In Memoriam

When on that ancient world the truth broke clear
 That Jesus Christ had vanquished death,
 All life was changed for those who knew
 A Living Lord.
 No more was death a fearsome fact
 That brought a shadowy end to precious life;
 For Christ had made of death an entrance way
 To life that opens wide and deep and high,
 Illimitable, joyous, free, eternal in its destiny.
 Death was become a door to immortality.

MINUTES OF DOMINION BOARD 1958

THE THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE DOMINION BOARD OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board of The Woman's Missionary Society was held in Emmanuel College, Toronto, May 27th to June 3rd, 1958.

Dr. Dorothy E. Long, President, opened the first session, leading the Board members, and visitors who were present, in worship.

The Board was constituted and declared ready to carry on its business. Missionaries on furlough from overseas countries and from work in Canada were presented to the Board by the Chairman of the Overseas Missions Department and of the Home Mission Department. Students from other lands were presented to the Board by the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee. These guests of Board were all welcomed by the President.

Through her Presidential address, Dr. Long brought from the depth of her heart and mind, her thinking on the subject "Witnessing in the Christian Mission".

Seven new missionaries received appointments and were assured by the President of the continued support of the Woman's Missionary Society.

They were Miss Barbara Maxwell to India; Miss Edna Meader to Cold Lake, Alberta; Miss Elizabeth Gilchrist to Angola, Africa; Miss June Rothwell to Bonnyville, Alberta; Miss Marion Current to Korea; Miss Nancy Caverhill to Eriksdale, Manitoba; Miss Shirley Johnston to Northern Rhodesia, Africa.

A public Service of Worship was held on Wednesday evening May 28th in Trinity United Church. It took the form of "An Evening with our Missionaries". Once again all missionaries on furlough were introduced and presented, as well as all newly appointed missionaries and the young women from overseas studying in Canada under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society. Two missionaries spoke to the gathering. Miss Evelyn Mathews, Home Missionary on furlough, gave a lively description and left a vivid impression and alerted understanding of the task and challenge of a parish in Canada. The Reverend Amy Schaffler from Angola told of the African Church, of Christians there and of our shared mission with them.

A meaningful part of this service was the worship in music led by a group of choirs which in themselves represented the diversity of peoples in our land of Canada, who join in one faith and in a common worship. The regular church choir of Centennial United Church joined with the choir of the Japanese congregation to sing an anthem and to lead the congregational singing. Another choir of almost seventy voices was the Estonian mixed choir of Toronto which sang in Estonian under the leadership of Mr. Roman Toi.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 28th to June 30th, at the noon hour, the members of Board were led in worship by Mrs. J. D. H. Hutchinson, former principal of The United Church Training School.

The afternoon of Thursday, May 29th was given to the Report of the Year in Home Missions. Mrs. C. Maxwell Loveys gave an address which will long be remembered. Others who took part in the Home Mission Session were Miss Helen Mack, Home Missionary, who told of Church Extension Work; Mrs. Iris Daly Milton who spoke of the Sunday School in the Home by Mail and Air; and Miss Betty Bone who spoke on the work of Youth Caravaners.

The following afternoon, Friday May 30th, was given to the Report of the Year in Overseas Missions. Dr. Ruth Taylor, Overseas Missions Executive Secretary, gave the report for the year showing many changes and developments in overseas work and in the relationship our Canadian Church holds in it to the Churches which have become established in other lands. A panel of missionaries with Miss Wilna Thomas, Associate Missions Executive Secretary as its moderator, explained and illustrated the meaning of "Partners in Obedience", in various aspects of Christian work, in practical situations in many lands, as Christians of differing races respond together in obedience to God's mission.

On Friday morning, May 30th, a special session was held on "Our Task in Education". Miss R. Catherine McKeen presented the topic in a very challenging address. Discussion followed, at first in plenary session, and later in six conference groups when the topic "Our Task in Education" was considered specifically as it was related (1) to adult groups, (2) to young people and teen age groups, (3) to children.

The Annual Board Dinner was held on Monday evening, June 2nd. Greetings were brought from the Dominion Council of the Woman's Association, by Mrs. K. R. Rose; from the General Council Executive by Dr. Ernest E. Long; and from the Overseas Students by Miss Annamma Thomas. The President spoke of the valued services of several Board members who had retired and she paid tribute to them. Tribute was paid also to three missionaries who were retiring and pins representing their years of service were presented to them.

The Reverend Hilda Johnson of India was the guest speaker at the Board Dinner. She spoke to the Board about the growth of the Church in Central India.

Business Sessions of Board demanded earnest consideration of many important questions and issues. Many of these will be indicated in the record of Board Action which follows.

Visitors were welcome to all sessions of Board including all business sessions.

On Tuesday morning, June 3rd, the business was completed and the Board members, joined by many friends, gathered in Emmanuel College Chapel for the closing worship. Mrs. John McKillop led in a memorial service as those co-workers who had died during the year were remembered in gratitude. Dr. John Long, Associate Secretary of the Home Mission Board installed the officers for 1958-1959 and following the President's closing message, Dr. Long led in a Communion Service.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE

The following recommendations from Executive were adopted and the following action taken on general matters:

MEMORIALS REFERRED FROM 1957 ANNUAL MEETINGMemorial No. 1 (1957)—Re Regional Personnel Committee

That Executive be asked to continue to study the matter of expenses of Candidate Secretaries in relation to their wider duties and function to the end that the Candidate Secretaries will be strengthened in their relationships and effectiveness in Conference and Presbytery areas.

Memorial No. 4 (1957)—Re Mission Band Reports

That Mission Bands report both in June and in December.

Memorial No. 5 (1957)—Re Life Membership Certificates for Mission Band

Report: Memorial No. 5 (1957), will continue under study and will be acted upon at such time as the Life Membership Certificates for Mission Bands are being reprinted.

Memorial No. 7 (1957)—Re Baby Band Page in "World Friends"

That whereas the request made will be taken care of within the proposed increased pages in WORLD FRIENDS, therefore the Memorial be not sustained.

Memorial No. 8 (1957)—Re Women and Penal Reform

(1) That we urge that study be made of penal reform and the attention of the Board be directed (a) to the Government Report on Capital Punishment printed June 1956 and obtainable by writing to the Queen's Printer, Ottawa; and (b) to the Reports of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service "God's Will for Our Time, 1957" (pages 141-142) and "Darkness or Dawn, 1958" (pages 138-139) obtainable through the Literature Distribution Centre; (c) to other reports and material obtainable through such organizations as the Elizabeth Fry Society;

- (2) That we ask the Board of Evangelism and Social Service to continue to give time to the study of Penal reform for Women and to place women of the Church on any special Committees which may undertake a study under the Board of Evangelism and Social Service;
- (3) That the Home Organization Department continue to give directions to auxiliaries and other groups through programs and other materials, recognizing that this is a field of study and action requiring well informed and competent leadership; and
- (4) That we bring to the attention of the Dominion Council of the Woman's Association our concern in this matter and suggest parallel or co-operative study in W.A. and W.M.S. groups.

Memorial No. 9 (1957)—Re Study Books

Report: Preliminary information regarding the Mission Study Theme for the year and concerning the books, guides and other helps which will be available for it, is given through The Missionary Monthly as early as it is possible to make such announcement. The Theme appears in the May issue of The Missionary Monthly.

Very frequently the books and guides, most of which are not printed in Canada, cannot be made available for purchase before the end of May or early June. They are available in early summer and at the time of Schools for Leaders.

Experience has shown that the most effective promotion of the new study and new materials is done on the completion of the previous study rather than during the time it is still in progress.

Memorial No. 10 (1957)—Re 1959 Study Topic

Report: Although the Memorial was not sustained its intent was given consideration by Executive. Consultation was had with the Board of Information and Stewardship and it was found that a booklet was being prepared intended to give to the Church such information as this Memorial requested. The booklet entitled "Your Church" written by Dr. A. J. Wilson, is now available and is recommended to groups interested in learning of the work of the various Boards and Departments of the Church.

Filmstrips with narrative recordings are also being prepared on the same subject, and Sunday School Quarterlies include such a study of the work of the Church in their lessons. These materials are also recommended to interested groups.

Memorial No. 13 (1957)—Re Committee on Alcohol Education and

Memorial No. 14 (1957)—Re Alcohol Education Materials

(a) That we secure from the Board of Evangelism and Social Service and make available twice a year in regular circulation materials, selected leaflet material in quantity enough to supply not only Conference Branch and Presbyterial Citizenship Secretaries with copies of the most recent material but when possible Auxiliary Secretaries as well;

(b) That we plan a series of articles for The Missionary Monthly with as positive an approach as possible to the question of Alcohol Education and make these articles known to other groups wishing to use them, and that some of these articles take account of the findings of the Bracken Report;

(c) That we inform the Conference Branches that in situations where a major educational effort is being proposed in co-operation with other groups within the Church, specific requests for financial assistance in distributing materials may be directed to Dominion Board;

(d) That Conference Branches be encouraged to suggest writers competent to deal with this field and to recommend materials found by them to be particularly helpful in women's groups;

(e) That in view of the fact that The United Church of Canada has asked a commission to make a special study of this question, and that other groups and Boards are also concerned about the issue and involved in responsibility for temperance education among adults, no independent action by women such as that implied in the memorial be recommended at the present time;

(f) That joint committees of women of the Woman's Missionary Society and the Woman's Association dealing with Alcohol Education alone be not set up by Dominion Board and Conference Branch, that this topic continue to be stressed as one phase of Citizenship Education for which Citizenship Departments in both W.A. and W.M.S. are responsible;

(g) That when any special action in addition to an ongoing program of education is contemplated in any Branch, there be direct consultation with other groups directly concerned such as the Conference committees on Evangelism and Social Service and the Provincial Temperance Federations.

Memorial No. 17 (1957)—Re Visitation of Mental Hospital Patients

That, whereas it is the considered opinion of the Executive that the visitation of patients in mental hospitals or former patients of mental hospitals being re-integrated needs specially trained people; and

Whereas this type of visiting is included in principle in the general duties of the Auxiliary Community Friendship Secretary as set out on page 197 of Facts and Figures in the By-Laws of the Society, and should not be emphasized particularly as a work that any and all Auxiliary members can do;

Therefore in implementing Memorial No. 17 we make mention of this matter in the revision of the leaflet for Community Friendship Secretaries and in Missionary Monthly articles.

ACTION OF EXECUTIVE RATIFIED

Re Annual Report

That for 1958 there be printed 3,500 copies of Facts and Figures at a charge for production of $7,976.00, and 4,000 copies of Missionaries Reporting at a charge for production of $4,150.00.

Re Special Objects—Younger Groups

That Special Objects for 1958-59 be:

For Primary Mission Bands

Port Work at Halifax and Montreal
The Work of Miss Margaret Martin
No financial objective.

For Junior Mission Bands

Sunday School in the Home by Mail and Air
The Work of Miss Mabel Brandow, Trinidad

Total objective $14,000.00

RECOMMENDATIONS BROUGHT FORWARD FROM EXECUTIVE

Re Residence for Retired Missionaries—Future Policy

(Matter referred from 1957 Board Meeting)

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS

REPORT: The sale of the Residence for retired missionaries, 508 Jarvis St. Toronto, was negotiated during the summer of 1957 and was completed in September. At the end of September missionaries who had lived at the Residence were moved to other dwelling places. Furniture belonging to the Residence was stored. A Questionnaire was sent to all retired missionaries seeking their opinion regarding their future needs.

At the same time and during the course of considering what might be future policy with regard to residence for retired missionaries there came to the Executive the thought that co-operation with the Church in this matter might help toward a solution. Consequently informal discussions were had with Officers of the Department of Pensions which is responsible for the project at Beamsville, Ontario, which provides residence for retired ministers and other Church workers. Consultation was also had with Officers of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service regarding the Homes for Senior Citizens operated by the Church.

It was learned that there were already some hopes that the Beamsville project might be expanded to include, in addition to the present cottages for couples a central residence which could provide a variety of accommodation and services for couples or single persons. During the year the Department of Pensions was granted the authority to solicit funds from private individuals to meet the cost of erecting and furnishing such a building. The Department of Pensions was also authorized to negotiate with the Woman's Missionary Society as to terms and conditions under which the Woman's Missionary Society might co-operate in the project.

As a result, the following recommendations were approved by the Executive of Dominion Board and are brought forward to this Board Meeting in order that they may be ratified or changed, but in any case, that the Executive of the coming year may proceed in the matter, following the wishes of this Board and with the authorization of this Board.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Re Future Plans and Policy

WHEREAS the discontinuance of the residence for retired missionaries at 508 Jarvis St., Toronto, and the sale of the building, has left a responsibility, on the part of the Society, for those who were in residence; and has left a question of future plans and policy in the whole matter of provision of residence for retired missionaries, which future plans must be finalized by September, 1958; and

WHEREAS study of the problem involved in meeting present responsibilities and in forming future plans, has led to consultation with those of the Church Boards concerned in the wider aspect of the same question in the Church; and

WHEREAS the desirability and advantage of co-operation with the Church in this matter have become increasingly apparent; therefore Recommend: That we inquire of the Department of Pensions, which has responsibility for the Church's project at Beamsville, Ontario, as to the possibility of our Society co-operating in the Beamsville project in a way which would assure retired, single women of the Church who have served under appointment by the Woman's Missionary Society, the opportunity of finding residence at Beamsville in their retirement; and further

That should this suggestion commend itself to the Department of Pensions, we would ask the Department of Pensions to allow us to explore with them the possibility of a joint venture in a residence for single people providing a variety of accommodation, including provision for an infirmary; and that should a joint venture seem practicable our Society would be prepared to contribute a capital sum, and the furnishings of the former residence at 506 Jarvis St., and would desire membership on the administrative body of such a residence, and participation in policy regarding admissions and other matters.

Re Proceeds of Sale of Residence at 506 Jarvis St., Toronto

WHEREAS plans for the future residence for retired missionaries are fluid and whereas the possibility of co-operation with the Church is being explored; therefore Recommend: That the proceeds of the sale of the residence at 506 Jarvis St. be held pending completion of the study of future policy and plans for residence for retired missionaries.

Re Representation of the Woman's Missionary Society on the Committee of the Department of Pensions on the Extension of the Beamsville Project.

Recommend: That we comply with the request from the Department of Pensions that two representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society be named to the Committee of the Department of Pensions concerned with the plans for the extension of the Beamsville Project and that Mrs. E. E. Long and Mrs. G. M. Chesney be named as the Woman's Missionary Society representatives.

Re Further Study of Retiral Allowance for Missionaries and of Scales of Salaries

Continuance of Study

That the review of salaries of Missionaries be deferred until the Spring of 1959 when the review of the Retirement Fund will be made, and that the Committee making the study of the whole question of pensions and retiral annuities be asked to give prior attention to the question of equalizing the annuities for missionaries before age seventy and after age seventy;

Salaries of Missionaries in Northern Rhodesia

That in view of the higher cost of living in the Copperbelt towns as compared with rural areas in Angola, salaries of W.M.S. missionaries in Northern Rhodesia be increased to a minimum of $1,500 with an annual increase of $100 to a maximum of $1,700, this to be effective from January 1st, 1959.

Residence and Rent—Home Missionaries

That a Home Missionary be paid her full salary, allowing her to make her own living arrangements, but where the Society has a residence in which a missionary will live, the amount paid in the area for similar accommodation be a charge on the missionary, the amount of rent to be determined by the Home Missions Committee in consultation with the Advisory Committee.

Re Appointment of Field Secretary

That Miss Marion Thomson be appointed as Field Secretary for the work done by the Home Organization Department, her duties as Field Secretary to begin September 8th, 1958, and that Miss Thomson retain her missionary standing in connection with the Home Mission Department, but that provision for salary, and responsibility for direction in connection with her duties for her next term of service be with the Home Organization Department.

Miss Marion Thomson has been a missionary of the Society since 1950 when she was appointed to work in Canada. Prior to becoming a missionary Miss Thomson was a school teacher and had six years of teaching experience.

Following her first term of missionary service Miss Thomson spent her furlough year at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, working toward the completion of a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Re "World Friends" Publication

That, on an experimental basis, beginning with October issue 1958, and with a view to publishing 10 issues annually, "WORLD FRIENDS" magazine be enlarged by eight additional pages in each issue; and

That, beginning 1959, July and August be months when the magazine is not published; and further

That this experiment be reviewed at the end of two years.

Re-Qualification and Requirements for Missionary Candidates

That Qualifications and Requirements for missionaries be revised with respect to the missionary nurse serving in Canada; and

That academic and professional qualifications for the missionary nurse in Home Mission hospitals be as follows: preferably Senior Matriculation, but in any case not less than Junior Matriculation, with graduation from an accredited School of Nursing and registration in one provincial nurses' Association.

Re Date of Commencement of Salaries for New Missionaries

That newly appointed missionaries be placed on salary as from the date of appointment at Dominion Board Annual Meeting;

That for Home Missionaries salary be according to the scale of salary for newly appointed Home Missionaries; and

That for Overseas Missionaries salary be at furlough rate between the date of appointment and date of sailing, after which time it be according to the scale of salary for Overseas Missionaries.

Re Archives of the Woman's Missionary Society

That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society place its records and archival materials with the Archives of the Church being kept in Victoria University, Toronto.

Re Addition of "Treasurer" to the Directory in "Facts and Figures"

That the Treasurer's name and address be added to the list of Officers of Auxiliaries and Mission Circles printed in the directory in "Facts and Figures."

Re Affiliation of Explorer Groups and C.G.I.T.

That whereas some Explorer and C.G.I.T. Groups contribute to the Woman's Missionary Society but do not do any mission study and do not report to the Presbyterian Secretary, and whereas such Groups have heretofore been listed in "Facts and Figures" along with Affiliated Groups, Explorer and C.G.I.T. Groups that contribute to the Woman's Missionary Society but do not meet other requirements for Affiliation, be not listed as Affiliated Groups, but be listed under a separate heading such as "Explorer (C.G.I.T.) Groups Not Affiliated but Making Donations to the Society."

Re Leadership Training—Younger Groups

That Conference Branches be urged to implement the action of Dominion Board, in 1955 Re Conferences With Leaders of Younger Groups "That Conference Branches be encouraged to undertake training conferences in Missionary Education for leaders of Younger Groups and for departmental secretaries, if and when there seems to be a special need for strengthening a particular phase of our work; and that such conferences be projected with the understanding that requisition may be made for financial help when such projects prove to be necessary or desirable at times other than the times set for Schools for Leaders or Presbyterian annual meetings."

Re Mission Band Organizations

That Presbyterials make a study to discover why, although so many new Mission Bands are formed, so many others disband each year.

Re Leadership Training—Adult Groups

That more Leadership Training ventures be attempted in the Presbyterials particularly, taking into account the possibilities in conferences of Federation Presidents, Coaching Conferences for Officers, together with the fact that the services of a Field Secretary may be made available next year.

Re Women at Work Outside the Home

That Executive be asked to initiate a study of the place in the life of the Church and of the Woman's Missionary Society of the women at work outside the home.

Re Joint Committee with the Board of Home Missions

That we seek to comply with the request to set up a joint committee with the Board of Home Missions to discuss matters of Home Mission concern as related to the future of women's work in the Church; and...

That the representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society be the President, the General Secretary, the Home Mission Executive Secretary, the...

Associate Missions Executive Secretary, the Chairman of the Home Mission Committee and Mrs. J. Erle Jones;

That we take steps to have the study of the future of Home Missions become a study under the General Council.

Re Policy of Awarding Scholarships

Recommend: That the policy in awarding scholarships be as follows:

Purpose

That we accept as the purpose of the Woman's Missionary Society Scholarship program the strengthening of the development of Christian leadership in all the various phases of the work of the Church in Canada and in countries overseas.

Canadian Scholarships

That scholarships of bursaries shall be awarded to residents of Canada on the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee. That applications for scholarships be forwarded to the Associate Missions Executive Secretary by April 1st of the year in which the scholarship is to be awarded, the application to be accompanied by three recommendations, a medical report and the academic record. Before the application is considered by the Scholarship Committee it will be referred to the Conference Branch Advisory Committee concerned for its consideration and recommendation.

One purpose of these scholarships is to assist young women primarily of non-Anglo-Saxon background who would not otherwise have the opportunity to fit themselves to better serve the fields of education, nursing or evangelism. The understanding is that while we would hope that such young women might be employed by the Church or a Church-related institution, we do not assume that such employment need necessarily be provided or accepted.

A second purpose of these scholarships is to assist, for a period not exceeding one year, mature young women, who, in the course of their previous education have not completed the qualifications which are necessary for intended full-time professional Christian service and who show promise of being able to make a contribution to the work and witness of the Church. The understanding is that neither recipients of such scholarships nor The Woman's Missionary Society are obligated to accept or provide employment when the training is complete. However, the granting of these scholarships does depend upon the expressed intention of the applicants to secure the necessary educational qualifications for full-time work in the Church and to enter into such professional service upon completion of training either under the Woman's Missionary Society or in some other phase of professional Church work.

Overseas Scholarships

That in view of the fact that Scholarships for study abroad are now available under a variety of auspices and in order to implement our defined purpose of strengthening the development of Christian leadership for all the various phases of the work of the Church, students who are on W.M.S. scholarships be representatives of the Churches with which we co-operate or of the Christian institutions with which we have a relation in their respective countries and be definitely preparing for leadership and service in the Church or in related Christian institutions upon their return.

That scholarships and bursaries of two types be recognized:

1. For study within each student's home country.
2. For study in Canada, and in other countries abroad, for those whose interests and abilities warrant this further training.

That qualifications and conditions for granting scholarships and bursaries be as follows:

1. For study in each country, to be determined by the appropriate body appointed by the Church in that area or by the administrative authority of a Christian institution with which we have a relation, in harmony with the purpose set forth above.
2. For study abroad on the recommendation of the appropriate body appointed by the Church in each country or on the recommendation of the appropriate administrative authority of a Christian institution with which we have a relation. This recommendation involves a two-fold commitment—the recommending Church or institution commits itself to the employment of the candidate in the type of position for which training is recommended and the candidate commits herself to take up this work when training has been completed. It is understood that scholarships for study overseas will be granted in general when there is no comparable course available in that country.

That the following requirements for study abroad be recognized:

1. Christian commitment and Church membership.
2. Personal maturity and capacity to profit from the experience of study abroad.
3. A satisfactory medical report.
4. College or university graduation or equivalent professional training in countries where such is available.
5. A competent knowledge of the language, usually English, in which the study will be undertaken.
6. The appropriate qualifications for the course desired.
7. Professional experience in that area in which study is to be done and a clear understanding of the type of training desired, so that it may be related to the work to be done upon return.
8. Normally, scholarships will be awarded for one or two years, extensions of this period to be only in exceptional circumstances, at the request of the particular Church or institution which is involved and on the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee.
9. Applications should be on a specific form, accompanied by three recommendations, medical report and academic record and should be in the hands of the Associate Missions Executive Secretary by November 1st of the year previous to that in which the scholarship will be granted.

Re Draft Report of the Commission to Study the Integration of Administration of Overseas Work

That the preparation of comments and suggestions concerning this report be referred to the Executive.

Re Draft Report of the Commission to Study the Work of Women in the Church

That the preparation of comments and suggestions concerning this report be referred to the Executive.

Re Recommendations of General Council Executive Concerning Proposed Inter-Board Committee on Recruiting

That the preparation of comments and suggestions concerning proposed Inter-Board Committee for Recruiting be referred to Executive.

Re By-Laws*Dominion Board By-Law II paragraph (c) re Executive Committee*

That Dominion Board By-Law II paragraph (c) be revised to read:

"It shall conduct the business of the Society during the year as outlined in articles 8 and 9 of the Constitution. It shall have power to fill any vacancies which may occur between annual meetings after receiving the report of the Nominating Committee."

Dominion Board By-Law XL—Office Advisory Committee

That the concluding phrase "... such as holidays, salaries ..." be omitted and the sentence end with the clause "... whose duty it shall be to consider and advise regarding any matters pertaining to the efficiency of the office administration."

Dominion Board By-Law XLI (b)—Advisory Committees

That in order to bring Dominion Board By-Law No. XLI(b) as it defines the relationship of Candidate Secretaries to the Advisory Committees in line with the By-Laws on the duties of Conference Branch Candidate Secretaries, the phrase "... after receiving a candidate's reference papers ..." be changed to read "... after receiving from the Dominion Board Candidate Committee a candidate's application she shall present it ..."

Dominion Board By-Law XLV (D) Legitimate Expenses Advisory Committee

That the words "... the reference papers of a candidate ..." be changed to read "... the application of a candidate ..." in accordance with the duties of Conference Branch Candidate Secretaries as defined in Conference Branch By-Laws.

Auxiliary By-Law XII—Supply Secretary

That attention of Executive should be drawn to discrepancies in directions for Supply Secretaries between those printed in Auxiliary By-Law XII, and the leaflet for Secretary of Supply and those printed in the leaflet "You Should Know—about Legitimate Expenses" and further that By-Law XII for Auxiliary Supply Secretary read as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Supplies to have oversight of the work of this Department, to make plans for the filling of requests for supplies which she shall or may receive from the Presbyterial Supply Secretary. She shall arrange various ways and means of raising money for the purpose of securing necessary materials and of meeting the expense of shipping, such as donations. She shall place all such moneys with the Auxiliary Treasurer for entry in her books, to be drawn in the amounts necessary for the costs incidental to supply work. Any unexpended amount shall be applied to the money allocation of the Auxiliary."

Auxiliary By-Laws XXIII Legitimate Expenses

That a note be added to Auxiliary By-Law XXIII on Legitimate Expenses as follows:

Note: See Auxiliary By-Law XII for method of covering expenses incidental to the work of the Supply Secretary.

Committee on Constitution and By-Laws

That the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws be empowered to proceed with the revision and framing of By-Laws in accordance with action taken by this Annual Meeting of Dominion Board.

RECOMMENDATION FROM EXECUTIVE COVERING HOME MISSIONS

Re Recruiting Needs for Home Mission Work

WHEREAS the increase in new centres across Canada makes demands on our Board for trained Christian Education leadership to assist in establishing the Church, and

WHEREAS the requests made to our Society for Christian Education workers to set up the Christian Education program in Adult, Young People's and Children's Work cannot be met because of our shortage of missionaries, and

WHEREAS our larger cities are having an increase in population, due to the incoming people from other countries, and our work needs to be strengthened in settlements, Church of All Nations and other Home Mission institutions, and

WHEREAS we are strengthening our Medical Work by the erection of two new hospitals, and

WHEREAS staff has decreased to one-half its number in 20 years, therefore Be It Recommended that the recruiting for workers in Home Missions be a major concern to every member of our Society and that our needs be stressed in every area of our work, pointing out our needs for the next three years as follows:

3 Matrons for Boarding Schools

4 Staff Members for Indian Residential School

18 Christian Education Community Workers

25 Hospital Staff—(2 Superintendents, 2 Administrators and 21 Nurses)

Re Constitution—Committee of Missionaries of the Council of the Evangelical Churches of Central Angola

That, subject to certain minor amendments in wording, the following Constitution of the Committee of Missionaries of the Council of the Evangelical Churches of Central Angola be approved:

CONSTITUTION OF THE COMMITTEE OF MISSIONARIES OF THE COUNCIL OF THE EVANGELICAL CHURCHES OF CENTRAL ANGOLA

Membership

The Committee of Missionaries shall be made up of all missionaries and associated missionaries appointed by the Boards.

Functions

The Committee of Missionaries shall supervise personal matters that are not directly the concern of the indigenous Church.

1. The School for Missionary Children.
2. Health.
3. Recommendations re salaries and length of term of service.
4. Housing and basic furniture as per policy of the Boards.
5. Transportation on the field as agreed by the Boards.
6. Transportation en route home for furlough as approved by the Board's policy.
7. Nominate persons for appointment to meetings in U.S.A. and Canada when required.
8. Appoint six persons to represent the Boards on the General Assembly of the Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola.
9. An important function of this Committee shall be to arrange periodic retreats for the enrichment of spiritual life and examination and possible reappraisal of our missionary service.

Meetings

The President of the Committee of Missionaries shall call a meeting at least once a year at a time and place to be decided by the Executive. A quorum shall consist of half the missionaries on the field at the time of the meeting.

Executive

The Executive shall consist of:

The President who shall call and preside over all meetings of the Committee and its Executive.

The Vice-President who shall call and preside over all meetings of the Committee and its Executive in the absence of the President.

The Secretary who shall take minutes of all meetings of the Committee and its Executive and carry on all correspondence within the terms of reference of the Committee.

Three Corresponding Secretaries who shall correspond with the Home Boards.

The Three Treasurers who shall receive from the Home Boards all the money for the payment of expenses competent to the Committee and administer it according to the decisions of the Committee.

A Member at Large who shall attend meetings of the Executive and vote on all matters.

The election of officers shall be held at the meeting the following June of each year.

Committees

Committees to treat of the various responsibilities within the function of the Committee of Missionaries shall be appointed at the annual meeting. They shall have such power to act as shall be assigned them from year to year. All Committees shall consist of at least three members.

The Chairman who shall call all meetings and preside over them.

The Secretary who shall carry on the correspondence of the Committee, take minutes of all meetings of the Committee.

The Treasurer who shall keep an account of all money spent by the Committee and present a financial report to the annual meeting.

The Committee shall include: (1) Housing Committee, (2) Basic Furniture, (3) Car Committee, (4) School Board.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE COVERING FINANCE

The following items are presented for information:

Re Grants from Property Account

The total payments in 1957 covering grants from Property Account were $265,156.23. Of this amount $174,525.93 was for Overseas Missions and $90,630.30 for Home Missions. Included in the Home Missions grants was $8,414.18 from Ruddy Estate, designated for Burns Lake, also the amount of $70,772.05 paid towards the new John Neil Hospital, Cold Lake, Alberta.

Re Gifts for Building Advance in 1956

The objective in 1956 was $65,000.00. Of this amount only $62,490.72 was subscribed. This amount was not available for expenditure until 1957. Disbursement has been made as follows:

	Objective	Amount Raised	Amount Expended
School Bus, Indore, India	$ 6,000.00	$ 5,616.15	$ 5,616.15
Radio and TV Programs	10,000.00	10,000.00	10,000.00*
Girls' High School, Kofu, Japan	20,000.00	17,906.95	17,906.95
Scholarships	9,000.00	9,000.00	9,000.00
Girls' High School, Korea	20,000.00	19,967.62	†

* Paid to Board of Information and Stewardship.

† Plans for the schools in Korea had changed. Dominion Board action transferred $19,967.72 to proposed new hospital, Wonju, Korea.

RECOMMENDATIONS APPROVED

Re "Gifts for Building Advance" in 1959

That we continue the Policy of "Gifts for Building Advance" in 1959 and set the objective at $65,000.00, with the understanding that the total amount of allocation sent to each Conference Branch plus the estimated Conference Branch Legitimate Expenses be allocated to the Presbyterials, and that the total allocation sent to each Presbyterial plus estimated Presbyterial Legitimate Expenses be allocated to the local organizations.

Re Audio-Visual Van

That the amount of $5,616.15 for the Indore School Bus, granted from 1956 Gifts for Building Advance, be transferred to cover the W.M.S. share in the purchase of an Audio-Visual Van for Malwa Church Council—any balance remaining to be applied on the purchase of new W.M.S cars for Central India.

Re Legitimate Expenses of Dominion Board Executive Officers

That Dominion Board By-Law XLIV be reworded to read: "The Legitimate Expenses of Board officers shall be—postage, stationery, telegrams and cables, stenographic help, sundry expenses as defined by Executive. Incidental expenses of the Executive as a body may be paid at the will of the Executive."

Re Deposit—Trans-Canada Air Lines

That an amount of $400.00 be placed on deposit with Trans-Canada Air Lines, on an experimental basis, to enable the Society to obtain preferential service in the securing of and payment for air tickets.

Re Excess Baggage

That, in Canada, excess baggage to the amount of 350 lbs. be allowed Home Missionaries in addition to the 150 lbs. allowed by Transportation Companies.

Re Clarification of Board Action—May, 1956, re Unused Property Grants

That, as of January 1, 1957, all unused Property grants revert to Property account after three years from date of grant.

Re Actuarial Evaluation of Retirement Fund

That in accordance with Art. XI of the Retirement Fund Constitution, an actuarial evaluation of the Retirement Fund be authorized, report to be brought to the Annual Meeting 1959.

Re Pensions—Lay Supply

That the Lay Supply employed by the Society and wishing standing on the Lay Employees' Retirement Plan be placed there, and that the Society assume responsibility for the employer's share of payments into the Plan.

Re Pension Arrangements for Ordained Women Missionaries

(1) Relating to the action taken by Executive in April of 1955 concerning payment of 7 per cent. of $2,400.00 per year as the employer's assessment on the Pension Fund of the Church for each of the Society's ordained women, that we recognize the new regulations of The United Church of Canada, authorized in November, 1957, whereby the minimum salary on which annual employer assessments must be paid to the Pension Fund of the Church is 7 per cent. of $3,000.00 and now approve payment of employer assessments at this new rate, effective January 1, 1958.

(2) Because the salaries of the ordained women missionaries are less than $3,000.00, recommend that the Society assume responsibility for payment of employee assessments over and above the assessments on their salary.

Re Guaranteed Annuity Plan

WHEREAS the Guaranteed Annuity Plan of The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada as approved by Dominion Board 1930 reads:

"That The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada adopt, advertise and put in operation a Guaranteed Annuity Plan, on the same basis as that of the General Council of the Church, by which The Woman's Missionary Society may, on behalf of any of its Funds, receive benefactions and pay interest on the same during the life-time of the donor, provided that on the donor's death the money becomes the property of The Woman's Missionary Society for its general benefit, or for the benefit of the particular Fund designated by the donor, without further obligations on the part of The Woman's Missionary Society; and that a suitable Bond for payment of such interest be given to the donor by The Woman's Missionary Society, or by the Church for The Woman's Missionary Society."

Recommend That the action now taken replace that of Dominion Board 1930 as follows: That The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada adopt, advertise and operate a Guaranteed Annuity Plan on the same basis as that of the General Council of the Church by which The Woman's Missionary Society, on behalf of any of its funds, may receive benefactions and pay an annuity on same during the life-time of the donor, provided that, at the donor's death, the balance remaining shall be credited generally or for the particular fund designated by the donor; and that a suitable Bond for payment of such annuity be given to the donor by The Woman's Missionary Society, or by the Church for The Woman's Missionary Society.

Re Scale of Salaries for Salaried Officers

That Scale of Salaries for Salaried Officers be fixed at a minimum of $4,000.00 and a maximum of $4,500.00 per annum, with an annual increase of $100.00 for each full year of service with the Society; that those with five years of service or more, be placed at the maximum, those under five years be given recognition at the rate of $100.00 a year for each year of service; this scale to become effective January 1, 1959.

That the Editor of "World Friends," being a part-time worker, but giving more than half-time service, receive salary on the basis of three-fifths of the scale of salary for salaried officers, effective January 1, 1959.

Re Auditors for 1958

That we appoint as our Auditors for 1958, P. S. Ross & Sons, Chartered Accountants.

Re Estimates for 1959

That the amount available for 1959 Estimates be $1,360,000.00, of which $397,000.00 be allocated for Home Missions, $598,000.00 for Overseas Missions, and $365,000.00 for all other Estimates.

That the amount over the 1957 income required to set up the Estimate of $1,360,000.00 be met from Current Reserve.

Re Home Missions Estimates

That the Home Missions Estimates for 1959 be as follows:

Re Allocations for Conference Branches for 1959

(1) That the amount allocated to Conference Branches for 1959 be the same as the allocations for 1958—$1,360,000.00.

(2) That the amount allocated to Conference Branches be as follows:

Alberta	$ 61,418.00
Bay of Quinte	133,800.00
British Columbia	69,449.00
Hamilton	175,512.00
London	202,232.00
Manitoba	94,616.00
Maritime	145,070.00
Montreal and Ottawa	142,537.00
Newfoundland	12,850.00
Saskatchewan	71,884.00
Toronto	245,632.00
	$1,360,000.00

The acceptance of the allocation as a sacred privilege and responsibility is essential that the maintenance of our total work be sustained. To go forward depends on the continuance of Gifts for Building Advance. Therefore, it must be safeguarded by the following:

- There should be no unallocated amounts allowed to remain in the Conference Branch.
- All Finance Committees of Conference Branches should make adequate allowance in their budgets for all necessary expenses of their Branch, so that amounts remitted to Dominion Board be not less than the allocations above mentioned.

- (c) As proven in the past, proportionate and systematic giving is the most worthy method of our Missionary Finance and should therefore be encouraged.
- (d) Conference Branches should give all possible assistance and encouragement to Presbyterials that they may reach and exceed their allocation in order to have the satisfaction of contributing toward "Gifts for Building Advance."

REPORT OF THE CONFERENCE OF MISSIONARIES

We, the missionaries attending the 32nd annual meeting of Dominion Board, wish to express our sincere thanks for the privilege of being guests of the Board on this occasion and sharing in its deliberations and in its fellowship as together we endeavour to meet the challenge of witnessing in the Christian Mission of the Church.

We are grateful for the support which the Society as a whole gives us, both collectively and in a more personal way as we are remembered in prayer by our prayer partners, both individually and in their groups.

Deputation Work

We would draw attention to the recommendations regarding deputation work of the Conference of missionaries of 1956 and 1957 and to the section regarding deputation work of the Agenda—Report of Executive—(page 5).

We recommend:

1. That for the purpose of making over-all and long term plans the Committee planning deputation work give time to special study of the needs for deputation work in Canada and the capabilities of different missionaries on furlough.

2. That a survey be made of the ways that missionary speakers are being used. This should be done on the Branch, Presbyterial and local levels and should seek to discover how many missionary speakers have been used in the past year, how often they have been used for Church services, Auxiliary meetings, for rallies, for youth groups, for interdenominational gatherings, or for outreach into schools (elementary and High schools, nursing schools, teachers' colleges), radio, TV, etc. We would further recommend that for the next year the areas which have not had missionary speakers be given priority.

3. That the Auxiliaries be urged to prepare their own programs with the study materials and to use missionary speakers only for special events (special events to include other Church and community groups).

4. That the possibility of using teams be explored:

(a) teams of home and overseas missionaries.

(b) teams of people (missionaries and others) who can meet different age groups.

(c) interdenominational teams.

5. That we urge that there be consultation between Branch and Presbyterials in the arranging of dates for annual meetings and sectional rallies so that the maximum use can be made of the missionaries available for such meetings. We further urge that there be greater co-operation between Conference Branch and Conference and between Presbyterial and Presbytery in the matter of arranging meetings.

6. That in view of the special need for presenting the work of missions to younger groups those with particular gifts for speaking to youth groups or to children be used specially and widely for these groups.

7. That provision be made for all missionaries to have opportunity to attend a conference of missionaries on furlough with the following purpose:

- (a) through a sharing of experiences to gain a greater understanding of needs and opportunities in the different areas.
- (b) to gain an understanding of the current situation and trends of thought in the Church in Canada.
- (c) to consider the emphases and purposes of our presentation of the Mission of the Church to groups in Canada.
- (d) to consider methods of presentation to different types of groups.

8. That all missionaries be asked to make an evaluation of their deputation work and that Presbyterials etc. be asked to make an evaluation of the deputation work done in their areas in order to assist the committee planning deputation work.

9. That missionaries be required to report speaking engagements accepted in the Metropolitan areas in order that records can be kept which will enable a person invited to speak to a group in a particular congregation to find out how many missionaries have spoken in that Church in recent months.

Furlough Study

Reiterating the requests of the past two years for further information regarding suitable courses available for furlough we recommend that:

Whereas the Studies Committee of the United Church Training School has a record of, or has access to a record of the academic standing of all W.M.S. missionaries, and

Whereas the Studies Committee of the United Church Training School has information, or is in a position to secure information concerning courses available in educational institutions both on this continent and overseas,

The Studies Committee of the United Church Training School be asked to prepare a list of courses suitable for furlough study and that such a list be made available to all missionaries through the Joint Committee on Furlough Studies approximately one year before the date on which the missionaries are coming on furlough, and that, to facilitate the preparation of such a list, the reports of missionaries who have completed furlough study be made available to the Training School staff.

Recruiting

We recommend Hamilton Conference Branch for the excellent work of recruiting done by its Candidate Secretary in having Church work presented interdenominationally in High Schools as a regular part of Vocational Guidance courses (see recommendation of Conference of Missionaries to Dominion Board, 1956) and recommend that this method be carried out more widely in High Schools in Canada, making use of missionaries on furlough and other professional Church workers who may be available.

Orientation Courses for Home Missionaries

Whereas it is the policy of the Executive of Dominion Board to provide orientation courses for missionaries under appointment to overseas fields immediately following their appointment, and whereas home missionaries feel the need for similar courses upon their appointment to specialized fields such as Indian work, Social Service work, etc. we recommend that the Home Missions Committee be asked to consider the possibility of arranging for such courses.

Salaries

The missionaries here present, on behalf of all whom they represent, wish to express their sincere gratitude to the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society for the generous raise in salaries for Home Missionaries and for Overseas Missionaries on furlough. We deeply appreciate also the concern for our comfort and welfare which prompted you to raise field salaries as well. Noting that further increases are to be considered next year, the overseas missionaries at present on furlough wish to make the following requests:

1. That when a field is consulted regarding increases in field salary that, where rising cost of living necessitates a raise, such shall be granted as soon as possible without any comparison with other fields in which such is not the case. We deeply regret any feeling of embarrassment which may be felt by some because of differences in salaries in different fields.
2. That when a field consulted regarding further increases in field salary expresses an opinion that no increase should be granted, we respectfully request that the opinion of the field should be accepted as these decisions are reached after serious discussion by those who know the problems on the field.
3. That when it is recognized by home missionaries and others living in Canada that furlough salaries need to be increased, we gratefully accept whatever decision is reached by those who know the circumstances and the cost of living here in Canada.
4. That whenever possible, without prejudicing the maintenance budgets, we would appreciate any steps which may be taken in the direction of more adequate pension benefits.

In this regard the ordained women wish to thank the Board for the generous adjustment made in their payments to the Pension Fund of the United Church, whereby they will pay only that proportion of the assessment which pertains to the actual salary they are receiving on the field.

MEMORIALS FROM CONFERENCE BRANCHES, 1958From Alberta Conference Branch1. Re Membership of Presbyterian Societies in Other Organizations

WHEREAS the legitimate expenses of Presbyterians do not include affiliation with or membership in other groups where useful information and help could be obtained to help carry out our Woman's Missionary Society aim and object; and

WHEREAS this Presbyterian feels greatly handicapped in its work by those limitations, especially in some departments such as Christian Citizenship; therefore Recommend: That Dominion Board make it possible for the Presbyterians to affiliate with and to have membership in all organizations at the Presbyterian level where the privilege is enjoyed by the Conference Branch and Dominion Board at their respective levels, including such organizations as Citizenship Councils where the names differ slightly but functions are the same.

Action: Not sustained.

From British Columbia Conference Branch2. Re Duties of Press Secretaries

WHEREAS confusion has arisen and delay of press reports has occurred because in the By-Laws governing duties of Presbyterian and Conference Branch Press Secretaries no instruction is given regarding forwarding of annual reports; therefore Recommend: That Presbyterian Press Secretaries be asked to prepare a copy of their Reports to the Annual Meetings of the Presbyterians, to be forwarded to the Conference Branch Press Secretaries by February 5th, and similarly

That the Conference Branch Press Secretaries forward a copy of their Annual Reports to Dominion Board, Editor of The Missionary Monthly, by March 5th.

Action: Sustained.

From Hamilton Conference Branch

3. Re Candidate Recruiting

WHEREAS no printed Report for Candidate Work is now used:

Recommend: That a question appear on Auxiliary Annual Report from "What has your Auxiliary President (the one responsible for recruiting Candidates) done to recruit Church workers this year?"

Action: Referred to Executive.

From London Conference Branch

4. Re Dominion Board Leadership

WHEREAS the members of the W.M.S. are deeply grateful for the leadership given us by the Dominion Board's Home Organization department, regarding advice given re the increase of money to be voted by the Canadian Government to the Colombo plan, also when we were advised to protest the sale of near beer in the grocery stores, by signing a petition and forwarding same to Government, Recommend: That we respectfully ask for continued guidance if an issue should arise when the women of the Woman's Missionary Society across Canada should speak with one voice, or if immediate action is necessary.

Action: Sustained.

5. Re Change of Name of Vice-Presidents

WHEREAS the term of 1st-2nd-3rd-4th Vice-President is confusing following the title of Vice-President, when it pertains to Sectionals, Recommend: That title be changed to Sectional Chairman.

Action: Not sustained.

6. Re Bible Illiteracy

In view of the prevailing Bible illiteracy,

Resolved: That we, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society, do encourage and promote a deeper religious experience among our members, through Prayers, Christian Fellowship, Bible reading and Bible study.

Action: Sustained.

7. Re TV and Radio

WHEREAS radio and TV stations are influenced in their choice of programs by popular demand;

Recommend: That we as members of the W.M.S. seek, ahead of time, important information re coming broadcasts and telecasts, particularly in reference to their religious and moral standpoint;

That we encourage our children and young people to listen and view the programs that have a constructive effect in preference to those of a harmful nature; and

That we should not fail to commend particularly worthwhile and religious broadcasts;

Action: Sustained.

8. Re Temperance

WHEREAS those who amass large fortunes from the sale of alcoholic beverages and those who indulge in its use, belittle those who have the courage and desire to refuse to participate, and whereas we believe it is mainly women who set the standards of living and are the chief victims, with their children, of over indulgence in alcoholic beverages, and the present trend seems to be to follow the crowd rather than assert one's individual rights,

Recommend: That we urge all women to build their lives on abstinence and serve delicious fruit juices, etc., with a view to making an attractive appeal to others, and thus to maintain the standards of living which we should all strive to follow, urging the total membership of the W.M.S. to accept its responsibility for the social, economic and other problems resulting from the use of alcoholic beverages.

Action: Sustained.

9. Re the Lord's Day

WHEREAS the Lord's Day is a gift from God, to be neither abused or neglected, but to be filled with those things that are most needful to body and mind;

Resolved: That the Lord's Day be cherished and preserved by Christian people as a special day for the purpose of Divine worship, rest, and the preservation of family, cultural, and spiritual values, and the nurture of the soul by the means of grace which God supplies through His Church.

Action: Sustained.

From Manitoba Conference Branch10. Re Personnel for C.G.I.T. Camps

WHEREAS the missionary education in our summer camping programs for C.G.I.T. is limited because of the lack of missionary leadership; and

WHEREAS we feel that this is an important part of the C.G.I.T. camping program; and

WHEREAS camps in the east have the advantage in location over the western provinces; therefore Recommend: That missionaries and/or Training School Students, and/or Overseas students be made available to each of the western provinces each summer, their time and itinerary to be allocated by the Conference Branch Executive and Christian Education Committee of each province.

Action: Referred to Executive for further study.

REPORT OF THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

Re Refugees

WHEREAS the sympathy of the public has been deeply stirred by the plight of the Hungarian refugees who are seeking freedom in our country and who are being generously received by our immigration department;

WHEREAS there are still many refugees of different nationalities in Western Europe, who have remained for years in refugee camps in the hope that some day the western democracies will receive them, but are debarred under our present regulations from entering Canada; and

WHEREAS it is the aim of the office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees that these refugee camps be closed by 1960 and refugees placed elsewhere;

Resolved: That the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada urge the Department of Citizenship and Immigration to reconsider at this time their refugee policy, particularly as it affects divided families, the aged, ill and infirm, and the homeless who have been in the refugee camps of Germany and Austria for years.

Re Immigration

WHEREAS our study of Japan has strengthened our conviction that an immigration quota for Japanese immigration into Canada should be established; and

WHEREAS both the General Council of the United Church and the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society have in the past two years requested the Canadian Government that a quota be established, not only for Japan, but also for Korea, Haiti and the Federation of the West Indies, from all of which countries immigration is now excluded; and

WHEREAS no action has as yet been taken by the Government to establish such a quota;

Resolved: That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society bring this matter again to the attention of the Canadian Government through its Department of Citizenship and Immigration urging that immediate action be taken.

Re Wheat Supply

WHEREAS the wheat supply in Canada is very great; and

WHEREAS many countries still have starving people;

Resolved: That we, the W.M.S. members here assembled, urge the Government to study ways and means, subsidizing if necessary, to get this wheat where it is most sorely needed.

Re Alcohol Education

(a) Resolved: That the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society commend the Board of Evangelism and Social Service for the constructive leadership which it gives in the whole area of alcohol control and education.

(b) Temperance Work Among Youth

WHEREAS there is concern with regard to the widespread use of alcoholic beverages among young folk of High School age; and

WHEREAS the information contained in health text books concerning the effects of alcohol is not sufficient to convey convictions with regard to total abstinence or a way of life free from alcohol;

Resolved: (1) That we urge our members to promote in their homes a social life and teen-age parties free from alcoholic beverages;

(2) That we request the Board of Christian Education to prepare and include in the Sunday School curriculum effective Temperance material.

It was moved by Miss Young and seconded by Miss McKeen that we convey to the Board of Christian Education and to the Board of Sunday School Publications our concern for temperance education and urge that strong emphasis on this be made in the new curriculum materials.

A vote being taken the amendment was approved.

(c) Local Option Votes

WHEREAS in several Provinces of the Dominion, the sale of alcoholic beverages may be prohibited by Local Option votes; and

WHEREAS this method may serve the cause of Temperance also by the educational value received by the whole community in the conduct of such a campaign;

Resolved: (1) That we call upon our members to initiate and to support campaigns to prohibit by Local Option votes the sale of beverage alcohol.

(2) That we urge our members in areas of Local Option votes to be constructive and positive in setting forth the Temperance cause, and to help each community to develop its own organization from within.

(d) Liquor Advertising

WHEREAS there is widespread advertising of alcoholic beverages in magazines and newspapers (and on TV programs beamed into Canada) with a view to attracting new customers; and

WHEREAS beer, wine and spirits are described in decisions handed down in Privy Council and in other courts as "dangerous substance," and have been specially taxed and controlled; and for the same reason the advertising and promotion of the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquors have been banned or severely restricted in some Provinces of Canada,

Resolved: (1) That we commend the Governments of such Provinces as prohibit completely all advertising of beverage alcoholic products.

(2) That we urge upon all other Provincial Governments the wisdom of banning such advertising.

Re Nuclear Energy

(1) WHEREAS nuclear energy can be used for the benefit of mankind or for his destruction; and

WHEREAS the effects of radioactivity due to fall-out are potentially dangerous; and

WHEREAS the psychological effect of the testing of nuclear weapons is of great immediate danger in the heightening of international tension; and

WHEREAS Canada is in a strategic position to give leadership in averting a total war;

Resolved:

(1) That we commend the Canadian Government for its encouragement of the development of peaceful and beneficial uses for nuclear energy and urge that even more support be given to research directed toward the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and radioactive isotopes.

(2) That we urge the Canadian Government to do all in its power to press for the immediate cessation of all testing of nuclear weapons, at least for a trial period, until some mutually agreed upon system of inspection and control can be set up by international agreement.

(2) WHEREAS as Christian women we are or ought to be deeply concerned by the problems raised by the development of atomic energy; therefore

Be It Resolved: That we urge our members to become better informed on this subject and recommend the following as sources of information:

- (1) "Darkness or Dawn"—the Annual Report of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service, addresses to the Board on pages 12-29.
- (2) Titterton—"Facing the Atomic Future" (McMillan).
- (3) Schubert and Lapp—"Radiation"—What it is and how it affects you.
- (4) Canadian Association for Adult Education—Citizen Forum Pamphlets:
 - (1) Atomic tests: What do the Scientists Say?
 - (2) Atomic Tests: The Political Dilemma.

TRIBUTES TO MISSIONARIES AND BOARD MEMBERS RETIRING

Miss Annie A. MacIvor

From a fine Christian home Miss Annie A. MacIvor brought to the Woman's Missionary Society, at the time of Church Union, the valuable experience of a dedicated missionary worker.

Her first appointment under the Woman's Missionary Society in 1925 was to the United Mission in Sydney, N.S., in the coke-oven area where there was great need for a missionary.

In 1927 she was transferred to the coal-mining area of New Waterford, where a Mission was established a distance from the organized Church. This Mission served women and children particularly, and Miss MacIvor did kindergarten, club work and visitation.

After furlough in 1931 Miss MacIvor served in New Waterford and Stellarton until 1938.

Her appointment in 1939 took her to the prairies where she worked in Vilna until 1944, then accepted a transfer to Smoky Lake.

In 1946, after furlough, she returned to Stellarton Mission Centre as a Community Worker.

While Miss MacIvor made a fine contribution to the life and work at Vilna and Smoky Lake, her name will always be gratefully associated with the work among the miners' families in Cape Breton in Nova Scotia. Since 1946, through strikes and stress, she has continued to serve the coal-mining community of Stellarton, where people felt at home in the Mission Centre.

After deferring furlough for five years, Miss MacIvor was still loath to leave her work, but it became imperative that she return to her home in Sydney to care for her older missionary sister.

Our gratitude and good wishes go with her on her retirement August 31st, 1958, and we know the voluntary service which she continues to give will bear fruit in the hearts and minds of the people whom she loves.

Miss Kathleen Mullen, Reg.N., A.R.R.C.

Miss Kathleen Mullen of Toronto came to the work of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in 1920. Her qualifications were a two-year mission nursing course and experience in voluntary Church work. Her first appointment was to Ethelbert, Manitoba, as a rural nurse. For three years Miss Mullen served among the Ukrainian settlers both in Ethelbert and Pine River, a field in which she pioneered. She realized the need for further training and returned to Toronto to enter the Training School of the Women's College Hospital. After graduation in 1926 the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church appointed her to Eriksdale, Manitoba. There her team work with the doctor made history in the community. Miss Mullen's next term began in Pine River, where she served until she returned to Eriksdale as Superintendent.

In 1933 the Society asked Miss Mullen to accept a transfer to Cold Lake, due to a special need there. Through her efforts, additions were built to the old hospital and the area made aware of our medical services. Leadership was given in both Church and community.

In 1941 Miss Mullen became Superintendent of St. Paul's Hospital in Hearst, Ontario.

After one year in Hearst, Miss Mullen left the Woman's Missionary Society to serve in the Army, where she remained for four years. For her outstanding work in surgery she was decorated and received the A.R.R.C.

After post-graduate work Miss Mullen returned to Hearst in 1946, where she was the very efficient Superintendent until the Woman's Missionary Society closed its medical service in that community in 1953.

Miss Mullen accepted an appointment to Burns Lake after furlough. She remained there until she was granted leave of absence in 1956 because of home circumstances. She retired February 28th, 1958.

To Miss Kathleen Mullen may we express our appreciation for her outstanding and distinctive service and devotion to the Medical work of the Home Missions Department of our Society. We wish her many years of happiness in her retirement.

Miss Cora Wovil

Very early in her life, Miss Cora Wovil dedicated herself to service in the Christian Church. She had a particular fondness for and interest in the Italian population in Toronto and during a visit to Italy made many contacts with the families of those who had become Canadian citizens and members of our Church.

After a furlough in 1931 Miss Wovil was appointed to London, where a New Canadian Mission was opened under our Board. After a period in London she served in Hagersville.

Miss Wovil worked in both the East and the West—at Halifax and as far West as Smoky Lake, Alberta. Her work at Gypsumville was one of the highlights of her Christian service where young people were inspired to better living by her teaching and example.

Coming to Toronto she worked among the Chinese who still call her their friend. Another phase of Church work was begun when she undertook Church Extension in Windsor and as a result new Churches came into being.

She remained in All People's Mission, Windsor, until her retirement, working among the New Canadians and organizing services for the Italians. She retired December 31st, 1957.

Her adaptability to so many different types of work is worthy of our commendation.

To Miss Wovil, the Woman's Missionary Society says a grateful "Thank you" and wishes for her many happy and useful years of retirement.

TO MISSIONARIES RESIGNING

Miss Cora A. Kilborn, B.A., Reg.N.

Miss Cora A. Kilborn, B.A., Reg.N., is leaving the work of the Woman's Missionary Society after twenty-eight years of service.

Miss Kilborn is a member of a great missionary family. She is a graduate of the University of Toronto with a B.A. degree, and also of Toronto General Hospital School of Nursing. In 1925 Miss Kilborn returned, as a missionary herself, to the province of Szechwan, West China, where she had been born and brought up. After a period of language study Miss Kilborn was appointed to the Women's Hospital, Chengtu, operated by the Woman's Missionary Society. During her years of service in that hospital, Miss Kilborn served as general duty nurse, as nursing Superintendent and as Principal of the School of Nursing. She helped in the giving of training to many young women who entered the nursing profession as Christian nurses in West China. It was her joy to be able to pass over responsibilities for superintendency and principalship and much of the teaching to Chinese trained nurses and it was also her joy to continue with them for a number of years as a Christian colleague from the West.

From 1938 to 1943 Miss Kilborn took leave of absence in Canada, during years when she cared for her mother, Dr. Reta Gifford Kilborn, who had served before her and with her as a medical missionary in Chengtu. In 1943 Miss Kilborn returned to China and served again in the city of Chengtu, in the West China Union University Hospital.

In 1950 she returned to Canada and in 1951 she went as Superintendent to the Bingham Memorial Hospital in northern Ontario. In 1953 she was appointed to the Woman's Missionary Society Hospital in Ethelbert, Manitoba. In December 1957 Miss Kilborn resigned, having given many years of missionary service overseas and in Canada.

This Board is thankful for the service and the witness she has given and on behalf of the whole Society express gratitude to her.

Miss Elsie Anna May Lee, Reg.N. (Mrs. Elwood Dey)

Miss Elsie Anna May Lee's home was in Montreal, where she graduated from the Montreal General Hospital. After two years of nursing experience Miss Lee attended the United Church Training School and in 1950 she was appointed to the Ethelbert General Hospital in Manitoba. While giving service in this hospital she requested leave of absence, due to home circumstances, but returned to our service in August, 1955, when she was appointed as a staff nurse to the Bingham Memorial Hospital in Matheson.

Her evangelistic work was so evident that we were convinced that the Society needed her services in Gypsumville, Manitoba, where she was transferred as a missionary nurse in 1956.

Miss Lee deferred her furlough for one year because her love for the work and our need of her services were important to her and she knew that she had the goodwill and appreciation of the community.

In August, 1957, Miss Lee was married to Mr. Elwood Dey of Gypsumville. Mr. and Mrs. Dey are at present working under the Indian Affairs Branch in God's Lake, Manitoba, where Mr. Dey is one of the teachers. We extend to them our best wishes and we trust that their service in the Indian field may be happy and fruitful.

Hope Erma Weber (Mrs. Arthur Jackson)

Miss Hope Erma Weber and her twin sister, Faith, from Preston, Ontario, graduated from the United Church Training School in 1950. Faith accepted Overseas work and Hope remained in Canada and was appointed to Gypsumville, Manitoba.

Miss Hope Weber was well-equipped for the service which she had undertaken as a graduate of Waterloo College, with more than two years of stenographic experience and full missionary training.

She took the preaching, visitation and Young People's work and made an outstanding contribution to the Church and community.

She was an excellent preacher and her Sunday services and groups were well-attended. She introduced the use of the Duplex envelopes, worked in the Temperance cause and her love of the ministry made her decide that she would continue her training during her year of furlough. At the conclusion of her first term of service she entered Emmanuel College and after her furlough was granted leave of absence to finish her Theological Course.

In October, 1957, while continuing her college work, she was married to Rev. Arthur Jackson and our warmest wishes accompany her as she serves with her husband on a field in Ontario.

TO BOARD MEMBERS

Miss Frances Anger

In July 1930 Miss Frances Anger was appointed Secretary-Treasurer of the Periodicals Department, and brought to that office a wide knowledge of the business world with special experience in the paper trade.

Responsibility for the preparation of the estimates, promoting the circulation of the magazines and the business administration of The Missionary Monthly, World Friends and the Annual Report were all part of the Secretary-Treasurer's busy life. Innumerable letters written to the Conference Branch, Presbyterian and Auxiliary Missionary Monthly and World Friends Secretaries answering questions, encouraging and giving direction to new officers and planning new methods of promotion took much time, thought and preparation.

As a member of the Office Advisory Committee Miss Anger's advice was eagerly sought in the matter of typewriters and other office equipment by members of the staff and missionaries alike. On furlough the missionaries would find their way to "433", there to leave their machines with her for the necessary overhaul or repairs.

Many a member of the Executive will remember Miss Anger's handshake of welcome and her friendly greeting at their first meeting, and the Editors will remember her appreciation of many of their stories and articles.

Miss Anger after more than twenty-seven years of service, enters into a well-earned period of retirement. With much affection we extend our best wishes, hoping that this will be a time of opportunity—opportunity to do the many things she has longed to do but never had time to do before.

Our prayers will continue to follow Miss Anger throughout the years that lie ahead.

Mrs. A. R. Baggs

Mrs. A. R. Baggs brought to the Dominion Board and to its Executive a rich knowledge of the work of the Society which she gained through years of participation and leadership in auxiliaries, in Presbyterian and in Conference Branch. Mrs. Baggs served for a period of time in Newfoundland on the St. John's Presbyterian Executive, and then on Conference Branch in several capacities, including that of First Vice-President. She was, therefore, able to serve on the Dominion Board with a real understanding of the work of groups as carried on in the Presbyterials and throughout Conference Branch.

Mrs. Baggs, as a member without portfolio, served on the Home Organization Committee and on the Periodicals Committee. She was for a time Chairman of Courtesy Committee and later the Chairman of the Committee which plans the worship periods for Executive.

Her contribution to the Executive has been greatly valued and at this Dominion Board Annual meeting the thanks of all her co-workers is expressed. We wish for her continued opportunity for service in the Mission of the Church.

Mrs. H. E. Bunt

For eight years Mrs. H. E. Bunt has served on the Executive of the Dominion Board in a most efficient and faithful way. During the whole of that period she was a member of the Overseas Committee and for five years was Secretary for Trinidad. Her unflinching graciousness and understanding have been appreciated by all with whom she has worked and in a very particular way by the missionaries and scholarship students from Trinidad.

The Executive and the various Committees on which Mrs. Bunt has served have benefited from her keenness of mind and good judgment. The thanks and good wishes of all go with her as she resigns from this phase of the W.M.S. work.

Mrs. Walter G. Coates

Mrs. Coates, a daughter of the manse, was born and educated in Manitoba, having graduated from the University of that Province.

Shortly after graduation she was married and went with her husband to Formosa under the Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church. At the time of Union they transferred to the Japan Mission where they made a very real contribution to the growth and development of the Church in that land.

After her husband's death, Mrs. Coates remained in Japan as a teacher in the Canadian Academy until 1939. Returning to Canada with her three children, she served on the staff of the National Y.W.C.A. for several years. In 1946, with this wonderful background and experience, she became Associate Missions Executive Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society.

For eleven years she has given unreservedly of her time, strength, and ability. She kept the intricate machinery of the Home and Overseas Committees running smoothly during the absence of one or the other of the Secretaries, sometimes of both!

Perhaps the most outstanding contribution was, as Secretary of the Scholarship Committee, to the young women who have come as Scholarship Students to Canada. Her home was a home away from home for them. Letters from around the world attest to the place she holds in the hearts of these students, who found in her a friend in every difficulty and in every triumph.

Her colleagues found Mrs. Coates "a wonderful person to work with", and she holds a warm place in the regard of all who shared with her in the work of the Society.

Mrs. George J. Patterson

Mrs. George Patterson has ably filled the Portfolio of Associate Members' Secretary on the Dominion Board since 1955. It is, indeed, with regret that we accept her resignation for reasons of health.

Before holding that office she had served the Society well in her own auxiliary, as Corresponding Secretary of Hamilton Presbyterial and in the Hamilton Conference Branch as Recording Secretary, First Vice-President, and President for a three-year term. During her term as President of Hamilton Conference Branch, Mrs. Patterson served also on Executive of Dominion Board as a Vice-President Ex-Officio. She thus gained an intimate knowledge of the expanding work of the Society.

This knowledge coupled with her belief that a great potential for the new women's organization was available through the Associate Members' Department, gave impetus to her work as Secretary. Her timely and thoughtful messages on the Associate Members' page of The Missionary Monthly, amply demonstrated her insight and enthusiasm.

Mrs. Patterson's knowledge of organizational problems also made her a valuable member of the Home Organization Committee.

Her sincere interest in the Christian Mission led her to accept responsibility in various Schools for Leaders, both Adult and Mission Circle; and in the McMaster Conference of United Church Women; in all of which she gave fine leadership.

Mrs. Patterson's gentle and gracious personality and her real interest in people have won her many friends whose sincere good wishes follow her. We are assured she will continue to further the Christian Mission wherever she is able.

Mrs. Kenneth Woodsworth

Mrs. Kenneth Woodsworth held office on the Dominion Board from 1952 until the Fall of 1957—at the latter date she undertook a heavier program of study at the School of Social Work from which she has graduated.

She has been able to combine home and a career very ably; has been very active in both church and community affairs and has had a genuine interest in both national and international affairs.

On the Dominion Board she was associated with the Home Organization Committee as Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. from 1952 to 1956, and as Mission Circle Secretary for the following year. Her incisive thinking, readiness to co-operate and her friendly manner were much valued. Her contribution to the Home Organization Committee and to the Board is greatly missed.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRATION COMMITTEE

The report of the Registration Committee was presented by Mrs. D. W. McKenzie. The report read as follows:

ANNE I. WARD,
General Secretary.

HOME MISSIONS

The Home Mission objective in Canada continues to be the leading of men and women to the saving grace of Jesus Christ. We must always remember that it is not merely a program of social, economic or moral reform, although these blessings are an outcome of it. The Kingdom in the hearts of men and women make them aware of their contribution to society. Thus we see that Home Missions is essentially an evangelistic enterprise.

The unchurched and neglected areas, with their problems of carelessness, poverty and indifference, are the testing ground of the Christian faith and it is in such places and among such unchurched people that the message of faith and courage gives the missionary satisfaction for the energy and the labour expended.

Some years ago it was felt that there was no longer a frontier in Home Missions, that the day of expansion was over and that all the Church could do was continue in the work it was undertaking at that time. The pattern of life in Canada has changed so that the task in this country has taken on many new aspects and opportunities for service. The problem of the city, the new challenge of the inner-city Churches, the new suburbs, necessitating new Churches to meet the need, are calling for more vision and more Christian workers and we, as a Society, have a great share if we are willing to accept it.

We may feel that the Christian Mission, in the light of revolutionary changes and tensions in Canada, has undergone a change of character but not of purpose. There is the same or a greater urgency, as our population increases, with expanding economy, with frontiers being at our own doors, with the many new aspects of living offered, to bring the Gospel to every area and to every life. Because we cannot, through lack of staff, meet the challenge offered to us, many of our opportunities are lost.

Travel

The annual field trip made by the Secretary was to visit the missions in Saskatchewan in September. The Conference Branch President, Mrs. L. W. Schnell, accompanied me as we travelled by car, bus and train to some of the small places where effective and loyal women are bearing witness, amid seemingly uninterested and unproductive fields—but who can tell what the results will be? In other centres, where a long service has been given, we saw glowing evidence of the working of the Holy Spirit and we were thrilled that we had a share in building the Kingdom in a part of our country which is still young and has had many problems in its growth.

From Bienfait in the south, where coal-mining is the industry, through our Indian Reserves and into our School Homes, on to our city community centres and to the fruitful Church areas of Yorkton and Loon Lake we, who came to bring encouragement and help to our workers, left with the feeling that we had derived much from the devotion and love these women are showing in the task that they have undertaken in our name.

Personnel

The facts which we have to present in regard to the Home Mission personnel are not satisfactory from the viewpoint of numbers and need.

At the present time we have 60 missionaries and 45 associate workers, including nurses, in full-time work. We also have domestic and other help employed in our Hospitals, in our Indian Residential School and in our School Homes, numbering about 66.

Three missionaries who have given a life-time of service retire this year. They are Miss Kathleen Mullen, Reg.N., A.R.R.C., Miss Cora Wovil and Miss Annie MacIvor. During the year we have had resignations from five missionaries. They are Miss Cora A. Kilborn, B.A., Reg.N., Miss Elsie A. M. Lee, Reg.N. (Mrs. Elwood Dey), Miss Dorothy E. Reid, Reg.N., Miss Hope E. Weber, B.A. (Mrs. Arthur Jackson) and Miss Lily Chin. Our staff has been strengthened by the addition of three new missionary nurses from the graduating class of The United Church Training School—Miss Nancy A. M. Caverhill, Reg.N., Miss Edna I. Meader, Reg.N., and Miss June M. Rothwell, Reg.N. We present to you our needs for 1958-59 as 12 community workers and 12 nurses. Of this number 12 have been authorized but we have no women to fill these positions.

CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER UNITED CHURCH BOARDS

Board of Christian Education

Christian Youth Caravans—"My experience as a Caravaner has given me greater insight into the work of The United Church of Canada. I have come to know and to understand more fully the Indians of our Province. I know, also, that I have grown in my own understanding of the Christian faith." Thus wrote one of the British Columbia Caravaners in speaking of her work at Port Renfrew in Victoria Presbytery. This kind of statement could be duplicated over and over again by the 142 Caravaners who are reported to have served The United Church of Canada in 1957.

In most of the Conferences similar work was done by the Caravaners. In British Columbia teams conducted Church Vacation Schools in remote areas. At Port Renfrew the Caravaners ate in the cook-house with the loggers. At Namu, a cannery village, the team lived in the dormitory with the cannery workers. In Saskatchewan the work was predominantly rural and included mainly Church Vacation Schools. In Manitoba a team went for the first time to a city charge in the suburbs of Winnipeg. The Manitoba Caravaners served through Visitation, Church Vacation Schools, conducting a religious survey and Church services. In Ontario and Quebec, Caravaners held Church Vacation Schools, did two large religious surveys in downtown areas, worked with Senior Citizens, conducted youth rallies, and held Church services. The work in the Maritimes was mostly rural with some small amount of work in one city. Two surveys were conducted for Presbyteries of the Maritime Conference, at Sydney and Fredericton. In Newfoundland two rural Vacation Schools were undertaken. It is interesting to note that no teams served in military camps this year. Our only contact with the military camps was the request from two camps in Europe for assistance in setting up Church Vacation Schools for the children of Canadian Service men.

Our Society contributes $1,500.00 annually to Christian Youth Caravans and $2,000.00 to Church Vacation Schools.

The Sunday School in the Home—By Mail and Air—This program is sponsored by the Board of Christian Education, the Board of Home Missions, the Board of Publications and the Woman's Missionary Society.

There were 2,214 families enrolled with the Sunday School in the Home—By Mail and Air during 1957. About a quarter of these were new families enrolled this past year. Fifteen per cent. of the new enrolments came from radio stations and nearly twice the number enrolling by radio wrote for the free give-away at Christmas. The largest number of requests for enrolment came from CHAB, Moose Jaw.

Family offerings were higher than ever before, totalling $1,699.88, the average having increased from 50c in 1954 to 77c per family in 1957.

The radio program, "TELL US A STORY," began as a service for families who live beyond the reach of the Church but there is a recognition that children in cities or towns where the radio station is located may attend Sunday School and listen to "TELL US A STORY," too. Thus a wider group is served and "TELL US A STORY" may be a part of the total Church's general teaching program. It is heard over 21 radio stations and the Board of Information and Stewardship pays for the station time.

Our Society contributes $4,800.00 annually to the Sunday School in the Home--By Mail and Air.

Board of Evangelism and Social Service

The grateful thanks and appreciation of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service to our Society for its grants to remedial women's work is embarrassing, in that we are surely only doing our duty by supporting a Board of our Church in giving young women an opportunity for a second chance.

Inter-provincial Home for Women, Moncton, N.B.—This Home is operated by the United Church, in co-operation with the Anglican, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches, in Coverdale, a suburb of Moncton. It is really a custodial institution, as most of the residents have been committed by the courts. The three Maritime Provinces have been generous in their support. Our grant is $825.00 a year.

Victor Home for Girls, Toronto, Ont.—Several years before Church Union the former Methodist Church established this redemptive Home on Jarvis Street, Toronto. Since Church Union it has been operated under the Toronto Home Missions Council. Within recent years the work was transferred to a beautiful and larger site on Broadview Avenue, overlooking the Don Valley. To date the babies have been adopted by Church families but consideration is now being given to placing the adoptions under the Child Welfare Department. Our grant is $1,000.00 annually.

Mountview Social Service Home, Calgary, Alta.—For many years the Mountview Home has cared for Protestant delinquent girls and it works very closely with the social agencies. Our grant is $825.00 a year.

United Church Home for Girls, Burnaby (Vancouver), B.C.—With accommodation for 23 expectant mothers, this Home gives fine service to the young women who need care. Co-operation and financial support are received from the Anglican and Baptist Churches, as well as from United Church pastoral charges and Woman's Associations throughout British Columbia. Our grant is $825.00 a year.

Board of Home Missions

When your estimates are scrutinized you will find that in our co-operative work with the Board of Home Missions the amount of $49,250.00 is expended by our Society. Space does not allow for details but we are providing assistance in residence for French and English Protestant children and young people in the Province of Quebec, where educational facilities are provided, we are helping in the payment of salaries to young women employed in community centres, we are sharing in a small way in hospitals and more recently we have shared in the summer student work, when we assumed responsibility for the salary of the young women serving on summer fields.

Summer Students—The Board of Home Missions reports that last summer 240 student missionaries ministered to about 700 communities where no regular preaching services were held. These young folk served upwards of 100,000 people who would otherwise have been left without pastoral care and spiritual oversight. While we estimated the amount of $10,000.00 for summer students during 1957, which covered the salary of all the women on the fields doing summer student work, the amount expended was only $6,927.73. This included 12 women placed by the Board of Home Missions on student fields, in downtown areas and in Church Extension work, as well as the two students who worked under the direction of the Home Organization Department of our Society.

Church Extension—Because of our contribution to Church Extension, the Chairman and Secretary of our Home Missions Committee sit with this thrilling Committee, which convenes once a year. The immensity of this great evangelistic movement in Home Missions is incomprehensible and most noticeable is the very large number of interested and concerned laymen who are giving leadership in new communities.

The total picture for the past 10 years shows us a population increase in Canada of 2,500,000, or about 15 per cent—one of the fastest rates of growth in the world in that period—and the building of 1,222 Churches and 563 manses.

Immigration—During 1957 more immigrants came to Canada than in any other year since 1946—a total of 282,164. As in former years 1957 saw the largest number settle in Ontario—147,097; Quebec received 55,073; British Columbia—37,528; Manitoba—11,614; the balance going to the remaining provinces and territories. The five largest racial groups entering were: (1) British—112,828; (2) Hungarian—29,825; (3) German—29,564; (4) Italian—29,443; (5) Dutch—12,310. The occupational groupings revealed that 1957 followed the same trend as 1956: manufacturing—54,376; labourers—19,471; service—17,574; clerical—16,829; professional—16,040; agricultural—10,838. Among those entering the country were 70,673 children and 52,533 wives. Protestants probably made up half or nearly half of the total.

Work at Ports-of-Entry—The ports-of-entry are well served. Dr. A. S. Murray, with his office in Montreal, Miss Louiza Mayova and two students during the summer meet boats at Québec City and Montreal. Rev. Hanns Skoutajan and Miss Aileen Batz care for the ports of Halifax and Saint John. The ability to speak several languages enabled our port workers to do essential counselling, as well.

Toronto Immigration Centre—The ABC (Air Bridge to Canada) program, bringing people to Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, and the increasing flow of immigrants by ship resulted in a very large number coming to Toronto. With increased numbers it was necessary to open an Immigration Centre at Carlton Street United Church. This Centre is staffed by Miss Annie Bishop and Mrs. Pearl Budge. We must pay tribute to the voluntary assistance given our workers by our Community Friendship Secretaries and the host of groups who sent parcels for newcomers to the Ports.

BOARDING SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOMES

When the frontier was on the fringes of our country the Mission task of education was made very clear to the Church and it responded to the need. Eventually, the classrooms disappeared as the provinces assumed their rightful responsibility and the Church was left with the living accommodation that had been established for the early task. This accommodation today under the Woman's Missionary Society includes eight large residences which house young people for the ten months of the year when they leave their own homes to obtain further education or, due to domestic circumstances, have been forced to find residence while attending school.

Hearing repeatedly what has been accomplished by those for whom we have provided residence, we are divided in our opinion regarding the future. The question we ask ourselves is "Should we hold these institutions intact when a changing policy in Indian Work reveals a steady increase in young Indian people who are going to reach higher grades and need resident accommodation?"

The Indian Affairs Branch is co-operative and would strongly urge us to continue these residences on its behalf, when it would assume financial responsibility for Indian students, while we would have the opportunity of giving Christian Education.

The enrolment in our Boarding Schools and School Homes in October 1957 included 90 children and young people, the majority of whom were high school age. Of this number four were young Indian students, the responsibility for whom was accepted by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Government.

Our institutions are in good condition. While improvements such as oil furnaces, sewerage, painting and sidewalks must have attention, one only needs to visit the town in which one of our institutions is established to know that people are proud to have the Society's School Home in their midst.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS EAST

As our cities become larger their problems multiply, particularly in the downtown areas, where barriers have been raised because of language, unemployment and housing. The new population is largely non-English and it is taken for granted that they are not too interested in the Church, but in Canada there is a new Church freedom, realized by these people.

In the downtown areas we find the Senior Citizens living in single rooms that are not too attractive. These people need friendship and fellowship and the Conferences on "Aging," under the Social Agencies and the Church, are trying to stimulate public awareness and community activity with respect to this group.

Our missionaries have had a large share in alleviating the need caused by unemployment. While some of the legislation bringing benefits to those out of work was being initiated, our Churches had their doors open and those in the Church were serving through the distribution of food and clothing and the assignment of large numbers of men and a smaller number of women to places of employment. From our missionaries we hear about many of the problems faced and met in this regard from Vancouver to Halifax.

When Emmanuel House in St. John's, Newfoundland, was purchased some years ago it was on the understanding that girls from the outports coming in for factory and office work would find suitable living.

For some years the residence did not need large expenditures but in 1957 heavy-duty wiring, an extra range and a hot water unit had to be installed. We were still able to meet these expenditures from the gift made by Emmanuel Church, Montreal, when the house was purchased.

When Miss Elizabeth McColgan took over the work in the Twillingate Presbytery her picture and information about her was sent to each minister and lay preacher in the area. This introduction to every charge made her visits more effective.

When the United Mission in Sydney was going to be left without any care one of our Overseas missionaries, after leave of absence of 14 years, was appointed to this work. Miss Helen McDougall has found in this changing community a real challenge and the co-operation which she is receiving is building up this coke-oven area of work.

In Glace Bay the Caravaners made a survey last summer and found a nucleus for a new congregation at Newson Hall. A part-time minister was appointed from one of the near-by mining areas and while we are responsible for the Christian Education work the Church services are being strengthened by the years of service which we have given in this area.

Survey work done by Caravan teams brought many new people to the Church services at the Church of All Nations and the City Mission in Montreal. These two institutions, now under the direction of one Superintendent, have a number of language groups meeting in both centres and our missionary scarcely feels equal to meeting the great need for social welfare work in this large community.

Changes in policy in bringing in immigrants meant that instead of a great disembarkment in Quebec most of the ocean liners with their cargo came into Montreal. Passes to the docks were limited to two for each Church denomination. As well as the regular Traveller's Aid Society a French Roman Catholic Society was established. Miss Louiza Mayova met these boats and because of her language ability she directed hundreds of the newcomers into our land.

Last autumn it was reported that about 200 Mennonites, mainly from Mexico, had arrived in the Matheson area in Ontario. While we had a worker in this district there was need for warm clothing and the Town Council, which established a clothing centre, turned to our Society for assistance.

The work continues in the Muskoka United Charge, where it is reported that the staff of three—minister, layman, and W.M.S. worker—have 18 Religious Education classes, 12 Woman's Association and preaching services in 19 centres. In one afternoon it was a pleasure to be taken to nine of these Churches, to find them in good condition and to know that we were assisting in the preaching of the Gospel in this great rural area.

No one will deny the reach and influential place of both the rural and city Church in the early life of our nation. Just as it did much in the past to deepen the life of people, so today it continues its strength and facilities and is a source of help to many throughout Canada.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS WEST

Church leaders in rural areas tell us that the Church has undergone three periods of adjustment. These three are the pioneer period, the period of decline and the period of re-adjustment. In rural districts and in many small communities, where population moved away, congregations were united with adjoining ones and one minister serves the larger area. It is here that our missionaries, associated with ministers, are giving fine Christian Education leadership and the needs of the greater areas are being met.

And what of those who leave the rural districts? Our population shifts in the town itself, from town to town, city to city and today from fringe areas back to the city. These population movements are making changes in our Church, our organizational and our institutional life but the task is still to bring the one Gospel to the people so that irrespective of where life is lived it will be a Christian sacrament.

During the year the Board of Home Missions instituted nine studies of downtown work across Canada. These studies have made changes in the thinking of our workers and in Winnipeg we have recently been advised that the trend is to have Sutherland Mission people become interested in the activities of St. Giles United Church. The distance is not too great and teenagers are already participating in the Church groups. During this time of change we should strengthen our work, but we will be without the leadership of a W.M.S. worker in this district when our present missionary goes on furlough in September.

The report from Flin Flon tells us of the opening of a new Church and Miss Hazel Heffren, seeing the need in the Creighton area, which is on the border of Saskatchewan, moved to Creighton and rented a small suite, consisting of a large room and kitchen, in which she lives and carries on services. Her first guests were 20 Baby Band mothers, 24 children, the President of the Auxiliary and the minister from Flin Flon.

If our Society could purchase a helicopter many of the smaller centres in Northern Manitoba would be the parish of our missionary. Miss Heffren writes of her visit to Snow Lake, a distance of 40 miles, where a community in the process of change from one mining company to another receives only the services given by a summer student and yet for the World Day of Prayer service 40 women and girls gathered together and on the day previous Miss Heffren spoke to 100 school-children. It is in such areas as these that we would like to give service if we had staff.

Miss Florence Ward, in a Saskatchewan rural area, is being greatly appreciated by the Battleford Presbytery. While her work is centred in Loon Lake, she travels 51 miles to Poreceland and gives services there at least three times a year. The portable organ sent to her as a Christmas gift from a Toronto group travels in the trunk of her car and has brought joy to many lonely hearts.

From the Hungarian groups in the Yorkton Presbytery approximately $600.00 has been contributed towards the salary of Miss Ferné Graham. When we visited her last autumn we were well aware of the place she has made for herself in the community and at that time she was directing her second Communicants' Class, when these young people intended to unite with the Church the first Sunday in December, providing the roads were passable.

Most of our work in Alberta takes us into the country areas. With a layman assisting in the work at Smoky Lake, four centres are given services and last autumn the people of Warspite, who had not had Church services for a year, asked Miss Jane Nottle to assist them with the children's and young people's work. The Church service is now being held alternately with Smoky Lake.

With the placing of a minister at Manning our missionary in the Peace River Presbytery was released and she succeeded our worker in the South Alberta Presbytery. When 17 new members from an area which rarely has a Church service unite with the Church on profession of faith we know the Church is alive and that is what happened on the Cowley charge in the South Alberta Presbytery.

While requests have come for the continuance of the work in the Caribou Presbytery, Miss Henrietta Campbell, who has been faithfully serving this area, feels that only a man can enter the camps and give the necessary Church service. The Board of Home Missions is giving this appointment consideration.

A new venture was undertaken in the hospitals in Edmonton when a tape-recorder was purchased for Miss Agatha Coultres. It was with the approval of the hospitals that use was made of this equipment and since she began her work she has continued to meet the volunteer visitors, numbering nearly 70, many of them the Community Friendship Secretaries of the Auxiliaries and the Woman's Associations. So concerned are some of the doctors about relating the Church to the sick people that one of the psychiatrists was instrumental in having a presentation made to Presbytery concerning the study course for ministers and hospital visitors.

In every centre where Church Extension work is being done we find the opening of new areas. In January came the report from Edmonton Presbytery that 500 new homes were being built in West Jasper Place, with more survey work to be done, and that in two public schools and one community hall used for Sunday Schools the enrolment totalled nearly 400. Similar reports have reached us from Vancouver and we are only sorry to report that our worker in Church Extension in the Vancouver area has resigned, as she has chosen a piece of work under the Board of Christian Education.

We have extended the service given by Miss Margaret Fulton in Columbia Street United Church, Vancouver, to include Sanford Memorial United Church, where a growing congregation was in need of leadership.

As we report on First United Church, Vancouver, we think back to the Christmas season, when the general welfare work was strenuous. The workers could not care for all the people, so a certain quota was taken each morning and then the doors were closed. At that time people were sleeping out-of-doors.

It is hard to make comparisons in the rural and city work. So much needs to be done in the depopulated areas and yet the transition from these communities, accounts for some of the difficult problems which we are facing in our city life. The leadership of a minister and a missionary working together provides a satisfactory arrangement and our prayer is that we may be able to make this possible both in the rural and city areas.

INDIAN

The Indian population in Canada today is about 163,000 and the numbers are increasing. The Provinces with the largest numbers are Ontario and British Columbia. The Bands have over 2,000 Reserves set aside by the Canadian Government and the Indians live there, except for those who have become members of general communities.

A fair number of Indians are being enfranchised every year. This refers to a legal process by which an Indian gives up his Indian status and all his rights and privileges to which he is entitled as an Indian. Under the Indian Act, he cannot hold property on a Reserve and is expected to dispose of property he held in the past. In return for giving up these rights and privileges, an enfranchised Indian assumes the full rights and responsibilities of a Canadian citizen.

Four types of schools are under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, although it does not seem too long since the schools were directed by the Church. There are the regular Indian day schools on Reserves, the residential, or boarding school, the seasonal schools and the instruction given to children who are hospitalized.

Adult classes are held in the Reserve schools and worthwhile courses in English, carpentry, welding, cooking and knitting are offered.

It seems evident that with the various new types of employment many more Indians will be leaving the Reserves and we are aware of the increased opportunities of service opening up for the Church in which we could participate if women concerned about Indians were to join our ranks as missionaries.

While Dominion Board was in session last year the Indian Affairs Branch held a conference in Ottawa with Church representatives to discuss the financing of Indian Residential Schools. Already the Church had submitted salary schedules, which were accepted. Schools were evaluated on their merits and matters regarding deductions for room and board were agreed upon, as well as food and clothing for the Indian children. The new range of salaries and general financing came into effect January 1st, 1958, and while there are still a number of matters that need consideration our Church feels that a significant change has been made and it will not be necessary for the Church to provide financial assistance once the plan of the Indian Affairs Branch is in full operation. This gives the Church an opportunity of doing better Christian Education work, providing we find the young women who will avail themselves of this privilege.

In Indian education 1957 marked the first year that a school was set aside for Indian children of higher grades and particularly high school. While a residence was built for the purpose of housing 40 high school boys and girls at Alberni, the Portage la Prairie School accepted young people from other schools. When school opened in the autumn more than 70 of the young people attended the town public and high schools. This arrangement was made possible by the Indian Affairs Branch in co-operation with the local School Board in Portage la Prairie. Only one classroom continues to function on our Residential School grounds. Thus our Indian Residential School at Portage la Prairie has practically become a high school residence and makes us realize the change that is taking place in Indian education. Our new Principal, Mr. William Warren, has rendered good service.

Miss Margaret Martin reports from Norway House that they have a number of local readers in activities and that all the staff members in the Indian Residential School there are co-operative and help in the Church. During the year Miss Martin assisted in the Bible School, when representatives were present from all the Missions in the area. We regret that we have no one who will replace her in this Christian Education program at Norway House.

From the Rama Reserve in Ontario a number of Indians have attended Conferences at Five Oaks, where they have become better acquainted with the Church and their responsibility as Christians. When Miss Florence Fee comes on furlough this summer a man will be appointed under our Board and we are fortunate in securing the services of a lay preacher, who for 12 years was a lay reader in Ireland and on coming to Canada hoped the Church would accept his services.

Our worker in Winnipeg, Miss Elizabeth Colwell, has visited Reserves, sought out the Indians in Winnipeg and has held pre-Church gatherings in Stella Mission. While the work may be discouraging she has given a good account of her one year in Winnipeg. Since Miss Margaret Martin has requested a transfer she will be undertaking this work in the autumn when Miss Colwell leaves to be married.

On the recommendation of the Saskatchewan Conference Branch, Indian work in Regina was made full-time. Mrs. L. L. Dobbin was unable to continue the work, so Miss Ida Drake was transferred from the File Hills Colony to the city of Regina. To continue this pioneer work among the Indians who had left Reserves in Saskatchewan it was agreed that the effectiveness of the work would be greatly enhanced if Miss Drake had a house to which the Indians would feel free to come without the necessity of meeting strangers. A suitable, modern, one-storey, furnished house, adjacent to the camping grounds which the Indians use in the summer at Exhibition time, was available and purchased by the Society in February. The house is in the area in which Indians live and from this centre Miss Drake will continue her work.

Zion United Church, Regina, has welcomed Indian girls into the C.G.I.T., and Indian women have attended quilting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre are serving us at File Hills and we are glad to hear from Mr. McIntyre that the Sunday services are well attended, that he is appreciating the Indian people and that he and his wife are finding pleasure in their work.

Just a year ago Mr. J. McKinlay on the Cote Reserve reported that in three weeks he baptized 22 people, including children. Some of these were re-baptized in order that the Government record of Church affiliation might appear "United Church" for school attendance. We regret the Church problem with which we have been faced on this Reserve but with the purchase of a Location Ticket from an Indian, covering half an acre of land on the Cote Reserve, we are now in process of moving the manse and Church to a site beside the new school which was opened last October. Prior to the moving of the Church the services have been held in the new school hall, with a good attendance, and Mr. McKinlay is more encouraged in his work.

Early this year Miss Blanche Cerhard reported that one of the first Christians on the Moose Mountain Reserve had died at the age of 96. He was the fourth person in Saskatchewan to enroll in the Indian Residential School in Regina. Over the years he has been an outstanding Christian and recently his granddaughter, who is in our Assiniboia Girls' Residence, declared her desire to be a missionary.

A new venture this year will be the opening of Indian work in Vancouver. We are convinced that the Church has a strategic contribution to make in the integration of the Indian people as they move from Reserves to the cities and since this transient situation presents an opportunity for service and evangelism we met the request of the British Columbia Conference Branch and are placing Miss Jessie Oliver in the city of Vancouver, hoping that she will not only work in the city but among the Indians on Vancouver Island.

Our work has come alive again in the native village of Ahousat, thanks to the finding of a consecrated lay couple, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bennett. The former was a truck driver in a logging camp when "discovered" by Rev. W. L. Howie, the West Coast Marine missionary, and Mr. Bennett willingly offered for full-time Christian work when told of the need of this village. The response to his ministry has been beyond our expectations. Watch for the forthcoming T.V. showing of "No More Strangers," which is a portrayal of the United Church Marine work on the Pacific coast. In it you will see something of the work at Ahousat.

Mr. Bennett moved his house 80 miles on a raft. Someone who saw this moving remarked that it took great faith to do it, for had a wind blown over Estevan Point nothing would have saved that house. However, it arrived safely in Ahousat, has been put on a good foundation and not only the house but the entire work is enjoying a new day.

We have learned during the last few years that it is not too late to help the Indian to build on the Christian ideals that are remaining. The sparks of spiritual life have been re-kindled and the Indian is taking a new interest in his own problem. Thus as we work together the richness of his culture will add a great deal to Canadian life.

MEDICAL

Fullness of life is the common objective of the Church. We cannot make a division of life into spiritual and physical and for this reason the healing ministry, which combines both, continues as an avenue of service, although since the early Church beginnings in the buildings and maintaining of hospitals much of the responsibility and cost have become a state expense.

We have worked with the B.C.H.I.S. (British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service), learning that estimates are required from all hospitals in British Columbia and that maintenance grants are adequate for the work which is done. We are also aware that building costs are generously shared by the Federal and Provincial Governments but that smaller communities face real difficulties in securing locally the financial help necessary to launch a building project.

In April of this year the Hospitalization Benefits Act came into effect in Alberta, providing the framework for a hospitalization benefits plan covering the residents of the Province for active treatment of patients for standard ward hospital care. The hospital will be paid monthly an amount covering the estimate of the costs to be incurred during that month by the hospital.

This means a radical change in our hospitals, for while we are placing capital expenditures in Burns Lake, B.C., and Cold Lake, Alta., no grants from our Society should be expected once a working basis has been established. However, the administration continues under our Board and the securing of nurses and other staff members becomes more urgent.

During the meeting of Dominion Board last year the plans for the new hospital at Cold Lake were reviewed. Our Superintendent, Miss Leah Rogers, and Dr. Margaret Savage visited some of the small hospitals and made a few changes in the architects' plans. On her way home from Dominion Board our Alberta Conference Branch President had an interview in Edmonton, upon the plans and changes were discussed. The architects, McKernan and Boucy of Edmonton, were authorized to call for tenders, and after a great deal of thought and prayer our Executive accepted the bid of the Solar Construction Company, Edmonton, to build a 25-bed hospital in Cold Lake, at a cost of $217,800.00. Of this amount the total grant from the Provincial and Federal Governments will be $46,000.00, half of which has been received to date.

The construction of the new hospital was started on September 15th, 1957, to be completed by July 1st, 1958. Already we have received word that the building will be completed as planned and the opening will take place about the first of July.

Gifts are being received locally and from Woman's Associations towards furnishings and we are grateful to all who have contributed to make this hospital possible.

Because of the new Alberta Hospitalization Insurance Plan which came into effect April 1st, 1958, the balance at that date in our hospital account at Cold Lake will become the property of our Society.

The Katherine H. Prittie Hospital in Bonnyville will also benefit from the new medical plan in Alberta and already the Provincial Government has refunded to us the sum of $1,740.00 which we paid on an X-ray. During the year other equipment has also been the responsibility of the Government.

We regret that we are facing a change of Superintendent in Bonnyville, as Miss Dorothy Reid has tendered her resignation. Miss Reid feels strongly the need for a Hospital Administrator as well as a Superintendent and in our list of requirements of workers we are placing two Hospital Administrators.

In January, after being without a doctor in Bonnyville for some months, Dr. and Mrs. Brien R. Roy were interviewed in Toronto, accepted for service and drove to Bonnyville. While the practice had fallen off considerably, Dr. Roy is now building up a practice for himself and making the hospital quite busy.

The 25 communities surrounding Burns Lake are doing their utmost to raise the amount necessary to allow the Burns Lake Hospital Board to build a new hospital. A site has been purchased and suggestions have been made regarding the selling of the old hospital in order that a nurses' residence may be built near the new site. A strong Committee in Burns Lake is working hard and it is hoped that the building will be started in 1958. In a copy of the Burns Lake Review an item of interest covering a contribution from the Indians was related. They brought to the hospital the proceeds of a dance—$100.00. They stated that any race was welcome at their dances but there was a note at the foot of the item that any white person wishing to go on the Reserve must secure permission from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Our Society has promised $60,000.00 towards the new hospital and of this amount has already forwarded $8,414.18, which was designated for Burns Lake some years ago.

