their four-year old children to our four-day kindergarten, and now our enrolment is 26.

Explorers with a membership of 25 has been an active group within the life of the mission. They sing in the choir, 50 per cent attend Sunday School here and help in the library and serve at some meetings. In December ten of our Explorers and Tyros were guests at a Cadet Air Force Christmas party. The girls enjoyed our two units on "Learning to be Explorers" and "Christmas." The group sold over $70.00 worth of Christmas cards in the interests of the Sunday School. Our Mothers' Club is growing slowly and they give leadership in both our fall and spring teas.

We at Sutherland feel the bonds of friendship that unite the peoples of all races.

FROM MISS BERNICE MOATS.

Bienfait, Saskatchewan

If there is any justification in being here it must be because of my leadership with boys and girls groups. When any of these children come into my room for games or just to talk, I am happy because we seem to be reaching an understanding which will enable us to progress more deeply into the way of vital living. On the other hand when a girl drops out of a group, life becomes bleak and one wishes for greater capacities of wisdom, understanding and winsomeness.

Energy Unlimited!

Mission Banders, Explorers, Tyros, and C.G.I.T. members are all capable of feeling sensitively for those who are suffering—especially those in Korea—and all groups have shared food or clothing with our neighbors there. There is no limit to the energy of the members of C.G.I.T. They have painted the woodwork in Bienfait Church basement, painted the W.M.S. garage, scraped old paint from the ceiling and walls of Black Diamond church room, organized a Rally for all C.G.I.T. groups on the North Portal charge at which time they re-affiliated with the W.M.S. (thanks to Estevan Auxiliary), arranged an "Africa Night" to which groups of all ages were invited, planned and carried out (with help of their mothers) successful teas, organized parties that were fun, with Trail Rangers as their guests, made a highlight of their Mother and Daughter Banquet, and lifted many to the realm of worship in at least one Christmas Vesper Service.

The World Day of Prayer with Anglican and United Church women coming together from many surrounding districts was an inspiration, as were the services of the Preaching Mission conducted by Rev. R. W. K. Elliott, which proved to be a mountain top experience for all who attended. Now only did the adults warm to his message, but there were Tyros who attended every meeting.

It Was Tops!

One Vacation School was conducted by Mrs. Story of Britannia, and the missionary in the Britannia School District early in July. Relationships were cordial. Every noon lunch was a picnic in the shade of the school! In the realm of games, crafts, and Bible Study it was tops. And worship! God was there. And parent interest! Two dads even left their machines idle in the fields to attend the closing the last afternoon. When the missionary bent to hear one little girl's "Thank you," she felt a soft arm around her neck and a kiss on her cheek. The Roche Perceé Vacation School had the added advantage of the minister's leadership. Bienfait children were so disappointed in not having a school that a car load went out with me each morning.

When the United Church Exposition was in Regina, seven teen-age girls went with me for the Saturday and Sunday sessions. Highlight was the Intermediate Rally when the speaker was Rev. Roy Neehall of Trinidad, who has made a great contribution to the Christian life of Canada.

In the realm of pure selfishness, my greatest joy this year has been in the role of guest speaker on several occasions, among them Regina Presbyterial; at Estevan Thank-offering; at a joint meeting of all the W.M.S. groups at Stoughton; and at Tyvan, on the Saturday evening for the W.M.S. and at Church service Sunday morning. Down from the north came the Lutheran folk in whose community I had taught twenty years ago. My heart was full and I was glad.

FROM MISS VERA ENTICKNAP

Missionary-at-large, St. John's—Pasqua
Area, Regina, Sask.

Two Groups Unite

There is much enthusiasm in this district over the building of the new church. It is being constructed in a more central location to accommodate the combined congregations of the former Sixth Avenue United Church and the Pasqua Hall, which are now joined under the name of St. John's United Church. We had hoped to be in the new building this winter but the construction has been delayed.

We are still meeting in two centres, but have combined such groups as the Official Board, Session and Stewards, A.O.T.S., Couples' Club, Young People's, C.G.I.T., and Junior and Senior choirs. The women's groups are all under the Women's Federation, and it is responsible for starting new groups.

Due to distance and the number of children served by each centre there are two separate Sunday Schools and two Explorer groups. My work is with the Sunday School at Pasqua Hall where each department meets at a separate time and my big job has been to find teachers for each department. Over half the teachers are new this fall. The Sunday School is self-supporting.

The Junior-Intermediate departments of both Sunday Schools joined in a Christmas concert, which was put on in Scott Collegiate. The Beginners Department had a Christmas party and the Primary department invited their parents and friends to a special Christmas service. A Special Christmas offering was taken for Korean Relief. Each department brought white gifts for Regina Welfare Work.

A new Junior Young People's group was started this year, having Grades 9 and 10 as the age range and the Sunday School Class as the basis for membership. We are looking for leaders for this group which is growing each week. The Senior Young People's group meets Sunday, night after church and is an enthusiastic and interesting group. Our choir leader has organized a Junior choir which we hope will be able to assist in the evening Church service occasionally. We are very fortunate to have so much talent and potential leadership in this district. When the new building is completed our work should grow steadily, creating for us a challenge and enlarged responsibility.

FROM MISS OLIVE C. BRAND

United Churches, Saskatoon, Sask.

More Church Services

There has been in these two churches quite a clear reflection both of the prosperous times in which we live and of the heightened interest in spiritual things evident in our society to-day. Also the necessary organization and planning for the building of a new Bethel church, long talked of, have really begun in earnest; and the numerous new people coming into our district are taking note of it, with many showing an active interest in our church.

In a venture of faith last fall, we decided to provide two preaching services each Sunday, since only an evening service was not sufficient to serve the many young couples with small children moving into the new housing area near us. We are so grateful now to see a fine morning congregation building up of these young couples we were not formerly reaching. Rev. Mr. Thompson has the assistance of Mr. Ken Hick, a 2nd year theological student, who had already been helping in the Sunday School.

Into the New Church

It has been a red letter year for the folk of Balmoral United Church, for they left the community hall in which they had been meeting for seven or eight months and opened their new church on March 15th. That was a great day when at 11 a.m. a very large congregation met for the opening and dedication of the church, conducted by Dr. L. B. Campbell, then both, Chairman of the Presbytery and Supervising Pastor of Balmoral. The Knox Young Singers provided beautiful music, and Dr. R. D. Tannahill of St. Andrews College and Presbytery Convener of Home Missions preached the sermon on the timely subject, "Beams and Burdens." In the evening the student minister, Mr. Bob Bater, conducted the service in which I also took part and Rev. Marjorie Stedman, who had been their first student minister in 1951-1952, preached the sermon. Each sermon was inspiring and challenging.

Vacation Schools were held in each centre, but instead of having a closing Parents Night during the week, we had the girls and boys take part in the following Sunday morning service, with the Vacation School Theme enlarged upon by the minister, and the children's handwork on display for the parents to see after the service. In both churches we had an unusually large attendance that morning and we felt these Sunday services were the best possible culmination of our efforts.

Believing that our attention as Christians should be constantly directed to the needs of others we have had a Special Offering Box on the worship centre each Sunday into which those who wished might drop their money. At four times during the year we have sent away its contents; to the United Church Flood Relief Fund, to the Overseas Relief Fund, to Unicef, to Dr. Florence Murray for her Hospital work in Korea.

My weekly visits to the United Church patients in the Sanatorium continue. One day as I called on a patient she handed me an old copy of Onward which I had left with her a day or so before her operation, and she pointed out a little poem printed on an inside page, "Prayer before an operation", which she said had helped her so much. It was an old copy of the paper and as I gave it to her I wondered how it had got into my bundle of recent ones. I think it was indeed providential, as she intimated. "It seemed to have been written just for me," she said.

FROM MISS FERNE E. GRAHAM

Yorkton Presbytery, Sask.

The Church's Work is Growing

The work in this area is still comparatively new—new enough to be very challenging—but also old enough so that I can look back with humility and gratitude. The winter months were filled with the usual year-end activities as well as the beginnings of a new year in group work. Extras included speaking at the World Day of Prayer service in Yorkton, Conference Branch in Regina; Presbyterial in Moose Jaw, as well as helping Calder C.G.I.T. with its first concert.

Spring brought muddy roads and more activity. It was interesting to meet with mothers and see the beginning of a kindergarten Sunday School held in the basement of a home in the new housing area here. Spring also brought many opportunities to speak at C.G.I.T. gatherings, missionary meetings and to plan for summer activity. The summer was made much more fruitful by the presence of the student missionary, Mrs. Essie Johnson. Early visiting was done together, and then our responsibility was divided. Each of us was responsible for certain Sunday work and visiting; each had two Vacation Schools and each attended one girls' camp.

In spite of rainy weather, causing transportation difficulties and postponed picnics, early summer had for me two important occasions. The first was on Pentecost Sunday when Hungarian Canadians met at Yorkton for a communion service. Dr. Pokoli, Hungarian minister from Winnipeg, and Rev. Mr. Morland, Chairman of Presbytery, led in worship, and I was given an opportunity to meet with the children for Sunday School as well as tell the children's story to the congregation. Another highlight was C.G.I.T. graduation in Yorkton, and although none of the Calder group were graduating they made it their closing activity, following a "pot-luck" supper at which they entertained the associate field worker secretary, Miss Thelma Dixon.

When the student left, services were arranged to give five rural churches a service every other Sunday. Autumn months brought home visitation, speaking at two Thank-offering meetings, a Hallowe'en party as our Otthon "Family Night", C.G.I.T. Rally and leaders' conference, fall Presbytery, Calder Women's Church-Club Bazaar and Sunday School teachers' meetings to plan our Christmas activity.

December always seems to be a suitable climax to a year—and this December was no exception. Five White Gift services were held, and parcels packed for Korea, India and Japan. "Family Nights" at Otthon and Holmock gave the children an opportunity to present a short program, the missionary an opportunity to show Christmas filmstrips, and everyone an opportunity to sing all the Christmas carols. At Holmock the evening had an international flavor when the older folk sang some hymns and had a prayer in the Hungarian language; a couple from Holland sang a Dutch carol, and some of the children sang Ukrainian carols they had learned at school. Extra activity at Calder included the Christmas Vesper service and a community carol sing where filmstrips were shown.

FROM MISS VIOLET STEWART

Community Worker, Trinity Institutional
Church, Calgary, Alberta

Young People Everywhere

Trinity Institutional Church has continued to grow both in membership and in givings during this past year. We are very sure that it is growing also in usefulness to the community. It is a busy place and it is difficult to say which Department is the busiest, for they are all working hard. Trinity is both institutional and congregational, for its membership is growing, as is the club work, etc., for boys and girls. The Church Board and the members of the W.A. and Young Women's Guild have done wonders this year in the restoration of the fabric of the church, rehabilitating a very old and broken down building, until now its rooms are beginning to smile back at us as we enter them. Throughout the now warm and comfortable building, interest and love are apparent.

The place teems with young people—Taxis, Rangers, Scouts, Cubs, Explorers, C.G.I.T. Teen Group, etc., Chinese Young People's Gym Group, neighborhood-Community Girls Basket Ball, and it is a cheery place in the evenings when all these groups are carrying on their various activities. Our great need is for leaders for all these younger groups, and there is a constant change of leaders going on, as some move away and the hunt begins for others to take their places.

Trinity serves a large community and one of its suburban districts is Albert Park, on a high section of land outside Calgary to the East, with a glorious sweeping view of the whole country, clear to the foothills and in the distance the Rocky Mountains. We have members and adherents living in that district in great numbers. I enjoyed visiting the folk there very much and we decided with their help to organize a Trinity Albert Park Woman's Association. We have reason to be proud of that group of 13 regular members, who meet every two weeks and who have been so active in meeting practical needs and are now sponsoring a Sunday School for their children. There is great need of a United Church in that area and we hope this Woman's Association and Sunday School will be the beginning of such a venture. They are now working toward that end.

As well as the organization of the Albert Park W.A., we have started a new afternoon group which is now meeting every week. They are a branch of the Young Women's Guild of this church and their work is done in support of the Guild and its projects. We hope that more and more of these district and afternoon groups will be organized, for they do accomplish a lot of good work.

Our Vacation School the last two weeks in July was again a huge success. The children made the building ring with their choruses, hymns and play, as well as hum with work and worship. It is a cooperative enterprise each year with 100 children enrolled and an average attendance of 80. Both Heath Baptist and St. Andrew's Presbyterian cooperated extremely well in helping with staff, direction, etc. I acted as Superintendent this year and headed up the Intermediate Department as well. We had a bang-up closing night with the Lower Hall crowded to capacity with parents. The children performed, we had pictures, prize-giving, then coffee and lots of good things to eat. The children went home joyously clutching their prized hand work trophies, and there was a satisfied sigh on the part of the teachers who did such good work.

The C.G.I.T. in spite of its trials and troubles in leadership, had many good projects this past year. The Vesper service was very lovely and the girls did extremely well. One cannot read the prayers and join in such corporate worship without being moved and influenced, and I know many of the girls were. They conducted the Fireside later and it was delightful, with many of the congregation attending.

FROM MISS ETHEL HALPENNY

Hospital Visitor,
Calgary, Alta."When They Need Us"

To be in the right place at the right time is a great help in one's work. When enquiring at the desk for a certain patient one afternoon, the nurse said, "That patient has been asking for you." When I entered her room I recalled having visited her a few years ago and she had even remembered my name. She asked me if I would telephone to her sister, and it only took a few moments to phone her sister long distance and relieve her mind, for she had been anxiously waiting for word of her sister's condition. It did mean so much to both of them. One day as I passed the bed of one whom I had often visited, she reached out and took my hand, and told me she was leaving the hospital soon and because of her condition she had to make a change in her living arrangements. She was afraid she could not do it, so I sat down and we talked it all over. It seemed a great adjustment to make and she only needed the assurance from some one else to give her confidence that she could do it. We visit many sick people every week and I like to think we come to them when they need us most. There are many opportunities for helping, such as writing letters, phoning for information or to friends, shopping or reading aloud to some one. One forgets how helpless we become when we are ill. It is the little thoughtful things that often bring joy—a rosebud for a rose bowl can awaken an interest in a sick person as she watches it unfold its petals; it may keep her from becoming despondent.