We regret that in June 1957 our doctor left Ethelbert, making it necessary for us to close the Ethelbert Hospital. Arrangements were made for the care of the buildings, an inventory was taken and at the present time we are awaiting advice from the Attorney-General of Manitoba, who is a resident of Ethelbert, as to what future policy we should follow. Since a new hospitalization plan comes into effect in Manitoba in January 1959 we are advised that the Dauphin hospitals cannot care for all the people in the surrounding community and that careful consideration should be given to Ethelbert before we make our decision to close it out entirely. This was also the advice of The United Church of Canada Commission on Church Hospitals, after a survey was made of this hospital.

The Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital in Eriksdale has had a good year, with a full staff, and within its own Estimate repairs and changes have been made to make the building more effective. This hospital was also surveyed by The United Church Commission on Church Hospitals and the suggestion that any future hospitalization be the responsibility of the community was brought to the attention of the Eriksdale Advisory Board, but they feel that the time has not yet come when they can assume full responsibility.

- ORIENTAL

The United Church of Canada ministers to a total of 12,000 Japanese and Chinese throughout Canada. Eight Japanese ministers and two of our missionaries serve in eight major centres and many smaller towns. Nine Chinese ministers and four women missionaries work in eight main cities and many other towns over a wide area.

Japanese

It should be a major concern of our Society that Japanese are not admitted to Canada, except as students or for further study, and we hope that this Board will declare itself against any racial prejudice or discrimination.

For the first time, the United Church in Japan, at the request of The United Church of Canada, has sent us two missionaries. These men are already well-known, as they serve congregations in Vancouver and in Winnipeg.

It should be noted that the Nisei groups are concerned about the winning of their young people for the Kingdom of God. A new group has been organized and is functioning in Toronto under the part-time service of one of our ministers. Our study of Japan this year has enabled many of our people to become better acquainted with Canadian Japanese.

A Conference of Japanese ministers and workers is scheduled to be held in Toronto in June and our missionaries will be in attendance.

During the year two pieces of work in the Oriental Department were closed. A Japanese minister was appointed to Hamilton, making it unnecessary for us to have a woman worker in that city, and the Japanese work in Greenwood and Midway, in the Kootenay Presbytery, had sufficient leadership for us to release Miss Madeleine Bock to undertake a new piece of work in the Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery. Already Presbytery appreciation has been received for the work which Miss Bock is doing among the Japanese in Kelowna and the surrounding area.

Chinese

The Chinese Conference in May 1957 in Toronto accomplished a great deal. It was the first time that the Chinese ministers and W.M.S. missionaries among Chinese met together. The outcome of that Conference is quite significant. A part of the Manual of the United Church was translated into Chinese, the translation of the Catechism is under way and a new Chinese Hymnary is being printed, which will have in it familiar and suitable Church hymns.

At this Conference it was also requested that we should ask Miss Winifred Harris to undertake the Chinese work in the city of Ottawa. This inter-denominational piece of work was badly in need of organization. In December Miss Harris reported an active Sunday School, with new members being added each week, five English classes for women and young men, and a great deal of visiting among the 55 New Canadian Chinese women who had come in recently. Office and meeting space in the Chinese Mission is now being made available to Miss Harris and from the Ottawa Presbytery has come appreciation of her work.

Through Church Extension a new Chinese Christian Education Centre has been opened in Toronto. This addition to the Chinese Church has brought a large number of young people into contact with the Church.

Both Victoria and Nanaimo will be without workers this autumn unless we find someone interested in our Chinese people, as Miss Eunice Peters comes on furlough and Miss Lily Chin leaves our work to be married.

Miss Pauline Topp concluded her language study and is becoming more fluent as she uses her Cantonese daily in her work in Vancouver.

The number of Chinese coming to Canada during the last year was not as great as in previous years but our Chinese Churches are strengthened by the young University men and women who are studying in our country and who are making a Christian contribution.

The Home Mission Department of the Society was loath to lose the services of Mrs. Walter C. Coates. She was ever ready to set aside her own duties if there was a need of her assistance in Home Missions.

Now we warmly welcome the contribution being made by Miss Wilna G. Thomas. Her Home and Overseas Mission experience, her wise judgment and her understanding of the whole situation, particularly in Boarding Schools and School Homes and the Indian work, the two Departments for which she has assumed responsibility, are evident through her correspondence with workers and Advisory Committees.

Doubtless Home Missions will always have its critics, but the contagious enthusiasm for the role religion is playing in Canadian life is good dividends for what has been accomplished in the last decade. Religion (and we mean Christian), which seemed forgotten for a time, has now become one of the principal subjects of serious and intelligent publications. More Christian people are being asked by secular groups to express their views on Church matters, more information on Church institutions is being sought by influential firms and more men and women are concerned with the underprivileged and the needy.

As we close this twenty-third annual report written by the same Secretary we take the liberty of recalling with thanksgiving and reverence all who made the Home Mission work possible. The great band of Home missionaries, linked with us in harmony, the stalwart women from all the provinces, with their vision and concern, who deemed it a privilege to serve on Advisory Committees, the group who faithfully attended the monthly meetings of the Home Missions Committee, when practically every piece of work in Canada had a place of recognition each month, the Secretaries of the Board of Home Missions, who have always been ready and willing to discuss matters of concern—all these gave confidence and direction to us as we faced problems. We who laboured in the writing of this report say a personal "thank you."

ISABEL MCINTOSH LOVEYS,
Home Mission Executive Secretary.

OVERSEAS MISSIONS

The Mission of the Church and its meaning for the world today is a subject which has been engaging the serious attention and study of those concerned in the missionary enterprise of the Churches around the world. This is no less true of the Churches in Asia and Africa than of the Churches in the West. The meaning of Mission has been defined in various ways by various people. In a statement included in the 1956-57 Report of the Conference of Missionary Societies in Great Britain and Ireland, the Mission of the Church is set forth as "its total response of obedience to the calling and purpose of God—the purpose which is leading all things into unity in Christ, and is related to the end in which the judgment and Glory of God will be revealed. In this sense everything which the Church does is part of its Mission. In it are included worship in prayer, praise and sacrament, fellowship in Christ, the proclamation of the Gospel, pastoral care, the nurture of the young, service for the relief of human need and many other Christian activities."

In an address at the I.M.C. Assembly at Accra, Ghana, Professor W. Freytag of Germany said that "Mission means taking part in the action of God, in fulfilling His plan towards the coming of His Kingdom by bringing about obedience to the faith in Jesus Christ, our Lord, among the nations."

The meaning of Mission and the related subject of the meaning of partnership of the Churches around the world in obedience to Christ, has very real significance and urgency for all of us who are participating in the missionary enterprise. We need to engage in much deeper and more basic study as to these matters in co-operation with our friends and colleagues in Asia and Africa, and especially as to the implications for our participation in the Mission of the Church. We need to review all our activities in the light of the central purpose of world evangelism, the proclamation of the good news of salvation in Jesus Christ.

This report is a record in brief of the action of the Executive during this past year as related to the work of the Churches and Christian institutions in countries abroad with which our Society is connected as part of the contribution of The United Church of Canada through the persons of our missionaries, or through our financial gifts.

The growing development of the Churches with which we are connected and the fact that they are gradually assuming more and more responsibility for the proclamation of the Gospel in their own areas, and for the administration of work which was previously carried by missionaries organized into "Missions," make it evident that we all need to understand more clearly that the Church in a given area is the body responsible under God for the Mission of the Church in that area, whether that Mission is expressed through missionaries from abroad or by Christians of the area itself. In other words the missionary from abroad is no longer the central figure. The Christian Church of the area is the responsible body. Hence our participation in Mission is through the Church. This will become more and more apparent as future plans are worked out. The sending of missionaries is our response to definite invitations from the National Churches. Grants will be sent for the work of the Churches in response to their requests or for special projects which the Churches are undertaking. Gifts for the work of missionaries, as distinct from gifts to these Churches, will be discontinued. In fact, at present, apart from the salaries and personal allowances of missionaries all funds for work are sent to national Church treasurers, or treasurers of Christian institutions, with a very few exceptions.

Missionary Staff

Which brings us to the question of missionary staff. Again this year we have to report that there continues to be urgent need for the appointment of more missionaries in response to requests from the various Churches. At present there are 97 missionaries and eight short-term appointees at work abroad. Four new missionaries are being appointed at this year's Dominion Board meeting, thus making a total of 109. This is an increase of one over the number reported a year ago. Thirteen of these missionaries are due to retire within the next two years. In addition at the present time, there are requests for the appointment of 39 new missionaries. In spite of the fact that administrative control and policy direction has passed over to the national Churches, these Churches are still eager to have missionary colleagues, as is evidenced by these requests. The responsibility for finding these young women cannot be entirely left to the various Candidate Secretaries. It rests ultimately on each member of our Society to make these facts known to young women with the necessary qualifications and Christian commitment, who may be challenged with the possibility of service overseas.

Property Needs

Again this year we had before us a fairly long list of requests for new buildings, major repairs and certain equipment. The total of all requests amounted to $188,600. When we came to discuss these requests we learned that there were no funds available at this time in Property Account, because of our having undertaken a commitment in the building of the new hospitals in Alberta and British Columbia. In order to meet the most urgent items which could not be delayed, it was necessary to propose the rescinding of two grants formerly made for overseas buildings but not yet called for, as well as certain small balances from a few completed projects. A small list of requests is presented for action by this Dominion Board. It was with real dismay that we realized that no funds are available for several most urgent requests.

Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches

The annual meeting of the Department of Overseas Missions was held in Toronto on February 17-18, 1958, and in spite of the very stormy weather about 175 delegates were in attendance, of whom 35 were from our Society. Reports were given of the International Missionary Council conference at Accra, Ghana, and the All-Africa Christian Conference at Ibadan, Nigeria.

It is with regret that we report the resignation of Rev. R. B. Tillman as executive secretary of this Department and of the Department of Evangelism of the Canadian Council of Churches as from June 30, 1958. He has given outstanding leadership during the past two years, and will be greatly missed. We are happy to report that a new executive secretary has been appointed in the person of Rev. R. M. Bennett, a missionary of the Canadian Baptist Church, now serving in India. He will assume his office on October 1, 1958.

The Department of Overseas Missions continues to be the channel for the transmission of funds for certain joint Canadian projects such as the support of Dr. Donald Hancock at Vellore, and Dr. Wilham J. Virgin, at Ludhiana, and special grants to the International Missionary Council and World Council of Christian Education. Since all the Canadian mission boards have work in India, this department provides an opportunity for mutual consultation on all questions of concern to the work in that country.

Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of the Churches of Christ

Our Society continues to co-operate in the following various area and functional committees of the Division of Foreign Missions. This involves representation on the committees and grants to the home base budget of the committees as well as to joint work in the areas overseas.

Africa, Japan, and Korea Committees; Committee on Co-operation in Latin America; Rural Missions Co-operating Committee; Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work; Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature; Radio, Visual Education and Mass Communication Committee.

These committees provide a place for consultation on matters of mutual concern as to policy as well as certain projects under the auspices of the National Christian Councils of the various areas.

This is especially true with regard to Christian literature and radio, and audio-visual projects which are of such strategic importance in these days. The total grants made for Christian Literature and Literacy Training by the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature in 1957 were $307,000. These grants went to national literature committees in Asia, Africa, Latin America, scholarships for special training in journalism in North America, and travel costs of literacy teams in several areas. Assistance was given for the publication of 390 books in 49 countries, as well as 22 weekly or monthly magazines and huge numbers of booklets, tracts, hymnals, calendars, Sunday School materials and other teaching aids. Thousands of illiterates have been taught to read.

A total of $267,000 was spent by RAVEMCCO in subsidy to the on-going budgets of audio-visual programs, radio and TV work carried on by related committees of the National Christian Councils in Africa, Latin America, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Indonesia, Burma, Thailand, Malaya, India, Pakistan, Near East, Ceylon and Hong Kong. Through our grant to RAVEMCCO our Society has a share in all these areas through this strategic new form of the communication of the gospel.

International Missionary Council

The meeting of the Assembly of the International Missionary Council at Accra, Ghana, December 28, 1957 - January 8, 1958, was an event of major importance to all concerned with the missionary enterprise. About 185 delegates, consultants and observers were present from the National Christian Councils of Asia, Africa, and Latin America, and the Missionary Councils of North America, Great Britain, Europe, Australia and New Zealand. In all there are 38 Member Organizations, including three new ones accepted at this Assembly. The Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches, which is one of the Member Organizations, was represented by three delegates, of whom I was one.

One of the important questions discussed at the Assembly was the proposed integration of the International Missionary Council and the World Council of Churches.

A second major subject at the Assembly was Theological education which is of prime importance to the Churches of Asia and Africa. A Theological Education Fund was set up into which was put the gift of two million dollars from the Rockefeller Fund and a similar amount pledged by eight mission boards in the U.S.A. over the next five years. It is hoped that grants will come from all mission boards and the Churches around the world. In response to the initial appeal on this matter several years ago our Society has been making a grant of $935.00 a year and it is hoped this can be continued. The plan is to assist about 20 selected theological colleges and seminaries in various parts of the world in improving the level of scholarship at those institutions and carrying out a text program.

The International Committee on Christian Literature for Africa, which is a committee of the International Missionary Council, will cease to exist as of January 30, 1959, according to the decision made at the IMC Assembly at Ghana. Its work will be transferred to area literature committees in Africa. There will be continued need for our present grants to literature work in Africa as subsidies for this type of work will be required for some considerable time to come.

World Christian Books which is an IMC project under the editorship of Bishop Stephen Neill, is continuing to prepare and publish books which are widely circulated. There are now 22 of these books and two more are in process of preparation to complete the first series. A good many of these are now available in translations into 24 languages. Our Society has shared in this project from its inception by a small grant of $35.00 a year, which seems a very small amount, but is our share of the requested underwriting from the Canadian Boards.

The resurgence of the great non-Christian faiths in recent years has pointed up the necessity for Christians to know more about these religions. Hence, Christian centres for the study of these non-Christian religions are being set up in various areas with help from the International Missionary Council. Mission Boards are asked to assist in this. Already such centres have been set up in Hong Kong, India, and Burma, and it is anticipated that others will be established in the near future.

The International Missionary Council initiated plans for another important conference in January, 1958. This was the All-Africa Church Conference which met at Ibadan, Nigeria, January 10 - 19, under the sponsorship of the Christian Council of Nigeria. This was the first time that such a widely representative Christian conference had been held in Africa. It included about 100 Africans from almost every part of Africa south of the Sahara, 50 missionaries and 20 leaders of various parts of the world who had been attending the Ghana Assembly. Both African and missionary delegates were present from Angola and Northern Rhodesia.

World Council of Christian Education

The meeting of the Institute on Christian Education and the Assembly of the World Council of Christian Education in Japan this coming summer will bring together about 7,000 men and women who are concerned in this very important department of Christian work. Our Society makes a small grant to the World Council of Christian Education towards its annual budget because the WCCE assists the various national Christian Education Committees. This year in response to a request from the WCCE, for assistance in meeting the travel expenses of national delegates from Asia and Africa, a special grant of $1,243.00 was made to assist two such delegates, Mr. Henry Makulu of Northern Rhodesia and Miss Lee of Hong Kong. In addition travel grants have been made to assist four missionaries whose work is in the field of Christian Education—Rev. Amy Schaufler, Angola; Miss Annetta Rose, Korea; Miss Annie Thexton, Hong Kong; and Miss Ruth MacLeod, Formosa. One of our missionaries in Japan, Miss Jean Macdonald, has been working full-time on the staff of the Japan Christian Education Committee of the National Council of Churches in preparation for this Convention.

Grants to assist in the preparation of new Sunday School curricula in both India and Central Africa are being made over a period of five years. Mr. Henry Makulu of Northern Rhodesia is now giving full time to this work, assisted by missionaries and other Africans in various regions of that great continent.

World Christian Student Federation

The World Christian Student Federation is another world Christian organization with which our Society co-operates. This year, 1958, completes a three-year project in Chile by which Canadian Boards have shared in the support of a Canadian student secretary for the Student Christian Movement in that country. We are being asked to continue a somewhat smaller grant towards the support of a Latin American student secretary for the same area, since there is no secretary yet available from Chile itself.

In addition, our regular grant of $1,000.00 goes to assist in the support of Latin American student secretaries in other areas.

Angola, Portuguese West Africa

This is the second year that the new Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola has been operating, and the reports of their second General Assembly of January, 1958, are most interesting and very encouraging. Home Mission work is being carried on in three areas—Alto Cuito, under the direction of the Camundongo Church; the Fisheries and Dombe Grande under the Coast Church; and Cuanhama, under the Banjei Church.

At the General Assembly meeting reports were received from each district, which showed that there is now a total baptized Church membership of 41,000 with a total Church constituency of 101,000. Mention should also be made of the Portuguese Churches in Nova Lisboa, Lobito and Silva Porto. All three are part of the Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola. In local church annual meetings their representatives sit with the representatives of the African churches, and their membership is included in the above statistics.

The union of the American Board and United Church of Canada missions has been accomplished. There is now complete interchange of missionary personnel between the various areas, irrespective of traditional relationships. In fact there are Canadian missionaries on every station except Chilesso, and Miss Mary Clark has been appointed there following her language study.

The Folk Betterment Committee, under the leadership of Miss Edith Clark, has been very active during the year. Three projects of a month each were carried out in June, July and August in the Bailundo and Chilesso areas. Also a demonstration was given to the students at Emmanuel Seminary at Dondi in which they shared, and which was of real value to them in showing what can be done to improve a given area.

The Literature Committee of the Church has been active both in the preparation of materials and in literacy work. Rev. J. D. Ormiston, who gives full time to this work, attended a Literature and Literacy Conference in Liberia in November, and returned with plans for an increased program. The Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature of the Division of Foreign Missions provided his travel funds for this Conference, and also makes a grant to assist in the promotion of book circulation. A Central Literature Bureau has been set up at Dondi, which is the centre for the sale and distribution of all books whether produced at the Dondi Press or secured from other sources.

Several writers' workshops have been held during the year under the leadership of Miss Frances Walbridge who took a course in journalism on her last furlough. There is a great need in Angola for African writers to produce materials of all kinds and workshops of this kind will help to develop such writers.

The translation of the Old Testament is now in the final stages of completion. Miss Millicent Howse has been assisting with this last phase of the work. A sense of deep satisfaction and gratitude to God is felt by the Church and by the missionaries in Angola in bringing the undertaking to a conclusion.

During the year Miss Marion Boyd, who was appointed in 1956 and who has been studying Portuguese language in Lisbon, resigned to be married to a missionary of the Methodist Board of Missions U.S.A., also under appointment to Angola. It is now essential to find another Home Economics graduate for Means School staff. We have also to report the retirement of Dona Celenia Ferreira, who has served for almost 25 years as a teacher in several of our schools. The appointment of Miss Betty Gilchrist will be warmly welcomed in Angola. This brings our missionary staff to a total of 20. Several more are urgently needed and the African leaders asked me most earnestly when I was there last fall, how soon some more would be sent.

Means School staff have given consideration to certain revisions in the program of the school. The question had been raised as to whether there should be more emphasis on academic work and less on vocational training. The Church is very much concerned about the education of girls, and are urging that as rapidly as possible more girls be prepared for the secondary school course.

I should like to add a word of appreciation of my visit to Angola in November and December of last year. This was my third visit and I was very much interested and deeply impressed to see the remarkable progress made in so many sections of the life and work of the Church there since my two previous visits.

Northern Rhodesia

When I was on the Copperbelt in Northern Rhodesia last fall, there was only one single woman missionary at work there, Mrs. Essie Johnson. Two others were there doing language study, Misses Elsie Bunner and Thelma Conway, and one other, under the L.M.S., Dr. Dorothea Lehman, was on furlough. At present there are five, our three W.M.S. missionaries, the L.M.S. missionary returned from furlough, and a woman missionary transferred to the Copperbelt by the Church of Scotland Mission. Two of these, however, are on special assignment. Dr. Dorothea Lehman is working with Dr. John Taylor in a special I.M.C. study of the Copperbelt as an "area of rapid social change," and Mrs. Essie Johnson is directing a new Training Course for African women at Kitwe. Although the situation is some better than a year ago, there is still very real need for women workers, and there will be a very warm welcome for Miss Shirley Johnston, our new missionary to be appointed at this Dominion Board meeting. It is also heartening to know that there will be two new missionaries arriving in September from England—one appointed by the Methodist Missionary Society of England, and one by the Church of Scotland.

On March 1st, 1958, a new Course for African Women was opened at Mindolo Mission near Kitwe, under the sponsorship of the Copperbelt Christian Service Council. There are 22 African women enrolled, plus six sent by one of the mining companies. The course is to last for four months and is experimental in nature. This first course will be a guide as to others in the future as to program. Mrs. Essie Johnson is the director, and Mrs. Henry Makulu, the assistant-director. Mrs. Makulu has studied at Selby Oak Colleges in England with her husband, and is well qualified. The purpose of the course is to prepare African lay women for leadership in local churches. Worship, Bible Study, health, nutrition, mothercraft, handicrafts, gardening, housewifery, laundry, supervised field work with women's and girls' groups, are subjects included in the course. Since this is a new venture for which no previous finances had been provided, the cost of the first course is being met by grants from the mining company and funds which the CCSC had available. A second four months course is to open on August 1st. Our Society has been asked for the major part of the cost of this second course which was estimated at £750. A grant of $1,800.00 was made in response to this request.

It is probable that the Church Union between the CCAR and the European Free Church Council will take place some time in 1958. When that happens, our missionaries and grants will be sent to the new United Church and not merely to the Churches on the Copperbelt.

My visit to Northern Rhodesia last fall was most helpful to me in understanding the situation since I had not been in that area previously. I spent all my time on the Copperbelt.

Because The United Church of Canada missionaries in Northern Rhodesia are increasing in number, approval was given by our Executive and the Board of Overseas Missions for them to be organized into a Committee of Missionaries to discuss personal matters, such as furloughs, missionary allowances, health and requests to Boards at home.

Our Executive made a grant of £100 to assist an African delegate to attend the All-Africa Conference at Ubadan in January. A similar grant was made by the Board of Overseas Missions. Rev. Joel Chisanga, pastor of the African church at N'Dola, was the one chosen and he reports that the Conference was most stimulating and he is grateful for the opportunity to attend.

India

The Malwa Church Council through its administrative Board (the Masili Sewa Mandal) has again earnestly requested our Society for several new missionaries. Most of these are not additional missionaries but are replacements for several who have retired or resigned to be married within the last few years. The request for evangelistic missionaries has been before us for three years and still we have no one to appoint. The need for missionary nurses is especially acute.

At her own request Dr. Helen Huston has been granted permission to remain in India for one year beyond her regular term of service in order to spend a year in Nepal as a member of the United Mission to Nepal, which is a co-operative mission under the auspices of the National Christian Council of India.

Miss Dorothy MacIntyre was granted six months' leave of absence in June 1957 because of her father's serious illness and death. She returned to India in December. We regret to report that Miss Kathleen Methers had not been at all well since her return to India after furlough in 1956. She has been granted six months' sick leave in England where she will undergo treatment. Miss Dorothy Pearson was also granted leave of absence for health reasons and has been at Macdonald Hall, Guelph, as a member of their faculty for the past year.

Miss Jean Craddock, who was appointed last year for a two-year period, has done an excellent piece of work in organizing the Children's Ward at the Indore Hospital. This accommodates 12 children. The equipment for this Ward and the running expenses for this past year have been provided by a gift from the I.O.D.E. of Canada.

The Children's Home at Neemuch has been enjoying the new building. This Home is full to overflowing with 30 children. According to the new policy for the Home, the children are admitted from 12-18 months old. Smaller babies who need care must go to one of the hospitals. The older children in the Home attend the local church school. The Mandal is attempting to bring to the attention of all the congregations in the Malwa Church Council, the large number of children needing homes, in the hope that more Christian families will consider adoption.

The transfer of all mission property to the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India has now been completed. This includes all missionary residences as well as other buildings. These missionary residences will be held in trust for The United Church of Canada by the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India.

A new development in Christian institutions in India is the Christian Institute for the Study of Religion and Society situated at Bangalore in Southern India, under the directorship of Rev. P. Devanandan.

Always Christian College, in South India, has received a grant of $26,000 from the Government of India to assist in starting a post-graduate course in science, on condition that the College itself raise $13,000 for the same purpose. $7,000 is already in hand, $1,000 of which was granted by our Society last year. It has been impossible this year to respond to their further request because of lack of funds.

The Madras Women's Christian College had a very successful year in the 1956-57 session, under the new principal, Miss Renuka Mukerji, M.A. There were 350 students this past year, which is a slight increase. Two-thirds of the applicants for admission to the first year had to be turned away.

Miss Florence Theophilus was appointed head of the Home Science Department, the position Miss Dorothy Pearson held previously. There is urgent need for a new building to replace one of the older dormitories, and a new dining-room. The Associate Board of the College in North America is asking the co-operating boards to grant $80,000 for this purpose. Our Board's share, $10,000, has had to be postponed for financial reasons.

The Mid-India Graduate School for Nurses which is at the Indore Hospital has graduated their first class of 15 nurses. In addition, the first class of six nursing instructors also graduated during this past year. This is a co-operative venture, the physical space being provided by the Mandal, at the Indore Hospital, as well as some teaching by our W.M.S. missionary nurses. The Director is Miss Bessie MacMurchy of the Canadian Presbyterian W.M.S. staff. This school is providing much needed graduate training in the Hindi language for nurses who will then be able to carry heavier responsibility in the various hospitals. Miss Frances Buckles and Miss Louise Scott have been teaching on the staff of the school.

The Vellore Christian Medical College has been the recipient of a grant of Rs. 1,600,000 (approximately $330,000 U.S.) from the Rockefeller Foundation to be used for research and to raise the salaries of teaching staff members, both Indian and Western. Fifty-one students were admitted to the Freshman class this past year. This brings the student body to a total of 251.

The Ludhiana Christian Medical College is proceeding with its programme of up-grading, although the mission boards are finding it difficult to make grants sufficient to meet the increased building needs. The First Phase of the new 500-bed Teaching Hospital, approximately two-thirds of the whole project, has been completed and was opened in September 1957. The third section of the up-grading program is now in process. This includes the completion of the hospital, Nurses' Residence, Staff Quarters and certain other smaller projects. We regret very much our inability to make a grant this year.

Allahabad Agricultural Institute has an enrolment of 412 students during this year, the highest in its history. There are 15 women in the Intermediate Course in Home Economics, and 11 in Home Economics Extension. Kenya, Uganda, Ethiopia, Burma, Ceylon, Nepal, Fiji and Barbados Islands are represented in the student body.

Hong Kong and Formosa

The year 1957 marked the 150th anniversary of the arrival of Rev. Robert Morrison in China. To commemorate the great work begun by Morrison, a special memorial year program has been planned. The Memorial Year was inaugurated by a service held on September 2nd, 1957, in the Anglican chapel at Macao where Dr. Morrison was buried. The commemoration has continued through the year until May of this year. Four emphases have been stressed as related to this special year. One Christian Find One New Christian, Unchurched Christians Come Home, Dedication of Youth to the Ministries of the Church, and Missionary Work in Other Lands. Requests have been made of all mission boards cooperating with the Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China for grants towards a capital fund which is to provide a Morrison Memorial Centre which includes an auditorium, and church offices. The request to our Society is for $13,000 and very regretfully only $5,000 of this amount can be given this year due to financial reasons. The Board of Overseas Missions have made a grant of $13,000. An annual grant of $1,000 has been requested of our Society towards the maintenance costs of this project and this has been included in the 1959 Estimates.

The Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China are seeking to raise $1,000,000 HK (approximately $165,000) to share in the above project and also for the erection of a Church in an industrial area which will be a memorial to the first Chinese preacher, a Social Service Centre for workers, a Farmer Area Church, a School and a Fishermen's Church, a memorial to the first Chinese Christian martyr.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has appointed an assistant Editor of literature for women and girls, her salary of $500 being taken from the $1,500 our Society has granted annually instead of appointing a missionary to succeed Miss Margaret Brown. Since there was $1,000 of this amount remaining for 1957, a grant of $500 was made to the Hong Kong Church Council to set up another roof-top school. These are schools which are held on the flat roof-tops of the large housing units where refugees have been accommodated. There are a great many children of school age in the large apartments for whom there are no regular schools available. The Church has been arranging for these special schools to help out the situation.

The CCLOC has reported that during 1957, 58 books were published of which four were original Chinese writing. Included in this number were 30 new titles and 24 reprints.

In response to an urgent request from Rennie's Mill Church Clinic through the United Church of Canada missionaries in Hong Kong, the Board of Overseas Missions and our Society are sharing on the usual 50-50 basis making an annual grant of $1,200 each for the salary of a Chinese doctor for the staff of that Clinic, this to begin from May 1st, 1958, or as soon after that date as a doctor can be found.

There is now a total of 785 patients on Hay Ling Chau Island and during the last year 187 were discharged with certificates declaring their fitness to return to work. The Church on the Island held its fifth anniversary recently and is very active in its witness among the patients.

Since Miss Annie Thexton will be retiring within a two-year period, it is essential that one or two new missionaries be sent to Hong Kong as soon as possible.

Chung Chi College reported a total of 450 students during the past year, 50 of whom are from other parts of South East Asia. The United Church of Canada has now Rev. and Mrs. Walton H. Tonge on the staff of the College.

Tinghai University in Formosa has a total enrolment of 597 regular students of whom 438 are men and 159 women. This includes eight overseas students who have come from the Philippines, Borneo, Hong Kong, Macao, Vietnam, Thailand and Malaya. In addition there are 19 students from 24 provinces of China.

Japan

Japan has now a population of 91 million which makes it the fifth most populous nation in the world. It is exceeded only by China, India, the USSR, and the United States in that order. Since the end of the second World War in 1945, the population has increased by 19 million. This increase in population is one of the major problems Japan has to face in her national economy.

The United Church of Christ in Japan has been making a sustained effort to win new converts to the Christian faith in preparation for the 100th anniversary of the first arrival of Protestant missionaries in Japan next year. The 1956 statistics report the membership as 167,971. The total number of Christians in Japan at the end of 1956 was 583,509, of whom 322,135 were Protestant. In all there are 74 Protestant denominations in Japan, 63 of which have memberships ranging from less than 100 to 5,000. This division into so many denominations and sects is one of the major difficulties which the Christian movement faces in the proclamation of the Gospel.

During the year 1957, the United Church of Christ in Japan put special emphasis on women's work. The Women's Department of the Church planned special programs of Bible Study, Christian Home and Family Life and other matters of concern to women. Many who heard Mrs. Watari speak last year will recall her speaking of this part of Church life. The first Leadership Training Conference for Women Leaders in the United Church of Christ in Japan was held recently as a climax to the Women's Emphasis Year. In attendance were 128 women from local churches in all parts of Japan and various Central Women's Committees.

The Women's Committee of the National Christian Council sent a donation of $1,000 to the World Council of Churches for Hungarian refugees. This was part of the offering received from the Women's World Day of Prayer in Japan last year.

Miss Katherine Greenbank was honored at a ceremony in the Auditorium of the Kofu Girls' School on October 17th, 1957, when she was granted the title of Honorary Citizen by Kofu City, in appreciation of her work of over 30 years in education in that city.

Four of our senior W.M.S. missionaries in Japan will be retiring next year following their furlough. They leave the work in Japan this year. This is presenting a serious problem, especially for the Girls' High Schools because two of these have been teachers at Kofu and Shizuoka. Miss Enid Horning who went to Japan for educational work, has decided she would prefer evangelistic work and the Church has appointed her to Tomisato with Miss Margaret Trueman. The problem is further aggravated by the fact that in 1959 the three young teachers serving for a three-year term complete their terms of service and will be returning to Canada. It is probable that we will be asked to replace them by three more. These short-term appointments have meant much to the High Schools in Japan, but the principals would prefer missionary teachers on a long term basis who would be able to study Japanese. Lacking long-term missionaries, it will be essential for our Society to make short-term appointments for another term of three years. I hope that every effort will be made to find two or three High School teachers for Japan.

Both Kofu and Shizuoka Girls' High Schools have put up new school buildings during this year. Shizuoka needs an addition to this new building in order to complete their total plan. This will be done when we are able to make our final grant of $11,000 which is not possible this year. Mr. Naitoh, principal of the Kofu School, has borrowed funds to supplement our grant of last year in order to complete his entire building needs. He hopes most earnestly that we will be able to grant our final $20,000 as soon as possible so that he will be able to repay this debt.

Miss Constance Chappell begins her furlough this coming summer but is remaining in Japan during the furlough since her sister, Miss Mary Chappell, is also teaching there, in a private Christian school, Tsuda College. They will return to Canada in about two years' time. Miss Constance Chappell will retire from the work of our Society in the summer of 1959.

The enrolment of the Tokyo Woman's Christian College for the academic year 1957-58, was 1,573-1,348 in the four year Liberal Arts College and 439 in the two year Junior College. These figures are slightly lower than last year which shows the determined effort of the administration to resist the pressure which the budget problem constantly exerts to send the enrolment figures spiralling upward. This year there were 271 graduates, with 201 more from the Junior College. The contributions of the seven supporting boards totalled about 15% of the operating expenses. This year is the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the College, and suitable celebrations of the event will be held.

Two years ago a Property-Holding Body (Shadan) was set up in Japan to hold all the property of the Boards co-operating in the I.B.C. Approval has been given by our Executive that all our W.M.S. missionary residences be transferred to the I.B.C. Shadan one by one over a period of years, in order that the cost of legal fees involved may be spread over a longer period of time. The only property our Society owns in Japan is residences for missionaries. These will be held in trust for us by the new I.B.C. Shadan.

Korea

The Presbyterian Church ROK, to which The United Church of Canada is now related, reports an increase in the number of churches and a larger membership since it was first organized in 1955. There are at present 620 churches with 622 pastors and evangelists, and 173,509 baptized members. During this past year there has been further negotiations as to the constitution of the Special Planning Committee which has been set up to administer the work formerly carried on by The United Church of Canada Mission Committee. This at present does not include medical work, or co-operation with union institutions. Dr. D. H. Callagher, Secretary of the Board of Overseas Missions, visited Korea in February and conversations were held with the Korean Church leaders on these matters.

This Church has now been accepted into full membership in the National Christian Council and other co-operative committees.

One of the above projects in which we share is HLKY, the "Radio Voice of the Church in Korea." This station has completed three years of gospel broadcasting on December 15, 1957. This Christian radio project, supported by the leading mission boards and churches in Korea, as well as by interested friends, aims to reach as many as possible of Korea's 30 million people. During the past year HLKY's power output was increased from 5,000 to 10,000 watts. As a result a stronger signal is being heard by South Koreans, and it is hoped that the programs are being heard more widely in North Korea. During the coming year there are plans to establish two or more relay stations in as many cities two hundred or more miles south of Seoul. HLKY will thus grow into a Christian network for Korea.

Last July the resignation of Rev. Elda Daniels was accepted and our best wishes went to her at the time of her marriage to Dr. E. B. Struthers. Since then Dr. Struthers' date of retirement from work under the Board of Overseas Missions has been set as May 31st. They were both earnestly desirous of returning to Korea, and we had not been able to find anyone to replace Miss Daniels at Ewha University. Hence we are happy to report that Rev. Elda Daniels Struthers has been re-appointed as a missionary in full standing as from approximately August 1st, 1958, to return to Korea and resume her teaching at Ewha. Dr. Struthers will, of course, be going too and will no doubt continue in another capacity his important work in the T.B. program under Church World Service. This is a very unusual case, and does not change the Society's policy regarding the employment of married women.

We are happy in the appointment of Miss Marion Current to Severance Hospital which is now part of Yonsei University, as an occupational-physiotherapist. This department of work has been an important one in recent years when so many civilian amputees have been cared for as well as post-polio and other cases which need this type of treatment. Miss Current will spend the coming year in language study at Yale University, U.S.A. We are sorry to lose Miss Nancy Cameron from our staff. She and Miss Willa Kernon come home this July on their first furlough and Miss Cameron will be married shortly after. She has given excellent leadership in student work, and has worked hard to bring divided groups together. This has now been accomplished and there is one United Student Committee in Korea which includes all groups.

Miss Anne Davison will return to Korea to resume her work under the Korea Church World Service Committee once again. Negotiations are in progress through the Canadian Council of Churches to loan Miss Davison for this work through the Committee on Inter-Church Aid and Service to Refugees of the World Council of Churches instead of through Church World Service, U.S.A.

The plans for the hospital at Wonju have now been approved by the Methodist Boards of Missions and the Board of Overseas Missions and Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. We are awaiting the final estimates as there have had to be certain revisions from the original figure of $250,000. The total cost is to be divided equally between the two Methodist Boards and the Woman's Missionary Society and Board of Overseas Missions of The United Church of Canada. Our Society will thus be responsible for one-quarter of the total cost.

A grant of $12,500 was made by the Executive from Property Account to build a W.M.S. missionary residence at Woujin.

Ewha Woman's University reports over 5,000 students this year. The new Library building has been completed. Since this building was urgently needed at once for their large student body, funds were borrowed to meet the cost of erection. They are hoping for the requested grants from the Boards to meet these costs. Our grant of $25,000 is in the C.B.A. list for 1958. More books are needed also, as at present there are only 40,000 volumes, which is below the standard they should have. There is space in the new building for 100,000 volumes.

Trinidad

The situation as to missionary staff needs is a matter of serious concern to the Committee for Women's Work in Trinidad. Miss Grace Beattie returns to Canada in May of this year and will retire after her furlough. Miss Lula Rouse will finish her term in Trinidad at the end of the year. Miss Kaye Cosman completes her two-year term in August. This will leave only eight missionaries which is a very small staff indeed for all the work to be done. Unless a Household Science teacher can be found by August, Archibald Institute will be in sore straits indeed. Miss Pearl Ramcharan, who has been for a number of years in charge of the Kindergarten Department at Naparima Girls' High School, is to be married in the near future. The difficulty is, that there is no one else, either missionary or Trinidadian, who is qualified to take over this position. Here is another urgent need. The Committee for Women's Work is pleading for eight more missionaries to be sent as soon as possible.

The former Naparima Girls' High School Board of Managers has changed its name and function. It has now become the Presbyterian Girls' Secondary School Board with Administrative Committees for the Naparima Girls' High School and the St. Augustine Girls' High School. Both these schools have had excellent results in the students they have sent up for examinations. There are now 684 students at the Naparima Girls' High School, with 140 more in the Kindergarten and Prep School Department; a little over 500 of these are Christians, including 65 Roman Catholics. The St. Augustine Girls' High School has an enrolment of 297 students. A Parent-Teachers Association of the School was organized recently. T.C.I.T Groups are functioning in both schools.

Archibald Institute has had an enrolment of 40 this year. The future of this Institute has been studied this year by the Board of the school.

The Caribbean Consultation held just a year ago in Puerto Rico was referred to in last year's report.

In August in Trinidad there was held a Consultative Assembly of the Presbyterian Churches in the Caribbean. Dr. James Thomson, the Moderator of The United Church of Canada, was one of the speakers and he visited the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad on that occasion. This is the first time these Churches from the various territories have met together to consider their common problems.

The Radio Committee of Presbytery has been very active during the year. The Committee for Women's Work co-operates with Presbytery in this Committee. Programs include "Radio Sunday School," a Radio Edition of the Bible. Radio Trinidad has released free time to the Federal Council of Churches in Trinidad and a number of ministers of the Presbyterian Church have made excellent contributions, especially over "Morning Devotions" and in the Sunday evening worship services.

Conclusion

I would like to close this report of the year's work with an expression of thankfulness to Almighty God for the privilege of sharing in His Work in so many parts of our world today. This is an age of transition, of crisis, of rapid development in almost every area. To be permitted to have a part, however small, at such a time in the work of the Kingdom, to share with so many colleagues, both missionaries and national leaders in the work of Christian witness and service, makes life worth while even in the face of difficulties of many kinds, restricted funds, and the shortage of personnel. Let us all thank God and take courage, knowing that His grace is sufficient for us always. Thanks be to God Who giveth us the victory.

RUTH H. TAYLOR, Secretary

CANDIDATE

Seven young women were received as Candidates for missionary service in the year 1957-58. These received appointments at the Annual Meeting of Dominion Board on June 27th. They were:

She is a graduate of Victoria Public Hospital, Fredericton and is a Registered Nurse. She has had successful experience in her profession including several months as Clinical Instrmetress at Victoria Public Hospital. She has completed the required study at the United Church Training School.

Miss Edna Meader, Reg.N.—to Cold Lake, Alberta. Miss Meader's home is in Hamilton, Ontario, where she is a member of Livingstone United Church. She is a graduate of Hamilton General Hospital and is a Registered Nurse. Miss Meader holds a Public Health Nursing certificate from the University of Western Ontario. She has had professional experience as general duty nurse and in the public health department of the city of Hamilton. She has completed the required study at the United Church Training School.

Miss June Rothwell, Reg.N.—to Eriksdale, Manitoba. Miss Rothwell's home is in Toronto where she is a member of Presteign United Church. She is a graduate of Royal Victoria Hospital, School of Nursing, Montreal, and is a Registered Nurse. She has had nursing experience in Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, the T.B. Hospital in Moncton and in Toronto East General on the Children's Floor. Miss Rothwell has completed the year of study at the United Church Training School required for missionary nurses.

Miss Elizabeth Gilchrist—to Angola, Africa. Miss Gilchrist is the daughter of Africa missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Gilchrist. She was born in Camundongo, Angola. Miss Gilchrist is a teacher and has had experience in primary school teaching. She is a graduate of the United Church Training School, holding the diploma for the two year course.

Miss Shirley Johnston, B.Sc.—to Northern Rhodesia, Africa. Miss Johnston's home is in Kaslo, B.C. She is the daughter of former missionaries to China. Miss Johnston is a graduate of the University of Manitoba in science and has had experience in laboratory work as a chemist. She is a graduate of the United Church Training School and a member of the Deaconess Order. For two years, 1956-1958 Miss Johnston was Director of Christian Education at Queen Mary Road United Church, Hampstead, Quebec.

Miss Marion Current—to Korea. Miss Current's home is in Timmins, Ontario. Her church membership however is in Victoria, B.C., where she worked as a young professional person before she entered the United Church Training School to train for Church work. Miss Current is a graduate of the course in Physio and Occupational Therapy of Toronto University. She has had experience as a Physiotherapist for two years with the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, B.C. Division. Miss Current is a graduate of the United Church Training School and is being designated as a member of the Deaconess Order by the Toronto Conference in June this year.

Miss Barbara Maxwell, B.Sc., Reg.N.—to India. Miss Barbara Maxwell's home is in Toronto. She is a member of St. Clair Ave. United Church. She is a graduate of the University of Toronto, holding a B.Sc. degree in Nursing. She has had several years professional experience as Outpost Nurse with the Canadian Red Cross, Ontario Division, as a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses and recently as matron at Lyndhurst Lodge, Toronto. Miss Maxwell has completed one year of study at the United Church Training School as required for missionary nurses.

REQUESTS FOR NEW MISSIONARIES

Requests for new missionaries for work in Canada and for work overseas have been referred to the Candidate Committee. The Candidate Secretaries have been asked to help make them known to the Church and especially to qualified young women.

OVERSEAS

Requests from Overseas Churches for women missionaries add up to 39 women. Of this number Dominion Board authorized the appointment of 10 in 1959.

These requests and needs are as follows:

Angola: 2 Household Science Teachers, 3 Nurses, 1 Laboratory Technician, 2 Teachers for Schools of Primary Instruction, including one specializing in Pedagogy, 2 Social Service Workers, 1 Physiotherapist.

Northern Rhodesia: 2 Evangelistic and Social Service Workers.

India: 2 Women Doctors, 2 Evangelistic Missionaries, 5 Nurses—one for Public Health Work.

Hong Kong: 2 Teachers for Religious Education, Teaching of English or Music.

Japan: 2 High School Teachers, 1 Worker for Christian Education and Evangelism.

Korea: 1 Social Group Worker for Student Work, 2 Evangelistic Workers, 1 Doctor.

Trinidad: 3 Christian Education and Evangelistic Workers, 3 Household Science Teachers, 1 Science Teacher, 1 Kindergarten Teacher.

CANADA

Needs for women missionaries in Canada call for 50 young women who should be appointed over the next three years. Of this number the appointment of 12 has been authorized for 1959. The 50 are:

3 Matrons for Boarding Schools

4 Staff Members for Indian Residential School

18 Christian Education Community Workers

25 Hospital Staff

2 Superintendents, 2 Administrators and 21 Nurses

QUALIFICATIONS AND PREPARATION OF MISSIONARIES

PERSONAL

In addition to the primary requirements of Christian faith and character and a deep desire to make Christ known and to participate in the development of a Christian world, the following qualities make for effective Christian service: good health, tact and courtesy, courage and resourcefulness, ability to co-operate, and capacity for leadership. Church membership and active participation in the life of the Church are essential.

A medical examination under the direction of the Inter-Church Medical Board, with a satisfactory report as required.

Age for appointment—Canada—23-35
Overseas—25-35

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

All candidates are required to have basic academic qualifications as follows:

(a) A University degree—this represents the most valuable academic preparation; or

(b) As a minimum requirement in academic preparation, Senior Matriculation. (See exception made for nurses who would serve in Canada—Section D below.)

The equivalents recognized for Senior Matriculation for different provinces are as follows:

British Columbia	Senior Matriculation
Alberta	Grade XII
Saskatchewan	Grade XII
Manitoba	Grade XII
Ontario	Grade XIII
Quebec	Senior High School Leaving Certificate or McGill Senior School Certificate
New Brunswick	Senior Matriculation or first year University
Nova Scotia	Grade XII
Prince Edward Island	Senior Matriculation or third year certificate of Prince of Wales College
Newfoundland	Grade XII or first year Memorial University

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE, AND MISSIONARY TRAINING

A. FOR APPOINTMENT IN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND EVANGELISM IN CANADA OR OVERSEAS

(1) A candidate with University graduation is required to take the two year diploma course at The United Church Training School and if possible the Bachelor of Religious Education degree.

(2) A candidate with Senior Matriculation or equivalent, as listed above, is required in addition to have professional or business training, such as a first class teachers' certificate or graduation from a regular business course, with two years' successful experience and to take the two year diploma course at The United Church Training School.

(3) A candidate for service overseas with graduation in Theology from any United Church Theological College, is required to spend a period of time in specialized missionary preparation. (Financial help where necessary for such a candidate, will be provided for the period of specialized missionary preparation.)

B. FOR APPOINTMENT AS AN EDUCATIONAL MISSIONARY FOR SERVICE OVERSEAS

All candidates for Educational Work Overseas are required to take a one year course in specialized missionary preparation during which time they will live in residence at The United Church Training School and participate in residence activities. This will follow professional training and experience as required for the specific appointment:

(1) For High Schools—a Secondary School Teacher's certificate and two years' successful teaching experience.

(2) For Educational Work in the field of Elementary Schools—a first class teacher's certificate from a Teacher Training College with at least two years' teaching experience.

(3) For Colleges and Universities—A graduate degree and successful teaching experience in the subject to be taught.

(4) For specialized work in education, two year's successful teaching experience.

C. FOR APPOINTMENT TO MEDICAL SERVICE OVERSEAS

(1) Doctors—a medical degree, internship and a period of specialized missionary preparation.

(2) Nurses—A candidate for service as a nurse overseas, in addition to basic academic training, is required to be a Registered Nurse with at least two year's successful experience, and possible post-graduate training in accordance with current requests from Overseas Churches or Committees. She is also required to complete successfully a special one-year course in missionary preparation provided through The United Church Training School.

D. FOR APPOINTMENT TO MEDICAL SERVICE IN CANADA

(1) Nurses—A candidate for missionary service, as a nurse in Canada, should have, preferably Senior Matriculation, but in any case not less than Junior Matriculation, and must be a Registered Nurse with two years' successful experience. She is required to complete successfully a special one year course in missionary preparation at The United Church Training School.

SALARY

The Society makes adequate provision for salary, and for travel to and from fields of work, gives a furlough year with salary, for study and refreshment, and has an efficient plan for retirement and sick allowances.

BURSARIES

The Society also provides bursaries for missionary candidates in training at The United Church Training School.

SCHOLARSHIP

Approximately one-third of the total Scholarship budget for 1957 consisted of aid given to students who were studying in their own countries to prepare themselves to better serve the church and its related institutions.

Young Japanese women who were being trained at the Toyo Eiwa Junior College, Tokyo, to become teachers in Christian kindergartens, were given help. College students in Korea were given the assistance without which they could not complete their education. Seminary students and women in the Bible Training course in Hong Kong were among the scholarship students.

The report from India told of six young women studying under the Women's Evangelistic Scholarship Committee while eight young women, three of whom completed their courses in teacher training, were listed by the Educational Committee. Thirteen medical students at Ludhiana and Vellore were under the joint sponsorship of the W.M.S. and the Overseas Mission Board.

In Angola, scholarship aid made it possible for a considerable number of young people in five different centres to progress to a higher standard of education. Finally, in Portugal, there were three Protestant Portuguese girls who were being aided in the completion of their high school education.

The following list of students who have studied in Canada during 1957 seems small but when one considers that in educational institutions all around the world a much larger group have been assisted in their preparation for fuller service to the Christian movement, it can be understood that this is the type of scholarship program in which we will be involved to an ever increasing extent in the future. We will continue to seek the especially gifted leader whose contribution to the Christian cause will be strengthened by specialized study abroad but we will think of the broad base of our scholarship program as planted squarely in the countries where scholarship students are to live their lives and render their service.

Those who studied in Canada and United States during 1957 include:

Miss Annamma Thomas, a Vellore staff nurse, continued her study in Nursing Education at McMaster University.

Mrs. Mali James from the staff of the Indore hospital began a tour of observations in Canada at the St. Catharines' General Hospital.

From Japan: Miss Mihoko Shimizu completed her course in public health and returned to Japan to a teaching position on the staff of Tsuda College, Tokyo.

Miss Akiko Wakabayashi, from the staff of the Bott Memorial Centre, Tokyo, enrolled at the School of Social Work, University of Toronto.

From Korea: Mrs. Chosun Lee Chung completed her study and observations in Canada.

From Trinidad: Miss Mary Naimool graduated from the United Church Training School and returned to Trinidad to serve as a full time church worker.

Miss Eunice Rampersad began her study at Mount Allison University.

Partial scholarships were granted Miss Joan Nobbce, Miss Vashti Ramsu-mair and Miss Nola Mootoo, all of whom are in undergraduate courses.

Miss Elsie Oiyé was given a little assistance with her course in Education at the University of British Columbia.

Canadian Indian: Miss Anne Thomas entered her last year of nurse's training at the Winnipeg General Hospital.

PERIODICALS

More than two hundred free-will contributors have provided reading matter for The Missionary Monthly during the past year. Their writings have ranged from world conferences to Baby Bänd parties, and from lengthy articles to brief quizzes. Letters and stories for individual reading have been side by side with topics for general discussions in meetings. Worship services and aids for Bible study groups have been provided as well as the most practical help for individual leaders of every department in the Society's home base efforts. Month-by-month supplementary stories and pictures on the year's study program have appeared, while Special Programs such as those on Home Missions, Younger Groups, Senior Citizens, Racial Understanding, Christian Giving have also been featured.

There have been urgent appeals for more missionaries, and discussion of new trends and developments in work at home and overseas.

"We Look to the Future," in women's work in Canada has had its place beside the observance of historic occasions, such as the Anniversary of Robert Morrison in Hong Kong.

Previews of new films and recordings have kept pace with reviews and lists of recent books and pamphlets.

From a few nationals of overseas countries, many missionaries and other church workers, members of Dominion Board, Conference Branch and Presbyterial, and a host of W.M.S. Press Secretaries across Canada have come these pages of varied interests.

Beneath all the diversity of writers and subject matter lies a unity of purpose—the endeavor to discover and share more about the mission of the Church in today's changing world, and about how to translate these discoveries into more effective action, especially through the channels provided by the Woman's Missionary Society.

During the year 1957-1958 Japanese stories, articles and pictures were featured in World Friends to supplement the children's mission study of Japan.

One of the most interesting features of this material proved to be a drawing contest. Akiko Wakabayashi, a W.M.S. scholarship student from the staff of the Bott Memorial Centre, Tokyo, brought 30 large paintings with her to Canada from a school in Japan. She was instructed to give them to Canadian children and to express the hope that they in turn would send their drawings of Canadian life to the young Japanese artists.

It was a problem to know how to distribute the paintings in an impartial way across Canada, so a drawing contest was suggested for Mission Band, Explorer, Tyro groups. The best drawings in each group were to be chosen and sent to World Friends' office.

At the moment of writing, many fine drawings have been sent in from groups across Canada and soon the Japanese drawings will be hanging on the walls of their church club rooms. The Canadian drawings will, of course, be sent to the children in Japan.

During the past year, correspondence has increased, especially from members of the Mission Band and Explorer groups. Original drawings, stories and poems appear, and the Letter Box section is overflowing.

Stories that show the interest and concern of the Church for children around the world, and stories that give understanding to the young reader, of himself and of others, are the most popular stories in the magazine.

The United Churchman is an official organ of the United Church of Canada in the Maritime Conference with a subscription list of over 10,000 which is still growing.

The W.M.S. Page is a feature of the paper and its four columns (with an occasional overflow) each year add up to over 1,250 inches of W.M.S. material. Editorial comment on present problems, news of the Church at work in the world and book reviews have a place here. Above all, we try to present our message in a way that will result in thought and action.

Spread as we are over three provinces and serving a fourth, Newfoundland, as well, the W.M.S. Page also helps to bind us together as a stronger unit.

The subscriptions to The Missionary Monthly and World Friends for 1957 were:

The Missionary Monthly	65,000
World Friends	46,500

Correspondence was most gratifying, telling of the use of the magazines. Many auxiliaries are suggesting that a special article from The Missionary Monthly be used at every meeting.

One Conference Branch reports having reclaimed 210 subscriptions to The Missionary Monthly; 607 to World Friends after the decline of 1956. With all Presbyterian Secretaries continuing in their unflinching efforts, we feel an over-all increase will soon be evident.

Four thousand two hundred copies of Missionaries Reporting Part 1, and 3,300 copies of Facts and Figures Part 2, of the 32nd Annual Report were published. The latter were sold out by the end of March, 1957—so for 1958, 3,500 will be available.

HOME ORGANIZATION

MARKING TIME

There are two ways of interpreting the phrase "Marking Time." In one sense, reporting on the year's work is one way of marking time. Account must be rendered of the use of days and hours and months, of projects and programs and plans initiated and carried through. In another sense, marking time may mean simply holding ground, neither advancing or retreating but staying on the spot.

In reporting for the past year, may I indicate some of the ways in which, in the Home Organization Department, I have been marking my own time and point out how this has been a year of marking time in the Home Organization Committee and in the Branches.

Time has been marked for Conferences, Boards and the discipline of regular Committee Work. Among the rewarding conferences of the past year was the Consultation on Renewal in the Church, held in New Haven, Connecticut. For that experience I have been most grateful and it has been a privilege to share with the Executive, the Home Organization Committee, and the Conference Branches through reports and articles some of the thinking of the conference. The annual meeting of the Department of Overseas Missions of the Canadian Council of Churches also provided valuable help for the interpretation of "mission." The meetings of Dominion Board and the Board of Christian Education together with the Committees on Missionary Education of the Board of Information and Stewardship and the Committee on Co-ordination of Adult Work have helped particularly to provoke both concern and hope for greater wholeness in our Church's program of education. Time spent in Committees of the Commission on Women's Work has made one aware of the possibility of greater co-operation among the women of the church and of the problems of integration with the work of the church as a whole. Other committees for which less time has been available such as Overseas Relief, Ecumenical Affairs, Committee on the Laity, keep one reminded of developments in the ecumenical field which in turn one seeks to share.

Field Work must make possible a maximum contact with a variety of situations in a minimum of time. Since Dominion Board last met I have attended Conference Branch Executive in the Maritimes, Conference Branch Annual Meetings in Alberta, British Columbia and Toronto, Presbyterian rallies in Nova Scotia, local rallies in northern British Columbia, a School for Leaders in Montreal and Ottawa Conference Branch, a Presbyterian Annual meeting in Sudbury. Miscellaneous field assignments each month have served both to provide a background for one's work and to keep one realistic. The appointment of Miss Marion Thomson as Field Secretary should make it more possible in future to plan for constructive field work.

Time marked for Leadership Education is essential in our schedule and during 1957 we helped either with planning or finance or program or leadership—in many cases with all four—in thirteen Leadership Schools in Conference Branches. These schools were supplemented in the Presbyterians in some areas by Rallies for Officers only, Week-end Camps, Schools for Church Women, and Coaching Conferences for Portfolio Secretaries. Increasingly we have tried to provide Discussion Outlines, ideas for Panels and Skits, Questionnaires and lists of Visual Aids for the use of committees planning Fall Rallies and Presbyterials. Indications are that they are being more generally used. These regular annual events have provided an ongoing opportunity for systematic education in mission and we need to consider how best to use such opportunities when missionaries and other guests are scheduled, when literature displays and audio-visual aids are available, when officers are there, to provide a maximum of help for all. Again it may be a question of balance in timing. Reports this year have seemed to reveal increased awareness of the value of Auxiliary executive meetings, more use of group plans to secure member participation and more use of program help. Other ventures projected in 1957, although two were carried through early in 1958, were a Central Area Conference with Deans of Schools for Leaders and jointly with the W.A. a Portfolio Secretaries' Coaching Conference in one Branch and a Federation Conference in another.

The Home Organization Secretary must mark well time for Writing and Editorial Work. Our Committee works closely with the Editor of The Missionary Monthly, which magazine provides us with another leadership education channel. We continue also to publish and distribute promotion materials, price lists, W.M.S. fliers, leaflets for officers and thank-offering services. Certificates, schedules and handbooks are constantly in need of revision. Circulars and Bulletins, Literature Memoranda, and Requisition Forms of various kinds have gone out regularly. This has meant much editorial work; it has meant valiant co-operation from our excellent team of Portfolio Secretaries; it has required a faithful office staff. Too much appreciation cannot be given to Jean Peters, our office secretary, and to Bata Fraser, who continues to keep printers at bay while we work against deadlines, at the same time keeping records straight and being our "liaison" with the Literature Distribution Centre. Isobel McFadden has kept up her regular reviewing of Audio-Visual material, has provided a "Senior Citizens" and "Race Relations" program on demand, and has given time to the research required for numerous articles and stories which have appeared in The Missionary Monthly or in leaflet form.

Because of the volume of work carried by the Portfolio Secretaries much time has gone into consultation and planning—this past year particularly with the Literature Secretary—but also with the other secretaries for adult work. Time has been readjusted in the Home Organization Committee however, with secretaries for work with Younger Groups meeting separately for much of their planning. Miss McKeen, appointed an officer of the Society after her furlough year, has taken full responsibility for all work relating to Younger Groups. I cannot speak too highly of her competence and co-operation.

How have our organizations been marking their time in the Conference Branches? Reports indicate increases in overall membership due probably to the increased number of Federations, losses in the number of Auxiliaries, increases in Affiliated Societies. Givings continue to increase. Some reports have been more analytical than usual about statistics, trying to account for losses and gains, watching to see where membership is increasing or decreasing, seeking to balance financial statistics with memberships reported. Even the St. Lawrence Seaway has affected organization. Some groups have disbanded, some have been integrated with those in other communities. Affiliated Societies are mentioned frequently with the implication that more contacts and help from Presbyterian Presidents and Vice-presidents is needed. An active new Presbyterian has been formed in one Branch, three have combined to form one in another.

Certainly time has been spent on Study Materials. Both the South-east Asia and the Japan materials were commended more than criticized, although more than one main study book has been found confusing. In one Presbyterian all Auxiliaries but one reported using the Packet. The Bible-centered Worship materials have been widely used and more are being requested. The Missionary Monthly and Missionaries Reporting are widely used; the Audio-Visual materials are being taken for granted as program resource and tapes are beginning to be used. One group made its own recording of an address by Dr. Whittier. Japanese people have been helpful in program preparation, just as people from the Philippines and Thailand were drawn into the South-east Asia study.

Portfolio Work in the adult field is reported in the succeeding pages. The generous support of our Supply work, the expanding outreach of Community Friendship, the variety of issues to which our Citizenship Secretaries refer, the concern for our Associate Membership indicate that we are at least holding the ground in these areas also; whether we are really moving ahead in any area of our total task is difficult to judge.

More time does seem to be given to developing interest in the Congregation, through W.M.S. and Family Missionary Services, through personal visiting, sharing and publicizing literature, involving other groups in projects such as Overseas Relief. Many joint meetings with Women's Associations have been held—96 in one Branch, 44 in another. Support of Younger Groups is accepted as a responsibility. One Auxiliary includes in its membership two Mission Band leaders, 1 C.C.I.T. helper, 2 Explorer helpers and several Sunday School teachers. Now they are trying to start a Mission Circle.

So we have been marking time. As we have done so we have been grateful for the personal friendship and steady support of Mrs. Outram, our chairman, and other co-workers within the fellowship of the Woman's Missionary Society. Most of all we are grateful for an opportunity to be challenged by the mission of the One in whom alone Time is given significance.

DOROTHY M. YOUNG, Home Organization Executive Secretary

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

It is with great pride that I have read the Christian Citizenship Secretaries' reports from the Conference Branches across Canada. Their work along four well-defined avenues—Temperance, Social Welfare, Racial Brotherhood and World Peace—involves us all in interest and study to pave the way for a better world. The "black spots" that need public opinion that is well-informed, beamed to eradicate these evils from our land, and the whole world, are more apparent as time goes on. The Christian Citizenship Secretaries have the feel of the work in this department. It is determination and energy that is needed. Then we shall see the fruits of our labors. Information and public opinion is our business.

Scope of Work

Donations to Temperance Federations; discussions on youth and adult temperance education; prayers; letters to members of Parliament commending action and urging them to stand firm on particular issues; talks in Sunday School and in junior groups; debates on abstinence vs. moderation; temperance films shown and study courses in Sunday Schools encouraged; petitions to Governments.

Social Welfare

Visiting; study of adoption laws; sales of clothing to needy; speakers on Social Welfare; consideration and assistance given to senior citizens; clothes and billets provided for Hungarian Refugees; adoption laws and penal reform studied; study and discussion of juvenile delinquency; letters to Government urging grants for "cost of blindness without means test"; study on divorce and marriage; study on marriage counselling.

Racial Brotherhood

Ceremonies where New Canadians received their citizenship papers were attended; Indian, Chinese and Japanese girls were asked to join C.G.I.T. Groups; assistance was given to Hungarians and other New Canadians; W.M.S. members teach English to Chinese women; meeting of immigrant planes; supporting United Nations by encouraging membership; study of incident at Little Rock, Arkansas; immigration problems; study of Indian problems and help given; UNICEF Christmas Cards sold; organized UNICEF "Shell Outs".

World Peace

Prayers for peace; support by attendance and help in organizing World Day of Prayer; membership in United Nations and study of some of their problems.

COMMUNITY FRIENDSHIP

R.E.P.O.R.T.S.!

R. Results of the year's work in Community Friendship have been, on the whole, quite gratifying. Many secretaries have reported satisfactory increases in both hospital and home visiting while personal notes regarding removals have been more widely used. Visits across Canada have averaged 1,746 every day in the year. Most important of all, a growing interest has been shown in the whole field of friendly visiting.

E. Experiences of our secretaries throughout the year show a wide range. There have been many contacts with New Canadians as this has been a year of increased immigration. Our visitors have served in reception centres, air terminals, ports of entry and in a housing registry. New-comers have been assisted in getting homes, furniture, clothing and food. They have been helped with language study and orientation into Canadian ways of life.

A common area of service was also with the Senior Citizens, whether in their own homes or in Homes for Aged or Nursing Homes. Visitation was on a more regular basis. Participation in the life of the church was made possible for active older folk while friendship and innumerable small services were offered to the shut-ins. The sick were visited with special emphasis on work for the chronically ill and with, we believe, a greater understanding of the needs of sick people in general and of those suffering from certain disabilities in particular. Many reported housing surveys in new areas and hospitality to students.

P. Participation with other organizations in both the church and the community was noted. C.G.I.T. groups, Sunday School Superintendents, Sunday School classes and Baby Band superintendents all have joined with W.M.S. members to make the visitation work of the church more effective. Many women of the church have co-operated with the Red Cross, the Elizabeth Fry Society, the Women's Institute, the C.N.I.B., the Salvation Army and Home and School Clubs to give assistance and services, pleasure and friendship to the aged, the newcomers and the handicapped within our communities.

O. Organization within our Department showed considerable improvement. Much of the work was done by committees doing planned visiting regularly and systematically.

R. Reporting was still a weak link in our chain of Community Friendship. Many Auxiliaries sent excellent and full reports but a number failed to report at all while other reported sketchily or too late to be included in the Presbyterian report. Since so much information and inspiration can be gained from reports, a serious study must be made of methods to improve the reporting of Auxiliary secretaries.

T. Training as such was a comparatively new venture on the part of some enterprising Community Friendship committees. Where briefing of personnel on how to do friendly visiting had been given, there was much enthusiasm over the results. Some alert Presbyterials had used conference hours and work shops for a thorough and effective briefing of visitors while one Presbyterian used a skit as a basis for teaching techniques in visiting.

S- Sharing is the word which might best describe the whole year's work in the Department of Community Friendship. Members of Auxiliaries and Federations, Community Friendship Secretaries, Friendship Committees, Presbyterian and Conference Branch Secretaries have all shared in increased services to many folk in communities across Canada. Actual physical effort, careful thought and planning, knowledge and understanding all have been offered unstintingly in the name and for the sake of friendship.

SUPPLY

It is fitting that the 1957 Annual Report from the Supply Department should begin with a grateful acknowledgment of the unrecorded service rendered by the many devoted W.M.S. women who gave so unstintingly of their time, ability and resources. Conference Branch Secretaries from coast to coast promptly and efficiently reported the quantities of work done in their various areas, but each one pointed out that the report gave only a partial picture of all that had been accomplished. Even that partial picture is impressive.

The bulk of our supplies, amounting to over 55,000 pounds, goes to the many and varied Home Missions of our Church. Quantities of good used clothing are sent to our Indian Missions and to our Community Missions. There, too, are sent most of the 2,500 quilts and warm blankets but numbers of these brighten the children's beds in our Residential Schools and School Homes. Some, white ones, will cover beds in our hospitals. These hospitals also receive linen supplies such as sheets, gowns, pyjamas, towels, surgical pads.

No supplies are as pleasant to make or as happily received as are the layettes. Some 800 layettes were sent last year as welcoming gifts to little new-born Canadians. Almost 500 layettes went Overseas. Knitting needles were busy too and consequently many children were able to say as did one little lad, "my feet are warm today."

But what gives a child as much joy as a gift at Christmas? Almost 8,000 children in Mission Centres (chiefly Indian Missions), in Community Missions, in Residential Schools, in School Homes, and in Hospitals had a happier Christmas in 1957 because of the gifts sent through the Supply Department.

Our W.M.S. members did all this as well as caring for needs right at home. Here much personal service is given and many kindly deeds are done. Only a small percentage of these deeds are listed. They include gifts and visiting with folks in hospitals; nursing homes and Senior Citizens' homes, aid to New Canadians, assistance to students, help to families suffering from disastrous fires or unemployment, and encouragement to Younger Groups in the form of Study Packets and banquets.

Another kind of Packet—the Vacation Bible School Packet—is an important contribution of the Supply Department to the Christian Education work of our Church. In 1957 at least 238 of these Packets of handwork materials gave more than practical help to the young students on their summer Mission Fields. Many students felt that the coming of the Packet proved that someone in the Church cared about the folk in such remote areas. In some of those places it was the supplies in the Packet which made it possible to have a Church Vacation School.

The contribution of the Younger Groups provides "the brightest spot" to quote from one report. This is true in every Conference Branch. Groups of young folk possess an enthusiasm which, directed into channels of service, supplies much joy and cheer for Senior Citizens, shut-ins, and children, both at home and abroad. The list of their kind deeds and generous gifts is long indeed. It includes projects such as knitting, toy-making, favor and decoration making, collecting clothing for Overseas Relief and providing the Towel Kits and Check-Pos for Korea.

Our Christian concern for those in need reaches out to folk in other lands, particularly to the fine people in Korea, cheerful in spite of all they have had to endure; to the sufferers from the tragic events in Hungary; and to the Arab refugees in Lebanon and Gaza. Through Overseas Relief it is possible to send aid to these people. From the Toronto Overseas Relief Depot at 100 Simcoe St. there went in 1957 to these places 95 tons of good warm clothing and bedding. From the Vancouver Depot—Welfare Industries, First United Church, 111 Victoria Dr.—38 tons went to Korea. Included in the shipments to Korea were approximately 760 Towel Kits and Check-Pos. Next year we expect that a large number of "So-Pos" (kits containing school supplies, socks, and novelties suitable for boys) will also be sent. Yards of new material and sewing supplies, soap and soft toys were also put into the bales.

Added to these gifts were more than 1,700 Personal Parcels sent by 626 Auxiliaries to our Missionaries in Korea. These parcels contained many things—new material, wool, baby and children's clothing, even Midwifery Kits, but more important than any of these they also contained support and encouragement for our missionaries in Korea.

This account of assistance to those Overseas is also the story of the manner in which the W.M.S. is participating in the Overseas Relief Project of our United Church. This project will continue as long as there is need for it but clothing and other material can only go overseas if sufficient supplies come into the Depots. There has been a considerable decrease in the amount of the supplies coming in but the quality of the goods has been higher. It is very encouraging to receive clothing which is clean and either wearable or containing much good material for re-making, but much more is needed!

The Supply gifts have been generous, far beyond the demand of duty. There has been a whole-hearted sharing of the good things which the Father has showered upon us, a sharing which carries the story of Christ's love to our people here in Canada and to others across the seas.

(Mrs. P. E.) MARY E. AULT, Secretary

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

It was a pleasure to receive the carefully written reports and also the statistical reports from the Conference Branch Associate Members Secretaries. The statistical reports were studied first and were eagerly scanned for news of the past year.

Statistical Reports

What a joy it was to see at a glance increases in the number of Auxiliaries with Associate Members secretaries and also an increase of $4,380.80 in contributions! It was encouraging to note that one Conference Branch secretary reported increases in every phase of her work; that another had been able to report having an Associate Members secretary in all the Auxiliaries of her Conference Branch; that one Presbyterial had almost doubled the number of its Associate Members and had more than doubled its givings. Other secretaries reported all reports fully and carefully written and arriving on time. Almost all Presbyterial secretaries sent reports to their respective Conference Branches, but one or two Presbyterials are not fully organized. The largest number of Associate Members secretaries in any Presbyterial is 51 and the lowest number is 3. The first one is mainly a city Presbyterial, the second is in a Northern area, where last year only 1 Secretary was reported. These increases are gratefully and humbly noted. The statistical report also shows that Associate Members contributed $51,073.50. The amazing thing is that although there were 159 fewer Associate Members, yet the givings were increased. It is plain that the members are most generous in giving of their interest, time and prayers, as well as donations.

Written Reports

It is necessary to read between the lines in statistical reports, but from the written reports come the stories of effort, perseverance and devotion. Here are some quotations from reports: "We know many missionary projects are shelved for lack of funds, yet an amount equal to 44 per cent. of what our Conference Branch was able to raise for C.B.A. was donated by Associate Members." "There is much progress reported from small out-of-the-way places." This is most commendable and involves a great deal of work. Another report tells of a Presbyterial secretary who visited all her Auxiliaries and helped them to organize. She also called a meeting at Presbyterial to discuss problems and plan fuller coverage of congregations for possible members. Several secretaries reported that all materials, such as bulletins, letters, etc., had been found helpful and had been faithfully distributed. Many projects were mentioned such as visiting and distribution of reading material such as The Missionary Monthly, The United Church Observer, Associate Members Newsletter, and books from the Bookshelf or from a Circulating Library. New housing areas were visited and one secretary reported visiting newcomers, distributing gifts made possible through Auxiliaries, C.G.I.T. groups, or Explorers. Help was given in Supply work, and help was received from the Community Friendship secretaries and from the secretaries of Younger Groups. Baby Band secretaries were particularly helpful in discovering potential new Associate Members. All this information provides a picture of interested, busy, enthusiastic workers for this important department.

The Challenge

Every problem may be viewed as a challenge to go forward. Here they are as presented in reports:

"Discrepancy between Associate Members Secretaries' and Treasurers' reports is a major problem";

"Many complaints are received saying secretaries do not answer letters";

"The Christian nurture of a potential membership is a responsibility of the Associate Members Department, whatever the future of Women's Work in the Church may be";

"Secretaries in Conference Branches feel the loss of personal contacts."

Is there a way to meet each of these challenges and others, successfully? Is the answer contained in these words from a Conference Branch secretary? "As we have pledged ourselves to be followers of our Master and Lord—and to obey his marching orders 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature'—let us press on to complete the unfinished task, bringing more and more the healing touch of the Master's hand to a broken and divided world."

YOUNGER GROUPS

To begin this report I should like to pay tribute to Miss Barbara Jewell, who, with such earnestness and ability, carried the work for most of 1957, and to express my own appreciation for the opportunity to return to the work with Younger Groups after a year's absence.

The addition of a stenographer to the Home Organization Department has been a great boon, and, in this connection, I should like to mention Mrs. Lilla Ransom who so pleasantly and efficiently has carried office responsibility in the work with Younger Groups.

Leadership

The need is great for leaders who have conviction and concern as well as knowledge and techniques. The need is pressing for such leaders to be sought out and helped to do the best possible job with the children, teen-age girls and young women of our Church. The need is urgent to make opportunities for leaders and potential leaders to secure training—through Conferences and Rallies, through books and audio-visual aids. Too many leaders are feeling inadequate for their work. But leaders can help each other. We can help them to help themselves by providing opportunities for them to meet together to share their experiences, their problems and their joys. Many devoted women are giving of their time and energies, and their efforts will not go unrewarded.

Field Work

A Secretary on a Field Trip can help with the training of leaders, but Field Visits are of necessity infrequent. The addition of a Field Secretary to the staff of the Society will make it possible to make Field services more available for work with Younger Groups as well as with Auxiliaries and Affiliated Societies.

The Auxiliary Vice-President for Younger Groups

The appointment of a Vice-president for Younger Groups is becoming an established practice in many Auxiliaries. Her task is one that calls for imagination and insight because she should be an interpreter of the Younger Groups to the Auxiliary and vice versa. There is evidence that more and more Auxiliaries are showing interest in and concern for Younger Groups. On the other hand, there is also evidence that some Groups are organized and then left entirely on their own, with no support either material or moral. The appointment of a Vice-President for Younger Groups in an Auxiliary will, of course, not automatically produce results. The person elected to this office should be chosen with care and forewarned of its importance, and then given support as she in turn endeavors to support and encourage the leaders in their efforts in missionary education.

Organization and Nurture

A matter of increasing concern in the work with Younger Groups is the number of groups that cease to function every year. Each year relatively large numbers of new groups are organized, but when the year's reports come in, the actual increase is sometimes very small, or the reports reveal in fact a decrease in numbers of groups. This has been especially true of Mission Bands. What does it mean? It would seem that we are doing a fairly good job at organizing, but that we are not providing the kind of help and encouragement that make it possible for a leader to carry on the work for more than a few months. Does this indicate a need for special emphasis on the nurture of the groups and leaders we have now, and of the groups we may organize and the leaders we may recruit in the coming months? Here is an opportunity for Presbyterian Executives to show how seriously they take their responsibility—and privilege—in missionary education. A recommendation is going forward to Dominion Board to urge that a special study be made of this situation in Mission Band work.

Student Field Workers

For the fourth consecutive summer two young women, having completed the first year at the United Church Training School, have served as Summer Student Field Workers in Missionary Education. While this plan has certain disadvantages, because of the limited experience of the students and the restricted time in which they are available, it has proved of sufficient value that a similar program is being planned for 1958. In 1957 Miss Margaret Carruthers met with leaders in conferences and rallies in the Maritime Conference Branch, while Miss Marion Current did similar work in the Manitoba Conference Branch and attended the three Regional Schools for Leaders in Saskatchewan. In addition these two young women gave leadership in missionary education at a total of seven C.G.I.T. Camps.

Student Field Workers are supplying one partial answer to our need for leadership education, while at the same time the students themselves are gaining valuable experience for their own work upon graduation.

Summer Program

One of the most effective and meaningful ways of doing missionary education, we are convinced, is the sending of overseas students and missionaries to Camps. The presence of such guests at Camps has given a reality to the church catholic that has made indelible impressions on the lives of young Canadians. In 1957 scholarship students attended eleven, and furlough missionaries attended eight, C.G.I.T. Camps from Loon Bay, Nfld., to Ocean Park, B.C. The one thing preventing the continued expansion of this program is lack of personnel.

Committee Work

A considerable portion of the Secretary's time is given to Committee Work related to Younger Groups. Within the Society this involves being on the Candidate and the Scholarship Committees, and being a corresponding member of the Home Mission Committee. Our particular concern for missionary education means work with the Children's and Teen-Age Missionary Education Sub-Committees of the Board of Information and Stewardship of the Church. Our "stake" in education involves also serving on the Children's Work, the Explorer and the Girls' Work Standing Committees of the Board of Christian Education. Our concern for Girls' Work takes us beyond denominational lines into the National C.G.I.T. Committee, its Executive and its Missionary Education Committee.

Education in Mission

The reports of the Secretaries for Baby Bands, Mission Bands, Affiliated Explorer Groups, Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups and Mission Circles on the following pages indicate many encouraging phases of the work. While decreases are shown in one or two cases, they can be explained—Mission Circles have become Auxiliaries; Mission Bands have divided into Primary Mission Bands and Explorer Groups, and so on. Figures, of course, cannot show the real work we seek to do for it is an intangible to such a large extent. How can we measure the attitudes of children and teen-agers to their fellow-Christians in Japan? How real have we made for the children and teen-agers of our Church a sense of Mission? Are we helping them to see the uniqueness of Christ, and at the same time are we helping them to avoid a sinful sense of superiority? Is our missionary education more than the arousing of a feeling of pity for the under-privileged and of obligation met when material goods have been shared, even if shared sacrificially? How deep, how wide, is our own sense of mission? What did Jesus mean when He said, "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you"?

All of us connected with Younger Groups must continue to search for the fuller meaning of the Christian Mission for the Church in our day and generation.

R. CATHERINE MCKEEN, Secretary for Younger Groups

MISSION CIRCLES

"Enthusiasm of the members", "the rich fellowship experienced in the meetings", "deepening of the spiritual life of individual members", "increased interest in the Overseas work of our church": these quotations from our Conference Branch Secretaries are encouraging highlights in the 1957 Annual Reports for Mission Circles.

Statistical reports show a decrease of 14 Circles and 384 members, but in some instances, when a Circle has disbanded it has been for the purpose of organizing or joining an Auxiliary, so we do not consider it a loss. At the same time, there is a downward trend and Branch Secretaries are in agreement that "where good leadership is available, Circles thrive", and that "the Advisory President or Vice-President for Younger Groups is all important in the local church. If she is alive to the opportunities she will know the young people in her church and will channel those graduating from C.C.I.T. into Mission Circle and then give them the needed guidance and help." "Enthusiasm for the work, persistence and faith in promoting it will bring results." One Presbyterial Secretary entertained all of the Mission Circles in her area at some time during the year.

Worship and Study

All groups reported using the current worship and study materials, supplementing them with other material from The Missionary Monthly, United Church Observer, and newspapers and magazines. One Secretary reported that the members preferred preparing their own worship services, but all groups found the worship periods inspiring. The study was presented in many ways: through dramatizations, radio interviews, speakers, films, slides, quizzes, panel discussions. One group prepared a scrapbook for review purposes.

Stewardship

Circles have been encouraged more and more to raise their money through systematic and proportionate giving, and where there has been an increase in givings it has been as a result of this emphasis. Education re the policy of the Society concerning gifts still needs to be stressed by the Advisory President.

Community Friendship and Supply

All Branch Secretaries report a deep concern on the part of Mission Circle members for the needs of others. Goodwill for the lonely was expressed through visits to newcomers, shut-ins, the aged. In some communities the Baby Band mothers were visited. Hampers, layettes, clothing were given to needy families. Christmas cheer was taken to hospitals, Sanitariums, and a Children's Home. One group visited a cancer clinic. Another presented two inscribed Bibles to a hospital and presented scripture bookmarks to the patients. Afghans and clothing were contributed to overseas sales; Vacation School materials were provided; gifts were sent to the Port Workers. In their local congregations the members demonstrated their sense of stewardship of time and abilities through teaching in the Church School, singing in the choir, assisting in the preparation of the Communion elements, assisting in a church service. One Circle presented an Easter Pageant.

Christian Citizenship

Greater concern over social problems seems evident from the reports in Christian Citizenship. A letter was sent to the member of Parliament re payment of pensions to the blind; discussions were held on "the sale of uranium for other than peaceful purposes" and on information contained in the pamphlet "Hi Gang"; prayers were made for world peace; social welfare problems were presented and discussed by visiting speakers.

Literature

Some Presbyterials reported increased interest in reading, with more Literature Secretaries appointed and more records kept. These reports were offset by others who reported lack of interest, and little reading accomplished. "Advisory Presidents would do well to emphasize this part of the program", says one Conference Branch Secretary. One Circle reported every member a subscriber to The Missionary Monthly.

Church Work as a Vocation

The needs of the Church in personnel were stressed in most Circles. Leaflets were distributed and films shown. In one Presbyterial the pamphlets "You" and "It's Worth your Life" were used for discussion and as a result several members who entered University in the fall have been attending the meetings of the Fellowship for United Church Women Workers. One girl in another Presbyterial became an Associate Secretary of Christian Education and three girls from other Presbyterials are now attending the United Church Training School in preparation for further service in the Church.

Where Schools for Leaders and Rallies were held, the members who attended expressed their appreciation of the help received. The value of meeting and hearing missionaries on furlough and officers of the Society was also stressed. The reports of Conference Branch Secretaries show a love and deep concern for the young people of Mission Circle age. To them and to the host of others who are promoting Missionary Education in this branch of the Society's work we express our appreciation and challenge them to go forward in faith to strengthen in every way possible this very vital link in the W.M.S. fellowship. One Presbyterian Secretary has suggested the following slogan:

There is no time to wait—
Have a Circle in '58.

AFFILIATED C.G.I.T. GROUPS

Materials

In reviewing the reports for 1957 one is very conscious that over a period of time many changes are noted in the response to the Mission Study. Besides the packet, Day After Tomorrow, almost every group used the current adult books, East of Burma, Voices from South East Asia, Make Way for Brotherhood as well as The Missionary Monthly and The United Church Observer. Other background material included, National Geographic magazines, the Book of Knowledge and many films and slides.

Use of Materials

Almost equalling the number of background materials and books used, we find many pleasant, instructive and interesting methods of presentation. Groups brought South East Asia into their thinking by means of quiz programs, plays, many forms of map making, posters, scrapbooks, cooking of Oriental dishes, interviews—one being with Dr. Frank Laubach—and discussions.

Gifts for Special Objects

Various methods were used in procuring the gifts of money. Over and above the candy, cookie, card and calendar sales, teas, baby-sitting, corsage and candle making, we find an increasing number of groups making this part of their project a sacrificial one. Personal giving was reported in every Conference Branch.

Co-operation with the W.M.S.

No longer is this phase of the work simply a gift from the Auxiliary in supplying the Missionary Packet. Many Auxiliaries are sharing their supply work with the girls who are keenly enjoying the making of layettes, towel kits, vacation school kits, etc. The girls co-operate in their turn by making a distinct contribution to Overseas Relief.

A close bond of friendship has been created by "mystery mothers" sending cards during the year to "adopted C.G.I.T. daughters". At the annual Affiliation Service, each mystery mother and daughter met for the first time.

Highlights

Where World Friendship Rallies and Conferences for Leaders were held, a much keener interest was shown in the C.G.I.T. program.

In every Conference the feeling was expressed that the study of South East Asia was a most timely one and that the girls everywhere had voiced the feeling that now they understood much better the problems facing the people in the countries brought to them in Day After Tomorrow.

AFFILIATED EXPLORER GROUPS

Statistics truly speak as they tell of increases in numbers of Affiliated Explorer Groups, increases in membership in these groups and increases in missionary giving toward the Explorers' "Special Object".

Statistics tell, too, of groups who felt a real responsibility to support their Special Object and who bent every effort to assure a worthy contribution toward their goal. They tell of other groups, apparently quite unaware of any Special Object or financial goal who, in order to become "affiliated", made a "token gift" to the W.M.S.

Statistics tell that many groups found the proposed six meetings for the Missionary Exploration too few. Eight or ten meetings are frequently reported. Some groups held as many as 16, 20 or even 30 meetings on the Missionary theme. In fairness to the whole Explorer Program, some guidance must be given by Presbyterian Secretaries for Affiliated Explorer Groups to leaders of these groups, or the purpose of Affiliated Explorer Groups will be defeated.

Statistics cannot tell of enthusiasm for the study on South East Asia that was reflected in written reports. Nor do they tell of group activities which included play-writing, play-acting, puppetry, modelling, dioramas and a variety of service projects. They do not tell of increasing responsibility that is being taken by local Auxiliaries for these Younger Groups—in supplying groups with the Mission Study Packet, providing The Missionary Monthly for Counsellors and World Friends for Explorers, and attending Services of Dedication of the Treasure Chest.

Both statistical and written reports offer a challenge to our Woman's Missionary Society to be alert to the possibilities for the future that lie in Affiliated Explorer Groups.

(Mrs. S. J.) BEATRICE MATHERS, Secretary

MISSION BANDS

Although Mission Band statistics show a slight decrease this year, the reports of activities, projects, and achievements glow with enthusiasm and optimism. 135 new Bands were organized in 1957. The decrease in numbers, therefore, indicates a serious number of Mission Bands discontinuing their activities. One wonders what the local Auxiliaries might have done to keep these Bands in existence. When a lack of leadership is temporarily filled by willing Auxiliary members, the Band continues to function and the difficulties of a later re-organization are avoided.

Study materials and periodicals have been used with appreciation. A survey of the reports from across Canada reveals that not one idea in the leaders' guides went unnoticed or unused. Project suggestions were developed by local leaders to fit the needs of their own Bands. World Friends has been increasing in both circulation and use. Most leaders report that it is one of their most valuable tools. The Missionary Monthly, too, is widely used by leaders. The revised Handbook has been declared most useful.

Worship takes a vital place in each Mission Band's activities. Even the younger Primary children help to prepare their own worship centers, take part occasionally in the services of worship, and respond well to opportunities for circle prayers or silent prayer. Many Bands have adopted their own missionary for prayer. There has been an increased emphasis on learning Bible verses and appropriate missionary hymns.

Givings and Service Projects have been refreshingly varied. The use of Gift Boxes has served to stimulate missionary interest in the homes as well as to increase the contents of the treasury. A delightful friendship has developed between Mission Band members and elderly shut-ins in many congregations, as the children have sought to bring cheer with visits, gifts, and carol-singing. "Bringing happiness to others" has been the purpose behind a wide variety of service projects, ranging all the way from the preparation of vacation school kits to the sending of overseas parcels.

Auxiliary co-operation is excellent in most of the Conference Branches. Auxiliary members are taking the trouble to praise and encourage the Mission Band leaders, to support loyally their expense-raising projects, to provide World Friends subscriptions, to offer help with everything from baby-sitting to story-telling. And as they do so, they are strengthening immeasurably the cause of Missionary Education.

Leadership rallies and workshops are a highlight in the reports this year. Organized usually by the Presbyterian Secretaries, they provide opportunities for leadership training; exchange of ideas, presentation of awards, and much appreciated good fellowship. Special speakers, films, filmstrips, and the presentation of other new materials are included in most of them.

Lack of leaders is still a grave problem, and it is one for which each of us must assume some responsibility. To quote one alert Conference Branch Secretary, "It is our task to endeavor to capture the interest of potential leaders."

Let us apply ourself to this task with renewed zeal.

BABY BANDS

WHAT OF THE OTHER 2? Two what? United Churches in Canada that have reported W.M.S. Auxiliaries organized in their congregations but no Baby Bands. This situation is disturbing to many Presbyterian secretaries, especially to the one who has approached most of the forty-two Auxiliaries in her constituency that are without Bands. At the Presbyterian Annual Meeting her theme was "What of the other 42?"

Leadership: As usual, the answer to the problem is partly one of Auxiliaries showing more concern for the welfare of the younger groups and assuming more responsibility for finding leaders. It is also partly a matter of leadership training and of developing a sense of fellowship among the superintendents of an area. To develop this fellowship, a circulating letter is going from superintendent to superintendent in one Presbyterian, each one adding a bit about her community, Band, problems and achievements.

Enthusiastic reports have come in of Presbyterian secretaries who gather their superintendents together once or twice a year, who keep in close touch by phone or mail. In two cases practically every Band has been visited by the secretaries.

Where attendance has been good at rallies and at Schools for Leaders, excellent work is being done.

Frequent changes in leadership in either the local congregation or the Presbyterial have a harmful effect on the quality and extent of the work.

Visiting: Where there is good leadership, extensive visiting is done. To quote from a report: "The strongest Bands are still where the greatest amount of visiting is done, and where the Auxiliary members do this important work the strongest Auxiliary is found."

The relationship with the Auxiliary is important. Sometimes visiting teams are arranged so that each member has only eight or ten homes on her list. Sometimes each Auxiliary member "adopts" two or three children. Help with parties, picnics and literature is also appreciated by the superintendents.

Maybe this co-operation is bearing fruit for this year more Baby Band mothers are reported as either Auxiliary or Associate Members and a great deal of help is being given by the mothers in supply work.

In some Conference Branches there is a marked increase in the number of mothers' groups meeting for child study as well as missionary work. In some cases there is a growing interest in a clarification of the relationship of such groups to the Woman's Missionary Society.

Gift boxes are generally used except where the mothers form an Auxiliary and accept an allocation. The gifts are usually presented at a Christmas party. These presentation ideas have been used: a crèche with an empty cradle to receive the boxes; red stockings, with pictures of the Gift Box children attached to them, to be filled with the contents of the boxes and then hung upon a decorated tree; boxes piled upon a train and a story told about their destination.

The Gift Box children were turned into puppets when a group of superintendents met to discuss party ideas. A demonstration of puppet making was given and several complete sets of puppet children were used to tell their story to the Band children.

Some Conference Branch Secretaries experienced real difficulty in getting reports in; individual Bands sometimes fail to report, but in several instances the failure was at the Presbyterial level. Statistical reports were not always supplemented by the written report that gives color and life to the figures. An accurate accounting is difficult under such circumstances but the spirit in the reports is one of optimism and enthusiasm!

LITERATURE

The year 1957 was a period of adjustment after integration with the Board of Information and Stewardship. A pattern of work for the Literature Secretary needed to be developed and blue-prints are not yet complete. New Report Forms were devised but satisfactory results have not been achieved. Answers to questions seem to give conflicting information so that this report is presented as a progress report in a period of change. It is our hope that a more satisfactory summary may be given at the end of another year.

We have constantly urged the appointment of a Literature Secretary in each Auxiliary, for we believe that interest in reading and study can be maintained only by regular and timely promotion from a Secretary who personally knows and enthusiastically reviews and publicizes books worth reading, as well as program and organizational material. According to figures in reports, five Conference Branches have exceeded the number of Auxiliary Secretaries appointed in 1956, two with increases of 21 each. Six have fewer than in the previous year, two having decreases of 30 and 23. Can this be possible, or is reporting at fault? There is a total decrease of 17, and now more than 700 Auxiliaries are without Literature Secretaries. Because of the relevance of Literature to all departments of our work, we have also urged that time be allotted at every Auxiliary meeting, but very few report that this is being done. As a consequence of failure to appoint Secretaries and give them time for their work, the number of books reported read has decreased from 208,706 in 1956 to 191,805 in 1957.

Figures I would rather stress show 79 more Auxiliary Libraries and 199 more Auxiliaries owning the current Bookshelf. These are, I believe, better indications of interest than records of books read which often are reported inaccurately. One Conference Branch Secretary remarks: "Sometimes I wonder if we place too much stress on the figures. We cannot evaluate the influence of reading in figures any more than we can measure the sacrifice involved by the amount of the offering in the envelope." She also says: "In many cases Federations make no effort to record reading. One with over 250 members reported '12 books read' and I know it had purchased 12 packets for the monthly group leaders and each month the study was taken in the small groups."

The work of this department could not be done without the support of the 2,600 Auxiliary Secretaries as well as those in Presbyterial and Conference Branch. They have promoted our material with displays, book reviews, charts of reading, skits, book lists, excerpts from reports, and many ingenious devices for bringing book titles to the attention of potential readers. Some small reading groups have been formed. One Secretary divided her Auxiliary into teams of 3 or 4 persons each; as each team read a book, it was passed to the next. In this way, 306 books were read by 30 members.

A greater use of Public Libraries is indicated; many have secured lists of suitable books obtainable at their local branch and distributed copies of them. Books read have been discussed and reference to certain books during the study period has resulted in more readers. Books were made available to children and teen-agers and an increasing number report church libraries. Our Schools for Leaders do excellent promotion, not only of study books and packets, but also of Home Organization materials.

"Missionaries Reporting" has been used chiefly for information about missionaries for prayer. One Secretary remarks: "A few found it out-of-date in comparison with The Missionary Monthly," but a current magazine is not an Annual Report. "Facts and Figures" is in most Auxiliary or church libraries.

for reference purposes. Both volumes have provided interesting program material.

Visual Aids were used on an average of six times a day in 1957, but to know what kind they were or how they were used, more definite questions need to be asked. Eight Conference Branches report that Audio-Visuals are interesting and could be more useful but are expensive for most groups, often prohibitively so. For the first time, the use of tape recordings is reported and interest in them seems to be developing. The interviews with Mrs. Watari and Mrs. Thurlow were mentioned. Programs were varied by the use of plays, skits and dramatizations.

The Japan Study materials have been well received; details of their production and sales are to be found in the report of the Board of Information and Stewardship. In answering our question on "books found particularly interesting" many named the Bookshelf or volumes from it. "Ten Against the Storm" took second place, having been listed by nine of the eleven Conference Branches, while last year's Book Award "Bare Feet In The Palace" was named by ten. "So Send I You" and "September Monkey" received seven votes each as did "Anna and the Indians" which is still in our spotlight. It is probably the most popular book we have ever recommended. It is quite evident from titles given that significant fiction and biography attract the most readers. Some praised the worship and Bible study material which accompanied the study; some found it too long or difficult to prepare. "Kenji" and "Hana's New Home" were commended.

For 1957 reading, "Black Moses" by Jessie Beattie has been awarded to 87 Best-Read Auxiliaries and "Face To Face" by Ved Mehta to 35 Mission Circles. These will complete our reading awards. Some Presbyterials are disappointed with the decision of Dominion Board to discontinue Book Awards, and intend to make their own awards in future. I believe this practice could lead to difficulties.