This leads to the spiritual aid, which is our chief aim as we go in and out among those who are ill. "The Upper Room" is a great help and many copies are distributed for their use from day to day, in hospitals and the Sanatorium. They would miss them if I forgot to bring them.

One gets better acquainted with our patients in the Sanatorium. I always watch for the names of those who have been recently admitted and visit them first. It does give them a lift to know that the Church is interested. Recently when visiting one of the patients, she expressed a wish to be baptized and unite with the Church. The Chaplain made arrangements for the service and it was held in the sitting room one Sunday evening before service. This gave us great joy. Our Church is responsible for a service once a month and a Communion service is held at certain times during the year, conducted by our Chaplain, Rev. Erskine Pow. The patients look forward to these services and we appreciate the nurses' help in arranging the room and grouping the patients.

Some of the Auxiliaries have sent me jars of jams and jellies to distribute when calling and these home-made delicacies are much appreciated. An Evening Auxiliary visited at the Sanatorium throughout the year and sent gifts at Christmas to a number of the patients. A number of women from the various Auxiliaries have been faithful visitors in our Nursing Homes, Hospitals and Homes for the Aged, and these visits are appreciated.

FROM MISS ELEANOR E. COSENS
AND MRS. HELEN SIMPSON

Community Workers, Drumbeller
Valley, Newcastle, Alta.

Until April, 1953, when Catherine McKeen left for Toronto to become Secretary for Younger Groups for the W.M.S., she and Mrs. Simpson travelled up and down the Valley, leading groups in Nacmine, Midlandvale, Newcastle, East Coulee and Wayne, conducting Church services in Newcastle and Wayne and carrying on the general work of the Mission.

In May came the new worker, Miss Eleanor Cosens, who was commissioned in June by the Alberta Conference as a missionary of The United Church, and she returned to Newcastle with a heavy feeling of responsibility on her heart.

The Boys Take Hold

Their summer plans were interrupted and hindered by the polio epidemic, but the workers were still able to make pastoral and hospital visits, so the time of the ban was not altogether fruitless. The three Vacation Schools that were held were very well attended. To the Senior Vacation School in Newcastle came an unexpectedly large group of older teen-age boys (15-18) who came to learn oil painting, which was being taught during the craft hour. There were too many for one group, so some of them decided to paint the church and house. They worked well and came for several days after the school was over.

In September the whole work of the mission was begun again. Mrs. Simpson took over the religious education classes and Eleanor the preaching. Wayne, East Coulee, and Nacmine groups, Newcastle kindergarten and Mission Band went under the leadership of Mrs. Simpson, while Eleanor took over the Midlandvale groups and the rest of the Newcastle groups, adding art classes for different age groups. Within a week or two the 12-15-year-old lads had come back to the art classes and were organized into a group. Since there was only one evening available then, the older boys, up to the 18 year olds, had to meet with them. They began clearing a nearby field of grass to make a hockey rink, and when cold weather came, it was all ready. Prayers for men leaders for these boys were answered. Four men of the community came to help, one to teach the Sunday School class, and to coach the hockey team, one to teach the lads boxing, and two to help with the group on meeting nights. Soon they were meeting two nights a week, but these were discontinued in December, so that the rink would be used to the full. The group will meet again after the hockey season, and we hope to have the 12-15 lads in a separate group. In Newcastle there are two grand groups of C.G.I.T.'s with a fine group spirit and enthusiasm for anything the leader suggests. Their Church attendance is still not good, but a junior choir has been organized, so we hope that will bring up the attendance. At Christmas time they prepared hampers and went carolling at the Drumheller hospital. A course on photography, how to develop films and make contact prints was our fall project for the juniors. The Bible Study course for the seniors was entered into with enthusiasm and some thought-provoking theological problems were discussed. The Church services have been well attended. Rev. C. W. Zurbrigg administered the Christmas Communion and on Mother's Day he baptized six children.

Projects for Others

Midlandvale is still a discouraging place to work because there is virtually no adult interest in the children or the church. The Sunday School is small but those who do come are faithful, and the children all like to stay for church. The boys' group ranging in age from 8 to 15 has kept together for sport, but with no lay help in mid-week work, very little can be done. However the boys won the baseball championship last July and have a good hockey team seeking that championship too. There is a definite need for some Midlandvale people to supply lay help for this group of boys else we will lose them. The Midlandvale groups have sent money for the Korea Barley Fund and have prepared boxes of clothing for Korea and for an Indian Reserve.

In Wayne the work has gone well. Lay help of two ladies has made it possible to hold a regular kindergarten of 22 children three times a week. Mrs. Simpson takes the Friday session on her day in Wayne and the other ladies carry on for the other two days. The community has contributed toys and provided lunch for each session, so that the offering the children bring is put toward some project in which they are interested. There is an enthusiastic Mission Band, and they, together with other groups, have donated money for Korea, while the C.G.I.T. groups canvassed the community for used clothing for Korea which they repaired and packed.

East Coulee has a happy report to give. Two lay workers have taken over the Senior C.G.I.T. and the Explorer Group of 34 enthusiastic girls, leaving the worker free to lead the junior C.G.I.T.'s and the Tyros and Trail Rangers. They all have contributed to Korean Barley Fund and clothing for Korean Relief.

Nacmine has an enthusiastic Explorer group, an active C.G.I.T. and a Boys' Group, which might become Tyros. The Trail Rangers are waiting for a lay leader.

In all communities there were many sick and pastoral calls made into homes where all too few of the parents show any interest in the church. There are, of course, those bright lights in the community that are a real delight for the missionary's heart. A few lay people are becoming interested in helping and are willing to take over when needed, but in such a large community there should be more lay help. All groups in all sections of the community were affiliated with the W.M.S. and have shown a sincere interest in supporting their church.

The Church in New and Expanding Areas

Edmonton has 25 United Church congregations, three of which are very young congregations. Much of my work has centred in these churches, working along with and helping the student minister in charge, in two completely new areas, and in areas that are expanding and into which established churches are moving. In situations where new churches have to be built or old established ones must re-build in a different area, we are able to go in with our suggestion, with some definite information regarding property, and with help in surveying the unreached area beside the old well established district. Three congregations have faced these problems in the past year, and two of them have purchased a new site, more centrally located to fill a definite need, and with adequate space for facilities for youth work, and parking space which is rapidly becoming a problem in our city.

Before definite plans can be made for a move or for new work in a given area, a survey is necessary. When working with an established congregation I have organized its members to do much of its own work. Groups within the church, the W.A., A.O.T.S., Y.P.U., Session and others have participated and in many ways have carried through a good piece of work.

In the seven districts where I was asked to work, I made 3,224 calls for survey purposes alone, and uncounted numbers of other visits. One example of a new area is in the district of North Glenora in the west end of Edmonton. At the beginning of the year only 50 families had braved the mud, the lack of utilities etc., but by the end of the year the population had grown, and it is now 1,000. It is this area that has taken much of my time. I have made 908 calls in the area for survey purposes alone. After a time I was fortunate to find a woman who wished to help in this work and who has been able to call on families as they move into the district. Not only does this give us information we desire, but we, in the name of the Church, welcome these people into the district, and often it serves as a welcome to Edmonton and to Canada as well. When the work developed and the percentage of United Church families remained at about 38%, the Edmonton Presbytery recognized a fertile field and gave me the go-ahead signal. During the summer I was able to solicit Sunday School teachers and to hold, with them, several training periods and workshops, for they were teaching for the first time and desired the teacher training. Within a month our Sunday School was well over the 200 mark, and still growing. To give backing to the Sunday School we organized a Christian Education Committee of eight members, including our three Sunday School superintendents. This Committee took an active part in finding new teachers as the school continued to grow, and took over much of the responsibility for the Christmas concert and Tree.

Church services were started December 20th with a family Christmas service. The plans are to ask ministers and students to help this congregation by supplying morning service. The mid-week work is still in its formative stage. C.G.L.T. is quite well organized and plans laid for Explorers, Tyro and Trail Rangers. My helper and I divided the district for the organizing of W.A. groups, and have already three at work. The lay people in all these districts have been wonderful and in most cases have worked right along with me. In this part of the life of the new church, I see real strength in those who will be wonderful co-workers with a minister when they are able to call one. The harvest is ripe, but there are so few workers and so little time for those who are working.

More Christian Education for the Children

My summer has been a very busy one; one week to plan Vacation Schools, then six Vacation Schools, each running five days a week, with Saturday to prepare for the next one, and a service on Sunday at one of the outside points. In spite of the lack of time to plan the schools as carefully as is necessary, I felt they were all worthwhile. Only one district had been having them regularly, and in only one other district had any of the children ever been to a Vacation School before. Local help was secured for all but one of the schools, from teen-agers and mothers. As well as proving educational both for the children and the helpers, I feel that interest was increased towards the carrying on of the regular Sunday School.

In September I visited ten of the country schools in the Grande Prairie district, and have been visiting six of them as regularly as roads permitted to carry on a religious education program. I have also been visiting in the homes of the children whom I meet in the schools. I encourage them to go to their own church and Sunday School and I enroll them in the Sunday School by mail if they are not already enrolled with the Anglicans, which many of them are. The Anglican Van girls cover this territory pretty well in the summer time, but their work is limited to a single visit, with an occasional Vacation School, and they do not cover the same territory every summer. So there is need for the kind of work that I am doing here this winter.

When I visit I leave copies of the Upper Room and Onward as well as encouraging the parents to buy Bible story books, samples of which I carry to show them and take their orders if they are interested. I have also tried to attend some of the community gatherings which gives me an opportunity to meet some of the parents and others in the district whom I might not meet otherwise.

As well as taking the religious education with the children I stay after school at some of the schools and we make plaster of paris models, painting and shellacking them. I also want to start other handicrafts with them.

Last summer I was taking services at Grovedale but since September Mr. Pritchard has been going too; he takes the service and I take the Sunday School. Attendance has been fairly good. I did quite a bit of visiting there in the spring and summer. There is a most enterprising and capable school teacher at the Bridgecreek School, who is a United Church member and who has started a Sunday School in her school which is held on Sunday mornings. Then in the afternoon she comes down the three miles to our school, brings some of her girls with her and plays the piano for us. She has started a C.G.I.T. group which held a special Christmas service.

On the alternate Sunday Mr. Pritchard and I go out to Debolt, a student field, where he takes the service and I help two of the local women with the Sunday School. I have visited here also to encourage interest in the Sunday School, as this is the first winter they have been able to carry it on after the student left.

Mr. Pritchard goes up to Eaglesham once a month, for a service, and I have been going up for a few days each month to visit. A lot of the children have been enrolled in the Sunday School by mail. I feel there is great need to work closely with the people who are in isolated country districts, and so often this must be neglected by the regular ministers who have almost more than they can handle in their larger points.

FROM MISS PEARL RICE

Church Extension Worker,
Prince Albert, Sask.

Two Church Schools

My work in Prince Albert, under the Woman's Missionary Society, commenced September 15th, 1953. Two Sunday Schools had been established earlier by the summer worker in two residential areas, the East Hill and the Air Port.

Our East Hill Sunday School which I at first supervised, has now a capable superintendent, a Secretary-Treasurer, seven teachers and three helping teachers, with an average attendance of 60, representing 56 families. At present we meet in the Community Club House. Special services were conducted at Thanksgiving and also on the Sunday following Christmas, which was a White Gift service. We were not able to accommodate the parents at these gatherings, but found room to entertain them at our Christmas concert. We hope to be meeting in the new Club House very soon. I have been visiting on the East Hill two and three times a week, and the visits are appreciated. Many parents have expressed their gratitude for the Sunday School in their own area.

I have found a very fine spirit of cooperation among our volunteer workers and the parents at East Hill, as also among our supporters of Wesley United Church. One of the Wesley Sunday Schools made us a gift of our first order of supplies, which has helped to the extent that we can say that the East Hill Sunday School is now self-supporting.

The Air Port is situated five miles north-east of Prince Albert. The housing project here consists of three apartment buildings converted from Military Barracks. Before I was officially engaged in the work here I helped my predecessor organize and conduct a Vacation School which developed into the present Sunday School. Since there are relatively few United Church families at the Air Port, all denominations are invited to attend, hence we have Anglican and Lutheran people serving on our staff, which consists of a Superintendent, Secretary-Treasurer, five teachers, and three helping teachers, with an average attendance of 35. We meet at present in the Government Forestry School, where we have two rooms at our disposal.

Besides the Sunday School supervision, I have done survey work in East Hill, on the north side of the river and in North Prince Albert. From time to time I have visited newcomers in the congregation, although this work is largely done by the assistant minister.

Missionary-at-large,
Lethbridge, Alta.

"As Important as Any"

With a volunteer staff of 30, we are now teaching the Bible to over 960 pupils weekly. We are thankful that the number of disinterested pupils has been decreasing rapidly. We feel this has come about largely through prayer. We teachers have always discussed our problems and prayed at home for the various classes, but at the beginning of this past year we began having prayer in the car before going into the schools. We have proved this to be of tremendous help.

The principals in whose schools we teach have been most cooperative and understanding, and it is a pleasure to work with them. It is fortunate for us that they see the value of Bible study and want it for their pupils. One day when I was apologizing for being a little late in dismissing my class, he replied, "That's all right. I consider your period as important as any we have in the day."

Again I would pay tribute to my volunteer staff. We are pleased to have teachers from the schools, students from the Mennonite Bible Training School, Sunday School teachers, ministers, business men, business girls, housewives, and a farmer. All are eager to help and are doing a splendid piece of work. I will always feel indebted to the many teachers who carried on so valiantly during my illness. They spared neither time nor effort to keep all the classes going.

Vacation School was very popular in the summer, meeting in the new Sunnyside School. Bible Drill was an important part of each day's program. The class became quite proficient at this and on the closing night really excelled in speed. The parents were keenly interested in the drill. I was particularly pleased with the assistance given by the W.M.S. members, several of whom took turns playing the piano at the Sunnyside School, while at Diamond City the teachers were W.M.S. women. One took her four grandchildren to the school and taught the class of little tots, besides leading the singing. The other teacher was the pianist.

The Mission Band can report a successful year with the attendance surpassing the hundred mark. The two groups were greatly interested in their African study. Perhaps the highlight in meetings was the day a missionary from Africa spoke to the Band and showed curios. The climax came when she produced a leopard skin and told how a chief's son had walked 35 miles to give it to her.

Calling has claimed most of my time this past year. A number of calls were made on prospective Bible teachers, others in the interests of Vacation School. Among the Japanese there were mothers with new babies to be visited. There were other former Niseiettes, most of whom are married and we must keep in touch with them. One of these, still single, is pretty well-confined to the house with an invalid mother, a baby niece, and dressmaking. It is an inspiration to visit that home where mother and daughter are so cheerful. Trips were made further afield too—to Raymond, Taber, and the Summit Lime Works, where calls were made among the Japanese. At Summit Lime Works a meeting was held in a Japanese home, where Miss Tweedie and a Christian layman from Lethbridge gave messages in Japanese. These calls were very much appreciated.

FROM MISS E. MAE LAYCOCK

Hospital Visitor,
Edmonton, Alta.

This fall has seen polio in epidemic proportions in this Province. Until Calgary was ready, late in the season, to accommodate the polio patients from the south of the Province, all were brought here for care. Many married nurses who had not been active, came forward to relieve in the hospitals, and some doctors gave up their regular practice to give full time to the needs of serious cases in the iron lungs.

I found it necessary to re-organize some of the Volunteer Visitors programs, taking them off the floors where polio patients were located and doing this part myself. Our Chaplain at the Aberhart and Camsell T.B. Hospitals has had a serious illness and was unable to visit these patients till just before Christmas, so I have tried to visit there oftener. Thus most of my time has been spent with T.B. and polio patients since summer vacation.

"I Will Tell About This"

The United Church women of the Edmonton Presbyterial again contributed toward a fund to supply The Upper Room to all United Church T.B. and polio patients in Edmonton hospitals, as our Christmas gift to them. This is one way our Church women can convey their interest and concern for them. When sending their contribution many added this note, "We feel this is worthwhile work and are so glad to have a share in it." Several have told me they have gained new members for their Auxiliary from women who have been visited while patients in the hospital. Out of town patients often have said to me, "I didn't know our Church did this for us. I will certainly tell about this when I go home."

Those who come from distant points are told about our Sunday School by Air and Mail, and are pleased to know their children can get Christian teaching by mail. One mother told me she had very much enjoyed the lessons which she studied with her daughter. Then when they moved to a town they at once contacted their church and enrolled in the Sunday School.

We were so grateful to Dr. Templeton who while in Edmonton took time to visit the Aberhart Sanatorium and his talk on "Prayer" will long be remembered by the patients and staff who gathered to hear him. The Public Address system to each room made it possible for every person to hear. The City ministers continue to give monthly Church Services with the assistance of their choirs. Other denominations take their turns, which gives them weekly Services. For two years the Eastwood Ladies' Choir has gone at Christmas and sung Christmas carols on every floor.

While in Vancouver on vacation I was able to take a course in "Pastoral Counselling" led by Dr. David Roberts of Union Seminary. I found this very helpful in my hospital visiting.

To all those who have assisted by gifts, and by generous giving of time and strength in voluntary visiting, as well as to the hospital staff for cooperation, we express our sincere thanks. We have all found our lives enriched by the stimulating and often enduring friendships we have made in these hospital contacts.

FROM MISS HENRIETTA CAMPBELL

Presbytery, Manning, Alta.

Sunday after Sunday the faithful few attend the services, and time after time, I realize that there could be no service if these few were not in their places, yet these are the ones who keep the Church open for the many others who claim the ministry of the Church for weddings, funerals and baptisms. I suppose one should be grateful that one can minister to others in this way and hope that a baptism or funeral service may be the means of creating a bit of thirst for the things of the Spirit.

Youth and W.A. at Work

The C.G.I.T. continues to do well under the leadership of Misses Lee and Saunders, our two W.M.S. nurses. Through their interest girls have attended the Presbytery C.G.I.T. Camp at Lake Saskatoon, two attended Camp Council at Kasota Beach and the same two girls went to the Alberta Senior C.G.I.T. Conference at Olds over Thanksgiving week-end. It is most gratifying to see these girls having the opportunity of training and of greater vision of the Church's work and purpose. Miss Saunders also finds time to look after an active group of Tyros during the week as well as teach them on Sunday. Four of these Tyros attended the Junior Boys' Camp at Lake Saskatoon. Two young married women of the congregation have relieved Miss Lee in looking after the Explorer group which meets in the Nurses' Residence. The W.A. of some thirty women meet once a month in different homes, their chief interest being to raise money to furnish the basement and kitchen of the church so that we might be able to use them for activities. The Sunday School has kept up a good attendance, and I am supported in this work by a good group of faithful teachers.

The Christmas season was marked by the C.C.I.T. Vesper service, a Sunday School program on Christmas Sunday when the white gift given by each class was a sum of money to be sent overseas for relief, and a family Christmas Party during the week.

In June the Board has arranged for a Church Family Picnic with supper and races to be followed by the showing of the film, The King's Man. It was too cold for a picnic supper, so we had a pot luck supper in the church, followed by the races outside. The film did not arrive but we had a good sing-song, and everyone voted it a good time and hoped we would have more of the same kind of gathering.

Religious Instruction in the Public and High Schools in Manning has been continued, also at Notikewin. Most of those reached in the classes at Notikewin are children not attending any Sunday School. They are a keen group and follow the study from week to week with as much interest as they would follow a continued story.

The Sunday work at Deadwood was curtailed last winter as we could only use the school every third Sunday, and had no place for Sunday School. This fall we have received permission to use the school every Sunday for service but we still have no place for Sunday School. The W.A. has been putting forth every effort to make money for a church building fund, and a canvass for funds was made this fall. Plans for the church will be presented to Presbytery this winter and what a happy day it will be when we have a place of our own for worship.

The highlight of the year was when Presbytery met here. It was a time of rich fellowship, made rich by the wonderful spirit of the men of the Peace River Presbytery and by the presence of Professor Toombs of St. Stephen's College, who gave a series of lectures on Jeremiah. Another highlight was the visit of Rev. Mr. Pritchard of Grand Prairie and Rev. Mr. Gates of Beaverlodge, when they spent a Sunday with us conducting services and on Monday holding a congregational meeting. This fall too we were greatly privileged to have the Moderator and Mrs. Scott for an informal gathering one afternoon. This was the first time a Moderator had ever visited this far north in Alberta:

FROM MISS GRACE E. KING

Smoky Lake, Alta.

I still get a great deal of pleasure out of my work in the rural schools. One is visited during the noon hour each day of the week and there is always a hearty welcome and eager listeners waiting. They do not seem to resent the fact that they are being robbed of their noon hour. One of the big events each period is when the Sunday School papers are handed out. They are eagerly accepted and I have reason to believe as eagerly read not only by the children themselves but by the families at home as well.

The kindergarten functioned during the fall and up until Christmas, with a record enrolment of 36 and an average attendance of 25. Our Christmas party was a great success with Santa in attendance to distribute gifts and treats.

Sunday School at Smoky Lake is now under the superintendency of Dr. Thomas which leaves me free to have Sunday School at Warspite before the Church service on Sunday mornings. This year I have undertaken a Sunday School at Waskateneau where there was great need but no leadership. Finally things have worked out well and we have a good attendance with teachers for all the classes.

The Young People Gave Leadership

Our Young People's Society was able to send two delegates to the Rally in Calgary on the Thanksgiving week end. Then we staged a Rally of our own here early in December with an extension group coming from Edmonton on the Saturday evening to join with us in a hayride then back to the church at Warspite for lunch and vespers. Then on Sunday morning we had a Church service at Smoky Lake with our group giving the leadership in the worship and one of the Edmonton group giving the address. Dinner in the church was provided by the Smoky Lake ladies and in the afternoon we had a workshop on Young People's work. The main event in our Y.P. program last spring was a week end work camp on our camp site at Elk Island. There was a special speaker and discussion leader from Edmonton. Some of our Young People were leaders at our Junior Boys' Camp during the summer and answered a real need in a most effective way.

This fall I started a new C.G.I.T. group in a rural area where I had commenced classes in the school last year. There is a fine group of girls who had never heard of C.G.I.T., now keenly interested. After a few preliminary meetings we did a handcraft project and then prepared the vesper service to be used in conjunction with the Christmas school concert. The teacher is most cooperative and helpful. We helped out a bit with the concert and then used the vesper service as the climax to the evening. It was all very effective and I felt our group had made a good beginning.

There have been several changes in personnel at the George McDougall Hospital this past year. One of the members of our church left his position as accountant at the bank to become business manager of the hospital. Then in May Dr. Cumming arrived to take up work here. Dr. Cumming had spent one term in China and one in Pakistan as a medical missionary under the Church of Scotland. His coming has meant lifting a great burden from the shoulders of Dr. Thomas, who has been working night and day. While waiting to get into the doctor's residence at the hospital, Dr. Cumming and his family stayed here at the Mission House. There never was a dull moment in the Mission this summer with four growing children to keep us company.

FROM MISS ILA E. NEWTON

Community Worker,
Vilna, Alta.

Christian Education in a Growing Community

Vilna, about 100 miles north-east of Edmonton, is like many others, a growing community and a very busy place. Some who have been faithful at Church service have moved away during the year; but our average attendance has been about the same and our finances better. On Whitsunday Dr. Thomas Hart, superintendent of Home Missions, was our guest minister. That day three from Bellis and one from Vilna joined the Church and two children were baptized. During the year I have baptized seven in Vilna and twelve at Goodfish Lake, and I have also conducted Communion services at both places. The summer of 1954 will have two specials—the 25th anniversary of Vilna Church, and the centennial of Goodfish Lake.

Every Wednesday morning except in zero weather, a grand little group of bright-eyed active children come to the church club room for kindergarten. There are 26 on the roll this year and what a time we have with our games, stories and singing. Each year in June we have a party when our mothers come and baby brothers and sisters too.

Both our Explorers with 15 girls and our C.G.I.T. with 13 members are larger than last year. The Explorers enjoy all parts of their program, but especially do they like to make things—a tabernacle for Bible study, shell-work for themselves, etc. Just before Christmas we went to the hospital in a body to deliver our gifts of eight book rests which we had made for the patients. In the fall we had a party for the Cubs and their leader, and later they invited us to theirs. This was good in that we shared songs, calls, games, etc. It has created a better understanding of what is being done for the young people not only among the girls and boys themselves, but among the parents.

The C.C.I.T. girls lead a very busy life, with their homework, curling, baby sitting, etc. One special event we had was our first tea when we made some money for the Crippled Children's Fund. At Christmas we went carolling to the hospital and ten homes, and after this we affiliated with the W.M.S. and voted the money we had had given to us for carolling, to Missions.

I have Christian Education classes in six rural schools, serving some 150 children and necessitating drives of from eight to 20 miles a round trip. If I had the time and energy I could have four or five more; I also could have two more Sunday Schools and two more kindergartens; but one must draw the line somewhere.

Missionary Interest

When Miss Mildred Cates of India visited Vilna for a couple of days she won the hearts of the pupils in four of the rural classes. I don't think any of them had ever heard about India or any other country, from what one little girl called "a real live missionary."

One of the ministers of our Presbytery brought the film, "A King's Man" and it was shown in the High School to about 100 young people. It was wonderful.

I feel more happy about the Pine Knoll W.M.S. group than since I came to Vilna. We have had 18 or 20 at some of our meetings; sometimes a few arrive from Smoky Lake, Bellis, and Hamelin. Sometimes I have gone over 70 miles to pick up passengers and see them home again. And what a "lift" it has given to some who have no other way to come and who do not get places except at rare times.

Again we had our Presbytery visitation which rotates through the area. They were in Vilna for an evening service and at Goodfish in the afternoon when more than 100 Indian people gathered in the church. One of the ministers preached in Cree. The nurse on the Reserve invited us all to have tea with the Chief and the Councillors.

FROM MISS JESSIE OLIVER

Community Worker, First United

"We Wouldn't Have Missed It!"

Work here has been greatly assisted by the completion of a new addition to our building and which is known as First United Church Social Centre. I wish you could have seen the faces of the children the first Sunday that classes were held in the new building, it was a joy to us who worked with them. The teachers found it a pleasure too, and have been able to do a better job because unhampered by the confusion caused by six or eight classes all meeting in one room.

The children's groups are growing, not just in numbers but also spiritually. The C.G.I.T. earned a Chevron this year. It is a pleasure to say "earned" because they did work hard for it and I believe they worked not just for the sake of the Chevron, but "for the joy of working."

During the summer a Vacation School was held and while the attendance was small, still those who came were the ones who needed most such an experience. Camping as usual was a good experience, and the number attending increased. Also we experimented with a Senior Citizens' Camp. Everything worked to make it a success and the staff who worked with the campers have said many times since, "We wouldn't have missed it for anything." We are looking forward to having the Senior Citizens' Camp as an annual event.

During 1953 a Family Night for the people of the community was begun. This supplied a need for something to which the family could all come together. While still in its infant stage it is developing and producing results in the way of increased and more regular Sunday School attendance.

A report of work at First Church would not be complete without telling of our Christmas Cheer work. Here are some approximate figures of what we have done:

- More than 100 families received gift certificates enabling them to purchase groceries and provisions.
- 78 families received gift boxes of toys and personal articles.
- 300 single men were given a turkey dinner at a local restaurant.

- 200 men were given parcels containing socks, ties and a treat.
- 100 single persons and pensioners received gift certificates.
- 40 shut-in and sick folk were remembered with a small gift.
- 10 Old Age pensioners were visited by Young People's groups from city churches.
- 21 generous hampers provided by other groups were distributed by First Church.

Christmas at First Church did not just mean the giving of help to people. It also meant a growth of the fellowship to the people who come here. The Friday before Christmas a program was given by the Sunday School when each class was responsible for one part. The interest and gratitude shown by the parents made all effort very worthwhile.

All Groups Working

The Church services here are the responsibility of the Home Mission Board, but I supervise the choir and the organist and I feel so much a part of the whole that when there are problems I try to help out. During the summer I led the children at Fireom Camp for ten days and then the student and I held a successful Vacation School taking for the basis of our study, "Jesus, His Life and Teaching."

Our organizations have carried on as usual, with the Ladies Friendship Club holding its most successful tea in the spring. They quilted and also put on a Christmas play. They are a fine group and more and more are from the congregation, but of course we are always glad to have others with us—in fact, one of the leading parts in the play was taken by a fine Jewish lady.