Secretaries are grateful for letters, bulletins and memos about new materials prepared by your Secretary with competent assistance from the office staff. They have praised the annual Book List compiled by Miss Isabel McFadden and appreciate receiving samples of new leaflets and booklets. The price list of Home Organization materials re-printed from The Missionary Monthly enabled people to send money with orders, which makes distribution less costly. The service of the Literature Distribution Centre has greatly improved and we are hearing praise of good displays and prompt delivery. Many report great help from the Literature page and book reviews in The Missionary Monthly. These have all been of assistance to our Secretaries in performing their task.

I would not pass by this opportunity to say a sincere "thank you" to Miss Dorothy Young for her untiring attention to all my requests for assistance. One could not have a more patient consultant and adviser.

Our "Education in Mission" will never be complete, but we can work diligently towards the objective of an informed church membership. The first step is appointment of a competent person to the office of Literature Secretary in every Auxiliary; the second step, to see that she is allotted time for the promotion so necessary to her department. We would also recommend participation in the Christian Education Committee or any other group set up by the church to further the interests of education. At every gathering take Paul's words of advice, "When you come, bring the books."

(Mrs. E. W.) ISABEL HICKESON, Secretary

FINANCE

REPORT COVERING FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1957

Remarks

The major part of the revenue required to maintain our established work is received from our members—actually 95.4 per cent of our total income in 1957 came from our local organizations, through Presbyterian Treasurers, then to Conference Branch Treasurers and finally to Dominion Board Treasurers. Great responsibility is assumed by our Treasurers at every level. To donors and Treasurers we extend very sincere gratitude.

Receipts

In 1957 the total receipts amounted to $1,359,899.19. In the comparative analysis below, the returns from Conference Branches include the amount voted by Presbyterials to "Gifts for Building Advance."

	1956	1957	Result
Conference Branches	$1,262,286.00	$1,296,689.94	Increase $34,403.94
Donations	16,139.55	13,529.88	Decrease 2,609.67
Interest on General Fund	41,266.33	40,451.03	Decrease 815.30
Sundry	22,926.33	9,228.34	Decrease 13,697.99
	$1,342,618.21	$1,359,899.19	Net Inc. 17,280.98

Of the four sources of revenue, an increase is shown in only Conference Branch returns. Interest in 1957 just covers an eleven month period, January 1st to November 30th, so it cannot be fairly compared with other years. The interest which we are receiving is, however, at considerably higher rates than that obtainable in the past decade.

The Allocations to the Conference Branches for 1957 totalled $1,200,000.00. Each Branch exceeded its allocation. Only one Branch did not show an increase in givings.

"GIFTS FOR BUILDING ADVANCE" were continued in 1957. The projects were towards: Building of Churches in Hong Kong; Rennie's Mill Camp for T.B. patients; Hospital in South Korea; Mobile Medical Unit, Korea; New Hospital, Burns Lake, Cars for Canada; Scholarships for Canada and Overseas.

In accordance with Policy, each Presbyterian exceeding its allocation was privileged to vote the excess over allocations to one or two of the projects.

If a project was oversubscribed, the surplus would be applied to any under-subscribed. Should the total of $65,000.00 be exceeded, the surplus would be applied to the General Fund to assist in maintenance.

The total amount in excess of Presbyterian Allocations and voted to the 1957 projects was $92,526.22. Each project will be completed and the excess of $27,526.22 will be used for maintenance.

The following summary indicates the amounts subscribed by each Conference Branch. Some of the Conference Branches will note that the amounts credited to them under certain projects are not as reported by them. Adjustments were necessary in order to care for two projects which were undersubscribed.

Estimates for 1957 stayed, as they were for 1956, at $1,260,000.00

In comparing the spending in 1956 with that of 1957, Overseas Missions decreased $22,583.83, Home Missions increased $1,944.59. Scholarships showed a slight increase of $600.57 and Candidate a small decrease of $358.63. Home Organization and Literature should be grouped in making comparison because the increase of $6,410.77 in Home Organization is tied up with the decrease for Literature of $6,182.13. When we re-organized and dispensed with our Literature Department in 1956, part of the function of the Literature Department was assumed by Home Organization and part by The Literature Distribution Centre and other departments within The Board of Information and Stewardship, and under Literature we have grouped those items related, so that, along with Home Organization, this might show as fair a comparison as is possible. Periodicals showed an increase of $1,000.00. Administration showed an increase of $21,233.22 all authorized, but the detail of some of it might prove interesting. The amount for the extra executive meeting in 1956 made executive expenses approximately $1,000.00 higher in that year. Mrs. Taylor's trip to Africa in 1957 cost about $1,000.00 more than her trip to Korea in 1956. Mrs. Watari's visit cost us about $2,200.00 additional over other years. Officers' salaries are up about $2,000.00 due to the addition of Miss McKee in September 1957 and also to the duplication as Mrs. Coates remained to bridge the period over Mrs. Taylor's absence and Miss Thomas' coming. Staff salaries account for $11,000.00 of the increase. Raised costs and the additional cost of including Home Organization under Administration rather than under Literature Department resulted in a $2,000.00 increase in office supplies. Rent accounted for an increase of a little over $1,000.00. That is the detail of the $21,233.22 increase shown under Administration.

The Training of Missionaries and Candidates shows an increase of $1,858.57—mostly furlough study increased costs. The $23,613.50 decrease in "pension" costs is because of the additional bonus of almost $23,000.00 paid to the retired missionaries in 1956 when the new Retirement Fund Constitution changed the time of the payment of annuities to the last of the quarter rather than the first of the quarter as it was prior to 1956. The decrease under the final miscellaneous items listed together was in Outfits, Travel and Salaries of New Missionaries.

The total decrease in 1957 was $24,896.48.

As you will notice, the statements this year are considerably changed. There is a single Balance Sheet which incorporates all of the Assets and Liabilities of the Society into one statement rather than the six as formerly. We then show each Capital Account starting with the balance at the end of 1956 as it carried forward into January 1, 1957, the changes which affected the account during the year, ending with the balance at December 31, 1957. The Statement of Receipts and Disbursements for each fund carries its end balance forward to the Capital Account for that fund and the balance as of December 31, 1957, in each Capital Account is carried forward to show its balance under Liabilities in the Balance Sheet. I think that you should find them very much easier to follow, and I hope that, as we can make changes in the future, these reports may reveal in a more direct way, more of the information that you wish to know.

Investments

Because the Consolidation and Re-evaluation of Securities has affected every one of the funds this year, some explanation of these changes may make only a "reference" necessary later when each fund is discussed.

You will recall that at Dominion Board in 1956, you authorized the consolidation or "pooling" of the securities into one central fund, and that each fund was to release the securities held within it for transfer to the General Investments Account at the price that would be received had we actually sold all of our securities on the market on August 31, 1957. This gave us a realistic view of our liquid position as of that date. The securities were, prior to August 31, 1957, held in our books at a total value of $4,228,544.53 but when purchased by the General Investments Account at market price on August 31, 1957, there was a total loss on the transfer from all of the funds holding securities, of $525,081.44. We had hoped that this loss on re-valuation might have been covered by our Current Reserve but this was not possible, so your Executive accepted the alternative and the loss was, as had always been done before, reflected in each of the Capital accounts as you will see. From August 31, 1957 on, the General Investments Reserve will show the profits or losses made when securities mature or are sold. You will remember that this Reserve is to be reviewed at the end of each year. At the end of 1957 it held profits of only $202.50, for few bonds matured and none were sold during the last four months of 1957. You will notice the note on the bottom of the Balance Sheet to which each Capital Account refers.

The interest accumulated over the eleven months was distributed November 30th and you will note in the Balance Sheet our Liability as of December 31, 1957, for interest to be distributed November 30th of 1958 amounting to $4,615.73.

General Fund

This fund represents many accounts and trusts held within its scope. It has really two Capital Accounts. The one—"General Fund—Capital," contains only the amount of Estimates for that year at its beginning, and the amount needed for coverage of the Estimates for the succeeding year, at its close. The other is called "General Fund—Current Reserve" and into it goes the excess from the net undepending and from it we borrow if General Fund Capital cannot in itself meet the Estimates for the next year.

The Statement of Receipts and Disbursements for the General Fund shows an excess of Receipts over Disbursements of $121,983.47. This shows in your "General Fund—Capital Account" as being added to the $1,260,000.00 carried over from 1956 into 1957. Added to these is the reimbursement from Scholarship C.B.A. of $7,039.67 paid out during 1957 on its behalf. From this total of $1,369,023.14 it was necessary to deduct the losses on sale of securities before August 31, 1957, of $400.00 and the loss on the write-down on securities transferred at that date, of $160,056.63. To these deductions is added the $10,000.00, representing the transfer into C.B.A. Scholarships Account of the money raised in 1957 for subsequent spending. The total deductions represent $170,456.63, leaving only $1,218,566.51 as net receipts for 1957. This didn't begin to meet the Estimates for 1958, so we had to deplete Current Reserve by $141,433.49 in order to have the $1,360,000.00 to meet our promises for 1958.

So, with this background, you will see the $1,360,000.00, our accepted dollar liability toward the Mission of our Church for 1958, reflected in the Balance Sheet.

Property Account

This account is one of those held as a separate account within General Fund. By inspecting the detailed statement you will note that we carried over from 1956, $438,118.95. Additions to it consist of interest income, miscellaneous refunds of unused amounts, sales of property, donations from individuals and organizations outside the Woman's Missionary Society plus C.B.A. which the exceeding of allocations made possible. There was added a total of $175,024.61. The disbursements made in 1957 amounted to $265,156.23, leaving a balance of $347,987.33.

This account incorporates two distinct and separate accounts—"Property Designated" covering such items as C.B.A. projects for which the money was specifically given, as well as gifts designated for special spending. This part of Property Account has to be held in trust for spending as designated. At the end of 1957 it contains $180,759.56 as shown in the Balance Sheet Liabilities.

"Property General" contains all other items not designated when placed in the account but later ear-marked for specific spending. It is interesting to note that, as of December 31, 1957, Executive has authorized property grants of $248,006.19. The balance held for spending at that date is $167,227.77. This leaves an amount of $80,778.42 required as income before we can begin to meet 1958 promises.

Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund

This fund received 80 bequests amounting to $120,889.77 and interest of $21,523.62, a total of $142,413.39. As decreed by past policy, the interest is transferred to Property Account leaving $120,889.77 to be placed in the Capital Account for this fund. The Capital Account balance at the end of 1956 was at maximum of $600,000.00. To this was added the excess of receipts over disbursements as given above and from the total of $720,889.77 is deducted loss and write-down on securities sold and transferred amounting to $73,631.35. This leaves a balance of $647,258.42. In order to maintain the maximum balance only, $47,258.42 was transferred to augment Property Account General. You will find the balance of $600,000.00 in the Capital Account of the Bequest Permanent Reserve Fund shown under Liabilities in the Balance Sheet.

Retirement Fund

Monies received into the fund consisted of the grant from the General Fund of $30,340.00, the assessments received from active missionaries of $13,335.00 plus interest of $65,828.42 totalling $109,503.42. Disbursements were, for annuities paid to 115 retired missionaries, $91,913.81 and assessments refunded because of resignations, $1,246.42. This left $16,343.19 to be transferred into Capital Account.

The Capital Account carried over from 1956 $1,950,601.51. It was augmented by the residuum of 12 Guaranteed Annuities amounting to $3,741.77 plus the excess of Receipts over Disbursements, $16,343.19. This makes a total of $1,970,686.47, from which was deducted loss and write-down on security sold and transferred amounting to $233,789.13. The balance in the Capital Account, of $1,736,897.34, is as shown in the Balance Sheet.

Guaranteed Annuities

Receipts from interest amounted to $9,877.24. Annuities paid totalled $20,290.20 which meant that the Disbursements exceeded Receipts by $19,412.96. This is deducted from capital.

The Capital Account carried over from 1956, $309,677.53. Seventeen new Annuity contracts were received, totalling $38,900.00. This, added, gave the fund $348,577.53 from which was deducted the residual amounts of the 19 matured annuities, $3,741.77 of which Retirement Capital received and $3,068.07 of which was credited to Donations as contracted. Following policy, when an annuitant dies the residual amount goes to augment Retirement Fund Capital if its disposal is not designated as a Donation to some specific part of the work. Also deducted was the excess of Disbursements over Receipts of $19,412.96 and the write-down on the transfer of securities of $43,059.77. This leaves a balance in the Capital Account of $279,294.96 which shows under Liabilities in the Balance Sheet.

Schedules

Reference to changes in the Schedules should perhaps be mentioned also. In the schedule of Specific Trust Funds, each of these funds had, purchased for it, bonds or trust certificates obtained at the date of receipts. On evaluating the securities at August 31, 1958 almost all were priced below par on the market at that date and a book loss or gain shows, for the particular security held for each, leaving the actual value at December 31, 1957, in each case. This will be the only year in which this "write-down" will appear in the statements and in this schedule.

The schedule for Overseas Missions combines the former two schedules into one, and that of Home Missions combines the former six into a single schedule.

We have added a schedule for the Candidate Department, and another to show the disbursements from Provisional and Emergency.

General

The Auditor's Certificate is to be found preceding the Financial Statements. An actual count of securities was made as of both August 31st, and December 31st, in 1957 because of the Consolidation of Securities.

We wish to pay high tribute to the loyal and faithful work of each member of Finance staff, for, with all the changes necessary, 1957 has been a most difficult year. Every improvement means so much extra work until it is installed and properly interlocked with the whole system of accounts. We would like also to express our heartfelt thanks to all of our Treasurers, both at home and abroad, for the part they have played in "Witnessing in the Christian Mission."

A SAFE AND RELIABLE INVESTMENT A LIFE-LONG INCOME THAT WILL NOT SHRINK—

By the Guaranteed Annuity Gift Plan of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada, a gift of money will be accepted at any time and the donor be paid income thereon at a most attractive rate, this depending upon the donor's age when the gift is made. Many friends are welcoming this Plan, for it not only makes possible the placing of their gift during lifetime (rather than a legacy later) which, upon maturity, becomes immediately effective without legal process or administration expense, but at the same time pays an annuity. A suitable bond, over the signatures of the Officers of the Church and of the Society, guarantees the payment of the annual income.

Complete information may be secured upon application to the Assistant Treasurer, 413 Wesley Buildings, Toronto 2B, Ont.

Auditors' Certificate

The Woman's Missionary Society of
The United Church of Canada,
Toronto, Ontario.

We have examined the Balance Sheet as at December 31, 1957, and the related Statement of Receipts and Disbursements for the year ended on that date which have been prepared from the books of account of the Assistant Treasurer of The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion the accompanying Balance Sheet and the related Statement of Receipts and Disbursements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the position of the constituent funds as at December 31, 1957, and the cash transactions for the year ended on that date, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Assistant Treasurer.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

The reports of the eleven Conference Branches for 1957 are very encouraging. Although Christian Stewardship advance is something which is very difficult to measure, the reports show that more emphasis is being placed on this department. Thus, there is a greater awareness of the importance of every phase of Stewardship and a deeper spiritual conception of its true meaning. Many thanks to the Christian Stewardship Secretaries whose conscientious work has laid the foundation for this year's achievements.

Stewardship of Money

All Branches have exceeded their allocation and raised a total of $1,296,689.94. This amount is an increase of $34,403.94 over 1956. Toronto has the largest increase of $8,200.00, followed by Hamilton with $6,600.00 then,

Increase over 1956

London	$ 3,850.00
Maritime	3,700.00
Montreal and Ottawa	3,555.00
Manitoba	3,038.92
Bay of Quinte	2,254.00
Alberta	1,725.00
Saskatchewan	1,203.02
Newfoundland	978.00
British Columbia	700.00 — decrease

Our Gifts for Building Advance are still being well supported.

Many organizations strive to exceed their allocation that they may have a share in furthering the scope of our work.

The estimates for the year 1958 call for $1,360,000.00. This amount must be met to maintain, with the rising costs, our work already established. The Secretaries report that the increased allocations necessary have, for the most part, been accepted willingly and courageously, as a great challenge by the organization and that the women are facing this challenge realizing that prayer, faith and work have had great results.

Stewardship of Time and Talents

The reports reveal that there are many encouraging features in our department even though there is a decrease in the number of organizations. In order to give a real understanding and appreciation of these features, I shall quote directly from the reports:

—More auxiliaries have a Christian Stewardship Secretary, hence a greater awareness of the full meaning of Stewardship.

—The willingness of every member to respond not only financially but with time, prayer and program contributions.

—The women are definitely more missionary conscious.

—I am encouraged by the increase in the number of auxiliaries accepting names of missionaries for special prayer, of the many who report having been in direct communication with their prayer partners and the upsurge of interest among the members in her particular field of work.

—Stewardship is being presented with greater regularity.

—There is a better understanding of the work of our Woman's Missionary Society due to attendance at Rallies and Presbyterian meetings.

—More members are reading Stewardship books and missionary articles.

—In some places—"In Memoriam" certificates have met with a favorable response and the receipts from same are gratifying.

Due to the more frequent presentation of Christian Stewardship and the better methods adopted in the programs, our members are becoming more interested and more enthusiastic. One secretary after four years' experience as a Branch officer makes this comment—"The subject of Christian Stewardship has been presented more often each year and gradually new ways are being used, also new and better materials." Another secretary mentions this fact—"Inspirational programs with helpful Bible Study and the interesting presentation of the Mission Study indicate much thought has gone into the preparation." Many and varied methods successfully used are: skits, panel discussions, interviews, reply to roll calls with Christian Stewardship text or thought, review of articles from The Missionary Monthly, broadcasts, pageants and book reviews.

As Christian Stewardship should be a progressive thing, let us give thanks to our Heavenly Father for the advance made this year and go forward with renewed faith and an ever deepening desire to be faithful stewards in 1958.

"Moreover, it is required of a steward that a man be found faithful"

—1 Cor. 4: 2.

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths"

—1 Prov. 3: 6.

REPORT OF THE RETIREMENT FUND FOR 1957

The membership of the Retirement Fund as of December 31st, 1957, totalled two hundred and ninety. Of this number one hundred and fifteen were retired missionaries and the remainder on active service, or those entitled to credits on the Fund for past service.

During the year four missionaries retired and there were six resignations. Five new missionaries were appointed.

Of the retired missionaries, five passed away.

According to the Financial Report, as presented by the Assistant Treasurer, Capital Fund received from General Fund $30,340.00 and an amount of $3,741.77 was received as the residuum of Guaranteed Annuity gifts. The total assessments paid by missionaries were $13,515.00 and the annuities amounting to $92,867.06 were paid to retired missionaries.

Again I would express appreciation of the splendid co-operation of the Assistant Treasurer and the members of staff of the Finance Department.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS. J. ERLE) LILLIAN E. W. JONES,
Retirement Fund Secretary.

Constitution

OF

The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada

Art. 1.—Name: This Society shall be called the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada.

Art. 2.—Aim and Object. The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada seeks:

To unite all the women of the Church for the World Mission of Christianity; to provide missionary education for children, teen-age girls and young women; to encourage study, prayer and giving on behalf of Christian Missions at home and abroad.

To share in sending the Gospel of Jesus Christ to every Canadian and to peoples of other lands; to bring healing and education to those in need; to aid in the development of the Christian Church in Canada and of the world-wide Church of Jesus Christ.

To create bonds of Christian friendship between its members and peoples of other races and other lands; to enlist the whole membership in united effort for temperance, social welfare and world peace; to build up a fellowship committed to the doing of God's will and to the extension of God's Kingdom in the home and the community, in Canada and throughout the world.

Art. 3.—Relationship and Work: It shall act jointly with the Mission Boards of the Church in the defining of its activities, working in harmony with them and receiving their approval in the employment of its missionaries and fields of labour.

To further this purpose it shall have representation on the Mission Boards of the Church.

Art. 4.—Organization: The Society shall consist of a Dominion Board, Conference Branches, Presbyterial Societies, Auxiliaries, Mission Circles, Mission Bands, Baby Bands, Affiliated Societies, Affiliated C.G.I.F. Groups, and Affiliated Explorer Groups.

Art. 5.—Membership: Membership in a local Auxiliary, Evening Auxiliary, Mission Circle, Mission Band or Baby Band, shall constitute membership in the Woman's Missionary Society. The membership shall be classified as Life and Annual.

The Dominion Board

*Art. 6.—*The Administrative body of the Woman's Missionary Society shall be the Dominion Board. It shall consist of its officers and other members of Executive, and two elected representatives from each Conference Branch, at least one of whom shall be a portfolio secretary. If the President of a Conference Branch who is a Vice-President, ex-officio, of Dominion Board be unable to attend, a substitute elected by the Conference Branch shall be a member of Board in her stead. The Dominion Board at its discretion may in any given year designate one of the Conference Branch Officers as one of the two elected representatives.

In order to bring the voting power of the Branch delegates to the Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board proportionately nearer to the voting power of the Executive, each Conference Branch shall be given one extra vote in addition to the three now held by Conference Branch delegates, this vote to be cast by the President of the Branch on request and the President's vote to express the opinion of the delegates from her Conference Branch.

Each Overseas Field shall have one voting delegate at the Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board to be elected by the Mission Council or Missionary Committee, from among the missionaries on furlough from the field who will be in attendance at Dominion Board Meeting; and the Home Field shall have voting delegates equal to the number from the Overseas Fields, these to be elected by ballot by all the home missionaries in active service from among the home missionaries on furlough who will be in attendance at the Dominion Board Meeting.

The Moderator and Secretary of The United Church of Canada shall be members ex-officio of the Dominion Board; and the following Boards and Committees of the Church shall name one of their Secretaries or another representative as a member of the Dominion Board: Board of Overseas Missions, Board of Home Missions, Board of Information and Stewardship, Board of Evangelism and Social Service, Board of Christian Education, Committee on the Deaconess Order and Women Workers of the Church and The Dominion Council of the Woman's Association. The Principal of the United Church Training School shall be a member ex-officio of the Dominion Board.

The Dominion Board shall meet annually at such time and place as it may determine.

Art. 7.—Officers of the Dominion Board: The Officers of the Dominion Board shall be a President, the immediate Past President, Vice-Presidents, General Secretary, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer and such other officers as shall be necessary. These shall be elected by ballot after nomination at the annual meeting of the Dominion Board, except salaried officers who shall be appointed by the Dominion Board on recommendation of the Executive. The Presidents of Conference Branches are also, by virtue of their office, Vice-Presidents of the Dominion Board.

Art. 8.—Duties of the Dominion Board: The Dominion Board shall decide all matters of general policy; receive the annual reports of the Executive Committee; give instructions for the ensuing year; receive reports from Branches; take into consideration the interests and requirements of the whole Society as presented in these reports; consider and deal with all estimates for work; appoint an auditor annually; and transact any other business that the interests of the Society may demand.

Art. 9.—The Executive of the Dominion Board: The business of the Society during the year shall be transacted by an Executive, which shall consist of the immediate past president, the officers, portfolio secretaries and such other persons as shall be elected by the Dominion Board, fifteen of whom shall be a quorum, and, without in any way limiting the foregoing—

The Executive of the Dominion Board shall have power:

(a) To borrow any sum or sums of money upon the credit of the Society by way of loan, discount, overdraft or otherwise, and, as security for any money so borrowed, to hypothecate, mortgage and pledge all or any stocks, bonds, debentures, negotiable instruments or other real or personal property of the Society.

(b) To sell, convey, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or any stocks, bonds, or other securities of every description held or owned by the Society and to sign and execute on behalf of the Society all and any instruments of transfer and other documents whenever necessary or proper to effectuate the same.

(c) To authorize from time to time by resolution or by-law, such officer or officers of the Society as the Board may appoint to make, draw, accept and endorse bills of exchange, promissory notes and cheques, and to execute, on behalf of the Society, all such documents, agreements, securities, conveyances, assignments and transfers as aforesaid.

(d) To delegate from time to time, by resolution or by-law, all or any part of the powers hereinbefore set out to any administrative body of the Society.

Conference Branches

Art. 10.—A Branch shall be organized in each Conference and shall consist of the Presbyterian Societies within its bounds.

Each Conference Branch shall endeavour to further the interests of the Society's work within its own territory, shall organize Presbyterian Societies and shall carry out the recommendations of the Dominion Board. It shall receive annual reports from all Presbyterian Societies within its bounds, and from these reports shall be prepared a comprehensive report of the Conference Branch, which shall be forwarded to the General Secretary of the Dominion Board for embodiment in the printed annual report of the Society.

Each Conference Branch is free to frame its own By-laws, provided they are in harmony with the Constitution and By-laws of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada.

Though the Dominion Board is the only body to initiate work, each Conference Branch through its Executive has the privilege of recommending to the Dominion Board, any extension of or suggestions with regard to mission work within its bounds.

Art. 11.—Annual or Biennial Meeting of Conference Branch: The Annual or Biennial Meeting of each Conference Branch shall be held at such time and place as it shall from year to year determine. The reports of the various Presbyterian Societies connected with the Conference Branch shall be considered, and any other business that the interests of the Society may demand shall be transacted. An abstract of the reports shall be presented to the Conference. An Auditor shall be appointed at the Annual or Biennial Meeting of the Conference Branch.

Its voting members shall be the Executive of the Conference Branch and a delegation from each Presbyterian Society, the number of delegates from the Presbyterian Societies to be determined by vote of the Conference Branch at any annual meeting according to either Plan A or Plan B.

PLAN A—Six representatives, namely

The President; a Vice-President; the Treasurer, or the Christian Stewardship Secretary alternating; and three of the following officers in rotation, designated annually by the Conference Branch or its Executive:

Recording Secretary	Associate Members Secretary
Corresponding Secretary	Supply Secretary
Secretary for Mission Circles	Community Friendship Secretary
Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups	Literature Secretary
Secretary for Affiliated Explorer Groups	Candidate Secretary
Secretary for Mission Bands	Secretary for Christian Citizenship
Secretary for Baby Bands	Missionary Monthly and World Friends Secretary or their elected alternates or

PLAN B — Six representatives as in Plan A, and in addition three to ten Presbyterian officers elected by the Presbyterian.

The officers shall be elected and the reports of the various Presbyterian Societies connected with the Conference Branch shall be considered, and any other business that the interests of the Society may demand shall be transacted. An abstract of the reports shall be presented to the Conference.

Art. 12.—Officers of the Conference Branch: The officers of the Conference Branch shall be a President, Vice-Presidents, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and such Portfolio Secretaries as may be necessary. These shall be elected by the members present at the Annual Meeting.

The Presidents of Presbyterials shall be, ex-officio, Vice-Presidents of the Conference Branch.

Art. 13.—Executive and Sub-Executive of Conference Branch:

(a) The Executive of the Conference Branch shall consist of the immediate Past President; the officers, portfolio secretaries and such other persons as shall be elected by the Conference Branch, and the Vice-Presidents, ex-officio, of the Conference Branch (Presbyterial Presidents). In addition to the meeting at the time of the Annual Meeting of the Conference Branch the Executive shall have at least one meeting during the year for which the Conference Branch is responsible for the expenses entailed by the attendance of the Vice-Presidents ex-officio.

(b) Sub-Executive—The Sub-Executive shall consist of not more than 10 Conference Branch officers of whom 5 shall be a quorum. It shall be appointed at the annual meeting of the Conference Branch and shall meet at the call of the President and Secretary as often as may be necessary to transact any business that may arise between the annual meetings of the Conference Branch.

Presbyterial Societies

Art. 14.—A Presbyterial Society shall be composed of all the Auxiliaries, Evening Auxiliaries, Mission Circles, Mission Bands, Baby Bands, Affiliated Societies, Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups, and Affiliated Explorer Groups within the bounds of the Presbytery.

Its object shall be to develop interest in the missionary work of the Church, to organize and foster missionary societies among the women and young people of the congregations within its bounds and to carry out such recommendations as shall come from the Conference Branch.

It shall receive annual reports from all such Auxiliaries, Evening Auxiliaries, Mission Circles, Mission Bands, Baby Bands, Affiliated Societies, Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups, and Affiliated Explorer Groups, and from these shall be prepared a full report of all the work, which shall be forwarded to the Corresponding Secretary of the Conference Branch along with a statistical report of membership and contributions.

Each Auxiliary and Evening Auxiliary shall be represented at the Annual Meeting by its President or her elected substitute, and two delegates; each Mission Circle by its Advisory President, or President, or her elected substitute, and one delegate; each Mission Band by its Superintendent or President or her elected substitute and one delegate; each Baby Band by its Superintendent or elected substitute; the Affiliated C.G.I.T. membership of each local church by an elected representative; the Affiliated Explorer Group membership of each local church by the Chief Counsellor or her substitute. Each Affiliated Society shall be represented by its President or elected representative.

Each Presbyterial Society is free to frame its own By-Laws, provided they are in harmony with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada.

Art. 15.—Annual Meeting of Presbyterial Society: The Annual Meeting of each Presbyterial Society shall be at such time and place as it shall from year to year determine. The officers shall be elected and the reports of the various Auxiliaries, Evening Auxiliaries, Mission Circles, Mission Bands, Baby Bands, Affiliated Societies, Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups, and Affiliated Explorer Groups connected with the Presbyterian Society shall be considered, and any other business that the interests of the Society may demand, shall be transacted. An abstract of the reports shall be presented to the Presbytery.

Note—In any case, save where absolutely impossible, the Annual Presbyterian meeting should be held prior to the meeting of the Conference Branch.

Art. 16.—Officers of Presbyterian Society: The officers shall be a President, Immediate Past-President, two or more Vice-Presidents, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and such Portfolio Secretaries as may be necessary for the work, all to be elected annually.

Art. 17.—Executive of Presbyterian Society: The Executive of the Presbyterian Society shall consist of not less than ten members, including the Officers of the Society, of whom five shall be a quorum, and shall be elected at the Annual Meeting of the Presbytery.

The Executive Committee shall meet at the call of the President and Secretary, and shall administer the affairs of the Society during the year.

Local Organizations

*Art. 18.—*In a congregation any group of women, who are in sympathy with the Aim and Object of the Society and who agree to promote its interests and to contribute to its funds, may be organized as an Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Art. 19.—Membership of Auxiliary: Any woman may become a member of an Auxiliary, who is in sympathy with the Aim and Object of the Society, and who signifies her acceptance of the responsibilities of membership by signing the Membership Roll and receiving a membership card. In addition, she shall pay an annual membership fee of fifty cents, the method of collecting the membership fees to be left to the discretion of the Auxiliary. Twenty-five dollars given at one time shall constitute Auxiliary Life Membership. A Life Member shall be entitled to membership in any one Auxiliary with which for the time being she may be enrolled.

Art. 20.—Officers and Executive of Auxiliary: The officers of an Auxiliary shall be a President, two or more Vice-Presidents, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, a Treasurer and such Portfolio Secretaries as may be necessary.

These, together with the President of the Evening Auxiliary, the Advisory President of the Mission Circle, the Superintendent of the Mission Band, the leader of Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups, the Chief Counsellor of the Affiliated Explorer Group, and the Superintendent of the Baby Band, shall constitute an Executive which shall transact business requiring attention between regular meetings of the Auxiliary.

The minister shall have the right to preside at the election of officers.

Art. 21.—New Work: No Auxiliary shall initiate work on its own account, or divert its funds to objects other than those covered by the budget.

Art. 22.—Classification of young people's and junior organizations shall be according to the organization of The United Church of Canada for similar ages, as follows:

Mission Circle	18 to 25 years, approximately
C.G.I.T. Group	12 to 17 years, approximately
Explorer Group	9 to 11 years, approximately
Mission Band	6 to 8 or 6 to 11 yrs. approx.
Baby Band	to 5 years, approximately

Definite graduation into senior organizations as outlined above shall be promoted.

Art. 23.—Mission Circles: Any group of girls or young women, in sympathy with the Aim and Object of the Society, who agree to promote its interests, may be organized as a Mission Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society. Any young woman may become a member of a Mission Circle, who is in sympathy with the Aim and Object of the Society, and who signifies her acceptance of the responsibilities of membership by signing the Membership Roll and receiving a membership card. In addition, she shall pay an annual membership fee of twenty-five cents, the method of collecting the membership fees to be left to the discretion of the Mission Circle. $10.00, given at one time, shall constitute Circle Life Membership, which shall lapse on graduation into an Auxiliary. A Circle Life Member shall be entitled to membership in any one Mission Circle with which, for the time being, she may be enrolled. When the members of the Mission Circle have reached full adult life, they shall graduate into an Auxiliary, with full adult responsibilities.

Art. 24.—Officers and Executive of Mission Circles: The officers of a Mission Circle shall be an Advisory President, who shall be a member of the Auxiliary, a President, two or more Vice-Presidents, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, a Treasurer and such Portfolio Secretaries as may be necessary. These shall constitute an Executive which shall transact business requiring attention between regular meetings of the Mission Circle. The Advisory President shall be a member of the Executive of the Auxiliary.

Art. 25.—New Work: No Mission Circle shall initiate work on its own account, or divert its funds to objects other than those covered by the budget.

Art. 26.—Mission Bands: Any group of children may be organized as a Mission Band under a Superintendent, for the purpose primarily of developing a missionary spirit. Any child may become a member of the Mission Band by payment of ten cents annually, but the Superintendent, with the approval of the Auxiliary, may, for the whole Band, substitute for a membership fee regular attendance at meetings as a basis of recording members. The payment of $5.00 at any one time shall constitute a Band Life Membership which shall lapse on graduation into Mission Circle or Evening Auxiliary. A Life Member shall be entitled to membership in any one Mission Band with which for the time being he or she may be enrolled.

Art. 27.—Officers and Executive of Mission Bands: The officers shall consist of a Superintendent, who shall be appointed by the Auxiliary, a President, a Vice-President, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary and a Treasurer. These shall constitute an Executive which shall transact business requiring attention between regular meetings of the Mission Band.

Art. 28.—New Work: No Mission Band shall initiate work on its own account, or divert its funds to objects other than those covered by the budget.

Art. 29.—Baby Bands: Children five years and under may be enrolled as members of a Baby Band, the object of which shall be to foster a missionary spirit from the earliest years, and to preserve and increase the interest of the mothers in missionary work. Any child may be made a member of the Baby Band by the enrolment of his or her name by the parent on the Superintendent's membership roll. The payment of one dollar shall constitute a Baby Band Life Membership which shall lapse on graduation into the Mission Band.

Art. 30.—Canadian Girls In Training: When a C.G.I.T. Group decides to affiliate and holds its Affiliation Service, it shall be recognized as an Affiliated Group, with the understanding that its programme include adequate missionary education and its service, a contribution to the Woman's Missionary Society funds.

Art. 31.—Explorers: When the Counsellor of an Explorer Group decides that her Group should become an affiliated group, and the Service of the Dedication of the Treasure Chest is used the Group shall be recognized as an Affiliated Explorer Group, with the understanding that its programme include adequate missionary education and its service a contribution to the Woman's Missionary Society funds.

Art. 32.—Associate Members. Any woman who cannot attend the meetings, but who is in sympathy with the aim and object of the Society, and contributes, is an Associate Member.

Art. 33.—Affiliated Societies: Any association of women in a congregation other than Auxiliaries, Evening Auxiliaries and Mission Circles, shall have the status of an Affiliated Society of the Woman's Missionary Society by contributing to its funds annually.

Art. 34.—Change of Constitution: This Constitution may be altered or amended at any Annual Meeting of the Dominion Board by a two-thirds vote of the members present, notice of such amendment having been given to each Conference Branch at least two weeks before its Annual Meeting. All alterations or amendments to the Constitution shall be subject to the approval of General Council.

DOMINION BOARD BY-LAWS

I.

The minimum number of officers for a small Auxiliary shall be three, President, Secretary, and Treasurer; or in a somewhat larger Auxiliary the officers shall be:

President (combining the duties of the President, a Vice-President and the Secretary for Christian Stewardship).

A Vice-President (combining duties of two Vice-Presidents).

Secretary (combining the duties of the Recording and Corresponding Secretaries).

Treasurer.

Supply Secretary.

Christian Citizenship.

Community Friendship Secretary (adding the duties of the Associate Helpers' Secretary).

The Missionary Monthly and World Friends Secretary (adding the duties of the Press and the Literature Secretary).

XX.

Representation on Official Board

The Auxiliary in each local Church is entitled to elect one representative, in full membership of the Church, to the Official Board of the pastoral charge. Where there is more than one Auxiliary in a local church the appointment shall be made by the two or more acting conjointly.

The President or another member elected by the Auxiliary shall be the representative on the Official Board of the pastoral charge, unless there is also an Evening Auxiliary (or Evening Auxiliaries) in the congregation, in which case they shall act conjointly in electing the representative.

XXI.

Nominating Committee

A Nominating Committee shall be appointed at the annual meeting to be composed of from three to five members. At a meeting prior to the December meeting the Chairman of the Nominating Committee shall announce to the Auxiliary what officers are completing their term of office or are not willing to stand for re-election and shall invite nominations. It shall be the duty of the Nominating Committee to receive and submit all nominations and when necessary make nominations for all officers of the Auxiliary. At the time of election all officers are out of office until re-elected. Voting shall be by ballot. It shall also be the duty of the Nominating Committee to receive and submit nominations to the Auxiliary for the filling of vacancies which may occur during the year.

Note: Nominations accompanied by a statement of the qualifications of the nominee and a statement to the effect that her consent has been secured shall be made in writing and signed by the person making the nomination. Nominations shall be submitted to the Committee not later than 24 hours previous to election.

XXII.

It shall be the duty of all retiring officers and leaders for all organizations to forward to succeeding new officers and leaders, all books, supplies and helps of various kinds, provided by the Board, and all records and information pertaining to the office which may be of assistance to her successor.

Duties of Retiring Officers

XXIII.

Auxiliary—Postage and stationery; Envelopes for offerings; Books for officers; Printing of programmes; the essential literature for the Auxiliary and, where necessary for the Baby Band, Mission Band, Affiliated Explorer Groups and Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups; delegates' expenses to Presbyterial meeting, and expenses of visiting speakers.

Legitimate Expenses

Note: See Auxiliary By-Law No. XII for method of covering expenses incidental to the work of the Supply Secretary.

The Affiliated Society

Any association of women in a congregation (other than Auxiliaries, Evening Auxiliaries, Mission Circles, shall have the status of an Affiliated Society of the Woman's Missionary Society by contributing to its funds annually. (Constitution, Article 32.)

The invitation to become an Affiliated Society shall be extended by the Presbyterial principally to Woman's Associations (or Ladies' Aids) in congregations where there is no Auxiliary.

In addition to making a voluntary contribution to the funds of the Woman's Missionary Society, which shall be sent direct to the Presbyterial Treasurer, the Affiliated Society shall include missions in its programme by devoting ten or fifteen minutes at each meeting or the full period at one or two meetings a year to a missionary programme, and by reading The Missionary Monthly and other missionary literature.

The President of an Affiliated Society shall be a voting member of the Presbyterial and a corresponding member of the Presbyterial Executive, and all members of an Affiliated Society shall be invited to the Presbyterial annual meeting and to sectional meetings or rallies.

Mission Circle By-laws

(See Constitution, Articles 23-25)

I.

Meetings—Regular meetings of the Mission Circle shall be held on the of the month at o'clock.

The programme of all regular meetings shall include a worship service.

The election of officers and portfolio secretaries, and of delegates to the Annual Meeting of the Presbyterial, shall take place at the December meeting.

The Annual Meeting shall be held in January, when the reports of officers and portfolio secretaries shall be given, the new officers installed, the auditor appointed for the ensuing year.

II.

It shall be the duty of the Advisory President to act in an advisory capacity to the Mission Circle. She shall also be responsible for maintaining a co-operative relationship between the Auxiliary and the Mission Circle.

III.

The duties of other officers shall be as prescribed for officers in Auxiliary By-laws, except that the Corresponding Secretary shall send her annual report to the Presbyterial Secretary for Mission Circles by January 5th.

IV.

In accordance with the Constitution of Mission Circles, such Portfolio Secretaries shall be elected as are necessary to look after the work engaged in by the Mission Circle. The duties of these Secretaries shall be similar to those of Auxiliary Portfolio Secretaries, as defined in Auxiliary By-laws. As the Mission Circle grows in ability to support the entire programme of the Woman's Missionary Society, Portfolio Secretaries shall be added and take their place on the Executive Committee.

The Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group

Plan of Affiliation

Approved by the Board of Christian Education and the Woman's Missionary Society:

1. The leaders of each group that has registered with the Girls' Work Secretary of The United Church will receive, in the early autumn, a letter including an announcement of the missionary study for the year. The Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups is prepared to give help with missionary projects and has a supply of material including Affiliation Services and report forms.

2. The Group will plan its missionary project and giving, remembering that the gifts of an Affiliated Group are given to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund through the Sunday School, and to the Woman's Missionary Society through the Presbyterial Treasurer.

3. The best time for the group to decide about Affiliation with the Woman's Missionary Society is during the missionary project or at its close, when their interest in missions is greatest. The groups should renew their decision each year. A service of Affiliation is available for use at such time as will be most effective.

4. When the project is completed the Leader of the Affiliated C.G.I.T. Group will fill out the report form which will be sent to her by the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. Groups. When this account of their project is approved by the group, it is sent to the Presbyterial Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society whose name is on the form. There is no fee for affiliation. No special sum is asked from any group. Their contribution is devoted to what is called a "Special Object for Affiliated Groups." The Woman's Missionary Society sends information about the way in which the money is used to all Affiliated Groups, and to any others who write for it. It would be advisable to secure this information before the missionary project begins, so that it might be used at that time.

5. Each group is expected to carry out a missionary project, in any case, with the assistance of the literature provided, whatever the decision regarding affiliation.

The steps just outlined concern the Group in the local church, where the minister, Sunday School teachers, C.G.I.T. leaders and W.M.S. Auxiliary members should co-operate as fully as possible regarding missionary education. Those responsible for girls' work in Presbytery and Presbyterial, in Conference and Conference Branch, should also co-operate fully in order that the missionary work of the Church under the Boards of the Church may be presented to girls as one enterprise of very great interest and importance.

Mission Band By-laws

(See Constitution, Articles 26-28)

I.

The.....Mission Band shall hold its regular meetings on.....at.....o'clock. The Annual Meeting shall be held in the month of December. The programme of each regular meeting shall include a worship service.

II.

The Superintendent, who shall be appointed by the Auxiliary to her position, shall be responsible for all the meetings. She shall adopt suitable measures to promote interest in Missions. She shall promote subscriptions to World Friends and forward same to the Auxiliary Secretary for The Missionary Monthly and World Friends or to the Presbyterial Secretary for Missionary Monthly and World Friends.

It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of the Mission Band to supervise the activities of the Mission Band, to keep the Auxiliary well informed of these activities; and to seek the sympathetic co-operation of the members of the Auxiliary. She shall prepare an annual report for the Annual Meeting, a copy of which, together with the tabulated statement and the names of the newly-elected officers, shall be forwarded to the Presbyterial Secretary for Mission Bands by January 5th.

III.

The duty of the President shall be to preside at all stated meetings.

IV.

In the absence of the President, a Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the office.

V.

The Recording Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings at all meetings of the Band and give proper notice of all special and regular meetings.

VI.

The Corresponding Secretary shall carry on all necessary correspondence. She shall also with the President, Recording Secretary and Treasurer, prepare the annual report and forward it by January 5th to the Presbyterial Band Secretary.

VII.

The Treasurer shall receive and where possible deposit in a Bank all funds raised by the Band. She shall forward the contributions on the 5th of April, July, October and January to the Presbyterial Treasurer.

VIII.

A member shall be appointed in each Band to obtain subscriptions for World Friends and also to arrange for its distribution. These subscriptions shall be given to the Superintendent for forwarding as stated in Mission Band By-Law II.

IX.

Each Mission Band may choose an appropriate name.

X.

It is advisable to have an expense fund provided in some way for the Mission Bands, as the regular contributions for Missions should not be taken for this purpose.

The Affiliated Explorer Group

Plan of Affiliation

Agreed upon (1956) by the Board of Christian Education and the Woman's Missionary Society :

1. In a congregation where there is an Explorer Group for Junior girls (9, 10, 11 years of age), Explorers shall be the recognized week-day programme for Junior girls, and the Group may be affiliated with the Woman's Missionary Society.

An Explorer Group shall be organized according to the plan suggested by the Board of Christian Education.

2. The current Junior Mission Study Packet and "World Friends" shall be the basic material for the Missionary Exploration. A Group is expected to carry out a Missionary Exploration whether or not it affiliates with the Woman's Missionary Society.

3. The Explorer Chief Counsellor shall be appointed by the Christian Education Committee (or its equivalent).

A Vice-President for Younger Groups appointed in the Auxiliary, shall be a liaison officer between the Explorer Group and the Auxiliary, offering the support of the Auxiliary to the Counsellor and the Group, and keeping the Auxiliary interested in the work being done in the Explorer Group. In a congregation where there are two or more Auxiliaries, responsibility for keeping in touch with Younger Groups should be divided—eg. one Auxiliary being responsible for Baby Band and Mission Band, another for Explorers and C.G.I.T.

4. When in addition to using the current Mission Study Packet, the Explorers make, through the Presbyterial Treasurer, a money gift (the amount of which is voluntary) to the work of the Woman's Missionary Society, the Group shall be an Affiliated Explorer Group.

There is no allocation for an Affiliated Explorer Group, but the money gifts of Affiliated Explorer Groups are devoted to a Special Object.

5. The Auxiliary is encouraged to provide annually the mission study packet for the Explorer Group.

6. The Chief Counsellor reports annually to the Board of Christian Education.

The Chief Counsellor of an Affiliated Explorer Group, in addition to the above report, reports annually (on a separate report form) about the Missionary Exploration to the Presbyterial Secretary for Affiliated Explorer Groups, and sends the Group's money gift to the Presbyterial Treasurer.

7. In a congregation where it is not possible to have an Explorer Group and an Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society is prepared to provide leadership for week-day meetings of children, 9, 10, and 11 years of age, the Mission Band is the recognized week-day organization for Junior as well as Primary children. (Wherever possible, separate leadership shall be provided for Junior and Primary children).

Note: The plan outlined above concerns the Group in the congregation, where the minister, Sunday Church School teachers, Explorer Counsellors and Auxiliary members should co-operate as fully as possible in providing missionary education. Those persons responsible for Children's Work in Presbytery and Presbyterial, in Conference and Conference Branch, should co-operate fully in order that the missionary work of the Church may be presented to the girls as one enterprise of very great interest and importance.

Baby Band By-laws

(See Constitution, Article 29)

I.

Children of five years and under may be made members of the Baby Band by the enrolment of his or her name by the parent on the Superintendent's membership roll. The payment of one dollar shall constitute a Life Membership, which shall lapse on graduation into Mission Band.

II.

The object shall be to foster a missionary spirit from earliest years, and also to preserve and increase the interest of the mothers in missionary work.

III.

Each Auxiliary shall appoint a Superintendent of the Baby Band.

It shall be the duty of the Baby Band Superintendent to seek to enrol the babies and children of the congregation up to five years of age in the Baby Band, to interest the mothers in providing missionary training and influence from earliest childhood, and to carry out the plans and methods of the Department. She shall receive fees and other contributions, keep an accurate account of same, and remit the funds to the Presbyterial Treasurer. She shall promote subscriptions to World Friends and forward same to the Auxiliary Secretary for Missionary Monthly and World Friends or to the Presbyterial Secretary for Missionary Monthly and World Friends. She shall prepare an Annual Report for the Annual Meeting of the Auxiliary, a copy of which, together with the tabulated statement, shall be forwarded to the Presbyterial Secretary for Baby Bands by January 5th.

IV.

At least two meetings of Baby Band members and their mothers shall be held during the year, and at one of these a graduation into the Mission Band shall be a part of the proceedings.

The Retirement Fund Constitution

OF

The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada

ARTICLE I—NAME

1. The Fund shall be called the Retirement Fund of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada, hereinafter called "the Fund."

ARTICLE II—OBJECT

1. The object of the Fund shall be to provide annuities for its members.

ARTICLE III—MEMBERSHIP

1. All Missionaries of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada, both active and retired, shall be members of the Fund, as well as certain Missionaries who have withdrawn from the service of the Woman's Missionary Society in accordance with ARTICLE VIII, paragraphs 2 and 3, including all Missionaries of the corresponding societies of the various branches of the United Church prior to Church Union, hereinafter called "Missionaries," except those who after a period as missionaries are ordained to the ministry and from time of ordination are on the Church Pension Plan.

ARTICLE IV—ASSETS OF THE FUND

1. The assets of the Fund shall constitute and be set apart as a common trust consisting of the capital investment of the previous Retirement Fund and Rest Fund (separate accounts being kept of the Rest Fund), together with revenue derived from the following sources:

- (a) Proceeds of investments.
- (b) Contributions by Missionaries.
- (c) Grants from the General Fund of the Society.
- (d) Legacies, donations and the proceeds of special trusts.

ARTICLE V—CONTRIBUTIONS BY MISSIONARIES

1. The annual rate of contribution to the Fund shall be $90.00 per annum, but in no event shall a Missionary make contributions to the Fund or any previous Fund for a period of more than 35 years.

2. The Assistant Treasurer shall be authorized and required to pay over to the Retirement Fund from the salary of each Missionary quarterly on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st the sum of $22.50, being one-quarter of the annual assessment required from each Missionary. Where it is impossible to deduct the assessment from the Missionary's salary, the Missionary shall remit to the Assistant Treasurer. This shall apply to the benefits as stated in ARTICLES VII, VIII and IX of this Constitution.

3. Broken periods of service within a year are recognized in the case of all Missionaries in relation to their standing on the Fund as follows:

Less than 4 months of continuous service—no standing.

From 4 to 9 months of service—one-half year's standing.

From 10 to 12 months of service—one full year's standing.

The Assistant Treasurer shall be authorized and required to pay over to the Retirement Fund from the salary of each such Missionary on June 30th or September 30th or December 31st, an annual minimum of $45.00 or such amount as the number of months of service, as defined above, requires.

4. Salary under appointment is recognized in the case of all newly appointed Missionaries in relation to their standing on the Fund. The Assistant Treasurer shall be authorized and required to pay over to the Retirement Fund from the salary of each newly appointed Missionary at the completion of a full quarter year's service ending March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st the sum of $22.50, being one-quarter of the annual assessment required.

ARTICLE VI—CONTRIBUTIONS BY BOARD

1. The Board shall allocate at least $27,500 per annum for a period of 10 years to the Fund, beginning with 1956, in order to cover the actuarial liabilities at the effective date of this revised Constitution.

2. In addition, an amount shall be allocated of $142.00 per annum for each new Missionary employed after the effective date of this revised Constitution, and such amount shall continue to be paid as long as the Missionary remains active, but not for a period of more than 35 years.

ARTICLE VII—BENEFITS IN EVENT OF RETIREMENT

1. Normal Retirement Date for a Missionary shall be at the end of the month in which she attains age 65, but in any event she shall actually retire not later than age 68, prior to which she shall have completed any furlough to which she is entitled.

2. The Missionary shall be paid her annuity quarterly ceasing with the last quarterly payment made prior to her death. The first payment shall be made on the March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st subsequent to the date at which actual retirement takes place.

3. Between actual retirement date and the attaining of exact age 70 the amount of the quarterly annuity shall be determined by multiplying the number of half years of service as a Missionary, for which she has made contribution in accordance with ARTICLE V at actual retirement date, by $20.00 and dividing such amount by 4. In no event shall such annuity be greater than $1,400 per annum.

4. After attaining exact age 70, such quarterly payments defined in paragraph 3 above will be reduced by $120.00, except in cases where such reduction would reduce the quarterly annuity to less than one-half the amount defined in paragraph 3 above, in which cases the quarterly annuity shall be one-half the amount defined in paragraph 3 above.

ARTICLE VIII—BENEFITS IN EVENT OF WITHDRAWAL

1. In the event of a Missionary withdrawing from the services of the Woman's Missionary Society for any reason other than disability or retirement, she shall be entitled to receive in cash the total amount of contributions she has made to the Fund or any former retirement fund, accumulated at 3% interest, compounded annually, except in the case of a Missionary who contributed to the Rest Fund of the Methodist Church of Canada, in which case the rate of interest used in accumulating such contributions to the Rest Fund shall be 4% compounded annually.

2. If a Missionary elects not to receive such contributions in cash, in accordance with paragraph 1 above, and has contributed for at least ten years to the Fund or any former retirement fund, she shall be entitled to an annuity at her Normal Retirement Date of $20.00 per annum for each completed half year of service up to the date of withdrawal, such annuity to be paid in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if she had remained a Missionary to Normal Retirement Date.

3. Notwithstanding anything stated in paragraph 2 above to the contrary, if a Missionary changes her relationship to the Society from that of a Missionary to that of an Executive Officer, or if she should accept employment with another Board of The United Church of Canada and elects not to receive such contribution in cash in accordance with paragraph 1 above, she shall, provided she has given continuous service to the Society and the Church of ten years or more, be entitled to the benefits stated in paragraph 2 above, irrespective of the number of years she has contributed to the Fund or any former retirement fund.

ARTICLE IX—BENEFITS IN EVENT OF DISABILITY

1. In the event of a Missionary becoming totally and permanently disabled prior to actual retirement and if the Missionary has contributed for at least ten years to the Fund or any former retirement fund and provided that in the judgment of the Medical Board recognized by the Society there is total and permanent disability, such Missionary shall be entitled to an annuity. The amount and type of annuity paid shall be determined as if actual retirement occurred at the date disability is admitted by the Board in accordance with ARTICLE VII.

2. The Board reserves the right, at any time, to require the re-examination of any member of the Fund who is receiving an annuity because of disability for submission to the Medical Board recognized by the Society and to reconsider her standing on the Fund in the light of the Medical Board's report.

ARTICLE X—ADMINISTRATION OF FUND

1. The Fund shall be managed, controlled and administered by the Dominion Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada (herein called "the Board") or its Executive Committee.

2. The Board shall at its regular Annual Meeting appoint a Secretary for the Fund.

3. The Board or its Executive Committee may make rules and regulations not inconsistent with the terms of this Constitution for the administration of the Articles thereof.

4. All payments made to or from the Fund shall be in lawful currency of Canada.

5. A record shall be kept by the Board for each Missionary which shall show all contributions made as well as all pertinent data in order to determine benefits to which she may be entitled.

ARTICLE XI—ACTUARIAL VALUATION

1. There shall be an actuarial examination of this Fund at least every fourth year after the effective date of this Constitution or more often, as may be decided by the Board.

ARTICLE XII—AMENDMENT OF CONSTITUTION

1. This Constitution may be changed at any Annual Meeting of the Board by a two-thirds vote of the members present, notice of such proposed change having been given to each Conference Branch and to each Home and Overseas Missionary, at least three months before the Annual Meeting of the Board.

ARTICLE XIII—WINDING UP OF FUND

1. The Board at any time may decide to wind up the Fund. In such event a first charge on the funds will be the purchase from a recognized insurer of annuities to all Missionaries who have retired. The balance of the funds will be used to purchase from a recognized insurer for active Missionaries, deferred annuities to start at Normal Retirement Date, on an equitable basis.

Installation Service

For use in Conference Branches, Presbyterial Societies,
Auxiliaries and Mission Circles

Quiet music while the newly elected officers come forward and take their places in front of the pulpit.

LEADER: At this time the (name organization) enters upon a new year of work in The Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. As it calls upon its new officers to undertake their duties, it is fitting that we should all, as members, reaffirm our purpose and rededicate our lives to the great tasks to which God has called us.

Let us pray: Almighty and Everlasting God, who hast promised to be always with Thy Church, grant unto us, Thy servants assembled here, Thy gracious presence and blessing. Take from us anything that is unworthy and insincere in our life. Give us a pure intent, a patient faith and a continuing zeal in our endeavours. Govern all our doings, we pray Thee, that Thy Kingdom may be advanced and Thy will be done. Amen.

Let us now rise and dedicate ourselves to the Aim and Object of our Woman's Missionary Society.

(Congregation rises.)

To unite all the women of the Church for the World Mission of Christianity;

To provide missionary education for children, teen-age girls and young women;

To encourage study, prayer and giving on behalf of Christian Missions at home and abroad;

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

LEADER: To share in sending the Gospel of Jesus Christ to every Canadian and to peoples of all lands;

To bring healing and education to those in need;

To aid in the development of the Christian Church in Canada and of the world-wide Church of Jesus Christ;

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

LEADER: To create bonds of Christian friendship between its members and peoples of other races and other lands;

To enlist the whole membership in united effort for temperance, social welfare and world peace;

To build up a fellowship committed to the doing of God's will and to the extension of God's Kingdom in the home and the community, in Canada and throughout the world.

UNISON: We now dedicate ourselves.

(Congregation seated, Officers alone standing.)

LEADER: You have been selected by your fellow-members to be the officers of this (name organization) for the coming year. We believe that you have been called to your tasks in order that, through your life and work, God's Kingdom of truth and love and righteousness may be extended. We in this (name organization) are looking to you for leadership. Yours then is a high privilege and a sacred responsibility.

Remembering our obligations as officers and members of The Woman's Missionary Society, to study, pray, give and work for the growth of Christ's Church and the extension of His Kingdom, I ask you now to affirm your willingness so to do:

Do you purpose to prepare yourself for leadership by a faithful study of God's Word and of the work and service of The Woman's Missionary Society?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to pray unceasingly for the work and service of The Woman's Missionary Society, and to seek, in prayer, the guidance and strength you need for the duties of your office?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to give sacrificially for the work of The Woman's Missionary Society, and to commit yourself to God that He may use you in the service of His Church and of His Kingdom?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you purpose to work for the growth of Christ's Church and the extension of His Kingdom in your own community, in Canada and throughout the world?

ANSWER (together): I do.

Do you, then, signify that you are willing to accept the privileges and responsibilities of your office?

ANSWER (together): I do.

LEADER: I, therefore, in the name of The Woman's Missionary Society, set you apart as the Executive of (name organization) for the coming year, each to her appointed duty or office.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION (or short extempore prayer):

Eternal Father, source of all light and life, deepen in us and in Thy Church, devotion to Christ, sympathy for the needy, and zeal for the extension of Thy Kingdom. Pour out upon our membership the spirit of intercession that all who love Thee may be united in vision and service for the coming of the promised day when Christ shall claim His Dominion.

In His blessed name we ask these things. Amen.

BENEDICTION:

Now unto Him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us; unto Him be glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

Note—Before the Service is begun the leader should announce clearly that the officers are to come forward and take their places while the quiet music is being played.

In some cases it may be desirable for the leader to call each officer by name individually, as she comes forward, so that the organization may thus become better acquainted with its new Executive.

The leader should indicate the form of the responses to be made in unison.

Members of The Woman's Missionary Society should be encouraged to memorize the Aim and Object. The repetition of the Aim and Object in unison might be substituted for the reading of it by the Leader with the response from the congregation, "We now dedicate ourselves." The Membership Card (1 cent each; 10 cents per doz.) might be distributed and used for this purpose and members asked to keep the Card and memorize the Aim and Object.

*Copies of this Installation Service may be secured upon request to the Literature Distribution Centre, Room 423, 299 Queen St. W.,

FOREWORD

This is the second year that the new Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola has been operating, and the reports of their second General Assembly of January, 1958, are most interesting and very encouraging. Home Mission work is being carried on in three areas—Alto Cuito, under the direction of the Camundongo Church; the Fisheries and Dombe Grande under the Coast Church; and Cunahama, under the Bunjei Church.

At the General Assembly meeting reports were received from each district, which showed that there is now a total baptized Church membership of 41,000 with a total Church constituency of 101,000. While there are many difficulties and some serious problems we share in the joy of the whole Church in Angola in the vitality of their witness. Mention should also be made of the Portuguese Churches in Nova Lisboa, Lobito and Silva Porto. All three are part of the Council of Evangelical Churches in Central Angola. In local church annual meetings their representatives sit with the representatives of the African churches, and their membership is included in the above statistics.

The union of the American Board and United Church of Canada missions has been accomplished. There is now complete interchange of missionary personnel between the various areas, irrespective of traditional relationships. In fact there are Canadian missionaries on every station except Chilessso, and Miss Mary Clark has been appointed there following her language study.

The Folk Betterment Committee has been very active during the year.

The Literature Committee of the Church has been active both in the preparation of materials and in literacy work.

Several writers' workshops have been held during the year. There is a great need in Angola for African writers to produce materials of all kinds and workshops of this kind will help to develop such writers.

The translation of the Old Testament is now in the final stages of completion.

I should like to add a word of appreciation of my visit to Angola in November and December of last year. This was my third visit and I was very much interested and deeply impressed to see the remarkable progress made in so many sections of the life and work of the Church there since my two previous visits.

Northern Rhodesia

On March 1st, 1958, a new Course for African Women was opened at Mindlole Mission near Kitwe, under the sponsorship of the Copperbelt Christian Service Council. There are 22 African women enrolled, plus six sent by one of the mining companies. The course is to last for four months and is experimental in nature. This first course will be a guide to others in the future as to program. Mrs. Essie Johanson is the director, and Mrs. Henry Makulu, the assistant-director. Mrs. Makulu has studied at Selly Oak Colleges in England with her husband, and is well qualified. The purpose of the course is to prepare African lay women for leadership in local churches. Worship, Bible Study, health, nutrition, mothercraft, handicrafts, gardening, housewifery, laundry, supervised field work with women's and girls' groups, are subjects included in the course. Since this is a new venture for which no previous finances had been provided, the cost of the first course is being met by grants from the mining company and funds which the CCSC had available. A second four months' course is to open on August 1st. Our Society has been asked for the major part of the cost of this second course which was estimated at £750. A grant of $1,800.00 was made in response to this request. The British Boards will also give some help, but they have much larger commitments in Northern Rhodesia as a whole. A grant has been included in our 1959 Estimates for similar courses.

Our Executive made a grant of £100 to assist an African delegate to attend the All-Africa Conference at Ibadan in January. A similar grant was made by the Board of Overseas Missions. Rev. Joel Chisanga, pastor of the African church at N'Dola, was the one chosen and he reports that the Conference was most stimulating and he is grateful for the opportunity to attend.

Drums and Christmas Carollings

Drums in the darkness on Christmas Eve and on and on and on into the night, rent the quiet of isolated Bunjei mission station. The monotonous rhythm with its sinister overtones always brings to my mind an occasion I cannot forget, of a visit late one afternoon to a pagan village at the time of a harvest festival. The crowd swayed in time to the beat of the drummer who, with perspiration flowing in rivers down his glistening body, was working as he probably had never worked in his corn field.

On the anniversary of the birth of the Lord of Light, I went to sleep with these most earthly sounds from Rioco and Bunjei in my ears, and awakened some hours later to hear beautiful soft voices outside my window singing "O Come All Ye Faithful" in Umbundu. Two boys had left the comfort of their beds to proclaim their joy in the great day which was about to dawn.

Education

In July the only pupils left in school were those who were to take the government examinations. Seventy-seven tried and 68 were successful. We sent three new girls to Means School and seven boys to Currie Institute.

On September 10th school opened with 404 pupils on the station, only 40 girls and 80 boys being officially matriculated. In the four village centres only 13 girls and 35 boys are matriculated. This year I am teaching four daily Bible classes, but I have a young man in the office for half-day work and he is a great help in the mass of statistics to be turned into the Zona at the end of each month, as well as in selling school supplies. We have a Means School graduate teaching full time, the first girl in many years to teach in the primary school here.

This year we have 13 students from the Cuanhama country, six girls and seven boys. The two boys from the Humbi tribe came back bringing two more.

During the seven and a half weeks' holiday in the dry season our best primary teacher who had had a course with Margaret Dawson and Elizabeth Utting the year before, had a small two-weeks' school for village teachers in one of the nearby villages.

During Pentecost Days

In April I went with six of our women to a Leaders School in Lutamo where for ten days, they each studied carefully the methods of the leader in the department for which she herself was to be responsible in a similar school to be held in Bunjei in May—Worship, Bible Study, Health, Cooking, Sewing, Knitting, and Reading by the Laubach Method. Seventy women came to this school in Bunjei. They had such a good time! No pounding of meal, for they had done that before leaving home; just meals to get for themselves and for the toddlers who could not be left behind, and all day to hear new ideas, learn new songs, taste new dishes, play new games, sit and sew or knit, and talk, talk, talk. The last day was the best day of all, when the crowd which had gathered in the nearby woods for Pentecost weekend, came over to the church. Led by the very quietly efficient Deaconess Aurora, the women put on a beautiful program, and finished by forming a huge half circle out in front of the church, where they held up for all to see, the precious work of their own hands.

There was another important event during those days of Pentecost. Edith Clark and Emi Hama arrived bringing Mrs. Ross, the sister of Miss Elizabeth Read who was well known by many people here in Bunjei during her long service in Chissamba. Edith Clark and Emi Hama stayed in our area for almost a month. Down in Sanji they organized the first Vocational School for girls, while we did the same for the local girls at the mission. They had a school for leaders of girls groups, while here at the mission we had one directed by Maria Chela. They had a school for women also.

Visitors Before and After Christmas

In the first week of December we had the great joy of having Mrs. Taylor in Bunjei. We had a trip to two of our village centres. Down in Cuima the pupils turned out with a rhythm band, the instruments being all fearfully and wonderfully and locally made, showing the initiative of the teacher, an initiative of which we saw further evidence in the school desks made with soap boxes nailed on sticks cut out in the woods. American Thanksgiving fell on the following day and we all celebrated with Mr. and Mrs. Webb and their son Ryland at dinner that night. Just before the end of Mrs. Taylor's visit in Angola we had the privilege of attending a meeting with her and all W.M.S. missionaries, in Chissamba.

Christmas is always the time for dramas here as everywhere else. One Sunday night in December the girls had a beautiful presentation of a pageant prepared for the use of the "Fire Lighters" groups. The next week the school presented "The Child of Prophecy" with its beautiful songs, and just as much color as we could produce in the costumes. It is good to have Lillian Taylor helping with the school music and playing the organ for the Sunday morning services.

Be Strong and of Good Courage

The day after New Year's in my daily reading book the verse for the day was from Joshua: "Be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." During the morning on the trip to Dondi to Board of Education and Board of Managers meetings how many times I thought of that verse. As the little truck swished through lakes of water on the plain, ploughed through deep mud, and almost bogged down in some of the holes we dropped into, or when the windshield wiper could not keep up with the fall of rain and visibility became bad, also when we met a heavily loaded truck on a very narrow piece of road, and especially on the hill going up to Chissaquela where we slipped and slithered in the greasy mud and finally slid slowly but surely over into the deep rut which we always avoid like the plague, I thought of that most comforting verse.

A Year of Language Study in Lisbon

During my year of language study I lived with a Portuguese family, and as they spoke no English I had to start right in to speak Portuguese, which I did, in a hilarious fashion at first. The first formal lessons were with a private teacher, Dona Flora Oliveira, who has become a cherished friend. I also joined a class of nine missionaries and we started the first grade reader together!

Attendance at the church services was a big help in learning the language. I went often to a little Brethren church in an old part of Lisbon near the harbor. Here I found many friends, among them "Tio" (Uncle) Guido Oliveira, the pastor and Dona Flora's husband. I have just received a letter from "Tio Guido" telling about the fiftieth anniversary services of the church which were held three days after I sailed for Angola. At these church services I came to appreciate the beauty of Portuguese in Scripture, especially in Psalms like Psalm 103, which is a favorite in both languages.

After Christmas there were more lessons with my private teacher and another class, which was most enjoyable, now that we all knew a little more Portuguese. Our professor had a lively wit and spoke English fluently, so was a big help to us. In March I found another teacher to help me with conversation—Maria Antonieta. She is a child evangelism worker and often took me with her to her classes for children, calling on me to get up and give a talk or testimony unexpectedly! All this added to the knowledge of the language and broke the barrier that language makes, so that toward the end of the year Portugal and its people had become very dear to me because I could understand them better.

Walking Through the Pages of History

While in Portugal I enjoyed several trips to different parts of the country, and it was like walking through the pages of a history book, while seeing old churches and castles and beautiful gardens (Portugal had been called a "garden planted beside the sea"). During a summer school course at the University of Lisbon in July and August, there were several interesting tours of Lisbon and surrounding areas, which helped us to appreciate and understand the lectures in History, Literature and Art. There are treasures of literature I didn't know existed—how a new world opens when you learn another language! Especial favorites in this realm are Camões' "Luisiades", so much more enchanting in the language of the author than in the English translation, and the prose of Eça de Queiroz. One of my summer school professors made a recording of poetry and prose for me to take to Angola.

Toward the end of the year I waded into a volume of nursing notes in preparation for the state nursing exam, which I was not able to write as it was not held until two weeks ago! However, Maria Emelia, who was helping me with the studies, said she knew all about nursing now, even if I didn't have the satisfaction of taking the exam! She is not a nurse but the wife of the Director of the Scripture Union in Portugal. And that brings me to a highlight of the year, which was the two weeks I spent at Scripture Union camps led by Abel Rodrigues. There was a deep spiritual emphasis in these camps, and I felt a strengthening of my own spiritual resources, hearing the testimony of these young people who have many problems but are not afraid to take a stand for Christ. I came away with fond memories of worship together, of the rich moments of fun at mealtimes and around the campfire, and most of all with a deep sense of our newly discovered fellowship in Christ, which makes the ocean between us small, even though I have had to say farewell and move on.

Preparing for Responsibility

January, 1957, found me in Baltimore, Maryland, at John Hopkins Hospital, doing the first part of the midwifery course I was taking under Maternity Centre Association in New York. I entered September 26, 1956, and left January 24, 1957, for the second half to be done in New York. I learned much from this course of study and had the experience of delivering 50 babies. At John Hopkins we were under the supervision of the obstetricians, had lectures, sat in on conferences with the obstetricians and medical students.

In New York we were under the supervision of midwives plus the three obstetricians who came to clinic. My prime reason for taking this course was the knowledge that I would be alone on a Mission station without a doctor on my return. Needless to say I was apprehensive. Nurses' training at home isn't geared to a program of work without a doctor. But our number of doctors here is small and there are times when a nurse just has to take the responsibility. I felt more knowledge in obstetrics would give me a better preparation for this year alone.

I finished the course the end of May. I had two weeks to pack, attend Dominion Board and say "Good-bye" to family and friends, catch the boat June 6th, so I would be back within my year.

Teaching Responsibility to Others

July 11th found me in Bunjei, trying in ten days to get a more or less general idea of the hospital, staff and patients before Dr. McGowan and family left. Fortunately Bunjei has three very fine men on the hospital staff. Sr. Faustino and Sr. Valerio are nurses with wide experience. They kept the hospital going the eight years when there was no doctor. Sr. Marcelino is Hospital chaplain, also sort of general manager, looks after repairs and supervises building, sells food or gives it out depending on the situation. The rest of the staff consists of eight men with very limited training. At Dondi, we are trying to give a reasonable facsimile of what is given at home in a nursing course, plus diagnosis and treatment. Most of these students go out to a village centre and are responsible for diagnosing and treating. My eight are all married and so were ineligible for training at Dondi. They have been taught to give injections, medicines, take temperatures, change dressings. But the thing I find hardest to cope with is the lack of responsibility they feel. I checked the preparation of the patients' medicines every day for a month before I got a tray prepared with no errors. I can assure you much patience and love is required to help them to help themselves.

In spite of not having a permanent doctor our numbers have remained almost the same as last year. Since Dr. McGowan left we had two visits from doctors. Dr. Betty Bridgman came for a week in October, mainly to examine our 27 patients with tuberculosis. Of course, she did other things too, a few minor operations, set a broken leg, consultations. Then in November Dr. Hastings came for four days. As his forte is surgery we operated every morning, did consultations, plaster casts, set two more broken legs in the afternoons. About the same time we had a visit from Dr. Van Laan, an agriculturalist, and received advice on what to plant in the hospital fields so our patients could have better food. We have soya beans, carrots and cabbage growing.

Counting Blessings

To offset a program of all work, I had a bit of relaxation assisting with the music for the Christmas concerts the school children put on before school closed for the Christmas holiday. Beginning this new year, I hope to have a half hour each week to teach the music as it is written. Then I hope through time they will become so familiar with them that they can go home and teach the hymns to those behind in the village. That is the way all hymns are learned, by hearing someone else sing them.

At this point I would like to say how much I am enjoying the piano I brought out with me and to say "Thank you" to those at home who helped me get it. It is the only piano on the station and much admired by the Africans. Incidentally the piano arrived the same day as Mrs. Hugh Taylor, November 26th. Two very important events!

Mrs. Taylor's visit was short but very enjoyable. One day we visited a centre about 55 miles away. Doesn't sound far but over these roads it was nearly a three-hour trip. It was my first visit also and it was wonderful to see how well the pastor, teacher and nurse, were working for the betterment of the people there. The change Christianity brings is so manifest when one compares a Christian village to a pagan one.

In seven more months Dr. McCowan should be back and once more assuming the responsibility and I will revert to being just a nurse once more. I really have been blessed through these past six months. My constant prayer is for wisdom and guidance and not just for medical problems but to help the people I am working with and myself to a fuller, richer life as Christ would have us live. I hope you at home will remember us here daily in your prayers also.

EDITH M. CLARK

Teaching Writing and Nutrition

Since my return to Angola last April I have had some very interesting experiences. I attended a "writing-school" here, in Camundongo, directed by Miss Frances Walbridge and Rev. Jas. Ormiston for the purpose of teaching simple story-writing for newly literates. The last half of November I spent in Dondi teaching nutrition to two classes of nurses-in-training and also had six classes with the students attending the Theological Seminary in Dondi.

Both the nurses and the theological students and their wives are so much more mature than the Means School students were that it made the lessons a pleasure. Their interest was first in finding out if they were receiving an adequate diet themselves and then in what could be done in the villages. To some it was quite a surprise that eating rice, macaroni, sugar, coffee and other European foods purchased at the stores, didn't improve their diets from a nutritional standpoint. On the last day with the theological students the wives prepared soybeans in different ways so all could sample them. They made soup with green corn and soybean meal, gruel with cornmeal and soybean meal mixed, roasted soybeans, soybeans cooked like other beans for eating with mush and soup made with cooked soybeans and potatoes.

During the "writing-school" I had the responsibility of catering to the African guests from other places, eight in all. The two girls lived in the same house, the six men slept in a practice cottage and ate with us and used our common room for games in the evening and spare time.

Emi Hama Goes the Fourth Mile

While travelling in the villages I had as my helper and companion, Emi Hama, who was one of the first girls to work for me when I started housekeeping in Angola. She graduated from Means School in 1932 and became cook for Mary Hurlbut and me. (I still don't know any better cook.) Later she taught for some time at Means School and now she is teaching in the Home Economics School here in Camundongo in the wet season. She has never married but has taken under her wings four little motherless girls, now aged 9, 8, 5, and 2. She took each one as a baby. The oldest is "Nacamia" whom some of you may have seen in the film. Her youngest is Chitula and is of the Luimbi tribe. It is quite a thing for an Ocimundu to be willing to take and care for a child who is not a relative, but to take someone of another tribe is not just the second mile but the third or fourth! Chitula went with us on most of our trips and was quite an asset, such good company, always happy and making friends and making us laugh. I was quite interested in the way Dona Emi disciplined her for she is a stirring young lady and needs plenty. Only once did I hear Emi threaten to spank her and it was never done. (That was when Chitula decided it was fun to put sand on her head.) It was just about as rare to hear Emi say "don't". She always found something else for the child to do instead of the wrong thing.

Emi did a good job of leading the discussions after the Bible lessons. She would name some custom contrary to the teaching and say, "In our part some people, even though they are church members do this and this (naming witchcraft practices, etc.). I don't know what you do here." Then usually would follow a description of many things which they saw were not in keeping with a true Christian life. They still have great fear of charms and witch doctor's medicines. One place they told how very few people were willing to help a sick neighbor for that reason.

Problems and Difficulties

One hindrance that we have found in all parts is alcoholic drink. It is enslaving men and women of all classes at an alarming rate. While we were at Sanji, one of the pastoral centres, a chief who had lived not far away was killed. He had been drinking and asked a truck driver to give him a ride. When the latter saw his condition he refused. Then when the driver went into a store the chief secretly climbed up on the back. The driver did not know he was there and came back and started the car and he fell off. The driver had to back out to the road and the chief's right leg and head were run over. There had been a prosperous village near the centre a few years ago and now there is very little left because of the leaders starting to drink and ruining themselves and the village.

One day in talking about difficulties and problems one woman, whose husband I knew well, told us what had happened to her as a bride. Her husband was fond of hunting and kept big dogs. One evening the young bride picked up her hymn book to go to evening prayers and when her husband saw her prepare to go, he said, "Have the dogs eaten?" She replied that she had not yet fed them but would do so on her return from service. He said, "They must be fed and I want them fed NOW." The bride sadly laid down her book and made mush for the dogs!

A Unique Experience

A unique experience was being house-mother to a group of former students who live not far away from Means School. They, with their husbands, have a club which meets once a month in the various homes. They are interested in learning new methods and having better homes and progressing in civilized living. The first night I was there they had prepared the dinner and the husbands were also there. After eating, their president led a worship service and gave a very good talk on the blind man whom Jesus healed. but at first he saw men like trees. The leader went on to explain how they too had imperfect vision-as yet and wished to improve their spiritual vision as well as intellectual.

One of these same leaders, already mentioned, in one of his talks told the people that now the missionaries are making a definite effort to treat the Africans on an equal basis with themselves. I think he had in mind such things as eating together while attending meetings, sharing of responsibility in handling funds, in planning for the future. It was very evident that he was appreciative of the effort being made. Now after my first season of work in the villages I, too, am appreciative of the work being done by African men and women and understand better than ever some of their problems and difficulties and some of the reasons for some of their reactions which, on the surface, seem strange to us.

Educational Missionary,

Kindergarten-Primary Work

The spring semester of 1954 found a little class of 9 girls, graduates of Means School late in 1953, taking an intensive course in training for Kindergarten-Primary work. Of that class, two have married, one is transferred to another department of work, and one has had an illegitimate baby. But, five of them are still teaching Kindergarten-Primary, doing remarkably well in our practice schools connected with the Teacher Training Departments of Currie Institute and Means School. Since then three other girls have been added to the list of trained kindergarten teachers. Three of our most responsible teachers teach in the practice school of Means School. The pupils of from 5 to 9 years of age come from nearby villages, only 52 in number, but a lot of concentrated work is done with the small pupils and with those in the teacher training departments, especially the boys who come from Currie Institute.

Thoughts About Teacher Training in Angola

It has been fun working up a course for the training of teachers who expect to work in the Kindergarten-Primary classes of Angola, and to watch the progress of small folk learning all their lessons (with the exception of Bible) in a language other than their own. My work in the Teacher Training Department is worth-while for girls who may eventually teach the small children in their villages. But, all of our students need more help in how to teach the more advanced classes. In our Teacher Training Department we need more concentrated teaching of the Portuguese language by Portuguese teachers. We should have three instead of one teacher training course—one course which caters mainly to the primary grades, another course for the training of teachers for junior grades and up to the equivalent of the entrance class, and eventually a third course for students who have had several years of High School and may become teachers in Currie Institute.

The Lutamo School has become the training ground for Sunday School teachers. Six students at a time from our Teacher Training Department come from Currie Institute five consecutive Sundays to teach classes. This has made it possible for Elizabeth and me to entertain our students a few at a time. We look forward to the evening when we have six of them in for a good dinner of rice, potatoes, meat, corn-bread (our Johnny Cake) and coffee, following by entertaining them with slides and sketches of our trip to England and Scotland.

Mid-Term Furlough and Sketching

Elizabeth Utting and I planned our trip a long time in advance. We travelled to Cape Town on an English Castle Ship, trans-shipped in Cape Town and on another Castle boat finally reached our destination, the British Isles. It left us with only seven weeks to travel here and there and see places which we had always longed to visit, London; Kew Gardens, the Royal Albert Hall, Madame Toussaud's Wax-works, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's. The Lake District; near Keswick and Derwentwater. Scotland; Edinburgh (We saw the first performance of the Royal Tattoo in front of Edinburgh Castle), Holyrood Palace, Dundee, Newport-on-Tay. Great Yarmouth and the Norfolk Broads appeared more like Holland than Holland did. We saw more wind-mills. And then, on our return journey to Angola via a Castle boat, we had an unexpected day in Holland itself, Rotterdam, The Hague, Amsterdam.

On the boat and in England I carried my sketch pad and Even-Flo pen with me almost everywhere. However, I find that it takes courage and concentration to sketch the "weeping angels" on the tombs in Westminster Abbey with tourists and tourists milling all about. It was easier to sketch things in the village of Betele where my conference was. I found free time to make sketches from which I have since made two oil paintings. The Ghost Tree with the railroad tile hanging from it (the School Bell) done in the moonlight is a great favorite with all who visit us. It is a study in the Light and Shade of Africa. My latest picture in oils is a small sketch of two children (and a doll) who represented Mary (and the baby) and an angel.

Mrs. Taylor's Visit and Other Things

It was our privilege to entertain Mrs. Taylor during her stay in Dondi.

Our 1957 Conferences were very short, owing to our mid-term holiday. Towards the end of the 1957 school year Elizabeth Utting, Chesley Ervin and I went each to a different district, taking with us our practice school teachers and the graduating class of the Pedagogy Department. In each area we gathered children together for our practice class. The "theory" was given in the morning periods by our practice school teachers. In the afternoons model lessons were taught by the Institute Students.

The assignment given to Elizabeth and me for the All African Sunday School Curriculum was six lessons of the Primary Department, based on the Creation Stories. In the midst of Christmas pageants, Christmas dinners and other festivities, pre-Annual meetings and Annual Meeting, we managed to complete them and they should now have reached their destination in Port Elizabeth.

FRANCES M. WALBRIDGE

Missionary,
Dondi, Angola

Promptly at midnight, December 31, 1956, Camundongo's big mission bell boomed forth across the night. It told the 600 worshippers gathered in the thatched church nearby that their evening of festivity and service of dedication had ended and announced the beginning of 1957.

Later in January the Church Council met in Camundongo. African-missionary committees worked hard at planning for feeding and billeting our 90 guests. Dondi Hospital lent us Helen Stockton thus making us, temporarily, a missionary staff of four. Merchants generously lent us cutlery and china, villagers brought in quantities of fruit and vegetables and six men walked daily to Silva Porto, fifteen miles away, to bring back on their heads great loads of bread and meat. Emi Hama and her vocational school pupils did a wonderful piece of work running a kitchen and dining room in the vocational school for the crowd. One of her responsibilities was to see that huge drums of water were properly boiled for drinking and for washing salads.

Educational and Literary Concerns

The next few months were occupied in acquainting myself with the long-neglected schools on the mission station and in the villages. (For I had been absent on my mid-term furlough in the fall and had ignored the schools for another month while preparing for Church Council.) The station school was suffering from a number of staff losses. Senhor Artur Sanunulo, who had acted as principal of the station school for some years, and who had served as inspector and teacher for over 20 years, left to become secretary-treasurer of the church and mission. Menina Suzette Rodrigues, our popular Protestant Portuguese teacher, left at Christmas to marry.

The vocational school on the mission station had its largest enrollment when 79 girls came in from the villages. These vocational school girls had the usual courses in agriculture, homemaking, reading, Bible etc. We enlarged the course on "How to Conduct Worship Services" in order to give the girls more practice. The challenge of helping these newly-literate girls was as fresh and wonderful to me as it was when I welcomed the 12 girls who made up the first class back in 1943.

Early in March I was privileged to take part in a meeting on literacy held under the auspices of Lit-Lit (World Literacy and Christian Literature). Four of us made the trip from southern Angola in a Landrover. After spending our last night by the side of a slough-like highway we finally braved the rains and at 4 a.m. reached the city of Luanda. A torrential rain held us prisoners in our car for another hour while cars at the bottom of the street were buried in sand, and lamp-posts toppled into freshly-gouged gullies. After that the sun shone and we had three wonderful days of planning with Dr. Floyd Shacklock for literacy drives for the next three years. (First of these plans was a writers' school to be held in July, 1957.)

In April and May we opened nine vocational schools for about 300 illiterate girls in the Camundongo and Chissamba areas. I made a tour of all but one of the schools soon after they opened. Then in August I visited them again to give exams. The same oral exams are given every girl, and in two schools every girl passed in Bible. The trip was like a farewell to vocational school work, for I knew I'd spend the next school year at Means School in Dondi substituting for Amy Schaufler.

Earlier in this report I mentioned our plans for holding some writers' schools in 1957. We held the first of these in Camundongo during the month of July. Fifteen Africans and four missionaries met there. We spent almost two weeks writing, re-writing and polishing African animal stories.

We tried to pass on to the Africans our knowledge of the principles of good story-writing. As we worked in our groups of three or four we struggled to get eye-catching titles, life-like characters and good dialogue. We strove to put these into short, easy sentences. We discovered that African proverbs make popular titles and story endings. Appropriate African songs, inserted into the stories, delighted our readers, as also did "noise" words. Mosquito went Nuay, Nuay, Nuay, as he bored into Elephant's trunk. And the trap snapped shut pooh (Say it fast!).

Our thirty stories had their first real testing when we read them at the hospital. As we read the stories to the patients we noted their reactions and learned which stories gave them the most enjoyment.

Busy, Happy Months at Dondi

Early in September I moved to Dondi. The succeeding months have been busy, happy ones. (The very excellent organization which has marked development at Means School over the years has enabled the work to run smoothly despite my newness.) One of the great joys of these months is that of working with Maria Chela. Many of you will remember her visit to Canada some years ago. Her vision of lifting up African woman and girlhood, her dedication to this task, her love and understanding of teen-age girls and the young teachers make her a valuable member of staff.

Mrs. Taylor visited us in December. Her sympathetic understanding and good advice on the many problems which beset us brought us fresh courage for the tasks ahead.

It was decided to keep all 184 students here over the Christmas holiday. The girls were delighted with this decision, and threw themselves into planning the holiday activities. There were folk games with the Institute boys, plays and visits to nearby villages. The last activity of the New Year was the Watchnight Service held on December 31st. This ended when a hushed, reverent congregation of girls and guests walked out of the chapel each carrying a lighted candle, symbol of aspiration for the New Year.

"This Is the Third Time of Asking"

Last year THE MISSIONARY MONTHLY carried the caption: "This is the third time of asking"—and now two new W.M.S. missionaries,

Elsie Bunner and Thelma Conway, have come to the Copperbelt and have already begun to make their contribution to the women's and girls' work in this area. The Rev. Charles and Mrs. Catto of the Board of Overseas Missions arrived early in October and we are grateful for the enthusiasm and inspiration which these new folk have brought.

In September Mrs. Hugh Taylor came to spend seven weeks in the Copperbelt and in November I accompanied Mrs. Taylor to Angola.

Women of Rhodesia

Early in June, I went as theme speaker to the African Methodist Sisterhood Conference in Cipembi, many miles south of here. For three hours each morning for a week we met for Bible study and discussion on the theme: "I am come that ye might have life." Many women spoke of the fear of witchcraft which is still strong even in church members, and witnessed to the glorious freedom they had found in the new life in Christ.

Last year the African women shared with the European W.A. in their annual church fete. For months they sewed garments, and what a fine display of work they had in their booth, which was gaily decorated with blue and white streamers and with their insignia, which is the Cross placed upon the head of a snake, showing the power of Christ to overcome all evil. It was a new experience to have African women walking among the crowds, making their purchases from the various booths, and sharing in the fun and excitement of so festive an occasion. Several European ladies resigned from the group in protest, but those who remained have taken a more active interest in the life of the African congregations and their concern has since been shared by the Sunday School and the Young People's who have adopted an African evangelist and his family, and have assumed full responsibility for the payment of his salary.

The year 1957 has seen the organization of a Y.W.C.A. group as well as the formation of a multi-racial club, and from the pulpits church leaders have condemned discrimination. The Christian Service Council has carried out a campaign through its member churches to awaken among Christians a sense of social and political responsibility, and there are signs that public opinion is slowly being roused out of its apathy. African Congress with its national slogan: "Africa for the Africans" grows more powerful, and African Christians are caught between Christ's teachings on brotherhood and their allegiance to a movement which alone gives them hope of the franchise.

For many years women workers in the Copperbelt have dreamed of a women's training centre to develop lay leadership in our churches, and in another month this dream will become a reality when the African Women's Training Course in Christian Home-Making opens for its first four months' course at Mindolo. Subjects will include Bible Study, Christian Leadership, Christian Education in the Home, Christian Marriage, Case Work, English, Gardening, and practical work in the African-townships in the Kitwe area.

Mrs. Makulu and I, as Executive Officers of K.B. (Kwafwana kwa Bamunyinefwe, which corresponds to our W.A.) have been visiting the groups in the various Copperbelt centres, helping them solve their problems, making plans for 1958 activities, and interpreting the aims and courses of the new school. Last week we were in Chingola where 80 women had gathered at the location church at 2 p.m. and had waited until we arrived at 4. The meeting had been called for 3, but due to unexpected interviews at Mindolo, we had been delayed. When we finally arrived, feeling extremely guilty and apprehensive, we were met with cheerful greetings and smiling rebukes of "You're a little late!" (I never cease to be amazed at the warmhearted friendliness of African people, which is gradually teaching me how not only to accept frustrations with less distress, but with a more cheerful acceptance. As one woman said at the Christmas pageant when the bus driver forgot to call at Wuskili for the women and the whole pageant was delayed for an hour and a half: "Just wait . . . don't worry. They'll get here sometime." Or again as the African friend exclaimed last Saturday as we waited by the side of the road unable to change a flat tire as someone had borrowed the jack and hadn't returned it: "Sit down, Mamma, and rest!")

After the Chingola service was finished, we met outside for the interminable hand-shaking and greetings, and before I realized what was happening, I found myself in the centre of a singing and clapping circle, trying without too great success to go through the paces of a traditional dance, urged on by my partner and the music makers. When we were all but exhausted, an invitation was extended to return to the church for an African dinner which the women had prepared for Mrs. Makulu and myself. It was nothing short of a feast, with the plates piled high with rice, meat, bread and jam. Nor did their hospitality end there, for a gift of money had been collected to help pay the expenses of the trip. Driving home we wondered why the afternoon had been exceptional and realized that the glow was not just personal happiness resulting from the kindly reception, but was rather the joy of seeing an indigenous group growing in leadership and in its acceptance of responsibility.

Missionaries with New Testament Faces

Just a bit about 1958, which promises to be a year of new beginnings: For the past three weeks, Thelma, Elsie and I have been busy drafting the program: "Seekers of the Light" for girls in the C.C.A.R. (Church of Central Africa in Rhodesia), and now we are writing reference material for the leaders. The program is similar to C.G.I.T. and the Fire and Light program of Angola. There are four groups: Dawntreaders, Sunlighters, Light Bearers and Leader Grad, and each group has a four-fold program in the church, the home, the community, and the world.

Just one more thought in closing, and I quote an African minister: "Will you thank your church in Canada for sending the missionaries with the New Testament faces, and ask if there are any more like them?"

What Is Bemba?

Remember those days you spent studying Latin or French? You can understand then the struggles of these past four months as Thelma Conway and I daily study Bemba. What is Bemba? Bemba is the most widely used of the 70 or so Bantu languages spoken by those who have come to work on the Copperbelt. In learning Bemba we have the added thrill that Latin never had—of being able to use it as we go along! There's the fun! Our friends are very patient with us and are so pleased whenever they hear a European speak their own language. (All white people here are called Europeans including Canadians.)

Since 1930, there has been an influx of people from various parts of Africa to work in the mines, leaving their former way of life to be caught up in the complex industrial society. It is the same story in each of the six Copperbelt towns—a spacious European town, and all around the outside the concentrated compounds for Africans. Here we see row upon row of tiny houses offering little or no privacy from one's neighbors — neighbors who speak different languages, and who have many varying customs.

This March will probably find Thelma and me working on the compounds in different towns alongside folk of the Church of Central Africa in Rhodesia. What contribution can a woman worker make? Because of the moving from tribal life to urbanized society you can imagine the breakdown of family life and the desperate need for guidance in the building of strong Christian homes. Through the power of God we anticipate the training of leaders so that they might in turn lead their women and girls' groups. We look forward to the time when there will be more than four women workers to serve on the Copperbelt where in one centre alone there are 90,000 Africans. We have been fortunate in our short stay here at Mindola to be living with Essie Johnson whom we find a real inspiration and help.

Drum's Chatter and Christmas Carol

As I sat in our tiny one-roomed "rondoval" busily wrapping Christmas presents, I could hear on one side of me the steady beat of the drums and wild singing of the people in the compound and could picture them dancing rhythmically round and round in the dancing enclosure. It was a sound that brought to mind all the tales and pictures one had read and seen of "darkest Africa", for in the drum's chatter lay centuries of pagan rite and ritual; painful ceremonies to ward off the evil spirits and protect a fear-ridden people.

From the other side of our little home there rose in ever-swelling tones, the voices of the African Welfare students joyously singing Christmas carols. "O come all ye faithful"—and in this music lay the "hopes and fears" of new Christians in Africa. And in between sat a brand new missionary trembling as she recognized the broad gap between these two, and her own limitations in trying to bring the two together. The problems in Northern Rhodesia seem almost as black and white as the two races of people that create them. The black night of fear that grips the non-Christian, and the crusading spirit of the new church that is rising to serve its Lord: the darkness of confused, uneducated minds, and the brilliant contribution of a handful of leaders who are endeavoring to lead these people to a bright future: the ever present shadow of race prejudice and inequality, and the pin-points of light here and there as Europeans begin to see the African as an equal and brother.

Elsie Bunner and I arrived at N'Dola airport on September 6th, 1957, there to be met by Mrs. Essie Johnson, Rev. Eric and Mrs. Read, and a few strangers who have since become close friends. Most of our time has been spent in language study, and while we are fortunate in having a language which is at least pronounceable, Chibemba has a most complicated grammatical structure, and a confusing tone range. For instance, one could easily say, "Let us smoke" instead of "Let us pray"—and in a missionary's life this would be a most disconcerting error!

It is our hope that after the first two months of this year (which will be spent in organizing a girls' and women's program with special attention to the working out of a training program to be used in the Women's Training Centre being established at Mindola under Mrs. Essie Johnson) we will be assigned to a centre and will be able to launch out into the work.

The wind changes, the drums fade, and the carol of praise rises to shout of triumph. With the grace of God, so shall His church rise to meet the needs of His children in Africa . . .

HONG KONG AND FORMOSA

FOREWORD

The year 1957 marked the 150th anniversary of the arrival of Rev. Robert Morrison in China. To commemorate the great work begun by Morrison, a special memorial year program was planned. The Memorial Year was inaugurated by a service held on September 2nd, 1957, in the Anglican chapel at Macao where Dr. Morrison was buried. The commemoration has continued through the year until May of this year. Four emphases have been stressed as related to this special year: One Christian Find One New Christian, Unchurched Christians Come Home, Dedication of Youth to the Ministries of the Church, and Missionary Work in Other Lands. Requests have been made of all mission boards co-operating with the Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China for grants towards a capital fund which is to provide a Morrison Memorial Centre which includes an auditorium, and church offices. The request to our Society is for $13,000 and very regretfully only $5,000 of this amount can be given this year due to financial reasons. The Board of Overseas Missions have made a grant of $13,000. An annual grant of $1,000 has been requested of our Society towards the maintenance costs of this project and this has been included in the 1959 Estimates.

The Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China is seeking to raise $1,000,000 HK (approximately $165,000) to share in the above project and also for the erection of a church in an industrial area which will be a memorial to the first Chinese preacher, a social service centre for workers, a Farmer Area church, a school and a Fisherman's church, a memorial to the first Chinese Christian martyr.

The Council on Christian Literature for Overseas Chinese has appointed an assistant Editor of literature for women and girls.

In response to an urgent request from Rennie's Mill Church Clinic through The United Church of Canada missionaries in Hong Kong, the Board of Overseas Missions and our Society are sharing on the usual 50-50 basis, making an annual grant of $1,200 each for the salary of a Chinese doctor for the staff of that Clinic, this to begin from May 1st, 1958, or as soon after that date as a doctor can be found.

There is now a total of 785 leprosy patients on Hay Ling Chau Island and during the last year 187 were discharged with certificates declaring their fitness to return to work.

Chung Chi College reported a total of 450 students during the past year, 50 of whom are from other parts of South East Asia. The United Church of Canada has now Rev. and Mrs. Walton H. Tonge on the staff of the College.

Formosa

Tungshai University in Formosa has a total enrolment of 597 regular students of whom 438 are men and 159 women. This includes eight overseas students who have come from the Philippines, Borneo, Hong Kong, Macao, Vietnam, Thailand and Malaya. In addition there are 19 students from 24 provinces of China.

Caring for Minds and Bodies

This report goes to you from the leprosarium on Hay Ling Chau. Hay Ling Chau is an island about ten miles from Hong Kong, and a very lovely island it is, too. The sea with its constantly changing hues and moods and the view of the neighboring mountainous islands are a constant source of joy and delight.

The number of leprosy patients has now increased to about 540. More surgery has been done during the year, so that our hospital work has increased. At present we have four camp beds in the already crowded male wards. However, there is now a group of 45 workmen cutting away the hill behind the hospital to prepare the ground for more hospital wards. We hope that 25 additional beds will relieve the present crowded conditions.

During the year I taught a class of 13 dressers who are now working in the Maxwell Memorial Medical Centre and in the cottages on Hay Ling Chau. Eleven experienced dressers left during the year to go to work in Hong Kong. Two others left the group to learn a trade with a view to their early discharge.

The number of dressers is now 33. One or two of this group are always ill and unable to work. A few have some personal problem such as anxiety regarding family affairs, or worry because they are unable to get work on becoming ready for discharge. One dresser, for a time, became depressed to a degree that interfered with his doing useful work because his former friends fear him, although he is cured.

Such problems interfere with the efficiency of any dresser. They must be helped by someone working closely with them, so that our nurses must provide psychotherapy for this group as well as for the other patients. Providing such supportive treatment takes much time and requires experienced and understanding nurses. It is, however, an important and necessary part of our treatment of leprosy patients whose spirits often suffer more scars than their bodies.

Our most pressing need at this time is for more graduate nurses with the Christian aim of serving God by serving leprosy patients. We have at present on the staff one graduate nurse in addition to the Matron and myself. It is our hope that some dedicated Christian nurses will come and help us translate the character for "compassion" at the centre of our symbol into loving care for the patients—patients who suffer in mind as well as body.

A Splendid Women's Association

The Women's Association in our church is a very active and interested group of forty members. Since Mrs. Bradshaw went on furlough, I have taken responsibility for this group, but the members plan the meetings. It is very encouraging to see how they have developed leadership.

I still remember their meeting held before Christmas. The chairman, who is also a dresser, led the service with great dignity. She introduced the theme of the Nativity by a reference to the recent visit of His Excellency, the Governor of Hong Kong. She reminded us of all our cleaning and beautifying the institution in preparation for his arrival. Then she urged us all to be as careful about cleansing our hearts, and thus making ready for the coming of the Babe of Bethlehem.

On Christmas night, this same Christian group presented a play, "The Newborn King", in acting, dialogue, and pantomime. Costumes had been prepared after much study and thought, and the acting had been carefully rehearsed. The final pantomime showing all gathered at the manger was very skilfully planned, and it was a scene of beauty and wonder. The singing throughout the play had a spontaneous and joyful quality and contributed greatly to what was quite a finished performance. The boy shepherd who carried his lamb (and a very real-looking lamb it was, too) along to the manger, captured the interest and sympathy of the audience. We were thankful this Christmas for the concentration of the spiritual content of the season. Even those who had never before heard the story of Christ's birth could not fail to catch something of the wonder and happiness of this Christian festival.

Last week, we had a Methodist missionary speak at our Women's meeting. He gave us a very carefully prepared, helpful message, basing his remarks on the text in II Timothy I: 17—"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

What a message of encouragement for us all as we go forward in the work of the year!

A Forward Movement

As your representative here in Hong Kong, my chief interest lies in the Church in which the W.M.S. is one of six Mission sponsors, the Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China. 1957 has been an epoch-making year in this Church. Our Constitution and organization have been revised. We have achieved registration with the Hong Kong government. Our new church and two new schools have been built, largely on local funds. The 150th anniversary of Robert Morrison's coming to China (first Protestant missionary to China) has been the focal point of a movement forward that has, through an evangelistic campaign, aroused the Church to greater spiritual vigor. At the climax of this campaign, Christmas Sunday, large numbers of people entered the church and there were many baptisms. (In three of the city churches these totalled 160.)

Congregations, formerly self-centered, have united in an effort to raise funds to erect a Morrison Memorial. This is to be a building which will serve as a unifying centre for the twenty congregations of the Church. It will have a large auditorium, committee rooms, office and board rooms. This very healthy spirit of working together is reaching all groups. For instance, yesterday the Young People's Association announced that they had raised $1,500.00 by putting on a basketball game in one of the large stadiums. This they will contribute to the Memorial fund. (Lem Burnham, Vancouver, is the youth secretary of the Church of Christ in China and works with this group.)

This stirring within the Church comes mainly from two sources. This year brought two outstanding and much-needed leaders—one, a former Y.M.C.A. World Secretary with a world-wide view and experience, and the other a middle aged and dynamic pastor, who came from China, Canton, where he had had years of administrative responsibility in the Church of Christ in China (C.C.C.). The Church has responded to this new leadership and is growing. The C.C.C. is one of the largest Protestant Churches in this colony. Their membership is estimated at 10,000. They have two middle schools, about 11 primary schools, and three Children and Family Welfare Centres.

My share in the program of the Church has now centered around teaching in Pui Ying School (1,500, C.C.C.'s largest middle school) and in acting as Secretary of the Society Welfare Department of the C.C.C. and as Superintendent of the Family Welfare Centre, in Chuk Yuen Resettlement Area. The students in the Bible classes in Pui Ying have interested their schoolmates in the welfare work of the C.C.C. and this has resulted in their contribution of $1,500.00 for play equipment on the Family Life Centre playground for school and community children. This Christmas they sent 850 bags of toys, sweets, and nuts (one for each of the children in our C.C.C. welfare centres) and $300.00 for a "Christmas dinner for the Children". In addition, they contributed 2,200 pounds of rice and $929.00 for the needy in other groups.

Work in Refugee Areas

I expect you have read of the work of our centres in these refugee areas, how we try to give some literacy to the children, have a religious education program for children and adults, give free medical help and nutritional aid, teach the women tailoring to help them to earn family income, and try in every way we can to help them to help themselves. Actually this work was started off in a great rush through the terrible typhoon and flood rains that hit Hong Kong this summer. It raged through Chuk Yuen one night, and frightened families grabbed their children and their bedding and struggled up the hill through pelting rain, to the Family Life Centre. I arrived through the rain next morning to find we had a family of 200. They had been fed warm rice gruel by our staff, who had also dried bedding and distributed clothing (from used clothing bales) and had the families arranged on desks pushed together to make family beds. Morning also disclosed that 18 cottages were roofless and extensive damage had been done to many more.

In spite of rain, and between torrents, the Welfare Department got to work at once to have the cottages repaired. Money had come from the Church World Service, then from The United Church of Canada Relief Committee and others. In two weeks, the families were re-housed and sent back with rice and bedding, and more important, with courage to make another start. They had discovered the great family of world-wide Christian friendship which was symbolized in the Family Life Centre. You will be glad to know that the Church World Service has now begun to build typhoon proof cottages. These tiny family homes are really only one room 10 x 14 feet, but they are happy dwelling places for these folk, who first fled as refugees, then had their squatter huts burnt to the ground, but now are legitimate cottage residents in this government resettlement area.

"Happy Childhood"

Before I close, I must mention the progress made by "Happy Childhood" the magazine for Chinese children, in which our W.M.S. is so interested. This year it introduced more color into its illustrations, and the circulation has been more than doubled. This means that many more children through southeast Asia have this Christian magazine in their home.

ISABELLE E. MILLER

Missionary Nurse,
Refugee Camp,
Hong Kong

Rennie's Mill Camp

After arriving in Hong Kong, in November, I was established at the Church Guest House and the next day, I began language study, at the University of Hong Kong. The next seven months were mainly occupied with the study of Cantonese. I am finding Cantonese extremely difficult but am fortunate in having an excellent tutor. He is a fine Christian gentleman, well grounded in Chinese culture and proud of his Chinese heritage.

In February, I left the Church Guest House and moved in with a Chinese family. There were eight of us in a six-room apartment—Mr. Yang, his wife and their year-old daughter; Mrs. Shing and her teen-age daughter; Hsiao-Yu, a seven-year-old refugee child; Mr. Yen a boarder, and of course, me. The two wee girls were my pets and I was inordinately proud when almost the first word Miao-Hsin learned to say was "Auntie". I was truly sorry when the time came to leave this family.

I completed my period of full-time language study the end of June. After spending a few days with Irene Moore at Hay Ling Chau, I began packing for the move to Rennie's Mill Camp. For the first time since coming to Hong Kong, I was utterly homesick for my family and for Eriksdale Hospital in particular and for Canada in general. But I felt at home immediately after arrival at Rennie's Mill. They had flowers on the table, fresh curtains on the windows and little evidences of their thoughtfulness were everywhere. That evening, the clinic group—Miss Helen Wilson, and ten Chinese staff—gave a welcome party for me. It was really in the form of a worship service built around Isaiah 52: 7. Their prayers were sincere and beautiful and made me realize afresh that I had much to learn from these people with whom I would be working.

My little apartment is situated at one end of the general clinic building and was prepared especially for me before I moved out here. It consists of a bedroom, sitting room, kitchen and bath and is very comfortable. The roof is not entirely waterproof and when it rains we have to move the furniture away from strategic areas but that is something which we hope to remedy before the rainy season next spring. I haven't used my kitchen much because I have meals with Rose Tai, the head Chinese nurse here. Helen Wilson has a room at the other end of the building and, when she is here, the three of us eat together. Rose, Helen and I share the services of an amah and it is a very satisfactory arrangement.

Work in the Church Clinic

The Church Clinic and the Haven of Hope Sanatorium are under one governing committee but draw their support from churches of several denominations. Our United Church of Canada gives an annual grant and, of course, pays my salary and language study fees. We also receive bales of clothing from Church World Service and gifts of milk powder, multi-purpose food, etc., from various church organizations, but a minimal fee is charged to those patients who can afford to pay.

The Church Clinic, where I work, is actually housed in two buildings some distance apart—one for general out-patients and one for T.B. out-patients. The General O.P.D. is open each morning and averages 90-100 patients. The T.B. Clinic is open each afternoon and averages 30-60 patients. Dr. Mary Ashton comes from the Sanatorium two afternoons per week to assist in the T.B. Clinic and Dr. Kuo, a government doctor, assists in the General Clinic two mornings per week. The remainder of the time we have no doctor in attendance and the patients are treated by the nursing staff. All seriously ill patients and those requiring hospitalization must be referred to clinics or hospitals in Hong Kong. This is particularly inconvenient at night because the ferry service stops at 9 p.m. However, the Marine Police are very co-operative and will transport patients in case of emergency.

During my first month in the clinic I really felt that I was more of a liability than an asset, but I have many times had cause to be thankful for the four years' experience which I had under Dr. Paulson's guidance in Eriksdale Hospital. My Chinese vocabulary is very limited and I would have more difficulty if it were not for Rose Tai, who speaks both Mandarin and Cantonese and is a wonderful help to me. Helen Wilson has been with the clinic since its beginnings in 1951 and I am fortunate to have the benefit of her wise counselling and wide experience. She was inside China for many years, was interned by the Japanese and finally "escorted out" by the Communists. Helen and Rose handle all the administration and finances so I can devote extra time to language study.

History of Rennie's Mill Camp

Rennie's Mill Camp is situated on the Kowloon side of the harbour and is about ten miles from the central district of Hong Kong. A man named Rennie started a flour mill here about fifty years ago, cleared ground and started roads. Apparently his business failed, he became discouraged and committed suicide. The ruins of his home are still to be seen on the mountainside here.

After Mr. Rennie's death, the district was little used until the Hong Kong government moved several thousand refugees out here in 1950. I have been told that at one time there were at least 20,000. Conditions were desperate. The Nationalist Government of Taiwan, the Hong Kong Government and various Church agencies co-operated to give what assistance they could with relief supplies, food and medical attention. Our present general clinic building was originally a soup kitchen where seven thousand were given two meals a day.

In 1951, on my way out of mainland China, I met Helen Wilson who had been working at the camp for several months. It was my first visit to a refugee camp and I never forgot it. The people were living in shelters of cardboard, tin and bamboo matting. Helen Wilson and Hanny Gronlund, a Norwegian nurse, were living in one of these mat huts and dispensing medicines and sympathy out through an opening in the wall. I left my copy of the "Nurse's Prayer" on the wall of that little hut and when I came back in 1956 Helen returned it to me. She told me it had moved with them through each phase of the clinic's growth.

When I returned to the camp in 1956, an almost unbelievable transformation had taken place. The population had decreased to about 10,000 people. The old huts were rapidly disappearing and being replaced by neat little stone or sand-brick dwellings. People were more adequately clothed and fairly well nourished. A new T.B. Sanatorium had been built and its one hundred patients were receiving modern medicines and treatments. Convalescent cottages were being built where these patients would go later for rehabilitation. A neat, little Maternity Nursing Unit was being capably managed by a Swedish nurse-widwife. An agricultural project was well under way —no easy task on this rocky hillside. The little sampans which used to take one and one-half hours to row from Rennie's Mill to Hong Kong had been replaced by a ferry which takes one half-hour and makes several round trips per day. This has made it possible for many people to work in Hong Kong and return home each night.

So much has been done but so much yet remains to be done. Last spring much property was ruined by floods, and in September a large number of houses were reduced to rubble by Typhoon Gloria. It is at times like these that the Church must stand ready to give material as well as spiritual aid and it is also at times like these that we are especially grateful for the unfailing generosity of our Home Churches.

INDIA

The Malwa Church Council through its administrative Board (the Masih Sewa Mandal) has again earnestly requested our Society for several new missionaries as will be seen from the list of requests quoted later in this report. Most of these are not additional missionaries but are replacements for several who have retired or resigned to be married within the last few years. The request for evangelistic missionaries has been before us for three years and still we have no one to appoint. The need for missionary nurses is especially acute.

The transfer of all mission property to the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India has now been completed. This includes all missionary residences as well as other buildings. These missionary residences will be held in trust for The United Church of Canada by the Trust Association of the United Church of Northern India.

The Children's Home at Neemuch has been enjoying the new building. This Home is full to overflowing with 30 children. According to the new policy for the Home, the children are admitted from 12-18 months old. Smaller babies who need care must go to one of the hospitals. The older children in the Home attend the local church school. The Mandal is attempting to bring to the attention of all the congregations in the Malwa Church Council, the large number of children needing homes, in the hope that more Christian families will consider adoption.

The Mid-India Graduate School for Nurses which is at the Indore Hospital has graduated their first class of 15 nurses. In addition, the first class of six nursing instructors also graduated during this past year. This is a co-operative venture, the physical space being provided by the Mandal, at the Indore Hospital, as well as some teaching by our W.M.S. missionary nurses. The Director is Miss Bessie MacMurchy of the Canadian Presbyterian W.M.S. staff. This School is providing much-needed graduate training in the Hindi language for nurses who will then be able to carry heavier responsibility in the various hospitals.

The Madras Women's Christian College had a very successful year in the 1956-57 session. There were 350 students this past year, which is a slight increase.

At the Vellore Christian Medical College fifty-one students were admitted to the freshman class this past year. This brings the student body to a total of 251.

The Ludhiana Christian Medical College is proceeding with its program of up-grading, although the mission boards are finding it difficult to make grants sufficient to meet the increased building needs.

Allahabad Agricultural Institute has an enrolment of 412 students during this year, the highest in its history. Kenya, Uganda, Ethiopia, Burma, Ceylon, Nepal, Fiji and Barbados Islands are represented in the student body.

School Activities

The second term in 1956 ended with the usual excitement of the Christmas tree and pageant. Till the last day we were waiting for word about the extended holiday on account of the Congress Session, but, since no order was received, school closed and the children were asked to return on January 3rd and 4th. Some time after the school had closed the government notification was received that schools were to remain closed till January 9, 1957. Republic Day was again celebrated by having our annual sports.

In February we had the school concert, which was a huge success. We raised Rs. 888/10/ and after all expenses were paid we still had a neat balance of about Rs. 450/- which is being used for needy children of the school.

The staff and school picnics went off without any mishaps. The Class X graduation service was held March 11th, when Mrs. T. Buchanan delivered a beautiful address so well suited for that particular age group. Fifteen students wrote the high school examination of 1957. Twelve passed in II Division, two in III Division, one got a supplementary which she eventually passed with honors. Thus once again our results were 100 per cent.

Much time was lost at the very beginning of the new term because of the epidemic of influenza. We were, however, very fortunate in having the services of a capable, trained nurse, Miss Salomi Nath, who left us at the end of August. We now have a well qualified and very pleasant nurse; Miss Pramila Sathe from Bilaspur.

Because of unusual circumstances this year we were obliged to open a third section of Class IV and a third section for Class III. We have done away with A Class, but have four sections of Class I.

In the hostel this year we have 151 girls, eleven of whom belong to the Training Classes. The total number of Christians in the hostel is 130. There are eight Hindus, one Muslim, and one Sikh. Of these boarders, 31 are paying full fees and 30 pay no fees at all. The rest pay according to the per capita income of the family. The girls are getting four meals a day and fresh fruit once or twice a week. The school accounts have been audited by chartered accountants.

The staff continue to give their time and talent, and willingly help in all the various activities of the school. We have 19 teachers in residence, one matron, and one assistant matron and one nurse. So the hostel life of the girls is well regulated and their time fully occupied. We take a very personal interest in the hostel girls and endeavor to understand their individual problems and family background. Thus we hope to build stronger, more disciplined and better Christian characters among our girls.

The teachers like being in the school and enjoy their work in the classroom as well as the hostel. But the high cost of living and better remuneration in the government lure away some good workers into government institutions. We are thankful to the principal and staff of the Union Theological Seminary for the Sunday services conducted in the school during the rains.

All-India Congress Meets at Indore

In January, 1957, all local colleges and schools had an extension of the Christmas holidays, as the All-India Congress met in Indore. A whole new temporary city, complete with railway station and all other essentials, flourished on the outskirts of Indore. Crowds of visitors from all parts of India came by special trains and busses. There were many very splendid exhibits of industries and handicrafts demonstrated by skilled workers from all parts of India. All sorts of the latest audio-visual aids were used to great advantage to testify to the tremendous changes that are taking place, along many lines throughout the country. It was most interesting and instructive to attend some of the meetings which were open to the public, giving opportunities to see and hear many of the Congress leaders. The arrangements for the thousands in attendance were very carefully planned and seemed to be very successful.

Teacher Training Classes and Primary School

For the term ending in April, 1957, there were six seniors and eight juniors in the Teacher Training Classes. All six seniors graduated, having done well throughout their course and in the final examinations. The present term opened in July, 1957, with seven seniors and six juniors. As two of the latter dropped out for different reasons there are only four in the junior class.

Besides the regular curricula studies and activities special short courses have been held in public health and social hygiene; Laubach methods of adult literacy; the making and use of puppets and posters; and handwork. Demonstration lessons taught by the students of the Post-Graduate School of Nursing have been most enjoyable and profitable. Dramas have been presented at the graduation and on other occasions, and puppet shows have been staged.

Observation visits have been paid to the Training Centre for Village Uplift at Kasturba Gram, some local hospitals and health centres, the Training School for Women at Chandrawatiganj, the School for the Blind, the Institute of Plant Industry, Malwa Cotton Mills, the local museum and several exhibitions.

The Primary School in the Cotton Mill area at Pardesipura has an enrolment of 18 young pupils in the very early stages on "The rocky road to learning."

Among the changes introduced in 1957 which seem very significant are (1) the putting into operation of the Plan of Integration whereby all the phases of work till January 1957 carried on by The United Church of Canada Mission have become the responsibility of the Masihi Sewa Mandal, a body consisting of representatives of the United Church of Northern India and of missionaries and (2) the introduction, in April, of the new Decimal System of coinage in India.

Sight-Seeing and Visiting

What could be more appropriate on New Year's Day than a visit to the new, but at that time, as yet unused Babies' Home in Neemuch? That was the privilege of four of us who had just finished almost a week of sight-seeing among ruins, forts and palaces in Chitor, Udaipur and Jaipur, cities made famous by the Rajput rulers of Rajasthan. From Neemuch, after a short visit in Sitamau, we arrived back in Indore in the wee small hours of the morning of January 3rd with the work of the New Year awaiting us.

Life at Indore

The first big event of the year was the meeting of the Congress Party. Because it was held in Indore the date for the re-opening of school after the Christmas holidays was postponed from January 4th to January 9th, and some of the girls had an opportunity to act as ushers, guides, etc., at the meeting. We enjoyed hearing Pandit Nehru speak one evening to a large outdoor audience.

The new school term was a busy one. Sports Day, class and staff picnics, farewell parties for the girls of the Tenth Class and Senior Training Class are annual events. In 1957, however, our school concert (which, when held, usually comes about November) came in February. My particular responsibility in connection with this was the English play for which, from early January on, we had several rehearsals a week.

A special feature of church life in Indore during the spring was the evangelistic mission held under the leadership of Rev. David McKee. Among those who responded to the invitation to come forward as a sign of their desire to accept or rededicate their lives to Christ were several girls from our school. One of the aftermaths was a weekly prayer meeting, started because of the wishes of the girls themselves. There were only about six or eight of us to start with, but just before the meetings stopped because of the pressure of examinations we had about twenty in attendance.

Holidays were spent in Landour where I mingled a bit of language study with recreation of various kinds including tennis, reading and visiting with our missionaries of the Board of Overseas Missions, the majority of whom usually spend their holidays in Landour.

While we were still at the hills we heard of the influenza epidemic which had spread into India. So it was not really a surprise when the day school opened in July we received a government order that because of the presence of this epidemic in Indore schools were to remain closed for a time. We eventually began work for Classes V and up on July 15th, and for other classes on the 29th.

Since July the outstanding school events have been the exhibition and sale of work held early in November, and the Christmas celebrations on December 19th and 20th. The former included exhibits from almost all departments of the school with special emphasis on the work done in the Domestic Science Department by the girls of the high school classes. Some of the work was for sale, and a nice little profit was made from these and from the things sold at the tea stall.

The Christmas celebrations included several plays and skits, a carol pageant, and a candle-lighting dedication service, the giving of prizes for those who stood first and second in the yearly Bible examinations, the repetition of one of the plays, and a Christmas tree with presents for all on the morning of the 20th.

Twelve girls, however, the matron and one teacher remained at the hostel for part or all of the holidays. On Christmas Eve most of them had the joy of singing carols in front of the homes of some of their missionary and Indian friends, finally ending up at Kushal Nivas (the name we have given to the W.M.S. residence on Old Sehere Road) where they had refreshments and found that Father Christmas had left something for each one. Later they joined in activities of the Indore congregation in its annual Christmas celebrations which included a service on Christmas morning, a picnic on the 26th, and a service and congregational dinner on January 1st. I missed the last of these for I spent New Year's Day 1958 in Banswara, as I had spent it in Neemuch and Sitamau in 1957. But here, too, the day's celebrations began in the morning with worship in the House of God. In like manner, throughout the year that lies ahead, may He have first place in all our plans and activities.

MRS. K. YOHAN MASIH

Dean of Women

The present Dean of Women took over the office in July, 1957. It was with mixed feelings of fear and challenge that she took over from her predecessor, Mrs. A. T. Embree.

Activities of 173 Students

There are 173 lady-students on the roll in this academic year, 1957-1958. Their activities have been organized according to previous years. The election for the Executive was held in August. In the second week of August we had the "GET ACQUAINTED PARTY" for the freshettes. The party was financed by an eight-anna contribution from every girl. There was a buffet tea, games and a short program of entertainment. In September Professor N. C. Chatterji, Chairman of the Library Committee, gave a lecture to the girls on "The Use of a Library in the Life of a Student." In October there was a Radio Program by our girls—a Hindi Drama and a Radio Chorus was transmitted over All India Radio from Indore. Another program is being prepared to be released in February. In November the girls had their Sports Day which was greatly enjoyed. It provided competition among lady-students, and they were able to enjoy themselves freely—without being watched by the boys! The annual Ladies Cultural Program took place on December 14th. In spite of heart-aches and head-aches, the program was very successful. It consisted of beautiful dances, a musical tableaux, a Hindi and an English Play. The novel feature in this program was "Bande Matram" through folk-dances of our country. Mrs. G. E. Leard was the Chief Guest and addressed the gathering.

In the end of December at the Social Gathering of the College the ladies fully contributed in making the occasion a success. Their hand-work and painting gave variety to the Art Exhibition, and their dances added color and grace to the Cultural Program.

Some of the friends of the College have been generous in donating to the Ladies' Room old magazines and books of particular interest to girls, such as "Women and Home" and "McCall's."

January brought a termination of our social activities for the academic year. The lady-students invited the Professors' wives to a Tea-Party. Even though not all attended, there was a fairly good turn-out. Mrs. Krishna Agarwal from Mhow, a State Social Worker, was our guest of honour. She spoke on "Social Work in the Life of a Student." She brought to us simply, but emphatically, the duty of every girl to her country.

The Independence Day and the Republic Day have been duly celebrated on August 14th and January 26th respectively. As the Republic Day happened to fall on Sunday, most of the Cultural Program took place on January 27th.

The sound of the tinkling of ankle-bells to rhythm of the beating drums comes to my ears as the report is being written. It reminds me that in the hands of the Dean of Women lies a great responsibility for the proper development of these girls. She has to attempt to open up new vistas of opportunities for every girl of the college and help her to bring out the best in her.

I am eagerly looking forward to the ladies' hostel, when it is ready. Plans for its construction are under way. With this provision the number of lady-students is bound to increase.

The Christian girls are participating in the Student Christian Movement and Chapel Services. It is hoped that next year there can be a College Choir.

"A Number of Things"

The year 1957 had many things in store for us in Kharua. Some were happy things to give our hearts a lift, some were things which sent grief and sadness to the depths of our hearts. The first few months of the year are the months when we lay in the yearly stores of staples for the hostel. Cart-loads of jawar (the main food here), wheat and maize; pounds of red peppers, onions and garlic, and a freight carload of wood. Jawar had been scarce the summer before so the new crop in 1957 was expensive but the children had to eat, so we bought anyway.

The wood was ordered in January but there was a delay in getting the freight car so the first loads did not arrive until early in April. Then there was a delay in the arrival of the truck which was to bring the wood in from the station. All day the drivers had waited at the station for the truck and at last the first truck load arrived about 8 p.m.

Accident to Alice

The children were very excited when they heard the truck coming, so they came running from the dormitory towards the hostel gate. The driver of the truck and his helpers ordered the children away and the most of them ran back on the verandah but two remained behind the gate back by the wall where they and all others thought they were safe. What neither they nor the truck driver knew was the fact that when the truck came past our mango tree a branch caught in the load and was brought along projecting from the side. As the truck went through the gate this branch struck the top of the gatepost and a hundred pounds or more of brick and cement came crashing down to the ground behind the gate where the children were standing. Surendra was just scratched but Alice was struck on the leg and thrown to the ground with broken leg bones. If the load had fallen on her she would have been killed or invalidated for life but it was only a glancing blow. The men in the truck picked her up and carried her across the courtyard and put her down on a heap of blankets in the dormitory.

It was the last evening of some special services and most of the adults of the Christian community were at a farewell dinner for the visiting evangelist when some of the children came running with the news of the accident. The two compounders and the nurse and myself were soon at the hostel and the medical people were busy putting the broken leg in splints and otherwise doing everything to make the long trip by jeep to the hospital in Ratlam as comfortable as possible. We arrived in Ratlam about midnight and Dr. McClure and his staff were aroused from their beds and soon Alice's broken bones were set in place. Then began the long weary three months in a plaster cast during the hot season, but the time passed and Alice returned to school in July. Now when you see her playing or walking with the other girls it is almost impossible to tell that anything had ever been different.

Most of our children come from homes where money is scarce and they find it very difficult to pay even a few rupees for fees; none pay the full cost. This year we have been stressing the need of each family doing something, either money or produce and some have given that never paid an anna before. One man has gathered a cart-load of small wood from the jungle for us and another village hearing that it was difficult to get wood for the hostel gave us a lovely big load. But even with these gifts it came as a shock in July to realize that we would not have enough money to run our hostel until the end of the year. What were we to do? Would we have to send the 52 children home? What about the children who have no other home? We scanned accounts to see where we could save and the matron made one grain of jawar do the work of two or three. Still there was not enough. There was nothing to do but appeal to the Educational Commission for help. The secretary replied that perhaps something could be done but there were other schools too that had found they were short. Our financial situation was often offered up in prayer. Our prayers were answered, for one evening I opened a letter from an unknown Canadian friend and out dropped a cheque for an amount which almost met our deficit and just before that money was finished another arrived from other previously unknown friends. It was a great joy to be able to write to the secretary of Commission and say we no longer needed help. Grain prices are now somewhat lower and already I have had two people come to pay the children's fees even before the bills have been sent. Also, having been short of money last year we are looking with even keener eyes this year for ways to keep our children growing and in good health in as simple a manner as possible.

Pleasant Experiences and Excellent Grades

The total enrolment is 125 students with five members, including the principal. There are 22 Christian students with 103 non-Christian students.

In the Siksha Ayog Examination of Class II Pinto Daniel stood first and Lajawanti Righaram stood second with 95.1 per cent and 91 per cent respectively.

In Class II there appeared 31 and 31 passed. In Class IV there appeared 14 and 14 passed.

Besides the regular academic subjects, games, singing, handwork, dramatics and gardening received special attention. Christian teaching is appreciated by almost all the non-Christian parents. The religious teaching is done according to syllabus with Bible stories, hymns, Bhajans with simple musical instruments and other stories of high moral value, with drawing and handwork illustrations.

There have been activities—interesting too. The work, through a bond of fellowship and sincere labour, has been our joy and dignity. A day has not passed that some pleasant experience or moment has not brightened our work.

OLIVE M. PANNA

To School by Rickshaw

At present the enrolment at Ujjain Nursery-Kindergarten is 47, of whom 19 are Christians. The two shifts are still in operation. The cabin rickshaw is being used, the charges being two rupees per child. A concession is given where more than one child comes from a family. Twenty-two children are coming by rickshaw which has become a great help to the parents concerned and a great joy to the children to ride.

The staff consists of two teachers and an aya who also assists them at times. But for such a group a nursery trained teacher is needed.

In January screening and physical examinations were done of all the children. Results were quite satisfactory.

The fees charged vary from eight annas to ten rupees according to the parents' income and the families' responsibilities. With the fees charged together with the mission's contribution the running of this department of the school seems to be quite satisfactory. The Christmas program was interesting. The children seem to be very happy in school.

Joy When School Opens

Due to some obstructions the school did not open on July 2nd, but was kept closed for an indefinite period. On August 13, 1957, the school opened, and gave great joy to all concerned.

At present the enrolment is 249, of which 93 are Christians—138 boys and 111 girls. Ujjain is also progressing in education. It has become the centre of Vikram University. All are looking forward to the mission school becoming a high school. Staff consists of eight members including the principal. Three others do part time teaching.

As usual we had our Christmas concert. But this year it was a great show, as we were able to put up a big "shamitana" for the guests. Most of the non-Christian parents attended and were pleased to see their children taking part.

The final examination results on the whole were quite satisfactory. Physical examination, including screening, took place early in January 1957. The results were quite satisfactory too.

Life in the Hostels

There are 16 girls in the girls' hostel. Mrs. K. Dayal, the matron, was appointed in January. The girls moved into the new hostel building in the last week of March and they are very happy and comfortable in the new building. We thank the donors as well as all those who worked hard for it.

There are 19 boys in the boys' hostel; of this number, four are studying in state schools. The previous house-father left in August, so Mr. S. M. Earnest was appointed in October.

To encourage children in the hostels we are using a device: both boys and girls are divided in four groups. They are given marks on hostel duties as well as on school work. On every last Saturday of the month we have a combined social. The report is given by the matron and house-father. Children seem to be taking it seriously and improving in their ways. Both boys and girls are keeping good health and are quite happy in their hostels.

A Busy Year for the Mandal

The first year of the new set-up in organization has gone by. We no longer speak of "The Mission" but of "The Mandal." January was a particularly busy month, fitting in a visit from Rev. Isaac Khimla, in his dual capacity of Moderator of Church Council and General Secretary of the Mandal, with our touring program.

January 26th, Republic Day in India, found us camped in the remote Bhil village of Lalawara. The campers decided to have a real Republic Day Service and to explain as simply as possible the aims and ideals of the Indian republic. My birthday has been celebrated on January 18th and I still had the pieces of colored tissue paper in which gifts had been wrapped. Fortunately the colors were approximately those of the Indian flag and these were used to manufacture the flag, pasted on the end of a bamboo pole. The service was a great success. It was deeply moving to hear those young men explain the meaning and responsibility of "freedom" and to hear the young voices raised in the national anthem.

A month later in February we were camped in another remote spot, Bhameri. We have had many trying trips to this village, spending hours on the road because of bad spots but this year the road had been made up because of the general elections and political parties had been touring and we reached our camping spot in 1½ hours from Banswara—almost unbelievable. I have written about this new group of Christians before and that it was through my driver, the door was opened for the Gospel to reach his people. But although over 60 had been baptized, the driver's own parents and his brother's family were not among them. This year we had the great happiness of seeing them all come forward and receive baptism.

When the touring season was over, there were trips to the two village schools with Rev. Geo. Prasad, when he came to inspect as Director of Rural Education. Trips were made with the audio-visual truck to several village centres and Bible and health pictures shown.

On Good Friday, April 19th, a brass cross was placed on the wall of the church in Banswara in memory of Gulabi Bai. It was the first anniversary of her death. Her memory will long live in the hearts and minds of her friends and fellow workers and especially in the hearts of the many children who passed through her hands. In April also we were happy to have a visit from Mrs. R. B. McClure and Mrs. Bell. Mrs. Bell had lived in India as a child with her missionary parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Russell.

Schools re-opened in July; our hostels were full to overflowing, and then came the flu epidemic lasting through July and August. As many as 50 of the hostel children were sick at one time.

In November, the ordination of one of our young Seminary graduates took place, Dhula Ratna. The Moderator of Church Council, Rev. P. S. MacDonald and Rev. I. Khinla came to conduct the service, which took place in the village church at Agoria.

When touring started again in November, Dr. Anderson commenced a public health program of inoculations of the village Christian community—triple-antigen for children up to six years of age and tetanus toxoid for all over six and for adults. These injections are given in three doses, a month apart, and as the medical party comes once a week, it is going to take up to the first week of May to cover each centre three times. It is a wonderful service and the people are so grateful for the protection from disease offered, especially for their children.

Evangelistic Missionary,

A Quiet Year

The year 1957 has been, on the whole, a quiet year, with the work following a regular pattern—touring in the winter, various types of classes in the spring and summer and visiting and preaching in the villages around Dhar during the rainy and fall season. One new feature this year, however, was that I was privileged to attend and address the women at two retreats held for teachers during July.

Also during the year we had two Vacation Bible Schools. The first was held during the school vacation in May, in the Christian school and was attended by practically every Christian child in Dhar.

The second was an "emergency" affair in July, held for the benefit of the 30 boys in the hostel who found themselves at loose ends following the outbreak of flu in the town and the closing of all schools for two weeks. Despite the hasty preparations made, it was a great success and gave many a homesick little lad something to occupy his mind during the time of enforced holiday.

Touring this year has been the usual challenging experience, with much to encourage and some things to discourage. We are always coming up against the problem of insufficient leadership in the villages and are still trying to find more adequate means for carrying on programs throughout the year which are begun during the touring season. Illiteracy among our village Christians is still one of the great problems. Hence this has been one of the big emphases in our work this year—to bring our people to the point where they can read the Bible for themselves. We have not found large groups interested in learning to read, but have been happy to find that in each village there have been at least some Christians keen to be taught.

Village Life Without Christ

I cannot recall a winter when I have seen more striking examples of what village life can be without Christ. I think, for instance, of our time in one village, when we witnessed the beating of a non-Christian girl by her would-be fiancé, in an effort to make her agree to marry him. Her family, who should have come to her rescue, at the last minute decided to capitalize on the event and attempted to sue for Rs. 3,000, rather than bring the girl home to safety. Had it not been for the intervention of Christian relatives she could have met even death, so great was the young man's rage at her refusal to become his wife.

Still another part of the same district was the scene of a "fire walking." In fulfillment of a vow made to the gods when her nephew fell ill, an elderly aunt was required to walk over burning coals to show her gratitude at his recovery.

And always death is viewed with something akin to terror. For several nights many families refuse to sleep inside their homes, for fear the spirit of the deceased will return to plague the living. Throughout most of one camp our nearest neighbors displayed this kind of alarm, preferring to sleep anywhere in the out-of-doors, regardless of cold and storm, rather than daring to venture indoors in the presence of "spirits." Such examples of unbelief are everyday occurrences in almost any Bhil community untouched by the gospel of Christ.

ALICE B. MUNNS

Evangelistic Missionary,
Kharua, India

"Hitherto Hath the Lord Helped Us"

"The harvest truly is plenteous but the laborers are few." How often these words come to mind as I go from village to village and yet do not reach all the villages where Christian people are to be found. When the temptation to be discouraged comes, I like to think of Ganga Bai, the only Christian in her village. Her husband is a Hindu and not at all favorably disposed to his wife's being a Christian. The other women of the village taunt her because she does not take part in idol worship and the things connected with it. But Ganga Bai remains firm in her beliefs. She is always so pleased to see us when we come and drops everything in order to have the time with us. Such faith and assurance are a joy to see and give an uplift to my own spiritual life.

The touring is always the highlight of the year. As a rule I meet with such kindness and friendliness and interest that I hate to leave one camp to go to another. The cold of the winter season was intense this year, but in spite of it, the people came out to the evening meetings wrapped in a cotton sheet for warmth. The touring season was interrupted this year when the special meetings of the Mandal were called in February and the Mission, as such, ceased to be and the Church took over the work. It was an impressive ceremony and the memory of it will remain in our minds for a long time.

The wives of the village leaders came to Kharua at the beginning of the hot season for their regular classes. The interest is keen and the women are progressing. It is always interesting to see how keenly they enter into games we play. Playing games is not something they have done before but they do enjoy it. We had a "baby sitter" to look after the children while the mothers were in class. The mothers were then able to put all their attention on the work in hand.

A holiday in beautiful Simla was a delight and I enjoyed the real rest which it afforded.

The rainy season gave me the time to prepare material for Jyoti Kiran (Rays of Light), the four-page Hindi Sunday School paper which I edit. The paper travels to all Hindi-speaking areas of India, to the Fiji Islands and to Trinidad. This year it is going to Africa as well where the missionary of the United Church of Northern India, Mr. Din Dayal is working among the Indians there. He has recently opened a Sunday School for the Hindi-speaking children in his area.

The Ward with its maternity centre still fills a great need. The village women are learning to take advantage of it. Prenatal teaching is given as well as maternity cases being cared for. Sick children are looked after and the services of the nurse are greatly appreciated.

And so we come to the end of the year saying, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us" and knowing that He will be with us in the days of 1958.

First Year in Evangelistic Work

Moving day was January 5th. I was leaving Indore to go to Mandleshwar. I was leaving educational work to begin evangelistic work in the villages of Numar district, located in a great wide valley between the Vindhya and Satpura mountains. I had been teaching girls in the Mission High School, Indore, and now the teaching was to be mainly among the women and children in the villages. Touring began almost immediately and I had the privilege of working with Miss Beryl Morson for four months before she went on furlough. In our first camp our tents were pitched in a farmer's field on the edge of a village. It was the middle of winter—cool at night but warm during the day. Each day was a lovely sunny day and a new opportunity to go out into some village to teach a Christian woman or family a little more of the message and life of Christ that their lives may grow stronger in Him.

It was not easy at first to speak in the Hindi language as I had used so much English while teaching in Indore. Then, too, the people spoke a little different dialect which I could not understand. Adjustments had to be made along other lines, too. It takes time to become acquainted with people, to know their needs and to win their confidence. One cannot easily decide what to teach in a group where there are both Christians and non-Christians, nor decide what is the most important thing to say or do in a village where you may not be able to come again for a whole year. I had to review my own faith before God also, to see where I stood, that my witness might be what it should and when and where, for we can do nothing on our own, but only as we abide in the Vine—Jesus Christ—and become channels of blessing to others, can there be fruit.

I was successful in passing my third year Hindi examinations in September having spent one month in Mussoorie for this purpose. Shortly afterwards I was again touring with my staff of workers along with the District Superintendent and his workers. We have been telling stories and showing pictures by flannelgraph which have been well received. Real interest has been shown in most villages and we pray that the seed may take root and bear fruit as it already is in some places. In some villages we were able to carry on a program each night for eight to ten evenings and this has proved most worthwhile. We are encouraged when a young non-Christian lad, like Sarwan, aged 11, learns to tell Bible stories enthusiastically and when a woman like Prem Bai, decides to give her heart to Christ like her husband and is baptized, and when a group of Christians sit night after night, keen to sing and to learn more of God's word and will.

Five Days in a Royal Palace

This year was a very busy one as usual. Touring, of course, is always first in the list in January and we spent more days in villages this past year than in any former one, covering large parts of both the Sitamau section and the Neemuch section, which was a legacy to me from Faith Weber when she got married in 1955. It is, of course, impossible to visit every village in which Christians are found within the four months or more of touring time when the roads are passable, but we do as much as possible, and leave the rest to God.

Outstanding memories of last cold season were: the cold which continued practically the whole time we were out but which did not do us much harm in health; the number of women from non-Christian groups who came for teaching in several camps; the opening of the Children's Home in Neemuch which was a pleasant interruption; and the royal palace in which we were allowed to stay for the last five days of our touring. The latter is on the banks of our largest river, the Chambal, and it gave us not only a lovely view from our upper windows, but also a feast of delicious fish on our last day.

Literary and Other Activities

Meetings which interrupted us were the first convening of one of the new Commissions in charge of "Mission" work, the meeting of the Agricultural Institute, Allahabad (a new experience for me and a most rewarding one), and a delightful week with our fine group of women evangelists. I am once more the convener of the committee on their study and refresher course, and we all had a wonderful time together. The study book for 1957-58 is The Pilgrim's Progress, and I am having an interesting time setting questions and marking papers. Another "literary" effort in which I am involved is that of preparing the monthly study leaflets for the Women's Fellowship of the Indian Church in this province, and getting it into the printer's hands before the deadline each month. We chose the subject of "Faith" and wrote of the lives of ten eminent Christians during the ages, all in simple dramatic form. These have been well received by the groups in the various centres.

A great addition to our staff in Sitamau this past year has been our first Indian lady who is trained to take a responsible position in the work of village evangelism—Mrs. Agnes Robinson. Her leadership has meant a great deal in the conducting of a fine Christian Home Week program as well as an interesting two days celebrating Independence Day and the centenary of the First War of Independence (formerly known as the Mutiny). She is an experienced and excellent teacher too. In touring she is indefatigable with the women and children, and they all like her very much and find her teaching most interesting. She has been with us since April 1st.

I enjoyed a restful holiday again in my favorite Kashmir with two good friends. Then came the rains but not so much rain as usual this time so there will be some shortage of crops, we fear. During the rainy season we suffered two waves of the flu epidemic, but few cases were very serious here and only one death resulted, that of a very delicate baby. My turn to have the illness came after we went on tour.

Annual meetings of the bodies in charge of the work took place in October, and were very interesting, both from the fact of the newness of the personnel and the various new policies introduced. I was happy to be able to present the photos preserved by the Historical Committee, all mounted and put into loose-leaf books for display, and all were much interested in seeing these.

Please remember all rural work in your prayers. I should have mentioned also that we now have a class of country boys here learning tailoring to help them to earn a better living, and several are showing the benefit of the Christian teaching and fellowship of this small congregation.

Bible-Women at Work

During our morning devotions this week, one of the Bible-women read the verse: "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few." That verse describes the situation in this area for we have not been able to replace Mrs. Hiralal of Manpur who was retired in May because of her age and ill health. The woman who accompanied her to the villages is not qualified to carry on alone and so there is nobody to do women's work there. We hope that until we can send somebody to Manpur the one or two Christian women living in that area may be able to give a Christian witness through their everyday living.

The two Rasalpura women continue to go to the ten nearby villages. There seems to be no opposition to their work; in fact, they are usually welcomed and always there are women and sometimes men who can take time from their work in the home and fields to come to listen to the stories and songs. One of the women is a nurse and is able to give needed advice to mothers. The other Bible-woman is in charge of our children's group here in Rasalpura, a very important job which she volunteered to do.

There is nothing spectacular to report about the work but we hope that by the lives and the work of these women others may come to know of the love of Christ for all.

Work in Sixty-Seven Villages

"If so be that we suffer with Him, that we may be also glorified together." Paul came to mind many a time in 1957 as I suffered with Him and glorified in His love and His grace. For many painful weeks a subversive element in the church brought grief to us all and church leaders, walking in darkness, determined to condone evil and befriend it. Through it all, I experienced a fuller comprehension of vicarious suffering and of the depth of redemptive love.

1957 touring brought relief from the strain, for the year began and ended with a concentrated period of village evangelism. In a church rapidly growing cautious and materialistic, it is a privilege to be an evangelist, and even cooks, drivers and camp helpers share the joy and enthusiasm. All our "tourers" burst into new life in January.

when we camped in a village with twenty Christian families and found every man, woman and child eager to sing and learn in spite of the cold. It was an enriching ten days but, unfortunately we had to move on. It was fortunate, too, however, for only by moving on could we visit Christians in the other five camping areas. We were able to reach only 62 villages because of Mandal and Ayog meetings that had to be held in February.

April brought a fine Presbyterial meeting. Being re-elected president for the third year, I have again had the fellowship by mail of our 16 societies. Now that a United Church of North India Women's Fellowship is in the process of being organized, our W.M.S. groups have become Women's Fellowships. My prayer is that, in the interests of uniformity, our Presbyterial may never lose sight of the missionary calling of the church.

Summer vacation in Ceylon and Christmas back in Mandleshwar have helped to make 1957 a good year, though little can be said of either in this report.

November and December went quickly as we daily worshipped God in Christ with Christians in 67 villages. Being wanted and needed in all 67, we gladly spent ourselves in service that His sheep may grow in the knowledge and love of their Shepherd and, hearing His voice, follow Him.

MEDICAL WORK

MURIEL R. BAMFORD

Missionary Nurse,
Banswara, India

Growth and Progress

As we look back and assess our work for the year, it is good to see growth and to know our staff are assuming more responsibility and doing it cheerfully. Our patient count is up a great deal and many come to us in a very serious condition. Staff nurses are now quite experienced at putting down Levine tubes for nasal feedings and there was once when there was more call for such feedings than there were tubes. Searching in the classrooms for the one used for demonstration, we found it had been chewed by rats.

We are quite pleased that this year our intravenous therapy is much more satisfactory. Since a short busman's holiday in Vellore we have put much of their methods into practice and are using the same kind of equipment. But we do have our problems in the distilling of water. Our distiller is very antiquated and it takes hours and much kerosene to get a few pints. We have been pricing a new distiller but have not yet been able to get one. At present we are using distilled water that comes all the way from Ratlam, 57 miles away, in the bus. It is not uncommon to have more than one intravenous running at one time. We feel very certain that a number of patients owe their lives to continuous drip intravenous feedings. Recently a man came in with strangulated hernia and was operated on late at night, with intravenous running to bring up his blood pressure. Bowel resection was done to remove a large part of gangrenous bowel, and in less than the week he was walking all over the hospital. A modern miracle! Another, a farmer, gored by a bullock, was admitted with many feet of intestine on the outside of the abdominal wall in which were several perforations. Successful surgery goes before but how helpless the doctor would feel had we not this method of feeding the patient before he is able to take nourishment by mouth.

Our nurses are getting a wider variety of experience this year too since Dr. Naku, who has had advanced work in eye surgery and tuberculosis, is doing more along this line. Our small T.B. ward is very much overcrowded.

We were pleased with the results of the nurses' examinations last year and especially proud that one of our nurses led her whole year in all the Mid-India Board of examinations. She is an exceptional student and I hope will prove herself worthy of being sent on for advanced studies. It is good to know that there are scholarships available for such as she, especially since she is an orphan.

Sundar, Kamla and Others

In many letters friends are asking about Sundar, the "orphan" girl who asked to come to Banswara for her training, since she was brought up as a hospital baby here when her mother died at her birth. She was sent to Neemuch Babies' Home from here. In her first months here her father got news that she was here, and there was a great family reunion. How thrilled she was to find her family! She is doing nicely in her third year but is still bothered by chronic sinusitis. Last week she had a tonsilectomy with the hope that she may soon be rid of all infections. She is still not robust and is on special vitamins—Ovaltine and such.

Many of you remember Kamla, the child left here with both legs completely paralyzed by polio and one arm partially paralyzed. She is now about thirteen, a big girl becoming very mature and pretty. Her picture was once in World Friends. This year she is the thrilled possessor of a new wheel chair that she can manipulate herself. It has three bicycle wheels and a handle at the front by which she steers. With her strong hand she turns a handle that makes the wheels go. Ramps have been made at the school and the church and she does not need to be lifted or carried. It gives her a lot of independence and she is so grateful to kind friends who have made it possible.

Ranji, our hospital handyman, is receiving Christian teaching from our pastor and is asking for baptism. He is ever grateful for the help given to his wife who has been a T.B. patient, off and on, for the past two years. She has been in Madar Sanatorium for the past five months. Ranji has the three children with him here: Gavanti, the oldest, is in school; Manikant plays around and minds the baby Prahask, who was born here and receives much loving care from his nurse aunties. A healthier, happier specimen of continuous activity would be hard to find.

This is the cold season and the time of burn patients. At this time there are three with deep and infected third degree burns. The amount of vaseline dressings is tremendous. Now the three are well on the road to recovery.

Challenges and Blessings

Early in the year, through the ministry of David McKee, a newly-arrived young Irish evangelist, four of our nurses were converted. Now at the end of the year, the spiritual life of our hospital staff is one of our most earnest challenges. There are still many of our nurses who know Him by name but not as personal Saviour, and our united witness in hospital to the large number of Hindu and Moslem patients leaves much to be desired.

We greatly rejoice in our new X-ray, which is not only invaluable in the hospital but is being used in our expanded Public Health program. The incidence of tuberculosis is high in India and there is a crying need for more chest survey work to be done. Many thanks to you who have helped to make this possible.

For several years Miss Budden, our public health visitor, has been going out to surrounding villages to do health teaching. Now she is concentrating on teaching the patients and their relatives who are in hospital. Large interested groups gather to hear her talks on child care, diet, sanitation, immunization, etc. The people in hospital have more leisure and our impression is that this method will be more effective. With increased public health funds, we are carrying out a greatly expanded immunization program.

Dr. R. B. McClure has been coming down every month or so, bringing an operating team with him, to do surgery and act as consultant. We appreciate this help tremendously.

Our new midwifery class keeps us on the jump. Their ability to understand my stammering Hindi is improving and there is plenty of clinical material for them. A general check-up has been done on each of the lepers in the near-by Home this year. We are hoping to do more for them this coming year.

For my holidays this year I went to Nepal. It was a great joy to me to see the growth in the work of the United Mission to Nepal. This is made up of a large number of Mission Boards who have work in India. They are co-operating in this pioneer work there—a truly thrilling thing!

We had another great joy this year. We attended the graduation in Indore of the first Hindi-trained Sister-Tutors to graduate in India. (Sister-Tutors are nurses trained to teach nurses.) The School for Graduate Nurses is sponsored by many different denominational Boards in the Mid-India area, including ours.

It has been a tremendous blessing to me to have Mrs. Graham (nurse) to work and pray and laugh with this year. She has made a great many improvements in our hospital. Seeing her brown hair and her tremendous energy you would never dream that she will soon have to retire. She has a big generous heart and a fervent love for her Lord. I thank God for her and for all the joys and blessings which He has showered upon me this year.

Life in a Little Rural Hospital

It is always nice to be able to report that more people are availing themselves of the services of our little rural hospital. This year the in-patient numbers are up twenty per cent. This was due in part to a most unusual bit of co-operation on the part of the weather—the monsoon was at no time heavy enough to drown out the village roads so that there was no rainy season slack spell.

More important than numbers, in fact more important than anything else in 1957, has been the wave of interest in the Christian message. On the retirement of our elderly Bible-woman, a half-time worker, her duties were taken over by a young married woman already helping in the out-patient department. Scarcely a morning prayer session passes but someone prays that somehow our small hospital may be used as an evangelizing centre. Now with this young mother going about every day with her sweet singing voice, her Bible pictures and her clear, simple stories and messages we are finding many patients asking for her to come and talk to them, asking her questions, and buying Christian books and tracts.

Nurse aide affairs have been in fairly good order too. Three little girls went right over the top in examination marks and so encouraged us that we have kept on classes for them in their so-called "experience year" and have permission now for them to go on into midwifery classes in July this year. One of our senior staff, with the help of a scholarship from Canada, has gone to Indore for her post-graduate studies and we have been fortunate in securing the wife of our new young pastor, a nurse of several years' experience, in her place meanwhile. Staff are sufficient in number too, so that it has been possible to handle even the increased numbers of patients.

When Chikitsa Ayog (Medical Commission, remember?) and the new Mandal (successor to Mission Council) agreed to recommend that I take furlough in 1958 they also appointed Miss Muriel Bamford, now in Banswara, to take over from me this spring. She will give fresh impetus to the work and will be a real asset in nursing affairs with her enthusiasm and her experience here and at home in girls' work.

FRANCES E. STEVENSON

Missionary,
Hat Piplia and Indore, India

This report will cover life and work in both Hat Piplia and Indore. I took over the Hat Piplia work from Miss Lillias Brown towards the end of April, thus taking up again the work I had left in 1953.

Hails and Farewells

There have been a number of arrivals during the year worthy of note. Into the hospital were born triplets, who are soon to celebrate their first birthday. I should also report the arrival of a second daughter born to our little friends Snehlata and Phulji of whom I wrote in the Torch. Indore has had many happy times of welcoming back missionaries. In Hat Piplia we have had the pleasure of welcoming a new pastor, for whom we had a special service of Ordination and Induction in December.

One would like also to include among welcome arrivals a new pump for the well in Hat Piplia, a new sewing machine for the hospital there and a new burshane (gas) stove to lighten kitchen and servant problems, and a new screen and projector arrangement to show slides and filmstrips in the villages.

Farewells are almost the order of the day in Indore. The post-graduate School of Nursing has various courses during the year so there is the thrill of students, having completed their studies, setting out to enter useful service. The nurses-in-training in all our hospitals have their first four months together in Indore. We just get to know some of them when their term here is up so we have to bid them farewell. Two happy farewells were to Mrs. Malti James, going to Canada for study and to Shirin, a girl whose husband had left her for years but he seemed to have a change of heart and came to take her home.

Exercise for the Mind

During the year I have taught handicrafts both to the preliminary training students, a class of nearly 30, and to the post-graduate students. In the Hat Piplia school I teach English conversation for an hour twice a week when there and I even taught Hindi to the ten girls who came from South India to enter Nursing. At our Bible-women's refresher course I gave talks on village improvement and for a Bible conference in Indore led the discussion hour. During the hot season we had very successful Vacation Schools of six days for two hours a day both in Hat Piplia and Indore. All the available Christian children in Hat Piplia, 36, came and I had two young girls come for coaching before the school, who were a great help. In Indore we had about 50 children and quite a number of helpers.

I have continued as manager of the Grant Memorial Bookshop, which, without a full-time clerk, is too often found closed. When our Mandal Literature Committee appointed a special day for literature,

I made up nine sets of books, over 125 in each and sent them to pastors for display and sale. A dream I had during my last term came to fulfilment in this one. There was need for a book of stories with teaching value and in Hat Piplia we had all the back numbers of our little paper published weekly in Hindi, "Rays of Light." These were handed over for selection of stories and in the month of July this project came to fruition in a book of eighty stories, printed in our own Rasalpura Press. Contributions were received from friends in Canada and a grant from the National Christian Council here to subsidize this book that the selling price might be low.

Weddings and Campfires

There was a very fine double wedding at the school when two of our young orphan friends of the hostel there were married, and a quickly arranged wedding when an orphan who helped in the Children's Home decided she wanted to get married during her holiday here. The wedding cake arrived less than a half hour before the wedding, hot from the oven without icing. Since we had a display table all ready for it, decorate it we must. Icing would melt. We covered it with white tissue paper and a fringe of the same, placed a small cut-glass vase on top with artificial lilies of the valley and it took its place with due elegance.

A warm memory of the year is a campfire in Hat Piplia. During school holidays in September when children were home from the central station schools we felt the need of some special activity. A picnic was out as the grass had not yet been cut. Seeing a fire in the distance reminded us of the delight of a campfire. Thus it was planned and with a campfire as the centre a very simple program, participated in by many, drew us together in a bond of Christian fellowship. Miss Baxter, visiting us at the time, had brought firework sparklers and the memory is sweet of the children's delight as they ran round and round the fire, stars seeming to fall from their hands.

Christmas Activities

Our activities in connection with Christmas were many. I began preparations early as I had both stations to think of. In Indore our patients' handcrafts for many months were in anticipation of Christmas trade. We made Christmas cards by putting new enclosures in the old cards, of which we sold about 1,000. From card cuttings, a by-product of the local press we made gift enclosure cards and tags, using cut-outs from old greeting cards. This proved very remunerative and enabled us to give presents of clothing to a number of patients, to provide fruit and eggs to several daily and to send clothing and gifts to the four children of one widow with T.B. We also made Bible verse wall cards, printed in Rasalpura and patients pasted on the lovely flowers cut from floral greeting cards.

In Hat Piplia we had the usual school closing with Christmas story and small gift and candy for all. The candy holders were made of Christmas cards shaped into a cone shape. There was a story to be told to the Nursery School and small gifts and candy for their closing. We have had between 12-15 children this year. The children from the hostel who had no home to go to for holiday came over Christmas Eve for their presents from the tree and for lemonade and a cookie with a face on it. Just as we gathered, Miss Boyd came with a parcel from the post containing a coloring book for each child from Miss Brown.

The women of the congregation had made clothing at their meetings during the year for the village Christian children. We had four good visits in the villages when we went to distribute these gifts.

Memories of a Happy Furlough

My furlough was rather short (I was only eleven months out of India) but it was packed full of pleasure and interest. The few weeks in England and Scotland on the way home included a visit to Edith Bevan's home in Manchester and on from there to Lillian Johnson's wedding in Bolton with Edith's sisters. From Manchester I went north to the moorland country of Bleasdale, then on through the lake country to Barrow-on-Furness, where there is one of the loveliest of the old English abbeys, still inviting people to turn aside and worship. "Here . . . shall God be adored." In Barrow I met Dr. Maude Smith with whom I spent my first year in India thirty years ago. I saw Dr. T. Z. Hodge in Edinburgh and his daughter, Dr. Alice, who helped us out once when we were very short of doctors. The Hodge home is a rallying place for many Indians who go to Edinburgh, for Dr. Hodge, as one of the National Christian Council secretaries, had many friends all over India. I was fortunate too, in being able to visit Auntie McHarrie and her niece in Prestwick and with them had such a delightful drive down through the Burns country and along the edge of the bay by Ailsa Craig. Back in London again I had a wonderful week-end driving down into Devon, going by Stonehenge, Wells, on to Glastonbury, where St. Joseph's thorn and King Arthur's grave, in addition to the ruined Abbey give one pause to think of the beginnings of Christianity in England. On from Glastonbury we went to the Westward Ho country of Clovelly and Bideford and the Valley of the Doons and Dartmoor with its ponies and so across to the south coast, back through Honiston and Wilton to Salisbury with its beautiful cathedral and grounds that Constable loved to paint and so on to London.

The Canadian summer was as lovely as ever and the marvellous colorings of the Gaspé so brilliant. There were many old friends in many places and many new ones to meet as one went about on deputation work—altogether a memorable furlough.

History is Made at Indore

I was only back in India three days when Miss Bevan and I set out on an oral examination trip that took us up to Jhansi, then down to Bilaspur and to many other places in these central provinces and finally back home to Indore and Banswara.

One of our chief considerations in our work here is improving the curriculum and providing text books for our nurses' training program and each year sees some advance made in one area or another. It is particularly gratifying to see the progress our post-graduate school is making under Miss Bessie McMurchy's directorship. In December we had the graduation of the first group of nurses in India to take their post-graduate training in their own language. Our school gives its training in Hindi, while the two other schools giving post-graduate training in India, one in Delhi and one in Vellore, give their training in English. So, we made history on December 11th when our first group of Sister-Tutors received their diplomas.

We had another big day in December also when our Paediatric Ward was formally opened. It is our old Children's Ward, redecorated and rearranged under the direction of Miss Jean Cradock, who has come out to help us make this a real demonstration ward. The rooms look beautiful with their ivory and apple green walls and pretty chintz curtains. The extra money for this ward in equipment and maintenance is coming from a most generous gift made by the I.O.D.E. of $3,500. We hope to be training some nurses in Paediatric Nursing as a specialty and so make a further contribution towards improving nurses' training through Miss Cradock's skill and experience. We are also very fortunate here in Indore to have a very fine doctor as head of the paediatric section of the state hospital. We continue to have most happy relationships with the doctors and nurses in charge in the state hospital and in the Medical College. This close co-operation augurs well for the future of nursing in the state, where those who have its welfare at heart are striving to attract into nursing girls of matriculation standing. This is the standard set by the Indian Nursing Council and we are all trying to keep up to it.

We have had a fairly busy year in the hospital as the statistics will show. But there are one or two things that statistics do not reveal, our happiness when we are able to bring health and healing to our patients and our deep distress when we are not successful.

FLORENCE E. GRUCHY

Missionary Nurse,

Sulochna, Sumitra and Suman

One of the most memorable events of the year occurred on January 15th with the advent of our triplets. Born in our hospital to a poor delicate little mother, who had not come for ante-natal care, these three wee lassies had a hard time at first in their fight for survival. But they have succeeded and they have been a challenge and a source of great joy to all the staff. Now we are all looking forward to a real celebration on the occasion of their first birthday. One of the babies, Sulochna, is a perfect little specimen. Sumitra and Suman are much smaller but coming along wonderfully well now and they are so sweet! Unfortunately their mother has passed away. According to the history this confinement apparently brought on a recurrence of an old trouble in the spine, which proved to be tuberculous. She became paralyzed a few days after delivery and in spite of all the doctors could do both here and in the big state hospital she gradually lost ground and died early in December. The father has not been able to meet the expense of the care of his little daughters in hospital but they have been supported throughout by interested friends from outside, and he says he will take them home when they are able to walk.

A Nursing Superintendent's Year

Our largest departments continue to be the obstetrical and the gynecological and we are glad to have this opportunity of ministering to so many mothers in India. Apart from this which is our specialty we have general services also, including sufficient surgery to enable our nurses to gain the varied experience they need for their full training and for registration of their certificates by the government. At present we have for instance three mental cases who are with us for refuge and for loving care and treatment. We are happy to report very cordial and mutually helpful relations with the officials of the state medical and health and nursing services. It is gratifying to see the progress that the country is making in the cause of public health and to have a share in this fine project.

Since July we have been able to maintain a more adequate proportion of graduate staff nurses. They have helped us to carry on without too much difficulty even during the absence of our two well qualified and experienced members—Mrs. Malti James who left in September for one year's post-graduate study in Canada, and Mrs. Tara William who transferred temporarily to the School of Post-graduate Studies in order to complete her Sister-Tutor course. The person who has helped most however in filling the gap has been Miss Jean Cradock, the young specialist in Paediatric Nursing who arrived in September as a new appointee to our missionary staff. She started work at once and relieved me of a heavy burden of supervision and administration in that department. Her new Paediatric

Ward is a joy to behold, and the nurses are showing a keen interest in its efficient functioning.

Since returning from a delightful summer holiday in Ceylon, life seems to have been particularly busy. A considerable amount of my "off duty" time has been spent in attending to the publication of a new Hindi text book on Paediatric Nursing, which our Mid-India Board of Examiners for Nurses was asked to prepare, with financial aid from the government. My share has been to continue what Miss L. Scott started before she left on furlough, namely editing and proof reading. We are fortunate in having very good co-operation from the Roman Catholic local press which is printing the book, and we hope that this edition of 3,000 copies will be ready for use very shortly.

Paediatric World at Indore

As a result of interest aroused in Canada by Dr. R. McClure's presentation of certain special needs in this part of India, the I.O.D.E. offered to install, equip and maintain a special paediatric ward in one of our hospitals. I had the good fortune to be selected as the nurse to initiate this project. Since joining the happy family at Indore in mid-September, life has been very full and interesting. Our "Great Day" occurred on December 12th, 1957, when Dr. Catherine Whittier officiated at the opening ceremony of the new ward, which was well attended by visitors from other stations as well as by local outside guests. The ceremony was very simple and informal. Before Dr. Catherine was able to cut the ribbon, a little patient who was learning to walk, toddled out from beneath the ribbon with a bouquet of roses tied to her Indian walker and made straight for Dr. Buchanan, much to everybody's delight and amusement. However, after the ribbon was cut, a nurse assisted our little Dayawanti to present the bouquet to Dr. Catherine.

The ward looked very attractive with our gay new bed and screen covers in use and decorated with toys and balloons. The well babies added a touch of reality by playing on the floor prettily dressed for the occasion and looking very nice. The general color scheme is pale green and cream and the ward is bright and airy since the installation of new large steel-framed windows. Eleven patients can be accommodated and beds are also provided for the mothers of four breast-fed babies. For the other parents, there are mats and blankets for them to sleep on the floor. A diet kitchen and office open off the ward and we are using a former bathroom as a treatment room. The small observation room which we have, at present is being occupied by some of the well motherless babies who are in our care. In this way the students will gain experience in handling both well and sick children.

Dr. Buchanan and Dr. Whittier have both taken great interest in this project and were responsible for the initial planning of the ward. I have also been greatly helped by having a junior staff nurse as my assistant, who is at present doing her service year, Miss Irene Harri Singh. Miss Singh has a good knowledge of English and is showing a keen interest in paediatrics. I have also been extremely fortunate in being able to benefit from Miss Gruchy's wisdom and experience and I am very grateful for the wonderful co-operation I have received from her and all my other missionary colleagues. The paediatrician at the big state hospital, Dr. Pohowalla, has also shown a special interest in our project. He welcomes this contribution from Canada for the promotion of paediatric care in India and has offered to assist us in any way that we would like.

During the summer I am planning to study Hindi at the Landour Language School, as it will be so much nicer to be able to converse with the parents of my little patients and with the student nurses whom I am trying to instruct. As we move into 1958 I hope that we will also make progress in the paediatric world here in Indore.

Commer Was a Funny but a Useful Car

On December 30th we said good-bye to the Old Commer (yellow colored) car which served this hospital and many parts of Nimad district for eight years. This was a funny car. It seemed very nice and comfortable at the time we bought it in Indore city but when we drove back to Mandleshwar on unpaved roads the dust simply covered us and all the samman inside. Many attempts were made to cure this bad behaviour of the car; it improved just a little before it left us.

There were times when the car simply refused to climb up the ghats on the way to Indore. Twice I walked over the two ghats. Once a big rope had to be tied to the car and the wayling truck pulled it on to the top of the mountains. Such had been the life of the yellow car and yet how very well it served us. It brought all the load of medicine boxes and supplies from Indore. It brought many sick and obstructed delivery cases from villages to hospital but the most interesting work it did for us this year is as follows.

The public health nurse, Marybai, used the car a great deal in visiting homes both in Mandleshwar and villages hereabout. Mondays she took the car to Chotikhargone and Dhargaon. Tuesdays she visits homes of expectant mothers. Wednesdays are our ante-natal clinic days. Marybai brings these expectant mothers to clinic. Each of them gets M.V. tablets and some powdered milk. Thursdays are the baby clinic days. Marybai brings the mothers with their babies. Fridays she visits the villages, namely Dhargaon, Sangi, Samraj, Dhapla and Choli. Saturdays are my days for wayside clinics.

Marybai and I go to Chotikhargone, Dhargaon, Katargaon, Bandera, Maliyakhed, Karikasba and Padliya.

The number of the sick including homes of the expectant mothers we visited is over 2,000. So the medical car known by its yellow color did a great deal for us. Wherever the car stopped, people just rushed to it either for medicine, or to have a friendly talk or for advice.

Chikitsa Ayog (the Medical Commission) has done a big piece of work in immunizing the Christian community at all our stations this year. The immunization was against typhoid and tetanus in adults and children. Triple-antigen was given to babies and to the pre-school children. One of our teachings to these villagers is to get them immunized against these diseases. Few, however, have responded. Typhoid in children and young people was bad this year. I went to several distant villages to bring these patients into hospital for treatment. One of these patients was an eight-year-old son of an orthodox Brahmin. I do not remember whether the father or any member of the family ever came to the car for medicine or advice. But this particular day, with grieved and humble spirit, the father requested that the child be taken to the hospital. During hospitalization the child was very ill for the first three or four days. His father and the relatives started losing faith in us. This was the time, we told them, to put their faith in Christ to whose hospital they had come. After that the child gradually got better and left on the tenth day. On my wayside clinic I asked the father to bring the child to the car. The little son looked very well and we praised the Lord for His goodness which has led us throughout this year.

SONU CANARA

Superintendent of Nurses,
Mandleshwar, India

Staff of Seven

When we started the year we had two staff nurses, two service year graduate nurses and two nurse aides. At present we have two staff nurses, two service year graduate nurses and four nurse-aides-in-training. These four girls took three months training at the Central Preliminary Training School with the probationary nurses. After one year's training and one service year they will be considered graduate nurse aides and will be able to seek employment in our mission hospitals only, as this course is not recognized by the government. With this staff of seven we find that we can adequately do the work of our forty-bed hospital.

Due to the fact that our nurses lead a very quiet life in a village hospital, through the kindness of Dr. C. L. Whittier of Indore, Miss Bessie MacMurchy, Director, Post-Graduate School of Nursing in Indore, and Miss M. H. Williamson, formerly of Amkut, now of Wingham, Ontario, the nurses were able to take trips of interest. Two of the girls went to Neemuch to attend a meeting of the Nurses' Auxiliary of the Mid-India Board. Another of the girls who had never been out of Central India attended the meeting of Trained Nurses Association of India at Lucknow and en route stopped to see the famous Taj Mahal at Agra. One of the girls was able to accompany the party of nurses in the post-graduate school who went on a sight-seeing tour of Bombay. They all came back much refreshed and with a much broader and enlightened idea of their work and of the country in which they live.

This year we have been able to provide the nurses with inside recreational games such as Chinese checkers, carrom, and snakes and ladders boards. After an hour's study each evening the girls gather for prayers and games. Once a month there is a Nurses' Auxiliary meeting. At these meetings they generally do some sewing for the hospital, such as, making little dresses and hats for indigent new-borns, mending sheets and making towels. They are usually able to take a late afternoon stroll to the beautiful Nerbudda River on which our village is situated.

Christmas started around the 20th with decorating the hospital and the Nurses' Home and shopping for gifts. On the 24th the annual dinner was given and some 30 people were present. After the dinner carols were sung in English, Hindi, Marathi and Malayalam. Just before midnight one of the girls dressed as Father Christmas, distributed the gifts. Although none of the girls got home for Christmas all were happy in the gay and homelike atmosphere of the residence.

Besides being responsible for the hospital as Nursing Superintendent, I have had the pleasure of teaching for three months in the Central Preliminary Training School in Indore. At the request of Miss MacMurchy, I helped to conduct the graduate nurses from the Post-Graduate School of Nursing on a week's tour of places of interest in Bombay.

Last but not least I owe a great deal to Mrs. Jennings' close co-operation with us. As she is a trained nurse she has insight into our problems and has given a great deal of time and energy for the benefit of the hospital and nurses' home.

In Service for Others

This year has been a busy but a happy one, in service for others. The out-patients department more than doubled the numbers of 1956. After opening the new Children's Home the part of the hospital occupied by the children was converted back to wards and this increased the bed capacity considerably. Dr. Halla, Medical Superintendent, has done a fine piece of work in raising the standard of the hospital. With the assistance of Miss Patel, the head nurse, we are able to help the doctor in many ways. At present there is not a lady doctor on the staff.

This year our nursing staff has been most co-operative and helpful and we have had many happy times together. On Sunday evening the nurses gather at the bungalow for a sing-song, and though there is no music, we do make a "joyful noise unto the Lord." The sing-song ends always with a tea party. Many times during the year and especially on India's special days we take the opportunity for a social gathering and tea party. On Republic Day some of the staff, the doctor's wife, Mrs. Halla, and other helpers attended one of the flag services, after which we mixed and distributed milk to over one thousand school children. The hospital is the contact centre for the distribution of the food gifts through the World Church Service Relief, which is a great help to our patients especially the tuberculous cases.

The flu epidemic hit Neemuch hard. All the town doctors worked together and from time to time met at the Collector's house to discuss ways and means of helping all the victims particularly those in the villages and surrounding districts.

In the month of August Miss Cates of Sitamau came to lead a ten-day retreat for the nurses and to help in the women's work around this area. We all received great help from these meetings and especially enjoyed learning the new choruses.

The nurses' sale was another big event this year. The amount raised for the Nurses' Conference Fund was Rs. 104. It meant a lot of hard work but was worth it, not only from the money point of view but for the opportunity to meet together for a social gathering.

The meetings of the Mid-India Board of Examiners which was held here during the month of November was followed immediately by the conference for nurses from the various affiliated hospitals and training schools, which meant we were hosts to about 130 guests from many parts of Mid-India. All enjoyed being in Neemuch, especially seeing the opium factory, and the old interesting fort at Chittoor where we went for the picnic.

For the nursing staff, perhaps the most interesting event of the year was the turning of the sod for the new nurses' residence. The building is now well on the way to completion. The old residence will be converted into wards thus enlarging the hospital bed capacity.

One of the old faithful hospital cleaners retired at the end of the year. Jamma Bai has worked for this hospital over thirty years. We miss her around the wards and hope her health will improve and that she will enjoy some happy years of retirement. Some grateful patients like to show their appreciation in outward signs. We are indeed thankful to one man, a carpenter, who gave a number of benches for the hospital people.

The introduction of the new coinage in India was a great event for all. Many of the poor illiterate found it hard to get used to the change and the new system. It is to take three years to complete the change. The cost of living is steadily rising in this part of the country and is noticed particularly in the food and drug prices. It is often hard for the poor to obtain the necessary drugs because of their high cost.

Christmas was a happy time for all. The nurses' party was a great success. After a lovely dinner there were games and carols and then many lovely gifts were exchanged.

Report of the Children's Home

On January 14th the new Home was opened and many Christian and non-Christian friends attended the opening ceremonies. But more space is still needed to accommodate the thirty children now resident, and there is a long waiting list.

Sundar and David

Sundar, a baby girl of 1½ years, was being brought from Hat Piplia Hospital to Neemuch, a journey of about eighty miles. On the way the guard of the train saw this child looking out through the window. Knowing the woman in charge, he asked her where she was going and whose child she had. He was told the child was being taken to the Children's Home, Neemuch. The guard said, "All right, you tell Sister I want to adopt this child; it looks like me." After all the routine of adoption was through one evening the pastor and several of the church Elders were at the Home. The pastor offered prayer and then handed the child to the new father. The guard, with tears in his eyes, promised to love and cherish the child. We are all so happy to see how much happiness this child has brought into the lives of the guard and his wife. As they live in Neemuch it gives many opportunities to see how they love and care for her.

David, a boy of four years; was adopted on the 23rd of December. When Miss Singh, came to see the children to choose a child, David ran to her, played with her bag and asked her if she had come to spend Christmas here. Then he asked her to fasten a button on his jersey which he could not manage himself. So said Miss Singh, "This is the boy for our family." David went away crying as he was handed over at the station, but letters from the family tell us that he is very happy and is making the new adjustments well. This family will be living in Boroda where Faith and David are (Faith who was here) so we shall have reports of David from time to time.

Greetings from the Children

Six older children attend the Mission School on the compound and are happy there especially when there are opportunities to take part in sports and drama. They all love Christmas and it is a great time for them all as they stand around the tree and sing their Christmas carols and then receive their gifts.

Sunday is a day they enjoy—church in the morning when they dress in their best; Sunday School in the afternoon. They can sing very nicely indeed. After Sunday School they return to their Home for the evening meal which is always something special on Sunday, then they come to the bungalow, announce that they are ready and off we go for our walk. The garden is across the field from the compound. The children play around, then go for a walk to see the flowers. After this they return to the bungalow for cookies or sweets, then run away to their Home happy and contented. The youngest member of the family is 1¼ years old. The older girls love to push him in his push-cart and it is a hard task preventing them from spoiling the lad.

Two girls on the staff are our own Mission orphans. They took the course at Shahpur on Home Training and then came here. Two nurse aides, two ayas and a matron complete the staff.

The family send their greetings to you all across the seas and say "Thank you" for all you are doing to make it possible for them to live in this lovely home with its playground.

Varied Duties

The work I have done this year has been more varied than ever before. In March I became Secretary-Treasurer of the Mid-India Board. Miss Scott of our Mission had held that unenviable position for several years; when she left on furlough, the task became mine. A few weeks later I took over still another job from her, that of Public Health Director under the Mandal. Then in April I left the Ratlam Hospital, rejoicing in the fact that at last I would be able to do public health work. My enthusiasm and hopes for the future soared aloft. Their flight was a short one. In May Miss MacIntyre who had been appointed to the hospital, was called home suddenly due to the illness of her father and I was appointed once again to hospital work.

The other two jobs were still mine. Three full-time jobs! What was I to do? What can one do except as much of each as possible? I could do no active public health work. I handled the estimate and distributed vaccines so that a widespread immunization program might be carried on through our hospitals and dispensaries. As Mid-India Board Secretary I attended to the innumerable items of correspondence, issued certificates, kept records up to date, and did the countless little tasks that were necessary. As Nursing Superintendent of Ratlam Hospital, I tried to look after the needs of the patients and the nursing staff. I taught only half as many classes as formerly and rejoiced that we have Indian nurses who can take teaching responsibility. The months were fraught with a certain amount of frustration, naturally enough, and I alternated between peaks of satisfaction and sloughs of despond.

In October I attended the first annual meeting of the Chikitsa Ayog (Medical Commission) and the Masihi Seva Mandal (Board of Christian Service). The meetings were conducted with speedy efficiency and were adjourned in possibly the shortest time in Mission history.

I happened to be a member of the Mess Committee and what a time we had catering to the crowd. In order to please all tastes we decided to have two menus at the main meals, Hindusthani and western. We tried to ascertain previously how many would like which kind of food but we never seemed to get the right score. Perhaps it was tantalizing odors that made people change their minds about which food they would eat; perhaps in the burden of the day they forgot what order they had given; at any rate we never came out even. Fortunately the members of the Mess Committee were most adaptable and willingly ate whatever seemed to be in abundance.

In November the annual meeting of the Mid-India Board took place in Neemuch. As secretary I had to prepare the agenda for the two-day meeting. This is a most important meeting to those of us who are engaged in, or interested in, the training of nurses. The Mid-India Board of Examiners of the Christian Medical Association of India is the body with which our Mandal hospitals are affiliated.

It is recognized by the Indian government which means that its certificates are registerable in any part of India. Because of that, affiliating hospitals have to meet standards that are steadily rising. The educational requirement for students is now matriculation and the curriculum has been greatly enlarged during the past few years. We have managed to include the new subjects in our class program but matriculate girls are still not too plentiful in this part of India.

Half Way Round the World and Back

I wonder if any of my readers have reported on the first six months of the year's work, when they have been absent during the last six? Let me say that it is not an easy task, especially when you have been half way round the world from the scene of action.

Before I begin to write about the Training School I would like to let you all know how grateful my sister and I are to Miss Robson for all that she has done to make my leave of absence possible.

The examination results were gratifying. The first year students all passed their examinations. Eight second year students wrote and six passed. All the third year students who wrote passed in first and second divisions. As you already know, nurses in training in India usually study for a fourth year to obtain a diploma in midwifery. We do not teach it at Ratlam, but our nurses are sent to other hospitals in our Mission for this training.

In the Nurses' Training School most of the subjects are taught by the Indian graduate staff. We are very fortunate in having three staff nurses with post-graduate work. The classes are usually held in the morning from about seven-thirty until nine-thirty, and again in the evening from four until six o'clock. We have classes every day of the week except on Saturday afternoon.

We feel that this work of training nurses for India is a very important part of the entire health picture in the country. The hospitals in India are in need of nurses who know how to care for their own people not only with skill but with kindness as well.

JAPAN

The United Church of Christ in Japan has been making a sustained effort to win new converts to the Christian faith in preparation for the 100th anniversary of the first arrival of Protestant missionaries in Japan next year. The 1956 statistics report the membership as 167,971. The total number of Christians in Japan at the end of 1956 was 588,509, of whom 322,135 were Protestant. In all there are 74 Protestant denominations in Japan, 63 of which have memberships ranging from less than 100 to 5,000. This division into so many denominations and sects is one of the major difficulties which the Christian movement faces in the proclamation of the Gospel.

During the year 1957, the United Church of Christ in Japan put special emphasis on women's work. The Women's Department of the Church planned special programs of Bible Study, Christian Home and Family Life and other matters of concern to women. The first Leadership Training Conference for Women Leaders in the United Church of Christ in Japan was held recently as a climax to the Women's Emphasis Year. In attendance were 128 women from local churches in all parts of Japan and various Central Women's Committees.

The Women's Committee of the National Christian Council sent a donation of $1,000 to the World Council of Churches for Hungarian refugees. This was part of the offering received from the Women's World Day of Prayer in Japan last year.

Miss Katherine Greenbank was honoured at a ceremony in the Auditorium of the Kofu Girls' School on October 17th, 1957, when she was granted the title of Honorary Citizen by Kofu City, in appreciation of her work of over 30 years in education in that city.

Both Kofu and Shizuoka Girls' High Schools have put up new school buildings during this year. Shizuoka needs an addition to this new building in order to complete their total plan.

The enrolment of the Tokyo Woman's Christian College for the academic year 1957-58, was 1,573-1,348 in the four year Liberal Arts College and 439 in the two year Junior College.

Highlights of Student Activities

1957 was not without its discouragements and failures but it has been a good year, for God is always at work. To see two university students (brothers) growing in their Christian life and expanding their activities in the church, and to see them lead their parents to baptism was just one of the highlights of the past year.

In May the head of the Y.M.C.A. in Kanazawa went with me to Fukuno and after the lesson period spoke to the students about Hi-Y and the Hi-Y camp on the Japan Sea coast, not too far away. This meeting resulted in practically the entire class (over 200) going to camp in July. On their return from camp they organized a Hi-Y* group in their school and have since had regular meetings every fortnight. They also meet once a week for prayer before the day's classes begin.

We have decided to keep the Bible class separate from the Hi-Y group so as not to limit its membership to only those students who have joined the Hi-Y. Several students from this class wanted to be baptized at Christmas time but when the minister left this was postponed until Easter. The attitude of the parents to the students' decision for baptism was surprising. There has been no opposition—on the contrary they seem to be glad. One of the fathers, a teacher in the high school, attended our Christmas celebration. He entered whole-heartedly into all the fun and beamed proudly upon his son who led the beautiful candle service.

A former member of one of my high school classes, now a medical student in Kyoto University writes: "Lately I have been attending a Bible class in Kyoto. I wanted to become better through Christianity while in your class and now this time I try again. But I find it difficult to enter Christian thought. I was brought up scientifically and materialistically since childhood . . ." Even after they enter university some of these students think through their doubts as I believe this student will do.

The student of whom I wrote in last year's report, who went to the United States under the American Field Service plan for high school students writes: "I'm really enjoying American life. Especially it is a good change for me to know real faith in Christianity. Here I go to Episcopal Church every Sunday. I attend Sunday School, then sing in the senior choir at morning prayer. Besides the services in this church I'm frequently invited to the Presbyterian Church. I like this church. The services are more familiar to me. Church people are all very nice and kind over here. They are good natured and interested in others. I often have a very good time with them. The other day I attended confirmation class and was deeply interested in it. I'll send our high school class in Kanazawa what I've learned from our Sunday School here."

The university Bible class has been well attended with a good number of first year students entering at the beginning of the school year in April. The spirit of good fellowship in this class makes it a joy to teach. Music classes continue as usual and also work with two church schools.

*Hi-Y is the name used here for Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. high school groups.

Dedicated Leadership

The kindergarten in Fukuno is especially fortunate in its teachers. Through the dedicated and faithful leadership of the supervisor the influence of the kindergarten is felt in the homes. She is a woman to whom the mothers turn in time of trouble. She is frequently summoned (sometimes in the night) to the bedside of a sick child where her presence brings comfort and strength.

The mothers' class in Fukuno continues small in numbers but it is well attended. After the lesson period they enjoy chatting informally about their problems and often make their own application to the lesson.

Emphasis on Women

While in Canada this year the missionary study is centering on Japan, in the United Church of Christ in Japan this is known as the year of Women's Emphasis. The Central Committee on Women's Work has carefully planned the year's objectives and sent them out to all the congregations. These include "Evangelism in the Home," "In the Neighborhood," and "Among Working Women," "Bringing all church members into their women's association as regular active members," "Fellowship with the women of neighboring churches," "Helping to arouse interest and organize the women in churches that have not yet formed a Women's Association."

Leadership training workshops were held in November in several areas, and to these representatives came from all parts of the country. The delegate who went from Kanazawa was the president of the Joint Women's Association for Ishikawa Prefecture, which corresponds to a Presbyterian section in Canada. On her return she gave a very enthusiastic and informative report. She is a busy mother who has duties in her home and her husband's store. Church work for her means a sacrifice of time and energy which is deepening her spiritual experience.

At the autumn rally, women from eleven congregations were present. The speaker was Mrs. Sugihara from Tokyo, a member of the Central Committee. She is elderly and has poor health but seems to give all of her time and energy to the work of the church. We feel it a great privilege to have known her over a long period of years as a friend to missionaries and of the church.

During the year I have continued to lead the Bible study at the monthly meetings of the women at Nomachi Church. Two elderly women who for some time have enjoyed the fellowship in the W.A. were baptized on Christmas Sunday. It is said of one of them that when her son asked for baptism a few years ago, she came to the pastor pleading with him that he should not grant it. Now she and all the members of her home are Christians.

A small group of women meet weekly at the missionary residence for Bible study. One morning as we came to the end of our lesson on I John, chapter four, one of the ladies volunteered the following: "Here it says 'Beloved if God so loves us, we also ought to love one another.' But yesterday I was angry, so angry that I couldn't get to sleep last night, and it was all over a very trifling matter." Other members were sympathetic and offered advice. One commented, "When I feel that way, there is usually someone whom I am unwilling to forgive." While we talked and laughed together the resentment melted. She sought an early opportunity to meet with those whom she was now able to forgive. What might have been a cause of great friction became the occasion for a better understanding and a closer fellowship.

Mrs. K. was one of those to whom I had been distributing Christian literature while she was in the sanatorium. Her health insurance expired and although she was not completely cured, she left the hospital. Calling one day at her home we found her very discouraged but after an hour of friendly conversation, Bible reading and prayer, we left her with a ray of hope. That was a year ago. Her health is now steadily improving and on occasional visits since then we found her eager for instruction in the knowledge of the gospels. She was amazed when she heard that women in Canada, whom even I have never met, pray for her and for me.

Bible Classes in English

As Kanazawa is a university city, there is great demand for Bible classes in English. I have had three weekly classes, one in the medical school and two others for mixed groups. Another class is for high school students in Hakui, a town an hour distant by rail. This meets twice a month in a building used for church services and for kindergarten.

By the time this report appears in print, I shall probably be on my way to Canada for my pre-retirement furlough. In this my last annual report from Japan, I wish to thank you all for the privilege of serving as an overseas missionary. I would like to say a special thank you to those auxiliaries who have been prayer partners during the years.

The History of a Church

For those who through the last four years may have followed the history of this little church this year's report will be of special interest. Four years ago we reported that the church building had been repaired and opened again for services, for the first time in fifteen years. At that time there were six active members and 15 others attending more or less regularly. Mrs. Abiru, an elderly woman evangelist, was in charge and I was her assistant. We had one purpose, namely, to build up a church strong enough to call a pastor, and firm enough in its faith not to fail again in a time of severe testing as had happened during the war. By the end of the year 1957 we decided to call a minister and these are some the events which brought us to that decision:

We have been given a church family sufficient in numbers and in strength to make possible the calling of a minister. Four young men and women were baptized this autumn bringing our membership up to 21 members, 19 of whom are active in the life of the church. Also the average attendance at church services, prayer meeting and Sunday School is the highest in five years. About 45 people in all, some more or less regular, are attending morning or evening services.

Many rural churches even after a long period of evangelism remain small and insecure. One reason is that most country young people move into cities and large towns for employment, transferring membership to city churches. To give stability and permanence Christian homes are necessary. Hence our joy when two of our finest young people were married in September and supported by the prayers of their church family have started the first Christian home in our town. But that is not all. Two others who were recently baptized will be married in our church in the coming year. As they are both from farm homes they will begin the long process of building the first Christian farm home in this neighborhood. And yet a third couple have announced their engagement. The young man in this case is the one whom we reported two years ago as defeated by drink. He has been won back by the love and prayers of the church and is active among us again.

A sad event made it necessary to make plans immediately to call a minister. Mrs. Abiru, beloved by everyone, Christians and neighbors, died in October after a long illness. At the end of the war it was she who started this work again under great difficulties. Her death was a great shock and loss to us all but her life of prayer and her faith has greatly strengthened the faith of the church and prepared them for the task ahead.

The truth is it will be very difficult for such a small group to support a pastor. They must triple their monthly givings, although, with few exceptions, they are poor themselves even by Japanese standards. Nevertheless with fine courage they set themselves to the task and began to make plans. Then unexpectedly help came from the stronger churches.

The Church of Christ in Japan has made a plan to assist in the rehabilitation of older churches which had failed during the war. Seven such churches from among the many throughout the country were chosen and to our surprise Kawasaki Church was one of the seven. Each of the seven churches is to receive financial help equal to about $300 a year over a period of three years. At the end of the three years the church must be self-supporting. The plan also requires that a nearby strong city church act as a "mother" church giving advice and spiritual help. In our case Shizuoka Church has offered to be

"mother" to us and already their pastor and people are helping us with plans.

Encouraged by this unexpected help we have inaugurated a program of special evangelism during the next three months in our two outside appointments and in a new village where the Gospel has not yet been heard.

With the coming of the minister in April the need for my services here will be over. These five years in rural evangelism have been rich in blessings for me.

KATHERINE M. GREENBANK

Educational Missionary,
Kofu, Japan

Honorary Citizen of Kofu City

On October 17, 1957, the sixty-eighth birthday of Kofu City, the work carried on by our Canadian Mission in this prefecture for sixty-eight years was recognized by the City Council. As I have lived in the city longer than any other missionary the certificate of Honorary Citizen of Kofu City was conferred on me. The ceremony, attended by prefectural and city officials, was held on the roof garden of the City Hall; the mayor of Kofu presented the certificate and a beautiful gift—a white crystal sphere to symbolize the world and a bunch of grapes in amethyst crystal symbolizing Yamanashi, the grape-famous prefecture. Much publicity was given by newspaper and radio and it was a rare opportunity to witness to Christian truth. People kindly celebrated in various ways, and, on behalf of the Mission I gratefully accepted the honor and tried to carry out the responsibility.

A few weeks later the young women employees of the City Hall asked for an evening visit with the purpose of asking questions. For three hours we talked informally and I learned much of their outlook on life. To my surprise they suggested that we sing a hymn and one girl led in prayer. One question asked was, "You spoke of service to the city as the duty of each citizen. What do you mean by service? What can we do to serve? How are the people of Canada taught to have an interest in the people of other countries? Are they taught from childhood how to serve?" For such a long time they have limited their concern to their own family relationships and have been taught non-interference in the affairs of others that Christian service is difficult to understand and to practise.

Christian Service

Every year we see evidence of an awakening concern for those in need. At the monthly neighborhood meeting in our home, the women inconspicuously pass their mite box for collection to be used at Christmas as their contribution—this year to an old people's home. They also collect and sell newspapers to provide collection at church for the blind boys and girls who, otherwise, might feel embarrassed when the plate is passed.

Last January the pastor of Kofu Church asked if this neighborhood would take responsibility for an evening evangelistic service sponsored by the central church. One of the men has wooded property in a distant village and he brought the wood over these hills to be made into lumber for a small two-storey building, of which he rents the upper apartment and generously gives the lower for the church. He provided an organ and benches for which the women made nice soft cushions from their old kimono.

A great desire to serve is seen among the Eiwa High School girls as well. A number volunteered to give several days a week during the summer holidays to an orphanage in a nearby village. They obtained names of needy from city welfare and went, taking parcels of food and clothing, to interview and make friends with those families. They will keep in touch through the year and thus understand conditions in the city.

Much publicity is being given to the great needs of the day laborers whose wages are below subsistence level and to the need for the rehabilitation of hundreds of prostitutes who will be thrown out of employment and home when the anti-prostitution law, for which we have fought, goes into effect in April.

In January we are moving into the second wing of our concrete school building! How grateful both staff and students will be to be housed in well built rooms where the wind does not whistle through the floor during the cold winter days! Our principal, the parents and the graduates are to be congratulated on the success of this venture and we are grateful and proud that our Canadian women have had a share in making it possible.

We are grateful too for the many prayer partner letters and cards from all across Canada for they keep us reminded that we are one great world church and the problems of each part are the loving and prayerful concern of all.

What Did I Do in 1957?