The Young People's started up again with beach parties during the summer and continued with a Bible Study group led by the student minister. The highlights of the C.G.I.T. were their Mother and Daughter Banquet and the Christmas concert. We borrowed tables and for the first time had a real sit-down banquet with toasts and a speaker.

The Explorers and Primary Club (Mission Band) are fun to lead and are so peppy and full of enthusiasm, it is easy to get things done with them. In both groups the study of Nyanga's Two Villages was really worthwhile in activity, added knowledge and the development of tolerance. I wish you could have heard the Primaries one day singing "O Christmas Tree"; one sang it in Dutch, one in German, one in Icelandic and then we all sang it in English.

Once again the Christmas concert brought all the groups together except the kindergarten, and they were well represented in the Sunday School number, "Christmas Bells." The Primaries put on an animal play, telling how the animals were the first to see the Christ Child; the Explorers chose a shadow play of the First Christmas, the three C.G.I.T. groups each had a number; the ladies had their play and all these made for a good entertainment, well mixed with fun and yet remembering the true reason for Christmas. At the kindergarten closing there were 45 children, 50 adults and about a dozen wee children. We all had a happy time—the culmination of a happy year.

Hospital Visitor,
Vancouver, B.C.

In Hospital, Nursing and Rest Home

We have now on our list for Vancouver 41 Hospital and Nursing Homes and 110 Boarding or Rest Homes. Yes, over 150 centres where heartaches, pains or restlessness are felt.

To help to banish this distress and sorrow we have two groups of Friends—those for the Rest Homes and those for the Nursing Homes. Last year we have recorded 438 visits to Homes and 10,300 times that cheer was given. With my calls also it brought the total to over 16,200 times some life was gladdened.

Visitors are finding that they are receiving richer blessing as they discover the numerous needs of the guests and endeavour to meet those needs. They have tried many new and interesting things this past year. Visitors wear their prettiest clothes to the Homes, they learn the name of every guest and make it a point to shake hands and chat with each individually. Some of the new things brought to the Homes this year were, travel folders, toilet articles, wash clothes, books, and pretty gifts of various kinds at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The maids and nurses are also remembered. Four of the six young women visiting Queen Elizabeth Hall for the Blind take along their husbands who visit with the men while the ladies write letters, pick up stitches, or read to the women. Once a good story teller was taken along to a Home; another time films of travelogue and of the coronation were shown; sometimes the guests are able to go for a little walk with the visitor and a few times they may go to a friend's home for a cup of tea. On one occasion a recording machine arrived at a Home and a record was made of their own conversation, which they were delighted to hear the next time the visitor came.

Do you wonder that the guests are caught saying to their visitor, "It cheers me just to look at you!" How thrilling to the visitors who go to Monarch Lodge to receive as a gift for their church bazaar a table cloth worked by two of the guests. It was too precious to sell; but went to the tea room of the parlour of Knox Church. Carol and dedication services were again participated in by many of our groups, and our ministers have been introduced to the Homes.

In one Home where no visitor of ours was calling regularly, the Chinese C.G.I.T. group held a carol, gift and worship service. In another such Home the Bible Study group of the Chinese W.M.S. brought a most meaningful Christmas party. Already ten new Rest Homes and two new Nursing Homes have a friend for 1954.

Busy Months

The last four months have been particularly busy ones for me in Prince Rupert, getting settled in a new home and meeting many new people. It has rained a great deal, and the weather does make travelling difficult. I spend so much time waiting for buses or for someone to call for me.

My work is centred at the east end of Prince Rupert. We have a Hall which is used for Sunday School and mid-week groups. We serve over 100 families in this area and each week I seem to find new names to add to my list. I have called in 55 homes since starting my work here and I feel certain this personal contact with the home does much to stimulate interest and enthusiasm.

We have an enrolment in Sunday School of 100 and we have had as many as 90 in attendance. The Explorer group has been re-organized with fourteen members. A new C.G.I.T. group was formed with 12 members and they were so pleased to take part in the Vesper Service at Christmas. The Mission Band is an enthusiastic group of twenty children.

We have the same old problem of getting leaders, but just now my Sunday School staff is very good and seem extremely interested.

The time I spend at Miller Bay is much too short. The bus service does not suit the visiting hours at the hospital so I have to be taken by car once a week, which is not often enough to do the job I would like to do. We do go out for Sunday Service every other Sunday, but there are many patients who are not able to be up.

I have found the people most friendly and cooperative, which certainly helps in making Prince Rupert happy and pleasant.

THE FOREWORD

The Indian work is the oldest phase of our Home Mission enterprise and dates back more than 100 years. Today, conditions on the Reserves are changing rapidly. The population is increasing, while there is no corresponding increase of the resources from which the Indian gets his livelihood. The result is that more Treaty Indians must leave the Reserves and become integrated into the industrial life of the country. Several hundreds of our Indian people may be found in the mining areas of Ontario and Manitoba. Some have moved to agricultural areas, while others have found employment in cities, where we find them as an isolated group.

The United Church ministers to 21,488 Indians, among whom it has 55 Missions. In educational work it cooperates with the Federal Government, having under its care forty-three Day Schools (thirty-seven under the Board of Home Missions and six under the Woman's Missionary Society) and five Residential Schools (four under the Board of Home Missions and one under the Woman's Missionary Society). About 2,500 young people attend our schools. Beginning September 1st, 1954, the Dominion Government is taking responsibility for the salaries of all teachers, which will mean the securing of first-class teachers who will be placed on an adequate salary scale. These teachers will not be paid from the per capita grant, which has been cut slightly because of this action.

The cooperation between the Church and the Federal Government is very effective and this department of work, which was once entirely a Church project, is today becoming a State responsibility, with the Christian emphasis left entirely to us, and one of our objectives, which is to share in giving the people of Canada the privilege of public worship and a ministry to their spiritual needs, should now be implemented to a fuller degree among our Indians.—I. M. L.

FROM MISS MARION THOMSON

Teacher, Ahousat, B.C.

Advance in School and Church

We were pleased with the children's advance in school work this year. It was a real record to have over 90% of the pupils remain in the village to finish their June examinations before they rushed off with their families either to the berry fields or fishing grounds. Early in March we observed Educational Week by having a special Parents Day; this year also the school and Y.P.U. cleared away the remains of an old house for space for a volley ball court. This provided a new avenue of recreation for both school and village. One of the gala occasions was our school picnic to one of the outside beaches.

Besides Day School teaching I shared the responsibility of Church services, Sunday School, Y.P.U., Mission Band and prayer meetings. It is worthy of note that there was considerable interest shown at the church annual congregational meeting. Of the three new members elected to the Board, two were local Y.P.U. members. Of our two Y.P.U. boys who entered Naramata Training Centre last year, David has returned for another term to complete his Grade XI, and Nelson who is hoping to return to his studies, is still in Nanaimo Indian Sanatorium as a patient. Two of our intermediate girls enjoyed a week at Shaunigan Camp in August. Two intermediates, three Y.P.U. members and two adult members of the Bible Class accepted Christ on profession of faith—six of these were members of my Easter Preparatory Classes. On Promotion Sunday in our Sunday School eleven received third year seals for their Robert Raikes Diplomas.

The Y.P.U., with a membership of 17, played an important part in the Church life. During Youth week they gave leadership at the Church service, choir, prayer meeting and entertained the village to a party. In our regular meetings we stressed leadership in worship, study, sing songs and recreation.

There is much to discourage one at Ahousat. It is well not to let first impressions influence one, for after one lives in the community for a while it is easy to see Christ shining forth from faces and deeds. Without the volunteer Christian workers of the village there would not be the varied and extensive program of Christian Education.

Before leaving the West Coast this summer, when Miss Quinn took over the work at Ahousat, I visited the Nanaimo Indian Sanatorium where there are about ten Ahousat patients. It was a privilege to visit these friends, to bring them news of their home, to discuss with them their personal problems and to share in the joys of friendship.

FROM MISS AGNES R. QUINN

Nurse, Ahousat, B.C.

For Bodily and Spiritual Health

In the dispensary this has been a very busy year. We again had visits from the Indian Health Services' Dentist and Eye Specialist. All the babies were immunized against whooping cough and diphtheria and the older children all were given booster doses of the same. Epidemics of mumps and measles really kept us busy during the fall months, reaching a peak in November when we had 155 cases of measles. We had to close school for three weeks.

During the year we kept two babies for a short time although we are not equipped for keeping patients. The first was in July when I had occasion to send a new mother to hospital. It was a bad day and I was afraid to send the baby along on such a long trip so took her home with me and kept her for five days until the mother returned. The second was during the measles epidemic when I brought home a wee neglected six-months' old girl to save her life. She stayed with us seventeen days when Dr. Ross at Tofino admitted her to hospital for two weeks and by that time she was able to return home. So many children have lost one parent, or the mother is in the Sanatorium, and while relatives give them a measure of care, yet they are neglected.

Once they reach school age the Residential School at Alberni solves the problem, but for the little ones a home is needed where they can have proper care.

The old folk and orphans are our chief concern. It is quite common for the old folk from other villages to come to Ahousat when they need care, for they know there is a nurse here. One poor old lady from Keltsemaht came last April in pretty bad shape and I did what I could to make her last days comfortable. On my third trip she took my hands in hers and said something in Indian, which her niece told me was; "It's so good of you to want me to live." She lived only eleven days after coming here.

We are looking forward to a visit from Rev. Mr. Rodgers on The Melvin Swarthout in the new year. It will be a great help both to the staff here and to the people of the village to be having regular calls from an ordained minister.

On December 13th we had our regular service in the morning and a C.C.I.T. candle-lighting in the evening. The next Sunday the two services were held with Indian leaders conducting the service and others giving the messages. On December 27th the pupils from Alberni Residential School who were home for their holidays took charge. Peggy Keitlah conducted the service in a highly commendable manner; Peggy August told a story; Maggie Campbell told the children's story and led in prayer; the other pupils read the Scripture lesson in choral effect, and all did very well. The church was filled and everyone was greatly pleased with the service.

Our year ended with another new venture—a Watch Night Service, when 51 attended the service, half of them young people, in spite of other attractions in the village. They all enjoyed the fellowship of prayer and the friendly time afterward with cake and coffee. We feel this should be an annual affair for the friendship it creates and the sense of Christian fellowship.

FROM MISS IDA M. DRAKE

Lorlie, Sask.

This year began with a new note of interest for me personally as I had been able to purchase a camera, projector and screen for use in my work. My first attempt at taking flash pictures was at the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deiter, 50 years married. I was very happy when they said they would like a re-dedication service in the church. Many of their friends and neighbors came and this was followed by a lovely dinner in the Community Hall by the Deiter family in honor of their parents. Here both Indian and white people paid tribute to the bride and groom in fitting speeches and with many fine gifts.

I have been holding services at the West end every second Sunday, and on the alternate Sunday going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keewatin, about five miles from here. They are faithful helpers and as soon as their new home was finished this year, they opened it for Sunday Services' for that district, and the services are much appreciated.

In July I left File Hills for my three months' furlough leaving Mr. and Mrs. Penner, a devoted young couple, who know the Indian people, in charge. During my absence they conducted three very successful Vacation schools, one at each of the preaching points. They also succeeded in endearing themselves to the Indian people and served us here most acceptably. During my furlough I had the wonderful experience of attending a two-week Training School for Indian Pastors and Church Workers, conducted by the Protestant Indian Council of Oklahoma, at Muskogee, Okla. It was a marvellous privilege and will help me in my work in many ways.

The Autumn Rush

Coming back on the first of October I found myself in the rush of getting High School children away to Birtle, re-organizing C.G.I.T. and Mission Band, getting our women started on their sewing for the Autumn Bazaar. Then came W.M.S. Thank-offering, Thanksgiving and anniversary services and the annual Fowl Supper, for which this year our posters were made by one of our young men who is taking a Commercial Art Course in Regina. This fall also we had the thrill of seeing our first girl enter University. Pray that she will keep the vision clear of one day becoming a doctor to her own people; it will not be easy for her.

We shared in the two Christmas concerts at the school this year again. Our children are continuing to gain in their ability to express themselves in public and did well at both concerts. At our Colony Day School concert Santa Claus presented me, on behalf of the congregation with a gas washer for the Manse. It does make a big difference on wash day and is much appreciated. At the West End Christmas Tree held for the district at the Keewatin's home after the service was over three of the older men spoke words of appreciation of their Church and their missionary, one in Cree and two in English, and presented me with a lovely wine-colored blanket. This really meant sacrifice for many of them, as they are not farmers in that district and are poor. The gifts which had been sent to us for distribution were enjoyed and appreciated by all.

In the meantime the work goes on—with many interruptions—many problems and with the hope that we may have some constructive suggestions for the improvement of our program among the Indian people whose greatest need is the transforming power of Jesus Christ.

Dedication of the Manse

The outstanding event of the early part of the year was the completion of the Manse and its dedication. On April 19th Mrs. T. H. Scudall, our Saskatchewan Branch President, Mrs. W. Buceuk, Presbyterial President, Rev. E. Yoshioka, Rev. J. M. Spence and Rev. J. Lougheed each contributed to a very fine service of dedication with a large audience attending. The manse is everything that could be desired as a home for your worker. I set out a few apple trees, some raspberry canes, and strawberry plants, a few decorative shrubs and sowed the lawn with grass seed. We were fortunate in not having summer frosts and so we had an excellent garden.

I tried so hard to get more of the families interested in gardening. The Homemaker Club took up the matter, we invited the local Agricultural representative, who brought with him a horticulturist from Regina, who spoke on gardening and showed pictures, but the attendance and response was most disheartening. However this fall, one mother who for years has had a really good garden told me that this winter when they could sell so little of their grain, she did not know what she would have done with her large family of twelve if it had not been for her garden supplies, much of which she had canned.

In June the Kamsack W.M.S. paid a visit to the Manse, with contributions of fruit for its shelves, and in July when I was attending camp they took the service on Sunday for me.

I attended and helped at the camp at Crystal Lake early in July. The school principal and I had hoped some of the school children would attend, and we even offered to pay more than half their expenses, but we could get no cooperation from the parents. Our Indian W.M.S. carried on through the year. They raise most of their funds by selling lunches on Treaty Day and at social functions, and this year shared with the Homemaker Club in a booth at the School Field Day.

"Only a small place"

The Church continues to have only a small place in the lives of the Indians, with a small attendance except for something special. The splendid film, "The King's Man," was well advertised but only about 25 came. The school principal is Sunday School superintendent but the attendance has been small. This fall I have had three Bible study talks in the senior room of this school and during the year have had 9 Mission Band meetings and two other meetings in the Junior room. I was able to get over to the other school on this Reserve, Hillside, for five meetings this fall. During the year I conducted four funerals and Rev. J. M. Spence baptized three children.

I am happy to report the first wedding since I came. The Rev. J. M. Spence performed the ceremony in the church on November 27th and afterwards the special guests came to the manse for refreshments.

Before Christmas a lot of time was required for the preparation of the school children and family parcels. Not nearly enough mitts came in but the Homemaker Clubs (a new one at Hillside) stepped into the breach and knitted the needed number. You should have seen the shining eyes of the Grade I girls when they received dolls.

On December 20th the Sunday School put on a very good program in the church, and the following Tuesday evening the school again held an excellent Christmas concert.

FROM MISS RUTH NELSON

Community Worker, Moose Mountain Reserve,
Carlyle, Sask.

"We Need Christian Indian Leadership"

Time passes quickly and the usual activities with the children have been carried on, with many an opportunity for talks with the older folk who come for various forms of help. One old man who does not speak much English came one day last month, saying, "House all clean, want picture", and he went over to the big Lesson Roll and touched it. I tried to give them other and smaller pictures, but it's an old custom to have a "big one" and a big one they must have.

At the end of June the two teachers Misses Young and Dillon who had served well for three years left and their places were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Silversides who have taught in other Indian schools. We welcome their interest and help. In October Mr. Morrison retired after twenty years as Agency Assistant on this Reserve. Mrs. Morrison carried on the work as Field Nurse until the end of the year helping the Agency nurse to get a better idea of the Reserve and the people. She makes regular trips from Broadview and once a month a doctor from the Indian hospital at the Fort accompanies her for clinics; emergency cases are taken to nearby Arcola Hospital. Until spring I have been asked to keep the medical supplies here and dispense them.

The Christmas closing at the school was quite an event this year. For the first time the parents contributed to the treat for the children with the help of donations from the merchants in town. The parcels of gifts we receive were very much appreciated. For the first time in years there were enough dolls for all the little girls. Several grandparents were happy to carry home parcels; some of them told me they had been sent to get a doll; one box I prepared for a family of small children was gleefully carried home by the grandfather who told the children he met Santa on the road. The school children had a very fine pageant of the Christmas story and Mrs. Silversides was so appreciative of the help in costumes we were able to find in our storeroom, saved year after year for such a purpose.

Quite a number of new houses were built this year by the Department of Indian Affairs, and several of the near-blind in the lower-than-pension age have been given the full pension. Most of these have had houses built of late, so now they are assured a comfortable living. The scheme to help the younger folk is underway; Mr. Silversides is supervising extramurally the lessons of several older lads who have been out of school, so that they may get their Grade VIII and be eligible for help under the scheme and thus receive further training. At Birtle School in June the oldest daughter of our present Chief graduated from High School, another brother and sister will do so in the near future. This family have had all their education in Brandon Residential School previous to Birtle, as they lived too far from the school here. At Lebret Indian school are two girls who attended our school till six years ago, doing High School work and the older one hopes to take a nurse's aide course. We wish more of our girls would do that.

One writer tells of the Indian lad who said to the missionary "My father says he is sorry for you missionaries, because you work so hard and so long and nobody changes." In the long look back we can see some changes, some progress made in the physical welfare and educational progress. We need the long look ahead and most of all, we need Christian Indian leadership. Surely this is not too much to hope for and to pray for.

FROM MR. LACHLAN McLEAN

Principal, Indian Residential School, Portage la Prairie, Man.

1953 Highlights

Four happenings highlight 1953. In March Mrs. McLean and I moved from our suite in the Residence to the Principal's house built across from the girls' playground beside a lovely new growth of trees; in July we secured a 36 passenger school bus that has proved to be of great assistance in our work; in September we had a much appreciated visit from Mrs. Loveys; and in October we set up a fourth classroom and successfully found a fourth teacher.

Both parents and children seem to realize more and more the need of a better education. Four of our six Grade 8's went on to Grade 9 at Birtle in September and we have had so many applications that in spite of ourselves the roll now totals 132. We have been fortunate in having little sickness and this has been helped by T.B. clinics, the visits of the Department nurse, and the visits of the dentist and eye-specialist. Many visitors to our school have commented on our cleanliness, our decorative color schemes and the homey and happy atmosphere that prevails within the Residence.

Tonight our 16 C.C.I.T. girls who call themselves, "The Sixteen Servants," had a banquet as part of their participation in Youth week. They spent the time tastefully decorating the auditorium, setting up tables, preparing and carrying over the food, and later in cleaning up. The Menu was "different" in that it was written half in English and half in Cree. They invited Canon Bays as guest speaker, Mrs. Bays, the Senior boys, and the Staff, and they sent the collection to the Korean Children's Fund. Canon Bays used a picture of The Angelus to illustrate his talk on "The Three Elements of the Complete Life"—Work, Friendship and Prayer.

FROM MISS FLORENCE A. FEE

Community Worker, Rama Indian Reserve, Atherley, Ont.

"A Great Door . . . Is Opened"

The beginning of September brought me to Rama Indian Reserve, located to the east of Lake Couchiching, some six miles from Orillia, and a new field of work for the W.M.S. This pastoral charge in Simcoe Presbytery, Toronto Conference, consists of two congregations; Rama, Indian; Longford Mills Memorial Church, white. Both are small congregations, and a "great door and effectual is opened unto us", as in both communities there are many unchurched families and individuals indifferent to the claims of Jesus Christ. Nevertheless in both churches there are earnest and faithful Christians who are concerned for the witness and work of the Church and for them I am grateful.

Both churches have well-staffed Sunday schools and Woman's Associations that meet weekly. At Rama there is also a mid-week Prayer and Bible study adult group; a Tyro Club, led by a local man; and a girls' Explorer Group.

Each Wednesday morning brings Religious Education classes in both rooms of the nearby Indian school, where the teachers are most cooperative and the pupils appreciative. Once a month and sometimes oftener, the Rama W.A. sponsors a social evening in the Community Hall, to which old and young come for social contacts and recreation. One of the men Sunday School teachers has recently qualified as an operator of an Ontario Film Board projector, and during the winter months we hope frequently to rent films from the Film Board and so provide more healthy recreation for the Reserve, on which live some 375 families.

The parsonage is at Rama and it seems natural and good to be living in a community of darker-complexioned people again. Many of the children resemble Chinese children in appearance and with all I feel a real sense of fellowship. Longford Mills is less than three miles to the north over a hard-surfaced road, so driving is not too strenuous. The National Y.M.C.A. Camp "Geneva Park" and other summer camp sites are near. Attendance of summer residents at either church has been very small, however.

During the autumn months a great deal of effort was expended in rehabilitating the parsonage and its property. The old barn was torn down and from its salvaged materials a fine garage was built. An oil-burning floor furnace was installed in the parsonage, and several rooms re-decorated, all these expenses being borne by the Board of Home Missions. Longford contributed nearly $100 for paint, paper, curtains, slip-cover material, etc., for the parsonage and members of both W.A.'s came on many occasions to paint and paper until all the remaining rooms, excepting the pantry, have been transformed. The grounds still await attention, but we are extremely grateful for all that has been done.

My supervising pastor is Rev. Roy E. Webster, of St. Paul's United Church, Orillia, a former colleague in China. He assists us here by conducting Communion services, baptisms, and officiating at weddings, and is always ready to help in any way requested. It is a great joy to have opportunities for fellowship with the Websters and with Miss Phyllis Sykes, a friend of many years, now deaconess in our Orillia Church.

A Chapter on Medical Work

THE FOREWORD

The missionary work of the Protestant Churches has been a constantly changing task. The earliest urge was to evangelize the new settlements on the frontier and the Church recognized that the care of the sick was a Church-centred enterprise and thus hospitals were built, equipped and staffed by consecrated doctors and nurses.

With an awakening to a larger sense of their responsibility, the Provincial Governments of Canada have today assumed this task of caring for the sick, with the result that we are passing through a transition period in our hospital work. Fortunately, the benefits of modern medicine are becoming available to all persons, under Provincial measures, and what was once a frontier Church service is now becoming a State responsibility.

Modern modes of transportation have also added to the changes. When we established hospitals years ago they were reached by poor railway accommodation or over bad roads. Today good roads have been built, railways have been extended and air base accommodation laid, making once isolated places very near large centres:—L. M. L.

FROM MISS ADA M. CHILVERS

Superintendent, Rosedale War Memorial Hospital, Matheson, Ont.

For thirty-two years Rosedale War Memorial Hospital has served the people of this community. The first year, 83 patients were admitted; this year, 1953, we admitted 684 patients. In 1922 there were 18 births, and in 1953 there were 133 births. We had 181 operations during the year, mostly minor operations, as our facilities do not warrant doing major surgery unless it is emergency work. We did 690 X-Ray examinations and treated 476 out-patients. We had four sets of twins, two sets were premature and stayed in the hospital for several weeks.

We Have Tragedy, Too

One set of twins were in hospital for quite a time after the mother was discharged. Finally the day came when the twins were to be discharged also. It was in the summer time and the father brought all the family to town in the back of his small truck; six children, the oldest, a girl of twelve years. She had the others all lined up with their backs to the back of the cab, sitting on the floor of the truck, with her own place on the outside. She was so happy to see the twins and be helping the mother to care for the younger children. The mother sat in the cab with a twin on each arm. The happy family left for home with a quart bottle of formula prepared by the hospital to last the twins until the next day.

To our surprise about an hour later a car came to the door and the mother with the twins got out and several small children, dusty, dishevelled and crying, so different than they had been an hour ago. After calling at the store for groceries, they started home and on the way something happened and the truck turned over and all the children were thrown out. The oldest girl sustained a broken neck and died instantly; the other children were bruised and scratched and one had a fractured collar bone, but the twins were safe in their mother's arms. We took X-Rays, strapped the collar bone, dressed the wounds, kept one boy in the hospital, provided the twins with more formula and sent them on their way again, a sad family this time. The oldest girl never had the opportunity of helping her mother care for the twins.

Another accident which taxed the services and equipment of our little hospital was that in which a carload of High School girls and their teachers were returning from a ball game at North Bay when they were involved in an accident with a truck. Ten people were brought into the hospital within a few minutes. The girls were given emergency treatment, X-Ray examinations, splints; suturing and dressings were done and then they were sent on to the hospital in their home town. The four in the truck were local people and two of them remained in the hospital.

By the first of July, 1954, we hope to be settled in our new hospital which will be called the Bingham Memorial Hospital, after Dr. George Bingham late of Toronto. The former name will not be forgotten as the funds obtained from the sale of the old building will go toward the new nurses' residence which will be known as the Rosedale War Memorial Nurses' Residence. Besides the bequest left by Mrs. Bingham in memory of her husband, the local community has raised money and the governments are giving their usual grants for all new hospitals. Several individuals and organizations are helping to supply furnishings and equipment. We are eagerly looking forward to moving day although we know it will be a big job.

FROM MISS KATHLEEN MULLEN

Superintendent, St. Paul's Hospital,
Hearst, Ont.

The Busiest Year

During 1953 we had the busiest year since the inception of the hospital; we need not discuss staff shortages, as most hospitals have this problem to face and we just take it a day at a time and hope for help. We have had many cases of emergency, a number of these being highway accidents; people who never knew us and we never knew them are brought to us for help and through sometimes long arduous days of uncertainty we nurse them back to health; a great many have left us to continue on their way and we never hear of them again. What about expenses? Well, we just write them off, glad that we were able to give them the needed care and that they found friendliness in our staff. They may return some day, if not, then we have the satisfaction of having followed Jesus' great parable of the Good Samaritan.

The drunk who has been in an accident or a fight is brought to us for help, so uncouth in his manner and language and so difficult to handle; the ever-present maternity case comes to us unannounced; camp accidents, some minor and some very serious; emergency surgery for immediate care; all of these cases have a story of their own. Then too there is the time when life is ebbing away and the weeping family is there, and we try in our feeble way to comfort them; again we have the joy of the cry of a new-born baby; each of these has its own sad or happy story. Ours is the story of service to humanity, and our prayer is that what we have endeavored to do may be acceptable to Him Who gave His all for us.

During the year we admitted 2,270 patients; of these there were 313 maternity cases and 808 operating room cases. There were 2,089 X-Rays taken and there were 85 deaths.

I take this opportunity of thanking all those who in any way helped us in this great work; for the supplies sent in; for your prayers in our behalf; and for members of my staff who have been so wonderful in their cooperation that it has lightened the burden.

FROM MISS ISABELLE E. MILLER

Superintendent, Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital, Eriksdale, Manitoba

We have had a busy year with 489 new admissions, including 153 new-borns. Eleven of these babies required incubator care which always increases the load carried by the nursing staff. The Polio epidemic which was the largest in Manitoba's history, struck this area in August. For weeks we had a continuous stream of out-patients in the hospital. The serious cases were transferred to Winnipeg but milder cases were treated here.

A visit from Mrs. Loveys and Mrs. Halstead in October was the highlight of the year. We feel confident that Mrs. Loveys' visit did much to strengthen the bond between our little community and the wide missionary enterprises of the Church.

We can again report a year of splendid cooperation between community and hospital. In addition to doing regular hospital visiting and hospital sewing, the Ladies' Guild sponsored a Hospital Tea in May, a Food Shower in October, and a Bazaar in November. Proceeds from these affairs helped toward the purchase of much needed equipment.

A Crowning Achievement

Our crowning achievement for the year has been the installation of a $5,000 X-Ray unit. In early 1953 our old X-Ray machine was condemned as obsolete and we were faced with the necessity of providing funds for a new one. A meeting of the Hospital Advisory Board was held and it was decided that W.M.S. funds should not be used until an attempt had been made to raise the money locally. The Board members organized a Fund-raising Campaign and all the collecting was done by volunteers. The results far exceeded our expectations. The Manitoba Wheat Board generously contributed $3,000 and the remainder was made up entirely by local subscriptions. We are indeed proud of our new X-Ray unit and know that it will enable us to give better service to our patients. The Campaign also served another purpose for it helped to acquaint the people with the needs of the hospital and to encourage them to accept responsibility for its maintenance.