I finished up my share of the teen-age leaders' guide for the mission study on Japan. Until I left Tokyo in August I taught an English Bible class twice a week. By the beginning of August I completed the compulsory language study. Four times I took charge of the monthly Bible study in Japanese for the maids in our house. Since September, except when there were exams, holidays or retreats I have been teaching English twenty hours a week to girls of Grade Seven and Eight level. That about covers my activities, but as a report it does not cover much space!

I do want to tell you that I am enjoying it all. Language study, too, was enjoyable but perhaps a little too stimulating. When I meet my former teachers now, they comment on how much better I look. Maybe a little of the pupils' youthful vitality rubs off on their teachers. Teaching these "little" girls who are still interested in English even if they are not good at it, is stimulating in its own way, but does not take too much time outside of school. I have managed to catch up on my correspondence and to attend a few movies!

A Movie in Japan

May I tell you about one of the movies? We had wanted to see it to learn what was the attitude rather than the plot. It was the story of a young Japanese minister who went to a mining community. The children welcomed him as a baseball coach. Having studied medicine as well as theology, he was able to be of real help to a "bar girl" who became ill. After a few unpleasant encounters, at which times the minister was seen praying that he might overcome the temptation to use his skill for his own ends, the miners came to him to learn "judo." He got them to try to sing "Jesus loves me" but they complained that it was too difficult and ended up by fitting words like "Jesus," "Hallelujah" and "Amen" into a drinking-song tune. The sad ending probably satisfied most Japanese audiences; the minister went away thinking that he had failed because not even one believer had been added to the church. But as he left, the miners were seen singing "Jesus loves me" to the right tune. And as we left the theater we felt that the producer had cast Christianity in a surprisingly favorable light.

What Are the Young People of Japan Thinking?

When I first came to Japan over a year ago I remember asking an older missionary, "Do the young people think at all?" I do not remember her answer now, but I do know what my answer to that question would be—certainly they think. Their thinking is much deeper and more sincere than ours is.

One of the best chances I have to hear what the young people are interested in comes from my talks with a group of university students. Our conversations cover a wide range of topics, from comparisons of western and Japanese ways of living, to deeper subjects like religion and the atom bomb.

One of the most interesting talks we have had was on the subject "The person I respect most." I was really surprised when they admitted that they respected nobody, not even themselves. When I asked if they did not respect their parents or elders, they said no. They could not respect them because they had more knowledge and education than their parents. They admitted that they loved their parents but could not admire them. Then I asked about their professors and teachers because they have more education than the students. They said how could they respect men who went around half drunk all the time. Of course that is not true of all their teachers. They used to admire the soldiers. Now they say they cannot admire them and they do not know who to look up to.

The young people say their parents and especially their grandparents do not trust them to be alone with young people of the other sex. They envy the freedom of American young people. The boys said that they wanted to be able to date and to at least be able to talk freely with girls, but their elders just did not trust them be alone together. I asked them if they were going to treat their own children in the same way as they feel their parents treat them? They said no—and I hope it will be true.

One other problem that the young men seem to feel strongly about is their position in the family. So often they have said, "I want to be an individual." In Japan, especially the country areas, the eldest son has a unique position in the family. He is pampered and treated as someone special. They are, of course, expected under all circumstances, to follow in their fathers' work, no matter how much they may dislike it. As one young man put it, "I want to be an individual. I want to be treated according to my merits and abilities, not according to the time I was born." He just wanted to be himself, not a first son.

Very few of the young people I know are baptized Christians. Most of them have attended Bible classes and so know something about it. They often bring up the subject of religion. They feel they want religion but do not need it. Some of them will admit there is a God or some superhuman power but that is as far as they can go. They think the moral teachings of Christ are very good and some have accepted that much of Christianity. One boy said one day, "Jesus Christ is the most perfect and ideal person—but I don't know if he ever existed on the earth, but his morals were very good."

These things I have said cannot be said to be true of all young people in Japan. These people I have talked to are mostly farmers' sons and so their ideas may not be the same as city boys. Also the problems may be different. I have only tried to show you here what a few of the young people in Japan are thinking about a few things.

Thirty-Eight Years of Progress

As I look back over the past thirty-eight years I am amazed at the progress that has been made in spite of the devastation and tragedies of earthquake and war. This progress has not been confined to material things and social institutions. The Christian Church has become indigenous. The responsibilities of leadership have passed from the hands of missionaries into those of Japanese Christians, and a great United Church has been firmly established. But this is not to be a report of the last 38 years, but of one year—the last full year before furlough and retirement. A change in missionary staff and a re-arrangement of work made it necessary for me to increase the amount of time given to work in the school, so I will begin this report from the standpoint of the school.

Religion in the School

The organization of the religious department of the school underwent a drastic but long overdue change. Ours was probably the last school connected with the (United) Church of Christ in Japan to require Sunday attendance at either church or a session for Bible study and worship held in the school. Since April this has become voluntary and a Saturday morning session for regular lessons has been added, following the custom of the other schools. The whole school receives regular Bible instruction in the week-day classes and takes part in daily morning worship.

Just at this time a change in staff brought us a new school "Chaplain," a young minister of our church who is giving very effective leadership in the religious life of our school. In November we observed the annual three days of conference on Christian life and faith. During this time all other lessons are dropped while leaders chosen for their suitability for each of the six school years are invited to give special instruction that will help the girls to face their problems of faith and reach life decisions. The results of the conference this year have been outstandingly good. Sixty-eight made decisions to prepare for baptism. Of these a large number were baptized in the various churches of the city on Christmas Sunday and others will be ready for the Easter services. More than fifty girls already Christian registered their purpose to give their lives in some form of Christian service, and practically the whole school indicated the desire to definitely seek for a deeper understanding of Christian faith.

The new building to provide science laboratories and other classrooms that has been made possible by the building grant from our Woman's Missionary Society is now well on the way. We expect that it will be completed in time for the new school year in April. The seventieth anniversary of the founding of the school which should have been held in November of this year will be observed at this time along with the opening of the new building.

The Story of the Lost Bible

In regard to general evangelistic work, two weekly and two monthly classes are held, and a new weekly class has been opened, conducted partly in English as this meets the desire of university students and others in improving their English. However, a small group of young women from this class whose understanding of English was not sufficient to satisfy their growing desire to understand the Christian Gospel, asked for a class which would be entirely in Japanese.

This new class has given great satisfaction to us all and others hearing of it have asked to join. The most recent addition to this group came to us in a very interesting manner. One of the members had been given a very nice Bible at the time of her baptism in the spring. On her way home from church recently she left it in the bus. Almost heartbroken at the idea of losing her Bible she reported her loss to the police. Finally she was informed that it was at the central Police Station and she might call and get it. A young woman who works as a typist in the office there had taken it in charge because she wanted to meet the person who would call for it. She said, "I have been wanting to go to church for some time. Last Sunday I stood outside the church gate trying to get up courage to go in, but I couldn't bring myself to go in alone. Will you take me with you next Sunday?" On the following Sunday when I came out of church the two girls were waiting for me. The new friend had attended church for the first time in her life and was eager to become a member of the new Bible class, into which she was warmly welcomed.

The new church building has been delayed because we cannot proceed to build until the present site, near the centre of the city, has been sold. In the meantime the church is carrying on in the barrack-like structure that was put up immediately after the war, our ears assailed by the noise of streetcars, buses, trucks and other city traffic until it is often very difficult to hear the words of the minister.

In the City of Bicycles

As I parked my bicycle in front of a store beside the row upon row of bicycles, I realized again that I was in Shizuoka, the city of bicycles, where there are more bicycles than any other place in Japan. Also here, even though the city has been practically all rebuilt since the war, you can see much of the old Japan with its narrow stony streets, dark unpainted houses, and high wooden fences right against the street.

This year has brought the completion of my two years of language study in Tokyo (although I am still continuing my studies) and my appointment as an evangelistic missionary to Shizuoka, a beautiful city surrounded by mountains and within thirty minutes of the sea. Although it is a city of about 250,000 population, it has a country appearance with its mountains and trees mirrored in its quiet streams. Because of its setting among the mountains and its proximity to the sea, its climate is mild and its soil rich and fertile. Thus it is famous for its green tea, mandarin oranges and strawberries. From my window I can usually see our famed Mt. Fuji now resplendent as a queen with her jewelled crown of sparkling snow. But it seems strange to see oranges ripening in our garden and to eat fresh strawberries in the middle of winter.

A Missionary-Minded Church

The Japanese church (Ichiban-cho—First Street) to which I have been assigned, is a small church of about 110 members, already bursting at the seams. Our school had its annual retreat the first week in December at which about 60 girls expressed their decision to dedicate themselves and about 150 made a rededication of their lives to Jesus Christ and His service. In our church which this year celebrated its 60th anniversary, six of the twelve who were baptized at Christmas were our Eiwa girls.

Our church is very missionary-minded, having undertaken the support of several theological students, and being mother church to two or three new centres for rural evangelism in the suburbs of Shizuoka. The young pastor in one of these areas, who has been one of my language teachers, has been laboring since June under great difficulty. As he has no salary, he has been living on a small grant from our church plus what he can earn teaching Japanese and English, plus donations from two or three friends. At first he held worship services, Sunday School and other church meetings in his 36-foot-square room but since December he has secured the use of the kindergarten in that area and is finding it much more satisfactory.

They Need Your Prayers

Would you also pray for our non-Christian students? Usually only three or four in our Bible classes are Christians. The non-Christian face problems of family disapproval and barrier of background, intellectual doubts, and misunderstandings due to differences of culture.

One of the thrills of teaching a Bible class came to me the day before Christmas when one of my members, an eager 16-year-old, came to our house to ask me, "How can I become a Christian?" From his conversation I learned of his problems and uncertainties. He wanted to know specifically what he must do so I told him he must first believe there is a God, a God who loves him which makes it easier. He went home promising to try the experiment of faith. He had been reading his Bible but he had never prayed. What an opportunity! He could lead a whole family to Christ. Please pray especially for him and for those with special problems.

Another joy for us has been to watch the spiritual growth of the young Japanese maid in our home. Baptized this Easter, she has grown steadily in consecration and zeal, eagerly speaking for her Lord at every opportunity and giving such a radiant witness that recently her father, not a Christian, expressed the desire to have what his daughter has found.

The Story of a Conversion

Shortly after I came to Shizuoka, I met a young woman who is the librarian of the Japan-America Cultural Centre. I should like to write a bit about her contact with Christianity and its subsequent growth.

As a student she attended a Christian high school and had her first introduction to Christianity. She became interested in the study of English and since that time has become very fluent. After finishing high school she went on to Junior College and as a member of the English Club, she began to come to the mission house. One of the J-3s who was here at that time helped with the English Club and friendships between the J-3s and the club members were soon formed. At the same time a librarian of her college spoke to my friend about Christianity and later invited her to attend a church meeting.

One Saturday night she dropped in to talk and found a meeting in progress. This group was known as the "singing group" and was made up of both Christians and non-Christians. They were in the process of planning a skiing party and she was invited to go along. Thus she began to attend this group also.

Her interest in Christianity continued and after some time she became a member of our senior missionary's Bible class.

When I arrived in 1956 she was a frequent visitor at our house and before long we became very good friends. As friends do, we talked at great length—first about incidentals, preferences, common interests and so on. Then as we felt more at ease with one another, we talked about Christianity. She had begun to go more regularly to church, but there were many problems still unsolved. Doubt and indecision stood in the way of baptism.

Summer came and I left Shizuoka, but we wrote now and then. One day I was very happy to receive a letter from her telling of her baptism.

Then vacation was over and I came back to Shizuoka. Since then our friendship has grown stronger because there is much more for us to share. With this young woman and with other young people I have known during this past year, I have come to understand more fully the meaning of Christian fellowship.

Teaching in Toyo Eiwa Girls' High School and Junior College, being associated with Torii Zaka Church as co-operating missionary, acting as W.M.S. representative on the Interboard Field Committee, and doing the work of Corresponding Secretary—these along with other things make a full and varied life.

High School and Junior College

The religious activities of the High School, where they are approximately 1,000 students, are under the direction now of a Religious Activities Council which tries to keep the students aware of the needs of others and give them opportunities to help in meeting those needs. Several times during the year, for example, special offerings are taken and the money used, as the Council decides, to help many in need. A special effort is always made at Christmas time, but a year ago the amount given was much lower than they had expected. Several days before Christmas this year one of the teachers found on her desk an unsigned note written by a student in her class. It read, in part: "As December is a month when extra money is needed for many things, usually I have had only a little for the special offering. After thinking about this a lot, a plan came to me. I thought, by saving one yen a day I can make my offering. So this year, since January I have done that. Also when I had some extra pocket money, without letting anyone know, I saved it for the offering and now here it is. Please use it for needy people or for spreading the Gospel." With the letter was a plastic coin container, such as are given out by banks, filled with coins amounting to 500 yen. (The average offering would be 100 yen or less per student.)

Two other girls saved all their one yen coins (18 make 5 cents in American money), and brought 1,500 of them for the Christmas offering. The total offering was much larger than last year, and it was used to help persons in 22 different places—orphphanages, old people's homes, churches and other places. Eight thousand yen (about $22) was given to the Kyoaikan, the Social Service Centre which money from our Canadian W.M.S. helps to make possible. When I went there for the Christmas program of the Nursery School, two of the Toyo Eiwa Junior High School girls went with me taking the money gift from the school, as well as gifts of toys and clothing which their class had prepared for the children.

In the Junior College my teaching is in the English Department. Many of the students who came from non-Christian environments have found a new meaning in life. One young woman, writing about her "Ideal College" in a composition, said, "Education without religion is meaningless. I did not know anything about Christianity before I entered this college, except a vague idea about it. It was something uncommon and mysterious. We have a period of meditation every day at our college and many lessons on Christianity. From this point of view our college is the ideal and best one."

Happy Church Associations

The happy association with Torii Zaka Church has continued through the year. On Sunday mornings before the church service I teach the English Bible class—a most interesting group whose members include middle school boys, university students, bank workers and teachers, and a university professor.

One of the things that we in Japan were happiest about this year was the choice of Mrs. Yoshiki Watari to visit Canada at the invitation of the W.M.S. of The United Church of Canada, as the representative of the United Church of Christ in Japan (Kyodan). Many of you, of course, met her and know what a wonderful person she is. We welcomed her back to Japan in November and have enjoyed hearing something of her experience in Canada.

We all rejoice in the honor that come to one of our Canadian missionaries this year. In October Miss Katherine Greenbank, in recognition of her services through many years at Yamanashi Eiwa School, was made an honorary citizen of the city of Kofu—only the second person ever to receive such an honor.

Halfway Mark

It seems hardly possible that a year has passed, and that I am struggling with the composition of another report. The past year has been a very interesting one for me, both in my work of teaching English at Toyo Eiwa Girls' High School, and in my outside activities. The following are a few of the highlights of the past year.

1. Our special Christmas worship service was particularly successful. Although Japanese was spoken, the Christmas tree and the music of the carols was the same, and when I shut my eyes, I could almost feel myself back home again. The "Hallelujah Chorus" was especially inspiring. The girls put their whole hearts into the performance, and really made the rafters ring with song. The first year students in particular, enjoyed the performance, as they sat with big eyes taking it all in.

2. I have no Bible classes this year, but I do have five outside English classes, which help me to know young Japanese university students. A typical group, which meets on Thursday nights, consists of four or five post-graduate science students from Waseda University. Their English is excellent, and we have no difficulty in communication of ideas, although our varied backgrounds usually cause us to take opposite sides in a political argument. We spend part of each hour on speech, including pronunciation, grammar, idioms, etc. For the rest of the time, we just talk about everything and anything. Through these boys, I think that I am getting an insight into the life of the average university student.

3. Last summer I went to Language School at Lake Nojiri for about four weeks. I have retained only a smattering of all that I was supposed to have learned, but I find that even that amount is a great help in everyday living. Since September, due to lack of time, I have had no regular Japanese lessons, but I would like to begin again sometime in the near future.

I have now reached the halfway mark in my three years in Japan, and I hope that my future stay will prove to be as interesting and as instructive as the past has been.

Missionary Preliminaries

Life certainly is different for me now that I have come back to Japan on a more permanent basis than that of a J-3. Now I live in the big city, Tokyo, as a student, spending my week-day mornings at Japanese language school and a great part of the rest of my time at home going over my lessons and memorizing "kanji," the Chinese characters.

Since appointment at Dominion Board I have passed through various phases of activity before actually settling in to language study. First, along with several of the other candidates, I attended a four-week course of linguistics held in Toronto.

This strenuous period of study was followed by a conference for new out-going missionaries of the Presbyterian, Anglican, Baptist and United Churches held in the Lake of Bays area. Among the important fields of study and discussion was that which was concerned with the attitudes and personal relationships of a missionary with his Mission Board and home church, with his colleagues, with the church in the land in which he serves, with the people of that land—the Christians and non-Christians, the intellectuals and the servants—with the government, and toward social, economic and political conditions.

After conference I had a short time to finish the packing of my belongings which were scattered between Toronto where I had been studying for a year at the Training School, and Winnipeg where my family lives, visit with my family and friends and then head for Vancouver and the Far East.

Just Like Returning Home

Docking in Yokohama was just like returning home for as well as being greeted on the dock at 7 a.m. by some of the missionaries in Tokyo, there were some of my friends from Kofu. The next day I registered at Language School, was immediately put into a class, and since then the greater part of my time has been taken up with study. However, two hours a week I teach conversation in the Toyo Eiwa Junior College and one evening a week I help at a university students' Bible class.

This class was begun in 1932 in the home of a Christian university professor and Miss Wilna Thomas worked with the group when she was in Tokyo. The first day I attended church upon my arrival back in Japan I happened to be present at the baptism of three of the students.

Although the students themselves take charge, Mrs. Osawa, the wife of the retired professor, is like a second mother or grandmother to these young people whose homes are for the most part in distant parts of the country. The minister of the church comes once a month and leads the group at that meeting in Japanese, although the others are in English. After the study and discussion each week a half hour or so is spent in learning and practising hymns, often followed by light refreshments.

Although I personally have found this a year of change, Japan does not seem to have changed drastically since I left two years ago! Students are still anxious to learn English, and Bible classes are still one pathway which leads young people into the church.

College Staff

The weeks, months and years of our absorbing college schedule have rolled round again, and Tokyo Joshi Daigaku, no longer young, will be celebrating its fortieth anniversary on April 30, 1958. As far as numbers go, our foreign faculty has been at a low ebb this year. For a time Sara Rodes (Methodist J-3) and I were the only fulltime Mission Board appointees; in the past we have kept seven busy. From September, however, we have been helped immeasurably by the arrival of Miss Laura Rorke of Ottawa. Her coming was made possible by her own generosity and by partial financial help from the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. The experience of teaching Japanese college girls is proving a fascinatingly pleasant one for her, and we have used to the full her various talents, in teaching the English language and British history. During the period when our faculty resources were low we were able to secure teaching hours from a missionary wife, the wife of a British professor at the International Christian University—herself highly qualified in literature—and the able wife of a U.S. Air Force officer. Though such contacts are broadening for the students, our need continues for more missionary appointees to teach English language and literature at the college level.

Late in December we were happy to welcome Marjorie Miller (Lutheran) fresh from M.A. work at Chicago, a stimulus to teachers as well as students. Soon other former teachers will be returning after furlough, Elizabeth Knabe (Baptist) and Martha Firebaugh (Presbyterian). Thus the prospect for the future is not too gloomy but retirements and furloughs are inevitable, and the staff is far from being adequate.

My furlough and retirement year would normally fall in 1958. My Board in Toronto has generously agreed for family and personal reasons to allow me to remain in Japan for my furlough-retirement year, if not longer, and the college is asking me to continue my work here. For this I am deeply grateful.

Classroom Work

For us teachers our classroom work must be our major interest and responsibility. The climax and culmination of our students' work is seen in the graduation theses submitted late in December by all who aspire to graduate the following March. The students in the department of English and American literature write on a wide variety of subjects from the great English classics such as Shakespeare and Milton to modern American novelists. Many write with independent judgment and appreciation and present thoughtful, even profound studies. In concluding her essay on Macbeth one student wrote, "The problem of Macbeth, which was written at the beginning of the modern period, is not only a problem of Renaissance humanism, but of mankind from the dawn of history to our present time. Indeed, in today's world I see the same crisis and limit of humanism as in Macbeth. Today, when the USSR has succeeded in launching the artificial satellite, human possibilities seem infinite. But in spite of such wonderful advances, a serious feeling of fear, insecurity and chaos pervades the world and seems to be increasing. This feeling may become fatal and humanity may destroy itself as did Macbeth. To make and use such terrible things as atomic and hydrogen bombs does not 'become a man.' As one reads these theses one is impressed anew by the pervading Christian content of so much of our best literature. This does not escape the notice of our students.

Extra-Curricular Activities

This past autumn the English Speaking Society produced the mediaeval morality play "Everyman." It was an ambitious project but by no means beyond their power. We were able to secure the help of a young Englishman who had himself been in a Cambridge University production of this great religious play. With his guidance and with the untiring efforts of Miss Rodes the girls were able to give a moving production. To the thirty or so girls who produced and acted in the play the experience was deeply spiritual; as they themselves said, one which would influence them forever. Another important means of Christian nurture was the participation of a hundred or more of our students with outside musicians in Handel's "Messiah" at Christmas time. "Rapture" is not too strong a word to describe the emotion with which they sang, and to a lesser extent listened to this music, rendered more gloriously than ever this year.

Our students' homes represent the widest possible range of Christian knowledge and experience. At Christmas this is emphasized by the responses the girls make to the various religious events. Some, from a rich family tradition can describe a Christmas when "father read the Bible and grandfather said grace." Others say, "Before entering Tokyo Woman's Christian College I did not know the true meaning of the word 'Christmas.' We celebrated but without understanding." Another realizing her inadequacy said, "As we celebrated this year I could not fully understand the meaning because my study of Christianity is shallow, but I rejoiced in the Nativity and sang the carols from my heart." One said that after singing in the "Messiah" she could pray for the first time, and another, "I do not know well about God, but I could think of him as nearer after listening to the 'messiah.'" "In my first year at college," commented one, "I have come to think."

Life at Junior College

Our Junior College opened in January with Religious Emphasis Week. The young pastor who gave the daily chapel talks was enthusiastically received by the student body. As a boy he had been a Buddhist and worked in a Buddhist temple, but during his years at university, where he majored in philosophy, he found that Christianity met his needs, so after graduation he volunteered for the ministry. He is now the pastor of a small church in one of Tokyo's poorer areas. His background of philosophy, his understanding of Buddhism, his youthful view of modern life, his keen sense of humor along with his complete dedication to Christ make a great appeal to the students.

The months January to March were very busy ones for me as I was in charge of placements. Finding positions for 36 of our 40 graduates was not easy because of the increase in the number of kindergarten training schools in Tokyo, because of the marked decrease in kindergarten attendance due to the falling birth-rate, and because of other factors.

One girl left us to return to her home in Okinawa, and another, a Siamese girl, to teach little children in Thailand where educational standards are lower than in Japan.

Upon the opening of the new school year in April I became teacher in charge of the senior class of 41 girls. When they entered the school in April, 1956, only 26 were baptized church members. Now, a year and nine months later, nine more have been baptized and without exception the girls in this class promise to become capable teachers.

Interesting Service Projects

In July, I asked each senior student to choose and carry out a service project during the summer holiday and to bring in a written report of it in September. It took me many hours to read all the reports but I enjoyed every minute.

Some had given leadership in church camps and retreats which both Christians and non-Christians attended. Some students spent one or two weeks helping in a social service day nursery or a creche. One group of students were very eager to tell Bible stories and teach hymns but they reported that the children got bored and one day they overheard a little boy saying, "Do we have to have another Bible story today!" . . . A few had tried to hold children's meetings in a mountain district where Christianity was practically unknown and where children made funny rhymes with the word "Amen" and went into gales of laughter at the end of the prayers.

The week between the two semesters in October was spent on a four-day trip to the northern part of this island. With 80 college girls and two other teachers we visited historical places, spent a day at a beautiful mountain lake which in October is surrounded by red maples, and, on the way home, actually picked apples growing on trees in an orchard. Such trips are a feature of Japanese school life and considered to be part of a liberal education. The students have a special school savings account in which they make deposits each month so they can take one long trip during their final year. By having such a large group of students the trip costs about half what it normally would. To save money they spend two of the four nights on the train without berths, and they step off in the morning bright and smiling, having made themselves as neat and attractive as usual in the swaying, crowded, third-class coaches.

November brought us around to College Day again when the 190 girls composing the English and Child Education Departments put on an all-day program including a bazaar and various forms of entertainment. Children came in throngs and had a wonderful time wandering from one attraction to another. The students voted most of the profits from the day to charities and toward the fund for the new building which the college hopes to erect in the near future.

The department of Child Education is only one little part of our big Toyo Eiwa School where nearly 1,700 girls are enrolled from kindergarten to junior college. It is only through the complete dedication and wholehearted co-operation of our entire staff, both Japanese and Canadian, that we are able to fulfil our unique mission as a Christian school.

Evolution of a Department

A little more than fifty years ago a Kindergarten Training Department was opened in the Toyo Eiwa Girls' School in Tokyo, which was then about twenty years old. It went along very smoothly for many years without any official standing in the eyes of the government, although high school graduation was, at least latterly, a prerequisite for candidates. After the war, as one result of the many changes brought in by the Occupation, the Training School became a Junior College. Four years ago an English Department was added, so we now have two two-year courses—one in Childhood Education and one in English language and literature. Since coming to Tokyo three years ago, I have taught the Speech course in both the first and second year of the English section.

This Matter of Sin

Out of fifty students in the second year seven were Christian when they entered and four have been baptized during their two years in the college. One young woman, whom I shall call Tanaka because it is a very common name, came from a non-Christian high school. Her family is not Christian and she had had no connection with Christianity at all before entering our college. She has a good mind and frank and open acceptance of life. The Christian story being fresh and new to her made a great impression on her thinking. She entered the college in April, when all educational institutions in Japan begin the school year. During that first summer she was spending a few days in a relative's summer cottage by the sea, along with three or four of her school friends. Since, like students of any country they spent most of their time nibbling candy, etc., they discovered one afternoon about five o'clock that they had nothing of that kind left to eat; so they walked together into town to buy more. As they left the town on their way home, it began to rain very heavily and soon became, in fact, a summer storm. The girls began to run, and Miss Tanaka told me that as she ran through the wind and rain, a flash of awareness came to her that her errand and her running, which seemed in some way to represent her whole life, were completely selfish. In telling me about it she said, "I knew that I was an egotist." That was her way of expressing a conviction of sin.

Many Japanese have difficulty with this matter of sin. The word which is translated in the Bible as "sin" means "breaking the law," generally speaking, the laws of the country. Hence, if one is a law-abiding citizen living in comparative peace with his neighbors, he finds it very difficult and unpleasant to call himself a "sinner."

Then Miss Tanaka went on to say, "After I saw my own selfishness, I knew at once very clearly that Christ is the Saviour of the world." The next summer, after a year of study and testing of her conviction, she was baptized along with one of her friends whom she had helped to lead.

When I asked her what help she had from her family, she said, "They don't understand. At first I had great joy but now I find the Christian life very difficult." When I said, "Do you find it worth while?", her answer was a clear, "Yes, of course."

The year that I was in Shimizu I started a Bible class among kindergarten teachers and mothers in a private kindergarten conducted by a Christian woman. A few of the mothers are Christian but many of them know nothing of Christianity. One day when I was reading John 3: 16—"that no one may be destroyed"—one woman, there for the first time, called out, "Please read that verse again, especially the last part." After the class that day, she came to me and said, "Thank you, thank you, I've never heard talk like that before."

The Church School Department

My major task during the past year under the National Christian Council in Japan has been two-fold. In the Church School Department I have been designated as "Associate Executive Secretary" and in the Japan Preparation Committee for the 14th World Convention on Christian Education my function is that of "associate secretary." In this dual capacity the year 1957 has been filled with many duties but also with many enriching experiences. When my diary counts over 152 meetings not including some of the conventions, I find myself at a loss as to where to start.

Much time and effort went into the preparing of the Eighth Annual Church School Convention held in Sendai in May.

The annual Church School Department meeting was a memorable one when 35 new Board members were elected. Eight of them are laymen and out of those, for the first time, four are women!

During the summer I spent a most profitable time visiting the Leadership Training Schools for Church School Teachers. The first school was the annual Leadership Training School held at Hoshino Hot Springs near Karuizawa, within the shadow of Mt. Asama. The hotel is owned by Christians and is equipped with a chapel and large auditorium. Housing accommodation made it possible for all of us to be under the same roof. Our morning worship was based on the life of Paul and the growth of the early Church. Throughout the day we were a family of some 157 people from all over Japan. The leadership also came from different parts of Japan and included ministers, professors and even an editor of a children's magazine.

The next much smaller school was held at Ittoen near Kyoto on Lake Biwa. Some 60 teachers and leaders came together in what looked at first to be a Buddhist temple, but was really a dormitory for the people of Ittoen (Garden of One Light), set in the centre of a beautiful landscaped classical Japanese garden. This group of people numbering some 500 or more belong to a new religious movement which began over 50 years ago and is really a mixture of Shinto, Buddhist and Christian beliefs. The members live a life of great simplicity with emphasis upon service to others, pacifism and love to all. Our own Leadership Training Conference was quite apart from the life of the community but we were able to use the facilities and our very simple meals were prepared by the women in the common kitchen there.

A STUDY GROUP AT THE HOME AND FAMILY LIFE CONFERENCE.
(SEE REFERENCE NEXT PAGE)

During the conference we visited one of the oldest Church Schools in Japan at Otsu. We left feeling that when teachers are willing to give of their very limited free time and their more limited resources to better prepare themselves for their task, surely the Church Schools in Japan will go forward.

From Kyoto we went on to Hiroshima, which I had never visited before. We were there on the anniversary of the dropping of the first A-Bomb, which was an experience I shall never forget. We took another train for a couple of hours finally arriving at the lovely old city of Matsue on Lake Shinji with its famous old castle and the home of the Japanese Tea Ceremony. It was to this secluded spot that Larcadio Hearn retired when he wished to do some of his writing. Some 74 delegates and leaders were housed throughout the city. Many of the young people slept in churches and we all ate our meals together at the meeting places.

Here we had thirteen denominations working together. For me the highlight was listening to Rev. R. Ishimatsu, an older blind Lutheran pastor, speaking on "Guiding Crippled Children in the Faith." His face was so radiant, and as he spoke to the people whom he knew, his animated conversation and his contagious smile and lightheartedness completely belied the fact that he was blind, or perhaps it only underscored the fact that spiritual faith brings new sight that is much more dynamic than ordinary eyesight.

At the National Christian Council annual conference on Home and Family Life, the discussion centred around building a Christian home. The problems facing Christian young people who cannot find a Christian partner are so manifold. Young people often decide upon a non-Christian partner because there is no other choice. Such a union is fraught with many dangers and disappointments, and often the Christian partner must give up all active participation in Church life. The need for more fellowship of young people within the home situation is deeply felt, since many parents have no idea what kind of friends their children are making. With more freedom to choose a mate there is more need for parental supervision, but parents are at a loss how to cope with this new situation.

A World Convention Taking Form

The major portion of my time since September has been taken up with the Preparation Committee for the World Convention on Christian Education which will be held in Tokyo from August 6-13, 1958. It is a thrilling experience to see a world convention take form as we began to think in terms of 2,500 overseas guests and some 3,000 Japanese delegates to the convention and their needs and how they could best be met, especially with the language barrier to be overcome.

For the convention we now have eight committees responsible to a Central Standing Committee under the chairmanship of our Church School Department President. The committees are responsible for the work of General Affairs, Registrations, Records, Receptions, Assembly Halls, Housing, Program, Exhibits, Liaison, Publicity, Translation and Interpretation, Finance, Fund Raising Campaign and many sub-committees to look after the more detailed aspects of the work of preparation.

Japan has set herself the task of raising about $105,000.00 to cover the costs of the convention. Out of that amount the churches are expected to raise $20,850.00, of which we have already received over half. This is the spirit in which Japanese Christians are offering their hospitality to African and Asian guests who would not otherwise be able to attend the convention.

Japan is looking forward to welcoming Christians from around the world, and we pray that all those who come may receive spiritual blessing for themselves and new strength to carry on the work of God's Kingdom as they return.

First Furlough

The year at home on my first furlough was a busy one; I took a full course at the University of Toronto in Public Health Nursing Administration, commuting from my father's home in Islington and keeping house for him, with occasional speaking engagements. It was a real privilege to be with my father whose impaired heart forces inactivity, but whose keen mind still follows his many interests and whose cheerful, uncomplaining spirit is an inspiration. This personal note may seem out of place in an annual report, but it has a direct bearing on my life, for had it not been for his unselfish concern for the work in Japan, I might not have been able to return to Japan.

If Only We Were Twins!

By the middle of September I was back and my new co-worker, Enid Horning, and I were at once plunged into the intricacies of furnishing and having repaired our little house in Tomisato village, three hours out of Tokyo. Enid and I have been appointed to the Hokusō (northeast) District, and by next year there will be five of us in Chiba Province—which still is not enough because of the (as yet) many untouched areas.

There have been two meetings this fall of the eight ministers of the nine preaching places in Hokusō District. Each pastor presented his hopes as to how we might be of help to him, from English Bible classes to speaking to women's groups and occasional preaching; when the list was complete we both wished we were twins! Travel is one of the chief problems, one church being three hours travel by car or bus and train from here, and two others about two hours. However four of the churches are within driving distance, and we are very grateful for the sturdy Japanese Toyopet car which the W.M.S. provided for our work—it has a truck body which is almost essential on the rough roads in our area.

The first thing we did was to go together to visit each church to get acquainted. Then the four nearest churches were divided between us for regular English Bible classes, and the other churches will probably have a monthly visit from one or the other of us. Since my work at the Centre began with the Clinic, that is my special responsibility here; this fall there have been special planning conferences for expanding our clinic work to give better service to the community. Indications are that several of the other churches wish me to speak on health and child care to their women's groups. All in all, it looks as though I will be busy enough to keep out of mischief!

The Story of Two Churches

I would like to tell you just a little about the two other churches with which I am to be most closely connected. Both have a history going back about 70 years, but the war, and lack of continuous leadership have weakened them both spiritually and financially. Sawara Church members seem to be mostly elderly people. In the few years he has been there, the pastor has been busy trying to get the church back on its feet, restoring the church building damaged by misuse during the war, and establishing a kindergarten which will help to stabilize the budget as well as be a point of contact with young parents. A Bible class with high school students here will, we hope, help to bring young blood into the church.

Sanritsuka Church, due to a series of unfortunate circumstances, had dwindled down to a congregation of two or three until an energetic new pastor came there in November, gathered back the "lost sheep" and is already bringing in new seekers. Sixteen high school students come to the English Bible class which I hold there weekly, and the pastor has already made good contact with them. Do pray that our combined efforts may bear fruit for the extension of the Kingdom.

A Varied Bible Class

Once again this year has been one of change for me. At the beginning of the year there seemed to be every reason to believe that I would remain at Shizuoka Eiwa Girls' High School for the two and a half years before furlough. However in May, due to circumstances unforeseen and unexpected, it seemed advisable and desirable that I should transfer to Tomisato Mura where I have been since September first.

During the first half of the year events in Shizuoka moved in much the same routine as usual. About one-third of my time was spent in language study. Gradually the work of teaching at the Eiwa became more familiar and I became better acquainted with staff and students and felt more at home. In April the compulsory Sunday attendance at school ended and with it the Bible class which I had formerly taught there.

The Bible classes at Ichibancho Church and at Minori Kindergarten on Wednesday evening continued. It was the latter class which was most interesting because of the rather unusual membership. One boy was in his last year of junior high school, one young man delivered vegetables in that neighborhood, one young chap worked in a bank and was convinced that Japan must voice strongly in international circles her convictions concerning the necessity for peace in the world—and that in order to do this she must have young men with fluent English. Then there were three professors from the Shizuoka College of Pharmacy, one office worker and the usual collection of senior high school students.

In order to complete my compulsory language study I attended the full summer session of Language School. Fortunately I was again able to do this in the cool and pleasant atmosphere of Karuizawa so that even though studying, rest and relaxation were also possible.

Eldest Son Evangelism

September brought with it all the tasks that are necessary to moving to a new place and getting established in it. Then there was the need of becoming acquainted with the pastors of this area. Fortunately we arrived just in time to be invited to their fall retreat and we were happy to be able to share in their fellowship.

We are assigned to an area of ten churches, the oldest of which has a history of over 70 years, the newest of about ten. Evangelism of eldest sons has always been difficult in Japan and since the eldest son inherits the family farm in most cases, to a certain extent I think it is true to say that rural evangelism is the evangelism of eldest sons. Added to that is the fact that in Japan, as in other parts of the world, the rural folk tend to be among the more conservative elements of the country and are not quick to break old ties and customs. Therefore many of these churches are struggling ones—the older ones not yet fully recovered from the consequences and effects of the war, the newer ones trying to find ways of making effective contact with the community and of meeting the needs of the postwar generation.

At present my responsibilities include five Bible classes with students; one with students from the nearest junior high school, one with senior high school students and one with university students in Narita, two with junior and senior high students in Sakura. In addition there are requests to assist in other ways—with women's groups, Sunday services of worship, leadership training programs etc. During the fall months we visited all ten of the preaching places in order that we might meet the people and they us.

The type of work here is entirely different from that in Shizuoka but I cannot but feel that for one whose roots and sympathies are as deeply and strongly with rural folk as mine are that this is the place where I belong.

MARJORIE A. TUNBRIDGE

Evangelistic Missionary,
Ueda, Japan

From Kashiwabara to Karuizawa

As a district evangelistic missionary, I work in an area 65 miles long, and in the year, I have visited nearly all the fifteen churches in this northern district of Nagano Ken, and have delivered 52 "sermons" or addresses.

At the far end of the district is Kashiwabara. Having helped to initiate the current work there, I feel a special responsibility toward it, even though there is now a competent and dedicated young minister in charge.

Nagano City is the capital of the prefecture and centre of one of the main Buddhist sects of Japan. Here there are three churches belonging to the United Church of Christ in Japan. The minister of one of the churches fell ill this fall, and it will be a long time before he is able to work again. To help out, I have been preaching there once a month, and also spent Christmas Sunday with them.

Coming towards Ueda on the main railway line, we pass through the town of Yashiro. The minister of the church here is also responsible for the congregation in a small town a few miles away. I preach once a month for him, to free him for the evening service in Yashiro. I also visited the kindergarten in Yashiro at Christmas, to speak to the mothers, and occasionally take a program of filmstrips to a hospital nearby, together with the minister. On the train again, we pass through a town which is the entrance to a famous (and sometimes infamous) hot spring resort. There is no regular Christian work here but this year I have visited the town once a month in an attempt to help.

Next we come to Ueda, where I live. There is a thriving church here with two branches in outlying districts, and two kindergartens. One of the branches, which is actually in the next town, I visit regularly together with the minister. Eighteen people gathered for the Christmas worship and the supper which we enjoyed together after the service, but the average attendance during the year is about seven. I preached once at the Ueda Church, a special service for Christian Education Week, to which the mothers of the kindergarten children were given a special invitation. I was the speaker at the World Day of Prayer Service, attended by the women of the local Anglican Church as well as by our own women, and also spoke several times at the regular meetings of the Ueda Woman's Association.

Continuing along the railway line, we pass through several towns which have no church, and then come to Komoro, a city with a church and kindergarten. Then finally we reach Karuizawa, the end of the district, with two churches. One church is on the main street of the town, and since this is a resort town, the church is apt to be full of holidayers in the summer, and almost empty in the winter. The other church is in the grounds of a famous hot spring hotel, the owners of which are Christian.

A Unique Experience

In addition to my other duties, there are the regular Bible classes, two semi-monthly in Japanese, and three weekly in English. Of the English Bible classes, one is composed of high school and university students, and the other two of English teachers. Because of my contacts with the English teachers I had a unique opportunity during the summer. The prefectural Department of Education decided to experiment with a three-day English Seminar, the purpose being to improve the English of the junior and senior high school teachers. I was asked to be the one "foreign" leader, my role being mainly that of guide in matters of pronunciation and intonation. Our meeting place was an inn on top of a mountain, to avoid the heat of the valley, and we had the inn almost to ourselves. There were three other leaders, all men, and 47 of the 50 teachers enrolled were men. Teachers, leaders, and the innkeeper were all very solicitous of my welfare. Special meals were provided for me, and at the first meal I watched with envy as the others ate rice curry while I tackled the two leathery eggs which had been fried about an hour before. I must admit, though, that I appreciated the cup of coffee which appeared in the morning as a special for me alone. As in nearly all Japanese inns there was only one bath, and as the special guest I had to have my bath first. That worked all right on the first day when the bath was ready during the half-hour rest before supper, but on the second day, as I was in the middle of an hour's drill on pronunciation, word came that the bath was ready, and I must go. When I came back after my bath, the group was deeply involved in a section of Moby Dick which they found rather hard going. Even the leader was unable to explain some passages, and as I entered the room I heard him say wistfully, "Perhaps Miss Tunbridge will come back soon and tell us what it means."

In Addition to My Other Duties

I was given three hours in which to speak on things as they are in the West—culture, customs, school life, etc. By request, at least half of this time was given to a discussion of the church and Christianity. In planning the Seminar they had decided that there must be Bible study, but since the Seminar was government-sponsored, it could not be made compulsory. Members were required to attend every part of the program except the Bible study, which was scheduled for 6 a.m. To my delight, attendance was almost 100%. We sang hymns, prayed, and read the Bible together for about 45 minutes, a completely new experience for many of the teachers.

KOREA

FOREWORD

The Presbyterian Church ROK (Republic of Korea), to which The United Church of Canada is now related, reports an increase in the number of churches and a larger membership since it was first organized in 1955. There are at present 620 churches with 622 pastors and evangelists, and 173,509 baptized members.

This Church has now been accepted into full membership in the National Christian Council and other co-operative committees.

One of the projects in which we share is HLKY, the "Radio Voice of the Church in Korea." This station had completed three years of gospel broadcasting on December 15, 1957. This Christian radio project, supported by the leading mission boards and churches in Korea, as well as by interested friends, aims to reach as many as possible of Korea's 30 million people. During the past year HLKY's power output was increased from 5,000 to 10,000 watts. As a result a stronger signal is being heard by South Koreans, and it is hoped that the programs are being heard more widely in North Korea. During the coming year there are plans to establish two or more relay stations in as many cities two hundred or more miles south of Seoul. HLKY will thus grow into a Christian network for Korea.

The plans for the hospital at Wonju have now been approved by the Methodist Boards of Missions and the Board of Overseas Missions and Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. The total cost is to be divided equally between the two Methodist Boards and the Woman's Missionary Society and Board of Overseas Missions of The United Church of Canada. Our Society will thus be responsible for one-quarter of the total cost. Already $41,967.62 is available from the grant made last year and from the 1957 G.B.A. This still leaves something over $20,000 which will still be needed. This amount will have to be granted some time in 1958 as it is hoped to start building within the next month.

Ewha Woman's University reports over 5,000 students this year. The new Library building has been completed. Since this building was urgently needed at once for their large student body, funds were borrowed to meet the cost of erection. They are hoping for the requested grants from the Boards to meet these costs. Our grant of $25,000 is in the G.B.A. list for 1958. More books are needed also, as at present there are only 40,000 volumes, which is below the standard they should have. There is space in the new building for 100,000 volumes.

Another evangelistic campaign was held at Ewha last winter, and 579 students and staff were baptized and over 1,000 renewed their vows of commitment to the Christian faith.

Generally Speaking

The beginning of the year found me at my sister's home in Magog, Quebec, where I had spent Christmas with as many of my family as was possible. On January 15th I was in Toronto occupying an apartment with Miss Christine MacDougall of Trinidad. We spent almost three months there trying to improve our minds by attending lectures at the School of Missions and at Emmanuel College. During this time I was on call for speaking on Korea at various churches and organizations. I was privileged to attend the annual meeting of the Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches. The addresses and discussions which took place were of great value to me. The conference took place at the Guild of All Arts, Scarborough.

April and May saw me back in the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterian doing some more speaking, in fact, generally speaking, I was generally speaking. During this time I was able to sleep at my sister's home and to see more of my family than I had during most of my furlough. I attended Dominion Board, of course, doing my best to represent the work in Korea, at the same time enjoying the fellowship of other missionaries and that of the members of the Board together with the delegates from the Conference Branches.

From Toronto I journeyed to New York to attend the meeting of the Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work. Some 75 people from various mission fields gathered in Riverside Church for four days to discuss matters pertaining to medical missions. These people were all connected with medical work but not all were missionaries. More than half of them were nationals. It was a very helpful conference.

I was back in Magog until the end of July, presumably to have my two months' rest before leaving for Korea. However, with packing, correspondence and various other duties it was not exactly restful. I left Magog on the last day of July and sailed from San Francisco on August 15th. Three weeks later, after an interesting if somewhat rough trip, Marion Pope and I arrived at Incheon and after some delay in Seoul while baggage was cleared of customs I came to Iri, our new station to which I have been appointed.

After getting settled in the new home with Willa Kernen and Ruth Saunders I began visiting the churches in the Kunsan Presbytery which is one of the four Presbyteries in which I am to work. My appointment reads "Medical Evangelism" and so far the medical part of it has been neglected. On October 2nd Willa and I visited the smallest of the four Presbyteries holding a service in each of the nine churches. The chairman of Presbytery, Rev. J. S. Kim accompanied us and we felt that it was very worth while. We received a great welcome and a hearty invitation to come again and stay longer. From South Chulla we went on to Koje Island where I had been asked to make a visit for the Mission. The welcome this time was even warmer for they were greeting an old friend while the former people had not known me before.

Since our return from Koje the harvest season has been in full swing and it has not been possible to visit in the country, so I have contented myself with going to a different church each Sunday, which invariably means preaching. So whether in Korea or Canada I am keeping up my reputation of generally speaking.

The year has almost gone and I see much to do in this part of South Korea. It has been a year full of varied experience and made happy by the love and friendship of many friends. I look forward to my last term of service with great anticipation, knowing that there is work for me to do and praying for wisdom and strength to do it acceptably.

Discouragements

As I begin to write a report of the year's work, I surely hope there are results that we cannot see, for truly it seems like small accomplishment.

The K.G.I.T. Group which was started last year continued rather half-heartedly until Easter when we had a Good Friday service which I felt was of value for all the churches of our denomination in the city as well as for the girls who planned it. A united choir and all the ministers in Iri took part, and there was a large congregation for a very nice evening service. Good Friday being one special day that is apparently unknown in the Korean Church, I felt it was worth while to make people conscious of it. However, since the K.G.I.T. membership by this time had dropped to four girls in their twenties, it did not continue.

We tried very hard to get a united service for the women's World Day of Prayer in February. Representatives came to preparatory meetings from Methodist, Salvation Army and our own branch of the Presbyterian Church, but at the last minute on urging from the other branch of the Presbyterian Church that they could not worship with us, the other two groups also decided not to unite. On the very day of the service, the Salvation Army reconsidered and joined us. That lack of co-operation was one of the most discouraging happenings of the year. We are already beginning work on this year's service and hope that this time we will gain the co-operation of the other denominations. Last year at least two country churches in the area held World Day of Prayer services, one of which we attended.

Chapel hour in Korean at one of the local universities which I undertook at the insistence of the Christian students last fall continued fitfully until spring, but they have not come this fall to ask for it to be begun again.

Rewards

The month of June was one of great activity and considerable satisfaction. We here in Iri, to relieve some of the hunger we saw around us sponsored a soup kitchen with some help from Church World Service and the Food for the Hungry; money apportioned to our station together with some individual donations. For this we borrowed pots from the U.S. Airforce, and with the co-operation of the city officials, gave out 500 tickets to the most needy people in the city, on presentation of which they could receive a bowl of soup a day. Here finally all the denominations helped out, three women from one church coming each day to do the work.

While the soup kitchen was being carried on, I went with Nan Cameron on a church-visiting tour of the southernmost Presbytery on the mainland. This was a rewarding experience.

Early this spring Wilf Waddell and I at the request of and along with a Presbytery committee, visited all the churches of this Presbytery to assess their condition and needs. This was valuable to us in coming to know the members of the committee.

In July, together with our Korean helpers, we prepared Sunday School materials, and lectures on the methods of their use which we presented at Sunday School teachers' training classes in two Presbyteries.

For our own enrichment this summer we began meeting together for Sunday evening church services in English. This has been of great help and inspiration to all of us. We were all pleased to welcome Ada Sandell to Iri station on her return from furlough in September, and know her experience will be a tower of strength in the life and work here.

In October, Miss Sandell and I visited the churches in the smallest and farthest away Presbytery in our territory, and once again found people and conditions which further restored our faith and increased our hope for the future. A visit to Koje Island as an extension of this trip, had it not been for the dreadful roads and the fact that we were having to sever connections rather than make them firmer, would have been pure joy.

Initiation in Medical Work

As language study was my first responsibility here at Iri station my medical work had to be limited. But if we did nothing else we did save two children with badly burned legs who would have died from infection or at the least been handicapped for the rest of their lives. These boys were orphans in one of the distant villages where medical aid was nil. They had burned their legs in a grass fire two months before we saw them. The first day we went into this village they were brought in. At first Dr. Sullivan thought amputation was in order but on admission to hospital after good food and treatment a skin graft was done. Now these boys should not be a burden to the community where they live. Perhaps the chap, a psychiatric case and violent at times, who tried to prove his faith by being in the mountains for a month and required a little attention, was worth it. At any rate there were a few less broken windows or sore noses in the community.

While we seemed to emphasize treatment we did some health teaching and I feel the latter to be more important in the long run. It was with this in mind that we started health talks and films. Whether this is carried on or not depends on a lot of factors. We have shown them in one village church, in the theatre in Iri and in one of the local schools. We have supervised the inoculations and B.C.G.'s of the local orphanage as well as checking the very sick babies once a week.

We were able to do as much as we did because a local doctor (Korean) gave his time both for clinics and individual cases. Also with the backing, both spiritual and practical of my house mate, and the help of Willa Kernan and Mr. Waddell, Mrs. Waddell and Cherry, and Miss Kim, I have been guided through the various offices related to our work and introduced to the officials involved. Miss Kim also acted as my language teacher.

With the coming of Miss Sandell and plans for other areas of service, perhaps one might say one phase of my initiation in medical work is over. I must say I have enjoyed my time in Iri and have found co-operation as a medical worker which perhaps the other workers have not found. I pray that Miss Sandell will find the same.

A Busy Year

Throughout 1957 our regular student work program continued through various mediums with high school and university students. Two hundred and ninety-nine students throughout the country received lunch money from the Food for the World's Hungry grant. In Seoul, 30 students received scholarships to assist them with university education and 40 students were accommodated in our two dormitories. I spend at least one evening a month at each of the dormitories and feel that the boys' dormitory in particular is doing a fine job of providing a home and guidance for the boys it houses. Most of these 270 students receiving help in Seoul are also approached through discussion and Bible study groups. Discussion groups are becoming very popular in Korea, and anyone who can talk the language well enough to join in, has an open door before him for unending service. Besides this, there have been English classes with high school and university students and a very profitable weekly class with the students in the World University Service Hostel here in Seoul.

The Korean Girls In Training Group formed in Seoul two years ago has continued to meet monthly. Though the program is based on the purpose of C.G.I.T., long school hours and long distances make it impossible to meet weekly and so the program has been considerably modified. This year the projects included a study of the world Church, various handicrafts, Oriental flower arrangements, and service projects to needy country areas.

A great deal of time this year was spent in committee meetings which eventually led to the reunion of the Korean Student Christian Federation under the name of the Korean Student Christian Movement. The split had been more or less along denominational lines, and it was good to see the emergence of a new understanding of the meaning of the Church.

Satisfying Experiences

A two-week tour of some of the churches in Mokpo Presbytery was rewarding both from the fellowship shared and the experience gained. Mokpo is one of the strongest areas of our church's work, and it was an inspiration to see the work that is being done by the local pastors and pre-lay preachers.

More time than ever before was spent this year in attaining and distributing relief to individuals and institutions. By far the most satisfying experiences of the year were the obtaining of windows and doors for a refugee school, of books and clothing for orphaned children and of medical treatment for a club-footed little boy who otherwise might never have been able to walk straight. Much of our relief work is of necessity stop-gap by nature, but some is constructive and worth the hours of time it requires.

Perhaps the most important single feature in the work of the past year was the purchasing of a large house, now known as Fellowship Hall, to be used as a centre for youth and community work. About 500 young people now come to the Hall for various groups and meetings. More than forty girls of the neighborhood come each night to the literacy classes which we hope are only the beginning of community service projects to be centred here. Plans have been laid for beginning mothers' clubs, Girls' Scouts, and children's play groups as soon as the personnel is available.

Indexing, Visiting and Other Work

The chief task assigned to me at Severance Hospital this year was to organize and index the medical records of all in-patients since the hospital re-opened in 1952. The records were lying about in stacks here and there, unavailable for study or research, both of which should be carried on in a teaching hospital such as this. Tedious at first, it became more interesting, and now the two girls I am training are able to do a good deal of the work themselves.

On five mornings a week I am on duty in the International Clinic seeing foreign patients who do not speak Korean and prefer a quiet waiting room and a doctor who speaks their own language to the crowded general clinic and a doctor whom they fear they will not understand. Business people, UNKRA and diplomatic personnel, members of relief and other agencies, as well as missionaries need medical care and inoculations against the various tropical diseases prevalent in the Orient.

Patients from country villages coming to the hospital often seek out the missionary to guide them to the proper clinic, to get them admitted to a free ward, or having spent their all in just getting there, find all the free beds occupied, and either have to be paid for or given their fare back home to await their turn.

Sundays usually find me with others of our small group headed for the country, where one after another drops off at a country church to meet the people, discuss their problems, worship together, and try to give some inspiration, and when needed, tangible relief from the relief parcels that we are glad continue to come. In asking for another visit recently, a student in charge of a small group a good many miles out in the country said, "There are eight new people attending church as a result of your visit and some of them have already decided to become believers."

Moving Pictures

Arrangements for use of the moving picture machine and films on this station is one of my responsibilities, and has proved to be a good project. The generator and projector are run by the chauffeur, a theological student telling the story of the pictures seen. People from miles around sit on the ground or stand for two hours watching from both sides of the white sheet hanging from a line strung between two houses. A sheet is preferable to a screen for this work as it is more easily carried and can be seen from back as well as front.

We try to have films to suit all ages, a cartoon for the children, an educational picture for older people followed always by a religious one. Even on cold winter nights all stay to the end. One evening I watched a group of Korean soldiers giving their whole attention to the picture and the story that explained it. As soon as it was finished they came and thanked me and pleaded that we come again soon. Many who would not go to church go to see the pictures and there hear the message after which some are interested enough to attend church and learn more.

A New Hospital for Wonju

Considerable effort has gone into planning for the proposed new hospital to be built in conjunction with the Methodist Mission in the city of Wonju about 90 miles east of Seoul. The hospital formerly carried on there by the Methodists was completely destroyed in the war which raged through the city nine times. A sod turning ceremony was held on the site in November and we are looking forward to the beginning of construction as early in the spring as conditions permit.

Near the city a colony of lepers ekes out a miserable existence without any treatment whatever, while little children in all the leper colonies are growing up with their parents amidst hundreds of infected persons. Although it is now well known that leprosy is not nearly as infectious as was formerly supposed, children living for long periods of time in close contact with infectious persons can hardly escape contracting the disease. It is hoped that from our new hospital help and healing will be provided not only for the sufferers in the colony, but that others still in the early and most curable stage of the disease, will come for out-patient treatment to a treatment clinic near the colony. We also plan for some provision for the care of these unfortunate children in a place free from the danger of infection until the parents are cured and the family can again be reunited, or if that proves impossible, that some of them may be transferred to orphanages where they can grow up as normal individuals free, not only from the disease, but also from the stigma of leprosy that now makes it impossible for them to be accepted in society. How would you feel if your child had to grow up in the midst of a colony of sufferers from leprosy?

The coming of the new missionaries, the Hawley family and Miss Marion Pope, was a great occasion for which we are all grateful.

A Busy Hospital

The hospital continues to be a very busy place. It is just about impossible to get in as a patient especially if you join the ranks on the long waiting list as so many emergencies crowd in beforehand.

With the amalgamation of the Chosun Christian University and Severance Hospital the name of the university has been changed to "Yonsei"—the "Yon" is for the Korean name of the university and the "Sei" is the beginning of the English "Severance." The founder of both institutions is Dr. O. R. Avison, a Canadian.

Our nursing school also advanced from the new school year last April so that now we are offering a four-year degree course. About 45 girls entered into this new class. The cost of this year at the university makes it so only the better class girls are able to take the course, so we must find bursaries to help picked students. Only those who make the effort will make the grade. This coming spring will bring these university girls into the hospital for the regular three-year training. Last spring time 17 girls graduated and 15 of them joined with the first-year girls at the university so this spring will complete their four years and will be the first nurses in Korea to receive a BSN degree, i.e., Bachelor of Science in Nursing. Miss Shin Young Hong is principal and she is doing a fine job. She has had two years in Australia and last year attended a nursing seminar in the Fiji Islands. Our new Methodist missionary nurse has her BSN and is interested in nursing education so will be a fine help in guiding us in our new undertaking.

It is a pleasure to join our student body in prayers each morning and share with them the meeting of our Lord and Master. Practically all our girls are baptized members and active workers in their respective churches.

More foreign patients are being cared for in the hospital. We run a foreign clinic but a missionary doctor can only give a short while to this work. Many of our foreign patients are quite happy and confident to be cared for by Korean doctors. An emergency gall bladder case was one of these. Indeed our surgeons are famous, the first blue baby operation in Korea was done in our hospital. Chest surgery, orthoped, Gyn, Ent and all kinds of major surgery appear on our daily operating room schedule.

Our medical department is fine too. Our nurses are rising to the occasion of modern medicine and in spite of many inconveniences are doing a good job. Many of our beds are still the low Army type; water is still a problem; electricity is undependable—a small generator does come to the rescue in the operating room and X-ray room but not on the wards. The heating system is the best that it has been but various departments have to take their turn at receiving heat, thus three of the wards are still cold. For heating water and sterilization on wards we depend upon the small nine-hole charcoal burner which is smelly and dirty and not always effective. Some day we are to have a new hospital.

Precious Parcels from Home

Relief work is crowded in between times. How thrilling it is to open up those grand parcels. I wish you could hear the "Ohs" and "Ahs" as we sort out the precious articles. The hot water bottles coming in twos and threes or fives has been a real Godsend, especially for the wee undernourished mites and the tiny prematures to keep those poor little cold feet warm. They are the sweetest wee things. I have a nurse who loves them as much as I do and so even the ones under one kilogram or around two pounds seem to do very well. I am always glad to get the used sheets, pyjamas, pieces of material and plastic and many other things. Both the hospital and dormitories have trimmings on curtains and bedside tables that I am sure you would recognize if you would take a walk through with me. The baby things that loving hands have knit or sewn are put aside for my special babies; at Christmas just hundreds of little feet have new socks on today because somebody cared. The warm quilts are keeping many a family warm. Our nurses, our cleaners and washroom workers, destitute patients all get some.

Last fall just after I returned from holidays, a fire swept the refugee area at our back door leaving 2,000 homeless. I had just finished sorting out the last two mail bags, so I put aside my plans for these and my nurses went to work to do what they could. The poor victims slept in the drizzly rain on our porch and under the trees. It was certainly like the loaves and fishes. What I had seemed so little amongst so many but God so richly provided. Our Canadian soldiers had left 18 bags of men's things and these were made available. Our nurses gave a quilt apiece off their own beds, others helped so that every single man, woman and child got something.

Something Old and Some Things New

Following the custom of this land we went with others on New Year's Day to call upon President and Mrs. Rhee, the Vice-President and the Mayor of the city. Thus the New Year was opened.

The work of the W.M.S. treasurer for Korea was a new duty added to my work from the beginning of the year.

The big report of the year is the reception of the applications for membership of the Presbyterian Church in the Republic of Korea. The National Christian Council (N.C.C.) at their annual meeting after four or five hours of debate, agreed to admit them to the N.C.C. but deferred voting powers until the next annual meeting. The Korea Church World Service (K.C.W.S.) received them and they were allowed to participate in the work immediately. The Korea Council of Christian Education (K.C.C.E.) did not admit them but the executive met afterwards and approved of their being accepted as a member of the organization. This will be verified at the next annual meeting but in the meantime they are invited to participate in the committee work.

With the help from the Board of Overseas Missions our Seminary was able to build the new classroom building on the outskirts of the city in very beautiful surroundings. We are very delighted with the building into which our Seminary was able to move on the 6th of December. The classrooms are large, bright and airy. There are offices for the professors and teachers, a nice chapel and also a good library with a reading room and a stack room. This building will be a great help to the Presbyterian Church in the ROK.

The work in the Korea Council of Christian Education is progressing and the Church School graded lessons are in the midst of being written. The writing of these lessons is taking much time as they are reviewed after being written and correction made and that requires them to be re-written in order to include these new ideas. We are hoping that the first year in each department will be ready for use by the beginning of next year.

Parcels from Canada

The receiving of the relief parcels from Canada is a very interesting task. The lovely articles sent to us by the groups in Canada show Christian love in their care and thoughtfulness for the less fortunate. We wish we could sit down and write individual letters to each group but time permits us to do no more than send out a mimeographed letter. However it does carry our sincere appreciation for the help given. Then as we prepare the bags of clothing ready to be delivered to the churches and listen to the reports which they bring in of how this relief was received it brings joy to our hearts. There is still need for the relief parcels and to those who wonder about the postage, let me say I do not know any better investment for three or four dollars.

The World Day of Prayer is gaining interest in Korea. From September the committee met monthly and prepared for the coming meeting which is on the first Friday in Lent. The city is divided into 28 districts and a representative from each district is on the committee which meets monthly. These women then return to their own districts and educate the women and give enthusiasm to the cause. Thus when the day arrives the whole Christian group are ready for the meeting, and wonderful reports came in after the meeting this last spring.

Many of the churches in the Kyung Ki Presbytery were visited as our teams of missionaries and Korean co-workers went out on Sundays and on one trip four or five churches would be visited. At almost every service we were asked to give the sermon.

It has been my pleasure to serve on the Executive of the N.C.C., of the Christian Literature Society, of the K.C.C.E., of the Korea W.M.S., of KAVA, of Church World Service, of Christian Family Life, the Building Committee and other committees.

Life in the English Practice School

During the spring vacation, which comes at the end of the school year, I moved into the English Practice House here on the Ewha campus. Students come to live in small groups for a month at a time in order to practise their English, learn about Western life and customs, and have the experience of group living. Two Western teachers live with the students; at present Miss Marion Conrow of the Methodist Board, and I are here. Besides helping the girls with their English, each month we organize our household so that the students are responsible for the running of the house and for the group activities that we plan together.

The students like to entertain their families and all their friends in order to show them the opportunity they have in living here. Consequently we are very busy, but it does give us an unusual opportunity to get closer to the students than we could in our very large classes and to learn a great deal about their intellectual and spiritual needs.

Life in a Pottery Factory

In the summer of 1957 I obtained a job in a pottery factory in Pusan for an interpreter (a sophomore English student at Ewha) and myself. I wanted to learn about factory work and conditions in Korea because I believe that mass industry is quickly coming to this country, but the Korean Church is not prepared, nor even visualizing the changes which will ultimately take place.

I was able to learn many facts about factory conditions and about a part of Korean life with which I had had little contact. The experience of working side by side with the workers, of learning what they talk about, what they think are the most important things in life, and what they want for themselves and their children in the future was very enlightening. I found that the physical conditions were very difficult. However the ideas of most workers of the ways in which they might improve their surroundings were extremely limited; as I came to know the trade union people they begged me to tell them how they could help themselves. At the same time I was learning about the workers, I was getting to know the managers of the factory. They were very curious about why my interpreter and I would want to spend a vacation working in a factory when we could be enjoying ourselves elsewhere. I was surprised to learn that to a certain extent Christians are still persecuted in some circles in this country. So it was difficult for me to find the Christians in the factory because they were a little afraid to let themselves be known. It was only after about two weeks that they really came to trust me more than as just an outsider. It seemed to me that they felt the Church was not really concerned about them because they have such problems as not being able to go to church on Sunday because they have to work every day of the year.

One of the best experiences of the summer was to see my interpreter, Kim Eun-ja, grow as she saw parts of life in her own country which she hardly knew existed and she was a different person at the end of our month in the factory.

A Mission at English House

I returned after the summer to live in English House once more. Here we have had a ten-day University Mission led by Dr. Harry Denman, of the Methodist Board of Evangelism, and Dr. Manning Potts, Editor of The Upper Room. In the morning there were two sessions at which Dr. Denman spoke and then issued the invitation to those who wished to become Christians. (Two sessions were necessary because the new Grand Auditorium is no longer large enough to hold our rapidly growing student body.) In the afternoon there was a regular question and answer period. In addition there was a prayer meeting each morning, and Dr. Potts held sessions each day on the use of prayer and worship materials. Each day Dr. Denman, also, met with the school workers, and there were special sessions with the faculty.

All the student organizations were very much involved in the Mission; especially active was the Y.W.C.A. The emphasis of the school during these ten days was primarily upon the Mission. The leadership of our President, the administration, and the faculty was backed by a faith that believed in miracles. The miracle did happen, for on Sunday, November 10th, 580 students, teachers, workmen and children of teachers were baptized. It was an extremely impressive service in which five Methodist pastors, Dr. Potts and Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist Church in the U.S.A. took part. In addition to that number, many hundreds more rededicated themselves to their Christian life.

During the past year I have continued to learn about teaching techniques so that each semester is more satisfying than the last. I have been extremely happy to have Miss Marion Controw to help me in many ways, for she has been teaching English and working here at Ewha for many years, and is always ready to help with any problems I may have. Also it was with mixed feelings that I said good-bye to Elda Daniels for she had become a friend who had good advice for unknown situations.

Promoted?

When I submitted a report in January 1957, covering my first four months in Korea, I entitled it "Back to Kindergarten" and expressed the hope that by the end of 1957 I would feel I had been promoted at least to primary school. I think perhaps this hope has been realized but there is an underlying sense of frustration. I wish to be doing the work that can be carried out only after many many years of experience, and I find the basic training stages difficult.

I have continued to teach at the Han Kuk Theological Seminary. The classes were reduced in size but the hours per class were not increased. It is impossible to learn to converse in any foreign language on the basis of one hour's study per week. However, in November I was able to give a mark of 100 to one student. Ninety per cent of their limited library is in English, so it is urgent that the students learn to read and express themselves. I am looking forward to teaching in their beautiful new building, which will be opened this coming spring.

In March, Severance Medical College, Severance Nursing School and Chosun Christian University united to become Yonsei University. The first-year students of the Medical College are receiving English instruction five hours a week per class. One period each week was an audio-visual hour in which informative educational movies in English were shown, followed by a discussion period.

Among the third-year student nurses, School of Nursing, Yonsei University, are a few who should be doing advanced work in English, but the majority still require training in basic grammar. Some of the nurses have come to me to discuss their problems and their hopes, and a group met with me for Bible study. At Christmas, the whole class put on the play "The Animals' Gifts" in English. It was a unique presentation and gave me an opportunity to work with these girls on an informal basis.

My Most Rewarding Experiences

My most rewarding experience during the year was the period I spent with the Caravans. Twenty-two selected students (15 women and 7 men) first attended a training camp for four days. Then they went in teams to nine different villages near Chungju, and each day Rev. Yung Min Lee (the student pastor) and I visited a team to counsel and observe. I shall never forget the crowds, up to 1,500 per night regardless of weather, coming to see the movies—a cartoon, an educational short on sanitation, and one or two films with a Christian message. Each night I gave greetings on behalf of the Mission and the Canadian Church. As the young people were city students, they gained an understanding of their own church, the problems of denominationalism, and the difficulties and needs of the rural people.

I have had English Bible classes, more English than Bible I felt. Yet one student who came asking specifically for English, not Bible study, in December signified his desire to accept the Christian faith.

One of my greatest thrills has been the response of friends in North America, especially my home province of Saskatchewan, who have shared their bounty with the poor of Korea. So many thousands need help, but each parcel of good used clothing, school supplies, etc., permits us to assist a few.

On occasion I have led in worship, my sermons being translated. Whether interpreted sentence by sentence or summarized at the conclusion, I am not convinced that it is the best means of evangelization.

"I sought the Lord, and he answered me, and delivered me from all my fears." "Remember the wonderful works that he has done." "The blind receive their sight." "He is like a tree planted by streams of water, that yields its fruit in its season." "Do all things without grumbling and questioning." "Judge not, that ye be not judged." "The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord." Yes—all unrelated verses of Scripture, but all part of the year 1957 for me here in Korea.

Difficulties of a Language Student

Perhaps one of the reasons why language students find the writing of an annual report somewhat difficult is because of the necessary realization of their uselessness, often impressed upon them by others, during their first term of service, and especially during the first years of that term. When faced on innumerable sides by tasks crying to be done, it is not easy to have a large enough perspective to see the importance of one's role as a language student, either for the student himself or for those who would put him to work. Nevertheless we, as language students, try to protect the task assigned us, not always with success for we often lose sight of it. Facility of language seems to grow from one pedantic plateau to another. While on the plateau, we seem swamped by our inabilities, and it is easy to forget those rare and lovely days when we realize with sudden and joyful discovery that we have been relaxed and alight in a conversation.

The ever-changing pictures of the culture of this adoptive land impress themselves upon the newcomer with varying reactions. Their many facets serve to predict the intricacies of all issues and to remind one of the complications involved in the need for understanding. For everything that endears the heart here there is that which would rend it, and only the knowledge of what God will do in spite of us, His children, brings hope and trust. One need seems even more pre-eminent and urgent than ever before, and that is to go out in the awareness that whatever task God has entrusted to us is precisely that, a task, entrusted, and not to be held possessively as "my work", requiring defense at all costs. But if we may go forth in thanksgiving, trusting in His sanctifying grace, then it may be that in His mercy, He may use His children as instruments of His divine love and will.

War Widows in Korea

A great deal of my work in Korea had been done with the war widows. The government estimated that there were 300,000 of them, but probably not more than 10,000 had come within the orbit of receiving relief. They were older women, between 35 and 50 years of age. They had grown up in an oriental world where women stayed behind the front doors of the home and did not go out into the market to bargain for a fair price for their handwork with strange men. Before Korea Church World Service was organized to help them they would have had two alternatives . . . one was to go into debt to borrow money to pay some man to manage them. The other was to abandon their children to an institution and fend for themselves. Many widows tried both of these methods, but K.C.W.S. felt that a more Christian witness would be to help the widow to keep her family with her and make a living. It was all worthwhile, but it became much more involved than at first it looked. In the search for what widows could make that the public would buy, we realized that Korean homes are very simple, and families wanted little in the way of decoration in them. Anything new that would be introduced was necessarily western, and this was not quite our aim.

But our second battle seems to be a stronger one with which to grapple, and that has to do with the cultural pattern that Korea is aiming to follow. Many projects, quite feasible from an economic point of view, cannot be tried because they are contrary to Korean custom. Women have always been the conservative element and this is instanced by the story of our soap business. When I went to Korea the women were using a black laundry soap. They had the material at hand to make a poor quality soap—why could they not use this material for a better quality? In a good oriental way they agreed, and I thought they agreed with the idea. A westerner never gets used to the fact that an oriental says, "Yes, yes," meaning "Yes, I hear," not "Yes, I agree with you." We brought in an expert for six months and they made a much better quality soap. When the expert went home, the women could not face the social stigma attached to making it by themselves, and the whole project ceased. I never was able to find out the real reason. It was just work that women did not do.

Successful Projects

Recently K.C.W.S. held a course in invisible mending. Everyone could see the need for such a course in a country that had so much warm clothing come in, and the skill could be practised without a great deal of expensive machinery. Three graduates banded together and made a contract with a local factory to repair the rents made while the cloth was still on the loom.

About two years ago one complaint from the women was that, after they had embroidered a picture they had to take it to a specialist in scroll making who charged a huge sum to finish the picture properly so that it could be sold. I offered to finance the plan for six women to be apprenticed to a scroll-maker and learn to do this for themselves. It took eight months to find any woman who would try the course. Finally, four women came forward. The course lasted three months, of which I saw one finished before I left, and I hear that two of the graduates are working steadily at it now, and that they are most grateful for having had the opportunity and followed it through.

Of course, sewing and making children's clothing is an occupation which is acceptable for women in Korea, and every widow will tell you that the answer to her problem is a sewing machine. My estimate now is that any woman who has the eyesight and the intelligence to grasp the routine skills of a sewing machine has already done so.

Travelling for New Ideas

After consultation with the experts in the United Nations organizations in Korea, the Division of Church World Service in New York, the World Council of Churches office in Geneva, and the United States government organizations in Korea as to where in the world such welfare work as I was attempting had been worked out, I was told that the Middle East offered more opportunity and so, with Mrs. Taylor's knowledge and consent my journey started.

The first call in the Middle East was Lebanon. The Palestinian refugees, like those in Korea, will be dependent on relief organizations for some time to come. The women did have skills: they could knit beautifully; they knew the art of lace-making and also of sewing but they needed very badly to have more guidance from someone with a knowledge of what tourists would buy. There were three staff people—one in Gaza, one Y.W.C.A. person in Jerusalem and one in Damascus that were interested in this on a part-time basis, and were doing what they could. These three places were sending their handwork to the UNESCO office in Beirut for sale.

From Lebanon I went to Greece. They were still working with the Greek refugees of 1925 who had been sent back from Turkey. This small core of refugees that was left were getting general assistance from the American Congregational Christian Service Committee by having small settlements set up right in the heart of each refugee area. The Queen's Fund had given assistance to many of the more recent refugees. From refugee camps her interest had spread until the Fund was helping the people in villages throughout Greece. It seemed that every Greek island had a special skill for its women and, with the help of the Fund, each little island was able to send its particular kind of handwork to the central shop in Athens.

In Korea the war has brought problems regarding orphans. Many of these orphans are now growing up. Several organizations in Korea are trying to assist the sons of poor farmers to learn better methods of farming but there is very little help being given to the "landless" orphans. I realized that this was one untouched area of rehabilitation in Korea, and I was very much interested in seeing what the Organization for Rehabilitation through Training (ORT) was doing in Europe. It is a Jewish organization that has been meeting a need in Europe for 70 years among the Jewish young people. The training given prepares the young person for emigration. I saw one of their ordinary schools in Rome, and spent a pleasant time in the training school for their teachers in Geneva.

In England the opportunities for "new ideas" were without number. The Y.W.C.A. had several groups who had come from Jamaica to England for training in skills and crafts which would be used when they returned to their homes. The Women's Institutes had done a great deal to provide pamphlet material for their rural areas on the subjects of crafts. The British Red Cross periodically had a series of classes on crafts, and they offered to send to Korean widows patterns and samples of their smartest looking stuffed animals. During my visit in England I attended the Annual Exhibitions Handcrafts. Everybody was very helpful in providing useful addresses, advice and even samples. The ships of Dryads, the Puppet Association, Robert Cullen and the Methodist Mission office all added to a profitable time in England.

The answers I seek are not simple, nor are they all found in one place, but I know that our work in Korea is running parallel to the work of others in Asia and Europe who are aiming at a similar goal.

Since arriving home I have learned that Angora rabbits for Korea is a distinct possibility. They need no special care more than others, and the processing of their fur is not complicated to a woman who knows the hand method of spinning.

TRINIDAD

FOREWORD

The Committee for Women's Work is pleading for eight more missionaries to be sent as soon as possible.

The former Naparima Girls' High School Board of Managers has changed its name and function. It has now become the Presbyterian Girls' Secondary School Board with Administrative Committees for the Naparima Girls' High School and the St. Augustine Girls' High School. Both these schools have had excellent results in the students they have sent up for examinations. There are now 684 students at the Naparima Girls' High School, with 140 more in the Kindergarten and Prep School Department; a little over 500 of these are Christians, including 65 Roman Catholics. The St. Augustine Girls' High School has an enrolment of 297 students.

Archibald Institute has had an enrolment of 40 this year. The future of this Institute has been studied this year by the Board of the School.

In August in Trinidad there was held a Consultative Assembly of the Presbyterian Churches in the Caribbean. Dr. James Thomson, the Moderator of The United Church of Canada, was one of the speakers and he visited the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad on that occasion. This is the first time these Churches from the various territories have met together to consider their common problems.

The Radio Committee of Presbytery has been very active during the year. The Committee for Women's Work co-operates with Presbytery in this Committee. Programs include "Radio Sunday School", a Radio Edition of the Bible. Radio Trinidad has released free time to the Federal Council of Churches in Trinidad and a number of ministers of the Presbyterian Church have made excellent contributions, especially over "Morning Devotions" and in the Sunday evening Worship Services.

Transition and Adjustment

I was in Trinidad for less than four months of 1957. The transition from Canada to Trinidad was, in many ways, very easy and very pleasant. The beauty of tropic sea and sky and hill beckoned me; the summery weather was inviting, and on every hand Trinidad friends gave me a warm welcome.

But there were ways in which it was not so easy to make the adjustment, for, while I was in Canada Trinidad had been growing into nationhood as part of the West Indies Federation, and we all know that there can be no growth without disturbing changes. This has been very apparent in our church life and work, as the developing Christian Church strives to meet the challenge, and the need of the growing nation. I was helped in understanding some of these changes by the findings of the Consultative Assembly of the Presbyterian Churches in the Caribbean Area, a gathering which was held shortly before my return, and which definitely looked forward to further and wider co-operation among the Christian forces in this part of the world.

There had been some uncertainty as to my place of work; but it was decided that I should return to work in the Couva area, in the central part of the island, to co-operate with the ministers and lay workers in three of our pastoral charges. Presbytery appointed me as their Regional Field Secretary.

Working with Miss Sinanan

One very happy thing about this decision was that I would have as my colleague Miss Bernice Sinanan, who, a year before, upon her return from study in Canada, had commenced church work in the Couva area. Soon after my arrival I attended a concert at one of our rural churches. The program was produced under Miss Sinanan's leadership; for weeks she had been attending rehearsals in that rather inaccessible village. The result was an evening of wholesome entertainment in which the whole community participated, men and women, old and young.

I found that through the year the little groups of our Trinidad Woman's Missionary Society had been moving forward steadily under Miss Sinanan's guidance.

In our area there are 13 day schools operated jointly by our church and the Trinidad government. Miss Sinanan and I have enjoyed visiting these schools and encouraging the teachers in the program of Christian Education which is part of their school curriculum. Our Sunday Schools and our T.G.I.T., Explorer and Trail Ranger groups did not fare very well during the last months of 1957. This was due, in part, to the flu epidemic which delayed the day schools, resulting in pressure to prepare for examinations, etc., so that group work in Christian character-building was neglected. A definite effort is being made to promote more church-centred Christian Education in 1958.

Unfortunately, it has not been practical for me to live in the area of my work, so I have been living in St. Augustine with Miss Rouse, Miss Inman and Miss Cosman, and driving back and forth. For most of the driving I have had a chauffeur-companion, a young man who formerly helped Rev. Roy Neehall and his family. He is a Christian lad, thoroughly interested in all aspects of our church work, and I have been learning from him many Trinidad ways of thinking, speaking and acting.

A Trinidad Christmas

The weeks before Christmas were crowded with preparations for pageants and plays and parties. Each church group, each school group, has its pre-Christmas celebration. It is a happy kind of "business" with the music of Christmas on our lips and in our hearts.

Trinidad's custom is to have church services very early on Christmas morning, some of them as early as five o'clock. I led a six o'clock service and attended another at eight. This left the later hours of the day free for visiting with Canadian friends, and for enjoying the many Christmas greetings from Canada. For letters and cards, and for your prayers and gifts, we do indeed say "Thank you."

"Who Shall Ascend into the Hill of the Lord?"

As I took gasoline at a familiar Esso station one evening, the attendant sought to be helpful by cleaning the windshield of the car. His manner was pleasant, his energy vigorous but the results were unsatisfactory. The cloth he used was dirty.

"Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord and who shall stand in His holy place? He that hath clean hands and a pure heart." Truly we are His witnesses and day by day we help or we hinder the vision of fellow travellers. God grant that we may help.

The first half of the year I lived with Miss Phoebe Lahouri at the St. Augustine's Girls' High School residence. When Miss Wagar returned in June I returned to live at the bungalow, Archibald Institute, a mile distant. When Jean Sommerville returned in September she came to live here, making us a family of four. Also she took over the bits of work that I had been doing in the Couva field.

My work includes preaching nearly every Sunday, visiting Sunday Schools to encourage local teachers, helping with W.M.S. and T.C.I.T. meetings, visiting in day schools in the interests of Christian Education and visiting in the homes of our people. One day I went with a young woman schoolteacher in the country to her home and found that she has a sister of 16 years old who has been deaf from birth. She is bright and eager but has had no opportunity for special training. I wrote to a friend in U.S.A. and we are contacting correspondence schools that, we hope, may be able to help.

Being secretary of a few committees and taking my share of program preparation gives me some hours at my desk. I continue to teach Religious Knowledge and Deportment at the Archibald Institute with the junior class.

The Church Development Committee

In our Presbyterian Church in Trinidad the women need encouragement to accept responsibility in church and community. The men need encouragement in thinking that women can serve acceptably in places of responsibility. Because I am secretary of the Church Development Committee I attend Presbytery as a corresponding member where I believe I make a contribution toward the integration of women's work in the total task of the church.

The Church Development Committee is made up of members appointed by Presbytery and by the Committee for Women's Work. A big event of the year was the meeting in August of the Consultative Assembly of Presbyterian Churches in the Caribbean. The Presbyterian churches in Trinidad (including the Church of Scotland) were host to the Assembly and the Hospitality Committee, of which I was chairman, had a competent staff on the job. The Archibald Institute was the hostel for the delegates who came from Jamaica, Grenada, British Guiana, Surinam and Canada. We numbered about three dozen. At 8 a.m. each day we had worship and Bible study led by Dr. J. S. Thomson, using the theme "The Word of God." This hour set the tone for the day. Eight commissions were set up and meetings so planned that each member worked on two commissions. The approved findings have been mimeographed and have gone to each member of Presbytery of all the churches represented, for consideration and report to the Continuing Committee. This gathering for ten days of fellowship and study has been a rare privilege for us to begin to get acquainted with our neighbours in this far-flung Caribbean area. The after-supper talks on the history of our respective churches has deepened our interest and confirmed our hopes. It has been good to be closely associated with all this development.

"The Matron and Superintendent of Iere Home for Girls Recall 1957"

- S. — As you look back over 1957 in the Iere Home, how do you feel about it?
- M. — Sometimes I am very happy when I recall some of the things we did. For example, do you remember our trip to the W.M.S. conference in San Fernando in February?
- S. — Yes. It was lovely of the ladies to ask Iere Home to lead the afternoon devotions, wasn't it?
- M. — Yes—for small girls in a large church, I was rather proud of them, too, weren't you?
- S. — Yes, I think the people appreciated our worship and it was the first time our girls had spoken through a microphone. Do you remember how the two bus drivers almost quarreled over which bus was to take us home?

M. — And then on the way home, we stopped at the Usine Ste. Madeleine dairies where Mr. Constable showed us how milk was pasteurized. Then he took us through the stables to see the cows and the girls were amused that some of the cows were called by their names.

S. — Yes, wasn't that comical? They laughed about it for days. Since the theme of our service was "Federation," do you remember that later in February we were asked to take part in our own church for the Federation Day Service?

M. — Yes, and again I was proud of the girls.

S. — Then in April, you remember, it was our new church opening that we worked for? Do you recall that besides the senior choir that Miss Beattie trained, there was the junior choir combined with our girls that sang a three-part anthem?

M. — Yes, you really worked hard to train them all.

S. — Well, the results were worth it.

M. — Then in June we had the Iere Home Association Tea.

S. — Wasn't it nice of them to give $75 to the new church?

M. — Yes, it was their one big effort of the year. When I came back after the August holiday, you were telling me about your Vacation Bible School, which you and Miss Waggott conducted.

S. — Yes, we had a wonderful time. There were about sixty children from Princes Town of all denominations. We divided them into three grades and each leader had a helper. On the Friday night, we had an open meeting for parents. We were surprised at how well they turned out and how well the children took part in the program although we had only had them for five days.

M. — You said that some of the children made their decisions for Christ on that last morning.

S. — Yes, that was a real thrill. There were twelve or fourteen of them who remained behind to talk to us. Following that I started a Primary Catechism class for those of our church who came forward and I was surprised when those from other denominations wanted to join too.

S. — Do you remember that before you left for the August vacation, it was announced in church that instead of the usual 11 a.m. service which was not well attended, there would be a 7 a.m. service? This was done as an experiment but it was found so successful that it was continued. Since there was now no service after Sunday School, you remember that we decided to invite the Sunday School children to join with our girls in a junior one. How do you feel that we have succeeded in this?

M. — I feel it has been one of the most worthwhile things we ever attempted. Didn't you feel good about the Harvest Service and the White Gift Service?

S. — Yes, and it seemed to make them special because we held them in the church.

M. — You have been attending Christian Endeavour every Tuesday night. How do you feel about the progress of the young people toward Christian living?

S. — I feel that we are making progress but it is slow. Right now I am cheered because some of the young people have asked for baptism. We had good Thanksgiving and Christmas pageants which the congregation appreciated. But I was worried when I heard that in one of the homes at Christmas, some of the older boys encouraged a younger one to take a first drink and laughed at him when he showed signs of being drunk. We have a long way to go yet to impress them with the fact that we need to use our Christianity in taking an interest in the welfare of others.

M. — That's why I am glad about the junior congregation. It gives me a chance to work with the younger children and get them started thinking in Christian ways earlier.

S. — Yes, that is where we have the advantage in working with the girls here in the Home too. If we take them early enough we can aid their thinking and they in turn can carry the Christian influence into their homes.

M. — But you spend a great deal of time in working with the girls in other than Christian teaching. Why are you concerned about their progress in school?

S. — You know how important it is for a girl to be able to take her place in public life these days. If she is to do that she must have an education. Ten years ago there were still early marriages but now the boys are getting education and do not want to marry so early. So if the girls are not chosen early, they must do something in the intervening years. The boys are not going to choose an uneducated girl in these days. It is very difficult for our girls to pass an examination without help because they are all backward for one reason or another. So I spend all my extra time coaching them in their studies and giving them music lessons. But you help them too, with music and sewing and instructing them in washing, ironing and cooking. What part of the year do you enjoy the most?

M. — Well, I always like the Christmas season.

S. — But that means such a lot of work for you with all the making of new uniforms for gifts and the supervising of the dresses made by the fourteen-year-old girls. Then you have the costumes to make for the concert and the ice-cream and candy to make for selling at intermission—to say nothing of supervising the cooking for the party dinner and cleaning the fowl.

M. — Yes, it is a lot of work, but it is a pleasure seeing everybody so happy and the girls are so willing to work. Then there is a real spiritual uplift at the end of the year when we see our big girls grown up and ready to leave us. Our planning of the special dedication service for them, seems to be the highlight of the year, and we seem to be very near to them as they say good-bye.

S. — Yes, I feel that way too, and we do pray that they have caught the real spirit of Jesus Christ and that they will remain true to Him as they go out to take their places in one of the other institutions for further study or to live in their homes. We gave them the best advice we could when we taught them the chorus, "Put your hand in the hand of Jesus and go marching on."

K. JOY VICKERY

Educational Missionary,
Naparima Girls' High School,
San Fernando, Trinidad

One of the highlights of the time spent in Canada on furlough was meeting Dr. Frank Laubach at Whitby in August of '56. He has influenced my work here greatly.

Dr. Laubach helped me to talk to young people. To quote from his book "Channels of Spiritual Power," "There is an idealism in youth which rises to the challenge of need." At morning prayers in the high school, in a Christian Education course for the Normal students on "Knowing God," during an evening with the Christian Endeavor Society at La Romain, and in an after-church hour with the boys of the Theological College, I had the joy of touching the hearts of my listeners.

Teaching Science

Teaching science is the work which takes most of my time. All the thirteen- and fourteen-year-olds, 240 of them, have a two-year general science course. Then, in their last two years, a small group of about 35 prepare to write the Cambridge School Certificate examination in one of the branches of science. Last year while my co-worker was on leave, two former pupils assisted with the junior work. Every class has a period of practical work in the laboratory each week, and through this experimental work it is hoped that all students will gain the ability to organize facts and draw conclusions. Filmstrips projected on a sheet in the darkened stage of the auditorium have proved a good visual aid in science teaching.

The Science Club was a democratic group of sixty girls which planned many worthwhile activities. A lecture on sanitation and a visit to the Water Works Reservoir were practical choices of the girls. All the seniors who were privileged to visit the San Fernando Colonial Hospital gazed in wonder as the nurse showed us a three months' foetus. When Pearl Ramcharan returned from her study in India and her around-the-world journey, the club spent a wonderful afternoon asking her questions and looking at her rich collection of treasures.

Bonds of Christian Fellowship

The King's Daughters T.C.I.T. group made up of ten of the youngest girls in residence were mine to lead this past year. We had some very happy experiences together such as going on a bus trip to the home of one of the Muslim members; carrying picture books to the children in the Red Cross convalescent Home and fitting a brown-eyed doll with Indian dress for a group in Canada. In studying about our new Federation, in singing, in playing games and in worshipping under the almond tree, we grew into a group with real bonds of friendship.

The filmstrips, "Parable in Nature," have been used again and again in the evening worship in the Sarah Morton Dormitory with girls ranging from eleven to nineteen. The package of stories obtained from the United Church Training School made a wonderful library for leaders and girls who were preparing to lead in worship. The "Cihu" stories of Dr. Laubach caught the imagination of the girls.

The Easter camp in Grenada for T.G.I.T. leaders has been reported in the August Missionary Monthly. The 22 campers, accepted and loved by the Scots Presbyterians of Dr. J. C. MacDonald's church, had a very happy two weeks on that spicy island. The spiritual tone of the camp was set by the thoughtful Morning Watch meditations prepared by Stephanie Shurland, now of Ilesha, Nigeria.

At the T.G.I.T. week-end conference in June some intensive work was done with the 60 delegates who attended and the girls were anxious to carry back something tangible to their groups—a piece of basketry, a bit of cloth with potato printing design, some shell work or a paper flower.

The Tarouba Sunday School, on one of the sugar estates near San Fernando, had an average attendance of 91, held in the crowded little hall for outdoors the ground is on a slope and often muddy. In September a bus load of the children came in to the rally in Susamachar Church.

Opening the Gates to Heaven

The Y.W.C.A. of San Fernando sent me as their delegate to the Caribbean Consultation in Puerto Rico in August. Our leaders were such outstanding persons as Janet Thomson of Geneva, Grace Louek's Elliott and Elizabeth Johns of New York, Jean Campbell of Toronto and Marion Foster of Calgary. There were delegates and observers from all over the area, Nassau to Surinam and British Guiana, Mexico to Barbados.

Since furlough I find I am involved in many more community activities. Perhaps the words of Dr. Laubach, "Don't open the gate too wide toward heaven unless it is opened equally toward the lowliest and the neediest," have influenced me to accept responsibility outside the church. The Child Welfare League claims a little help in small gifts of time and skill in cooking. The Assisted Secondary School Teachers' Association held their first conference last year and gladly welcomed into the discussions those of us who had had experience in other countries.

The Y.W.C.A. of San Fernando serves primarily the girls whose schooling stopped when primary education was completed. To help keep this worthy organization alive seems imperative when the secondary schools must reject hundreds who seek entrance. Through this desire to help the girls who cannot have further education in school, through friendships in the organization and through a quickened sense of the wholeness of "Y" activities I have been drawn deeply into Y.W.C.A. work in the island. The newly formed Teenage Club, the new link at Point Fortin and the building which is being erected in San Fernando, are now constantly in my thought and prayers.

Bridging Caribbean Frontiers

"Bridging Caribbean Frontiers" was the theme of the Caribbean Youth Leaders Seminar, under the auspices of the World Assembly of Youth, held in Trinidad last week (February 1958). This was the third Caribbean-wide conference that it has been my privilege to attend during the past year. With the advent of the British West Indian Federation we are ever more conscious of the wider Caribbean, which includes British Guiana and British Honduras, which we hope may later join the Federation, as well as the Spanish, French and Dutch-speaking areas.

The first, and to me the most important and the most enjoyable of these conferences was the inter-church, inter-island Caribbean Consultation under the International Missionary Council and the World Council of Christian Education held in Puerto Rico, May 16-25, 1957. Nine of the major Protestant denominations, including the Anglicans; Spanish, French, and Dutch as well as English-speaking areas of the Caribbean participated; and overseas secretaries came from England, Canada, and United States. My most vivid impression was the fellowship and friendship with those of different racial and cultural backgrounds, with our common love of Christ and the Caribbean. The report and findings of this Consultation in the fields of Evangelism, Training the Ministry, Home and Family Life as well as of Christian Education has been published in a book called "The Listening Isles." I commend it to your reading.

The second Caribbean conference was the Presbyterian Consultative Assembly, held in Trinidad August 20-30, 1957. You can read of this in the February Missionary Monthly, 1958, and elsewhere. The Presbyterian Church of Trinidad is supported by the United Church of Canada; the one in British Guiana is supported by the Canadian Presbyterian Church. Then there is the Church of Scotland in Jamaica. Delegates from all of these churches, and observers from Surinam and Canada were present. Dr. J. S. Thomson's morning Bible study on the "Word of God" led us to mountain tops again.

Thirdly, the Caribbean Youth Leaders Seminar, with representatives from British Guiana, Haiti, Grenada, Dominica, Trinidad and Tobago, and the World Assembly of Youth took place in Port of Spain, February 10-16. The main subjects of study were "Leadership Training," "Development toward Nationhood," and "Vocational Training and Guidance." Miss Jean Abdool who was on a W.M.S. scholarship in Canada a few years ago, was an active secretary and leader of this Seminar. Miss Mary Naimool was a delegate and group leader too.

Meetings and Meetings

The major part of my time is spent on meetings; T.G.I.T., W.M.S., Committee for Women's Work and its sub-committees, Evangelistic and Scholarship Committees, Church Development Committee of Presbytery, Naparima Girls' High School Board, Trinidad and Tobago Sunday School Association and Council of Christian Education, Literature Committee, Boys' Work Board, and others. Also I work with Marabella Choir, and I taught a weekly class in Christian Education at the Theological College. Most of my time is devoted to two major secretarial positions which involve field work as well as office work: Corresponding Secretary of the Girls' Work Board, and Executive Secretary of the Christian Education Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Trinidad. The Girls' Work Board plans study projects, conferences, rallies and camps. The Leaders Camp in Grenada at Easter time merits a whole report in itself. The Christian Education Committee has been chiefly concerned with an effort to have more effective Christian Education in our 70 primary denominational schools.