The local United Church Woman's Auxiliary have taken steps towards becoming an Affiliated Society, a step which has been considered for some time. A Church must have a missionary outlook if it is to serve its real purpose and provide a stimulus to its members. We have no regular minister and the area is much in need of full-time Christian leadership. I am happy that Nora McCauley is making a sincere effort to fill this need. However she is limited, as all medical missionaries are, in the amount of free time she can give. The need is here, and the importance of adequately staffing our hospitals with missionary nurses cannot be stressed too strongly.

FROM MISS NORA ISABELL McCAULEY

Staff Nurse, Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial
Hospital, Eriksdale, Manitoba

This is my first appointment as your Home Missionary. I do love nursing in this attractive, active hospital and I am so thankful to be working with Isabelle Miller. We share a Christian fellowship which we covet for all peoples—and which is so needful in isolated communities.

Beginning Church Work

Because of the willingness and cooperation of the staff, I have been able to do a little Church work—though very little, because my first duty must be to the hospital. There is an active Sunday School here now and the teachers are earnestly seeking to give spiritual leadership to the children. This fall we initiated a monthly teachers' meeting to air our problems and to enjoy Christian fellowship. We have found them a great help. I have the Junior class of six boys and two girls. There are no young people in our church of junior age which is rather surprising, so we major on the younger children.

I have a Tyro group of six boys, complete with uniform, while Mrs. Leonard the Sunday School Secretary has an Explorer group of four girls. Very soon we are having a Sunday Service for both these groups with the hope that the congregation and parents will understand more fully what we are trying to accomplish. By that time I am hoping to have a man to take over the leadership of the Tyros.

Every Monday evening a small group of four or five women meet in private homes for Christian fellowship and to study the book, "The Teachings of Jesus" by Dr. Harvie Branscomb. While Miss Alma Gadd was with us we started a small choir which functions spasmodically—though with spirit!

Starting in February for twelve weeks I shall be conducting a Home Nursing course under the St. John Ambulance Association, for the ladies of the Legion and community. I consider this a privilege, because I shall then be able to get out into the community more and learn to know the people better.

There is a big task awaiting us here as nurses and missionaries.

FROM MISS LEAH D. ROGERS

Superintendent, Ethelbert General Hospital,
Ethelbert, Manitoba

This has been a relatively quiet year, with 276 admissions, 47 new babies, and 12 operations, as compared with 433 admissions, 59 babies and 32 operations last year. In addition there are always numbers of out-patients coming and going.

While we should not unduly stress the importance of numbers, it makes one question the necessity of maintaining a mission hospital when other medical service is available at no great distance. We are happy in being able to relieve suffering and give medical aid whenever it is required, so although we sometimes think our efforts are not necessary or of no avail, yet we cannot tell how God may use us for His purposes, and how much He may accomplish through us.

A Quiet Day!

One very quiet day a maternity patient was admitted about noon. She was not in a hurry so I had time to make preparations—the ward aid was off sick. About four o'clock a couple appeared in the doorway with a very sick looking boy. He was admitted and scheduled for an appendectomy at 5 o'clock. I called the night nurse to come and help us, and at 4.30 the doorbell rang. A man was trying to get in and someone was crouched in the vestibule, as we thought, drunk, but when we got him in he took some kind of a seizure and became almost unmanageable until the doctor got there and gave him a sedative. Later we got the story that he had been chewing up razor blades and washing them down with beer. So the operation was a little late being started, but no sooner did it start than the baby decided to arrive also. I suggested that the practical nurse call in our relief nurse, a married woman who lives quite near. She did this and was able to go ahead and prepare for the delivery without the use of the case room which also serves as operating room. The operation was over in time for the doctor to change her gloves and receive the baby. We were a little late having supper that evening but had a deeper sense of satisfaction that our work had been worthwhile.

Another small task which I have been privileged to do is with the Sunday School where I have been able to continue as Superintendent throughout the year. We have a relatively small group of children, mostly of the younger ages, full of mischief and eagerness, yet at times when I try to answer their earnest questions I feel that the little bit I have done here has been as effective for Christ's Kingdom as all the hospital work.

The last week of the year also saw the formation of a Young People's Discussion Group, which I definitely feel God had a hand in calling into being. It was not my idea nor that of anyone else. One of the young Sunday School teachers asked me if I would go over the lesson with her during the week so she would be better prepared to answer the children's questions. I wanted to help her, but thought I might as well include others, so, without even trying, a group of nine gathered the evening after Christmas beginning a course of real good discussion, based on the Statement of Faith. It is something that was really needed for the young people. It does require some time in preparation each week, but I am sure it is doing me as much good as anyone else.

FROM MISS CORA A. KILBORN

Staff Nurse, Ethelbert General Hospital,
Ethelbert, Manitoba

Our Patients

In looking back over the past six months since coming to Ethelbert, I have felt that this period was almost a quiet interlude. The hospital has not been busy and I have been working as an ordinary staff nurse. Not having the responsibility of the hospital has been conducive to a quiet state of mind and body. This has been my first experience living and working among New Canadians and I have been interested in trying to gain an understanding of the Ukrainians who form 99% of the population of Ethelbert.

Some of our patients have been interesting—the little boy of eight who had his appendix out just at Christmas and who became the pet of all on the staff. He was given the run of the hospital and when it became evident that he was interested in music, managed to receive piano lessons from all of us. If there were only some way in which he could continue what was begun here! He was able to join us Christmas morning first in our morning worship and then in the gift opening. Of course there were some gifts for him.

Then I think of the old Ukrainian lady who scarcely knew a word of English but who found rest and comfort periodically in the hospital. Not long ago she passed on in her own home when another attack came on suddenly.

We have been able to minister to a fair number of people, all done in the name of and-for the sake of Christ.

FROM MISS A. BLANCHE GERHARD

Nurse, Hospital Unit,
Gypsumville, Manitoba

A Large Territory

There is a large territory for the nurse to cover at Gypsumville, and many types of vehicles in which to travel, but not until this fall did I ever ride any distance on the back of a tractor. One day I had to make a trip to a ranch about 25 miles away to see an old lady who was ill. I drove the car about 18 miles and then transferred to the tractor, as the rest of the way was through pasture land, mostly under water. I had made the trip several times before by jeep and had enjoyed the wildness and beauty as we drove near Lake Manitoba, but I must confess I would not like to go again by tractor.

Last winter there was very little sickness, but spring brought a good share of colds, influenza and pneumonia, and with summer came the dreaded polio, which was so prevalent in Manitoba. We were fortunate in having only two paralytic cases, and doubly fortunate that they each made a good recovery. There are always, of course, the usual accident cases, maternity cases to be rushed to the hospital or to deliver the baby at home, but that is all in the day's work. We are grateful for the car which has enabled us to help the sick more quickly than before.

We were very thrilled to receive the gift of a projector from the Mary Grant Auxiliary of St. James-Bond Church, Toronto. It is a wonderful help in visual education and we have used it several times. The two Christmas films were much appreciated by the children at Gypsumville and at St. Martin. The Sunday School at St. Martin continues to grow and the children appear to be more interested. During the winter the school is divided as there is no warm place large enough for all the pupils. In many ways this is a help as the beginners are able to have a worship period more suitable to their understanding, and as a result they are not so shy and are beginning to know the real meaning of worship. The car has helped a great deal in this work as we do not depend on someone for transportation and so far we have missed only one Sunday when the roads were blocked.

The new hospital at Ashern has been a help to us although we miss the friendliness of Eriksdale. However it seems much easier to go only fifty miles to the hospital instead of the eighty we travelled before. We must thank Dr. Steenson who is always ready to come at a moment's notice in an emergency. His help is greatly appreciated.

FROM MISS HOPE E. WEBER

Community Worker,
Gypsumville, Manitoba

Twenty Years A-Growing!

Last March our church celebrated the 20th anniversary of its dedication, for it was in 1933 that the late Rev. C. W. Gordon officially opened and dedicated our beautiful Church building. The anniversary was appropriately celebrated by a Fowl Supper and program on Saturday night, March 20th, followed by a special service on the Sunday. A short historical sketch was presented, portraying the pioneer days of missionary work in Gypsumville, after which representatives of the W.A., the Explorers, and the C.G.I.T. took part. It was a thrill for all of us, especially to those villagers who remember those days, to hear the wonderful story of our church and the beginnings of the Mission work here and we thanked God for all this overwhelming evidence of the "triumphs of His Grace", among us.

The service on Sunday was a happy event too. We made a special anniversary appeal for funds for the renovation of the basement and received a most gratifying response. Rev. George Denyes, formerly of Teulon, conducted Communion and the Reception Service. For some weeks I had been leading a Communicant's class in my Intermediate class in Sunday School, studying "The Christian Life" by David Forsythe. The teen-agers showed keen interest and it had been my hope that the entire class would make their decision for Christ and His Church. But they were not quite ready for that. There had not been a Reception Service in this church since 1939 and none of these teen-agers had ever witnessed one. They were just plain afraid! Nevertheless I thanked God that the whole question of Church had been studied so seriously by them. One of the girls—fifteen years old—came forward boldly and took her vows alone. Besides that, there were four adults received by certificate.

Our Sunday School in St. Martin has grown so much both in interest and in membership. We are now meeting in two separate Departments; the Kindergarten meets in the front room of the St. Martin Hotel, and the Junior Class meets in the living room of the proprietors of the St. Martin Cafe. The pitiful lack of knowledge of the Bible among these children is now gradually being replaced by familiarity with the sacred pages, as well as with the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, and it thrills us both to have some part in the Christian growth of these children.

Christmas has its special thrills and triumphs too. We were proud of our Gypsumville Sunday School children as they presented their Christmas program, one which truly portrayed the real meaning of Christmas. The evening service was a fitting close to the Christmas festivities and I am glad that so many of our people made it so. And this year our service was especially beautiful with the aid of the film-strip "O Holy Night."

FROM MISS MARY YAKIMISCHAK

Teulon, Manitoba

Hunter Hospital put in a busy year, when 575 patients were admitted, 41 tonsil cases, 50 minor cases, 27 major operations and 17 broken limbs were attended, besides 89 new babies making their appearance. Of the babies, two stand out as interesting cases—premature twins arrived and had to have a month in the incubator before being allowed out on their own—another tiny mite, three pounds eleven ounces, a premature baby, spent six weeks in hospital before it attained the safe five pounds before discharge.

We had cases that bordered on the polio picture and two that I now feel were actual polio, did very well here and neither became paralysed, although they showed a lot of stiffness for more than a month. We took at least a dozen actual polio cases to Winnipeg to King George Hospital, some with paralysis and sad to say at least four who are still in various stages of post-paralysis. One man who has four small children has been four months now with the disease, and both legs are still useless.

Meeting an Emergency

And you must have heard of the Grey Goose Bus and train accident, where the bus carrying some thirty-five passengers was hit by the train at a level crossing. Hunter Hospital became the clearing station, although one passenger was sent direct from the scene having suffered a compound fracture of both bones of her leg. Another was transferred from Teulon because a basal fracture of the skull was diagnosed. In all fifteen cases were admitted that night and with the help of Dr. Evelyn from Stonewall, we worked from 8 o'clock until 3 in the morning before the last one was patched up. We could not have managed had it not been for the help of three graduate nurses from our district who happened to be on hand that night. A great number of our local women also helped in the wards. A lot of these cases were soon discharged, but five or six kept the hospital busy for about two weeks. That is an occasion that will be a milestone in the annals of the original Hunter Hospital.

In the last week of the old year, we had the sad experience of admitting a 77-year-old man with both hands and one foot frozen. In spite of our new antibiotics and all we could do, we feel the old man is going to slip away on us. He is an old-age pensioner, living alone, and had run out of firewood. He was found by a neighbor.

So we have come to the end of another year. If the work in the new hospital can live up to the records of the old one, then the new Memorial Hunter Hospital will be a worthy credit to the name it bears.

FROM MISS DOROTHY E. REID

Staff Nurse, Hunter Hospital,
Teulon, Manitoba

Hospital Duties and Church Activities

Teulon became a reality to me on July 4th, 1953, when I arrived to take up my new duties as a missionary nurse. I have learned something of the beginnings of the Mission and many interesting stories from Mrs. Hunter, at whose home I board. After becoming adjusted to the hospital and the routine work, I relieved Miss Yakimischak for the month of August while she went on her much deserved holiday. We were busy at times with surgery and obstetrics but it was all good experience and most interesting. September found the routine activities of community and church beginning with fresh vigor and soon the hospital staff was helping in one organization or another.

I had been asked to help with the C.G.I.T. and enthusiastically we began meetings the first of October. After a few weeks I realized I could not carry on alone, due to hospital shift work, so I was glad to be able to find assistance for the group when I am not able to be there. I enjoy the group very much and feel it is a great adventure and responsibility to lead them. I was very pleased to be able to help Mr. Reid, our minister, one Sunday by taking the afternoon service at Gunton while he was preaching at a special service here. On two Youth Sundays I have taken part in the service.

Quite often I drop in at the Boys' or Girls' Residences and enjoy the friendship of the women in charge of these homes. At the minister's home too, I have been made to feel welcome. I have enjoyed meeting people of the district in my work at the hospital and have been able to help some of them in various ways.

December found me busy helping with the C.G.I.T. candle-lighting service, though I was unable to be at the meeting or the service itself.

At the end of October we were fortunate to have Miss Alice Brown join the staff. We also have three ward aides who work with Miss Yakimischak and relieve us on our days off. We have all become quite attached to our chronic patients, while the children who are admitted from time to time add a great deal of pleasure to our work. There is still a lot to be done here, as everywhere—not in a big way, but in countless small ways in our everyday living.

FROM MISS CATHERINE M. BAWTINHEIMER

Superintendent, Katherine H. Prittie
Hospital, Bonnyville, Alberta

The Hospital is Needed

The wisdom of re-opening our hospital has surely been proven in the year 1953 which was very successful both from a financial standpoint and from the number of patients treated. 595 patients were cared for during the year; 67 babies were born, many operations were performed and X-Rays taken.

In June we were very sorry to see Dr. McPhedran leave as he had made a real place for himself in the hearts of the people, but our best wishes follow him as he takes further post-graduate work. We were pleased to welcome in his place Dr. L. E. Ross, his wife and two children.

During the year a great many improvements were made which added greatly to the appearance of the hospital inside and out.

One day we admitted an old lady of 92 with a bowel obstruction. For two or three days we watched her, not wishing to operate except as a last resort. Finally it was decided to operate and the operation proved more difficult than had been expected. However she got along well and the day after the operation she whispered to the doctor, "I wanted that door closed so I just got up and closed it." On the first day she was allowed out of bed, she said to the nurse, "Would you mind getting me a drink of water, I am too lazy." Now she is home doing her own work.

Another woman was brought in unconscious with meningitis. It was a joy to the nurses when three days later she recovered consciousness and when at last she was able to go home fully recovered. Another patient who had been in from November of the year before with rheumatic fever went home in March. She had cortisone while in hospital and the treatment was successful.

So our work goes on day by day as we do what we can to relieve a little of the suffering and ills of humanity.

FROM MISS MARY E. CLARK

Staff Nurse, John Neil Hospital,
Cold Lake, Alberta

Over 700 people, old and young, little and big, of many races and creeds, crossed the threshold of the "John Neil" in 1953. There were some who had extra problems besides their physical sickness, and we tried to give them what help and sympathy we could. "A friendly smile, a cheery word" meant a lot to these people. Over 100 newborn infants arrived here last year. Many patients were workmen from the project smiling courageously in the face of a serious accident. One thing that impressed me was the way in which the rest of the gang of their particular construction company rallied to their side—in fact sometimes we had to call a halt to visiting for a while! Many Indian children came to us from time to time, fighting the dread pneumonia which still took its toll in spite of all that could be done.

Newcomers

Among our patients and staff were many newcomers to Canada. One of these, a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked Dutch girl came to help us in October. Her fiance who had come from Holland earlier was working at the airport. The day after Christmas saw the "John Neil" living room gaily decorated for a wedding reception, and what happy laughter and shouts of congratulations came from all sides as Margareth, a picture in her beautiful white gown, with her proud husband Neil, arrived back from the Roman Catholic Church where they had been married. They told us afterwards, "You have made us feel at home here." They are living in town and it is a delight to visit their neat shining home. Another of our staff, a nurse from Germany, who has now left us to work elsewhere, became one of my dearest friends and was a wonderful addition to our nursing staff. Then there were many patients—Dutch, German, Ukrainian, French, Scottish, English, who were just learning to adjust themselves to the ways of this new land. Their courage and cheerfulness proved a real inspiration.

Our little X-Ray machine looked a bit tired on December 31st, 1953, for it had finished being pushed around, up and down, off and on, for more than 200 pictures during the year. But the little red light still shines on, probably due to a face-lifting and repair job the year before. We hope to have a really "expansive" machine some day. Several minor repairs and some equipment were added to the hospital and a new sewage disposal unit constructed which is much more adequate.

Cold Lake itself has changed a great deal this past year. With the arrival of all the new people have come many new influences, some bad, many good. It gives one a thrill to meet these people, see their interest in our church and town, and the contribution they are making. In our mid-week groups, Explorers, C.C.F.T., Cubs and Scouts, I am the only "old" leader; the others are new and the leadership given is of a high quality. In the Sunday School Dr. Savage carries on as superintendent with most of the former staff of teachers and some new ones added—eight in all. Due to inadequate classroom space an extra class for teen-age boys is held at 10 a.m., with the regular Sunday School coming at 11 a.m. The congregations are larger, and on Thanksgiving the church was so crowded that we had to rush around and find extra chairs. The minister, Rev. Oliver Seward, comes from Bonnyville and is carrying on an immense task in both points as well as serving two other towns in between.

FROM MISS ELSIE LEE

Manning, Alberta

A highlight of 1953 was when Manning played host to the Peace River Presbytery. During the three days of the meetings we were able to enjoy the company of many visitors at meal times in the hospital. What a treat it was for us and for the patients the day the quartette came to dinner. It was most enjoyable and inspiring to attend the gatherings and meet so many people from various points in the Presbytery.

A Memorable Year

1953 was a memorable year in many ways, with a total of 627 patients admitted to our hospital, 96 of these being new-born babies. We treated 575 out-patients as well as X-rayed 290 persons. Our record month for babies was in September when 15 were born. For our Christmas babies we stuck tiny bows of ribbon on their heads and gave their mothers gifts from the parcels we had received.

In January we had a patient seriously ill with a hemorrhage which we were unable to control here, so we secured a small plane to take him in the care of Miss Saunders to Edmonton where he had an operation and received many blood transfusions. During the summer a young chap of 19 had his chest badly crushed by a tractor. One lung was collapsed and took a long time to return to normal. One cute little Indian fellow of three was with us for a few weeks with a broken leg. He did have pain quite often which we tried to ease, but in between times he would give us the loveliest smile that endeared him to all of us.

In November we had as our guest Miss Jean Angus, Girls' Work Secretary for Alberta, who was visiting C.G.I.T. groups in the North. She had a busy itinerary and we hope she enjoyed her little break with us as she visited our C.G.I.T. also. We found her company delightful.

In May I was able to attend the Convention of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses held at Banff. Since we are so far north much time must be spent in travelling, but the three days of the Convention seemed very worthwhile and since this was my first, there were many new experiences.

The Alberta Hospital Association held its Convention in October in Edmonton, which both Miss Saunders and I were able to attend. Since we were planning to fly we drove to Peace River, but the plane did not come because of bad weather in British Columbia, so the only way we could get to Edmonton in time for the Convention was to keep right on driving to McLennan and get the train there. Who ever heard of driving 120 miles in this day to catch a train? After the convention we returned to McLennan to speak to the W.A. about our work in Manning. Another time we drove down to visit the Peace River W.M.S.

A year ago we started having a brief worship service on Sundays with the patients, and that has since been carried on. We hope that those that have joined with us have found this worshipping together helpful.

FROM MRS. ISABEL FLEMMING

Superintendent, Burns Lake Hospital,
Burns Lake, B.C.

In the Land of New Developments

Burns Lake is quickly emerging from the ugly duckling stage and is even showing some swan-like qualities. This summer our whole main street was black-topped, even some distance out into the country. It was wonderful. We could scarcely believe it was our town with its now smooth, level, dustless streets. And not only that, but fine, wide, cement pavements were put down for us to walk on, and best of all, the hospital got a splendid new drive-way free, a gift from the Government of B.C. We were all so proud of our new streets that everybody started a clean-up campaign; the hospital not to be out-done, had a fresh coat of creamy paint applied, while the garden was a thing of beauty with its lovely sweet peas, and gay nasturtiums, green lawns and an abundance of fresh vegetables which mean so much to us here.

Inside the hospital we were as busy as ever. The Alcan project was still going strong, and even more so, for us, since there was another camp of 800 men at Skins Lake from September to December. Men were still getting hurt at the Tunnel and many were flown in for treatment for longer or shorter periods. From the logging camps and planing mills too came the usual run of accidents, and several of our American friends who came over moose hunting found grief in the forests of B.C. and were our paying guests for some time. This was also a banner year for babies--no fewer than 173 came to swell the population of the district, 30 more than last year. One tiny baby weighing two pounds was flown in a great R.C.A.F. plane to Vancouver with a doctor and nurse in attendance. Even though we are away in the North we are able to avail ourselves of the excellent medical services in Vancouver in a matter of hours when necessity arises.

Our X-Ray service has practically doubled. Early in the year we were instructed that every patient admitted to hospital must have a routine chest X-Ray. Tuberculosis is prevalent up here and this is an excellent means of checking any who may have it and do not know they have.

The Women's Auxiliary of the hospital has been very active and to our great delight presented us with a handsome Deep Freeze which is the joy of our hearts. Now we can fill it up with beef, pork, lamb and even moose meat. "Think of eating steaks at 30 cents a pound," says the cook as she deftly turns them. A Cradle Shop was also started in the hospital which the W.A. keeps supplied with articles for sale. We owe a debt of gratitude to many Church organizations all over Canada. Many a poor mother both inside and outside the hospital has reason to bless the women and girls for supplying them with much needed clothing for their babies and older children.

As we look back over the year we feel it has been a good year; plenty of hard work, some discouragements, it is true, which are far outweighed by the pleasure it gives us to be right here where we are needed, with our doors ever open to all the sick and suffering who come to us from hamlet, lake and forest in search of help when they need it most.

A Chapter on Oriental Work

THE FOREWORD

Chinese

Each year brings to Canada approximately 2,500 new Chinese. These people come into Hong Kong seeking passports for Canadian entry and on every available plane a goodly number arrive at Vancouver Airport. The planes are met by our Chinese ministers and later home visits acquaint these newcomers with the Church and its facilities. The Church offers classes in the teaching of English to the young people and to the women who have come to join their husbands. The Young People's Unions are touching the young Chinese today at the university level because of their educational background being more advanced than our earlier immigrants.

Japanese

Today the Japanese Canadians are scattered over this wide Dominion. Some of them live in lonely places, away from any Japanese language Church, but they are served by the fine bi-lingual printed paper, "The Shepherd's Call," a paper which serves to bridge and harmonize two cultures and groups of people represented by the two languages.

From observations since evacuation it is concluded that the percentage of the United Church adherents is higher among the Japanese Canadians than among the Canadian population in general. This is a notable achievement, especially if we consider the fact that it is only 67 years since a missionary centre was first established among them. Credit is given to the devoted and untiring work of our earlier women missionaries who worked among them and those who are still at work with them.—I. M. L.

FROM MISS A. JEAN L. STEWART

Community Worker,
Hamilton, Ont.

From the first contact I had with the friendly Japanese group here, I did feel at home and it is a joy to work with them, although it is an entirely different work from any of my former experiences. Most of my time is spent with the older people, who have been Christian for many years and their deep faith and simplicity of heart are a continual inspiration to me.

Everyone Shares the Responsibility

When the student minister left, we mapped out a plan of activities some as before, some new. It was decided that Rev. Mr. Shimizu from Toronto would come the first Sunday of each month to conduct service, preside at the Communion service the first of each quarter and that each time he came there would be a meeting of the steering committee. The second Sunday would be known as English family service, which I would conduct and the family would worship together. The third Sunday someone would come out from Toronto and on the fourth Sunday, and fifth when there was one, our own Hamilton group would be responsible. This has really worked out very well. It is a wonderful thing that from our own group we have found so many who can and will lead in these services. One of our members conducted his well-thought-out service and gave a moving sermon, after which he left in a hurry to be on time to go on duty as one of the chefs at one of our large hotels. And he does make good apple pie! I know.

Many of our women work each day and this makes it difficult for me to visit in their homes, and I must make many evening calls. Visiting is a major part of my work and I do enjoy it. When one approaches a new address it is always with a sense of adventure that I lift the knocker, and with a sense of God's presence with me I enter into that home and come to know new people. We chat of things of the spirit and also of this world as we sit together. Some to whom I go have little English and then there will be gales of laughter as we both try to do our best to understand each other, but the common tasks of home and the activities of family life can be shared with simple words, and these people are always friendly and kind.

I enjoy very much the visiting at the San where at present there are about seventeen of our Japanese who are patients there. I make it a point to visit them once a week. They are a brave, courageous bunch and it is good to hear their reports of progress as the weeks go by. We have an active Woman's Association which meets in the church once a month. They have a small but faithful membership and I can see great possibilities of outreach through this group. They rise to an emergency when necessary, and attend as many city-wide meetings as they can, thus getting a wider view of the Church's progress. The president had been at a Rally one day taking in what she could of what was said. The next day she phoned me. "You know that Christian Citizenship lady—I did not know all she said. What is this Christian citizenship?" I wanted to tell her that she practiced it every day in her good neighbour ways but she would not have understood. So I made out a simple outline of what this great idea can mean in the life of an individual and community and went over to her house. She was thrilled and I am now, at her suggestion, to give it bit by bit at several meetings of the W.A.

There is a growing feeling that this Japanese group, one of several racial groups at All People's Church, is realizing that they belong to the Church fellowship. There is a loyalty to the whole Church and a desire to share in all the activities of the wider fellowship which is commendable.

A Happy Time

As I let my mind turn backward through the months of 1953, it cannot but rest in the little school room in the Chinese Church in Calgary where, morning by morning, a group of happy tots gathered. They loved their Bible stories, pictures, hymns; their handwork, songs, games. And I loved to be among them.

Often we climbed to the sunny park on the hill above, and spent the morning in the fresh air. One June day in particular is remembered—our Coronation picnic we called it—when we made a dandelion wreath for each little head. A birthday too was always marked for a party. One such was a very special occasion, for it was the first celebration the six-year old Roberta had had; she had only come to Canada a few months before. Her gentle enjoyment of the cake, candles, gifts, was sweet to see.

In Sunday School this year I had the happy experience of teaching the Primary Class. I was given also the Bible Drill period to conduct during the open session of the school; and was responsible for the missionary story when the monthly offering was made. In June the first Cradle Roll gathering took place, planned and carried out by three interested mothers. More than twenty children came, with mothers and grandmothers. Singing; a Gospel talk by one of the Christian mothers; an Exhibit of books for children and the home; a cup of tea; it was a happy time.

The Mission Band in which a few of the older girls helped, met weekly and accomplished quite worth while results in their maps and in the collection of pictures of our work in Africa. For the Easter Thank-offering we invited friends of the W.M.S. Auxiliaries in the city and served a cup of tea. There was a presentation by the boys and girls of some scenes from our study book, "Mpengo's Village."

Under the guidance of the supervising minister, Rev. H. R. Ross, classes were conducted for boys and girls preparing for church membership; and in June in a very beautiful service eight of these young people united with the church.

Vacation Bible School filled two busy weeks in July. An encouraging feature was the splendid way in which some of our girls rose to the occasion and put themselves into the teaching. The older classes were again helped by our faithful Mrs. Quan. They did really splendid work—on a chart setting forth the Books of the Bible; on a small relief map of Palestine; on a model of the Temple. This model, constructed three or four years ago had fallen into ruin. We studied the story of Ezra and naming ourselves after Ezra and his band, we restored the Temple, and made it a building of which to be proud.