In my last report I wrote of Miss Bernice Sinanan's return to Trinidad, as our first Canadian trained woman church worker. The second, Miss Mary Naimool returned in September, and it has been my joy to be associated with her as she took up work in the Penal-Siparia charges. Our church is proud of these young women. Long may they lead in building a Christian Caribbean!

"From Sea to Sea"

New Year's Day 1957 found me at my brother's home in Saint John, N.B., but a few days later I travelled in cold and stormy weather to Toronto. Here I attended the lectures and enjoyed again the fellowship of the School of Missions, as well as sitting in on a few lectures at Emmanuel College. I had the privilege of sharing Miss Eva MacFarlane's apartment with Miss Ada Sandell of Korea. Week-ends were usually spent at the homes of friends in Calt, Port Credit, Port Hope, Ottawa, London and Whitby with a minimum of speaking engagements. In March I left for the west and with twenty-four hours' stop in Winnipeg and Calgary, arrived in Vancouver in time to proceed with my hostess, Miss Edna McLellan, to Nanaimo to Conference Branch. After visiting friends and relatives, and addressing a few groups in Vancouver, White Rock and Kamloops, I returned to Montreal, Valois and Ayer's Cliff. Speaking engagements in the Maritimes kept me busy until the middle of June, except during the week of Dominion Board, which as usual was a pleasant time meeting with old friends and new.

In nearly all the colleges across Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver, I met our students, and heard good accounts of their work. This is an opportunity for Christian students and church members to do missionary work, as well as make interesting friends of these bright young people.

"Unfinished Business"

On my return to Trinidad, August 20th, I found the Consultative Assembly of the Presbyterian Churches of the Caribbean getting down to work, and I was able to join them as an observer during the second week. There was a wonderful sense of fellowship and we all found help and encouragement in the discussions. Perhaps we felt, in every case, the need for more workers:

Soon after resuming responsibility for the evangelistic work in the San Fernando area again, another large slice was taken off my field as Miss Mary Naimool took up work in Siparia and Penal congregations. This gives me more time to visit both in the district and in the town of San Fernando.

At the end of September, one of my most capable and consecrated Bible women passed away after an illness of a few days. A few days after her death we met to lay the cornerstone of the church that she had worked and sacrificed to have built. Surely she will know of its growth and work. It seems impossible at present to find one to fill her place.

Mrs. Jamadar continues her voluntary service but like several others, including myself, the years are beginning to take their toll, and where are the reinforcements? So much still to be done and so little time and so few to do it!

The New Year message of the chairman of the Maritime Conference, published in THE UNITED CHURCHMAN, struck me very forcibly. The work in Trinidad was started by these Maritime provinces and it is still "unfinished business" to quote Mr. Forbes. It must be done, not by the raising of the $1,000,000, necessary as that may seem, but by those who will give themselves. Where in the midst of all the organizations, groups and clubs to be found in the church today, are the daring consecrated young people who will dedicate themselves to this "unfinished business"?

CONSTANCE E. WAGAR

Back from Furlough

As the big B.O.A.C. Stratocruiser glided down over Trinidad, my sister and I looked down excitedly for familiar landmarks. How different it was from our first arrival six years before. Now, we were eagerly anticipating our reunion with Trinidadian friends and were anxious to be back to work among "our" girls at St. Augustine Girls' High School, after a year of study and visitation in Canada.

The year 1956-57 had flown by with post-graduate study in Education at the Ontario College of Education as well as numerous lectures and craft classes at the School of Missions which we both attended. It was a pleasure to meet with many friends of Bay of Quinte Conference as we visited, gave addresses and showed pictures of our work at various centres, including Whitby School for Leaders, five Presbyterial meetings and many church gatherings. We enjoyed our visits to Alma College and a trip as far west as Sarnia visiting Seaforth, Petrolia and St. Thomas. In Toronto, too, it was our privilege to visit many groups.

On Friday, June 28th we landed in Trinidad and on Monday we were back at school, being royally welcomed by staff and students. What a week of parties—presentations of flowers and welcoming visits followed!

A Packed Program

Our first big event was Graduation Day on July 31st when twenty young girls, lovely in white graduation dresses, marched solemnly into the well-packed hall. For the first time our graduates took a pledge of loyalty to their Alma Mater and the ideals for which it stands. They were addressed by the Minister of Education, Hon. Dr. Solomon. About 800 people attended this function and we entertained over fifty to tea at our residence.

It was a joy to return to the leadership of my T.G.I.T. group, which has grown to about forty girls. A new Mission Band has been organized in connection with our church and we have been able to give this group some assistance. Church and Sunday School are held regularly in our school.

Our Alumnae Association was revived and the girls published a successful newscast in 1957.

A new venture was the organization of a Parent-Teacher Association which promises benefit to our school in its efforts.

The Entrance Examination Day was another outstanding event. We prepared for 350 candidates but 433 arrived—proof of the desire and need for secondary education for girls.

Our school year closed with two Christmas concerts—one for the students and staff, the other, sponsored by our choir, was open to the public and was most successful. Boys from Naparima joined our choir in this effort.

We held our usual Christmas party for the children of our district and this year our guests numbered over four hundred. With the help of Canadian friends we were able to provide gifts and sweets for each.

It was a pleasure to prepare and present a pageant, "Wonderful Windows" at our W.M.S. conference. Since the theme of the pageant dealt with Federation, our high school girls have been asked to repeat it several times—once over Radio Trinidad. In "spare" moments, I have completed a playette "Together in Trinidad" and hope to continue with such missionary writing.

KAYE M. COSMAN

Short Term Teacher,
Archibald Institute,
St. Augustine, Trinidad

Valedictory at Archibald Institute

The assembly became hushed once more as Miss Carmen Manohar, a shy but poised young East Indian girl, rose to give her valedictory address. ". . . It was a bright January day in 1956 when we first came to the Institute . . . In time, we came to know and understand each other, and became accustomed to the ways of the school, so that today we feel, as many other graduates in the past twenty-five years have felt, that these years make up a very precious and unforgettable part of our lives—a part which will be of value to us in the years to come. As well as gaining knowledge we made friends here . . . I would say a special thanks to the church which was of great guidance to us. Before I close, I must repeat that we of the graduating class enjoyed our stay at the Archibald Institute very much. What we have learned, we are going to put into practice, and, if possible, teach those who are not fortunate enough to attend this school. . ."

The occasion was the Archibald Institute's twenty-seventh annual Speech Day at which Miss Manohar, and fifteen other young Trinidad women, received their diplomas and certificates, after completing the two-year course in Homemaking which the Institute currently offers.

The past year had, on the whole, been a happy and eventful one for these girls and their friends at school. They had had two major outings—to the Caribbean Exhibition in Port of Spain, and to Balandra Beach. As T.G.I.T. groups, they paraded with other youth groups before the Chief Minister.

They formed a cricket team and met the students of the St. Augustine Girls' High School twice during the season, and when the annual island-wide Handicraft Exhibit came round, these girls entered their work, and carried off one of the special prizes.

When Miss Manohar spoke of the church and its influence, she spoke, I know, from personal experience. These girls attended Sunday School and morning worship at the nearby Aramalaya Presbyterian Church, and they formed the choir there at the evening service.

I shall always remember those girls' voices singing a hymn which they learned first as a program piece, but which they later were wont to sing because they had come to love it, and, I feel, had come to catch a tiny but definite glimpse of its real meaning for their lives:—

*Be Thou my Vision, O Lord of my heart,
Naught be all else to me save that Thou art,
Thou my best thought, by day or by night,
Waking or sleeping, Thy presence my light.*

"Pressure, Miss Rouse, Pressure"

It has been the desire of this missionary to open a W.M.S. in each of the preaching stations in this area. It is a satisfaction to know we have almost reached this aim. To date there are fourteen groups on my timetable which I visit every month.

Once in a while I get myself more than busy. For instance, I thought it would be nice to have a Christmas pageant in each group. The pageants were given out, and then I found I was needed to carry out practices and costuming. It meant three or four appointments a day. My chauffeur often remarked, "Pressure, Miss Rouse, pressure."

Our W.M.S. conference was a special joy to me. Each of our groups was represented. It was fun going about during lunch period and discovering little circles of these women. I have never been able to name so many women in our conference before.

World Day of Prayer was another highlight for our groups. Six of them joined for this meeting. Each group was responsible for part of the program. The meeting went through with interest and smoothly. We had a special guest speaker who was high in his praises of the way the service was conducted.

Now we are in the midst of preparation for Easter. Three groups will join together at Kelly, another three groups will meet at Arima Cocorite, the other groups will each hold their own service. Programs have been supplied and we anticipate spiritual blessings.

Miss Sitahall, matron of the Archibald Institute, and I help in Religious Education at five schools. Miss Sitahall is a fine singer and has such a pleasing personality that she gets really good results in leading the singing. Then we have a story for the children. Each year we receive many bundles of Sunday School papers and Christmas cards and it is amazing how many ways the teachers find to use these pictures and stories. The government allows half an hour a day for Religious Education in all schools.

The Archibald Institute has a share of my time with weaving. We received a special prize for a piece of our weaving in the Trinidad and Tobago Handicraft Exhibition. Soon a Caribbean-wide festival is to be held, to be opened by Princess Margaret. We have been asked to enter a few of our best pieces and they have already been sent.

I have two choirs which meet each week for practice. On Sunday I attend two churches and a Sunday School. The Sunday School is held under a house in a section where we have no church. Two weeks ago we had four infant baptisms, and three the month before. Here again the Sunday School pictures, papers and Christmas cards are in great demand.

Such beautiful letters and cards come from prayer groups in Canada. These are continual reminders of the concern the W.M.S. groups in Canada have for the growth of the Kingdom in other lands.

BOARDING SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOMES

FOREWORD

When the frontier was on the fringes of our country the Mission task of education was made very clear to the Church and it responded to the need. Eventually, the classrooms disappeared as the Provinces assumed their rightful responsibility and the Church was left with the living accommodation that had been established for the early task. This accommodation today under the Woman's Missionary Society includes eight large Residences which house young people for the ten months of the year when they leave their own homes to obtain further education or, due to domestic circumstances, have been forced to find residence while attending school. For some years these fine institutions were filled to capacity but with the larger school units and the building of high schools in towns, adjacent to the farming areas, the Society is today faced with the discontinuance of some of this work and the problem of a suitable use for these buildings.

The enrolment in our Boarding Schools and School Homes in October, 1957, included 90 children and young people, the majority of whom were high school age. Of this number four were young Indian students, the responsibility for whom was accepted by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Government. While the numbers were not as large as we desired to see, to have our institutions filled, we realize that the best work is done with small groups and reports from every School Home advised us of the progress made by these young people while they are under our care. It is not unusual for them to direct a Church service, to lead the Young People's meeting and to assist in the Church activities.

Our institutions are in good condition. While improvements such as oil furnaces, sewerage, painting and sidewalks must have attention, one only needs to visit the town in which one of our institutions is established to know that people are proud to have the Society's School Home in their midst.

The young people in our Teulon Homes, particularly the boys, have won scholastic recognition. Numbers have steadily grown in the Bonnyville Homes, while in Lachine there is not sufficient space for those who are requesting admittance.

Christmas Gaieties

It is heart warming to recall the many who have cheered and aided us in different ways throughout the year. At the head of the list should appear our Prayer Partners, the women of our church who have faithfully supported us by their prayers, and who have kept us in remembrance by friendly letters, gifts of quilts, pillow cases and other household items. Thank you, Prayer Partners, we really know that you are with us.

Our second annual Parents' night was a marked success. The children entertained their parents with carols, plays and recitations. The Nativity scene was quite international—the angels, Hungarian, Syrian and German, the shepherds, Hungarian and Dutch, the Kings, Canadian and Hungarian. Joseph was Hungarian and Mary Canadian, the narrator was English. Our tree was loaded with gifts from W.M.S. auxiliaries.

This year children were presented with Bibles.

After the concert, we received a wonderful gift from St. Lambert United Church Sunday School—a portable Hi-Fi record player. In the evening when the children are in bed, we are going to have them listen to some of the better music, classic and sacred, in that way teaching them to appreciate good music. Then, too, we can carry the player to the recreation rooms downstairs and with the help of recorded music and our European children, we will learn folklore and folk dances. The St. Lambert S.S. also gave us their Lenten self-denial money, which paid the board for three Hungarian refugee children. We are very proud of these children; they came to us in September and they are adjusting well to the Canadian way of life and learning English rapidly. We have been coaching them in English and spelling. At Christmas time, James was delighted to be the first in his class in geography.

Our Christmas party was truly a family night, when parents of varying nationalities were as one, although for some it was their first Christmas in Canada. Refreshments followed and our girls served the guests, with dainties made by three of them who are taking cooking lessons at school.

A Happy Family

This year we have added to our number another set of twin boys along with their smaller brother Wilhelm, whom the children appropriately nicknamed "Vim." They are of Dutch nationality and are third year Canadians. Their mother is ill and unable at present to cope with a large family of boys. The father is a chef and baked for us a large cake, beautifully decorated, as an expression of their appreciation.

This year, two of our girls, Carol Ann and Heather, took a definite stand and gave their hearts to the Lord. This was a wonderful year for our little girl Gail. Gail had been wearing a brace on her leg for four years. The children had been praying for weeks that she would have the brace removed, and the walls rang with cheers when the word came from the hospital that it had been done.

Two of our older girls are now members of the C.G.I.T. and they were very proud to be able to light the candles at the vesper service. During the summer, our children had a happy afternoon with the Indian children at Caughnawaga when the Caughnawaga C.G.I.T. girls sponsored a tea.

We were pleased and encouraged when one of our boys of former years, who is now a first-year science student at McGill University, spent his first Sunday on returning to Montreal visiting at the home. Other former students call periodically and all speak of the happy days spent in the home as children.

This year we have had a gift box, and quite a nice sum has been collected for the Mission Band. Barrie, who wants to be one of Jesus' disciples when he grows up, receives payment each week for bringing our evening paper, and without fail he has put all his earnings in the gift box.

Adventures for the Girls

When school opened in January 1957, after the Christmas holidays, we had a happy group of high school girls. They were all active members of the United Church Young People's Society and Beth, in particular, was a real help to our minister, Rev. R. W. Reid, when she assisted in the Church services by reading the scripture lesson or telling the children's story. When the Young People put on a Variety Concert, the girls took an active part in the program. Then graduation in June was an exciting event in the Home, when four of our girls were in the graduating class. They all looked lovely on the platform in their formal dresses. The parents of two of the girls and Beth's brother and sister-in-law came to Teulon for the occasion. Beth had lost both her parents within a short time, about a year previous. Two of the girls are now teaching on permits, hoping to save enough money to pay their tuition to Normal School next term. One is now attending Normal School in Brandon and one working in a bank in Winnipeg.

When the fall term commenced we had a new group, as well as two from the former class. To the new girls, coming to Teulon is a great new adventure. Most of them have been attending small rural schools and this is their first time living away from home. The first work-helping project the girls share in is bringing in our winter vegetables and storing them in the basement. We have a splendid vegetable garden a short distance from the Home.

Our first social gathering is a corn or wiener roast. This year it was a wiener roast as our corn crop was very poor. Miss Stewart and the boys from the Boys' Home joined with us around the bonfire. When they had disposed of quantities of weiners and other good things and then enjoyed a game of baseball, the boys and girls were no longer strangers. In October, the United Church Young People's Society held a Hallowe'en party at the Boys' Home and our girls all reported a wonderful time.

The girls took advantage of the opportunity of going to Winnipeg when the Collegiate teaching staff arranged for a special bus to take the students on a tour through some of the industrial and educational buildings. The girls were interested in their visit to the Home Economics Building at Manitoba University.

Celebrating Christmas

We held our annual Christmas dinner party a week before the students left for their holidays, when Miss Stewart and the boys from the Boys' Home joined with us. We had as our special guests our minister, Mr. Reid, Mrs. Reid and Patsy, also Miss Yakimischak, Matron of our Hospital. The young people had drawn names for an exchange of gifts and after dinner, all eyes were turned toward the gaily decorated tree and one of the boys, as Santa Claus, presented the gifts. We usually have dancing and games to "finish off" our parties, but that evening the film, "Martin Luther" was being shown in the Village Hall and we thought we should all avail ourselves of the opportunity of seeing it.

For the last meeting of the Young People's Society, before the holidays, the members went out Christmas Carol singing. They called at the homes of elderly people and shut-ins and also sang in the corridors of the Hunter Memorial Hospital.

Honors for the Boys

1957 appeared to slip by like a train with the regular routine of the residence being carried out and not many unusual or outstanding events happening. Although I must say I was excited on the day last August when for the first time in my eleven and one half years of living with high school students, the school principal called at the residence to tell me that one of my boys, Raymond Rystephanic, had won an Isbister Scholarship.

I was also very pleased that another boy completed his grade ten with honors, and a second grade ten lad took sixty-four per cent with no failures. Our youngest, Billy Boblinski, 14, whose father, I am sure, is counting on him to become the mainstay of the family because of physical and mental handicaps of the father and elder brother, was passed provisionally. Billy was so happy when he received the news that he sat right down and wrote to thank me as he said he knew he would never have made it if I had not persistently urged him to study harder. The persistent urging became very irksome at times but when I received Billy's letter, I felt it had been very worthwhile, and Billy is back again this term plugging away at grade ten, and so far, the principal is very well pleased with his progress. The Welfare Society pays for part of Billy's board as his father is so physically handicapped that he cannot do any heavy work, so the principal and I feel that we should do all we can to encourage and help Billy get an education.

Collegiate Graduation, the big event of the springtime for the young people of the residences and the village, took place in the Community Hall on May 13th. Raymond was the only boy from the residence to graduate and, of course, was all dressed up and looked very handsome on the platform with the other students who were graduating. Raymond, along with four other students, was presented with a silver pin by the Teulon School Board for never having failed in any examination throughout his public school and high school career. He is now attending Manitoba University.

The Young People's Organization

The Young People's Organization met each week in the basement of our church with a membership of over fifty and they had many happy times together. Our boys are always active members of the group and ever ready to lend a hand in any project. At one church service when the young people were in charge, Raymond Rystephanic gave a very fine address and Vernon Zalevich read the scripture. Some of the other boys assisted by taking up the offering, singing in the choir and also reading the scripture. At the end of June, Mr. and Mrs. Trupp left Teulon to make their home in Ontario. They will be greatly missed for their untiring efforts in young people's work during their five years' residence here.

In the Fall, Dr. Hildebrand and his wife took charge as directors of the Young People's Organization, assisted by Rev. R. W. Reid and Cpl. Marchbank. Again our boys attended the Wednesday evening meetings. The first party was on Hallowe'en and held at the boys' residence with close to sixty attending. They started off with a treasure hunt which took them all over the town, in groups, until about nine-thirty when they returned to the residence for games and ducking for apples. Lunch was served and the party was over before midnight except for the clean-up crew who washed the dishes, etc. In December, our boys assisted in decorating the young people's float for the Santa Claus parade, while others were assisting with the school float, and as many as could rode on the floats in the parade.

Other Activities

The boys are always keen on sports and take part in baseball, basket-ball and rugby in the Spring and Fall, and skating, hockey and curling during the Winter season. This has been a very poor season for winter sports as we have very little snow and the weather does not stay cold long enough to make and keep good ice.

The last, and I think the happiest, event of the year for the young folk of the residences is our joint Christmas dinner party and this year it was the girls' turn to be hostesses to the boys (see previous report).

January 1st to June 30th

In January, ten girls were in residence; during the month of February two extra girls came while their parents vacationed in the south.

Owing to ill health and on the advice of my doctor, I regretfully tendered my resignation as matron.

In April, invitations were sent out to all girls that have lived in the residence during the last seven years and to their parents to a re-union. This took the form of a social evening and dance. The only expense of this project borne by the residence was the rental of a hall costing $15.00. An orchestra from Regina provided good music and enjoyment to both young and old. A good many of my girls and their parents attended this function; I believe there were about 200 present. The W.M.S. helped with the refreshments and served during the lunch hour. This opportunity to meet so many of my girls and their parents was a joy to me and gave me a chance to bid goodbye to all.

The residence is in good repair, clean and bright; the grounds look nice with a good lawn, shrubs and flowers and an excellent garden in process of growing.

School Term

At the beginning of the year, we had nine girls in residence, two of whom were Indian from the Cote Reserve at Kamsack. Later, just a short time before Easter, another Indian girl, Nancy Cote came from the same place but left again early in June. Thus for a few months we had ten girls, four of these being in Grade IX, two in Grade X, with one each in the following Grades: VI, VIII, XI and XII.

Having just one girl in Grade XII, she was our only graduate. This very fine girl was with us for the four years taking her grades 9 to 12. She is now attending Teachers College in Saskatoon.

Several of the girls sang in the church choir, all were members of the Y.P.U. and were often called upon to teach a class in the Sunday School.

Early in June we had our annual wiener roast picnic in our own special picnic spot by the Saskatchewan River. Then soon the final June exams were upon us. Our girls all passed, as they invariably do, thus enjoying a well earned holiday.

The fall term opened August 27th with eight girls in residence, one returning for her third year, two for their second year and five new ones. We had three last minute withdrawals which we regretted very much.

The Story of Two Withdrawals

However, we had a girl come in early November who had been going to school in Uranium City taking her Grade XI, but did not like it there. Her home is 350 miles from Prince Albert north; their only means of transportation is by plane. This girl went home for Christmas and was only back ten days or so when she left in the night and had a local boy friend take her 150 miles to Prince Albert by taxi. She went to a home of some people she knew, and phoned me from there, so I would not wire her parents of her disappearance. Apparently a friend of the opposite sex who works near her home, was responsible for her going back home. Her mother wired me of her arrival there. This girl seems to be quite a disappointment to her foster parents, as she was to us.

Lillian Grinailia, whose parents moved into Alberta, has gone home as she can attend school there. This leaves us with seven, six of whom are in Grade XI and one in Grade XII.

Religious Activities

It will soon be World Day of Prayer, when we invite the C.C.I.T. girls to meet with us as has been our custom for a number of years.

Our usual Christmas dinner party held December 17th, was most enjoyable for ourselves and guests alike. We had the same group as at our wiener roast picnic, i.e., the collegiate staff, their wives or husbands, also Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and children.

The Sunday just previous to the girls leaving for their holiday is always observed as Carol Sunday in our church because of the number of School Home girls who sing in the choir. It is also "White Gift Sunday," when we all give either for Korea or other needy countries.

Our girls are fortunate indeed to have Rev. Mr. Henderson as their Sunday School teacher. They show their appreciation by never wanting to miss unless, of course, they are home for the weekend.

Our devotions are enjoyed. We use the "Upper Room" for mornings with Bible reading. Around the supper table we follow the suggested scripture from the morning lesson. We have interesting discussions always and then prayers.

A Well Spent Year

The Boys' Home started the year and ended the year filled to capacity.

We were most fortunate to have a good Scout leadership. One Sunday, our Scouts and Cubs, along with their leaders, conducted the entire service.

We do not have a janitor in our church and it keeps us busy taking turns cleaning each week. Then when painting and extras come, our big boys have been willing and helpful, many times.

Our Sunday School has an attendance of seventy-two children. My helper is superintendent. When he is unable to attend I take over. Besides doing this I try to be an active worker in the W.A., the hospital auxiliary, Home and School Club, Scout and Cub auxiliary and then with our music lessons in the home once a week.

Our annual Sunday School Hallowe'en party was held in the Boys' Home and a wonderful time was had by all.

Armistice Day brought visitors to our church from Cold Lake Air Base. Our Scouts and Cubs were more than thrilled to march to the Cenotaph with the Mounties and the R.C.A.F. Band.

Then presbytery was held in Bonnyville church with fifty preachers present including Dr. Hart, who was our retiring Missionary Superintendent for Northern Alberta, and many guests. We became a busy group of ladies for a couple of days serving meals.

Sometimes when we get feeling depressed, we realize many of our W.M.S. prayer groups are with us in prayer and then we receive a parcel, perhaps a beautiful quilt, a few towels, or some pillow slips, with a message of cheer. Well, we just can't express our gratitude in words. The boys and myself take this opportunity to thank all who sent us treats and white gifts, also Christmas gifts and donations of money to make our Christmas happy.

The Asiatic flu struck the Home and thirteen of us went down together, running a temperature of 102 to 103 for the first three days. Doctor Brand quarantined us and as the rest became sick, the first ones were getting around again and we just took turns waiting on each other. Our diet was "222's," juice and soup! We got along very well with the help of Miss Dorothy Reid, Matron of our W.M.S. Hospital, taking our temperatures each day and cheering us up. Dr. Brand watched us very closely and we were blessed with good health the rest of the year.

Our school teachers put on a most successful concert from Grade VI down, and the Sunday School had a party in the church, with recitations, songs and carol singing, winding it up with presents and candy-bags.

Our last event was a party of twenty-one ladies gathering in the boys' home for a party to welcome Mrs. Hallwacks as Matron of the Girls' Residence.

A Year's Diary

January: Eighteen girls in residence, some for their fourth term, all happy and well and enjoying "Gleamers" (for teenagers only), under the direction of one of the nurses, Miss Schrumm.

February: Still a packed residence, lots of sleigh rides, and choir practice every week.

March: Comes first thaw with water everywhere, still all well and happy.

April: Comes Eastertide, the girls sang an anthem on Palm Sunday in church and oh! they did well. Nearly all home for Easter holidays while I washed bedding, quilts etc. and generally cleaned house.

May: Lovely spring weather with lots of hikes and wiener roasts. Planting garden.

June: Excitement about examinations and holidays, all passed and eager to go home.

July: Real clean-up and painting of playroom with carpenter working on windows, sills, hoeing our garden, potatoes, carrots etc.

August: A trip to Naramata taking five of the girls with me and what a grand time the children had! Rev. Bob McLaren and staff made us most welcome and went out of their way to give the girls a wonderful time.

September: Back to work again, eighteen girls in residence. Started choir and other activities that make happy and healthy girls. Lots of walks to the lake. Had a visit from a group of W.M.S. ladies while at the lake and they joined us having a wonderful time.

October: Came our annual Hallowe'en party.

November: Studying now for Christmas examinations, still singing every Sunday in church choir and all well with a bit of Christmas spirit creeping in.

December: Took six wee lassies to Edmonton to see "the sights" —Christmas in Wonder-land, even talking with Santa Claus. Our Christmas dinner was, as always, a festive occasion with Rev. and Mrs. Eskdale and little Christine from Elk Point as our special guests, also Miss Reid, Miss Deakins and others from Katherine H. Prittie Hospital staff and Dr. Marriott, local dentist and his first lady. Dr. Marriott has been more than kind to the girls as they needed dental work. To all who made my stay at Bonnyville so enjoyable, to all who remembered my work there in an intangible way and tangible, my sincere appreciation and prayers always.

COMMUNITY MISSIONS EAST

As our cities become larger their problems multiply, particularly in the downtown areas, where barriers have been raised because of language, unemployment and housing. The new population is largely non-English and it is taken for granted that they are not too interested in the Church, so in this field we find a work scarcely touched because of lack of staff—a field that is awaiting the invitation of the Church and what it has to offer, for in Canada there is a new Church freedom, realized by these people.

In the downtown areas we find the Senior Citizens living in single rooms that are not too attractive. These people need friendship and fellowship and the Conferences on "Aging," under the Social Agencies and the Church, are trying to stimulate public awareness and community activity with respect to this group. In this field we have a vital contribution to make and with the trained leadership which the Church can and is attempting to give, much will be done.

Our missionaries have had a large share in alleviating the need caused by unemployment. While some of the legislation bringing benefits to those out of work was being initiated, our Churches had their doors open and those in the Church were serving through the distribution of food and clothing and the assignment of large numbers of men and a smaller number of women to places of employment. From our missionaries we hear about many of the problems faced and met in this regard from Vancouver to Halifax.

Over 500 planes as well as ships brought people to Canada, many of whom remained in the Toronto and Ontario vicinity. It was for this reason that in co-operation with the Board of Home Missions the new United Church Immigration Centre was set up in Carlton Street United Church, Toronto, where direction for employment, assistance with clothing and general information has been given by our two workers to hundreds of New Canadians during the past year.

No one will deny the reach and influential place of both the rural and city Church in the early life of our nation. Just as it did much in the past to deepen the life of people, so today it continues its strength and facilities and is a source of help to many throughout Canada.

I. M. L.

NEWFOUNDLAND CONFERENCE BRANCHSTELLA A. BURRYCommunity Worker, Community Centre,
St. John's, Newfoundland

The service at Emmanuel House Community Centre covers four broad phases of work.

Ministry Through Social Welfare

We gave counsel and assistance to eighty families in 1957, and supplied 48 families with clothing. We planned Christmas cheer for seventy families within the congregation of the four city churches and the suburban mission. We advised church organizations regarding meeting the needs of people in hospitals and institutions, and checked welfare lists to prevent duplications. One distressing need that came to our attention was that of an eighteen-year-old girl released from prison just before Christmas whom I took from the jail to a boarding house. Our girls at Emmanuel House showed their interest by giving her clothing, and now we are trying to have her transferred to the Training Home at Cloverdale since she has no home of her own.

Assisting United Church Projects and Institutions

Out of weeks of study by a Committee, which our Newfoundland Conference asked me to convene, came a new and modified policy for our Children's Home and an improved constitution. Our Children's Home does a wonderful job, and a few Sundays ago I saw a little tot in church with her new parents who had been trained in our home and prepared for adoption. A visit to a community in the Avalon peninsula last spring and investigation into the needs of a family where a mother had died leaving three children, resulted in our accepting four of them. Last winter in St. John's I discovered a fourteen-year-old boy staying home from school looking after the family and cooking a meal for his father and working brother. Three children of this place found a temporary home in our Children's Home.

One of my community tasks is to help in the worship periods of the day schools; another is to visit hospitals and institutions. One Sunday afternoon I made twelve bedside calls on United Church women and girls in the Sanatorium, two of whom said that I had taught them religion.

The arrangement for classes in religion falls to my lot each summer. Each week we present some phases of the doctrine and program of the United Church to 100 or more young teachers, to help in their conduct of worship in the day schools.

Another community project in which I am serving is our Home for Senior Citizens. I am a sort of key woman to the Board for campaigning for furnishings, admission policy, purchasing, etc. This is a United Church project. The building is well planned with nearly all single rooms, a separate wing for men and a section for four old couples. There is a wash basin in every room. The main lounge and dining-room separated by modern folding doors face the lovely southside hills.

Each year I give leadership to groups of women in the city and its suburbs. Our group of 45 women in the Community Centre Fellowship of Service continues with Bible and Mission study. They give an annual donation to our Camp work of $300.00 and to the W.M.S. of $120.00.

Giving Leadership in Our United Church Camp

Our camp continues with great success. We were able to complete our wash-house and add a leaders' cabin this past year as well as enlarging our kitchens. The season opened with a week-end Young People's Conference, 35 attending; 34 junior girls came in the next group, followed by camps for 25 C.G.I.T. girls and 23 boys. Our C.G.I.T. camp was fortunate in having two Moravian school teachers from Labrador who were staying at Emmanuel House during July.

Directing Emmanuel House Residence

148 people registered in our hostel during the year. Our transients included ministers and delegates billeted here during Conference; ministers' wives and school teachers; the 2 Moravian school teachers and several recruits for the R.C.A.F.

Most of our residents are business girls from the outports. We have commercial students also, and last fall opened our doors to 6 Memorial University students; we took a part of the overflow from our U.C. College Residence also. We turned over the third floor to the students and found the business girls on the second floor most co-operative.

Our television has been greatly appreciated and our girls are spending more nights at home, after supper dishes are done (in which we all share). Then the club room becomes a lively place with music and square dancing.

On Sundays we all attend church, and at dinner we often have guests—a pastor and his wife, a social service worker, an educationist, a missionary.

Nine summer school girls came to live with us for their six weeks' course to prepare them for work in the little schools.

Emmanuel House is a meeting place for social committees and church organizations. The traditional Newfoundland New Year's Day At Home was held again this year with a registration of about 300 guests. One evening the young summer school teachers made a tour of the building and learned something of the women's work of the church.

Our Board gives us excellent assistance. One member arranged Hobby Nights every fortnight for our girls last winter. Our Welfare Committee advise us on matters related to the welfare of the girls.

My report closes with the conviction that our Community Centre fills a real need in the United Church life of St. John's.

At Gander and on Field Trips

During the days when Hungarian refugees were coming to North America in large numbers, I represented the United Church at the Gander terminal, along with the minister at Gander, and was present when many refugees disembarked for a brief stop before proceeding on their way to various points in the United States and Canada. A number of New Testaments were made available, as well as pamphlets directing them to Hungarian ministers in the larger Canadian centres.

During the first part of 1957 I made field trips to various parts of the Presbytery. One such trip, taking most of the month of February, was to the north side of Bonavista Bay, which, while in the Bonavista Presbytery, is included in the field worker's territory. The journey was made by mail plane, which serves a number of islands and isolated areas along the coast to which ground and water travel are difficult in winter.

My visit began at Valleyfield, a rapidly growing community because of the movement of population from islands to the mainland of Newfoundland, and continued through to Lumsden North several miles up the coast. On the Wesleyville charge, of which Valleyfield is a part, I met the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary, 2 C.G.I.T. groups, Sunday School teachers and a Woman's Association, and shared in Sunday services.

The next charge, the Newtown charge, has six points connected by road. I visited four of these, but heavy snow prevented me from seeing the other two, and as it was I was snowbound at Newtown for several days. I met with women's groups at all four places and was given the opportunity of presenting Christian Education to the congregation during Sunday services, and to meet with Sunday School, mid-week groups and with Sunday School teachers.

There were more communities beyond Lumsden North, but Winter was beginning to break, and air travel to become uncertain, and reluctantly I left that coast, in the hope the field worker would one day find her way back to this corner of her extensive area.

A Camping Program

It was a joy for me to share in the camping program at the beautiful, new campsite at Loon Bay, Notre Dame Bay. It proved its worth by a well filled summer's program. I was directly concerned with C.G.I.T. Camp Council, an intermediate C.G.I.T. camp, a Y.P.U. work camp and a senior girls' camp, and helped when possible while Lorraine Roberts and I conducted Vacation schools at Campbellton and Comfort Cove.

This report illustrates three areas of my work. In addition, there were other field trips, one to the Exploits charge (I visited four points), shorter ones to various communities; the opportunity of helping to form a Kindergarten Department in the Sunday school at Gander, while I was at Gander at the height of the influx of refugees; work in connection with the Conference Christian Education Committee, the Loon Bay Camp Committee, special C.G.I.T. services; attendance at the Grand Falls-Twillingate Presbyterial Executive, and the Bonavista Presbyterial at Little Catalina.

Welcome and Orientation

My first view of Newfoundland was from the air, and indeed it was impressive. However, I did not feel at all strange to this province since welcomes came to me through a variety of situations, and each had a share in making me feel happy and at home. A welcome of an official nature came when Rev. Naboth Winsor, chairman of the Twillingate Presbytery extended greetings at the evening service in Lewisporte my first Sunday there.

Orientation was necessary when I first came to my Newfoundland. There were names of many different communities that I hoped soon to be visiting. The area is extensive and although it covers the coastal area of the northeastern part of the island, the means of transportation are indeed varied. Visiting in the outports on the smaller islands of course means travel by boat and by mail plane once the waters have frozen over. Many of the communities within my territory can be reached by car, and for this reason I am indeed grateful to the W.M.S. for purchasing a new car for this area.

Interesting and Varied Experiences

September was a most interesting time to begin my work. The children were getting back to day schools; Christian Education groups were reuniting after the summer months; new leaders were beginning to venture forth with their new groups; women's groups were once again beginning to think of their fall and winter work. Before starting off on any extended field trip I had the opportunity to meet with several of the groups in Lewisporte.

One of my first trips was to drive to Gambo to meet with the Conference Y.P.U. executive to assist with plans for their fall convention. The group made extensive plans, and it was interesting in October to attend and see these plans come alive.

Soon after arriving in Newfoundland, I had the opportunity of attending the Conference Radio and Television Workshop in the city of St. John's. During this week I was able to enjoy the hospitality of Emmanuel House, and was interested in meeting many of the girls who reside there.

The Twillingate Presbytery held their fall meetings the latter part of September, meeting in Summerford, a small community on New World Island. Before the afternoon session of Presbytery got underway, a worship service was held in the church for the school children. With the ringing of the church bell, the children with their teachers walked in a body from the school to the church where they joined the ministers of the Presbytery in worship.

Trips Down the Bay

My first trip "down the bay," an expression that I quickly became accustomed to hearing and using, took me to the island of Twillingate. I had a very busy time while there. In the evening I met with Sunday school teachers; Y.P.U.; W.A. and W.M.S., while in the daytime I visited in the schools; did some home visiting. On Sunday I conducted three services of worship. On Friday afternoon we had a rally for teen-age girls to see how many would be interested in C.G.I.T. The attendance stood at thirty, and we had a wonderful time. I showed a filmstrip on the Mission study on Japan, and we played one or two Japanese games, and enjoyed a sing-song together. From the pulpit on Sunday both Rev. Mr. Johnston and I mentioned the need for leaders for this group of girls. On Monday we had at least two leaders, with high hopes for another. By taking a short trip by boat I was able to reach Tizzard's Harbor, Moreton's Harbor and Bridgeport. Here I visited the schools and held public meetings with both the parents and the children, using the projector with filmstrips.

Another of my trips "down the bay" took me to the community of Carmanville. Besides meeting with the different groups on their regular meeting nights, it was an inspiring sight to see seven rows of these young people assembled for a Youth Church Service on Sunday evenings. Groups represented at this service were Tyro, C.G.I.T., Sigma-C; Hi-C and a very excellent junior choir.

Another trip, this time across the island, brought me to the city of Corner Brook on the west coast. Here Ruth Tillman and I conducted one of the Area Christian Education Conferences.

From a Christian Education Worker's Diary

January, February: The first two weeks in January were spent at the Atlantic Christian Training Centre, Tatamagouche, N.S., where I led a course on Sunday School teaching materials offered by our Church. I returned to St. John's just about a week before the arrival of Miss Inez Morrison. We had a busy four or five days in our city, when she spoke to high school girls at the various United Church schools, to groups of young women, and at church services. She was interviewed twice by radio and had a TV interview.

February was the time for marking first reports of C.G.I.T. groups and working with a committee of women to plan for the girls' World Day of Prayer service.

March: Began with the annual meeting of the Christian Education Committee; the C.G.I.T. Committee; the sub-committee of Information and Stewardship on Literature and Visual Aids. Toward the end of the month I went to Gander, where I attended Loon Bay Camp Committee and then flew directly to Toronto.

April: Most of the month I was in Toronto or at Five Oaks, attending the Board of Christian Education annual meeting; the Board Staff Conference; the Staff Conference of the Department of Christian Education of the Canadian Council of Churches, the annual meeting of the D.C.E.; staff conference of the National C.G.I.T. Committee. My visit to Toronto enabled me to have short visits with my father, too.

I arrived back in St. John's during Holy Week. The last week-end in April I accompanied Boyd Hiscock, student, to his preaching appointment at Dunville, about 80 miles from St. John's. The young man had a Christian Education Committee formed, which met Saturday night with us. After preaching twice on Sunday and speaking to the Sunday School, we made the return journey Sunday night.

May: I spoke to a well-attended spring rally of St. John's Presbytery W.A. I drove back from Brigus to St. John's with a carload of women in fog so thick that at times I had to watch the road by putting my head out of the window and watching the opposite side of the road. An enthusiastic C.G.I.T. rally was held at Brigus on a Saturday. I spent an interesting week-end with the S.C.M. at their spring camp, as a Bible study leader. Around the middle of the month I spoke at Carbonear W.M.S. Presbyterial, which was held at Hant's Harbor.

May is also the time for C.G.I.T. mother and daughter banquets. I spoke at Grand Falls and Botwood in connection with these. At Botwood I also spoke at the graduating service, when six girls received their graduation certificates. I managed to attend three presbytery meetings during the month as well.

June: always means a busy Church Conference time in Newfoundland. By June 20th, Frances Lodge, Lorraine and I were at Loon Bay, opening up the campsite, for a week of work camping.

July: Then followed Intermediate C.G.I.T. Camp; Provincial C.G.I.T. Camp Council, when Mary MacDougall of Angola was our very wonderful and much appreciated W.M.S. guest.

I had my first experience of attending a boys' camp. Unfortunately all summer long we were without a cook, so I supervised that part, as well as looking after the business management. I found that I also had to lead the singing. One of the lads remarked one morning as we were walking over to the chapel for worship "Gee, Tilly, you're our organ!" I also found that I was in charge of swimming and we almost needed a traffic signal in the water, as the lads would swim so close to me, calling out, "Just watch me, Tilly! Watch me dive!"

September: After the Conference I spent about ten days in Toronto, visiting my father. I hurried back to St. John's in order to attend the Radio-TV Workshop sponsored by the Board of Information and Stewardship. This was one of the most helpful workshops I've ever attended.

The balance of September was spent in a holiday in Newfoundland with Nancy Edwards.

October: One of the most important highlights of this month was the visit of Rev. W. N. Blackmore, National Boys' Work Secretary. While in St. John's Mr. Blackmore met with the Boys work committee, a group of boys' leaders and spoke at a meeting of Scout leaders on the United Church requirements for the religion and life award. We went over to Brigus for a rally of Tyro boys—over 60 of them. One of the direct results of that rally was the formation of a new Tyro group at Harbor Grace. We had a planning conference for key workers at Clovertown over Thanksgiving week-end and then Mr. Blackmore and I drove to the south coast, where we had two meetings with Sunday School teachers and mid-week leaders.

November: stands out in my memory for a series of area C. E. Conferences. These were held in widely separated areas of the province—Harbor Grace, Glanwood and Corner Brook. At Corner Brook I couldn't help but remark on the number of young women there, whom I had known through C.G.I.T. work and camps, now taking their places in leadership of Explorers, C.G.I.T. and teaching Sunday School classes. I also attended the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Atlantic Christian Training Centre at Tatamagouche. The new class was already in—some 22 young people, with three from Newfoundland.

December: More committee meetings were held during this month. At Grand Falls the C.G.I.T. Camp Committee met and at Lewisporte the C.G.I.T. Leadership Training Committee met. Back in St. John's a committee was working on plans for a regional book depot to be established in St. John's. During the year 1957 we sold approximately $2,600 worth of materials, and it is apparent that more help must be secured to render a more efficient service.

The year ended for me in Toronto, where I spent Christmas. It was good to be there and to help Dad open his gifts.

A New Era for Newsom Hall

The year 1957 marks the end of an era in the Newsom Hall work for as of January 1st, 1958, a congregation of the United Church has been formed by Sydney Presbytery. This action resulted from a survey made by the Home Missions Committee of Sydney Presbytery during the summer, when they were assisted by a team of Caravaners. Thus far the only noticeable difference is a service of worship in the hall at 10 a.m. on Sunday and a keen interest in the whole venture.

A Sunday School of almost 200 children is getting back to normal after a very difficult Fall season when continuous wet week-ends and an epidemic of flu cut the attendance drastically. The first half of the year was quite successful in all branches of the work. Mission Band, Explorers, Tyros, C.G.I.T. and Sigma-C met regularly. A joint closing was held early in June when each group presented something of its program to parents and friends. Several "E" pins were presented to Explorer graduates and Silver "C" pins to a number of Tyros.

Instead of the usual Sunday school picnic a closing was held in the hall when films were shown and a treat received. The children seemed quite happy . . . and the teachers very happy. Picnic fields are hard to come by and the cost of buses high; and since we now live on wheels the "outing" does not seem to be so precious to families as it used to be. It did take a lot of courage to break with the established pattern.

Fine weather heightened the pleasures of the camping season this year. In the absence of a worker at the United Mission during the summer I directed the two girls' camps. The boys had a fine time under the capable leadership of Rev. Leonard Ferguson of Donkin. The campsite was improved by the removal of many small spruce trees and the erection of a few well-made rustic signs.

The Women's Circle had the interesting experience of publishing a cook book. They served more than the usual number of turkey suppers and bolstered the lagging Sunday School funds as well as giving the time and money of the final meeting of each month to the interests of the W.M.S.

The Tower Road area has a good Sunday School but the mid-week work is still unsatisfactory because of the staggered sessions of the public schools, this building being the base of our operations. A number of teenagers from this area attend the Newsom Hall C.G.I.T.

It is hoped that our Christian Education program will have more meaning for the children as they form the habit of worshipping each Sunday with their parents, an opportunity they now have with the advent of a church service each Sunday morning in Newsom Hall.

Work in Church Organizations

It is with deep thankfulness to God that I think of the great privilege I have had this year in working with the members of the following organizations in our Brunswick Street United Church.

Take the youngest members, the Baby Band with a membership of 36. Each year we have two meetings for the babes and their mothers—one in the form of a party at the church where we seek to bring the mothers more deeply into the fellowship of the church and that wider horizon which we call overseas missions. For the first time in the history of our Baby Band we changed the second meeting to a picnic at Point Pleasant Park. Everyone seemed thrilled with this arrangement so we hope we can make it an annual affair.

The Explorers—what a joy each one of them is! They are 35 growing toward the Light as their purpose tells them to do. Before Explorers officially opened in September, 19 of them attended the Explorer Rally held in St. Matthew's Church. This made a splendid start for the fall work in our groups. One of the highlights of the year was the hike to the City Home where we sang carols in two of the women's wards. The girls took part in two church sales. They gave $6.00 to the work of the church and $6.00 to the work of W.M.S. They also sold 138 United Church calendars. Eleven Explorers graduated into C.G.I.T. Four were presented with "E" pins. This is the highest honor given to an Explorer. It means that the Explorer has attended church, Sunday School, and Explorer meetings at least 75% of the total time and has grown in grace and helpfulness.

The Junior Congregation is just as eager a crowd as the Explorers. The attendance has increased from 20 to 40 members. This year we undertook an interesting course entitled "How God Speaks To Us." This year's membership in the Intermediate Sunday School consisted of 31 girls and six boys. While it is difficult to keep this age group faithful in attendance, we feel that in the three classes there is a growing concern for the things that matter most in life.

Seventeen members of the Temperance Class tried the National Sunday School Temperance Course Tests—three juniors and fourteen intermediates under nine. Ten intermediates received honor certificates from the Board of Christian Education in Toronto, and one a pass certificate. Two juniors received pass certificates. All papers have gone up to the W.C.T.U. where they will be entered in the contest.

The Lathern Bell Group for the third time in four years have won the book award for the greatest average number of books read for 1957.

The Explorer Councillors Fellowship of which I have charge meets every quarter in different churches or homes. This continues to be an excellent source source of help for the new and inexperienced councillors.

Work with the Immigrants

From December 1956 to June 1957, 8,000 Hungarian refugees arrived at the port of Halifax. 250 remained in Nova Scotia and 900 in New Brunswick.

1,564 Gospels donated by the British and Foreign Bible Society were given out to the immigrants during the year. 506 parcels containing gifts of toys and clothing were sent to this port from the provinces across Canada.

In my memory are many stories of delightful contacts with these people of different lands. I think of the young Englishman who on being told that all the gifts on the church booth desk were free and were sent by church people all over Canada to welcome the immigrants, said with amazement, "How is it that they do all this for us whom they do not even know?"

I think of the elderly Slovenian couple passing through one day on their way to New York. The woman received a pretty plastic ditty bag filled with facecloth, soap and other comforts for the train. "Ah," exclaimed the old gentleman with delight. "Only in America could a thing like this happen and I should have come here thirty years ago."

I think of the Hungarian escapee who, unable to speak anything but Hungarian, kept pointing at the old bits of baby ribbon in the open cupboard and finally made me understand that all he wanted was a piece of red, white and green so that he could make a little Hungarian flag for the lapel of his coat. I think of the huge flags carried by the immigrants all through their flight for freedom and into our reception room—symbols of a conquered but not a defeated people.

I think of a jovial Dutch lady who after coming over, worked for a time in one of our Maritime Training Schools. Looking at the United Church sign in the booth she said happily, "Me United Church too. United Church good. Look after the little guys as well as the big guys."

Successful Close

I shall endeavor to give an outline of the work carried on in Stellarton Mission from January to September 1957.

Classes for the different age groups have been held weekly with a good attendance. The Maude Rogers Auxiliary met at the Mission for one of their Spring meetings, bringing with them a lovely donation of jam and jellies which was very much appreciated.

In May the Evening Auxiliary held their meeting at the Mission, also an affiliation service with the C.G.I.T. was held.

On Easter Sunday some of the bigger girls and teachers from the Mission held a service and sing-song at the Pictou County Home which was much enjoyed.

I must not forget to mention the very successful Lenten services held at the Mission which I feel were a great success and well attended.

As I am about to close my work here after several years of service I look back with thankfulness for what we have been able to accomplish and sincerely trust that work will continue to prosper.

Two Exceptions

With two exceptions, the first half of 1957 (the period covered by this report) was much like previous years at the United Mission.

First, the interior of our Sunday School rooms got a coat of light yellow paint. This made a great difference, and everyone found the place much lighter and more attractive. We were very grateful to the groups of men and young people from the three churches who each gave an evening to this work.

Then we all began to realize that in all probability I would be going on furlough in the summer, and everyone began to ask, "Who will be coming to take your place?" After I got official notice that furlough had been granted but that a successor had not yet been appointed we really became concerned, and the women began to say, "What shall we do if nobody comes?" Some, who perhaps had not valued the fellowship of the Mission too highly, realized for the first time just how much it meant to them. They said, "We couldn't give up the Women's Group." And one elderly woman said, "You know, if it weren't for the Mission, few of these children would ever set foot inside a Sunday School." When I challenged her statement, she admitted that if they had benefited from our teaching surely a few would find some other Sunday School to attend if ours were not functioning, but she insisted that most of the children would feel too out-of-place in a strange Sunday School in some other district. Everyone was quite relieved when word finally came that someone would be available to come.

A Good Season

It was a very good season for the women's groups. They met twice a month and while the numbers were small the interest was keen and there was a very real sense of fellowship. Everyone participated quite actively in the meetings as the program had been planned to meet their needs.

The Sunday School attendance was not quite as good as in other years, except in the lower grades. This may have been partly due to the fact that over the last two or three years a number of the older boys and girls have united with Trinity Church, and of course, church membership is one of the aims of our Sunday School.

The children all wanted us to have an Easter Concert, and since they were so anxious to do this it seemed to be a worthwhile project. Since it was to be a sacred concert, it offered an opportunity for teaching something of the meaning of Easter.

We were all disappointed that there would be no Vacation School and that my successor would not be there in time to help with the Camp, but were glad to be assured that Miss McDougall would be there to carry on in September. In conclusion, I feel I should pay tribute to the very faithful work of the teachers in the Mission Sunday School who often carried on under great difficulty.

A Royal Welcome

I shall never forget the wonderful reception I received upon my arrival in Sydney at the early hour of 6.15 on the morning of August 31st. It was an hour when you would perhaps expect one sleepy-eyed person to meet you at the train, so it was with amazement, that I saw a group of people coming towards me as I stepped on to the platform. Here were people representing the Sydney W.M.S. Presbyterial, the Board of Directors, the United Mission Auxiliary, Trinity Church W.M.S. and the minister of Trinity Church. How warm and cordial was their welcome! They took me to breakfast at the Isle Royale Hotel, after which I was driven out to my new home, the United Mission at Whitney Pier. Here I was greeted by the caretaker of the Mission, a quaint little Ukrainian woman of seventy-two years with the sprightliness of a woman in her early twenties. She was busy preparing a chicken dinner to welcome the new arrival! Here I should like to express my sincere thanks to the many friends in Sydney who have shown much kindness and hospitality to a newcomer.

Having been away fifteen years from Mission work, it was with some trepidation that I began my work here on September 1st. The experiences of the past three months have been happy, educative and humbling.

The Board of Directors met early in September and outlined my work. Their co-operation in securing voluntary workers for both Sunday School and midweek groups, has been most heartening. Trinity Church Session has oversight of the work, and the help and inspiration received from Rev. Clarke MacDonald, minister of the church, has been invaluable.

Most of September was spent in visiting in the homes of the Sunday School children and becoming acquainted with their parents. We have a flourishing Sunday School due to the good work of Miss Ruth Lanigan, my predecessor. There are two Sunday School sessions each Sunday with eleven teachers, and two extra helpers in the Kindergarten department. We are glad that Miss Annie MacIvor is spending her furlough in Sydney. She is a capable teacher of the Junior Girl's class in Sunday School, and in addition has given much encouragement and inspiration to your worker.

We were fortunate in securing two fine leaders for our newly organized C.G.I.T. Group. They are doing excellent work as is evident in the interest, enthusiasm and growth of the group. The girls were thrilled to take part in the city-wide C.G.I.T. Vesper Service held at the Presbyterian Church, Sydney, on December 15th, and again later joining with the Trinity C.G.I.T. group in a candle lighting service at Trinity Church. On another occasion it was a joy to see the easy freedom with which our girls, the majority of whom are colored, mingle with Trinity youth groups for an evening of fun and frolic at the newly opened Trinity Church hall. There was no thought of difference in race or color there. They were just a bunch of young people having a hilarious time together. Several of the girls have become members of the Intermediate Choir at Trinity Church. Two girls assist in the Kindergarten department of the Mission Sunday School, and ten are members of the intermediate class at Sunday School.

The Explorers is a rollicking and interesting group, always looking for adventure and for something new to do. This group took part in the candle lighting service at Trinity Church. On Youth Night, during a week of Mission at the church, the Explorer and C.G.I.T. groups with the Trinity Youth groups listened to a fine address delivered by Captain Wood of the Salvation Army. A local girl, nineteen years of age is my valued helper with the Explorers.

We have a membership of twenty in our Mission Band and they are a most interesting group with which to work.

The women's group during the last few months has not been as active as it was in the early part of the year due to a great extent to the flu epidemic here in the fall and early winter.

It was an inspiration to attend the Fall rally of Presbyterial. I have also had the opportunity of speaking at several W.M.S. Thank-offering meetings.

The success of the annual Christmas concert was due to the co-operation and hard work of the Sunday School teachers.

In Matters Material

The year 1957 was a very active one for St. Columba United Church and Community Centre, both from a material and spiritual standpoint.

To make our building more attractive, the gymnasium was given a much-needed new floor, the front of the Auditorium was completely remodelled, the main office redecorated, the halls and basement painted, new tables and chairs bought, new pictures brighten the walls, while ferns and plants add something of beauty to our surroundings.

Several of our young people have participated in these undertakings and completely cleaned and painted their own club rooms and even installed fluorescent lighting. This is rather a unique group of older teen-agers; in racial background, education, culture, and religion they differ greatly, but they have organized themselves into a unit, with a business meeting and discussion one evening a week, sport of some kind and a dance other evenings. At Christmas they undertook to care for a needy family, and supplied gifts and a hamper, and are becoming, at least some of them, more reliable and helpful. At this minute three of them are attending a Confirmation Class, looking forward to church membership, and a few find their way more or less regularly to some church service. If they are out of work for any reason, in trouble of some kind, discouraged, they are here from early morning until late at night.

Christmas at St. Columba

About a month before Christmas, one of the men of our neighborhood came in to ask if he could build a Creche on our stage. As long as it wouldn't interfere with our Christmas Pageant, he was told to go ahead.

The result was something that those of us who saw it, lived with it and worshipped with it, over the Christmas season, before and after will never forget.

About 160 boys and girls, ages 8-15, with another 50 grown-ups sat watching and listening while the man who built the Creche operated it, for twenty-two minutes, while carols were sung and chimes played. It was a wonderful tribute to the man's work, and really set the meaning of Christmas ringing in all our hearts.

After the curtains closed, the group was entertained by a citizens' committee, a film was shown, refreshments and gifts were distributed. But the thing that most impressed the group was the Bethlehem scene. One little boy summed it up when he said to me, "We all ought to have a little creche in our homes, to help us remember that Christmas is the little Lord Jesus' Birthday."

Our Pensioners' Christmas party was truly a highlight. This year we had Christmas crackers—real ones. Every one donned his hat and blew whistles, and if he couldn't see to read his fortune someone else could. A film and carols, gifts and good wishes brought to a close a memorable afternoon.

Other Activities

This year there has been an increase in Sunday School attendance due to a number of factors. One is our close co-operation with the principals and teachers of the day schools. We serve lunch to about 60 school children every day which makes them familiar with our building. Another reason is that we have a volunteer visitor two afternoons a week, which has stimulated interest in the Sunday School. A third factor is that we have four older boys who have taken over the boys' classes in the Junior Department, and have added pep and interest.

Regular activities have been carried on; camp was enjoyed by about 140 women and children, our women's groups meet regularly and Mission Band, Explorers, C.G.I.T and Tyros meet each week.

We also have many crafts and sport activities, one of the most ambitious of which is wood carving, where quite wonderful articles are completed under skilful guidance. At our leather work class this week, one boy came in half an hour early to finish a gift for his grandmother's birthday. He said, "She will never use it; she will be so surprised that I made it myself, it's really so nice I think I'll use it myself until her birthday." It was a case to hold a book of adult street car tickets.

Hospital Visiting

During the year just ended, your hospital visitor made 312 visits to hospitals and nursing homes, visiting 5,443 people. In addition to this, approximately 5,917 visits were made by 57 volunteers.

Our volunteers are doing a tremendous piece of work! During the year weekly visits were made at some nursing homes and others were visited fortnightly or monthly. At Christmas time, services were held in some homes, carols sung by C.G.I.T. and young people's groups, favors made for trays and concerts held and during the year jars of home made jelly were presented to one home, African violets given to patients in another, and many birthday and get-well cards sent out. Literature was also supplied to those able to read.

Through the kindness of some friends, "The Upper Room" was provided for our volunteers, these to be used in their visiting of shut-ins. Among literature distributed were copies of The Missionary Monthly, The Observer, Onward, World Friends and other helpful pamphlets.

As usual, the Students' Council of one of our high schools provided gifts for the Grace Dart (T.B.) Hospital and these, along with the gifts provided by W.M.S. groups, enabled each patient to receive one or two gifts at Christmas time.

If you had been at St. James Church one day previous to Christmas, you would have found a hive of activity going on, as parcels were prepared for distribution in our Montreal Protestant Homes. Eight ladies spent from early morning until late afternoon, assembling, wrapping and tagging parcels for 190 people. Your hospital visitor, with the help of the Supply Department, was able to provide new pyjamas, night shirts and night gowns for all these men and women. Other gifts, such as dusting powder, socks, bed socks and jackets were also provided. We feel that our senior citizens were well looked after at Christmas time and my thanks go out to all those who helped in the wrapping and delivering of these gifts, as well as to the givers.

Wonderful Christian Women

I want to tell you of the wonderful Christian women we have on our W.M.S. Presbyterian Executive! Early in November, I received word from Trinidad, through Miss C. Wagar, a W.M.S. missionary there, that one of her high school teachers, a Chinese woman, was coming to Montreal for special medical treatment. Would we meet her at the airport and take special care of her while hospitalized in Montreal, as she was a stranger to Canada and knew no one here? Rev. R. C. Belbin, our hospital chaplain, met her at the airport and immediately one of our W.M.S. ladies took her into her home, as one of the family, while she waited for admission to hospital. Our visitor had to wait a week for a bed, going back and forth each day for treatment. Some of our W.M.S. ladies took turns in driving her to and from the hospital. Our little friend spent Christmas and New Year with us and again the ladies helped with gifts, and when she was able to participate, entertainment. The Cancer Society paid for all her treatments and some churches helped financially. Our new friend leaves tomorrow for home with a heart full of thankful praise for all the good people she has met here. Her husband and three-year-old twin daughters will be awaiting her. Our prayers and hopes go with her and we trust that with God's healing power, she will be totally restored to health again.

RUTH CHURCHILL

Missionary, Church of All Nations,

Work at the Church of All Nations

The year 1957 has been one of change at the Church of All Nations. Rev. R. G. Katsunoff, D.D., who has led the people for nearly thirty years, is due for retirement and Rev. A. B. Lovelace was appointed as Superintendent, while Dr. R. G. Katsunoff continued as minister of the Slavic people.

At the Church of All Nations five services are held each Sunday in four languages:

Rev. R. G. Katsunoff preaches in Ukrainian to the Slavic people at 10 a.m. At 11 a.m. Rev. A. B. Lovelace has a service in English, and at 12 p.m. the South-Slav group (Serbian and Yugo-Slavians) gather under Mr. N. Ilkich who preaches in the Yugo-Slavian language. Rev. Gordon Imai, ordained in June 1957, holds two services each Sunday for the Japanese in their newly-decorated chapel upstairs. The Nisei group, or Canadian-born Japanese, worship at 11 a.m. and the Issei at 2.30 p.m.

The children of all nationalities, Slavic and Japanese, meet at 11 a.m. and the enrolment is over 70. The introduction of Duplex envelopes has brought a new interest in Missions. The White Gift Service was the highlight of the year and it was natural that the money gifts were given for the children around the world. One boy found a dollar on the street. His mother asked him what he was going to do with it, and he replied, "I'm going to put it in my White Gift envelope." Over forty-five dollars were raised at this service and during the year, over sixty-seven dollars were given for Missions!

A Christmas Get-together for parents and children was held on December 22nd. Games and movies were enjoyed by all and then over one hundred sat down to supper. A group of young people from Westmount Park Emmanuel United Church did a fine piece of work in directing games, providing cookies and serving the supper. The Primary children were delighted with large Christmas stockings prepared and given by the children of the Junior Red Cross.

The Montreal City Mission

Since 1914, the Montreal City Mission, situated at the corner of Dorchester and De Bullion Streets, has been carrying on as an inter-denominational service doing religious, social, and benevolent work in downtown Montreal among people of all races and creeds.

One of the Montreal papers has written thus, "The need of the Mission is obvious from a study of the area's geography. It is in the heart of the city, adjacent to the much-talked-of Dozois Slum Clearance. Few other institutions are working in this district. While new housing developments in the suburbs receive great attention from the Church, the downtown areas where the population is continually decreasing becomes more and more neglected. The people who live in these areas, if only temporarily, need the services of the Church as much, or more, than those who are permanently established in the community. It is to meet the needs of the forsaken, the outcast, the maladjusted, that the Church exists."

Social Service plays a big part in our task. There is a constant demand for clothing, bedding and, many times, food. The Supply Room of the Woman's Missionary Society, under Mrs. F. C. Martin, has been a valuable source of help in many an emergency. Groups have been most generous in sending White Gifts of money, clothing, food and toys. At Christmas time over forty families were gladdened by food hampers, packed and distributed by the Mission, and old age pensioners were remembered.

We are grateful to the Caravan Team of five young people who in the heat of July went from door to door trying to find people who are unchurched. Over one thousand calls were made and the response was most friendly and co-operative. One man, a Roman Catholic, upon hearing the reason for our visit said, "Here is two dollars. I'd like to have a share in this work."

The Mission has had the goodwill of the community through the years and donations have been received from many individuals and business firms. A group from Summerlea U.C. Young Peoples' Union came before Christmas and through their efforts the basement walls and a Sunday School room were painted. So interested were they in this work, that the group went carol singing and a fine sum of money was realized for the Mission's Christmas Cheer.

Three times the bell of the Mission peals out to call the people to worship:

At 10.30 a.m. on Sunday, parents and children gather for a combined Worship service and Sunday School under Mrs. W. R. Patterson who has been a volunteer at the Mission for many years. At 7.30 p.m., young and old come together again to enjoy the singing of gospel hymns and to hear a message from the Bible. Following the worship, a social time with a good film and light refreshments, gives us an opportunity to meet newcomers and to bring a little sunshine into rather cheerless lives. At 7.30 p.m. on Tuesday, a prayer service is attended by a faithful group.

A Bible Vacation School conducted by the Caravan Team in July was a new venture, and one worth-while. Over 30 were registered. At the closing session, the parents were invited and were impressed by the handwork displayed and the program presented by the children.

The Purple Armband

When Protestant immigrants board their ship in the British Isles or the European Continent, they receive literature from the United Church explaining the nature of the Union of the United Church and welcoming them to their new homeland. Enclosed is a button representing the colorful crest of the Church. They are requested to wear the button when disembarking if they require our services. They are to look for the representative of the Church who wears a purple armband with gold lettering "United Church of Canada." As it isn't possible to meet each one of the new settlers at the Custom shed, we attach a brightly colored tag with the welcome from the Church to any piece of their baggage.

Your worker, during the year, met 113 boats in Montreal port, seven in Quebec City and 165 boat trains from Halifax, Saint John, N.B., and Quebec City. Beginning from August 1st the influx of new settlers was curtailed. But they kept on arriving until the end of the sailing season with visas granted before the deadline of July 31st.

During 1957 Canada took some 285,000 immigrants. The French Canadian newspaper, Le Soleil, stated that this high figure represents the fifth highest year in immigration in this century. The largest national group to enter Canada in 1957 were immigrants from the British Isles. Other large groups arriving were German, Italian, Dutch, Greek and Yugoslavs in numbers, who, for the most part, were refugees coming from camps in Austria.

The daily press of Canada made much of the fact that a group of several hundred Hungarian refugees only recently arrived, requested to be returned to Europe. Considering that 35,000 were admitted during 1956-57, the figure of those asking to be repatriated seems small. Many of them have left families behind, and found they couldn't go on living without them.

Stories of New Arrivals

Half a year ago, at Central Station, I welcomed a young couple with a 5-year-old daughter. They were sponsored by the World Council of Churches. They were a handsome couple as they stood in the bright sunlight, little Nadia looking at me solemnly with large dark eyes out of a small pale face. Their whole possession was one large suitcase. Mr. V. had three years in engineering at a European university, and they found work at once. Mr. V. began to take special English lessons. Mrs. V. went to a Baptist Church nearby where English was taught in the evening. They live in a small apartment, the rent takes much of their earnings. The Church of All Nations helped them with some used furniture, the supply room of the Montreal Presbyterial with clothing. They found the start difficult, but they certainly got established in record time.

An English family of five lost all their belongings through fire in a tourist home, after they had been in Canada just one week. They escaped in pyjamas, and came to us in a taxi. We found good clothing for them, the Travellers' Aid Society footed the shoe bill, the Woman's Union paid one month of rent in a furnished apartment and the Canadian Immigration Office found work at once for three members of the family and supplied them with groceries. The family seemed deeply touched by the kindly concern and help so promptly received in a strange land.

On New Year's Eve, a welfare agency sent a young Roumanian to the supply room for shoes and some warm clothing. He was sponsored by the W.C.C. and had spent several years in France as a refugee. At first the Canadian Immigration Office sent him to a church of his denomination—Roumanian Orthodox. They told him they couldn't aid him in any way. We found suitable clothing for him and the Social Service Committee of St. James United Church paid for a new pair of shoes. Our Supply Room seems to be the only source of clothing at once available in cases of urgency.

Several times, residents from the British West Indies found their way through various agencies to the Supply Room. They came for medical treatment or operations to Montreal and were caught by the colder season in very light clothing.

In such ways we endeavor to carry on our ministry of service as we meet lonely strangers at the gates of Canada.

New Ventures for Northern Frontenac

The first of these, was the beginning of two new Sunday Schools, one at Plevna and one at Ompah. Previously, we had devoted part of our worship service to the children. But the time had come when we felt an urge to start a Sunday School. But how? and Sunday already a full day!

One day while praying about it, we felt led to suggest to our people the plan for our Sunday School. We would have our church service at the usual time for three-quarters of an hour, then without dismissal, give the next half hour to the boys and girls. This plan proved to be a real success, the parents brought their children to church and everyone stayed for Sunday School. Our attendance in Plevna more than doubled.

The same program was used at Ompah, increasing our average attendance from 22 to 25, with an average of nine children in Sunday School. When we commenced services at Canonto, we started our third Sunday School and here our average attendance was 18 and eight children.

Something else new was Hydro for Canonto church. In the spring our contract with the Hydro was accepted and the line was built to the little church. What a thrill to be able to switch on the light in the church and in the yard! No more gas lamps that sputtered so you could hardly hear yourself, or flies breaking mantles and sometimes the lamps completely failing to burn at all. The women's group sponsored one of the Birthday calendars and used the profit to pay for the wiring of the church and the new fixtures.

Plevna church found itself at the beginning of the year with a debt of $300.00; through persistent effort of the people, this was soon paid. When this was completed, it meant new doors to correspond with the other improvements. Swinging doors were made to order, between the lobby and the church and outside doors purchased to replace the badly worn ones. In September a new coat of paint was given to the outside of the church, the first in a great many years.

Another new thing for Plevna was the upholstering job done by Miss Langman to the pulpit, chairs, communion table, organ and stool, to fit in with the new color scheme of blues and greys that now covered the walls, furniture and floor. One of our ladies herself collected sufficient funds to pay for the material.

Our Ompah people are not behind in keeping up their property. The three buildings, church, woodshed and kitchen received a new paint job. From their offerings and projects, these few people sent $200.00 to the W.M.S. and $25.00 to the M. & M. Fund.

One of the new things that happened in 1957, was a change of co-workers for us. Miss Elizabeth Langman who had worked with us for six years, left in April to be married in June. Mrs. Tillie Lang came to help us for the month of May; Miss Audrey Iekler served very capably for us on the field during July and August while we were on holiday and in September, Miss Vera Schwass from Port Elgin came to work with us and has found her place among the people.

A new venture for our people was a turkey supper. No one had ever had such a thing in Plevna, and it was quite an undertaking. Some of the folk went to a turkey farm and returned with 100 pounds of turkey. The turkeys were stored in the different refrigerators, a hall was rented, bills posted and everyone worked toward making it a success. The Wednesday night before the ladies gathered at the parsonage and prepared 21 loaves of bread for dressing and the five huge turkeys were dressed and taken to the different homes for roasting on Thursday. Friday found us all making pies and cooking vegetables. We all wondered, would we have enough, would people come and pay that price and if so, would there be enough to feed everyone. We fed 175 people and didn't have enough left for another serving! Our profit was $110.70.

Mission Work is Never Dull

One Monday morning, when we were in the midst of washing, a man from the area called and told us that his daughter-in-law was very sick and would we go to his home. "Had they sent for a doctor?" "Yes, but his wife was nervous and wanted us to go as soon as possible." The next question was, "whether we had any baby clothes." We looked over our supply but didn't have very much to contribute. Mavis had not left for school and she started to look through her doll clothes and brought some dresses and a blanket. We had all we could collect and were backing out of our driveway when one of our mothers stopped us and said she would gather up some of what she had left after having a family of eight children and that she would rinse out what we had from the doll collection and dry them in a few minutes in her electric dryer. We drove out to the home and to our relief, saw the doctor's car in the yard. The clothes were gratefully received as the mother had been visiting at the in-laws over the weekend and her layette was at her home some eighty miles away.

Easter Sunday was a big day for us. Four of our young people joined the church, one of them being Mavis. Later one of our young married mothers joined the church on profession of faith. There were seventeen baptisms on the field, five adults and twelve children.

Happy Children

The Church School at Holtvre meets each Sunday with 30 pupils enrolled and an average attendance of 76.6%. The ladies of the district, including some Roman Catholics, had a bake sale to raise money for Sunday School papers. They made $41.35, and now even little pre-school folk receive the Nursery School paper.

On Tuesday, Carr School has their Sunday School. The boys, who aren't very big, help to get the portable organ out of the car and into the school. They insist on having it, even though the snowdrifts at the road are almost prohibitive. Stanley is a versatile musician. He plays the guitar and the mouthorgan quite well. The whole school greeted me one day by singing a chorus accompanied by the guitar.

Then we must hurry on to Matheson Mission Band. One little girl is looking forward to the Missionary Festival which will be held in the church and she is scouting around for material for the members, in order that our Mission Band shall be a credit among the different organizations which participate.

The children give their money delightedly so that other little boys and girls shall have a teacher to tell them of Jesus, too; and "Blinky" the little piggy bank, politely lifts his hat at each contribution.

The Monteith Mission Band meets on Wednesday with 21 pupils on the roll. They, too, find Mission Band fascinating. Their emotions were quite aroused over Kenji's little sister having to leave home to work in a silk factory.

The Ramore children look forward to Thursday afternoon. I made some hymn sheets so that the children would not wreck the church hymn books and they are fast becoming familiar with the hymns.

At 3 p.m. I hurry on to Holtyre where the Junior and the Senior Grades have separate worship services. The little ones dramatized the Nativity scene with very little practice and it was very nicely done. Those wee folk made their own crowns for the three kings, and plasticine presents were presented to the baby Jesus. They also supplied the doll and the crib.

The last Sunday in December will stand out as a memorable day for a long, long time. The children were asked if they would like to write a "Thank You" prayer for all the good things they had been enjoying, the gifts they had received, and the happy holiday. They eagerly reached for the papers and pencils. Two children were willing to read their prayers but the other preferred to have them read. It was a moving experience, I assure you.

The children at Currie Centre dramatized the Nativity scene on their concert afternoon. There are only a few pupils but they presented an excellent program. There were games, too, and a social time, when the children enjoyed cocoa and all the goodies that the mothers had provided.

Busy Mothers

There are only six or seven Protestant families at Ramore, but those few ladies did an amazing amount of work. They were paid $50 for cleaning and redecorating the school during the summer. Then they entered the Agricultural Fair with ever so many pieces of work, and donated their prize money to the Woman's Association. The W.A. at Matheson invited them to participate in their Christmas bazaar and they made a grand financial success.

The Monteith ladies are also few in number and they have done splendidly. They were at the Matheson bazaar also, and did much better than they would have, had they tried to have it in their little town.

The Fall project among the St. Andrew's Sunday School in Matheson, met with considerable success. About the first week in October, letters were distributed to the families, asking if the parents and the children would co-operate in collecting necessities like baby clothes, school supplies, and all sorts of pins, needles, bobby pins, combs, etc. I sat like a Queen in state, in the car, just outside the church door, and the children brought their offerings. We were able to send 23 pounds of good used clothes, and the school supplies, to Korea.

The End of One Chapter

As the Empress of France wallows in the Irish Sea, I write this report of the first half of 1957 on the Muskoka United Charge. Going on furlough is a wonderful occasion, but it means leaving people much beloved, and work that has filled six years with happiness, challenge, and inspiration.

During the first half of 1957 the Charge became further consolidated. The far-flung communities were more and more united in spirit and purpose, as well as in organization and resources. Even the farewell party for the departing staff members was a new venture in joint planning for the seventeen communities on the Charge.

The main undertakings this summer were Vacation Schools and weekend camp, both of which required a lot of planning. The C.G.I.T. weekend camp was a success with several of our local women acting as leaders.

An exceptionally fine Christian Caravan team came to help with Vacation Schools. It was a joy to find such consecrated and capable young folks willing to give up summer work and summer vacations to help with the work of the church. A kit of material received through the Supply Department of the W.M.S. helped with the Vacation Schools.

With a little encouragement and help, a new choir was formed at Hillside. It is made up of men and women who are really interested in having a choir, and who realize what a great contribution a choir can make to a service of worship. This new choir was an outgrowth from a Bible Study group that met faithfully for two years.

This summer marks a great change for the Charge, as all three staff members, ordained minister, lay supply, and missionary have left, and the work has been taken over by a new staff.

And the Beginning of Another

The five months since August 1st, when I came on the field, have been a very happy experience. Our staff consists of an ordained minister, a lay-minister, and a W.M.S. worker, and we have been trying to find our particular niche in the work of the field, and are getting nicely established. The entire staff is new this year, and since our Chief of Staff did not arrive until late October it has been indeed a strenuous time for both staff and people. The people have been very kind and helpful, co-operative and appreciative, and very patient as I have asked names again and again.

Sundays are very full days with three services each, and on each third Sunday four services, entailing an 85-mile drive on some trips. The roads wind in sharp curves, up hill and down, and when snow and ice perform their tricks, driving becomes hazardous and a real strain. However, looking back beyond the winter one calls to memory a most glorious countryside in all its glory of autumn coloring. "Priscilla" turned often at the Portage road, almost without the driver's hand, to let her see again and again the splendid view from Portage Hill. And now, as I write this report, I sit at the window of my cosy little apartment looking out at beautiful snow-laden trees on Lookout mountain across the Muskoka River that flows past our house. Then turning my eyes towards the left, I look out across Fairy Lake now an expanse of white.

There are 13 W.A. Groups on the Charge, eight of which are affiliated with the W.M.S. There is a Mission Band; also two C.G.I.T. Groups, the one at Hillside led by Mrs. Grassie of Hillside Manse, while I lead the Aspdin Group. Each Group had a Christmas Vesper Service. Christmas season was a busy round of concerts, parties, special services, carol services with candle-lighting ceremonies, etc. On December 15th, the Locks Choir went to Port Sydney for special music at the morning service of worship. On Christmas Sunday evening, there were three carol services which included the points nearest. At Dwight the Hillside C.G.I.T., and at Locks the Aspdin C.G.I.T. repeated the Pageant of the Candles from their Vesper Service, and a Candle-lighting ceremony followed which included all the congregation. It was a great experience for all.

The school work includes four rural classes and a Grade IX at the High School.

I would like to pay tribute to my predecessor, Miss Mathews, and the other members of the staff. They have laid good foundations, and the building was in good condition for us to take over.

(MRS.) PEARL BUDGE

Seven Months of Hospital Visiting

Hospital visiting in the name of the Church is a demanding and rewarding experience. The problems encountered are many and varied, and if they are to be successfully met, the grace of God must be actively at work in the life of the hospital visitor. She must have a deep and sympathetic understanding of human behavior and the ability to identify herself with the problem of the individual sick person. Her aim is to help keep the morale of the patient high so that that the processes of healing may be advanced. She should be strong—spiritually, emotionally and physically—because as long as her strength lasts, there is practically no limit to the amount of help that she can give in the many crowded hospitals in our city.

Her reward is not only the satisfaction of meeting some of the needs of the patients she visits, but also in the deep fellowship which is shared in making the attempt. In many instances, it is her morale which is strengthened. The frustrations experienced are the awareness of one's own short-comings and inadequacies and the knowledge that you cannot reach all who need you. I found it impossible to contact all the people whose names were listed by the nine hospitals in which I visited. I tried to make a worthwhile visit with the people I was able to reach.

I am grateful for this year's experience as hospital visitor in Toronto, and feel that my horizons have indeed been widened and my whole life strengthened.

MARY G. BLAIR

Hospital Visitor,

Furlough Experiences

Two months of my furlough year were spent at Pendle Hill, a centre for religious and social study, maintained by members of the Society of Friends. Life in this religious community centres in the daily meeting for worship and sharing in a common life of work, study and recreation.

A trip to the Bach Festival at Bethlehem, a day spent with the United Nations in session, visits to Art Galleries in Philadelphia, were events of special interest.

One memorable highlight was the evening Dr. Kramer and his wife were our guests for dinner and the evening. Since I had first read his "Christian Message in the Non-Christian World," I had hoped to see him in person.

Another unforgettable experience was a visit to the Delaware Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. At the noon luncheon among colored ministers and their wives and lay people, I was welcomed as a visitor from the Woman's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada. I was asked to bring their greetings to their friends in Canada. The Ordination Service on Sunday afternoon was one of rich spiritual content. As the verse was quoted, "There shall be one fold and one Shepherd," I was aware of another Methodist Conference being held a few blocks down the street. These two have met separately for 200 years.

When I returned to Toronto for Dominion Board, I was also able to attend "The First Ontario Conference on Aging."

Hospital Visiting Resumed

As I resumed hospital visiting in August, I was appreciative of the fine service rendered by Mrs. Pearl Budge during the past year.

The field of Hospital visiting in Toronto is quickly expanding with the building development of each hospital. I visit a different hospital each half day during the week and occasional visits to other hospitals. From August 1st to the end of December, I averaged 54 calls daily. More than half of those visited are not related to any church in their community, and many are from out of town. Considered as a whole the task of visiting United Church women in Toronto Hospitals is an impossibility; but considering it person by person it is an open door to rich experience.

The fullest possible co-operation is extended by the staff of each hospital. To them and to the Chaplains with whom I am associated in the work, I would express sincere appreciation.

Light in the Darkness

The lovely Christmas season is now over, and the joy and happiness, good will and kindness, so uppermost in the hearts of many people at that time seem to have faded away. For in this downtown community drabness and insecurity, worry and unloveliness fill many hearts and homes. How much more do the churches in the area have to shine forth with messages of God's redeeming grace and love. This we have endeavored to do during the year, against the influence of beverage rooms, inadequate housing, insufficient food and clothing which do not promote "abundant" living.

In half an hour four men came in from the street, miserable and dejected looking (two under the influence of liquor) and went into the office of our superintendent to ask for a mealticket. During the winter months not only single men, but men with families (distracted about what to do next) have come to us for food and clothing and gone out, for the time being glad that some one cared. Many unemployed men and women have received sympathy and kindly counsel. Our supply cupboard was taxed to capacity.

Hungarian Refugees

The Hungarian refugees who came to the Church of All Nations in large numbers were cared for from the clothing centre which was set up in our building. These folk, especially the peasants, came over here with just the clothing they had on, and tears came into many eyes when they went out with warm mitts, coats, warm shoes, etc. Our Hungarian minister worked with them and found shelter for a great many. English classes were held to assist them to take their places in the working world in a new country. A goodly number of these have come into the Hungarian congregation and some of them are using the duplex envelopes and contributing of their small amount of money to the work of the United Church.

Christian Friendliness

Week by week, the meetings with the children and young people were very rewarding. In the Sunday School on Sunday, and in the Explorer and other groups during the week, the children have been faithful and generous in the sharing of their gifts with others. A family in our neighborhood who comes to our groups got burned out and the next Sunday the superintendent of the Sunday School suggested that the scholars might share $5.00 of their "special" offerings which they bring. One girl answered, "Five dollars will not buy much, why can't we make it ten?"

The young women's affiliated group which I counsel enjoyed a good year with a varied and interesting program, the highlight being the study of the W.M.S. book on Southeast Asia. These young women assisted the church greatly in a financial way as well as serving in Sunday School, Baby Band and other projects.

Many people of different national traditions and backgrounds come in and out of our doors during each week. Some of them come to get their mail because we have what we call our unofficial post office here; some of them come to get warm because there is heat there and there is very little in some of the cold and bare rooms from which they come; some of them come to rest and read in their own language the papers and magazines on the tables in our reading room; many of them come to worship because we hold services in three languages; and many of them come to receive counsel and guidance for many of life's baffling problems.

We serve the church through varied activities. Our Home for Senior Citizens houses ten elderly people and we conduct a worship service each week with them. It is then that they enjoy singing the hymns they knew well in their younger days. In our Hostel House there are two families residing; one a German family, the fourth brought out by our congregation to Canada, and one a Hungarian family. Our Credit Union seeks to provide Christian assistance to goodly numbers of our folk by teaching them thrift and in also trying to help them get along by lending money at reasonable rates of interest. Many of them have established themselves in businesses and purchased homes.

This is my report as written down. But I am sure you can read between the lines, the thoughts of one day perhaps that run like this:

I must open that box that came from . . . Church yesterday.

Mrs. Y. asked me to make up a layette for her.

Down I must go and see Mrs. J. for her boy comes up in court today.

There is a prayer to prepare for G. who is conducting her first worship service in Explorers next week.

That shopping bag is waiting for some groceries for Mr. M.

What about that committee meeting on Church and Community?

A Constantly Changing Scene

The beginning of the year saw scores of new faces, some shy and confident, some bewildered and some full of courage—refugees from Hungary—moving in and out of the Church of All Nations. Some language and study classes were organized and a clothing depot set up. In mid-summer our smallest congregation, due to depleted numbers, found it necessary to disband. At the close of the year, the Japanese congregations moved to a new Church home where there is more room to expand, and where a second Chapel for their growing Nisei group can be built.

Our community is changing constantly also. There are numbers of people who remain, but there are others whose children enroll in our Sunday School or weekday groups who stay with us for a few weeks, or a few months, and then move to places too far away to attend. Sometimes others move in to take their places. Amid all these changing conditions, one realizes more and more the importance of making every contact count with the children and in the homes.

During the year members of our staff worked with or served in some way people of at least twenty-four different national or racial backgrounds.

Group Meetings

The Baby Band is an ever-growing group, meeting monthly, and in many cases it is the only contact the mother has with the Church. Miss Gollan provides a fine program of inspiration by way of missionary education, help for the mothers dealing with their wee ones, fun and worship while volunteers care for the older ones of the Baby Band children. Then they all have refreshments. My responsibility with this group is teaching handcraft to the mothers who do enjoy making things.

The Mission Band members (Primary) come with eager expectation and enjoy their play, their stories, handcraft and worship. Their response is wonderful and instantaneous. There is no prejudice in the hearts of children, and when it gets there some adult is responsible.

Our C.G.I.T. members have a desire to help where they can, and have done a much appreciated service for the W.A. at their teas and dinners. They were happy to become a chevron group this year.

The Young People again visited the homes of shut-ins at Christmas, taking treats and singing carols.

Our Boys' Work is under the supervision of Rev. Bruce Cunningham, who has help from Emmanuel College students.

A Hi C group was organized during the year.

We appreciate the work of the teachers and officers of our Sunday Schools, who carry on so faithfully the whole year, for our schools are kept open all summer. Recently a little boy "J" waited at the close of Sunday School and said to his teacher, "You know I told you about the time I didn't pass in school—well, I sat down and talked to God about it, and I've been doing ever so much better since." His understanding teacher sat down with him and there was a short conversation at the seven-year-old level regarding the part "J" would have in this partnership with God.

Cold weather, illness and unemployment bring many people to our churches seeking food, money for rent, meal tickets, shelter, clothing or friendship. Occasionally someone asks for spiritual help. We can touch only the surface of all these needs. We try to make follow-up visits where possible, and find it necessary often to investigate cases. At Christmas our friends from other Churches brought White Gifts, and our own people brought some—all of which helps us to meet the needs of those who come to us.

A Very Busy Year

Regent Park United Church has just completed its busiest year in so far as the work of your missionary is concerned.

Early in February, we had to divide our Church school for times of meeting, since we lacked space for efficient work with 400 children at the one hour. The Intermediate-Senior and the Junior Departments were moved to a morning session—9.45 a.m.—and it has taken most of the year for the children involved to get used to the change in time.

In early September, we held our first local Leadership Training School—two evenings of general and departmental instruction. This proved to be a very fine spring-board for the teachers into the materials and activity of the 4th quarter of study. Our boys and girls are using the duplex envelopes. Givings have been good, though they need further education regarding the "red-side" of the envelope.

Our mid-week groups for boys and girls (Kindergarten-Primary Club, Explorers, Tyro, C.G.I.T. and Sigma C) have all had a good year. Sigma C perhaps has had a few extra problems because of changes in leadership. The Kindergarten-Primary Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Brown, my associate on the staff, and myself, reached a peak attendance last March of 125 girls and boys. Projects on Africa and Korea were carried through, which with seasonal activities, Bible stories and games, made up a varied and interesting program. Due to the hour of meeting (right after school each Wednesday), it is hard to get volunteer assistance. Sometimes this of necessity limits our program. The older group—the 6, 7 and 8 year olds—took a keen interest in their gift boxes. They were brought in at the close of the Korea project and contained a total of $11.65. This seemed like a real fortune to the children, especially when, in the form of coppers and nickels, it was heaped in a large glass bowl on the worship centre.

Our women's groups had a very active year with many special events. In June, a "Ladies' Cabinet" was formed with three representatives from each group. The purpose is to create a greater sense of fellowship and unity and to act co-operatively in special congregational projects. During the fall, the Cabinet gathered all the women together in a fellowship rally and later organized a visitation of homes in the western end of our apartment area.

Vacation School was once again an important part of our year's work. The school was held in July with an enrolment of 207 boys and girls in three departments. The theme throughout was "The Church." The huge mural of the church which the Kindergarten children made was a joy to behold, as was the large model made by the Primary children.

An outstanding event in the Junior Department was a visit to All Saints' Anglican Church. The children were deeply impressed by the beauty of the windows and the intricate carving in the chancel. The worship service, with which our visit closed, was very quiet and sincere.

As in other years, much of your missionary's time has gone into visiting and counselling. There are problems in so many of our homes, and children in our Church School and mid-week groups, who need special study and attention.

Immigration Centre

1957 has been a year of change and expansion in Immigration work in Toronto. Early in June an office was opened in downtown Toronto to be known as the United Church Immigration Centre for the Metropolitan area. Expansion means more work to do and this necessitates more help. In August Mrs. Budge was appointed to share these duties with me, and her able assistance is gratefully acknowledged.

Many phases of Immigration work have been centred in this office. Foremost among these has been the serving of the men and women who come to us. Counselling them as they relate their problems, trying to help them secure employment, and above all, endeavoring to make them feel that we are their friends, fills the larger part of our day. Language difficulties have been overcome many times through the kind co-operation of Mr. Rueger, in the German work, and Dr. Pokoly among the Hungarians. A great deal of friendly visiting has been done by us in an effort to follow up these contacts.

During the summer, a request came for help in securing furniture and household articles for some Hungarian families. These things were called for and delivered to the housing secured. Working with Dr. Pokoly, our Hungarian pastor, we have continued to serve some of these families.

In response to a request from the Social Planning Council, United Church women have taken their turn both at Malton Airport and the Union Station in welcoming the New Canadian. Particularly at Malton, our ladies gave a wonderful service; whatever the hour the plane arrived, they were there.

Under the direction of the Social Planning Council, a number of churches assisted in a Housing Survey, in an effort to secure moderate cost housing for New Canadians. A Housing Registry was established for immigrants in the Union Station where some of our members give voluntary help.

Approximately 1,600 Immigration Slips were sent out during the year and while only about half were returned to us, some reports were made by phone.

Five Churches in the city have given a special service in teaching English, holding classes at least once a week. Reports show that about 400 New Canadians have joined the United Church during the last three years.

Our Annual Conference for Community Friendship Secretaries and Church Visitors was held in October at St. George's United Church, when about 175 ladies attended. In the morning, problems were discussed and stories told of splendid achievements. After lunch, all shared in Buzz sessions on how to become better Visitors.

Community Work

To be a real friend to the old folk who have no friends has been the desire of a group of Volunteer Visitors who go regularly to six Old Age Institutions and two Convalescent Hospitals in the City. These ladies go at least every second week, some every week, to visit the same folk, thus establishing real friendship. The services given are many and varied: reading to some, writing letters, doing shopping, taking them for drives, planning special tea-parties, and, in one instance, inviting three of the ladies to a daughter's wedding. Nearly 9,000 happy contacts were made during the year! To quote one of the Superintendents, "We know the day the United Church Visitors come; it's like a fresh breeze blowing through the corridors."

The Group of Visitors met twice during the year to study together the privileges and responsibilities of knowing 'How to Visit' effectively. Two Presbyterian Conferences were held in the Spring when the Community Friendship Secretaries discussed the work being done for New Canadians and strangers in the local church. Both Mrs. Budge and I spend some afternoons each week in Old Age visiting. I have a monthly Bible Class with a group of ladies in one of our Homes and have shared in the World Day of Prayer services.

In carrying out our work from the Immigration Centre, the co-operation of the women of the three Toronto Presbyterials has been greatly appreciated. I have spoken to eighteen of our Auxiliaries during the past year.

I greatly appreciate the opportunity of working in this Centre with Miss Annie Bishop, whose experience and ability in promoting the welfare of the newcomer to Canada is well known and deeply appreciated.

During the past six months, I have been learning all I could about the work we are now doing, and helping to plan for future development. I have endeavored to take my share of the responsibility in all phases of our field of service here—the assigning of Immigration Slips, the clerical work in the office, the interviewing and counselling, and visiting. Miss Bishop, in her report, will deal with each aspect of the work the Centre is doing on behalf of the newcomers to our country, under the direction of our Church.

MARVEL A. CLAPHAM

Woodgreen United Church,
Toronto, Ontario

“Mizpah Group” and “Sixty-Five Plus”

Woodgreen Church is in a heavily populated section of the city with a large percentage of senior people, and for this reason the major amount of my time has been spent with senior members. Yet I have been sufficiently identified with other groups to be aware of the work in other areas of the church. In September 1952 there were 25 names given me as the shut-in list of the church. As we visited, we discovered a number who did not need to be out off from Christian fellowship. Their problem was mainly one of transportation. In September 1953, we attempted to expand our program in order to meet some of the needs of these folk. With the co-operation of W.M.S. members we instituted fortnightly luncheon meetings which were held through the winter. Old friends met together, new friends were made, those living in rooms had the privilege of eating a meal prepared for them, not to minimize the value of table fellowship. A worship service and some special feature comprised the program. The group flourished and grew.

By September 1955 the number had reached 70. After serious thought the group was divided. The division was made on the basis of age and physical capacity.

In 1957 the Mizpah Group (the name chosen by the group) now had a membership of 52. The “Sixty-Five Plus” Group (the name chosen for its interpretive value) numbered 58. These groups could readily be doubled in number if there were not so many other facets in the senior program to be considered.

The “Drop In” Club

In October 1956 the “Drop In” Club was opened at the Centre. We were delighted when it was made possible by the Board of Woodgreen Centre to have the use of a large comfortable room daily from 1 to 5 p.m. for this purpose. To date, we have approximately 75 men and women coming in and out of the Centre weekly. In December, the daily group numbered 20 to 25 and we began to think of ways and means of enlarging our quarters and expanding the program. The thing we are proud of is the self-sufficiency of the group who daily take responsibility for making and serving afternoon tea and leaving the room in spick and span order.

The by-products of these groups are legion. Many of our folk needed mainly to regain a sense of "belonging" and to feel they were wanted. There were others living in one room for whom a change of scenery and contacts with other people have made a total change in their personality. Some needed clothing. Many needed to be related to adequate medical care. All needed the spiritual renewal which comes through worship; the comfort of the Good Shepherd as they are nearing "the valley of the shadow"; the assurance, where there is no family available, that someone cares.

There are now 300 persons to whom we give pastoral care throughout the year. We are happy to report that at some time during the year each organization within the church has shared in this work.

Other Groups

The W.M.S. under the able leadership of Mrs. William Vaughan, have continued to give loyal support to the luncheon projects. This has been in addition to raising their allocation of $300, and regularly keeping the needs of the world before our people. The handcraft project for associate members also made it possible to send approximately ten afghans overseas and supply 36 pairs of handknit socks for senior men of the community at Christmas time.

The W.A. not only supplied a turkey for the Christmas dinner, but also supplied some of the extra help needed.

The A.O.T.S. through the year, accepted supervision of several older men, supplying clothing when necessary. They also entertained the older men of the "Drop In" Club and some others of the church at the Christmas party. A drive to see the Christmas lights throughout the city was planned for the members of the "Sixty-Five Plus" group and the "Drop In" Club. The A.O.T.S. financed one bus; the other was made possible through the Centre. The buses left the Centre at 7 p.m. and returned at 8; they were served with light refreshments and taken by car to their homes. From all reports it was one of the most successful activities we have sponsored for a long time.

The Mothers Friendly not only cared for some senior folk within their own group but made a generous contribution to the Benevolent Fund. The Married Couples Club entertained four families at their own Christmas party and supplied new car coats for two lads of the Church School whose parents were ill; and supplied a radio to be used for older folks when in hospital. The Church School contributed through White Gifts at Christmas time.

What more can I say unto you regarding the work of your deaconess. There are so many folk at the end of their own resources seeking help.

"We can help sometimes;
We can relieve sometimes;
We must always comfort."

Generous Assistance

I am continually amazed at the help given to our churches by other churches in the city. Each of our three All People's Churches has an Assisting Board—in connection with St. Christopher's, this Board is composed of representatives from the W.A. and W.M.S. groups of our Burlington and three Hamilton United Churches. These representatives meet every two months to hear reports from me and from the mission superintendent, and to discuss how our church may be helped. After each Assisting Board meeting the members report back to the groups which they represent, and thus help sustain the interest of all the women of the assisting churches in our work.

It has been a custom that the groups on the Board take turns in visiting our W.A. once a month (the W.A. meets weekly) and put on a program for our women, which is very greatly appreciated.

In return for all this help our St. Christopher's women are sometimes able to do something for the other churches. We are fortunate in having two good, well-trained soloists in our choir. During the year these women have sung at special meetings or events in many of our Hamilton churches. On such occasions I often go with them as piano accompanist or to provide transportation.

Group Activities

My Explorers were in charge of the worship service at the city-wide Explorer Rally. The C.G.I.T. put on a Mother and Daughter Banquet for the first time in a number of years. They prepared the meal themselves, and all went well except that the gravy was burned! My Intermediate Sunday School class took a Christmas gift to an old lady in the Senior Citizens' Home, and said that was a lot more fun than exchanging gifts among themselves. Our Mission Circle got out a cook book which was quite profitable financially. The Mission Circle and W.M.S. Auxiliary both reached their allocation through envelope givings.

The W.A. for its size raised a large amount of money which it contributed almost entirely to the general funds of the church. Another woman's organization redecorated the kindergarten room of the church, doing a lot of the hard work themselves. The result is a very beautiful room. The church redecorated the primary room in the same colors as the kindergarten, and as other rooms in the church had been remodeled or redecorated the previous year, almost the whole church now is quite attractive in appearance.

A Variety of Activities

During the year I had a number of speaking engagements at various W.M.S. Auxiliaries and the fact that I had been in China provided a connection with the study on South-East Asia.

Visiting in the homes of newcomers and of our own church people is always part of my work. During the fall many people were out of work, and some in special need. Drink has brought immeasurable unhappiness to the homes of some of our people.

Camp looms large in our All People's work. For the first summer since I have been here I did not have to direct a camp. This was because we were able to secure one of our own All People's young women, Miss Doris James, as director of our Girls' Camp.

I was also a counsellor at our Mothers' Camp which was directed by Miss Jean Stewart. Both camps were very good this year, I thought. We also had Boys' Camp and Family Camps which I did not attend. Next year we hope to expand our camp program so that we can have both Junior and Intermediate Girls' Camps and Boys' Camps.

The Ministry of Flowers

January - May 1957

After some thoughtful person has brought flowers to the church service it is fun sharing them with those who could not attend. There is the elderly shut-in parishioner who realizes afresh Christ's concern for her, the couple who had become withdrawn within themselves suddenly coming to church again, the New Canadian mother struggling to make a living for herself and son rejoicing at the sight of a pot of Easter lilies. These were some of the experiences that were mine while serving at All People's.

Twice before I had knocked on the door of a home. Each time the lights were turned off and no one answered. A neighbor going by told me that though the couple went out to work each day they remained indoors and apart from their neighbors. When I arrived on a recent Sunday afternoon with flowers, the wife was very pleased. The next two Sundays she was out to church. Our prayer is that this couple might again be part of our fellowship.

To spend one's first Easter Sunday in Canada working from 6.30 a.m. to 12 a.m. is no fun. Mrs. S. had not been able to attend the service, though her twelve-year-old son had, and now in receiving the lilies a bit of the service had come to her. Many times one is overcome with awe and thankfulness with the way God uses flowers — an exquisite part of His creation—to warm and inspire the hearts of His children.

Little Johnny and Others

“How can we better meet the needs of little Johnny?” Once a month the devoted group of ten Sunday School teachers meet together to discuss and plan. It has been a privilege to be associated with this fine group in this church where we have three times as many children as adults.

How can one measure whether or not there has been growth? Yet one realizes that some of the most zealous of the Tyro boys had been juvenile delinquents. Instead of condemning one of the girls in their C.G.I.T. group for untoward behavior, the girls approached their leaders with deep concern for her and a real desire to help.

Return to All People's

After a year's valuable experience with the Home Organization Department of the W.M.S., Dominion Board, I returned to All People's in September 1957. It was a return to much that was new: a new minister, new organizations, new Church families, who clearly spoke of the ever shifting population of this district, where folk are always on the move.

All People's is located in an area of many apartments, above the stores of a busy street, and it helps to establish a first link between the newcomer and the Church of a new land. We are happy when we hear of the little Explorer from Scotland, who is now in a new survey giving enthusiastic help to the Explorer group in the new Church there; or when we hear of the former secretary of our Woman's Federation, who came to our Church as a new arrival from England, and who now, in a suburban area, is giving leadership in the formation of such a group in the newly formed Church there.

Mid-Week Groups of All Ages

The Baby Band is the strongest link we have with young mothers who find it difficult to attend the Church regularly, while Mission Band draws many children of the community from the streets to the pleasant downstairs meeting room of the Church. A young Japanese Canadian housewife is giving valuable help with this group, along with two other eager young helpers. The children are of many national backgrounds and are eager to come for a mid-week group.

The enthusiasm of junior Tyro boys and Explorer girls is a bright spot of Church life. Spontaneous thoughtfulness on their part sometimes brings much joy. When the girls heard of three wee Chinese children from one family, who were patients in the Sanatorium, their immediate reaction was, "Let's do something for them!" Stocking dolls became a happy project, tied in with a community exploration. It was a much anticipated day when the girls made their trip to the San and peering through the pavilion windows saw 3, 4, and 5 year old Elizabeth, Philip and Sandy receive their gifts.

A JAPANESE-CANADIAN EXPLORER FROM ALL PEOPLE'S CHURCH POINTS OUT TO ANOTHER EXPLORER HER ENTRY IN A RECENT WORLD FRIENDS ART PROJECT.

C.G.I.T. girls in this "Japan Year" have learned much from the fine Christian character of their young Japanese Canadian President as well as from their study. Members of the group have come kimono clad, have done Japanese folk dances, have taught Japanese writing with the writing kit that every Japanese school pupil carries.

Firsthand experience of Japanese life has been the opportunity of nearly every Church group. The Mission Circle Treasurer, also a Nisei, is a very fine cook. One evening she prepared in immaculate style a sukiyaki supper for the whole group. It was a "first experience" for most of the group and one to be remembered by everyone.

It is significant that this year the counselling of the Hi-C group and the teaching of the Senior Church School class has been in the hands of a young Japanese Canadian theology student. Through his conscientious work and unmistakable sincerity, a number of young people have been drawn into church life. This group of young people prepared and presented one of the simplest, yet most reverent portrayals of the Christmas Story that I have ever seen.

Work at the Sanatorium

Work at the Sanatorium continues. The young people, formerly such a joy to be with, are no longer there. Six of them, however, are active in the Chinese United Church in Toronto. Twelve older men remain as patients and the three children formerly mentioned.

To balance fewer Chinese patients in the San is an increasing number of women in the Chinese Woman's group. Some of them are members of an English class formed by one of the members of All People's Assisting Board. A few are proving to be keen students. We are ever aware that the work among some 400 Chinese in Hamilton has scarcely been tapped and is before us as "work undone and a field unwon."

More than ever before the latter part of 1957 seems to have brought to our attention those in desperate need—both materially and spiritually. Unemployment has been far more than a word in our area and the gifts of clothing and food from W.M.S. groups have been gratefully received in many neighboring homes.

Group Activities

During the past winter I found it both interesting and educational when I tried to assist with the leadership of a Hi-C group. On the whole we decided that the experiment was a successful one and worth repeating next year. A Bible study project on the early church was very successful as were also two thrilling rallies. One of these was held at All People's in connection with the annual Presbyterial and those who attended were deeply stirred by an address given by Miss Ada Sandell. C.G.I.T. activities at both St. Peter's and All People's, have taken part of my time too, but I believe that it was time well spent. The weekly radio programs sponsored by the City and District Girls' Council during the past winter have provided an excellent opportunity for the girls too, as they have prepared and presented C.G.I.T. news and views to the listening audience. During Youth Week some of the All People's girls were asked to present a T.V. program and had a lot of fun doing a well-known skit on the C.G.I.T. uniform.

Another exciting project in 1957 was the directing and rehearsing of a play entitled, "The Fair Family Worship" which was later presented as part of a Sunday morning church service. I summed up the main points in the play in a short address afterwards and so a Christian Family Life program was introduced at All People's.

Speaking engagements have, as usual, taken up a certain amount of my time but I have thoroughly enjoyed the contacts which I have been able to make with other groups because of such engagements. Interdenominational activities are important, I think, and I am always glad to assist with co-operative Church Vacation Schools, Leadership training classes, Church and School Week, etc. One particularly worthwhile experience this year was speaking at a World Day of Prayer service which was attended by some one hundred and fifty girls, and discussing with them the meaning of Lent for Protestants.

Another co-operative adventure which everyone declared was most profitable was a W.A.-W.M.S. rally on the Manitoulin Island at which I was privileged to lead in worship. All People's and St. Peter's Federations are both continuing to flourish but I think we are all becoming more aware that this way of combining our women's groups, although certainly a step in the right direction, is a bit too complicated for the average congregation.

Directing a C.G.I.T. camp was my last official duty as your representative in the Sudbury area and as usual it was both a humbling and a challenging experience. To worship in God's great out-of-doors, to sit under a tree with a group of girls and discuss the meaning of the sacraments, to chat with a girl who wants to be a missionary, to celebrate Christmas in the middle of July, to have a camper tell you that she will never go to any other type of camp again if she can go to a church camp instead—these are the things that make camping so worthwhile.

A Busy and a Profitable Year

Among the highlights of the early part of the year was the organization of two new congregations—one at Bruce Hill and the other in the Monterey Gardens area. Those two—Bruce Hill United Church and Grace United—together with Emmanuel, situated farther east along the highway, make up the new Emmanuel-Hill charge.

The new basement of Grace Church was completed and dedicated in October. For a year, through the courtesy of the congregation, we had been worshipping in the Seventh Day Adventist Church across the street. Now, at last, we had a building of our own in which to meet! This gave us an opportunity to organize midweek groups. A Mission Band of 26 and an Explorer group of 16 members have been holding successful meetings in the new building. Tyro and Sigma C. groups also are active under the capable leadership of some of the men of the congregation.

Mission Band, Explorer and C.G.I.T. groups of Bruce Hill Church have had another successful year. In the autumn a Young People's Union was organized by the student minister who is serving the charge.

At a Baby Band party for mothers and children held at Emmanuel Church in November, an appeal was made for leadership for a Mission Band group. An interested mother undertook to give this leadership, and a growing and active group has been the result. This year a C.G.I.T. group was also organized at Emmanuel.

In October a junior choir was organized at the little church at Bayview on the All People's charge. At Christmas time, through the generosity of All People's they were presented with choir gowns which added much to the appearance of the group, whose young voices assisted in the weekly worship in their church. The choir got its start when the newly organized C.G.I.T. group decided that they would like to help their church by coming out on Sunday mornings and singing an anthem. Since then several boys have become members and are faithfully doing their best to make the choir a good one.

Each church has an active W.A. group carrying its share of responsibility for the life of the congregation. At All People's a small but active Mission Circle has had a successful year, and the members are embarking upon the new year with even more enthusiasm and plans for wider work.

In the spring a C.G.I.T. Leaders' Fellowship was organized on a city-wide basis. We have had several interesting and profitable meetings to which leaders have brought their problems, exchanged ideas and where helpful suggestions were offered for conducting Bible study and the missionary project. Plans for the new year include Christian drama with representatives from all groups participating.

During the summer five Vacation Schools were held, two of them in conjunction with the student ministers on the field. A total of 200 children attended the schools, and we felt that our efforts had been worthwhile.

In addition to mid-week groups and Sunday School activities, your worker has made a survey of the Brookfield sub-division in the west end of the city and also in the area immediately east of Brookfield.

January - July 1957

At Christmas time Nursery School lost two of its members to the public school. The nine that were left were most regular in their attendance, and happy in their play.

Learning English

After the Christmas season it seemed to take a little time to get everyone back to the English classes, which were carried on two nights and two mornings each week. However, at the end of two weeks, our classes were filled. Our regular attendance was usually forty, which is all we have room for at our tables.

We had hoped to have four try the Board of Education Examination after finishing Book 4, but work opened up outside of Windsor and three pupils left. However, one young man tried and got 83 in the English portion but only a pass mark in the historical and citizenship part.

Tuesday afternoon we had an English class where mothers brought their children; the children played while the mothers learned English. It is the mothers who often are so tied with home duties that they do not have a chance to learn English. Three German, one Hungarian, and five Italian mothers came. They did appreciate the chance to learn English and enjoyed the social time we often had after, when we served tea. Towards the end of the classes one of the women had to go to the hospital for her second child. I visited her there and she said to me, "My husband say to me I no go to English class now I get two children, I say I put baby in the buggy. I take Barbara by the hand and I go." She had ten blocks to walk.

Two parties were held for all those attending English classes, one before Easter and the other the closing night. The Advisory Board provided the refreshments for both. Our volunteer teachers (we had 18 excellent ones) took charge of the games, each one having a corner for her special game, such as throwing bean bags into a board with holes, or table tennis balls into paper cups tied on the legs of an upturned chair, and the pupils moved in groups from one game to another at the sound of the bell.

A Welcome Visitor

One hundred and eight calls were made on new arrivals in Windsor, and we were received gladly. One address was a beer parlor. I went around to the back, found a door and stairs, but when I got to the top I found more doors but no numbers or names on them. Knocking brought no response. So finally I tackled the beer parlor and was immediately taken behind the bar, through a door, upstairs to another door, which I found after knocking was an apartment. There I found a Scots lady who was wondering where the nearest church was, as she wanted her eight-year-old son to go to Sunday School. She insisted on serving me a cup of tea in her best china, which she had just unpacked. I might add she showed me how to get out the back way so I did not have to go through the beer parlor again.

Another interesting call was on a Serbian family, who had twin girls nine years of age, and who had lived in England a year before coming out to Canada. I mentioned the nearest United Church was Giles Boulevard. Imagine my surprise when I was told, "Oh yes, the girls go there every morning to school." They had arrived June 30th. We, together with Giles Boulevard, opened Vacation School on July 2nd, and they were there. I called on July 3rd.

As I mentioned, we and Giles Boulevard went together and held a Vacation School from July 2nd-July 12th taking in children throughout the district. We had 118 on the roll and our average attendance of 75 would have been greater, if two camps had not started the second week, taking away 15 of our regular attendants and two of our leaders.

There was a goodly number of parents at the closing demonstration, and as they said good-bye they thanked us for the School.

Another "good-bye and thank you" was said the end of May when we closed our English classes for then the men began working overtime and the women started working in their gardens. Almost everyone as they went out the door said, "Goodbye. Thank you," and then eagerly added, "Can I come back again in September?"

Immigrants from Italy

All People's Mission is presented with a wonderful opportunity to give the Gospel of the Lord Jesus to recent immigrants from Italy, large numbers of whom live near us. We have a preaching service in Italian here every Sunday morning at ten o'clock. I pray for the service. Two senior couples who are members of the United Church, and a number of young men from the classes are the congregation. At the service before Christmas we received the sacrament. Because there are often some people who have never before attended a Protestant church, it was thought best, instead of passing the elements, to ask those who were prepared to come to the table to partake. The invitation was clear, no one could mistake; and it was our United Church service of communion. What touched me was that not six people but fifteen came forward very reverently and thoughtfully. It was the Lord's table.

At eleven o'clock I have Sunday School. The attendance is very small and the children very young. Nursery School is held three mornings a week. Twenty children have been enrolled since school opening in September, but some were for short periods only. The average attendance was seven. The oldest is five years. Only five of the twenty speak English at home. In the first two months there were only two who understood English, but they learn quickly.

Learning the Difficult English Language

Adult English classes were held at six two-hour periods weekly. One hundred and twenty-five "learners" were enrolled, of whom twenty were women. I help to teach at all sessions, and there are twenty regular volunteer teachers who come once a week, as well as a number of others who substitute when needed.

Language students probably represent the cream of the incoming immigrants. Ours are a very interesting group. Most of them are young and few have been in Canada longer than eighteen months. They are clean, alert, eager and friendly. It really is a delight to teach because they are so thrilled to be, from the very first lesson, learning to speak and read and write and spell the difficult English language.

To a teacher, though, the noise of sixty people in eight classes all talking at once in one small hall, can be distracting!

Last fall began with night school twice a week but I soon added a third night devoted only to beginners. You will understand my joy when those beginners who, in October, were struggling with "This is I. That is you. That is he. That is she," were able at Christmas time to decipher and understand the Basic English translation of St. Luke 1: 1-14. I included the difficult verse 2, "when Cyrenius was ruler of Syria," especially for our one Syrian lad. At least one class ran into difficulty there, because our English word "ruler" also signifies a 12-inch measure. We did not until later know that some other class discussed the word "Caesar" among themselves and settled on "scissors"!

Tuesday afternoon's class is for women only. Mothers may bring their children and have them play quietly during the class period. Some of the women in this class are older, and some were desperately afraid they could not learn, but all are making progress.

One of the Christmas parties deserves to be mentioned. All the families of people connected with the English lessons were invited. A special invitation was sent to a class of Canadian business men and women studying Italian at the Technical School. Quite a number of them came, and stayed. There was a record crowd and I think everyone had a wonderful time. It even happened that Santa Claus paid us a surprise visit from St. James' Church at the most opportune time. It is worth recording when the minister has to whisper, "Who are you?"

COMMUNITY MISSIONS WEST

Church leaders in rural areas tell us that the Church has undergone three periods of adjustment. These three are the pioneer period, the period of decline and the period of re-adjustment. We know the agricultural problem created by new modes of work and more machinery and the urge for farm people to seek the opportunities in the growing cities. In rural districts and in many small communities, where population moved away, congregations were united with adjoining ones and one minister serves the larger area. It is here that our missionaries, associated with ministers, are giving fine Christian Education leadership and the needs of the greater areas, are being met.

And what of those who leave the rural districts? Here, again, is a field of challenge. Our population shifts in the town itself, from town to town, city to city and today from fringe areas back to the city. These population movements are making changes in our Church, our organizational and our institutional life but the task is still to bring the one Gospel to the people so that irrespective of where life is lived it will be a Christian sacrament.

With the placing of a minister at Manning our missionary in the Peace River Presbytery was released and she succeeded our worker in the South Alberta Presbytery. When 17 new members from an area which rarely has a Church service unite with the Church on profession of faith we know the Church is alive and that is what happened on the Cowley charge in the South Alberta Presbytery.

While requests have come for the continuance of the work in the Cariboo Presbytery, Miss Henrietta Campbell, who has been faithfully serving this area, feels that only a man can enter the camps and give the necessary Church service. The Board of Home Missions is giving this appointment consideration.

It is hard to make comparisons in the rural and city work. So much needs to be done in the depopulated areas and yet the difficulty from these communities accounts for some of the difficult problems which we are facing in our city life. The leadership of a minister and a missionary working together provides a satisfactory arrangement and our prayer is that we may be able to make this possible both in the rural and city areas.

A Year of Planting

This year my main concern has been with our small and scattered congregation in the town of Creighton, Sask.; which lies just west of Flin Flon, being separated from it by the mine which maintains us all up here. During the first half of the year, I kept my suite in the Birchview district of Flin Flon but stayed out in Creighton for three days of the week, being very generously entertained by a woman who made room for me at considerable inconvenience to herself and her daughter. We were able to start a C.G.I.T. Group with one of the local women as a very capable leader. The highlight of the summer was that she and I were able to take six of our C.G.I.T girls to the new camp at Wellman Lake which I had the privilege of directing. It was just about as perfect as a camp could be.

Also during the early part of the year I was able to call on quite a few of the families of members and adherents of the United Church. A large Mission Band was also started in a small music room of the school. In the fall it fell upon evil days because the pupils were going to school in shifts, the new addition to the school not yet being completed.

The lack of any place for groups to meet was the reason for my moving to Creighton taking a room that had been a confectionery with a kitchen adjoining it, and arranging it as both living and working quarters. Our first event here was the Baby Band party on December 6th with 20 mothers and 24 children, with the W.M.S. president and the minister out from Flin Flon. Now I have a very adequate place for C.G.I.T, junior choir practice (music supplied by an ancient parlor organ), Tyros, and Mission Band, and hope to have informal groups of adults in occasionally also.

In the early part of the year the church services were carried on alternately by our two ministers, but with the opening of our second church and the addition of another morning service, the Creighton services fell to me with an occasional exchange with one of the ministers. We now have a combined worship in the school with the Sunday School pupils going to their classes during the sermon. The attendance has not increased much but there is a feeling of unity and common purpose.

The big event of the opening of St. Luke's Church has been mentioned. It is a nice modest, modern-type building with a lovely sanctuary seating about 240, large Sunday School hall, and a basement unfinished as yet but a great boon to the Tyros which I used to have at home in my little suite in Birchview, and many other groups too. All our work is still part of one pastoral charge with the two associate ministers, Rev. G. C. Nelson and Rev. C. D. Rupp and myself as the staff. The supervision of the Christian Education program throughout the charge is still my responsibility, so that I find myself driving back and forth almost every day.

In spite of the big excitement of opening our new church, for me it has been a year of plugging away on many small jobs, not seeing what is happening to the people involved, but knowing that if we plant and water, it is God who gives the increase.

At Wayside and Knox

Services at Knox have been taken during the minister's holidays, and to fill in at other times.

The Sunday School is a strong feature of the work here. Steady attendance is noticeable and all come at special family services as Mother's Day, Christmas and Easter. In June, an attempt was made to get the Nursery children and their mothers together for fun and incidental teaching. The first day, eight mothers and 18 children turned up with more brothers and sisters coming in after school. Five times we met. In the fall four of those children started to Sunday School. Some of the Japanese started their children in the New Year.

Some of the Japanese families felt that they were handicapped at their parties by not being able to dance. So the Nisei Club undertook to learn, and used Wayside for a few Friday nights in the fall. Whole families attended and many of the teenagers coached their parents. The Women's Auxiliary to the Nisei Club struggle to have a bilingual program of information, games, instruction. Tea, sandwiches and cakes seem to be the same in any language.

Again at the Christmas Day service, one wee baby was baptized. When last year's Cub leader went away to college in the fall, his brother took over and is doing well with the Cubs. In the spring, I had a Communicants' class and two boys joined the church.

At the end of the year the Woman's Association was allowed to disintegrate, but plans are being made to re-organize these women into another group. They all participated in putting on a Doll Festival tea in the spring, and a Tea and Sale in the fall. One woman takes her part in the wider fellowship of Presbytery W.A. and W.M.S. She also attended the women's camp in October. Some older Japanese women have been taken to missionary groups in an effort to get them acquainted each with the other.

A Quota of Extras

A new cement walk was needed and in short order, volunteers got the material and had it done. The same happened with a new front door. Now we look forward to repairing the walls of the basement and decorating them.

For one of the Japanese services in the winter, Miss E. L. Bates, retired missionary from Japan, came from Winnipeg. In the fall, a young minister from Japan came from Winnipeg bi-monthly. Services are held in the homes on Saturday night and in the chapel on Sunday nights when he comes. Twice a month the services are taken by members of the group. Our study has been on Japan and I find that the young folks here are more Canadian than they are Japanese.

One Sunday in the spring, a man from Cleveland came into Sunday School and sat down. He wanted to see the place where he had gone to Sunday School as a boy.

At Fourth Avenue, the group of junior girls has been continued in the spring and fall. The women have also met regularly; in the winter at the homes as it was too cold in the building. They helped at a party for the juniors at Christmas, had a grandmothers' night, and a shower for one of their friends. In the fall they took their sale of home cooking to Knox bazaar.

I am a member of Presbytery, go to Presbyterial affairs, and Presbytery W.A. meetings. I was at Conference Branch meetings in Winnipeg at their invitation. I give help where I can at camp. I was also in Winnipeg at a meeting of Presbytery conveners of publications.

In the fall, starting in late September, a day's work was taken over from our rural missionary. This involves a half hour's Bible teaching in each of four schools, lunch on the way, making a round trip of 75 miles. I have missed only one day because of bad weather.

An Eventful Year

Another busy but eventful year has quickly slipped by. In the early winter, choosing the supper hour and early evening, I visited all the homes in South Gillies to contact the men and start a Men's Club. Under the guidance of the minister from the adjoining field we were able to start quite an enthusiastic group. But shortly after, due to the minister's illness, it had to be discontinued.

However, the two women's groups are still progressing favorably. Hymers' W.A. lack of quantity is made up in quality. Each year they are able to contribute $100.00 to the Church Board. The current Mission topic is always studied and freely discussed after every business session. The serving of pot-luck lunch following this provides a time of fellowship together. The South Gillies "Church and Home" group is larger in numbers and just as enthusiastic. The duties of a Church Board are also laid upon their shoulders. This group of women also take a keen and active interest in the Mission study.

During the winter months, the teenagers from three of the points which I serve, held night classes together every Friday evening. Sharing in these evenings gave me a wonderful contact with the teenagers and I have seen a gradual increase in their church attendance. The South Gillies Explorer Group, composed of both girls and boys, closed an enjoyable year of study and fun in May with a Chinese dinner. I had fun in cooking it and they had fun in learning how to eat with chopsticks.

The Hymers' C.G.I.T girls also enjoyed a Chinese dinner in my apartment at the close of their Mission study. Their affiliation ceremony was very impressive as it took place within the church service of worship. At the same time three of the senior girls received their white lanyards. Four of the girls and another one from the community attended Senior C.G.I.T camp. Again this Christmas our C.G.I.T girls conducted a beautiful and inspiring Vesper Service.

"Bees"

These "Weavers" were not contented with their choir being the only church project and were devising all sorts of schemes to get the church painted. Finally the Church Board came to their rescue.

The Church Board had had a meeting and decided that something must be done about the paint which had been sitting there for some time to paint the outside of the church. When I had talked about a "bee" they thought it would not work, but now they decided, themselves, to try one. "Now in case it rains Saturday we'd better have inside paint on hand too," they said. I was nominated to "volunteer" to let everyone know about the "bee." This I did by calling on all the homes in an afternoon and two evenings. Saturday came drizzly and then raining. But shortly after 8.00 a.m. twelve men, six women and six C.G.I.T girls had reported for duty. By the time I arrived the men had the scaffolds up and everyone was really busy with their paint brushes. By 5.00 p.m. every inch of the interior was painted (ceiling ripple green, walls apple blossom pink), floors scrubbed and everything in readiness for a special Easter service the following evening. There was a splendid congregation the following evening, and the church looked lovely with the delicate colors softly lit from the rays of the gas lanterns.

Monday was a beautiful day and 18 people turned out to paint the outside of the church. There was just a little at the back of the church to be finished when we ran out of paint—at 5.00 p.m. A public health nurse from Port Arthur who spends the occasional week-end with me went home with her jeans well plastered with paint, for a can of it had followed her down off the scaffold! All in all these were two wonderful days of real fun and fellowship as well as accomplishing a needed and worthwhile job. One of the C.G.I.T. girls said to me, as we prepared coffee and made ready the lunch the girls had brought, "I wish we had something to paint every week-end, this is the most exciting thing that's happened in Hymers in a long time. It's real fun!"

When I came back the first of September from a wonderful holiday, the old and dangerous church steps had been replaced by sturdy new ones and painted in soft grey.

South Gillies also had a "bee" in my absence and put insulation between the ceiling and roof of their church. The warmth of the church this winter has made us all greatly appreciative of such worthy work.

Some of the adherents of this church are asking for communicant classes. One lady said she had never been interested in the church until the former missionary came and visited her and talked with her. Now she wants to have classes and be baptized and join the church.

Four Vacation Schools were held again this past summer with near record attendance.

This year the 7.00 a.m. Morning Devotions were changed to 7.15 p.m. Evening Devotions at the request of the radio station. I enjoy radio work very much and am pleased with the number of people who are reached despite T.V.

ELIZABETH D. STEPHEN

Hospital Visitor,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

The Joys of Service

In January it was a joy to start back on the job again after the Christmas holidays—back into hospital wards filled with patients—some cheery and accepting their stay in hospital, a few full of self-pity, some frightened at the prospect of surgery or deep-X-ray treatments; back into the nursing homes filled with dear old people, some too senile to converse, but yet appreciating a smile and some candy; some longing for the "Upper Room," a short reading of scripture and a prayer; some with a sense of humor, able to enjoy a joke—but all eager for a visit; someone to talk with or interested enough to just listen while they talked.

February, I conducted the World Day of Prayer Services in two Nursing Homes, and because the San. Chaplain happened to be sick on our regular service day and requested me to fill in, I used the Day of Prayer Service for that too.

Christmas with the Patients

Preparation for Christmas began early in November as I read again and again the Christmas Story from Luke 2 and prayed with the patients in the nursing homes. There were phone calls to the Volunteer Visitors regarding caring for nursing home patients for Christmas. Boxes of Christmas gifts arrived from city and rural groups. These were unpacked and sorted—because each patient must receive a gift exactly like the other patients in the same home. When speaking to groups your missionary tells of the first Christmas she was doing this work and had taken in cakes of soap to two patients in a nursing home. To one she had given Woodbury's and to the other Cashmere Bouquet. On her next visit one of the patients said, "In the first place I never did like green soap and my husband always used Cashmere Bouquet Soap and you gave her the Cashmere Bouquet." I felt glad "her" was too deaf to hear this and made a strong resolve to be careful not to hurt again, so do make a point of making the gifts uniform. What do I do with boxes of dusting powder or large lovely bottles of cologne? I take them to the Princess Elizabeth where the patients are separated from each other. Six hundred gifts were my own responsibility—to wrap and distribute. I went with a group of C.G.I.T. girls and their leader the Sunday afternoon before Christmas to take the beautiful posies of wood fibre violets they had made for patients in two of the nursing homes. The old ladies loved the violets and did so enjoy the girls.

A Thankful Heart

Looking back over the years one recalls the grateful tear-filled eyes, the firm grasp on one's hand expressing gratitude, and often the spoken "thank-yous," and feels it all has been worthwhile.

I cannot close without my expression of gratitude—first to God for the consciousness of His Presence—so many times I have known it was He speaking through me and prompting me to witness for Him in the 7,061 visits I made, the letters I wrote, the many 'phoné calls made, and the 20 talks or services that I led. Without the volunteer groups of visitors from W.M.S. Federations or W.A.'s in our City churches, the work could not have been fully covered. These devoted, faithful women made 16,451 calls during the year and prepared and distributed gifts in Nursing Homes at Christmas. Some came out each month and pushed beds along the corridors to the services at the San., others rounded up wheel chair patients for services in Hospice Taché each month, entertained patients, sang hymns with them, wrote letter for them, read to them and shopped for them. It has truly been a joy to work with them.

A Year with Many Changes

This has been a year with many changes. Our student who has been here for three years, graduated this summer and now has his own field. The worst is yet to come. He got himself engaged to one of our fine young girls and she will be going to join him soon. What we will do without her I do not know as she is a C.G.I.T. leader, Junior Choir leader, teacher and she also sings in the Senior Choir.

We have had two new students since he left, one only staying for the summer.

The Evening Circle has only been active for four or five years. The older group, like the mother hen with her chickens, thought that it was time for them to stand on their own feet. They wouldn't let them help with their Tea but told them to try one of their own. It seemed an impossible task with only eight members but they tried and did very well. They made some ninety dollars and are ready to try another this year. Our church is small for two groups but one group comes out in the day and one at night. They have started making a quilt for Korea and are really enjoying doing something for someone else. We are not a W.M.S. group but they voted at the beginning of the year that every second offering go to the W.M.S. In this way they have nearly doubled their offering for the year, and their other offerings have not suffered.

We had a good Vacation School. We had 106 out this year, just six less than last year, but our average was 79. You might be interested to know that each year since I have been here the average has gone up, being 55, 75 and 79 successively.

Vacation Schools are good training ground for future Sunday School teachers. We had eight volunteers from our own district either doing part or full time.

An Unusual and Interesting C.G.I.T.

We took our Mission Study in C.G.I.T as usual only it didn't turn out to be as usual. We have a Japanese leader and one Japanese girl in the group and what a difference it made in our Mission Study! After it was all over the girls themselves said that it was the most interesting one that they had taken. The leader almost brought her entire home to the C.G.I.T. She brought everything Japanese that they had or she could borrow from her friends. What a display! I know that you are all envious. What we will do next year without all those things I do not know.

The C.G.I.T served a Japanese meal, inviting six guests, and all ate with chopsticks. The president of the Women's Group said that she enjoyed it but she would have put a spoon in her purse if she had known. The Japanese chopsticks have a much finer point than the Chinese and so are harder to manipulate. One of the girls tried them for half the dinner then turned them around and used the handles with much better success. Rev. Furuya, the missionary just sent here from Japan, was one of the guests. He found it amusing and never missed a thing. After dinner he showed us some beautiful slides of the old country.

At the C.G.I.T vespers which followed, the girls sang two verses of Away in a Manger in Japanese, then a Japanese and a Canadian girl sang them in English. At the fireside following, the girls sang The Canary in Japanese with real Japanese music on the piano. Two of the girls were dressed in Japanese costumes, one of which had just been sent over to Canada. At the W.M.S. Presbyterial the girls are singing the songs again.

Experiments and Departures

January 1957-June 1957

Early in spring plans commenced for the formation of a Senior Citizens Club. Leaflets were printed and a house to house visitation was made. Interest appeared to be fair, however when the day arrived only one person came. The group was called again for four successive weeks but as no others came we abandoned the plan for the time being. However, I still feel there are possibilities for such a group but more frequent visitations of persons interested is needed so that they will feel at home with us. Perhaps, too, the fall may be a better time for the group to begin meeting.

Another thought which we tried was the informal, special type of Sunday evening service. This took the form of a hymn-sing, film and coffee. Dr. G. A. McMillan, Home Missions Superintendent, spoke on his visit with the Indian people in the north. The children attended in large numbers but there was also a good representation of adults as well. Yet as it was the adults we were mainly concerned in reaching in this Sunday evening service, we felt that another time children would only be admitted with a parent. The service attracted three men to their first attendance at Point Douglas.

Mid-week groups were active until the end of June. Two boys gained six new members. One Saturday the Explorer girls held a Mother's Day Tea. A fair percentage of the girls' own mothers attended as well as two or three mothers of children in younger groups.

Forty-three Point Douglas boys and girls were guests at a picnic in June given by the men of the Masonic Lodge.

At the end of May the student minister, Mr. Williams, was transferred to St. Andrew's Church. Mr. Corrie, a first-year Arts student from Nova Scotia, succeeded him. In June a new project was begun at Immigration Hall with new Hungarian people. The hall is two blocks from the church and the student here has charge of the program which consists of an educational film night and a playground for the children.

Point Douglas was very sorry to bid goodbye to one of her most regular attenders and her family. They have moved to another part of the city and felt it wise to transfer their church membership. Two weeks ago an Anglican family, whose children attended groups, moved from the area and by September another family will have left. The children of this family, regular at both Sunday School and groups, were the most happy and dependable children any leader could wish to work with. By January the treasurer of our Woman's Association expects to move to the U.S.A. The Point will greatly miss the services of Miss Gwen Crieve who returns to the Training School in the fall. Amongst all the departures we have had one newcomer to the worship of Point Douglas.

AILEEN GUNN

Community Worker,
Robertson Memorial Area,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

From January to the end of August I was part time at Robertson Memorial and part time at Shaughnessy United Church, which centres comprise the North Winnipeg Mission. Our student minister at Shaughnessy was ordained at the Manitoba Conference in June, and

Mr. Griffin was appointed full time lay minister. This meant that there was not the need for a woman worker, while at Robertson Memorial the need was greater than it had been for some time. Thus September found me back at Robertson Memorial full time.

Work at Shaughnessy

First, I shall report briefly on the work in which I had particular responsibility at Shaughnessy. Our children's groups were most enthusiastic. The members of the Mission Band were faithful in attendance; enjoyed their Mission Study and projects, and gave quite generously.

The Explorers had an enrollment of 37 with an average attendance of 28.3. Following completion of their Mission Study, they learned to make Mello-foam flowers.

Members of the Junior Choir attended regularly, and their singing helped to make the Sunday service of worship more meaningful.

The attendance at the C.G.I.T. was regular, with an enrolment of 22 and an average attendance of 16.1. The girls were interested in their Mission Study and at its conclusion re-affiliated with the W.M.S. The Mother and Daughter Banquet was a great success. The girls had invited our Superintendent, Rev. I. M. White, D.D., to be their guest speaker, and I am sure they will long remember his challenge to them to measure up to their C.G.I.T. purpose.

Besides these weekly groups, I taught in the Junior and Primary Departments of the Sunday School; attended Sunday School Teachers' meetings; attended W.A. whenever possible and visited in the home.

A Full Year at Robertson Memorial

Now for Robertson Memorial! Our C.G.I.T. had an especially good year. From January to May we had five groups, since September six. Early in the year the groups completed their study of South East Asia and re-affiliated with the W.M.S. at the C.G.I.T. Mission Rally in Stephen's-Broadway Church. They sent $15.00 to the W.M.S. Presbyterial Treasurer.

The girls were quite interested in a "Variety Night" competition sponsored by the Winnipeg Senior Girls' Council. The Robertson Department decided to put on a "Fashion Show." The President of the Department was the narrator—the girls the models. Some of the costumes worn dated back to the mid-nineteenth century. Robertson Memorial was second in the district competition, and had to go on to the finals. There their adjudication was good, but some others were better. However, the girls thought it was a good experience.

The Mother and Daughter banquet in May was again successful. The theme was "Christian Vocations"—five speakers—each spoke for five minutes on her chosen vocation. Vocations chosen were: Church Work, Nursing, Teaching, Music and Home-making.

Since September the groups have been even more enthusiastic. Two of the highlights of the program—were the W.M.S. Autumn Thank-offering, when Miss Edith Radley, on furlough from Angola, told of the work there and showed some very beautiful slides; and the C.G.I.T. Vesper Service, December 22nd.

The Robertson W.M.S. Violet Burt Auxiliary is not a large group, but the members are most faithful and do all they can to support the W.M.S., at home and abroad.

Since September I have been responsible for the Explorers—a group of active, interested little girls who keep us busy. I have also been assisting with the Junior Choir, and in December I began to assist with the Tyros.

Visiting in the homes and visiting our sick and shut-ins is always an important part of our work, but often one wishes one could be several places at once. There are so many calls to make and not sufficient time to do all one would wish.

From July 9th to 17th, I directed the Junior Girls' Party at the United Church Fresh Air Camps, Gimli, Manitoba, and from August 9th to 17th, the Teenage Girls' Party.

Services for Young and Old

At All People's, we have met with a measure of success with monthly Family Night worship services. The December Family Night was attended by 90 adults and children, at which time the children introduced their Sunday School teachers to the parents, and told of their activities. Then, while the children retired to the kindergarten room for games and refreshments, the adults discussed their responsibility in the Christian education of their children.

We are pleased to report that all of our Sunday School teachers this year are either graduates of this Sunday School or members of the congregation.

The Explorer group had a Donut Day in October, when each girl who took orders and delivered donuts (in the pouring rain) earned a percentage of the cost of her Explorer blouse which means so much to her.

A highlight of the year for our C.G.I.T. girls was the week-end camp at Kirkfield Park. They liked it so well, that they asked to go back for a week in August. I was on holiday, so the parents of one of the girls bravely volunteered to go with them.

As happens so often with young people, the Hi-C group had a big change in membership in the fall. The new members have attended church quite regularly, the girls singing in the choir, and the boys belonging to the Sunday Juvenile Basketball League. Some of the members have expressed the desire to join the church, so the future is promising.

In the Junior Choir, there were six very faithful members. We took these girls, during the Christmas holidays on the Light-Seeing Tour and out to lunch in a downtown restaurant—a new experience for most of them, and one to be long remembered.

I worked in the Junior Department of the St. Giles Vacation School, held in July, at the same time as I was managing the Senior Citizen Camp. We owe a great deal to Winnipeg Presbyterial of the W.M.S. for the support they gave to the Smorgasbord held in late February in order to raise funds for our work with Senior Citizens during the summer. Through the most generous donation of Westminster W.A., we were able to bore a well and pipe the water from it into the kitchen—a great improvement over transporting in five gallon cans all the water used in the camp two miles by car. We also purchased a power mower for the upkeep of the large grounds. During July, we were able to give forty people, living on pension, a week-long holiday.

The Mothers Club, again, has done a good deal towards the upkeep of the building, as well as sending flowers and fruit to the ill and bereaved. They are justly proud of the new stove for the kitchen, plus some pots and pans to go with it. Perhaps these achievements do not seem remarkable, until we realize that almost all of the members are either on welfare, or folk whose husbands are unable to work regularly through ill-health or seasonal unemployment. An increase in active membership has been made, including two New Canadians, one German, and one French.

"I Canna Let Ye Down, Lassie"

I am encouraged that even a few of our congregation are acquiring a greater sense of responsibility toward "their" church. One of whom I think is a woman of Indian descent, whose husband receives a blind pension. She feels she is unable to contribute money for the support of the church, so her contribution is made by leaving her four small children with her husband, while she comes to scrub and clean for us every other week, and more often when she can. I think, too, of the little partially disabled Scotch lady who many times comes to teach her Sunday School class of lively six-year-olds when she really ought to have been home in bed. One day, in reply to my question as to why she forced herself to come when she was obviously suffering effects of the weather, she cheerily replied, "Why, lassie, I canna let ye down, nor the kiddies either."

Winter and Summer Work at Sutherland

The highlight in club work for each year is the Mission Study. The C.G.I.T., Explorers, and Mission Band, all studied their prescribed books on South East Asia. The C.G.I.T. had fun cooking the national dishes of that area, while the Explorers made a flannelgraph which was used by all departments. After this we all prepared for a concert with some individual numbers and skits by each group.

Due to summer plans and staff problems, I had my vacation in June, but the memorable events just before I left were the Explorers making Dutch hats; the C.G.I.T. week-end at Kirkfield Park Camp and the Ladies Spring Tea.

During July and August, camps and vacation school filled my time. I took over at Kirkfield Camp when I was needed. At this time there were old age pensioners at the camp and it was a new and interesting experience working with them. At Gimli Fresh Air Camp, I led a mother's and children's party of about 100. We all had a fine time.

At the Sutherland-St. Giles Vacation School, I had about 20 kindergarten children in my department. It was the first move to bring the Sutherland folk to feel St. Giles was their church. We didn't have as many from Sutherland as other years, but they were our Sunday School children. I also helped with the Stella Mission Vacation School in the Junior department.

Fall Changes

In the fall there were some changes in the work. We no longer have English Church services. It was felt the people needed a real church situation, with an ordained minister and a feeling of stewardship. We have been happy with the result, with some of the girls joining the choir; boys and girls in the Intermediate Sunday School, and some adults and children attending church at least as regularly as before.

In changing the C.G.I.T. the Protestant girls have gone regularly to St. Giles, and it was good to see them taking part in the Christmas Vesper Service.

The kindergarten is now Sutherland-St. Giles kindergarten with the children being driven over from Sutherland each morning. The attendance is just as good from our district if not better. So at Sutherland we now have Ukrainian Church services and Church School each Sunday. The Sunday School includes all the children up to 12 years of age and is as well attended as before.

During the week I have Mission Band, Explorers, and Ladies Club, and there is a Tyro Group and a boy's basketball team. We hoped to get the teenagers going to St. Giles Hi-C as well as C.G.I.T. but haven't been successful so the boys will be having meetings at the Mission. The girls meet once a month for a get-together.

This fall, the Explorers and Mission Band have used the picture "The Boyhood of Jesus" by Sallman as a basis for their theme, the younger ones made scrapbooks, while the older ones made Explorer emblems, decorated the doll's house, and mended song sheets.

The Ladies Club has had two successful teas, put on a skit for the concert, quilted, and had two national dinners during the year.

A Six Months Survey

It is hard to pull up roots and move on, for as I leave I discover just how attached I have become to all of the people who have made my stay such a happy one. I think one of the thrills is that we have, as a congregation, been able to live up to the objective that we set for ourselves at the beginning of the year—that is, paying $1,000 toward the support of the worker. So far we have managed to pay half of it. Then too, the congregation knows that another W.M.S. worker is coming, and have been preparing for her which has been exciting. They are busy at the manse—it is all freshly re-decorated; there is to be new linoleum laid, and a brand new washing machine now replaces the old scrub-board.

The Loon Lake field as you know is a two-point charge, and I have been acting as their resident layman. This involves all the work of a charge, without conducting the sacraments. At these times, I exchange fields with my supervising pastor. It also involves conducting funerals, visiting as much as I can, doing some counselling, attending meetings of the various organizations, working with the leaders of groups, and in this spot keeping house, as well as trying to be a member of the community and participating in some of the community activities.

I led our C.G.I.T. group in Loon Lake with the help of a teacher, and the way the girls grow in the course of a year does make this worth-while. The Re-Affiliation Service was a highlight for us, when we entertained our mothers and shared with them some of what we had learned during our mission study. Our group conducted the Youth Service this year, and did a good job of it. I also helped to organize and conduct a Presbytery rally for C.G.I.T. members in January. This was well attended and proved a time of fellowship for the leaders as well as the girls. In the spring I visited and spoke to two other groups.

This year I was a Presbytery member of our camp committee and enjoyed it even if it did mean rising at 4 a.m. and driving the 130 miles to attend the monthly meetings. We managed to construct cabins on our camp site which were put into use at the end of June and will be filled until the later part of August. My part of the committee work was to contact the leaders for the three girls camps, and as you can imagine this meant stacks of letters to be written. During July I directed the senior girls camp with 84 campers and 13 leaders. We had a busy week but one that was worthwhile for the campers, we thought.

During the past year I held a Religious Education class in one country school and found it a growing experience. The majority of the children were quite Biblically illiterate, so we simply followed the story of Jesus' life in our weekly sessions together.

Of course the Church Schools take up much of one's thought and effort. This year, I acted as an assistant teacher and the assistant organist. We also had regular teacher training sessions for our leaders. Then in the wider area of this work, I helped to organize and conduct an institute for teachers for four of the points in our general area.

Once more the Woman's World Day of Prayer service was a joint service with the Anglican women.

One of the highlights of the winter was an adult Bible discussion group that we held twice a month in Loon Lake. There were around ten regular attenders, and we had many rich discussions based on the book of Amos, then Acts, then the Lenten study booklet. This group hopes to resume its meetings in the fall.

A Beautiful Place to Work

Certainly there can be few more beautiful spots in Saskatchewan than this. When I arrived in August to find heavily wooded areas, interrupted only by the clearings for farms, and tiny fresh-water lakes surrounded by stately pine trees, I thought that no season could be more lovely. But then followed the brilliant fall colors, and now, in winter, the magic of hoar frost and strange patterns in the snow.

The Loon Lake charge has two points—one here in the village of Loon Lake, and the other at Sandy Ridge school, 19 miles south-east of here. August found me being officially "installed" by Presbytery, and then a few hours later, off to a Hi-C Camp for a week. Then came visiting to get acquainted with the countryside and the people. There is little direct contact with our rural families except through visiting. There are no Christian Education groups at Sandy Ridge, nor is there any Sunday School. However, I have started going out once a week for religious education classes in the school there, as well as to Ferris School, 16 miles east of Loon Lake, so that in this way the church is reaching children of families not otherwise reached at all. The children are so eager that it promises well for the hoped-for Vacation Schools this summer.

A Hive of Activity

At Loon Lake there are several groups, and all humming with activity. The W.A. is affiliated with the W.M.S., has 18 members, and has very worthwhile meetings.

I found the Sunday School here well-organized and well-staffed. The Nursery and Kindergarten classes meet in the manse, and are well-equipped with toys, small tables and chairs, visual aids etc. The Primary, Junior and Senior Classes meet in the church. Here, too, the two younger classes have tables and chairs. The Superintendent, and the teachers, are capable and imaginative. Always my living room is decorated with Kindergarten projects, and our congregation has enjoyed hearing the older children sing at several church services. The highlight for the Sunday School was the annual Christmas pageant, which was a splendid production, complete with sets. The church choir has worked hard preparing not only their Sunday numbers, but extra music for a Wesley Song Service, and for the Pageant.

There is a C.G.I.T. Group of Seniors, who are always one jump ahead of me in their thinking and planning. Conducting a whole church service two or three times a year is taken in stride, as well as Sunday School worship services on occasion, candy sales, baby-sitting for Explorer leaders during their meetings, violent discussions in Bible Study, and of course their Vesper Service. The Explorers are an excellent group, although unfortunately from three churches so that it is sometimes difficult to integrate them into our own church activities. The Adult Bible Study group, also inherited from my predecessor, Miss Ruth Scouler, as were the other groups, is a challenging and searching group of about 10 who meet twice-monthly. I always feel after their meetings, that there is much hope for our area with its people seeking for God's truth.

Young People Are Always Interesting

Young people are always interesting, as you work with them watching them develop in body, mind and spirit.

Girls who were giggling twelve-year-olds a while back become thoughtful 14's and 15's as High School approaches, and how lovely it is to see the C.G.I.T. graduate step out expectantly into training for her profession and the further service she can give to her Church and society.

All this has been my privilege this past year. Working with Explorers, Mission Band and C.G.I.T. as well as in the Sunday School, has been most rewarding. Our greatest satisfaction comes when we see the girls' understanding and appreciation of God and all that concerns His Spirit, taking form. We then pray that each girl may have the great joy of accepting Jesus as her Master and Lord. Group work with children and teen-age girls has been the larger part of my work this year.

Visiting and Other Duties

Visiting has also been a part of it. Friendly visits have been made in the name of the Church, bringing, we hope, an assurance of God's care for those visited, both in hospital and home. Prayer has been had and comfort given where special need was apparent.

I was able to attend a Pastoral Clinical Institute for three days in May at Moose Jaw, held in the lovely solarium of the Moose Jaw Hospital. I also attended the C.G.I.T. Workshop at Thanksgiving time in the Prairie Christian Training Centre. It stimulated thinking, answered problems, and gave ideas for work in the future.

We had a satisfactory Vacation School this year with a very good attendance of local children. The Bible Study course was on the Church. The children attending were primary and junior grade. Church Building was quite an event. Several of our C.G.I.T. girls helped with the Vacation School.

Christmas is always the highlight of the year for the children and young folks of the Sunday School, and 1957 was no less joyous than other years. We had very good co-operation from the Sunday School teachers in the training of the children for the Sunday School Christmas program. The C.G.I.T. girls really enjoyed the Vesper Service and the carol singing to the older folks of the community and the Explorer girls did an excellent piece of work on their Hospital project, which was shared jointly this year by C.G.I.T. and Explorer Groups.

A Year of Progress

The year 1957 saw a gradual upward climb in the number attending the Church Services, Sunday School and Mid-week groups in Zion Church. This increase in attendance was most noticeable in the fall following an Every-Person Canvass. Also a number of new homes have been built in the area and so we have acquired a few more United Church families.

During July a Church Vacation School was held with 65 children attending regularly. We had eight adults assisting with the leadership. This was a very successful venture and one of the most important results of the school was the forming of a Junior Choir. At the close of the school the children conducted the Sunday morning Church Service. The Junior children formed the choir and the other children took part. In the fall there was still enthusiasm for the Junior Choir and so it was reorganized. We have a very capable leader and I have great hopes for this group in the future.

Another sign of progress was the splitting of our Sunday School into two departments. Before November all the age groups were meeting at the same time during the hour of the Church Service. Now the children eight and under meet during the Service at 10.00 a.m. and the older children meet after at 11.15 a.m. This new arrangement has proven to be a most happy arrangement for both the children and the teachers. At present I am acting as the superintendent for the younger group of children with some very fine teachers working with me. The General Superintendent of the Sunday School conducts the second session.

The highlight of our Sunday School year was our Christmas pageant presented in the church two Sundays before Christmas. Our Junior Choir provided the music and the beautiful story of the Nativity was told in story, song and action. All members of the Sunday School took part, from the very small children who sang "Away in a Manger" to the oldest who did a choral reading from the prophecy of Isaiah. All agreed that this type of Christmas program would replace the Christmas concert of other years. It is the first time, to my knowledge, that the church has been so full they had to bring in extra chairs.

The following Sunday night the C.G.I.T. conducted their annual Vesper Service. Although we did not have as large a crowd it was a fine service with the Explorers assisting with the music.

The other groups of the church have been active throughout the year. The W.A. and the Men's Club have been mostly interested in raising money and are looking forward to the time when they will have sufficient funds to bring water into the church.

The five regular points in this area are each so different, that in order to give a clear picture of the work, they must almost be reported separately.

At Calder

Church services at Calder continue every second Sunday. During the early months of the year the local helpers held Church School each week. However, they were unable to continue, so we went back to our former plan of having Church School before our service of worship. Classes are small, but three very faithful teachers assist and I believe that a fine contribution is being made in the lives of the girls and boys. There were two C.G.I.T. members to graduate at the district graduation in June, and one Explorer. A new Explorer leader had to be found in the fall, but both groups have been participating in all the usual projects and activities, with interest and enthusiasm. Two C.G.I.T. graduates and one senior member assisted with the Church Vacation School in August, and it was declared the "best yet!"

Treasured Memories from Halmock

The highlight for the Halmock Church was the Sunday in November when a group of eight joined the Church. Classes in preparation for this had met regularly from spring, and the group developed quite a close fellowship. Mr. Lazlo, of the Hungarian Mission in Winnipeg, attended two other services, helping to minister to the needs of the older people through the Hungarian language. Several English speaking families have become part of the church fellowship here, and have helped in forming a Church School. Our Christmas "Family Night" is another treasured memory. Instead of preparing the program as a Church School, each family planned its own contribution. One family group presented the story of the wise men, with the mother and older daughter singing "We Three Kings," and the three younger children (even the two-year-old) in costume, acting out the story.

A Good Year at Otthon

This has been a good year, with greater church loyalty and a deeper sense of worship. The group of teen-agers who joined the church a year ago continue to meet as a Church School class, and four of them attended a Hi-C weekend rally in the fall. The younger children divided into two groups for Church Vacation School, and the division was such an improvement that another teacher was found for the Church School. We three Church School teachers met together to plan our Christmas "Family Night" programs. A very real worship experience was shared on Boxing Day when we met at the home of a ninety-three-year-old lady to have a service. My part of the service was in English but the reading of the Scripture in Hungarian, and the singing of several Hungarian hymns added greatly to the sense of worship. Grandma Czinkota's heartfelt "thank you" touched all of us, for we knew that our own lives had been greatly enriched that day.

Orkney and Pebble Lake

The people at Orkney organized a Church School to be held at the day school during the winter months. There were almost thirty attending, representing several denominations. This was discontinued in the fall. However, we have two Church School classes as well as a Church membership meeting after our Sunday services. Three "Caravanners" from Saskatchewan Young People's Union held a successful Church Vacation School in July, and the church people certainly enjoyed and appreciated their fine work.

Pebble Lake School does not have a regular Sunday service, so Christian education work is the greatest task here. For the past six years I have met the children for an hour after school each Tuesday. This year the mother of two small girls volunteered to begin a class for the younger children, so we had two classes until June. More population changes left only eight Protestant children in the fall, all between the ages of 11 and 14. We have only one group again now, but a very interested and interesting group. They entertained 14 pre-school children and their mothers at a Christmas party one afternoon, and also sponsored an evening of carol singing and Christmas filmstrips in the school. The Christmas Family Day service is another of their responsibilities. A Church Vacation School was held in July, with exceptionally fine leadership provided by the local helpers.

Highlights

There was the day with Mrs. Loveys and Mrs. Schnell in September when we visited seven homes and three churches. There was a visit from Miss Christie in October, sharing in her meetings with leaders and senior girls, and having her participate in two rural church services on Sunday. The farewell visit from Mary Naimool, before her return to Trinidad, was another important event.

A Most Rewarding Service

As I look back over the five months in which I have been engaged as Hospital Visitor, I feel it has been a much appreciated and most rewarding service. I visit each of the two hospitals twice a week and the Sanitarium once.

Visiting at the San is quite different from visiting in the other hospitals as most of the patients there are long term ones and we get well acquainted. In the other hospitals I may see a patient only once or twice.

I find some folk who appear quite indifferent to the church when I first visit them. After one or two visits their attitude seems to change and I find them looking forward to my visit. I am often greeted with, "I was just thinking it was about time for you to come." One woman who was in the hospital for several weeks with broken bones, said when she told me she would be leaving in a couple of days, "You have just missed me once since I have been here." That time she was sleeping.

I am amazed at the number of elderly folk who have no church connection. Many of them have come from elsewhere and have never found a church home in Calgary. Some tell me which church they go to but, when asked if they are members, attend any of the groups or know the minister, the truth comes out. "No, we just go sometimes."

I have been able to do little things for patients from out of the city and have had some real heart to heart talks with many. I have reported many to the minister of their nearest church and he has visited them. I give the "Upper Room" and other literature to those who are at all interested. When patients are very ill I just leave the little Greeting Card and tell them I will see them when they are feeling better. I sometimes have a short prayer, but I find many who don't want prayer.

The thirty Nursing Homes are allocated to the various W.M.S. groups for visitation. I visit them as often as I can. I have met with the Friendship Secretaries and find they are doing excellent work. Some read to patients, take them home made delicacies and fruit, reading material etc. One group took roses to one Home for Christmas.

The group that visits at the San gave me gifts for each of the United Church women there and another group gave me bags of home made candy for both the men and the women.

At Rundle Lodge, our United Church Home for Senior Citizens, they have a birthday party each month. The Church groups, in turn, provide cakes with candles for each guest who has had a birthday that month. I was invited to give the greetings at one party when one dear lady celebrated her ninetieth birthday. The supper party was followed by a concert. It was a very happy and lovely occasion. Our Matron, Mrs. Ross, makes Rundle Lodge a very happy home for the elderly folk who are living there.

I feel that visiting in the hospitals is one way of taking the Gospel of Love to many people when they are in a receptive mood. I think it means much to most people to know that the Church is thinking of them when they are ill and shut-in.

Reminiscence

January to June.

Now that my successor has taken over the work as hospital visitor, I look back on the first half of the year, to make my final report to the W.M.S.

One of the new developments has been the opening of the new wing of the University Hospital where all the polio patients are now in one hospital and receiving the best that medical science can provide for their treatment and rehabilitation. Our new auditorium, the joy and pride of Edmontonians, is a very short distance from the University and Aberhart Sanatorium, so that the patients who are well enough can attend the splendid concerts, symphonies and travelogues put on there. Your hospital visitor encourages them to attend, for it is a first step toward integration into the life of the community.

The city ministers have been most co-operative in sharing their time, with their choirs to conduct chapel services for the T.B. patients at the Sanatorium. The attendance at these services is very good indeed, when one remembers that it comes at the end of a heavy visiting day.

An announcement has recently been made that in another new wing to be built at the University Hospital provision is being made for a hospital chapel. This is a recognition of the value of religion in medical work. I should mention here that a beautiful new chapel for the Protestant work at the Camsell Indian Hospital has been put at our disposal. Credit for this goes to the planning and foresight of the Camsell Hospital superintendent, Dr. Matas.

We are watching with a great deal of interest the rehabilitation work being done among the Indian young people, as they leave the Camsell hospital. While continuing with their studies, they acquire some new skill by which to earn a living and keep in good health. I want to keep in touch with this work since I plan to remain here in Edmonton.

As soon as I had introduced Miss Coultres to the hospitals and personnel involved, I went to Saskatoon for a week's holiday, and met many of the young women who had worked with me during the Second World War when I was stationed in Saskatoon. Mrs. Rhoda Playfair Stein, a frequent contributor to the Sunday School papers, is one of these girls. A former C.G.I.T. leader happened to be home in Saskatoon on a visit to her mother, and I was so pleased to know that she is department superintendent for her church's C.C.I.T. and is giving leadership in the W.A., in another province. She concluded our short visit with, "And you got me started in this church work, Miss Laycock." When I saw how enthusiastic she was I could only hope that she is one of many I have brought into the service of the Church, and who are finding their fulfilment and joy in the service of the Master.

"Digging for Friendship"

In September I was appointed and introduced to visiting in Edmonton by Miss Laycock, who has carried on the work for many years, and is now retired. For the past four months I have been getting acquainted with the work and the large fellowship of church people here.

Some of my visiting could be expressed by the title of a teenage filmstrip "Digging for Friendship." In the Eskimo and Indian San many of the old people cannot speak English, so we use the sign language.

To illustrate this situation and how opportunities come, here is a very sick woman whom I visited every week for a few minutes, until one day her husband was visiting with her when I called. He was able to tell her who I was and that if there was anything she needed to let me know. When I called at Christmas time to leave a little gift I found her very ill with a high temperature, and unable to take food. Even though she only knew a few words she let me know that she wanted her husband to come. I sent a letter, but it was two weeks before I called again. She was smiling and said, "You, writing sign—husband come."

On another ward there are two young mothers completing their last months of a two year stay. Each time I called, they were usually idle. When I asked about their work, they said they were tired doing bead work and the usual hand work supplied. They wished they could do a quilt top to take home with them. The patches came from helpful friends, and two more were made contented by doing something useful for themselves and their families.

Of Special Interest

Continuing along what the patients call the "Burma Road" at the San, we come to the children's wards, especially to the boys of nine to fourteen years who have not learned to play games or do something constructive without supervision. Here, each week, we find five W.A. women doing many things to help the restlessness of these children.

As I recall special things of interest, I think of a rehabilitated Polio patient who made forty jars of jelly and pickle for the T.B. and Polio patients. Many of the patients found a real friend as they made things and sent them to her in return.

At Christmas time the service clubs do many things for San. and Polio patients such as gifts, parties and rides, but as I checked I found a few who had been missed, so the W.M.S. car made three trips around the city. Some had not been out for a year. Then on Christmas day I was able to entertain a few who had no friends near.

The children in the Polio ward are visited each week by one lady and her helpers. A variety of interesting things is planned each week. It really means a great deal to have the special attention of someone who will be there with them one evening a week. One little boy had been moved and wasn't discovered for a while. He said, "I thought you had forgotten me tonight."

One young woman visiting at the veterans' hospital has included her husband and they make special calls on out of town men on Sunday. Five women from a W.A. visit once a month and take fruit to the men.

I have a special group of friends, my home auxiliary, who compiled a scrap book of helpful verse for the sick. Often a fitting verse left has power to give courage in the face of fear, uncertainty, and suffering.

There have been about thirty volunteer visitors this fall. Their total calls for the year were 6,365.

About thirty-five new visitors are ready to start in the new year. Five of these are to receive instruction to visit on the Mental ward. I have started the work, by giving three hours a month at Oliver.

Good Work at Trinity Church

The first six months of 1957 were filled with activity at Trinity United Church.

There were the usual weekly activities of all groups. The C.G.I.T. and Explorers did their mission study and projects. Each had an Asian supper with Asian food. The Explorers entertained their mothers at a tea and affiliated with the W.M.S. The C.G.I.T. presented a mock radio program with broadcasts from the various countries they had been studying about. This was followed by the Affiliation Service.

As always the W.A. worked on the care of the manse and different projects at the church. Their interest in the wider work of the church was expressed in donations to the Naramata Christian Training Centre and the S.C.M.

The Guild held a Family Party with a good attendance of parents and members of the congregation. Much of the entertainment was provided by children of the Church School. The Guild and the W.A. are working together to decorate and furnish a room to be used as a Ladies' Parlor. They also give assistance to the Church School.

The Woman's Missionary Society Auxiliary has exceeded its allocation for several years.

The Church School is growing in members and interest. The annual congregational picnic was held and well attended. The Scouts, Cubs and Brownies with their various leaders are all doing good work. I feel Trinity Church is in a very healthy state.

Congregational and Social Work

My work is divided into two general areas: Congregational and Social Work. Within these divisions is quite a lot of variety. In the Church I do some Christian Education, leading Explorers and Mission Band, attending W.A. and teaching Sunday School, also congregational visiting, and in general, assisting the minister wherever he sees the need.

There is quite a lot of dove-tailing of the Mission work and the Congregational work, and as we have no secretary, about half my time is spent in the office. Part of this time is taken in interviewing families and individuals who come in for clothing, food or other needs. Naturally in work of this kind, the office work that is involved is a vital necessity, as we must keep accurate records of those who receive assistance, and check with the Community Chest, Welfare, and other agencies, on the individuals who come in.

At Christmas-time we packed and delivered a hundred and twenty hampers of food and gifts to families which were in need. Some of the people had nothing else for Christmas but what they received from us. Here it was necessary to interview all who came in, find out their economic situation, and visit each one, as well as check with the Christmas Bureau to eliminate duplications. Visiting is also important throughout the year, to those who come in for other types of assistance. During these visits we sometimes find that we can fill a greater need than was initially requested, though, of course, at times we find that help should not be given.

(MRS.) JEAN BICCOM

Church Extension Worker,
West Jasper Place, Alberta

I hereby submit my narrative report on my work in Jasper Place from June 30th to September 30th, 1957.

Two very successful Vacation Bible Schools were operated. One in the south area and one in the north area. Nine needy families were taken care of in the way of food, clothing and guidance in their personal problems, and the sick in homes and hospitals were visited.

All three Sunday Schools have resumed their activities for another term. Each is headed by a good superintendent and a conscientious staff. More help is needed but we feel we will obtain this shortly. With new homes being constructed, new families are moving in. The ladies' groups are growing in number. To most of these ladies this was new work and it is very gratifying to see them growing in the spiritual way as well.

Your Extension worker of Jasper Place giving her fourth quarterly report for 1957.

As we look back on this year we realize it has been a busy year. Right now we are having our Christmas programs. All three Sunday Schools are having their own Christmas concerts, and have been preparing for weeks for them. Representatives from the W.M.S. Edmonton Presbyterial are attending all three, also ladies from the St. Andrew's Federation, and our minister, Rev. W. E. Burgess. The Extension Sunday Schools are preparing a hamper with presents for families who are desperately in need of assistance. Each Sunday School had a White Gift Service.

As to new developments in our district, another 500 new homes are going up with the odd one now occupied, so I can see more survey work ahead.

I have continued to do visitation where there is sickness or need. I visited a family where the father was sick and the mother not working, with three small boys not in Sunday School and not well kept. But through our efforts we now have these boys in Sunday School, even though we did have to be barber, seamstress, and general tailors.

We are still using two public schools and one community hall and the registration is one-third larger in two of the Sunday Schools and nearly doubled in the other since last year. There is now a total enrolment of almost 400, with a number of small children yet to start.

The Building of the Manse

During the first part of 1957 the building of the manse took much attention. A winter with mild weather occasionally, an able and willing carpenter, and a co-operative people had the manse ready for plastering on the inside, and stucco on the outside by the end of June. All departments of the church co-operated in this, many men giving free labor, others their time in planning, some loaning their machinery, and the Church Board carrying the heavy end of the responsibility along with the Building Committee. Special mention should be made of the chairman and secretary who were never too busy to do this work, and also to the two hardware merchants for selling us materials and furnishings at cost.

The Manning and Deadwood W.A.'s made large donations, and purchased complete new kitchen furnishings, which included a propane stove, electric frigidaire, electric washing machine and chrome table and chairs, and a complete master bedroom suite. Teas, suppers, sales of work, and catering for lunches at the curling rink, all helped to supply the funds, as well as special talent money from individual members.

The Sunday School staff were most loyal and co-operative, and special notice was made of some teenage teachers, who, though away curling late Saturday night, were at Sunday School to teach their classes Sunday morning. The same faithfulness was shown by the leaders of the week-day groups.

A Growing Experience

At Deadwood a Bible study and prayer group of adults and youths met from house to house during the winter months, which was greatly appreciated by the participants. Questions were raised and research done, and discussions were held. Hymn singing was also enjoyed at these meetings.

Christian Education with the public and junior high school pupils was continued; a question box used in the latter group proved very interesting and we hope valuable to the students.

Communicant classes were held and at Easter we had the privilege of receiving seven young folk into the fellowship of the Church on profession of faith.

We would also like to express appreciation of the organist of the Manning Church who came to our town from Germany about four years ago, and who brings to each service a ministry of worship through his music each Sunday. We look forward to the time when we may have a better instrument for his use in our services. His faithfulness and talents have greatly enriched the worship services.

As we leave this field we feel that it has given us a growing experience, and we leave with thankfulness for the opportunities for service presented to us, and with real warmth for the many friends we made and with whom we were privileged to work.

(W.M.S. worker withdrawn August 31st, 1957, as minister appointed.)

A Good Year

When I came to Smoky Lake in September I found the work well established. I also found many new avenues of service, some which Miss King wanted to undertake but could not because of her heavy responsibility before Mr. Howie came. We are very fortunate in having Mr. Howie and his family on this charge. We have been working together on the charge with good results. We have had increased attendance in our three churches. We are also happy to say that at our annual meeting the Warspite congregation voted to re-open their church for Sunday services.

Our Church Schools in our four churches are well established with increased attendance and well qualified teachers. A couple of weeks ago I happened to arrive at Warspite one-half hour early for Church School. I found our little church full of children waiting for me to come. That is the kind of reception I always get and it certainly does one's heart good. There is no doubt in my mind about the future of Warspite Church.

Early last fall when I was visiting in Warspite several mothers spoke to me about starting a kindergarten. I told them I would if they had enough children. When I arrived on Friday afternoon of that same week I found 28 little bright-eyed boys and girls. I have continued every Friday since. We also have a very fine kindergarten in Smoky Lake with 20 boys and girls.

We have a lovely group of 20 Explorers. This year there are six who stay at the mission house on Monday night. At Christmas time they made Christmas cards for the patients at the Smoky Lake Hospital. They also formed the choir for the C.G.I.T. vesper service. They also shared with the C.G.I.T. in the Christmas tableau.

The C.G.I.T. have had a busy year. We have from twelve to fifteen girls from the farm staying at the mission house on Thursday night. I am very thankful that we have this large house as it is a great asset to my work. This year several girls from Warspite have joined our C.G.I.T. From September to Christmas I used to go and bring them to C.G.I.T. and take them back after the meeting. Since Christmas the parents have caught the interest and enthusiasm of the girls so they take turns bringing them and taking them back.

We have a very fine Young People's group. They have taken three church services since September. This year the Radway young people have joined our fellowship making a nice group of 25 members.

This has been a very successful year, maybe it is because the weatherman has been good to sunny Alberta. We have not had very much frost and only a little snow so the weather did not hinder our people from getting out to services.

I am very thankful to have the new car. It has been a great help to me in my work as I have to use it every day. I have to do a lot more driving than I did in Vilna.

Weather Takes a Hand

Activities of your worker in the Pincher Creek area for the first six months of 1957 followed very closely the pattern established in the foregoing months. Each Sunday brought the usual responsibility of conducting one or more Sunday services and each week was filled with visiting, preparations, time spent with youth groups as well as the unexpected.

With such good weather in the fall it was decided to start the New Year by extending the Week of Prayer services to the country. What an initiation—for that was the week the weather changed! The first Week of Prayer service in Cowley was attended by some 15 brave souls who battled snowy roads in sub-zero weather to gather in the little church. As they huddled around the little Quebec heater stoked to capacity, the guest minister spoke—his words almost becoming solid as they left his lips.

As activities in a rural area are so dependent upon weather conditions, many of our plans had to be cancelled at the last minute. The Cowley C.G.I.T. didn't meet for two months, the Mountain Mill Young People's was frequently postponed, and visiting was limited to easily accessible homes.

Satisfying Work

With the coming of spring however, the pressure of activities was heavy. Invitations came to speak at a World's Day of Prayer service, Easter Thankofferings, Mother and Daughter Banquets, and a C.G.I.T. Rally. Then there were many details to be finished in the Pincher Creek field before my departure and the arrival of my successor.

Our first C.G.I.T. Mother and Daughter Banquet in Cowley was a most satisfying experiment. The 12 girls in the group cleaned and decorated the Cowley hall; moved tables, chairs and dishes; brought a salad supper from home and served their mothers. After supper they were responsible for a short variety program and the evening concluded with some slides on C.G.I.T. Groups and Camps in Alberta.

My final effort was a Vacation School held for the second year in the Tanner School. Attendance was good and the appreciation of the parents who gathered on the last afternoon was heartwarming. One of the Cowley C.G.I.T. girls assisted me. As the school had been closed during the year and desks removed, the parents co-operated by sending chairs and tables from home. Once again the children arrived on horseback. Even a baby colt was forced to take a two-mile journey so that his milk supply for the day would be insured.

All were thankful to learn that a successor had been appointed to continue this work of assisting the minister in the very large rural area around Pincher Creek. I am indeed grateful for this experience I gained there in the service of the Master and for the warm friendships made.

Filled to the Brim

My diary records show each day filled to the brim with ordinary routine; preparation for group work; visits to mothers; to older folk at home or in residence; and to patients in hospital; preparation for Sunday work; attendance at various women's groups; and some pleasant evenings of fellowship.

Before the early snow in the last week of September, every country visit was a joy to the eye with the autumn colors on field and tree, with the foothills and mountains in the background. And while snow and ice do not make pleasant driving, especially on hills and curves, snow-covered mountains in brilliant sunshine present a beautiful picture too, and an ever changing one, which we constantly enjoy.

During the first part of September some visiting on the Fishburn and Marr field was done in company with the student minister, Dr. John Hoffman.

Since October, regular services have been held every Sunday morning at Mountain Mill church, and every Sunday afternoon alternating with Marr and Fishburn.

The Young People's Group which had been started at Mountain Mill finally got under way again. Their special fall project was the preparation for the Christmas Family Worship Service, in the church. This was carried through by them, with the boys and girls sitting on the platform, ready for the reading or the singing part that was theirs. Emphasis was put on the worship and the celebration of the Birthday of Jesus. After the service, a communal dinner was enjoyed at the church by all the families present.

Fishburn and Marr congregations united for their Christmas service which was held in the Fishburn church. Special musical numbers had been prepared by the choir, and the children under the direction of some mothers, so that a fine service was held there too.

After several appeals, 3 volunteers came forward to help lead C.G.I.T. in Pincher Creek, so though late in starting, this group did make some articles as well as candy for sale at the fall bazaar. The Cowley C.G.I.T. had a tea in a home. The mothers of the girls were very co-operative, so that the finances of the group were greatly helped. (We are glad to say that during the fall the Cowley people built a club-room at the back of the church, which we now use.) At one meeting an Anglican missionary nurse from India, an aunt of one of the C.G.I.T. girls, showed slides and spoke to the girls and their mothers and other women of the district who were invited to the meeting. The missionary was visiting members of her family in the community. The other highlights were the C.G.I.T. Vesper Services; one in the Pincher Creek church and the other in the Cowley church. Each was held on a Sunday evening, and seemed to be a meaningful service to the congregation as well as those leading the service.

Back in Vilna

After having a wonderful furlough, here I am back in Vilna. And I am glad for it feels as if I had returned home.

Right away I had two fairly successful Vacation Schools, in Bellis and Vilna, with over 50 in attendance. In Vilna a few young people helped.

Church attendance continues to be about the same, although some of our faithful families have moved away. Just before Christmas at a special evening service I baptized three babies. The young fathers go away from the area to work for a period in winter, but all three managed to be at home on the same week-end.

If everyone attended who could and should, we would have a Sunday School of from sixty to seventy pupils, but because of influenza and mumps our numbers have been smaller. Yes, T.V. makes inroads too. Within a year the number of sets has increased from three to forty. For teachers in Sunday School I had to start from scratch. Now there are four Senior girls and two Senior boys helping. One of the girls plays the organ for Church and Sunday School.

A Busy Schedule

Although Guides and Brownies have been newly organized in our town, we have a good C.G.I.T. group. The sixteen girls have been quite faithful, and some attended a rally at Cold Lake. We have made scuffles from old felt hats and flowers from sponge plastic, and we have done aluminium etching. At Christmas time we held our candle-vesper service at Bellis and at Vilna. The girls looked just grand in the new uniforms which they have bought for the group. To provide these we had two teas, one two years ago and one this autumn. The girls went caroling to the hospital and to a number of homes. The project on hand is preparing to conduct a church service on the Sunday ending Youth Week. Four rural girls stay over night with me after our Wednesday evening.

We have Explorers too, a group of ten little girls. Half the number belong to Brownies so the leader has to be on her toes to make things interesting and helpful. They had a part in the Vilna C.G.I.T. Vesper service.

On the kindergarten roll there are over twenty names. Parents appreciate our program and a number of rural children attend so that they can share in the weekly morning together. In the autumn, one mother went out ten miles to bring in her little niece. Of course, this really meant forty miles each kindergarten day.

There is complete school centralization in our area now. Buses bring all the children into Bellis, Vilna and Spedden. Now I have no Christian education classes in rural schools. These I miss very much.

The odd day during the autumn I was a supply teacher. There are two married women with children who will help out, but when there are three teachers ill at one time, the principal is surely on the spot. I made sure to show my filmstrip, "Japanese Children" in each room; also my box of accumulations—Japanese doll, chopsticks, silk cocoon, rice bowl, etc. With my money earned I bought a new oil stove for the mission house, to replace the borrowed one we were using.

W.A. and W.M.S. memberships are small but we are carrying on. The W.A. helped to send one of our C.G.I.T girls to Camp Council.

We are endeavoring to have our church buildings in good condition. For a few years we have been putting aside money to rewire the Vilna one, and to paint the Bellis one. I am glad and relieved that both these projects are finished. In Bellis we hope to wire our building and re-decorate the interior. This may take us some years to accomplish. In Vilna, we would like an addition to our building—kitchen, wash room, study—and running water, electric stove, insulation, a better organ, a lawn, etc., but for now this is only a pipe dream.

A Year of Changes

There have been many changes during the year in this small lumbering community which have affected the work of our Church.

The removal of two families from a congregation can leave a large gap in an already small congregation, especially when the one removal meant the losing of the superintendent of the Sunday School and Chairman of the Church Board. However, we were fortunate to have a young married man take on the superintendency of the Sunday School. He is planning to attend Naramata in the near future. A new family moved in from which we gained a Sunday School teacher, a Mission Band leader and our C.G.I.T. was swelled to six girls.

Last winter our Sunday Services were greatly helped by a small choir under the leadership of the store manager, but with the leader finding work elsewhere and moving, we have had to carry on without the choir.

Pleasures of the Year

We had a nice Harvest Festival Service the second Sunday in September when one of the W.A. members helped to decorate the church with a small quantity of fruit and vegetables but with masses of flowers from local gardens. By the next Sunday the frost had laid low the garden beauties.

A Sunday School picnic was attempted in June but a torrential rain sent us to shelter in cars, and then to drive home in the down-pour. We never did find a suitable day to complete our picnic, so ended by having a Hallowe'en Party in the Community Hall instead.

A lovely church family picnic was held on the Fish and Game Club grounds near the lake, to say good-bye to one of our church families which was leaving. It was a beautiful day and there was a lovely fellowship as we sat about in groups to eat.

One of the pleasures during the year has been the teaching of English to three Japanese ladies. They are wonderful people to be with and so appreciative.

Church Gatherings

We have continued holding Sunday School with eleven girls and boys in the school house at Newlands Sunday afternoon. Two mothers teach in this school. I have also gone to Upper Fraser and Sinclair Mills alternate Wednesdays. At Upper Fraser there is a Church School after school when three ladies take charge. The attendance varies according to the whim of the children, sometimes eight, sometimes sixteen attend. At Christmas, Mr. Clare, the manager of the mill, gave Bibles to those with the highest attendance and eight proud children took home Bibles. The attendance at the evening service varies from five up, according to the number of children who attend. The services at Sinclair Mills are not well attended. The trip to Sinclair must be made by train, the return trip means leaving there at 3 a.m.

The Church Board here decided we should try a Christmas Eve Service. It was an unexpected and agreeable surprise when our forty chairs were filled and we had to resort to some of the old chairs. It was easy to know that "Silent Night" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem" were the favorite Christmas hymns, and how the children did sing!

It has been a pleasure to share in the small informal meetings of the Cariboo Presbytery. The meeting last winter was especially nice with the addition of our Conference Branch President, Mrs. Crook, of Vancouver, and Miss Elsie Hunt, R.N., our W.M.S. nurse from Burn's Lake. I was asked to attend the Conference Branch meeting at Nanaimo last March where the fellowship was true to W.M.S. fellowship everywhere, warm and friendly. We were truly blessed by having Mrs. McKillop with us, an inspiration to all the sessions. I also enjoyed the privilege of being a delegate to the Church Conference in Vancouver in May.

Last fall I was asked to take charge of the morning service of our church in Prince George. This gave me the opportunity to speak on "The Work of Women in our Church" and to make an appeal for workers. Since this service is broadcast, I hope a goodly number of young people heard the appeal.

JOYCE M. FACEY

Missionary-at-Large,
Prince Rupert, British Columbia

From January to July

The year 1957 began with the Week of Prayer Services which were held in various churches. We found these services a time of inspiration and blessing. The offerings were used for the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

In March the mid-week groups began their Study on South East Asia. We all learned a great deal about our work in that part of the world, and we sent a large parcel of baby-clothes to Miss Beulah Bournes in Korea.

The Women's World Day of Prayer Service was held in the Salvation Army Citadel and was very well attended. The C.G.I.T

groups were invited to the Anglican Cathedral for the World Day of Prayer Service for girls. The special speaker for the service was Miss Lamb, the National Girls' Work Secretary for the Anglican Church and the girls were all very much inspired by her address.

The Conrad W.A. group put on a Smorgasbord in February and it proved so successful that another one was held in October. We find in Prince Rupert where so many women work, that people turn out to a supper far more than for a tea and sale.

Two morning Easter Services were held in First United Church. A Sunrise Service was planned but was rained out. During the Easter holidays the Explorer groups had the Dedication of the Treasure Chest, the members of the W.M.S. and the parents and friends of the girls were invited. The handwork which was done during the study was displayed and a film was shown after which the girls served tea to those present.

For the first time, our Mother and Daughter Banquet was held in Conrad Hall and 58 Mothers and Daughters sat down to a supper which was served by the members of the W.A.

At the end of June, we had a Family Service in our Sunday School and had an excellent response from the parents.

Triumphs and Honors

On my return from holidays, I conducted two five-day Vacation Schools. We had over fifty children in the combined schools and the leaders and parents thought it was worthwhile.

The month of September is the time of beginnings and we had to find many new Sunday School teachers and two pianists. We now have 150 children on the roll and 15 teachers and two pianists, a secretary and treasurer.

The Mission Band is the largest mid-week group. There are 25 members and in 1957 their offerings which are put in the World Bank amounted to $40.00.

Conrad Hall has been a source of confusion for many years because only two blocks away there is Conrad Public School, so it was decided to change the name of the hall. At our December meeting of the W.A. a new signboard was presented with the name, "The J. M. Facey United Church Hall." I must say I felt highly honored. Our group has become too large to meet in private homes so our meetings are held in the hall.

The Sunday School had a Christmas concert for the first time and it was a huge success. The hall was fairly bursting at the seams with proud parents and grandparents. A temporary stage had to be erected with boxes and table tops, and there were almost as many people at our Christmas Family Service the following Sunday.

The folk at Miller Bay Hospital always look forward to my visits and to the church service which we have every other Sunday. This is a very important part of my work. I make regular visits to the General Hospital and feel my visits are much appreciated especially by the out-of-town people.

Changing Patterns in a Changing World

Our area has been designated "commercial," so no new dwellings are being built, but many are being torn down to make way for small industries, warehouses, service stations. This undoubtedly means a decrease in population.

The church's services are still needed in this district, but if we can judge by the support given by local people, we are forced to conclude that they do not recognize their need. Our services to the community include Christian Education, both Sunday and mid-week for children and youth from three to twenty; opportunity for worship twice on Sunday, either in the morning with the Columbia St. congregation, or in the evening with the Nisei congregation; home visiting by the missionary, and by the student minister during the summer; and some welfare services for those in need.

The student minister with his wife, some lay helpers, and the missionary when available, conducted a survey of the district in the summer of 1957. From some 650 cards filled out we discovered 162 United Church people who have no connection with the Church and apparently no interest in it. Our annual report shows 250 people under our pastoral oversight, representing less than fifty families, not all of whom live in our area. At least half of our active church membership live in other church areas but still attend and support Columbia St. Church.

Highlights of the Year's Activities

Among the highlights of last year's activities, I would mention the following. The C.G.I.T., although small, had a very interesting Mission Study on Southeast Asia, culminating in an evening with the Ladies' Friendship Club when the C.G.I.T. girls put on a radio broadcast. Early in the year the C.G.I.T. members began a choir for the Sunday services, and three of their number plus one Sunday School member not in C.G.I.T. still make up the choir. The C.G.I.T. and the choir conducted our Christmas Eve Service and rated this as their most interesting experience for the fall term. Another activity which gave satisfaction to all participating was our Vacation School. We conducted three departments, with the student minister and his wife, two volunteer leaders from the congregation and myself supplying the leadership. We had an excellent response from parents for our closing night when we shared our songs, stories, and activities with them.

We have a good staff of volunteer leaders for our Sunday School, which meets in two departments with a total of seven classes. One big problem is lack of regular attendance. The teachers are aware of this problem and are seeking a solution to it.

We at Columbia St. are grateful to the W.M.S. for supplying us with a filmstrip and slide projector. It has made possible the use of Visual Aids with the midweek groups, the Sunday School and its teachers, the Ladies' Club for Mission Study especially, and has also been used several times by the Nisei group.

The Ladies' Friendship Club are getting a good deal from their Japan study and are finding the study books interesting to read. They are also spending one meeting each month on Bible Study, having just begun the Letter to the Philippians. One project carried out in the fall was the sending of used clothing, mainly baby clothes, to the Overseas Depot for Korea. A Korean member of our group assisted in sorting and packing the clothes. In November the women were pleased to have as their visitors the Presbyterian Executive who held their meeting in our church sanctuary and then attended our Tea and Bazaar being held in the church hall.

People Bring Their Problems to First

During 1957 the manifold activities of this institutional church in downtown Vancouver have continued. The W.M.S. worker's responsibility is chiefly in two areas of work: welfare work with families and single women, and the direction of Christian education of children and young people.

Every day many people bring their problems to "First". Material help, such as food and clothing, is given. We provide emergency help in times of crisis—tiding a family over a period of illness, of waiting for unemployment insurance, compensation, etc. Such emergencies, always a strain on the budget, can be disastrous to the low-income family. Counselling and guidance are an important part of many interviews, for, while it may be a request for practical help which prompts the interview, this may be symptomatic of some deeper need.

Numbers of recently arrived immigrants find their way to "the church of the open door" seeking advice or help. English, Irish, Scottish, Finnish, Hungarian, German, Dutch and Polish families have been assisted in one way or another during the past few months.

Winter and Summer Activities

First Church is an exceptionally busy place at the Christmas season. Thanks to our many, many friends—churches, Sunday Schools, groups, and individuals—we are able to provide hampers, gift boxes, gift certificates, and Christmas dinners to make Christmas a happier time for a large number of the less fortunate in our city.

Summer means camp! Our camp, Fircom, operates from the middle of June to the middle of August, during which time camps are held for mothers and children, senior citizens, boys, and girls. A total of 336 people enjoyed a holiday at Fircom last summer.

Sunday School enrolment is down slightly from that of last year, but we are encouraged by a somewhat more consistent attendance. Three of our pupils attended Camp Fircom on scholarship, and one senior girl attended Naramata Christian Training Centre for a two-week summer course.

This year we have two mid-week groups for girls, under the leadership of the W.M.S. worker. The Sunshine Club is comprised of girls 7, 8 and 9 years of age. They meet every Monday afternoon for a program of games, stories, mission study, and worship. The children attend well and participate enthusiastically in the activities. A C.G.I.T. group was organized in November, and now has a membership of eight.

STORY HOUR AT "FIRST UNITED" WITH MISS BELVA HOWATT

A Hi-C group also meets weekly. This is not a closely-knit group, as many of the young people live outside the parish and have no connection with First Church, but we hope that these "floating teens" are finding something helpful in these evenings at First Church.

It has been my privilege to serve on the Conference Children's Work Committee this year, and to share in the leadership at workshops and teacher training courses at various points in and near Vancouver.

(REV.) FLORENCE M. HUNTER

Hospital Visitor,
Vancouver, British Columbia

The Hospital is a Mission Field

During these six months, I have made a total of 6,142 visits, which means that, in eleven months, I have seen a total of more than eleven thousand persons.

One of our most important Mission Fields is in the hospitals. There, in time of sickness, people are often faced, for the first time, with a need other than for the purely material. Some turn to God for the spiritual nourishment that they have been denying themselves. Others turn their faces away from Him in bitterness of spirit. There is a marked difference in the dying, as in the living, between Christians and non-Christians.

It is not unusual to pass through a Hospital ward and have a man or woman beckon and say, "Minister, say a prayer for me". Faced with an operation, people want to talk with and pray with the minister, and to say, "Come back after my operation, and, even if I am asleep, speak to me, and I will know that you are there."

If we expect to have spiritually mature people, the Church will have to nurture her members much more carefully for many, faced with life's testing times, have but a faint knowledge of the meaning of prayer and of our Christian faith.

Then, the man outside the church, wants to know what we have to say for ourselves. It is not unusual to be challenged regarding one's faith, as one visits in a ward, and it is noteworthy that the whole ward stops to listen to questions and replies. If the minister is thoughtful and patient, much can be accomplished.

Nursing and Rest Home Visitation

This spring, the visitors had a fine meeting in Chalmers Church, when Mrs. Spears, Vancouver, Presbyterian President, and members of her Executive acted as hostesses. The women are doing an important work in this city. They visit many who would be most lonely without them. Car rides, visits to their homes and to church services, treats and flowers, devotional literature, and many good things are provided by them for their older friends. Young women have had children's groups make candy baskets, scrapbooks, joke books, and other things for the hospitals.

At the meeting, we discussed the possibility of getting ministers of the city to visit the Homes to take Communion Services to old people and infirm people. Two ladies have already reported the result of that discussion in two places—a Rest Home and the Queen Elizabeth Hall for the Blind.

HEDWIG D. H. BARTLING

Hospital Visitor,
Vancouver, B.C.

An Active Hospital Committee

My predecessors, Miss McRae and Miss Hunter, as well as doing the regular hospital work, organized the Vancouver Auxiliary members into a corps of Rest and Nursing Home visitors. Through the W.M.S., therefore, the Church was able to discharge its responsibility to the sick and lonely older people. Last spring, Vancouver Presbytery appointed a Hospital Committee with a view to improving the Church's visitation work. The hospital chaplain, Dr. Hamilton, and your worker are on this committee. At the Committee's fall meeting, it was decided that Presbytery should be asked to take over supervision of the visitation of Homes for older people. Members of men's groups as well as the women's organizations will be asked to co-operate in systematic visitation. A survey of the Homes and their locations with regard to the churches is being made. This, of course, will take time but we hope it will mean a greater integration of the concern for the aged into the life of the church. The committee also hopes to initiate action within the church as a whole, which will lead to a recognition of the hospital chaplaincy by the medical profession as an essential part of the ministry of healing.

Hospital Visitation

Hospital visitation is a new field for me and there has been much to learn. "Remember that every physically ill person is also mentally disturbed," said a surgeon to a graduating class of nurses, and your church visitor must needs also remember that.

Each call is full of possibilities. One may meet a local church member, happy to have prayer, to talk of church family affairs. Again one may meet a person from a distant area, Prince George, Penticton, Smithers, and the fellowship of the church means much when you are far from your loved ones. You might visit a mother whose church ties are loose, but she would like the children baptized, the church in her home area is notified and the bonds of Christian love are renewed. You may come to the bedside of someone who has never become a church member but has used the label "United" merely as a convenience. Here is the greatest challenge, for the offering of a warm friendship and fellowship may lead to the discovery of real meaning for life and a church home for some lost and lonely person. Opportunities for fellowship and prayer are numerous, but the need for a helping hand in little things is just as great. We must understand both nurses and social workers not only to co-operate with them, but often to be able to interpret their work to the patient. In the words of a patient, "We can talk more easily with you." When death comes we must be ready to give comfort and make easier the many problems that arise when one is bereaved and far from home in this large city. Again we may be given a chance to interpret the needs of an immigrant, who is unhappy over the strange hospital food and who needs to wail out her loneliness upon a friendly shoulder. The anxious disturbed person may find it easier to unburden herself to a Christian friend first and thus find courage to talk to the therapist later. The worried tubercular patient, concerned over a husband in prison, is reassured when you can arrange with the John Howard worker to help the husband.

So this work of visiting the sick is indeed a privilege, for one sees life at the beginning with all the hope and vision of a first-time mother, life being renewed with the return of health and strength, and life facing the valley of the shadow.

ALICE M. A. PHILIP

Church Extension Worker,
Vancouver, British Columbia

My work during 1957 continued in the two new areas I had started in 1956:

1. Oak Avenue United in Helen's Park

Oak Avenue United congregation is growing, but very slowly. The Sunday School is also growing but very rapidly—this kept me continually on the lookout for new teachers, for more accommodation, for seats and tables and, unsuccessfully, for a superintendent.

This congregation decided to "Do It Yourself" and took on the job of building a small hall with kitchen, washrooms, and a small extra room.

In order to encourage parents to come to church, I arranged Family Services for Easter in April; Christian Family Day in May and Promotion Sunday in June. For these seating was taxed to the utmost—many stood.

In September, with electric lighting finally installed, church service, which had formerly been held at 3 p.m. was changed to 7.30 and numbers have increased a little more rapidly due to this change. Membership is now 33.

The Sunday School which closed in June with about 80 registered, shot up to 150 in September. In October there was close to 200. By the end of December 210 students registered with 25 teachers and officers. In October we started split shifts with Intermediate and Juniors at 10.00 a.m. and Primary, Kindergarten and Nursery at 11.15 a.m. The latest move will take 38 five-year-olds out of the kitchen to a nearby basement where they will have some elbow room. This will leave 30 three-and-four-year-olds in the Nursery with the kitchen as an overflow.

In October, I started a C.G.I.T group with an assistant leader. In November, another leader offered her services and I have turned the group over to them. There are 16 girls and they are all eager, lively teen-agers. They are enthusiastically tackling their first Mission Study and plan to affiliate at a Cherry Blossom Tea when they will entertain their mothers.

February will see an Explorer group started if a leader can be found for them. My work in this area in 1958 will be confined to one day per week, mostly with C.G.I.T. and Explorers. I am leaving the Sunday School with my prayers and I hope yours, for it has many, many problems to face. The most encouraging thing about it is that the teachers are young mothers with small children who want to know both the method and theory of teaching and they are interested in children. I must add I have two fathers also.

2. St. David's United, West Vancouver

After much planning and many meetings, the first Church Service was held for this new area in Spurway Hall on May 12, 1957. On June 16, 1957, the dedication of the new congregation took place with 43 charter members being received. In September 1957, a retired minister was placed in charge of the new congregation for one year. He has done a great deal to build it up. Membership is now well over 100 and growing every month.