At the close of two weeks' sessions we presented a review of our lessons and work at the Sunday evening service when parents came to see and to hear. The talk was given by a visiting Sunday School leader, closing a good service.

The Women's Organization in its monthly meeting kept up their practise of a missionary offering and were interested when I told them of needs in Korea or work in Hong Kong. They sent a donation towards hospital supplies in Korea, and a similar one for work among the Chinese lepers in Hong Kong. An appreciative letter with pictures of the work came in return and the women did enjoy hearing directly what was being done with their money.

I loved visiting in the Chinese homes, and distributing some of the literature for which we are indebted to the Bible Society and to the Book Depot in Hong Kong. Bidding Good-bye to the Chinese and to this work, I like to think of the Chinese phrase which says to each, "You are in my heart."

FROM MISS GRACE NAMBA

Community Worker, Greenwood and Midway, B.C.

Every day fifty-one children of different nationalities such as Japanese, Doukhobors, French, Swedish and English, come together learning to live with one another through play, singing, games and prayers. The Greenwood kindergarten has grown very quickly and we have had to use the church proper for some of its activities. We have mothers' meetings at which many problems are discussed and solved through speakers such as the district nurse, the minister, the doctor, school teachers, the dentist and others. The children present programs regularly to show their progress. As soon as a child starts kindergarten she begins to come to Sunday School and Mission Band. Two capable Japanese assistants are helping me in the schools.

Our Sunday School, of which I am superintendent, is a great delight with its enrolment of 103 children, although some of our Japanese families have been moving away, but usually there are others coming to take their places. The children who have moved away write back to tell us how much they miss Sunday School and Mission Band, and we send papers and Christian literature to those who have no Sunday School connection.

Sunday and Mid-week Groups

This year I have been able with the help of our minister to start the Midway Sunday School again, with an average attendance of 24 children. Here we have also a prayer group that meets before or after Sunday School with the teachers. This has been a source of great inspiration and fellowship between the teachers and children.

Mid-week groups are carried on in both places. In Greenwood I have enlisted the help of the minister, who is quite an artist, and he gives an illustrated Bible study; another helper gives instruction in woodwork and other handicraft.

The new W.M.S. car granted to me this year has opened up greater work of visiting Japanese people through all the old relocation centres and adjoining cities. There are only a few left in some of the centres. In New Denver there is a strong Christian group who carry on a prayer meeting every Wednesday night with lay members in charge. In most families where I visit I have been able to leave Christian literature and in some we were able to have prayer and Bible reading.

In Cascade, Grand Forks, and Midway I have been able to have cottage meetings in the Japanese homes. Some Buddhist families have opened their homes also for these meetings. Sometimes we use film strips and slides, and we always have singing, Scripture and prayer. Rev. Mr. MacWilliams, Rev. Mr. Kobayama and Mr. Adams have greatly assisted with their help and messages. After one of Mr. Kobayama's meetings a group in Greenwood wanted to start a hymn singing evening, so we have met every Monday night since. At Christmas they sang a special Japanese carol in the English service. These meetings have launched out a little more and some of the men bring a chosen portion of Scripture plus a short commentary and now several of them lead in prayer; our minister sometimes gives a short Bible study which I interpret into Japanese.

This year I was able to purchase the Japanese translation of The Upper Room which I distributed to the Japanese. I have also been able to distribute Russian and Chinese Christian literature amongst the Doukhobors and Chinese.

Children, Girls and Women—All Active

Nearly a thousand pennies were dropped into the World Friendship Bank by the sixty-three little Chinese kindergarteners who form the Baby Band on Friday mornings. One afternoon each month mothers, some fathers, grandmothers and aunts gather to see the daily program of kindergarten and to hear the Christian message. Sixteen of these little children graduated in June and received their much-prized copies of the New Testament and their diplomas.

The Lin Fah and Sui Sin Fah C.G.I.T. groups met together this year to form a C.G.I.T. Department with an addition of two leaders Mrs. C. Fong and Miss Marion Lowe. One of the highlights of the year was the first Mother and Daughter banquet attempted by the girls. Almost every mother, many of them non-Christian attended. Our Chinese minister and our Presbyterian Secretary for C.G.I.T. gave very helpful addresses and a colorful re-affiliation service with candle-lighting was also held.

One of the service projects carried through by the girls was the painting, shellacking and pasting of pictures on picture boards to be hung in the Primary Department of the Sunday School. These boards were prepared by the young people of Canadian Memorial Church, who also made new tables for work for our Chinese Church and repaired others. Our Chinese people appreciated these friendly gestures very much.

The White Gift service was one of the happiest occasions of the year when parents and children of the Church School joined in a Family Service and came forward with their gifts to honor the birthday of the Christ child. Dr. G. Turpin gave a most challenging address. The attendance at the Women's Bible Class led by Mrs. S. F. Ricketts, who speaks the Cantonese dialect understood by the people here, has greatly increased as our new Canadian Chinese women have become interested. The older boys' classes of new Canadians have been a source of great satisfaction to all. It was a great joy to see some of these become members of our Church this year. A class of girls is now being prepared for Church membership. The Family Church Services continue to be held the last Sunday of each month and the children look forward eagerly to the Sunday that mother and father come to Church with them and in which they have a special part in the service.

The project begun a year ago with the older girls who have recently come from China is still flourishing. Dr. Lai Wong, a new Canadian herself, works with us in the group. The original plan of one hour of Bible study followed by handcraft and a cup of tea served by the girls in turn, still meets with approval. They call themselves "The Girls' Christian Fellowship."

The Bible study group for young Chinese English-speaking women continues to function, and we are grateful to Rev. W. E. Calloway for his work with us. The Christian fellowship throughout the Bible discussion and in the social hour afterwards, we believe, fills a real need amongst our Chinese women. The regularity in attendance is an indication of the interest of the members. These women accepted responsibility for a Christmas program at one of the Rest Homes for older people in the city, with the help of Miss Lottie McRae, Hospital Visitor.

Working Together

We began our year on a note of hope for we were witnessing the amalgamation of the English and Japanese congregations, the first of its kind in Canada. It was a high historic moment and even though afterwards we were discouraged at times over the seeming lack of progress, yet we feel thankful that such a good beginning has been made. It takes time for the hurdles of coming together to be overcome and minds and attitudes are not changed overnight. It is at the Communion service when the members of both races share the cup of Christ, given by the elders of both races, that one experiences the reality of our amalgamation.

Four of our C.G.I.T. graduates have gone on to further their education at university, in nurse's training and in teaching. It is one of the hopeful signs for humanity and for the witness of Canada throughout the world that our professions are accepting on an equal basis more and more of our Canadian citizens of Oriental and colored origin. Our work in the mission fields is to help these young people to brave the problems and difficulties which beset them, and assist them to go forth and make their contributions to Canada as citizens. Only thus can our Christian democracy be made effective and preach its gospel of brotherhood.

The United Church Nisei Fellowship in Vancouver has grown in strength and friendship to a remarkable degree. Under the leadership of Mr. Gordon Imai, a theological student, they have been conducting their own services twice monthly on Sunday evenings for serious thought-provoking discussions as well as in their weekly gatherings for educational, sports and social activities. They are an exceptional group that has developed in splendid understanding and gives great promise of better things. One of their members left recently for Japan and we feel that the influence of our Christian fellowship will go with her into her new life.

Our little Sunday School begun in June at a West Vancouver cannery has progressed well and normally. The high point was our Christmas session when the children themselves decorated and prepared for the event. The sense of participation made one feel again that the gospel of Christ is one of love and active sharing.

In calling among the new immigrants as among the Nisei, one is impressed more and more by the desire of all new Canadians to live among us as persons demanding our respect and our full acceptance of them in all walks of life. It is this very great need for respect and human dignity that we as followers of the Master must fill in their lives. One sees that need most evident in their language classes where real friendship is based on mutual understanding. At present there are Japanese, Chinese, Dutch, German immigrant boys and girls in attendance. We have a happy time learning and living together for it is only thus that we can hope to build a more Christian Canada.

A Working, Growing Church

I like to think of the year just closed as a good year in the work of our church, for there have been so many evidences of real progress. The spirit of cooperation and fellowship, shown by the different groups within the church, cannot be expressed in any report.

Of late I have been reflecting on the Church and its place in the community. I like to think of the Church as a beacon light to the community in which it stands, drawing people to its doors and guiding them into a knowledge of God's love for mankind.

I like to think of the Church as an out-going institution making its influence felt in the homes of the community; as a place to which people are drawn by the very warmth of its friendship; the place to which people love to come because their deepest needs are met there. I like the church building to be a building of which to be proud, clean, attractive, made beautiful because it is God's House. I like to think of each organization of the Church as part of a great orchestra with every instrument in perfect harmony, the Official Board, the Choir, the Sunday School, C.C.I.T., Y.P. groups and adult groups, each taking its part in the performance of a great symphony, the strains of which ascend straight to the Kingdom of Heaven.

As I look back on the year 1953, I rejoice because I believe that our church, the Chinese United Church, is truly a united church, and that it has lived up, in large measure to its privileges and opportunities. People have been guided to the church as is evidenced by increased membership; the church has been out-going through the message taken into the homes by Church members; there is a great fellowship within the church and people do love to come and share in this fellowship; the building is one of which to be proud, for it has been decorated by the members of the Young People's Fellowship who willingly sacrificed their holiday at Thanksgiving and part of their Christmas holidays as their contribution to the church; and the different organizations are working in perfect harmony, each doing its share to build up the life of the church.

Our church makes a unique contribution through its English classes for women and young men. We have classes twice each week in the afternoon for women and four classes each week at night for the young men. I have had a share in this important work for I feel that the presence of these new Canadians in our midst is a challenge to the Church. Already some of these women are regular attendants at the Church services and a Young Men's Bible Class meets every Sunday afternoon and some of the boys have also joined the choir of the church. Once each month the members of the church meet for prayer and fellowship. These meetings are usually held in the homes of the members and are a great source of inspiration. God has been working in this church through its members—and a working church is a growing church.

FROM MISS EUNICE L. PETERS

Community Worker, Chinese Christian Community Centre, Victoria, B.C.

I arrived here in September, 1952, having spent my previous missionary years in West China. I found here some delightful people within the church and they are still in it. I liked the group of Young People, from which the Sunday School leadership is still drawn. My work has been along three lines: I have participated in the Church activities, Sunday School, Y.P.U., W.M.S., choir, etc., and have been of use where possible to the new mid-week groups, Explorers, and Tyros, through the cooperation of Miss Grace Chow. The Church services are mostly in Cantonese, but our pastor occasionally gives me an opportunity to help at special services. He asked me to take charge of the Mothers' Day service. We made it Family Day with some parents and some children taking part. There was real interest shown and a good attendance resulted.

Teaching and Visiting

The second part of my work has been teaching. Five mornings a week have been given to kindergarten. The tots are a never-ending source of interest and delight, and children from three homes which have no Church connection are now attending Sunday School. The mother of one little girl also attends church because Leily insists upon being brought to Sunday School.

Another phase of teaching has been teaching English to newcomers to Canada. I have taught three evenings a week in the English Night School classes, organized by Rev. C. Y. Chow and held at our church. Besides this I have had students at the house by twos or threes for tutoring in the afternoons and otherwise free evenings. In the fall term I also had two students three mornings a week, in the kindergarten room of the church. This work, however, is not a work which can be built up nor one which has great continuity. Nevertheless, I think it important that these boys and girls should learn English. One cannot be a good citizen of any country without a knowledge of the language. Even more important do I consider these contacts with them in their early days in Canada. Friendliness, sympathy and a desire to help are attitudes that can be understood even before our words have meaning.

The third part of my work is visiting the sick. Two afternoons a week are reserved for this, but frequently the reservations are cancelled for meetings or other good and sufficient reason. I have been told that these visits are appreciated more than one would expect. Two patients from other towns, who went home from hospital several months ago and who should have forgotten me long before this, sent Christmas cards, one wishing that I was continuing to help the sick to know that God loves them. It is very humbling to receive such messages.

This year's Christmas was very wonderful. One of my white friends who attended the concert said that it was her "most real Christmas experience of this Christmas season. The nativity scene was truly beautiful and the singing and acting most reverent." The year ended with a gathering of about thirty young people here at our home. We had music and games until a few minutes before midnight. From then until after the hour we had a Watch Night Service. After this we had supper together. Perhaps the most extravagant gift I received was a ham—not a box of chocolates—a ham. I like chocolates, but with a ham you can serve a New Year's midnight feast, especially if your friend, Grace Chow provides sweet potatoes to go with it. So we began the New Year.

A Fellowship

As I report on our work in the Chinese Church, I feel that it is not a record of spectacular events, but rather of a fellowship—a closer Christian fellowship under the guidance of Jesus Christ.

In Nanaimo, Sunday School, church, the various age groups, kindergarten and English classes for new Canadians—all have gone along much the same as in other years. Evening Church services have been more encouraging as parents have become faithful attenders, Rev. C. Y. Chow, of Victoria, continued to visit and preach once a month. The boys and girls enjoyed the mission study on Africa and especially the letters from missionaries in Angola. They were enthusiastic about assisting in special services, helping with teas and other projects and overseas relief.

Extensive repairs and paintings were done to the church and Mr. David Thom carried out the canvass to raise our share of the expenses, which were divided among the W.M.S., the Home Mission Board and our Chinese Church people.

I have visited other points on the field and to some places like Duncan and Port Alberni. I went regularly for Mission Band and the Women's Group. July was the month for extra visiting at the outlying points for camp, and for another Vacation School for the village of Paldi.

I am grateful for the help of Nanaimo people and Church workers and leaders, but especially for the leadership of one of our own members, Miss Nellie Wong. It is an important and worthwhile work.

FROM MISS M. AGATHA COULTES

Community Worker,
Nanaimo, B.C.

It has been a delightful new experience moving among people of another race. The language barrier limits one, but there have been willing helpers at all the points to assist in the visiting with the non-English speaking people.

These first months have been taken up with re-organizing the different age groups and women's groups. Christmas proved to be a valuable time to get to know new people, and I am looking forward to the New Year with its opportunities for service in this part of God's vineyard.