During September and October, I worked closely with this group to prepare as large a list of members and adherents as possible in preparation for the financial canvass to be made in November. Property has been secured and plans for a sanctuary and Sunday School wing are being prepared now.

The Sunday School at the end of 1957 has 360 pupils registered with a teaching staff of 40. The School Board of West Vancouver were persuaded in September to allow the use of some classrooms as well as the Activity Room at Cedarvale School. Kindergarten and Nursery children were invited to attend. They did—75 of them. We separated them into three groups. The three-year-olds in a nearby rumpus room; the four-year-olds in one class room; the five-year-olds in a separate class room. There is an excellent staff of young mothers who are eager to learn the most advanced methods of teaching for the pre-school age. They are wonderful to work with. I am now conducting a Bible Study Class with them about questions which the children ask: "How do you explain heaven—angels—death?" They also want to know what the United Church believes. I am pleased to work in this way, more as a consultant or advisor until they are more firmly established with their regular full-time minister in July.

The Metropolitan Council engaged Betty Colwell to survey two new areas in Vancouver during June. I supervised this work and directed the Shaughnessy United Woman's Federation in one section of the survey.

Both areas showed interest but there were no meeting places available and nothing was done during the fall. However, the area called Oakridge is now coming alive. A retired minister has been appointed by the Home Mission Board for 1958. He will hold church services and I will organize the Sunday School. All we need is a place to meet.

INDIAN WORK

FOREWORD

The Indian population in Canada today is about 163,000 and the numbers are increasing. The Provinces with the largest numbers are Ontario and British Columbia.

A fair number of Indians are being enfranchised every year.

Four types of schools are under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, although it does not seem too long since the schools were directed by the Church. There are the regular Indian day schools on Reserves, the residential or boarding school, the seasonal schools and the instruction given to children who are hospitalized.

Adult classes are held in the Reserve schools and worthwhile courses in English, carpentry, welding, cooking and knitting are offered.

It seems evident that with the various new types of employment many more Indians will be leaving the Reserves and we are aware of the increased opportunities of service opening up for the Church in which we could participate if women concerned about Indians were to join our ranks as missionaries.

In Indian education, 1957 marked the first year that a school was set aside for Indian children of higher grades and particularly high school. While a residence was built for the purpose of housing 40 high school boys and girls at Alberni, the Portage la Prairie School accepted young people from other schools. When school opened in the autumn more than 70 of the young people attended the town public and high schools. This arrangement was made possible by the Indian Affairs Branch in co-operation with the local School Board in Portage la Prairie. Only one classroom continues to function on our Residential School grounds. Thus our Indian Residential School at Portage la Prairie has practically become a high school residence and makes us realize the change that is taking place in Indian education.

A new venture this year will be the opening of Indian work in Vancouver. We are convinced that the Church has a strategic contribution to make in the integration of the Indian people as they move from Reserves to the cities and since this transient situation presents an opportunity for service and evangelism we met the request of the British Columbia Conference Branch and are placing Miss Jessie Oliver in the city of Vancouver, hoping that she will not only work in the city but among the Indians on Vancouver Island.

Changed Lives

What has God wrought in 1957 on this pastoral charge?

Mrs. B. who committed her life to the Lordship of Jesus Christ in the 1956 Rama Watchnight service has remained true to her commitment. And what a change has come about in her own life and in that of her large family, where Bible study and prayer now have a regular place! She is now one of our faithful teachers in the Sunday School. Her sister, Mrs. I., who later confessed faith in Jesus as Saviour and Lord in the mid-week Prayer Meeting, has persevered in face of great testings of her faith, and has grown in her experience of Christ's readiness to strengthen and bless her and her family. A son of each and a nephew attended the March leadership training course at Five Oaks Christian Training Centre, and received much to help them as they commenced their Christian life. Mrs. I.'s son remained at Five Oaks until November, helping with work on grounds and buildings, and now he is in Toronto learning a trade. Another single man, who made his decision to become a Christian in the early spring, has been at Five Oaks since that time as a workman, finding such meaning in life as he never knew before. We deeply appreciate the concern and help given to our Indian people by the Five Oaks staff.

Sunshine and Shadow

Our Sunday School has had a good year, with an average attendance of 51 persons. An Intermediate Girls' Club has met more or less regularly each week, and the Young Adult Group has met monthly. Fellowship Groups have functioned in both churches. Both Rama and Longford Woman's Associations have held weekly meetings, where quilting is one of the main activities. The special project of the Rama Church in 1957 was the erection of a new lawn fence at a cost of $195.00, of which $120.00 was contributed by the W.A., who also paid $70.00 of the $200.00 sent to the M. and M. Fund, from the Rama church.

Concerned Christians of both congregations participated in Visitation Evangelism, visiting in the homes of unchurched and inactive people, and presenting the claims of Christ and His Church. The response was disappointing, yet our own people benefited in a new awareness and concern for the many living in our area who are without any personal faith, yet for whose spiritual well-being we are responsible.

A Caravan team conducted Vacation Schools in both churches in July, and made an appreciated religious contribution to our children's lives.

Now that our Rama folk can freely enter the Atherley hotels, and with drinking regarded as the "socially accepted" thing, alcoholism is becoming more and more of a problem here, entailing as it does the misuse of money, destitution of families, quarrelling, abuse, and debauched morals. We rejoice in those who, through God's grace, have been delivered from the curse of alcoholism. To see some lives changed and to share in their growing experience of God's love and grace has brought me joy, though a burden still remains for the many who are strangers to God's love in Christ.

A Successful C.G.I.T. Year

Early in the New Year our girls participated in a district C.G.I.T. rally with groups from various denominations and from churches in and near Brandon. I believe the girls enjoyed the experience very much and we were glad of any opportunity like this for them to share in the larger C.G.I.T. experience. Our leaders also participated in a district Leadership Rally which we found helpful as well.

Toward Easter, conditions at the school were increasingly unsettled, and the restlessness naturally affected the students very deeply. This and the usual fall-off in interest in group work which tends to come with the good weather in the spring made us conclude that it would be wisest to end the C.G.I.T. year promptly with a party rather than to try to drag on to the end of the school year. On May 8, therefore, Mrs. Bird, the wife of the Government Entomologist, visited the group to show slides on Manitoba wild life, which the girls enjoyed very much. We had games and refreshments and ended the year in good spirits.

The Mother and Daughter Banquet in town, sponsored by all the C.G.I.T. groups jointly, and the Graduation Service, to each of which we sent representatives were like a postscript to our year's work. We were very happy to have one girl pass the qualifications for graduation. Mary Damas had belonged to C.G.I.T. at the Portage school, and was certainly a faithful and loyal member during the one year she was in C.G.I.T. in Brandon. Other members were just as faithful, but had no background in C.G.I.T., or were just a little too young.

Highlight for the Explorers

The three Explorer groups which I led on separate days after school continued right until the end of May or the first week in June. We managed to wind up our projects and use the last few meeting periods for short hikes around the school. Just before Easter two Explorer groups from Brandon made up Easter baskets to send out to our Explorers and to our younger girls. Then just after Easter, the highlight of the year came when our Explorers were invited to visit an Explorer group in town. I think it was a wonderful experience for the girls to know that there are many other Explorer groups, and they certainly did enjoy the adventure of the trip into town and the visit with the white girls. They mixed in very well in the games, many of them stuck with their white "partners" for the rest of the meeting, and they were all very happy to write letters back to the Explorer girls in town telling them how much they had enjoyed their visit.

Excitement at Christmas for a Family of 122!

Fifty-five of our family went out for Christmas, and we numbered 110 children and 12 staff. Prior to the classes ending for the holiday we held our two concerts—Junior and Senior (Day and Residential school combined), our C.G.I.T. Vesper Service, and our Chapel services preparatory to Christmas. After the holiday began, our C.G.I.T. went caroling one evening, and our school was a hive of activity.

Christmas morning all the children and all the staff had stockings filled with surprises. Then after church the staff partook of sandwiches before serving the children their Christmas dinner, and what a dinner it was! — turkey with all the trimmings, individual pies, plus ice-cream cones decorated as Christmas trees. The few who felt like moving after dinner was over produced a bit of noise by bursting the balloons which helped to deck the Dining Hall. Clean-up followed, then off to the auditorium where one of the Senior students dressed as Santa paid a visit. Thanks to the kindness and concern of interested churches, each child received a good share of Christmas gifts. After helping a dozen little girls with their new embroidery or knitting sets, smelling an endless variety of powders and perfumes, admiring all shapes and descriptions of dolls, manicure and other sets, books galore, fancy slippers and other interesting things plus keeping on the lookout in order to be prepared to "Stick 'em up" when confronted by any of the young braves who were now the proud possessors of cap guns, one felt very thankful for all the privileges and the joys of Christmas.—

A similar experience took place on Christmas Eve—when our church was filled to overflowing and when after a service of praise and thanksgiving the children whose homes are on the Reserve were the recipients of gifts that were sent to us by churches and also gifts from their parents and friends.

Looking Ahead

Thus 1957 came to an end. It was a good year. My work continues to consist of mid-week groups, Christian Education Classes, Morning Chapel, W.A., the occasional service, visiting, Sunday schools—all with the excellent co-operation of the staff of both schools and leaders from the Reserve.

This summer saw another Vacation School and another Bible School for leaders. Our Bible School was on a much larger scale than the one we held last year. A very fruitful experience too.

Looking ahead into the New Year our thoughts centre around Dulas Robertson. Dulas is the young man who three years ago went to Cook's Christian Training School in Arizona. He graduates this Spring. We know that he is paving the way for others to follow and it is my prayer that the seeds which we endeavor to sow in the hearts and lives of the young ones with whom we work every day will spring up and bring forth fruit, so that in the future there will be many like Dulas in all our Churches here in the north and that the lives of all will be truly enriched by the working of the Holy Spirit.

Many Changes

The year 1957 saw many changes in the Residential School at Portage la Prairie. On June 15, Mr. L. McLean, who had been principal of the Portage School for eight years, moved to the Brandon Residential School along with the matron, Miss O. Rodenbush, and several of the staff who had served under him for several years.

Mr. William C. Warren, who had been principal of the Prince Charles public school in Portage la Prairie for fifteen years, became principal of the Indian Residential School and with his family moved out to the residence on July 1. Mrs. W. Call, who had been sewing teacher and assistant matron of the school for seven years, was appointed matron.

There was also a change in the age group and the academic standing of the student body for the coming term. It was decided by the Department of Indian Affairs to make the Portage School into a junior high and senior high school, with the minimum age set at thirteen years; to send all the students from grade six to grade ten to the Portage City Schools, and to have only one classroom at the residence for some twenty-two children in that age group who were late starting to school, or who were retarded. This has been accomplished, with 76 students going by bus each day to the Portage Schools, and 23 being taught at the residence by Miss M. Creighton.

A Busy Summer and Fall

July and August were busy months. Clothing had to be sorted, and all small clothes had to be packed and sent to the Brandon School. New clothing had to be purchased for the older students. Care of the grounds, gardens and farm, along with canning and considerable interior painting kept everyone very busy. Lockers and study tables had to be constructed to accommodate the needs of the older students.

During July, four of the students who remained at the school for the summer, attended Air Cadet Camp at Sea Island, British Columbia, for two weeks. For those children who remained at the school for the summer, special trips and recreation were arranged.

Beginning the first week in September, the students began to arrive. Several trips had to be made with the school bus to meet the planes coming in from the north. It meant long hours of hard work in getting the students enrolled, fitted with clothing, equipped with school supplies, and adjusted to a new school, and new regulations. September was certainly a very busy month, with the harvest to take off, preparations for winter, and with all the children going to school in the city and not able to help until after four o'clock.

Activities for Girls and Boys

The Indian children are very good skaters, and hockey is their favorite sport, so that there has been plenty of sport since the rink has been in use. The boys now have three hockey teams, and have been playing each Saturday night against hockey teams from Portage la Prairie.

In October, the Department of Indian Affairs began building a new auditorium, one hundred and twenty feet by fifty feet. It will be completed in May. It has a good stage, dressing rooms, kitchen facilities, and a clear floor space large enough for a full size basketball court, volley ball, etc., and will be fitted with gymnasium equipment.

This term for the first time, the Indian girls from the school have joined the C.G.I.T. at the United Church in Portage la Prairie. Each Wednesday evening, twenty-six girls with their leader, Mrs. Gall, are taken into the church by bus. The school has encouraged the Indian children to mix with the white children as much as possible, and it has certainly worked out very well.

Each Thursday evening twenty of the boys go by bus to Air Cadet Parade. W. C. Warren, principal of the school, is also commanding officer of the Air Cadet Squadron. The parades are held at R.C.A.F. Station, Portage la Prairie. The boys are very good cadets, and some have successfully written their exams for NCO rank, some are in the band, and some are on the rifle shooting team.

Five of the students take piano lessons each week, and are progressing very favorably. Three of them are able to play the hymns for our Sunday School each Sunday afternoon.

In the Christmas exams, the children did remarkably well. The two boys who are in grade ten stood twenty-second and twenty-third in a class of two hundred and fifteen, and several of those in the lower grades stood second and third in their classes of about thirty-five students.

On Thursday, December 19, a Christmas party was held at the school. This took the form of games and dancing until Santa Claus arrived with a gift for each one. Forty-one went home for Christmas, leaving fifty-eight at the school for the holiday. Turkey dinners with all the trimmings were enjoyed by all at both Christmas and New Year.

The purchase of two television sets during the last year, one for the boys and one for the girls, has helped the Indian children greatly with the English language, and has helped to give them a much greater insight into the customs and ways of the English-speaking Canadians. Since getting the televisions, it has been found that the children speak out more freely, and take a more active part in discussions.

Last Sunday was a big day at the Portage School. Although many of them have been attending church regularly each Sunday, this was the first time that the entire school was able to go in a body. With the change of students in the school, there were not enough church clothes to go around, and it took a great deal of work and time to outfit so many with them. The boys now all have navy blue blazers, white shirts and grey trousers, and the girls have navy blue skirts and pink blouses. There were many compliments paid by the congregation on how nice the children looked and how well behaved they were.

A Year of Many Faces

This has been a year of many faces—pleasure, frustration, satisfaction, sadness and hope. I have made the acquaintance of many fine people, non-Indian as well as Indian. Although most of the Indians I have met have been individuals working or looking for work in the city I have contacted some twenty families scattered throughout the city.

The number of young people of Indian descent that I have been able to contact has grown to close to ninety of which about fifty are in the city at present. Quite a number are here for a while, become homesick and return home. Many, a few months later, return to the city again. Occasionally I accompany a newcomer to the employment office or for a job interview. Usually I go with them or at least phone the agency about them. I have been to court a few times and gone looking for rooms several times.

In January, the Meeting of the Trails, the Indian Club, moved to the Y.M.C.A. We had two skating parties, but finding skates was a problem. A "Y" club invited us to a sleigh ride. At one meeting we had a discussion on discrimination against Indians. The following week, Rev. Mack of the Pilgrim Baptist Church (Negro) spoke briefly on their problems of discrimination and then showed slides of the Negro families in Winnipeg. In March, Gordon McKay, the chairman of the program committee organized an interesting visit to a radio station. St. Andrew's Church (United) young people invited the club to several Saturday night parties and a small group attended. By late May attendance at the meetings dropped sharply so we stopped meeting regularly.

Indian Young People's Camp

In June with the help of Miss Shirley Munro and Mrs. Timmins, I planned an Indian Young People's Camp at Kirkfield Park. Our theme was the Indian Canadian and the Christian Church. Mrs. Bastin, a former Anglican field worker on the Pequis Reserve was our theme speaker. Rev. Mr. Henderson of St. Andrew's United conducted the Bible study. We set the fee at $2.00 per person and sent out notices to all the Protestant young people. Some of the young people met with me to plan the recreation. We decided to have a picnic on the Sunday afternoon and invite the families to attend. There was great enthusiasm about the camp. However, by the time of the camp the number had dwindled to 20 or 25 and a pouring rain the night we went out cut membership down to 14. There was a wonderful group spirit at the camp. Mrs. Bastin and Mr. Henderson were enthusiastic visitors as well as speakers. Rev. Mr. Scott also attended one fireside.

The picnic was fairly successful too. I had rented a sportsground near the camp, so we had lots of room for games, and then we ate our lunch together.

Need for an Indian Centre

During the year I have become fully convinced that an Indian centre is needed. One girl whom I have known all year and with whom I have become very close friends, expressed it this way. "I wish we had an Indian Y.W.C.A. where Indians could stay and help each other. I don't mind asking questions of Indians even if they are strangers. They are my people and they understand. In the 'Y' I always felt a stranger." Most of them need many opportunities to meet the non-Indians when the Indians are in the majority. During the year our best socials were the ones where the Club were the hosts. They were in the majority and the setting was theirs. The Presbyterian Church plans to open a residence this year in Winnipeg. I hope our own church will soon follow.

It is difficult too for us to realize the problem facing the Indian looking for rooms unless they are very well dressed and most of them cannot afford that when they first come to the city. I've gone with some of them looking for rooms and the number of times that people have looked at them and said, "Sorry, we've just rented the room," yet the sign I've sometimes noticed still up several days later. Education of the public seems essential.

As they become more sure of themselves and feel that many of the non-Indians are their friends they feel more at home in the churches. All are more willing or find it easier to enter a church if they have met the minister or some of the congregation and feel they have been accepted by them.

There are so many of the non-treaty Indian young people who have not sufficient education to enable them to make use of the talents they actually possess. There are children now who are ready to attend high school but their school only goes to Grade VIII. Their parents cannot afford to send them out to school and Indian Affairs cannot help them because they are not treaty. They need some groups or individuals to either open their homes to them or sponsor them at residences like the one at Teulon or Battleford, while they take their high schooling. Education is so important if they are to be successful.

I could not help thinking how much the churches could help if they would sponsor Indian families as they did the Hungarians. More young people are coming too, for often at home there is just nothing for them as the population on the reserve increases but work prospects seem to decrease.

ELIZABETH M. COLWELL

Community Worker,
Winnipeg, Manitoba

It is with gratitude for the privilege of working among the Indian and Metis people of Winnipeg that this report is submitted. It affords opportunity to share with you some work patterns, a few observations that occur to me and dreams that stimulate.

September left me breathless and restless. An introductory visit to folk listed in files was attempted. It was maddening to be unable to visit in one month those it had taken Gwen fifteen months to uncover!

Duties and Their Fulfilment

October found me questioning the purpose of my work. A small committee of W.M.S. and Home Mission Board personnel gathered for the purpose of examining the work together. At that meeting, I outlined my own personal views as to what I was being paid to do, as follows: be available as a Christian friend; interpret the Indian-Canadian to the non-Indian citizen; help the Indian newcomer to become established in the city: house, job, church, recreation; work with the neighborhood church in order to facilitate the reception of the new Indian member (or family) into its life; sponsor the Meeting of the Trails; work with the Social Agencies to further Indian integration; visit villages, residential schools, sanatoria, hospitals and jails.

In the light of this, a report of on-going activities reveals: continuation of visitation to some of Miss Grieve's contacts; regular visits to St. Boniface Hospital and Sanatorium; continuation of sponsoring the Meeting of the Trails; companion at court, to Children's Aid and so on; introductory letter to missionaries; Indian and Metis Conference committee work; meals, refreshments and entertaining; speaking engagements; companion to church; job-hunting and clothing distribution; formation of W.M.S. - H.M.B. committee; visit to Koostetak; the germ of a Pre-church Club.

Before Christmas we were able to start a pre-church club. It was hoped that family groups and young people might meet to talk, play and sing carols together. It was planned that the worker should provide the tea but that each person or group should bring his own lunch. It was hoped that non-Indian families who were interested and had cars, might call for the Indian family and stay on in order to take folk to church and to see them home, but non-Indian folk with cars were not available.

All denominations were represented among those who came. Each night a good proportion of the young people went to church but the families found it necessary to return home.

Since getting back to work (after the mumps) the suggestion has come that the club should be organized to operate interdenominationally and that we should ask to meet in the modern Unitarian church centre. The next week or so will determine the wish of the Indian people and the co-operation to be expected from the non-Indian.

The Greater Winnipeg Welfare Council sponsored the Jan. 23-25 Indian and Metis Conference. The theme this year was The Community's Responsibility toward those of Indian Origin. Sub-committees centred upon these topics: Education, Counselling, Housing, Employment and Recreation-Leisure Time Activities. It was my privilege to chair the latter sub-committee.

The general mood of the Conference seemed to be one of questioning and receptivity. Because of the latter ingredient, the question was usually "What do you think the situation (need, feeling of your people) is, Mr. Indian?" Because he felt his answer would be appreciated, he responded by suggesting the need for modern low-cost housing, more scholarships for vocational and professional training, and the need for a Centre where Indian people might be prominent on the business and advisory council.

Odds and Ends

It was a joy to make two short visits to Koostetak. On Saturday I drove a car up to the new lay-missionary and stayed over for the morning Church service. Early in December six of us went up for a service of recognition when Koostetak came into Winnipeg Presbytery from Norway House Presbytery.

Many girls work as housekeepers and they have Thursday afternoons off each week. I know a very few of them but hope to know more soon. If there could be a centre downtown as an alternative to the streets, or if other folk knew and cared to open their homes, it would be slowly appreciated.

The Meeting of the Trails deserves a word of comment. It has been our policy to have weekly program planning sessions so that the young people would feel their responsibility. At the beginning of the year they decided the group was to meet strictly for "fun 'n' food." Before Christmas there was general dissatisfaction with me for the way I planned events. At our meeting of December 27th they decided to vary the program in the new year with speakers, films and guests of other culture groups. During my sickness and since, they have taken the initiative and there are healthy signs of new growth.

SASKATCHEWAN CONFERENCE BRANCHA. BLANCHE GERHARD

Community Worker,

In many ways the year was most discouraging. Church attendance was lower in the fall but it was encouraging to note that more families were represented. That meant that more adults and fewer children were attending. While I feel it is important that children attend Sunday service, I feel it is more important that their parents attend.

Explorers and C.G.I.T.

This year we had so many children between the ages of 6 and 11 attending school that I started an Explorer Group. There were 32 boys and girls age 9 to 11, so we divided them into two groups with Miss McCabe, one of the teachers, in charge of the older children. They are enjoying so much the story of Kenji and his sister, Michiko, and look very sad at the thought of having to sell a little sister. There are also 17 Mission Band children who come every second Tuesday with big brown eyes sparkling with mischief and enthusiasm. This year every child, except three in one family, have new parka suits, and they look like bright little birds as they come running and sliding down the hill from school. It is good to see them dressed in new warm clothing, and to know that the parents are beginning to take more responsibility in dressing their children. The three, not thus fitted out, were given parkas from the W.M.S. sales.

This year we have 12 C.G.I.T. members with eight active and four not too interested. After several practices that were, to put it mildly, most frustrating, the girls conducted a most inspiring Vesper Service at Christmas time. Around 100 people attended this service, so I was happy and I think everyone else was. The next Sunday seven girls participated in the Vesper Service with the C.G.I.T. Groups in town, which was the most beautiful candle-lighting service I have ever attended. We also entertained the senior group from town at the Mission one evening, and had an enjoyable time.

Our young people sing very well, so we were happy when Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Harvet came from town several times to lead them in group singing. I feel that mingling with town people will help the Indian young people overcome their shyness, and I hope, give each group a better understanding of each other.

No Vanishing Race

Our Church School has a membership of 67 with an excellent average attendance. I am thankful for the assistance of the teachers, Mrs. Silversides and Miss McCabe.

This year there has been a good deal of sickness among the children, which has of course brought down the average attendance at all meetings.

This fall the W.M.S. auxiliaries from Carlyle and Manor each came to the Mission to hold a meeting. The members who had not previously visited the new Mission house were glad of the opportunity to come and admire, and of course I was glad to have them.

The Department of Health and Welfare for Indians have shown a number of films on sanitation, care of the teeth, child care, etc., as well as the outstanding film, "No Vanishing Race." The Indians appear to enjoy the pictures as they attend in large numbers. We only hope that it will be some help in improving the health and living conditions of the Indian people.

We are grateful to all organizations that helped make a happy Christmas for the children and to those who helped with clothing for the needy. We are also happy for visits from Miss Dorothy Young in the spring, and from Mrs. Loveys and Mrs. Schnell this fall.

It is good to see an increasing number of young people attending high school. This year two went from our school, one under the Good Samaritan plan, and next September there are four prospects, two boys and two girls. Two young girls attended business college in Saskatoon; one has now graduated and has a position in the agency office at Duck Lake. Phyllis will graduate this spring from Weyburn Hospital, and Elizabeth from Winnipeg as a laboratory technician.

Everyone Helped

Last January, Mrs. Swenson came out from town and helped us start a Brownie group, as there are no C.G.I.T. or Explorer groups around this part of the country. About this time Mrs. McKinlay got our ladies of the Church interested in putting on a tea and sale of sewing, and from then until we put it on in March, I don't know who worked the hardest; anyway it was a great success. We had two of the older ladies pour tea, and the younger ones serve. We also had a white elephant table stocked by our friends in town and our many friends and relatives in Calgary and Nelson. This was something that the Indians had never seen before. We had a lot of jewellery and it was picked up very fast.

On Good Friday we held a morning service and everybody brought a lunch. We made tea after the service when we all ate together, to the enjoyment of everyone.

In May we had our treaty day, when we had a booth and sold hot dogs, sandwiches, candy bars, tea and coffee, as well as more sewing. For weeks before we were being asked if we were going to have more jewellery for sale, so we had to get busy and round up some more, which was nearly all sold. In June we had our Church and School picnic, when we had prizes for the races, peanut scramble, ice cream, orangeade, and lunch. We had a good turnout and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

In August, we had three young caravaners come in and help run a vacation school for us. We had a good turnout and the girls did a very fine piece of work.

In July, while we were away on our vacation, they got started on our new School about a mile from the old one and on the highway, but we did not get into it until November. We have running water, and inside toilets, which was something for our Indian children.

Christmas Festivities

The last two months were taken up with getting the children ready for their Christmas concerts. The school held theirs on the Wednesday before Christmas, when all the school children received a crayon book, and a small story book. The Home Makers made up about 400 lunches the day before and they were all gone in no time.

On Christmas Eve, we held our Service, and afterwards had a concert and then gave out a very nice gift to each child, some candy and an orange. We were also able to give all the ladies a piece of jewellery and the parents a bag of candy. There was also enough candy left for me to take to the hospital on Christmas Day and give every patient a bag of candy. I also was able to buy a microphone for my Hi-Fi set and make it into a P.A. System. This helped even the ones at the back of the hall to hear the smallest voice.

During the year, Mrs. McKinlay had the little children in singing classes and we took them, along with our Brownie girls, into town to sing at a Carol Festival, when one of our little boys, Leslie Shingoose, took the solo in one of the pieces.

Children and More Children

We have had a very good Sunday School this year, with our daughter taking the pre-school children, Miss Ratcliffe, our school teacher's daughter the junior children, and Mr. Todd, our other teacher, taking the older ones.

This year was a very busy year for the stork and me, for I baptized 28 little ones, as well as 23 older people into the Church. We had eight deaths in the past year. The rest of our busy days are taken up with attending to the clothing bales, visiting the homes, where I hold a small service and leave reading material, visiting the Hospital which I do at least three times a week, when I visit all United Church people and others. We also have two religious classes every Friday afternoon and once a month we hold Mission Band, I also take a service every Sunday morning in an Indian home on the next reserve.

This year we take the Grade Five, Six, Seven, Eight and Nine children into the white school in town, which seems to be working out very well.

This now completes our second year in the Indian work, and with your prayers and the help of God, we hope to be able to give many more years of service.

Three Busy and Interesting Months

The three months since we came here have been busy and interesting ones. Mrs. McIntyre has had her W.M.S. group, C.C.I.T. and Mission Band, and we have been trying to get the Sunday School on a better organized and better staffed basis. I hope to get more visiting done in the outlying parts of the charge during the next month (February). Some of the roads appear almost impassable in the summer, but if the snow does not get too deep the frost will carry one in the winter.

The people here are friendly and tolerant, and during the trips into town for mail and groceries, we meet a great many, not only members of the regular congregation, but also those who for various reasons seldom get to church. Their only mode of transportation is on foot, and among their groceries may be a fifty pound sack of flour.

I am at present working on a couple of weddings. In the one case, plans were made before for the happy event. One time Miss Drake outfitted them with clothes, another time, the wedding supper was all set by the bride-to-be's parents, but both times plans came to naught. I was to have married them on Sunday last, and switched the time at either end to suit, but the licence had not been attended to in time. I am hoping that with one more trip to the Sioux reserve, we can get the date settled finally. The other looked for wedding is of a west-end chap with no previous entanglements, so I hope that next year I can report at least two weddings.

The W.M.S. had their Fowl Supper at the end of October. In November, we were able to get a set of Bella Bella slides. They combined a showing of these with their Thank Offering and realized some eight dollars. In December their Christmas bazaar was held and at this the C.C.I.T. also had a booth.

At the Colony I have held thirteen services, including special ones for Remembrance Sunday, Christmas and New Year's. At two services there was no congregation; for the eleven Sundays of service, the average was twenty-one per Sunday.

I could not complete this report without reference to our neighbors. The Aingers at the Agent's office, and the Hilldermans at the Protestant School, have been very good and co-operative. Mr. Hillderman brought the machine and showed the slides previously mentioned, for the W.M.S. Thank Offering. At Christmas time they put on the program at the school, while we furnished the gifts.

All that has been said for the Hilldermans at this end, could be said for the Campbells at the west end, who in all reasonable fields give us sympathetic and active co-operation.

Fort San and the Indian Hospital, Fort Qu'Appelle

When first we came here we had one patient, who had been in the San for seven years and nine months. He passed away in November and we had the funeral here at the church. At the moment we have no patients in the San with whom we are directly concerned.

The Indian Hospital at the Fort is a very large one and seems always filled. We have always a number going and coming. Along with these there are a few more or less permanent patients. There is a T.B. ward and we have one or two in that section. Then of course, there are always emergency and confinement cases.

We have tried to visit as often as is possible, and, periodically, take relatives or close friends along to further cheer the patient. Between ordinary visiting and emergency trips, I have made some dozen trips down to the Fort. In fact, this ought not to be put attached as a supplement but as a very integral part of the work here.

An Innovation in Friendship

When the Indian people come into the city it indicates a desire in their part to become integrated with the other races. Therefore we need to give them sincere and faithful friendship to encourage them in their efforts. Rev. Stotesbury's "Good Samaritan Plan" has already helped to create this friendship among Indian and white people in many communities throughout the province and deserves our full support for it is truly a worthy effort. Our organization in Regina, the Nee-wee-chay-wah-gen Circle which in English means "Partnership Circle," was a fine example of how delightful and enjoyable meetings can be with our Indian sisters. At the conclusion of our winter meetings held in Zion United Church basement we decided to hold a bazaar in May. After much phoning and planning we gathered together again the 16 quilts, 1 dozen pillowcases (made from sugar bags and embroidered), along with some stuffed animals and articles of children's clothing. The bazaar table was a colorful sight when all the quilts and other articles were hung up on display. The Indian ladies worked very hard in co-operation with a number of white ladies from different federations in the city in making the quilts for the Indian families. At this bazaar, we realized the sum of $30.00 and contributed $20.00 of this toward the purchase of kitchen equipment for Zion Church. The W.A. at Zion thanked the Nee-wee-chay-wah-gen Circle most heartily for their splendid contribution. As one lady expressed it, "It was an innovation in friendship which should be carried on indefinitely."

We collected 20 boxes of clothing which we distributed to our Indian families in the church throughout the winter. We received gifts from Auxiliaries in the city. They also sent me patches and old sheeting for quilts, which made possible our successful bazaar in the spring.

The ladies of St. Andrew's completed a lovely "Dresden Plate" quilt and sold it for $12.00 which they donated toward our funds. I am happy to report that there is a balance of $35.00 on hand with which to begin work in our Circle next fall.

Throughout the year I made upwards of 30 hospital visits to Indian patients and an average of six visits to homes during the week, often taking treats. In addition to this, I had countless phone visits during the evenings. Some mornings or afternoons I have been on the phone almost continuously, endeavoring to find employment for girls coming to the city, giving advice to mothers regarding their sick children, impressing upon them and others their need of keeping in close touch with the Master in regard to their every day life and problems, and urging them to attend the Sunday services regularly for spiritual strength and refreshment. Very often on my trips down town I called at the Union Station and visited with Indian young people passing through.

Meetings

In January I spoke at the meeting of Regina Presbyterial in Broadway United Church.

In May I attended the conference held in Calgary by the Canadian Institute for Adult Education, a report on which I forwarded some time ago.

At one of our Circle meetings in April, all enjoyed a film on the work of the Church in Japan shown by Miss Gertrude Hamilton, a returned missionary. In June we also were fortunate in securing a film on Africa. The Indians were simply delighted with this film as it gave them an insight into the lives of people in other lands who had problems similar to their own. We had an attendance of 17 Indian ladies and 14 non-Indian ladies at this meeting. During the early part of this meeting we conducted a rummage sale of many useful articles of clothing, sold at 5 and 10 cents an article, and realized the sum of $14.00 which our Indian ladies voted to be donated toward the church organ fund of Zion United Church. This was our last meeting of the season and the Zion W.A. ladies very kindly provided and served lunch for all.

After the social half-hour, when we all gather in a circle for tea, our meetings are closed with a devotional period.

Bridging a Gap

Partly because more and more of our Indian people are yearly moving into the city, some for economic reasons, others wanting to make a better future for their children; partly because many have not made a satisfactory adjustment, and also partly because our Church is becoming increasingly aware of its responsibility towards these, who are, as yet, strangers in our midst, it was felt necessary to place a full time worker among the Indian people here, and I was appointed to succeed Mrs. L. L. Dobbin who while on a part-time basis, had done such worth-while introductory work.

I have found Indians living not only in that part of the city known as the North Annex but in nearly all parts of the City except the better residential districts. I have found in the City of Regina, an Indian artist, two Indian caretakers, one lawyer, a retired manager of one department in Eaton's, a receptionist at the Y.W.C.A., several wives of white Army personnel, the wife of a garage mechanic, the wife of a shoemaker, two plumbers, two men on coast-to-coast transport, two hairdressers, three Post Office employees, one hospital orderly, as well as clerks, waitresses, casual laborers, and housewives; many of whom are doing excellent jobs.

On the other hand I have found the majority of Indians here are living as a separate people in our midst, and in many cases, they are disheartened, discouraged and disillusioned. I have found whole families of them in old worn-out trailers, in single-board garages, in places not nearly as good as the little grain-bin where I kept my little Reservation pony! I found Indians in nearly all our church districts, but, with few exceptions, I did not find them in our churches. They have found that we are not willing to invite them to our homes or to dinner, that though we ask them to come to church, we do not welcome them as brothers.

Much of the trouble is due to misunderstanding on the part of both Indian and white, therefore I must be an interpreter of the Indian to the white and the white to the Indian. I must bridge the gap between the Indian and the existing services and organizations wanting to help the Indian, but knowing not how. On my first Sunday here, I could find only three Indians in our churches. Last Sunday I knew of at least twenty-three in attendance. This is truly an integrating work. Last month I took an Indian boy out to a Y.P.U. Those Young People made our boy feel that he was one of them. He was so enthusiastic that he asked if he might bring his girl-friend and a chum. These both turned out to be white people in whose lives the Church so far had played no part. C.G.I.T. girls have also brought their white chums.

A Typical Day's Work

The telephone got me out of bed at 6 a.m. A young wife and mother tells me tearfully that she has been up all night. Her husband came home drunk, and abused her and the children, she told me, and could I come over some time this morning? Yes, I could and would.

The next call is from a friend of mine who has the arranging of the World Day of Prayer Service for her particular area. It would be very nice if I could arrange to be their speaker this year? I would try.

I eat my breakfast between calls, and am just ready to leave the house when the phone is ringing again, this time the Travellers Aid at the station. A man from Kamsak Reservation is at the station and wants to see me, but he does not know the city. I remember him as a man to whom I have written concerning his son who is in jail for a serious offence. I arrange to meet the father at the station, then phone the jail to make arrangements for our visiting the son, and find the officials there very co-operative. I stop at the church on the way to pick up my mail, and then go out to the jail. It's nearly lunch time by the time I am finished with this case.

My first call this afternoon is at the home of a young married couple who are expecting their first baby. The husband had committed an offence against society when younger and more foolish than he now is, and at present is unable to get any steady work though he walks down to the Employment Office every morning (to save bus fare), and though he has been in touch with the John Howard Society, to whom I earlier referred him. He is a very likeable boy and deeply grateful for anything I can do for them.

In the next home I visit, the wife is aged, ill, and lonely. Living in one room, and cared for by her husband, they are trying to live on their Old Age Pension, and making two trips to the doctor every week. Seeing nothing but her own four walls, she longs for the Spring to come when she and her husband can go back to the Reservation again, and watch the wild flowers grow and the birds sing, and potter in the garden again, she hopes. How she brightens up when I show her the hyacinth I have bought for her from the Good-Will Fund donated by the various Federations.

In the next home I find a young Indian wife who has married a white Army man, and who is alone all day. She seems pleased to ask me to share in a cup of tea with her. She is an intelligent girl from Ontario, and I arrange to take her with me some afternoon when I am visiting.

The time has gone, and I must go home, get my knitting supplies, hurry through a dish of soup, gather up my little Explorers from four widely scattered homes, and take them to the church for their meeting. While they are in their group, I teach another group knitting in my office, then take my Explorers home again. Tonight also I am to pick up a box of dishes which will be very useful to my new bride and bridegroom.

Assessment and Conclusions

So the busy days go by. As part of my work, I arrange for baptisms, marriages, and communion for the sick. I give counsel and advice, and I visit Indian people in the hospitals. Thanks to one of our Federations I was able to take 24 Christmas baskets to Indian patients. I also received enough gifts and money to pack 25 large hampers for needy families, and I have distributed 20 copies of the Bible where there were none.

In assessing my work here I have reached a few conclusions, which I shall briefly enumerate:

This is a work among people who are still largely unsettled, and because Indians accept change very slowly; we must not expect too many results too soon. Many of our present problems would not have developed, I am convinced, had we, as a Church, shown our interest in a sincere, warm and personal way. But our churches are becoming increasingly concerned and alert to their responsibility. Our present set-up in Regina is not giving the best results. Besides a church office, we need some place with a home atmosphere that is also private. I feel privileged beyond measure in being given this opportunity for service.

BRITISH COLUMBIA CONFERENCE BRANCH

MR. REGINALD BENNETT

Ahousat, British Columbia

We had our house towed from Gold River on a log raft over 80 miles of treacherous coastal water. A logging donkey was engaged to pull the house up from the beach to the spot where it sits adjacent to the church overlooking the beautiful coastal inlet. Our utility room and back porch had to be scrapped in the move; so we are now in the process of building a new addition to the back of the house. It will house a new utility room, a small study, and a small bedroom. The addition is closed from the weather, but needs a lot of work on it yet before it will be finished.

The Work of the Church

Our first month or two here, the church services were not too well attended, it was the busy fishing season, and a lot of folks were away picking berries, etc. Since then, however, we have seen a steady gradual increase in attendance at all services. We have seen upwards of twenty souls accept Christ as Saviour in the past few months and a number of others have made new stands for Christ. It is very difficult for these people to maintain a clear-cut testimony when they are thrown into such close quarters with others who are determined to drag them back into their old life.

Our only difficulty experienced thus far is that the church building is too small for our Sunday worship service, and the school is inadequate to house our Sunday School. The classes run to about 15 to 20 children, which makes personal counselling very difficult. I can see where it has been a real problem to train the teen-agers to come to the services in the church, when all their lives their religious activities have been at the school.

We are therefore beginning to formulate plans for a new church building that will double our chapel capacity, provide sufficient Sunday School rooms, and also include a gym that we can use for young people's work, suppers, Christmas programs etc. We plan on a building about 50 feet by 70 feet, to be built as economically as possible.

Christmas and Other Services

In former years, our Church has given Christmas gifts to each home in the village. In 1956, Miss Nelson cut out a few of the homes where there was no attendance at any of our services including Sunday School, but at our Christmas program, designed to carry the Gospel message, to our amazement and happy surprise, every home but one where there was sickness was represented at the program and the house was packed.

On Christmas Eve, our young people went caroling around the village to the Protestant homes, and at the same time we took the Christmas gifts into the homes. We had one box designated for each home with all of its gifts. While we were singing outside of Mrs. Jacobson's home, Mr. Joseph Tidian came out of his house and asked what the singing was for. After explaining to him, he asked me to bring the group, now about sixty, into his home where a party was just getting under way. Some were reluctant to enter that home but did so with encouragement. We lined up on one side of the perhaps 40 foot room and sang several carols. After this I stepped forward and gave a brief word on what Christmas meant to us. They blessed us when we left and invited us back sometime.

On another occasion, the grandson of Peter Webster died. At the funeral I singled out Peter and asked him if he would like us to hold a little service in his home that night. He was very glad I had offered. I got the word around among our people and there were about 60 at the service, about half of them Catholic. John Campbell, one of our elders, spoke in Indian with an anointing like I have never seen him have before or since. After a few more hymns, I preached on Salvation and its assurance from a Catholic Douay Version and there were some converted there that night.

It is my responsibility now to feed these young Christians with spiritual meat that will cause them to grow and become established in the Christian walk. They will need much help and prayer support.

JESSIE OLIVER

Community Worker,
Skidegate Mission, British Columbia

January to June, 1957

Six months, 26 weeks, 181 days, 139 meetings and 304 visits. Every meeting needing some teaching help, every visit presenting some problem in life. There were questions from how to keep a family together to what to feed a baby bird. There were times that the picture looked very discouraging, and there were times when the Light that began to shine in Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago, shone very clearly in the lives of one person or another. As I talked with the Murdochs about the past and planned for the future, many pictures passed through the vision of the mind.

There was the Sunday when a father and mother united with the Church on profession of faith and then later brought their four youngest children for baptism. I thought of the number of times that home had welcomed church gatherings in the past year, and then I recalled how it used to be and I thanked God for the minister that had brought this change about, through the love of God and the prayers of His people.

There was the young girl in the C.G.I.T. who came night after night to prayer meeting, the only teen-ager in a group of older people. And I remembered the look of intense searching and finding that came and went in her face. And I recalled the light kindled in the face of another girl in the C.G.I.T. as she suddenly and joyously realized that God's Word and His world of science are not contradictory but gloriously together show God working out His purpose.

Then I remembered watching the lines of anxiety and despair being smoothed from the face of a mother as she poured out her troubles and knew that someone understood and cared, that God was still guiding, watching over her and her family.

I saw other pictures too, of selfish greed in the owner of a beer parlor, of indifference and ridicule in other faces, of hopelessness and despair in the young girl to whom life had become so unbearable that death was to be preferred. But in and around and above all, there was the picture of that company of men and women and young people who met faithfully week after week to study and to pray for the work of Christ in their community and the world.

JOAN CALDWELL

Community Worker,
Skidegate Mission, British Columbia

From September On

My responsibilities as associate worker for the Woman's Missionary Society began September 1, 1957. Since then I have attempted to carry on the services rendered so faithfully by Miss Jessie Oliver.

During September I assisted with the church services, visited the hospital, and homes in three communities—Queen Charlotte City, Skidegate Village and Sandspit. Mr. Joblin from the Home Mission Board visited this area in September.

In Queen Charlotte City, Mrs. D. Vannatto assists with the leadership of an Explorer Group (11 members) and Miss G. Tarlisky assisted with a C.G.I.T. Group (5 members). In Skidegate Village I have an Explorer Group (11 members) and a C.G.I.T. Group (14 members). There is a small group of 5 ladies at Skidegate who meet for study and prayer. This group has decided to attend the prayer meeting at Skidegate Village. At Sandspit there is an Explorer Group (14 members). Mrs. E. McWilliams and Mrs. C. Jensen assisted with this group. Mrs. S. Webber and Mr. A. Moffatt gave leadership with the older girls and boys. There is a C.G.I.T. Group, Tyro, Sigma C., Sunday School and a W.A. Each community experienced a flu epidemic and work with the various groups has suffered accordingly.

In December the Queen Charlotte and Skidegate C.G.I.T. groups combined for their annual Vesper Service at Skidegate Village. The Sandspit C.G.I.T. held a Vesper Service at Sunday School. Girls from the three groups sang carols at the hospital. A White Gift Family Service was held at Sandspit on December 22nd and was well attended.

On October 1st I moved to Sandspit. Since then I travel each week to Queen Charlotte City and Skidegate, and work there two days and five days at Sandspit. The car is used for transportation between Charlotte and Skidegate. Car expenses have been unusually high but the car has many times proven to be a valuable asset to the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch, missionaries working in this area, have given me a great deal of counsel and assistance and it is a privilege to work with them. I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the people in this area.

MEDICAL WORK

FOREWORD

Fullness of life is the common objective of the Church. We cannot make a division of life into spiritual and physical and for this reason the healing ministry, which combines both, continues as an avenue of service, although since the early Church beginnings in the building and maintaining of hospitals much of the responsibility and cost have become a state expense.

The construction of the new hospital at Cold Lake was started on September 15th, 1957, to be completed by July 1st, 1958. Already we have received word that the building will be completed as planned and the opening will take place about the first of July.

In January, after being without a doctor in Bonnyville for some months, Dr. and Mrs. Brien R. Roy were interviewed in Toronto, accepted for service and drove to Bonnyville.

The 25 communities surrounding Burns Lake are doing their utmost to raise the amount necessary to allow the Burns Lake Hospital Board to build a new hospital. A site has been purchased and suggestions have been made regarding the selling of the old hospital in order that a nurses' residence may be built near the new site. A strong Committee in Burns Lake is working hard and it is hoped that the building will be started in 1958.

Our Society has promised $60,000 towards the new hospital, and of this amount has already forwarded $8,414.18 which was designated for Burns Lake some years ago.

We regret that in June, 1957, our doctor left Ethelbert, making it necessary for us to close the Ethelbert Hospital.

The Commission on Church Hospitals held its last meeting in Winnipeg in March. The report has been received and will be presented to General Council. There are some recommendations which will affect the work of our Society but generally speaking our hospitals are carrying on satisfactorily.

I. M. L.

TORONTO CONFERENCE BRANCH

EILEEN M. CONNOLLY (now Mrs. Moore)

Superintendent,
Bingham Memorial Hospital,
Matheson, Ontario

From January to June 1957, I nursed in the Bingham Memorial Hospital situated in the asbestos mining town of Matheson. The hospital, new in 1954, has 28 beds and 10 cribs. It serves a population of approximately 3,000.

The Whole Community is Interested

The first thing which impressed me was the interest the people in the community took in their hospital. This included the various church denominations as well as such organizations as the Kinsmen Club and the Canadian Johns-Manville Asbestos Mine. The Women's Hospital Auxiliary was a wonderful help in supplying such items as bedding, drapes, pyjamas and other articles they helped to make, in helping financially, in providing some of the equipment needed, and most of all in giving friendship and enthusiastic support. This group began a Tuck Tray for the patients and helped to supply the many little items that a patient would like while in hospital. The Hospital Board worked very hard and willingly in administering their hospital. The church assisted in many ways such as the Young People's group singing carols at Christmas. Then the United Church minister, Mr. Warren, was always on call and spent many hours in bringing comfort and cheer to those who were ill, or convalescing, and in consoling those who had lost a dear one.

The Woman's Missionary Society has given this community a hospital which can serve them well. The community thanks the W.M.S. for this and their continued assistance, both materially and spiritually. As the community assumes complete responsibility for the hospital, I pray that it will not lose sight of the fact that this is still a missionary hospital.

The Hospital Staff

Another factor which I must mention is the staff and the two very able doctors who worked with us. The doctors are Dr. R. C. Wade and Dr. J. B. Bassingthwaight. The staff represented various denominations in the Christian Church and came from different places across Canada. We had nurses from the Maritimes and one from Victoria, B.C. It is very difficult to obtain a complete staff of registered nurses but we did have enough to get along fairly well. One of the nurses entered the United Church Training School last fall. The staff worked hard to serve our patients. For the patient must come first or else the hospital fails in fulfilling the meaning of its existence.

An All-Absorbing Task

Our hospital opened its doors to many different folk. The happy and the sad, the rich and the poor, the seriously ill and the new mother, the old folk and the children, some to begin their earthly existence and some to end it. Can you imagine the variety of services to perform; the contrasts; the exceptions; and all the new experiences that a small hospital affords?

New babies were always arriving. We had two sets of identical twins. Surgery consisted of the emergency and minor type. Appendectomies, hernia repairs, tonsillectomies, etc., were performed by the two doctors. We seemed to have our share of accidents and emergencies. Then there was the new mother who, after delivering her first baby, almost died from a rare complication. Her complete recovery was another miracle that showed God must have been with us to guide our actions and to hear our prayers.

The work in the hospital is all-absorbing and very demanding, and one must give a whole heart to it.

EDITOR: Miss E. M. Scott, who became Superintendent of the hospital in June 1957, and is employed by the hospital, not by the Woman's Missionary Society, reports the purchase of considerable new equipment. This included a new Operating Room table, oxygen tent, and two croupettes with extra appliances for oxygen tanks. "These were used constantly during the influenza epidemic and I am glad to say we did not lose one patient." Collection of accounts and shortage of staff are familiar hospital problems everywhere. "The Board has been most co-operative"; "I consider I am fortunate in my staff"; "We have had quite a number of visitors around the hospital. Most of them have been very impressed with the size, appearance and equipment."

MANITOBA CONFERENCE BRANCH

ADA M. CHILVERS

Superintendent,
Elizabeth M. Crowe Memorial Hospital,
Eriksdale, Manitoba

I arrived in Eriksdale early in April just when most of the snow had gone. By the time I was settled the grass was green and the trees were budding.

A few days after I arrived, the Quarterly Board meeting of the North West Interlake Pastoral Charge was held at Ashern which is the central church of the seven preaching places on the charge. The church here has always included the W.M.S. missionary as a member of the Quarterly Board. I do appreciate the privilege of attending the meetings and enjoy the fellowship and inspiration of meeting with the members of the other churches.

There have been a number of changes in our nursing staff during the year. We are grateful for all those who have helped, even for a short time. I would like here to express my appreciation of all the staff, including Dr. Paulson, who have so faithfully carried out their duties, and especially for the young Ward Aides who took on a great deal of responsibility when we had no other nurses.

So Many Children

There is no Public Health nurse in this community we therefore help Dr. Paulson with the immunization of children. We will not soon forget our Polio immunization clinics when we immunized over 200 children in one afternoon, mostly babies and pre-school children. Our little building was surely over-taxed for space those days, so much so that we decided not to give the third dose all on the same day. It is hard to realize that there are so many children in the district when one goes along the roads and sees only a house here and there along the way.

A large percentage of our patients are children, especially Indian children from the reserve about 18 miles from Eriksdale. We had only one premature baby this year and he was only 2½ lbs. when born and was in the incubator and fed by gavage for two months. He did splendidly from birth, never giving us an anxious moment. Clinic days are busy days twice a week, when patients come to see the doctor. Not only is he a medical doctor and a surgeon but he pulls teeth and examines eyes. Dr. Paulson also holds clinics on the Indian Reserve. When we have enough staff a nurse goes with him. It was interesting to attend Treaty Day on the reserve when the doctors and nurses with the mobile X-ray unit attend and take chest X-rays of the Indians. The officials of the Department of Indian Affairs are there with the Treaty money in crisp new bills. Guarded by the R.C.M.P. in their red ceremonial uniforms, it makes a colorful ceremony.

Summertime Accidents

The summer time brought the usual car and farm accidents. We had a young Hungarian man, a refugee, who could not speak English. He had bought an old car and drove it the following day, although he had been refused a driver's licence. Almost immediately after taking his car out he wrecked it and broke both his arms in two places. We transferred him to hospital in Winnipeg after several days where he could have some one of his own nationality to talk to him. Another man had his foot partly amputated with compound fractures of both legs while working with farm machinery. He was in hospital for several months and although now at home is still wearing a cast. Numerous other less severe accidents were attended to.

The Eriksdale Guild, which takes the place of a Hospital Auxiliary to us, have been very helpful and generous, donating money and helping with the sewing. Other organizations of the community have also given donations. We are planning to redecorate and furnish the nursery with these donations and some help from the Provincial government, Department of Maternal and Child Welfare.

The staff have helped with the Church organizations as much as possible. When we have a full staff of nurses we are able to give more assistance. This year the staff have helped with Explorers, Vacation School and the Choir.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the W.M.S. Auxiliaries who have been so generous with supplies for the hospital.

CORA A. KILBORN

Superintendent,
Ethelbert General Hospital,
Ethelbert, Manitoba

Six Months at Ethelbert

Dr. K. Marjanovich left Ethelbert at the end of June so the hospital was closed to in-patients then, and officially closed at the end of October. This report therefore deals with only six months of the year. In that time we had 83 admissions and 10 births. Many of these were Indians who came to us from farther north. After Dr. Green left, many of the local people were going to the doctors in Dauphin.

I stayed at the hospital until almost the end of the year. It was quite a task getting everything ready to close up. I also saw a few patients and continued to sell drugs in our capacity as village drug store.

The church work was going ahead under the ministry of the minister, Rev. D. B. Thierry. I continued the leadership of the Sunday School which was very well attended, many of the Greek Orthodox families sending their children to us. I also started a Mission Band which the children seemed to enjoy attending. Many of them remembered the Mission Band they used to attend when Miss Hodgins was there. I was also happy to help where I could with the W.A. at Ethelbert and at Pine River.

I was advised that it would be much better for the hospital building to have someone living right there. A new R.C.M.P. constable and his wife had just been appointed to Ethelbert and agreed to live in the hospital and take responsibility for it. This was a very happy and fortunate arrangement, especially as Mrs. Gatchell agreed to lead the Sunday School and Mr. Gatchell is doing some boys' work among the boys of the village.

ELSIE LEE (now Mrs. Elwood Dey)

Nurse and Community Worker,
Gypsumville, Manitoba

(January - July 1957)

January Was a Special Month

During the Week of Prayer, prayer services were held each day. On the Tuesday when one of our Church attenders and I drove to Winnipeg for Presbytery meeting, the W.A. ladies carried on the prayer service, and on the Wednesday evening following the service at Gypsumville, I drove to St. Martin for a service there with three women and six girls.

January 22 was a great day for Gypsumville Church for in the evening the Service of Recognition was held bestowing on me the privilege of administering the Sacraments. On the following Sunday I administered the Sacrament of Communion for the first time.

Other Winter Activities

One Friday, the weather and road being good, I drove to Homebrook, a school district eight miles west from the highway at the north end of Lake Manitoba. There I visited several homes of various religious backgrounds with the intention of starting a Sunday School.

The other new venture—was to teach singing at Karpaty School near St. Martin at the request of the principal. Although no singer, I enjoyed these hours with the boys and girls and hope they came to enjoy singing more.

In March a large number of Gypsunville women shared with women around the world in the World Day of Prayer Service. Mission Band, Explorers and C.G.I.T. Groups carried on with the Southeast Asia Mission study during the winter months. Mission Band had the delightful study of Ke-Soon and in their meetings made a Korean kite, zoo, sailboat and houses with people. At bedtime, our helper's little girl always wanted to pray for the "Kreean Kids". Explorers made a mural based on some of the stories they studied and another on "Ways the Gospel Travels" which they presented in their own words to their mothers and W.A. members in a closing program at which were served Oriental rice and fruit dishes for lunch. The C.G.I.T. closed their study as suggested with a well-presented radio program from Korea, indicating on their map the various countries from which the missionaries were speaking.

During the months of March and April study groups for adults were held following church services and for teen-agers during the week. The Reception Service was held on Good Friday with Rev. R. D. Johnstone officiating, following which we shared in serving the Sacrament of Communion. On beautiful Easter Sunday morning, we had a large congregation of over 100 persons, coming from each of the neighboring communities. Another momentous occasion was administering the Sacrament of Baptism for the first time in April.

On April 7, the road was clear enough of snow, and we were able to return to Homebrook for the second Sunday School session. From then on we were able to return every second Sunday.

June and July

June brought along Manitoba Conference and I was privileged to attend Conference for the first time since being commissioned in Montreal in 1950.

On June 9 I started another Sunday School, this one at Van Dusen country school, four miles from Gyp.

The first Vacation Bible School was held at Van Dusen school with an average attendance of 17. During the second week VBS was held at Gyp with a large number of boys and girls attending. The older groups made international clocks as well as working on the joint project of building a model furnished church. The third and last Bible School was held at Byng country school, six miles from Gyp, where there had been very little Sunday School work.

Nursing Duties

Among the aforementioned activities were the nursing duties. 245 patients came to the dispensary for treatments or drugs. One little boy of four years was brought in with a fish hook caught in his thigh. Even after freezing he continued his howling until the offensive hook was removed. After giving one wee girl an injection of penicillin she referred to me with a fearful look as "the lady with the pencil". 33 house calls were made to visit and treat patients. Doctor's clinics were held every second Thursday and polio clinics monthly.

Three patients were taken to Ashern Hospital. One of these was a maternity patient who went into labor during another severe storm. Three miles out of Gyp we had to dig through a long drift then get a bombardier to tow us through the last big one two miles further south, but the patient reached hospital in good time.

Interesting Cases

This year our total number of cases recorded does not take note of the newborn, but if the 88 babies that arrived are added to our total number then we are only 13 short of 1956 level.

Twenty-seven major operations were done in our new operating room, where we have now a new gas anaesthesia machine, which makes it possible to give the same anaesthesia benefits that the large city hospitals provide. We have done 88 minor surgical cases, and taken 153 X-ray pictures.

The interesting cases that have come through here this past year include one of a nine-day attack of hiccoughs. If one has this disturbing condition even for half an hour it is quite uncomfortable, but when it lasts for nine days it interferes with much more than his comfort, even to the point of wondering whether he can take it any longer. Sedation and even anaesthetics were tried but the Levine tube with suction seemed to be the factor that finally controlled the condition.

Another case of persistent convulsions occurred in a case of post-operative surgery for glioma of the brain. Sedation relieved him so that he lived.

There was the case of little Dale Michaluk who fractured his thigh and had to be in bed with his feet pulled straight upright by pulley and weights. It seemed to disturb his manly nature more than it actually caused him pain.

Then there was our pride and joy — a C.P.R. engineer, who fell off his coal tender and had his arm run over by the wheels of the following cars. He was brought in after considerable delay during which he bled unconsciously and was grey and cold to the touch. He was kept alive with the use of restorative intervenous work together with one bottle of plasma and four bottles of blood brought from Winnipeg by the R.C.M.P. Then Dr. McDougall was brought from Winnipeg to do the ticklish job of removing not only the arm but a great deal of destroyed tissue that had been made lifeless by the cruel wheels of the train. When further X-rays revealed three pelvis fractures, it was deemed essential to have him moved to St.

Boniface Hospital, where we are glad to be able to say he made a true recovery.

This year Asiatic flu has also been around and because of it we had 20 pneumonia cases in the months of October, November and December. Again we have been indebted to the many new antibiotics and the constant check by means of the X-ray. These made it possible to say we have had no deaths due to Asiatic pneumonia complication.

As a new year comes with its challenge for the work ahead, we hope to be able to continue to serve in the hospital so fittingly prepared for the needs of our community.

News of the Hospital

In our hospital this year, with 22 beds set up and 5 bassinets, 483 adults and children were admitted, with 37 births, 79 operations, 197 outpatients and 307 X-rays.

We were sorry to lose Dr. Brand in October. Dr. Kathleen Robb, a native of Scotland, was able to help us out for four weeks. As no permanent doctor was available when she left in November, she remained without a doctor, but were grateful for the services of the doctor from the Roman Catholic hospital. Dr. Brien R. Roy was appointed in January and he and his wife arrived January 31st.

There were a few improvements made in the hospital during the year. New cupboards were built in the service rooms on both floors, with space for more laboratory work. The kitchen now has a new institutional size gas range with two ovens, and the hot water tank was replaced by a larger one. With the help of the W.M.S. we were able to purchase a larger X-ray complete with table and control unit. The Department of Public Health is helping most Alberta hospitals with laboratory and X-ray and they are helping us with part of the cost of the X-ray, and providing an E.C.G. machine, laboratory equipment, and a lead screen and lead aprons for the X-ray room. The Hospital Auxiliaries have bought private room furniture, making quite an improvement. We would like to thank the many groups who have sent donations, bales and Christmas gifts during the year, and especially the Southern Alberta Presbytery for the money toward a Croupette—a portable Oxygen tent.

Interesting Cases and Church Activities

The most winsome little boy of the year was Andy, a 5-year-old Metis who came in with a broken leg. A special frame to provide traction was made for him in town. After two months, Andy was up learning to walk again. It was interesting to watch his growth—physically, as he developed with well-balanced meals, and intellectually as he learned to understand and speak English.

One of the most challenging and rewarding experiences was an emergency Caesarian Section, which saved the life of a lovely baby girl. We are thankful for the co-operation of the R.C.M.P., the Cold Lake Air Base and local donors in obtaining blood for us in emergencies.

Visitors during the year included Mrs. R. F. Berry of Calgary, Alberta, Branch President, and the First President, Mrs. R. C. Cook of Edmonton; Dr. M. Young of Lamont and Judge N. V. Buchanan, Edmonton; the Naramata group with Rev. Bob McLaren, and Rev. Dwight Powell, Home Mission Superintendent, Alberta.

Besides our regular hospital duties, church activities take up much of our interest and time. In a small community such as ours, the need of leadership is so great that it creates in us a continual tension between the church work we see to be done and the work in the hospital, especially when we are short-staffed. How we wish that more of our Christian nurses would spend a little of their time working in our mission hospitals. The experience and fellowship gained is enriching and one not found in many secular hospitals.

A Record-Breaking Year

During 1957 we admitted and treated 1093 adults and children, 127 babies were born, including two sets of twins, making a total of 7194 patient-days. 146 operations were performed, 414 X-rays were taken, and 243 out-patients were treated.

It was indeed a thrilling and gratifying experience to see the beginning of the new John Neil Hospital, when we saw the machinery arrive on September 10th to begin excavation for the new building. With mixed feelings we saw the beautiful old lilac bush and hedges go down under the bulldozer, and the lawn and neat cement walk torn up. Generally the weather has been very favorable, and work has progressed exceedingly well, so that the end of the year saw the building enclosed and ready for inside work.

In order to appreciate what it means to us, you must see us working in the present building; operating under the light of an ancient goose-neck lamp; getting the stretcher stuck in doorways; turning a crib up on end to move it through; see the crowded wards, with a child in each already-full adult ward, also one in the narrow corridor, and one in the little sitting room as we had the 'flu epidemic; the small rooms that scarcely allow a nurse to get around the bed. Soon now we should be able to give infinitely better care to patients in the improved conditions of the new hospital.

Special Cases.

It seems this has been a year for fractures, during which our community X-ray, as well as the old portable has been put to good use many times over. First we had two young brothers from Saskatchewan who had been caught behind a tractor, and had received almost identical fractures just above the knee, but of opposite legs. They spent many weeks in casts, and almost drove everyone frantic with their bursting energy. The old building still bears the scars. They were sent home as soon as possible, and are now enjoying their normal activities again.

Then there was a young volunteer fireman, rushing to catch the fire engine on its way to a blaze, when he slipped under a wheel. He spent several weeks flat on his back with his leg in traction. When he was beginning to walk we moved him to another bed, to use the same apparatus for a young lad of 17 who had just started a summer job, but instead, spent all of his holidays and more, in hospital with a fractured thigh.

We also have a woman, admitted early in November, with a fractured pelvis, awaiting the arrival of her baby. She is suspended in a sling and presents special nursing problems.

The young man who split the stones for the decorative work at the entrance of the new building, went one day to work on another job, and lost two fingers and mangled a third in a power saw. So he too spent a while with us.

And always we have the little Indian children, whom we love. One wee fellow only a year old was admitted nine times during the year, and although he has chewed off countless nipples, his good-natured, dimpled smile makes him a favorite.

A Splendid Staff

We are thankful that we have quite a complete nursing staff as the year closes. In June, Miss Rae Baumber, who worked with me at Ethelbert, arrived from Ontario to join our staff. Then early in October, Misses Joy Dent and Barbara Williamson, graduates of Toronto East General Hospital, arrived, greeted only by mud and wind, and were directed to walk a plank, thoughtfully laid for our convenience across the excavation, to the residence, while I waited for them at the hospital. These girls have done a great deal to lighten my burden, as well as promoting a happy fellowship. Nurses are also giving help in the Sunday School and with a C.G.I.T. group. The Senior and Junior groups presented a very lovely Christmas Candle Light Service.

Besides these nurses we have on our staff one local married nurse and two Alberta Certified Nursing Aides, also one relief nurse, whose husband is with the R.C.A.F.

I would like to make special mention of Dr. Margaret Savage, without whose faith and courage and wisdom we would not now be looking forward to the expansion of our work for the Master in our lovely new hospital.

The Story of the Year at the Hospital

The major project of the year for the Burns Lake Community was a financial campaign to raise funds for a new hospital. The campaign is still in progress. The site has been decided upon, the architects employed and several sketch plans reviewed by the Hospital Board.

The number of patients admitted was about the same as last year but we had 6,840 patient days, which was an increase of 1,516 above that of 1956. Also we took X-rays of 1,200 patients in 1956 but in 1957 there were 1,793 patients for X-ray.

We hope that we will be able to keep an eye to the future in building a new hospital and do as well as the people did who built the present one. We marvel at the good building we have and how well it has served even though it was built for a population far smaller. The town alone would possibly be about two to three hundred at that time and is now over twelve hundred. We serve approximately six thousand people, the area being large and composed of small communities mainly.

During the year many patients were sent by car, railway or by air to Vancouver for further treatment. Louis, our boy who was burned at a Halloween bonfire in 1956, was with us many months and then was moved to Vancouver for skin grafting, returned in the spring and is now back at school.

Early in the year, while the thermometer was staying well below zero, an Indian mother-to-be set out for the hospital by dog-team to go to Ft. Babine where there was an airplane equipped with skis to bring her to the hospital. Along the route the dog-sled had to be stopped and trees cut down to make a fire in order that the mother could be delivered of twin baby boys. After that the party continued on its way but the mother was too ill to care for the babies on the sled, necessitating two women who were travelling with her to walk behind the sled for many miles, each with a baby closely held inside her coat. We do not know where they stopped but when the mother, father and the twins were finally flown to the hospital the babies were three weeks old and very ill with pneumonia. The babies were put together in the incubator and many days and nights of close vigil followed, but we were rewarded when the boys lived and grew to be lusty and strong. In due course they were returned to the parents and taken home. Some time later we were all depressed to learn that they had passed away.

In the spring of the year unexpected trouble came to a dam that was built when the course of the rivers was changed. One of the gates broke while men were at work repairing it. The men were swept downstream, one was drowned and another was brought to the hospital with an injured back and suffering from shock. He was a very strong man but he had trouble sleeping for the first few days; he said that every time he closed his eyes he could vision huge boulders rolling downstream towards him with the force of the water.

BURNS LAKE BABIES

Miss Clara Preston, who is supposedly retired, is appreciated by the hospital staff, the patients and the doctors. She telephones married nurses in the community when they are urgently needed and fills in the gap herself when they are not available.

The best project of the Hospital Aid this year was a Thrift Shop. A building was given to them to use and they ask for donations of anything. Most of their sales net about twenty-five cents but they have sold stoves, washing machines and fur coats along with used clothing, jewellery, used patterns, etc. They are open for three hours weekly and in the first six months realized a profit of $1,870, which was given to the building fund.

ORIENTAL WORK

FOREWORD

The United Church of Canada ministers to a total of 12,000 Japanese and Chinese throughout Canada. Eight Japanese ministers and two of our missionaries serve in eight major centres and many smaller towns. Nine Chinese ministers and four women missionaries work in eight main cities and many other towns over a wide area.

Japanese

For the first time, the United Church in Japan, at the request of The United Church of Canada, has sent us two missionaries. These men are already well-known, as they serve congregations in Vancouver and in Winnipeg.

During the year two pieces of work in the Oriental Department were closed. A Japanese minister was appointed to Hamilton, making it unnecessary for us to have a woman worker in that city, and the Japanese work in Greenwood and Midway, in the Kootenay Presbytery, has sufficient leadership for us to release our missionary to undertake other work.

Chinese

The Chinese Conference in May 1957 in Toronto accomplished a great deal. It was the first time that the Chinese ministers and W.M.S. missionaries among Chinese met together. The outcome of that Conference is quite significant. A part of the Manual of the United Church was translated into Chinese, the translation of the Catechism is under way and a new Chinese Hymnary is being printed, which will have in it familiar and suitable Church hymns.

The number of Chinese coming to Canada during the last year was not as great as in previous years but our Chinese Churches are strengthened by the young University men and women who are studying in our country and who are making a Christian contribution. The leadership already given by these students is very marked and the need for new pastors and workers may be met within this in-coming group.

Experiment and Exploration

My appointment in June 1957 to the Chinese work in Ottawa was, for the W.M.S. Board, an experiment, and for me an exploration into an untried situation, that of taking part in work which was not under our own Church. I must admit that my knowledge of the Chinese work in Ottawa was meagre, and no one seemed to be able to enlighten me, but it was not until I arrived here that I found out just how lacking in information we had been.

What I did find was a piece of work that had been established, many years ago, at the request of the Chinese people, and which was being successfully carried on through the consecrated service of people who had real love for the Chinese and who were utterly devoted to the work of the Mission. Into such a group I was warmly welcomed.

My first duty I felt to be that of getting acquainted with the Chinese community, and through the kind co-operation of one of our Chinese ladies and that of Dr. Szeto, Superintendent of the Mission, I was able to visit many of the homes and to learn something of the needs of the work.

I found the older members of the community loud in their praise of the Christian Church and its contribution to the needs of the early Chinese settlers in this city. Indeed I was told again and again by well-established Chinese citizens that they could never have been able to take their places in the life of the city had it not been that the Church, realizing the need for instruction in English, saw to it that such instruction was made available. And today we find the sons and daughters of these families filling places of importance and responsibility in this and other cities in Canada; we find them establishing Christian homes and giving their children religious instruction. These young folk remembering what the Mission has meant to their parents and themselves, contribute financially and through their talents to the work of the Mission and they are bringing their children to our Sunday School.

I found numbers of women trying to adjust themselves to the demands of life in a new country, and I found scores of young men striving to make a living by working long hours in restaurants and laundries, unable, through lack of English, to fill the positions for which their education had fitted them.

I found a very active and growing Sunday School with faithful teachers and I also found a little group, mostly women, meeting Sunday after Sunday for worship and fellowship.

I found the work of the Mission ably administered by a Board with representation from different churches and the Chinese community and concerned with the financial problems and the needs of the work.

How Can this Work be Strengthened?

I felt that as a start we should strive to do more to bring our new Canadian women into the already existing fellowship of the Mission and I feel we are justified in saying that some success has been achieved, for not only have they been coming to the church service but they have been coming to the Sunday School too, and already we have a woman's Bible class.

My next concern was, and still is, for the young men of our community. I happen to know that many of these young men spend their nights in gambling dens where they are not only ruining their health but their reputations as well. What alternative have we to offer to our young people?

The duty of our Mission is to provide something positive for our young people. We should have recreational facilities where ball games can be enjoyed; a reading room where newspapers, both English and Chinese, can be perused; good books; quiet games and even television, all these might well be our alternative to the gambling den.

English classes, of course, are still a MUST. There we are given many opportunities to present the Christian message, for after all Christ is the answer to all problems. I am grateful for the help given by women of Canadian churches here who are assisting in the English classes. I am grateful, too, to Dr. Szeto for his loyal support and his willingness to assist at all times.

The Japanese Congregation Was a Joy

Our Japanese Congregation continued to be a joy to work with through the spring and summer months. The visiting in the homes and contact with these fine people proved profitable both to me individually and to the group as a whole. Our numbers increased and at each Communion Service there were a few who were baptized or joined on profession of faith with our congregation of believers.

February brought the annual meeting of the Women's Day of Prayer service. This year it was held in the Anglican church, with committees of both United Church and Anglican women serving in the preparation. We were pleased to have Dr. Outerbridge come to us to speak to the women and they did enjoy his words to them in Japanese. The time spent together afterwards over a cup of tea cemented our fellowship, especially when we rose in turn around the table and announced each her own place of origin.

The Women's Association has flourished in work and willingness to serve the church. Meetings have been attended better and interest shown in various ways. For several meetings we gathered early and made up bundles of bandages for the Cancer Society. The women at the Centre said, each time I brought in the completed work, that our women would take any prize for doing it best. Also there increased more and more the visiting on the part of some of our members in the homes of the Japanese people of the city. More often I would take two or three members of our group with me and seeds have been sown that have borne fruit in bringing new people into the fold.

The San visiting for the Japanese has dwindled very much, since there were only two or three patients there. However, there were still about 20 Chinese patients who received a call from me weekly and it was a joy to see them.

Growth in Association with Chinese People

My association with the Chinese people of the city has grown this past year. Meeting-wise, there is the monthly meeting of the women's group but apart from that there are numberless encounters when children are taken to clinics, sick to hospitals, members to meetings, visits in homes and many other areas of contact with these friendly ones.

There was the week of Rest-All Camp where I directed again the Mothers' Camp and we had a very good group there.

Then came the break in the continuity of my work in Hamilton. I was asked to come to northern Manitoba to one of our Home Mission areas, namely, Gypsumville, and fill in for the year for the worker was leaving. And so, after my vacation in August, which included the satisfying and profitable Conference for Women Workers held in Winnipeg, I found myself packing up to come out west to do this piece of work for this year. I drove out with the things I needed in the back of my little car, and the balance of my goods stored in the basement of a friend's house. And so in the middle of September I found myself facing a new task and new friends.

BRITISH COLUMBIA CONFERENCE BRANCH

C. MADELEINE BOCK

Community Worker,
Greenwood and Midway, British Columbia

It isn't often that a missionary organizes a piece of new work and also sees it close. Yet this has been my experience twice—both times because of the evacuation of the Japanese from the Pacific coast.

The closing of our work in Greenwood and Midway was to me a sad and yet a happy occasion. It was sad because it meant severing connections with a piece of work that had become very dear to me. The closing was a happy one because, after fifteen years, the Japanese had become one with the Occidentals, and were taking their places with them in church and city affairs.

The Younger Groups

During these two years I have greatly enjoyed the time spent in the kindergartens, teaching Bible stories, helping the teachers with the memory course, etc. On a number of occasions, Mrs. Fukui greeted me with, "The children have a surprise for you today." I was all expectant as they sang a new song (such as one about Moses, or Samuel, or Zacchaeus) which they had learned so very quickly.

The Mission Band children of Greenwood found the flannelgraph story, Yugi of Japan, so fascinating they were always asking when the next meeting would be. In Midway, as both Mission Band and Explorers were small groups I decided to combine them once a month for the Mission Band meeting. This increased interest in both groups.

This year our Greenwood C.G.I.T. Group decided to have their Mother and Daughter Banquet in the form of a buffet supper on the lawn. It worked out very well, even though the rain necessitated having it indoors instead. After the Lanyard Service, Mr. Cooke, the mayor, showed colored movies of the recent holiday he and Mrs. Cooke had had in Hawaii.

The Midway C.G.I.T. Group still maintained its high standard of attendance at meetings, Sunday School and church, as well as the high quality of work done by the girls. One of our meetings that provided a great deal of satisfaction was held at Mrs. Takahashi's home when she taught us how to make a chiffon cake. While it was baking we held our meeting. Mrs. Takahashi, then, with true Japanese hospitality, set a beautiful table and served us with sandwiches, the cake, and tea. Several times later when visiting in the homes, or invited for supper, I ate chiffon cake made by the C.G.I.T. daughter, and the cake was good! This same group wished to entertain the boys of their age in Midway, but were a little timid about doing so. Then I showed them the filmstrips Boy Meets Girl, and Boy Dates Girl. The accompanying discussions were eagerly entered into. By this time the group felt ready to plan the party. It was a very happy one, and the girls felt they had gained their objectives—to understand the boys better, and to show these boys (who should still be in Sunday School but aren't) that Christian girls can have real fun.

The affiliated W.A. of Greenwood decided to sponsor a Korean child for a year. The younger groups became interested, too, with the result that the Explorers, Tyros, C.G.I.T. and Young People all have a share in the project. The child assigned was nine-year-old Yun Soon, who, before long, became well known to the groups and to the Sunday School as well. Providing check-ops and towel kits for Korean children was entered into with gusto by Mission Band and Explorers of both places, and by Midway C.G.I.T. Many pounds of good, used clothing were collected and shipped to Korea.

My semi-annual trip to visit the Japanese in the Kootenays was made as usual in May, and I went again in July. This time Miss Grace Namba accompanied me, so we took the car. We held meetings at Passmore and Grand Forks, a church service in New Denver, and visited the Slocan Home for elderly Japanese, and New Denver elderly folks in their homes and in the hospital. We took the projector, screen, and slides on Japan. The elderly gentlemen in the hospital were simply thrilled! Most of them were obliged to lie on their backs as they watched, but their faces beamed.

By the middle of August the last of the evacuation centres for the Japanese had been closed.

In the Okanagan Valley

Our very small Sunday School is a happy place every Sunday morning. It was closed last summer but when we re-opened in September the boys and girls seemed eager to come back.

We have five very fine junior girls in our Sunday School whom I was eager to have in an Explorer group. But they attend three different schools, so neither time nor distance would permit bringing them in to our Japanese Church or to First United Church in Kelowna. Finally I thought of having a group in Rutland Church, five miles away. Two of the girls attend school there, one in Kelowna, and two at a school between Kelowna and Rutland. So I take the three with me. Added to my five are nine Rutland girls (Occidentals) which make a very fine and interesting group. Our Japanese members are so popular that when the girls elected their four officers three of them were Japanese.

The Japanese Church has a very fine Woman's Auxiliary. The group is studying the Book of Acts. The ladies raise quite a sum of money to help their church (which is not self-supporting). Since all W.M.S. groups are studying Japan this year, our group decided to do so, too. Because this is Japan year our ladies are invited to visit Federations, and Mrs. Kabayama has had several engagements as a speaker.

As yet, our beginnings here are small, but with constant plodding and a good measure of patience, in time we hope to make some impression on the unchurched Japanese in this area.

Evaluation

As I survey the work that I have done since September, and what has been done in the past, I cannot but feel that many a seed has fallen on barren ground. The church building is not used as a place for worship, or where one can seek to learn more about Jesus and His teachings; but as a place where one can send children to kindergarten, where one can learn English, where one can have fun with friends. What future has a church which is used by its people in this fashion? My observation of many of its products show that there is no future. . . the tree bears no fruit. I know I am not wise enough to judge, but I can evaluate. I do not believe this is typical of merely Chinese Mission churches, but is prevalent in many churches.

Activities

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday you will find me in kindergarten with ten children, ranging from three to five years of age. On Sunday morning at ten, I have the same group for Sunday School. They love to sing, "Jesus loves me" and especially the chorus in Chinese. Most of my afternoons are spent on visitation. Mrs. Wallace Chang and Mrs. Get Mah, my two active lay workers, accompany me on many of my visits to the homes and to the hospital on Wednesdays. I believe this is where the church must start its work. From September to December, I have made about 100 calls on my congregation, consisting of 34 families.

In my English classes held Monday evenings and Friday mornings, I have five women and two men. They are very anxious to learn English and have made very good progress. I take them shopping once a week to help them with their shopping and to teach them how to ask for what they want. This is usually completed by having tea at one of their homes or by going to the restaurant.

My midweek program covers three groups—Hi-C (ten members), Explorers (five members) and Intermediates (nine members). The program of games, Bible study quizzes and crafts is planned by myself, but I hope that the members will eventually assume some of the responsibilities themselves.

The Woman's Association is held once a month at the church with an average attendance of twelve. Mrs. D. Thom is our president, while I act as secretary. The meetings begin with a brief worship service and the singing of hymns. In November, we held a very successful chow mein tea, raising funds to re-plaster part of the falling ceiling and to paper the interior of the church. The W.A. also served tea at the Christmas concert.

Sunday School for the primary, junior and intermediate boys and girls is held at 11 o'clock. After open session, they go into their separate classes. Church services are held twice a month, the first and third Sunday of the month. Rev. C. Y. Chow of Victoria takes the latter, while I take the first. Church services have only four or five in attendance.

Up-Island

Accompanied by Mrs. T. Jang and Mrs. C. Lum, most of the Chinese families were visited in order to secure a general idea of what was needed. Thursday was set aside as the day for activities at Duncan. English classes and Mission Band were started, enthusiasm was short-lived and both have been discontinued.

Despite all the short-comings on the Nanaimo and Up-Island field the work is important because it is God's work. "How come you are a missionary?" "What do your parents think?" My example as a Chinese Christian within the community has much to say for itself.

Work in Three Areas

My work amongst the Japanese in the lower mainland covers three areas, Steveston mainly, Vancouver and Fraser Valley.

The year 1957 has seen an important change in the Steveston kindergarten. The two-day W.M.S. kindergarten has been taken over by the local church and serves as a five-day school. I have taken the opportunity given me to go in once a week to have Bible stories, games and songs. Since September a Baby Band nursery group has been started of which I am in charge once a week. Some of the mothers join us each week.

The Mission Band and Explorer children meet every Tuesday and Wednesday respectively. At these meetings we enjoy games, business, worship, sing song, Bible drill, stories, slides and handcraft. For their project several "check-po" kits, used children's clothing and scrapbooks were made for Japan and Korea. Seven Explorers took advantage of the summer camp at Ocean Park this year. The C.G.I.T. group with their six leaders have had a very active year. They made two layettes for Japan, one layette for an Indian hospital, bed socks for elderly people and scrapbooks for hospitals. The girls sing as the church choir. Each group has enjoyed the mission study packets. The junior Japanese Young People meet every Saturday. Their program for the month consists of general planning, sports, special and social nights. We have had speakers on alcoholism, juvenile delinquency; Dr. Taylor of Union College addressed us on the "Great Religions of the World." Rev. Tuttle also led discussion groups at their week-end camp.

Volunteer teachers assist me in our English classes two nights a week for New Canadians. Senior C.G.I.T. girls and members of the junior Young People help in the fast growing Sunday School as teachers and officers, due to the lack of adult teachers. The Vacation School in July with an enrolment of 129 pupils was the highlight of the year. I think the quiet ministry of Dr. Bunnals is doing much to knit the Japanese and Occidentals in the amalgamated church of Steveston.

In Vancouver my work is mainly visiting in the Japanese homes, interpreting in welfare work and for old pensioners, teaching English to Japanese war brides of Canadian soldiers and to "Kika" Nisei, and aiding in prison cases. The coming of Rev. and Mrs. T. Mitsui from the United Church of Christ in Japan has been a memorable occasion for our Issei congregation. Already we have worked together in visitations amongst many Japanese people, the lonely and sick in homes and hospitals, and in services. Plans are under way to work more actively among the 500 families of Japanese ancestry in Vancouver and among those who have recently arrived and are constantly coming from Japan.

The Japanese in the Fraser Valley are widely scattered. It has been difficult to bring the young people to any one centre. With Rev. McWilliams, I have been able to make a survey of Japanese with children in Surrey. Some attend local churches but many do not go anywhere. In Haney there are ten families which I visited as often as I could. I keep in contact with these people by visitations, Christian literature and occasional gifts.

I would like to thank the W.M.S. for the opportunity of serving my people in the name of the church.

Group Activities

The girls of the C.G.I.T. continued their Church Membership course during the first few months of the year. This was followed by their missionary project on South-East Asia. One very happy and profitable evening was spent at the Manse. It took the form of a surprise dinner prepared by the girls at the Manse while our minister lured his wife into late afternoon visiting with him. After dinner, Rev. David Peng gave an inspiring message to the girls on "The Church." Easter activities included taking part in Worship Services, attending the Good Friday Sunrise Service and the taking of baskets to the children at the Protestant Orphanage.

The W.M.S. Auxiliary included in its worship services studies in the "Life of Christ" and "The New Life in Christ." The annual Chow Mein Tea was the usual success. It was attended by many people of other churches and of the Chinese community. This group was also responsible for one of the family prayer meetings held monthly in the church.

The Young Adult Fellowship met once a month with a program of worship, recreation and discussion. Special speakers have included Dr. Grant of Union College on Palestine, Dr. Bisner, Philippian Consul-General, who gave his witness as a Christian, Mr. D. Ricketts, Director of the Child Guidance Clinic and others. Donations were made from the summer activities of the group toward new large print hymnaries for the church. Some assistance was also given to the Church Bazaar. A Christmas Pageant "The Light of the World" was presented in the Church. Several other groups of young people worked with the Young Adults in this project.

Faithful Services Rendered

The Morning Service of Worship in English held under the Christian Education Department of our Church was a new project. Naramata Graduates—Miss Grace Harwood and Miss Margery Martin—have made a fine contribution to this project as well as having given faithful services in the Church School. We are hoping that the morning service will continue to fill the need of those desiring a message in English. The evening services are mainly in Chinese and Canadian-born Chinese have difficulty in understanding the sermon.

In September the appointment to our work of Miss Pauline Topp, one of the two missionaries who had been studying Cantonese in Vancouver, meant some changes in the division of work. Visiting in the homes of new Canadians and the teaching of English carried during the first part of the year by Miss Winifred Harris, became part of my responsibility. It was a great joy to me that Miss Topp also volunteered to work in the Women's Classes. The fine women of these classes are a constant challenge. Great credit should be given to Mrs. S. F. Ricketts, Mrs. Merton Mah and Mrs. David Peng, our minister's wife, for their faithful services in this work, which covers far more than the teaching of English. It is good to hear these New Canadian women singing some of the great hymns of the church in both English and Chinese as they assemble in the schoolroom after each English class. The meaning of the hymn and drill in the pronunciation of the words is given careful attention in the class period. Groups are being formed in various parts of the city to meet the needs of those in the area. These we are calling our visiting groups as they enable the missionary to meet regularly with a larger number of women. These meetings held once a month are followed by home visits when considered advisable. In some of the groups are women who need English but cannot get to the regular classes; others wish instruction in child care; others emphasize Bible Study and still others the privilege of prayer and fellowship.

Knowledge of Cantonese is a Great Help

From January till the middle of June, 1957, Lily Chin and I were engaged in Cantonese language study in Vancouver, B.C. After that we went to San Francisco for nearly two months where we were able to absorb a little more of the Chinese culture. I lived with a lovely Chinese-Christian family while there. In addition to this, Miss Chin and I attended an excellent Kindergarten Workshop at San Francisco State College for six weeks.

In September, my duties at the Chinese United Church in Vancouver began. Most of my time this fall was spent getting settled into new work and in reorganizing groups.

During the summer, the Kindergarten took on a "new look" with the walls receiving some bright yellow paint and the floors some grey-blue. Some of the old equipment was repainted by the Y.P.U. and some new equipment was added. Supervising the Kindergarten in such pleasant surroundings has been a joy.

It has been a satisfying experience to teach a group of Christian women English every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. In this part of the work, I have found knowing some "Cantonese" most helpful. When I cannot explain a term adequately to them in English, translation of it to Chinese gives them the exact meaning.

The Groups Grew in Many Ways

The Primary-Kindergarten department of the Sunday School needed help so I was asked to take over as Superintendent temporarily. The children had all met in one large room but because the attendance was rapidly increasing the older Primary children were moved to "The Upper Room"—a room upstairs in our Church Hall with a chapel at one end.

In November, we held a very worthwhile Teacher Training Program in connection with our Sunday School. Prof. Tuttle, lecturer in Christian Education at Union College, and two other guests came in to help us with the leadership.

Mission Band used to meet on the first Sunday of the month as part of the Sunday School program because most Chinese children attend Chinese School and are unable to attend a mid-week Church program. In the fall, we began holding Mission Band every other Sunday morning between ten and eleven. A young Chinese girl, who recently graduated from C.G.I.T., offered to help me with the group.

C.G.I.T. recommenced in the fall with a few senior girls. There were not enough younger girls in the Church to form an Intermediate group. One night, as the term progressed, some of the Senior girls said they felt badly about excluding the few younger girls from C.G.I.T. The Seniors wanted to ask them to join their group. So our little group grew in more ways than one! All of the girls willingly joined in with the other groups in the Church this fall to help make things for the Church bazaar.

There had been a Hi-C group in the Church composed mainly of Canadian-born Chinese but by fall they had outgrown the group. There were still a few old members of the Y.P.U., who were mostly Chinese-born, around. At first it seemed like an impossible task to bring the two groups together. Before some of them would come they wanted to know, "Who will be in the group?" It was hard to answer this question, but a few of both groups did come and are getting along quite well together.

In conclusion, I would like to express my gratitude to the W.M.S. for making it possible to have one year of language study before beginning work. It has helped me a great deal in my work—in talking with non-English speaking kindergarten parents, in translating while teaching English, in individual contacts, and most of all, in bringing me closer to the people with whom I work.

Worth Recording

Perhaps you remember from a previous report that in 1956 our experienced Sunday School superintendent moved to Vancouver, and for the fall term of 1956 and the spring of 1957 I found myself acting superintendent. In April I was ill for three Sundays, and a young teacher, Miss Virginia Jay, who had been helping both on Sundays and in mid-week activities, was prevailed upon to lead the Sunday School temporarily. She did it again when I went to Toronto to a Conference on Chinese work in May. Result? When we approached her to allow her name to be presented to the Board as our new Sunday School superintendent, she agreed. And she has been functioning very efficiently and faithfully since September.

Miss Jay's "second-in-command" in the Sunday School is Mr. James Chow, son of our pastor, Rev. C. Y. Chow. James is teaching in a city school, and although he is completing his Arts course by attending night school, he gives two evenings a week as well as Sunday mornings to his splendid class of teenage boys. In our Sunday School there are three other dependable loyal teachers.

Our C.G.I.T. was carried on again in 1957 under the efficient leadership of Miss Margaret Walker of First United Church. Although the numbers have not greatly increased, the growth in the girls themselves has been most satisfying.

Kindergarten has been full to its licensed capacity both terms in 1957. Any of you who have taught or helped in kindergarten departments know how difficult it is to carry on happily, if it is not possible to break into song whenever the tots need to have their thoughts directed into a new channel, or when weariness (or naughtiness) ness) calls for a diversion. From October to the end of the year I suffered a loss of my singing voice. My speaking voice was an unpleasant croak, but it never completely left me. But in this time of need I had a helper. Miss Sylvia McGillivray, who graduated last June from Senior High, offered to help. She is a Christian girl from a good Christian home, fond of children and gifted with a beautiful singing voice. Her only pay has been what she has been able to learn about conducting a kindergarten.

The choir, too, needs voices for leading. So out of God's knowledge of my need, He sent us Mrs. Beaumont to help, and she in turn brought her husband. With him to help the boys during practices we were able to have part singing on Christmas Sunday.

1957 was also one of our best years in the church night school. Here newcomers from China have been gaining mastery of the English language. The last ten minutes of each session is devoted to learning and singing hymns, and to hearing a few words from our pastor in their mother tongue. Here again we have to thank the voluntary work of a number of the finest W.M.S. women from some of the English speaking churches. These women have given consecrated service and have won the love and admiration of their students.

A Good Introduction

Having written the above, I asked my "school-marm" cousin to read it. I merely meant her to check for clarity, etc., but when she had finished she looked up and said, "This is a good introduction but you haven't begun to tell of your work. What of all the tutoring you do here at the Centre? What of all the out-of-town guests who make this their home in the city? What of all the other guests who come—your students who have brought back brides from Hong Kong and bring them to you for talks? What of the family next door? (She refers to a mother and nine-year-old son who could speak no English when they came over from China last October, but who find my poor Cantonese a source of some comfort.) What of your help to the young men undertaking the management of the large greenhouse? (That entailed many chats with them to understand their problems, and many letters and 'phone calls for them to help them arrange their affairs!) What of all the committee meetings held here on your "free evenings"? Her "what ofs" covered a large range of activities not included in the more organized phases of the work. And I think some of the most fruitful and satisfying and perhaps even interesting things that happen, do happen in the odd, unplanned moments, but as I had considered my report finished when I handed it to her, I think I shall not go into more detail now.

FROM THE UNITED CHURCH TRAINING SCHOOL

KATHARINE B. HOCKIN

Toronto, Ontario

This annual report will take the form of a few comments of personal appraisal, thinking particularly of the relation of the Woman's Missionary Society to the School. The United Church Training School is placed by the authority of General Council under the Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and is administered by a Board of Management, upon which sit representatives of the Woman's Missionary Society. In this way the Society is able to have a constructive and influential part in formulating the policies and principles which govern the total life and work of the school. The very real concern of the W.M.S. is further underlined by a substantial financial contribution directly to the budget of the School, and in helping candidates meet the expenses of the course which is required for most W.M.S. missionaries before appointment to fields of service.

There is another type of relationship through the Conference Branches and Presbyterials and the general membership of the W.M.S. This relationship is naturally easier to maintain in areas geographically near to the School but does extend across the country, and may be made concrete in the informed interest of individual members and of whole auxiliaries.

In the actual curricular and extra-curricular life of the School there is an inescapable tension between the requirements which arise from the needs of the Church for certain kinds of trained professional people, and the needs of individual students who come as young women with their own personal patterns of development and interest. Members of the staff are naturally more aware of these personal factors than are the varied groups of concerned people outside the School, and the longer one works with the high-minded and seriously-intentioned young women who enroll in the course of studies here at 77 Charles Street West, Toronto, the more one is convinced that they deserve the best possible chance to get the maximum out of their training, and this means an adequate background of a general academic nature and also a course of training in the United Church Training School that is concerned with qualitative achievement. Experience has demonstrated the value of a preparatory year for many who study disciplines for a long time. Women so equipped are able to take the values from the training situation in the School in the total focus of all its life in the classroom, and in the corridor and turn it into sound and foundational experience.

It may be emphasized that the often-termed too high and discouraging entrance requirements are not really to be regarded as such. They exist not to protect the reputation or convenience of the School, but are for the well-being and total development of the individual student. This is a plea for consideration by all those interested in the individual young person who aspires to do the work of the Lord, and who will be her best self only with the best equipment which she can secure in a great cause. This may mean not only understanding these conditions of growth and development, but it may mean support for young persons in thinking through problems of financial shortage and the seeming urgencies of time because of age factors.

There are various viewpoints regarding recruiting and the role of the United Church Training School in securing students for enrollment. The School cannot but be involved when there is a low registration, and when there are constant pressures and criticism for the small number of graduates. A rethinking of the scope of recruiting, which is at present in progress, widens the area of responsibility and recognizes that throughout the program of Christian nurture in the whole church, each growing individual should be informed of the varieties of opportunity and confronted with the challenge of the Christian vocation. Within the focus of this wide concern the challenge to the individual follower of God's way will bring a response to the specific claims of the work of the Church in proportion to the concern of the total fellowship.

For me it has been a rich privilege to be permitted, under the authority of the Board of Management to work on the staff of the United Church Training School, and I am grateful for the varied strands of experience of these years and for the growth that in this period has been open to me.
